OFFER ONLY ONE DEFEAT IN BOTH ROUNDS

Girls Win Crown; Play Frenship For Bi-District

AL POINTS - Patsy Pierce sank two points for the Whirlettes in the last few minutes of the ball game with Dimmitt vital in the victory. A few seconds before a field goal was scored, the Whirlettes back in the lead after trailing 48-48 and clinched the district championship with the victory. (Photo)

The Floydada Whirlettes whizzed through district competition with only one defeat to be named the 3-AA Fem Champions for 1966. It is the first time in the history of the school that the girls have won the district crown.

The Whirlettes comprised an impressive 9-1 district record as they were well ahead of the nearest district contender, Dimmitt, who had a 7-3 record.

The local team edged the Dimmitt girls here last Friday night to clinch the crown, although the girls did not play their final district game until Tuesday night of this week when they downed Abernathy here.

The most amazing thing about only one defeat in the ten games is the fact that one statewide pre-season rating system had five of the teams in this district picked in the top ten in the state. The five were Floydada, Olton, Friona, Dimmitt and Abernathy.

During the conference season the Whirlettes amassed 497 points, for a game average of 49.7 while allowing their opponents only 41.1, for an average of 41.1 points per game. Of the locals' 497, Shirley Rainer scored 265, for a game average of 26.9 points per game.

During the district season the Whirlettes defeated Lockney 58-44, Olton 48-37, Friona 72-64, Dimmitt 45-40, Abernathy 49-33, Lockney 51-39, Olton 53-35, Dimmitt 52-48, and Abernathy, 50-45. The only defeat came at the hands of Friona, at Friona, in a low scoring 38-27 contest.

If the Whirlettes defeat Frenship two games will be played for the regional championship and two will then be played for the state championship.

Penalty For Error Can Be Severe

For the first time since the crop allotment farm programs have been in effect, Floyd County farmers will be able to measure their own acreage.

The cotton, feed grains, diverted acres, and all others that come under the farm program will be measured by the person who is managing the farm.

The measurements will, of course, be spot checked by the ASCS employees, and stiff penalties can be imposed for "intentional" errors.

Grain Sorghum Producers Hear GSPA President

The members of the Floyd County Grain Sorghum Producers Association met in the conference room of the Agriculture Building on the courthouse square this week to hear a report from Elbert Harp of Abernathy, president of the national organization, and elect officers for the coming year.

E. J. Kinslow, who presided at the meeting, was re-elected to that position. Joe Foster was named vice-president again and Lon Davis was re-elected as the elevator representative. Carl Brock was elected secretary-treasurer, succeeding J. K. West.

The organization decided to appoint county directors from the various communities to help create more interest in what the organization is doing and how it is helping the grain producer.

Tom Hutchins gave a report on how the new farm program affects the farmer in Floyd County.

It was learned at the meeting that either a drastic cut-back in the amount of sorghum produced can be expected unless new ways of marketing the crop are found. The amount of grain sorghum produced increases at the rate of about Several counties in the northern part of the state did this last year on an experimental basis, and worked very well. This year 16 of the 23 Texas High Plains counties have been approved by the U.S.D.A. for accepting producer certification of planted cotton acreage in 1966.

They are Bailey, Castro, Crosby, Dawson, Deaf Smith, Floyd, Garza, Hale, Hockley, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn, Farmer, Swisher, Terry and Yoakum. In Deaf Smith County the approval applies only to cotton, but in all the others it applies as well to wheat and

A group of Floydada men have entered into contract to buy Mar-

Dell Manor, local convalescent home, from owner Jerry Miller of Lubbock.

Miller opened the home about three months ago and to date there are fifteen residents in the home.

A spokesman for the group of buyers said that the contract called for a March 1 transaction if provisions of the sales contract are carried out. The purchasing group will form a corporation and the home will operate under a new name, West Side Manor.

It is reported that the home will offer 24 hour service and other improvements will be made.

The Floydada school board renewed contracts for athletic director Bill Curry and principals Charles Tyer, A. W. Coltharp, Faris Wilson, W. P. Nicholson, Jr., and Bob Copeland at their regular monthly meeting Monday night.

No salary increases or decreases were made, the contracts are for one year in advance of the current year for the athletic director and principals.

In other business the board set the annual school trustee election for the first Saturday in April, which will be the second. Fred Baittey was appointed as election judge. Deadline for persons who want to file for election to the board is March 5.

EVALUATION REPORT

Before going into session at the downtown business office the board was host to a group of visiting teachers from West Texas State, Texas Tech, Wayland and high schools in this area for a dinner at the school cafeteria.

The visiting teachers are observing classes and teachers in the Floydada public schools for two days this week. The purpose of the observation is to evaluate the teaching methods and give them information in deciding if the school system should be admitted into membership of the Southern Association of Schools.

The group will also study an evaluation report that has been completed by local teachers and citizens of Floydada. Serving on this committee were: co-chair-

Commissioners Vote Salary Increase Here

In the regular session of the Floyd County Commissioners Court here Monday, the group voted a ten percent salary increase for all elected county officials. Other county employees received a slight increase in salary, also. A legal notice to this effect will appear in next week's issue of the Hesperian. This is the first raise for county officers since 1958.

The commissioners also appointed Jack McIntosh and Kenneth Bean to the Floydada Joint Municipal Airport Zoning Board. The city has named Bill Brown and Wayne Collins to the Board at a meeting last week.

The four members will meet shortly and elect a fifth person as chairman of the group. The board will then, in turn, appoint five people who will serve as a Zoning Commission, and will be the law-making body for the new airport.

All county commissioners were present for the meeting.

Beauty Tips

MRS. AUSTIN HOLMES

THE TEEN SCENE. HINTS FOR A BUDDING BEAUTY

A young complexion just naturally has the dewy look that the rest of us have to use artifice to achieve. Yet often minor blemishes pop up to mar the freshness. If you're the type who thinks tears and a quick cancelling of dates is the only answer, read on. I have a treat and a treatment for you.

Actually, the "Treatment" simply is based on that main tenet of good grooming—cleanliness. This means cleansing your face at least twice a day. This also means keeping your hair shining—clean, and keeping an oily scalp can send bacteria down to your complexion and thus aggravate even care-free skin. But never fear, a good medicated shampoo can be the answer.

It combats oiliness and dandruff while it inhibits the spread of bacteria. Use it often, and make sure brush and comb are shampooed clean too.

That's the "Treatment." Now for the "Treat." It's medicated liquid cream foundations. They give flawless, natural-looking coverage while the mild medicants aid in hiding and healing. It comes in flower-fresh, skin-tone shades for any skin.

FINAL TIP: This rescue plan can help clear and cover minor blemishes, but the real budding beauties need two more things to flourish. First is sleep—a full eight hours and second is a balanced diet and watch between meal snacks, such as carbonated drinks, chocolate and oily foods. And, last, but not least, plenty of water—eight glasses each day—your complexion will bloom, and your figure will reap benefits, too!

Scouts from the local pack attended church elsewhere. Den Mothers present were Mrs. Nell Pritchett and Mrs. Philip Smitherman.

Mr. and Mrs. Doodle Milton have been keeping their grandchildren, Lisa and Carmen Powell, while their mother is in the hospital. Mrs. Powell is doing very well and hopes to be home the latter part of the week.

Doodle Milton escaped possible serious injury last Wednesday morning when an anhydros ammonia hose came loose as he was repairing it. He was taken to the hospital by Sterling Cummings but luckily received only minor burns about the face and hands.

Charles Beedy remains in critical condition in Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo, but has shown some improvement the past few days. His brother Eugene and wife Judy were able to be home some of last week. We hope he continues to show improvement.

REEVES HOME OF BRIDAL SHOWER
The Raymond Reeves home was the setting for a bridal shower Saturday morning honoring Mrs. Don McIntyre now of Albuquerque, N. Mex. Don McIntyre is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Noel Deavenport of here.

CHURCH NEWS

Seventy-five were present for worship services Sunday morning at the South Plains Baptist Church with several guests noted. Little Kelly Higginbotham was a guest with her grandmother, Mrs. Higginbotham, as was Lisa Powell with her grandfather, Doodle Milton. Mrs. Ernest Smitherman was a guest with her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Smitherman.

The ladies of the W.M.U. will not meet this Tuesday afternoon. They will be the guests of the Silverton W.M.U. on Tuesday night for a salad supper and a study on the Panama Canal area. A very interesting program was brought to the ladies last week with Mrs. Bryan Karr being in charge of the study. The theme was Trends in Home Missions with the emphasis on past, present and future trends on American ways of life. Some interesting facts and statistics were noted. Today there are 100,000,000 people in America without any knowledge of Christ. In the near future we will be given a government number at birth that will be used to keep up with our health, education and welfare. The trend is now to leave urban areas and live in the cities. By the end of the century two-thirds of the population will live on 10% of the land in continuous cities. In 1845 only 10% lived in cities while in 1965 72% lived in cities. The present trend of a shorter work week and earlier retirement will continue. In 1845 we worked an average of 60 hours per week and 1965 an average of 40 hours per week. By 1975 we will work only 28 hours per week thus leaving 32 free hours per week for relaxation. Americans relax so strenuously today that 140 die per day on the highways. The ladies enjoying this interesting and knowledgeable session at W.M.U. were Mrs. L. T. Wood, Mrs. Bryan Karr, Mrs. Frank McClure, Mrs. Nelda Maurer, Mrs. Harold Hamm and Mrs. Doodle Milton.

Little Lori Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Travis Young, underwent a tonsillectomy last Friday morning in Plainview Hospital. She is home now and recovering nicely.

Several children are ill with the chicken-pox. It seems to be spreading quite rapidly and we expect many more cases soon. Those now ill are Jeanette Reeves, Ronnie Stewart, Randy Calahan and Darla Milton. Mr. and Mrs. Philip Smitherman, Marc and Monty visited Sunday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Smitherman's cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Butler and Kelly in Plainview.

Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Wood and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Smitherman dined on Sunday in Floydada, the occasion being Mrs. Wood's birthday.

Lions And Wives Entertained At Sweetheart Fete

The members of the Floydada Lions Club were entertained by a local group and by an Amarillo speaker at their annual Valentine's Sweetheart Banquet last week.

The Darrell Fairies family sang a medley of songs, including "Let Me Call You Sweetheart," "Where, Oh Where Has My Little Dog Gone," "East Side, West Side," "Down By The Old Mill Stream," and tied the group together into "Ole McDonald Had A Farm."

Rev. Leon Hill of Amarillo was the featured speaker for the evening. He told the group that if the Garden of Eden was ever reborn it would be at the home. "If paradise is ever regained it is at the hearthstone at home," he said.

Rev. Hill said the family that loves together, laughs together, and prays together, stays together.

R. H. Farris, District Deputy Governor for Area I from Crosbyton gave the local group a pep talk about the district contest.

In one of their literary moments! Their second play, "A United Artists release in Eastmancolor, will be at the Capada Drive-In Theatre. The group come up with song hits in the way-out comedy.

Mail Glove, 8,000 B. C. Spear Point Part Of Burl Daniel Collection

By Wendell Tooley
Last week when James Word and I visited the Burl Daniel farm, south of Floydada to view some object that had fallen from the sky, we didn't realize that the big story would turn out to be Burl's collection of Indian relics.

We're still awaiting word from the air base at Lubbock as to what sort of tinsel splashed down to the ground on Burl's farm. . . . not too far north-east from his house.

When we went into the house for a cup of coffee. . . . Burl began to bring out all sorts of pieces of flint, rock, arrowheads, and spear points. There was also a smooth rock that the Indians had used to grind grain. Burl said all the rocks were found in his field above the canyon. Although he owns some land in the canyon, none of the objects were found there.

MAIL GLOVE
James showed a considerable amount of interest when he recognized a spear point that dates back to 8,000 B.C., but he really came to life when Burl brought out what appeared to be a part of a mail glove. You know, back in King Arthur's day the knights used mail as a part of their armor.

The glove is a flexible fabric of interlinked metal rings, the thumb and index fingers were still intact. The glove would appear to fit a giant, but its large size is necessary to cover a fabric interlinking.

James speculated that the glove could have been worn by one of the Coronado explorers who came across this area back in 1541.

James sent the glove to the University of Texas for identification purposes and no answer from the University had been received at press time this week.

WOOD WORK
Burl also enjoys a hobby of wood work. He has made a circular frame for a mirror from oak, a console sewing table, a picture frame of two types of wood sealed together and other items around the house.

BOBCATS
I always enjoy a trip to the Daniel home. . . . the last time I was out there, Burl had been doing a little bobcat hunting. . . . wonder what he'll come up with next?

The High Cost Of Politics

An unusual situation has developed on this year's political horizon. Very few people are interested in running for office. We can see this on the county and district level in our part of the country, where none of the offices are contested.

We're mighty glad the incumbents decided to announce for reelection!

On the state level, the office of state senator for our district did develop into a three-way race. Two of these are incumbents, due to the re-districting that occurred.

Our state representative Ralph Wayne has no contestant. When you look at state politics... again it's hard to get excited.

No doubt about it, there's a lot of money involved in seeking election to a state office... and of course a lot of traveling and hand shaking involved even on the precinct level.

We like to think that this is an unusual political year because the incumbents are doing an outstanding job and no one is particularly unhappy enough with them to seek to enter the competition.

Yet, the plain old facts of economics still demand that a man with some money is about the first requisite for filling an office for local, state and national government.

And, we're cognizant of the fact that it takes a lot of friends, pressure groups and big business with a lot more money pitched in to get a spot on the state or national level.

Surely, there is a better way for selection of government officials, but if there is, we have yet to hear about it.

We look around and we can't see another country with a system of government and election of public officials that we like better...

Then the question of, "why pay poll taxes to vote on a no-contest election?" Well, there's always the chance of a write in candidate sweeping the election and votes should express approval of an incumbent... as well as a negative indication in a contested election...

Ho... Hum... this editorial could ramble on forever... and what is the state going to do about refunding our poll tax money this year?

Senator Andy Rogers Speaks To Rotarians

It was annual farmer's day at the Floydada Rotary club last Wednesday and luncheon speaker for the occasion was state senator Andy Rogers. He was introduced by Rotarian Henry Barber.

Senator Rogers said our state can expect more taxes, yet we have about the smallest tax base in the U.S. and the people are getting good return for their tax dollar.

In regard to redistricting, senator Rogers said that the big cities were controlling the vote and that 1/2 of the people of Texas live in 12 cities. He said we need to educate the big city people to the needs and problems of rural people.

laws concerning water pollution.

He said we certainly needed the water from Alaska and Canada, and we could hardly wait 20 years to get it.

On education, senator Rogers said that we have several problems... he said that education was our first line of defense for our nation. He said that we must upgrade our educational system, that our state is 'way behind other states.

and the farmer who takes advantage of the experience of the research stations will be nearer a better profit picture when the crop is in each fall.

MAYOR MATSLER was in my office to say that there had been complaints from some of our townspeople about trash blowing all over the neighborhood. The mayor said to remind the residents of Floydada that there is an ordinance requiring a lid on every trash can.

Okay...you've been reminded...or warned...or notified!

MASS MAILING: The owner of a small crossroads store was appointed postmaster. Over six months went by and not one piece of mail left town. Deeply concerned, postal authorities in Washington wrote the postmaster to inquire why.

They received this short and simple explanation: "The bag ain't full yet."

IT LOOKS like our neighbors to the north have some big plans going for a country club and landing strip. A lease has been signed for 99 years with the Lockney city council and some memberships have already been sold.

Well, the folks in the Lockney area have plenty of money, and I see no reason why they can't have anything they want. The Lockney area has the best irrigation water in the county and I would suppose the land is as good as there is in the county.

This is the thing I have continually pointed out... Floyd County people can have anything they want... if they want to make the effort of organization and work.

I ENJOY stopping by this auto customizing industry that is located here in our block each week. There's a different car or two in there about every time I go in. I noticed Don Hardy was working on a Dodge from Waco Monday... and I believe the Falcon was from Morton.

Don and partner Kelly Chadwick have put Floydada on the map with their drag autos and the customizing work that is fast developing.

OUR CONGRATULATIONS to the Whirlettes on winning district, and we look forward to carrying the big news of their winning state. "Go girls... go!"

THE LOCAL group of men who have gone into contract for the purchase of Mar Del Manor is an example of what I like to see. These people believe in Floydada and its future... they're putting their money where their mouth is.

We need more individuals who will put their money back into their community... in home building... in business building.

We look at Floydada and we see a lot of average income people all chipping in their part... working together for the betterment of their community.

And, of course there's nothing wrong with what has recently happened in Tulla, when one man gave the community some $300,000.00 for a better hospital. This certainly gives a community a boost.

FEBRUARY IS HEART month, and I want to remind our readers about three big events scheduled to help raise funds. First, I want everyone to drink a lot of coffee tomorrow, because all the coffee money will be given by seven firms in Floydada to the heart fund for this one day. (Wonder how many dollars worth of coffee we drink a day in Floydada.)

The heart program at Dougherty tonight should be very interesting with a noted heart surgeon as the speaker.

Then on the 26th and 27th in the Baker building at Lockney you'll want to see the "Art for Heart Show."

I RECEIVED a call from the Reese Air Force base public information officer Tuesday morning saying the object that fell on the Burl Daniel farm was a tinsel "chaff" that the air force drops out of planes to jam radars. So that takes care of all our flying saucer suspicions for awhile.

AS YOU can see from the special section in this issue of the Hesperian, we're going into FFA week. When I think of FFA, I see one young fellow here in the organization, who I suppose, is just a pretty typical member. He's Charles Overstreet. Charles is friendly, good natured, very much the young farmer-rancher type. It's a real delight just to hear him talk and to see his enthusiasm for just about everything that comes along in our schools and our community.

Our best wishes to the Floydada Chapter of Future Farmers of America.

Elder Joe Jackson visited with patients in Mar Del Manor in Floydada Sunday afternoon.

News reports said Rose's wife was placed in Quay County jail Monday morning awaiting arraignment on open charges of murder. She had been in a Tucumcari Hospital under sedation since the shooting and was released Monday morning.

The shooting occurred in the Rose ranch home, 18 miles northeast of San Jon, N.Mex. Quay County Sheriff Claude Moncus said he received a telephone call at 3:30 p.m. from Mrs. Rose who said, "He tried to kill me, and I shot him."

Rose was found sprawled on the kitchen floor near a chair. An autopsy showed that the bullet entered the chest just to the right of the heart, ruptured the right lung and tore through the pulmonary artery before passing through Rose's back.

Rose graduated from Porter High School, northeast of San Jon and was with the Seebes on Guadalcanal during World War II. He was a member of the San Jon Baptist Church and Elk's Lodge in Tucumcari.

Survivors include the wife; one son, Harvey of the home; two brothers; four sisters and his father.

Whirlwinds Scare Antelopes; Whirlettes

The Floydada Whirlwinds put a scare in the Abernathy Antelopes as the locals jumped into an early lead in the game here Tuesday night, and did not allow the visitors to move ahead to stay until in the closing minutes. In fact, with only one minute to play Floydada was threatening as they were trailing by only one point, 59-60. Abernathy is tied with Dimmitt now for the District 3-AA crown.

The girls finished the regular season with a good 9-1 record and will play Frenship in the bi-district playoff at Abernathy Tuesday, March 1.

The Whirlettes had to come from behind to overcome a first quarter deficit and take the game. However, before the game ended, most of the starting players had spent several minutes on the bench.

Abernathy jumped into an early lead in the first quarter and before the locals could close the gap the quarter ended with the visitors ahead 10-8. However, during the second quarter of the game the Floydada defense arose to the occasion, allowed Abernathy only four points, and the forwards took the game from there by dropping in 15 points for the Whirlettes. At halftime the locals were in control of the game 23-14.

After the intermission, the guards were once again the stalwarts of the team for there were only 3 1/2 minutes left in the quarter before Abernathy was able to score and going into the final eight minutes the locals led 33-20. Abernathy came alive in the fourth quarter and played the Whirlettes a close game, but the locals were far out of reach of the visitors and went on to win the game 44-33.

Shirley Rainer hit 28 points for Floydada and Mary Davis of Abernathy hit 19. Linda Rucker grabbed 16 rebounds to reach a new record and lead the defensive action.

The fired-up Whirlwinds hit the court here Tuesday night with a lot of determination, jumped in front of Abernathy and stayed there most of the night, to scare one of the teams tied for the district crown.

The Winds drew first blood and midway in the quarter had allowed Abernathy only one point. With 1 1/2 minutes left in the quarter the host team had control of the game with a 15-6 margin. The quarter ended with the scoreboard showing that Abernathy had closed the gap, but the Winds had a 17-11 advantage.

As the second quarter got underway, Abernathy was determined to get into the lead, and fought desperately, but only managed a tie by halftime. Midway in the second period, with Floydada leading 21-18, a technical foul, plus a personal foul gave Kerry Bearden three free throws, all of which he sank, to put Floydada in control again. However, when the half ended the score was tied 31-31.

After the intermission the Winds took control of the game once again and moved to a seven point lead after three minutes with the scoreboard showing 39-32. However, Abernathy closed the gap again and after a couple of minutes the scoreboard showed 40-41 Abernathy.

The score rocked back and forth for about half a minute then Floydada took the lead

"AGRICULTURE IS MORE THAN FARMING"

Floydada To Observe FFA Week, February 19-26

Vocational Agriculture students in Floydada High School, several Floydada and surrounding area businessmen, and The Hesperian will join Future Farmers of America members through the nation in activities to focus attention on the importance of agriculture during National FFA Week, February 19-26.

"Agriculture Is More Than Farming" is this year's FFA Week theme. The members of the local chapter are in the midst of a campaign to inform the general public about the importance of the agricultural industry to America, the growing need for farming, and of the numerous and wide variety of opportunities that exist in the broad field of agriculture for young men who have a background of farm experience and training.

"We have such an abundance of food in America that people are taking farmers for granted," H. G. Barber and Gerald Thompson, local Vocational Agriculture teachers and FFA advisors said recently. "Actually, farming and its related industries, now and always have been our largest and most vital industry, and it is becoming increasingly important with our growth came this year, partly as a result of total school integration. In a recent study conducted by Mr. George Hurl, State Director of Vocational Agriculture, it was found that over sixty per cent of the vocational agriculture students who graduated from high school last year and were available for employment are now in full-time farming or in agricultural related occupations. Over forty per cent of this number are in full-time farming.

The theme this year for the FFA is; "Agriculture is more than farming", and it certainly is. It involves those who process and distribute many agricultural goods. Many people are employed in agricultural occupations such as engineers, scientists, management personnel, sales and service personnel and educators. also there are over 60,000 desirable openings each year for farm operators, farm engineers and full-time hired farm labor.

Vocational agriculture and the FFA are striving to provide a sound and a continuing education to help produce the leaders and work force so direly needed in our nations agriculture industry.

SALUTING THE
FLOYDADA FFA CHAPTER — FFA WEEK FEBRUARY 19-26

Local FFA In 36th Year Of Growth

The Floydada Future Farmer Chapter is celebrating its thirty sixth year of growth this year.

Vocational agriculture was started in the school in 1927 with O. T. Williams as the teacher. Williams taught Vocational agriculture seven years.

Alpha King, a local boy, was teaching science in the high school and was elected to teach vocational agriculture following Williams' resignation. King taught agriculture for five years and resigned to take a job with the Lorenzo schools.

H.G. Barber was elected to follow King and has been in the present position for the past twenty-seven years.

The Future Farmer Organization of Texas is said to have been started in Texas by O. T. Williams in 1927, but it was not until April of 1930 that Floydada received its state charter under which it is operating at the present. Floydada was issued charter number 3. There are 875 white chapters in the state of Texas.

There have been on an average about 35 to 40 boys graduate from high school each year and about three fourths of them have had from one to four years of agriculture.

There are fifty-eight boys who have received the States highest degree, the State Farmer Degree of LONE STAR FARMER DEGREE.

Two farmers, Craig Edwards and Teen Burlison have achieved the ultimate in FFA, the American Farmer Degree.

One hundred and seven boys are in the chapter at the present.

In 1953 Floydada qualified for an extra teacher and the school expanding population. In our area, particularly, most of the businesses, and most of the jobs, are basically dependent upon surrounding farms for their existence. Take away the farms, and for all practical purposes you would destroy the entire community, and nation for that matter."

Activities planned by the local members of the Floydada FFA chapter for FFA Week are the annual Father-Son Banquet, District Shop Contest, Feb. 19 sponsored by Light-house Electric, and a special section in The Hesperian.

Membership in the FFA is made up of students of Vocational Agriculture in high school. The organization's activities are designed to help develop rural leadership and good citizenship, and to stimulate the students to better achievement in their study and work toward successful establishment in farming or other agricultural occupations.

The Floydada FFA chapter is made up of 107 members. The officers are: Charles Overstreet, president; Roland Adams, vice president; Larry Hunter, secretary; Rex Lawson, treasurer; Thumper Morgan, reporter; Larry Adams, student advisor; Kerry Beard-has had a two-teacher vocational agriculture department since that time.

The first extra teacher was James Price who taught one year and went into full time farming. He was followed by James Carroll who taught for three years and is teaching in Lubbock High School at the present.

Lloyd Cook who is managing the Chevrolet house of Bell-Cook at Pearsall followed Carroll and taught for four years and resigned to take on his present job.

G. B. Thompson has been teaching since Cook's resignation and presently holds the position.

A Long Way From Green Hand To American Farmer

It takes more than just a handshake and a short ceremony to step from one degree to another in FFA and it is surely a long way from Green Hand to American Farmer. There are at least four years intensive work involved, a lot of money invested and exchanged, a lot of community work, and a lot of school work. Almost every person that takes Vocational Agriculture for one year can become a Green Hand, but a very small percentage can advance to the coveted American Farmer degree. Two past Floydada Future Farmer Members, that are presently farming in the Floydada area have achieved that degree, however. They are S. C. (Teen) Barleson and Craig Edwards.

GREEN HAND DEGREE
Although the requirements for the various degrees are similar, the higher one advances in FFA the more complex the requirements and more detailed they become.

The minimum qualifications for election to a Green Hand Degree are:
1. Be regularly enrolled in a Vocational Agriculture class and have satisfactory and acceptable plans for a program of supervised farming.
2. Be familiar with the purposes of the FFA and the program of work of the local chapter.
3. Recite the Creed of the Future Farmers of America, from memory.
4. Receive a majority vote of the members present at a regular meeting of a local chapter of the Future Farmers of America.

CHAPTER FARMER DEGREE
The minimum qualifications for election to the Chapter Farmer Degree are:

1. Must have held the Degree of Green Hand preceding election to the Degree of Chapter Farmer and have a record of satisfactory participation in the activities of the local chapter.

2. Must have satisfactorily completed at least one year of instruction in Vocational Agriculture, have in operation an improved supervised farming program, and be regularly enrolled in a Vocational Agriculture class.

3. Be familiar with the purposes and programs of work of the State association and national organization.

4. Be familiar with the provisions of the constitution of the local chapter.

5. Be familiar with parliamentary procedure.

6. Be able to lead a group discussion for fifteen minutes.
7. Must have earned by his own efforts from his supervised farming program and deposited in a bank or otherwise productively invested at least $50.

8. Receive a majority vote of the members present at a regular local chapter meeting.

STATE FARMER DEGREE
The minimum qualifications for election to the State Farmer Degree are:

1. Must have held the Degree of Chapter Farmer preceding election to the Degree of State Farmer, have been an active member of the FFA for at least two years, and have

★★★★★★ Charles Overstreet

Charles Overstreet, who helps his father and his brother, Robert, farm and ranch just off the Caprock east of town, is the only Lone Star Farmer in the Floydada FFA Chapter.

R. W. Overstreet owns and manages 7 sections of land off the Caprock and two sections on the Caprock near Dougherty. Robert, a brother of Charles, is a former Floydada FFA member and is presently enrolled in Texas A&M.

Since Charles has been able to take care of animals, he has had cattle for his responsibility. So when he enrolled in Vocational Agriculture and joined the Floydada FFA, cattle were naturally his first choice for a project.

Overstreet is a senior and has a supervised farming program consisting of 15 head of registered Hereford cattle and several acres of wheat land. Very active in FFA, he has served as vice president, and president of the local chapter for the past two years. He is also Area 1 vice president and will seek a state office in April.

IN FLOYDADA

Vo. Ag. Teachers Experience 31 Years

Henry Barber and Gerald B. Thompson, Floydada Vocational Agriculture instructors, have a total of 31 years of experience in the local school system in that capacity. Barber has been here for 27 years and Thompson has spent four full years here.

Thompson is a graduate of Southeastern Teachers College in Durant, Oklahoma. He attended Murray Junior College, Tishamingo, Oklahoma and Santa Barbara University, Santa Barbara, California. He received a B.S. in 1950 and a M. S. Degree in 1952 from Oklahoma State University, Stillwater, Oklahoma.

He taught two years at Bixby, Oklahoma, before moving to Texas, and taught nine years at Pilot Point, Texas (Denton County) before moving to Floydada as Vocational Agriculture Teacher in August of 1961.

Thompson, states that he, has been well pleased with the cooperation that he has had with the people of Floydada. It is his belief that time spent working with boys, is not really spent, it is an investment in the habits, skills, and character of our young men.

Boys looking for a future in farming will find a greater challenge, and perhaps a more difficult job than that encountered by their fathers.

H.G. Barber was born and reared at Weatherford, Texas. He lived on a farm until he started teaching school in Parker County in 1925. By teaching in the winter and attending college in the summer he completed his college education having received his masters degree from Texas A. & M. College in 1943. In undergraduate work he attended Weatherford Jr. College, North Texas State University, Oklahoma A. & M. and did some work from Texas University.

Barber came to Floydada in the fall of 1939 had has taught vocational agriculture here to the present time. During his stay here he has served as President of the Floyd Co. TSTA, President of the Board of Directors of the Vocational Agricultural Teachers Association for 12 years and was elected to serve as secretary, for one year, one year as vice-president, and one year as president. There are 1000 members in the Texas association.

Barber was chosen as Teacher of the Year in 1959 by the 1956 Study Club.

Barber is a member of the Farm Bureau, is a Mason, a Democrat, and a Rotarian.

He is a member of the First Baptist Church, teacher of a men's Sunday school class, and a deacon.

He is married to the former Corine Jones and they have a married son, Don, living in San Antonio. He has a granddaughter, Ann Blake, who is twenty months old.

Today we are living in a time when science fiction has become a reality. No longer is space travel laughed at; it has now become a serious subject of national importance. Medical advancement has allowed human organs to be replaced by mechanical counterparts. Computers work problems in minutes that had taken men weeks to work. Yet when we say "The American farmer produced more food and fiber on less land than ever before, no one gets excited." Has the farmer and all those connected with agricultural related occupations been taken for granted? Perhaps it is time we re-examine the situation to see where agriculture stands in our history, our economy and in our nation's future.

As our young nation developed from thirteen struggling colonies into the greatest nation in the world, agriculture not only provided food and fiber to feed and clothe the people, but it also provided nearly all our national economy. Many of the first industries attempted in America failed because the European nations could produce better and less expensive products; therefore, there was no foreign market for American goods. For this reason Americans quickly developed agriculture and in doing so agriculture quickly developed America. In 1790, 95 per cent of America's population lived on the farm and depended 100 per cent on agriculture for livelihood. The independent nature of this group contributed greatly to why our nation developed free and independent. Many of the great leaders, such as Washington and Jefferson were truly agriculturists at heart. Without this

Larry Hunter

Larry Hunter, who lives in the McCoy Community, is in his third year in FFA.

In his freshman year he had two pigs and two acres of cotton for projects. He received the Green Hand Degree during his freshman year. As a sophomore, he had two acres of cotton, and also had breeding beef cattle for a project. He held an office during his sophomore year and achieved the Chapter Farmer Degree. This year he has cotton and beef cattle for projects. He is secretary of the Floydada FFA chapter and is in the process of getting his Lone Star Farmer degree.

Next year Hunter plans to increase and improve his projects, and if possible, try for a higher degree in FFA.

After high school he plans to study in the field of agriculture, "because," Hunter said, "almost everything you do is connected with agriculture, and I believe there will always be a future in agriculture."

The Spot boar is just over a year old and this last fall he was Grand Champion of his class at the Lubbock Fair.

In the future Harris plans to increase his herd to about 800 and continue adding to his present facilities until the entire operation is quite modern.

type of men as leaders, the independent nature of American citizens and the economic advancements brought by agriculture, we could never have developed into the greatest nation in the world.

Has the importance of agriculture changed? Has agriculture actually taken a back-seat? Maybe in the minds of a few who think of agriculture as just farming and fail to realize the true economic value of this "American Giant." Today Agri-business accounts for almost forty-five percent of our national economy. Texas' share of agriculture products is a gigantic two billion dollars each year. While it is true only seven per cent of our population is engaged in the farming and ranching business, four out of every ten in our working force are employed in some phase of Agri-business. These people either buy, sell, transport, process or manufacture goods that directly involve agriculture. Agriculture is still the "backbone" of our nation.

Looking to the future we can see even greater importance for agriculture. Recently it was announced that agricultural production in the world reached an all time high, however population continued to gain on production. This simply means, tonight many people in the world went to bed a little hungrier. Statistics today show that two thirds of the people went to bed hungry. Let's not forget only one third of the world's population is in Asia, a country we usually associate with starvation! More than one half of the rest of the world lacks food to feed it's people. This problem will continue to grow and as it does, so will the challenge to agriculture to meet it. Yes, even in America, the idea of starvation should not be ruled out.

Agriculture has been the builder of our nation, the backbone of our economy, and is the challenge of the future. It cannot be rated second or given the back seat in our minds. There must be an organization such as the Future Farmers of America to keep the proud heritage of the past and produce the leaders and the type of citizens necessary to meet the challenges of the future. We desire to keep America the best fed and best clothed nation in the world, strong enough to remain free and independent. This is the "why" of the FFA. The question is; how will the Future Farmers of America do this?

When a young man enrolls in vocational agriculture and voluntarily joins the FFA, he not only receives training necessary for the highly technical field of farming and other agricultural related occupations, but also receives training that will help to mold his character. The primary aim of the FFA is the development of agricultural leadership, cooperation and citizenship. The FFA achieves this goal in many ways. The member must first realize that responsibility is opportunity in disguise. Every time he accepts a responsibility he develops himself, whether the responsibility is serving as an officer in his chapter, on a judging team, or taking care of his supervised farming program. He learns that he can achieve anything he wants, if he wants it badly enough. In order to do this, he must be willing with determination necessary sacrifice in himself, and through working with his hands, he learns a job well done; and, helping hand in of his own arm. with the members chapter in planning ing out a program he finds that the key to success

"Believe In Farming" Key Words Of Creed

When a member of an FFA chapter first learns to recite the creed, which he must do to receive the Green Hand Degree, the words may not hold much meaning. Like so many other things the youth must learn to recite, it's just a matter of putting one word after another in the correct order. However, after studying the creed for a number of times the words "Believe In Farming" will eventually make an impression of the person. Then after a time of working with the FFA and getting an idea of what the organization means to them and their friends, the words no longer become "just words following words" but take on real meaning. The person will look again and again at the creed and eventually the words will become second nature to him, for he will believe it when he says: "I believe in the future of farming, with a faith born not of words but of deeds—achievements won by the present and past generations of farmers; in the promise of better days through better ways, even as the better things we now enjoy have come up to us from the struggles of former years.

"I believe that to live and work on a good farm is pleasant as well as challenging; for I know the joys and discomforts of farm life and hold an inborn fondness for those associations which, even in hours of discouragement, I cannot deny.

"I believe in leadership from ourselves and respect from others. I believe in my own ability to work efficiently and think clearly, with such knowledge and skill as I can secure, and in the ability of organized farmers to serve our own and the public interest in marketing the product of our toil. I believe we can safeguard those rights against practices and policies that are unfair.

"I believe in less dependence on begging and more power in bargaining; in the life abundant and enough honest wealth to help make it so—for others as well as myself; in less need for charity and more of it when needed; in being happy myself and playing square with those whose happiness depends upon me.

"I believe that rural America can and will hold true to the best traditions in our national life and I can exert an influence which will home and community which will stand solid for my part in that inspiring task."

FFA FACT SHEET

Important Points To Practice

The Future Farmers of America is a national organization of boys and girls studying Vocational Agriculture in the public schools. The FFA is an educational, nonprofit, nonpolitical youth organization of voluntary membership, designed to develop agricultural leadership, character, thrift, scholarship, cooperation, citizenship and patriotism. One of the requirements for membership is that the boy must be enrolled in a high school class of Vocational Agriculture. The age limit is 14-21.

The national membership is over 450,000 and is sponsored by the U. S. Office of Education. The Texas Association of FFA is sponsored by the schools in Texas. The local Vocational Agriculture teacher serves as local FFA Chapter Advisor.

The FFA is furnishing well-trained leaders and citizens for responsible positions in agricultural business and industry, professional agricultural work, farming, and ranching. Four out of every ten employed persons in the United States work in some phase of agriculture.

FUTURE FARMERS PRACTICE THESE:

1. Belief in God as we understand Him.
2. The importance of the individual.
3. The dignity of work.
4. Private ownership of property.
5. The government as a protector, not a provider.

THE WHY

may be impossible to do by yourself, comes easy if you work with others.

Working record books not only gives the FFA member an insight to business operation, also it shows him the importance of good management and thrift. Through improvement projects whether they be at his home or in the community, the FFA member learns that service to others is a service to one's self.

Each meeting is closed with the pledge of allegiance to the flag as a constant reminder that with out the many rights and freedoms we have in America, not one of the above would be possible and that we have a responsibility to our nation as well as to ourselves.

Learning to Do
Doing to Learn
Earning to Live
Living to Serve

As each future farmer dedicates himself to the above motto, realizing it's true meaning, he becomes the "how" the FFA will meet the challenges of the future.

Lehmburg, Art, was elected second vice-president, and Waymon Ashley, Fort Worth, was re-elected as secretary-treasurer. E. J. Foster of Lockney was named to the Board of Directors.

The membership elected the following as members of the board of directors: Jack Williamson, Rotan; Charles Schwab, San Antonio; Rex Robinson, Snyder; Alvis Belcher, Brackettville; Fred Brown, Groom; Oliver Grote, Mason, and Cy Clayton, Bryson.

Other members of the board of directors are Tommy Holmes, LaGrange; Clayton Striling, Llano; W. T. Martin, Sweetwater; Ed D. Allen, Cleburne; Dr. L. G. Ballard, Granbury, and T. J. Plunkett, Henderson.

Featured speakers at the group's banquet were Glen Bratcher, St. Joseph, Missouri, secretary, and Earl Dugger, Louisburg, Kansas, president, of the American Angus Association.

8. American Farmer candidates must be recommended by the National Board of Directors and National Board of Student Officers and receive a majority vote of the delegates present at a national convention of FFA.

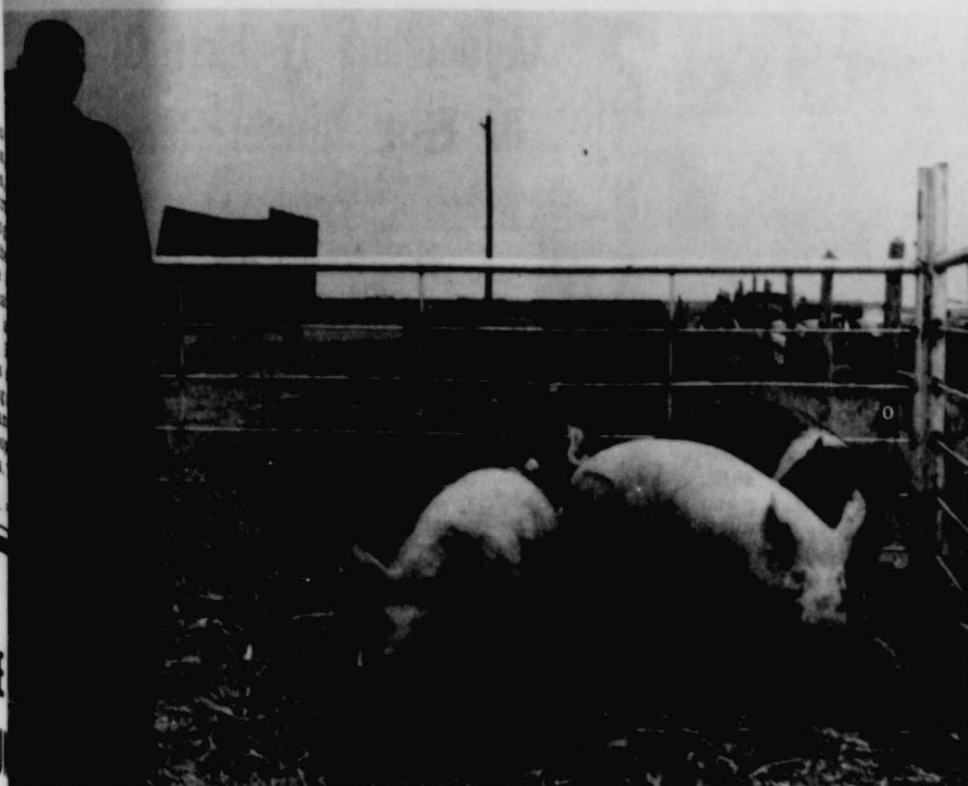

It is obvious that getting the American Farmer Degree is quite difficult and a long, tedious process. The two former Floydada FFA students are two such recipients.

Presently there is only one Lone Star Farmer in the Floydada Chapter, that is Charles Overstreet, president of the local chapter. Five others are submitting applications for the Degree this year. They are Nathan Johnson, Roland Adams, Larry Hunter, Franklin Harris and Michael Hinsley.

It might be said that those mentioned above are the outstanding members of the chapter, either in farm program, or in some other leadership quality displayed through chapter, school, or community activities.

Further information about these members may be found in separate stories in this section.

The House Ways and Means Committee says it has received little opposition to the President's $4,800,000,000 tax bill. The added funds are to help pay for the Vietnam war.

Hinsley, of the Lone Star Farmer Degree applicant, above with all but one of his show pigs and an acre of cotton that produced 2 1/4 bales. In Agriculture III he has four show pigs, three acres of cotton and two breeding beef cows.

For his fourth year in Agriculture he plans to have three acres of cotton, an Angus show calf and about four show pigs, plus the two breeding beef cows.

After graduation he plans to go to college and major in Agriculture. He plan to eventually become a rancher.

BUICK - PONTIAC

By: M.A. Brown, Director and Professor Agriculture Department Sam Houston State College

Have you read what today's U.S. leaders are predicting for the leadership of tomorrow in this country? Have you detected their note of pessimism when discussing the ability of private citizens to make wise decisions? Well, I have, and I feel challenged!

"Leadership by private individuals in the U.S. is declining rapidly," wrote John W. Gardner. "As a result," he continued, "More and more decisions that should be dealt with in the private sector end up being dealt with by government." Mr. Gardner concluded, "the sad truth is that a great many of our organizations are badly managed or badly led."

Mr. Gardner included these remarks in his introduction to the recent annual report of the Carnegie Corporation. He is president of the corporation but is on indefinite leave to serve as Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

Does Mr. Gardner include farm organizations among those "badly managed or badly led"? Is he concerned about trends in such groups as the FFA? I wonder.

In a separate yet somewhat similar article, Bill Durham reported in the Houston Post, "that the USDA has instructed the farmer committeemen elected to administer the programs of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Administration to broaden the scope of their interests." He wrote that, "They are being told to take an interest in problems of the whole rural community, not just those pertaining to production."

Does it mean that in the future a farmer can expect to receive advice and help from local ASCS committeemen in making all sorts of decisions affecting his life? Whether he needs or desires help?

Perhaps we should take a closer look at our organization and see where we're going. What's ahead in agriculture, and how does FFA fit in?

It seems apparent from what Mr. Gardner and Mr. Durham wrote, that superior leadership training of future agriculturists is becoming more and more imperative. Farmers and others in our U.S. agricultural industries WILL be challenged on leadership decisions in the future. Not only by competitors and government planners within Agriculture, but also by dynamic outside competition.

Former Undersecretary of Agriculture True D. Morse underscored these points quite clearly as he predicted future trends in agriculture during a recent talk in Denver. Mr. Morse suggested:

"Competition between farm commodities and between food items will increase. Higher protein corn will offer more competition for the protein market. Milk protein and solids-not-fat will face more competition."

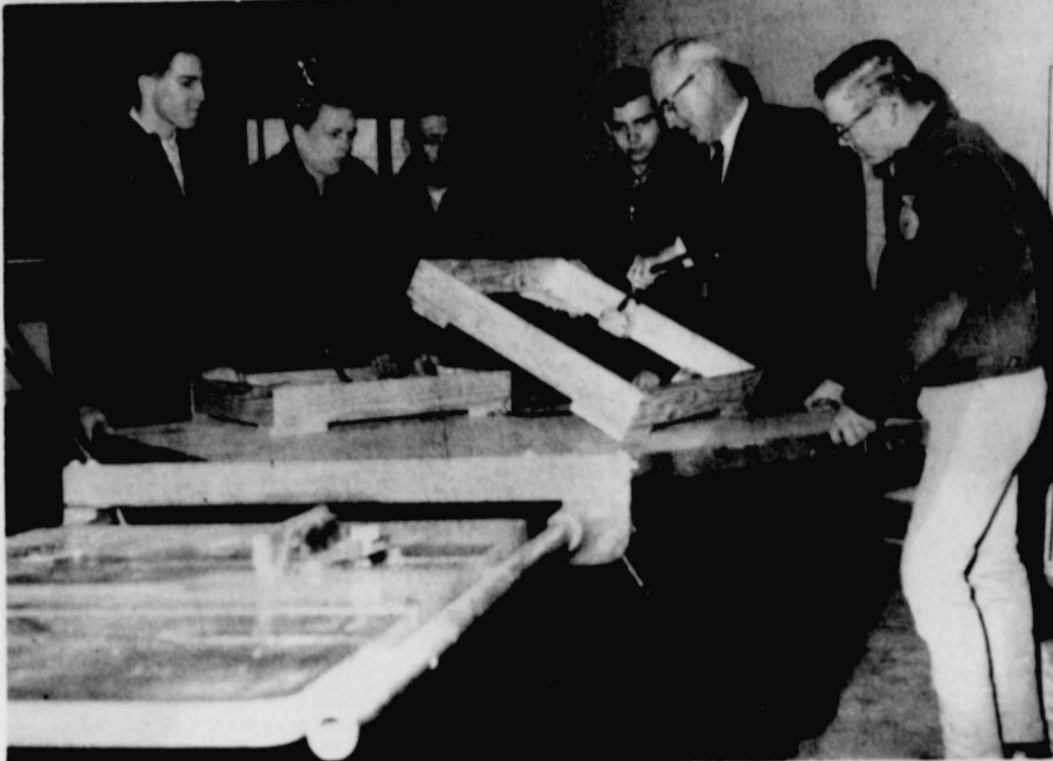

"Combination, or formula foods with names not related to farm sources, will become more common. Frankfurters helped lead the way."

"Much of the old-time kitchen cooling will become largely a lost art. Big central kitchens of industry will do more and more of the cooking. More and more of our food will reach homes and public eating places in ready-mixed, ready-to-serve, or in heat-and-serve form."

"There will be growing competition for the products of the larger and better managed farms, ranches, and feed lots. They will be the ones which can give assurance of regular supplies of products of predetermined quality."

"There will be more permanent money invested in farms and other agricultural enterprises. This is the kind of financing that has speeded the development of other industries and businesses."

Mr. Morse added, "American agriculture has made more progress during the past 15 to 25 years than in all prior recorded history. Authorities are saying that technological and other advances may be even more rapid during the next 15 years."

It appears that agricultural leaders have more than met challenges to date. Will leaders capable of moving our industry ahead as predicted, continue to be developed in the years ahead? The Future Farmers of America can aid greatly in this development as they have in the past.

There are found among alumni of the FFA, agriculturists who are demonstrating daily that they have the ability to provide dynamic leadership for the future. Young men like Bobby Traweek of Dublin, Texas, who has already raised annual production in his dairy herd above 16,000 pounds of milk per cow, yet is aiming to surpass the 20,000 level.

Or like Elwood Phillips, who took a $1,000 city bank loan and some borrowed farm machinery and set out to demonstrate that a young man CAN get started in farming. His present 1200 acres of field corn, 500 of popcorn, 300 of grain sorghum and 300 of soybeans near Columbus, Ohio, provide pretty convincing evidence.

Men like Royce Bodiford, Farm Service Director of KEEL, Shreveport; Warren Landwermyer, President of Magnolia Seed, Hardware and Implement Company at Dallas; SEE WHO SHALL, PAGE 7

PLAINVIEW (Special)—Higher cotton profits are possible from a skip-row interplanting technique, a meeting of about 450 persons was told here Thursday in the Hale County Exhibition Center.

Dr. Arthur Gohlke, senior soil scientist and assistant director of the High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway, said tests last year showed an advantage of $5.25 per bale for the interplanting system because of higher micronaire alone.

He said fallow rows absorb heat and have the effect of "increasing the growing day by 2 1/2 hours." He said the taller interplanted crop breaks the force of wind and prevents nighttime dissipation of heat accumulated

A chat with any one of these men would disclose his leadership qualities and potential. One would be impressed by the technical competence; infectious and enthusiastic optimism; and the thorough knowledge of human relations as knowledge of sound human relations being displayed. If questioned, most would list the knowledge of human relations as being mighty essential for effective leadership.

What makes these agricultural leaders so effective in their relationships with people?

They take the initiative in speaking to others. They smile at people and call them by name. They're friendly and help others. They are cordial and genuinely interested in others. They praise generously and criticize cautiously. And they stay alert to give service.

Who shall lead agriculture tomorrow? I believe that it will be men like those characterized above. Men well trained in modern technical agriculture, who seek for still greater knowledge. Men well drilled in leadership skills through participation in organizations like the FFA. Above all, men with the courage to make bold decisions and the self respect and self discipline to take full responsibility for their decisions.

Six new directors were elected during a meeting Tuesday of last week of the Board of Directors of Floyd County Fair.

Elected were Boyce Mosley of Lockney and Bill Hines, Truman Dunavant and Vaughn Ginn of Floydada for three-year terms and Clyde Stowe and Orville Billington for two-year terms.

C. L. Mooney, retiring treasurer, reported all notes have been paid and the Association is free of debt. As chairman of the catalogue advertising committee, Mooney stated $1070 has been collected from ads sold.

General discussion was held concerning the Fair scheduled in September at Lockney.

Next meeting was set for March 12 at Lighthouse Electric Cooperative in Floydada.

Attending were Bill Pallmeyer of Matador, Mrs. Ruby Lee Higginbotham, Mrs. J. P. Frank Moore, Plainview farmer and president of the foundation, said the planting technique could be of "vast overall economic importance" to the High Plains. He said he uses it 100 per cent.

Jimmy Wilson of Floydada, a member of the foundation board of directors, presided at the all-day meeting. The foundation, which has been testing the skip-row interplanting system for six years, sponsored the meeting.

Official Memorandum By JOHN CONNALLY Governor of Texas AUSTIN, TEXAS

GREETINGS:

The Future Farmers of America organization is playing an outstanding role in assuring the future progress and prosperity of our State and Nation.

The importance of agriculture in our State increases as Texas progresses. It is vital to our well-being that we train skilled farmers and ranchers to provide a plentiful supply of food products in years to come and to train those who will provide services to the farmer and process and distribute farm products.

The FFA is composed of boys who are studying vocational agriculture in the public schools in preparation for careers in farming, ranching, and related fields. In studying the science of agriculture, these Future Farmers are striving to continuously improve this great industry for the welfare of all citizens.

Texas now has over 1000 active FFA chapters with over 45,000 active members and more than a quarter of a million former members. During the past 37 years, the Texas Association, FFA, has performed valuable services to our State by developing leadership, encouraging cooperation, promoting good citizenship, teaching sound methods of farming, and inspiring patriotism among its members.

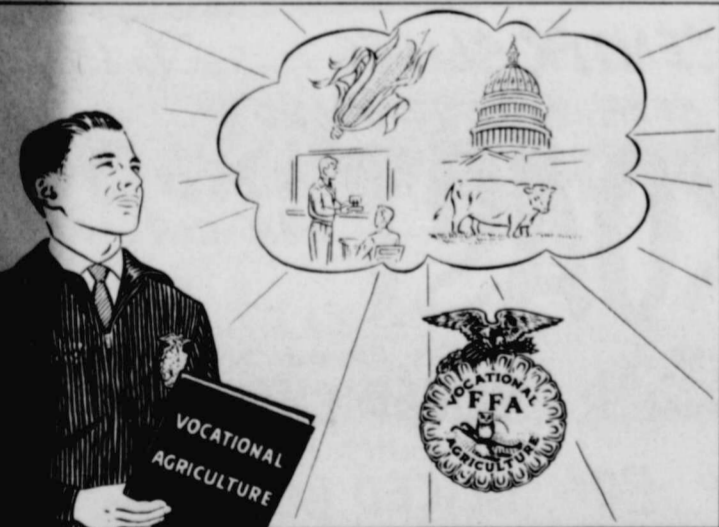

THEREFORE, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the week of February 19 - 26, 1966, as FUTURE FARMERS OF AMERICA WEEK in Texas.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 4th day of Jan., 1966 during the day. Efficiency increased

Lloyd Langford of the foundation staff explained that the skip-row interplanting system includes two rows of cotton, one row fallow, two rows of maize or another interplanted crop, one row blank, and so on across the field.

Jim Valliant, water engineer at the foundation, said the skip-row interplanting system sharply increases irrigation water efficiency. He said tests indicate this planting system can increase farm income 38 per cent over amount of water.

W. Lewis David of College Station, state executive director of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, explained how skip-row interplanted acreages will be measured in conjunction with allotments under federal farm programs.

David said the interplanting of cotton and milo in the foundation's skip-row patterns would be considered one-third cotton one third maize, and one-third idle land.

On other matters, David said a bright spot in the agricultural picture is that exports of U.S. farm commodities "may double" by 1970.

Harry Arthur of the Textile Research Laboratories at Texas Tech reported on the relationship of quality to markets for South Plains cotton.

A panel of four farmers told of their personal experiences with the skip-row interplanting system. They agreed that it has advantages "with regard to yield and quality of cotton and soil

Dr. Malcolm J. Thomas Jr., M. D., will be guest speaker for a program to be presented tonight, in the Dougherty Community Center, concerning the heart, according to information received here from Bill Renfro, regional director of the Texas Heart Association, by Mrs. S. J. McIntosh.

Mrs. McIntosh said the program would begin at 7 p.m. and people over the entire area are invited to attend this worthwhile evening. ### Toastmasters' Membership Totals Eighteen

The membership of the Floydada Toastmasters totals eighteen after the meeting held last week. The local organization is seeking a membership of at least 20 members. The club was re-organized recently after being idle during the autumn.

Charles Carr, of the Harmony Community, came up with the timely subject, "What Can I Do To Make Floydada A Better Town?"

From that question a chain reaction started and the subject of Fix-Up, Clean-Up, Paint-Up Week was utmost in people's minds during the remainder of the meeting and in discussion groups after the meeting.

One of the members stated, "It's like getting a haircut and needing a shave, to have new churches, school houses, hospitals, convalescent home, water, a good trend of residential and commercial building, marching forward together, even with our clean up every year--our new comers do notice the greatest need."

Last night's program time was taken up by Parliamentary Procedure, according to Roberts Rules of Order, conducted by Vaughn Ginn, who has had experience at teaching this course.

Also last night, Carl Brock was in charge of news, Dr. Ron Loose, was in charge of Table Topic, Charles Carr gave the Invocation and John Moss was Time Keeper.

Next Wednesday night James Hale and Dr. Loose will give their Ice Breakers and Bill Brown and John Moss will also speak.

The toastmaster will be Guy Ginn, Toastmaster will be Ralph Mardis, Willie Bradshaw will be in charge of Table Topic, James Hale will give the Invocation, John Hay will act as Time Keeper and John Moss will be Grammarian.

'Grandma, Let's Talk About Our Heart Operations'

IDENTICAL HEART OPERATIONS saved the lives of Mrs. E. L. Boyce of Fort Worth, Tex., and her grandson, Charlie Glassie III of Tacoma, Washington. Understandably, they are ardent boosters for the 1966 Heart Fund Campaign, being conducted nationally through February.

CENTER NEWS

CENTER, Feb. 14 - This is a beautiful afternoon, but early it was cold enough - 16 degrees above! St. Valentine's Day, Feb. 14th.

Last week seemed full for some of us. Tuesday the J. E. Greens went to Plainview, had lunch with son, Victor and family, visited with the Olin Millers. (He seems improving). Went to see Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Parks in the hospital (Mrs. Parks was to have surgery Thursday), and she is convalescing nicely.

Two daughters of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Vinson, from Harlingen, spent last week here with their parents and with their brother and family, the Jerrold Vinsons of Harmony.

Wednesday, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Latta of Mt. Blanco, and Mrs. Carrie Latta of Crosbyton came by the Greens on their way to Borger. Ma Green expected to accompany them, but that lady had a surprise attack of a combined arthritic infection, could not go, and is having to spend some time in bed. Mrs. Green's stepmother, Mrs. Matthews of Borger, who was ill that day, is reported improving.

Thursday Vic Green came by the parental home, Friday his wife, Sue, came and spent most of the day. Son, Don Clark Green of Big Spring, came by to see his parents late Saturday after spending the day in Plainview visiting his brother Vic and family and attending the Ex-students' Homecoming at Wayland College. Among the "Ex-students" attending were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Jordan, formerly of Center and now of Albuquerque.

Bro. and Mrs. Perry Threadgill visited Mr. and Mrs. Parks in Plainview Hospital and also the Greens.

Mrs. J. M. Ryman Jr. (Margaret) called long distance from San Antonio Sunday morning, having heard of her mother's illness.

Many thanks, neighbors, relatives and friends for the more than thirty visits, the many phone calls, cards and other nice things - among them the big beautiful Valentine box of chocolates brought me by my grandson when they came Sunday. After the first two days "being indisposed" is not so bad.
