Chamber Of Commerce Banquet Tomorrow

Houston Pastor Featured Speaker

The annual Chamber of Commerce and Floyd County Board of Development Banquet will be held tomorrow night beginning at 7 p.m. in the Floydada High School Cafeteria and Gymnasium.

The Floydada Stage Band, under the direction of Jim Boyd, will furnish appropriate music during the meal. The main address will be given by William P. "Bill" Deatherage, pastor of the Second Christian Church in Houston.

Deatherage was well received and highly praised after he spoke at the Ralls Chamber Banquet last year. Several Floydada people traveled to Ralls for the event and heard Dr. Deatherage speak there.

W. P. DEATHERAGE

Deatherage has been pastor of the Second Christian Church of Houston for the past more than twenty-seven years. He was born in DeLeon, Texas, and attended Arkansas and Oklahoma schools, was a singing evangelist and radio artist for some years before studying for, and being ordained to the ministry. He held a number of pastorates before coming to his present post in 1938.

Known for his humor, Deatherage is an inspirational speaker, and has traveled extensively in the United States, Canada, Mexico, Europe, and the Middle East. His characteristic comment on this is: "When you make the kind of speeches I make, you have to travel. I have done wide-spread damage as an after-dinner speaker."

The title of his address will be "The Greatest Life." PROGRAM Wendell Tooley, outgoing president of the Chamber, will be Emcee and will also introduce the officers and directors. The invocation will be given by Lowell Bell, pastor of the First Nazarene Church. Incoming Chamber president Ralph Mardis will introduce the guests and the presentation of the Chamber Page 2

Registration Of Voters Question Now Answered

A total of 2,654 poll taxes, exemptions and federal poll taxes were paid by residents in Floyd County prior to the February 1 deadline.

However, it is not known yet whether those who paid their poll taxes will be counted as registered voters, or if another procedure will be required before they will become qualified voters. The Supreme Court decision claiming the poll tax is unconstitutional, and upheld by a three-man Federal Court in Texas' case, stated that the poll tax receipt would not be required to vote in any election this year. This same court had said earlier that if their decision came down after January 31, the poll tax would be needed this year.

A special legislative body is still in session and will be until a satisfactory step can be taken that will register the voters in Texas. The poll tax had previously been removed as a prerequisite for voting in a Federal election, but the voters of Texas elected to keep the poll tax, a couple of years ago, as a requirement for voting in state, county, city and other local elections.

Diversion Payment Rate To Be 50 Where Castor Beans Are Produced

The diversion payment rate will be increased from 30% to 50% for the 1966 program where castor beans are grown as an alternate crop on acreage diverted for payment, the USDA announced today.

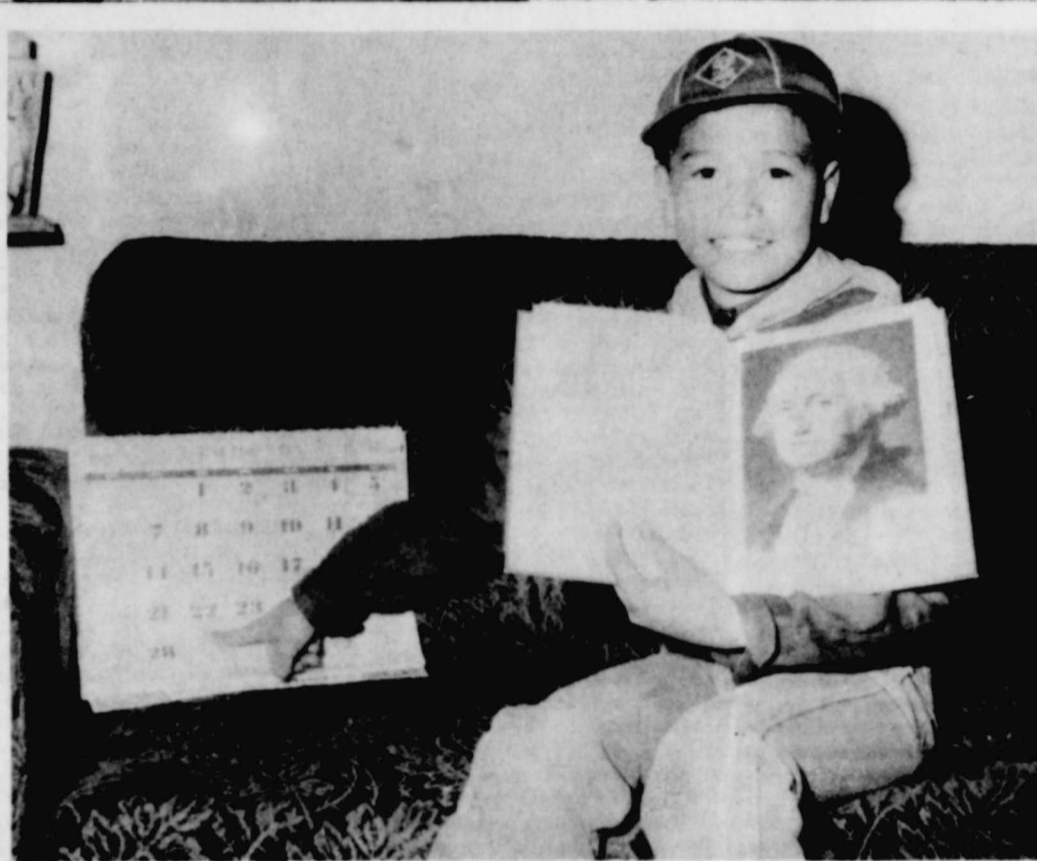

The programs involved are those for wheat, feed grains and cotton. The 50% rate is the same as that paid in the 1965 programs. It had been announced earlier that the acreage diversion payment rate would be based on 30% of the individual farm accreage diversion payment rate. New information on production and income to farmers for this crop has been obtained. It shows that a larger part of acreage diversion payment is needed to maintain a moderate acreage from which production can be expanded should the need arise in the future.

USDA officials said available information indicates that acreage of castor beans grown in the United States in 1966 is likely to be somewhat smaller than in 1965 even with the higher payment rate. Production from this acreage is not expected to interfere with the continued orderly reduction of stock-piled castor oil in line with current requirements. Sales of oil from the stockpile are being made gradually at market prices. This decision will not affect such sales.

Castor beans are grown mostly in Texas, with some acreage in Nebraska also. Castor oil has major industrial uses such as in hydraulic systems, paints, fabrics and insulating material.

ACCORDING TO TEC

County Gins 121,528 Bales, Signups Over 40% Complete

Employment Commission Office in Plainview, Floyd County gins processed a total of 121,528 bales of cotton during the 1965-66 season. This amount is almost 4,000 short of the 125,000 estimated by the office.

It is, however, over 2,000 more than the 119,365 harvested in Floyd County, according to TEC. The estimate for the four-county area was 419,193 and the amount actually harvested was 7,231 bales shy of this mark, for only 411,962 bales were harvested. Personnel at the Floydada ASCS office estimate that around 40% of the Floyd County farms have been signed up to participate in the new cotton and feed grain programs. A few have been signed for the Crop-land Adjustment Program (CAP) which is a long-term plan to reduce surplus crops.

The basic cotton allotment for Floyd County for 1966 is 92,716. An additional 2,910 acres were transferred into the county, bringing the total to 95,626. A total of 178.5 acres were transferred out of the county before the February 1 deadline. Although the county voted in the latest cotton referendum not to transfer cotton acreage out of the county, a person who owns a farm in this county and in another county, may transfer the acreage off one farm onto the other.

At latest report from 98-99% of all farmers signing up for the cotton and feed grain programs are taking the maximum diversion. The maximum diversion on grain sorghum is 50% and on cotton is 35%.

The final filing dates for those wishing to seek positions on the City Council, the School Board and the Caprock Hospital Board are next week. Those wishing to seek positions on the school and hospital boards must file their intentions not later than next Wednesday, March 2 and those seeking positions on the council have not later than Friday, March 4, to file.

Handle Construction Low On Building Reservoir

Meeting of the city fathers this week received bids on the construction of a new water reservoir, pipe from the city water plant to a booster station and water and sewer for Mae Avenue in Steen Place which will be opened soon.

The city's part of the job is only $63,039. However, the work cannot begin until the city fathers get an easement from Bert Massie, which will allow Hinton Well Service to drill and equip two more wells and will allow Panhandle Construction on the property to build the reservoir and construct the water lines. In other business the members discussed the purchase of a new tornado siren that will probably be placed at Napoleon Park.

Bi-District Game Slated Tuesday

The Bi-District play off game which matches the Floydada Whirlettes against the Frenship team will be in Abernathy next Tuesday. Floydada girls won District 3-AA and Frenship won the 4-AA championship.

The game will be in the Abernathy Gymnasium, beginning at 7:30 p.m. The winner of the game will then advance to the Regional playoffs. The Whirlettes compiled a 9-1 record in winning this district. Admission will be 50¢ and $1.

of a chain mail gauntlet that was found on his farm near the canyon of Floydada may have been worn by some of his men when they traveled the Panhandle of Texas in 1541. The gauntlet was sent to the Texas Museum at the University of Texas following letter, addressed to James Newcomb, director. He stated: "This acknowledges the chain mail gauntlet. It is 'final mail' that is a pattern of five rings, the ends of each round link lashed together rather than being riveted as the case of earlier European type of mail was cheaper and was used in Spain, France, and Italy. It dates from the middle of the 16th to the 17th. I'm not satisfied about the metal used; it appears to be zinc coated bronze, but this is a wild guess. Dee Ann Story says that King Harris found an almost identical gauntlet, and he undoubtedly has done some work on the subject. Lubbockite Charged In Murder Of Man Found Here

Lubbockite, Dwight Ernest Cole, was charged with the murder of J. D. Ham, according to Sheriff Walter Hollums. However, local officials are in the process of trying to expedite Cole from Oklahoma officials who picked the accused up Sunday evening in Poteau, Oklahoma, driving a stolen pickup, filled with goods officers suspect were taken in a series of burglaries. The Oklahoma officials may want to try the man first, but they have assured local officers that the man will not go free before he faces the murder charges here. Cole was sought after it was learned that L. A. Shores, who was found burned in his Lindsay, Oklahoma, apartment, Ham and Cole were all living together in an apartment in Lubbock. The burning of Shores' body was under "questionable conditions", that virtually ruled out any accidental burning, for there were no open flames in the apartment in Lindsay, where Shores was found, and no part of the apartment showed signs of fire damage. Ham was found in an abandoned farm house five miles south and one west of Floydada by a former Floyd County Sheriff, Lee Howard and his son, Eldon. The man and his son live together here in Floydada and

FOR FLOYDADA

Mrs. W. R. Daniel Home-Bound Teacher

Mrs. W. R. (Margaret) Daniel has been employed by the Floydada Schools to teach home-bound students.

Students who are eligible for this type instruction are those who are unable to attend regular or special classes because of physical disability, temporary or permanent, (contagious diseases are not included) those who have a recommendation from a physician recommending home-bound teaching services, and who are educable.

Through this program the school will provide three-one hour periods of instruction per week or two 1 1/2 hour periods of instruction per week for students in grades 1-12 and text-books.

The purpose of the program is to have the child return to regular classroom without being too far behind in academic work, through the efforts of the home-bound teacher and the child's regular teachers at school.

Mrs. Daniel has a B. A. degree with majors in Education and English, and minors in music from West Texas University, with additional accredited study from George Washington University, Washington, D. C., McMurry College, Abilene, and Berlitz School of Conversational Spanish, Washington, D. C.

To her 7 1/2 years teaching experience, Mrs. Daniel has added two years in the Civil Service as a Freight Rate Specialist for a General Accounting Office in Washington, D. C., and three years experience as a social worker for the American National Red Cross in the European and Caribbean Theaters.

material . . . he sold us all on New Zealand.

Although, I haven't really visited Kaz for any length of time, I have enjoyed chatting with him at church occasionally, and I feel that I know him much better after hearing his talk at Rotary.

I SUPPOSE you can find almost anything for sale in Floydada. David Kirk said he sold some singletrees to a fellow the other day. Some of our readers won't know what a singletree is . . . I know because we used to plow with horses and I've hooked the trace chains to the singletrees many times.

I looked in the dictionary for the proper definition of a singletree. All it said was "whiffletree". I then turned to whiffletree and its definition is as follows: "a cross-bar pivoted at the middle, to which the traces of the harness are fastened in a cart, carriage, plow".

. . . and for you folks who haven't hooked the trace chain to the singletree . . . It's real exciting when you're hooking up an old horse or mule that is nervous and likes to kick.

SOMETIMES IT'S possible to recognize progress in a community by the number of "extra called meetings." News editor Jedd Blessing and I are out about every night covering some sort of meeting. It is interesting to note the many called meetings that we have attended of the school and the city council.

The traffic patterns will be marked on the street with paint, showing the areas reserved for the buses, and parents should avoid these areas when letting their children out of their cars and when they pick them up. Areas will also be marked where the children walking to school should cross the street, and all students are urged to cross only at these cross walks.

A city patrolman will be on hand to help with the traffic, but with the buses traveling, loading, unloading and parking on the street, the traffic will become more dangerous.

I have lived in towns where groups like these have a meeting once a month because they are supposed to. They read the minutes, pay the bills, visit awhile and go home. There's a lot of progress inherent in the many called meetings our school board and city council have been attending recently. They're opening bids for new buildings and facilities, they're admitting more properties into the city limits, they're expanding study programs, they're hearing surveys for the new airport, they are working for right-of-way for a new paved street across the north side of Floydada . . . and many many more items of progress.

If you're thinking about seeking election to the school board or city council and you figure you're going to attend a meeting once a month . . . I imagine you'll be very surprised.

WE SHOULD BE able to publish a complete story on the front page of The Hesperian next week about the light and sound extravaganza that will be presented by Welton (Skinny) Winn in the country club on the nights of March 10, 11, 12.

Mrs. Hollis McLain finished the script on the program about a day before her new baby BOY arrived and animation plans are fast developing for live Indians and Mackenzie soldiers to be a part of the big show.

Skinny will have around 60,000 watt power in order to light up about all the canyon. . . the script which will come to the audience via loudspeaker will have background music typical of the history of the dialogue.

I think it will be most interesting and it appears now that several history classes in the area will attend the showing for the benefit of the historical data which will be presented. Of course the public will also be admitted.

ONE LAST reminder, I still have a few tickets for the chamber of commerce banquet tomorrow night. Call me collect if you're around town close like and I'll see that you get tickets for the big event.

as a hobby occasionally raise a few dogs. Last Wednesday, they decided the dogs had been penned up long enough so they loaded the animals in the back of a pickup and took them out rabbit hunting.

They took the dogs out to Day Crossings, near the Country Club and back up the canyon a short distance but didn't see any signs of rabbits.

After loading the dogs in the pickup again, they decided to go west off the Ralls Highway to see if any signs of rabbits could be found.

As they approached the abandoned farm house a jackrabbit ran across the road from a pasture on the south side of the road to the farm house, and on to the barn and cattle pen about 100 feet north of the house.

The Howards stopped the pickup and let the dogs go after the rabbit. "The rabbit must have known his way around for he ran through a fence into the pen which the dogs got into, then couldn't get out," Eldon Howard said. "I told Dad there was an opening in the fence on the south side of the pen and I would take the dogs out that hole, which is just a few feet from the farm house. When I brought the dogs out he brought the pickup around to the east side of the house," he said. "We thought there could be rabbits under the house."

As the two walked by the house, Lee Howard stepped inside and caught a glimpse of the man in the other room. He stepped out and said, "I don't believe I want to go in there again."

About that time Eldon walked past the back door, where he is shown in the picture, and saw the feet of the man in the back room.

The pair then opened the back door and entered the house where they found the body of J. D. Ham.

"We thought at first he might have been drunk, for one eye was open, and a beer bottle was nearby, then we realized he was dead," Howard said. We then put the dogs into the back of the pickup and came to town for Sheriff Hollums.

A couple of days after the body of Ham was discovered, and x-rays showed that a bullet in his head caused his death, it was found that he, and Shores, whose clothes Ham was wearing, and Cole had been living together in Lubbock.

Shores was buried in Oklahoma February 15 and Ham was found near Floydada February 16.

District Attorney John Stapleton said he believed if Oklahoma officials performed an autopsy on Shores, they would find he was shot by Cole also.

Most officials believe that both Ham and Shores were killed to be kept quiet.

Cole will face a charge of muzzler here as soon as he is released to local law officials by Oklahoma authorities.

Fortenberry Solves Levelling Problem

Ed Blessing
An eighty-acre farm has a five-acre lake, possible to fill and level, plus parts of other lakes. How does he get the land level efficiently?
Take some soil
from a deep lake and level the remaining seventy-five acres.
This is the solution
Cephas Fortenberry has found for his farm. He has filled the lake and leveled the land around it.
The five-acre lake, and area surrounding the lake proper, will be sown in grass as a conservation measure.
Fortenberry made the comment upon interview, "I wish I had done these jobs when I first bought the place. At that time cooperating funds through the ACP were $900 per farm per year maximums instead of the $600 now available."
This is the last year
funds will be available for land levelling through ACP, but payment for other conservation practices will still be available through the program.
In a Congressional cutback of funds to agriculture, this program was one that was "axed", because the Congressmen felt land levelling is a productive practice.
That is, it is a practice that is designed to increase productivity, and the country is overrun with farm surpluses
as it is.
However, most farmers and the Soil Conservation Service personnel feel that land levelling is a practice that conserves the soil and water, and on the High Plains of Texas, these are the most important natural resources.

FIELD AND KITCHEN NEWS

As Spring cleaning time draws near, we think of ways to make our homes cleaner and our surroundings more pleasant.

Most homemakers spend more time in the kitchen than any other room. Since this is true, why not make the kitchen a more pleasant place to be with an electric range you can cook perfect meals every time.

Precision is the key to better cooking. With an electric range, automatic units give you precise, controlled temperatures.

Electric cooking units come into direct contact with pots and pans, and heat goes into the food, not into your kitchen.
And electric ovens keep their heat inside, because they're entirely insulated. Think of the burned food that's become wasted food - and think of the money and time that could be saved with a controlled-heat electric range. You can forget about pot-watching, pan scrubbing, and meat shrinkage.

Why not make meal-time a leisure-time with an electric dishwasher? Your kitchen always looks neat when you have an electric dishwasher, because dirty dishes are whisked out of sight after each meal.

Sterilizing hot water kills bacteria. Your dishes will be cleaner than they've ever been, and the chance of sickness and colds traveling through your family will be lessened.

Glasses and dishes come out glistening and sparkling like elegant crystal. But electric dishwasher action is so gentle it won't harm and finest china.

Beauty Tips

MRS. AUSTIN HOLMES

EASING THE TWEEZING JOB Q. Is plucking your eyebrows likely to be harmful?

A. No. To make the job easier, you might try rubbing a little eyelash cream on your brows before you pluck them. This will soften the hairs and make them easier to remove. A tweezer with scissors handles will also shorten the job by ensuring a steady grip. Remember to grasp only one hair at a time and remove it with one pull.

COLORING BLACK EYEBROWS

Q. I have brown hair and black eyebrows. What color eyebrow pencil should I use? A. Dark brown eyebrow makeup (preferably of the brush-on type) will give your face a softer look. Brows that are much darker than the hair can give a harsh effect. Anyway, the trend today is toward lighter-colored eyebrows.

World Day Of Prayer Friday

Church members in Floydada will join their counterparts across the nation and around the world Friday, February 25 in the annual observance of the World Day of Prayer. All interested persons of the Floydada area are invited to attend a special service in the First Methodist Church at 10:15 A.M. The Christian Women's Fellowship of the First Christian Church will have charge of the program.

Now 80 years old, World Day of Prayer is observed in 125 countries and on six continents around the globe. In the United States, it is sponsored by United States, the national cooperative fellowship of Protestant and Eastern Orthodox women's agencies. Observed each year on the first Friday of Lent, World Day of Prayer is truly world-wide in character. The same order of service, translated into many different languages, is used in all parts of the globe. This provides a unique opportunity for a deeper experience of Christian unity in prayer.

The 1966 service, based on the theme, "You Are My Witnesses" (Isaiah 43:10), was prepared by women of the World Day of Prayer Committee of Scotland. The service reflects the ancient traditions of the Scottish church and also stresses that ordinary church members can change the world by their daily actions.

In a modern world beset by undernourishment, overpopulation, and unprecedented capacities for destruction, an observance such as the World Day of Prayer can offer the participants the warmth of fellowship through Jesus Christ. Members of the First Christian Church who will participate in the program Friday are: Mrs. Lon Davis, Jr., organist; Mrs. Ed Wester, song director; Mrs. Hazel Bradley, president; Mrs. Darrell Faires, Mrs. W. D. Newell, Mrs. Kinder Farris, and Mrs. Chester Allen. Mrs. Newell will bring a meditation and lead the prayer service as requested by other countries.

MONDAY TO PAKISTAN TO SPEAK and Youth To Hold Revival Bible Baptist Church

Brother, a 16-year-old youth will be doing the preaching when the Bible church holds its Youth Revival to be held March 1-5. The youth of the church will be in complete charge of the programs. Brother Janice Rhine will lead the service, and Tommy Galbreath will make the announcements. Brother Rhine is a brilliant young man that has an almost perfect photographic mind, and he can quote many chapters in the Bible without missing a word. Brother Gilbert Rhine, pastor of the Bible Baptist Church, stated that he had heard him quote the twenty-first chapter of Revelations (27 verses) after hearing it read only three times. Bro. Rhine said that it would be worth every effort that mothers and fathers could put forth in getting their young teenagers to come hear this amazing young man. The church was hoping they could get the Floydada High School Choir for the Thursday and Friday night services. The Church will also have Robert B. Montgomery, Jr., missionary to West Pakistan, in both services Sunday, March 6. The Bible Baptist Church has helped support him since he went into the field 10 years ago. The Church members feel anyone will miss a great blessing if they miss hearing this missionary. Everyone in the Floydada area is urged to attend all these special services. The Youth Revival will begin each evening at 7:30 p.m. and missionary can be heard Sunday morning at 11 a.m. and at 6:30 p.m. Sunday night.

Appreciative Audience Hears Program

A small but appreciative audience was on hand Thursday night at Dougherty School auditorium for a presentation of the Texas Heart Association by Bill Renfro of Lubbock. Renfro presented a very informative film on the heart and heart disease and then introduced Dr. M. J. Thomas, Jr., heart specialist of Lubbock.

Dr. Thomas showed a series of slides on the latest developments in heart research and surgery techniques. After the slides Dr. Thomas conducted a question-and-answer session which allowed all present to gain information on their particular concerns.

Following the program the Dougherty Community Club served refreshments, and donations were accepted for the Heart Fund.

Lynn Olson Found Dead

Miss Vera Lynn Olson, 41 year old daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Olson, was found dead Monday morning at her home, evidently from heart failure. Miss Olson had been in failing health for several weeks but was not believed seriously ill.

A brother, O. H. Olson at Tullia contacted Clem McDonald in Floydada Monday morning when he could not reach Miss Olson by phone. The McDonalds went to the Olson home and when they could not rouse Miss Olson they contacted local officials who entered the home and found the woman dead.

Funeral rites were conducted Tuesday afternoon in the First Methodist Church with Charles Lutrick, pastor, officiating. Miss Olson had been an active member of the church for a number of years and was a member of the church choir.

She was a native of Floydada. Her father, an early day cotton buyer, was also justice of the peace in Floydada before his death.

Survivors include a brother, O. H. of Tullia; two sisters, Mrs. L. E. McDonald of Tullia, whose husband is a brother of Clem McDonald, and Mrs. S. G. Williamson, Los Angeles, Calif.

Burial was in Floyd County Memorial Park under the direction of Moore Funeral Home. Pallbearers were Woodrow Goben, Donald Cheek, William Bertrand, Harold Bertrand, Tommy McIntosh and Neil Bertrand.

CONTOUR FARMING - Land farmed on the contour such as this can do much to control soil and water losses. These contour rows were laid off by using level closed end terraces as guidelines. Each row will act to catch and hold rainfall as it falls on the land. Many of the rains that occur in the Floyd County Soil and Water Conservation District are of high intensity and short duration. This can result in most of the water being wasted by draining off the land before it has a chance to soak in. Contour farming is especially beneficial on dryland where used in conjunction with a parallel terrace system. Information concerning engineering and cost-share assistance available for the establishment of such systems can be obtained by contacting the local Soil Conservation Service office. (SCS Photo)

Rites Pending For Mrs. Poore

Funeral rites were pending late yesterday for Mrs. J. H. Poore, 81, who was found dead Tuesday morning about 11 o'clock by her daughter, Mrs. J. C. Odam. Mrs. Poore had been in failing health for a number of years.

Rites are to be announced by Moore Funeral Home upon the arrival of the deceased's son, Orville Poore, of Springfield, Mo.

Mrs. Odam said it was her habit to check on her mother at intervals everyday. When she arrived at the home of Mrs. Poore, 424 W. Missouri, she received no response from a knock and did not hear any sounds from inside the house.

Mrs. Odam said she tried her door key but her mother's key was turned in the lock on the inside therefore hers would not work. She went to the side of the house and entered through a screen, finding her mother in bed where she had succumbed in her sleep.

The deceased was born in Wise County April 1, 1884. She married the late J. H. Poore in Park Springs, Tex., in 1905. He was a retired farmer at the time of his death in 1957. The couple moved to Floyd County in 1920 and settled in the Lakeview Community where they resided until moving into Floydada in January of 1948. She was a member of the Calvary Baptist Church.

Mrs. Poore was also preceded in death by a daughter, Mrs. Ruby Frobock of Houston, who died in 1962.

Letter To The Editor

(By J. T. McLain)

T. J. Braidfoot of Seymour had a small herd of cattle but drouth left him with no grazing for them so in the spring of 1867, he with his two sons, Harry and Fred, ages about 14 and 10 respectively, brought the cattle to Floyd County and to the plains where fine grass was in abundance.

Braidfoot decided that this area would settle, have a town built and possibly be a county

SISTER OF MRS. BARBER KILLED

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Barber were called to Weatherford Sunday due to the death of Mrs. Barber's sister, Mrs. Barrett, who was killed in a car accident there while enroute to church.

No other details had been learned here yesterday.

seat. With this in view he filed on what was supposed to be the center section. Soon he saw he was not financially able to promote a town so he sold most of the land to J. R. McLain and Dr. Watson, also of Seymour.

These men and a man from Estacado in Crosby County interested J. S. McLain, a nephew of J. R. and he and others made the trip out to investigate. McLain was favorably impressed and on Nov. 1st, 1887 he moved his family to the new location, just north of Della Plains.

J. R. McLain, in thinking of a possible name for the settlement, chose the name Della, 14 year old daughter of his nephew, then added the name Plains. Starting with nothing, the town built up to fair size for that day and time. It had a post office, newspaper, school, dry goods, grocery and drug store, a blacksmith shop, two hotels, a few other buildings, Sunday School and preaching by different denominations. There was no school building or church house but such was furnished by promoters of the town.

The first school was in 1888 with 15 pupils. Miss Emma Lewis of Estacado was the teacher. She was paid $30 per month with room and board by citizens of the town. She drew $4 per capita from the state and one month's pay had to be raised by donations. Next year there were 20 pupils to draw $4 each on.

W. M. Massie of Parker County, was the teacher at this time. His pay was $40 per month, he boarded himself and this time $80 had to be raised by donations.

As for preaching the building furnished for school served the purpose and at other times private homes were used for services such as the J. S. McLain dugout. Occasionally there was a square dance. Nearly all went to Sunday School, church and the dance for those days were lonely.

A large percent of the homes were dugouts, half dugouts and a few small box houses.

In 1890 came the time for election on May 28th, held to determine the place of the county seat. Della Plains lost to Floydada. This gave a real set back to the little town. Everyone with strong and determined effort put forth for survival but finally had to give over until everything was gone except a few graves and soon they were plowed over.

This was pretty hard to take by those really interested. Reminds me of the saying "Of all sad words of tongue or pen, the saddest of these are might have been."

These people were of the rugged type and tough scattered here and there kept their heads up and did the best they could and that best usually turned out pretty good.

Library Board Seek Means For New Building

Major topic of discussion recently at a meeting of Floyd County Library Board in the Courthouse was the urgent need to secure funds for a library building in Lockney. Wilson Bond, chairman, was in charge.

Those in attendance were Mrs. Clyde Briley, Robert Lee Smith, Miss Nell Swinson, Mrs. A. T. Hull and Wilson Bond.

In discussion of library funds it was noted that the state law allows a county to use 12 cents per $100 valuation for libraries. Floyd County uses only half that amount, or six cents per $100 valuation for operation expenses. Board members expressed an urgent desire to see Floyd Commissioners raise this appropriation in order to provide more adequate funds.

Mounting interest in reading was shown in a comparative report of books read in 1964 and those read in 1965. The report showed a total of 36,339 books read in the county and 44,782 in 1965.

Of the 1964 total Floydada reported 25,014 and Lockney reported 11,325. In the 1965 records Floydada showed 34,500 books read while Lockney reported 10,282. However, a major obstacle in operation of the Lockney Library Branch is the fact that the library is open only half time and school children find it difficult and sometimes impossible to do much library work within the one hour from the time school is out and closing time of 5 o'clock. One of the Lockney study clubs has expressed a willingness to help promote a library reading program and more definite plans on this are expected to be announced soon. Such a program should prove a help in creating more interest, Mrs. Clyde Briley stated.

Floyd County added 1,362 books during the year of 1965 and at the end of the year they purchased an additional 1,186 books. 176 were given as gifts to the library.

This was pretty hard to take by those really interested. Reminds me of the saying "Of all sad words of tongue or pen, the saddest of these are might have been."

These people were of the rugged type and tough scattered here and there kept their heads up and did the best they could and that best usually turned out pretty good.

BULLETIN Funeral rites for Mrs. J. H. Moore have been set for 2 p.m. Friday at the Calvary Baptist Church in Floydada. Rev. Perry Threadgill will officiate. A story elsewhere in the Hesperian has the funeral pending.

formance, Maggie's many moods were well-portrayed as she soothed or regaled her employer, Sheridan Whiteside, charmed her boyfriend (Thumper Morgan), and vented her wrath and sarcasm on the sophisticated Lorraine (Clara Hammond). Miss Hammond in turn handled her role cleverly as she borrowed the Gabor accent and convinced the audience that she enjoyed being a schemer.

Woven throughout the three-act is the longing for the individuality on the part of the young son and daughter of the Stanley's. Rande Brown, as June, created a warmth in her performance that drew a sympathetic response from the audience.

Highlights of The Man Who Came to Dinner would have to include the character created by Billy Stanforth in the form of Dr. Bradley. His patience was realistic to the point that the viewers wanted to shake him, and his polished, "NOW, Mr. Whiteside?" will be repeated for some time to come.

John (Chuck Lutrick) and Sarah (Becky Roberson) added zest and more comedy to every act, as they tried to carry out the orders of Whiteside and stay in the good graces of their Stanley family. Spike Wideman as the egotistic Beverly Carlton handled a difficult role with ability. He was as convincing an Englishman as was Thumper Morgan a drunk after too many "Jefferson specials." Just as convincing in her role of Harriet Stanley was Jenis Moore who lent a touch of the weird to the comedy situation, the weird being disarmingly funny.

Evidence of hours of rehearsal was apparent in the timing of the dialogue. Lines were tossed back and forth, sometimes in a professional way, and if there was a fumble it was recovered without any ill effect. Costuming was well done, and make-up needs a pat on the back.

There were no "bit parts" as such in "The Man Who Came to Dinner". No part could have been omitted without leaving a gap in the mood established by the dominating Whiteside. Every part, even those requiring only facial expression and a nod were done well.

As the comedy ended, everyone in the audience felt the same desire to pound the piano in distress that Lon Johnston felt as The Man came back to dinner for another 4 weeks. Would that the audience had given these fine high school actors the spontaneous and prolonged applause that they deserved! Nothing warms the

God Is Dead?

The "God Is Dead" theorists and so-called theologians are attracting a lot of publicity these days which is disturbing to many Christians. But it shouldn't be. These people have a serious problem, all right, but it isn't a problem for the Christian. . . . except in the sense that the practicing Christian is always concerned for his brother.

The God which Dr. Altizer and his followers have recently discovered to be "dead" never existed. . . . but there is a God whom they should get to know who does exist and who isn't diminished at all by doubters and detractors.

There are probably still a few unhappy souls around who are sure that the world is flat, but we don't need to worry about them carrying the rest of us over the edge with them.

SUPER SERVICE!

Service is a way of life with LIGHTHOUSE Electric Cooperative. Because rural people rely so completely on an abundant supply of electric energy, the cooperative must furnish a dependable service. Every modern tool and technique is employed by experts to see that this faithful servant is always available.

The use of "hot sticks", insulated tools for handling energized lines, allows most system improvements to be handled without interruption of service.

LIGHTHOUSE Electric Cooperative is an established utility, furnishing a dependable supply of low-cost electricity that is Helping Texas Grow.

We Need A Vocational School

Not every high school graduate should go to college. . . . In a day and time when the thing to do is get a college education, there is a large number of students who should not go to college upon graduation. Likewise there is a large number of drop-outs who need to continue some sort of schooling.

We believe the vocational school to be the answer to the needs of these students.

At a time when there is fast developing a shortage of mechanics, plumbers, carpenters, printers, and many other vocational occupations, there is a great need for more vocational schools.

There is a type of student who has a great amount of ability to do things with his hands. . . . he could become a craftsman with the proper training. He is the drop-out of high school. . . . or he may be a high school graduate ready for vocational training.

We believe the time has come to start plans for a vocational school in this community.

We see such a school gradually taking form in the Olney, Texas community. . . . we know of other cities that have vocational schools that are serving the need of such students.

Perhaps this school is not now a possibility, but now is a good time to begin plans and speculation on such a school.

If you believe a vocational school could meet a need in this community. . . . and possibly a four county area, address your letters to The Hesperian, Box 848, Floydada.

"I Want My Boy To Have All The Things I Didn't Have"

Last week we had the privilege of attending a special program at the high school auditorium. Four inmates from the Huntsville Penitentiary were the program. Each, in turn, told how he got into trouble. The four are in for a total of 279 years.

We were impressed by their stories. . . . and it was evident that the students were also impressed. Possibly their witness of ruined lives will make a greater impression on our high school students than any lecture we parents, teachers, or churches have given or will ever give.

The story of one young fellow (and they were all probably less than 25 years of age) was especially interesting as he made a remark which we have heard many times, "my father wanted me to have all the things he couldn't have." Here was a young man from a home of great wealth. . . . his folks gave him everything he wanted and a lot more. . . . because they had it pretty rough when they were growing up.

Many fine young people live selfish, unproductive, unsuccessful lives because they never wanted for anything. . . . anything material, that is.

If we look into their lives a little farther, it is easy to see that the material things of life don't count when it comes to forming character, honesty, fairness, and a stamina to face the hard knocks of life.

People who have the material means to give their child everything don't have to give him all the money he can spend. . . . the average income family shouldn't sacrifice to see that the teenager in the family has everything he or she desires.

All of us are families of different spendable incomes and we all have the same things to give our teenagers. . . . in the form of gifts that count. We can give them of our time, of our love, of our understanding. . . . we can be good examples of honesty and integrity. We can give that young person in our family a gift that is priceless. . . . the opportunity to work for money. . . . the opportunity to learn that a dollar is worth a dollar's worth of work.

The man who is concerned about giving his son or daughter all the things he couldn't have usually overlooks the important means in life that are perfectly free to give. And when his children must face the important decisions of life, when they must face the storms of life, they will be armed with the things that money can't buy. . . . they will be able to take responsibilities. . . . they won't have time to get in trouble and go to prison.

Toastmasters One Short Of Goal For Membership

The Floydada Toastmasters are only one member short of twenty, the number which they have been trying to achieve since the club was reorganized in January. Nineteen people have been enrolled as members.

The news was given by Carl Brock, the invocation was by Charles Carr, John Hay was time keeper and John Reue was in charge of the table topic. Vaughn Ginn gave a talk on the subject of Parliamentary Procedure, using Toastmasters suggestions with the FFA handbook and Roberts Rules of Order.

Last night James Hale and Dr. Ron Loose gave Ice Breaker talks and Bill Brown and John Moss represented "The Ole Timmers." Guy Ginn was toastmaster, Ralph Mardis was general critic, Willie Bradshaw was in charge of table topic, James Hale gave the invocation, John Hay was timekeeper and Don Pemberton was grammarian.

The next meeting will be at 7 p.m. at Rogers Restaurant.

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Medley visited in Amarillo Sunday with her mother, Mrs. J. F. King, who was dismissed Saturday from a hospital there.

AT SILVERTON

Texas Cancer Crusade Head Guest Speaker

L. E. "Lefty" Ross of Quannah, the Texas Cancer Crusade Chairman for 1966, will be guest speaker at the meeting of the Briscoe County unit of the American Cancer Society Thursday, March 3, at 7:30 p.m. in the Silverton School Auditorium.

For more hours than he can count, Ross has guided fellow laryngectomees along the hard road back to speech. Ross taught himself to talk within three weeks of losing his larynx to cancer, and now takes valuable hours and days away from his Texaco dealership to restore hope and voice to others. He has spoken to more than 150 county units of the Society and has travelled many miles to deliver his humorous, penetrating and extraordinarily inspiring talk to his fellow volunteers. He appears as living proof of the value of early diagnosis and prompt treatment in the fight against cancer.

The public is invited to attend this educational meeting. There will be no admission charge and no collection will be taken.

BEVERLY VICKERS IN SCOTTISH-RITE

Beverly Vickers, five year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Vickers of Dougherty, was hospitalized at Scottish Rite Hospital in Dallas Wednesday of last week and is said to be responding to treatment.

Beverly's left leg has been placed in a cast which she will have to wear some nine weeks due to a flare-up of cerebral palsy. Beverly will remain in the hospital for about three weeks, according to Mrs. Vickers.

VALCA THOMAS, right, Lockney residential chairman for "Art for Heart" show ticket sales, distributes a pair of tickets to Doyle Harrison. Both have suffered heart ailments, but now lead active lives. Harrison had a battery operated "Pacemaker" installed in his side Sept. 8, 1962. The mechanism is connected to his heart to speed up contraction of the vital organ. "It works about like a fence charger," Doyle says. Thomas suffered a heart seizure April 25, 1962. The Heart Fund drive is continuing in the Lockney and Floydada area.

Philosopher Wants Guaranteed Income, But Against Work

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson Grass farm has discovered an interesting piece of news, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor: According to a newspaper which once more I had to go to town and buy, this makes twice this year and proves for sure these are uncertain times we're living in, the newest suggestion out of Washington is that everybody ought to have a guaranteed income.

While it's still only in the planning and talking stage, as I understand it the Federal government would guarantee that everybody has an annual income of at least $3,000. I don't know how the figure of $3,000 was decided on, but I wouldn't quarrel with it, it's a good round sum, although actually you can print $4,000 or $5,000 in the same space, doesn't cost anymore from a printing standpoint and would produce a lot more buying power.

The article I read said the details haven't been worked out yet, and this is what worries me.

What I mean is, say they settle on $3,000, I won't argue about that, I not only never did like to look a gift horse in the mouth, I've never been very fond of looking any horse in the mouth, in fact I've never even been fascinated by looking under the hood of a car. No use worrying about the figure, if one man can get elected Congressman promising $3,000, another can beat him promising $4,000, the idea is to get the program going, when we need the figure increased somebody will be around to tune on it, everybody knows dependability is supposed to be rewarded with a raise. But it's the details that I'm interested in.

For example, how do I know some smart alec in Washington isn't going to say, Look, if we're going to guarantee him an annual income, why shouldn't we make him work for it? Why

"OPERATION TEENAGER"

Prison Inmates Tell High School Students About Personal Lives

Floydada High School students and residents of the city heard four prison inmates tell how they wound up in prison at a special assembly in the high school auditorium last Thursday morning.

The four inmates of Huntsville prison are serving a total of 279 years. The title of the program is well known as "Operation Teenager."

Each man told in turn of the type home in which he was reared and then detailed the steps that led him to a life of crime, and finally a prison term.

The idea of "operation teenager" was born in January of 1962, when a young inmate who worked in the education department of the Texas Department of Corrections read an article about three inmates of the Hawaiian Penal System being permitted to make talks to audiences of young people outside the prison.

After some thought, he discussed the matter with three other inmates, and the four began thinking of the possibility of starting a similar program in the Texas Department of Corrections. For weeks, they discussed different ideas during their leisure time about the type of program that could possibly prevent teenagers from making mistakes that would eventually lead to prison. Each man was deeply concerned about the rising tide of juvenile crime and the increasing number of young men and women entering the gates of the penitentiary.

It is very unusual for men in prison to admit the mistakes they have made. A great disadvantage of the early discussions was that one could live for many years with another man, and yet, not really know him. After a few sessions of breaking the ice, each man started to reveal the true facts about himself. It was difficult for them to start, but as they progressed, they began to know themselves, possibly for the first time. It soon became apparent to the men that their crimes hadn't just happened. They realized that their real trouble had started during their teenage years when they were forming habits and attitudes, choosing goals and ideals, whether good or bad, that they would carry with them into their adult life. It was then plain to these men that if such a program was to be successful and effective in helping young people, they must be scrupulously honest and sincere about themselves in the presentation.

Fortunately, each of the four men had different family and ethnic backgrounds so that their stories would not be repetitious: One had been raised in an upper class family and was a college graduate; another had come from lower class surroundings of a large city; one was familiar with torment and heartbreak of a broken home; the fourth was the son of a tenant farmer. Each had a different story to tell, and each felt that by sharing his story with teenagers, the young people could be made to see the waste, futility, and tragedy that results from a life of crime. In this way, they hoped to help others from committing similar mistakes in the struggle to maturity.

The officials of the Texas Department of Corrections were quick to see the merit and potential value of the program when they were approached by the four inmates. The four men began making appearances in February of 1962, and to date, have delivered their talks to more than 650,000 youths of Texas. They are accompanied in their travels to fill engagements by an employee of the education department in the prison system.

The impact of the presentation on anyone who has seen it bears testimony as to the effectiveness of the program and the beneficial results that have been achieved. The reaction, response, and support the project has received is indicative of its success. Many commendations have been received from parents, educators, clergymen, and law enforcement officials, but the most numerous and gratifying come from the young people themselves. Some of the more frequent comments received from teenagers are: "You certainly have made me realize the things I have been doing wrong," and, "You have made me see that men in prison are no different from anyone else." Another comment heard very often is, "We see that it can happen to us if we aren't careful in choosing friends, habits, and ideals by which we live." Often, young people confess past mistakes and express gratitude for having the opportunity of seeing where they were headed.

Debra and Dee Moses spent Monday night with their grandparents, the C. F. Flemings. The Flemings are beginning to feel at home in their new residence, the former W. A. Latta home.

Jackie R. Jones Promoted To Rank Of Specialist 4

U.S. Army Europe (AHTNC)-Jackie R. Jones, 20, son of Mrs. Nora L. Jones, 23812 N. 12th St., Floydada, Tex., was promoted to specialist four Jan 28 in Germany, where he is serving with the VII Corps Artillery.

Specialist four is an enlisted rank equivalent to the rank of corporal.

A wireman in Headquarters Battery of the VII Corp Artillery, he entered the Army in December 1964, completed basic training at Fort Polk, La., and arrived overseas in May 1965.

He attended Floydada High School and was associated with Jones Brothers Painters, Contractors, before entering the army.

WATER MANAGEMENT - Farmers who can reduce runoff from upland fields and store an increased amount of water in the root zone of the soil for plant use, have an excellent chance of increasing crop yields. Such management, say Extension agronomists at Texas A&M University, of water on cultivated land, involving neither irrigation nor drainage, may produce greater benefits than from these more spectacular measures.

LETTERS to EDITOR

Floydada, Tex.
Feb. 15, 1966

Dear Editor,
This is just another letter addressed to you but written to all the wonderful people of the community who have made it possible for us to keep the Community Clothing Center in operation again this fall and winter.

We have been able to assist some sixty families a month since opening the Center in September. Each family comes only once each month.

It indeed gives us pleasure to share what we have with those less fortunate and many of our people have responded in a great way. Floydada people always do.

Through the generosity of one lady who called to share a bedstead springs and mattress last fall we were able to help a handicapped person to have a bed. Even though we have no place for things like that at the Center, she requested that we direct them to her home and others have called to say they have items to share if the need arises; to these I want to say Thank You.

Many have shared bed spreads, blankets and quilts. And several ladies have been making quilts. Many have sent quilt scraps and from them and unusable clothing some forty quilts have been made and were issued to the people during December and January, and others are in the making now.

Some merchants have given coats. And several individuals have made donations to provide

Harry James Coming Here March 8

Harry James, one of the most famous and most dedicated musicians in the world, and his band will be in Floydada Tuesday night, March 8 for a concert.

The session will be held in the Floydada High School Auditorium and will be held from 8 until 10 P.M.

He has guested on all the network musicals with his band and he has appeared in straight dramatic roles on several television series.

Not only has his trumpet made him famous, but July 5, 1943, he married the Number One Pin-Up Girl, Betty Grable. The Jameses, one of the most popular show business couples in the world, now have a home in Las Vegas, Nevada, where they hear from fans from all over the world.

Tickets for the concert are now on sale at the Floydada High School. There is a limited number, and are being sold on a first-come-first-served basis. Tickets are $3.50, $2.50 and $2.00. All seats are reserved.

EARLY FERTILIZER PURCHASES SUGGESTED - If storage is available, it will usually pay to purchase fertilizer in the late fall or early spring. A major reason--fertilizer is cheaper in the fall than at planting time. It also insures getting adequate supplies of the plant foods needed. In many sections of the state the problem of storage can be eliminated by applying the fertilizers after crops have been harvested. Research conducted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station indicated that crop yields following fall or early winter application of fertilizer are little different from spring applications.

shoes for school children. Others desiring to help in this way may make their checks to the Community Charities Fund at the First National Bank of Floydada, designating it for shoes.

Mrs. Clarence Jones is in charge of the purchase of shoes if they cannot be fitted at the Center and if they are without shoes for school.

There is a story in the Bible of a woman whose talent was sewing and she was willing to use her time and talent sewing for those less fortunate than herself. We also have several 'Dorcas' in our community who have been making school dresses from new as well as used clothing from the Center. Some forty dresses have been made and others are being made by individuals.

Classes, clubs, or other persons are welcome to help in this way. The baby department is very low at this time, so articles could be made--gowns, blankets and all other items are needed.

We are also in dire need of school boys clothing--jeans, shirts, caps, underwear or any item for boys.

We just tell the people and they respond. I wish to thank the ladies who work so faithfully and to everyone a great big Thank You.

Mrs. W. S. Simmons
Administrator of The Center

Paycheck Goes Further For Residents Of Floyd County

(Special to the Hesperian)

NEW YORK, Feb. 11 - Despite the fact that living costs are much higher today than they were some years ago, residents of Floyd County are in better shape, financially, than they were then.

The answer is that their income has been rising more rapidly than their costs. The increased earnings more than compensate for the higher prices.

The net result is that the average production worker, locally, can provide his family with all the basic necessities of life and with more of the luxuries than he could seven years ago. And he can do this without putting in any more hours on the job.

Data released by the Tax Foundation, the National Industrial Conference Board and others indicate the changes that have taken place in living costs and in wage scales since 1958.

In Floyd County, per capita income has reached a level considerably higher than it was at that time. The increase has been much greater than the increase in the cost of goods and services. The difference represents the gain in purchasing power.

As a result, the average working man in the local area can earn enough today in 37 hours of work to buy a two-piece man's wool suit that retails at $80.

He will be paying about 14 percent more for it, in dollars, than in 1958, when it cost $70. But he doesn't have to work as long to make the $80 as he would have had to work, seven years ago, to make the $70.

Similarly, he can buy an automobile tire, size 7.50 x 15, with the proceeds of about 12 hours of work and two dozen eggs, grade A, or a pound of pork chops, center cut, after 32 minutes on the job. He would have had to work longer for them previously.

Although food costs, as a whole, have shown modest increases in the period, and some items are actually lower in price than before, there are certain commodities and services that have zoomed so high that they cost more, in hours of work, than formerly.

The Labor Department notes that in general, however, "the average level of living, sometimes called the standard of living, has risen perhaps 20 percent over the last decade."

Look- we aren't kidding. For a few dollars a month more, you could be driving a Chrysler:

The hard facts are all in the chart. You can practically pay the price of a Chrysler and get a lot less car all the way around. Or, you can come in and move up to the Chrysler class for far less money than most people suspect. Confidently, which choice makes the most sense to you, a little car or a full-size Chrysler?
