The Reserve Champion Barrow exhibited at the Houston Fat Stock Show last week belonged to a Floydada Future Farmer. He is Franklin Harris, who lives near Cone where he and his brother, George, with their dad, Howard, have a hog operation and at present herd of over 125 head.

Neil Mitchell's Angus Grand Champion

Neil Mitchell's Angus, winner of the Lightweight Milkfed Class brought a total of $851.00 at the annual Floyd County Stock Show sale held here Wednesday. The animal was named Grand Champion by C. S. (Chli) Smith, Swisher County Agent and judge of the cattle at the show. The animal weighed 851 pounds.

The winner of the Heavyweight Milkfed Class was a close runner-up and was owned by Teresa Colston, the owner of last year's Grand Champion. Smith took at least ten minutes to decide between the two animals, after he had eliminated all others from the running. The Hereford weighed 996 pounds.

When the Grand Champion was named, the second place steer in the Lightweight Milkfed Class was brought out, a Hereford also belonging to Teresa Colston, but Smith only glanced at the class and said, "With as much trouble as I had deciding between these two animals for Grand Champion I don't think there is any doubt about the Reserve Champion."

The First National Bank of Lockney paid $1.00 a pound for the champion.

Audience Very Receptive To Harry James

The concert band of Harry James put on as fine a program as any seen here in several years Tuesday night, and was well received by five or six hundred people.

The audience was very appreciative of the program that featured music written and designed for his band back in the early forties and music as modern as "Batman."

During the first half of the show, singing star, Ernie Andrews made hits with several selections including "Make Me a Present of You," "She's Got a Go," "More Than You Know" and "Ten Years."

The intermission entertainment featured Paul Ryan at the piano with "Hello, Dolly," including a take-off on the Louis Armstrong recording of the song. Ryan's part of the show included "She Touched Me," "Pussycat" and "King of the Road."

The band returned in the second half of the show with a favorite of millions, "You Made Me Love You," followed by "Batman" and a series of James' standards that have been favorites during the years.

Shortly after the program began the band drew a standing ovation from the audience when they started into "Take the 'A' Train."

Although the crowd was smaller than anticipated, the James' boys played as though they were facing an audience of 2,500 listeners.

The band boosters had guaranteed the band $1500 and early reports Wednesday morning indicated that the proceeds may have lacked around $17.00 covering the guarantee.

Car Hits Rear Of Superiors

Mrs. T. T. Hamilton miraculously escaped serious injuries Saturday morning about 11:30 when her car she was driving struck the rear portion of the building of Superior Cleaners, went through the wall and hit the 125 pound pressure boiler.

Mrs. Hamilton, employee of Hagoods, was backing from the Hagoods' rear parking lot when she said the accelerator of her car stuck. Little damage resulted to the rear of the car, however some $450 damage was done to the boiler and wall of the cleaning establishment.

Jewell Eliza, owner of the plant, said employees did not hear the crash when the car struck the building. The first they knew of any accident was when the boiler started releasing steam and water since the blow line was broken by the collision. The boiler was moved some two feet in the mishap.

Eliza said he was back in business Monday as usual after the boiler was repaired.

Peace Corps To Test On March 12

Floyd County area residents interested in putting their skills to use in developing nations around the world are invited to take the Peace Corps placement test at 9 a.m. on Saturday, March 12 at the Post Office Building, Lubbock, Texas.

The Peace Corps uses the placement test to determine how an applicant can best be utilized overseas. The test measures general aptitude and the ability to learn a language, not education or achievement. (If test scores indicated a limited language-learning ability, for example, the Peace Corps tries to place the applicant in an English-speaking country.) The placement test requires no preparation and is non-competitive - an applicant can neither pass nor fail.

The application form, not the placement test, is the most important factor in the selection of Volunteers. Persons interested in serving in the Peace Corps must fill out an application, if they have not already done so, and present it to the tester before taking the test. Applications may be obtained from local post offices or from the Peace Corps, Washington, D. C. 20525.

The placement test takes about an hour and a half. An optional achievement test for applicants who have studied French or Spanish requires another hour.

The Floyd County 4-H Food Show was held Friday, March 4, in the Lighthouse Electric Cooperative, Floydada. There were 19 boys and girls participating in this annual event.

The Food Show is an award program designed for those 4-H members completing a unit of food and nutrition under the supervision of trained adult leaders.

The contest is divided into the four food groups: milk, meat, fruits, vegetables, and bread-cereals. Each participant prepares a food in one of these groups. They are judged on the exhibitor's knowledge of food and nutrition, the food exhibited, attractive table appointments, the recipe, the day's menu and records.

Beauty Tips

MRS. AUSTIN HOLMES

BEAUTY BEGINS WITH A CLEAR, CLEAN SKIN. You may have been born with a lovely complexion, but that now you're growing up, you'll have to work to keep it!

Use as little make-up as possible - the more you put on, the more you have to take off.

Throw away your powder puff - unless you are willing to wash them after each use!

1. Remove make-up with cleansing lotion carefully. 2. Brew a quart pot of hot water. Cream your face.

County Voter Registration Moving Slowly

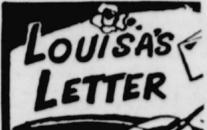

Early this week only twenty people had registered to vote since the emergency registration period went into effect, March 3.

The registration is being held to give those persons who did not pay their poll taxes a chance to vote in the coming elections. The poll tax was made unconstitutional recently when the Voting Rights Bill was passed, and the Federal Courts won their case against the State of Texas to have the poll tax removed as a voting requirement.

Those who have paid their poll taxes are considered registered voters. Those who are over 60 years of age, prior to January 1, 1965, will not have to register again for this year. Only those who did not pay a poll tax will have to register to be eligible to vote.

The dates March 3-17 were set up as an emergency measure this year only. Voters will be required to register each year in the future between October 1 and January 31 to be eligible to vote in any Federal, State, or local election.

A total of 2,654 poll taxes, exemptions and Federal poll taxes were paid by residents in Floyd County prior to the February 1 deadline. There are about another 1,000 eligible voters in the county that would be allowed to vote if they registered during the time stated above.

Dear Louisa,
My uncle is a widower but is in good health and is about fifty years old. His wife died this past year and as I have always been his favorite niece he told me that he would leave me his house when he died.
Now my husband and I have gotten awfully tired of living in an apartment and we had bought a lot and were planning to build a small home. Now we don't know what to do. My uncle still lives in his house and has a good housekeeper and he hasn't asked us to live with him.
What do you think we should do? Do you think he will change his mind if we build?

M. F. -- N. J.
Answer:
Why not tell your uncle that you know he is fairly young and that you feel sure and you hope that he will live to be an old man—that in the meantime you will build a small home, knowing that later on you will have his larger one. You may add that you are tired of paying rent, etc.
Your uncle may mean what he says now as to what he intends to do but one never knows what people will do as they grow older. He may decide to marry again if he becomes very lonely or any number of things could happen to cause him to change his mind.
My advice would be for you to go on with your plans for building.

Stanley Hospital At Matador To Close

HEALTH, the cause to which Dr. J. S. Stanley has devoted more than 30 years of his life in Matador, is forcing him to close Stanley Hospital. A heart ailment, diagnosed recently by a well-known area specialist, has resulted in the decision. Dr. Stanley has been allowed 90 days in which to relieve himself of the burden of the hospital responsibilities and has set July 1 as the date when he will close Stanley Hospital.

"I have no choice," Dr. Stanley said this week. "I am going to close the hospital on July 1, but will continue office practice as long as possible. At present there is some of the hospital practice which I am not able to perform.

"My doctor has told me to slow down, and this is what I am going to do, I regret that I must close the facility, but there is no alternative.

"I realize that the hospital will have extra need with the beginning of Medicare on July 1, and that the area needs the service. It is a condition with which I am no longer able to cope because of my own health."

Dr. Stanley moved to Matador in 1935 and purchased the practice of the late Dr. H. C. Eargle. He had a small office upstairs in the old First National Bank Building where he continued to practice until 1944 when he built the first unit of Stanley Hospital. His practice continued to increase, and in 1948 he doubled the size of the building.

The 18-bed hospital has modern facilities with X-ray room, refrigerated air conditioning, kitchen, laboratory, with trained technician, waiting room, office and consultation room. Adjacent nurses' quarters are located on the property.

Payrolls In Floyd Up In Five Years

(Special to the Hesperian)

NEW YORK, Feb. 26 - A new, county-by-county tabulation of the nation's business population shows that Floyd County supports a greater number of business firms than do many localities of its size.

Locally, according to a Federal report, there are some 260 separate business establishments—small, medium and large—in operation.

The vigor of the business community has been growing in the past five years or so, despite mergers, automation, strong competition and consolidations.

This is evidenced by the gain achieved in employment, in size of payrolls and in overall business activity.

The facts and figures come primarily from reports released by the Census Bureau, which utilized data supplied by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

They were based on tax reports filed by employers in 1965 under the social security program, listing taxable payrolls for the previous year.

In Floyd County, they show, payrolls reached the highest point ever, $4,416,000.

The figures take into account all persons receiving wages and salaries from private, non-farm employment covered by social security.

The number of people so employed locally comes to 1,270.

This is exclusive of domestic workers, members of the armed forces, civilian employees of Federal, state and local government, farm workers and certain others.

Although Floyd County has a sizeable number of businesses that employ 20 people or more, smaller-size concerns are firmly rooted and constitute the bulk of the business community.

The breakdown released by the Census Bureau shows that there are 173 local establishments that have from 1 to 3 employees each, 52 with from 4 to 7 and 27 with 8 to 19. The rest are larger.

Those with fewer than 20 employees comprise 97 percent of the total number.

The five-year growth locally coincides with the nation's big boom, which just celebrated its fifth birthday.

Lockney Chamber Elects Directors

LOCKNEY - Seven new directors have been elected to the Lockney Chamber of Commerce board. Balloting was conducted by mail.

Elected to three-year terms were Rev. Gene Hawkins, Tom Simpson, L. N. Johnson, Thurman Davis and Edgar R. Hays. Named to a two-year term to replace Billy Ellis was John Powell and elected for a one-year term was Billy Joe Turner, who replaces Dwayne Cleveland. Ellis and Cleveland recently moved from Lockney.

Holdover directors are Pat Frizzell, Eugene Tannahill, Erwin Boyd, Oscar Golden, Clyde Briley, Fred Byrd, Leon Wolford and Joe Cargile.

Retiring directors are Frizzell, John Bickley, Eldon Roberts, Jim Reynolds and Ewald Quebe.

New officers will assume their duties after the Chamber of Commerce banquet March 17.

sis of one month for each month's service up to a total of 36 months.

The assistance rates for full-time study or training would be $100 a month for a single veteran, $125 for a veteran with one dependent and $150 for a veteran with two dependents. Payments would be scaled down for part-time training, with a minimum of half-time required.

Authorized courses would generally be limited to those in U. S. educational or vocational institutions, including the secondary school and junior college level as well as colleges. In some cases, correspondence school courses would be covered.

The Veterans Administration would offer counseling and guidance on available training and would authorize the courses selected by the veterans. Courses in such things as bartending, dancing, skiing and public speaking would not be authorized.

Payments could be suspended if a veteran does not keep up his grades or violates an institution's rules of conduct or attendance.

The veteran would have eight years after his discharge to use up his educational benefits. In the case of eligible veterans who have been discharged since January 31, 1955, the eight years would start this June 1, when the benefits go into effect.

No retroactive payments are authorized for such persons who have completed their schooling. However, payments would be made if a college graduate returned to take advanced study.

Men and women with at least two years' active duty could qualify for the benefits while still in the service if their military assignments permitted it. Volunteers in the special program requiring only six months active duty and then a period in the reserves would not be eligible for any benefits.

The other benefits in the bill would take effect at once upon its becoming law. These include:

-A guarantee by the Veterans Administration of home loans by a private lender of up to $7,500. The veteran would have to pay a fee of about one-half of one percent into a loan guaranty revolving fund. The interest rate could not exceed that provided by the National Housing Act, which is now 5 1/2 percent, with an authorized increase to 6 per cent.

-Direct federal housing loans, where private financing is not available, up to $17,500.

VISITORS - Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Willson of Floydada, were visitors on the Plainview campus in Plainview winners of the Allee Parten Heritage Essay contest were announced at the contest, established in honor of a Wayland administrator and faculty member, was Charlotte Guthrie (right), of Stratford. Henry, editor of a Washington, D. C. publication, "Christianity Today."

GI Bill Has Basic Features

Post-Korean Vet Measure

The GI Bill was signed by President Johnson last week is basically an extension of the programs enacted for veterans of the Korean War.

Unlike the original GI bill for veterans of World War II, which fully subsidized the cost of a veteran's education, it is intended only to help meet such costs.

And as a permanent program, it wipes out previous distinctions in benefits for wartime and peacetime service. It will cover, retroactively, veterans who have served at least six months on active duty since January 31, 1955, and probably will remain in effect at least as long as the nation has compulsory military service.

Of the estimated first-year cost of $335 million, $327 million is for educational benefits. The rest is for job counseling and medical benefits. A self-financing home loan program is also provided.

The costs are expected to level off at about $500 million a year after five years and reach a total of $16.5 billion by the year 2000. The original GI Bill cost $20 billion in eight years.

Starting June 1, veterans whose discharges were not dishonorable would be allowed educational assistance on the ba-

Sports Unions?

James R. Hoffa's plan to organize professional athletes as a division of his Teamsters Union probably has little prospect of success.

The major professional sports are generous in providing players benefits. Even the lowest paid athlete in baseball, football, basketball and some other sports receives significant benefits.

Athletes in a union might alter the concept of athletic competition as we know it. It may be that they would lose more than they gain.

Sports enthusiasts are among the most rabid groups found anywhere. But they must be enthusiastic about their team. Several thousand fans in a stadium on a cold Sunday prefer for the teams to show up. Green Bay Packer fans, for instance, would probably march to Washington in mass and destroy the Teamsters Building if the Packers decided to strike before a game with the Colts.

Klan Exposure

The overwhelming vote by the House citing seven members of the Ku Klux Klan, including the grand dragon, for contempt of Congress is a step in the right direction.

House liberals who voted against the contempt measure presented a strong argument. They pointed out that as a matter of procedure only nine of the 126 citations voted by the House since 1950 have resulted in final court convictions.

The next step is up to the U. S. District Court in Washington which must try each contempt case if the Klansmen are indicted by a grand jury.

There is a good possibility Klan officials will go free; nevertheless, the House Committee on Un-American Activities has rendered the American people a service by exposing some of the activities of the Klan, an exposure which probably surprised many Klansmen who were unaware of all that goes on in the secret organization.

Wanted... Letter From Home

"Have you ever been away from home?" the letter began, "Away from your loved ones, for a long period of time?" That was the question posed by Kenn Webster, U. S. Navy, in a letter to the editor. Webster is stationed on the aircraft carrier USS Yorktown off the coast of Viet Nam.

What impressed us most was that this serviceman made it clear he was writing not for himself, but for those fellow shipmates "whose look of expectation changes to disappointment every time the Boat-swan sings out 'Mail Call' and there is no mail for them." No doubt all those who have sons, brothers and husbands serving in Viet Nam realize the importance of their letters and are faithful in this regard. But how many who have friends or acquaintances in Viet Nam do the same? Probably not many.

Our servicemen in Viet Nam are very much aware of the divided opinion that exists back home in regard to the role they are playing against Communism. We can bet on that. For this reason alone, now would be an ideal time to send a word of thanks and appreciation. "My petition to all the folks back home is to start remembering those who are trying to do a job that, they believe, will make things better for all of us in times to come," writes Kenn Webster.

So, do you know someone in the Viet Nam area? Even if he isn't a close friend or relative, you can help his morale by just taking a few minutes to write to him.

It's a small task but one which could mean a great deal to someone far from home. One thing is for sure... friend OR FAMILY, you're still part of the "home folks" and a pretty important person to the man thousands of miles away.

LETTERS to EDITOR

March 1, 1966
Floydada, Texas

Dear Sir:
I noticed an invitation to write your office if I believed we needed a vocational school in this area. I certainly do believe we need one.

I am a graduate of a Vocational School of Nursing, Lockney, 1959, and I know this training has given my family things that high school alone could not have given me.

It is too bad that more young women do not take advantage of this training, for nurses are needed in such great numbers. Since Floydada wants a new hospital so badly, now is the time to start building and training the personnel qualified to staff a hospital.

For many men who have trained on the job, a vocational school would certainly be a short-cut to the salary necessary to support their families today.

The adult educational classes have been well attended here. Vocational Training should be the next step ahead for these people.

Yours truly,
Mrs. Raymond Hamilton

There are many men who change professions because they do not like book work or being in an office all day.

There is a policeman in Plainview who turned down a job as a commercial artist for Walt Disney.

I think vocational training would help many people to find their professions earlier.

Then there are those like my son who just can not read fluently enough to get a high school diploma. Where can I send him for vocational training?

Pauline Wright, L.V.N.

Letters to the Editor
March 1, 1966
605 Fresno
Plainview, Texas

Dear Sir:

I think a Vocational School for this area is needed. Even I have wished for the opportunity to finish my high school training.

There is a young man living next door who has two children and he has gone back to high school to better his chances for hospital rooms and nurses, floating one bond issue on top of another, etc., I tell you, when I read about that, I begin to take a more favorable attitude toward this Johnson grass farm.

Never has the country been more prosperous or the cities more busted. I will give some more thought to this just as soon as I figure out what to do about Viet Nam.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Mr. Bell liked to make things better

After Alexander Graham Bell invented the telephone in 1876, he did not rest on his laurels. He helped form the National Geographic Society and developed the basic method of making phonograph records on wax. He pioneered a method of locating icebergs by detecting echoes. He made suggestions and contributions that helped give us air conditioning and the iron lung. For 46 years after inventing the telephone, he lived a vigorous and creative life.

Southwestern Bell likes to make things better, too... Six short years ago, we did not offer the Princess® telephone. Here today, we offer Interphone, Wide Area Telephone Service, Centrex service, Data communications service or Panel Phone. There was no electronic artificial larynx, no automatic dialer and no Speakerphone. Today, these new items help us provide the best telephone service in the world. But we want to make it better. That's our legacy from Mr. Bell.

"LEST WE FORGET"

Light And Sound Extravaganza To Be Featured March 17, 18, 19 In Floydada Country Club

"Lest We Forget," a light and sound extravaganza highlighting the wonders of nature will be presented in the Floydada country club on the nights of March 17, 18 and 19.

The entire south area of the country club will be lighted by some 60,000 watt lights trained on the canyon rim by Welton (Skinny) Winn of Floydada.

A dialogue of the history of the canyon and Indian episodes will be presented by loud speaker to the audience and appropriate background music will blend into the entire drama of light and sound.

The extravaganza is under the direction of Jim Boyd and Charles Baumgardner, script was written by Doris McLain and many other persons have joined into the creation of possibly the largest lighting area of historical presentation ever made in the state of Texas.

J. E. Waller and Arlis Powell are organizing an animation which will feature the Mackenzie soldiers in a skirmish with Indians as they dash across the canyon.

Winn said the interpretation of light and sound will create a vivid enjoyment of the works of nature in the canyon and special lighting effects will bring out the shadows and escapements of the canyon rim.

Admission for the event will be 50¢ for students and $1.00 for adults. Special invitations will go out to history students in all area schools and colleges. It is thought that the historical data revealed will be highly interesting to the student.

In addition citations, with a $10 cash prize, were awarded to Ted Bell of Floydada for his painting, "Stormy Weather;" Margaret deSouza of Plainview for her painting, "Taos Landscape;" Rosa Lee McGlaun of Snyder for her oil gold leaf, "The Goodman Children." The latter donated her prize money to the heart fund.

Commendation ribbons were given to Jane Hughes of Vernon for her water color, "Stormy Sunday;" David Smith, Plainview, for his pencil drawing, "Landscape;" Pat Lynn of Lubbock for her water color, "Stormy Sea;" Ted Bell, Floydada, for water color, "Devine

Winner of first prize, $50 in cash, for the best painting was Marie Leneau of Muleshoe. Her prize winner was a landscape

Critics And Public Hail "Ipcress File"

(ADVANCE)
The most talked-about spy thriller in America today is "The Ipcress File." Produced by Harry Saltzman, who co-produced the James Bond thrillers, "The Ipcress File" is an outstanding critical and boxoffice success everywhere.

Newsweek Magazine hailed "The Ipcress File" as "A thinking man's 'Goldfinger,' funnier by far than any of the Bond films and more rewarding, too!" Time Magazine said "Ipcress proves again that one of the primal pleasures of moviegoing is a tingling, no-nonsense suspense yarn enlivened by honest good humor!"

These are but two of the many rave reviews the film received. "The Ipcress File," a Universal release in Technicolor and Techniscope, opens at the PALACE THEATRE IN FLOYDADA SUNDAY.

Advantages Of Trudan

At a meeting for prospective Floyd County growers of Trudan 2, held at Rogers Restaurant last week, several advantages of the crop were shown over similar crops produced in the past.

Trudan 2 is a true Sudangrass hybrid and was developed by Northrup King.

It was shown at the meeting where Trudan 2 has greater recovery, after cutting or grazing, thus more yield; tillers profusely, staying thick and productive as such as other muzzles. It is very palatable and has a high prussic acid content of the stems.

The crop mature for chop and hay. Bush Jordan King's sales in Floyd County.
