Construction Delays Opening Of Schools Until September

OF FIRST BAPTIST

Over 400 Attend 75th Anniversary

Over 400 members and visitors were on hand at the First Baptist Church Sunday afternoon for the commemoration of the 75th anniversary of the church. A total of 750 attended worship services Sunday morning and 200 were on hand at the barbecue held Saturday afternoon at the Baptist Encampment south of Floydada.

Five past pastors were among those returning for the celebration. They were P. D. O'Brien, Vernon Shaw, S. R. McClung, L. A. Doyle and Dr. R. Earl Allen.

Almost 200 persons, including several from out of state signed the guest register list. Among those from out of state were Mrs. C. I. Bolding, Los Angeles, California; Rev. and Mrs. L. A. Doyle, Midway, Arkansas; Phil Phillips, Los Angeles; Gene Newberry, Armour, South Dakota; Mr. and Mrs. Herman Wooten and family of Sacramento, California; Mrs. Warren Bilderback, Terre Haute, Indiana. Most of the remainder of the visitors signing the guest register were from out of town.

Rites Pend For Jackson Youth

Funeral rites are pending at Moore Funeral Home in Floydada for Marshall Blake Jackson, eight year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Jackson of this city, who died yesterday morning at 1:45 in Colorado General Hospital in Denver. The youth underwent corrective heart surgery Tuesday.

He was born in Matador August 22, 1958 and had resided with his parents in Floydada and for about a year in Earth. His father is employed by Reed Ford Sales in Floydada.

Survivors in addition to his parents include a sister, Brenda; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Oran Hatley of Floydada and Mr. and Mrs. Jackson of near San Angelo.

Registration Also Affected By Delay

Construction on the school buildings has delayed the opening date of school, it was announced here Wednesday by Superinter dent A. E. Baker. The school officials decided first one way and then the other as to whether to open school as scheduled August 29, when various construction stages were completed.

But, since the floor in the high school building will not be ready, and other facilities not completed, the officials decided to delay the opening until the day after Labor Day and open school September 6.

This will also affect the time of registration except at high school and junior high and will not affect the football schedule.

The high school and junior high registration will remain the same because of the picture taking schedule. This could not be changed.

High school registration will be as follows: seniors, Tuesday, August 23 from 8 a.m. until 4 p.m.; juniors, Wednesday, August 24, from 8:30 a.m. until 12 noon; sophomores, Wednesday, August 24 from 1 until . p.m.; freshmen, August 25 fror 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. Late regis tration will be from the time. listed above until school starts

Armyworm Infestation

Decreases

The infestation of Armyworms that hit the grain sorghum in the South Plains Community a few weeks ago is decreasing, according to a report from County Agent Joe Wilson, The infestation became rather heavy a little over a week ago, and the extent of damage was creating a danger to the grain sorghum crop in that area.

However, none of the damage has affected the heads of the crop, according to the report.

The worms reach a length of about $1 \frac{1}{2}$ inches. They are dark green with three yellow stripes extending down the length of their body. They feed during the night and hide underneath clods or other protection during the day.

Sheriff Walter Hollums was awakened about 6:30 Sunday morning when a man came to him and told him he had killed a man. He was Thomas De-Luna, a worker in a vegetable packing shed here, who has since been charged with the murder of Jose Sanchez. De-Luna is a Carrizo Springs laborer.

Sanchez, a San Antonio truck driver was shot to death early Sunday during an argument at the shed in southeast Floydada. Sanchez brought a fleet of trucks to the Floydada area several weeks ago and has been hauling onions.

Hollums said the suspect woke him around 6:30 a.m. Sunday and told him he had killed a man. He surrendered a .22 caliber rifle he said was used in the slaying. The sheriff said Sanchez had been shot twice in the chest coming school term. It was noted that at Andrew Ward parents who pick up their children in cars are urged to park far enough away from the bus entrance and exit to allow ample room for the buses to pull onto the street. A new offstreet loading and unloading zone is being added at Andrew Ward.

At high school, the same parking areas and same nonparking areas will be available, but parking will also be allowed on Texas Avenue from Georgia to Crockett this coming term. For Della Plains Bill Feuerbacher, city manager, was asked if the city could pass an ordinance making the block from Ross to Price Street on the Silverton Highway a 20 MPH will be held tomorrow at 7:30 p.m., it was announced at the directors' meeting held Monday night. Bill Cagle, incoming president presided at the meeting.

At the organizational meeting the varsity football boys are invited to be on hand for the watermelon treat, but are usually required by the coaches to go home soon after that.

At the meeting the election of officers and directors will be held, and a report on what was decided by the directors Monday night.

Membership cards and programs will be handed to those who attend the meeting. The QB Club members will sell the ads in the program and turn them in for printing as soon as possible.

The group Monday night agreed to film the games once again, and have the coaches look into a complete contract job by a firm in Lubbock that normally processes the film. If a turnkey job can be done by the firm the quality of the photography would normally be better than it has been in the past.

All people interested in the QB Club are urged to be on hand tomorrow night.

Duty Patrol

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Bertrand received a call August 12 from their son, Richard, who is in the Navy, informing them that he had sustained a severe hand injury in the line of duty while on shore patrol in Japan. Mrs. Bertrand said her son was injured on July 20th but she did not learn of the accident until he called her from the hospital in Yokosuka, Japan some 21 days later. She said she was so shocked upon hearing the news that she failed to ask her son just how the accident happened.

He related, however, that he was unable to move his hand or fingers and if the hospital there was unable to do the medical work necessary then he would be transferred back to the states to a Naval Hoapital in Virginia.

Mrs. Bertrand said her son seemed discouraged at the time she spoke to him, apparently from his injury as well as not having received any mail since he was hospitalized. Richard was stationed aboard the USS Pollux, seeing sea duty off Viet Nam with shore duty in Japan, prior to his accident and evidently his mail had not caught up with him since the ship had returned to sea duty.

ELEMENTARY Primarily the instruction in the three elementary schools will afford foundations for chorus and band in later years. The students will study composers of both classical and popular music. The fifth grade students will be given pre-band instructions in instruments the last two months of school this year. A sixth grade choral group is also to be formed. JUNIOR HIGH

rectors plan for three performing groups, that will be available for civic functions, concerts, etc. Planned are a Junior High Concert Band, a Junior High Stage Band, a Junior High Chorus and ensembles from the above groups.

Currently it is planned, if it later appears feasible, to hold contests for two groups with the Junior High Marching Band and the Junior High Chorus, concert and sight reading, competing.

HIGH SCHOOL

According to Boyd, the high school program will be an attempt to culminate the acts of all the lower grades.

Four performing groups are planned. They are:

High School Marching Band, Concert Band with solos and ensembles and from this group; High School Stage Band, which will give students an opportunity to sing with the stage band as soloists or ensembles; High School Choir, and related performing ensembles. The more serious high school piano or vocal students will have an opportunity to study music theory. These students must complete two original compositions, two arrangements for concert band and four arrangements for chorus. Currently the directors are working out a coordination plan between speech, chorus and band to present musicals. FACILITIES

The new facilities in the schools will afford the band directors better opportunities to teach music. Band halls have been added at Andrews Ward and Junior High, one is included in the new Arthur B. Duncan Elementary School, and there are presently facilities at High School and at Della Plains.

Boyd stated that about 500 students will be enrolled in the band or music program from the sixth through the twelfth grades. The program in grades from 1-5 will be mandatory.

Miss Sue Burrus and Miss Joni D. Fitzpatrick will handle the music program in the lower grades. Miss Burris is a new teacher in the system and Miss Fitzpatrick has taught at Della Plains in the music department for some time. Thompson will handle the Junior High band and choir as well as the 6th grade bands at Duncan and Andrews

Ward. Boyd will continue with the High School band and chorus and music theory, and will

Since everyone does not want to become another Benny Goodman, or Mel Broiles, the important thing is that there is plenty of room in music for those who are not virtuosi or great artists: there is room for the boy or girl, or man or woman, who plays for the sheer enjoyment of it And with wind instruments, almost anyone can develop the degree of skill required for the enjoyment of playing, and can become part of a band within a relatively short time.

Anyone who has ever played in a band or other musical organization will tell you how much more fun and how much more rewarding it is to be actually playing music than just to be listening to it. It is a genuine cooperative activity, with all the pleasures that this kind of activity provides.

And in our age of automation, of spectator sports, and of entertainment brought right into the home with no effort other than turning a knob, it is all the more important that everybody, but most particularly young people, should cultivate active participation in some field of constructive endeavor rather than merely passive amusement

OTHER VALUES

For young people, playing in a band has many values other than the purely musical ones. The discipline of learning an instrument is in itself a worthy one. The young student learns to hear himself, to criticize and improve himself, and to join with others in a common effort with an immediate and rewarding goal. It is not merely a figure of speech to say that playing in a musical group is a way of learning to work in harmony with others. This is one of its great values in education, and one of the chief reasons why music is taken so seriously in our schools.

DOES HE WANT MUSIC? Whether your child has thought about it or not, the chances are than he does respond to music and will welcome the chance to learn to play an instrument. In most cases, arousing active interest is no problem at all. Both the school and the community environment are favorable to his interest, even when there is no conscious thought about music in the home.

INSTRUMENT

One of the wonderful things bout music is that all the intruments are necessary, and Il are equally important. here could not be a band in hich there were only cornets. clarinets or trombones or ophones. These are the most aerous instruments in ad, and the most frequently chosen by students.

But the flutes and oboes and bassoons and French horns and basses and drums are also needed, and no one can say that one is better or more important than another. Each has its separate and distinctive appeal.

Approves Four New Classrooms LOCKNEY - Lockney School

Board voted Wednesday to add four classrooms in the grade school building, hired four new teachers and accepted resignations for four teachers. McDonald Construction Co. was awarded a contract for work in the grade school building. This will include closing two northeast entrances and two west entrances to make two Title I reading rooms and two physical education rooms. One sky light in each class room will be covered and remaining sky lights will be domed with glass. Reading rooms will be i4 x 22 each and the P.E. rooms will be 44 x 14.

Supt. John Mason stated part of the finances will come from Title I funds. The school system will get 15 per cent of the school's project allotment which will amount to about $3,200. Cost of the reading rooms will be $3,448. This amount, from Title I, will be secured over a twoyear period on a lease contract. Taxes will not be spent on the reading rooms, according to Ma-

Fifteen years ago Mahon had introduced a bill providing eight million dollars for an extensive survey of ways and means of bringing surplus water to West Texas from the Missouri River Basin. The proposal was rejected at that time. He pointed out, however, that the present attitude is much more favorable toward big and dramatic efforts to meet water needs in West Texas and elsewhere.

DPS Investigates 8 Rural Accidents

In County

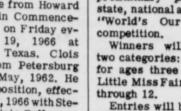

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated 8 accidents on rural highways in Floyd County during the month of July, according to Sergeant Thurman Keffer, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in nine persons injured and an estimated property damage of $5305.00.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first seven months of 1966 shows a total of 37 accidents resulting in 4 persons killed, 39 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $23,-495.00.

"School days" are almost here again. The familiar yellow school buses will soon be back on the highways. The Sergeant reminds all motorists of the State Law regulating traffic in regard to school buses. "The drivers of a vehicle upon a highway outside the limits of any incorporated city or town upon meeting or overtaking from either direction any school bus which has stopped on the highway for the purpose of receiving or discharging school children shall stop the vehicle immediately before passing the school bus, but may then proceed past such school bus at a speed which is prudent, not exceeding (10) miles per hour, and where the stem has been broken and turned so the flatness would show. Even the flowering part of this portion of the weed was not round as is normal for such a weed, but was flat in appearance as a Cock's Comb would be. (Staff Photo)

Why Not Soccer?

With the modern trend increasing toward outdoor life and sport, more of our schools might introduce soccer, as a game which has both appeal and promise on the international level, to American youngsters.

Soccer would not, of course, replace basebali, football or basketball, but it has much to recommend it as an added sport-and there are many students at our schools who would welcome another sport, and would specialize in it.

Soccer is the most popular team sport in the world. From it and rugby U.S. football derived-just as baseball is an offshoot of England's cricket, whether the super patriots like to admit it or not.

In some ways soccer is a more civilized sport than U.S. football. Though it requires stamina, condition and ruggedness, there is less emphasis on body contact (head-butting) etc. Called football in many countries, the sport has a great following and fans in every major country except the United Stres.

There is little passing, compared to the amount in rugby and U.S. football, and more kicking but there is ample opportunity for teamwork. thinking, ability and stamina. Cricket, in the opinion of many, will never become a popular U.S. sport, but there is no reason soccer could not provide us with an additional national sport-and bring us into world play.

Since, with exceptions, the rest of the world doesn't play U.S. football, or baseball, we are isolated in international sports competition to this extent and international sports meets are highly desirable to further understanding, contacts and sportsmanship.

Sale of Firearms

Before the echo of the last rifle shots had faded away last week at the tower of the University of Texas, more than one person around Seminole had remarked, "Now they'll try to take our guns away again."

Sure enough, the hue and cry for tight controls on firearms followed the Charles Whitman tragedy, with none other than the President of the United States helping voice the "get rid of the guns" appeal.

Taking away guns from the public doesn't curtail crime; New York City is a fine example of that. New York has the stringent Sullivan Law controlling firearms there, yet hoodlums in the big city usually manage to pack a gun of some kind.

Some of the nation's bleeding hearts are now trying to poohpooh the constitutional rights of Americans to own and use guns, saying the constitution was written in frontier days when guns were needed to protect yourself from animals, Indians and the like. Nonsense, Wild animals and Indians may no longer be menaces, but we have human outlaw menaces these days that are even more threatening.

In our opinion, taking away guns from the millions of American who collect or use them for hunting is no way to prevent crime. For example, think of the rise in night-time burglaries if the crook didn't have to worry about a gun in the house he was robbing.

Instead of wringing their hands over the millions of guns owned and used lawfully by the average citizens, the persons so concerned would make much more sense by arguing for stiffer penalties for those who misuse firearms.

Included should be enforced penalties for persons who sell or furnish guns to the wrong parties - to youngsters, convicts, mental patients and narcotics addicts, along with persons of subversive backgrounds. True, this would not prevent a Charles Whitman, with his "all-American boy" background, from obtaining a gun, but it might stymie another Lee Oswald.

used for killings and other illicit purposes. Drunk drivers kill more persons every year than do gunshot wounds of all kinds. Should we, therefore, take away automobiles because of these drunk-driving "murders?" Of course not, but those who misuse autos in this respect should be severely penalized. Thousands of persons are stabbed to death each year, especially in the larger cities, yet we've seen no campaign to outlaw the possession by law-abiding citizens of butcher knives and ice picks. Banning guns will not prevent murders. What is needed. though, is closer supervision of gun sales, stiffer penalties for misusing them, closer supervision of potential danger spots, such as the UT tower, and probably most of all -- increased research in psychiatry to find healing treatments for the budding Charles Whitmans of the future. Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm reports on high prices this week.

Dear editar:

This is the first time it ever happened, but a neighbor came over to my place yesterday and handed me a newspaper, just like that, and said "Here, see what you think of this?" He pointed to a headline on the front page which said "Farmers Cleared Of Blame For Bread Price Hike."

I sat back down and looked it over. According to it, a Congressional committee, investigating the high price of bread, said it had found conclusively that the wheat farmer wasn't to blame. This sure seems like going to a lot of trouble and expense to prove something every farmer has known for years

While I don't raise any wheat, it didn't take a Congressional Committee to tell me that when the price of bread goes up, the extra money never trickles back down to the wheat farmer's pocket.

I have never understood the mechanics of it, but there is some sort of economic shut-off valve that never lets the flow reverse itself. The committee found out that for the amount of wheat in a loaf of bread, the farmer gets about 3 cents, which is about the same he got ten or fifteen years ago.

I don't know if the committee is going to check up on other items or not, but it can save money if it'll just take my word for it that the farmer had practically nothing to do with the price of anything on any shelf in any store, and it's a shame, too. What I mean is, farming and ranching will never come into their own until they get to the point where a Congressional Committee investigates them and comes out with the announcement that they've been charging too much for what they sell.

"It's those gouging farmers that're running the price of

GOOD HOME LIGHTING IS MONEY IN THE BANK Safety experts know something most housewives should know -- good lighting is money in the bank. Years of experience have proven that adequate lighting reduces accidents and fatigue, saves working time, curs down errors, boosts productivity, improves morale, and promotes better housekeeping.

If you have poor lighting or no decorative lighting, you don't have half the urge to keep your home clean and in good order because when the task is finished, it may still look dreary. Also a correct and attractively lit home provides a homemaker with pride. She has a beautiful home to show to her neighbors, a comfortable lit home to welcome her husband and children to, and a room where the lighting effects a soft mood where she can relax a moment or two when the housework is done. Functional light is especially important in the kitchen where the homemaker spends half her working time. Generous lighting at the sink, range, and work counters can speed up food preparation, make locating utensils and food easier -- in poor lighting, some of the items blend right in with the woodwork -- reduce cuts, burns, and bruises, and reduce eyestrain, fatigue, and boredom. A colorful, attractive, properly lit kitchen keeps the spirit up.

Bedrooms seldom need accent lights. Some people who also use their bedroom as a sitting room provide accent lights that can be easily turned off to provide a mood of restfulness and relaxation.

Plainview Congregation Of Jehovah's Witnesses At Dallas Com "Meetings at the dom Hall will be

Delegates from the Plainview Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses were among the thousands who overflowed Market Hall in Dallas for the climax of the five-day "God's Sons of Liberty" Convention. It was hailed as the largest gathering ever held in Dallas.

Grant Sulter, Secretary-Treasurer of the Watchtower Bible Society and principal speaker of the convention, climaxed the assembly with the public talk, "What Has God's Kingdom Been Doing Since 1914?"

Suiter started his discourse by saying, "This earth has never been the same since the year 1914. We say this because of the changed conditions among the people on earth, in the political structure of things, in morals, in scientific thinking, in religion, in warfare and strange as it may sound, in superhuman invisible forces

High Yields From Zero Tillage Cotton

McGREGOR - Cotton is being grown with absolutely no cultivation at Texas A&M University's Livestock and Forage Research Center here.

Agronomist Bob Lynch reports the "zero tillage" cotton yielded as good and better last year then cotton that was cultivated twice. He's experimenting to see if cotton or other row crops will produce high yields using herbicides-and no cultivation.

According to the A&M researcher, Treflan was broadcast and incorporated at 1 quart an acre early in the spring. Half the test was cultivated twice, the other half got no cultivation.

The cultivated cotton yielded 368 pounds of lint an acre. The cotton that was not cultivated yielded 387 pounds lint per acre.

For this year's crop Lynch said he broadcast Treflan in the fall while the land was still flat. Then the land was bedded. The ground was not disturbed until planting time.

"There were no weeds in sight, so we didn't even till the beds before planting," he said. Now, the ground looks clean and almost weed-free. Lynch predicts another high yield from the zero tillage land.

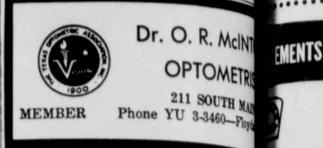

that are now preying upon man-kind." The speaker called attention to God's Kingdom being the answer to all the problems facing mankind and closed with the admonition for all to put themselves on God's side of favor and gain everlasting life on a paradise earth under God's Messianic Kingdom.

Each assembly day was highlighted by Bible discussions, and of particular interest were the dramatizations of Bible characters. Modern-day parallels of events experienced by these Bible personalities were acted out to serve as guidelines in applying Scriptural principals in daily life.

Friday morning saw 580 new ministers of Jehovah's Witnesses ordained at the baptismal service.

Another highlight was the release of the new Bible study aid, "Life Everlasting -- In the Freedom of the Sons of God."
