School Enrollment Down In Floydada

A total of 1727 students entered four Floydada schools Tuesday, the first day of the new school year. This was a drop from last year's 1891, and the year before last of 1932. It should be noted that last year's figures were taken after school had been in session two weeks.

The overall decrease was attributed to the new farm program of more land out of cultivation. As more land is laid out of production, less farm workers are needed on the farms, and this means that the farm workers move on to other areas.

The Floydada High School showed a big increase from last year's 371 to 424 this year. Much of this increase was transfers from the Della Plains School, which this year teaches only grades 1 through 6.

The Junior High enrollment decreased from 408 to 360. This decrease was due partly to only two sixth grade sections in this school this year. Last year there were six.

Andrews Ward showed the largest decrease from 905 to 770. It should be noted that around 70 Latin students were moved to Della Plains from Andrews Ward this year due to the new zoning plan.

Latins Register At Della Plains - Protest

"THE LATIN AMERICAN RESIDENTS OF THE DELLA PLAINS SCHOOL ZONE UNANIMOUSLY DECIDED TO REGISTER THEIR CHILDREN 'UNDER PROTEST' ON TUESDAY MORNING, SEPT. 6 AT THE DELLA PLAINS SCHOOL.

"WE ARE DOING THIS TO GIVE THE FLOYDADA SCHOOL BOARD ONE MORE OPPORTUNITY TO RECONSIDER OUR POSITION, AND AT THE SAME TIME TO SHOW OUR UNITY AND OUR BURNING DESIRE TO SEEK TRUE CHRISTIAN JUSTICE WITHIN THE LAW."

"IF NO FAVORABLE ACTION IS TAKEN, ANOTHER MEETING WILL BE HELD ON SUNDAY, SEPTEMBER 18 AT 2:00 P.M. AT THE MEXICO LINDO HALL, AT WHICH TIME MORE ADVISABLE MEASURES WILL BE CONSIDERED, INCLUDING THE SEEKING OF AN INJUNCTION AGAINST THE SCHOOL BOARD."

The above statement was drafted at a meeting in downtown Floydada by over 100 Latin Americans last Sunday afternoon. The decision came after the group had picketed Della Plains school last Friday morning during registration for back-to-school.

It all started when the Floydada school officials decided to zone the city for school attendance within the city limits of Floydada. The zoning put residents of the northeast area of Floydada into attending school at Della Plains.

In the past the Floydada schools have integrated on a "freedom of choice plan." Under this plan only two or three percent of the Negro children had chosen to attend Andrews Ward. The government felt that since virtually only Negro children were attending Della Plains that there would have to be more integration in this school year.

Hereford-Floydada Grid Battle Friday

Floydada Gets Gully Washer

What some persons termed as a "gully washer" hit Floydada and south-southwest of the city Friday night in a blinding rain storm which also brought high winds and streaks of lightning bolts, however no serious damages were reported from the unexpected storm which struck around 8:30.

Some city residents reported up to three and a half inches with streets flooded in the east part of town, while across town west a little over an inch was reported. The ASC office's official rainfall measure was 1.74 for Floydada. This brings the total since June to 17.01 inches.

South of Floydada and to McCoy Community three and a half inches was recorded.

Weathermen are predicting thunder showers for this area also today.

Two huge groups of football players will come together for the first contest of the season here tomorrow night at 8 p.m. on Wester Field. The Floydada Whirlwinds will be host to the Hereford Whitefaces, the first time in history the teams have been matched.

Both teams are heavier than last year, and it appears that Hereford will field the heavier team. Hereford will average 175 on the offensive starting team, Floydada 171.

It is the season opener for both teams. Hereford lost to Clovis and won over Palo Duro in preseason scrimmage. Floydada lost to Brownfield and won over Crosbyton in scrimmage.

The Whirlwind head coach Bill Curry said that the "winds looked good on offense at Crosbyton last Friday night, but he is working the team hard this week to work out some defense problems.

HEREFORD

Hereford, a top contender in AAA last season, should be stronger this year with a solid defense built around all-state candidate Ricky Fangman, a 210-pound all district tackle.

Coach Jack Meredith, who was once an assistant coach at Floydada, returns 10 lettermen, eight of them starters, from last year's unit and counts the defensive corps as perhaps the strongest point in the upcoming season.

Fangman and 230-pound Bill Coffin both started at tackle last year and ends Mike Davis (175) and Billy Watts (170) also return as do last year's regular guards Charlie Brewster (180) and Wayne Miller (165).

In the backfield, Hereford will have senior Gary Tucker (170) returning at halfback and MANY OF OUR families are adjusting to back-to-school this week. There is a big adjustment for the family that has a young son or daughter entering college for the first time.

It is the first time for the college student to be out away from home and "on his own" . . . and the family experiences a loneliness and some uneasiness thinking about that "being on his own."

I'm working on a feature now about what it costs to send a child to college. I was reading in the Denver Post the other day where one of their reporters had gone back into the 1939 files and written a feature on the cost of four years of college. Of course it varied then as it does today on which college and which student as to the cost, but the average cost for four years was $2,000.

I would suppose it would cost $2,000 per year now.

Some of you parents who are undergoing the "college financial experience" and are keeping books on it might share your knowledge with me as I develop this feature.

At this time, Davis said the four cities in the authority would have the opportunity to vote on the bond. If the four cities approve, bids will be let.
Representatives from the four cities were in attendance, including the full city council of Tulia.

Attending from Floydada were city manager Bill Feuerbacher, Marshal Haney and Joe McGill. S. W. Ross, member of the board was also present.

Davis said the dam of 178' height and spillway level of 178' would be the deepest dam in the Panhandle of Texas. The area will be 54,000 acrefeet, covering 900 acres, with an average depth of 62'.

The board made a resolution to accept the government's HUD program loan of $76,000 to complete the engineering cost.

Della Plains decreased from 207 to 173 (losing high school, gaining Latins).

SHIFTING
Several shifts are noted in the overall attendance of Floydada Schools. Della Plains was due to be down since high school is no longer taught there, yet it received the Latins that it had not taught before.

High School was due to be up because of complete integration.

Last year's six classes of six graders at Junior High were combined into five classes this year, two at Junior High and three at Andrews Ward.

Of course a month from now a better count and comparison can be made.

COMMON SCHOOLS
At press time reports were in from three of the county's common school districts. South Plains was up from last year 99 over 90; Dougherty was down 61 to 63; and Lakeview was down 31 from 42. There will be no seventh grade at Dougherty this year.

Report was unavailable from Providence.

LOCKNEY
A report at press time from the Lockney school district showed that they were down in attendance last year. At the end of the first week they had enrolled 1107. This compares to 1166 at the end of the first week last year.

Foreign Friend Visits Williams

The Q. D. Williams family have been entertaining a foreign guest from New Delhi, India, a pen pal for several years of the Williams. He is Krishan Saini, who is attending the Columbia University in New York City where he is vice president of the Student Council.

Krishan has been attending a Student Council Convention of Colleges in Urbana, Ill., and arrived in Floydada last week.

He is working on his PHD in economics and plans to work for an international organization following graduation.

The Williams were hosts for a barbecue supper during Krishan's stay here and Mrs. Williams said he enjoyed bunking with the ranch hands, wearing cowboy boots and a western hat. He was taken for visits to various ranches in the area before departing for New York from Amarillo. After taking him to Amarillo, the Williams attended the showing of "Texas" at Palo Duro.

Rites Held For Mrs. V.L. Webster

Services for Mrs. V. L. Webster, 67 year old Lockney resident, were held yesterday afternoon in the First Baptist Church. Mrs. Webster died Tuesday morning in Lockney General Hospital.

Mrs. Webster was a nurse, starting her career in 1923. She had lived in Lockney since 1924.

Survivors include her husband; a son, R. V. Webster of Lockney; two sisters, Mrs. Mary McAda, Lockney and Mrs. Cleo Johnston, Aztec, N. M.; two brothers, Jess Ward and Joe Ward and two grandchildren.

MARKET DELLA PLAINS - about forty Latin American children picketed the Della Plains school here four or five Negroes joined the group. Although the Latins didn't register for enrollment last Friday, they entered Della Plains under protest Tuesday. (Staff Photo)

CALL FOR ALMOST TOTAL INTEGRATION.

The Andrew Ward elementary school is fully integrated, its enrollment composed of Negroes, Latins and whites, as is Floydada's junior and senior high schools. Della Plains is the only school in town that will have no white students.

Supt. A. D. Baker said Friday the school board favored the "Freedom of Choice Plan" which it has used the past several years.

He said Washington looked upon it with disfavor because not enough of the Negro population attended white schools. He said only about 2 or 3 per cent of the Negro students attended Andrew Ward school last year and apparently Washington had in mind a much larger percentage.

"The zone wasn't laid down just to trap Latins in that zone," Baker said. "The problem was to fill up the school."

He pointed out that Andrew Ward elementary school is overcrowded and that its enrollment will now be composed of whites, Negroes and Latins from all sections of town and the rural areas, but not from the northeast section.

Baker said there are about 400 Latin American elementary students in the school system and about 90 are scheduled to attend Della Plains. He pointed to the school with pride, saying it was built in 1962 and is the most modern in town.
The protesting Latin American marchers think it unfair that Negroes living in the northeast section can jump the zoning boundary and attend Andrew Ward elementary.
Baker and other school officials said this is not a school board ruling but a federal stipulation.

THE MARCHERS MAINTAIN THAT THE NEW ZONE IS DISCRIMINATORY.

Juarez, along with Morales who led the march said, "Della Plains zone zig-zags around the Latin and Negro section and bypasses the whites living there."
Baker and Della Plains Principal Paris Wilson said the zig-zag concept is a misunderstanding and that the Della Plains zone follows straight lines extending from the courthouse north and east to the city limits. The only zig-zags outlined are a block or two following the city limit boundaries, they said.

Baker said the school board could not change the school zones at random to satisfy everyone and that the Latin Americans living in the northeast section had the prerogative to move to other zones if they desired.

Morales agreed that they could move to another area but that would mean "being forced." Another observer noted that as a result of the zoning, real estate values had dropped in the northeast section and this was to the advantage of the Latins.

The zoning plan which was adopted last April, met almost immediate opposition by white and Latin American elements in the northeast section.
On July 11 the Floydada Citizens Committee for True Integration met with the school board with a petition bearing about 80 names objecting to the zoning plan and favoring adoption of the Princeton plan.

The board turned down the Princeton plan and the group forwarded its petition to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare where it is now being reviewed.
Baker said it is possible that Washington might again review Floydada's zoning plan to which it already has given its tentative approval.

He said he had heard nothing definite from Washington on the recent protests and that the school board has taken no action concerning Friday's march.
Baker said he and the board were opposed to the Princeton plan which would, for example, place all children of all races in grades 1 and 1 in one school, all those in grades 3 and 4 in a second school and grades 5 and 6 in a third school.

A third elementary school is under construction in the south part of town and will be open about January. The new school will not accept students from the northeast section, except Negroes who are eligible for transfer.
Baker said the board is opposed to the Princeton plan because of geographical and transportation obstacles.
He said it would be unfair for a youngster living across the street from one elementary school to have to go 1 1/2 miles

PRINCETON PLAN

Wendell Tooley, editor of the Hesperian has editorialized in favor of the Latins and in favor of the Princeton Plan beginning next semester. Under this plan all children of all race and creed would attend every school building in the city.

The school would of necessity under this plan need to go back to inter-city bus service. For instance if there was a family living in southeast Floydada near Junior High and there were children in that family who attended High School, Andrews Ward and Della Plains, they would all walk to Junior High where they would board buses going to the other schools.
This would eliminate the problem of a housewife getting in her car and going to all four schools daily.

Until last year the school furnished inter-city bus service. At present the buses go to all schools except Della Plains.

After a big week of workout the Whirlwinds are in good shape for the Friday night game. Injuries have sidelined Jeff Kimble and Mac Baker. Baker has an arm injury and is possibly out for two weeks. Kimble cracked a bone in his wrist and will be out for possibly a month.

The "winds aren't district favorites, but they are larger and stronger than last year and hope to overcome last year's poor 2-8 record.
Larry Bartee and Darrell Monday will share the quarterbacking slot. The "winds will play off of the "I" formation, similar to that used by Texas Tech and Arkansas, which is good for a lot of passing and fast shifting run plays.
Veteran Roland Adams will start in the tailback position, Kerry Bearden at wingback and Monday at quarterback on Friday night's contest.
Joe Christian is set to begin as full back. Christian saw a considerable amount of backfield action last year and has gained some weight, while maintaining good speed.

Deadline Saturday For Floyd Fair Queen Entries

Young girls between the ages of 16-19 in this area have until Saturday to enter the Miss Floyd County Fair Queen Contest, according to Mrs. Max Marble, who is chairman. Three new entries from Lockney were added to the list last week. Thus far there has been only one entry from Floydada, Miss Susan Hotchkiss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hotchkiss. Susan is being sponsored by the 1962 Jr. Study Club. Reigning Queen is Miss Kitty Lloyd of Floydada.

This is the third annual contest held in conjunction with the Floyd County Fair, September 22, 23 and 24. The contest is slated for the night of Sept. 24, at 7:30 in the entertainment building on the Fair Grounds at Lockney.

Parents, teachers, and all interested citizens are urged to be present for this meeting. "Daddy, that means you too. . . don't shove all the responsibility off on your wife. . . this meeting is being held at night so that you can attend!" voiced the group.

The PTA is a voluntary organization of parents (both father and mother), teachers (who are many of them parents), and many people who do not have children but love them. There are many members who are grandparents, aunts, uncles, and interested friends.

While plans are being formulated for a PTA in the new school, this year the entire group will meet as one unit. The PTA will not divide this school year. Dues are $1.00 per person - this includes the local, national and state dues. Sixty cents out of the dollar will remain to benefit directly the local children.

The PTA Membership Card is a passport to the best society on earth - an organization in which millions of men and women work in hundreds of ways to create a better world. This little card links us to like-minded men and women in our state and in every state of the Union from Alaska to Florida and from Hawaii to Maine - and even to countries overseas where U. S. citizens are serving their country. It makes each of us a part of an ongoing, forward-looking movement with a program for the present and the future.

WTCC Will Speak For West Texas At Water Hearing Friday

LUBBOCK - The West Texas Chamber of Commerce, which has already made a strong fight for more water in West Texas in previous hearings, will go all out on September 9 in Lubbock as the Texas Water Development Board holds its final public hearing on the proposed new Texas Water Plan.

The West Texas Chamber's position will be presented at the Lubbock hearing, which is scheduled at 9:30 a.m. in the Lubbock Municipal Auditorium.

In five previous hearings, WTCC officers and Water Committee representatives from the chamber have insisted that the Texas Water Development Board make a more thorough study of the statewide water picture before finalizing the master plan. They have urged the TWDB to study methods of transferring in-state surplus water to West Texas and have requested the water board's assistance in implementing studies and projects which would bring out of state water to the area.

"This is our last opportunity to express the West Texas position publicly in these water hearings. We ask the support of all West Texans," said John Ben Shepperd, Odessa, President of the WTCC.

K. B. Watson of Amarillo, Chairman of the chamber's Water Committee noted that "WTCC leaders have stated on several occasions that West Texas has largely been left out of the picture in the proposed new state water plan."

Texas Ranger Relics Desired

AUSTIN--The Texas Department of Public Safety is interested in securing authentic objects used by former Texas Rangers at any period in history to be permanently placed in a public museum being developed at Department Headquarters in Austin.

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., DPS Director and Chief of the Texas Rangers, asked anyone interested in contributing such items as guns, knives, belts, badges, spurs or any other authentic Ranger items not completely deteriorated, to write him at Box 4087, N.A.S., Austin, Texas 78751.

"We are attempting to preserve for posterity in this museum a top-flight collection of Ranger mementos to symbolize the glorious tradition of the oldest police force on the North American continent with jurisdiction," Garrison said. "We feel that this museum

Local Trailer Park Owner Delivers Tenant's Baby

By Peggy Medley

Mrs. Earl Evans, owner and operator of West Side Trailer Park in Floydada, went through an experience Wednesday that she doesn't wish to have repeated. That was delivering a newborn baby to Mrs. Don Muerian, an occupant of one of the trailer homes.

Mrs. Evans unfolded the details of the delivery to a Hesperian reporter the following day. When asked how much the baby weighed she remarked "My goodness, I forgot to weigh him, I better go back and finish by job."

In the early hours Wednesday, Mrs. Evans said she heard a knock on the door and upon answering found that it was a young married girl, who also lived in one of the trailer homes and a relative of Mrs. Muerian. She told Mrs. Evans that Mrs. Muerian was about to give birth to her baby and that the mother was needing assistance. She said the expectant father had gone to see if he could borrow a car to take his wife to the hospital.

Mrs. Evans dressed, then tried by phone to get a doctor but to no avail, she said. Upon reaching the trailer house she realized the baby was only moments away from being born, so she hurriedly prepared the necessities for its birth.

In the meantime the father had run to the Y Courts to borrow his brother-in-law's car and found that the family had left in it the night before for Amarillo. He hitched a ride several miles to the country where his parents lived to get their car and they rushed back into Floydada to get the young mother to a hospital, but it was too late. During the father's absence the baby was born, a fine healthy boy, the third for the mother and the first and last delivery for Mrs. Evans, she stated.

Just as the ordeal was over, Mrs. Evans said help arrived. A neighbor came over, some friends, and Mr. Evans returned with a colored mid-wife he had located. She took over and Mrs. Evans said she had a chance to sit down and realize fully what had taken place. She said before she hadn't had time to think if she was doing the correct thing for the birth of the baby or after it arrived if she was proceeding as she should.

Her first thought was "what if something had gone wrong." Even though mother and son were doing fine the thought still lingered in her mind. "What if an emergency had arisen or what if Floydada had a disaster when a matter of minutes would mean life or death, and a doctor couldn't be contacted. What then?"

Ralph Wayne For Transfer Of Interstate Water To West Texas

AUSTIN - "State Representative Ralph Wayne of Plainview and House Speaker, Ben Barnes, this week urged Texas members of Congress to get behind legislation that would authorize a study of interstate transfer of water to the West Texas area.

The bill, reported by the House Interior Committee a month ago, has been stymied in the Rules Committee. Wayne said that as a result of their Washington D.C. meeting this week, he has been advised that the bill has promise of being put on the House calendar in the next few days. He also said he was encouraged by reports of support for the controversial measure in the Senate.

The House bill would create a national water commission to investigate and recommend solutions for the country's water problems. It would include feasibility of transferring water from rivers in the northwestern United States to the Southwest. Needs of the lower Colorado River basin would be given priority. Wayne pointed out that we must seek every avenue of assistance for obtaining water for the West Texas area in years to come.

Speaker Barnes and Wayne pointed out that the Texas Water Development Board has $400,000 for study purposes which could be added to federal funds to concentrate on a solution of problems in West Texas.

Another possible solution might be forthcoming from a $200,000 federal appropriation in the Public Works Bill for a feasibility study of obtaining water from the basins of the Arkansas, Mississippi, and Missouri Rivers for the West Texas Area.

Participating in the conferences in Washington with Wayne and Barnes were Representative Bill Clayton of Springlake, K. Bert Watson and S. B. Whittenburg of Amarillo."

can provide an invaluable service for the State of Texas by commemorating for present and future generations the bravery of the Texas Rangers in preserving law and order and protecting the people of Texas from frontier days through the space age."

Garrison said the museum is to be established at a central location in the Department of Public Safety Headquarters and will be opened for public viewing upon its completion, the date of which has not yet been determined.

"We hope we will be able to obtain from public-spirited Texans a collection of Ranger paraphernalia that will become one of the most outstanding historical tourist attractions in the state," said Garrison.

Lady, here's your problem.

It's the food you cook, not the the fuel you use, that soils your kitchen. But a modern GAS range can keep mess to a minimum. Closed-door broiling eliminates smoke. The "burner-with-a-brain" and 1001 temperature controls guard against cook-top burning and boilovers. So don't take potluck. Go GAS for clean, cool cooking.

Letter To The Editor

Sept. 6, 1966
Dear Editor:
Well, now in our home town the Latin-Am's are picketing the best school in town apparently to express their love for the Afro-Am's and their disappointment because there are no Anglo-Am's present for them to love.
Soon the Feds will send in a few Chino-Am's or Japo-Am's to study and investigate, then we will have complete harmonious confusion.

Dear Wendell:
I know you and your staff must be extremely proud to be the only twin winner of first-place plaques at the West Texas Press Association convention, and I personally want to add my congratulations to those I know you have already received.
Being first in both "General Excellence" and "Advertising Composition" must be a high honor, and it certainly does reflect the keen attention you and your staff pay to details.
My best wishes for your continued success. If ever I can be of any assistance in any way, please do not hesitate to call on me.

Allen Chrysler-Plymouth Observes Year Of Business

About a year ago an auto serviceman who has been working in Floydada since 1930 decided to expand his auto service business and enter the auto retail field. Ted Allen rented the big building across the alley from the bank, west, and took on the Plymouth-Chrysler franchise.

His brother, Shelly, who had been in auto sales for many years moved to Floydada and entered the business with Ted. Today, the business is modern in every respect... all types of service equipment have been added and the two man operation has developed into a staff of ten service, parts and sales people.

Twin post lifts, new washing and lubricating equipment and many other service facilities combined with mechanics with many years of experience are a feature of the service department.

Authorized Plymouth-Chrysler parts department and many new cars in front and on the show room floor add to the cheery greeting of Ted and Shelly as the customer enters the business.

Ted and Shelly are taking this opportunity on the occasion of their first year in the auto retail business to express their thanks to the public for the popular approval of their auto lines and according to Ted, "We look forward to many years of service to the people of this trade area." Ted added, "We've put a lot of happy people in new Plymouths and Chryslers... and the new 1967 models look even better."

Reading Lab Is Praised

The P.E.S.O. schools are being looked at from all over the nation as an example of the ideal reading laboratory.

This is borne out by reading growth as indicated on standardized reading tests given all P.E.S.O. students last spring. Below is an example of interest shown:

Recently, Mrs. W. O. Grace, a reading specialist from Dell City, Kansas, visited the classroom of Harry Hendrickson in the Petersburg Reading Laboratory. After a three hour conference and tour of the facilities, Mrs. Grace commented that the Petersburg laboratory was exceptionally equipped and prepared to meet the reading needs of boys and girls. She also stated that Petersburg teachers and administrators were to be commended for their work in this critical educational area. "Petersburg has one of the best programs that I have seen in West Texas," she said.

However, she indicated that the only exception to a near perfect program was the location of the off campus rooms. It is recommended that the reading rooms be an integral part of the building, and that the rooms be a complete and separate component of one another.

Mrs. Grace said that she was commissioned to set up a reading laboratory that would be patterned after programs already in existence.

The Floydada schools are participating in P.E.S.O. Unit VIII of which Henry Ford, Jr. is the Coordinator. Floydada schools have the same laboratory equipment and reading stations as was praised above.

Weevil Campaign Began Monday

County Agent's Corner

Officials with the High Plains Boll Weevil Control Program are launching the third fall aerial attack against the cotton pest in about 200,000 acres along the eastern edge of the caprock.

Spraying started Monday, according to Roy Moritz, field supervisor with the USDA's Plant Pest Control Division. The program will be almost identical with the operation last fall, Moritz said, except area to be sprayed is about 50,000 acres smaller. Included in the control zone are Briscoe, Hall, Floyd, Motley, Dickens, Garza and Kent counties.

Last year's weevil campaign is credited with reducing per acre populations about 99 per cent, Moritz said.

MALATHION SPRAY

Officials said the spray contract was let at a price of $1.80 per gallon or about 16.5 to 22 cents per acre depending on the rate of application.

Low bidder for the third year in a row was Roane's Flying Service of Jeanerette, La. Undiluted technical malathion is used in the spray program. It is described by Extension Entomologist Don Rummel as one of the safest insecticides available. Although highly effective against boll weevils, Rummel says it has extremely low toxicity to warm blooded animals and almost no residual hazards.

Malathion can do slight damage to some car paints and program officials suggest as a precaution that control zone residents put their vehicles under cover when planes are working in the vicinity.

The two-phase program will start with applications of 12 ounces of malathion per acre at five to seven day intervals for the first two applications, according to Entomologist Rummel. The third application may be made in five to seven days if weevil populations warrant it, he said.

Texas A&M University researchers suggested the quickly repeated applications to kill newly emerging adult females before they could mate and lay eggs that could produce potentially overwintering adults. "The basis for these repeated applications is to have an egg-free period during September when environmental conditions are likely to cause the weevils to diapause," Rummel said.

PHILOSOPHER SAYS

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm puts the big city problem in a different light in his letter this week.

Dear editor:

According to an article I read in a newspaper which drifted onto this Johnson grass farm yesterday, don't know where it came from, the mayor of New York informed a Senate committee in Washington that New York has reached the limit of its taxing ability, has run out of new sources of revenue, and will need 50 billion dollars from the Federal government in the next ten years to keep the city livable.

Moreover, other major cities are getting in the same shape, and one Senator, figuring up their requests, calculated it would take 250 billion dollars in the next ten years to keep them all livable.

I got to thinking this over, and while I don't know exactly how many acres there are in the country's major cities, I estimate they're asking for roughly about $50,000 per acre per year.

You can see this makes the farmers, who never got more than 3 or 4 dollars an acre in Federal help, look like pikers. It makes a person wonder, can we really afford these cities?

I know land is valuable in a city, but if it takes $50,000 an acre per year in Federal hand-outs to keep it producing, it makes a man scratch his head.

Furthermore, there are other complications. For example, farmers now make up less than 10 per cent of the total population in this country, and if the 90 per cent now living in cities can't support themselves and are looking outside their boundaries for help, somebody is sure dreaming if he thinks us farmers can carry the load. I wouldn't mind sending New York a dollar now and then, but 10 billion? Just haven't got it.

Somebody ought to tell the cities, where all the brains are supposed to be, that just because farm prices are up a little it doesn't mean we can rake up 25 billion dollars a year just to tide them over.

Yours faithfully,
 J. A.

HEAVY RAINS recently throughout the county have caused considerable damage not only to crops yet unharvested but also to a large number of unprotected cropland fields and road rights-of-ways. Much of this rain-water carried with it tons of top-soil to low areas and playa lakes. Evidence of the movement of top-soils can be seen especially around the playa lakes where silt bars are present. Where problems of this nature exist PLAN NOW to put the needed conservation measures into action. Contact your local Soil Conservation Service Office for assistance.

Bertrands Get Good Report Of Navy Son

Good news has been received by the O. N. Bertrand family that their son, Richard, is much improved from his accident and that he has gained nearly full use of his hand, which was severely cut while he was on shore patrol duty in Tokyo, Japan.

Mrs. Bertrand said her son's hand was in traction for over a month following a series of operations to repair the injury. After bandages were removed Monday of last week it was found Richard could move all of his fingers but the middle one and with additional therapy it was felt he would be able to make use of it in the near future.

The navyman has re-applied for duty aboard his repair ship which is due back in Tokyo Saturday for repairs, and said he felt like from all indications his orders would read as such.

CENTER NEWS

CENTER, Sept. 5 - More rain Friday night. This makes it five weekends we've had rain. We are grateful for the last two beautiful sunny days.

Church was well attended Sunday at Calvary. Bro. Dale Grisham of Edmondson preached both services, since Bro. Row, present pastor, was not able to preach. He is recovering from nasal surgery he had the first of last week.

Visitors in the Sunday night service were Bro. Dale Grisham's parents, sisters and brother. Members of the family brought the special music, which all enjoyed, also.

Among visitors in the morning service were most of the J. E. Green's children and families, who visited the parental home over the weekend. These were Mrs. J. M.
