Citizens Organize To Fight Liquor Interests

Two Seek Private Clubs In Floyd County

by Wendell Tooley

Floyd County people became alarmed last week when notification was received by local law officials that application had been made for private clubs in Lockney and Floydada.

Consequently around 600 people from all over the county met at the First Baptist Church here Sunday afternoon and organized "The Floyd County Council For Civic Betterment".

Mr. George Elkins, minister of the City Park Church of Christ read a committee's report, which he headed, outlining the purposes of the organization:

"That we make a continued effort to maintain a high moral climate in our area."

"To oppose the sale and distribution of alcoholic beverages in any form, in our area."

"To oppose legalized gambling."

"That we inform and seek to protect our citizens, against undesirable influences."

The Rev. Floyd Bradley, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Floydada welcomed the people to the meeting and explained its purpose.

Parnell Powell was elected chairman of the organization. Les Ferguson and Jack McIntosh were elected vice chairmen.

Precinct 1 officers elected were Truman Dunavant and Mrs. Tom Porter; precinct 2, Boyce Mosely and Mrs. Clyde Briley; precinct 3, Mrs. John Hinsley and Lee Burton; precinct 4, Mrs. Ned Bradley and Travis Jones.

Bill Hardin was elected secretary-treasurer. Each church in the county will elect one representative in addition to the above officers and each pastor

Annual Mother's March Of Dimes Set January 31

"Why Did It Happen To My Baby?" This heartbreaking question comes from the lips of 700 new mothers every day in our nation. Each is the mother of the one baby in 16 who is born with a serious birth defect. To help the National Foundation with its programs in birth defects and to support the Salk Institution for Biological Studies, Floydada will hold its annual Mother's March of Dimes the night of January 31 from 6:30 until 7:30.

Their kick-off luncheon was held Tuesday at Lamplighter Inn for presidents and leaders of the two Floydada Junior Study clubs over the nation.

Turn your porch lights on and remember the more you help the more the National Foundation can help the more than 250,000 American babies born each year with birth defects; the 2,900,000 Americans who are mentally retarded because of birth defects; repair the bodies and save the lives of many children who were beyond help only a few years ago.

Country Club Looks Back On Progressive Year; Looks Forward To More Improvement

LOOKED LIKE for awhile this week we might have two Bob Copelands in Floydada...but Tuesday I learned that the Bell Telephone manager's name was Bob Copelin.

Never, in talking by phone with Bob in I learned that he's a cousin to our Copeland...so you just never can tell!

I OFTEN wondered (not being an Aggie) if Aggie jokes have helped or hindered enrollment at Texas A&M. I know back in Hadoacol days there were all sorts of Aggie jokes...which I understand helped not support our teams Friday night your attendance. Girl's game begins at 7:30...boy's following...we play Otona.

IS NOTWORTHY that the folks in Center, Friona, Otona and Dimmitt turn out for basketball games than Floydada

RE'S A TIP about your fruit trees. H.B. Foster tells me that one gallon in the winter time is worth two in summer time...so better keep those fruit trees damp right on through the winter.

LEARNED BETTER than to forecast weather in this country...but I would like to get there'll be plenty of deep water in creek going through the Country Club summer...five of the newly elected seven-member board are Baptists.

ANE SPEAKER at the Sunday meeting against alcoholic beverages said that the best type of letter to send state officials is the opening of private clubs in Floyd County is an handwritten card or letter rably written in a pencil.

said that anytime it looks like there is going to be a tax put on snuff that Ausler literally flooded with letters from Texas...protesting, "please don't tax the greatest pleasure in life."

big city reporter asked a friend who is small country weekly newspaper: "How do you keep your subscriptions in a town where everyone already knows what everyone else is doing?"

editor grinned. "They know what everyone's doing all right, but they read the paper to see who's been caught at it!"

which makes private clubs legal and there is no vote required to allow one to come into a community. Permission is given by the Liquor Control Board.
Attorney Stapleton explained that the county's law officials were all in opposition to the clubs coming into the county and he said that the signing of petitions by the citizenry of the county protesting such clubs would help combat the opening of them in Floyd County.

About 1500 persons had signed the petitions at press time yesterday and anyone desiring to sign one may do so at any church in the county, or the Floydada Chamber of Commerce office.
City of Floydada officials said there is no city ordinance ance against private clubs.

TANE SPEAKER
Dr. Jerry Dawson, representative of TANE (Texas Alcohol Narcotics Enterprises) spoke to the gathering, explaining how the liquor industry is seeking to come into all the dry areas in the state. He explained that persons are supposed to bring their own liquor to a private club, but many times liquor is sold in the club.

He said that the best way to combat liquor forces on the state level is to handwrite letters to Ralph Wayne, Jack Hightower, Governor Connally and Lt. Governor Preston Smith.

PERMIT REQUEST
The following letter was received by the county sheriff about the permits last week.

Sheriff Walter Hollums
Floyd County Sheriff Dept.
Floydada, Texas
Dear Sheriff:

Mr. Charles G. Wyckoff of 612 W. 8th Street, Apt. 103, Plainview, Texas was in my office this date in regards to putting in a private club in Floydada.

Do you know of any reason that he or Mr. Donald L. Green of Plainview, Texas should not be issued a private club permit should they make out application?

Your attention in this matter will be greatly appreciated.
Sincerely yours,
/s/ Leon C. Bowman
Leon C. Bowman
DISTRICT SUPERVISOR

Sheriff Walter Hollums' reply is as follows:

January 21, 1967
Mr. Leon C. Bowman
District Supervisor
Texas Liquor Control Board
Old Courthouse
Lubbock, Texas

RE: Private Clubs in Floyd County

Dear Leon:
I received your letter of January 17, 1967, wherein you asked if I knew of any reason why Mr. Charles G. Wyckoff or Mr. Donald L. Green of Plainview, Texas, should not be issued a private club permit for Floydada if they were to make out application.

I appreciate your giving to me an opportunity to express my opinion on this matter.

I am strongly opposed to any private club permit being issued to anyone, now or in the future, for Floydada or in any part of Floyd County.

In checking on the two subjects mentioned in your letter, I was unable to identify or find out much about Mr. Green, but Mr. Wyckoff came by my office to see me, and after stating our position to him he told me he would not go ahead with his plans to put in a private club in Floydada.

Leon, all the county officials in Floyd County, including the County Judge, County Attorney, and District Attorney, are all in agreement with me, that we do not want any private club in Floyd County, and we want to keep them out of this county as long as we possibly can. Also, I think the great majority of the citizens of this county are opposed to any private club here. Any assistance you may be able to give to us to keep any private club out of Floyd County, now or in the future, will be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,
/s/ Walter Hollums

Sheriff - Floyd County

It should be emphasized that the Donald L. Green of Plainview is certainly not the Don Green who resides here in Floydada.

Bowman and two other representatives of the Liquor Control Board were here Tuesday discussing the matter with officers of the newly formed organization and county law officials.
Bowman expressed the complete cooperation of his office with local officials.

...spectacular advances in plant physiology suggest that agricultural scientists soon may be tapping the unheard-of potentialities of the plant world.

Page Morgan, speaking at the Cotton Producers' Educational Conference January 12-13, told the delegates that several international biologists suggest that agricultural scientists now attempt to transfer the nitrogen-fixing character of legumes to other plants.

Transfer of the moisture-retaining metabolism of succulent (cactus like) plants to other plants.

Development of means of changing the flow of carbon fixed in photosynthesis toward either fats or proteins rather than carbohydrates.

Replace the photosynthetic structures - chloroplasts - in crop plants with the efficient chloroplasts from leaves.

A&M plant physiologists "Imagine the nitrogen fixation plant using water as readily as a pineapple and giving out photosynthesis as readily as corn!"

Such achievements are not probabilities, but discoveries on the basis of genetics and such "far-out" research.

Trace element, manganese, has been found to influence early leaf shed of cotton, Morgan said. A&M researchers have found that above normal levels of manganese cause cotton to flower as much as 10 days earlier than usual. He said if some way can be developed to apply manganese in the field at above-normal levels, growers might speed up flowering by a week or two without changing planting dates.

Floyd County Stockmen should be on the lookout for lice on their livestock. These pests can reduce profits and increase feeding costs for the winter unless they are controlled.

Livestock producers were reminded that copies of MP-691, "Texas Guide for Controlling External Parasites of Livestock and Poultry" are available at the County Agricultural Agent's office in Floydada.

The publication contains information in insecticide formulations and how to use them for controlling external livestock and poultry parasites. It contains a dilution chart for mixing sprays and dips and outlines control programs for beef animals and non-lactating dairy cattle, dairy animals, sheep, goats, swine, horses and poultry.

Lice infestations spread more rapidly when livestock are confined to smaller areas, and if allowed to multiply, can materially affect the general well-being of the herd.

Skinny Winn Reports On Winnco Corporation

A Hesperian reporter interviewed Weldon (Skinny) Winn this week in regard to the progress of the light and sound corporation of Winnco Inc.

Winn reported that he plans on going to Oak Creek Canyon in Arizona for light and sound production this summer if he can get enough investment capital in the corporation in the next three weeks. He said that around $40,000 has been invested by Floyd County people and another $20,000 from people in the Canyon area has been pledged. He said he needed another $20,000 to go into the summer light and sound business.

Winn said the Oak Creek Canyon features a beautiful natural setting for enhancement by light and sound. He does not plan a motorcade showing, but a stationary setup, similar to the Palo Duro summer showings. He is considering using a dialogue with some pantomime in conjunction with his light and sound equipment.

Winn has been developing his idea for the past four years and has made light and sound demonstrations in Blanco Canyon, Palo Duro, and Dixie State Park, near St. George, Utah.

tend. A total of 21 specialists will conduct the various study conferences in the Texas Cooperative Dissemination Project under PESO, West Texas University.

Purpose of the conference, held under the Elementary and Secondary Education Act 89-10 Title III, is to disseminate new information to teachers in a usable form.

Ford explained that by the time textbooks reach the classroom they have already been up to five years in process of being compiled and printed. They are then used from 5 to 15 years, which results in some of the information being outdated.

Rather than have each teacher spend hours reading reams of technical material in order to update the information they are using with their students, the Title III program is an attempt through specialists to "dig out new ideas and put them in usable form for immediate use by teachers."

FIRST OVERALL MEETING
The meeting will be the first overall unit meeting, Ford said. From this initial meeting it is hoped that small study groups will develop with PESO furnishing leadership and consultant service for these study groups.

He said, "Administrators of area schools have been most cooperative and enthused over the Title III program and the upcoming study conference. A requirement for school accreditation is a recognized in-service education program and this is going to meet accreditation standards. Smaller schools have, heretofore, been unable to provide this. By holding the conference from 3 until 5 p.m. we hope to 'split the difference' with the teachers attending by using some of their time and some school time. It will take most teachers about an hour to get here and to return home, so we plan no refreshment or fellowship breaks. Maps of the school system showing where each study group will meet are being sent to each teacher in order that they may go directly to their conference group."

Schools to be represented will include Petersburg, Lorenzo, Ralls, Crosbyton, Lockney, Floydada, Hale Center, Lakeview, Dougherty, McAdoo, Patton Springs, Spur, Girard, Jayton, Guthrie, Abernathy and Crosbyton.

Eight Floydada teachers at Andrews Ward attended a study course, American Association for the Advancement of Science, in Plainview Jan. 24 and 25.

There are to be seven classes, the two in Plainview; two in Plainview; two in Brownfield; two in Floydada and one in Levelland at later dates.

Those taking the study course in service training for teachers in science will in turn present the same classes to other teachers next year at Duncan School and Andrews Ward.

Attending were Mrs. Olin Watson Jr., Mrs. Fred Stewart, Mrs. Charles Danley, Mrs. Joe Wilson, Mrs. Willie Williams, Mrs. L. L. Hardy, Mrs. Ray Smith and Mrs. L. Fulton.

James, D.A. Barnhart, Wayne Mixon and Haney Wideman.

Mr. and Mrs. Delman Hilton and Kristie, Lubbock, spent the weekend in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Cox, Dorothy, Kenny and Linda. Additional guests on Sunday were Mardith Wideman and Mr. and Mrs. Doyal Woody of Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Richards and family were guests in the home of Rev. and Mrs. R.C. Guest on Friday evening.

Mrs. Max Dyess and Suzanne, Floydada, and Mrs. Earl Martin visited recently with Mr. and Mrs. Danny Martin, Lubbock.

Several from the community attended the funeral services of Mrs. Ada Northcutt, which were held on Friday afternoon in the First Baptist Church in Ralls; and Mrs. Bertie Cowley, whose services were held on Sunday afternoon at the Emma Church of Christ in Ralls. The deceased were mothers of Mr. and Mrs. A.J. Cowley. We extend our sympathy to A.J. and Linnie Mae and to other members of the families.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Wideman visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Little in Ralls on Sunday afternoon and then accompanied Elder and Mrs. Joe Jackson to the Ralls Convalescent Home where they visited with Mrs. Dan Flurry and Mrs. Cynthia Clark and other patients there.

Lovely Home Wedding Unites Miss Myers, Bud Higginbotham

An impressive and lovely home wedding Friday, January 20, united in marriage Miss Myra Rosetta Myers and Warren (Bud) Higginbotham. The ceremony was read by Charles Conger in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Rogers in Floydada.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Myers of Dumas and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Ruby Lee Higginbotham and the late Bryant Higginbotham of South Plains.

Baskets of pink gladiolas and cranberry colored carnations flanked each side of the fire place which formed the scene for the wedding.

The bride wore a two piece oyster white pure silk suit styled with three quarter length sleeves and street length skirt. Her veil of antique white tulle fell shoulder length. She carried her own white Bible covered with lace and topped by tiny white orchids and stephanotis.

She wore a penny in her shoe for something old; something new was her wedding attire; something blue was the traditional garter.

Miss Lana Fair was maid of honor and Alton Higginbotham, brother of the groom, was best man.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Myers wore a two piece cocoa brown suit trimmed with a cowl mink collar and a corsage of green orchids. The groom's mother wore a three piece pink knit suit and a corsage of brown orchids.

A reception followed in the Rogers' home. The serving table was laid with an antique lace cloth and centered with pink gladiolas and cranberry carnations.

After a wedding trip to El Paso the couple returned to Amarillo to reside. Both are students at West Texas State University in Canyon.

Out of town guests for the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. James Magnuson, Mrs. E. A. Blake and Mrs. M. J. Fair of Amarillo and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Myers of Sunray.

Miss Thurston Becomes Bride Of Jerry Shutes

In a candlelight ceremony read in the Broadway Church of Christ chapel in Lubbock Saturday, January 21st, Miss Lynda Thurston became the bride of Jerry Shutes of Three Rivers, Mich.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Thurston of Floydada and Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn Shutes of Three Rivers are parents of the couple.

Don Williams, minister of the church, performed the double ring ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Curry sang wedding selections.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white street length A-flared gown of delustered satin fashioned with a lace bodice and three quarter length sleeves. The sculptured portrait neckline was complemented by a single strand of pearls. A pillbox of lace and satin held an elbow length tiered veil of illusion. She wore long white gloves and carried white gardenias atop a white Bible.

Sandy Thurston attended her sister as maid of honor. She wore a brilliant pink dress of peau de soie styled with elbow length sleeves and rounded neckline. Her hat was designed with a large pink satin rose centered over a short graduated brim of pink illusion. She carried a single long stemmed pink rose.

FARMSTEADS AND WINDBREAKS - Windbreaks are often employed to aid in the control of wind erosion. They may also be used to provide shelter for farm buildings, control snow drifts, or decrease loss of soil moisture. The main purpose of a windbreak is to serve as a barrier which interrupts and slows down the natural flow of the wind as it passes over the area needing protection.

Windbreaks should be planted perpendicular to the direction of the prevailing wind, and if the purpose is to protect farm buildings, the trees should be 100 to 150 ft. from the center of the building group. The plantings should consist of one to three rows of tall trees with dense shrubs on each side. Tree rows should be spaced 10 to 14 ft. on irrigated land and 12 to 18 ft. apart on dry land. Properly designed windbreaks will decrease the wind velocity on the leeward side for a distance up to 20 times its height and for about 2 times its height on the windward side. For further information contact the Floyd County Soil Conservation Service office.

You Don't Have The Right To Complain

You, Mr. Citizen simply don't have the right to complain about how several key issues go in this community and county this year:

1. Mackenzie Water Dam
 2. Local option liquor vote
 3. School board election
 4. Mayor and city council election
 5. Various bond votes on community or county level.
- That's right... you have no right to complain about how these elections go in 1967... UNLESS YOU BECOME A REGISTERED VOTER... then exercise that right by going to the polls and vote.
- For years our people have complained about having to pay a poll tax. This situation no longer exists.
- We suggest that you go register at the county tax office by the deadline date, January 31, 1967... or clip the handy registration blank from this issue of The Hesperian and mail it to the tax office.

Leaves Us Sorta Cold

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a regional approach to economic development which calls for a cooperative and concerted effort on the part of metropolitan centers and their satellite communities.

Several meetings and programs have occurred in regard to the future of West Texas through the big metropolitan areas working with the smaller towns surrounding them.

There was such a meeting at Tullia last week. It was the first of a series of six which will be held over the western portion of the state.

We can agree with James, R. Bradley, from the economic research division of Texas A&M who spoke at Tullia that it is important that we work together as a region.

We agree that we can work together as a region for a progress in competition with other regions of the United States.

But, we can't agree on helping the big metropolitan cities to engulf the smaller communities through taking away business within these area communities.

It sorta leaves us cold to enter into an effort to help make Lubbock, Plainview and Amarillo larger... at the cost of less population and business in Floydada.

Now, if the big metropolitan cities are really concerned about the region as such, it seems that they would be working for the smaller towns around... exerting an effort to strengthen the region through stronger area towns.

We look at Floydada... we understand and know its growth and progress potentials better than any other "small town around the metropolitans" and we can list several ways that the big city can help us grow as a regional factor in the economy.

They can direct some of the industries our way. They can send us some doctors, so our hospital will be successful.

They can send us house builders to take care of the increased population... and more people to build business firms here. Yes, we're left just a little cold with the metropolitan-small town bedfellow situation... if it is designed to make the big city larger and the small city smaller.

We'll warm up to the idea if and when the area metropolitans go to work to help us progress with the region.

How About A Fishing Hole?

This issue of the Hesperian devotes a considerable amount of space with news about the Floydada Country Club. It is evident that many improvements have been made at the country club... and believe it or not the country club has money in the bank!

Doubtless the board of directors of the country club will have plenty of places to spend the money.

Looks like it wouldn't cost too much to dam up a fishing pond, stock it with perch and pollywogs and let the youngsters have a handy place to learn the art of fishing.

Might put an age limit of 0-12 years of age. The boy or girl who has reached the age of 12 is big enough to go into lake or stream trout fishing.

The board of directors of the club has continually expressed a desire to make the country club an area of recreation that will include the entire family... the fishing pond will be an asset to improve interest of the children at the club.

The visitors said they drove over the ice through Arkansas but upon reaching Texas the roads were fine.

Mrs. John E. Brown of Lubbock was here to visit the McLains during their stay. The Tilsons spent Friday night and Saturday in Lubbock and all left Sunday for their homes in Tennessee. This was the first trip in this area for the Tilsons.

It's a bigger bargain today than ever before

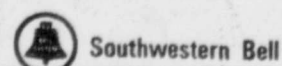

Your telephone gives you more for your money today than at any time since Mr. Bell invented it. Pretty big statement. But it's true. There are more telephones in more places today than ever before. Two hundred million in the world; four million of them here in Texas.

On the average, there are more than twice as many telephones in each of our Texas exchanges as there were 20 years ago. So it figures you can reach more people, get more things done by phone than ever before.

And what about Long Distance rates? They've been going down while the cost of almost everything else has been climbing up. There've been 10 Long Distance rate reductions in Texas since World War II.

Another thing. The quality of service has never been better. Today's phone users can talk as though they were four feet apart. Back in the early 1930's, it was 35 feet.

Better service to more places at lower cost. We think that's a winning combination.

GUEST EDITORIAL

A. C. Powell . . . the Negro's Worst Enemy

Every patriotic American citizen has been distressed over the traditional treatment of Negro Americans at least for the last half century . . . their humiliation caused by unreasonable segregation on public buses, in public auditoriums, theatres, and in a hundred other ways. There was a time when segregated schools might have been desirable immediately following the Civil War, not to satisfy bigoted whites but to better care for the needs of the underprivileged Negroes who needed additional help not so much needed by the whites. But that time has passed.

Every patriotic American citizen has rejoiced at the progress made in recent years which has corrected most of the wrongs of the past. We all rejoice that Uncle Sam has guaranteed the Negro voting privileges, has clamped down on lynching, has given the Negro justice in the courts.

There is no need for additional civil rights legislation. If civil rights legislation already passed is enforced, there is nothing to keep the ambitious Negro youth from enjoying essentially the same rights available admitted thief, used the same old excuse for his behavior that has been used by juvenile troublemakers through the ages, "I may be guilty, but so-and-so did the same thing and got by with it."

Perhaps he is right, to a certain extent, to any white child. It has been proved in Tullia that reasonable people will help the Negro youth to go just as far as he desires to go in occupying an honorable place in society.

Because of all the gains made by the American Negro, it is tragic to see several darn fools typified by Stokely Carmichael and Adam Clayton Powell destroy much of the gains that have been made.

Carmichael and his ilk cannot destroy the legislation, but they can destroy the will of reasonable whites to make civil rights legislation work. Although we cannot withhold necessary legislation until everybody approves it, still legislation needs to have public support before it can be of maximum effectiveness. Carmichael is responsible for Lester Maddox being Georgia governor.

Powell and his followers last week set the Negro cause back at least 25 years. Friends of the Negro have long argued that

Rep. Ralph Wayne Must Fill 300 Job Vacancies

AUSTIN — Rep. Ralph Wayne is a man with a problem. He has to divide approximately 1,200 applications into 300 jobs and make sure everybody comes out reasonably happy. Wayne, a restaurant owner from Plainview and former radio and television newscaster, is chairman of the newly created House Administration Committee. He is beginning his second term in the House.

The new committee was created by the recent House Rules change which resulted in additional duties for the Rules Committee, the panel which formerly handled all of the "house-keeping" chores for the House.

Because the Rules Committee will have more to do, it was decided to set up the new panel.

The new rules call for appointment of an administrative officer to serve as an "Overseer" for all House employees, listen to their complaints and recommendations and, in general, be a father confessor. To date, that post has not been filled, and Wayne says it probably will not be during the session — perhaps not even later. "I guess I'm it," he comments rather ruefully.

Among the many duties are taking care of members' parking needs, office supplies — but not secretaries since each one hires his own — office space, equipment such as typewriters and a thousand and one other details.

Previously, these chores have come under the Rules Committee, and the Rules Chairman always has been considered a "second right arm" for the speaker. Wayne's job falls under that same classification.

Thus far in the 60th session Wayne said approximately 300 jobs, somewhat less than the number occupied during the 59th session, have been filled.

the purpose of civil rights legislation has not been to give the Negro privilege but justice. All white civil rights advocates asked was that the Negro be treated as any other American, that the law and society simply become color blind. But Powell, Carmichael and their crowd made liars of us. Powell, an But this happens every day. A motorist picked up for drunken driving could easily charge that somebody else drove while drunk and got by with it. That is no valid excuse.

As one Congressman said, "Powell would have been disciplined months ago had he not been a Negro."

Powell and his followers have every right to exercise the legitimate right of free speech. They have a right to disagree with Congress for its action and to criticize it. But

Hightower, Wayne See Program Of Connally As Generally

AUSTIN — Sen. Jack Hightower of Vernon has called the program outlined here Wednesday by Gov. John Connally a good one, and so has Rep. Ralph Wayne of Plainview.

"The governor has outlined a very ambitious program, and it is one that will keep the Legislature busy and the members on their toes," Hightower said. "But there are elements in the program that will result in a good deal of controversy."

"I am anxiously awaiting his fiscal message, for unless his revenue hearing recommendations furnish the key, a lot of things will have to wait for another day," Hightower said.

Wayne delved more deeply into the proposals, although he agreed that it would take a lot of work, saying that part of the program would be feasible and part of it would not.

"I think it would be difficult to revise the entire Constitution, if not impossible, and that we do need judicial redistricting," Wayne said. "I agree on annual sessions the way he set it up" — meaning that the additional session would consider only fiscal and emergency matters.

Wayne agreed with Connally on increased salaries for state employees, driver education in public schools, a crackdown on drivers who drive while drinking, and tightening up the parole system. "We're letting too many criminals out too quickly," he said.

Firearms Issue

The Plainview representative also supported Connally on the matter of having no restrictions on guns, but rather on the people who aren't competent to use them.

"The teacher pay raise measure is only a stop gap salary increase until we get the report back from the study committee," Wayne said. In addition, he will continue to support a measure to allow the people themselves to decide whether or not they want a city sales tax as opposed to a property tax.

Wayne said he also favors Connally's proposal to propose a federal amendment allowing the states to keep five per cent of the income tax collected in the states.

On the matter of a tuition increase proposed by the Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, Wayne said, "If a move is underway they have no right to shout wildly television cameras about their interest in Lyndon Johnson" and that the worst bunch of hypocrites in the of the world.

If they haven't violated civil law have violated the law of decency. They proved to the world that they do not deserve the rights of Americans to make an honest buck.

The unfortunate part of this whole is that the masses of Negro Americans approve of Powell's conduct. Yet they suffer for it.

When you're down at your dealer's trying out a new Chevrolet, you pull out the ash tray. Notice how nice and easy it glides, never hiccups up or even scraping. The reason is, it rides on ball bearings. Four little ball bearings. (Take the tray all the way out and you'll see them.) You say you don't even smoke? Then look at it this way. KNITS Boucle, looped, crocheted, lacy, fishnet, ribbed, brocaded and jersey knits lend comfort and a fluid elegance to every fashion. Some are sold in tubular form; others are sold flat.

Single knits drape softly. Double knits are made with two sets of yarns in a double stitch and are firmer, yet flexible, tailor beautifully and usually do not need underlining.

WHEN PURCHASING FABRIC:
1. Remember a lengthwise rib is the "straight of grain." Check to be sure rib is not severely twisted out of line.

2. Read labels for suggestions on care.
3. Weight can be your guide in choosing wool jersey; 7 oz. for blouses; 8 or 9 oz. are dress weights; 9 or 10 oz. or more for suits and coats.

4. Lining slim skirts and completely underlining the looser knits helps keep their shape. It is not necessary to line wool or dacron double knits.

PATTERNS
Let the fabric be your guide—today's knits are for every fashion. In general, avoid circular or gored skirts with bias lines. For loose and bulky knits, choose simple patterns with few details.

PREPARATION
1. All knit fabrics, except those that are bonded, should be preshrunk before cutting.

2. To open tubular knit, do not cut on fold but cut along one rib close to the fold line.

3. Check "grain." If fabric is crooked, pull gently on bias to straighten.

4. Press out folds of tubular knit, if possible. Many folds will not press out completely. Place pattern so creases will not be prominent.

CUTTING
1. Pin pattern to side where lengthwise rib is visible.

2. You may need to mark a straight rib with chalk or thread for ease in following.

3. Lay fabric flat without any tension; avoid stretching while pinning and cutting. Remember knits stretch more in width than in length.

SEWING MACHINE
1. Tension: Medium to light
2. Stitch length: 12-15 per inch, or a small zig-zag.

3. Needle: For lightweight knits size 11 (fine); double and heavier knits, medium size 14.
4. Thread: Textured nylon, silk or mercerized cotton, depending on fiber content of knit.

SEWING TIPS
1. To prevent stretching. Stay-stitch shoulders, neckline and armholes and reinforce shoulder and waistline with straight seam tape.

2. Interfacing: Use on faced edges and under buttonholes to reinforce. Match color.

3. On bulky knits, cut facing of lining fabric.
4. Lining: Cut lining pieces same as garment. Mark construction details on right side of lining. Wrong sides together, stitch knit to lining pieces 1/2 inch from edge. Then sew as one fabric. For skirt and one-piece dress, stitch lining separately, about 1 inch shorter than dress.

5. Make tailors hem: pink, machine stitch or zig-zag raw edge of hem; catch loosely to garment.

PRESSING
Press with lengthwise rib. Lift and lower iron; do not stretch or pull fabric; do not steam-press the loose weaves.

The Bible, Christian Science, And You

"Christianity sets forth facts that can be proved," declared Sylvia N. Poling, C.S.B., in a lecture given Sunday in Lubbock.

"The Bible contains the law that produces and governs all existence," she said. "It concerns how you think, how you live, and what becomes of you." When understood, "it changes the course of human experience."

Miss Poling is a member of The Christian Science Board of Lecturers. She spoke in Lubbock Municipal Auditorium, after an introduction to the audience by John Norred of First Church of Christ Scientists, which sponsored the lecture.

"Actually," Miss Poling said, "we are all soldiers in the great army of God, dedicated to fight for human freedom, the individuality of man, and God's reign of peace."

And the Bible "gives the rules." "Man have long recognized the fundamentals of good in these rules, she noted, "but what is needed is how to practice them."

Human problems remain unsolved "because we haven't yet obeyed the First Commandment, 'Thou shalt have no other gods before me'" (Exodus 20:3).

"From beginning to end," she said, "the Bible is declaring that there is but one law, one power operating in the universe," and that "man is inseparable from this power."

But to "bring ourselves into accord with this power," we must "understand the nature of it, and of ourselves."

Jesus gave the answer, she said. "He showed us how to obey divine law." He "told us: 'God is a Spirit; and they that worship him must worship him in spirit and in truth'" (John 4:24).

To obey this command, we must "forsake matter for Spirit," the lecturer indicated.

"The struggle of the world today in its race for survival should be enough to arouse everyone from the dream of materiality... It's time we recognize that we are mental beings living in a world of thought."

"Each one of us," she said, "is in reality a spiritual idea in the Mind that is God."

"You are necessary to God as His expression," she told the audience. "Your individuality is necessary to express the divine completeness."

"To comprehend your true worth, and to let your true selfhood begin to appear here and now, you must understand the Principle of your being, God. You must understand your in destructible relationship to God."

"The first step is to pray," Miss Poling said. "Prayer is simple and natural" in Christian Science. "It is bringing one's thinking into accord with spiritual law—the spiritual facts of God and man. It includes recognizing and acknowledging the presence and perfection of God and His ideas, and expressing gratitude to God for His Christ, the ever-present Truth."

This means "giving up all reservations that would keep you from seeing that you exist as a perfect idea in God."

It includes a childlike acceptance of "basic spiritual facts"—that "Love is the most powerful force in the universe;" that "God, the creative Principle, is Love;" that God's love blesses everyone just as the sun shines on all alike; that "we must reflect love just as the rays of the sun reflect light;" and that there is a "fundamental law of being, the law of Love, operating all the time."

Such prayer also involves "discipline," she said. "Laws can't protect us unless we obey them."

Once recognized and acted upon, God's law "will operate in human affairs to produce mental and spiritual health and give men dominion over all the earth," the lecturer declared.

She quoted this description by Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science: "The law of God is the law of Spirit, a moral and spiritual force of Immortal and divine Mind" (Miscellaneous Writings, p.257).

This law "is vital to each one of us," Miss Poling said. It "reaches us right where we are when we're willing to learn it and obey it."

"Those studying Christian Science," she said, "find that as we obey this law, it heals us of everything unlike God—fear, envy, hatred, revenge, irritability, unhappiness, sickness."

he lecturer told of how one man was healed of a supposedly fatal heart condition when he awoke "the law of Love," and allowed it to govern his thinking toward a person he had once despised.

A Christian Science practitioner had told him: "God, who is all powerful, created you perfect and is able to keep you that way—but you have to obey His will. As God loves you, you have to love other men." The man responded, and was "permanently healed."

It was this same power that appeared in the works of Christ Jesus, the lecturer said. Jesus illustrated "the impartial nature of the law of God, of God's will operating in behalf of everyone, everywhere, all the time." All evils "yielded to his understanding of harmony and completeness."

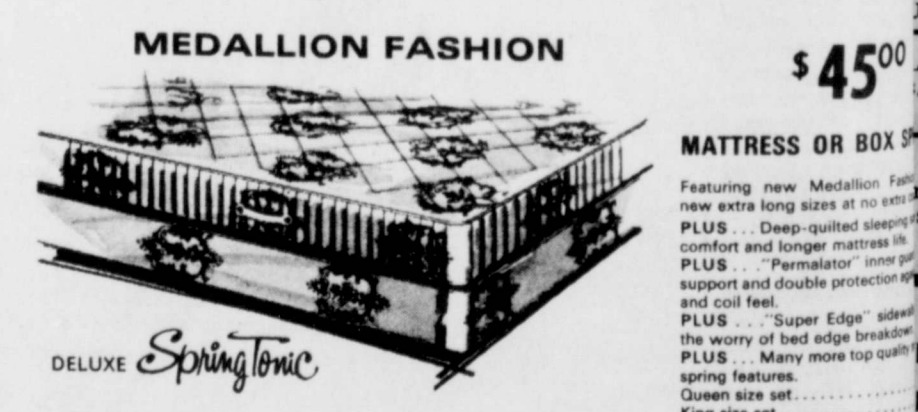

"The Truth he taught and proved is still with us," she said. "It is God's message to us waiting our ability and willingness to receive it... We must obey God as he did."

WTTA Christmas Seal Campaign Totals $25,864.15

As of January 1, West Texas contributed $25,864.15 through Christmas Seals to carry on the work of education, case-finding and research by the 23-county West Texas TB Association.

Executive Director, Mrs. Clifford E. Sharp, pointed out that delayed contributions are expected to bring the total up.

This is the first year the Christmas Seal Campaign has been conducted on an area basis in West Texas. Funds raised determine the extent of the WTTA program, a part of the Texas Plan for the Eradication of Tuberculosis in Texas.

In addition to an educational program, the WTTA Mobile X-Ray Unit—from 41,757 readings, disclosed 202 suspected cases of TB, 190 cardiovascular irregularities, including emphysema and tumors.

Philosopher Has Little Luck Trying To Answer Questions Like They Do On T.V.

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm has been watching television, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:
In between newspapers lately I've been listening to national politicians being interviewed on television, on such programs like "Meet The Press" and "Face The Nation," and I have decided that my trouble is I don't know how to answer questions.

For example, some politician will be asked: "Does the present conduct of the war in Viet Nam suit you?"

His answer: "No."
"Why not?"
"I cannot imagine our letting a war drag on and on for years."
"What would you do to end it sooner?"

"I would hope that by taking a harder look at the situation, we could figure out something better."

Or the question might be: "You recently stated that the Federal government is spending too much money. Do you still think so?"
"Certainly."
"Where would you cut spending?"

"I would hope that by taking a closer look at the entire Federal program we could cut out all waste and non-essentials."

This is what I'm talking about, and to bring it down to a local level, I don't see why I can't think to answer like that. For example, if a store owner sticks a past-due bill in my face and says, "Do you intend to pay this?" I should answer "Certainly."

"When?"
"I would hope that by reviewing my entire financial situation I could work out some way to keep it from dragging on and on."

The only trouble with this system is that not enough store owners apparently listen to those television programs. I tried it out and their replies wouldn't be suitable for family television.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

P. S. I don't know why the sports writers didn't say so, but as I understand the results of the Super Bowl, the Green Bay Packers beat the Kansas City Chiefs, $15,000 to $7,500.
