Floydada Schools Accepted In Southern Association

Schools Work Two Years On Admission

Floydada Junior High and High Schools have received membership into the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools after over two years of examination, improvement and of requirements have been completed. The Hesperian publishes the following information about membership in the Southern Association. Many people in this community wonder, "Well, what's so good about joining the association?" ... the following information tells in detail the requirements and the standards of the association and the improvements that must be made by any school system to merit membership in the association.

In February 1965, the school board approved the plan, the initial step in securing admission into the Southern Association.

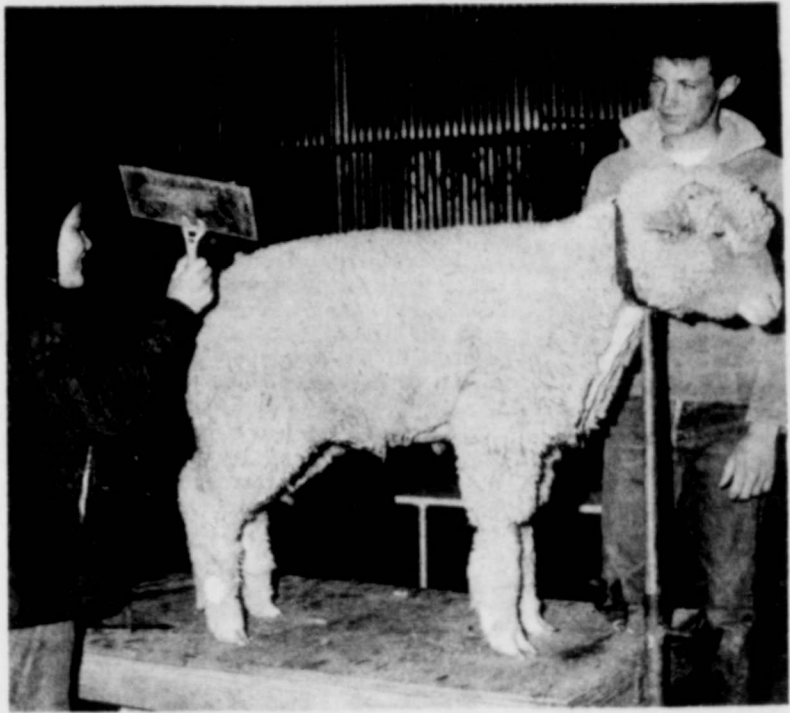

Fred Stoker, Professor of Education Administration, at West Texas State University, elected as coordinator of the evaluation, steering committee" was then selected. Principals C. E. Tyer and A. W. Coltharp, chairman. The Steering Committee was elected of the following faculty members: A. E. B. P. Nicholson, Bob Alldredge, Anne Brown, Cornie Barber, Audrey Spence, Ben Gardner, Bob Shields, Faris and lay members - Jim Word, Martha Ruth McIntosh, David Kirk.

The self-evaluation of the schools was completed in December 1965. The Steering Committee accepted the self-evaluation and composed 2,000 page results into a manual sent to the association.

In February 1966, a committee of 15 professional educators were selected by the Steering Committee to evaluate the schools. Their reports were then published and both reports were carefully studied by the Steering Committee. A list of recommendations was presented to the school administration for consideration. All comments and recommendations were read and acted upon.

The administration would like to express appreciation to the faculty, lay members of the steering committee, the visiting committee and Dr. Fred Stoker for their many of continuous work for the betterment of Floydada Schools.

Terrell Still Critical From Savage Beating

A Lubbock service station attendant and former resident of Floydada, Lee Roy Terrell, is reported to be some better at this date and still in intensive care in Lubbock Methodist Hospital where he is being treated for multiple head injuries.

The 43 year old man, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Terrell of Floydada, was brutally beaten during a daylight holdup of Godwin's Service Station Thursday. He was found lying in a pool of bloody customer who walked into the station about 2 p.m.

Police found a bloodstained automobile wheel beside the victim in the station restroom. The wheel was said to have been the weapon used in the beating. Investigating officer said the cash register had been emptied of more than $100 and Terrell's billfold, also emptied of money, his glasses and part of his broken dental plate were found on the floor of the rest room. Terrell, who had worked at a number of stations while living in Floydada, was practically crippled, the result of polio at an early age according to his family.

Monday police had at least one suspect in the savage beating and robbery. No charges have been filed but officers regarded the suspect as their strongest lead. Investigators have not been able to talk to Terrell but determined the suspect through other sources, it was said.

STARTING this column on Saturday night... just after watching a most exciting basketball game here Friday night. The nettes were in a practice game with... a team from down in Borden County. On the game was over it was tied up... overtime, the Whirlettes were winner three points!

The Gall girls displayed a similar amount of shooting ability and the game was the best we've seen the Whirlettes play this year.

Contrast with the Thursday night practice with Quitaque (which we won)... the game was slow.

The big 6'3" blonde girl from Quitaque was little and only made 28 points against us. It's interesting to see how much our team improved over the first game of the season. Quitaque beat us in Plainview.

One of the best girl basketball players we've seen this year was No. 11 from Gall... and score might have been different... with Whirlettes the loser, if No. 11 could have had in the game more. It seems she had an ankle problem and had to take out quite a bit of time to get her breath. Brother, when she was on the court... she was making the basket.

The Gall coach received a technical foul for telling he said to the referee with hardly a word left in this game... and this was a break helped the Whirlettes. (See, it pays to talk out for those technical fouls!) The break probably won the game for the Whirlettes since we were behind and the game almost over.

Then again, if Cindy Ward hadn't fouled out in the game we might have won the game over overtime play.

Anyway there's no doubt in my mind that "practice" game was the most exciting of the year... and the Whirlettes may have been the best team they've contested all

"LET'S ALL GO TO REGIONAL" Whirlettes Advance To Region

By Wendell Tooley

The theme at Floydada High School this week is "Let's All Go To Regional".

The Whirlettes were victorious over Frenship at Plainview Tuesday night 53-49 for the bi-district championship and they advance to regional play in the Lubbock Coliseum Saturday.

The Whirlettes are scheduled to play the Granbury girls at 12:30 Saturday... and should they win, they will advance to the regional championship at 8:30 that night against the winner of the Spearman-Winters game.

Should they win regional, they'll be playing for the state championship in Austin next Friday and Saturday.

FRENSHIP WIN

Approximately 1300 screaming Floydada fans watched the Whirlettes win the hard-fought victory over Frenship. Frenship was leading 17-15 at the end of the first quarter and Floydada managed to lead by two points at halftime, 29-27.

Cindy Ward was the big gun with 26 points for the locals. Sally McIntosh was making the free shots when they counted with a total of 19 points. Marilyn Harris made eight points. Cindy's 61% on field goals was important in the win, but Marilyn's 80% on free shots and Sally's 79% on free shots were helpful when the chips were down.

Cindy made 9 for 14 from field, Sally and Marilyn were cold on field shots making 2 of 8 each for 25%.

The free throw shots may have been the difference in winning and losing. Marilyn made four out of five, Sally made 15 out of 19, and Cindy made eight out of 13.

Although Frenship's No. 15 was one of the best ball handlers and shooters (she made 32 points) we've seen... she and the other two forwards were no match for the Whirlie guards in the closing moments of the game.
COACH COMMENTS
Coach Kelly Chadwick had this to say about the game: "We made too many mistakes, that we don't normally make, also our field goal shooting percentage was off. The big thing was the fact that when we needed to settle down we did. We made few mistakes in the last quarter. Frenship made more mistakes in the last quarter than they did the rest of the game."

because the coliseum is big and we can surely use the encouragement. We hope that most of the Floydada fans can sit together.

"Our cheerleaders will let you know where we are sitting. I don't know very much about Granbury... but when you get to regional you've got to have a good team. I do know Spearman is good as I have scouted them this year. Winners is supposed to have a real good team... but it is their first trip to regional, and they may have the jitters, which I believe is one thing that will help us. We've been there before and should not be excited as we were last year."

FRENSHIP BEAT IN BI-DISTRICT TWICE
This is the second year in a row that Floydada has eliminated Frenship at the Bi-district level. Floydada also defeated Frenship by three points earlier in the year in tournament play.

SPEARMAN
Floydada was defeated by Spearman last year at regional play by six points and Spearman went on to the state championship. Spearman probably doesn't have as mature a team as last year... but they're experienced in playing in the "finals."

JIMMY D. HAMMONDS

Rites Held For Wreck Victim

Funeral rites for Jimmy Dalton Hammonds, 33 year old native of Floyd County, were conducted Saturday afternoon in the First Baptist Church in Floydada by the pastor, Rev. Floyd C. Bradley officiating.

Hammonds, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. (Dot) Hammonds of near Floydada, was pronounced dead on arrival at Lockney General Hospital Wednesday night of last week from injuries sustained in a pick-up crash some 25 miles northeast of Floydada. Willa Brown, 24, also a Floydada resident, was injured in the crash and remains in Methodist Hospital.

Friends of the family said Hammonds had left the Randall King home in northeast Floyd County in a pick-up belonging to Max Smitherman to come in town. He picked Mrs. Brown up at the Hammonds' home to take her to the King residence where friends had gathered for a steak fry. The wreck occurred enroute to the King home, on FM 77.

Highway Patrolman Luther Rainey of Floydada, said the pick-up driven by Hammonds missed a curve and rolled over several times down the side of a canyon, coming to rest against a boulder. Hammonds was thrown some 40 feet from the pick-up.

Hammonds was born in Floyd

County March 12, 1933. He was a graduate of Floydada High School and Texas Tech and was a member of the Masonic Lodge and First Baptist Church in Floydada. Hammonds served two years in the Army from 1955 until 1957. He was associated in farming with his father.

Survivors include his parents; four sisters, Mrs. Nell McCowen, Playa Del Rey, Calif., Mrs. Joyce Clemmons, Brownwood, Linda Hammonds, Dallas and Clara Hammonds, student at Texas Tech; two brothers, Mickey Dot, who is stationed in the army at Fort Sill, Okla., and Mike of Dallas; two grandmothers, Mrs. Leila Price of Floydada and Mrs. Maggie Hammonds of Thalia.

Interment was in Floyd County Memorial Park under the direction of Moore-Rose Funeral Home.

Pallbearers were Randell King, Mac Smitherman, Johnny Lloyd, Louis Lloyd, Elmer Sellers and Lane Decker.

Program Is Scheduled On Area Development

Agricultural and economic leaders from Bailey, Lamb, Hale and Floyd counties are invited to attend a kickoff meeting of the South Plains Development Program scheduled to begin at 1:30 p.m. March 7 in Hale County Agriculture Center in Plainview.

This meeting, one of four to be conducted on the South Plains during the week, will examine problems and solutions pertaining to income-increasing projects for the area.

Other sessions will be conducted in Brownfield, Lubbock and Stanton.

Featured Speakers

Featured speaker at each of the sessions will be John Seibert, coordinator of the South Plains Development program and Extension Service farm management specialist serving the area from Lubbock.

Other speakers will include Dr. E. M. Trew, assistant dean of agriculture at Texas A&M University, and representatives of agricultural agencies, colleges and groups who will explain their role in the program.

Trew will discuss the effectiveness of other similar programs currently underway in the Panhandle, in the Blacklands, and in East Texas.

Discuss Findings

Seibert, who coordinated the year-long study of the area's resources which led to the SPD program, will discuss the findings of the study and the suggested objectives and procedures of the program.

The study indicates that South Plains farmers could boost their gross income by an estimated $138-million annually through improved use of resources and modern management, Seibert said.

Processing raw agricultural products could bring in an additional $400-million per year, he estimates.

By comparison, the SPD program coordinator said area farmers received a similar amount, about $400-million, for their efforts in 1966.

Major Resources

In the year-long study, major resources of water, land, people and capital were inventoried, about 150 area leaders were interviewed to get their ideas on the region's problems and opportunities, and specialists and researchers prepared production guidelines that could be adopted to increase agricultural and business returns.

The published report of the findings was first presented at a December meeting in Lubbock. Participants from throughout the South Plains voted to adopt the findings as a basis for the South Plains Development program.

Seibert said these four area meetings are designed to let South Plains residents know more of the area's problems and opportunities and the South Plains Development program.

Anyone interested in the area's future is urged to be on hand at one of the four sessions.

FLOYD PHILOSOPHER

The C.I.A. Is Not Financing His Farming

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass has heard about the activities of the C.I.A., his letter this week indicates.

Editor: Every newspaper I've picked out here lately has had another long article on what the C.I.A. has been going, and I've done my best to keep track of it.

I understand it, the C.I.A., Central Intelligence Agency, a lot of secret money from Congress to keep this country trained on what's going on behind the scenes around the world, and to help counteract communism, and smarter men than I recognize it's a valuable asset and I believe it.

However, it might not be a bad idea to give an intelligence to the man in the outfit though he could hand out money to college students and so it quiet.

The way the newspaper article explained it, a lot of the college students didn't know the C.I.A. was supplying them money, and I believe it, you can't depend on all students staying in the dark all the time. One or two of them were bound to catch on.

On the other hand, a lot of organizations run by grown men were unaware of where their money was coming from, so you don't necessarily have to be a college student to be fooled.

A friend of mine in town got to thinking about all this and he stopped me and said, "Say, I understand you farmers are always getting government checks. You reckon the C.I.A. is behind that?"

I have investigated this thoroughly, and I can state that unquestionably and beyond a shadow of a doubt the C.I.A. is not financing me or any other farmer.

It is an insult to our intelligence to suggest such a thing. It is outrageous to even think it.

Certainly the C.I.A. is not financing me.

But in this connection I would like to say, How do you get in touch with them?

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

St. Mary Magdalen Church Elects Parish

Among the various measures which have been taken to update the American Catholic Church, one of the most important has been the establishment of the Parish Council, or Lay Board in many churches throughout our country. Here recently on Sunday morning, February 19th following the Service of the Word of God, and immediately prior to the Liturgy of the Eucharist (the Lord's Supper), the St. Mary Magdalen Church, for the first time in its history, elected a Parish Council.

Chosen by secret ballot on the part of all the members present over 18 years of age were the following: president, Ernest Torres; vice president, Mrs. Helen Martin; secretary, Mrs. Evelyn Juarez; and treasurer, Pete Vallejo. Also ex-officio members of the Council are the presidents of the Men's Society, the Women's Society, and the youth organization; respectively, Domingo De Leon, Mrs. Amanda Torres, and a young man yet to be elected.

The heads of the five commissions are also ex-officio members of the Council; the treasurer being automatically chairman of the Commission on Stewardship and Finances, the other four commission chairman being appointed by the Council President with the advice and consent of the other elected members of the Council.

Counting the Pastor, who is ex-officio, a non-voting consultative member, the Parish Council is made up of twelve members. The President has the power to vote only in case of ties.

The Pastor exercises a veto power in any particular matter that he, for grave reasons, may consider seriously harmful to the overall spiritual well-being of the local Church. Otherwise, all actions approved by the Council are considered effective immediately, unless differently stipulated in a particular instance.

The purpose and scope of the Parish Council coincide with those of the Church itself, namely, the salvation and evangelization of all those who freely choose to be her members with a special concern not only for their spiritual but also for their material well-being.

In other words the Parish Council to see to it that the local Church with all its members is truly a living Family of God, the closely Christian brotherhood together for the world.

Accordingly, the Commission on Stewardship and Finances, the Commission on Education, Social Action, and other various commissions, the particular local congregation out of its members.

Remainder Of Council News

Editors Note (Some news of importance had to be omitted last week in the Hesperian due to lack of space so we are using it this week. This concerns Floyd County H.D. Council news.)

Mrs. Aubrey Russell spoke to the FC council members at their past meeting and asked each club member to take a look at their county program, and ask themselves, Do We Know What a County Program Is and Are Club Members Helping Young Homemakers?

She asked that members plan a program that would be of interest, take a survey of our county to find out what we need in the county and what do the clubs need. She said every club needs a project, plan big and work hard at it to make it successful. Find the problems in the county and build your 1968 program around it.

Club members are to make pies and sandwiches to be served during the Fat Stock Show. Lone Star, Homebuilders and Dougherty clubs are to have ten pies each and three dozen

Whirlettes And "B" Girls Win Two Practice Games

The Whirlettes and the Floydada "B" Girls took on Quitaque and Gail here Thursday and Friday nights before a big crowd and won every game in practice sessions. Both Gail and Quitaque, like Floydada were district champions.

THURSDAY NIGHT
A very excited crowd saw the "B" girls nose out Quitaque 39-38 in the first game Thursday night. It was nip and tuck all the way, but with Trudi Miller hitting 26 points and the defense clicking Floydada was winner when the final buzzer sounded.

In the varsity game, which followed, Floydada Whirlettes won 49-42. The Whirlettes led all the way, and it was 29-16 at halftime.

Cindy Ward was top scorer with 21 points, Sally McIntosh was close behind with 18 and Marilyn Harris made ten.

The girls set a new free shot record of 93%. They made 53% of field goals.

FRIDAY NIGHT
The "B" team had no trouble defeating Gail 28-22. Trudi Miller was again high scorer with 16 points.

Coach Chadwick said Gail's varsity was the best team the Whirlettes have played this year except Springlake.

When the game was over the score was tied and in overtime Floydada came out winner 64-

62. The crowd went wild. Gail led most of the way. At halftime Gail led 29-24. The locals made 63% of both field and free shots.

It was Sally McIntosh's best game. She was top scorer with 33 points, Sally made 70% of her field and 71% of her free shots.

Marilyn Harris made 17 points and Cindy Ward made 12 points. Cindy fouled out shortly after halftime.

Castor Acreage Increase Seen

Major improvements in the castor situation promise to result in substantial increase in castor acreage in 1967.

This is the view expressed by several private parties following announcements on February 28 by both the U.S.D.A. and The Baker Castor Oil Company.

In 1967 farmers will be permitted to grow castor on their non-payment diverted feed-grain land, with the grower paying a small fee for this use of that land. The amount of the fee will depend on the grower's projected grain sorghum yield, but it is expected to range from $10.00 to $15.00 per acre. That fee will be deducted from ASC payments due the grower.

This fee is only about half of the fee which applied in previous years when castor was grown on diverted land. In 1967, castor can be planted on cotton diverted acres under the same terms as applied in 1966.

Federal Fund Sought By Hospital District

MATADOR — The Motley County Hospital District at Matador has made application for a federal fund, it was announced late Tuesday by John V. Stevenson, chairman of the hospital board.

The hospital board's action was taken in accordance with a new bill introduced in the state Senate Monday by Sen. Jack Hightower of Vernon, authorizing the issuance of special revenue bonds by the hospital district.

The district already has the power to issue tax bonds with an election. This new bill, if passed, authorizes the district to issue revenue bonds without an election.

The new revenue bill was introduced, Stevens said, "because we didn't feel like the taxpayers would approve the bond issue and the revenue route seemed the most sensible."

Members of the hospital board besides Stevens are Calvin Franks of Flomot, J. N. Fletcher of Roaring Springs and Farris Fish and J. M. Hill, both of Matador.

Motley County, which includes the towns of Matador, Roaring Springs, Whiteflat and Flomot, has a population of about 3,000 people. There are only two doctors in the county — Dr. A. C. Traweck Jr. and Dr. J. S. Stanley — and both operate their practices at Matador.

"At one time, both Dr. Stanley and myself operated our own hospitals, but now, because of our ages and health we have returned to private practice and are not accepting hospital patients," Dr. Traweck said.

"Dr. Stanley had a heart attack last summer," Dr. Traweck added, "and I returned to private practice mainly on account of my health. I'm getting up in years. I'm 69 years old and I'd retire tomorrow if I could sell everything."

Doug Meador, former mayor of Matador, said that residents now have to go to Richards Memorial Hospital at Paducah, or in some cases to Lubbock, Crosbyton, Quanah or Plainview for treatment.

The problem of the hospital board is to find a solution to Matador's problem which is feasible to this area, Meador added, "but coming up with something that will please everyone will be as hard as the devil."

Silver Lining
Wife (at desk)—"I've been asked for a reference for our last maid. I've said she's lazy, unpunctual and impertinent. Now, can I add anything in her favor?"
Husband—"You might say that she's got a good appetite and sleeps well."

FOOTBALL

BY PETE FRITCHIE
Washington, D.C.—The day of the fat bonus to the high school or college football or baseball star may be nearing its end. That's one of the results of recent moves in pro football and baseball.

Baseball has already reduced such spending by coming to a draft arrangement and football is doing the same thing. Even though rival football leagues might not operate by the rules from time to time, the gifted athlete in high school and college now must usually settle for a salary after being drafted, if he is to play in the better-known leagues.

ABOUT YOUR HOME

Most of us spend a great deal of our time in the kitchen. When we build a new home or remodel an old one, the kitchen usually has more money spent on it than any room in the house.

Your way of living determines what your kitchen should be like. For this reason planning or rearranging it is a very personal matter. Not every old or middle age kitchen needs extensive remodeling. In many cases, one or two small changes will work wonders in increased convenience and general livability.

One thing we all agree on is lots of light in the kitchen. Daylight and sunlight give a cheerful feeling to the room. Give artificial light careful attention. General lighting throughout the room and concentrated light over work areas such as the stove and sink.

The materials used in the kitchen must be easy to care for. Natural wood cabinets have become very popular for this reason. They are finished with a sealer and then are given a hard clear surface that only needs a damp cloth rubbed over it to clean.

The kitchen is being combined with the family room to make things more pleasing for mother. She can cook and still join in the family conversations.

The story, as Bill recounts it:

An old lawyer, running for the state Legislature, in one of the citadels of prohibition, was put on the spot by the local newspaper editor who demanded to know how he stood on the question of whisky.

"Sir," the old lawyer replied, "you ask how I stand on the question of whisky. I had not intended to discuss this controversial subject at this particular time, but I want you to know that I am willing to discuss any subject at any time, regardless of how fraught with controversy it may be.

"You ask how I stand on whisky?" the lawyer continued.

"Well, Sir, here is my stand. "If, when you say whisky, you mean the devil's brew, the poison scourge, the bloody monster that defiles innocence, dethrones reason, creates misery and despair, yes, literally takes the bread out of the mouths of babes, if you mean that vile drink which topples the man and woman from the pinnacles of gracious righteous living into the bottomless pit of shame and despair, helplessness and hopelessness - then, Sir, I am against it with every fiber in my body

"But if, when you say whisky you mean the oil of conversation, you mean that philosophic drink which is consumed when good fellows get together, which puts a song in their hearts, laughter on their lips and a smile of contentment in their eyes... if you mean that stimulating drink which puts the spring in an old man's step on a frosty morning, if you mean that drink which permits a man to magnify his joys and happiness and to forget, if only for a moment, life's tragedies and sorrows, if you mean that drink which pours into our treasury untold millions with which to provide tender care for our little crippled children, our aged and infirm, and to build schools, hospitals and roads - then, Sir, I am for it with all my heart.

"There, Sir is my stand. From it I will not retreat; I will not compromise."

lowers were probably all past fifty years of age and evidently made a good impression on the man they were visiting and telling about Floydada.

I mention their age to point up the fact that we need young men... older men, all ages selling Floydada.

These men received a letter from the man they visited last week which stated in part, "We were very much impressed by the readily apparent pride exhibited by all members of the group in the improvements and progress being made by Floydada. It is well known that the health of a city parallels exactly the pride for it of its citizens."

This illustration tells us we need enthusiastic people... we need optimistic people... we need more loyal people... who will help sell the Floydada community to the potential newcomer.

I ENJOYED visiting with Lockney's O. C. Bailey as we lunched together last week during the Soil Fertility Day meet.

This fellow Bailey is up in years, but he's young in enthusiasm... he's FOR LOCKNEY... and he's FOR FLOYD COUNTY.

He is also FOR the Mackenzie water dam project. There's no doubt in his mind that the very future of Lockney, Tulla, Silverton and Floydada depends upon the water supply from the Mackenzie.

"Lockney is going to vote for the Mackenzie Dam... what about Floydada?" he asked me. I replied that I had no doubt that Floydada would vote for the project.

The above visit brings to mind the Soil Fertility Day meet. I have attended this event each year for four years. It is always a program of top notch men who know their particular agricultural subject. There is always plenty of "money making information" presented for the Floyd County farmer's consideration... and there is always a poor attendance.

The county agent and staff are to be commended for setting up a good program each year... but it's like the man said, "you can lead a horse to water, but you can't make him drink." So... you can have a good program, but you can't make the farmer attend... and a good free dinner doesn't seem to help either.

It seems that it would be time for the county agent to take a look at Soil Fertility Day... it may be that it should be ditched... along with the Soil Conservation Tour.

WELDON HAMMONDS and I have three neighbors seeking election to the school board... J. S. Hale Jr., Louis Pyle and Howard Gregory. I was just thinking that Weldon and my vote could easily be swayed with some neighborly homemade ice cream.

WHEN I TOLD Gladys Jones I was too old to play volleyball she said, "just look how many grandfathers and grandmothers we have signed up to play!"... so I said I would try it again this year.

A call from one of the coaches said to remind everyone that Saturday noon is the deadline to sign up to play in the community volleyball tournament.

A COUPLE OF YEARS AGO Teeveeman Chet Huntley, speaking at the Abilene Chamber of Commerce banquet, told a tale about a politician's reply to an inquiry about his stand on booze.

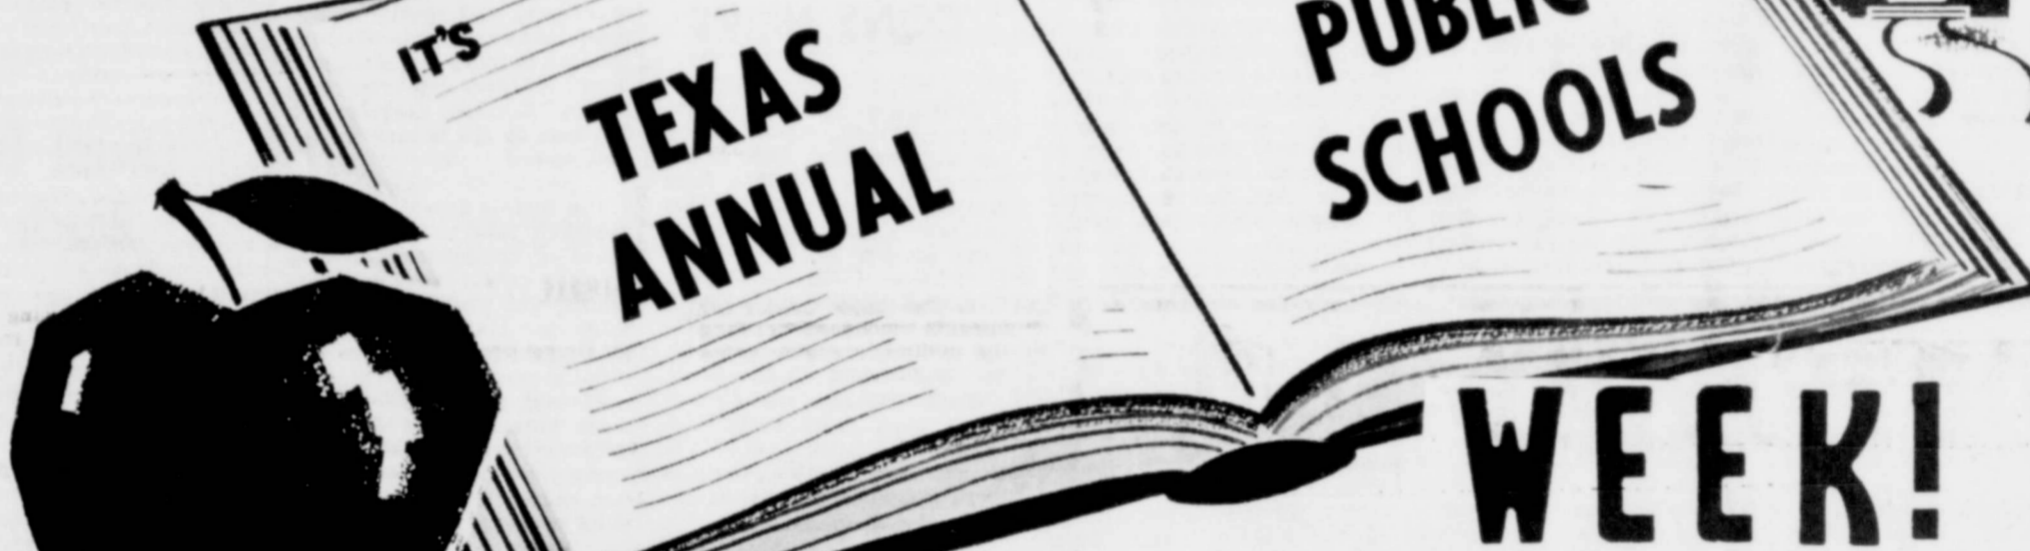

Now, as a public service, Abilene Oilman-Geologist W. N. (Bill) Tindell, offers the yarn for use by any Texas lawmaker who is having trouble deciding his position on Governor Connally's liquor-by-the-drink bill.

Bill has prepared copies of the tale which he has sent, along with a formal note of transmittal, to Rep. Grant Jones and Rep. Frank Calhoun.

The two lawmakers from Abilene don't need the story for themselves - both have said they will vote against the proposal. But the story, Bill said, "might be of assistance to you in your deliberations."

Easter Seal Letters Go Out

Easter Seal Appeal letters are being delivered this week in Floyd County, according to Jeff Glazner, who is the Easter Seal Representative for the Crippled Children and Adults of Texas.

As Representative, Glazner serves as contact representative for disabled persons needing Easter Seal rehabilitation services and also serves as treasurer of the Easter Seal Appeal in Floyd County.

The Easter Seal Society offers physical and occupational therapy, speech and hearing programs, and special equipment loans to enable disabled persons to make the best use of their abilities to overcome handicaps. These services are financed by the annual Easter Seal Appeal.

The Society also provides for research into the causes and cures of crippling conditions, finances public education programs, and provides scholarships for training of professional personnel to staff rehabilitation centers.

Glazner pointed out that all these programs are important if Texas is going to continue to provide the best in rehabilitation services for its own disabled citizens.

During 1966, the Texas Easter Seal Society provided treatment and services to 11,045 children and 4,986 adults who were in need of rehabilitation services. These services are available to anyone disabled person who can benefit from help provided by the Easter Seal Society, Glazner added.

The Easter Seal campaign will run through Easter Sunday, March 26.

Glazner urged increased support for the Easter Seal Society and its program of services to crippled children and adults.

Heart Drive Expected To Reach Goal In County

The Heart Drive in Floydada was a success and Floyd County has hopes of reaching their goal of $2,100 as soon as Lockney completes their drive this weekend following their teenage dance.

PERSONALS

Dear Marvin: The kids and I were down at the Ben Franklin store to meet you in good time. . . I bought them some jelly beans and everything was fine until Davy saw that giant Easter rabbit and began crying because he couldn't have it. Then Debby joined in - then the twins. Then Susie said Jimmy had eaten all the black jelly beans and he pushed her and they started crying. Have you ever stood in a store with six crying children with streaks of red, green, licorice and chocolate all over their hands and faces! All I could do was bring them back home. . . but I'll wait for you next Saturday - without the kids. . . I want to get one of those plastic wastebaskets they have on sale - only 90¢. . . Please meet me. Love, Rosemary FARMING ON THE CONTOUR can help to control soil and water losses. Each row will catch and hold rainfall and allow it to enter the soil instead of running to a nearby lake, taking tons of topsoil with it. Contour farming can reduce these losses to a minimum, especially if it is used in conjunction with a level parallel terrace system. Grain to India May Benefit U.S.

—JOHN L. MOORE

Of Our Washington Bureau
 WASHINGTON — Rep. Bob Poage of Waco, chairman of the House agriculture committee, sees a double-barreled benefit for Texas in President Johnson's emergency allocation to India of two million tons of grain.
 Besides alleviating starvation in India, the program will do two things, Poage said:
 • Stiffen domestic grain prices by taking grain sorghum, wheat and other grains out of bulging U.S. warehouses, and;
 • Help the cotton market in Texas and other Southern states by giving time for India to divert its land in cotton production to food crops.
 As it is, Poage said, American food is helping India to grow cotton, when India should be growing more food to meet its own critical needs.
 Poage has seen first-hand the conditions in India and quite recently. Less than two months ago he and other members of Congress made a special trip to India at the President's request to assess the situation. Their recommendations were the basis of Johnson's message to Congress, proposing the emergency allocation. In his message, the President said he was "particularly grateful" to Poage and the others who made the trip.
 The Waco congressman said he came back from that tour convinced that the United States has for years been "misdi-recting our efforts in India."

 "Too many people think the Indian farmer doesn't want to use modern techniques," he said. "The truth is, the poor devil has more knowledge than we credit him with."
 "We've done a good job of teaching. The Indian farmer knows that fertilizer will increase his yield. He knows that insecticides will reduce his losses from insect damage. He knows that irrigation is necessary."
 "The problem is that he can't take advantage of his knowledge. Poverty forces him to keep using the techniques his grandfather used. If he gets nothing for his products he can't afford to buy a bag of fertilizer to increase his output."

The two million ton emergency allocation of grain, worth about $150 million, will merely alleviate conditions until the United States can formulate a permanent policy on the controversial question of food for India, Poage said.
 "As I understand the President, he is of the opinion that we ought to institute self-help farming practices among the Indians," Poage said.
 He also said that our aid should not go on ad infinitum, but only so long as other nations are willing to do their share.
 President Johnson put it this way: "No single nation or people can fulfill this common obligation. No nation should be expected to do so. Every country must participate to insure the future of all... The United States is prepared to do its share."

He began the role as Sebastian's brother on Jan. 23rd as Cabot is being treated in a hospital for bleeding ulcers. Mr. Williams should be excellent in the part as he is a very fine actor and the role of butler suits him perfectly.

1967 PERFORMANCE: Again, as in 1966, performance will be by farmer certification. The operator of the farm is responsible for reporting and maintaining the permitted acres and diverted acreage. Special attention should be given to diverted acreage because of land which the producer could not expect to use for the production of the crops being diverted because of its physical condition or for other reasons is NOT ELIGIBLE.

Since the 1967 diversion is applicable only to cotton and grain sorghum, playalakes will not qualify as diverted acreage unless they are planted in a rotation with cotton and feed grain. It is the farmer's responsibility to designate acceptable diverted acreage. Don't get in a bind for an acreage to divert because when the spot-check of 25% of the farms is made, it will be too late to destroy a crop to comply.

PREMEASURE: March 15th has been set as the final date for taking applications for measuring and staking (premeasuring) of spring seeded crops.

COTTON, WHEAT, AND FEED GRAIN SIGNUP: Signup will end March 17, 1967.

PAYMENTS: Advance payments are being made on the cotton and feed grain programs. Payments will be a little slower this year. Coming in or phoning to see what progress is being made on the payments on a particular farm could further delay your check because if the forms are removed from their place in line, they will begin the process anew.

ACP Cost Shares: If you plan to establish a vegetative cover for summer protection from erosion by planting a forage sorghum, sudan, millet, cowpeas (New Area or Chinese Red), or guar funds are available. Federal cost shares are as follows: (a) Seedbed preparation - $1.25 per ac. (b) Seeding operation - 75¢ per ac. (c) 50% of the cost of the seed not to exceed $1.50 per ac. This practice may be carried out on designated diverted acres provided all requirements are met. If you are interested in carrying out the practice, check with the ASCS office as to the seeding dates and other requirements.

Visit Your Favorite School Next Week

All Texans will have an opportunity to visit the Public Schools during the week of March 6 through March 10, 1967. This is an annual celebration called Texas Public Schools Week and affords interested parents a chance to see, during classroom time, the many changes which have taken place since they were in the public schools.

From the physical aspect alone, many schools have changed from a multi-storied warehouse to a one-story complex and in one Texas town we have the first air-conditioned circular school in the country. On the other hand, there is a return to the "one-room" schoolhouse but with a vast difference. The one room has become a honeycomb cluster of hexagonal spaces without walls between classrooms—where pupils and teachers can and do rearrange themselves depending on the lesson at hand. These unusual concepts of school architecture are the outgrowth of the new educational trend which allows students to learn at their own individual rates. John W. Gardner in his book "Self-Renewal" wrote,

"All too often we are giving our young people cut flowers when we should be teaching them to grow their own plants. We are stuffing their heads with the products of earlier innovation rather than teaching them to innovate. We think of the mind as a storehouse to be filled when we should be thinking of it as an instrument to be used."

This then, is the trend in modern education—to use not only the newest but the best ideas in all fields which will contribute to a better educational system.

It is logical to assume that today's educational teaching methods have kept pace with the radical changes in school architecture. Programmed texts versus Teachers is now a field that many parents have no conception of the meaning let alone the pro and cons of these much debated and different methods of teaching.

Reading, Science and Mathematics have taken the place of the three "R's" in importance. All have utilized the new teaching concepts which have baffled many parents and aroused varying degrees of curiosity and in many cases hostility.

Texas Public Schools Week is a chance for Texans to go back to the schoolroom while actual classes are in session and see at first hand, exactly what the new developments are, in education and the purpose they are serving. Texas Annual Public Schools Week is the week of March 6 through March 10. It is not only an opportunity but a challenge for every parent to visit their child's public school during this period.

July 25 Deadline For GI Home Loan

During the last 20 years nearly six million World War II veterans have purchased homes under the World War II GI Bill home loan guaranty program. The amount of the loans guaranteed or insured has totaled about $45-billion. Now, this nationwide program is coming to an end July 25, 1967. . . . is the word from the Veterans Administration. There are still more than two million World War II Veterans who have unused, unexpired eligibility for a home, farm, or business loan guaranteed by the Government. . . . and who must use that eligibility or lose it, by July 25, 1967, VA reports.

It's not enough that a veteran application be received in VA by that date. The Veteran's lender must have applied by then to have the mortgage guaranteed by the Government.

The VA urges all World War II Veterans who plan to obtain a GI home, farm or business loan not to wait until the last minute. The VA says the July 25 deadline does not apply to Korean Conflict veterans or those eligible under the new GI Bill for Vietnam Era veterans.

Renewal of raids in Hanoi's outskirts denied.

MELVIN YOUNG in The Hereford Brand: Will the trend away from the land to cities be reversed during the next decade?

As drastic as the occasion would be, it is nevertheless predicted by quite a few national observers who feel that by 1970 food shortages will have become so critical that we will view a complete reversal in attitude regarding farms, farming and farm products.

By 1970, they tell us that "Rural Boom" should be well underway, hand-in-hand with higher farm market prices and shortages which will bring even higher prices as the years roll past. The prediction is based upon population estimates of the nation, which some believe will increase from today's 197 million to 209 million in 1970, and on up past 225 million by 1975.

Fewer farmers, many believe, but the vast difference will appear in a tremendous labor market somewhat similar to that seen in highly industrialized areas which have drawn heavily from America's rural population during the past 25 years. More mechanization is seen by many economists, but tractors are not practical without drivers and someone must push the buttons on new-fangled push button equipment. Keeping the equipment in good condition and repaired is always a big problem, and one which requires community shops as well as farm labor.

In many ways, the projector "farmer" of the 1970's sounds very much like the 1967 version to be found in Deaf Smith and other irrigated sections on the Plains. As in this area, farmers everywhere will be called upon to become efficient business men, progressive operators and intelligent citizens. Langer tracts, systematic experimental tests and calculated returns will definitely transform the average farm into a highly developed and competitive business institution.

This is good news for all rural areas, of course, but it seems to us that a community such as Hereford, sitting in the midst of vast irrigation resources and fertile lands, that benefits will rise far above the average. The fact that Hereford is already regarded as central vegetable producing district also adds value to existing marketing networks and sales systems. We can think of no other single place in America, in fact, which stand to gain as much as Deaf Smith county in a time of high prices and food shortages.

In addition to resources and water, this particular area boasts an even greater asset in the existence of know-how and experienced farmers. What's more, many of our farmers are young to middle-aged operators who have already been through the changes that thousands of other farmers will face during the next decade. Most of them, it seems to us, already meet the requirement projects for the farmer of the future, which means that they will have a running start on competitors in other areas.

What's more, we will be happy indeed to see the farmer once again elevated to a position which he well deserves. America's ability to produce farm commodities has long marked us as an outstanding nation in the world. Lack of this ability has held Russia and numerous other countries down for many years. Consequently, it seems to us that the American farmer should also gain much in political and economic stature as the demand for his products continues to expand and grow.

Maybe China Red Guards Flock To Town To Keep From Plowing

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm reviews the China situation this week, more or less.

Dear editor:

According to a copy of a newspaper which I found on my front porch — don't know how it got there but it's like a government check that turns up unexpectedly in your mail box, don't ask questions, cash it — a China watcher has explained that the reason millions of young Chinese youths known as the Red Guards are flocking to the cities of China to riot is that they have been stirred to revolutionary fervor by master propagandists. This may be true, but judging by how hard it is to keep a young man on a farm in the United States, despite all the modern tractors, three-point hook-ups for equipment, mechanical harvesting machinery, etc., there may be another explanation.

It shouldn't take much of a propagandist to get a young man in China to unhook himself from the plow he's been pulling and head for the bright lights. After you've harvested rice all week with a hand scythe and threshed it with a stick and hauled it on your back to the government warehouse, any excuse to get to town is welcome. Of course what they do when they get there is another matter, and is something the China watchers are having trouble figuring out.

Speaking of China watchers,

More than 2,800 Texas teachers with five or fewer years of experience were interviewed. The results of the survey showed that a wide range of factors helped guide college students toward teaching careers.

The opportunity to work with youth was cited by 88 per cent of the teachers.

I may take up the job myself, which I figure I can do from this Johnson grass farm as well as from any place. Any time one China watcher assures you Mao is losing, and another assures you he's winning, I figure one man's report is about as sound as another's, and I'd like to get on that payroll. Watching China from the outside is about like having a

Why Do Teachers Survey Reveals

EDUCATION NEWS SERVICE

AUSTIN — Why do young Texas men and women choose classroom teaching as a career?

Although population estimates show that not enough young people are choosing teaching careers in order that youngsters 10 years from now can be assured of a full-time teacher, bright young men and women are still choosing the schools as the scene of their life work.

Texas Future Teachers of America chapters throughout the state recently conducted an extensive survey of young teachers.

The survey sought to determine what influence student professional organizations have had upon teachers new to the classroom. But the survey also sought to discover basic factors which influenced the career choice of the young teacher.

More than 2,800 Texas teachers with five or fewer years of experience were interviewed. The results of the survey showed that a wide range of factors helped guide college students toward teaching careers.

The opportunity to work with youth was cited by 88 per cent of the teachers.

Governor's Arguments Refuted

by G. RAY WORLEY

cause people will buy drinks instead of bottles. However, statistics do not support the allegation that liquor by the drink cuts down on alcoholic consumption or its consequences.

In Iowa, funds spent for alcohol increased in the first year after sale of liquor by the drink was legalized in 1963 from $44,598,253 to $75,173,020 in 1964. Fatalities by traffic accidents in Iowa increased from 617 in 1962 to 695 in 1963 to 832 in 1964. Coroner reports indicate that alcohol is involved in about 50 per cent of traffic accidents.

Another contention is that changing morality welcomes liquor by the drink. The problem is whether it is a declining or an emerging morality. A declining morality leads men to indulge basic passions. A truly emerging morality, however, raises men above slavery to lusts and passions of the flesh.

Alcoholics are the most pitiable of creatures and the most difficult to help. Six million alcoholics stagger the imagination of thinking people. Weak individuals need help before they wreck their lives and their families and create greater burdens for society.

The taxpayer bears the largest load for the privilege of a few to indulge in alcohol. The bite is twice inflicted—once to pay for apprehending, convicting, and incarcerating a person or to commit a victim to hospital or custodial care and again because the taxpayer must bear the tax burden which the alcoholic cannot bear in society.

An Objection

"You can't legislate morals," it is often alleged. This is the boldest fraud perpetrated today.

What is law for if it doesn't legislate (regulate) morals? Laws deal with regulating human behavior in society. The welfare of the many is subsumed in restricting the privileges of a few.

Men may object to taxation, but they comply rather than face the consequences. You may speed on the highway, but there is a penalty if you are apprehended. Men have the right to rob and steal, but they are punished by their peers for doing so.

Laws legislate moral action in society. Regulation of alcoholic consumption is an application of the law to personal behavior. By law, individuals are prevented from imposing tyranny on others.

Three men are responsible for the liquor-by-the-drink bill: Ben Barnes of DeLeon, speaker of the House; Lt. Gov. Preston Smith of Lubbock, president of the Senate; and Gov. John Connally.

Liquor by the drink will not be enacted into law without the concurrence of these three.

Smith and Barnes assign bills to carefully selected committees. Liquor by the drink will be assigned to a committee over which they have absolute control. Only with their assent will the bill be reported out for debate and passage.

Connally can veto a bill. His support of liquor by the drink indicates that he would not, unless the proposed bill were an affront to his judgment.

Connally, however, has made his position clear. He buried the idea in a tax bill that could be considered as a package. He thought to shield legislators who could claim it an alternative to raising money and gave them the out of saying it would help finance aid to the needy.

Ambition

The men responsible for the bill also have political ambition. Connally may or may not run again, but he would like to preserve a good record and perpetuate the power and program he has built. Smith and Barnes are mentioned prominently as possible candidates for governor in 1968.

Ambition also makes these men sensitive to criticism and public opinion. They are in a bind between conflicting forces. The forces supporting liquor by the drink have doubtless contributed more to their financial campaigns than have those who oppose this bill.

Men need money to be elected. Most opponents of the proposal are not noted as financial reservoirs for the costly business of running for office.

Politicians can only be elected by popular vote. Thus all citizens have equal weight at the polls. Since these men are sensitive to the electorate, a letter to each man stating opposition to liquor by the drink could not be ignored. If they were faced with sufficient responsible, articulate, well financed opposition by voters, the proposal would die a speedy death.

You can help to accomplish this by writing today to these three officials and expressing your opposition to the bill.

Are you a creative cook? One of those women who just can't resist substituting something for at least one ingredient in every recipe?

If you are, perhaps you could use a few pointers, especially in preparing doughs and batters.

Remember that each ingredient in a recipe serves a particular purpose. Your substitutions must be made accordingly. If you substitute almond extract for vanilla, you will change only the flavor of the product. But if you change the leavening agent in a recipe, the results may be drastic unless you know how to substitute and keep the same rising ability.

Most pastries are leavened by air, water vapor, carbon dioxide, or a combination of these. Beating egg whites and sifting flour are ways to put air in a product. Water vapor is used in making cream puffs, and carbon dioxide is used in most cakes and breads. Carbon dioxide is formed by using baking soda with an acid. The acid may be cream of tartar, sour milk, fruit juice or molasses. Carbon dioxide is also formed when yeast ferments sugar. The sugar may be placed in the dough or formed by the breakdown of starch in the flour.

Tested recipes include the correct proportions of flour, liquid, and leavening agent to produce a good product if you

Nobody listens to radio at 2:30 in the afternoon!

Of course not! KFLD Radio, a typical local radio outlet in Floydada has only been able to come up with 11 full sponsors in the area over a 13 week period, on Bilingual Bingo. According to General Manager Pete Charlton, demand for Bilingual Bingo cards is only running 500 to 1000 more cards per week than originally estimated. The bemused official told this reporter that he feels that the most cards that will be circulated to desperate listeners will not be over 4500 in a single week. The record for a single store is a small supermarket in Floydada . . . currently on its second 500 cards after only 2 days in the current week. According to Charlton, Bilingual Bingo is run daily from 2:30 - 3:00 p.m. in both English and Spanish. But the valiant G.M. flatly refuses to be dismayed. "After all, everyone knows that no one listens to radio in the afternoon, especially to small stations outside the Lubbock Metro market."

Devotional of the Month

Let Us Be "Honest To Goodness!"

Keith Miller, in his book "The Taste of New Wine," is a layman whose inspiration challenges those who read his writings. The book is in the category of witness. His candor in reflecting most honestly his own shortcomings allows him to probe ours.

That we need a new kind of honesty is made quite clear in a chapter of that title. Prefacing that chapter with the verse "The heart is deceitful above all things, and desperately corrupt; who can understand it?" If we are to make any serious use of Lent, it seems to me that an honest look at ourselves as to our honesty is very appropriate.

Mr. Miller, associated with an oil company in Oklahoma, tells that during his first four years as an active adult churchman he had taught two Sunday School classes, served on numerous committees, and on the boards of two churches. They were fine churches, filled with good, substantial people. But one of the constant sources of frustration was that in Sunday School classes, teachers meetings, committee meetings, and even vestry meetings in the church there was an amazing lack of basic honesty. It wasn't so much that people lied, he writes. It was just an unspoken agreement not to press the truth - when it seemed that the truth might hurt the leaders or someone's feelings - or really rock the boat. It is evident that being honest in such cases would be cruel or tactless. Consequently folk live in a world of subtle duplicity of which we Christians were the contributing cause.

We may say that this does not apply to our church; but laymen and leaders in various denominations say otherwise.

Most of us think that we have always tried to be honest, and to have integrity. But the tremendous drive for social acceptance and toward conformity causes many of us to even train our children to be a generation of young liars, he says. The current and growing moral decay in this country is not so much to be attributed to the underprivileged parent in the slums as to us, the middle and upper-class American churchman... laymen and ministers. The result of the training many children receive is that our churches are filled with people who outwardly look contented and at peace but inwardly are crying out for someone to love them... just as they are... confused, frustrated, often frightened, guilty, and often unable to communicate even within their own families.

May we not recognize that our fellowship is incurably crippled until and unless we recognize and face squarely the nature and extent of our deceitfulness with God, with each other, and with ourselves. Then that we may truthfully admit, "Wretched man that I am! Who will deliver me from this body of death?" (Romans 7:24 RSV). It is to be found truly in Christ, - in God, of course.

Go to Church, Sunday - and every Sunday! Pray honestly! Then through Christ live honestly!

Time To Withdraw Postal Savings Accounts

Postmaster Edward Wester today urged depositors with postal savings certificates to withdraw their accounts from Post Offices as soon as possible.

The Postal Savings System was abolished March 27, 1966, with the signing of Public Law 89-377 by President Lyndon B. Johnson. The Postmaster pointed out that as of April 28, 1966, no deposits have been accepted and no new accounts have been opened. He said that for convenience all certificates held by a depositor may be cashed at the same time and interest will be paid for each full month they have been outstanding beyond three months from the interest date.

Unpaid deposits remaining in the Post Office beyond June 31, 1967 would be transferred to the Treasury Department in
