NUMBER TWELVE

Thunder Showers Bring Needed Moisture Here

Wheat Prospects Better

The Floyd County wheat crop prospects looked better this week after rain storms on Sunday and Tuesday. At present time yesterday more was forecast.

The storm front that came through Floyd County Sunday evening left an official .38 of an inch of moisture in Floydada and reports of one half to three-quarters of an inch in other areas of the county.

The rainfall was heavier as it went toward the caprock. Crosbyton recorded almost an inch of rain.

Dark storm clouds accompanied the moisture and there were a few scattered reports of light hail.

A trailer house was blown over on the Silverton highway at the edge of Floydada and the storm did considerable damage in Ralls.

There was no moisture in January. . . there was .30 in February, so this brings the year's total to .68.

TUESDAY RAINFALL

Although Floydada only got a sprinkle Tuesday afternoon, the country club and McCoy areas received up to half an inch. Lockney got around a half inch also.

The storm moved on off to the Caprock area and up to a quarter of an inch was reported in the area south of Dougherty.

CROP FORECAST

According to the old Indian legend if the wind is out of the west or southwest on March 22 it will be a poor crop year due to drought. If the wind is out of the east or northeast it will be a bumper crop year.

According to local reports the wind was out of the southwest early yesterday morning. Last year's prediction was for a poor dry crop year on the basis of the March 22 wind. It was a poor crop year, but on account of too much rain in August.

A farm laborer found the baby's body about 1 p.m. last Wednesday. Floydada Doctor A. E. Guthrie, Justice of the Peace S. J. Handley, deputy Foster Amburn and Stapleton began preliminary investigation. Sheriff Hollums was out of town at the time.

Floydada Police Chief Darrell Holmes, Jr. said that Sheriff Hollums is to be commended for the swift and effective manner in which he solved the case.

Floyd Folk Contribute To Tractor For Cal Farley's Boys Ranch

Cal Farley's Boys Ranch of Amarillo has purchased some more land west of the ranch and were in need of a four row tractor and equipment to farm the new land.

Several Floyd County people have taken the responsibility to see that the need is met.

Martin & Company sold the ranch a new four row International tractor at dealer net cost and they with other interested citizens have started a fund to help pay for this worthy cause.

Martin & Company gave $500. Conner Oden gave $500 and Tom and Icie Sneed gave $100, Ruckers OK Tire winterized the tires for the new tractor, and Hester Implement Company of Brownfield, Texas gave $250. Equipment for the tractor came from Hester at dealer's net cost also.

DOWN 133 STUDENTS

County School Census Shows Student Drop

School census figures taken last month of Floyd County schools showed a decrease of 133 students compared to the same time a year ago, according to county school superintendent Clarence Guffee.

Guffee reported that there are 3335 students enrolled in the county's schools for 1966-67 and according to the census 3202 will be enrolled for the 1967-68 term.

Two school districts are up: South Plains and Dougherty. . . the rest are down.

The census reveals these totals for the county's six schools.

South Plains up to 145 from 124.

Lakeview down to 54 from 80.

Dougherty up to 97 from 74. Providence down to 75 from 83.

Floydada down to 1730 from 1790.

Lockney down to 1101 from 1184.

The general opinion is that the decrease is due to the decrease in farm labor needed in the area due to the government's program of diverted acreage.

Of course, some new students will move into the county before the school year starts in September and the census could have missed some beginning pupils.

Most of the students were lost in the first eight grades.

Young Woman Charged With Murder In Baby's Death

A 19-year-old Petersburg woman, Mary Morales, was charged Friday night with the murder of a newborn boy whose body was found Wednesday beside a country road west of Floydada.

The suspect made a statement to District Attorney John Stapleton that she had committed the slaying and no other persons were involved.

The suspect is in Medical Center hospital in Plainview suffering from loss of blood.

The infant was buried in Floydada Friday.

Miss Morales was charged with murder with malice aforethought before J. C. Lewis, Justice of the Peace in Plainview about 8:30 p.m. Friday. Bond had not been set Saturday.

Law officials said the case would be handled in Hale County because evidence indicated the homicide had occurred in Hale County.

Sheriff Hollums expressed his appreciation to the many people who helped in the investigation and he said he acted on a tip that led to the arrest.

A farm laborer found the baby's body about 1 p.m. last Wednesday. Floydada Doctor A. E. Guthrie, Justice of the Peace S. J. Handley, deputy Foster Amburn and Stapleton began preliminary investigation. Sheriff Hollums was out of town at the time.

Floydada Police Chief Darrell Holmes, Jr. said that Sheriff Hollums is to be commended for the swift and effective manner in which he solved the case.

Red Cross Meeting This Afternoon

Persons interested are reminded of the county-wide Red Cross meeting to be held in Lighthouse Electric this afternoon at 2:30. All residents of the county are urged to attend this meeting for the purpose of re-organizing the Floyd County Chapter.

Three representatives from field offices of the ARC will be on hand to answer questions and to assist in the reorganization.

off and get a drink. After traveling 550 miles in 45 days, the westward movement to Floydada, Texas was complete.

"In Floydada there were four families including a judge (Judge Duncan, Mrs. Woltmon recalls.) This judge was the person who helped the Woltmon family get started by loaning them $5 so they could file on a quarter section of land. The land company would not accept any medium of exchange except cash.

"This was a very big favor because there was very little money in circulation and it was difficult to acquire. Mrs. Woltmon says it took them two years of scraping to repay the $5 debt.

"After filing on this quarter section, Mr. Woltmon and the boys built a 'half-dugout,' half below and half above the ground, measuring 18 by 24 feet with four windows and a fireplace. They lived in this crude home for six summers of sandstorms and seven winters of blizzards and snow storms.

"There was a one-room school house with one teacher to teach all grades. The teacher received the highest wage of any skilled worker, $20 per month. The Woltmon children walked two and one-half miles to school. The only time it closed was during harvest time and summer vacation.

"Mrs. Woltmon said, 'I wouldn't take any amount for the experience I gained, but I wouldn't do it again for my life'."

In Floyd County the remainder of the Woltmon children were born. One baby died at age two weeks. The others include Chester Woltmon of Bovina, Mrs. Ray Davies of Bovina, the late Muri Woltmon of Bovina who was the victim of an automobile accident 12 years ago. Mrs. Bill Kyle of Eldorado Springs, Mo., and Jack Woltmon of Bovina. The couple had eight children.

They lived in Floyd County until 1916 when they moved to Bovina and bought a section of land at $10 per acre between Bovina and Texico, N.M. Mrs. Woltmon still owns that section, which is now rich irrigated farm land.

The children went to school both here and at Texico. At age 77, Mr. Woltmon died in 1938.

About 12 years after the couple bought their farm, they built a house in town because one of the sons felt his mother worked too hard on the farm. She says she plowed, hoed, headed, cut and hauled feed, picked cotton, raised chickens, hogs, cows and raised a garden, to name a few chores. However, a daughter says it would be easier to list the things she didn't do. Even after moving to town, Mrs. Woltmon said she couldn't quit and raised a garden for many years.

W. O. Chadwick farms her land now raising cotton, wheat and grain sorghum. Mrs. Woltmon says she never saw maize until moving to West Texas.

A member of the Baptist Church, she has always been an active worker. Until about 10 years ago she did about everything she wished to and until three years ago walked anywhere she wished.

Two years ago, after being stricken with arthritis at age 98, she made her first visit to a hospital. Until that time she continued one of her many chores - sewing, which she spent a lifetime doing for her children and neighbors. She can't see well now, having lost the sight of one eye. The strange fact, she laughingly says, is that she can't see television very well, but she can read without her glasses.

Mrs. Woltmon attributes her long life to "hard work - because it's all I ever did." She is cheerful and sharpwitted at age 100. Living with her in the home she and Mr. Woltmon built is her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Emma Woltmon.

In addition to her five living children, Mrs. Woltmon can claim other descendants, 19 grandchildren, 50 great-grandchildren, and eight great-great-grandchildren as well."

JUST A REMINDER that you'll miss a real blessing if you don't hear Brother Alsie Carleton and the singer from Ireland, Wesley Boyd at the First Methodist Church tonight.

District Superintendent To Visit Aldersgate Spanish Methodist Church

The Rev. N. R. Saenz, district superintendent for the Central District of the Methodist Church will preside over the fourth quarterly conference at Aldersgate Spanish Methodist Church here March 30.

According to the pastor, the Rev. Juan Salinas, "Rev. Saenz has done the Lord's work in his three years as superintendent. He has promoted evangelism, and unity throughout the district. He has pushed education for his ministers, he has better relation between races, he has dedicated his time to the churches under his supervision. We thank God for such a Christian leader who is willing at all times to help, visit, counsel, or preach any time he is needed."

There will be five reports rendered to the conference: Pastor Salinas, treasurer - Pete Hickerson, co-signer - Mary Lou Rodriguez, Woman Society of Christian Service - Mrs. Romero Vice-president, MYF President Rachel Chavez for Lockney, and by Board Chairman Mrs. Anita Chavez of Lockney.

W. H. Smith Sr., underwent surgery this week in Plainview Hospital and Clinic. He is reported to be convalescing fairly well.

NEWSPAPER PEOPLE write editorials. . . basically to get people to think. We hope that people will sometimes agree with our editorial philosophy or aims. . . yet we all know that we're lucky if we're right just half the time. . . and a .500 batting average isn't bad.

Possibly the most unpopular editorial I've written since I've been in Floydada was FOR complete integration of our school system. Even church people were some of my most unhappy subscribers over that particular editorial.

I came out last week against the governor's liquor-by-the-drink bill on the basis that it will increase the consumption of alcoholic beverages. . . and this in turn would increase the cost in lives and costs of protecting sober people from the drunks.

I've had both church and unchurched people to agree and disagree with this editorial opinion.

Some editorials meet with simple complacency. . . like paving Price Street across the north side of Floydada, our school having tennis courts like other schools, ridding the city of junk cars in the streets, bull dozing down old junk houses (unoccupied one of course) an understudy for the county surveyor and many others.

The editor, who is an editor, should always have some ideas for the betterment of his community and trade area. . . but he's always seeking the ideas of the people in the community. This is the reason that the pages of The Hesperian are always open for "Letters to the editor." This is the reader's page to express his or her editorial opinions. We always urge and invite our readers to write us letters. We hope our people will be challenged to think. . . and to have an opinion.

UP AT THE LOCKNEY chamber banquet last week a $25,000 industrial award went to the Barker brothers on their birdhouse industry. Understand they're making bird houses for distribution in 11 states now. A friend gave one of the Lockney bird houses for Christmas. Of course we're always for more industry in Floydada and Floyd County. . . so we congratulate the Barker brothers on their bird house enterprise.

EVERY TOWN SHOULD be interested in having something that will attract the tourist. Up at Amarillo they're thinking about a hitching rack with some horses and cowboys lounging around the municipal airport for the interest of the air tourist. (That's the kind of job I'd like to have. . . leaning against a hitching post cowboylike.)

Over in Littlefield they're considering building the tallest windmill in Texas. . . or the world. There'll be a sign out on the four-lane highway inviting the tourist to stop for a cool drink at the windmill.

THE ANNUAL volleyball tournament which is sponsored by the Floydada high school athletic department is good for two reasons: it makes money for the department and we all enjoy the fellowship of playing and visiting.

And it's probably good for another reason. . . we all find out how in or out of shape we're getting! Coach Delbert Wiley said express the appreciation of the coaches to everyone who participated in the tournament.

SPRING OFFICIALLY came to Floydada Tuesday morning. . . and Good Friday is tomorrow. All you gardeners will surely want to start tomorrow. . . especially on your pea patch!

FLOYDADA'S NEW POLICE chief, Darrell F. Holmes Jr. has set out to train the men on the force as well as any interested officers in the area. His police training school seems to be going well and we're glad it's happening in Floydada.

Don't know what the chief does in his spare time. . . he showed me a manuscript of a book he's just completed writing and brought me another book to read that has been published.

He has a lot of projects going. . . one of which looks interesting. . . the essay contest for our school children, "what would you like our local police to do for school children?"

The board voted to observe National Chamber of Commerce Week, April 2 to 9 and to follow up the next week with a membership drive.

President Clay Henry, who officiated at the meeting, said progress was improving on getting more doctors for Floydada and Ferguson reported that all of the stock show money had been collected except $1800.

Several hundred dollars have to date been donated by anonymous individuals in this community.

Local men involved in the project said, "we know there are others who would like to make some kind of contribution to Boys Ranch, either several dollars or several hundred dollars, so any contribution can be made payable to Cal Farley's Boys Ranch and mailed to either Martin & Company or Oden Chevrolet.

APRIL 1
County School Board Election

Terms of Milton Evans of precinct 1 and Hubert Frizzell of precinct 2 expire on the county school board election April 1.

Both Evans and Frizzell have filed for re-election. No others have filed for the petitions. In the common school districts the term of Don Probasco and Phillip Smitherman expire at South Plains; James Lee Nichols at Lakeview; Carmel Eastham, Bob Vickers and Henry Hinton at Dougherty; and Wilfred Stoerner at Providence.

Police Department Sponsors Contest For Grade School Children

The Floydada police department will sponsor a contest in which children up to and including the sixth grades at all Floydada grade schools will participate.

Letters have been sent out to school principals announcing the contest.

The children are asked to submit a written list of FIVE services they would perform for children if they were police officers. THE WINNER WILL BE NAMED CHIEF OF POLICE for one day on the Saturday following judging of the lists. The winner and two of his friends will ride in police cars that day and will visit various local relatives while driven by a police officer in a squad car. The Hesperian will run a picture of the boy who wins.

FLOYDADA FOLK VISIT SENATOR

AUSTIN-The following Floydada residents were among visitors this week in the office of Senator Jack Hightower of Vernon: Mrs. Neal Bertrand, Neal Bertrand, Beth C. Pratt, and A. C. Pratt.

Floyd County Spelling Bee Set April 10

The annual Floyd County Spelling Bee has been set for 7:30 p.m. April 10 in the District Court room in Floydada, according to Clarence Guffee, county school superintendent. Miss Edwina Schneider will be pronouncer.

Judges are Mrs. J. W. Reue, Floydada; Mrs. Marvin Gilbert, Lockney and C. T. Jordan, Lakeview.

Spellers will include two groups, juniors from the 5th and 6th grades and seniors from the 7th and 8th grade. The senior winner will be eligible to represent Floyd County in the District spelling bee at Lubbock, April 29.

Mr. and Mrs. Teddy Horne of Lubbock were here over the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvan Kinnibrugh, and Mrs. Horne attended Sunday morning services with her sister, Beth Kinnibrugh, at the Baptist Church.

Double Vows Unite Miss Smith, Kenneth Huckabee

Miss Vickie Kay Smith and Kenneth Leon Huckabee were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony read Saturday evening in the First Methodist Church in Floydada. Rev. Herschel L. Thurston, pastor, performed the 7 o'clock wedding.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren H. Smith Jr., of Portales, N. Mex., formerly of Floydada, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Burl Huckabee of Floydada.

The wedding scene was highlighted by brass containers placed on each side of the communion table and held arrangements of white column stock, white gladiolas and blue flocked pon-pon mums. Brass candelabra holding cascading arrangements of foliage and brass palm stands bearing larger palms of commadore foliage completed the setting. The bridal aisle was marked by soft blue satin ribbons and lemon foliage.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a formal length gown of satin peau and lace, designed with elbow length sleeves and a scalloped neckline. The empire bodice and sleeves were re-embroidered lace and the modified A-line skirt was of satin peau. A bias band accented the waistline and a detachable chapel train of lace was secured at the shoulders.

A ring of satin with pearl and lace appliques held her shoulder length veil of English illusion. She carried a prayer book covered in white bridal satin lace and showered with streamers of stephanotis centered with a large white Cattleya orchid. The orchid was later removed and worn as the bride's going-away corsage.

For something old she wore a gold wedding band belonging to her late great grandmother. Something new was her wedding attire, something borrowed was a hand drawn linen handkerchief belonging to her grandmother Smith and something blue was the traditional blue garter. For good luck she wore a six-pence in her slipper belonging to Jancy Ginn, which she acquired on her travels to Europe.

Mrs. Ronnie Tucker of Bixby, Miss., was matron of honor. She wore a floor length dress of Swiss embroidered blue silk organza over taffeta. The modified A-line skirt and empire silhouette was fashioned with a scoop neckline and short sleeves. Her headpiece was a blue bow of organza and she carried a colonial bouquet of white butterfly roses surrounded with blue stock florets, blue maline and blue satin streamers.

Larry Brand of Lubbock was best man. Ushers were Keim Smith of Portales, brother of the bride; Joe Wright of Lubbock, Louis Reid Cardinal and James Goughly of Floydada.

Candlelighters were Miss Connie Reed, Floydada, who was dressed identically as the matron of honor, and Pat Ewing of Abilene.

Donna Templeton, niece of the groom, was flower girl. She wore a white silk organza and lace gown with empire waistline, accented by a band of blue velvet ribbon with bow and streamers in back. She wore a blue velvet bow in her hair.

Miss Vicki Gregory, organist, played wedding selections and accompanied Mrs. David Battey Jr., as she sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Mothers of the bride and groom wore cymbidium orchids trimmed to match their dresses.

Fellowship Hall of the church was the scene for the reception which followed. The table held an arrangement of white stock and blue pon-pon mums in a crystal container and crystal candelabras, complemented by a white linen cut work cloth edged in lace. Crystal and silver appointments completed the setting.

Miss Linda Rucker registered wedding guests. Presiding at the table were Mrs. Delbert Templeton, Lubbock; Mrs. Ozelle Chappel, Lubbock and Mrs. Dale Teague of Oregon, all sisters of the groom. Others in the houseparty were Misses Dee Wilson, Jancy Ginn, Camilla Nash and Juanita Stewart, friends of the bride.

For traveling to Oklahoma City the bride changed to a pink two-piece suit with matching accessories.

The couple will be at home at 612 Asp-Apt. 11 in Norman, Okla., where the bridegroom is a junior at the University of Oklahoma majoring in meteorology.

DOCTORS JORDAN AND CRAIG REPORT ON TRIP

Work, Some Sightseeing, And A Lot Of Friendly People

Wendell Tooley
 Doctors, dentist Charles Craig and Dr. Jordan blasted off in Dr. Jordan's plane early on the morning of a trip to Guatemala and Honduras. The day trip that found the doctors doing a lot of friendly people on the east coast of British Honduras.

On the first day where they had their passports and joined two dentists flying to Guatemala. The people of Honduras was the Christian Dentist Association.

Jordan claims he just went to the airport. Dr. Craig worked many long days of the medical needs of the island. On the Honduras mainland children could go as high as the sixth grade.

Dr. Jordan said the children had a great desire to learn and looked to a better future life... possibly by moving to some other country.

The doctors drank several Cokes, 8 to 12, a day because they were about the only safe "drinking water."

The cleanliness of the people's clothing and personal use of soap was particularly impressive. All transportation on the island was by foot, horse or bicycle. There was only one auto on the island, and no streets.

The doctors are already talking about a similar trip next year... how they can improve upon travel to and from Honduras... and how they can better help the people.

Doctor Craig said he wished he had known more Spanish and next time he would take as much U.S. currency and change as possible.

He said not many people were looking for a handout, most people were grateful for their efforts, food is good, but different... fresh fruit was delicious, fresh coffee was very good and strong... they brushed their teeth only with bottled water... and next time he would try to arrive before 11 a.m. or after 2 p.m. The people don't like to be bothered during siesta time. The people stay up late at night and get up around six the next morning.

Breakfast was usually ham and eggs, fruit, coffee, sweet bread and jam... and usually there was beef in some form for dinner and supper. Cokes, Pepsi Cola and Orange Crush drinks were available.

Most places in that area want both medical doctors and dentists and a plan of rotation for working visitation of American doctors is desirable. Some missionaries would accompany the doctors to the areas that need help.

UTILA BAY
 Utila Bay is about 30 miles off the Honduras coast in the Atlantic Ocean. Coconut, fish (dried and salted) bananas, oranges, grapefruit, limes, papayas, breadfruit, pineapples and other fruit grow wild on the island.

Dr. Craig said older teenagers had half their teeth missing; some had no teeth... and the big problem from the preventive standpoint is the water. A water supply that contained fluoride and minerals would solve most of the teeth problems.

The doctors flew over 5,000 miles on the trip and were in the air 35 hours over the 12 day period.

suffering from malnutrition. The doctor there told them that about 70% of the children died before they were a year old.

The doctors were particularly impressed by the CARE workers from America who were doing a marvelous job in helping the people of Honduras.

Dr. Jordan said that the Peace Corps people were doing a fair job... and that some of them were possibly living the life of the native in excess... they needed shaves and a better overall appearance.

Luckily, Dr. Jordan had a good selection of American coins and dollars that were spendable at every stop. Dr. Craig's traveler Cheques weren't cashable.

The public schools covered grades 1 - 4 on the island. On the Honduras mainland children could go as high as the sixth grade.

Get Your Thoughts On Others . . . Not On Yourself!

Psychiatrists make their living off of people who have one big problem. . . they worry about themselves. They pay good American money to have someone listen to their problems. People are worried about their health, their emotions, their reactions, their fears. . . they're wrapped up in themselves. We don't know how many people in this community there are who need to get their minds off of themselves. . . and devote that time thinking and helping others. We do know that we don't have to look far each day until we see someone who has a lot more problems than we do. . . we don't have to look far to see someone with greater afflictions, poorer health, people with less material things, people with no faith in the good Lord. As we took pictures this week of some of our housewives working with a little girl who had suffered brain damage, we thought, "Certainly here's a challenge for all the people in our community who are sitting home with their self worries. . . here's an opportunity for them to help others. . . here's a need they can fulfill by signing up to help in the "patterning exercises" for the children in our community who suffer brain damage. We suggest you read the feature on Floydada's "Patterning Center" in this issue of the Hesperian. . . this is only one of many ways that you can help others. Here's a Christian principle in action. . . here's something more than giving money. . . here's a need that requires the utmost. . . the giving of time. . . the giving of self! Won't you help?

Coops Seek Financial Independence

The rural electric cooperatives are asking Congress for the establishment of an electric bank that would eventually lead to complete financial independence for these rural electric systems. It would also mean higher interest rates for those that could afford to pay them. Passage of House Bill 1400 would establish the bank. Patterned after the highly successful Federal Land Banks and Production Credit Associations, the proposed bank would call for government money to start. Then as money was loaned out, these government funds would be replaced with money furnished by the borrowers. Eventually, the government would have all of its money back and the rural electric systems would be financially independent. The very success of the rural electrification program has produced this demand for capital. Requirements for electricity double every eight years in rural areas and the electric cooperatives need additional money to supply this constantly increasing demand. The success of the Federal Land Banks and the Production Credit Associations gives the electric bank a perfect pattern for its operation. The electric cooperatives are to be congratulated for voluntarily asking to be allowed to pay a higher interest rate for their money and for their efforts to become independent of government financial support.

What About Shop At Home?

One thing we try to get over to our employees is that if a customer THINKS he is right, he IS right for all practical purposes. WE may be right. The customer may be dead wrong. But if he thinks a mistake was OUR fault and we can't prove to his satisfaction that it wasn't, the consequences are the same whether we are right or wrong. We can win an argument, perhaps, but lose a customer! So it is with the results of the recent survey conducted here. This survey of the buying habits of Tullians should be disturbing to all Tulla merchants. Up to 84% of Tullians apparently think (1) local prices are not competitive, (2) selections are limited, and (3) service in local stores is not what it should be. This unhappy news about Tulla was shouted to the world through the Amarillo papers Friday afternoon and Saturday morning. Some will ignore the criticism. Some will deny it. Some will take the attitude, "It's my store and I don't need anyone trying to tell me how to run my business." Some will say that people have always gone out of town to shop and there just isn't anything anybody can do about it. Maybe some of the criticism is unjustified. Assume, for the sake of argument, that it is all unjustified. The results, however, are the same! What can the merchant do about it? If his prices are competitive, as they often are, he can make sure the people KNOW his prices are competitive. He can invite them to compare his ads with those in the daily papers. When people get the Amarillo paper twice a day and are reminded that often the price of a particular item in Amarillo, they are not going to check the local price by making a trip to the store. If they can't find the price of popular items in the local paper, they'll go on to Amarillo where the KNOW what the price is. We noted the suggestion "that merchants pay greater attention to variety in merchandise, educate personnel to serve customers with courtesy and if home prices are competitive, TO MAKE THE FACTS KNOWN TO SHOPPERS." This sums up pretty well what can be done about the shortcomings of Tulla merchants as are believed to exist by as many as 84 percent of the people. There's no use worrying about things which cannot be remedied. There's no use worrying because we don't have a Nieman-Marcus or Macy's in Tulla. But we should be concerned about those problems that we CAN solve. We don't have to be a Nieman-Marcus in order to be warm, friendly, courteous, helpful, genuinely interested in the customer. We don't have to be a Nieman-Marcus in order to promote! Few "Trade At Home" editorials have ever appeared in this newspaper. Several times recently we have merely stated the case of the small town merchant. . . and we intend to leave it at that. This problem, faced by every small town, is a two-way street. The local citizen has an obligation to the local merchant and the local merchant has an obligation to the citizen. But the fact is, no local merchant has a right to criticize business for going out of town unless he has done everything within his ability to compete with the city merchant. People are not governed by a sense of loyalty or obligation. There are several reasons why a customer selects a particular store in which to shop. Price is one consideration. Merchandise must be clean and fresh looking. The store must be well lighted and attractive. Clerks must be friendly and helpful. And merchandise must be promoted! Customers throng around those stores that make a lot of noise. That's one reason Tulla grocers don't have the problem of losing trade to out of town food stores. Time was that this was a problem. Once Tulla had a number of small grocery stores, not particularly attractive, and the prices weren't especially competitive. These stores were weak on promotion. And there were scores of Tullians who could be seen grocery shopping in Amarillo and even in Canyon. But this day has passed. Tulla food stores have solved their problem of losing trade. Instead, they bring out of town trade into Tulla. Heard & Jones has held its own against out of town competition. It has an attractive store, competitive prices. . . and it promotes! But the Tulla business community as a whole is not noted for its promotion. Dollar Day has become a joke. . . because too few stores participate. Throngs of Swisher County folk can be seen in Amarillo on Thursday nights when the stores stay open late. We're not suggesting that Tulla stores should do this. . . not after the reaction when the Chamber of Commerce tried to encourage stores to stay open one night each week during the week or two weeks preceding Christmas.

Support For HB 343 Needed

Did you know that some real estate in Texas has been taken from owners by unscrupulous lenders because of an antiquated law that requires notice of a deed of trust sale be placed in three "public places"? The "public places" can be a utility pole, a tree in the park and the courthouse bulletin board. This is all the notice that is required by our present state laws, and the chances are good that the only "bidder" for the distress property will be the mortgagee. He and the sheriff will be the only ones likely to know of it. Steps are being taken right now in our state legislature to correct this sad situation. A law has been proposed by State Representatives Jack Hawkins and Bill Rags, House Bill 343, that will require effective public notices be presented to the public and that such notices will appear in a local newspaper of general circulation. Now before readers jump to the conclusion we're interested in this law to acquire additional revenue for this newspaper, we assure you there isn't enough of this type of business to make any great deal of difference to us financially. Besides, as we're not the county seat newspaper, such notices would most likely go to the Denton daily newspaper anyway. House Bill 343 has merit from several standpoints. It would provide adequate notice to the owner, giving him three weeks to round up the necessary funds to take up delinquent payments. It would also increase the sale price of the property because proper notice would attract more buyers, this increase competition for the property and the bids would be more in keeping with the property's true value. The old practice of putting such notices on the bulletin board and on a utility pole or sapling wasn't too bad back in the horse and buggy days when the courthouse was the center of things. But this isn't the case today. Most people, unless they're suing somebody. . . or being sued, never set foot in the county courthouse. Or even if they do, will anyone search through all the copies of items on the courthouse bulletin board, or conduct a search (as if they were hunting Easter eggs) and look on every telephone pole and tree around? Certainly they won't. This shoddy practice by unscrupulous lenders is a sordid racket that has been permitted to exist far too long in Texas. It should be stopped and the opportunity is at hand. If you agree with us, please let our State Representative Alonzo Jamison know your feelings by letter or a phone call. (LEWISVILLE LEADER, Lewisville, Texas)

Dear Editor,

"If a town is good enough to live in, it's good enough to trade in." About the most useless thing around town is the self appointed critic who seldom misses an opportunity to point out what is wrong with Floydada. Sometimes we are accused of being unfriendly, not progressive, townish, lacking in culture, and being guilty of these and many other civic crimes. It must be admitted that every community has its deficiencies including our town - Floydada. No town is perfect in even one respect. Every town has its unfriendly people, every town has its lack of progress to a certain extent. Every town has its share of merchants who are not interested in the town's growth or they are just plain heels. We must admit these municipal faults - we must adjust to the situation. If we can't adjust ourselves to the situation, then we owe it to ourselves and to the town to move before sundown to a place more to our liking.

We believe that anyone who accepts the conveniences and comforts of a town, who wears out its streets, who uses its sidewalks and parks, who calls its fire department and police when they are needed, is honor bound to support that town or move to a town which he can conscientiously support. What determines the soul of a community? We can't put our finger on any one person or thing. The spirit of a town is determined by many things - all individuals. The chronic griper is a part of that spirit. He ear marks his community as definitely as does the town booster. A town is like a multicolored mosaic. Floydada is made up of some five thousand personalities, no two of which are alike. There are fat persons, skinny persons, rich and poor, happy persons and sourpusses, boosters and bellyachers, persons who want to go forward and persons who want to take us back to 1900.

Put all these people together and we have something called Floydada - that thing which outsiders - and some insiders - call "they."

Let us not fool ourselves. As people who live in Floydada it is impossible to sit on the sidelines and watch what "they" are doing. All of us are members of the cast, none is a part of the audience. All of us are on the stage. When we criticize Floydada and what they call "they" we are criticizing ourselves.

Someone penned a verse: "If you want to live in the kind of town you like. . . You needn't pack your clothes in a grip and start on a long, long hike. . . For you'd only find what you left behind. . . There's really nothing that's new. . . It's a knock at yourself when you knock your town for it isn't your town it's yours. . . Real towns are not made by men afraid that somebody gets ahead. . . For if everyone works and nobody shirks, you can raise a town from the dead. . . And if while you are making your personal stake, your neighbor should make his too. Then your town will be what you want it to be, for it isn't your town - it's yours."

Sincerely, (NAME WITHHELD BY REQUEST)

Dear Wendell:

Though I agree with much of your stand on the liquor question, I also agree with our Governor on his stand; that many are constructing this liquor bill to be another fight for or against prohibition.

I wonder if you have considered the effect that the illegal sale of alcohol has had on these statistics you quote. How can you prove that increased consumption increases deaths, accidents, etc.? You have no way of knowing what the consumption is. Statistics on dry areas cannot give a realistic evaluation of what is being consumed, because they cannot and do not include illegally sold liquor. Therefore, it is a possibility that the consumption remains the same, while the results the deaths, accidents, etc., rise from other causes. You can just about twist any statistics to mean anything you want them to.

This brings up another thought. Surely you are aware that any type of alcoholic beverage can be purchased in dry areas, and I am including Floydada in this. The bad part of this is that not only does this mean that our lawmen spend a major part of their time chasing bootleggers to the detriment of their other law enforcement activities, but it also means that MINORS along with adults can purchase liquor with great freedom. This bothers me terribly.

As a final thought, take a drive in the country sometime, view the ditches full of assorted liquor bottles and then tell me again how "dry" laws reduce drinking while driving.

Wouldn't we be better Christians if we took the time, energy and money we spend arguing about liquor and use it to help someone in need? That way we might aid in solving some of the problems that cause drunkenness.

Sincerely, Sue Lovell

FLOYD PHILOSOPHER

He's Baffled By All The Talk About Daylight Saving Time

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnsongrass farm expresses himself on daylight saving time this week.

Dear editor:

There are times when I'm convinced I don't know anything at all about people. For the last week or so I've been reading in every newspaper that turns up out here on this Johnson grass farm about the big hassle over daylight saving time.

As I understand it, Congress has passed a law installing daylight saving time all over the country and the only way a state can escape is to pass a special law exempting itself. And last night when I saw a special television report on the situation when I decided I don't know anything about people.

One man from a city said daylight saving time would give him an extra hour to play golf in the afternoons and he sure wanted that. A farmer said it would throw him and his cows and his milking and feeding schedule off and he was violently opposed to the change. A barber said he goes to bed at 9 every night and the thing would cause him to go to bed actually at 8 with the sun maybe still shining. I don't understand any of this. There has been no Congress ever assembled that can tell me when to go to bed and when to get up. I never will be. And while I do mumbletypep, I've never seen couldn't fish an hour longer than in mind.

I go to bed when I'm sleepy when I wake up, and what time it is? Any man who has to look at whether he's sleepy or not, or Congress to legislate his bedtime who has to appeal to Congress for an extra hour of golf, is a man with. And as for cows, it'd surprise cows don't even know Congress.

There are some times when I suppose there are so many laws is that he told.

Personally, I don't care who votes to turn the clocks backwards, or whether it votes to in the week Saturday or Sunday winter. My clock hasn't kept for years anyway, and I went six months ago turning the page on my calendar. As I see it, the sun comes up and goes down in the evening and a law that got here before yours before J.A.

PATTERNING EXERCISES

Floydada Folk Help "Hurt Children"

By Wendell Tooley
 Several Floydada adults are helping in the "Patterning" exercises of children in this community who have suffered some sort of brain damage.

Patterning is simple to learn and around 35 housewives... and some men are aiding in the daily patterning of three children in this community.

Patterning is done under the supervision and direction of specialists in San Antonio and Hereford.

Patterning is designed to train the brain cells in secondary locations and to use secondary nerve pathways. The constant, rhythmic application of the patterning is repeatedly bombarding the central nervous system with the total pattern of mobility - the head, arms, and legs all working together for a single function. Just turning the head can't make one crawl; nor flexing one's arms; nor extending one's legs. But all of these movements in a preset schedule do, and eventually, this entire pattern is imprinted in the brain cells (such imprints are technically known as ENGRAMS) until finally the brain sends out its own instructions for these activities. Hours of hard work are reimbursed as we see the brain assume its role in mobility; and mobility will bring, in its wake, other neurological functions.

It is through the employment of these two very easily learned patterns, homolateral patterning and cross-patterning, that children who could not even roll over learn to walk perfectly, and an encouraging percentage of them actually achieve normal activity in all respects.

These are the children previously condemned as "hopeless;" condemned to the "Merry-go-round" of brain injury where there is no real beginning or ending - until now. With rehabilitation through neurological organization, an answer appears out of the vertiginous blur which leads from this Brown, daughter of Willa Brown are now undergoing patterning treatment. Some of the patterning is being done in homes with the neighbors helping.

Lockney's Outstanding Woman, Man For Year Are Paid Tribute

LOCKNEY — Presentation of trophies to Rev. Gene Hawkins as "Outstanding Man" and Mrs. Robert Lee (Lucille) Smith as "Outstanding Woman" highlighted the annual Lockney Chamber of Commerce banquet Thursday night in the elementary school cafeteria. About 350 persons attended the event.

The presentation to Rev. Hawkins, pastor of First Baptist Church and incoming president of the Chamber, was a surprise move, as Hawkins had helped place the order for the trophies and their inscriptions "bearing another man's name," he told the crowd.

Convalescent Home

Dr. W. J. Mangold, last year's Outstanding Man, made the award to Hawkins, crediting him with promoting the building of a convalescent home at Lockney "last year when there was a real need of one here." Hawkins has worked with the Salvation Army Fund Drive, headed Lockney Ministerial Assn. and is a member of PTA and Rotary Club.

Both Hawkins and his wife are native Texans. They have two children. The family came to Lockney from Matador May 13, 1961.

In September of 1965, Rev. and Mrs. Hawkins participated in the evangelistic crusade in New Zealand and Japan.

Program Provider

Mrs. June Bybee, retiring "Outstanding Woman," made the presentation to Mrs. Smith, a native of the Silverton-Lockney area who resides on a farm in Sterley Community. Mrs. Bybee stated, "It has been said if a program chairman needs a program by tomorrow, just give this woman a telephone call and she will come up with one."

An avid reader, Mrs. Smith frequently reviews books for clubs and organizations.

She is past president of PTA and has served as director for numerous junior and senior class plays at LHS. Mrs. Smith is the mother of four children, Robin, a seventh-grader; David, a sophomore; Karla, a student at Texas Tech, and Sandy, now Mrs. Johnathan Thomas Taylor of Lockney, a graduate of the University of Denver.

Mrs. Smith, who holds a B.S. degree in speech and English from the University of Texas, attended WTSU and the University of Colorado.

She is active in politics and served as Floyd County campaign manager for John Tower this year.

Mrs. Smith uses her artistic abilities to serve her community in many ways, including narrating of style shows and other events. She is a member of Main St. Church of Christ and teaches a Bible class.

Other Awards

In accord with a new Chamber project, a $25 certificate was presented to Art and Barry Barker for the best idea developed in Lockney. The brothers have used their creative and promotional abilities to establish a concern manufacturing unique bird houses now sold in about 12 states. Hubert Frizzell received a certificate for selling the most banquet tickets.

Retiring president Erwin Boyd, in presenting the gavel to most important in Chamber work are "hard work, enthusiasm and attitude." Boyd received a plaque for his Chamber service.

Other new officers introduced by Hawkins were John Powell, vice president; Tommy Montandon, secretary-treasurer; and J. D. Copeland, bookkeeper. New directors are Tommy Montandon, R.H. Parker, Joe Parris, Jim Reynolds and Kenneth Wofford. Named to fill two years of an unexpired term is M. E. Cooper.

HIGH INTEREST BOND

The federal government has offered a new high interest savings note—the "Freedom Share," bears 4.74 interest yearly when held to its 4 1/2 year maturity. It is hoped the notes, which go on sale May 1, will attract up to $1 billion.

NEWS FOR

by Sherry Mullin
Floyd County H. D. Agent

If you have a child under age five, the chances of his being accidentally poisoned this year are one in 38! Those are not very good odds—Particularly when your child's life is at stake. Before you say it is impossible for a child to be poisoned in your home, think about how many times you have known children to accomplish the impossible. Most accidental poisonings can be related to patterns of storage, handling, and disposal. Don't underestimate your children's ability to crawl, climb, or reach almost anywhere. Allow for the impossible when handling, storing or disposing of medicines or household products.

What will a child do next? Who knows? What will poisons do? That we know only too well. This year 500,000 children will be poisoned and over 500 will die from accidental poisoning in their own homes. Will yours? Over 90 per cent of all poisoning accidents involve children under five years of age. Why? Because these are the "curious years" when children get around fast, are fearless, will put anything into their mouths, and are too young to read labels or understand warnings. Don't play around with children's lives by letting them play with poisons.

You know the danger of insecticides and drain-cleaning crystals. But, do you know that lemon scented furniture polish, sky-blue window cleaner, chocolate laxative, and orange flavored aspirin are all potential killers? Your home is equipped with a variety of products which are designed to make life more pleasant and healthful. However, just like many other modern conveniences, these household products must be used only for the purpose which it was designed and then only in the proper way. Don't let your child be the victim of an accidental poisoning by allowing such products to fall into his hands.

Your child drink kerosene? Eat rat poison? You may be skeptical about this happening in your home. However, each time you put kerosene, gasoline, turpentine, or any other potential killer in a cup or glass, you are increasing the chance that your youngster will make use of this so called convenience. Remember, you are the one who taught him to associate cups and glasses with milk, water and other drinks. Keep all poisonous materials in their original container. Don't transfer poisonous materials to glasses, cups, jars, pop bottles, or other unlabeled containers.

Since the small child must have freedom to explore as a natural part of the learning process, his environment must be made as free from hazards as possible. Storage and handling of potentially harmful materials should be related to his growth and development. Bottles and boxes containing medicines or household products should be put out of reach even when answering the telephone or doorbell. As a child grows older, protection must yield to education. In the meantime, don't let your child learn the hard way.

Remember, prevention is the only sure cure of accidental poisoning. Promote poison prevention in your county during National Poison Prevention Week and every week of the year.

LIGHTHOUSE ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE, INC. MARY PHILLIPS, HOME ECONOMIST

MATCHLESS COOKING KEEPS KITCHENS CLEAN

Cleaning the stove used to be the most discouraging drudgery. Today, however, housewives who have new electric ranges no longer are finding the cleaning a problem.

Increased freedom from tedious work is due to the special easier-to-clean design features of the new electric ranges. These include improvements such as fewer cracks and crevices and raised rims around cooktops to catch spillovers. All surface elements are self-cleaning. Thermostatically controlled surface units keep range tops cleaner because pot bolovers cannot occur. These control units are marked with heat settings from low to high. All the homemaker need do is select her temperature and the control unit will maintain it. If spills do occur, the electric surface units are self-cleaning.

Accurate temperature controls keep the oven cleaner, too. Some meats - the fattier ones - spatter more than others. Lamb and pork, for example are the worst offenders, especially in an oven that is too hot. Check the cooking instruction book. A common error among homemakers who have switched to modern electric cooking is in setting the oven temperature higher than necessary. New electric ranges have accurately controlled oven heat that needs no watching or juggling. Every electric oven today has features that make it easier to clean. One type of oven slides out like a drawer for easy stand-up cleaning. Many new electric ranges have slide-out oven walls that can be carried to the sink and washed as easily as a china dish. All four walls slide out - the Teflon back and side walls plus a gleaming chrome oven floor. Of course, the ultimate in oven cleaning is the one that cleans itself. Cleaning is accomplished with the use of high heat which causes spilled foods and burned on grease to literally vaporize. All that is left is a bit of ash which can be wiped away with a paper towel.

Lighthouse Electric will continue to give the Admiral AM-FM Clock Radios away to every rural electric member who places a new electric range on the Cooperatives lines during the

REV. BRADLEY SAYS MORE CRIMES WILL BE COMMITTED

"More than 24,000 new crimes will be committed each year in Texas if the saloon bill passes," Rev. Floyd Bradley, pastor of the First Baptist Church said today in urging defeat of the law that would allow sales of liquor by the drink.

According to statistics released by Texas Alcohol Narcotics Education, the crimes per 100,000 population in open saloon states is 232.7 crimes a year higher than states with package sales only laws, such as Texas now has.

The proponents of the saloon bill claim it would be good because it would bring needed tax revenue. Now, for each $1 of liquor tax collected, alcohol costs $37 in law enforcement, welfare, lost jobs, courts, etc. according to the American Business Men's Research Foundation. The saloon bill would actually cost the state money to pay for the extra costs involved in the more than 8,000,000 additional gallons of liquor that would be consumed each year, Rev. Bradley said.

"For our children's sake," he urged Floydada residents to ask their legislators and state senators to defeat the saloon bill.

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

Whitehead Severely Burned

W. O. Whitehead of the Cedar Hill community was severely burned on the face and hands several weeks ago and is in the intensive care unit at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock. He entered the Lockney General Hospital immediately after the accident to receive treatment. When his condition worsened he was transferred to Lubbock. Monday, friends reported that his doctors said he was slightly improved.

Friends said the accident occurred while Whitehead was trying to destroy skunk odor in a cellar. He had caught a skunk in a trap and had used butane to try and rid the room of the odor. Several days later, he struck a match in the cellar and a fire sparked immediately. He was forced to walk through the fire to get out of the cellar and received severe burns on his hands, neck and face.

ON LIVING COSTS

Commissioner Arthur M. Ross of the Bureau of Labor Statistics reports that living costs held steady during January. This makes a 3-month period of comparative price stability.

NEXT YEAR HE WILL BE READING

Next year he will want his own reading lamp. Next year he will need an extra waffle at breakfast too, and there will be school clothes to be ironed. All of this will require more electricity which is why demand in rural areas doubles every eight years. In 1948, the average family served by LIGHTHOUSE ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE used 150 kilowatt hours per month. Today, this same family requires 450 kilowatt hours. This constantly increasing demand calls for a constantly upgraded electric service requiring more money for improvements. LIGHTHOUSE ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE is planning ahead now to provide this additional supply of electricity that is Helping Texas Grow.
