New Stamp Vending Machine At PO

For the convenience of the patrons the Floydada Post Office has installed a new stamp vending machine. The Stamp Vending Machine will accept nickels, dimes and quarters. When a dime is used, two 4¢ stamps will be dispensed and two pennies change will be returned. When a nickel is used, one 5¢ stamp will be dispensed and a quarter will cause five 5¢ stamps to be dispensed. The Postmaster said, "he hopes the machine will accomplish two things, first, a service to patrons after office hours, on Sundays and holidays and even during the day when someone needs only one stamp in a hurry, and second, a saving in clerk hours." He said it is surprising how many people just buy one stamp at a time, so he anticipates the vending machine will eliminate this and result in a man-hour saving.

City Council Taking Several Looks At Future Water

Mackenzie Dam Cost Prompts Exploration

By Wendell Tooley
When the estimated cost of almost eight million dollars came through a week or two ago as an estimated cost on the Mackenzie Dam, the city councilmen of Tulla, Floydada, Silvertown and Lockney sorta lost their breath!

Now, as they take a second look, they're beginning to look around and make sure there are no other possibilities for future water for the city before proposing the bond vote to the residents of the city.

Tulla city council went home and immediately ordered a well driller to start digging two 1,000 foot wells to determine the strength of another strata of water.

The Floydada city council is making several areas of study into underground formations of water west of town.

It was hoped by the board of the Mackenzie Water authority that the four cities would agree on a financing plan by April 20... so plans could be completed for the bond vote.

I interviewed Lon Davis, president of the Mackenzie Authority and he said the board would meet in Lockney Monday night. He said that there might be a delay of two or three months while the city councils are making up their minds about the bond vote. In the meantime he said that the Mackenzie Authority will hang onto the water rights of Tule Creek.

The Floydada council realizes that it would have to put an expensive vote to the people. Water rates would almost be doubled and a property tax of 65¢ per thousand dollar evaluation for a period of 40 years would also be necessary to pay for Floydada's share of the almost eight million dollar project.

This means that if you're paying $6.00 per month now for water... you would be paying $10.50 to $12.00 per month, plus you would pay $32.50 a year property tax if your property or home is valued at $10,000.

MAYOR INTERVIEWED
When I interviewed Mayor Leonard Matsler Tuesday he said that the council is looking at a possibility of buying water rights west of Floydada that should supply the city for 20 years. He said the council was also interested in going ahead and building the Mackenzie Dam (without pumping station, piping, etc.) at a cost of two million dollars.

The dam would insure future water supply... and piping and dump station financing is all that would be necessary when the four cities were about to run out of underground water.

In looking at the estimated cost of the Mackenzie project it is evident that the cost of building the dam is one of the smaller items. It is estimated the dam and reservoir would be something over $2 million; water treatment plant $750,000; water supply lines to the cities about $3 million; pump stations and terminal storage about $340,000. There are other costs such as land, interest, engineering, and filter plant site.

Basically, the council is looking ahead 40 years. It is possible that they might find enough water west of town for 20 years... then extend pipelines to the dam for the second 20 years of water. At any rate the Floydada city council is devoting a lot of time exploring all the possibilities before they submit a plan to the people of the city for their approval.

...now about that daylight savings time!

You, dear reader, are reminded to run your clock up one hour at 2 a.m. April 30, in order to comply with the state and nation's ruling of daylight saving time.

In case you don't want to get up at 2 a.m., we suggest you run the clock up an hour before retiring April 29.

Since April 30 is on Sunday, it is possible that Sunday School superintendents will want to make a late count... and local ministers may want to start their sermons a little late in the order of worship!

It is expected that on Monday morning most Floydada businesses will open at 8:30 and close at 5:30 p.m.

Schools will take up at the same hour around 8:30... if your child has been getting on the bus at 8 a.m.,... he'll still get on the bus at 8 a.m.,... and he'll get to school in time... IF, you ran your clock up an hour.

By the sun you'll probably get up an hour earlier... and have an extra hour after work for gardening, golfing or maybe a late siesta!

May Is School Transfer Month

Supt. of Schools Clarence Guffee announced this week that May is transfer month for students whose grade will not be taught in their home district schools.

Guffee said he wishes to stress that a student is not au-tomatically transferred from a rural school to a city school that teaches higher grades.

A student must fill out an application transfer blank in his office at the court house not later than June 1, 1967.

berry from Olton was first with 157.8

Mayor Proclaims VFW Loyalty Day

Loyalty Day has been designated by an act of Congress and proclaimed by President Johnson, Governor John Connally and by Mayor Leonard Matsler. Commander Donnie Galloway explained that the 1,300,000 V.F.W. members created Loyalty Day primarily to counteract Communist May Day demonstrations which belittled American ideals and even advocated overthrow of the U.S. government.

"Anti-American tactics by the Communists and by some of our own supposedly patriotic citizens, still threaten national unity and security today," Galloway declared. "For those reasons we are giving every loyal citizen an opportunity to demonstrate his and her faith in our American freedom heritage."

Loyalty Day demonstrations throughout the country are to include pro-American parades, also prominent display of the Stars and Stripes flag and other ceremonies.

Galloway said that the public work at 8 a.m. and get off at daylight savings time (April 30). By the sun, we'll get up an hour earlier. Merchants will still open at 8:30 or 9 p.m. The next week or two until the swing of saving all that daylight!

Hesperian Editor Wins First At Panhandle Press Convention

Hesperian editor Wendell Tooley received the first place plaque for best editorial writing at the Panhandle Press Convention in Amarillo Saturday.

Tooley submitted three editorials written in 1966 in the competition: A February 10 editorial urging the citizens of Floydada to contribute to a fund to buy and stock an emergency vehicle for tornado and other disaster casualties... the citizens did.

The second editorial was written July 14 entitled "Brotherhood of Man" urging the Floydada school board to do something about correcting zoning negro and Latin children into one school... the school ing a breakfast on May 1st at 6:00 a.m. at Roger's Restaurant in connection with Loyalty Day. All people are urged to display flags.

Go-Carts Illegal On Public Street

Recently the Floydada police department has received some complaints about go-carts on the city's streets.

The owners of go-carts are advised by the police department that it is illegal to drive a go-cart on the city's streets unless they are equipped with Texas license tags, state inspection sticker and driven by a licensed driver.

Floydada Police Chief Fired

According to a report from Bill Feuerbacher, Floydada's police chief Darrell F. Holmes Jr. was fired last week.

Holmes had been chief of police here since March 15. Feuerbacher said that Holmes "just hadn't worked out" to the satisfaction of city officials.

CENTER NEWS by Mrs. J. E. Green

CENTER, April 24 - It is cloudy this afternoon and we hope we can have some "April showers."

Here we are at home again. We left home early April 1 with Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Massingill and reached the north shore of Lake Whitney that afternoon. They and two couples from Phillips and Borger were to spend one and two weeks vacation in the park in their compact, comfortable trailer house. We spent one night there, then the Rymans from Hubbard came for us Sunday p.m. and that was "headquarters" for our stay. We also visited in Moody, Penelope, Waco, Leonard and Hillsboro. The weather was ideal and we enjoyed it all. The woods, pastures and road sides were beautiful with green grass, trees and wild flowers. The ever-welcome blue bonnet - acres of them, as well as others. In Leonard we visited Miss Naoma Parrish who years ago lived at Lakeview. She sent greetings to old Floyd County friends. She and Aunt Ora Bolding are both "just fine" - in Gilbert Nursing Home. Their eyesight seems not improved much.

In Hillsboro we spent a night with my brother and wife, Tarpley and Mattie Matthews. Tarp grew up at Mt. Blanco. We HOPE we persuaded them to come to "Old Settlers" May 27. Last Tuesday morning our daughter and three smaller children picked us up at Hillsboro and brought us to Big Spring where we had a nice visit overnight with our son, Don Clark and family. Then on home Wednesday, Margaret and children returned home Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cone of Wichita Falls visited over the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Leo Frizzell, and with Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Frizzell.

Mrs. Ava Jackson is in Kermit with her son, Vern Jackson and family. Vern had major surgery recently at an Odessa hospital, but seems to be convalescing properly. Mr. and Mrs. Frizzell visited him at the hospital.

James Welborn and family of Plainview and the Roger Gooches, city, visited the Nolan Arneys Sunday afternoon.

Sunday dinner guests in the R. C. Ross home were Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Parks and Mr. and Mrs. Threadgill.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross visited Thursday at Baileyboro with Mr. and Mrs. Buck Ragsdale. It was Maxine's birthday.

Mrs. C. W. Denison and her sister from Anson, Mrs. Par-rack, made a trip to see their mother, Mrs. Ada Eaves, in North Platte, Neb. last week. They encountered some cold weather including snow. They reached home Sunday. They Roy Finley who had surgery in a Lubbock hospital recently is home again doing well.

Saturday overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Sandifur were her niece and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Randall and boys, Rickie and Donnie of Alamogordo, N. M. Other Saturday night supper guests were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Loftin of Tulsa, accompanied by their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Love and two children.

Mrs. Frank Dunn and granddaughter, Rhonda (who spent several days with her grandmother) went to Lubbock Friday to take Rhonda home, and she is still visiting among her children there.

Tuesday evening Floyd Montgomery of Plainview visited Mrs. Frank Dunn and the Doyle Sandifurs. Mrs. Dunn's home is smiling after a new coat of paint.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Miller visited Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sims Wednesday p.m.

Clarence Sisson of Lockney ate supper with Mr. and Mrs. Sims Sunday evening.

Mrs. Sims received a letter from their grandson, Bruce Horton, U.S. Navy today, reporting that friends in San Diego gave him a birthday dinner Friday with "turkey and the trimmings." Congratulations, Bruce!

Forum On 'Alcoholism' Planned

various phases of their special knowledge of alcohol. There will follow the individual talks, an open forum of questions from any young people in the audience that will be directed to the several panelists.

Special entertainment to conclude the evening will be supplied by Lubbock Christian College, during a refreshment period. It will consist of vocalist, Miss Judy Sexton, and equally popular singer, from Tulsa, Texas - Tommy Stewart. Both will perform after the discussion hour while guests are being served.

Members of the panel, each a very qualified lecturer and counselor on the problems of alcoholism will be Dr. Jess Paul, Anesthesiologist of Lubbock; Joe Meador, active member of the Downtown Group of Alcoholics Anonymous in Lubbock, John Stapleton, District Attorney and George Elkins, Minister, both of Floydada.

"This is not a church meeting, or a rally of 'Wets' or 'Drys', but an information forum where youth may ask questions of experts on the subject, and get reliable accurate material upon which to make their decisions about alcohol," according to George Elkins, one of the panel members.

The meeting is open to all teenagers and is being announced over radio and in news media within fifty miles of our city. Hundreds of youth are expected.

and representatives from nearly every town and school or church on the South Plains. Their sponsors are welcomed for the complete evening. Registration is to begin at 8:00 DST in the lobby of the NEW Duncan Elementary School, Friday night, May 5. A complete program will be carried next week.

Becker Color TV Set Found

The Weldon Becker family are once again enjoying color television after their set, which was taken from their home in March, was located in Lubbock Monday.

Sheriff Walter Hollums said two Lubbock negro men, Carl Edward Taylor and Vernice Norris, had confessed to a number of farm burglaries, the Becker home included. They are lodged in jail at Lubbock.

The men were picked up after a Hale County woman secured their car tag number as they were leaving a residence in Hale County.

Hollums said the negroes took Lubbock officials to farm homes they had burglarized over the area, and showed them the Becker home where they had taken the television. In the meantime they had sold the set to a negro family in Lubbock for $175, where it was picked up Tuesday by Hollums and Foster Amburn.

The set is valued at $618 and was found to be in good shape when it was returned to the Beckers. They had purchased it in December.

Jane Thacker, David Scheele Plan June Vows

Engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Jane Thacker and David Scheele is being announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Thacker.

Parents of the prospective bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Albert Scheele of Providence Community.

Miss Thacker, a 1965 graduate of Lockney High School, is a sophomore student at Texas Technological College. Her fiancé, also a 1965 LHS graduate, attended Texas Tech last year and is a sophomore at Texas Lutheran College in Seguin.

A June 27 wedding in First Methodist Church, Lockney is being planned by the couple.

Former Local Girl Finalist In State

Frances Van Winkle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Van Winkle of El Paso and former Floydada resident, has been selected one of four finalists from 3,000 Texas college women eligible to compete for the title as State College Queen.

The three other young women are from League City, Stockdale and Ft. Worth, Texas. The winner will then compete for National College Queen at New York against 48 other state winners.

In a telephone interview with Miss Van Winkle by a Hesperian reporter yesterday morning, she related the state winner would be named by votes. Anyone may vote for the contestant of their choice by voting at any super market over the state that carry Best Brand foods.

Just write the contestant's name on a slip of paper. These votes will then be counted and the winner will be eligible to compete for the national title.

Miss Van Winkle said one of the requirements for contestants was to have a 3.5 college grade average. She is a junior at the University of Texas College at El Paso, majoring in music education. She attended school in Floydada through the first half of her freshman year. Miss Van Winkle is a niece of Doyle Mount, W. O. Newberry, George Springer, John Stapleton, Jake Watson, A. L. Wylie, Jr. and Mrs. Bob Muncy.

Next meeting will be May 2, with Mrs. H. G. Barber as hostess.

Mrs. Parkey President 100F-Rebekah Association

Mrs. Laules Parkey of Floydada was named president of the South Plains Association of IOOF and Rebekahs Lodges Saturday, April 15, during the annual convention held in Floydada. The site for next year's convention is at Lockney.

Mrs. Parkey has served every office in the local lodge and has served as District Deputy president and was vice president of the SP Association last year. Mrs. Parkey is to graduate in May from Vocational Nursing School. She is a member of the City Park Church of Christ and the Friendship Past Noble Grands Club.

For the convention Floyd Webb of Floydada was master of ceremonies. The presentation of flags was made by the Lubbock Jr. IOOF Hall and presentation of the Bible was by Lamesa Rebekah Lodge.

Mrs. John N. Farris of Floydada.

She said the national winner would ride on a float in the New Year's Rose Parade at Pasadena, make public appearances and travel throughout the world, with an itinerary somewhat like Miss America.

Purpose of the contest is to find the most outstanding college girl, according to Miss Van Winkle.

She related she would appreciate votes from her Floydada and area friends.

French Luncheon Held By HD Club At Dougherty

The home of Mrs. G. W. Smith was the scene of a French luncheon for Dougherty Home Demonstration club members on Wednesday of last week. The menu, prepared from authentic French recipes consisted of chicken dijon, chestnut croquettes, petit pois La Nicoise, Reblochon cheese, French black olives, salad He-de-French, French bread, assorted crackers, French cookies, canned Gateau A L'brandy, aged grape juice, tea and coffee.

Mrs. Elmer Watson presented a discussion on "Fragrance, Why, Where, and When?" Mrs. Watson said fragrance should be a part of good grooming. It is an essential step in getting dressed, it has the ability to adapt to each individual's body chemistry and should be applied where the blood vessels are closest to the skin, such as under the ear, inside elbow and back of knees.

The table was decorated with an arrangement of old fashion yellow roses floating in a crystal bowl. Club president, Mrs. A.H. Kreis, presided over the business meeting and Mrs. Carmel Eastham was acting secretary in absence of Mrs. Howe Hines. The hostess gave the devotional after which members sang "Vive La Campagull". Roll call was answered with tips on short cuts to better housekeeping.

Mrs. Ned Bradley, a former member, was a guest at the gathering. Members present were Mmes. Johnnie Cates, R. H. Crawford, Ray Gene Carthel, Carmel Eastham, Earl Edwards, A. H. Kreis, Claude Ring, W. J. Ross and hostess, Mrs. Smith.

On May 5, 1967 the parent, or other adult person acting as parent, of each student enrolled in this system will be sent a letter telling him the name and location of the school to which the student will be assigned for the coming school year. The letter will also give information on any school bus service provided for the student's neighborhood. A copy of this notice will be enclosed with each letter. The same letter and notice will be sent out on the above date for all children the school system expects to enter the school system for the first time next year. This includes children entering first grade. If the school system learns of a new student after the above date, it will promptly send the student's parent such a letter and a copy of this notice.

Maps showing the boundary lines of the attendance zones of every school in the school system are freely available for inspection by the public at the Superintendent's office. Individual zone maps are available at each school.

Any revision of attendance zone boundaries will be announced by a prominent notice in a local paper at least 30 days before the change is effective.

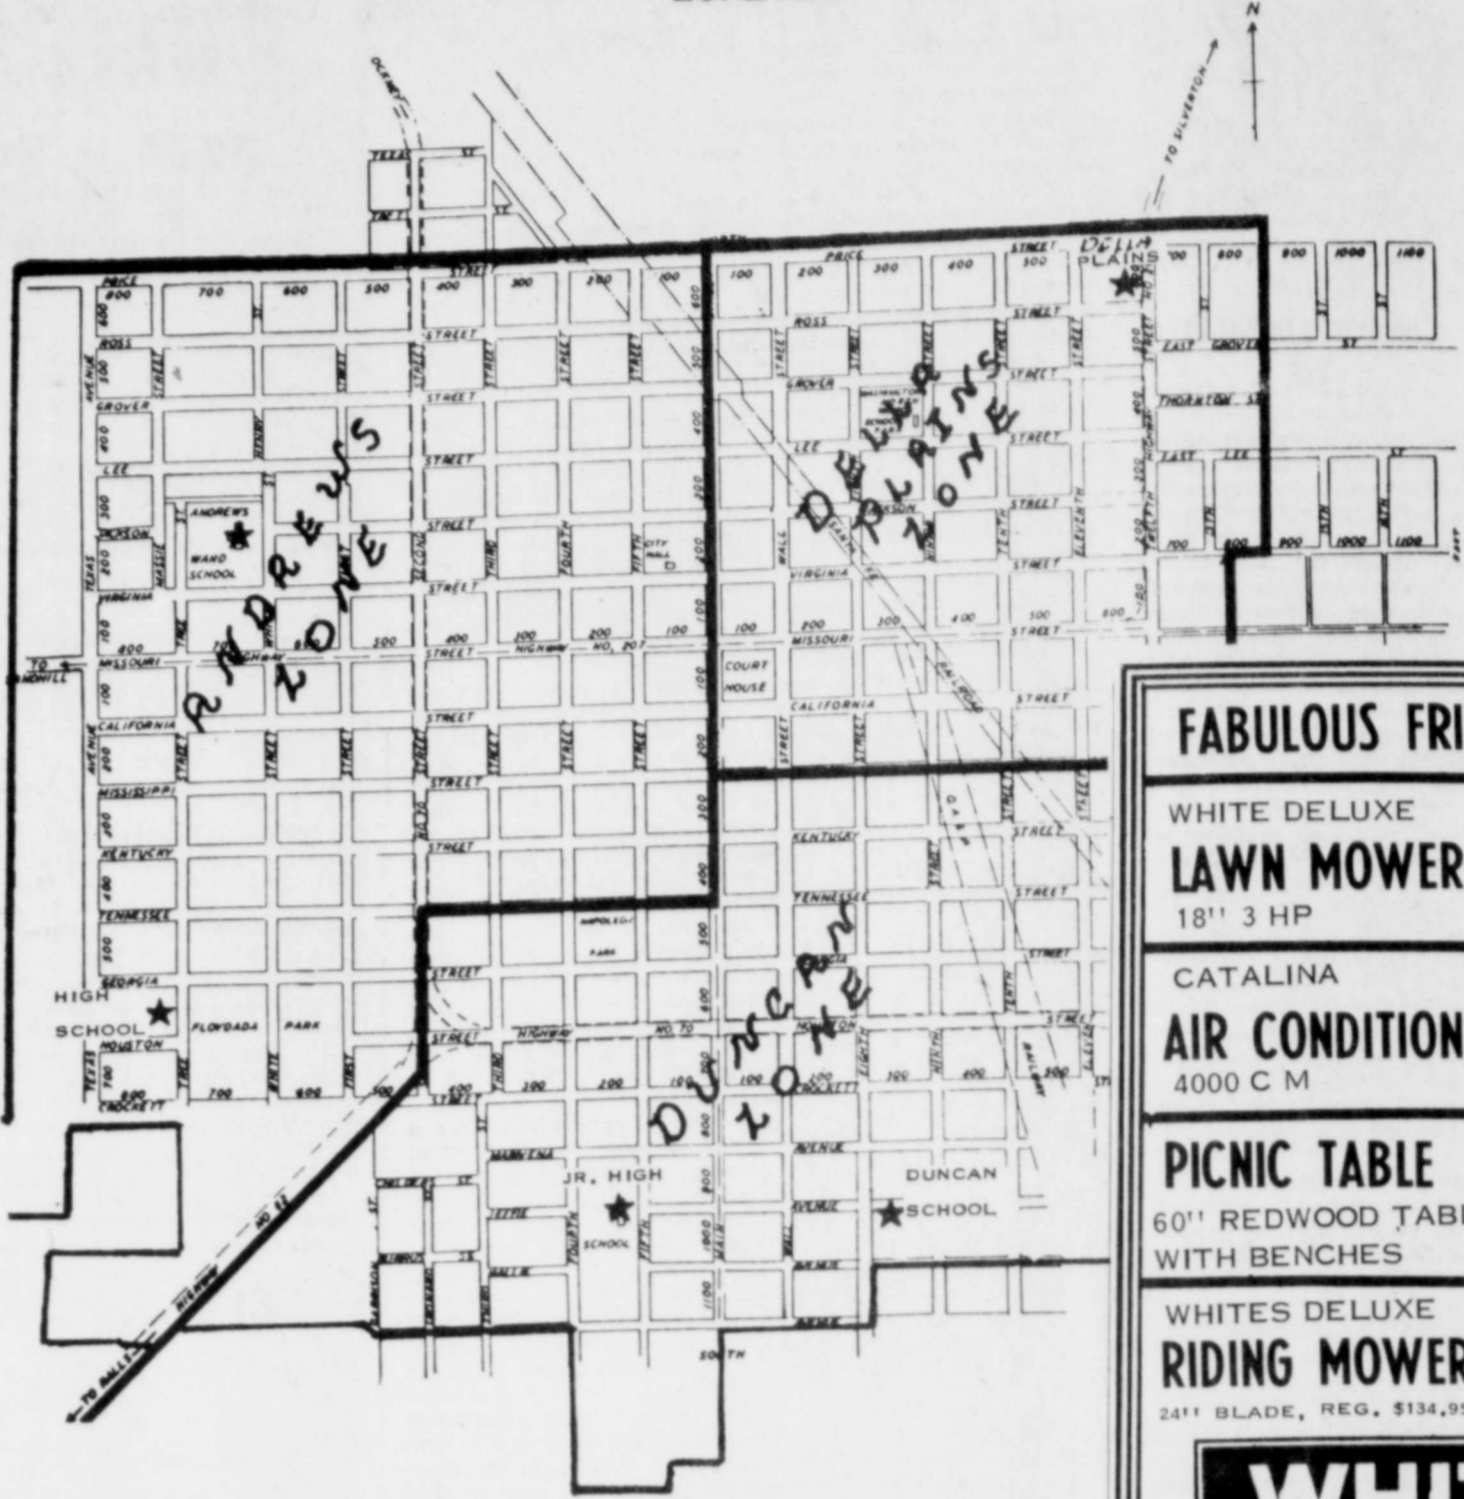

All school-connected services, facilities, athletics, activities and programs are open to each student on a desegregated basis. A student assigned to a new school under the provisions of the desegregation plan will not be subject to any disqualification or waiting period for participation in activities and programs, including athletics, which might otherwise apply because he is a transfer student. All transportation furnished by the school system will also operate on a desegregated basis. Facilities will be desegregated, and no staff member will lose his position because of race, color, or national origin. This includes any case where less staff is needed because schools are closed or enrollment is reduced.

No arrangement will be made or permission granted by this school system for any students living in the community it serves to attend school in another school system, where this would tend to limit desegregation, or where the opportunity is not available to all students without regard to race, color, or national origin. No arrangement will be made or permission granted, by this school system for any students living in another school system to attend public school in this system, where this would tend to limit desegregation, or where the opportunity is not available to all students without regard to race, color, or national origin.

It is a violation of our desegregation plan for any school official or teacher to influence or dissuade any person from exercising any rights to have a desegregated education under this plan. It is also a violation of Federal regulations for any person to intimidate, threaten, coerce, retaliate or discriminate against any individual for the purpose of interfering with the desegregation of our school system. Any person having any knowledge of any violation of these prohibitions should report the facts immediately by mail or phone to the Equal Educational Opportunities Program, U.S. Office of Education, Washington, D.C. 20202 (telephone 202-962-0333). The name of any person reporting any violation will not be disclosed without his consent. Any other violation of the desegregation plan or other discrimination based on race, color, or national origin in the school system is also a violation of Federal requirements and should likewise be reported. Anyone with a complaint to report should first bring it to the attention of State or local school officials, unless he feels it would not be helpful to do so. Rates Encrease

An increase in international surface and airmail rates will go into effect Monday, May 1, Postmaster Wester announced today. The new international rates, he said, will not apply to mailings for members of the Armed Forces overseas. Domestic postage rates are applicable to mail addressed through APO's and FPO's.

The rate increases for both surface and airmail - averaging 13% - were first proposed on January 14 and publicly confirmed on March 1. The Department explained at that time that they were needed to help offset a deficit of about $16 million in international mail operations.

Specific information on the new international rates can be obtained from the window at the post office, Postmaster Wester said. This is the first general increase in international rates since July, 1961.

- The increases are:
1. Airmail letters to Central America and Caribbean area from 13¢ a 1/2 ounce to 15¢.
 2. Canada and Mexico remains 8¢ for Airmail and the rest of the Western Hemisphere remains 15¢ a half ounce.
 3. Airmail to Europe and Mediterranean Africa from 15¢ a half ounce to 20¢.
 4. Airmail letter rates to the rest of the world remains unchanged at 25¢ a half oz.
 5. Aerogrammes and air post cards increased 2¢ each from 11¢ to 13¢.
 6. Most letters going by surface transportation to all nations (except Canada and Mexico) increased from 11¢ to 13¢.
 7. Most printed matter, including publications, increased one cent a piece.

8. Surface parcel post rates to all nations increased 20¢ a parcel, an average of 7%.

"Postage rates for surface first class letters and air letters and surface 3rd class type printed matter to Canada and Mexico corresponds to U.S. domestic rates, which is set by Congress, and are not being changed at this time," Postmaster Wester said.

Arthur B. Duncan Moved His Family To Floyd County In 1884

The following article written by Barbara Hawley at this time to review the life of the man whose name the grade school was named.)

THE TEXAS HOMESTEADER
 One day after the birth of their young son, Arthur said to his wife, "Kizzie (her nickname) what about our going to the Plains to homestead?"

"Let's go," she replied. "We don't want to stay down here back of somebody's field and rent all of our lives."
 And so they started toward the West in a covered wagon drawn by two horses even though they did not have sufficient funds to finance the trip. They would travel until their last cent was spent, and then they would stop and camp where they could get a job. After he had earned some money by labor, they traveled on as far as it would take them. Their slow journey was a trek of two months.

When they finally reached their destination now known as Floyd County, they filed for a homestead in Blanco Canyon, because White River with plenty of water wandered like a lost soul through it. This canyon varied in width from five miles to several hundred feet. It was an ideal place to homestead as its high walls protected the homesteader from the ice-cold blasts of the Panhandle northerners; then Nature had landscaped it with luxuriant verdant growth and with the only indigenous trees on the South Plains. Their homestead was eight miles south of the present town of Floydada.

They would have chuckled over our inability to cope with the housing problem, for they solved a greater housing shortage on the Plains, over one hundred miles from lumber, by digging a large hole in the ground and calling this dugout home. Their dugout, 24 feet long and 12 feet deep, had a roof of virgin cotton-wood logs hewed in Blanco Canyon and covered with sod. The front wall was also sod. The interior of the dugout was divided into two rooms by a calico curtain strung on a wire; the front room served as a combined living room and bed room; the back room was a combined dining room and kitchen. The living room boasted a fireplace dug out of solid wall, but the chimney had to be curved to avoid the projection of a stone. And this sometimes interfered with the draft and caused the chimney to smoke. In one corner of this room was a large unremovable stone that rose a few inches above the floor level. But this was not noticeable as Mr. Duncan built a frame bedstead of lumber over it. Mrs. Duncan stuffed their mattress with sweet grass that grew so luxuriantly on the banks of White River. Their furniture was primitive: The dining table was improvised from wooden boxes, and a plank used as a bench substituted for chairs. After the invasion of barbed wire, these large spools served as chairs for the front room. But the main piece of living-room furniture was the man's saddle, lying in a corner on the dirt floor. Probably the unsightly appearance of these floors was the reason that Mrs. Duncan remembered as long as she lived the beauty of Blanco Canyon, carpeted as it was so attractively with varied-colored wild buttercups, daisies, wild gentian, onions and loco.

The wind moaned around this dugout in tones as eerie as the wailing of a banshee and as lonely as the call of the mourning dove. And this lonely isolation engendered in them a matchless hospitality to friend and stranger. They hungrily welcomed company not by a kiss on the side of the head but by a buss smack in the mouth, regardless of what each mouth contained. For germs had not reached the Plains as evidenced by the fact that children and adults were so healthy that a doctor could not survive here even though mothers masticated their babies' food and children chewed each other's wax.

But just as befalls us today, these homesteaders had deplorable accidents when guests were present: For example, a Methodist minister announced that he would hold a brush-arbor camp meeting in Blanco Canyon as long as Christians were interested and sinners were convicted and crying for mercy. A population of two or three dozen people came from a distance of twenty miles to attend this revival. And Mr. and Mrs. Duncan hospitably invited the minister and several others to their dugout for breakfast. Just as they were ready to sit down to a delicious meal, a steer walked over the top of the dugout. One of his feet penetrated the roof. And the table and "victuals" were covered with sod. The meal was postponed until unperturbed Mrs. Duncan could remove all signs of dirt from the table and prepare another breakfast of sourdough bread, mutton, wild-currant jelly, wild-plum butter and wild-grape pie with coffee.

In these early days, there were few camp meetings as the itinerant preacher often held his service in a dugout. These homesteaders did not talk much about religion, but they lived it in their ministry of feeding the weary wayfarer, of taking the stranger in, of caring for the sick, and in their lack of fear. Men and women did not fear anything. Men had to leave their families and go to far-away towns for provisions or lumber. And the women had the courage to stay at home with their children. And thoroughbreds that they were, they did not whimper or complain.

One day when Mr. Duncan had gone to Colorado City to sell his wool, some men who resented the coming of the nestor rode up to the Duncan dugout and tried to drive this pioneer family away by frightening Mrs. Duncan with threats if they did not leave. Mrs. Duncan stood in their doorway, their shot gun cocked in her hand and told them: if they ever came near her home again or even threatened them in any way, she would use the gun on them. They were not molested again. But one of their most testing times was just before the birth of their second child.

Mr. Duncan received a subpoena to appear as a witness in Federal Court in El Paso, Texas. He had to go or pay a fine of fifty dollars. As he did not have the fifty dollars, he reluctantly went. While he was gone, the baby was born. Without the luxury of a hospital or an attending physical or nurse but with only her mother-in-law to officiate, Mrs. Duncan went down into the valley of the shadow of death to give birth to the first girl born in Floyd County. She was born in a caul. This was regarded as an omen of good luck for the child. Whether such a birth has any significance or not, Maude E. Duncan has a most charming personality and has succeeded in everything she has undertaken.

Two other daughters were born to Mr. and Mrs. Duncan in the six and a half years they lived in this dugout. And they moved into a two-room house in Floydada when the town was founded in 1890. The new home had window panes of glass which were curiosities to the children who had never seen a glass window. The Psalmist has said, "As arrows in the hand of a mighty man; so are children of the yow. Happy is the man that has his quiver full of them." Mr. and Mrs. Duncan had a quiver of ten children, which they happily regarded as a heritage of the Lord.

In the following years, Mr. Duncan was most active in the development of this part of the Staked Plains. Before Floyd and Crosby were organized as separate counties, Mr. Duncan was appointed Justice of the Peace of these counties. And with this office came the appellation SQUIRE Duncan. After the organization of Floyd County, he was elected county judge - an office he filled for twenty years at a salary of forty dollars per month. He read law until he became very proficient in it. And he prospered not only as a realty dealer, a farmer, a stockman but as an abstractor. Today this business is listed in the directory under the name ARTHUR B. DUNCAN ABSTRACT CO. and has been operated by his daughter, Maude E. Duncan Hollums, since his death in 1931.

Though the Duncans moved to Floydada in 1890, they were not the first to build a home in Floydada. J. D. Starks has this distinction. Previously he had lived in a dugout on the Matador Ranch, located just below the caprock, until he chanced to meet the one girl who could capture his heart and change his way of living. Romance came to him as it did to many a lonely man in the early Virginia Colony: To prevent the lonely stag life of the cowboy from becoming too monotonous and unsatisfactory, the Matador Ranch instituted an annual ball and invited to this gala occasion maidens from miles away. It so happened that Ella B. Harrison from LaVaca Co. was one of the beautiful belles. And after dancing ten rounds with her, captivating J. D. Starks proposed that they dance through life together. Ella was willing. They married and built the first house in Floydada in 1890.

These town settlers had to have water. And even before a courthouse was built in Floydada, a deep well was dug on the courthouse square. These pioneers were most resourceful. Mr. Starks nailed a large keg to a sled. And when Mrs. Starks needed water, she would hitch their dog, Quannah, to the sled and command him to go to town. There Mr. Starks would fill the large barrel with water and send Quannah home. A pioneer who lived two miles from the well supplied his family with water from this well by means of a barrel attached to a slide and drawn by two yearlings.

The women were as resourceful as the men. One day Mrs. Starks looked out to see a devastating grass fire sweeping toward her home. She quickly fired against the fire, burning a place so large that the flames swept by each side of her house - leaving it untouched by this enemy. But home tents between her home and town were completely destroyed by the fire.

The pioneer woman was most versatile: She not only reared a large family, cooked, sewed, did the laundry on an old wooden wash board, quilted all their quilts, made all their soap, milked the cows, churned, but it was her chore to gather cowchips for fuel. One homesteader told me that when she first went in search of this fuel, the task was so revolting to her that she wore gloves and picked up only one chip in each hand - holding them as far from her as her arm would reach. But after TIME immunized her to this once-repugnant task, she could stack the chips to her chin and feel no repulsion. The pioneer not only did this menial labor but she could be a career woman and diplomat combined.

For the first postmaster of the homesteaders in Blanco Canyon was a woman, Mrs. H. C. (Elizabeth) Smith, who lived in the Rock House twelve miles from the Duncan's dugout. She was a Scottish lass who had migrated to Fort Griffin to keep house for her brothers. There she met and married H. C. Smith who was born in Baden, Germany, and came to the United States when he was twelve years old. Mr. Smith, who is credited with doing as much as anyone to develop the South Plains, had assisted in acquiring land for a Pennsylvania investor who dreamed of maintaining a preserve for animals in Blanco Canyon. But this investor, who had begun building the Rock House, became involved in debt to Mr. Smith to the extent that the latter acquired the Rock House in payment. He then completed the building. And this two-story house was the mansion of the Plains. In 1879, Uncle Sam designated it Mount Blanco Post Office and appointed Mrs. Smith as postmaster, a position she held for nearly forty years.

Mrs. Smith not only served in this capacity, but she reared five children, performed all her household duties, nursed the sick and twice weekly she served a meal to the stage-coach driver and passengers.

One day when the coach arrived late from Fort Griffin, Mrs. Smith unlocked the pouch, tossed it to her waiting patrons and hurried to place on her table a delicious meal for these chilled hungry passengers. It so happened that a postal inspector was riding the coach that day. And when he saw this postmaster's disposal of her mail, he approached her and asked, "Are you in the habit of handling your mail this way?" "Oh, yes," she answered. "Those men are honest. They would not think of taking a letter or any other mail that does not belong to them."

"Well, I'm sorry. But I shall have to report your irregularity of handling the mail," he replied.

Mrs. Smith's back stiffened and she thrust out her chin, but she said nothing until she had on the table steaming hot coffee, home-cured ham, wild-plum jelly, and hot biscuits galore; then she announced, "All of you come to the table and eat all you want except that inspector over there. He is not going to get one bite."

Now the inspector was hungry. And as he thought of the long, long rough dirt road ahead with no opportunity to eat for hours and hours, he capitulated by promising, "If you will just let me eat, I'll not report you to anyone."

Whereupon Mrs. Smith said, "All right then. Sit and eat." Though Blanco Canyon was the social center for a number of years, as communities grew and schools were established, the school house became the community center. One year at the close of school, the school exercises were held in the evening. After this entertaining program, the visiting itinerant preacher rose and announced that while he had them all together, he would preach to them. As no one objected, he conducted a religious service of some length. After his benediction, the parents deposited their sleeping children on pallets or in the wagons and danced the square dance until morning. A not unusual evening for these sparsely settled pioneers.

The wind came in the spring and maliciously threw down their tent homes; then it tantalizingly and playfully tumbled hats and tubs just beyond the reach of those who pursued them. In summer droughts came and parched all growths; in winter there were icy flakes of snow so dense that children lost their way home from school. Yet these homesteaders stayed on. For as they sat on their dugout doorsteps and crooned to luscious babies above the plaintive song of the cowboy, the howl of the coyote, and the bark of the prairie dog, they could hear the tramp-tramp-tramp of advancing civilization. And somehow they envisioned the luscious strawberry, and purple grape, and amber wheat, the snowy cotton and the golden maize this land would one day produce for their babes grown to manhood and womanhood. And today in this West, this prosperous West, their vision is a reality and their dreams have come true. Hallowed be their memory.

Graphic Fire Demonstration Held At Jr. High

Fires don't just happen—they are caused, Joe Smetana, Safety Director of the Texas Farm Bureau, pointed out in a graphic fire demonstration held April 20 at Floyddada Junior High School. He went on to name the three causes for most fires: "men, women and children."

In the 45-minute program Smetana used a variety of demonstration equipment and materials placed on tables 16 feet in length to dramatize seven basic facts about fire, its use, and control: (1) What fire is; (2) How to control fires; (3) The fact that nothing is fire-proof; (4) Kitchen fires and their control; (5) Fuel vapors; (6) The power of petroleum products; and (7) Household wiring and overloaded electrical circuits.

Using a "fire triangle board," Smetana illustrated that fire is like a three-legged stool — it can't work with one of the legs missing. The "legs" fire depends on are (1) fuel, (2) heat, and (3) air. He stated that in American homes these three things come together in deadly and destructive combination every 57 seconds — an average of 1,500 home fires every day, causing more than 5,000 deaths in home fires every year.

Creating quite a loud explosion from one single drop of gasoline, Smetana stated that one gallon of gasoline contains approximately 155,000 drops and under ideal conditions, could produce an explosion force equal to the power of at least 30 sticks of dynamite.

After demonstrating how fires can be caused by overloaded electrical circuits and improper fusing, Smetana pointed out that many fires of this type are blamed on faulty wiring. He suggested that "faulty thinking" is involved more often than "faulty wiring."

The demonstration, which was brought to the Floyddada Junior High School under the sponsorship of the Floyddada County Farm Bureau, is part of a long-range fire prevention program now being conducted by the Texas Farm Bureau Safety Department. The demonstration has been presented over 400 times for some 125,000 people.

Andy Hale assisted Smetana.

during the demonstration as the school's Junior Fire Marshal. Special guests of the school at the assembly program were Bill Feuerbacher, City Manager; J. W. Cannon, Ass't. Fire Chief; John Reue, Chamber of Commerce Manager; Sam Puckett, Service Agent, Floyddada County Farm Bureau; O. N. Bertrand, Vice-President, Floyddada County Farm Bureau.

23-COUNTY AREA

1966 Gin Report Off 42 Per Cent

Cotton ginnings in the 23-county South Plains area from this crop totaled 1,278,616 "running" bales according to a tabulation issued Saturday by the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. This compares with 2,204,897 bales ginned in 1965.

The reduction of 926,281 bales represents a cut of 42.1 per cent.

Cotton Fanning, PCC executive assistant, who compiled the area totals from figures just issued by the U.S. Census Bureau, blamed the production cut on two major factors.

"Average planted to cotton in 1966 under the newly initiated cotton program dropped 28.2 per cent from 1965," he pointed out.

Adverse weather, including heavy rains and low temperatures in late August and September and a killing freeze that hit much of the area in mid-October, also took a heavy toll, he noted.

Only one area county, Howard, showed an increase in production. It is in the southern portion of the area and didn't have the early freeze damage that hit much of the South Plains.

Timely rains in Howard, where nearly all the cotton is produced under dryland conditions, contributed to a 23.5 per cent boost in ginnings.

Production cuts in other area counties ranged from a low of 12.2 per cent in Dawson to 65.6 per cent in Briscoe.

A final production report, based on 500-pound bale equivalents, will be issued by the Census Bureau in June. The running bale totals represent actual ginnings.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ABOUT EGGS

1. What is the best method for preparing hard-cooked eggs?

Place the eggs in cold water on the range; bring water to a boil, then turn off heat. Keep eggs in the hot water for 15 minutes, then cool them promptly in running cold water. Some eggshells will crack during cooking; to prevent this, drill or punch a small hole through the large end of the shell.

2. Why are some hard-cooked eggs difficult to peel?

Eggs that have been stored for several days will usually peel easily when hard-cooked. As eggs are stored, they lose carbon dioxide and become easier to peel when hard-cooked.

3. Why do some hard-cooked eggs have discolored yolks?

Eggs cooked at too high temperatures, for too long a time, or which were not cooled rapidly after cooking may have a greenish coating around the yolks. It comes from the sulphur and iron compounds in the egg. Eggs with the greenish coating are wholesome and their nutrition and flavor are unaffected.

4. Is shell color important?

The only difference between brown eggs and white eggs is the shell itself! The color of the shell is determined by the breed of the hen. If hens have been fed the same ration, the eggs will have all the same qualities, regardless of color; nutritional value, keeping quality, whipping and cooking characteristics remain the same.

5. Should egg whites be white?

Greenish or straw-colored whites are usually due to the riboflavin in the white. There is nothing "wrong" with slightly colored whites. Riboflavin is certainly an essential nutrient in our diets.

6. Are yolks lighter in color than they used to be?

Sometimes. Yolk color depends upon the feed of the hens. Birds that have access to grass or have alfalfa or yellow corn in their diet tend to produce dark-colored eggs. Most commercial laying hens are raised in pens and produce lighter yolked eggs. Yolk color does not affect the nutrient value of cooking characteristics.

7. What are the stringy white pieces in egg whites?

A perfectly normal component of an egg, the chalaza is the thick, white, ropelike material that appears on opposite sides of the yolk during formation of the egg. It anchors the yolk in the thick white. The presence of prominent chalaza indicates a high quality egg. Chalazas are not evidence of fertile eggs as some people believe. They are normal, wholesome parts of the egg white.

8. Are eggs always wholesome?

Eggs stored in a soiled condition, which become cracked or are otherwise mishandled, may become contaminated with bacteria. Even then, unless they are actually spoiled, adequate cooking makes them safe to eat.

Eggs will support bacterial growth if they are not refrigerated or handled properly. Cracks in eggs permit the entry of bacteria which thrive on egg meat. If eaten raw or partially cooked, such eggs may cause illness. Cracked or checked eggs should be used at once in foods thoroughly cooked. Food poisoning outbreaks are always the result of mishandled foods. Eggs are one of the easiest foods to cook safely.

The operation was launched on the theory that national Viet Cong political and military headquarters might be located in the area along the Cambodian border.

The finding of the largest enemy encampments in the war tend to support the theory.

Meeting little VC resistance, the operation has been successful in the confiscation of large quantities of food and arms.

'I Am a Tired Housewife'

BY MRS. J. P. STRICKLAND

Wife Of The Assistant Principal In A Public School In Reno, Nevada
(Reprinted From The March 27, 1967, Issue Of "U.S. News & World Report")

I AM A tired house wife.

I am tired of trying, in this land of abundant food, to balance my budget when milk prices jump three cents on the half-gallon, and meat which was 69c per pound goes to 89c in just one week's time.

I am tired of staying home while my husband burns the midnight oil studying, so that he can make the next pay step-up—only to find these added earnings gobbled up by increased taxes and rising living costs.

I am tired of "experts" calling conscientious mothers neurotic for insisting that their offspring toe the line.

I'm tired of attorneys and social workers and courts who continue to hand down candy-coated sentences because, they claim, the poor dear hoodlum wasn't brought up in the right environment—that half the world would be envious to share.

I'm tired of the cement deserts swallowing up lovely trees and making pensioners homeless—all in the name of bulldozer-type progress or codifying accommodations.

All The 'isms'

I'M TIRED OF hearing of all the "isms" which are supposed to take the place of the ideals and ideas propounded by our God-fearing forefathers, who died that we might be free. I'm tired of having these liberties taken away from my children step-by-step in the name of social benefits.

I'm tired of being told that it's sissy or old hat to believe in God's Way, and that God is dead.

I'm also tired of hearing that Christmas carols shouldn't be part of a school concert.

I'm tired of seeing our police officers ridiculed and criminals exalted during riots and "marches."

I am tired of begging people to help me in the home—then having them turn me down because they might miss an unemployment check.

I am tired of intermittent phone calls during the day and night by some quack who took offense at a letter penned to the local newspaper. I get especially tired when my youngsters are awakened from naps by this or by advertising or soliciting over my private line.

I'm tired of being told that my work is easy because I have modern appliances in place of a real live maid and that my tiredness from 16 or more hours of labor in my home is caused by my not having enough outside interests.

In fact, I'm tired of not having time to see perfection in my household tasks because the demands of my time to civic causes take up so many hours, yet accomplish little because of constant bickering over chairmanships or protocol.

How Selfish We Are

I'M TIRED OF texts which my children bring home from school telling how wonderful world government will be and how selfish the U.S.A. is, not to give away everything she has earned by the sweat of her brow.

I'm tired of answering begging calls or receiving piles of "gimmee" mail even after giving generously to the United Fund. My feet are sore from helping out at rummage sales and the like to raise money for things which my husband's tax money is supposed to cover.

I'm tired, tired, tired of the idea that sex education is a panacea for every ill under the sun.

I am sick and tired of the "better" women's magazines thinking they have to have an article on sex in each current issue.

I'm tired of having to run to turn off my radio when smutty jokes come over the air, often under the guise of folk songs.

I'm also tired of having to censor my current magazines before letting my youngsters read them.

I'm tired of improving my property by painting and adding new fixtures, only to have my taxes doubled because of those improvements.

Hurt Look Of Children

I'M TIRED OF seeing the hurt look in the eyes of my children when they wear half-soled shoes to school while playmates whose parents are "on the dole" get shiny new shoes to flaunt.

I'm tired of seeing people who have saved diligently being penalized for their thrift while the ne'er-do-well is coddled with unearned benefits.

Yes, I'm sick and tired of seeing people with initiative and good old Yankee ingenuity pushed around while loafers are being paid to be slothful. I'm sick of this modern psychology which is so different from the Golden Rule and the Book of Proverbs.

I am tired of seeing this once wonderful God-fearing nation bowing to Satan's whims, but I am not too tired to pray.

Letter To The EDITOR

Mr. Tooley,

I would like to impose on you one more time and try to say a few things about pioneer day change in plans for dinner that day. I never have approved of our way of serving special ones and other root hog or die. Get your meal anyway you could, or do without. That is not the pioneer spirit. If I went to your place of abode and you only had black eye peas and a jack rabbit I was welcome to part of it and I do not remember of anyone refusing to participate. I do not mean that I knew of anyone being that low on variety, but the spirit of neighborliness prevailed. Most everyone raised gardens and they flourished where watered from our windmills. Could go beyond Caprock and get plums and grapes which grew wild there. Occasionally get a wild turkey or a bear which furnished meat which divided amongst neighbors. For a few years plenty of antelope for all who could get them and they were really good eating when fat. Get part of a beef in summer time which would keep for days hung under table of windmill tower in shade. In winter keep until eaten up. Did not have so many flies nor weeds to contend with. They came with the petty thief later on. We managed to get some staple groceries by getting all together - did not go hungry much of the time.

Many claim that the bold pioneer deserved something extra and give him a free dinner. Our way of doing for some years had taken those bold hardy pioneers of 1910, 1915 and so on who were neither pioneer nor old settler.

Many seem to think it an honor to be entitled to free dinner; maybe so. I have said all along that if I was one of the special few I would participate but did not approve of the plan. I said feed as an association, all or none. Some said could not feed all free - cost too much. I said I'd rather have a cracker and glass of water and all welcome to same and to go further. The $600 guaranteed for food for 400 people would pay for many hamburgers or similar cost food, which I would enjoy eating knowing you entitled to same.

You who complain about being beaten out of a free dinner - how much have you paid in to make it possible for your free dinner? I too have paid in very little but do think been more than cost of my free dinner. The main part of this money came from business people in Floydada and Lockney and where did this $600 go? To Fort Worth, I think. The plan this year as I understand it we guarantee $500 for 400 plates of barbecue and plenty to go with it and when the 400 dinners paid by individuals are taken then anyone who has $1.25 and a desire to exchange it for a full meal can do so and not have to go somewhere else to get eats. This money goes to our neighbor, Plainview, not so far away, and I would hope for next year a plan can be worked out so Floyd County in some way can prepare and serve the dinner and at about $1.00 per plate.

As to entertainment during the time I feel too much publicity is given to the dance or at least not enough to Sunday School and preaching or the religious side. Guess this our fault. True, often had dances, also Sunday School and preaching in those days. Had no telephone, radio, TV nor many other things we have today. Just about anything to draw a crowd was attended by about everybody, for sometimes people got lonely. The old cowboys had name of being a tough class. This in some ways correct, but when attending church of any kind showed more respect than so many do today. No running in and out as many do today. They respected any lady, old or young who conducted herself in a way that deserved such and dealt roughly with any man who did otherwise.

As to pioneers deserving some special recognition as a free dinner, why did we not set somewhere around 1900 as a dividing line, for no one who came later than about that date would then claim to be a pioneer or old settler and let that stand on and on and be fewer each year and finally eliminate itself, instead of growing bigger as years came on, as we've been doing?

As to a lot of things I have said, you do not agree with me, but what of that? Neither do I agree with you, so we are equal there. So let us go on and be friends. Often people do not agree, but the two men talking: one said, if all men were like me they would have wanted my wife; and the other said, if all were like me, she would have had to be an old maid.

Let us all try to be here May 27th and enjoy the privilege for it might be our last until we reach that home we prepared ourselves for and all we have to do is accept what our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ has prepared for us. All necessary to do to go to the other place is do nothing. Hope to meet you May 27th. Respectfully,
J. T. McLain

FLOYD PHILOSOPHER

Postal Service And Farming Are Alike - Neither Makes A Profit

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm turns his attention to the post office department in his letter this week.

Dear editor:

I was standing by my mail box out here on the road alongside this Johnson grass farm the other morning waiting for the mail carrier, I don't know about city people, but there's one thing we people in the country can depend on - that's the arrival of the mail man without fail six days a week, practically always on the dot except on the days he's over-burdened with a lot of free circulars and soap samples - and sure enough he wheeled into sight and pulled up and while he didn't have any mail for me he handed me a newspaper he said he was through with and I thanked him and came on back to the house and looked it over.

An article that caught my eye at once was one reporting the Postmaster General, Lawrence O'Brien, has suggested that the Post Office Department be taken over by a government corporation manned by experts. He figured that if the post office is run like a big industrial outfit, with no politics involved and modern techniques installed, the service would improve and the department would stop losing so much money.

Of course, what it would then cost to mail a letter or a package wasn't mentioned. Maybe the post office department should be put on a paying basis, but it was, somebody would come along and suggest that Congress be put on a paying basis, and you know what all would then break loose.

There are some things in life you just don't expect to show a financial profit, like the post office, Congress, the highways, the penitentiary, the state legislature, the chamber of commerce, Boy Scouts, the P.T.A., foreign aid, marriage, etc.

In fact, while I guess the post office department could be improved, I have always considered it somewhat like farming. They're both public service institutions and you're not supposed to make a profit from either.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Dimmitt Farmer Makes Top Yield With DeKalb Sorghum

A new farm and hall damage from three separate storms during the growing season failed to stop Billy Lytal of Dimmitt, Texas from turning in another record yield in DeKalb's Sorghum Master's Club. His yield of 9984.79 lbs. per acre was the top yield out of 206 entries from seven states in 1966.
 Lytal also had the highest yield in the Sorghum Master's Club in 1965, 10,521 lbs. He had set his goal for 11,000 lbs. in 1966 and may have made it had the weather cooperated. He is shooting for 11,000 lbs again in 1967.
 Lytal also had the highest yield in the Sorghum Master's Club in 1965, 10,521 lbs. He had set his goal for 11,000 lbs. in 1966 and may have made it had the weather cooperated. He is shooting for 11,000 lbs again in 1967.

Billy Lytal of Dimmitt, Texas feels 11,000 lb. yields are within reach. He is shooting for this level of production in 1967.

The entire 198 acres of sorghum on Lytal's farm averaged 6300 lbs. per acre in 1966. The base yield on this farm in past years had been 3500 lbs. Lytal expects to bring the farm average over 7000 lbs. in 1967.
FORMULA FOR TOP YIELDS
 High Fertility—Lytal applied 123 lbs. of actual nitrogen in 1966 as anhydrous ammonia. At the present time he is making plans for a complete soil test to solve any soil deficiencies which may be present. In addition, he plans to make fertilizer application in 1967 adequate to meet his over-all farm goal of 7000 lbs. and his top yield goal of 11,000 lbs.
 Population and Row Width—Lytal's top yield came from a field which was planted in eight-inch rows at a rate of 18 lbs. per acre. This population and plant distribution require a lot of water and was not utilized on the entire farm. The remainder of his land was in 40-inch rows planted at the 10-lb. rate. Lytal is considering two-inch rows on 40-inch beds for most of his sorghum acreage in 1967. However, his all-out field will again be in eight-inch rows. Lytal had no difficulty in irrigating the extremely narrow row width even though there were two rows in the furrow.
 Planting and Water Management—Lytal planted his Sorghum Master's Club field on May 20 after a pre-watering. During the growing season, the sorghum was irrigated seven times. The bulk of Lytal's sorghum acreage was irrigated five times. Generally, earlier planting dates have been beneficial in Lytal's high yield efforts. Early planting enables him to plant a full season variety and still harvest comparatively early in the fall.
 Weed Control—Lytal tried two chemicals in 1966, propazine and atrazine. His Sorghum Master's Club field received 1 1/2 lbs. of propazine and no cultivation. This worked so well that he has decided to use propazine on his entire acreage in 1967.
 Hybrid Selection—Lytal chose DeKalb F-65, a short, full season hybrid which adapts well to narrow rows and high seeding rates.
 Two other farmers who have put together the high yield formula on their sorghum acreages are Bill Gentry of Hereford, Texas and Walter Dittberner of Panhandle, Texas. Gentry had a top yield of 9662 lbs. in 1966 and Dittberner turned in a 9387-lb. yield. Both farmers used DeKalb F-65. Gentry has a total of 540 sorghum acres and maintains a high over-all farm yield level year after year. Dittberner is also a high yield veteran. In 1964 he harvested 10,423 lbs. per acre and in 1966 received the Sorghum Efficiency Award presented annually by the Ford Motor Company.
 Lytal, Gentry and Dittberner have proven that high sorghum yields are no accident. They are instead the product of careful planning and preparation. All three of these farmers plan on high yields at planting time, not hope for high yields at harvest.

The sixth annual Floydada Golf Partnership Tournament begins today with 16 flights for the three day tournament at the Country Club.

Teams will be placed in flights by combined handicaps. The winners will receive $125.00 gift certificate, runners-up will receive a $75.00 gift certificate and consolation winners will receive $35.00 gift certificate.

Each contestant will receive a free golf ball.

The field is limited to the first 64 paid teams.

The first and championship flights begin with a shotgun start at 1 p.m.

The second and third flights begin with a shotgun start at 8 a.m.

Persons desiring any other information should call Bobby Westfall, club pro at the Country Club.

Defending champions are Melvin Best and Doug Ehle.

BULLETIN

If you're planning on entering the Partnership Golf Tournament... forget it. Golf Pro Bobby Westfall reports he has 64 teams entered.

However, he said he would take ten teams on standby basis in case some of the entries failed to show up.

Westfall has changed the style of play in the championship flight. These 16 teams will play low ball, not low total and low ball and the field will be cut to eight teams for the final 36 holes Sunday.

Chadwick Takes Snow In Drag Race; Sets New Record

A big following of Floydada community racing fans saw high school girls' basketball coach Kelly Chadwick nose out Fort Worth's Gene Snow Sunday at the Amarillo Dragway.

Chadwick's "Wild Thang" Camaro set a new track record of 166 miles per hour in a quarter of a mile.

Snow won the first race, Chadwick the second and third. Chadwick's 8.80 seconds (166 miles per hour) bettered Snow's previous record of 9.01 and 162 MPH by a substantial margin.

Snow and Chadwick will race under the Lone Star standard against California's "Flying Dutchman" and Hayden Proffitt next month.

Snow, prior to Sunday's races, had never lost a scheduled race at Amarillo Dragway in the two years since he first began his funny car career with his now famous little "Rambunctious" Dodge Dart.

CHADWICK COMMENTS ON DRAG RACE

I will try to answer some of the questions that so many people have asked about the race at Amarillo Sunday.

The big difference was made, of course on the final run, when we changed tires on the car and went to the new Goodyears. The tires we were using on the first two races simply would not hold the horse power that the car produced. I couldn't control the car very well because it was the same as if you were driving on ice in a normal car.

Don and I were extremely happy with the last 2 races under the circumstances. The 8:80 - 166.75, broke all funny car records at Amarillo. It was also the fastest miles per hour ever recorded by a Chevrolet in the U. S. We know the car will run faster at a lower altitude, so we are looking for 170 at New Orleans this weekend.

Last Saturday night at Houston the Chevy II beat Art Malone in a new 2,000 lb. Mustang 3 straight. This was quite an accomplishment, since the Chevy II weighs 2400 lbs. The best time for it at Houston was 9:21 - 152 MPH. We hope to have it running 8:90 - 158-160 before the summer is over. I believe the Camaro is capable of 8:20 - 175 before the season is finished.

I would like to thank all the people who came to Amarillo Sunday. It certainly makes a person feel better to know that people are interested in how we do.

We, along with Gene Snow will be running at Amarillo May 21, representing the State of Texas vs California in the funny car ranks. This is quite an honor. We hope to run 8:50 - 170 that week and load those Prune Pickers up and send them home. To hear them talk, they are the only state with any fast cars.

SOUTH PLAINS NEWS by Mrs. Murray Julian

SOUTH PLAINS, April 24 — Many farmers were planting feed this past week, and a few have had that is up. This Monday morning several places have reported a low of 30 degrees, so cotton planting will be put off a few days until the weather and ground warms.

Mrs. Henry Love, who formerly lived near our community, but who now lives in Floydada, fell Tuesday at her home, and sustained a broken hip. She is in the Methodist Hospital at Lubbock.

Mrs. Bill Beedy of Claude spent Tuesday to Thursday here with Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Beedy, Mark and Todd. They were working on new curtains for the ranch home of Mrs. Bill Beedy. Sunday dinner guests of the Eugene Beedys were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Jackson of McCoy, and Mrs. Beedy's sister, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dunn of Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Johnson, Denise and Denise, Shari and Carlton went to Pampa Sunday after church to have supper and spend the afternoon with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Johnson, and sisters there in Pampa.

Tuesday at 8:15 a.m. all the workers and leaders for the Vacation Bible Schools will meet at the Baptist Church to go to Plainview for the day for a Vacation Bible School clinic. Time for the Bible Schools will be announced at a later date.

Visitors at Baptist morning Sunday services were Mrs. Eugene Byrd and children of Stanton, Mrs. Leonard Moore and children from Monett, Mo., and Mrs. Steele Deavenport and Sherre, of Boulder, Colo. Only 82 were registered for Sunday School, with others coming in for church. Remember choir practice, under Don Brashear, will be after church services each Sunday night. The choir is working on "King of Kings," and everyone should make plans to be there.

Sunday dinner guests with Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Upton at their home in South Plains were members of her family, Mr. and Mrs. Zach Cummings, Mr. and Mrs. Elster McLeod, Mr. and Mrs. Hilburn Casey, Mrs. Jack Calahan, all from Lockney, and Miss Giron Calahan from Simsboro, Louisiana. Sunday afternoon visitors with all of them were Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Karr and daughter, Mrs. Steele Deavenport and Sherre, from Colorado who are visiting here with them, and Jimmy Upton from WT at Canyon and his fiancée, Miss Vicki Johnson of Floydada.

We are proud to learn that the Lockney Junior High Band who went to Lubbock Saturday for the Interscholastic meet won a 1st in sight-reading, and a 2nd in concert. Shari Johnson is a member of the band from here.

We are sorry to learn of the accident which happened to J. Ronald Taylor at his homestead on Sunday afternoon about 2:30. He had been helping the Taylor brothers brand most of the week, and had not been on his horse, and attempting to ride him that afternoon, was thrown off, and sustained a broken collar bone. He is in the Lockney Hospital but hopes to be able to go home this Monday or Tuesday.

The Taylor brothers branded cattle Thursday and Saturday of last week, and as their rule, they invited the Lockney Foreign Exchange student, Paul Goss from Italy, to spend the day at the branding. Paul attended, with his host, Durward Jack, with whom he lives in Lockney. He was also there for the barbecue which they serve at the all day working of the cattle.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Newton drove back to Monett, Mo. last Saturday to bring their daughter, Mrs. Leonard Moore and children here to spend this past week, so she could pack her belongings, and get things ready to move. Her husband, Leonard Moore, plans to come for his family this next weekend, and they will move everything to their new home in Monett. Mrs. Eugene Byrd and children, another daughter of the Newtons, came up for the weekend to visit with Mrs. Moore and her parents, the Newtons.

Mrs. George Weast was a house guest with Mr. and Mrs. Frank McClure Friday night. Dinner guests with Mr. and Mrs. Don Marble Sunday were her mother, Mrs. R. L. Holland of Lockney and Mrs. Marble's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holland and Lee of Lubbock.

Terry Julian and his brother-in-law, Harold Althof from Roscoe were dinner guests and afternoon visitors in the home of Terry's parents, the Murray Julians Tuesday noon. They had been to Muleshoe, Tex. on a business trip. They also visited the Kendis Julians at their home.

Mrs. Charles Conger went to Halfway Wednesday to visit with her sister, Mrs. David Cannon and family and spent the day with them.

Murray Julian spent Wednesday in Lubbock at the Farmers Cooperative Congress at a school which was held from ten o'clock until four, for managers and directors of cotton gins.

Best wishes to parents and grandparents as a new little girl was born on Monday afternoon 6:21, April 17, to Mr. and Mrs. Barry Kinslow of Amarillo, at the Neblett Hospital in Canyon. She was named Jennifer Kay, and is their first child, and the first grandchild here for Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Kinslow. They have been up several times to see the new baby girl, and Mrs. Kinslow is staying in Amarillo with them at this time. Jennifer weighed 7 lbs. and 4 oz.

Dinner guests with Mr. and Mrs. Kendis Julian Sunday were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Poyner Roberts, and Mrs. Julian's aunt, Mrs. Benno Wilson from Roaring Springs.

Mrs. Tom Respondek was taken to the Lockney Hospital Thursday and underwent major surgery Friday. She is getting along fine, and her mother from Slaton is here staying in the home with the children, as is Mary Respondek, who has been living in Lubbock the past year. Mrs. Respondek was to have come home Saturday.

Mrs. Walter Wood is still confined to her home with a sprained ankle, but she will soon be able to get out.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Mulder and Cindy spent the past week end in Vaughn, N.M. with Cathy's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Blalock. They arrived home Sunday night from their trip.

Twenty-five young people and sponsors went to Lubbock Friday night to see "The Bible" at the Winchester Theatre. Sponsors were Mr. and Mrs. Philip Smitherman, Mr. and Mrs. Kendis Julian, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvain Kinnibrugh, and Rev. and Mrs. Chas. Conger. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hamm accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Leighton Teeple of Plainview left Sunday morning on a fishing trip. They planned to go in to Old Mexico to fish and be back Wednesday night. Mrs. Gaines Teeple is staying here with Arlaine and Jeaneva Hamm.

The volleyball tournament which went on all through last week in Floydada at Junior High School was sponsored by the 1956 Study Club, of which Mrs. Eugene Beedy is a member. The men's team, Parks Oil, won 1st in the tournament, and the women's team, South Plains

Co-op, won second place. Mrs. Beedy spent much of last week at the tournament, and played several times. The group played Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights.

Kelly Smitherman went to Palo Duro Canyon, near Amarillo, on Saturday with the Floydada Science Club on a field trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvie Jackson of Floydada had Sunday dinner here with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Smitherman, Kelly and Brynn. Mrs. Betty Weast came Sunday and stayed until Friday at the house of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McClure. They took her home to her daughters, Mrs.

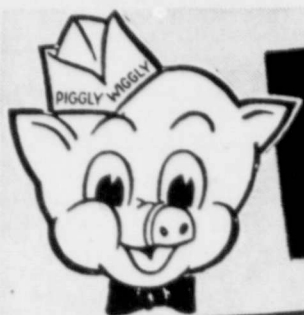

Kenneth Jones, in Abernathy on Friday night and attended the senior play, "One Wild Night," in which Mrs. Weast's granddaughter, Karen Jones, played.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hartman from Irving, near Dallas, arrived Saturday to spend the weekend here with James' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hartman and with friends.

Kenneth Young, 5 year old son of the Travis Youngs had a case of the red measles last week, but is fine at this time.

Mrs. R. E. Young, who has been in the hospital at Plainview and at Lockney several days lately, got to come home Saturday and is getting along fine, we are glad to hear.

Tillman Powell and Mrs. Bob and Steve Lamm, Texas, arrived day night for the Powell family. They had dinner with the Flotcher Powells, Glenda Dean, daughter of the Powell family, at the home of Mrs. Wayne Powell. Mrs. Wayne Powell had had so much they were unable to fields.
