(by Melvin Mathis)

The Floyd County Migrant Health Project is still very much in the beginning stages, having its official opening May 15. Offices are established on the second floor of the county courthouse, and when the inquiring reporter came around on Monday of this week they had had a phone for all of three days (YU3-5371).

Dr. Jack G. Jordan is Medical Director for this work, and is assisted by two registered nurses, a sanitarian, and secretary. Mrs. Evelyn Ulmer, R. N., will work with Lockney and the north side of the county, while Mrs. Jack G. Jordan, R. N., is assigned to the southern half of the county, including Floydada. Mrs. Beverly Kincer is secretary of the new project. She is married to Dale Kincer, who works for the Quanah, Acme, and Pacific, and for the Post Office. They have been in this community for seven years. They have three children, aged 6, 7, and 8. Activity In Dougherty And Lakeview Areas

By Wendell Tooley Although the ground is plenty wet, the 1967 wheat harvest is off to a good start in the southern part of Floyd County. The largest amount of activity seems to be in the Dougherty and Lakeview areas. Dryland wheat is making all the way from nothing to 20 bushels per acre. The late freeze, the strong April winds and spotted moisture make the wheat harvest yield very irregular all over the county.

The first load of wheat came to market about a week earlier than last year. However some fields are still green. . . and harvest could continue through the month.

The local wheat market Wednesday was $1.55 per bushel. This combined with the government wheat warrants should bring a price of around $2.00 per bushel. Wheat price last year this time was around $1.65 per bushel. ROW CROP CONDITIONS

The row crop is growing off well all over the county except dada where hail destroyed most of the cotton, onions and peppers and thinned out the grain sorghum stand.

The hailed out farmers of course are trying to get back into wet fields and get the cotton replanted as soon as possible.

WEATHER REPORT Insurance agents are taking little for granted these days. They are busy with handling claims of hail and wind damage on property, and are checking out every policyholder as to losses sustained in the recent stormy weather. On Monday afternoon of this week it was estimated that from fifty to sixty percent of the homes in the Floydada area were affected to some degree up to that time. At Reid Conoco on the Lockney Highway they were quite puzzled as to the caving in of a 3 1/2 foot section of concrete blocks serving as a partition in the office area. Whether the Sunday night rain, or the wind, or a combination of the two, SEE HARVEST PAGE 8

Hospital Board Selects Administrator

According to a report from the Caprock Hospital District board of directors this week an administrator has been employed for the new hospital and he will begin his duties July

He is H. E. Barnett, who has been administrator of the Parmer County Memorial Hospital at Friona for the past nine

He is a graduate of Washburn University at Topeka, Kansas. He is a former football coach at Washburn, served as a right-of-way agent for Phillips Petroleum Company and was employed by General Motors prior to his work at Barnett is an Air Force veteran of World War II and the Korean war, retiring with the rank of Major.

The Barnetts are Methodists, have one married daughter who lives in Irving. In a telephone conversation with Barnett Tuesday, he told a Hesperian reporter that he was looking forward to moving to Floydada and becoming administrator of the new hospital.

It appears now that the new hospital will not open until September or October. The new administrator will begin organization of staff and work with chamber of commerce officials and the hospital board in finding more doctors.

It has been announced by the Parish Council of Saint Mary Magdalen Catholic Church that permission has been obtained from the Priest's Senate of the Diocese of Amarillo, allowing the Floydada Parish to begin construction on a new Church and Educational Center in town. Permission was secured at a special meeting of the Priest's Senate in Amarillo on Tuesday, June 6 after they viewed specifications of the structure and considered a special report prepared and submitted to them by the Parish Council. The new Church, Church Hall and Educational Center will be erected on the Church grounds located at the southeast corner of Wall and Tennessee Streets, The Educational Center, with its front entrance facing on Tennessee Street, and measuring 36 feet by 110 feet overall, will be connected in an "L" shape with the Church structure itself which will face South Wall Street and which will measure 36 feet by 80 feet, with a capacity for four-hundred worshipers. The Church Hall area, located at the elbow of the structure, will contain 1384 square feet of floor space and will include a fully equipped kitchen with ranges, large sink, water heater, refrigerator, and cabinets, a Church office and two rest rooms.

The Educational Center will have six classrooms, each 15 feet by 20 feet with lighting equal to that in the newest public schools. One of these classrooms will be outfitted to serve as temporary living quarters for the pastor. The remaining five classrooms besides serving in their usual capacity, will also be available for other parish activities. One will serve also as a parish library, another as a kindergarten, another as an apostolic action center, while the remaining rooms will serve also as recreation rooms. Each of the classrooms will have a capacity for 35 stu-

The sanctuary is designed so that it will be a natural focal point from any of the 36 pews in the church. On each side of the sanctuary there will be a room, one of which will serve as the Priest's Sacristy, the other as a utility room.

The entire structure is designed so that future expansion will be facilitated, while the cost for the entire building will be in the vicinity of $50,000.

The brown two-story house now located on the building site will be for sale to be moved Diverted Acreage: In some instances, producers have timely planted and replanted cotton and feed grains without obtaining a satisfactory stand. In the process, chemicals used for weed control have left a residue which makes it impractical to devote the land to subsequent crops for harvest this year. These producers now desire to designate as diverted acreage the land planted to cotton or feed grains which has failed. This would then permit the land initially intended as diverted acreage which is free of chemical residue to be used for production of other crops.

Procedure is being amended to provide that land on which cotton or feed grains were planted but failed and which is classified as cotton or feed grain for purposes of price support payments may be designated as diverted acreage. This will be subject to the county committee determining that:

The cotton or feed grain, as applicable, was planted in a workmanlike manner.

The residue of a chemical used as a weed control makes it impractical to devote the land to a subsequent crop for harvest in the current year.

The farm operator requests that the acreage be classified as cotton or feed grain, as applicable, for purposes of price support payments and also be designated as diverted acreage.

The land designated as diverted will be treated throughout the remainder of the current year in a manner acceptable for diverted acreage in the

SOCIAL SECURITY

By Mancie King

Social Security Representative Q. I am a widow and will be age 60 next month, I understand that I can get my widow's social security benefits at age 60. However, this benefit will be small because my husband did not work under social security very long. I worked under social security for many years until I retired last year, and my own retirement benefit should be higher than the widow's benefit. Am I eligible to apply for benefits on my own account at age 60 because I am a widow?

Retirement benefits on until you are age 62. But you can file for widow's benefit now, and for retirement benefits at age 62. We will be glad to discuss the possibilities fully and help you apply for benefits when you are ready. If you want to apply for widow's benefits please bring your husband's social security number, your own social security number, your marriage certificate, proof of age, and your Form W-2 showing your earnings for 1966.

Heart Attack Claims Former Floydada Man

C, H, (Jack) McNeill, former Floydada resident and brother of V. L. McNeill, Mrs. B. A. Robertson and Mrs. Ray Smith, all of this city, was buried in Floydada Cemetery Friday following funeral rites in the First Methodist Church in Lubbock. McNeill was pronounced dead on arrival at Highland Hospital early Thursday morning of an apparent heart attack.

Mr. and Mrs. McNeill had entertained friends Wednesday night and after retiring he had complained of feeling ill and died a short time later at approximately 3:30 a.m.

The deceased had been a resident of Lubbock for the past 22 years moving there from Floydada. He was a carpenter here and in Lubbock before retiring several years ago.

Survivors include his wife, Irene; one son, Major Royce H. McNeill, stationed at Luke AFB, Arizona; a brother, V. L. of Floydada; and five sisters, Mrs. Robertson and Mrs. Smith of Floydada; Mrs. Milton Ashton of Lockney, Mrs. S. A. Summers of Lubbock and Mrs. R. L. Hawk of Searcy, Ark.

Rick Reddy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Reddy, was able to come home Saturday from a Lubbock hospital where he underwent an emergency appendectomy early last Wednesday morning. His mother reported him doing nicely.

Floyd Philosopher Says

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm gets off on taxes this week, his letter reveals.

I was sitting out here on this Johnson grass farm trying as a public service to think up some new sources of tax revenue which wouldn't affect me - as I understand it, there's nothing this country or any part of it, state, city or school district, can't do if it could only get more money, which fits my situation too, although I can't help mentioning that while politicians are always hunting for new tax revenue, you don't see much thought given to the money for the taxes he's already paying at any rate, to get on with this, I pulled out a copy of The Lubbock Avalanche-Journal I'd been saving to rest my mind on and the first article I noticed was talking about taxes.

According to it, a lot of states are demanding that Washington return to them a part of the income taxes they pay. Under the proposal, Washington would return say 5 or 10 per cent of all the Federal income taxes a state's citizens pay, and the state could use it as it sees fit, maybe to raise school teachers' salaries or policemen's salaries or, failing that, at least to enlarge the

Giving States A Refund On Taxes Would Start A Chain Reaction * * * *

got to thinking about this and I'm afraid has some hitches. In the first place, since Washington isn't making ends meet as it is, the same as me, if it handed back 10 per cent of its revenue to the states, wouldn't Congress then just add 10 per cent more on its take?

Furthermore, if a state got back 10 per cent, wouldn't every county and city in that state start demanding a refund on the taxes they pay to the state?

In turn, wouldn't the state, which is having about as much trouble as me and Washington in making ends meet, then have to add 10 per cent more on the taxes it's collecting? Thus the net result would be a 10 per cent increase in taxes, all up and down the line, which wasn't the aim at all.

Instead of handing refunds back down the line, from Washington to the smallest town and taxing district, has anybody ever thought of just letting us keep the money in the first place?

Floyd To Receive 11.8 More Miles Of FM Paving

The Texas Highway Commission today approved development of 11.8 miles of Farm to Market Roads in Floyd County as part of the 1967 Texas Farm to Market Program.

District Engineer Oscar L. Crain of the Texas Highway Department District Five Office in Lubbock said estimated cost of the work is $245,000.00. The work authorized for this county is part of 949.3 miles of Texas Farm and Ranch to Market Roads earmarked for development in the new program. The program lists 228 projects in 166 counties. Estimated cost is $24.6 million. New mileage included in the program totals 623 miles. Other mileage was previously designated or is being constructed in stages. The additional mileage brings designated Farm and Ranch to Market Roads in Texas to 38.7 thousand miles. This maintained highway mileage of many other States. Plans call for an eventual FM-RM system of 50 thousand miles. Originally conceived to move agricultural products to market the FM system has contributed both to the social and economic well-being of rural areas. For example, 69 per cent of the new mileage included in the program is on school bus routes. Sixty-three per cent of the new mileage is along rural mail delivery routes. According to the Texas Education Agency, 7,800 school buses travel almost 450 thousand miles daily to transport 473 thousand students to school and back home. Many of these students make all or part of their daily trips to school over FM roads.

It is estimated that rural mail carriers travel almost 50 thousand miles a day over FM roads.

Many new reservoirs and other recreational areas are located along the FM-RM system, bringing a new role for the network. The roads afford the recreational traveler an opportunity to get off the beaten track, while continuing to use a modern highway facility.

Cost of construction of FM roads has almost doubled in the last 15 years due to increased traffic and the necessity for designing facilities to accomodate heavier vehicles. Average maintenance costs have climbed more than 80 percent in the same period. The Floyd County paving includes 7.0 miles from US 70, 1.5 miles east of Aiken southwest to end of FM 2883 at Hale County Line and 4.8 miles from FM 579, 4.0 miles west of US 62 to FM 54.

1,234 Workers Here Under SS Earned Taxable Wages

About 1,234 workers in Floyd County's nonfarming businesses earned taxable wages under the old-age, survivors, and disability insurance program, according to the latest edition of County Business Patterns, Mancie King, Social Security Officer-in-Charge in Plainview, said today.

259 reporting units of employers of nonfarm employees covered under the program paid out some $1,137,000 in taxable wages in the county during the first quarter of 1965. The report shows 1 of the employing units reported 100 or more workers each at that time. The largest proportion of employment, 625 workers, was in retail trade, with 197 employed in providing services.

The current edition of County Business Patterns is the 12th in a series showing county and industry statistics based on wage reports filed under the Federal social security prointo 53 parts contained in 53 separate books, one for the United States as a whole and one for each of the 50 States, Washington, D.C., and Puerto Rico, (which includes statistics for the Virgin Islands, American Samoa, and Guam).

The data are uniform and comparable from State to State and county to county and are shown for many kinds of business under the following broad industry groups: agricultural services, forestry, and fisheries; mining; contract construction; manufacturing; transportation and other public utili-ties; wholesale trade; retail trade; finance, insurance and real estate; and services. The publication shows the number and location of workers, the industries in which they are employed, and how much they are paid in taxable earnings. In addition to its use in administering the social security

both industrial and consumer products, is valuable in analyzing market potentials and establishing advertising and sales programs, in analyzing the industrial structure of regional areas, and in making base economic studies of small areas.

Reference copies of "County Business Patterns" may be examined at field offices of the U.S. Department of Commerce, at district and branch offices of the Social Security Administration, and at many public lib-raries. The complete set of 53 books of "County Business Patterns, 1965," may be purchased at a cost of $36,30. Individual books can be obtained at a price ranging from $.40 to $1.75 each. Orders should be sent to the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D.C., or to any U.S. Department of Commerce field office.

It's off to Camp Waldemar again for Misses Connie and Carol Cogdell of the Cedar Hill community, as they board a chartered bus in Lubbock Sunday. The camp, which carries out an Indian theme, is near Hunt, in the vicinity of Kerrville, Texas. Chadwick Continues Winning Streak With Drag Racers Baseball Program Begins

Baseball is in the air! Well, not as much as many would like, because according to persistent rumors, mud and high water have managed to get in the way, right here at the beginning of the program. So bogged down was the early program by the weather, that makeup games on Saturday and at other times as this became feasible, would certainly keep the schedule crowded for quite some time. It might very well be around the last of July before it is finished, but surely most of the boys will be reasonable about this. After all, summer is a good time to play baseball.

HOW HELP? There are many persons required for the successful operation of such an ambitious program as Floydada residents attempt to carry out. There's a head man who serves as president of the baseball association, several vice-presidents operating the various leagues, managers for the teams, umpires, scorers, etc. It's natural to ask, "How can I help?"

Next Tuesday, according to publicity handled by Jeff Glazner, you can go to the Capada Drive-in and see John Wayne star in "Red River." Claude Estes is furnishing the film for this movie, proceeds of which go to the baseball association. Chances are it won't be difficult for you to get a ticket, as team members and individuals connected with the T-Shirt and Freshman Leagues have ample incentives for selling ducats, aside from the help the whole baseball program furnishes in giving recreation to the Caprock area. The team selling the greatest number of tickets will be treated to a hamburger and coke party. The individual selling the greatest number of tickets receives a bike; the second a baseball glove; third, a ball and bat;

Let's start "from the bottom," with the peewees making up the T-Shirt League. These are the 8-9 age boys. Sam Ba-

A.J. Foyt wins "Indy" 500 on Goodyear Tires

New speed record... no tire change

A. J. Foyt rolled his Goodyear tires to victory at an average speed of 151.207 miles per hour. A new track record. Some people consider the Indianapolis 500 the toughest race in the world. For man. For his machine. And for his tires. It takes a lot of tire to take the "500"... Goodyear's "Blue Streak Speedway Specials."

Goodyear developed this ultra wide-tread racing tire. This years triumph at Indy proves its success as A.J. Foyt sped all the way without a tire change.

For your kind of driving, Goodyear introduces anothe winner: "Wide Boots." Goodyear's new Wide Tread tires for your car. With a tread almost one-third wider than the tread on most passenger car tires.

Get "Wide Boots." They're built a lot like racing tires Low. Broad-shouldered.

They start faster. Corner safer. Handle surer. Stop quicker. And they look great.

322 W. California a pleasant and challenging task. When the photographer and the inquiring reporter came along to get apicture and a story, a neighbor dropped in and it was easy to see that she felt at home. 'I have the best neighbors in the world on both sides of me," declared Mrs. Patton, and surely this attitude is a prime reason for this feeling of mutual trust and affection. It seems to take a good neighbor to get one. A great hobby with Mrs. Patton is quilting. When she gets through with one she starts on another. Right now she has an ambition of furnishing each of her nine grandchildren with a quilt. She already has four of the tops finished, and two of the quilts, so she has a number of pleasant hours ahead of her on this self-imposed task. Reared in the Haskell County area, she had lived at Rochester and was residing at nearby O'Brien at the time of her marriage to Roy Patton, who died in March, 1966, and was serving at the time as city judge. She was accustomed to "going to town" at Haskell. They moved to this area in 1916, settling at Lakeview, where he farmed. In 1928 they moved into Floydada, where he became engaged in dairy farming, having been a cotton farmer up into his forties. She pointed out that there was much work in the dairy business, especially before so much of it became mechanized. (This reporter concurs, remembering a few months in the spring of 1939 on a dairy in Coleman County, as well as an entire boyhood in a neighboring county with as many as eleven "fresh" at one time). Mrs. Patton also spends a great deal of time in her yard, which is spacious, as she has a double garage with an apartment over it. It's a very pretty green lawn she has. She does hire some of the work done, however. To show some of the difference in the generations, none of her daughters make quilts, and all belong to study clubs, while she never has belonged to a study club. She explains that she has been so busy with her large family that she hasn't really had the time for other things, though she has been an active, faithful member of First Baptist Church, attending worship services and Sunday

Nell is Mrs. Bates McClung, Mmes, Mc-Clung and Stapleton live here in Floydada, and she declares she doesn't know what she would do without them

All in all, here is a picture of happy woman. It is symbolic of her outlook on life, and of her activities in it, that she has taken part in the sewing of so many "friendship quilts," a term probably unfamiliar to most persons who are less than 35. Of the tasks she has undertaken, some have been quite pleasant, others bothersome, all time-consuming and demanding of her strength. Through them all, and in her friendships, she has woven a meaningful "patchwork of joy," making real the words of the Psalmist, "The lines have fallen to me in pleasant places. Yea, I have a goodly heritage." To that heritage she has added, along with her late husband, her own distinct contribution. Of such human material better communities emerge.

METHODIST APPOINTMENTS ANNOUNCED

Among the actions announced at the recent annual conference of Northwest Texas Methodists at Abilene was the election of persons to various offices. Tops in interest is the election to General Conference, covering all of the United States, and to Jurisdictional Conference, which includes all of these and several others, and covers work of the church in Texas and seven other states. Laymen and ministers go in equal number to both conferences. This year there are five delegates in each category to general conference, and six others in each category to the jurisdictional meeting. Of interest to Floydada are these elections: To general conference, Char-les E. Lutrick, J. M. Willson, Jr., Marvin Boyd, and Howard Crawford. gerous society. The particular function of the Department in a situation or controversy such as exists in the Valley certainly needs clarification.

First, by law and tradition, the Department of Public Safety has assisted local authorities in many thousands of cases involving every type of crime and law violation. We daily participate in numerous investigations concerning murders, robberies, burglaries, rapes and other crimes. Sofar this year the Texas Rangers have participated in a total of 21,313 investigations, searches and arrests. The incident in the Valley is merely one of many, many matters with which we are concerned, and most certainly was not singled out for emphasis. Secondly, the Department is the only agency which can perform law enforcement functions, state or local, where the activity or law violation involves more than one county. We have statewide jurisdiction, whereas the local authorities must stop at the city precinct or county line. With the activities in the Valley extending into many counties there is no other law enforcement agency available to perform the function ime for reading,

As for the allegation of brutality on the part of Department personnel, let me say this once and for all. As Director of the DPS, and as an individual citizen, I would be the first to condemn any such activity. I abhor it. Every officer of this Department has specific instructions against such conduct. I have made a personal investigation of these charges and believe them to be totally false and unfounded. In this connection (and I say this generally and not as a comment on any specific statement) this charge of police brutality is the common defense and cry of a professional criminal and agitator. It is one of the most dangerous tactics known when employed in an emotionally charged situation. It can and does result in innocent persons becoming unwillingly and unwittingly involved in rioting mobs and lawlessness. If this unfounded assertion is to achieve the dignity of calling off those sworn to uphold and enforce the law, then this State is indeed in great danger and Rainfall up to the end of May was higher this year than in 1966. This year's May sum of 4.38 brought the yearly total up to 5.82, in comparison with 4.58 at the same time last year. And there wasn't a drop in January, either. June rainfall so far includes .52 over the weekend, with .72 Sunday night, making a total for the year, up to this writing on Monday afternoon, of 6.96. Mrs. Alice Baker, 99 year old pioneer business woman and one of the founders of Lockney, was buried Sunday afternoon following funeral rites in the Main Street Church of Christ in Lockney.

Mrs. Baker died at Nichols Manor Convalescent Home in Lockney Friday night.

Mrs. Baker came to the Plains in June 1890 with her husband, the late James Artemas Baker. Together, they broke the fertile prairie sod and established the Baker Mercantile Co., in 1894 in Lockney, after laying out the townsite. He died Oct. 16, 1917.

The store is said to be the oldest in Texas with one owner-

Mrs. Baker had been active in management of the Baker Mercantile Co., until about six years ago when she retired. She was honored many times as a pioneer resident of the South Plains and as a business woman.

She was the former Alice Ratliff, born Aug. 26, 1867 in Van Zandt County. She was married to J. A. Baker at the age of 18.

She and Mr. Baker arrived in Floyd County before the town of Lockney had been established. They camped near where the present town of Floydada is located until lumber could be freighted from Amarillo and a home built. They settled on a homestead section of land, five miles south of the present town of Lockney.

Soon, Mr. and Mrs. Baker established a town - Lockney. She served as first postmaster. They opened a store - Baker Mercantile Co., drygoods and general merchandise. She was its first storekeeper.

The Bakers helped organize Lockney Christian College on a 10-acre tract they donated. The school existed until public schools were started.

The Bakers also helped to build churches and to obtain a charter for a bank - The First National Bank of Lockney. Mrs. Baker, who was a small, but spry, 4 feet 11 inch woman, recalled vividly "Indian scares, prairie fires and the grasshopper plague of 1893." She once said: "I have had lots of troubles, but, thank they were all decent were spent in Pawtucket, Rhode Island. Later on in the summer, at a time feasible for all involved, the two nurses are to be involved in an orientation session of one week in the public health service headquarters in Plainview. It is anticipated that they will be joined by three other beginning nurses in this program.

Probably each nurse will be

GIRLHOOD AMBITION Mrs. Baker had been orphaned when she was 6 months old and had been reared by an uncle and aunt and her grandfather, a physician, who served in the Confederate Army. During the years that spanned two world wars, several smaller conflicts and three depressions, Mrs. Baker had continued to be "a fixture" at Baker Mercantile Co. When the store first opened, it was primarily a grocery and drygoods firm. It branched out to include hardware, drugs, and just about "anything else," settlers needed. In 1909, a fire swept a town block and the original store was destroyed. It was rebuilt and still is in operation. Some of the original fixtures of the 1894 store still are retained.

The survivors are: four sons, France, 1902 33rd St., Lubbock, Artie, El Paso, Norton, Amarillo, and Dorsey, Lockney; six daughters, Mrs. L. M. Honea, Mrs. Dimple McGavock and Mrs. Lee Seaman, all of Lockney, Mrs. J. A. Deavenport, Boulder, Colo., Mrs. J. M. identified somewhat as "That lady carrying the little bag." A natural question arises: "What's in that bag?" It will contain blood pressure apparatus, including a stethoscope, thermometer, and first aid items, among others, but really urgent cases will be referred to a doctor. Mrs. Ulmer anticipates that one of the most important tasks of the project in the next few months will be the immunization program, given at the early age customary for children of settled residents. This will avoid the necessity of a crash immunization program necessary before a child can enter school in the first grade. More important still, it will cut down greatly on diseases in the preschool years. One special object of attack is measles. Sanitarian for the project, Choice Smith, is a native of this region, having grown up in the canyon south of Lakeview. He attended Crosbyton schools, graduating from high school there. He was majoring in agricultural education at West Texas State University in Canyon, but since there is no Smith-Hughes certification program there, enabling a person to teach vocational agriculture, he has not yet finished a B.S. degree. He lacks only 33 hours. In the course of his work he took a great deal of science. His chief duties involve inspection and advisory duties in the migrant camps attached to the gins of

Floyd County. It is not known now precisely how many camps there are, but 22 gins are in the county, and that makes a lot of camps. Although it is always possible for the laws to be changed and some real enforcement provisions instituted, at present the work he can do will be holding up standards that may seem qute ideal in character, and aiding with implementation of progress measures. Undoubtedly he will find, upon inspection, considerable variation in standards. Even a few licks put in here and there should help a great deal in this regard. He is engaged in farming. He is 27 and single (court house girls, notice). He is glad to have his military service behind him. In the national guard since 1961, he expects, in the normal course of events, to receive his discharge sometime this year. He spent six months at Ft. Leonard Wood. Further periodic training has been done at Lubbock and Plain-

O. M. Watson, Jr., pointed out that each county is held responsible for destitute cases within its own boundaries. If an indigent family were to skid to a stop a few feet within Floyd County, handling the case would devolve upon this county even if the family had never been within its bounds before and did not know its name. Watson points out that a recent migrant worker, with a head injury, was treated under this program. This surely represents quite a dramatic case. Take another. An elementary school girl, whose family was so destitute it went for weeks without water or gas in the house, developed trouble with an abscessed tooth; she also stuck a pencil up the roof of her mouth. Appropriate action was taken within the county under the provisions of the migrant health project. Home visits, clinics, surveys, and referrals are among the duties of the Public Health Nurse, under the standards of the Texas State Department of Health Project. Home visits include giving skilled nursing service, giving special medication or treatment, and education of the family in care of a chronically ill family member, home nursing care, anteand post-partum care, mother and baby care, basic principles relating to accident prevention and in relation to control of communicable diseases, basic nutrition, the aiding of families in the adjusting to physical and emotional illness. She also calls their attention to the importance of securing prompt medical aid when any of them become ill.

The work of the nurse in regard to clinics includes seeing that the total clinic service is in the interest of the patient, and in carrying out work relating to immunizations, maternity service, well child conference, family health, sick baby service, and other clinic service as needed.

Assisting local public health and school nurses, social clubs, local agencies, and hospitals in surveying area, analyzing needs, and planning for coordinated nursing service areas of responsibility of the nurse; and she also handles referrals to local and state agencies and to other states along the migrant

The Public Health Service defines a migrant worker as a United States resident who moves one or more times yearly in search of agricultural employment, returning to a home-base when work op-portunities are exhausted. It calls attention to his frequent custom of supplementing his income with non-farm work, especially in off-seasons.

An address in 1963 by Dr. Lamar A. Byers, Community Health Services Consultant in Region VII, Dallas, called attention to a number of points that should prove of interest. The Wide range of the travels of migrants is noted, attention is called to the need for community acceptance, for better income, and education. Other obvious problems facing migrants are day care for children, child labor protection, emergency help, homemaking skills, safe transportation, and safe crew leaders. Social Security benefits have been extended in recent years. These people also often need help in settling down. Considerable aid along this line has come from the Migrant Ministry of the National Council of Churches, as well as from local congregations of many faiths, study clubs, and other well-established local groups.

Officials point out that overburdened school nurses, who have worked so faithfully and arduously with destitute cases in both medicine and clothing areas can now be relieved of many of their duties in these fields, as the nurses, sanitarian, and secretary will have many facts called to their attention, and can thus work with all welfare agencies, at least informally, in their solution. The county itself officially is involved most closely with the commodity program.

Even a cursory survey reveals the fact of interrelationships in all of these areas of concern. Whether a person is a school nurse, teacher, migrant health official, county official, or a loyal church member anxious to help his own and other churches keep a plentiful supply of good used clothing on hand in the courthouse, or whether he works with the state department of welfare, or simply if he is a compassionate citizen, he sees beyond the figures, beyond the names, 'way out there beyond forms to be filled out, PER-SONS. These are persons in need. True, opinions are going to be divided as to just how to help them, but that there is need no seeing person can toubt. And to fail to make real eforts to meet at least the most crying of those needs world not occur to those who fee, and who care. At to the exact working out of the migrant help program, County Judge J. K. Holmes doubilessly carries the thoughts of many with him as he says, "We hope this pro-gram accomplishes the purposes for which it was intended. We'll know more ab ut it three monhs from now."

OPENS SATURDAY 1 P.M.

His father, a physician, was graduated from a university in Ohio and came to Texas in the early days. Swepston was born 21 miles south of Greenville on Nov. 30, 1887, his mother's death occurring when he was only three. His father married again. With his health bad, he 'rambled a lot," and had but little schooling. In 1898 he landed at the Waggoner Ranch in Wilbarger County, stayed a short time, and with increased health his father saw to it that he returned to school back in east Texas. In 1901 he arrived in Paducah, where he stayed the

An outdoorsman who receiv- better part of three years, and 1903-17, his first three children being born at the ranch headquarters. He relates with relish that many a night he has spent outside with the cowboys from the ranch and the Texas Rangers.

Tiring of working for the other fellow, he moved in 1917 to the Motley-Floyd County area, settling on approximately five sections of land in the Hillcrest community, where he and Mrs. Swepston still live. The old Hillcrest school, now a part of the Floydada system, stood on their land. Their son, Hershel, who lives in Floydada, works with the Parker Furniture Co. at Lockney. Their daughter, Miss Anne Swepston, teaches senior English in Floydada High School. Betty Jean, now Mrs. Harold Vance Campbell, lives near Cedar Hill; another daughter, Lotta Belle, now Mrs. Bob Burns, resides in Amarillo; while Christine, married to Bill Colston, lives at Dougherty.

There was a time the Swepstons lived in a tent at Stamford; he has been active in cowboy reunions at Paducah, Matador, Roaring Springs, and in the settler's reunion here at Floydada. He tells with pleasure of his ability to find a suitable horse and saddle so he could ride again, as he has done so often, in the parade.

Medicine has pretty well "run in the family" for the Swepstons. Not only was his father a doctor, but he also has a dentist brother in Dallas, and another brother is a medical doctor who owns a hospital in Rosebud, Texas.

After moving west for his health, he has stayed here, and declares, "I wouldn't take east Texas if you gave it to me." Staying out in the open has been a vital part of his own health program. He states with pride that during the last six years he and Mrs. Swepston have had only one hired hand, doing the rest of the work on their homeplace themselves.

Gallantly, he told Mrs. C. O. Wise, the oldest lady present at the reunion, that it was an honor to sit beside her and have his picture taken.

FLOYD DATA Mr. and Mrs. Bob O'Bannon and sons of Huntsville visited here last week from Wednesday until Saturday with his mother, Mrs. M. L. O'Bannon and sister, Mrs. Dorcie Warren and It's natural to be curious as to how school teachers spend the summer months. Some take trips, some go to school, teach in special summer sessions, work in field or kitchen or elsewhere. Sure, they all like school and it's a fair bet that they will be looking forward to hearing the ringing of bells next term, which actually comes in late summer by the calendar.

Sue Burris, who has been music teacher at Andrews Ward this year, said she had everything packed, ready to go back to her home in Brownfield. Then soon she will be off to Glorieta Baptist Assembly in New Mexico for six weeks and "maybe more." Asked if she were afraid of falling in the river, her prompt reply was that she wasn't going to get close enough to risk falling in.

It's off to Europe early in June for a two-week's trip. "We've been saving for a year," according to the missus, for the Wade Warrens. She is Andrews Ward School secretary, while Wade works for a gas company. Their daughter and son-in-law are stationed at Stuttgart in Germany with their family, and when the Warrens take off on a jet flight from Love Field in Dallas it will be her first time ever aloft, while for him it will be building on the experience of a few small-plane journeys in the immediate area. "We'll have plenty to tell when we get back. It costs plenty, but it will be worth it," declared Leona, as she told animatedly of their pleasure in looking forward to seeing their "kids," who are already beginning the last year of a three-year tour of duty. They plan on seeing some of Switzerland and other countries in the general area, and hope to get to ride on the Rhine River.

A few days later will mark the departure date fo Mrs. Minnie Patterson, who is heading out for Norway for a visit with relatives. (See related story) Mrs. Farris Wilson, who has one of two classes in remedial reading at Andrews Ward, will go to school at West Texas State University the first six weeks of the summer session to further her work in this special field, Farris Wilson, Della Plains principal, is also to attend at Canyon.

Since all principals are or eleven-month duty, they stay quite busy during the summer. Bob Copeland will be directing the Headstart program for several weeks at Andrews Ward School, Principal Charles Tyer will be challenged with many assignments at high school. In addition to several reports, which will be filled in immediately, he will work on curriculum, on next year's schedule, look for new teachers, arrange for printing and distribution of football tickets, and check on materials, supplies, and some extra hiring of help connected with janitorial and maintenance services. He oversees the regular janitors, and has general oversight of other school activities. The driver's education program began May 28, and is to run for six weeks. The special summer program in home economics begins June 1st, and is to run for four

Devotional of the Month

The Answer Is In The Book

To be aware of the times is to know that the world is in violent turmoil. World shaking problems are on every hand. Many answers have been proposed. Science says, make me god. Others say, lift man's standard of living. Recently, some say, take a trip on LSD.

If we are to find an answer to our many problems we will find it in the Book, God's Holy Word.

I suggest three things about it that make it the greatest of all Books that assure us that here are the answers to man's every problem.

Its author makes it different from any other Book. Scholars tell us that the Bible was written by about fifty different people over a period of 1,500 years. Yet, it is ONE continuous account with no contradiction and no error. Even though fifty people wrote it, ONE was the Author. Examine the Bible, and granted it covers many facts, there is one golden thread that binds it all together, JESUS. Peter tells us, "For the prophecy came not in old time by the will of man: but holy men of God spoke as they were moved by the Holy Ghost." The Author of the Bible is omnipotent, omniscience and omnipresence.

To examine its content gives us a depth of knowledge found in no other book. It describes man's basic need - all men - as being in need of victory over his own sinful nature. There is a true guide for every social problem we encounter. "Thy word is a lamp unto my feet and a light unto my path," said the Psalmist. If we would really like to know how to treat our fellowman, study the illustration of The Good Samaritan. The race problem, housing problem, and a host of other 20th Century brain teasers can all find a perfect solution by applying the principles laid out by the Master Teacher.

The Bible has proven itself wherever it has been read and its teachings accepted. Throughout the entire world when men have believed it they have been saved. Natives in South America killed missionaries until others read them the Word. Whenever men have heeded its teachings, right human relationships have de-

Our entire world seems to be crying, "Peace, peace," when there is no peace. None until the Prince of Peace is crowned 'King of Kings and Lord of Lords' in the hearts of men. The answer is in the Book. Rev. Floyd C. Bradley, Pastor First Baptist Church space to mention all of the exhibits downtown. Trying to tell about those assembled by Mrs. Maude Hollums at Arthur B. Duncan Abstract Co. would be similar to an attempt at portraying the Grand Canyon, Let's sum it up by saying that there is "A wealth of illustrations."

At Beall's the Lockney Junior

Study Club and the Cates family together filled the east showcase. There was a wicker tea cart, and a serving tray of gol-den oak with brass handles, over fifty years old. On display was the wedding dress worn by Mrs. Guy Sams; it has been in her family over fifty years. Also there was a cameo necklace which was a graduation gift from her future husband. Some high school girls from Lockney were exclaiming over its beauty. Another object shown was a Bible published in 1873, belonging to Matti Meriwether McCollum, great grandmother of Mrs. Eddie Joe Fortenberry of Lockney. All of these displays were sponsored by the Junior Study Club. The Cates family showed a spinning wheel, whose age was attested to by the comments of a lady, who obviously was quite elderly, saying, "I don't know anything about those spinning wheels" There was also a glass decanter over 60 years old, a churn, and various other kitchen items. The Club display also featured glasses that had been in the T. H Gilbert family of Flomot over 60 years, and a sturdy large clock belonging to the Fortenberry family. Among the interesting pictures in the west showcase at Bealls, and there were quite a few, one of they brought back memories of long ago; for the youngsters sharp reminders that things do change, and change quickly. As in the case of the Hollums collection, these pictures beggar description.

Besides pictorial displays, there were others at KFLD of very interesting type. For instance, Rev. L. L. Thurston, father of the current Floydada Methodist pastor and now 95 years of age in retirement at El Paso, received on March 20, 1903, a very fancy suit of blue serge with double-breasted vest. At that time he was serving as the first presiding elder (now district superintendent) of the Duncan, Okla., district of the Oklahoma Indian Mission. Betcha he looked like a real preacher in that get-up! There was also an old breaking plow of the walking variety, obviously pulled by one or two horses, and a two-bladed cultivator. On display by G. W. Polk of Floy-dada was a "Matote," found near Lamesa on the Brown Ranch in the summer of 1857. Lists of officers, speakers, committees, etc., are usually well-publicized, and they get at least some recognition for their often quite arduous duties, but sometimes we tend to overlook a few who "really get with it" on behind the scenes tasks. Such, for instance, might be those who register the old timers, including some of their own number, like Jewel Teague, Ethel Graham, and Margaret Collier, all of whose first Floyd County appearances came in 1915, and Ann McCormick, not an old timer, but who dates from 1945 on. Mary Ferguson, Jimmie Stewart, and Donna Booth were also busy with reg-

During the summer thousands of students find jobs and become taxpayers through our income tax withholding system. The Internal Revenue Service reminds these students that they should be sure to file an income tax return next January 1, even though they may make less than $600. Students who work only during the summer are usually entitled to a refund. Unless they file an income tax return, the Government has no method of giving them a refund of the taxes they

Senator Hightower Home From Busy Legislative Session

AUSTIN - Senator Jack High-tower, along with fellow lawmakers of the 181-member State Legislature, returned home Wednesday following adjournment of the 60th session.

The Senator had the distinction Monday of pushing through the Senate the final bill of the session, a proposal relieving the county assessors and tax collectors from liability for civil damages in exercise of official duties.

House and Senate members worked through the final day polishing off last minute work before the 12 p.m. deadline climaxing the 140-day biennium work session.

Legislators will be called back to the Capitol sometime next year, however, to appropriate funds for state spending in 1969, Senator Hightower Governor John B. Connally is expected to call the special session early in the year, possibly in May after the state primaries.

Legislators last week cleared the way for adjournment by passing the one-year, $446.8 million general spending bill to finance state government in

The one-year spending measure was proposed by Governor Connally to eliminate the need for new taxes this year. Funds for the second half of the biennium will be appropriated at the special session.

Senate and House members also gave approval to a compromise, $48 million teacher pay raise providing an average increase of about $550 a year for state teachers.

The teacher pay raise was unanimously approved by both

Also included in the appropriations bill is an overall 14.1 percent raise for state employes, with lower paid workers getting as much as 30 per cent.

Legislators boosted spending on medical care for welfare recipients to $25.7 million to provide basic health care services under the federally-backed "medicaid" program. Overall increase of education funds is 28 per cent.

The total appropriations bill is the largest in the state's history for one-year spending. The last major hurdle before adjournment was cleared when Legislators approved a House redistricting bill designed to comply with the new one man, one vote federal guideline. Senator Hightower said he was pleased with the work of the Legislature and listed among its major contributions: - passage of a local option, one per cent city sales tax bill - revision of the Code of Criminal Procedure aiding police and public prosecutors in their fight against crime. - reclamation and conservation programs preserving the state's vital resources. Senator Hightower was among Senate leaders credited with the defeat of the Governor's liquor-by-the-drink bill. He also worked against the pari-mutuel betting bill. The legislature convened January 10.

MARY PHILLIPS, HOME ECONOMIST Recently, many complaints | Electric for this offer which have been made about finding rust inside of lettuce.

The Dept. of Agriculture, in a recent release, says that this is one of the problems that has bugged the industry for years. The spots form on the outside and grow progressively worse, giving a very unattractive appearance. Researchers have found that these spots can be reduced by adding liquid nitrogen to the atmosphere inside shipping trail-

However, this is not always where the problem appears. Russeting can develop on lettuce in your refrigerator, too. Temperatures of 38 degrees to 40 degrees are conducive to the development of russeting. Since this is the temperature of the vegetable bins of most home refrigerators, you have limited recourse. Store lettuce in a plastic bag in the coldest area of the refrigerator when it is to be held more than a few days. Too, some fruits (melons. apples, and pears, for example) give off ethylene gas as they ripen, and ethylene causes lettuce to russet. You will lessen the opportunity of having freckled lettuce when lettuce is stored separately.

Be certain to drain lettuce well before placing it in the plastic after you wash it.

The young adults of Aldersgate Methodist Church have had a number of activities lately, according to the pastor, Rev. Juan Salinas. He states that they are indebted to Wendell Tooley for an inspirational talk on the evening of May 9, in a meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Enrique Gonzalez. Tooley drew on his personal experiences in addressing the group. In discussing the need for recreation and trying to find ways to meet these needs, someone mentioned flying. Jack McIntosh volunteered the use of his plane and of his own services as pilot, and all of the couples, as well as their children, were able to get a real kick out of flying over the immediate area May 7. Next meeting of the group was scheduled for eight o'clock the evening of June 5, in the home of Mrs. Isreal Rodriquez. Speaker on that occasion was Dr. C. Basil Moss, a prominent Lubbock physician who has appeared previously in meetings with the youth at First Methodist Church. His subject was

by Sherry Mullin Floyd County H. D. Agent

Buying beef in large quanti-ties can save you money if animals are graded USDA the cost in quantity, including the cost of cutting, wrapping, and storage, is less than for the same amount of beef bought in individual cuts.

U. S. Department of Agriculture's Consumer and Marketing Service advises that you consider the time it would take your family to eat a half or a quarter of a beef animal. Frozen beef, stored at 0 degrees F., should not be kept longer than 9 to 12 months, and hamburger should be used within 3 months. And, remember, a 300 pound side of beef contains about 56 pounds of hamburger.

Three other factors to consider are the grade or quality and the wholesomeness of the meat; the amount of edible meat you will actually receive from the advertised "hanging weight" prices; and the quan-tity of each different cut you are likely to receive from the carcass you buy.

If the meat has been federally graded, you will see a ribbon of purple USDA grade mped down the side and around the chest of the carcass. The grade indicates the predicted tenderness and patability of the meat. USDA Prime beef has liberal amounts of marbling (fat interspersed with the lean). You are not likely to see much Prime beef for sale. USDA choice is the most popular grade. Roasts and steaks from the choice loin and rib are tender and juicy, and other cuts should be tender commercial.

The circular mark of federal inspection means the carcass is from a healthy animal and that it was prepared in a whole-Before you buy, however, the some, sanitary environment.

In comparing costs, you need to know that an average of 20 percent of a beef side is lost in trimming out bones and excess fat. Some companies now advertise freezer beef by yield grade. Yield grades are used to indicate the percentage of retail cuts a carcass is likely to have after boning and trimming. Yield Grade 1 has the least waste, and grades with higher number through 6 have more, Consequently, cutting loss from a Grade 6 carcass may be somewhat higher than the 20 percent average. Yield grade has nothing to do with quality grade; a Choice carcass may have any one of the 6 yield grades. About 51 percent of the weight of a beef side is in the forequarter. In this quarter, rib roasts make up about 8 percent of the total weight of the side, huck roasts make cent, ground beef 10 percent, stewing beef and miscellaneous cuts 4, and cutting loss 10 percent. In the hindquarters, T-

bone and Porterhouse steaks comprise about 6 percent of the total side, round steaks 1 percent, rump roasts 5, sirloin steak 8, ground beef 8, and cutting loss 10 percent. Be sure to ask about cutting and wrapping charges, and include storage charges if a commercial locker is used. You may also need to add a small electricity cost if a home freez-
