Fourth Of July Rained Out Here

Floyd County residents were all set for a day of picnicking, golfing, swimming and other associated Fourth of July celebrations, but a fast moving cool front brought an early Tuesday morning rain, .92 of an inch by the official gauge at the ASCS office. This dampened outdoor recreation in a hurry.

Farmers who had expected to gain on the fast growing weeds also were delayed in that effort. But their crops continued to grow and thrive in wet weather.

recorded at Cedar Hill Store. McCoy Gin showed 1.1 inches. "About an inch" was the report at Dougherty Farm Supply. Sandhill Elevator had "About 9/10 of an inch," while about 1/2 inch was received at the A. B. Muncy residence in the Muncy Community.

LAST SUNDAY MORNING'S RAIN
Last Sunday morning's official rainfall, as measured at the ASCS office, was .61 of an inch. LAST WEDNESDAY NIGHT'S RAIN
The rainfall Wednesday night of last week, according to ASCS figures, was only slightly larger, .87 of an inch. This, as it turned out, finished up the June total to 2.73, as compared with 4.86 for the same month in 1966. Despite this big difference, the first six months of 1967 showed .11 more than for the same period in 1966. The totals are 8.55 and 8.44. The Sunday rainfall brought the figure up to 9.16 for the year to date, and the .92 on the 4th to 10.08 to date. This year's rainfall took its time getting started, as there was no measurable precipitation at all until some time in February.

Tuesday night's baseball games were also rained out. A spot check over the area showed considerable variation in the amounts. An inch and a half, the largest reported, was

Lockney Wreck Victims Buried

Funeral rites were conducted yesterday afternoon in the First Methodist Church in Lockney for a Floyd County woman and her six year old son, who were killed in a grinding car-pickup crash on a farm road eight miles northwest of Lockney Monday morning. The wreck also seriously injured two other members of the family.

Pronounced dead at the scene by Justice of Peace Hugh Counts of Lockney were Mrs. Douglas Reeves, 30 of the Lone Star Community in Floyd County, and her son, Dale.

Those injured were Mrs. Elmo Reeves, 53 year old mother-in-law of the death victim, South Plains Community, and her grandchildren, Pamela Hope Reeves, 12 and Mike Reeves, 10, other children of Mrs. Douglas Reeves; and Durwood Nelson Jack, 48 year old Lockney resident and driver of the second vehicle involved.

Mrs. Reeves and Pamela are in intensive care at Lubbock Methodist Hospital and Mike is hospitalized in Lockney. Jack was also treated at Lockney Hospital for shock. Mrs. Reeves is suffering from cuts and bruises and a broken leg and was reported in fair condition yesterday by a member of the family. Pamela, who was critically injured, was termed slightly improved yesterday, suffering from lacerations and a head injury. Mike is suffering from a fractured collarbone, abrasions and a bruised knee and reported in satisfactory condition.

OCURS AT INTERSECTION
The accident occurred at 9:10 a.m. on Farm Road 2286 at its intersection with an unpaved road. Highway patrolmen said Mrs. Reeves was driving west on FM 2286 and Jack, driving a 1966 pickup truck, was headed north on the dirt road. The Reeves car, a 1963 sedan, was demolished.

The five members of the Reeves family were thrown from the car as it careened down the ditch on the north side of the pavement. The car overturned then came to rest in an upright position 270 feet from the point of impact.

Jack's pickup, damaged on the front, continued across the paved road and came to rest in a ditch at the northwest corner of the intersection, 44 feet from the collision point.

There were no eye witnesses.

Rites Today For Mrs. E.A. McLeod

Mrs. E. A. McLeod, 64 year old longtime resident of Floyd County, died Tuesday in Lockney General Hospital. Rites are to be held this afternoon (Thursday) at 3 o'clock in the First Baptist Church in Lockney. The family resided in the Sterley Community.

Mrs. McLeod was born in Simsboro, La., and was married to E. A. McLeod in 1924 in Farmersville and the couple moved to Floyd County in that year.

Survivors include the husband; one daughter, Mrs. Helbut Chester Carthel arrived minutes later and called an ambulance from a nearby farm home. Highway Patrolman Bud Rainey, Floydada, investigated the crash. Patrolman Gerald Howard and Deputy Sheriff Cap Carthel assisted.

Mrs. Reeves is survived by her husband, who is a graduate of Floydada High School; the son and daughter; her father, H. H. McPherson of Silverton; her foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben McGhee of Lockney; three brothers, Robert McPherson of Silverton, Henry McPherson, Happy and Gale McPherson, Lockney; and a foster sister, Mrs. Shirley Wesley of Grand Junction, Colo.

Dale is survived by his father, brother and sister and the grandparents.

Interment was in Lockney Cemetery under the direction of Carter Funeral Home.

Almost A Million Dollars Worth Of FHA Money Circulated In County

Loans made by the Farmers Home Administration are having a strong economic impact in strengthening the rural economy in Floyd County. This was pointed out by Alfred A. Harrison, local county supervisor, when a recent review of the Farmers Home Administration supervised credit program revealed that $137,260.00 was loaned for the purchase of fertilizer and other chemicals in Floyd County for this current crop year. This is just one example of the improved farm management practices that are financed by Farmers Home Administration that affects most business firms in every local rural community. It is estimated that 90% of the total amount of $989,520.00 of production type funds loaned this fiscal year by the agency has been spent by borrowers doing business with local merchants in this county.

This impact on the local economy is in addition to the added income that will result at harvest time when improved farm management practices will increase total income.

The Farmers Home Administration policy is to strengthen the family farm as well as strengthen the local rural communities.

This policy is being implemented in this area by furnishing credit for improved farming practices and making loans to establish young farmers in the farming business.

Harrison, county supervisor, and Donnie R. McCool, assistant county supervisor, have been busy the past few weeks in making on-the-spot farm visits in an effort to cooperate with all the Farmers Home Administration borrowers in Floyd County in carrying out good farm management practices.

Nazarene Revival Begins Tonight

REV. JOE NORTON

Revival services will begin tonight at the Floydada Church of the Nazarene and continue through Sunday, July 16. Services begin at 7:30 each evening except Sunday. Sunday services will be at 10:30 a.m. and 8:00 p.m. Special workers for the meeting are Rev. Joe Norton, Evangelist; and Mr. John F. Whisler, Song Evangelist.

Rev. Norton, of Hamlin, Texas, is an evangelist devoting full time service to evangelism in the Church of the Nazarene. Before entering the evangelistic field, Rev. Norton was for sixteen years a pastor in Oklahoma and Texas. His last pastorates were at Brownfield and Post. He has been in the evangelistic work since 1948.

Rev. Norton is a sound Bible preacher, placing emphasis on the Word of God, prayer and fasting, and personal evangelism. He is a graduate of Bethany Nazarene College.

Song Evangelist John Whisler has been devoting his talents of song and music to full time evangelistic work for many years. Mr. Whisler lost his sight at an early age but did not allow this handicap to hinder him from following the wonderful plan of God for his life. He will give his life story in one service of the revival which will be a special blessing to all present. His Doberman pinscher seeing eye dog will be with him at all times during the meeting. Mr. Whisler is from Carthage, Missouri.

The pastor joins the church in extending to you and each of your friends a hearty welcome to attend these services.

Revival Begins at First Christian Church Sunday

First Christian Church begins a series of revival services Sunday night, July 9. The services will be at 7:30 each night Sunday through Thursday. The theme of the meeting is "A Faith for These Times."

Ralph V. Graham, Pastor of the First Christian Church in Plainview, will be the evangelist. Graham served the Christian Church in Colorado City, Texas, before coming to Plainview last fall. Previously he had served the Collingswood Church of Christ in Collingswood, New Jersey. Graham is noted for the strong biblical emphasis of his preaching.

Everyone is cordially invited to come and share in these services. There will be plenty of good gospel singing and special music each night. Come and be strengthened in the Lord as we hear the Word of "faith for these times."

Hope Not

AT THE CAPADA SUNDAY-MONDAY

Lions Install Officers

Tut Tawwater, past district president from Plainview, was installing officer as the local Lions recognized a new group of officers in the Colonial Dining Room last Thursday. They take over new duties today.

GLEN BLACK

Glen Black succeeds Louis Anderson as President. Anderson, in addition to being a member of the Board of Directors as immediate past president, is also to be a part of the district governor's cabinet as zone chairman. Veda Thayer, outgoing Lion's Sweetheart, is to serve for two more meetings until her successor, Brenda Walls, returns from summer study in Mexico.

OFFICERS

Tom Moore is Talltister, Clarence Young is Lion Tamer, Wilson Bond is secretary-treasurer, Don Cheek is first vice-president, and Jeff Glazner is second vice-president. Tom Snead and Bill Feuerbacher are two-year directors, with Dallas Ramsey and Jack Covington serving single-year terms.

The club meets at the Colonial House, 515 W. Ross Street, at noon on Thursdays. A program is planned for each meeting, on a wide range of topics. Practically all of the members are in charge of at least one program during the year. To help round up these programs, a program chairman is appointed for each quarter. Those for this year are, in order, Claude Weathersbee, Roy Kinard, Dallas Ramsey, and Willie Brandshaw.

MEMBERSHIP

There are forty members of the Floydada Lion's Club. A special project is Sight Conservation. In his installation address, Tawwater called attention to the importance of the Crippled Children's Camp at Kerrville, and challenged each Lion to go there at least once. It is a Texas project, and is well-recognized throughout Lions International. Scout Troop 357 is also sponsored by the group.

PROGRAM

Darrell Farris led the group in songs, after which former local president, Floyd Montgomery, nov of Plainview, gave the invocation. A letter from Lion's Sweetheart Veda Thayer was read, thanking the club for a gift. The services of Mrs. Margie Hicks in providing meals the last six months were recognized.

A special tribute to Claude Estes was made for services rendered in the past. The special fund for the Hollis McLain family was called to the attention of the club.

Annual Swine Show will be held on the Agricultural College campus. The event is the Texas Swine Association and The Animal Husbandry Society.

However, one irrigation on grain sorghum gives the most efficient water use. If rainfall is short, the boot stage is the approximate time to apply this single irrigation.

Research has shown that irrigation during the pre-boot stage will often speed up maturity slightly. This may be important in view of the large acreage of late planted grain sorghum. Moisture stress between the seven-leaf and boot stage could delay maturity enough to increase losses from the sorghum midge.

A good supply of moisture should be continued through grain development to reduce charcoal rot. Adequate moisture preceding the boot stage often results in rapid stalk elongation. This, followed by a moisture stress during grain development, may contribute to a higher incidence of charcoal rot and an increase in stalk lodging.

Irrigation of cotton will soon begin; however, looks as if it may be a little later this year due to poor weather conditions retarding the growth of the cotton.

Irrigation should be planned to meet the demands of the crop as closely as possible. Research personnel have found that cotton uses about 0.10 inch of water per day up to about the square stage. Then the plant's water consumption increases rapidly until it reaches a peak of from 0.25 to 0.40 inch per day at the peak bloom stage.

If only one summer irrigation is to be made, it should ideally go on at early peak bloom. Ten years of research at the South Plains Research and Extension Center indicates that a preplant plus two summer irrigations will produce the maximum net return in the long run. When this pattern is used, the first summer irrigation should be applied at first bloom and the second should be applied at peak blooming.

Producers with weak water wells or large acreages to cover in a short period of time might consider two or more light applications down alternate rows. For higher quality cotton, irrigation should not be applied later than August 20.

Tax Load Of $1,960 Per Family Locally

(Special to the Hesperian)
NEW YORK - What is the total tax burden - Federal, state and local - of the average-income family in Floyd County?

What is the value of the benefits it receives in return, as a result of government outlays for schools, public health, police protection and the like?

Some provisional answers to these questions are provided through a special study conducted by the Tax Foundation, the non-profit organization concerned with government fiscal problems.

It shows that, in most cases, the benefits and the tax burdens do not balance each other. Some people get more for their money and some get less.

In Floyd County, where the average net income last year was $6,784 per family, the tax load was approximately $1,960 per family. This included hidden taxes as well as direct ones.

The value of the benefits received by families in that income bracket was $1,850, the Tax Foundation estimates. Included under "benefits" are such specific ones as education, highways, veterans aid, public welfare, labor and manpower, agriculture and social insurance.

In addition, there are general benefits, such as health and sanitation, national defense, commerce and finance, civilian safety, transportation and government administration.

For the Floyd County family with a net income of $3,500, the overall tax load came to $1,020 last year and the benefits to $1,700.

Local families in the $13,000 category had a tax burden of $3,450 and received benefits of $2,500, the study indicates.

The net result of this government taxing and spending has been "to substantially redistribute income in favor of low income groups," it points out.

For families with incomes of not more than $3,000, for example, the benefits exceed the tax load by about 2 to 1. For those in the $15,000 range, however, it is the other way round. Their taxes exceed their benefits by a wide margin.

How much of a man's working day is devoted to earning the money to meet his tax bills? The Tax Foundation finds that most people need 2 hours and 25 minutes, out of an 8-hour day, to do so. That is 6 minutes more than was required a year ago.

Home Study A Must For Teachers Back In '14

It has been a great year for the home study method. In 1914, as prospective teachers got ready to take examinations for a certificate, the home study method was first used in the state of Texas. It was a teacher who was the first to use it during the summer months. The home study method was not a new thing at that time. It had been used in the state of Texas for many years. It was a familiar thing to the teachers of that time. It was a method that had been used in the state of Texas for many years. It was a method that had been used in the state of Texas for many years.

HEAVY SCHEDULE
A look at the schedule shows that it was quite comprehensive. How deeply the questions and exercises went into the subject matter does not appear on the surface, but surely there must have been considerable thoroughness about it. On "Thursday Forenoon" these subjects were tested: History of Education, Physics, Solid Geometry, and English literature. Thursday afternoon went on with Psychology, Chemistry, Bookkeeping, and Plane Trigonometry. Fridays half-days were divided as follows: Physical Geography, Physiology, Composition and Arithmetic; Texas History, Grammar, Descriptive Geography, and Plane Geometry. Saturday concluded the grind with Spelling, Writing, Methods and Management (of what? one wonders), Civics and

Reading; and United States History, General History, Agriculture, and Algebra.

"GRADES"
Presumably more attention was paid later to having "First grade", "Second grade", etc., depending on length of time the certificate was valid, not on grades taught. Nowadays the emphasis is on higher training, methods, curriculum, and other matters, but putting stress also on knowing subject matter, on comprehensiveness of interests as shown in these many subjects to be quizzed upon: These are matters also to command respect. Men such as Thomas Jefferson emphasized a wide range of reading matter.

Admittedly this is harder to attain now, with stress on subject matter that is highly specialized, but we dare not lose sight of the "whole man." We must not give way to the specialist of whom it used to be said that he knew more and more about less and less, until finally he reached the point of knowing everything about nothing at all. One extremely learned man described a certain kind of training as making it possible for a man to be "Absolute master of one square inch of territory". Surely we need a very broad base of knowledge with specialization at the top of the pyramid. Home study: Can we afford to ever dispense entirely with it? Here's one vote that says, "No!"

Kosygin & LBJ

The great hope of the world is that its two most powerful nations can get together on a program for peace and cooperation. It is this hope that adds such tremendous potential and drama to the recent meetings between President Lyndon Johnson and Premier Alexei Kosygin.

State Department diplomats worry about people of the western countries getting hopes high when summit meetings occur. And it is certainly true that the Communists in the past have sought to use such encounters to gain favors and advantages while having no intention of giving anything away.

On the other hand, the question of the moment, in 1967, is whether circumstances all over the world, including the advent of hydrogen bomb missiles and missile defenses, changes in Moscow leadership, the rise of Mao China, etc., have brought about a condition which might lead Russia to act somewhat differently from the Russia of Stalin's day.

Russia is supplying the North Vietnamese with their major weapons of war, which kill Americans every day. Yet we are intrigued with the possibility that perhaps the Russian attitude is softening a bit.

Certainly there is—as yet—no sure certain indication of this. But there have been evidences of changes and hints of changes. Are the Russians merely fishing with President Johnson in the belief that he, like some Americans before him, can be "had," or are they prepared to move toward limited accords? The answer to that question will require some time in coming. Meanwhile, the world fervently hopes—but it is as yet only a hope—that the two greatest world powers can achieve some progress toward peace and understanding.

Hazing Outdated

The practice of hazing, never too admirable by any standard, is out of place in today's world. The idea of hazing freshmen who are away from homes at college for the first time makes little sense, for it is the first year that college students need a helping hand, not added pressure to disrupt their study and campus life.

Hazing as an initiation procedure is often in charge of the worst types. The physical side, in which some delight at the discomfort or pain inflicted on others, is not of benefit to either the hazer or the hazed. Good-natured, humorist initiations are another matter, of course.

In the military in recent years a tradition has developed which includes the drinking of a very heavy alcoholic drink as part of a graduation party or initiation into an advanced grade or position. Not long ago an airborne soldier took part in such a ritual, though not normally a drinker. In this case the test was to down 17 ounces of vodka, in what is termed a "prop blast ritual." He died as a result.

Though this occurred in the Army, the Navy soon afterwards issued a directive forbidding such events. Not only in the military services but in our colleges and universities such ceremonies should be limited to moderate exercises in good taste, without elements of the sadistic or brutal or dangerous.

Humor And Cheap Prices Shown In Old Papers

By MELVIN MATHIS

A look at three issues of the Hesperian for 1931 shows humor and cheapness of goods for sale at that time. Anyone knowing the story of the great depr-which was well set in by that time, knows that the conditions causing the low prices did not make for merriment.

It also quoted from Photographic Review: "Dorothy is getting a man's wages." "Yes, I heard she was married."

FLOYD PHILOSOPHER Weeklies Can Guess As Wildly On Summit Meeting As The Dailies

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm reports on the summit meeting, more or less.

Dear editor:
I was out here on this Johnson grass farm the other morning with nothing to do, well that's not exactly true, I had plenty to do but it was too hot, and pulled out of earshot of the house and eased down under a tree and read an article I'd been saving from a newspaper I found on the road the day before. Country people are getting as sophisticated as city people, they drop newspapers when they get through with them, wherever they are.

This article was a sort of round-up by the Associated Press of what newspapers throughout the world thought of the summit talks between President Johnson and Premier Kosygin.

Included was what was thought by the New York Times, the Washington Post, the London Evening Standard, the Paris Gaullist Nation, Rome's Giornale d'Italia, Vienna's Express, Copenhagen's Berlingske Aftenavis, Stockholm's Aftonbladet, Tokyo's Asahi Shimbun, and a lot more, but this is more than I can pronounce.

Nowhere, however, was what the Hesperian thought.

I do not understand this.

While I know the Hesperian doesn't have a full-time Washington correspondent, still if all he could report on was two men going in and two coming out without knowing what was said inside, it seems to me The Hesperian would have been on equal terms with the Scandinavian Aftonbladet or the New York Times.

What makes the Associated Press think The Hesperian can't guess just as wildly as The Aftonbladet?

Size is always confusing people, even the Associated Press, which didn't ask a single small town newspaper what it thought about the summit meeting. Big city newspapers have a tendency to get stuck up and take themselves too seriously sometimes, but I've never seen a weekly paper that couldn't make just as many typographical errors as a metropolitan daily, and a lot of the former have to do it short-handed.

As to what I think about the summit talks and whether any progress was made, I don't know, and couldn't unless I knew what they said. I saw the list of things they talked about, but that didn't let me know whether any progress was made. I've known women who've talked about the same people for years without making any progress.

Yours faithfully,

along than anybody else in the county." And Mrs. Geo. A. Linder points the way to better times: "I was a passenger on the air-line from San Antonio to Dallas Tuesday afternoon, on my way home. It was a thrilling experience, but made me seasick." (Now they would call it "Air sick.")

MARKET
The local market report showed a number of items. Fresh eggs were available at 15¢ per dozen. No. 1 young toms brought 15¢ per lb., with old toms drawing only 10¢. Guineas were selling at 15¢ each, and butterfat was 21¢ per lb. According to the paper, "Above prices quoted by Titman Egg Company." Three other market items showed hides at 1 1/2¢ per lb.; Top Hogs, 6 3/4¢ per lb., and Packers, 5¢ per lb., with these prices supplied by Armstrong Hog Co.

PLAYS
Mrs. W.D. Newell, reporting the Dougherty news for the Hesperian in the issue for April 16, 1931, reports a record crowd of 750 attending a play, "Wild Ginger". This surely sounds like a large number, but Mrs. John Hoffman of Sandhill, who taught in four rural schools in this county, says that from 400 to 500 in attendance was very common thing, and that a great deal of "trading out" of plays was done between different communities. Mrs. Newell's first item in that particular issue was: "Mrs.

M.N. Fox from Ralls spent the week end with her daughter Mrs. J.B. Jameson and family." Persons like Mrs. Newell, who furnished the history of the First Christian Church for the anniversary edition of July 15, 1965, and those like Mrs. Hoffman and others, whose memory is so sharp and impressions so vivid, help keep alive appreciation for the heritage of the past. And yet it seems not to take away any of the zest for living now. Mrs. Newell also calls attention to the state examinations set that year for April 28-29.

Letter To The Editor

July 2, 1967

Dear Wendell,

Today I sat down for a few quiet moments to consider just the right words to say for a Card of Thanks in your paper. They wouldn't come to me in any form brief enough. My heart and my eyes both overflow every time I consider the many wonderful friends who have done and continue to do so much.

William Wordsworth wrote, "That best portion of a good man's life - his little nameless, unremembered acts of kindness and of love." Truly this would be most fitting thing to say about Hollis - except that the great display of concern, love, and friendship by so many, too numerous to even mention a few, only prove to me that all these things are remembered.

So I ask for the opportunity through this letter to you, to express appreciation and gratitude from myself and each member of our respective families.

During these past six weeks there was a steady stream of familiar faces who came to visit in the hospital. It was Hollis' wish to see each one of you. He often asked why he couldn't always have company and never seemed to realize just how much it tired him to try to talk and visit. I tried keeping a list of those who came and those who sent cards, but very soon ran out of space provided in the book and often was unable myself to talk to you. But I knew there was always someone near who cared.

We would especially like to thank all of you who brought food to Hollis' sister's in Lubbock and to us here at home. Most of you I never saw but know you cared enough to provide. Your prayers, cards, letters, telephone calls, and floral tributes will also be a treasured memory.

I cannot find adequate words to state my feelings to those contributing to the "Love Fund" for Hollis, except to again say thank you. I was able to let him know about it, though, and he too was grateful because the expenses were a constant worry to him.

In closing, I'd like to share the poem Hollis carried with him, as many have requested a copy.

WHEN I QUIT

When I quit this mortal shore,
And mosey 'round this earth no more
Don't weep, don't sigh, don't grieve, don't sob -
I may have struck a better job.

Don't go and buy a large bouquet
For which you'll find it hard to pay;
Don't hang around me feeling blue
I may be better off than you.

Don't tell folks that I was a saint,
Or anything you know I ain't.
If you have stuff like this to spread
Please hand it out before I'm dead.

If you have roses, bless your soul,
Just pin one on my buttonhole;
But do it while I'm at my best
Instead of when I'm safe at rest!

From Psalms 46:1, "God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble." May His blessings and our love be with each of you.

Sincerely,
Doris, Marilyn, Allison, and Cliff McLain

Dear Sir:

Just finished reading your column in Floyd County Hesperian, loaned to me by my friend at Tulla, where you said you wondered if anyone still milked a cow (milk) not milch cow, and since we do milk a cow twice a day and I do churn sweet cream butter about every other day, sometimes every day and I mold and freeze sweet cream butter and at one time had 58 lbs. in my freezer to have when we turn the cow dry. We usually have from 5-6 gallons of cold sweet milk in refrigerator at all times. All my children drink lots of milk and all they want at any time they want it. We eat thick cream pies, especially fresh fruit cobblers, like at this time when we go gather fresh peaches from orchards at 7¢ per plum to can and make jellies from. Yes, we still put our food, always a good selection of vegetables in jars or into deep freeze. We also raise our own hens for our own use now and let them raise our own want to eat. I can and freeze about 500 quarts of vegetables each year or up to that amount most of the year. If you'd like to come see our place and how we welcome, but about that PICTURE, I don't know what a picture of Mr. Bethel or not. We never cared to live at home. And there's nothing different about believe, and I certainly don't want any publicity. We have two boys age 13-15 who will attend school in another year. We have only lived in this county last November 1966. We lived and farmed near moving out here on the O. T. Hewitt farm. We are miles north and east of South Plains - between the families actually, so if you'd like to come see maybe taste some fresh churned butter and drink a fresh COW MILK, you are welcome.

Editor's Note: Thanks for a very interesting letter and we milked cows back in the depression days when check was the only spendable money. But we always money to put together some good old homemade ice cream Sunday afternoon when friends and relatives visited. A Sunday we kids would go down in the pasture, the milk (milk) cows... strain the warm milk through ice cream freezer.

Dear Editor, or more directly to all those who did help to help in the extreme suffering and final death of Mr. Hollis. This world would be a terrible place for friends.

We have had all of our children, most of the in-laws children and many other relatives with us and so many who visited in person, sent cards, telegrams, beautiful floral offerings and brought food in abundance we ever thank so many? The wonderful meals at Methodist Church, to the pastor, Rev. Thurston, for efforts of help in every way, to Bro. Bradbury for his bringing the sad news to us of the death, and staying till others arrived, to Bro. Bell for his comforting words, the special prayers, not only by the preachers but people near and far.

Our sincere gratitude goes to those who put forth effort in pointing us to that great Friend of all who alone real comfort to each of us.

Our loss is Hollis' gain. We can have no doubt made a safe landing. Ours depends on each of us from now to the end of the road. Hollis' last words "Mama, Papa, I love you" as he held our hands.

We are not physically or mentally able to send dual cards so this is our way of showing our deep appreciation for everything done for us.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. McLain

Sam Push Interest In Rodeos, Horse-Raising

By MELVIN MATHIS

Waller is a prominent one in two types of activity which have long existed separately, but to these two are both added and J. E. Waller goes in for rodeos and raising horses in a big way.

INFORMALITY
Waller, who works at the police department in the Floydada city, has been working as a dispatcher about seven years. He greeted the inquiring reporter with a firm handshake in his eyes, and an easy informality that is not often seen in a man of his position. "Let's don't ever be strangers." Asked what was his first rodeo, his reply was "Meeting people." He told of the rodeos as he knew them when they were bare of the crowd taken for granted, such as the grand entry and the invocation by a minister.

TENNESSEE
Waller did a sort of double-take when Waller said he had moved to Texas from Detroit. Waller was amused when he learned more like Tennessee than the North, where he had lived for years in the big motor city. His first eight years were spent in the town of Mound, sixty miles east of Nashville, Tenn. He moved to Texas when he arrived in Texas, in 1928.

MARRIAGE
Waller married Lois Parrish on June 22, 1934. In a period in which he was doing a great deal of moving, he said they have since moved to a farm just inside the school district (now Ralls), and Crosby County. In 1936 they moved off the farm to their present home, 515 S. 1st St. At that time his son, J. E. Waller, finished with the Army, moved onto the old homestead, and his wife Gayle and their two sons, Jay Earl and Sid, moved in.

"RODEOD"
Waller has "rodeod" since he was in his early twenties, and has been in it for three years at rodeos.

TRAVELS
Waller indicates some of the places to which he has traveled with rodeos, he listed Paducah, Matador, Dimmitt, Lubbock, Tulla, Vernon, Post, Aspermont, and among those most frequently visited. He usually serves as parade marshal for the Floydada rodeo. There are now 91 members of this club, a recent record that was once known as the Sheriff's Posse. Last year they showed up for nine events, taking home a total of $1,000.

FOOTBALL FAN
Waller attended the Cone school for the first six years, then transferred to Floydada. He made the eighth grade football team and played throughout high school and college. The younger Waller missed seeing a single football game played at the Cone school, or Floydada Senior High while J. E. Waller was there. The younger Waller was forced to miss one game with Lockney. When the desperate need of assistance in building the stadium, he stayed up all night to buy his advance tickets. He purchased a total of $540 in tickets, and he has since sold them for a profit of $550, and the new seats are now using the same numbered seats as they had at first on the east bleachers.

THE BEST
Waller said this year's bar-b-q and rodeo were the best he has ever seen, despite the rain's knocking out some of the audience from riding clubs, some sending 10 or 12 horses to the grocery tickets, where about $750 came out of the profit of $550; and with the chances on a horse given away last year, $2100 came in, gross, on that occasion he sponsored the "Queens," who with neighboring towns on appearances, with the ticket sales being designated rodeo queen. High praise for the local citizenry for their help, he said, and the hills were paid and a nice sum was on hand for the activities on the rodeo circuit.

ARENAS
Waller said Sid Waller has been highly instrumental in the building of the local rodeo arena, but he has also assisted with the building of arenas at Crosbyton, which he considers the best, and at Ralls. He has also swapped out on arenas with these towns and at Lorenzo and others in the area.

CHANGES
When he moved to the farm home now occupied by his wife, in 1936, until the present, there have been many changes. He looks nostalgically at the time when cotton was a pound and other prices were in line with this. He liked those prices, but he did like the neighborhood, with families quitting work at least by 5 p.m., and then coming to town to visit without being in a hurry. Waller is a true man of the West.

THROUGH COLLEGE TOGETHER
Waller's personal occurrence came about with the fact of J. E. Waller going through college together. On June 10, 1956, Linda Gayle Clark, with whom he had graduated from the high school only a few weeks previously. While in the industrial arts at West Texas State College (now West Texas A&M University) in Canyon, she majored in elementary education, and he majored in 1960. He points out that there is a similarity in the program of industrial arts and agriculture. In the former he took a comprehensive welding, jewelry, upholstery, architectural engineering, mechanical drawing, and physics. He will be drawing on this in the 1967-68 school year as he takes charge of a mechanical drawing at the high school here. Up to this point he has been offered only to juniors and seniors. He will be in the Science department in junior high school during the year for Mrs. Sam Spence who is on leave of absence until this year.

ARMY SERVICE
Waller's years following college graduation were spent mostly in the Army, including one year on the east coast and another on the west coast, though finding it to be very different from the Plains. His military service extended from 1940 to August of 1962.

ANDREWS WARD
Waller was in the eighth grade at Andrews Ward for two years on his father's farm, and was then transferred to junior high school. He has been busy with seventh grade science for three years. Linda Gayle taught at Lamesa while he was in the Army, and has done considerable substituting since they have two boys.

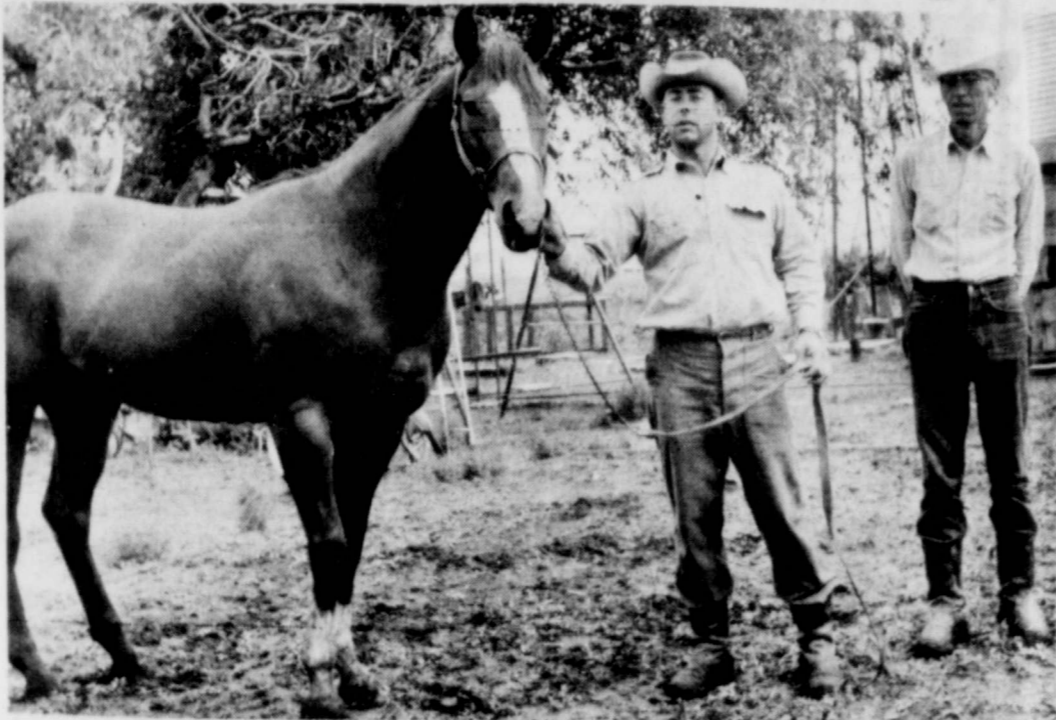

COLLEGE RODEOS
Waller took part in rodeo activities for three years in the association of which "WR" was a member included Texas, New Mexico, and Colorado, and has since been in Alabama institutions. He was on eleven different rodeos in connection with rodeos.

22 HORSES
Waller and his wife are keeping 22 horses. Usually there are 12. They save the best of the colts, usually until they are at least a year old. A horse reaches its full height at about 18 months. The three head of horses on which the great-grandchildren are Banjo Blair, Miss Bay Badger, and Jo Jo Butler. The stud, has raced at Sunland Park in Lubbock Downs, having won five checks in seven races, one of these being for the blue ribbon. He is six years old.

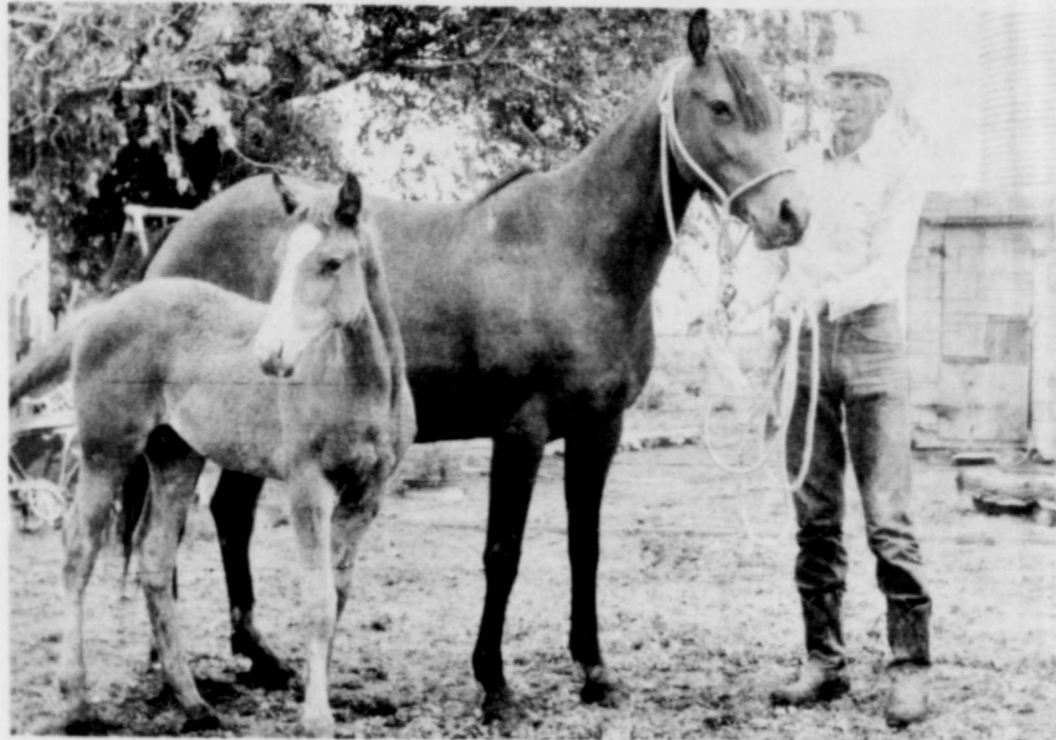

TWO MARES
Miss Bay Badger is also six, and ran as a two-year old at Sunland Park. She is a great granddaughter of a world champion, "Bright Eyes." She won one first place in five races. Jo Jo Butler, the other mare, has been in training for three years, but will go back to the track this fall. She is a yearling, and has grown four inches since February. Her sire, "Red Wing," brought $35,000 in a sale. In speed she is rated as the second highest rating given the horses that have been bred to 400 yards. The only higher rating is AAA plus.

RED WING
Waller's interest of the younger Waller's is a 14-year old horse, Red Wing. He has been using him for roping for years. He explains that correctness of stop and adjustment to that of the calf are highly desirable qualities in a roping horse. Much the same instinct is needed here as in a cutting horse, which was so trained in roundups in open range days.

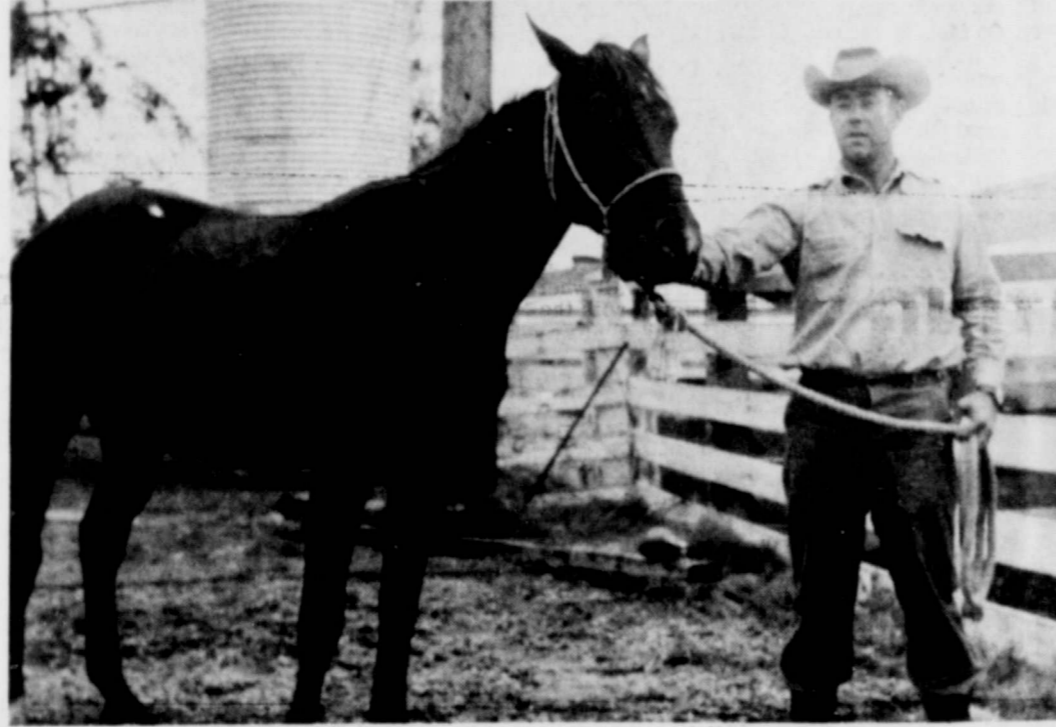

WESTERN HERITAGE
Waller is on the heritage of the West will still be with us. There are men like Sid and J. E. Waller.

Locals Finally Drop One, Can Sew Up Title Tonight

INDUSTRIAL SPEAKER—James Heath will speak to a joint meeting of the Floydada Lions and Rotary Clubs next Wednesday at the noon luncheon in the Colonial House. He is an industrial development consultant with the Texas Industrial Commission.

Well, the local baseballers in the Senior League finally dropped a contest, and to Silverton, at that! But they are not in bad shape at all in the league action, as they retain a big lead with a 6-1 rating. With three contests to go, they can sew up title against Lockney tonight. On Friday night, on the local field, they play a practice game against Post, which has won its league with little trouble.

SILVERTON 4, FLOYDADA 3
Making good on a threat of some time back when they pushed Floydada pretty hard, the Silverton boys held the local player to six hits, two of these being picked up by Todd Wester. Steve Marler was the pitcher until the seventh inning, when he was relieved by big Bobby Gilliland, who from his right field position had made a spectacular fielding play that caught a boy from Silverton too far off.

GETTING WITH IT
The locals plan to get with it in a hurry tonight. They have already taken Lockney three times and don't plan on getting trapped twice in a row, even though Lockney has managed to take Silverton thrice, also.

They are "thinking big."

FLOYDADA 7, SILVERTON 5
Floydada, on top of the three-team circuit, turned back the challenge of the cellar-dwelling Silverton team 7-5 on the pitching of Bobby Gilliland Thursday night. Steve Marler and Todd Wester made up the heavy artillery for the locals. At this stage with Lockney having taken Silverton into camp to the tune of 12-4 the previous game, Floydada was 6-0, Lockney 3-3, and Silverton still seeking its first win, 0-6. The latter is not being taken for granted by either of its opponents.

JUNIOR LEAGUE
Lighthouse Electric took two victories and Floyd County Cooperative Gins the other as the Junior League played three games last week. LHE took care of First National Bank and VFW by identical scores, 8-7. FCCG gave FNB its second licking 12-5. LHE is a full game ahead of FCCG in the standings by virtue of winning two more and losing the same number. With the unscheduled rains, catching up with the schedule is still quite a challenge.

T-SHIRT LEAGUE
The White Sox took both games played by the little fellers in the T-Shirt League, taking the Cubs 23-1 and the Orioles 2-0. They remain one full game ahead of the Yankees with only one loss. Playing "catch-up" with the schedule is still a preoccupation in this quintet of teams.

FRESHMAN LEAGUE
The Tigers finally caught up with the Red Sox, when the Giants took the colored hose boys 6-3. The Giants won both of their games, and each team now leads its league with a standing of 8-1. This race shapes up definitely as a 3-team dogfight, with the Giants having lost only 2 and all others biting the dust at least five times.

Men From Australia-New Zealand View Fertilizer Firm

The folks at the Producers Cooperative Elevator were hosts to men from Australia and New Zealand last week as they showed them the elevator and fertilizer operations here. Lloyd Saunders and Collin Dibble were from New Zealand, Bill Davies from Australia. They were representatives from the firm of Davies Fertilizer LTD., Australia, and Dibble Bros. LTD., New Zealand and England.

The visitors were looking for new ideas in the distribution of fertilizer and said that there was a 10% increase in fertilizer in their countries.

While 2,000 tons of fertilizer are sold in West Texas by the average dealer, 100,000 tons are sold in their countries by the average dealer. They run from 5 to 100 sheep and cattle per acre on fertilized grass. Dibble Bros. has radio controlled communication, 20 spreading units and service four aerial topping firms. Instead of fan scattering, the visitors use blower units at the rear of the spreaders. Two million tons of manufactured fertilizer are utilized in one year in New Zealand, according to the visitors.

"Reasons Why" To Play For Dance

The group will feature songs from Paul Revere and the Raiders, Rolling Stones, The Animals etc.

Tickets will be $1 per person at the door. The dance will be well chaperoned and all teenagers are invited to attend.

Youth Drives Auto Across Lawns

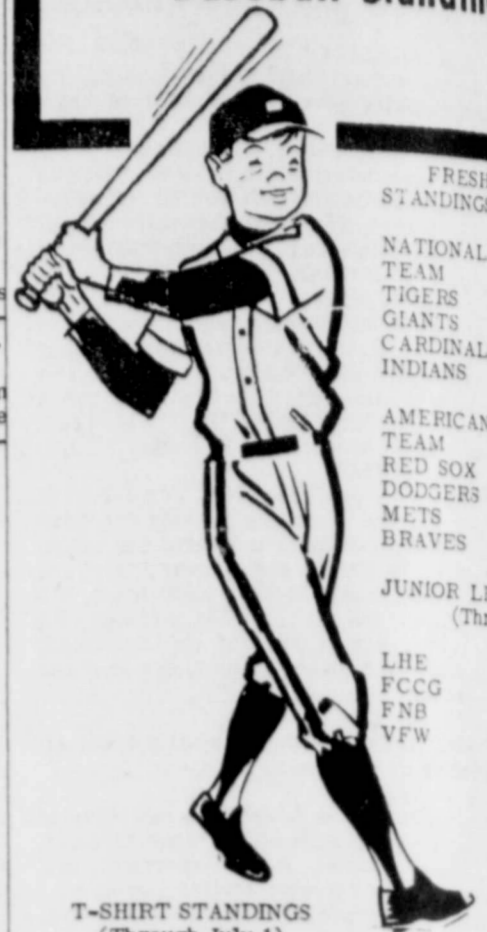

Residents who live on Mesquite Street were awakened Saturday night when a Floydada youth drove his automobile across their lawns.

The Floydada police reported that the youth was fined $50.00. They reported that he had not been drinking and when asked why he drove his automobile across the yards said, "I don't know why I did it."
