NUMBER TWENTY-NINE

DIVERTED ACREAGE, PRICE SUPPORT PAYMENTS

Farmers Due Over $11 Million

Payments To Begin August 28

More than $11 million will start being channeled to Floyd County farmers and into the county's economy August 28, according to Tom Moore of the U. S. Dept. of Agricultural Stabilization and Soil Conservation office at Floydada.

The figure quoted by Moore, $11,513,161, is a total of diverted acreage and price support payments "for both cotton and feed grain," he said.

Moore said farmers who will participate in the program must report to the ASC office by August 15.

Payments will begin about a month earlier than last year, Moore said he hoped they would start even earlier but his office had received notice none will be made in this area prior to August 28.

Speeding up of payments has come about under the new certification program by which individual farm producers report to the ASC.

Certification statements for individual producers are being sent to New Orleans for processing and check writing as soon as data is obtained here at the county level.

Checks will be mailed from New Orleans to Floydada in a new speed-up process of automation. The checks then will be placed in the mail for delivery to individuals.

Diversion payments for cotton will be $2,518,625 and price support of $5,085,962.

Feed grain diversion payments are $127,749 and price support of $2,003,412.

There is no diversion wheat payment, but there is $1,777,413 price support.

IN FLOYDADA MONDAY

Accidents Leave One Injured

What started out as a usually quiet Monday in Floydada this week ended up with two accidents, one of them seriously injuring a 14 year-old boy.

About 11 a.m. a 1959 Ford overturned on the Wye. It was driven by Barbara Breeding, who, according to the Floydada police department, lost control, skidded over the curb, crashed into a highway sign and the car rolled over on its side.

One boy and three girls were in the car with Barbara. No one was injured, according to the police department.

JOHNNY FARRIS INJURED

A careening Camino pickup jumped a curb near the intersection of Tree and West Kentucky streets about 2 p.m., striking Johnny Farris, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Kinder Farris. After a local doctor administered to him, he was taken to Methodist Hospital in Lubbock where he underwent surgery Monday night.

Highway patrolman L. L. (Bid) Rainey identified the driver of the pickup as Wade C. Bynum, 42, member of a scrap metal baling crew who was

New Federal Reserve Check Rules Explained

Local bank officials explained the new rules of the Federal Reserve system in a meeting at the community room of the First National Bank last Friday afternoon.

BEGINS SEPT. 1

Although the rules officially go into effect on Sept. 1, at least parts of the provisions relating thereto are already being carried out by many merchants. The key item is the encoding to be found in the bottom left-hand part of the check.

MAGNETIC ENCODING

Five years ago the Federal Reserve started urging its member banks to adopt a restriction against changing the names on checks. Every time a check is changed it takes as much time to handle one changed item as it would numerous items that need no changing and can be handled electronically.

APPLIES TO DRAFTS

The same restriction applies to drafts as to changed checks, for this calls for manual handling as well. When a changed check is handled through a computer center the encoded number determines where it is routed to. No account is taken of any changes made, and there is no way for the computer to handle drafts at all.

DRAFTS

HANDLED LOCALLY

Drafts can, however, be handled locally. Check handling here is not subject to the restrictions of the clearinghouse. However, to avoid the extra trouble that even this involves, First National Bank is endeavoring to furnish to all local merchants the checks of surrounding banks, so that if a person wishes to write a check on an out-of-town bank, he will have one handy.

PENALTIES

It was explained to local merchants that they will bear the brunt of changed checks. All unqualified items will be charged either 50¢ or $1.00 by the Federal Reserve System, and this charge is paid by the last endorser.

CORRESPONDING BANK

Floydada's First National Bank has a corresponding bank in Dallas handling its items there, but there is charge for it that they would like to save their customers, hence the precautions taken to save as much of this as possible.

PLAINVIEW MAN

According to a report from Floydada city manager Bill Feuerbacher a Plainview lawyer has been employed as city attorney for the City of Floydada.

He is Paul Lyle, of the Day, Owen and Lyle law firm in Plainview.

He is also city attorney for Lockney.

Lyle succeeds Ben Ayres, local lawyer who recently resigned the position.

HESPERIAN WANTS TO GIVE AWAY 20 BICYCLES

The Floyd County Hesperian announced a big bicycle giveaway subscription contest to begin today for the boys and girls of this trade area.

Hesperian publisher Wendell Tooley said, "I hope we can give away 20 bicycles during this contest."

In order to receive a sting ray bicycle the contestant must sell 20 one-year new subscriptions to the Hesperian. Everyone interested in earning one of the bicycles is invited to come by the Hesperian at once and get his or her receipt book and go to work.

"Contestants who do not sell 20 subscriptions will be paid a liberal commission on the ones they do sell," Tooley added.

The bicycles are on display at Caprock Hardware, where the Hesperian will purchase them.

NEW BOYS BASKETBALL COACH HIRED

According to a report from Floydada school superintendent A. E. Baker, a new head boys' basketball coach has been hired.

He is Curtis Chatham, who has been coach at Cotton Center the past four years.

Chatham will teach history. The Chathams have one child.

Rainey said Bynum was headed south on Tree Street when his pickup went out of control, jumped the curb and struck the youth.

Johnny was knocked more than 50 feet from where he had been trimming the grass, Rainey said.

The pickup continued on across the lawn, counting to rest against a telephone pole, the officer reported.

Rainey said Bynum is in the county jail and charged with driving while intoxicated.

JOHNNY'S CONDITION
Mrs. Farris reported Wednesday morning that Johnny is making fine improvement, and they expect to be able to bring him home within a day or two. His head has a "goose egg" and there is a spot over one eye. The main item is the broken right arm.

Johnny learned of a previous accident at the Wye that morning, as he was on his last trip in driver's education, which he finished at noon that day. His father had been in the Hesperian office just prior to the accident, and probably would have been gone from home except for this. He was the first person, it seems, to see Johnny after the accident. The younger Farris was sprawled on the ground, stunned but definitely conscious.

He remains badly bruised, but it appears that all of his internal injuries will heal naturally.

HAND NEWS

Have you noticed how much brighter the night as you drive around in the rural areas?

During the last six weeks, approximately 60 mercury vapor lights have been hung on the Lighthouse lines.

A little seventh grader in North Carolina wrote a modern version about the three little pigs which included a thought on yard lights.

Once upon a time there were three little pigs.
And they decided they would never more roam.

Their property had access to electric power.
And there they decided to build their homes.

The first little pig told the other two,
"Here we can live, enjoy TV and a phone."

So here is where I plan to build a house.
With these conveniences I'll never feel alone.

"That sounds like fun," the second pig said,
As he skipped and danced with delight.

"And I've always enjoyed the country so much,
But even more now with electric lights."

The third little pig was extremely happy.
He said, "Let's start on our new homes today."

Because then everyone can have yard lights
And this will drive the Big Bad Wolf away."

-Randy Smith

You still have an opportunity to have one of these lights installed on your property for a thirty day free trial period. This is the light that gives an acre of light for a penny a night.

Congratulations to the 4-Hers who made dresses and wore them in the Dress Revue last Monday in the Lighthouse Community Room. Each of these girls deserve blue ribbons for their efforts and accomplishments. A double congratulations to the first place winners who worked extra hard to achieve this honor.

Although the following recipe is not original with me, several people have asked for it and it is fast becoming one of the favorite substitutes for potatoes.

GREENE RICE
1 egg, beaten well
1 cup milk, evaporated
1 cup parsley, chopped
or 1/2 cup parsley flakes
1 onion, minced
2 cups rice, cooked (about 3/4 cup before cooking)
1/2 cup sharp cheese, grated
2 tablespoons margarine or butter
Salt and pepper

Mix all ingredients well and bake in buttered casserole until brown.

We are glad to have Mr. Henry, Lighthouse Electric Cooperative, Inc. Manager back on the job after being recently hospitalized with a back ailment.

Congratulations to Gary and Carolyn Thompson on the arrival of their son, Lowell Ray last Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Israel Rodriguez and Casey and Mr. and Mrs. Lupe DeLeon and family visited in Carlsbad, El Paso, and Juarez last week while on vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Kent Hardage of Lubbock visited her parents during the weekend, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Goen and Mark. A Saturday afternoon visitor of the Goens was Mrs. Mike Badgett who was Melinda Hardage's roommate at Tech. Joel Dean Spray and Joanie Barton of Lubbock were Sunday night visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Phillips and children.

GI Bill Checks To Arrive Earlier

Checks for more than two hundred thousand veterans who will attend college next fall under the new GI Bill for Vietnam veterans will arrive about ten days earlier each month because of an improved system adopted by the Veterans Administration.

Future checks will normally arrive about the 10th of the month, according to Jack Coker, Manager of the VA Regional Office in Waco.

The 10-day speed-up results from dropping the requirements for monthly certification, Coker said. Now a veteran who is attending a regular course at an approved college or university certifies his attendance at the beginning of the school year.

Checks continue as long as he continues in regular attendance or until his eligibility expires, the VA Manager said. The additional certifications required are handled independently of the checks.

Two Local Men Listed In Who's Who

The 1967 issue of "Who's Who In The Southwest" lists two Floydada men; John Reue and J. M. Willson, Sr.

Willson has been listed in the past, Reue is listed this year for the first time.

Willson is a local lumberman, Reue is manager of the local Chamber of Commerce.

ASSOCIATION EXECUTIVE
Reue is classed as "association executive" for his work as manager of the local Chamber of Commerce. Born Oct. 8, 1908, at Brenham, Tex., he was graduated from Brenn Memorial College in 1929, and married Miss Ella Jahnke July 31, 1938. They have three daughters. In 1930-31 he was a salesman for Gulf Oil; and for the following two years was with Washington National Insurance. He became associated with the J. C. Penny Co. store at Brenham in 1933, remaining as assistant manager until 1940, and was with the Greenville store in a similar capacity from 1940 to 1945, at which time he moved to Floydada as manager.

PRESENT POST SINCE 1960
In 1955 he began operating his own business, until he was employed by the Chamber of Commerce as manager in 1960. He is also executive director of the Housing Authority. He is active in the work of the Boy Scouts, is a Mason, Lion, Rotarian, and a Methodist.

LUMBERMAN
Long time lumberman James McCrory Willson, prominent philanthropist and churchman, was born at Vashiti, Texas, May 11, 1895. A student at Seth Ward College, he graduated in 1912 with a B.A. degree from Southwestern University in Georgetown, Texas. He moved to Floydada in 1916, after having owned the David R. Lumber yard for eight years. He married Mavis Louise Terry on June 14, 1919. Their children have all been prominent in civic and community work.

MANY AREAS
The senior Willson, while operating numerous business enterprises connected with lumber and furniture under the Willson and Son name, has also been prominent in civic, Rotary, Chamber of Commerce, Boy Scout, Masonic, and Methodist activities. Several times a delegate to general and jurisdictional Methodist conferences, district Rotary governor and president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, mayor of Floydada, perhaps his longest continuance in office has been as vice chairman since 1934 of the Western Methodist Assembly at Fayetteville, Ark. He has endowed numerous lectureships throughout the Southwest.

MRS. RODNEY BUNCH

Church Wedding Unites Vicki Gregory And Rodney Bunch

Miss Vicki Jan Gregory became the bride of Rodney Dean Bunch in a double ring ceremony at 7 p.m. Saturday in the First Methodist Church. The Rev. Herschel L. Thurston, minister, officiated the ceremony.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Howard R. Gregory and bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bunch.

Miss Dee Gregory of Lubbock was her cousin's maid of honor and Mrs. Garrett Boyd of Amarillo, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Cindy Berry of Rotan and Miss Pam Cass of Lubbock.

Darrell Bunch of Carrollton was his brother's best man. Groomsmen were James Finley of Midland, Derrell Monday and Britt Gregory. Garrett Boyd of Amarillo, Mac Baker and Jack Gregory served as ushers.

Lighting candles were Kristi Finley of Midland and Lisa Gregory. Mrs. James Finley of Midland, organist, accompanied Miss Pam Rhoades of Crosbyton, soloist, for the wedding music.

The bride's father presented her in marriage. She wore a gown of white silk organza over

Miss Tomi Dycus Enrolls At LCC

Tomi Dycus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Dycus, Floydada, has enrolled in the second summer session at Lubbock Christian College.

Miss Dycus is a 1967 graduate of Floydada High School. She is a freshman but her major is undecided.

Finals for this session are slated for August 16. Registration for the fall semester will begin Sept. 11 and continue through Sept. 14. Classes are to begin Sept. 15.

peau de sole fashioned with bateau neckline and long tapered sleeves. Appliqued Alencon lace enhanced the bodice and outlined soft folds of deep unpressed pleats in front and back of the skirt. A wide chapel train was formed by the unpressed pleats and her mantilla of handmade Belgian lace fell to fingertip length. She carried a bouquet of white mystery gardenias and pearlized staphanotis atop a Bible.

The attendants wore floor-length sleeveless gowns of sapphire blue peau de sole fashioned with empire waistlines, portrait necklines and trains of chiffon falling in soft folds from the waistlines. They carried colonia bouquets of white spider pompon mums and blue feathered carnations.

A reception in the Fellowship Hall followed the ceremony, after which the couple left for a wedding trip to Colorado Springs. They will reside at 2902-3rd Place, Apt. A-22, Lubbock.

The bride is a graduate of Floydada High School and attended McMurry College in Abilene, where she was a member of Gamma Sigma social club. She is employed by Crenshaw, Dubree and Milam law firm. The bridegroom is also a graduate of Floydada High School. He is employed by Piggy Wiggy.

The rehearsal dinner, hosted by Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bunch, was held at Roger's cafe at 7:00 on Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Olin S. Miller To Celebrate 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Olin S. Miller whose home is at 303 Austin Street in Plainview, will be honored on their fiftieth wedding anniversary Sunday, July 23 in a reception at Pioneer Flame Room, 113 W. 8th, Plainview. Calling hours will be 3:30 to 5:30 p.m.

Hosts will be their son, W. D. Miller who is an appraiser for the State Highway Department at Odessa, Texas, and their daughter, Mrs. Elnora Willis, who lives in Tucson, Arizona. She is at present church secretary of Tucson Northside Baptist Church. Assisting in the reception will be the granddaughters, other relatives and friends of the couple.

Olin Miller was born in Johnson County, Texas, and came with his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Miller to Floydada in 1889. His parents were charter member of Floydada First Methodist Church.

In 1907, R. T. Miller moved his family to Plainview to give his children the advantages of a college education. Olin and others of the Miller children attended Central Plains-Seth Ward College, southeast corner of the square in Plainview. Olin recalls that he delivered groceries before and after school, driving a "hack" and team over the town of Plainview.

Later Olin attended West Texas State Teacher's College at Canyon, Texas, where he graduated in 1913. That September he was elected principal of the Llano Rural School near Claude, Texas.

It was at Llano School that Olin and Nora first met, on the first day of the school term.

Nora is also a native Texan. She was born in Ellis County and moved with her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Duke, when she was six years old, to Amarillo, Texas, where M. B. Duke worked for three years with the Santa Fe Railroad. In 1907 the family purchased ranch and farm land on the rim of the Palo Duro Canyon southwest of Claude and made their home there for many years. The children (Nora, her brothers and sisters) rode horseback and buggy three and one-half miles to school at Llano until graduation.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller have served (in many of the communities where they have lived) as teachers in Sunday School. They attend church at St. John's Methodist Church in Plainview, where Miller served as Sunday School Superintendent and teacher for sixteen years. Mrs. Miller teaches the women's class at St. John's.

In 1947 the Miller Flower Shop was begun as a hobby and to furnish flowers for their church and friends. The present Miller Flower Shop, 301 Austin, was built in 1958. The Millers continue to provide flowers every Sunday for the altar at St. John's Church and a corsage to some visitor at the Sunday morning service.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller invite their friends to help them celebrate their fiftieth wedding anniversary on Sunday, July 23.

Alice In Hungerland

BY CATHERINE MARSHALL

After not seeing her for almost a year, I met a friend of mine, whom I'll call Alice. I'd always liked Alice, but we had never been really close. . . she'd always struck me as the typical frustrated housewife, who was a bit bored with herself.

But suddenly here was a woman who seemed altogether different. Calm, poised, good-humored, serene, she radiated an extraordinary kind of power. The change was so startling that I couldn't resist saying to her, "Alice, in this past year you've become an entirely different person. And it's wonderful. What on earth happened?"

"Well," she said with a smile, "I guess what happened was that I found myself. A year ago I didn't know who I was, and I had to do some searching to find out. But I think I DID find out. And that's the difference you sense in me."

A woman who found herself. . . As you can imagine, I was not content to let it go at that. So I asked Alice to have lunch with me, and tell me her story. . . and this is it:

Twelve years after her marriage to Jerry, Alice found the "good life" that she and her husband pursued so eagerly seemed flat and tasteless. They had cars. They had money. They had a big house, but she felt she was losing her identity in an endless procession of social events, cocktail parties and chauffeuring of children to their activities, community and church meetings.

During one cocktail party, when as an experiment Alice decided to limit herself to ginger ale, she made some discoveries - not especially pleasant: "I saw our crowd through new eyes," she told me. "No one was really saying anything. Most sentences were never even finished. No one cared what anyone else was saying. There was a lot of laughter over - well, nothing at all. All of us seemed to be talking out of an inner emptiness. All at once I began to ask questions about us and our friends and what we call "the good life." What was so good about it?"

"But," she wondered, "what was I to do? If Jerry and I ducked those invitations, we'd be thought snobbish and eventually dropped. But if we went, I knew that we would have to drink. Otherwise, how could we stand the emptiness?"

Seeing the emptiness - really seeing it for the first time - was a shock, but it was good for Alice. She began to realize that it is not necessary to be a "mirror person," getting all her signals from other people. Suddenly she felt a desperate yearning to discover herself, find out who she was, what her real tastes and talents were, why she was here on this earth.

The search started when she decided that solid values must first be sought within herself. As she began reading, she found the voices of both psychiatry and religion united loudly and clearly on the necessity of the inner search. Forever and forever, the kingdom of God is within; the person we are seeking is within.

So Alice began to set aside an hour each day for her inward search toward self-knowledge. She told me that nothing has helped so much of pushed her ahead so fast as this quiet, uninterrupted hour. Every day she reads, ponders, dreams, listens to her own deepest thoughts, and writes them in a notebook. And very gradually, there has come to Alice the realization that she is being met in this quiet hour at her point of need by something more than her own thoughts and her own psyche, by Someone who loves her and who insists that His love must be passed on to her family and her friends.

Alice has begun to bake bread regularly. She finds this ancient female ritual deeply satisfying. "You can't imagine how many enemies I slay and repressions I get rid of as I knead that bread," she laughs. "Then there's the delicious fragrance of the bread baking and my family's delight in it."

Instead of letting the children dash away from the dinner table for television, the evening meal has become a time for discussion of current events. Not long ago Alice asked me to recommend a book of devotions and prayers that could be used at the table. Family Game Night once a week has become a creative substitute for television.

There is new strength in Alice in regard to her children. I have heard her tell her astonished 11-year-old that he is going to walk to Little League one way each practice day and calmly state to her nine-year-old daughter that she certainly is not going to buy her any "training" bras.

"What I've discovered is that real love for our children has to go beyond catering to their selfish whims so that we turn them into tyrannical little princes and princesses," Alice said. "They, too, have to find themselves and their own inner resources. And how can they, if my husband and I do for them the things that they could do for themselves? But I never saw that in the old days."

Increasingly, as she finds her own pattern, Alice sees each member of her family as an individual and unique personality. Already her husband and children are receiving from her more love and giving of self than the old Alice could ever have given them.

Recognizing that some of her friends are as bored as she with the purposelessness and banality of the typical cocktail party, lately she has experimented with some new types of entertaining. One evening after a tasty buffet supper, a hand-picked group listened spellbound to a play on hi-fidelity. "The Murder Trial of William Palmer, Surgeon." Alice had supplied each guest with a paperback copy of the play to follow as they listened. The play was a big hit, particularly with the men.

Next she plans to be even more daring in her entertainment by inviting a different group to hear Dylan Thomas' "Under Milkwood." There is a great variety of these dramatic recordings now available.

Still another plan in the works is an around-the-world dinner club like a successful one in Pomona, California. Each couple must pick a foreign cuisine - Mexican, Chinese, Dutch, Scottish - entertain once a year, and husband and wife as a team must do all the work themselves.

Alice now has a totally new attitude toward her church life. Before, she was willing to help with such things as a couple's club outing or planning the menu for a church supper. She had ducked being a Sunday school teacher, then had made an excuse when asked if she and Jerry would attend a Bible-study class.

"I realized one day that the church had little more meaning for me than did our country club," Alice said. "I called our pastor and asked when the Bible Study Group met. He said that the class wouldn't resume for some weeks, but referred me to a couple who were having discussion meetings in their homes."

Jerry and Alice went one night and discovered that eight couples were meeting twice a month to find ways to relate prayer and the Bible to some everyday problems they were all facing. Out of this new experience has come a new set of friends, a new level of shared concerns and the exciting discovery of answers sought out together.

I was in Alice's room the other day and spotted a quotation stuck in her mirror. In the letters of Fanny Osbourne to Robert Louis Stevenson, written shortly before they were married in 1880, Alice had come across this passage:

"I feel so at home with you, Oren (Fanny's first husband) never wanted me to be me. . . This one thing I ask. . . please never stop allowing me to be myself."

For all of us women with our children and our pressures and our houses to manage, it is at once our plea and our goal. . . Please never stop allowing us to be ourselves.

Carolyn Dunavant Honored With Bridal Shower

Miss Carolyn Dunavant, bride-elect of John W. Redding, was honored with a miscellaneous bridal shower at the home of Mrs. Bill Smith Friday afternoon, July 14 from 6:30 to 7:30.

Those standing in the receiving line were Mrs. Smith, the hostess, Miss Dunavant, the honoree, Mrs. Grady Dunavant, the honoree's mother, and Mrs. E. T. Williamson, the honoree's grandmother. The clever corsages consisting of small kitchen items on dishcloths, accented with yellow bows, were fashioned by Mrs. Wayne Battey.

The table was laid with a white cut-work linen tablecloth over yellow to carry out the honoree's chosen colors with Mrs. Wayne Battey presiding. Cake squares iced in white topped with a yellow flower and yellow mints were served along with pineapple punch. Crystal appointments were used to complement the service. An artificial arrangement of white daisies flanked with yellow larkspur set in a cherubim base graced the center of the table.

Mrs. Dwayne Smith presided at the register. About 35 guests registered in the bride's book in addition to the attending hostesses.

Grandparents are Mrs. Ola Fortenberry and J. T. Strickland of Floydada.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Wayne Norwood of Lubbock on the arrival of a baby daughter, born at 6:44 a.m. Thursday, July 13, in West Texas Hospital. The baby weighed six pounds and 14 3/4 ounces and has been named Kellie Dianne.

The father is a student at Texas Tech. Mrs. Norwood is the former Vickie Jarboe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malvin Jarboe of Floydada.

Lowell Ray, 7 lb., 8 1/2 oz., son born to Mr. and Mrs. Gary Thompson of Lighthouse Electric, in Lockney Hospital.

David, 7 lb., son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Woods, born at Lockney Hospital.

The hostesses were Mrs. Mmes. Bill Smith, Willie Patterson, Odell Martin, H. R. Patterson, Doyle Sandefur, Dwayne Smith, Eldon Nipp, Cecil Melton, J. T. Couch, Galen Sexton, Everett Warren, Herbert Young, Fred Young, G. W. Smith, Milton Harrison, Don Harrison, Dorris Jones, Dorel Couch, Wayne Battey, and Misses Veri Miller and Margaret Collier. The hostesses' gift was a mixmaster and a perculator.

CONGRATULATIONS TO Mr. and Mrs. Jude Strickland of Lincoln, Illinois are parents of twin sons, born July 5. They have been named Loray Joseph and Leland Chester. One of the boys weighed five pounds, nine ounces at birth and the other weighed just under five pounds.

The twins have two older brothers, Dennis who is 18 and Ronnie 16. Their late grandfather, Joe Fortenberry was a twin and their late grandmother, Mrs. Strickland was also a twin.

HEIMPEL STAR FLEET MAZATLAN

LOS LAND SOME BIG ONES - Shown at Mazatlan are, right, Joy Lambert, Mary Lea Schuette, Pat Stansell, Johnson. They don't need an alibi; they have the proof!

Lambert Likes Vacationing Mexico; The Fishing's Great blasts of the engine whistle signaled the departure never it was an hour late leaving. A wedding party and dance on the station platform and the for everyone to kiss the bride and shake the. One of the first things Americans learn in Mexico is to be in a hurry and never rely on a time table.

TRAIN TRIP
The train trip carried you through 72 tunnels, over 75 small villages, and ends some 24 hours later east of Mexico at Los Moches. The track was built at $89 million and 30 years labor. Copper Canyon is the pride of the past, with its stately trees, rushing rapids, and Indians living as they did thousands of years ago.

PRIMITIVE LIFE
The Indians still live in caves, till the land with bows, carry the babies on their backs, and stare strangers, ignorance, superstition, and governmental very heavy toll hence 80% of the children die before 5 years old. The Indians are not alone in this primitive life. Thousands of Mexicans live in huts with thatched roofs except a nearby stream, cooking over open fires, sleeping in a blanket on the ground, and eating with much effort in the rocky land.

IRRIGATION
The valley out of Los Moches the countryside became cotton, tomatoes, sugar beets, and various other crops. A huge canal system from a nearby lake brings water to hundreds of square miles of farm land. This irrigation system is a marvel of engineering, and therefore the people live a little bit better. Los Moches has a population of 60,000, having 10,000 in the last five or six years, and will probably have 15,000 in the next five or six years. The railroad is bringing more and more tourists, and the growth program will draw many new people. Hence the population is unlimited.

TO MAZATLAN
The days of rest we tackled the bus trip to Mazatlan, to the south. The fare on their first class bus is about that, Mrs. Lambert? All Mexican bus trips to drive in New York from taxi drivers, or they can movies and take lessons. If the brakes went out, it would be alright, but if the horn broke the bus had to stop. It was a constant blast of the horn to stop, cows, pigs, chickens, donkeys, venter carts, and there must be more livestock on the roads than in all of the states and 60 tranquilizers later Mazatlan came into view, it looked like Heaven after that death defying

MAD SCRAMBLE
Hotel was much like our American hotels, very nice swimming pool, across the street from the ocean, very furnished. Unpacking was a mad scramble since the hotel was full. Three days of fishing netted eight sailfish weighing 100 pounds, length 10 feet, and three dolphinfish, sunburn, sore hands, stiff arms, and demolished the boat leaves at 7:30 in the morning, travels about 100 miles, and starts the return trip by 2:00.

CREEL MIXTURE OF OLD AND NEW
The Creel duplicated the original with the exception of a few things. Creel, which is a village of 3,000. Hotel Navero is the previous hotels in name only. Heat was furnished by burning stove, lights were electric from 7:00 p.m. to 11:00 p.m. Creel is located some 6,000 feet above sea level, the nights were cold and three heavy Indian blankets were a matter of some difficulty.

EAT IT AND HOPE
The family served family style by a Mexican woman who could speak English, so you ate what she put on the table without any thought of what it might be. The train at Creel after an hour wait in the rain was waiting home, since this was the last time three suitcases, overnight bags, three hanging bags, one straw dirty hat, two camera cases, four purses, and four tired people to be hurriedly removed by some mode of transportation.

She goes, "Nice place to visit, but wouldn't want to see you sun up Mexico. Give me the good ole U.S. of America. In Mexico there are two classes of people, the very poor. At least we Americans do have a chance to live in a better class, middle class, etc. Americans on the border will be a little hesitant to belittle our government, at least until after all the movies and slides have been shown, the bills from credit cards arrive, the tan suitcases start to form for next year's vacation.

H.D. Council Meets

Floyd County Home Demonstration Council met July 14 at 2:00 p.m. in the council room at the courthouse, with five clubs, two officers, one visitor, seven members, the agent, T.H.D.A. chairman, Mrs. Ross, president, called it to order. All clubs reported.

Mrs. Ross has been asked to be one of the judges for the 4-H scholarship contest. Starkey reported they were having a lot of fun making finances meet with their grab bag project.

The council yearbook committee met after the council meeting. Mrs. G. W. Smith, and Mrs. Carmel Eastham from Dougherty, Mrs. R. C. Davis from Harmony, Mrs. Raymond Williams of Homebuilders, Mrs. Melvin Brock of Lone Star, and Mrs. Leon Ferguson of Starkey Club are the yearbook committee. They will work out programs for next year's books.

The citizenship and family life committee chairmen reported little things of interest in public health. Since 1949 more men than women have died of cancer. The ratio in 1967 will be approximately 55 men to 45 women, according to the American Cancer Society. Also a survey of the American Podiatry Association shows that 65% of the boys and 80% of the girls of school age have foot disorders. If neglected these may prove disabling in later life.

Mrs. Ross had a letter from the District 2 director, Mrs. Howard Cobb, saying there were 4-H winners from 9 counties. She also said the District II luncheon at the state meeting would be September 20 instead of September 19.

Homebuilders Club will bring recreation for September council meeting. The meeting Oct. 24 at Lighthouse Electric will be a covered dish luncheon. This is countywide, so bring a dish and join us.

Mrs. Ross said the fair was upon us and for us to be getting ready for it.

Recreation was the singing of our state T.H.D.A. song, after which council adjourned.

Floyd County T.H.D.A. meeting was held immediately following the council meeting for the election of T.H.D.A. chairman for Floyd County and delegates to state meeting. Mrs. O. D. Mayfield was elected T.H.D.A. chairman and Mrs. Raymond Williams, Mrs. Sherwood Ramsey, and Mrs. W. J. Ross were elected delegates. Mrs. Clay Mercer was elected alternate. The delegates will leave September 18 from Lubbock at 7 a.m. for the state meeting in Fort Worth.

Shower For Cliff Jones's

A shower for Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Jones was hosted by Mrs. Gene Collins, Sr., W. H. Smith, and T. L. Holland at the home of the latter at 605 W. Kentucky Tuesday morning. Cliff, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Jones, made his home with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Dorris Jones. He married the former Joyce Forcht, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. M. L. Forcht of Haynesville, La. The wedding was performed in Sherman, Texas on July 15. Attending the couple were Airman and Mrs. Ricky Holland. Mrs. Holland is a cousin of Cliff.

The couple arrived in Floydada Sunday evening, and left Wednesday morning for Red River, Santa Fe, and other points in New Mexico. They will visit with her parents before returning to their home in Louisiana.

VETERANS ASK

VETERANS ADMINISTRATION EDITOR'S NOTE: Veterans and their families are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through the Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.

Q--I was divorced from a veteran a short time ago. He is now in the hospital and is unable to make his payments to support our two children. Can I get VA payments toward the support of these children?

A--If your husband has more than a 30 percent service-connected disability, and if he is receiving compensation payments because of it, you should contact the nearest Veterans Administration office and discuss your case with representatives there.

Tech Football Tickets Available

LUBBOCK - Season tickets for Texas Tech's five home football games are still available, according to Mrs. Ruth Sturtz, ticket manager.

"Fans wishing to purchase season tickets are asked to hurry," Mrs. Sturtz said. "Interest in the team is running high and the season tickets provide the best seats to view the action."

Season tickets ordered must be picked up by September 1, she said. The tickets will not be held after that date and will be available for sale to others. Season ticket books cost $25, $27.50, $30, and $35.

Mail orders are being accepted provided a 50-cent mailing fee is included in the check or money order sent to the Texas Tech Athletic Office, Lubbock. Tickets will be mailed by September 1.

Scheduled for Jones Stadium this fall is an attractive array of teams including Iowa State, Sept. 23; Mississippi State, Oct. 7; Texas A&M, Oct. 14; Rice, Nov. 4; and Baylor, Nov. 18. Three of the tilts, Iowa State, Mississippi State, and Texas A&M will be night affairs beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Reservations are now being accepted for all Tech games out of town, Mrs. Sturtz said. Road games are with Texas, Sept. 30; Florida State, Oct. 21; SMU, Oct. 28; TCU, Nov. 11; and Arkansas, Nov. 25.

Tickets are available at the ticket office behind the south end of Jones Stadium, 6th at Akron.

All-Star T-Shirt Match Set For 6:30 Today

Mike Burk Runs Fast 880

Mike Burk not only has to contend with other runners in the half mile, but also with the snarls of red tape. Somehow his entry into the state T.A.A.F. track meet at Harlingen this past Saturday was never registered, and he was allowed to run only in the 15-16 age group instead of the 13-14 in which he properly belonged.

FASTEST

It is believed that he ran faster than ever before, but the winning time was somewhere

Junior League In Penultimate Stage

The Junior League was in its next-to-last stage scheduled to "finish up" this week. All three games played from July 14-17 involved the First National Bank team, which managed to pull out a victory in the middle game. On July 14 FCCG took down around 2:03, which would be too swift for his class. Mike had run winning races in 2:11.1 and 2:10.4 and a second place in 2:10.1, which are all very good times for his bracket.

OUTLOOK GOOD

It is understood that Mike was in good spirits after the race, and certainly he seems to have

PIRATES TAKE THREE

The Pirates shot past three teams this week to take runner-up position in the T-Shirt league, two games behind the champion White Sox. They fell, in order, the Cubs, 11-10; the Yankees, 3-2; and the Orioles 26-7. This put them one game ahead of the Yankees, two up on the Orioles, and four ahead of the cellar-dwelling Cubs. Only the champ White Sox were idle.

ALL-STAR GAME FOR NINES ONLY

The all-star game, pitting the champs against a contingent made up of three boys from each of the other four teams, is scheduled to be played at 6:30 today.

KFLD BROADCAST

Radio station KFLD is broadcasting the all-star game which is being billed as "WHITE SOX VERSUS ALL-STAR NINES"

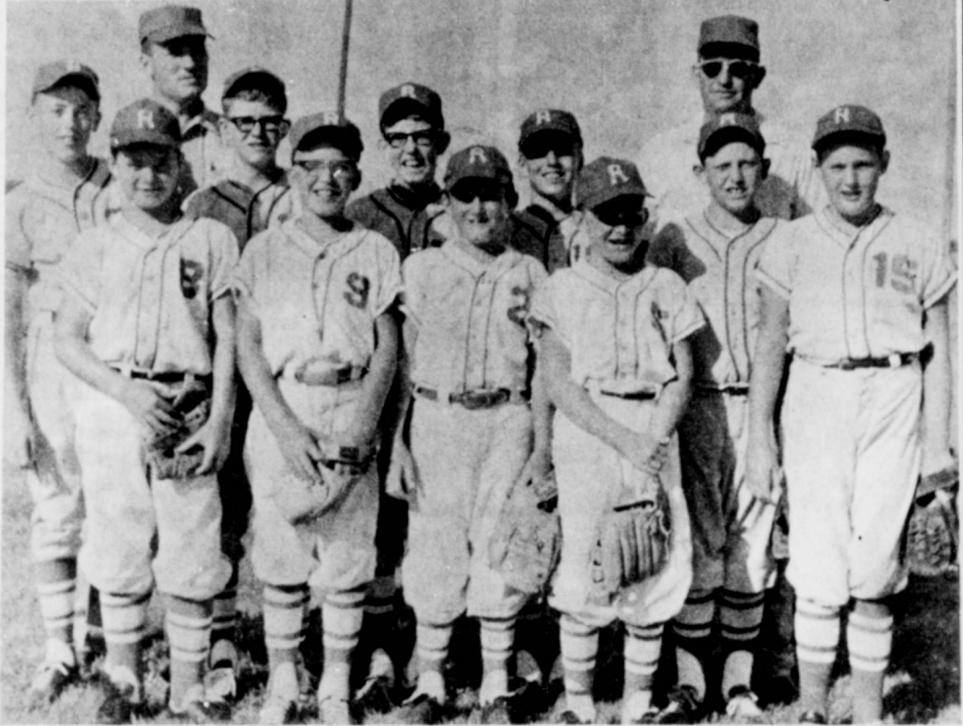

Only nine-year olds are included in the all-star lineup.

ALL-STAR ROSTER

Herman Galloway is serving as manager of the All-Stars, with Tommy Assiter as his assistant. Players representing the Yankees are Dean Seay, Jimmy Whitley and Larry Stovall. The Pirates are fielding Greg Goen, Billy Marricle, and Gary Galloway, while the Orioles are represented by Tom Assiter, Mauncy Probasco, and Mike Marble. Greg Bishop, Greg Glazner, and Kevin Nelson come to the all-stars from the Cubs.

WHITE SOX ARE CHAMPS

from South America. He surmised that the alligators could have migrated up the Brazos... the White River and into Floydada.

His declaration that the alligator was American shot my theory out of the saddle that the alligators were sold by a local variety store a year or two ago.

He was here on Friday... and Monday morning I learned from a local source (a man whom I cannot identify) that there was a man here who kept telling a buddy of his that he wanted an alligator.

The man was away in another state, saw these two alligators, thought it would be a good joke to bring them here to the Floydada man who said that he wanted one.

So, I have it from reliable sources... this is how the alligators got to Floydada.

ORDINARILY, it doesn't rain enough in this country to create a weed problem. Bit, now RAIN.

receiving hall, but fortunately in lesser degree, were Samny Hale, William Smiley, Zant Scott, Everett Miller, and H. G. Watts. Five and a half inches of rain fell on the Charles Carr farm, a mile and a half north of Roy Hale. Fortunately, he avoided damaging hail.

LESSER AMOUNTS The Hale and Carr measurements apparently topped the amounts in this area. The Barwise Glen got 1 1/2 inches; Jerrold Vinson and the southwest corner of the H. G. Watts land received 3.3 inches. Topping this figure slightly was the 3.5 at the R. G. Dunlap farm just west of Floydada. Out at Mimcy the A. B. Muncy farm received three inches, but no hail.

At the sandhill store the report was an inch of rain, but no hail. James Jeffers, whose land is in the Allmon Community, received some hail.

IN TOWN Within the city limits the rain had already spent much of its force, so the amounts were much smaller than in much of the area going toward Petersburg. David Lewis, at 508 W. Georgia, recorded 1.17 inches. Several blocks to the east the ASC official rain gauge showed .93 of an inch.

PLEASANT VALLEY HARD HIT Heavy thunderstorms, cloaked in the early hours of darkness, dumped up to five inches of rain and also damaging hail over a three square mile area around the Pleasant Valley community south of Lockney.

GAIL WILSON FARM HARD HIT Area reports told of tornado-like winds ripping up two trees on the Gail Wilson farm 4 miles south of Lockney.

Farmers in that area reported getting more than five inches of rain and hail that left holes "the size of a man's little finger" in fields. Onion, cotton, soybean, and maize crops took a severe beating. Among farmers reporting damage were John Dorman, Raymond Rucker, Hall Ferguson, Linton Pruitt and Elmer Biggs.

TV HIT AT TOM BURROWS HOME The lightning knocked out the television and did other minor damage at the Tom Burrows home.

you take this year, it's a different story and the weeds are about to take this town.

Most of the eyesores are on vacant lots and around vacant homes and buildings.

The city has an ordinance that will allow them to mow a property, then bill the owner for the costs. City manager Bill Feuerbacher says this isn't a very good plan, because the owner of the property is real reluctant to pay.

Perhaps the city would be wise to investigate Lockney's plan which is a weed tax of 50¢ per water meter. This gives them enough money for machines and manpower to keep the weeds down.

ROY HALE... has had hail! I visited with him by phone Wednesday morning... he only got about an inch of rain and no hail Tuesday night.

But Roy lost his first cotton crop on May 30 to hail. He got it replanted about the first week of June... then last Wednesday night he got that crop hailed out.

Now he can only hope to get up a crop of soybeans... and hope for a real late freeze.

qualities that go to make up winsome Texas future homemakers. The three main points that will be judged are: appearance, poise, and personality.

It is anticipated that through these activities more farm and ranch girls and other young people may become better acquainted with the principles of the Farm Bureau organization.

Each contestant will be required to speak approximately one minute on "Why Are You Glad Your Family Belongs To Farm Bureau?"

The winner will receive a nice gift and will compete in August in the district contest.

In charge of the Queen's contest are Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Handley and Mrs. Don Probasco.

Farm Bureau Young People's Committee.

TALENT FIND

The Talent Find will begin the program at 7:30, with the Queen's Contest to follow. It is anticipated that the latter will begin about 8:30. In charge of the show are Mr. and Mrs. Jim Litsch of Lockney and Mr. and Mrs. Delmas McCormick of Floydada.

Lockney entries in the Talent Find are Charlotte Duvall, Madonna Jack, Jane Whitfill, Kennedy Howell, Robin Smith, and Virginia Taylor.

Girls entering from Floydada are KC Jennings, Rande Brown, Christine Cozby, and Elaine Warren.

This is not a contest. It is a program for our young people which will end in a Grand Finale at the state convention, where we will select the number or act to represent Texas. The number that is chosen will be given an opportunity to attend the national Talent Find

Adults In Saturday Baseball Tilt

In order to raise more money and have some fun at the same time, the Floydada Baseball Association is planning on a really big deal at the Junior-Senior Park this Saturday. Managers, assistant managers, league officials, and umpires are to match sides as the "Stragglers."

An added fillip is the presence of four lady umpires. Men are hereby advised to "see it their way." High school boys take on other chores, such as managing the teams and announcing. At press time tentative arrangements had been made, with some filling in to be done here and there. Some players are out of town; others more or less incapacitated for some cause or other. It is possible for some not listed here to be playing.

Kerry Bearden is managing the Stragglers, with two assistants from his age group. On his tentative roster are: Bill Hale, Jeff Glazner, Jerrold Vinson, Bill Baker, Sammy Hale, Orville Marler, Buck Marricle, Gayland Fleming, Jimmy Seay, Tommy Assiter, Mike Carver, Herman Galloway, Jack Covington, Dallas Ramsey, Steve Mize, Bobby Welborn, Burt Emert, Roy Miller, and Newell Burk.

Red Sox And Tigers Take Freshman League Titles

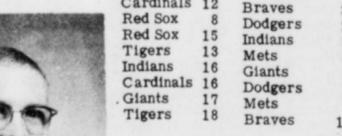

The Red Sox walked away with the American division in the Freshman League, while the Tigers had a closer squeeze in the National part of that circuit. Each team played the other twice, and had they all be grouped together it would have meant the Red Sox were first, with the Tigers only a game behind.

games each, the Mets managed 3 wins; the Dodgers five; the Indians and Cardinals 6 each. The Braves managed to take only one victory. We have more results to list than any other time; not only last week's but those of this week as well through Tuesday night, which ended the play-off. Had it not been for the fine work of Tom Moore, this would not have been possible.

Dougherty News Hopes Hope For Area

BY MELVIN MATHIS

The future is prevalent in the very first issue of Dougherty News, which ceased publication after a short run, W. E. Oden has loaned the Hesperian a copy of the paper, dated Sept. 14th, 1928. Published by C. S. Adams, it was intended to serve the eastern end of Floyd County. The news and location of the townsite are to be handled in this article. This piece is to focus on other news items of the period, Dougherty and Floydada.

1928 TOPICS

There are twelve news topics on page one, exclusive of the title. These are paving of the square at Floydada (the square, long delayed), Floydada's Booster Trip, featuring the Lubbock Fair Caravan, an announcement by Martin Duvall "Will Teach Expression," Free Gate Fair at Amarillo, R. E. L. Muncy again Baptist Prohibitionist H. P. Farris to speak against Al Moody to Back Smith (despite reservations on liquor dealer at Wellington, Highjacking at Wellington, and at Marlin. Apparently the daily press was not so much as much of this material would seem "old stuff" weekly, but this reporter remembers how the Semi-Weekly News out of Dallas enlightened a farm family, news-Camera heavyweight match in 1934 coming in this page two told of rural carriers holding their semi-annual meeting at the Hale Center Presbyterian Church, of Captains selecting Floydada as their next meeting place after organization at Spur, and of a four-person fatal auto accident at Wichita Falls.

PAGE THREE

Page one has two lengthy articles, and two of smaller size. The leadoff piece is well epitomized in the heading: "LAW ENACTED AT TEXAS CONVENTION: MANY PROHIBITIONISTS." It was concerned with the state Democratic convention in Dallas. Evidently the nomination of Al B. Smith, and the Prohibition issue which was raised thereto, had bitten deeply into the consciousness of the delegates. Those finally leaving the convention proper were those who the dispatch called a "rump convention" were those who were pro-Thomas B. Love, who was to run for governor in 1932 or thereabouts. The remaining Democrats were those who were pro-"Hooverites." Gov. Dan Moody, described as backing Smith, was quoted as saying he would get a prohibition plank into the state platform.

ORIENT UP TO SANTA FE

A long article told of the promise of the Santa Fe Railroad that they would bring the property of the Orient up to standards. Surely few persons realized at that time that the real sense railways were already "going down." In 1967 they still serve a very vital function, and it is hard to see their transportation system without them, total mileage reached its zenith in 1920, even though in this section it has since grown for years thereafter.

STAMFORD'S POSITION

There are 14 wide-ranging regional items, with Stamford as headquarters, as it was for many years thereafter. The Texas Chamber of Commerce, now in nearby Abilene from Stratford, Mullins, Del Rio, Bend, O'Donnell, Chokier, Big Lake, McCamey, Tahoka, and Sweetwater are mentioned in that order. Perhaps Hesperian readers would be interested in the Floyd County items, which are mentioned. "Lockney-A deal has been made and a contract for a new $5,000 hotel here, construction to start at an early date." "Floydada - A one hundred and twenty foot building with five foot frontage is under construction here."

RABBITS IN FRONT!

Fans would be interested to know that rabbit racing was so popular at the Lubbock Fair that it had even become the usual football game from being played! There is an interesting article on a fight relating to arithmetic textbooks, and news from McCoy, Mayfield, Antelope communities. Announcements also given for "Cats" playing the Lockney "Independents" and an article coming from the Lockney pie melon. A note at the bottom of the page discusses pie melons.

"I SEE BY THE ADS"

Persons brought up on Capper's Farmer will recognize the "Doubleless ads" were read by some who were simply reading matter. Floydada's First National Bank had a Cowley Argrey, Proprietor of Quality Service Garage and Pemant Oils and Gases, stated: "They're Here And No Time! Because We Give Real Service." Edwards and Elevator Co. of Dougherty and Floydada placed an ad. L. L. Collins & Co., offering "Genuine McCormick-International Under Twine" at Dougherty. The home of C. Woodridge Lumber Co. at Dougherty bought an ad, and the Co. of Floydada, urging farmers to "Farm Firmly." F. C. Harmon of Floydada offered "Furniture Making" with R. L. Williams of Dougherty listed as "City Meat Market, Dougherty, inviting the purchase of Meats Ready to Serve."

THE WHIPPET

"Whippet? Geo. M. Finkner offered it "For Durable and Low Cost of Operation. We give you service after Mrs. Martin Duvall, whose news story offering to teach was on the first page, was also advertising farm and home.

FLOYDADA INDUSTRIES

Floydada industries no longer in existence had sizeable advertisements. Floydada Bottling Works offered "Big Boy Beer, High in Quality, The Drink Superb." It went on to say "body with a thirst is enthused over Big Boy, the drink." At the refreshment table Big Boy is always a Prime. You could use the ad from Floydada Mattress Co. on any mattress work. They offered "The Very Best Mattress Service," including pickup and delivery. L. S. could be reached at Phone 44 for this work. (Dig that phone number, kids).

HE "KNOWS HIS GROCERIES"

The above heading led you into the ad placed by Wanda Leah Dougherty, which made its own pastries. It showed a well-upholstered gentleman, his cuff link shirt sticking out in the approved fashion from his nice dress jacket, drinking coffee and looking at his newspaper. A fine meal on the table, "if you judge a restaurant by the quality of its food, you'll say we're hard to beat. We serve the kind that

JOHN FIELDS REPORTS ON COUNTY AND DISTRICT HORSE SHOWS

After being cancelled twice because of rain, the Floyd County 4-H Horse Show was finally held July 7 at Lockney. Twenty-one 4-H members showed and performed with 27 horses. The county show determines which 4-H members accumulate enough points to go to the district show. The results of the county show are as follows:

Registered Mare, under 5 years: 1st place - Quinn DuBois; Registered Gelding, 5 years and older; 1st - Willie Patterson; 2nd Diane Williams; 3rd Ginger Henderson; 4th Larry Williams; 5th Charles Patterson; 6th Shari Johnson. Registered Gelding, Under 5 years old - 1st Sam Fortenberry; 2nd Millard Patterson. Grade Mare - 14 hands, 3 inches and over - 1st J. H. Lane; 2nd Randy Patterson. Grade Mare, under 14 hands, 3 inches - 1st J. H. Lane; 2nd Rebecca Scheele; 3rd Will Snor; 4th Leslie Snor; 5th Pam Patterson. Grade Gelding 14 hands, 3 inches and over - 1st Shari Johnson; Joe Breed, 2nd; 3rd Larry Williams; 4th Marcia Fortenberry; 5th Craig DuBois. Grade gelding under 14 hands 3 inches - 1st Diane Scheele; 2nd Lee Snor; Rex Breed, 3rd.

Food of the first quality, perfectly prepared and well served - that's what makes this a favorite eating place. Drop in for lunch or any meal. This is a reflection of the optimism pervading the country about 13 months before the Wall Street crash of 1929, though old-timers say it wasn't easy for country people even then.

STYLES

The styles of 1929 are shown in the L. L. Collins and Co. ads for men at Dougherty and that of the Baker Hanna and Co. ad for women at Floydada. Collins was offering Pool's "Sweetpruf" shirts and pants, the former at $2.25 and the latter at $2.50, and both in five colors. The man in the picture was wearing a cap. The Baker Hanna ad was a full two columns, with fur very much in evidence for the ladies' coats, which sold for $14.50 to $27.50. Dresses were of course lower, going at $9.50 to $18.50. A plug for these clothes went as follows: "At no time in the history of our store have we been able to offer such values in Ladies, Misses and Children Ready-to-Wear. A visit of any shrewd shopper will mean business for us and saving for them. Come early."

"APPAREL FOR THE SCHOOL GIRL"

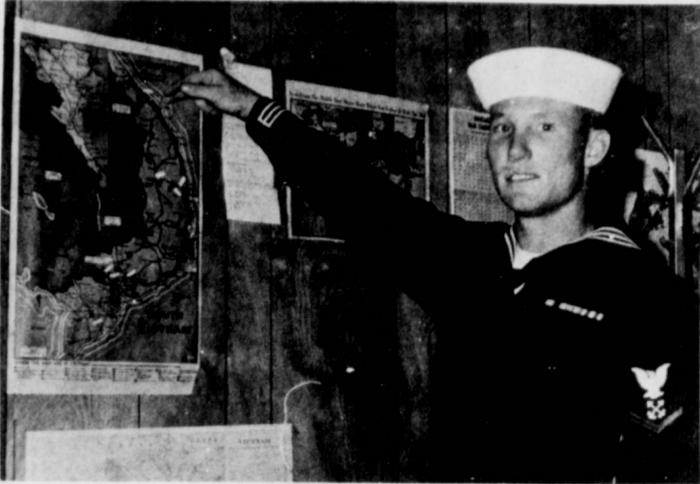

"Our Juvenile Section is a very busy place these days - with little girls and mothers selecting school wardrobes. Quality, value and right prices are responsible for the popularity of our Juvenile Section." Coats were selling from $3.95 to $11.95, and dresses from $1.50 to $4.98. Children's shoes were priced as low as $3.85 and as high as $6.00 with Oxfords and Straps for school, patent, black calf, and tan in all sizes. This company continued in business in many places until June of 1954.

HAIRCUTS AND HOUSES

W. G. Ardry was offering haircuts at his Dougherty Barber Shop, and South Plains Lumber Co. there, managed by E. S. Foster, urged folk to "Build NOW. Watch your home rise before your eyes." The style in the illustration looks quite familiar, with a chimney for a flue as a prominent feature. (A good test for school children is to ask the difference between a flue and a chimney).

PEEK INTO PAST

All in all, these are fascinating glimpses into the not-so-distant past. Persons then "beginning in life" so far as regular employment was concerned are now among our older employed, though many are still vigorous. Dougherty, while not fulfilling the promise of its youth, due to many factors not easily seen then, is still an alert community, with business houses, a six-grade school, the secondary grades coming into Floydada, and a flourishing agricultural economy.

Jodie Eastham Improving After Heart Surgery

Jodie Eastham is much improved after recent open heart surgery at Houston. She talked to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carmel J. Eastham of Dougherty, on Monday night of this week, and was to go later on in the week on a visit to an aunt who lives in Houston. It was hoped, on Tuesday morning of this week, that she would be able to come home Saturday, but this was not certain.

at the district show at Big Spring on July 13 by Willie Patterson, Charles Patterson, Diane Williams, Larry Williams, Ginger Henderson, J. H. Lane, Randy Patterson and Sam Fortenberry. At the district contest, Sam Fortenberry placed 4th; Ginger Henderson placed 5th; J. H. Lane placed 2nd, and Randy Patterson placed 2nd in their respective halter classes.

In the timed events, Charles Patterson placed 4th in the pole bending with a time of 24.5 seconds. There were around 45 entered in the pole bending with a time of 24.5 seconds. Diane Williams placed 8th in the barrel race with a time of 21.1 seconds. There were over 30 entries in the barrel race.

Charles Patterson with 6 points qualified to compete at the state contest in Odessa August 10-12.

Visitors through the week were Mr. and Mrs. O. Newberry, Mr. and Mrs. William

Dare To Be Square

In this day when the trend is to conformity. . . to dress alike, act alike, speak alike, there is nothing so refreshing as the individualist who will "dare to be square."

The American people are in a mad rush. . . they're involved in the "herd urge." Everyone is trying to do the "in" thing. . . the main effort is to be one of the crowd. . . to be popular if you please.

Never before has this community, this state, this nation needed leadership as it does today. We need individuals who will dare to have convictions. . . and to voice those convictions. . . regardless of what "people will think."

Back in Mark Twain's day "square" was one of the finest words in our language:

You gave a man a square deal if you were honest. And, you gave him a square meal when he was hungry. You stood four square for the right, as you saw it. . . and square against everything else.

When you got out of debt, you were square with the world. And that was when you could look your fellow man square in the eye.

Then a lot of strange characters got hold of this honest, wholesome word, bent it all out of shape and gave it back to our children. Convicts gave it the first twist. To them a square was an inmate who would not conform to the convict code. . . from the prisons it was flashed across the country on the marijuana circuit of the boppers and hipsters. Now everyone knows what a square is:

He is the man who never learned to get away with it.

A Joe who volunteers when he doesn't have to.

A guy who gets his kicks from trying to do something better than anyone else.

A boob who gets so lost in his work that he has to be reminded to go home.

A guy who doesn't have to stop at a bar on his way home because he's all fired up and full of juice already.

A slob who still gets all choked up when the band plays, "America the Beautiful."

A square and strictly from squaresville. His tribe isn't thriving too well in the current climate. He doesn't fit too neatly into the current group of angle players, corner cutters, sharpshooters and goofoffs. He's burdened down with old-fashioned ideas of honesty, loyalty, courage and thrift.

Can you dare to be square?

Where are our individuals today? Where are the people who can think for themselves? Where are the people who have the backbone to stand up and be counted for what is right?

Let us all take a look at ourselves this day. . . can we dare to be square?

SOUTH PLAINS NEWS

SOUTH PLAINS, JULY 17- Rev. Charles Conger and son Brent left early this Monday morning for Cortez, Colo., with a group of 56 Boy Scouts from Plainview, to be gone a week at the Boy Scout Camp. He will be Chaplain for the boys on the trip. Nathan Mulder will speak at Wednesday night prayer service at the South Plains Baptist Church, Sunday, July 23, Jerry Goree of Edmondson will preside in the pulpit during his absence. Rev. Conger drove a bus along with the other sponsors of the Boy Scouts.

Monday, July 24, the Junior Boys of the Baptist Church will go down to the Plains Encampment to stay at the cabin and be in services until Wednesday. Sponsors of the boys will be Don Probasco, Philip Smitherman and Fred Fortenberry.

Song leader, Don Brashear with his wife, and many members of the Baptist Church, with Rev. and Mrs. Charles Conger, went to the Lockney Convalescent Home Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock to have song services and Bible messages for the patients and elderly members there.

Mrs. Truman Bradshaw of Claude passed away at her home this Sunday morning around five o'clock, after an illness of several years. Their home was in South Plains, but she had lived with her son, Eulan, in Claude for several years, and came down to visit in our community as often as her health permitted. We offer our sympathy to Eulan and his family. Services will be held at the First Baptist Church in Silverton this Monday, July 17, at 4 o'clock p.m. South Plains choir members will be in the song service for Mrs. Bradshaw.

Visitors at the Baptist Church here Sunday included Mr. and Mrs. Zach Cummings, Mr. Turner of Lockney, Mr. and Mrs. Terry Julian, Dee and Dickie of Roscoe, Mrs. Robert McCrory and boys, Mrs. Dona Williford of Tracy, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Byrd and children of Stanton.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Julian and children, Dee and Dickie, spent last week here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Julian. Sunday afternoon they visited Burson Lakes, and later the Julians returned to their home in Roscoe. They also visited in the home of the Kendis Julians.

Mrs. Bryant Higginbotham left after church services Sunday for Amarillo where she planned to visit her son, the

Guest Editorial

Yes, Rising Costs Hit Newspapers Too!

JIM CORNISH in The Post Dispatch, Post: We gave a troop of Girl Scouts the "four" of The Dispatch back shop one afternoon last week. One of the women leaders who accompanied the girls was amazed by the multiple and intricate mechanical steps required to print our weekly newspaper.

As she went out the door she commented, "I don't see how you can afford to sell it for a dime."

She had a better point there than she realized at the time. Right now, actually we can't.

A newspaper is dependent largely on its advertising revenues to pay the cost of its operations. Subscription revenue is badly needed, of course, and very welcome.

But if we charged the cost of our newspaper to subscriptions alone the cost of your Dispatch each week would be something like 50 cents, or maybe even 75 cents or a dollar.

Dispatch advertisers actually subsidize each of our subscribers by paying most of the actual expense of printing your newspaper for the privilege in return of placing their advertising messages before the readers.

But this is simply good business for them because surveys indicate that despite television and its high costs, the newspaper still returns more business per advertising dollar than any other advertising media.

We here at The Dispatch have tried to make your newspaper the newest newspaper in West Texas and most of our professional friends up and down the road tell us we have succeeded.

The staff puts an awful lot of pride, as well as hard work, into each weekly publication.

Despite all the rising costs of the last few years, we have tried to hold the line both to our advertisers and our subscribers. It hasn't been easy. How much longer we can hold out in the face of dwindling profits we don't know. We hear via the "salesman grapevine" there is another newsprint price jump coming next month. If that is so it may be the proverbial straw which breaks the camel's back on "holding the line."

The "business communities" - the retail merchants - of the small towns are having a "rough time" these days. Not just in Post but all over this area and all over most of the country. Merchants trying to "hold the line" with rising costs squeezing them, too, have cut back everywhere they can.

It has cut some of the support from under the smaller papers and may eventually lead to the requirement that the subscriber for the small town paper in the future may have to bear more and more of the actual cost of his newspaper through higher subscription prices.

A newspaper's operation is "fixed" as far as costs are concerned. All the "fat" has long ago been cut from it. Newspapers cannot reduce operating costs to match dwindling revenues without destroying their product, printing smaller papers, and giving less news coverage.

That's the problem. It's "our problem," but it is "our problem" only in the sense it is also a "community problem" - the entire "business community's problem," and the "problem of our readers, too."

It is not just a "Post problem," but a problem, as we've explained above, for all smaller communities.

We urge our readers to support our advertisers. We urge our advertisers to support us. We think our newspaper is a very essential part of this community and every community.

If we can improve the economic outlook of the "business community" our own business outlook as a newspaper will correspondingly improve.

We are all tied together - subscribers (customers), local business firms, and the newspaper. We can't produce at 10 cents a copy without heavy support from advertisers. Our local advertisers can't give us that support without your support of them.

The future of all small town newspapers is wrapped up in your answer. The day is not far distant when you must make the choice of either wholehearted support of your hometown business community, or accepting the added cost of paying the "full price" for your newspaper, or of not having a newspaper.

And as we've said before that is the choice for every town to make. The situation is NOT peculiar to only Post.

The one truth we do know is that when towns lose their newspapers, they lose a vital communication link which holds them together and gives communities identity. Without newspapers, communities can expect to rapidly disintegrate into "bedroom areas" for city trading centers. If that day ever comes, it will be disastrous. But we don't think knowledgeable readers will ever let it come to that.

Bud Higginbothams, and her sister, the James Magnusons. Then she planned to leave by bus for Columbus, Ga., to be gone a week, where she will be visiting with her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Mack Cypert.

Mrs. Cypert is in ill health the past few weeks, and Mrs. Higginbotham will be with them a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Teddy Home of Lubbock, and Teddy's sister, Paula Home, who attends Texas Tech and lives with the Teddies, spent Sunday here with Marilyn's folks, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvain Kinnibrugh and Beth.

Mrs. Charles Conger will leave this Monday for Keyes, Okla., where she will spend the coming week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Barwick, and will bring home Bentley, who has been in Keyes for over two weeks with grandparents. Mrs. Conger will also visit her cousin, Neil Barwick and family, at Keyes while in Okla. Rev. Conger and Brent are in Cortez, Colo., this week.

Mrs. Don Marble is in Lubbock this Monday for a check-up at the doctors concerning her pleurisy which she has been suffering in her shoulder.

Rev. H. S. Calahan Jr. received a call for the ministry at the Calvary Baptist Church in Burleson, Tex. He will also attend the Southwestern Baptist Seminary at Fort Worth. Mrs. Calahan will teach second grade at the Burleson schools in September. We extend best wishes to the family in their new home and work.

They formerly lived here, and Junior has been minister at Potosi Church near Abilene.

H. H. Stevenson, father of Early Pritchett, who lives in Plainview, was in the Plainview Hospital three days last week, but he is doing fine at this time.

Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Hey, from Hallandale, Fla., will arrive this Tuesday or Wednesday for a visit here with old friends Mr. and Mrs. Murray Julian. They are enroute to Albuquerque, N.M. for a visit with the Carl Heys, and will spend a few days here.

Weekend guests with Mr. and Mrs. Early Pritchett and Stevie were their older sons, Jimmy, of WT at Canyon where he attends summer school, and Mr. and Mrs. Price Pritchett of Lubbock. Also the Pritchetts have had their grandchildren, Grant, Susan and Karen MARY SARCHET in The Briscoe County News: It seems that the Postal Department is just about to drop the axe over the heads of the small weekly newspapers.

House Postal Rate Sub-committee now is considering a brand new proposal which would quadruple the in-county rate for an eight-page newspaper (weekly or daily) - and that's us. A 16-page newspaper would see its in-county postage bill almost doubled.

These new proposals are substantially harsher than those recommended in the Administration's bill.

All of the postal rate increases adopted since World War II have provided for a gradual phase-in. This new proposal would increase the rates on second-class publications by at least 22 per cent and as much as 300 per cent (the in-county minimum) - and all at once!

The Administration's bill is bad enough, but the new proposals are far in excess of any recommendation for any other class of mail. Furthermore, it singles out the smallest newspaper for the greatest increase.

One reason that this is such a bitter pill for us to swallow is that the Post Office requires us to sort the papers for local distribution into box number order before we can mail them. This takes considerable extra time as does the task of ZIP coding, which is also required. We must also tie the newspapers into bundles for the various distribution centers across the state and nation. And the thanks we get for furnishing free labor to the Post Office Department will be a quadrupled postal rate!

This really makes a lot of sense to us in view of the fact that the second-class publications aren't the ones responsible for the postal deficit. I wish our honorable representatives in Washington could review the bulk of almost free junk mail that we receive daily. Lots of envelopes arrive with as little as a cent and a half postage. Others pay maybe two or two and a half cents.

Not too many days ago, "Doc" Minary, Alvin Redin and I were looking over some back issues of the Briscoe County News. The local subscription rate in 1925 was $2.00 a year. We get only $2.50 a year in 1967 - we like for every family to subscribe to the local paper. But if our postal rates take the hike that is being proposed, no doubt the subscription price will take an upward swing - not to quadruple, by any means - but to try to make ends meet.

And some days the ends seem awfully far apart!

If farmers think they are the only ones being "governmented" out of business, they are sadly mistaken.

FLOYD PHILOSOPHER

Guaranteed Annual Wage But

No Share In Washington's Profits

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm may have his tongue in his cheek this week. You never can tell. It could be his foot. That's his problem.

Dear editor: I never have been afraid of a new idea, it's the old ones that sometimes bother me, the same as the known can sometimes be worse as the unknown, and I'll admit I'm fascinated by a new idea I read about in a copy of a newspaper I found in a ditch by the road out here yesterday, weighted down by a load of tin cans and bottles which somebody in town apparently had given me, although I wish you'd tell them I'm not in the market.

According to it, the automobile workers are now asking for a guaranteed annual wage. They want to know at the start of the year what they'll earn by the end, not by the hour but by the year.

What I'm wondering is, why didn't farmers think of that years ago? It's exactly what we need.

Like it is, we start out on a crop and don't know till it's gathered and sold whether we were working for $2 an hour, $1.25, 35 cents or just for the fun of it. Naturally, the first question that comes to mind is, who would guarantee us the annual wage? Naturally, too, the car manufacturers wouldn't be interested, nor would the grocery stores or the housewives or the packing companies or the chamber of commerce or the state legislature.

To be statesmanlike about it, the job obviously falls on Washington, and I will appreciate your using your influence if you can locate it somewhere around there in your office to get this thing set up by Congress before the end of the year. Look over there behind that stack of papers.

There is one point though I want to steer clear of. The auto workers are asking also for a share of the companies' profits. We don't need that provision in our bill. Don't even mention it.

You let somebody suggest we're entitled to a share in Washington's profits and immediately some smart alec up there would suggest we'd also have to share in the losses. It'd ruin us.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Clues Are Given On Cost Of Importing Water To West Texas Region

AUSTIN — West Texans have some partial figures on which to base their discussions of whether they can afford to import water to meet the needs of the future for municipal, industrial and irrigation purposes.

The Texas Water Development Board said last summer that drastic methods will be needed if West Texas population and production is to grow in the face of limited water supplies in some areas, and declining supplies in the High and South Plains where the rich Ogallala formation is being steadily "mined" of its water.

Two of the studies made by the board as a part of its plan for showing "alternative" ways for supplying West Texas water have been completed.

The first, by Forrest & Cotton of Dallas, calculates the cost of building canals and pipelines to gather surplus water from present and proposed reservoirs all over East Texas into a central point — Cooper Reservoir on the Sulphur River. The second study, by Freese, Nichols & Enders of Fort Worth, provides costs of moving various quantities of water to various points in West Texas. Neither takes into account the cost of the water at the reservoirs, which must be paid for by the West Texans who use the water.

But they reveal that the cost of moving water across Texas and uphill nearly 3,000 feet, in some cases, is going to be imposing.

Based On Variables

The cost figures are based on a series of variables, which produces a set of "curves" which can be used by the water planners this summer, when they lay out the alternatives for West Texans to consider. Each study is broken into "segments" so it takes a lot of addition and calculation to come up with the total cost. But these samples indicate the cost of moving the water, including, of course, payment for the canal and pipeline facilities.

Taking the big quantities first, it would cost $3.81 per acre foot to gather 3,000,000 acre feet a year at Cooper Reservoir on the shortest haul basis, linking together Lake Texarkana, Naples, Sulphur Bluff and Cooper, all on the Sulphur. The smallest of the movements studies, moving 600,000 acre feet a year from Cooper to West Texas, would use a terminal reservoir at Magargle, in Archer County, providing 20,000 acre feet for Abilene at $42 per acre foot; 20,000 for Sweetwater at $40; a link to San Angelo at $71 per acre foot; 260,000 for Odessa, Midland, Big Spring, Snyder and Colorado

City at Lake J. B. Thomas for $45 per acre foot; 40,000 for Pecos at $50; 80,000 to Lubbock and 200,000 acre feet for El Paso by pipeline at $106 per acre foot.

Largest Movement

At the top of the scale, the largest movement of water proposed, the price goes down. This is the movement of 6,000,000 acre feet a year for irrigation in several West Texas regions, and 900,000 acre feet for municipal and industrial use. This one also contains a transfer of 300,000 acre feet a year to the Colorado

Yarborough Newsletter

Dear Fellow Texan:

A farmer plowing his fields in the green hill country of central Texas or the family that lives amid the clean-smelling pines around Nacogdoches or Jasper could easily be unaware of a danger to our lives that is as subtle as it is deadly.

But residents of Houston, Dallas, San Antonio, and perhaps a few other Texas cities are learning what a nuisance and a health hazard polluted or dirty air can be. Polluted air can be perfectly clear, yet have deadly chemicals in it.

In the past it was thought that air pollution was a problem for big cities elsewhere, but in Texas today we have three of the 13 largest cities in the United States. Texas is rapidly becoming urbanized. Seven Texas cities each have a population of one-quarter million.

The air around us is changing, and changing for the worse. For several weeks now the Senate Subcommittee on Air and Water Pollution has been holding public hearings in which experts have told shocking stories of danger lurking in the air we breathe.

The subcommittee is considering the Air Quality Act of 1967—with a number of amendments to existing laws to make certain that the pollution already damaging this Nation's big cities will not be allowed to worsen or to spread into less industrial areas. This act would give the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, Mr. Gardner, new powers to control pollution and to try to eradicate this danger where it presently poses a problem to the health and safety of the people.

Dr. William H. Stewart, Surgeon General of the United States, told the Senate subcommittee that air pollution is one of the major health challenges confronting the American people today. He also said there is an abundance of evidence which shows that air pollution is a danger to our lives that is as subtle as it is deadly. This plan would provide 20,000 acre feet a year each for Abilene, Sweetwater and San Angelo by pipeline from Magargle; 300,000 for irrigation in the Paducah region; leaving 6,240,000 for a Cap Rock Reservoir on the Salt Fork in Crosby and Floyd Counties. From there, 1,100,000 acre feet a year would be moved by canal to a North Plains distribution point near Dumas. 700,000 would go to Bull Lake in Lamb and Hockley Counties for Middle High Plains irrigation; 3,800,000 to Andrews for Lower High Plains irrigation on the way to Andrews, with 1,000,000 acre feet arriving at Andrews. Odessa, Midland, Snyder, Big

Young Farmers Sponsor Swine Short Course

A swine short course for adult farmers will be held July 24 - 27 under the sponsorship of the Floydada Young Farmers, according to Vaughn Ginn, president, and Gerald Thompson, teacher of Vocational Agriculture.

Joe Tocquigny, Swine Specialist with the Vocational Agriculture Division of the Texas Education Agency and the Department of Animal Science at Texas A&M University will teach the course. He is headquartered at Texas A&M University.

Tocquigny holds a B.S. Degree in Agricultural Education from Texas A & I College, and a M. S. Degree in Agriculture from Texas A & I. He was a purebred breeder and commercial feeder for ten years.

Our portly neighbor who hasn't gone shopping with his wife for 10 years, demanded to know where all the grocery money was going to.

She told him to stand sideways in front of the mirror.

demonstrates beyond any doubt that air pollution—if unchecked—can be deadly to large numbers of Americans.

In the big cities of the world air pollution is an old problem. The Surgeon General recalled the extraordinarily heavy fog in London during 1952 that mingled with poisonous fumes and gasses of that big city, with the resulting four thousand deaths blamed on this combination.

Air pollution has been linked to many diseases and respiratory ailments as well. Medical evidence shows that, with all of the usual factors and unknowns accounted for, lung cancer occurs with thirty-three percent more frequency in the larger, smokier cities than in the rural areas.

I am worried about the dangers of pollution. Unless more is done, conditions in our Texas cities will not only worsen, but the air that now causes discomfort and illnesses in the metropolitan areas could spread to our State's countryside.

That is why I am co-sponsoring the Air Quality Act of 1967. It will tighten controls and help prevent air pollution. It will also help keep the United States and Texas a safe place in which to live and raise a family.

by pipeline from Megargle; 300,000 for irrigation in the Paducah region; leaving 6,240,000 for a Cap Rock Reservoir on the Salt Fork in Crosby and Floyd Counties. From there, 1,100,000 acre feet a year would be moved by canal to a North Plains distribution point near Dumas. 700,000 would go to Bull Lake in Lamb and Hockley Counties for Middle High Plains irrigation; 3,800,000 to Andrews for Lower High Plains irrigation on the way to Andrews, with 1,000,000 acre feet arriving at Andrews. Odessa, Midland, Snyder, Big Spring and Colorado City would use 220,000 of it. Pecos would use 600,000 for irrigation and 40,000 for municipal and industrial purposes, leaving 200,000 acre feet for a pipeline to El Paso.

Costs would be less on this big-scale basis. Moving the water from Cooper Reservoir would come to $23.19 in the Upper High Plains, $22.80 in the Middle High Plains, $23.19 in the Lower High Plains, $23.19 at Pecos and $77.94 at El Paso. To these figures would be added the $3.81 per acre foot to gather it at Cooper, plus, of course, the as-yet undetermined cost of the water itself.

Also to be added to the cost to the irrigation farmer in the Plains is the cost of the distribution system of canals and pipelines to carry the water to the fields from the Cap Rock, Bull Lake and other reservoirs, which would be tapped often as it goes through irrigation country.

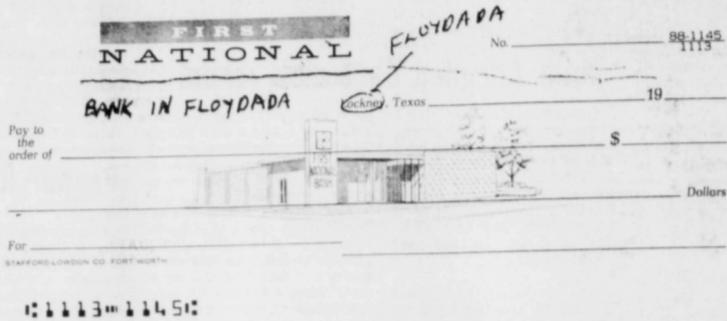

A study made last year by Texas Tech indicates that when it costs a High Plains farmer more than $28 an acre foot to get water on his land, the extra benefit from irrigation is wiped out by the water cost.

So the figures indicate very clearly that some form of subsidy will be required if water is to be moved from East Texas to West Texas for irrigation. In part this can come from interest savings under Congressional policy making reclamation loans interest free. That is an established national policy for subsidy of irrigation projects in the West. But even this seems unlikely to bring the cost down to the economic ceiling by Texas Tech's study suggested that in the Plains common benefit from agricultural production on a secondary basis might be part of the added cost of the lush High Plains economy going on. These figures are part of the jigsaw the Water Development Board's plan together and lay out together with West Texas when the Texas Water

WHY ALL THIS FUSS ABOUT CHECKS

Wrong magnetic encoded number

No magnetic encoded number

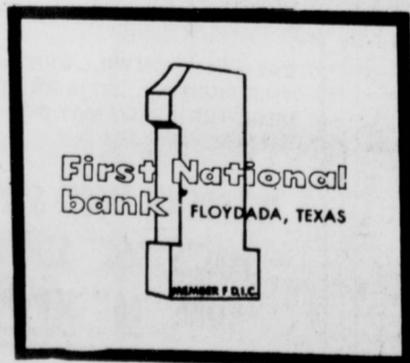

*Your bank's special magnetically encoded characters

HERE'S WHY:

- Somewhere in the check collection process, your check will probably be handled by a machine that can only read the special characters in the lower left-hand corner that are printed in magnetic ink. A "changed" check will have the wrong number and a customer's draft will have no number.
- The machine will probably route the "changed" check to the wrong bank (if the number is not punched out) and the customer's draft will be rejected by the machine for special handling because it has no number. The special handling required of these checks results in additional expense which may ultimately be passed on to you.
- Beginning September 1, 1967, the Federal Reserve Banks will require these *special magnetically encoded characters on all checks if they are to be handled through the usual check collection channels.

If it is not convenient to carry your checkbook with you, keep a few blank checks in your pocket, billfold, or purse. Personalized checks printed with correct routing-transit numbers are available from your bank.

Hawaii And Oahu Visited By Burns Family

On arrival at the Honolulu Airport on their recent trip to Hawaii, the LeRoy Burns family was greeted by their son, Ricky, and his wife, Becky, who presented each of them with leis of orchids. In the party were Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Burns and their daughters, Sheryl and Rhonda. The leis are still just as beautiful as they were when presented, and are being kept under refrigeration by Mrs. Burns for as long as is possible.

FIRST FOR GIRLS

This was the first trip on a plane for the girls, and the second for Mrs. Burns. Burns had taken a number of trips to cities such as Dallas. The Burns family visited many of the same places as did Mrs. Doris Drysdale only a short time before, but were not part of any guided tour group. They did see tourists from the buses quite frequently. They used a rented car and were in Honolulu the greatest part of the time. Mrs. Burns did not find the people so friendly as in West Texas, but realized that this is not so very common anyway. She found it hard to understand the native islanders, but by listening closely was able to make out what they were saying.

RELATIVES "NATIVE"

She found that her son, Ricky, was fairly well sun-tanned, and her daughter-in-law, the former Rebecca Baxter, even more so. Evidently Rebecca really appreciates the out-of-doors and finds the color of the natives pleasing. The Burns party saw some of the same points of interest as reported on by Doris Drysdale, including the Rainbow Falls of the Waikula River, the museum near a volcano, with a film about it, the Thurston Lava Tube, the Klava trees resembling our West Texas mesquites, and the Polynesian Cultural Center sponsored by the Mormon Church. They also saw the Kau Desert, formed by old lava flows and supplemented by new ones.

CULTURAL CENTER

The cultural center, at Laie on the island of Oahu, which Honolulu is located, has six authentic villages constructed. These villages re-create the lives of Hawaiian, Tahitian, Samoan, Tongan, Maori, and Polynesian peoples.

OTHER SIGHTS

They also visited Akaku Falls on the big island of Hawaii itself, and saw a film at the volcano museum. This concerns the Kilauea Iki volcano, which erupted in 1790, killing a whole division of the native army, and again in 1924, 1952, and Nov. 14, 1959. The latter eruption went on for 36 days and the lava spew got as high as 1900 feet. The spent a night in that area. There is a terrible story about the Manolau volcano, which covered an entire town. A modern highway has been built over its former site.

LAVA CLIFF

The lava flowed into the ocean, and became so high as to build up a sheer cliff at the edge of the ocean.

NOTES

LIGHTHOUSE ELECTRIC COOPERATIVE, INC.
MARY PHILLIPS, HOME ECONOMIST

Home freezing is one of the best ways to preserve foods. Make your freezer ready now for new fruits and vegetables.

Start by defrosting the freezer and cleaning it out. Note the foods that are stored now and plan to use the ones stored longest, first. If you have a frost-free freezer, it doesn't need defrosting, however, it does need an occasional cleaning - especially if things have spilled. Manufacturers warn us that the freezer should be defrosted before more than 1/2 inch of frost is over a large area of the refrigerated surface. Using a broad stiff spatula, scrape the frost off while the freezer is going. Catch frost or collect it from the bottom of the freezer with a dust pan. If only a few packages of food are stored, move them from one part of the freezer to another as you scrape off frost.

If a more complete cleaning is needed, disconnect the freezer. Remove food and store in cardboard boxes, then cover with thick blankets to keep it frozen.

Guests at a cookout supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Cage Saturday were Mrs. Faye Hulme, Mrs. Berniece Sutton, Iris Holt of Clifton, Mrs. Burl Holt and Janet of Lockney, Mrs. Leonard Cohen and children of Killeen, Miss Kay Waymon of Pleasant View, Colo., James Ray Cage and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Morrison.

Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Covington visited relatives in Big Spring last Sunday.

Mrs. Beulah Wooten of Spur visited in the Noble Hunsucker home last week.

Mrs. Faye Hulme, Mrs. Berniece Sutton and Iris Holt have returned home after visiting in the home of their sister, Mrs. Jim Morrison and husband. Joining this group for a family get-together at the Morrison home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Holt, Wanda and Dawn of Hereford, Mr. and Mrs. Burl Holt and Janet of Lockney, Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Cage and James Ray.

Raymond and Burl Holt are brothers to the above mentioned group of sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Morrison plan a vacation with their wife, J. D. and wife in the near future.

Hot water or sharp instruments should never be used to hasten the defrosting, however, an electric fan can be placed to blow room air into the freezer and speed the process along. Using a solution made of 1 tablespoon of soda to 1 quart of water, wipe the freezer and dry thoroughly.

Connect the freezer and let it run half an hour to cool before putting the food back into it.

One of Heloise's Hints that we use is keeping a chart of the food taken out of the freezer and that placed in it. By doing this, we always know exactly what and how much of each frozen food we have without having to hunt through the frozen packages.

We have several leaflets available at Lighthouse with instructions for preparing various foods for the freezer. Just come by or drop us a note and we will send this information to you.

Jams and jellies stored in the freezer keep their bright colors and fresh flavors. (Be sure to seal them in leak-proof containers.)

FRESH STRAWBERRY JAM
4 cups whole strawberries, washed and hulled
4 cups sugar
2 tablespoons lemon juice
Mix strawberries and two cups of the sugar in a large, broad pan. Heat to boiling, stirring constantly. Boil 2 minutes, continuing to stir. Add remaining sugar. Again heat to boiling, and stir while mixture boils 3 minutes. Remove from heat; add lemon juice. Pour the jam into a large bowl and skim. Stir frequently. Cover the bowl and let jam stand overnight. Pour into jars, seal, label and freeze.

For the most economical use of your freezer, keep the packages of food moving in and out, but keep the freezer as near full as possible at all times.

Lubbock Gas Blast Injures Relatives Of Local People

Three electrical workers were burned last Thursday morning when gas that had leaked from a Texas Tech - maintained line exploded in a manhole near 15th Street and Canton Avenue in Lubbock.

Alton Barron, 28; Terry Smith, 21; and Ed Whitehead, 27, suffered first and second degree burns on the upper parts of their bodies.

Whitehead is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Whitehead of Cedar Hill, and is married to the former Mary Cogdell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cogdell of Floydada.

Smith is the brother of Mrs. Harve Williams of Lockney, who is employed by the ASCS office here.

The men will have to remain in Methodist Hospital for perhaps a month and their condition is considered good at this time.

Lubbock Fire Marshal A. C. Black said the men were pulling wires through the conduit manhole to make connections with new buildings about 9:15 a.m. when something set off the leaking gas.

Black said the leak was located in a line across the street northeast of the manhole where the men were working. "It had killed the grass in a four foot circle," Black said.

The fire marshal indicated the gas had apparently gotten into the manhole through a four-inch pipe that crossed the area.

The men's hands were injured as they tried to climb out of the manhole after the steel ladder broke. One report was that Whitehead's shirt was on fire as he crawled out of the hole.

BLACK BEACH!

There is a solid black beach at Kalapana, presumably resulting from the presence of lava. The beach is hammered smooth sand. It has beautiful coconut trees.

ABUNDANT FRUIT

There is fruit in great plenty in Hawaii; papaya, sugar cane and pineapple. The banana blossoms are beautiful. A stop was made at the Dole Pineapple plant, and they were allowed to bring to their son's home the fruit they had purchased, which is not the usual policy in Hawaii. There were wild orchids everywhere, seemingly as common as are sunflowers in Texas. These are of the Cattleya variety. One of the most interesting sights they saw was a statue of the King of Hawaii who ruled before the days of American occupancy.

TREES

Blossoming Silversword trees are found only on the high mountains on the islands of Maui and Hawaii. Another interesting plant is the Hawaiian Monkey Pod tree. The Royal Poinciana Flamingo tree is of tropical grandeur. The Papaya tree is a native of tropical America, and its fruit gets as heavy as 8 pounds. One of the most peculiar sights is that of the "sausage tree." It is a native of Southwest Africa, with its cylindrical fruits measuring from 12 to 30 by 3 to 4 inches. It bears bell-shaped purple-red blossoms that bloom only at night.

FERN FOREST

The Burns family expressed amazement at the fern forest, as they came up on it so suddenly after being on the lava so long. The ivy is so thick one expecting to make progress must hack his way through.

PEARL HARBOR

Through arrangements with a cousin, Chief Petty Officer Raymond Medley of the U. S. Navy, stationed in Hawaii, they were able to make a tour lasting 3 1/2 hours at Pearl Harbor. It was here that Mrs. Burns had an uncle, Si Medley of Floydada, who was stationed at the time of the sneak attack, on the USS Maryla, which was badly damaged. Later he was transferred to the USS Saratoga. They were able to view the USS Arizona Memorial and to take some pictures. Mrs. Burns says that the restrictions relating to photography were quite rigid.

TALK ABOUT WIND!

The Burns party "felt right at home" with the stiff winds blowing at the Pali Mountain Pass near Honolulu, where invaders attempting to storm the ramparts of the Hawaiian army were once pushed over a cliff. In fact it was so windy that they could easily imagine themselves back in West Texas!

LEIS ON DEPARTURE

On their departure they had leis placed around their necks by their son and daughter-in-law, and by a cousin, Raymond Medley, and his wife Margie. They then boarded the giant airliner carrying 198 passengers and a crew of nine for an easy trip back to the mainland.

Dillard Love Reunion At Childress

The twenty first annual Dillard-Love yearly reunion was held at Childress, Texas, July 16. The meeting was opened with a congregational song, "What a Friend We Have in Jesus." A special song was sung by Lonnie Bowlen, "How Great Thou Art."
