Methodist Church News

Twenty-two ladies and one visitor, Mrs. W. H. North, were present Tuesday, December 10, for the last meeting of the W. S. C. S. this year at a covered dish luncheon.
The church was decorated with the traditional Christmas tree, red wreaths and greenery. At the door hung a tiny church steeple and a bell, which introduced each comer as she opened the door.
The tables carried out the Christmas motif with a red candle in the center of each table, and corsages of green and red twigs, made by Mrs. Russell, were worn by each lady.

During the luncheon each new officer of the Society for the next year, was asked to give the duties of her particular office. Christmas carols were sung by the group, and Mrs. Howard Ford gave a very interesting Christmas reading.
After the short program Mrs. Newt Gore handed out the gifts for the gift exchange. Following the gift exchange, Mrs. J. L. Shaffer was presented with a life membership by the W. S. C. S.

Mesdames Charles Russell, Opal Jones, Joe Poindexter and A. A. Coo were hostesses for the meeting, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

Colliers Visit Here

Mr. and Mrs. David Moseley were surprised on Monday last week when their nephew Joe Hubb Collier, and his bride drove up to spend a couple of days with them.

The newlyweds had been honey-mooning over in New Mexico and came by Friona on their way home to Ringling, Oklahoma.
Mr. Collier is well known here, having lived here for a number of years. He was in town last Tuesday shaking hands with friends and having them meet his lovely young bride. They will make their home in Ringling, Okla. Mrs. Collier owns and operates a beauty salon, and Mr. Collier and his mother, Mrs. Carrie Collier, own and operate Collier's Variety Store.

Moved to Dimmitt

Jimmie Hays, who had been employed with the Parmer County Implement Company, here for the past two or three years, has severed his connection with that business concern, and gone into a partnership with his brother at Dimmitt. He moved his family to that city Saturday.

RETURNED HOME SATURDAY

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Guyer, who have spent the past several weeks visiting their two sons, William A. and Reeve, in Washington State, returned home early Saturday morning. Mr. Guyer, during a short visit to the Star office, expressed himself as well pleased with their trip and visit in the far "Northwest," and while he was not exhaustive in his praise of the country, we gathered that he was well pleased with it and existing conditions there, and that it is, at least on a par with any other good country. He stated that Bill was engaged in farming and stock raising there and Reeve is employed on the Cooile Dam project there.

Mr. Lee of California is visiting his sister, Mrs. Brannon, this week.

son, continuing our study of Ephesians. The class will meet on December 12 with Mrs. Inez Welch. At that time we will have a quilting also finish the pillow cases, that were started the week before.

We appreciate so much the increased attendance and interest in the work. Everyone come, who can. You are always welcome to all church services and bible class meetings.

Pentecostal Church News

The Young People's Rally for this district will be held here Saturday night, starting at 6:30. We are expecting a large group from the various churches of the district.

The program will consist of sermons, special songs, short talks, bible quiz and things of a spiritual nature.

Brother and Sister Shockley are holding a revival meeting at the Pentecostal Church at Bovina. Brother Shockley is a very fluent speaker with a good understanding of the scripture. Services start at 7:30 each evening. The church there extends a hearty invitation to all.

Waste Paper Drive Planned By Boy Scouts

Harold Lillard, one of the Friona Scout Executives, informs the Star that the Boy Scouts and Cubs of Friona, are now sponsoring a "waste paper" drive for the city and community.

Mr. Lillard asks the people who may have any amount of waste paper, that they would like to dispose of, to kindly place it in piles and lay it on their front porches or in the front yard, where it can be seen and easily secured, sometime Sunday, December 22nd, and a truck or trucks will come around during the afternoon of that day and take it away.

It is understood that any revenue derived from the drive will go into the treasuries of the Scouts and Cubs, and they thank all who assist them in securing as much paper as possible, for their assistance.

John Silvertooth Celebrates 75th Birthday Monday

John R. Silvertooth, who is among the elders of Friona's citizenry, celebrated on Monday of this week, December 4th, his seventy-fifth birthday, or as is sometimes expressed, reached his 75th milestone.

Mr. Silvertooth, who is also one of Friona's best known citizens, attributed his longevity, not so much as to what he has eaten or drunk, as to the fact that he has always been able to enjoy a full night's rest or sleep. He says he still sleeps soundly and rests perfectly, during the few hours each day that he is permitted to be in bed, which is usually from 8 in the evening to 8 or 9 in the forenoon.

Born in the State of Arkansas 75 years ago, he has spent most of his life in that state and in Oklahoma, until some twenty years ago, when he moved to Texas and settled on a farm near Bovina.

He has spent a rather colorful life, during which he has served as deputy sheriff, Deputy United States Marshal and private detective. When not engaged in either of these official capacities he has been mostly employed at farming. He still complains of being in pretty fit going condition.

John's Friona friends wish for him many more years of peaceful and contented life.

Floyd Rector, son of Mr. and Mrs. Foster Rector, of Hub community, and who is now in the armed service, arrived home, Tuesday, for a few days visit with home folks.

Highway 60 Prexy Talks to Local Group on Friday

Harry O. Glasser of Enid, Oklahoma, president of the U. S. Highway 60 Association, addressed some 75 local business men at a meeting of the Hereford Rotary Club last Friday noon at the First Methodist Church.

Rotarians, and members of the Hereford Lions Club who were invited guests, plus several visitors from Dimmitt, heard Glasser talk of the advantages and the requirements of U. S. Highway 60.

En route to the National Convention in Los Angeles, Glasser was fresh from a trip over the eastern half of the transcontinental highway, and gave a graphic description of the beauties of the route through the eastern states to its Atlantic terminal in Virginia.

He also reported on progress of efforts to complete the paving of gaps in the highway in Oklahoma and New Mexico, and on projected revisions of the route, and re-marking in some sectors to provide alternate and better routes bearing the U. S. 60 number.

Glasser outlined plans to give national publicity to the U. S. 60 route across the continent and talked enthusiastically of the possibility of making this route a super-highway in the future.

Junior Play to Be Presented Wednesday and Thursday Nites

Due to the limited seating capacity of the Grade School Auditorium, the Juniors are presenting the play, "Everything Happens To Us," Wednesday and Thursday evenings at 7:45 o'clock.

Two pairs of sheets will be given to the lucky holders of tickets, at the drawing on Thursday evening. Tickets for these sheets are 25c each, no limit to the number you buy, and you do not have to be present Thursday evening. These tickets may be purchased from any member of the Junior Class.

"Everything Happens To Us" is a story of a typical American family, namely, the Ross family, who are excited because their eldest son is going east to marry a daughter of a multimillionaire. Mrs. Ross decides that the old home is not good enough for such a wealthy daughter-in-law, so she takes advantage of a Federal Financing Act to buy a new one. The oldest son telephones from New York to say that the millionaire has suddenly changed his mind and will not allow him to marry the girl.

COME AND SEE THE SURPRISING manner in which the play is brought to an end:

The Characters are:
John Arthur Ross—Billy Ray Jones—A chemist who is experimenting with garbage to make an inexpensive hog food, and father of three boys.
Kitty Ross, his wife—Jeanne Turner—A woman with ideas and the initiative to carry them out.

Rhett, the oldest son—Robert Lloyd—Is the cause of everything that happens.
Ronald, the middle son—John Smith—An embryonic genius with a penchant for writing jokes.

Jay (Junior), the youngest son—David Smith—A high school boy whose forte is the practice of mental telepathy.
Gloria Thatcher—Pattie Grace Southall—Jay's self-imposed fiancée. A willing slave.
Martha Fay—Grace Jo Moody—The object of Ronald's affections and about the same age.
Charley Duncan—Duane Wylie—A man-of-all-trades who specializes in new inventions.

Josephine Cartwright—Lillie Mae Renner—A spinster friend of Ross', whose curse is periodic attacks of asthma.
Mazie Hicks—Betty Jeanne Alverson—A know-it-all telephone employee.

Iva Sorrell—Latrice Northcut—A young real estate woman with a sad demeanor and a sadder sense of humor.
Esther Todd—Betty Jo Lawson—The new maid, who seems above her mental position in life.

An advance sale of tickets is being made by the Junior Class. Admission prices of tickets, if bought in advance will be 20c and 40c; if bought at the door, admission prices will be 25c and 50c. Buy your tickets early—get some chances for free sheets and come to see "Everything Happens to Us."

Tuesday, however was hazy and slightly cloudy all day, and on Wednesday morning it was solidly cloudy and a slow soaking rain began falling about six o'clock, and continued at intervals throughout the day.

Below is the contents of the petition, presented by the American Legion, Post No. 206, of Friona, Texas, signed by the Post Commander, R. O. Taylor, and Post Adjutant, A. E. Crump.

"Due to the nervous condition of some of our returned Veterans, we, of the American Legion, Post No. 206, of Friona, Texas, think that there should be no fireworks discharged on the four blocks that comprise the business district of Friona, and would like to have this petition enforced to the fullest extent."

Signed:
R. O. TAYLOR,
Post Commander.
Post Adjutant.

The petition carries the names of 35 various business men and residents of Friona and community surrounding Friona. The City Commission asks all parents to warn their children, that if they are caught violating this act, they will be fined. If we are going to stop this act there is no other way than to make the fine stick, and this warning should be sufficient notice to everyone. Please let's not have to pay a fine. Don't let it be said that the citizens of Friona would not cooperate in this matter.

Effective hereafter it is declared unlawful by the City Commission of Friona, Texas, to discharge any type of fireworks in the above mentioned blocks of the City of Friona.

In addition to the laws prescribing these freedoms, there are also moral laws, social laws, laws arising from customs and others, prescribing the constitutional laws, which, for our own safety and well being, and for the safety and well being of our associates, we dare not violate, and thus, we find ourselves, almost, if not quite, absolutely and forcibly denied the privileges of availing ourselves of many, in not all the above mentioned freedoms.

Thus, we find ourselves, in a position of being unable to utilize these freedoms legally granted to us by the constitution, through the power of moral laws, and the laws arising from social and professional customs, and especially is this true in regard to the freedoms of speech and of the press. We may make mention of conditions or circumstances, which may be the very essence of truth and verity, and we may be entirely within our constitutional rights, but these expressions may be very uncomplimentary to some other party's reputation or welfare, and that other party may have longer arms, tougher muscles and larger fists than we have and may also know how to use them to better advantage, and thus retribution may come to us swiftly and sure.

And that is not the only kind of retribution that may come to us for, mayhap, standing, either by spoken word or print, for upholding, possibly, both honor and decency, for it is frequently the case that one will be denounced and cast out by the very society and moral code that he had, by his words, defended. Thus it behooves us to be somewhat careful as regards the time, the place and the circumstance under which we avail ourselves of the use of our constitutional rights as to the above mentioned freedoms. I have had cognizance of a man, who lived to a rather ripe old age, whom I have heard to state, that regardless of his weight of years, he had never, either in boyhood or manhood been engaged in a fistic altercation with any of his fellow men, and the further stated, that, so far as he knew, these had been but three times in his life when there had appeared any imminent danger of any foetic encounter. And he stated further, that he had never, at any time been guilty of what is commonly expressed as "taking backwater," either by word or act.

Top Honors Seventh Straight Year!

First prizes at the International Livestock Exposition, Chicago, are an old story to the Diach family of Evansville, Wis.—they've won first seven years running! Here's Wayne, 16, with his grand champion set of three heavyweight lambs in the junior division at the recent 1946 show.

One of the occasions mentioned above was when he had publicly criticized the deed on the part of anyone, of defaming or profaning the sacredness of an established place of worship, variously known as "church house", "house of God, (And that is what every house should be), synagogues, temples, etc. He had mentioned no names nor laid such acts at the doorstep of any individual, but had condemned the practice, simply as such. It so happened that there were present three young men who had recently been guilty of just such demeanor, and the speaker was assailed by them immediately following the speech, on the accusation that he had referred to them at the time he was assailed he was leaning against the wall of a building with the three irate assailants on either side of him and their spokesman, directly in front of him, so there was no opportunity to either run or dodge, so he stood his ground and told them that he was sorry, if, as they intimated, they were guilty of such conduct and that they had so far transgressed the teachings of their good parents. They soon tired of their irate harangue and walked away, and he miraculously escaped any fistic demolition. This affair is mentioned simply as an illustration of how one may suffer by using his constitutional right of freedom of speech. In this instance, too, the offender was severely criticized by some of the leading people of the communi-

It should be quite easy for one to recall illustrations of imminent danger from the effort to take unto himself the use of any or all of the constitutional freedoms mentioned above. Then, why boast so proudly of them? In this "Land of the Free," we have a multitude of things to be thankful for, but very little, if any thing to boast of.

Well, most of us had a pretty good time in that adult bible class again, Sunday. What is meant by a "pretty good time" is the fact that most of those present seemed to enjoy the discussions fairly well.

The lesson, as you probably know or don't know, as the case may be, was concerning Paul's ideas about the observance of what is commonly known as—"The Lord's Supper." He also gave some of his views on intemperance, all of which was acknowledged by the members of the class, to be totally correct.

But it was in the discussion of "The Lord's Supper," where most of the interest centered, and one old codger in the class had the temerity to disagree with the commonly adopted method of observance and the real meaning of the sacrament. He presented some almost unheard of ideas about it and also advanced the opinion that Paul's ideas of the matter were very much akin to his own.

Well, I did not so much admire the old fellow's presumption in presenting his peculiar views, but I freely admit his right to do so, so long as he does not try to enforce such views upon his fellows. That is one of his constitutional rights—"Freedom of Speech and of Thought."

There was a mighty good sermon during the worship service following the Sunday school session, that was worth anyone's time to hear. I enjoy attending church services. The fellow who does not do so, really does not know what he is missing. Yeavertly.

Capt. Holbrook Says Plains Water Will Last 300 Years

At a meeting in Plainview last week, Hale county farmers organized to fight the proposed pro-ration of irrigation waters, and heard Capt. Winfield Holbrook estimate that in his "hoss-back" opinion, high plains irrigation water would last at least 300 years.

County Agent Hugh Clearman, Wm. McGehee, Lee Benefield, and Howard Gault attended the meeting from Hereford.

Capt. Holbrook, head of the Texas Land and Development Company and himself a Plains pioneer, expressed the opinion that if 800,000 acre feet of water were pumped from under 25,000 square miles of the high plains every year the water would last for at least 300 years.

"We need to be economical in the use of water," he told the group, "but in my opinion there is no practical way of regulating ground water."

Holbrook arrived at his estimates by calculating the average depth of the water bearing sands and gravel, applied the figure of 30 percent for water holding voids, cut that in half to get a 15 percent yield estimate, and wound up with 15 times the amount of water impounded by Boulder Dam. He figures 240,000,000 acre feet of water could be recovered from plains irrigation wells, and would support 300 years of use the flow off at the cap rock.

age, assuming that the recharge from rainfall will balance Holbrook is slated to air his theories on the Plains water supply at the meeting in Hereford Saturday, when local citizens will consider proposals to line up with other Plains counties to fight legislation which would pro-ration irrigation water on the Plains.

Organizations have already been formed at Plainview, Lubbock, Littlefield, and Petersburg, among others.

Four Persons Injured in Car-Truck Crash At Highway Intersection Tuesday Night

Two Vehicles Are Wrecked; 1 Man Critically Hurt

Four persons were injured, one critically, in a car-truck crash at the intersection of 25-Mile Avenue (Highway 51) and Highway 60 at about 7:30 o'clock on Tuesday night.

The injured were: Homer P. Battles, 31, of Hereford. William J. Battles, 67, of Hereford. James W. Gammon, 21, of Lazbuddy. Cecil White, 23, of Lazbuddy.

The younger Battles was most seriously injured of the four, suffering deep lacerations about the head and possible fractures. He is in the Deaf Smith County Hospital, where his condition is still described as serious.

The other three are suffering from severe cuts and bruises, but are not in serious condition.

The accident occurred when a new Studebaker truck, driven by the elder Battles, southbound on Highway 51, collided with a 1942 Chevrolet club coupe driven by Gammon, east bound on Highway 60.

Battles told officers that he had slowed for the intersection and never saw the other car until the moment of impact. Gammon admitted to officers that he was driving "at least 45 miles an hour" and failed to see the truck.

Gammon and White were riding in the coupe, which is owned by D. B. Ivey of Friona, and William J. Battles and his son, Homer P. were the only occupants of the truck.

LEGION, TEXAS (Special)—General Walter Krueger (retired), of San Antonio, right standing, regional chairman for the Texas USO Campaign Committee, finds out personally the services USO is now giving hospitalized vets by visiting the Legion Veterans' Hospital near Kerrville. James Voelcker, left, who spent most of his 5 1/2 years' service in a Jap prison camp, said he enjoyed the USO ward shows in the Philippines and is now enjoying USO hospital entertainment. Tyre Lee Jennings, USNR, of Dallas, right, called the USO a fine organization and said the present weekly USO hospital parties mean a great deal to the veterans. With General Krueger is Dan Eddy, area director of the USO-Salvation Army, of San Antonio, left, standing.

Damage to both vehicles was considerable. The front left side of the coupe was completely crushed in by the impact; and the radiator, fenders and engine of the truck were badly smashed.

Gammon and White told City Marshal Bruce Wooddell that

Proposed Legislation To Be Opposed by Plains Counties

The proposed legislation was characterized as "a serious threat to the irrigation program on the High Plains."

The meeting has been called for the purpose of organizing interested citizens of this county to join those of other Plains counties in fighting the bill which will be presented to the Legislature next month.

Frances Hardwick, Joe and Wayne Evans, Lyle Bianton, Worth Ware, Howard Gault, Fred Barrett and Lee Benefield comprised a group which met informally last Friday night to discuss the threatened legislation and means of combatting it, and a decision was made to call a public meeting here on Saturday.

Wm. McGehee, acting as spokesman for the group, said that "this meeting is not solely for farmers that irrigate, but for all citizens of the county. We are all vitally affected."

In a resolution signed by the above-named citizens, reasons for the called meeting were explained.

"We, the undersigned citizens of Deaf Smith County, have taken upon ourselves to learn some of the facts concerning a bill now being prepared in Austin to be presented to the next regular session of the Legislature, which bill proposes to regulate the drilling of wells and pumping of water for irrigation and other purposes.

"From what we were able to learn at the Hale County meeting last Saturday, we are of the opinion that the bill will not be to the best interests of the citizens of Deaf Smith County. In fact, it is our opinion that it will be a serious threat to our irrigation program, and if passed by the Legislature, will cause the loss of millions of dollars to our citizens.

"Practically all counties on the high plains are organizing to oppose the measures incorporated in this bill, and it is the general opinion of those taking an active part in county organization that when the county units are formed, they should form a central or District organization to represent all of them before the Legislature. In union there is strength.

"We therefore are calling a meeting of all citizens of Deaf Smith County to take such action as in their judgment is deemed proper in perfecting an organization for our protection."

Weather Service For Private Fliers Offered by Radio

For the benefit of all private fliers in Texas lacking adequate weather service facilities, Radio Station WBAP, Fort Worth, now broadcasts daily flying weather reports.

The reports cover flying conditions within a 500-mile radius of Fort Worth and are broadcast at 5:45 and 6:40 a. m. Monday through Saturdays. On Sundays they are made at 6:40 and 10:15 a. m.

Prepared and broadcast by forecasters at the U. S. Weather Bureau's airway forecast center at Municipal Airport, the flying weather reports are given in connection with WBAP's scheduled morning weather broadcasts. They last from 30 to 60 seconds.

Ed Lally, program director for WBAP, says he expects them to be of benefit especially to fliers on Texas ranches and farms.

It has been estimated that Texas has 12 per cent of the nation's civil aircraft accidents, and that approximately 89 per cent of these are attributed to inaccurate weather information that cause flying unknowingly into bad weather conditions.

The Fort Worth radio station has been designated by Washington as one of the test stations over the nation for the new weather service.

SS Numbers Must Be Obtained From Part-Time Clerks

Employers who expect to hire help for the Christmas holiday season are urged to obtain the Social Security account number of each employee, according to a statement from J. R. Sanderson, Manager of the Amarillo Social Security Field Office.

It is the part time employee, Sanderson pointed out, whose account number is most often missed. Consequently, each employer should make a record of each new employee's number the same day he is hired. This will enable the employee to submit correct and complete Social Security returns, will insure that the worker will get benefit for the wages earned, and will save the employer, the employee, and the local Social Security Field Office time and expense in trying to locate missing account numbers.

and those under six attend the nursery school on the campus. Many of the graduates remain at home and attend Baylor University or a local business school. The average of promotions for the students of the Home is equal to or slightly above the average of promotions for the city schools of Waco.

5. Community Participation. The students of the home participate in all community activities, such as Red Cross, Community Chest, and school programs. There are approximately one hundred girls from the home enrolled in the local Camp Fire organization, and from the very active Boy Scout troop, there have been twenty-two Eagle Scouts. The football teams and basketball teams, both boys and girls, have maintained a record of good sportsmanship and hard playing.

6. Children Admitted. Children are admitted to the home who are in need of its services, and emphasis is placed upon keeping the entire family together at the home.

7. Leaving the Home. The children leave the home only when they have finished their preparation for life and are ready to go out and begin what they have planned to do.

8. Clothing. The children have the opportunity of selecting their own clothes, which has proved very instructive and highly satisfactory to the children.

9. Each child has the privilege of sharing in the responsibilities of his home life by contributing his time and effort in its upkeep.

10. Health. A physical examination is given to each child on his birthday. The health of the children on an average is usually good.

11. Financial. The home is supported by a free-will offering taken in the Methodist Churches of Texas and New Mexico during the month of December, and by gifts received from others who are not Methodists, but are interested in the program maintained for homeless children. All monies received over and above the necessary operating expenses each year are placed in an endowment fund. In this manner it is hoped that a security will be provided for the future that will insure the continued operation of the home.

12. Religious Life at the Home. All of the children from the Junior Department and above attend Sunday School and the eleven o'clock service in one of six Methodist churches in town, in which they may maintain their church membership. The students below this age attend a Sunday School provided on the campus. The Methodist Home family, including children and staff, attend a vesper service in the center of the campus, at five o'clock on Sunday afternoon. This vesper service has been an outstanding contribution to the spiritual life of the Home family. Possibly the strongest tie in the religious life at the home is the evening devotional conducted by the students themselves in each of the Home units.

New Bus Route Gets Support at Lubbock Hearing

Application of the Texas-New Mexico and Oklahoma Coaches, Inc., for a new bus route between Hereford and Lamesa was heard before the Railroad Commission in a special session at Lubbock Tuesday afternoon, and while no decision has been made on the franchise to date, local backers are highly optimistic.

Judge Fred W. Baird, representing Deaf Smith County; Ray Cowser, representing the City of Hereford; and E. B. Posey, representing the Hereford Chamber of Commerce, appeared before the Commission at the hearing Tuesday to urge granting of the franchise.

Every town on the proposed bus route had representatives at the hearing, and all urgently favored granting of the franchise. No opposition at all was registered, according to Chamber of Commerce secretary E. B. Posey, and members of the local delegation were optimistic for fa-of a million dollars, largely because of the number of bridges involved. The Canadian crossing would be one of the major items.

A pending Bureau of Reclamation project for a dam on the Canadian might solve the river crossing problem for the highway if the Bureau decides to locate the dam at a suggested site near Tascosa. A dam at that point would provide a highway crossing of the Canadian which would serve both Highway 51 and the Tascosa road.

In the meantime, preparations are going forward rapidly for completion of paving on Highway 51 through Deaf Smith county. Contracts have already been let out on part of the remaining gap, and right-of-ways are now being completed on the remainder with the assurance that contract for paving will be let as soon as right of way is complete.

Mrs. Henri Jorda, who spent several days here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. F. Lange, left on Tuesday last week, for her home in Chicago.

Programs may be obtained at the Star office for the West Texas Conservatory of Musical Arts Piano Recital, which will be held at the local Methodist Church, Sunday afternoon, December 15.

favorable action by the Railroad Commission on the T-NM&O application.

The proposed route would establish northern and southern terminals at Hereford and Lamesa, with motor coaches operating between those two points serving Dimmitt, Levelland, Littlefield, and Brownfield.

The hearing was held at the Hilton Hotel in Lubbock Tuesday afternoon.

Permian Basin Cities Agitate Water Controls

A group of municipal and industrial water users, headed by the Permian Basin Water Works Association, has advocated state-wide control and poration of Texas' underground water supply, and has passed along a resolution to members of the state legislature calling for such a law, according to Southwestern Crop and Stock, Lubbock farm magazine.

The movement has touched off a wave of organization meetings in high plains counties designed to fight any legislative action which would affect irrigation practices on the Plains.

SUNDAY LESSON
How Paul Handled Slavery Evil With Christian Strategy

The International Sunday School Lesson for Dec. 15
Scripture: The Book of Philemon

THE one-chapter Book of Philemon has been the occasion of intense controversy, and disparagers of Paul have seized upon it to attack his attitude toward slavery.

Was Paul a defender of the institution of slavery? If not, did he take toward it a weak and compromising attitude?

Here are the circumstances: Onesimus, a slave belonging to Philemon, a Christian resident of Colossae whom Paul salutes as a fellow-worker, had turned up in Rome, where Paul was living under Roman guard (Acts 28:16). In Rome, Onesimus, who had stolen some of Philemon's goods before running away, had become a Christian due to Paul's influence.

What should Onesimus do now? Whether it was Onesimus' own idea that he go back to his master, or whether Paul urged him to do so, is not clear. In any case, he was returning, thus subjecting himself to the dual danger of his master's wrath and of severe legal penalties.

Now note the facts: Paul was the minister of a gospel that he knew struck at the very heart of slavery. In his own mind slavery was already abolished. Onesimus, the slave, was as much his Christian brother as was Philemon, the master.

With high Christian strategy, Paul appealed to Philemon as a Christian offering him the great privilege of acting in the spirit of love. In so doing, Paul asserted the principle of Christian brotherhood, transcending caste and class, as clearly as it has ever been asserted.

That principle holds today in the continued conflicts of class, if not of slavery. It tells men how they should act while proceeding toward that goal of freedom and equality which, despite our high professions, is still a long way off.

Soybean King

Harvey L. Stiegelmeier of Normal, Ill., pours some of his prize soybeans from the blue ribbon cup at the International Livestock Exposition, Chicago. The "Soybean King's" yield was 35 bushels an acre.

The Texas State Water Conservation Association and other government conservation agencies are reported to be advocating the proposed legislation; and indications are that a control bill will be presented at the next session of the Texas Legislature.

Some of the agitation for prohibition is based on the belief that underground water supplies may be exhausted
