Owner Will Be Charged

Officials of Floydada made a big job of this city when a decision was made this week to clean up all vacant lots and vacant houses. Many of the property owners have not been notified and city officials have decided to do the work and charge the property owners.

City Manager Bill Feuerbacher said it is the policy of the city to take care of the job. A statement was issued Tuesday by the city manager:

NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNERS

The city of Floydada has notified the owners of vacant lots and houses within the city limits. It is the policy of the city to take care of the job. The city will be cleaning up all vacant lots and houses within the city limits. The city will be cleaning up all vacant lots and houses within the city limits. $2,049,391.82 In Soybeans;
$9,443,856.67 In Milo Grain

By Wendell Tooley
This is the year that Floyd County farmers will long remember for the bumper grain sorghum and soybean crop harvested. Although it hasn't been a particularly large rainfall year (about 16 inches to date) the rains during the growing season and the grain sorghum and soybeans loaded up.

An elevator by elevator call by the two newspapers in the county reveals that 572,354,950 pounds were taken in and figured at an average price of $1.65 resulted in $9,443,856.67. This compares with last year's production of a little over 408,000,000 pounds with a market price of $1.70. The soybean crop totaled up to 861,089 bushels at a price of $2.38 per bushel making a total amount of $2,049,391.82. This compares with last year's soybean crop of 568,157 bushels at $2.68 per bushel. Good warm fall weather made the harvesting of the crops flow smoothly to the county's 24 elevators.

COTTON CROP
It is evident at this time that this year's cotton crop is bringing a much better price than last year's and the estimate is for 60,000 bales in the county. The local Texas Employment Office is expected to give a gin count of the cotton harvest in time for next week's edition of the Hesperian.

UFO Sighted

A bright shining lighted object was observed by the Louis Pyle, Weldon Hammonds and Wendell Tooley family about 6 p. m. last Saturday. It was in the sky, about the position of the evening star, and the flashing lights hovered in one spot for about thirty minutes.

It was thought to be a UFO (unidentified flying object) by everyone who saw it. It suddenly disappeared from view and it was situated west of the Ralls highway about five or six miles from Floydada.

Louis Pyle first spotted the lighted object, and called the other families to view it.

POINT 1 - COMMUNITY BETTERMENT

So You Want Industry

By JAMES J. KELLY
Assistant Executive Director
Texas Industrial Commission

COMMUNITY BETTERMENT sounds like a catch-all phrase... and it is. Industrialists today are much like homeowners when selecting a new location. Amenities such as schools, hospitals, parks, and even symphonies are increasingly more important.

Industry today is more footloose than ever before, no longer tied so closely to natural resources, but rather to the consumer. Because of this, more and more industries are locating plants or expanding facilities in relatively small towns where living is satisfactory, where land costs and taxes are not so high, but where big markets can still be served.

There may be a dozen or a score of smaller communities in the same radius around a major market, each of which could serve an industry's purpose in terms of land costs, taxes, utilities and water, with very slight differences.

So how does an industry choose?

THE SAME WAY that you would choose between homes of the same price: on the basis of attractiveness, cleanliness and neighborhood schools, churches and other advantages.

In the final analysis, it will be the total environment that your community offers that will make the difference between landing or losing a new industry.

How does a community go about starting a program of betterment?

Probably the best answer is that it starts with the formation of an Industrial Development Committee.

At the outset it is important to realize that this is not an overnight project, or a one-month, or a year's project, but a CONTINUING project that may show results in five years or maybe ten.

ONCE AN INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT (Or I.D.) Committee has been formed, and the long term nature of the project is understood, look first to your downtown area.

This is both the heart and the face of your town.

Even though there may be a modern shopping center out on the highway, the out-of-town visitor will look at the downtown area first. He will associate it with the name of your town, and a drive along main street will make the most lasting impression he will receive.

The I.D. Committee can start the ball rolling by pushing modernization of streets, parking facilities, curbs and sidewalks. Some towns in Texas still have curbs designed for horse and buggy days.

Nothing looks worse than grass and weeds growing up through cracks in downtown sidewalks, but it's easy to find towns where nothing is done about this.

Improved parking facilities will bring more shoppers back into the downtown. Improved parking and traffic flow will spur individual merchants to make improvements on their buildings to keep up with the revitalized interest in the downtown.

CIVIC CLUBS of the town can, as a project, influence the owners of vacant buildings in the downtown area to let them fill the street windows of these buildings with merchandise and colorful advertising displays from various retail stores in the vicinity, on a seasonal basis.

Socially Yours

BY PEGGY MEDLEY

I FEEL like I received two of the best compliments ever on my column last week. Hope you don't get tired of my passing them along, but these meant a lot. The first was from Winney Angus, an old crony of mine, who more or less broke me in for this job back in 1954. She was a good reporter and knew how to get the news. I'm afraid I'll never be able to equal her ability. The other compliment was from Billy Jack Eudy, high school journalism and typing teacher, so guess men are reading a portion of my column anyway. He gave me some good pointers which I appreciate very much.

I WISH there was some way the sloping street crossing could be leveled from Johnson's Pharmacy across to Arwines. I know it is fixed that way for drainage purposes but it's a dangerous crossing for pedestrians. If you walk across where you are supposed to, you walk on a sloping part and those bricks are really slick when the least bit damp. I saw a woman take a nasty fall there Monday morning. If a car had been turning the corner in front of Johnsons at the time, she would have been hit, for she fell flat on her back and it took some doing for her to get to her feet as fast as she did. I know in her mind she thought a car would hit her before she got out of the way. Evidently she wasn't injured, but I'm sure she was shaken up and probably bruised. Guess we will just have to be a little more cautious.

OLE SANTA sure was kept busy Friday afternoon when he made his annual visit to Floydada. The little pre-schoolers really know how to put on the charm, and cuties they are. Some tho, just don't go for Saint Nick's whiskers but whoever heard of a clean shaven Santa.

IT looked like old homework at Lubbock Municipal Airport Saturday afternoon. We were there to meet our son's plane and while waiting saw Jill Matsler off to Oklahoma and Rhonda Burns off to California. Aubrey Neff, Joe Cox and Dan Hale, more Floydadians were there for the departures and arrivals. Jill commented this was the first time she had been a paying passenger on Continental. She is a former stewardess for the airline.

THERE is a lucky man in Floydada this week for he has his billfold back which he lost in Plainview Saturday night. It contained $104 in money, four credit cards, driver's licenses and classification card among other things. Monday a Plainview man returned the billfold to its owner, and received a $25 reward for his trouble.

THE Band Boosters are sponsoring a chicken spaghetti supper prior to the play "Romanoff and Juliet" in Floydada in order that the Whirlwind Band may attend the Music Festival. This group of adults has worked hard this year, so to them in tribute and to also help the kids out, let's all have chicken and spaghetti either the evening of December 14 or 15, at the high school cafeteria.

LIGHTHOUSE Electric Coop is giving away recipe books, "Willie Recommends." I have mine and it's filled with how to make holiday goodies. Go by and get yours and start your Christmas baking now. One of my favorites is the hot fruit salad; it's wonderful with your baked ham.

EMPLOYEES of the City of Floydada are giving their time to make some needy child happy at Christmas. They are re-painting toy cars, trucks, tractors and other metal toys while dolls are being mended and clothing made for them. Each year this group asks for discarded toys for the purpose of seeing that all local boys and girls who might not be as fortunate as others, receive a good Christmas. Clean out the kiddos' toy box and closet and see what you can find to contribute. I know it will be appreciated by the City and more so by some needy child come Christmas Eve.

Tickets For "Nutcracker" On Sale By Thespians

Miss Edwina Schneider, sponsor of the local chapter of the National Thespian Club for high school speech and drama students, announces the sale of tickets to the Thespian sponsored Christmas program, "The Nutcracker Suite." Sales began Tuesday morning and will continue until the night of the performance. Tickets sell for $1.00 for adults, 50¢ for students and pre school children, who are with their parents, are admitted free of charge. The presentation will be on December 18th at 7:30 in the evening at the high school auditorium.

The Thespian Club feels very fortunate in being able to present a production of this caliber to the audiences of Floydada as a special Christmas treat.

The Nutcracker is a classic that is traditionally performed during the holiday season throughout the world. It requires skilled performers and its production is usually limited to city audiences. The Lubbock Civic Ballet will bring the Nutcracker to Floydada.

Among those taking part are young high school and college students and people who have danced all over the United States. As an introduction to the program Mrs. Suzanne Akker, head of the ballet department at Texas Technological College will make a few explanatory remarks that will make the evening of dancing more enjoyable to those not accustomed to following a story in ballet form.

Children will especially enjoy the story of little Clara whose Christmas dream of a nutcracker brings her all sorts of wonderful guests. Adults have long admired the music by Tchaikovsky. Performers will dance to taped music from the original score.

SANTA CLAUS was busy asking what the children wanted when he visited Floydada Friday and I suppose promising to bring most of what was requested... until he got to one little girl, who requested a baby. Santa was speechless at this point.

WE HAD A FELLOW here in Floydada who lost his billfold with better than $100 in it, credit cards, drivers license etc. . . all gone. Thought he lost it at Plainview.

He was happily surprised when a man from Plainview drove down here to return the billfold which he had found.

Our Floydada man asked him how much reward he wanted for finding the billfold. He replied, "Oh, give me $25.00, I want to pull a drunk for being such a fool."

I KEEP LOOKING back to the headline of an October edition of the Hesperian which says, "Mackenzie Water Vote Defeated." This may well be a headline that will someday haunt the residents of Tulla and Floydada.

I am ready to get another vote before the people of Silverton, Lockney, Floydada and Tulla. A vote that will say let's go ahead and build the dam for insurance against the day that our underground water supply plays out.

The time has come for Floydada and Lockney city councils to get together and make some sort of agreement about joint use of a pipeline from the dam and this will make it possible for the vote to be brought before the people again for building of the dam and filtering plant NOW!

Olton 19, Hale Center 5, consolation)
Floydada 19, Lockney 13 (championship)

In the first game, Floydada's win over Hale Center, Kim Campbell was top scorer for Floydada with 16 points.

In the second game, Floydada's win over Crosbyton, Barbara Becker made ten points and Debra Smith made nine for scoring honors.

In the championship game with Lockney, it was Kim Campbell again with 12 points. Coach Don Ford reported that the girls hustled and played real well throughout the tournament. Between the semi-finals and the finals, there were only five hours for the girls to rest.

In the final game they were tired and made only four field goals, but won the game by making 11 of 20 free throws. Their season record is now 6 wins, no losses.

SEVENTH GRADE BOYS
Coach James Pope said the seventh grade Breezers used team hustle and effort to win the Lockney tournament. The first game proved to be too much for the Hale Center Owls as they fell to the Breezers 24-3. Mark Vinson was high point man with five points and Jerry Hearon next with four points.

Against Abernathy in the second game the smooth ball handling of Jerry Hearon and Erick Jones was the big factor as the Breezers gained the finals with 28-23 victory. Hearon was high with ten points.

In the finals with the Breezers going in as underdogs and against a much larger Petersburg team, team effort again proved to be the deciding factor. The final score was 27-20 with Vinson earning ten points and Hearon nine.

Making The Drag

BY SUZANNE GUTHRIE

Howdy! How's Floydada? I think it's great and I am proud to say I live here. Are you? If you aren't, then try to make some improvement somewhere here in Floydada some day this week, and maybe you'll be able to say you're proud too.

Basketball, Basketball, Basketball. That's all we heard around FHS last week. The Whirlwinds and Whirlettes played Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, Friday, and Saturday. So if you haven't seen a game it isn't our fault, because we played often enough. Of course Thursday - Saturday was the Floydada Tournament. The Whirlettes came in second under Quittaque as they won the first place in both boys and girls division.

I would like to especially congratulate Cindy Ward and Marilyn Harris in that they were both selected on the all-tournament team.

Twirp Week started Sunday night at 12:00 o'clock and will end this Sunday at 12:00. There will be a lot of activity this weekend, as there has been all week. Twirp Week is really a lot of fun, and I think everyone enjoys it a lot.

The Junior class picked cotton last Saturday to earn money for the Junior-Senior banquet. So if you seniors think we aren't working, think again!

All of the Typing I class wrote letters to Santa last week, so there are already a lot of letters in Santa's workshop. If you haven't written yours, then do it soon. I hear that at FHS Coach Wiley is acting the part of Santa, so just send your letters to him. (He's doing a great job!!!) (He fits the part???)

Be sure and buy your tickets for the "Nutcracker Suite" done by the Lubbock Civic Ballet Company. The Thespians are selling the tickets.

Last week the annual staff challenged all of the other organizations at FHS in a spirit contest, so the spirit is really picking up.

Confucius once said, "All men are born good." Some are born with less intellect than others, some with less will power, less physique, but none were born downright bad.

Everyone has good in him, but sometimes we must overlook the bad, so the good can be seen. You know many times though, the good is simply overlooked, and the bad emphasized.

No matter where you go or what you do, someone is looking at you. So it is partly up to you to do what is right and good.

This week if one of your friends does something that angers or disappoints you, just think of some nice thing they did for you once upon a time, and overlook the bad. Never give up, because the spark is there. "All men are born good."

Have a good week, and not only look for the good in others, but be good yourself.

Whirlwinds Lose Two Games In Tournament Here Last Week

The Floydada Whirlwinds lost two games here last week in the local tournament. On Thursday night they lost to Post 51-39 and on Friday night they lost to Malou 72-50.

Todd Wester was top scorer for the locals Thursday night with 13. Connie Bearden and Tim Rose tied for top scoring honors Friday night with 12 points each.

A Delicate Hint
A gentleman visited the house of an old friend, where the butler, an Irishman, paid him every attention and finally saw him into his motor. The gentleman, who was miserly, did not tip him. As a delicate reminder, the butler said:
"Fair, sorr, if you lose your purse on the way home, remember you didn't pull it out here."

SCS NEWS

Maintaining the capacity of our soil to produce food is one of the main objectives of a national soil conservation program, according to the newest publication of the Soil Conservation Service, "Our American Land."

Stopping sediment that is filling our streams and reservoirs, planning for orderly urban expansion and community development, and providing new outdoor recreational facilities are other objectives.

The booklet points out that America's farmers are producing food more efficiently than any other place in the world and because of this, we have the highest standard of living anywhere.

Quite a bit of our high production, however, comes at a high cost in tons of soil washed from the land. Much soil and water conservation work is still needed on the nation's farm and ranch lands. And that which is already in effect needs constant care and flexibility to adapt to changing needs and technology.

Copies of this publication may be obtained from the local Soil Conservation office, which provides professional and technical help to local landowners and operators in the Floyd County Soil and Water Conservation District.

Center News

BY MRS. J. E. GREEN

CENTER, Dec. 4 - Today is cloudy and cool. There is still much cotton coming in, but the damp mornings are slowing up the harvest.

This week is "week of prayer for foreign missions" and our WMUs are busy with programs at Calvary Baptist.

Mrs. Frank Dunn spent last week in Lubbock visiting her children and families, the Jimmy Duns, the Tony Ballooses and Joe Lee Dunn and wife.

Mrs. Dinn dined Sunday with Mrs. O. C. Vinson. Mrs. Vinson returned home Wednesday after a few days with her son and family, the Jerrold Vinsons at Harmony. Her foot injury, which she sustained one day last week, seems to be healing satisfactorily.

Larry Miller of Lubbock came home with his cousin, Sue Thomas and spent the weekend with the Hal Thomases.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Warren and boys, Edwin and Don, dined Sunday with the Leon Fergusons. Joyce dined Sunday with her grandmother, Mrs. Ola Warren.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Battey visited Mrs. Joe Evers and Mrs. Lucille Custer Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. J. D. Welborn, with her daughter-in-law, Mrs. James David Welborn of Plainview, visited Mrs. Leo Fritzell Saturday afternoon.

Clarence Sisson of Lockney and Lubbock dined Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sims.

Victor Green of Plainview dined this Monday with his parents, the J. E. Greens.

Mrs. Green visited briefly with Mrs. Horace Cage late Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Cage has been ill for several days. We hope she and all others who are ill will soon be improving.

Mrs. Tom Jernigan who spent several days in the Caprock Hospital is convalescing in the home of her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Finley at Plainview.

Another of our loved pioneers has passed on - Mrs. Ella (G. M.) Bullard, who died in the rest home at Ralls Saturday afternoon and whose last rites we attended this afternoon at the First Baptist Church.

We could not ever say enough nice things about her and her host of descendants. Some of her children we've known and loved for some 60 years - when we all went to church at Lakeview, and since. Her sunny Christian life was such an inspiration all these years. We grieve with the loved ones left behind.

City Employees Wanting Toys For The Needy

City employees are still needing toys of all description and in any condition. This group of people are busy repairing these items donated to them for the purpose of distribution to needy children for Christmas.

If you have such toys that your child has outgrown their use or discarded because of damage, don't throw them away, call the City Hall and an employee will be happy to pick them up or you may bring them to their office. All toys will be appreciated.

Hesperian Views The Beautiful Croton Breaks Near Dickens, Texas

DEEP CANYONS AND STREAMS

Hesperian editor Wendell Tooley, Bill and Webb Brown were invited down to see the beautiful Croton Breaks country near Dickens recently and the pictures on this page illustrate just a touch of the beauty of the canyons, springs and lakes. The Hesperian joins with the folks at Dickens in their effort to make Croton Breaks a state park. If it were made a state park, roads would of course be built through the area. The time a road was built across a draw or gorge, a beautiful lake would materialize at each dam. This means that the tourist would have a lot of beautiful campsites. It is possible that highway 82 which goes through Dickens will someday be a part of a huge road from Oklahoma City to El Paso and this of course means a lot of tourists going through Dickens.

Bobby Tilley Receives Work Proficiency Award

AUSTIN--An official State Health Department citation for work proficiency has been awarded to Bobby D. Tilley, plant operations specialist for the Floydada water supply system. The citation reflects the regard in which Tilley is held by state water officials.

Signed by the State Health Commissioner and authorities of the Texas Water and Sewage Works Association, the certificate of competency is awarded only to those utility plant operators who have successfully demonstrated their skill and knowledge in modern principles of plant management.

To qualify for certification, a plant operator must have accumulated a prescribed amount of actual work experience. He must also have attended both regional and state wide short schools at which the techniques of water treatment and waste water disposal are taught, and must have passed examination given by State Health Department sanitary engineers.

State law requires that at least one operator per shift be certified for competency by health department engineers, but many operators seek certification on their own time and at their own expense to increase their efficiency as key public servants to their community and state.

The engineers said the attainment is evidence of Tilley's efforts to better prepare himself for the duties of his profession.

"Lullaby" Showing At The Hayloft Dinner Theater

The one word title LULLABY of the comedy being presented by the Hayloft Dinner Theater at Brownfield Hiway and Carlisle Road beginning Tuesday December 5 and playing through December 23, is probably one of the most succinctly appropriate titles of any play that has been produced here in years. For the plot of this comedy success has to do with a mother's unbreakable affection for her baby son, and "Lullaby" is defined as a cradle song, or other song suitable for lulling a child to sleep. What gives special point to the title is that the "baby" in this play is a strapping 38 year-old truck driver (to be played by Ray McFerren) whose mother (to be played by Sylvia Ashby) feels she must continue to give him her personal care, especially when he has surprised her by going off on a honeymoon with a level-headed and indignant girl to be played by Carol Marnay. Miss Marnay just ended COME BLOW YOUR HORN at the Hayloft Dinner Theater and was given the lead in this play. Bob Willis plays the brassy bellhop. He was Buddy Baker in Haylofts last production COME BLOW YOUR HORN. Thomas R. Dash of the Women's Wear Daily said in his review "With mama continuously prying about, it gets to the point where the bridegroom is unable to function according to the prescribed laws of nature and where the lusty bride feels her mate has lost his virility. Such a frustration of the libido, as Freud tells us, is bound to result in an explosion. In the inevitable show-down, it is the mother who loses out, while the son and his bride assert their independence and respond once again to the call of conjugal bliss." Sylvia Ashby takes the role of the mother and plays it for all its worth. Many are familiar with Mrs. Ashby dramatic works as she has acted on both the University theater and Lubbock Theater Center stage. During the summer she appeared in the summer repertory theater as Madam Aracati in BLITHE SPIRIT. She wrote the lyrics for the Texas Tech spring musical THE HAUNTED HOUSE at the University Theater. LULLABY is a comedy

Yarborough Newsletter

Dear Fellow Texan:

We in the Congress passed and sent to President Johnson two bills which will reinforce our crusade against disease and Mental Retardation Act of 1967, providing help for 6 million mentally handicapped Americans, and the "Partnership for Health" Act to give the United States a stronger disease-prevention research program in cooperation with the states.

All adults can remember when news of a single case of yellow fever, typhoid, diphtheria or polio would cause panic all over town. These were killer diseases before science found ways to control them. Greater dangers remain today from cancer, tuberculosis, meningitis and other illnesses which have so far escaped modern science. The "Partnership for Health" Act is a broad attack on ill-health which will help us lick these dread diseases as well.

It provides new health research grants, public health programs and funds for schools and scientists doing medical experiments. It also continues programs already underway to protect our 200 million Americans.

Irresponsible attacks were made on President Johnson's bill to combat swarms of rats in our cities. A few heartless politicians made fun of the bill --they called it the "rat bill" --in spite of the filth and disease which these animals spread. Reason finally prevailed, however, and rat control is included.

Also included is my amendment to protect American consumers from carelessness in clinical laboratories. I was shocked to learn recently that up to 25 per cent of all analyses done by pathological laboratories handling human samples--blood samples, for example--were in error. That is why I proposed stronger laws for laboratories.

The other new health act--The Mental Retardation Act of 1967--involves help for 3 per cent of our population, 6 million Americans including 300,000 Texans who are retarded. It authorizes funds for teacher training, research and for local centers to care for these disadvantaged individuals.

I made two additions to this bill, both supported by the Texas State Department of Mental Health and Mental Retardation. One makes funds available to the states to administer programs for the retarded and the other creates grants for universities to plan education programs for the retarded and the other creates grants for universities to plan education programs for the mentally handicapped. This bill stresses local care--care at home where it is easier for these children and retarded adults to live with their families in a hometown environment.

These bills are vital. They show once again how your Federal government, working with local and state government and private interests, can assure a healthier American people.

Local Business And Community Respond To Adventists Appeal

Floydada business and community leaders responded liberally to the 64th annual World Mission appeal conducted by Seventh-day Adventists last week.

Spearheading the drive locally was L.S. Sargent, a longtime Floydada resident. He was assisted by District Director Michael Petricko of Lubbock.

Funds collected are used by Adventists to help pay the cost of their work among those in need. Regardless of faith or race, Adventists support orphanages, mission clinics and schools, as well as provide aid to disaster victims such as those helped in recent hurricane Beulah.

In the Beulah disaster, Adventists distributed over 200,000 garments to over 30,000 victims. Their local welfare centers in Amarillo and Lubbock process thousands of articles of clothing brought in by the Red Cross workers and the public. It was in Adventists semi-trailer vans that most of the material aid from this region was transported to the stricken areas.

In addition to disaster relief, Adventists operate local health and welfare units that provide free clothing and food for worthy needy families regardless of their religious or racial background.

Ninety-four percent of the cost of this humanitarian work is borne by the members, six percent by public contributions.

In 1966, Seventh-day Adventists contributed an average of $327 per capita to their church, over five times as much as other leading main live Protestant churches. They conduct the largest foreign mission program of any Protestant denomination. In education, Adventists operate the second largest church school system in the world exceeded in total enrollment only by the Roman Catholic Church.

Regional campaign director, Travis Templeton of Plainview, expresses his appreciation to the many Floydada firms and individuals who are so liberally supporting the drive.

FLOYD PHILOSOPHER Tries To Understand Monetary System And Fails Like You Will Too

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm tackles the monetary system this week, but it gets away from him.

Dear editor:
A neighbor came over to my house out here yesterday morning carrying a bundle of newspapers and dumped them on my kitchen table and said, "Here, I wish you'd read these and then explain the international monetary system to me." I thanked him and said give me time.

I have read the papers and will have to tell him there's not enough time.

The papers of course were filled with news about England's de-valuing the British pound, the effect it will have on the price of gold, the value of the dollar, the balance of trade, and possibly the future of the human race, none of which I am able to predict.

As I understand it, as far as I can get, the world's money system mostly is based on $35 an ounce, provided the scales are balanced and De Gaulle isn't trying to weigh his thumb too.

Getting deeper into the subject, the United States has 13 billion dollars worth of pure gold buried in its vaults at Fort Knox, excluding any the mice may have carried off, and as long as it's there a dollar bill will be accepted in any store in Floydada.

Since you and me and very few of the Floydada merchants ever get around to actually looking in the vaults at Fort Knox to see if the gold is there, some of us they might not even let in, you might say we swap dollar bills on faith, some people having a lot more faith than others, judging by the way they wind up with the biggest stack at closing time on Saturdays.

On top of this, I concluded after reading that bundle of newspapers, if some West Virginia coal miner's pick suddenly hit a vein of gold a few miles long, making gold as plentiful as coal, the world's financiers would all faint.

I'm afraid I'm going to have to tell my neighbor money is like electricity. Don't try to understand it, just use it.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

REV. LOWELL BELL

Devotional of the Month

What Does Christmas Mean To You?

During this very busy season filled with hours of holiday cooking, shopping, play and program practice, parties and many other activities, will you please stop for a few moments, place all other thoughts from your mind, and seriously consider this question. WHAT DOES CHRISTMAS MEAN TO YOU? Is this birthday of Jesus just another holiday for you? For your Family? Is it only a time of giving and receiving gifts? A social affair attended by families or friends? The time for the annual office or company party where the liquor flows free? Yes, seriously ponder this question! What are your thoughts?

Let me suggest three categories under which you can file your thoughts about Christmas. First, there is the Christless Christmas. If you file your thoughts here, you are not interested in the church services at Christmas or any other time of the year. You are not concerned about the true meaning of love, joy, peace; Christlike love, Christian joy, God given peace! Shopping for gifts, planning Christmas dinner, making preparations for giving or attending a Christmas party, perhaps securing a supply of alcoholic beverages used to mix those special drinks, and other secular activities fill your thoughts and actions!

The second category for your Christmas thoughts is the Christmixed Christmas. This file belongs to those people whose thoughts show some interest in church, at least on Christmas and Easter and perhaps a few Sundays in between, when the mood strikes them. However, Christmas plans and activities away from church and out of the religious setting far outweigh those connected with the church and Christ.

The third category is for thoughts about Christmas which make this time a Christ centered event. To file here, you must have a deep appreciation for that first and greatest Christmas gift ever given, God's gift of His Son, Jesus Christ. God gave His gift to all the world. To you, to me, to everyone this great gift was given. You have received His gift! But those who cannot file their Christmas thoughts here have not received Christ. Or, they have received Him, but as a little valued gift or a disliked toy He was cast aside and forgotten. Your Christmas will be centered around the church. You will study again from the Bible about the birth of Christ. You will hear sermons and see or participate in programs and plays which emphasize this blessed event. Gifts will be given and received and all the while you will be thinking how these are tokens given and received in memory of that first and greatest gift which God gave to us. You will keep Christ in Christmas, and the reason you will is because you have kept His presence in your heart each day of the year.

If you cannot file your Christmas thoughts under category number three, the Christ centered Christmas, this would be a wonderful time to receive Christ into your heart as your personal saviour. By doing so you will not only have a Christ centered Christmas, but a Christ centered new year as well.

The following poem is taken from "Christmas Program Builder No. 1" published by the Lillenas Publishing Company.

Ready for Christmas

By Alice Hansche Mortenson

"Ready for Christmas," she said with a sigh,
 As she gave a last touch to the gifts piled high;
 Then wearily sat for a moment and read
 Till soon, very soon, she was nodding her head.

Then quietly spoke a voice in her dream:
 "Ready for Christmas? What do you mean?
 Ready for Christmas, when only last week
 You wouldn't acknowledge your friend on the street?"

"Ready for Christmas, while holding a grudge?
 Perhaps you had better let God be the Judge.
 Why, how can the Christ child come and abide
 In a heart that is selfish and filled with pride?"

"Ready for Christmas, when only today
 A beggar lad came and you turned him away

Without even a smile to show that you cared?
 The little he asked—it could have been spared.

"Ready for Christmas? You've worked, it is true,
 But just doing the things that you wanted to do.
 Ready for Christmas? Your circle's too small.
 Why, you are not ready for Christmas at all!"

She awoke with a start, and a cry of despair,
 "There's so little time, and I've still to prepare!
 O Father, forgive me, I see what You mean.
 To be ready means more than a house swept clean!"

Yes, more than the giving of gifts and a tree,
 It's the heart swept clean that He wants to see,
 A heart that is free from bitterness—sin,
 Ready for Christmas—and ready for Him!

Why I Attend Church

I get a spiritual satisfaction from going to church. I feel closer to God. Through prayer, hymns, and sermons I feel and know that there is a God, even after all of the questions asked about His reality. I feel something inside of me that's wanting to run over. I cannot describe it, or explain it, I can only tell you that it is God.

I attend church because it is the one place where I can go and let my feelings show. I can tell God all of my problems and not feel that I am boring Him. Often times I go and kneel and pray and let the tears flow. Then I get up feeling relieved and happy and my spirits are lifted.

I also go because just being with other people praising God makes me realize that I am not alone. If I were to stop going to church I would soon forget the meaning and the purpose it has in my life. I would lose the sense of fellowship that I have with other Christians. It is much easier to remain a Christian when we are among them than when we are alone.

Most of all going to church gives me the feeling of security that every human needs — the knowledge that there is someone who sincerely cares about me.

There are many, many reasons why I attend church. I have tried to share a few with you. I only wish I could better express myself.

Fifty Two Bushel Soybeans Reported At Halfway

Fifty-two bushels of soybeans per acre was the highest yield recorded in the 1967 Soybean Variety test at the High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway. Yields ranged from this high to low of 32 bushels per acre, which is above the national average again this year.

Contrary to expectations, early maturing varieties yielded as well or better than the long-season varieties. An early light frost on October 15 caused the leaves to shed and could have affected the yields of the later maturing varieties.

The test was planted on May 26, 1967 and the early maturing varieties were harvested October 4. (These include the Patterson, Clark, and Wayne varieties.) All other varieties were harvested on November 1. Irrigations were applied on July 28, August 16, and September 4. The longer maturing varieties received an additional irrigation on October 6. This last irrigation was applied to assure optimum moisture conditions for the full-season varieties. It is assumed that this late irrigation had no effect on yields and probably was not necessary because of the early frost.

Yields for all varieties were recorded in bushels per acre as follows: Clark 63-47 bushels; Dare-44 bushels; Hood-44 bushels; Patterson-44 bushels; Wayne-43 bushels; Lee-39 bushels; Hill-39 bushels; Braag-35 bushels; Hinn-33 bushels; Dortch Lee-32 bushels. Higher yields were obtained in a separate test known as the USDA Regional Variety Test for Group IV (early maturing) varieties. Their yields were as follows: Custer-52.7 bushels; Delmar-52.4 bushels; and Kent-51.4 bushels.

These tests were under the direction of Dr. Douglas Owen, Agronomist at the Foundation.

In another test, under the supervision of Jim Valliant, Soil Scientist, results of an irrigation study were compiled. Yields of early maturing soybean varieties were not affected by a late irrigation applied two weeks after pod set. Results of the 1967 test showed that the late irrigation appeared to increase vegetative growth. Clark 63 produced an average yield of 44 bushels per acre which was significantly higher than yields of other early maturing varieties.

On late-maturing varieties such as Hinn, Hill and an experimental variety, PA 8-963, the late irrigation increased yields from 44 bushels to 46 bushels.

FHA News

(By Judy Jameson)

One of the many projects of Future Homemakers of America this year is to collect cancelled postage stamps. The stamps are sent to Norway where they are processed and sold to stamp collectors. The money from the proceeds is used to help fight tuberculosis.

The stamps cannot be the type which are printed on envelopes, but the kind that are stuck. Everyone is asked to please save these stamps for our chapter. You may cut them off the envelope or leave them on and give the entire envelope to any member of FHA, or call me at 983-2198 and we will pick them up.

Future Homemakers will appreciate your help very much in this project.

NEWS FOR HOMEMAKERS

by Sherry Mullin
Floyd County H. D. Agent

Refrigerators often develop odors because of poor house-keeping practices of food spoilage. The best odor eliminator is preventing care.

Refrigerators give better and longer service if they are kept immaculately clean, if food is wrapped or covered, and if manufacturer's use and care instructions are followed.

Odors can develop from spilled food which has not been completely cleaned up. It always seems that spills occur at the most inconvenient time, but taking a few minutes then may save a hard scrub job later.

Sometimes sales claims state that food may be stored in refrigerators in open containers.

However, most manufacturers urge covering or wrapping to prevent transfer of odors, to slow spoilage, and help prevent spills.

Frost free doesn't mean clean-free. All refrigerators should be cleaned thoroughly with warm water and mild detergent, then washed with a solution of warm water and baking soda. Harsh abrasives or solvents should never be used on any refrigerator surface.

Once an odor has developed, there are several "Home remedies" for eliminating it. One is to place an open container of ground coffee in a freshly cleaned refrigerator for a few days. Another deodorizer help is charcoal -- a few lumps left uncovered in a clean refrigerator often will do the trick.

There are many commercial aids, such as ozone lamps and activated charcoal.

SAFELY HOME!

I am home in Heaven, dear ones;
All's so happy, all's so bright!
There's perfect joy and beauty
In this everlasting light.

All the pain and grief are over,
Every restless tossing passed;
I am now at peace forever,
Safely home in Heaven at last.

Did you wonder I so calmly
Trod the Valley of the Shade?
Oh! but Jesus' love illumined
Every dark and fearful glade.

And He came Himself to meet me
In that way so hard to tread;
And with Jesus' arm to lean on,
Could I have one doubt or dread?

Then you must not grieve so sorely,
For I love you dearly still;
Try to look beyond earth's shadows,
Pray to trust our Father's will.

There is work still waiting for you,
So you must not idle stand;
Do your work while life remaineth—
You shall rest in Jesus' land.

When that work is all completed,
He will gently call you home;
Oh, the rapture of the meeting!
Oh, the joy to see you come!

Girls To Propose?

Gerald Sanctuary, secretary of London's Marriage Guidance Council, recently told a meeting of the American Association of marriage counselors that existing concepts of marriage could logically be changed. "Why should a girl not be just as likely to propose marriage as a boy?" he asked. The social convention that makes proposing a man's prerogative is out of date, he said.

Children & Guns

It's true "boys will be boys," but parents can often avoid tragedy by using more care in teaching children the danger of commonplace things. Every so often we read of children who start fires with gasoline, with resulting explosions and tragedy. These children were not taught the dangers of gasoline. It is not unusual to read or hear

A Christmas Project

Every American family which enjoys the benefits of good food, clothing, shelter and some of the luxuries of life would do well to decide upon a Christmas project and help a needy family, or a fellow citizen who is less fortunate. We are not suggesting that you wait until Christmas Eve, to go down to the store and buy a few groceries to take to some needy family. In this way, the really deserving cases are not found because there is not time to investigate the situation properly and the real spirit of Christmas is not fully carried out. Those who wish to make this Christmas season a happy one for all the children, and not just those children with wealth at their command, should look around to discover other ways of helping their fellowmen.

There may be much in what Sanctuary has to say, although we wonder what gives him the idea the man really decides such things. The sweet young things do pretty well at arranging things and drawing out "the question" when they want to. But from the standpoint of fairness there should really be no objection to girls proposing marriage. In effect, they have been doing just that for a long time.

of youngsters who find firearms which belong to their fathers and probably, without understanding the nature of their act, kill someone. Two little boys got into an argument recently and one shot the other with a pistol. The killer was only six years old. Who imagines for a minute that the tot understood the effect of his pistol-pointing and that he really had murder in his heart? Who, in reality, was responsible for this tragedy?

Perhaps it would not be a financial contribution of any kind. It might be helping them to obtain a certain job, or to get their children in school, to secure medical help or other forms of aid they might need. Should all of us assume the task of one such undertaking, our community would greatly profit because the spirit of brotherly love and friendship would be enormously enriched by the active efforts of those who are able to help those who might be temporarily struggling through difficult times. Our final comment on this subject is that those who follow the suggestion and adopt a project for their family, or themselves, will be the real beneficiaries through living the Christmas spirit and gaining the full satisfaction which comes from doing what Christians should do at a time when they are celebrating the anniversary of the birth of Jesus.

NOT EVEN THE most responsible of the homo sapiens is likely to live a life free of unpleasantness. The most peace loving person may on occasion become involved in a fight. The most efficient worker may lose his job. The most stable worker may find on occasion that he can no longer tolerate working for his employer.

The most faithful devoted wife may be deserted by her husband. None of us dares forecast that "it can't happen to me," BUT WHEN WE SEE a pattern developing, we are made to wonder if a finger can't be pointed at the offended person. If a woman loses six husbands to other women, we may well wonder if the cause might not lie with her. If a man changes jobs six times in one year, we may assume that the fault lies with him. If a woman finds that she loses friends as fast or faster than she makes them, she might well examine her own behavior. If a student finds that he can't get along with any of his teachers, the fault probably is with the student. If a woman continually has to defend her honor, she should pose the question, "Am I indiscreet in my behavior? Do I invite insults? Am I asking for it?"

WE HAVE KNOWN people who changed jobs several times a year... but they were never to blame, according to their version. They were continually being mistreated, treated unfairly by their various employers. We have seen parents whose child didn't get out of one unpleasant situation until he became embroiled in the next... and the next... and the next. We have known people who couldn't keep friends. We have known men and women who couldn't hold on to their spouses. And all these people had one thing in common... they would never admit that they might be at least partially responsible for their trouble. Blame always rested on the other person. ALL OF US might well become detached from ourselves, if we can, and face the question, "Is there something about my behavior, my conduct, that invites insults, criticism, loss of customers, even lack of popularity?" If we find trouble and discord ever following in our wake we might practice a little introspection.

JACK RIDER in "The Kinston (N.C.) News": What is the gentlemanly thing to do when a "fady" wearing a mini-skirt crosses her legs? Should one cover his eyes with both hands, suddenly turn his head, or simply stare at the bottom of her girdle, assuming she is engirdled? Emily Post is silent in several languages on such matters. Women say they only wear these abbreviated costumes because they are fashionable. But is this true? Is it a part of a not-very-carefully-covered plot to embarrass men, upset commerce and destroy the American home? Is it a more sinister plot, hatched by Parisian Fairy designers who now are openly trying to uglify the female of the specie while beautifying the hip-swishing semi-male of the breed? Perhaps this is nature's way. After all it is the male of the animal world who has the brightest colors, the longest feathers, the fiercest mane, the most imperial countenance. The female of the lower species lacks the extravagance of color and trim. They are bearers of cubs, layers of eggs, gatherers of food, sucklers of young. The society of man is largely that, and has been since the first Neanderthal chieftain stuck a feather in his greasy hair and strutted about the family cave, grunting about supper being late. But in this mid-20th century time most of us had grown accustomed to seeing the ribbons, and the gay colors reserved for the fairer sex, but recently the amorality of the male has turned back the hands of time. Now men spend more time and more money on scents, wigs, wardrobe, gay trappings than the fashionable woman, who only has to have a more scrap of cloth, hanging very loosely from her shoulders and reaching about two inches below her respectability - or is it above? Until more properly advised we shall continue to look, and complain to those women for whom we blush rather than gape. Is there really any other thing one can do?

IN OUR EFFORTS TO discover what is RIGHT concerning Viet Nam, the race issue, the draft, the war on poverty, a tax hike, and a thousand other issues that we must face from day to day, do we note the influence of self interest on our decisions? Do we find that those who have decided we should not be in Viet Nam are invariably (1) those of draft age, or (2) parents of sons of draft age? Do we find that persons quite hawkish in the case of Korea, when their sons were perhaps two or three years old, have become quite dovish, now that these sons are 20 or 21? Do we find that those most affluent are quite unsympathetic towards the war on poverty? Do we find that those drawing social security payments are favorable to hikes in social security payments? Do we find that invariably people think that the fairest of all taxes is that which hits hardest the other fellow? Do we find that those most bitter towards civil rights legislation are those who have always had their civil rights respected? Do we find that those most opposed to the farmer's receiving his fair share of the economic dollar are those who buy food and fiber in their various forms, not those who have food and fiber for sale? Do we find that the man who makes his living exclusively by feeding cattle opposes high feed prices, while the grower of feed favors high feed prices? Do we find that the aged, childless individual generally opposes new school construction? Do we find that labor wants high wages and short hours, while management wants low wages and long hours? Do we find that the non-property owner favors the ad valorem tax while the property owner favors a sales tax? Do we find that the rich man wants a low income tax and a high sales tax, while the poor man thinks the fairest tax of all is the high income tax and no sales tax? THE POINT IS... too few people want fairness and justice, too many want advantage. The housewife wants a BARGAIN! To heck with the merchant who may have taken a beating in order to offer that bargain. She wants to trade in Amarillo... to heck with the hometown merchant. The laborer wants sky-high wages... let management worry about paying them. Business wants to show a greater profit every year, let the laborer get by the best way he can. IF JESUS CHRIST were here on earth and invoked absolute justice, we wonder how many earthlings would recognize it?

FLOYD PHILOSOPHER Fair Labeling Law In Trouble When It Gets Down To Potatoes

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm is having trouble figuring out the scope of a new law Congress has passed, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor: According to an article in a newspaper which was wrapped around a bundle of magazines a well-meaning woman in town sent out here to me because she heard I like to read, which I do but I'm not sure when I'll get around to the copies of the Literary Digest and Woman's Home Companion she included, a new commission in Washington has just made a ruling on potatoes.

Under the new Fair Labeling Act Congress has passed to protect housewives who can't seem to catch on that a giant quart is no bigger than a regular quart and the large economy size may be only the medium size, food processors and packagers have to label things like they are, no confusing words allowed, and so the commission has declared that if a sack of potatoes is marked "Maho potatoes," the potatoes have to come from Idaho. Can't have any Texas potatoes traveling in the wrong sack. I got to thinking about this and while I'm sure the commissioners know what they're doing, what I'd like to see is how they're going to rule on French fried potatoes. You see, and this is for the benefit of housewives who have trouble catching on, less the potatoes were fried in France, at least by a Frenchman, an order of "French fries" is bound to be illegal and there to be an F.B.I. agent in every hamburger joint in America. I won't go into the trouble of going to have too with Bermuda onions, on a higher level, with Kansas City going to have too with Bermuda onions, when everybody knows there's not a steer raised in the entire city limits of Kansas City. Against the law.

This fair labeling law may run into trouble than Congress intended. For example, say a candidate is making a stirring speech on television and through a lot of words that might confuse a housewife shouldn't a line of type be run across the bottom of the screen while he's speaking? This speech written by John Galbraith or whoever did? And for the further benefit of the housewives, shouldn't a second line explain Galbraith is? After all, just by the name how's the consumer going to tell whether a giant size or a regular quart size? Fair labeling is fair labeling. Yours faithfully, J. A.

How many would cry "unfair deal"? How would Jesus Christ handle the war in Viet Nam to the satisfaction of those who want to "fight Communism" anywhere and everywhere in the world... and those who believe that the United States is incapable of successfully policing the world; those who believe that evil must never go unchallenged... and those who insist that every person and nation must be free to live its own life regardless? How would He please both the cultured and affluent Negro who wants to enjoy the good life on a par with his white counterpart... and Governor Wallace? How would He be able to convince General Motors and the UAW that each was receiving a fair share of the dollar? Somewhere there is justice. There is a fair wage. There is a fair price for a bushel of wheat. There is a just foreign policy. But the job of frail humans is twofold: First, we must discover justice. Secondly, we must talk ourselves into wanting it. (Tullia Herald)
