NOW 93 YEARS OF AGE Hoydada Woman Hasn't Missed Voting Since Womens Suffrage

BY BILL SALTER

Whether or not it's a record would be hard to say, but for Mrs. C. O. Wise, the fact that she has voted in every primary and election since woman's suffrage has been a reality is something of which she is very proud. Mrs. Wise, 93, is a resident of Floydada Nursing Home and voted last Saturday along with other Floyd County residents in the Democratic Primary, that election extending her string back to 1918 when Womens Suffrage passed in the Texas Legislature.

Nation-wide womens suffrage did not come antil 1920, Mrs. Wise having the opportunity in '18 to vote, as she will proudly tell, for Woodrow Wilson.

She also vividly remembers voting for Miriam A, (Ma) Ferguson for Governor of Texas back in the twenties and says "we women) had just got the right to vote, and we put her in office!"

Perhaps other women hold a record which would equal Mrs. Wise's, but perhaps none have been faced with the hardship of voting he has suffered for the past 22 years. Since December of 1946, Mrs. Wise has been otally blind, a victim of glaucoma,

But, due to her intense interest in politics, she still has never failed to vote. . . . having someone read the ballot to her, then telling hard for us to live." them how she would like to mark the ballot. Mrs. Wise moved to Floyd County in 1933, but is a native of Louisana, born there in 1875, making her 43 years of age when she cast her first ballot in 1918.

When asked of her voting preferences, Mrs. Wise says she always votes in the Demo-cratic Primary and was raised a Democrat. but "votes for the man, not the party".... adding, "I nearly always vote a split ticket and, voted for whom I liked, whether that was the way my husband was voting or not." Then, she laughingly adds, "I don't think he really minded if we disagreed at times on our choices."

When asked who she voted for Saturday, Mrs. Wise quickly says Preston Smith, adding, "I'm not for Yarborough (Don), he's a liberal and we've got to vote for conservatives." When asked about the forthcoming presidential campaigns and election, Mrs. Wise is very candid in her remarks, saying, "I don't straighten out the Supreme Court, they've passed so many silly laws that it's getting Commenting on LBJ, Mrs. Wise is equally candid in her remarks, saying quite bluntly, "he's broke the country. . . . if he stayed in four more years, he'd wreck us for sure."

She also has remarks concerning just about every one of the presidents that have been in office since she was born, and can name them all, usually giving the years they were in office.

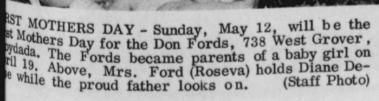

About Hoover's election, she says, "We did the wrong thing electing him. . . . he was a good man, but he had a Democratic Congress and there was too big a split."

she proudly says she voted for Teddy Roosevelt, but says of FDR, "he started this socialist mess that we're headed for," her opinion of John F. Kennedy being almost the same as that of FDR.

Stressing throughout the minutes this write er discussed politics with her was Mrs. Wise's admonition that "what this country needs is conservatives" in office, her parting remark carrying out this theme.

As this writer walked out the door, Mrs. Wise commented, "If I'm living, I want to vote again. . . I want to vote against Don Yarborough."

We're betting that she will get her chance to do it, too!

RECEIVED a nice letter from Mrs. Raymond Williams this week telling me that she reads and enjoys my weekly column and that I had a knack for disussing a great many topics in a easant way. Thanks, Mrs. /illiams. All comments, good or otherwise are always appreciated by a writer.

I WAS showing off all of our newspaper awards to Mrs. Floyd Bradley the other day and showed her one in particular, dated in 1954, received when Mr. Steen was editor and publisher, commenting that was the vear I started working here. She replied she hadn't realized I had worked at the Hesperian that long. After I thought about how many years ago that is, it was hard to realize it myself. Fourteen years, minus of course about a year during 1955 and 56 when I spent some time at home with a newborn daughter.

MRS. Marney called me Friday and said she enjoyed reading in my column about the facial tricks of a chilled cucumber. Said it brought back memories of her early childhood when she had terrible headaches and her mother would always have her lie down and she would place a cucumber slice over each eye. She said in a matter of a few minutes the headache would subside. Later in years she found out her long hair was causing her headaches. You might think this a little far fetched too, but I remember when my sister's hair was below her waist and mother always braided it in what we called long pigtails. They measured about two and a half inches wide next to her scalp, then tapered thinner on down. She had a headache from the time she was five until at the age of ten a doctor told mother rather rudely, "get her hair cut and them headaches

MARTIN LUTHER KING IS DEAD

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm may be out of his field in his letter this week, but that's his worry.

Dear editar:

In this year's Presidential race I don't have any favorites, I'm like most people, wait till somebody gets elected and then see how much you can find about him that's wrong, it's more fun that way, but in all the newspapers I've been reading out here on this Johnson grass farm lately I've been noticing what looks like a new wrinkle in campaigning.

The candidates, regardless of which party they're in, are spending more and more time talking to college students, and college students are responding by taking sides them selves, this group for that candidate, another group for another, etc. This is made possible because frequently classes have been postponed while a third group holds out in the administration building until their rights have been met and they get a promise they won't have to stay in after school for wrecking the president's office.

That's college students for you. One year they're swallowing gold fish, next year politicians' promises.

In understand there's one student who is claiming the record for having swallowed 28 promises in four days, 12 from one candidate, five from another, 8 from another, and 3 from a candidate whose name he can't remember. He's due out of the infirmary in about a week. This record is expected to fall before the nominating conventions, unless the trend shifts to a different area, like seeing how many backers of a given candidate they can crowd into a telephone booth, with the candidate in the middle.

In this connection, I read a statement by an educator who said it's a healthy sign that college students are taking things seriously, but I'm afraid he hasn't been watching very closely. College students have always taken things and themselves seriously. It's just lately that the politicians have been taking them seriously. I hope everything works out all right, but it's barely possible that both sides may be in for a let-down when the shouting's over. Yours faithfully,

Good Turn Out For Workshop

A good turn-out was had Thursday night by both Republican and Democrat parties for a joint election workshop held at the community room of the First National Bank. Some 40 persons attended.

Buddy Hedge of Olton gave a run-down on rules and regulations for election judges and clerks, the proper way to vote and what assistance the election judge is required to give the voter.

A question and answer period was held following the workshop.

DeJuan Strickland of Plainview, Republican, running for Representative of the 79th District, was also in attendance. Coffee and cookies were served following the meeting.

Hospital Week Set May 12-18

People who contribute to patient care will be spotlighted during observance of National Hospital Week by Caprock Hospital May 12-18.

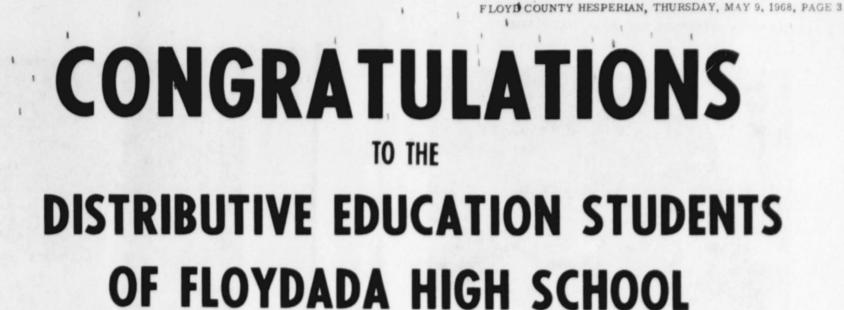

Theme for the week is "Your Hospital - People Caring for People," according to H. E. Harnett, administrator of Caprock Hospital.

"In recent years," Barnett said, "the public's attention has been focused on the tremendous technological advances hospitals have made in patient care. Certainly, new and sophisticated machines and techniques have helped immeasurably, but unfortunately it is too often forgotten that human hands must operate the machines, and that technology is useless without technologists."

Barnett pointed out that in the average community hospital, the skills and knowledge of 261 persons are needed to provide care for each 100 patients. "In short, he said, "we need nearly three employees to care for each patient admitted to Caprock Hospital." Barnett added that there are more than 200 job classifications within a hospital's walls, ranging from accountant to xray technician. Others are lablaundry worker, housekeeper, maintenance worker, dietician, cook, kitchen helper, purchasing agent, therapist, pharmacist, chaplain, personnel officer, clerk, medical record librarian, and social and welfare worker. And, in smaller hospitals, one person may perform several of these tasks. "While the personnel filling these job classifications vary Galloway Receives Superior Ratings in background, education and skills, " Barnett said, "they have a common goal - better patient care - and a firm belief that a hospital is truly people caring for people." Through practical experience from on-the-job training, these young people are learning about the world of business. They work daily on jobs in sales, service and maintenance to better prepare themselves for later life. And, in so doing, they are becoming better community citizens. The D. Floydada Manager Speaks To Lions

Bill Feuerbacher, Floydada | blocks of paving with rock and City Manager, was guest speaker last Thursday at the regular noon luncheon of the Floydada Lions Club.

Giving an overall pictur of the financial situation of the city, Feuerbacher noted that, "Floydada is in the best financial shape I've ever seen."

He listed an estimated income of $657,410 as an estimated income for the next 12 months for the city and operating expenses of $425,478. Other expenses for the city include bond payments, $107,490. transfers to tax fund, $76,425 and tax bond, $45,000 which hopefully would leave the city with $3,017 in unpended funds. Feuerbacher stated that the city now has 41 employees with an estimated yearly salary of $195,892.

City projects for the next 12 months, as listed by Feuerbacher, include:

* Complete right-of-way acquisition for the Price Street paving from the Lockney Highway East to the Silverton Hwy. Continue working toward the building of the Mackenzie Dam for future surface water.

Complete Crockett Street paving for the Caprock Hospital and Floydada Nursing Home. * Re-top approximately 33 the same day.

Guests included Bobby Taylor, Littlefield, Mack Heald, Floydada, Penny McClintock and Vicki Reeves, Floydada High School students. Lawrence Wedel was intro-

Carrots enjoyed instant popularity when they arrived in America. The first colonists brought carrots with them in the 16th century. These luscious vegetables became immediate favorites with the American Indians. They liked them so well they would steal them from the white man's garden rejecting everything else. Not too long ago, white and purple carrots were common in the Netherlands, France and to a lesser degree in Great Britain, says the U.S. Department of Agriculture. However, the orange variety has pretty much replaced other colors in these countires now. Market news offices of USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service reports abundant supplies of carrots at local markets now. These vitamin A packed vegetables also contain good amounts of calcium, phosphorus and iron. Grain sorghum producers on the High Plains of Texas have another weapon at their disposal for use in controlling weeds. The new procedure is and compared with ground aerial application of atrazine and propazine. "Field trials with aerial application of these herbicides in 1966 and again in 1967 gave excellent control of carelessweeds," points out Dr. Allen F. Wiese, who heads up the weed control program for the area, He is located at the USDA Southwestern Great Plains Research Center at Bushland.

Results of these trials have resulted in significant changes in weed control in grain sorghum to include labels for aerial application in both atrazine and propazine. Furthermore, the tests showed that a minimum amount of carrier to be used in aerial application would be one gallon of carrier for each pound of herbicide to be applied. Ground application studies in conjunction with aircraft trials indicate that the total amount of carrier can be safely reduced to 10 gallons per acre. Apparently, the most important consideration when applying either atrazine or propazine is good coverage. Total gallonage of the carrier is of minor importance.

Both pre- and post-emergence aerial applications were studied. In the pre-emergence trial, one and two pounds of active ingredient of propazine per acre was applied in two and one-half and five gallons of water carrier per acre, respectively. This compared to ground applications at 32 gallons of water carrier per acre and weed control was equal with either type application.
