LIGHTNING, RAIN, WIND, HAIL SUNDAY NIGHT

Savage Storm Ravages County

McCoy Area Crops Among Hardest Hit

BY BILL SALTER
Hesperian Editor

A savage lightning, wind, hail and rain storm swept across Floyd County late Sunday afternoon, leaving in its wake damaged or ruined crops, mangled trees, and scattered debris. Hitting in the peak of its fury at about 7:45 p.m., driving surface winds were of gale proportions, ripping huge limbs off of trees, unroofing barns and other buildings, uprooting crops and scattering anything left exposed.

In terms of rainfall, portions of the county measured as much as four inches, but the overall average would probably level off at 1.75 inches of moisture. . . still too much to suit the needs of most farmers, many of whom were in the middle of wheat harvest.

Hail in the storm was spotted, but in the McCoy area and others, pebble-sized stones left young cotton crops in splinters. . . many fields of which had already been re-planted for the third time. Now, for most farmers, it's "too late."

In terms of lightning, (which, by the way, put on a fantastic aerial display) touching downs were reported all over the county and power sources were disrupted in varying degrees nearly everywhere due to the wind and lightning.

For a stretch of about five miles between the Ralls highway and McCoy, whole spans of poles were bowled over, several lying on the ground.

In terms of the overall picture, hardest hit portions of the county were southwest of Floydada in the McCoy area and north of Lockney in the Providence area, that area suffering its third ravaging storm of the past month.

It's Not Funny!

Floydada was apparently the "scapegoat" for a "fire hoax" Saturday afternoon which sent two fire trucks rushing from their own communities to help with a fire they had been told "was too large for Floydada trucks to handle."

Of the two trucks dispatched by neighboring towns of Crosbyton and Lockney, only the Crosbyton truck came all the way to Floydada before learning that the fire was a hoax, but the Lockney truck was "well on its way" when it was radioed to return to its base.

And, regardless of the thrill it afforded some unthinking prankster to send grown men hurrying on their way to what they believed a blaze of gigantic proportions, it certainly wasn't funny!

A severe fire in either of the two cities with trucks dispatched here would have been disastrous with their fire fighting capabilities reduced by half their normal strength due to what someone considered a "harmless" prank.

Local officers believe that both calls which were placed to send the trucks on their way were made from Floydada. But, as yet, the calls have not been traced.

If discovered, the culprit would be faced with anything but a laughing matter. . . placing a false alarm is a felony according to state law and punishable by a fine of not less than $100 nor more than $5,000 or a jail sentence of up to five years, or both.

Now. . . is it still funny. . . or would it be if the offender's own home were ablaze and his community's fire truck was on the way to a neighboring community to a false alarm?

"PA ATERSEENDE" FROM SAM Swedish AFS Student Leaving Floydada June 24

BY BILL SALTER
Hesperian Editor

It will be a sad "pa aterseende" for Sverker Emanuelsson, Floydada's 1967 American Field Service Student, when he departs June 24 for his final few days in the United States before returning to his native Sweden.

But, for "Sam," as he is affectionately called by his host of friends in the Floydada area, the Swedish words do not mean goodbye, which would be said "adjo," but instead, "I'll be seeing you."

And, he means it. . . in talking with Sam, one of the first things he tells is that "this has been the most wonderful year of my life," and that "I someday hope to return to the U.S. for a visit, especially to Floydada."

In speaking of Floydada, Sam is high in his praise as he is of the entire United States. When asked what he liked most about Floydada, he quickly replied, "the friendliness of the people, particularly the West Texas people I've met."

And, the one thing Sam says he will "miss most" is "all the friends I've gained," and, judging from apparent indications, that takes in quite a large area.

Tall, blonde and likeable, Sam has made more than his share of friendships in his sojourn here. Quite evidently a "100% Swede," as he is quite evidently proud, Sam still in many ways has become "Americanized" and is anything but a "foreigner," perhaps one of the main reasons he has been so pleasantly received by Floydada folk.

And, his proudest possessions, western clothes complete with hat, boots and spurs, are perhaps an indication of his partial transformation into a "Westerner." Upon arriving in his home of Helsingborg, Sam says he plans to wear the Western attire and quite readily expects to be the "talk of the town."

Since his arrival last August 12, Sam has made his home with the Dr. and Mrs. Charles

Craig family and considers them his "second family," just as he considers Floydada his "second home."

Upon leaving the Craigs, Sam will spend about a month touring the United States before leaving New York on July 20 for Sweden via England and Holland.

Preceding the AFS student has been approximately 150 pounds of "souvenirs," including gifts from area people, clothing and his highly prized records, including about 20 albums and 15 singles.

Sam, who was 18 on May 7, says he has changed "quite a bit, both physically and mentally," during his stay in the U.S. and wonders "if my parents will recognize me."

When asked about his future plans, Sam noted that he had two more years of "secondary school" ahead of him and is "thinking about language study" at a university in Sweden with a possible career as a diplomat.

In speaking of his experiences during the past year, Sam lists trying "Mexican Food" as his strangest experience, adding that he didn't like it at first but was "developing a taste for it."

Noting that American foods were "quite different" from Swedish, Sam lists fried chicken, chicken fried steak, roast and "Mrs. Craig's meat loaf which is something special," as his favorites. In addition to coconut pie.

About the most embarrassing thing Sam recalls was when a woman asked if they (the Swedes) had cars, lived in nice houses, had TV, modern conveniences, etc. Irked about the inane nature of the question, Sam says he got a little mad and gave her the answer she apparently expected, saying, "No, we live in caves like animals!" This probably was about the only time the easy going "Swede" lost his temper during his stay here.

Number one question, unfortunately, asked of Sam during his stay here was concerning

POSSESSIONS - Perhaps the most prized possessions for Sam Emanuelsson, Swedish AFS student, is his western attire including boots, spurs and hat. Above, he's shown with the hat and spurs, but says he will be the "talk of the town" when he wears them in Sweden. SAM, FROM PAGE 1

Sweden's morals, 'free love,' etc., which has taken such a beating at the hands of the American press.

Actually, according to Sam, such things are on about the same level as in the U.S., which in itself might not be a recommendation, but, then again, he says the picture painted by journalists is quite exaggerated in the sense of the normal there.

While everyone, of course, has not had a chance to meet Sam during his stay, most have seen him engaging in his favorite pastime, "shutterbugging," at one time or another. During his stay, he has taken more than 700 color slides and 10 rolls of movie film. And, he still has ten rolls to go.

Contact for most Floyd County citizens with Sam has been at meetings, banquets and such. During his stay, he estimates that he has spoken at 30 or more functions, plus attending at least as many others at which he has taken no active part.

Speaking of school here, Sam stresses that he "enjoys the many activities," and that it was good to have "fun and school at the same time." In Sweden, according to Sam, "we go to school, then have our fun later."

When asked about the differences between the U. S. and Sweden, Sam candidly remarked, "I don't think there's a big difference, except in size. People are basically the same everywhere."

Perhaps the most humorous experience of Sam's stay happened while on a trip to see "Texas," a summer production at Palo Duro State Park.

According to Sam, someone in the family he was attending the event with asked that he say something in Swedish and he replied in his native tongue, "Do you speak Swedish?" Immediately, from behind him came the answer, also in Swedish, "Sure I do!"

To Sam's surprise, a man who happened to be sitting behind him at the event also spoke Swedish, being transplanted in the U.S. from that country several years ago, now living in Amarillo.

And, speaking of speaking Swedish, Sam says he expects some difficulty in "re-learning his native language." Upon meeting one other Swedish AFS student on a trip to HemisFair, Sam said that they "had trouble" communicating and finally "gave up and spoke English."

He says that he has also been "surprised" that so many people he has met have Swedish ties in some way and have either been to Sweden, are going there on a trip, or have Swedish ancestry.

Asked if he was "homesick," Sam quickly replied, "no," then went on to explain, "I've known ever since I left just how long I would be gone... accepting that as a fact, I've tried to enjoy every minute of my time here."

"Of course, I'll be glad to be home and to see my family, but I see no reason to waste time being sick!"

And, just as the U.S. has been good to Sam (he's gained 23 pounds during his stay), Sam has also been good to the U.S., especially Floydada, adding much to "international understanding"... something that is very much a part of Sam's life.

A sound exponent of the AFS program, Sam is always stressing the AFS slogan, something he deeply believes in, which goes, "walk together, talk together, all you people of the world... then, and only then, will you have peace."

A letter from Sam to his many Floydada area friends follows:

My year in the U.S. is now rapidly approaching the end.

I have now been in Floydada about 10 1/2 months. These months have been so full of activities and events that I will never forget them.

They will remain in my heart because I gained so much experience about Texas, United States, and about human relations. I have learned that people, wherever they are, are the same. They may be white, yellow, black, tall, short, thin, but they are all the same. We have different customs and different traditions and habits, but our desires as peoples, as individuals, are the same.

My gratefulness to the student body of FHS, to the faculty of FHS, to the people of Floydada, and last but not least my gratefulness to my American family, Dr. and Mrs. Charles C. Craig, Steve and Mark, can never be expressed enough in words.

Thanks to the student body I have been able to get close to the American youth and see the similarities with the youth in Sweden. Thanks to the faculty I have learned some wonderful ideals of America, that I will never forget.

Thanks to the people of Floydada, I have been able to get close to the generation ahead of us, and understand them. Thanks to the Craigs, I have felt at home in Floydada, and have got the wonderful feeling of a home. These are some experiences I will never forget.

I can only say "Thank You" to all of you, but my feelings are much deeper. I hope all of you will support American Field Service in their efforts. This is not for a personal reason but an idealistic one. Maybe, if we get to know other people, get to gain understanding of other countries through organizations like AFS, we may some day, somehow have peace in the world.

If any of you by chance come to Sweden some time or another, you be sure to come and see me if you can. My address is as follows: Libaugatan 13, 26600 Raa, Helsingborg, Sweden.

I would also like for everyone of you if you can to write me. I will surely answer. Some day I might get the opportunity to come back. Until then I won't say "Good-bye" but instead, "Pa aterseende" (we'll see you sometime).

Yours very sincerely,
/s/ Sverker Emanuelsson

According to local farm officials, Sunday's storm advanced the destroyed wheat acreage toll to about 7,000 of the county's 127,000 acres.

In terms of cotton, A.S.C.S. Manager Tom Moore noted that a total of 11,000 acres of cotton land had been approved for other crops, mainly soybeans, since the storms began.

And, Moore was quick to point out that "farmers were still coming in." A total of 77,239 Floyd County acres are committed to cotton, that figure probably less than 65,000 now that the storms have taken their toll.

According to unofficial reports, a community-by-community breakdown of the storm activity is as follows:

FLOYDADA - 1.30 rain, no hail, high winds, considerable damage to trees, etc.

LOCKNEY - 3.0 rain, light hail, considerable storm damage from winds.

Three Accidents Are Investigated During Last Month

The crashes resulted in no persons killed, four persons injured and an estimated property damage of $2,815.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the first five months of 1968 shows a total of 24 accidents resulting in no persons killed, 16 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $23,064.00.

Area Diabetic Society Elects New Officers

Officers were elected for the first year at the June meeting of the new Amarillo Area Diabetic Lay Society. The Reverend Jack Riley, who served as chairman of the Organizational Committee for the past three months, is now president. George Miller, attorney, who is moving to Floydada, is associated with the Society.

A spokesman for the group said if Rev. Riley had not mentioned to others his family's interest in establishing a Lay Society for the area, it might never have been accomplished. The Riley's nine-year-old daughter has diabetes, discovered last fall soon after their move to Amarillo, where he is pastor of Trinity Methodist Church.

Among other officers and committees are persons who have diabetes themselves, who are married to diabetics, or have diabetic children. This is characteristic of the entire membership, which has grown to over 100 individuals, including 58 who have diabetes, and two who are interested in diabetes from the standpoint of their business or profession.

Families from Clarendon, Memphis, Borger, Panhandle and Canyon are already registered as members, and some from other towns in the area have indicated interest.

Roy Pendergraft is first vice-president and program chairman. Marvin Fritts is second vice-president and projects chairman. As the need arises, chairmen of individual projects committees will be appointed.

Mrs. John W. Gowens is recording secretary; Mrs. M. H. Williamson, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. W. W. Wallace, treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyndall White are co-chairmen of the hospitality committee. The first refreshments committee is headed by Mrs. Claude Chambers, chairman; assisted by Mmes. Wesley Lakey, R. A. Summers, and Gene Hanson. Mrs. Hanson is also to arrange a regular meeting place available for monthly meetings September through May.

GOP Pages Are Home Following Convention

Miss Jeanne Brewer and Steve Craig, along with John Farris, have returned home from Corpus Christi where they attended the GOP State Convention. Farris was delegate for Floyd County and Miss Brewer and Craig were pages.

Upon their return Miss Brewer stated the convention was her first trip into the realm of the political party. She said some of the pages were fortunate enough to be assigned to VIPs. Steve, along with a girl from Lubbock were chosen to serve Congressman Price.

Responsibilities of the pages were running messages to the press room, serving coffee and soft drinks to delegates and seeing that each delegate received materials distributed.

Jeanne felt the toughest job was serving lunch to the thousands in attendance. Another unpleasant assignment was removing people from the floor who were not qualified.

Pages were cautioned ahead of time to be prepared for an onslaught of people, some with ill manners but Jeanne said personally the ones she came in contact with were delightful.

Jeanne said her most fascinating part was when Sen. Tower spoke. She said he was a wonderful speaker and has everyone's highest respect. Congressmen Price and Bush also spoke and a demonstration for the Republican gubernatorial candidate which pages took part in. She found Eggers a fine speaker with a charming and warm personality.

A TV news reporter of Dallas had breakfast with Jeanne and explained to her the process of picking who Texas' favorite son was to cast his vote for. Jeanne said it sounded like a long floor argument. She said the reporter told her a demonstration was to be held on the floor for Gov. Reagan, which possibly could get out of hand.

There was an inspiring demonstration, Jeanne continued, but it was stopped by the surprise re-appearance of Sen. Tower. Complete attention was given him and he stated who he would support. Upon that report the applause was loud as they gave their approval.

The two local youngsters were sponsored by John Farris and Mrs. Tom Suits of Petersburg was chaperone for Jeanne. Mrs. Suits was elected alternate to the National Convention and will attend same in Miami, Fla.

BY BILL SALTER

RECEIVED A nice letter from Carlton Stowers, sports writer for the Amarillo Globe-News last week, saying that he shared my opinion concerning the UIL ruling limiting high school athletes to one awards jacket during their three years of varsity athletic competition. Carlton enclosed a column on the subject he had written and which had appeared in the Amarillo newspaper. In his column, which is reprinted elsewhere in this edition as a guest editorial, he expresses much the same feelings that I expressed in a column a couple of weeks ago.

In that column, I asked for letters to the editor and letters to the state director of the UIL from people who also feel that the ruling is a "bum rap."

To date, I have not received a single letter, nor do I know of one being mailed to Rhea Williams.

Don't you care, are you too busy, or does it just not make you any difference if the "football jacket" fades from the already deteriorating high school athletic scene?

If you really want to see something done about it, you'll write some letters and try to help me in raising a stink that will make it all the way to Austin.

The noise I make might not be heard farther than Dougherty, but together, we can make the most "gosh awful" sound state UIL bureaucrats ever heard!

I HAD a real good laugh at the way a piece of mail I received this week was addressed. . . it was to "The Hysterian, Floydada, Texas."

You know, they might have something, because that's really about the case come Wednesday mornings. . . we're all in a state of hysteria!

SPEAKING OF hysteria, we've had our share during the past few weeks.

During the last month, our typesetting machines have broken down three times and our press twice.

Two weeks ago, the press broke a belt, of which we had no replacement, and our paper (plus several others) had to be printed in Lubbock.

And now, as I am writing this column Wednesday morning at 5 a.m., it's broken down again with a burned out motor which won't be repaired and replaced until 6 p.m. at the earliest!

This brings to mind some famous last words. . . Wendell's as he walked out the door to leave on his trip around the world:

"Y'all just carry on. . . I don't think you'll have any trouble while I'm gone."

Unhuh. . . that's what the man said, anyway!

SPEAKING OF Wendell, he's supposed to be back this week, we think! Monday, we received a letter which said, "I'll be back a week from today." Just when "today" was, we couldn't figure out by postmark or otherwise. . . maybe it was just his way of keeping us on our toes!

We really wish we knew when he was arriving. . . we've thought of several "goodies" that he might get a kick out of. . . or, we'd get kicked. . . I really don't know which.

One was to hang a big sign on the door with "Gone Out of Business" on it, another was to just conveniently all be on a coffee break when he arrived, with a sign over the cash register, "Help Yourself."

But, the best, to my way of thinking, would be to meet him "accidentally on purpose" at the airport, all of us with our bags and ready to depart as he was landing.

Come to think of it, strike that "accidentally." That might not be such a bad idea after all!

BY THE way, perhaps some of you saw the little cartoon we chanced across last week here at the Hesperian.

It concerned an employee getting canned and featured him as saying to the boss, "What, me fired? I thought slaves were sold. . . not fired!"

ON THE above theme, we did do something we hope Wendell will find humorous. . . we put a "For Rent" sign on his office door!

I even had a $10 offer yesterday. . . but, I couldn't take it. . . I don't think we could stand the fellow who offered it around here all the time! That'll teach him to make a better offer. . . he's really a nice guy. . . just somewhat cheap.

A SINCERE "paaterseende" this week to Sam (Sverker Emanuelsson), Swedish AFS student who's leaving on Monday.

I'll be sad to see Sam go and certainly hope the "paaterseende" meaning "I'll be seeing you," is the case instead of "goodbye."

In the short time that I've known Sam, I've become quite impressed with him, besides getting kind of attached. . . partially because he comes from the country of my father's ancestors.

Sam's a real credit to his nation. . . I only hope our U.S. AFS students visiting there will make the impression on his countrymen that he has left with the people of Floydada.

I'm proud to count Sam as a friend and have a feeling that the friendship is reciproca-

ted. . . he even says that he's going to "get me a job in Sweden."

I'd hate to leave Floydada. . . but, I must admit it would be an intriguing offer should he make good his statement!

Anyway. . . best of luck to Sam. . . I know he'll make the best of anything he does. And, being as we're going to send him a paper in Sweden, I hope I can count on him as my number one "William Tells" fan over there!

Probably my only one. . . too!

IF THINGS work out, I'll be going to the Texas Press Association Convention in San Antonio and taking in the HemisFair (free, courtesy of press passes, by the way) from Thursday noon through Sunday morning.

So, if you happen to notice my absence, I've not been run out of town, nor have I absconded to Sweden!

DO YOU believe everything you read? If you do, you can "fear no man" for only $9.95!

Sounds somewhat cheap, don't you think?

By the way, the $9.95 will purchase a "Killer Karate Crusher" and a "Killer Karate Course," which will help you to build a "Fearsome-Ferocious Fist of Steel and master Terror-Fighting secrets in 30 days."

Or, you'll get your money back. . . providing you return both in good condition, of course.

And, it takes just "5 minutes a day for 30 days. . . to turn your hands into battering rams of destruction. . . to save your life."

I think I'll take 10 minutes a day for 15 days. . . I'm in a hurry!

By the way, this reminds me of the karate expert who joined the Army. . . the first time he saluted, he killed himself!

The advertisement for this "Killer Karate Course" was in a sports magazine I purchased recently and the advertisement goes on with a few other earth-shattering claims like: "1 out of every 5 persons you pass on the street is a potential mugger or killer (they must not of ever heard of Floydada) that can maim, blind or cripple you for life." (Start counting, let's see now, is that stranger number four or is he number five?)

"Someone that may look just like you, (boy, they never saw me, that's for sure) walking beside you, could be your unknown enemy ready to attack you with lightning-speed, when you least expect it. . . even in broad daylight."

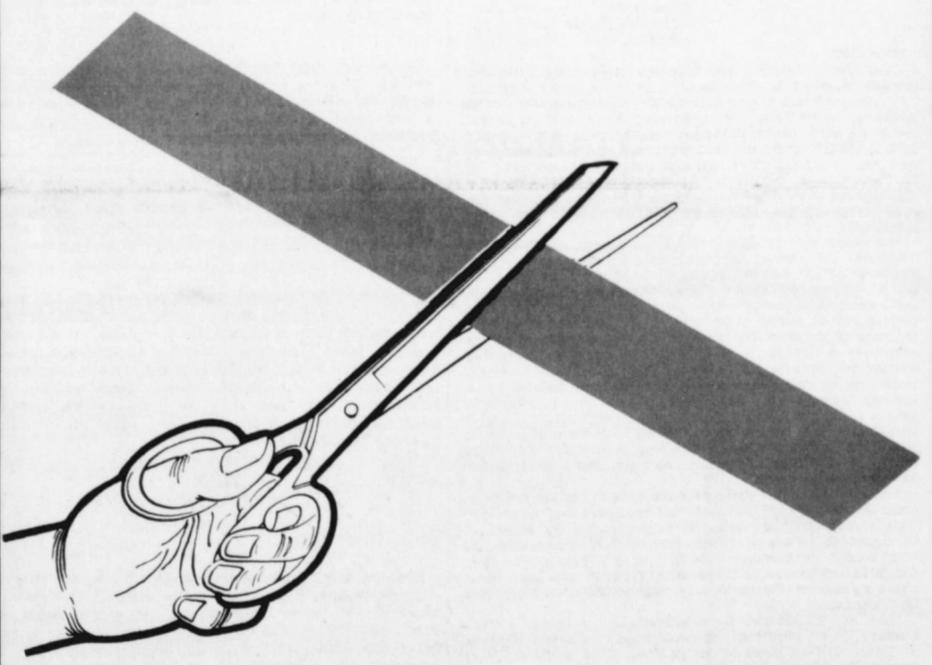

It goes on to say that this can start you on the way towards becoming a "Walking Arsenal of Terror-Fighting Power." If I was all of that, I'd be so scared that I'd have to sneak up on a glass to get a drink of water.

And furthermore, "in 30 days, with your new Ferocious Fearsome Fist of Steel, you'll instantly with the chilling defense secrets found in this lesson move with terror-power precision and in a flash you'll flatten, pulverize with one jab of your finger any 200-lb. brute, with one chop disarm any hood or crook and leave him writhing in pain. Anyone dumb enough to insult, or tangle with you, will regret his mistake from a hospital bed or jail cell."

Those are mighty strong words, podner. . . in fact I find them hard to believe, but if you'd like to order one of those things, I'll give you the address. Just watch out for me. . . I'm ordering two, then I'm going to practice with each hand on both of them for 10 minutes

Letter To The Editor

Perhaps you the editor and the readers thought you escaped complaints as late as bringing them.

Anyway May 28th was a very pleasant day. Although my hearing is bad, eyesight only fair and other deficiencies up there I had privilege of meeting many old friends and several new ones. The memorial list was exceedingly long including that of my son Hollis.

Several that I hoped to see were kept away because of illness. This caused me to be pronounced oldest man on the ground and gave me $5.00 reward. Later in the day Mr. Will Shell who admits he is a little older than I showed up. I know him well and is a very fine man but only heard he there and did not see him. Later I sent him the $5.00 as was justly his but retained the honor if honor it is? As my name in different news papers had already gone out and not easily changed.

As to the barbecue dinner paid for mainly by business people of Floydada and Lockney and furnished free to me and others of the clan it was fine but I had rather had a hamburger or a big sandwich and everyone had privilege of same. The $1.35 would hard for a few I am sure. I just cannot forget the old pioneers spirit.

Regardless of what you had in your home or camp if I was there at meal time I was welcome to part of it and do not remember anyone refusing to partake. Really I think we have used the wrong yardstick in designating a pioneer or old settler. 50 years, instead I think we should have set the year 1900 or somewhere along there as dividing line. No one who came here later than along there thought of himself as a pioneer or old settler and we knew he was a newcomer.

Sure if this time had been set and practiced there would be very few left and later on no one.

None of us have any say as to how nor where we came into this world but once we are here it depends on us as to where we go when we depart. We have the privilege of preparing for future or just jog along and do nothing worthwhile and that leaves us in the other class.

Who will be on the memorial list next year we do not know if it be you or I. Best we do not know when but do know the time is coming and won't be long with some of us.

Then came Fathers Day last Sunday. Had cards and letters from some of the children grand also. And cards from some grandchildren. Even a great granddaughter, but not personally as she is barely more than six months old. Our daughter, Clea Brown and family of Lubbock and daughter-in-law, Doris and family were with us in person. Appreciate all, and then have a wife much younger than I to wait on me and a church to attend, and a desire to do so even if hearing is bad.

Thanks if you see fit to publish this.

Dear Editor:

I am also a teenager, and here is an answer to the troubled teenager's letter in the June 13th issue of the HESPERIAN.

So you can't talk to your father? Why not? You insist that he thinks you a smart aleck. It may be that you are. It might be that you do not show proper deference to your elders, and "pop off" with "smart" retorts to your parents and others who are older than you. Try being more respectful; say "Yes, sir" and "No, sir" more often; and listen to some of his ideas in return for his listening to you. After all, he has been all the way down the road of the teenage years. As a rule, older people have better judgment.

You said in your letter that "we, the teenagers, need help; and that maybe this would inspire adults to do something to keep us out of trouble." I agree, teenagers need help, but then so do adults. But we don't need it the way you mean. From your letter I gather that you want to be pampered because you cry that nothing you do seems to be right, no matter how hard you try. If you want the favorable attention of the adult world, it will be necessary for you to decide to DO and BE something instead of waiting for parents and citizens of this community to MAKE something of you. Help comes to those who help themselves. A teacher, parent, or any other adult will bend over backwards to help a young person with a problem or a difficult goal. And it has always been my understanding that from the time a person was of the age to know right from wrong, he was also old enough to keep HIMSELF out of trouble. Don't gloat over your "ability" to do everything wrong.

You said you were "writing for the public to realize the problems of teenagers," and that "all teenagers feel this way." This one doesn't and neither do several others that I know of. Of course there are problems, but even adults have them, so why should we teenagers kick up such a fuss about a few? Life's hardships are no respecter of persons. Too many teenagers go through the teen years running from something that isn't after them.

Have you considered the disadvantages of having a Teen Center? In all probability it would soon turn into nothing but a dance hall - a place to "fulfill the lusts of the flesh." Girl scouts, boy scouts, 4-H clubs, and summer jobs offered by the school and the Head Start program would be much more satisfying and profitable in the long run than a Teen Center. There is also a Floyd County Library which has a wide selection of good books - character-building books, which are wanting to be read. Why are you afraid? People are usually frightened when they know they have disobeyed the rules of right living. "Fear is the darkroom where negatives are developed."

It seems funny that you can't seek counsel from the people who care the most about you - your parents. If you don't feel up to talking to them, there's the school counselor, ministers, school teachers, or any other person whom you admire who would be most willing to listen and advise.

And don't leave God out of the picture; His bulwark of strength, found in church and prayer, can help you through any difficulty.

Sincerely,
/s/ Willa Finley

"That little football letter, a blocked white 'H' I got in junior high, meant a lot to me. I took it everywhere. I'd get it dirty, then go home and rub oatmeal on it to bring back the white. To me it was never a little thing; it was pure gold..."

THE UNIVERSITY INTERSCHOOL-
LASTIC League, magistrate of Texas schoolboy athletics, has been so busy making rules the past few years it's hardly had time to tend to the matters it's supposed to.

According to the best sources I can find, its duties are to regulate competition among high schools, see that eligibility requirements are followed, and create a wholesome image for the state's prep program.

Perhaps it was a lack of guidance; maybe someone spared the rod a bit too often, but whatever the cause, the UIL seems to have strayed. It appears that it's become a pouty kid who has the necessary muscle to bully others into playing ball simply because those of lesser build are afraid to make him mad.

The UIL, certainly aware of but not admitting the situation, finds ways of keeping the other folks in line. When a problem arises, goes the philosophy, make a rule. It may be a good rule or bad, hint of tremendous forethought or none at all - just so it's a rule.

Recently, however, it outdid itself. Not satisfied with keeping athletic directors, coaches and athletes in tow, it has now reached out to the booster clubs and service organizations, reading them a list of do's and don't dare do's.

No longer, says the latest memo from the front office, can a booster organization reward a favorite coach with a bonus in excess of 200 bucks. Evidently, the price of state championships has been leveled to that bargain basement figure. But, it's a nice round figure, don't you think? Has a mellow ring. Say it a time or two and it'll catch on.

Henceforth, any civic organization which takes upon itself to sponsor a track meet or basketball tournament had better not give Coach Jones anything more than a heat sheet and a handshake lest the UIL fathers slap probation on every sport from football to playground pick-up-sticks. No longer can they present the coach of the winning team with a watch or silver serving tray or thank a fella for spending several days of his Christmas vacation taking his team to a tournament by adding to his golfing arsenal or tackle box.

Such a capitalistic gesture could well shake the very foundation of our society.

WHILE THE COACHES were off drawing O's and X's recently, the UIL huddled with high school superintendents and decided that from now on no youngster should receive but one letter jacket during his high school career. Which is to say that a three-year letterman will be dealt virtually the same recognition in assemblies as does the youngster who earns but one letter in his entire career.

Now, granted, equality is a great thing and there ain't enough of it to hardly go around these days, but such a setup as envisioned by the UIL and superintendents makes one wonder if the next few years might find the vice-president of the company and the fella who mows the grass out front pulling down the same size paychecks.

Tradition has dictated through the years that if a youngster daily devotes his afternoons to regular practices and meets the required lettering standard on the field of battle he shall be the proud and deserving recipient of a letter jacket each year. Said tradition is as much a part of high school sport as the alma mater and pep rallies.

PERHAPS HERE it might be well to point out that the UIL is not the only culprit. It merely planted the seed. The superintendents had the final say. A total of 511 of them voted to adopt the ruling then began counting the money they were going to save; 396 voted no and began counting the irate phone calls and letters they were going to receive. Those who joined forces with the UIL found comfort in a footnote to the rule which states that in addition to said single jacket a letterman shall then be given a token award any other time he meets the lettering standard but it shall not exceed $3 in value.

Maybe they could see fit to just give the kid the cash and let him get a haircut and shoeshine or take his best gal to the picture show. But, then, that would make him a professional just like Bart Starr and Johnny Unitas and you know how the UIL feels about that sort of thing.

Anyone who ever dunked a pigtail in an ink well knows that there is a certain degree of prestige which accompanies a letter jacket. To walk down the halls clad in one's school colors is an honor reserved for those who have paid a price.

In keeping with its overall format, for years the UIL stuck unmovingly to the policy that no letter award should set the school budget back more than $15 per player. A few years back the Texas High School Coaching Association convinced the powers that be that World War II and five cent hamburgers had vanished from the Great American Scene and the UIL budged. Okay, they said, shoot the works—use $20. Sporting goods dealers broke out the champagne; school administrators broke out in cold sweats.

Now, however, the price isn't so high. Take, for instance, a borderline athlete, one who is not blessed with an abundance of ability yet desires the honor and stature said jacket will afford him. OK, he goes out for one season, manages to earn his award. Things ain't gonna get better down the line, he reasons, so he checks in his suit after one year and joins the Soda Pop Set.

When it becomes a violation of policy to adequately reward one for his efforts, brother, something is wrong. Those who feel the letter jacket is a little thing might do well to consult with those who have earned them or those who hope to earn them. In youth they are worn as badges of valor, in later years they find their resting place neatly folded in the cedar chest alongside all other family treasures which bear no price tags. Finally, they are passed on to proud sons.

I rest my case.

SOUTH PLAINS NEWS by Mrs. Murray Julian

SOUTH PLAINS, June 17 - Around .25 rain fell here Thursday night but it did not greatly hinder any farming going on. By noon next day most of the combines were able to cut wheat, and many finished cutting dry land wheat, which is making good this year. Most of the irrigated wheat is still too green.

Hard winds and rain coming in sheets, dealt misery to several parts of our community Sunday evening. At the farm of Alvin Nichols 2.40 inches rain fell, washing out fields and cotton just coming up, and making rivers of the roads. South Plains missed the brunt of the storm, but got about an inch of moisture, with no hail falling here. Most of the young cotton looks good here, and with sunshine most of last week, farmers are hoping for more of the same. Fred Fortenberry got 2.15 rain in a short time Sunday night. The cloud that hit the south part of our area hit Cedar Hill hard. Arby Mulder and north of him had an inch of rain.

Rev. Clay Muncy preached at South Plains Baptist Church Sunday morning. Sunday night Church and Training Union services were dismissed because of the storm. Garland Martin of Floydada was a guest at church for morning services and Mr. and Mrs. Mark Langley and son of Lockney were present for both services. Langley led the singing.

In what might have been a tragic accident Sunday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Recce Hightower and three little boys were frightened, and shook up, but otherwise not hurt except for a cut and bruised lip on the oldest boy, who fell out of the car following a car-train collision at the railroad tracks in South Plains. The Hightower family barely made it across the tracks, going south, when an east bound train hit the back of their car, and spun it around. Friends carried the family to the Lockney Hospital, but they were found to be all right. Mrs. Raymond Reeves went to the hospital following the bad rain storm and brought the family home. Mrs. Reeves reported water over the road most of the way to Lockney.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Whitfill and Cindy of Sweetwater came Friday to spend the weekend here with her parents, the Alvin Nichols. Saturday night they went to Glen's sister, Mrs. Melvin Jennings and family in Tulla, and with the Frank Whitfills of Plainview, all had supper together. Linda Whitfill and Vickie Jennings came here to spend Saturday night with Cindy Whitfill.

The South Plains Mission Vacation Bible School had their commencement Friday morning with several parents present. Lee Pearson helped the Juniors make beautiful wooden trays. Mrs. L. T. Wood acted as principal when Rev. Charles Conger was called to Amarillo by the major operation of his father-in-law, Joe Barrick of Keyes, Okla. Fifty three were enrolled for the Mission VBS. Those who served refreshments to everyone each morning were Mrs. Grigsby Milton and Darla, Mrs. John Kinnibrugh and Beverly, Mrs. Frank McClure, Mrs. Johnney West, Mrs. Don Bean, and Mrs. Raymond Upton.

Teen Time began here at the Baptist Church Saturday night with Rev. Carlos McLeod and Mr. Sexton of Amarillo joining the young folks in a hay ride down to the canyon on the creek by the J. Ronald Taylor place. Rev. McLeod was speaker for a brief service at the end of the trip. Sterling Cummings provided the hamburger supper which followed were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hamm, Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Cummings, Mr. and Mrs. J. Ronald Taylor, Mrs. Ruby Higginbotham, and Mrs. J. P. Taylor. There were twenty-six adults and young people enjoying the event.

Mrs. Jimmy Upton and Shanna Joy, who was born Monday, June 10 in Crosbyton, were brought home from the hospital Thursday to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Johnson in Floydada.

Rev. Charles Conger left Wednesday to be in Amarillo Thursday morning for the surgery of Mrs. Conger's father, Joe Barrick, of Keyes, Okla. We are very glad to know he came through fine, in spite of his age, which is 75. He is doing well at this time in the Baptist Hospital in Amarillo. Mrs. Conger has been at his bedside, and Brent has been with his grandparents in Oklahoma, with Bentley staying here with the Philip Smithers.

Mrs. Don Longhofer and three year old Mike from Amarillo came to the home of Mrs. Kendis Julian to have lunch and spend the day recently. The two are school day friends.

Fathers Day guests with Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Merrell at their Quitaque ranch were most of their children, including Mrs. Jack Douglas, Don and Donna, from Albuquerque (she will spend the coming two weeks here with folks), Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Taylor and Katie, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Pigg and family from Lone Star, the Jake Merrells and the Truman Merrells, all of Quitaque, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Taylor and children of Lockney and Mr. and Mrs. Jay Ronald Taylor and son. All had Fathers Day dinner together and Jones Taylor came for the afternoon. Don and Donna Douglas came to spend Sunday night with Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Taylor.

The Square Dance Club, Boots and Slippers, met Saturday night at the Silverton Fire Hall. A good number attended, including guests of members of other square dance clubs from Lockney, Silverton, Tulla and Plainview. Soft drinks were served by Mr. and Mrs. Robert McPherson and Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Rowell. The club elects new officers each six months, and officers elected were president, Don Bean; Eugene Beedy, vice president; secretary, Mrs. Keith Marble, and hospital committee, Mrs. Raymond Upton. The next regular meeting will be Saturday night, July 5. Refreshments will be served by Mr. and Mrs. Dale West, and

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Upton. Fathers Day was enjoyed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Marble by the children, Mr. and Mrs. Don Marble and children, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Marble and children, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Marble and children. Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Holland of Lockney visited at the home of the Don Marbles in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Beedy and 12 year old Cindy from Stinnett came Friday to stay until Monday of last week with his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Beedy and boys. They also visited with their son, Randy, 14, who has been staying here this summer with the Beedys, helping Eugene with the field work.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Upton had Sunday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Johnson and family at Floydada, with Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Upton and Shanna Joy as other guests. Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Upton and family of Amarillo visited with the group in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray Julian had Fathers Day dinner with their son, Mr. and Mrs. Kendis Julian, Kristi and Mitzi in their home.

Jimmy Pritchett left Thursday morning for six weeks summer ROTC training at Ft. Sill, Okla.

Mrs. Elmo Fortenberry came Sunday to have dinner with the Fred Fortenberrys and took the children, Patricia, Rhonda and Elmo Jr. back to Sun Ray with her after they had spent the past week here with their grandparents. Mrs. N. C. McCain of Lockney came Saturday night to spend the coming week here with her daughter, Mrs. Fred Fortenberry.

Mrs. Arby Mulder and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Wayland Fitzgerald of Rock Creek went to Clarendon Friday to spend the night and part of Saturday with Mrs. Mulder's sister, Mrs. Pete Land. They gathered cherries for canning while there.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Kinslow and boys went to Amarillo Friday to visit their son, Mr. and Mrs. Bary Kinslow, Jennifer and Grant. They spent Sunday in Lubbock where they visited his parents, the D. E. Kinslows. Mrs. D. E. Kinslow has been in the hospital for three weeks, is home now, but not doing very

What gets under Chevrolet's skin?

Beneath Chevrolet's thick skin (double-walled in most places) lies a truck chassis built for punishment. A heavy-gauge steel frame provides the solid backbone for this inner strength. While a host of durable driveline components supply the muscle. Enough to whip most any job.

Of course, the heart of all this brawn is a Chevrolet engine. Six or V8, all are built for stamina. They last longer because of such things as induction-hardened crankshaft journals. Inexpensive to operate, too. All run on gasoline.

Keeping everything riding smoothly is the job of Chevrolet independent front suspension. And what a job it does. Combined with tough coil springs, front and rear, the suspension system cushions entire truck from jarring shock.

So you see, beautiful engineering is more than skin deep Chevrolet.

Only the toughest truck components in the business!
