Floyd County Farmers Turn Hogs For Profit

By WENDELL TOOLEY
Wheat and cotton prices getting rougher on Floyd farmers, many are looking for a better cash crop. The swine for more profit and a better grain sorghum price the trend at this time. $1.70 grain sorghum through 19-20 cent hogs seems a profitable venture, and when Floyd county farmers go into business, they go "whole hog." Evidenced in the size of many swine raising ventures coming a reality.
J. T. HUCKABAY
Huckabay took a trip up into Missouri with Littlefield and Jack Barton last winter, and they came back with new ideas in raising hogs. Barton is now building a farrowing house and a 32 x 84 feeding house on the farm southeast of Floydada.
He got his sows and before the farrowing house was started "having pigs" all over the place. He hastily some portable farrowing houses, and so far has lost 61 sows, three boars and plans to go on to a total of 1440 hogs per year. He hopes to feed out around 1440 hogs per year. The farrowing house will have a warm concrete floor for the sows, through a system of hot water pipes buried in the floor. The feeding house is through a window air conditioning system with exhaust fans on thermostat control. It will accommodate 48 sows at a time.
The farrowing house isn't finished, three pens of pigs beginning the fattening cycle.
Huckabay plans permanent pasture grazing for his sows and are designed with cleanliness in mind. An underground drainage system to a lake takes out all wastes which go to a slatted oak floor. The hogs are cross breeds of Hampshire and Duroc.

Howard Gene, says, "although we're getting in the hog business we still haven't quit farming. We'll have about 160 acres, 30 acres of peppers, 25 acres of cucumbers, and onions, occasionally we raise corn for silage for our cattle, and all told we farm around 1160 irrigated acres."
J. T. was moving pigs to the feeding house, Gary to get some electric fencing around the cattle, and Howard Gene was farming (yep, pretty exciting).
Howard Gene has been in the hog business before, not this big and it is evident that hog raisers from all over the county will be visiting his farm to see this most modern hog

HOWARD GENE BISHOP
Howard Gene is building a farrowing house that is 24 sows. It is a 26 x 88 foot building that includes a farrowing house and a 32 x 84 feeding house. Howard Gene, his father, and his boys Mike and Gregg raised Hampshire pigs into feeding barns. Right now they are concentrating on raising a very good line of Duroc pigs and show, plus taking on a big volume of pig and sows.

There is also a possibility that Armour and Company will locate a packing plant in this area that will require a big amount of hogs per daily operation.

AT LOCKNEY

80 Female Swine Project Planned

Underground tile and sewer lines have been laid and forms set early this week on an 80-sow swine program six miles northwest of Lockney. Joe Ramsey, the owner, hopes to increase the operation to 160 sows within two years.

"My dad bought this land a lake and drainage suitable for cattle feeding. He said 40 years ago because it had this was cattle country," farmer-stockman Ramsey says.

Guy Ramsey was right . . . except that swine rather than cattle will be fed on the farm.

Initial plans call for Ramsey to construct a sow barn, farrowing house, nursery, and two finishing barns. Each farrowing house can accommodate 80 sows. When the number is doubled, another farrowing house will become necessary.

The herd will be SPF animals, suitable for sale to the Dean-Meat Co. soon to be installed at Plainview and other pork packers which cludes a room to bathe and disinfect the sows, a room for a person to sleep, in order to be near the sows when farrowing, and an electrical heating system imbedded in the concrete floor to keep the pigs warm.

Over his drainage system (which goes into a lek) he plans an aluminum flooring instead of oak.

Bishop plans an eventual 200 sow operation, now has around 100 sows and gilts. His feeder plan includes around 2,000 per year.

He has around 40 acres of corn up and growing for feed, and of course will have several acres of grain sorghum for hog feed. He farms around 640 irrigated acres.

The Tony Soto family has moved back to the farm to help Bishop in the farming and swine business.

WILLIE B. EAKIN

From the Bishop farm I cut across to the southwest corner of Floyd county and visited with Willie B. Eakin, who has been in the hog business all his life.

He fed out around 1,000 head of hogs last year, has sold 460 already this year. At present he has around 450 head on his farm.

He has recently moved in two portable steel feeding houses, that hold 60 pigs each. He also has many pigs and shoats running on 12 acres of wheat grazing. Grazing hogs in combination with self feeding them all the grain sorghum and supplement they can eat is the specialty of Eakin. He also has 10 acres of alfalfa which he cuts four times a year, as well as grazing.

Eakin does not have any sows. He buys his pigs around 35 pounds and up, then feeds them to around 210 pounds. He markets them at Plainview.

He also farms 320 acres with the help of one hired hand. Willie started in the hog business as a boy, when his father pointed to a little $2 pig in the back of the cotton wagon one day when they were going home from the gin and said, "he's yours."

"Some farmers fear that if they just enter the feeding hog business, there won't be enough pigs available for feeding . . . but I have never had any problem in finding all the pigs I wanted to feed out," Eakin concluded.

CARMACK-GUEST

We reported on this new hog operation when it began just east of Floydada about a year ago. They are feeding out over 1700 per year in four houses similar to the one being built on the Huckabay farm, also built by Barton.

Cager Carmack and Dick Guest are partners in this venture, feed is hauled from the Carmack Feed and Seed plant, mostly grain sorghum with supplement.

Carmack and Guest buy pigs from several breeders in this area. They have no sows and boars.

ORBA MILLER

Orba Miller of the Sandhill community is "sorta down on hogs now." Has has only 150 shoats and pigs, and 40 head of breeding stock. He raised registered Yorkshire hogs for breeders, and feeds out a three-way cross of York, Duroc and Hampshire.

He started in the hog business with a sow as an FHA project and has been raising hogs "off and on" ever since. He says the hog price forecast looks good until fall, but feels like the price of hogs will hold up. He became dissatisfied with the quality of pigs available for feeding out purposes and decided to raise his own three-way cross.

He buys a complete feed mixture delivered to his farm. He and his four boys run the hog operation and farm a half section of irrigated land. He uses some part-time help during the school term. He will have around 70 acres of grain sorghum this year and also plans on trying some castorbeans.

F. G. JONES

F. G. Jones in the Lone Star Community has 40 sows for commercial and registered production and feeds approximately 800 annually for himself. He also does custom feeding. Owners supply pigs and portable feeders. He supplies feed and land to place feeder, plus labor.

He is feeding about 100 at present for others and has feeders ordered to expand to around 200 head.

DCS HOG FARM

Dub Dippery, Gene Collins, and George Sparkman have a 65 sow operation north of Lockney for feeder pig production . . . they may expand into a feeder operation later.

RAY SISSNEY

Couldn't locate Ray, think he is getting involved in the hog business too.

HUBERT DUDLEY

Hubert Dudley works for the Patterson Grain Company in Lockney. He is in pig production only, no feeders with 30 sows.

Ready This Fall

Ramsey plans to start placing bred gilts in his facilities this October or November. Twenty females will be moved in at 45-day intervals, thus the herd should reach 80 by early in 1970. The gilts will farrow within three to four weeks after arriving at the Ramsey facilities.

Young animals will be moved from farrowing house to nursery and finally to finishing houses. They will be market-ready when leaving the finishing houses.

Actual construction on the barns is not expected to begin until the end of this school term - late May or early June. Flooring will be ready by that time.

A Plainview resident, Ramsey will mold his farming and swine operations together,

BY PEGGY MEDLEY

ABOUT the only way you can tell when and if we have frost after spring arrives is to get up about 4 a.m. instead of lying in bed until 6 a.m. like I was accused of. No less than six men told me definitely that we DID have frost on April 17th, like the legend said we would. Of course I was 'n't up at 4 o'clock to see the frost, and temperature wise, I had to go by the local official weather gage. But I will take the men's word for it that we did have frost in Floydada, they seemed so sincere, how could I believe otherwise.

I THINK I am correct in saying that one year of a dog's life is equal to seven years in a persons life. If that's the case a Chihuahua dog belonging to Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Powell succumbed Monday night at the age of 98. They have had the dog and its brother, since pups, 14 years and when you lose a pet after that long, you feel like a part of you is missing. I know it will seem that way to Mr. Powell, especially, for when you saw him driving around town the two Chichuchas were usually with him.

GUESS I had rather go along with DST in Floydada than be like the town of Canadian. Their schools decided to ignore the change to daylight saving time and simply leave the entire school schedule to sun time, leaving the hands on the clock as was. When business and family schedules tend to revolve around the school schedule, a change like that can sure cause some havoc. Working mothers are discovering that their school-age children will be coming home for lunch, at one o'clock instead of noon. A meal ready for the husband at 12, is going to have to be kept warm until 1 o'clock for the school kids or else mother is going to have to prepare two lunches. If she goes to work at 8 a.m. she has to return home to take her children to school at 9:15. I imagine there will be a stir of protests among parents after the first week of school at Canadian.

SPEAKING of canines I read where workman in England installed wall to wall carpet in a dog's kennel after the terrier inherited $80,457 from its owner.

ONE protester had a sign which read, "Don't draft married men, all the fights gone out of them."

ALL the water in the world, however hard it tried could never, never sink a ship, unless it got inside. All the evil in the world, the blackest kind of sin, could never hurt you one least bit unless you let it in.

THATS meddlins for this week.

THE annual state meeting of Future Homemakers of America, an organization of high school homemaking students, will be held in Memorial Auditorium, in Dallas, Texas, May 2-3.

More than 5000 members and advisors representing 75,000 members in 1550 chapters throughout the state will attend. Representing the Floydada chapters will be Mrs. Johnnie Mae Bachus, sponsor; Kallie Kneale, Foreign Exchange Student; Sharon Baker, president - elect for 1969-70; Judy Jameson, president for 1968-69 and high point girl for senior chapter; Kay Russell, Rosebud Chapter (freshmen)

IT wasn't a Harper's PTA meeting the Smith children had at Harper, Kan., but it was a big reunion with eight sisters, can you imagine, and one little lone brother, that gathered over the weekend for a reunion. Alma Holmes and Glenna Jackson of Floydada were among the Smith children meeting at Kansas for the get-together.

FLOYDADA has four young men receiving degrees from West Texas State University in May. They are Keith Evans, Thomas, bachelor of business administration degree; James Stanley McNeill, Medral Wayne Grimes and Leonard Buck Johnson all receiving degrees in bachelor of science.

BY HOMER STEEN

Rattle snake hunts have become more numerous this spring and more successful. Also more sophisticated, what with demonstrations on how to handle the live reptile safely, how to milk the fangs of venom for the use of the scientist, how to convert the skins into belts, quirts, bridle reins and the like.

Reflecting, however, I am concerned that no idea for practical use of the snake's rattles has been advanced.

For the sake of clarity I will repeat a fact generally well known. The rattler is a loner. With his rattles he reminds you he is bothering nobody, just out sunning or seeking a morsel of food - and that he prefers in fact to be alone.

To digress a bit further from my theme, if you leave him alone he does leave you alone. Something in that warning cadence, however, works in reverse in a human. Your mouth turns dry, hackles rise in the hair on the back of your neck. You put a stop to that bone chilling whir with a gun, a stick or a stone. Then you lay him belly up across a fence or a bare grass to make it rain.

Here is my ploy to make use of the rattles, and most successfully, if one can turn a fantasy into a commercial venture as so many are doing these days. Go along with me now: In the simple annals of the yester year it is recorded that the tonal qualities of a fiddle's tweedle could be greatly enhanced by dropping a couple of rattle snake rattles through the F-shaped soundholes in the body of the fiddle, leaving the buttons on, of course.

I knew a young fellow back in those days who claims that he did obtain from his fiddle the utmost sonority and refinement of tone by this simple means.

I recall once he played a number as an interlude for Miss Merrell's sister's elocution recital.

Viewing the audience as he played he says he distinctly saw some hearers in the back of the audience holding their hands to their temples, possibly to their ears, they were so overcome by the eloquence of the melody. The vibrations of the snake's rattles were just that far out.

Just a youngster, he said it was one of the mischances of his career, he could find no sheet music for such numbers then so popular, as Cotton Eyed Joe, Eighth of January, The Battle of Waterloo, Saddle Old Paint, and the like.

Later on, he said, time and chance, those robber catalysts, some way, some time, in the passing years, robbed him of his fiddle unaware.

But he said he still had the rattles stashed away somewhere "among the stuff" should it come his turn to roll again. He may have something there. People are spending millions on ideas no better.

Rainey Speaks On Bicycle Safety

Plans for the big Bicycle Rodeo to take place on Saturday, May 10, in front of Floydada High School, are gathering momentum as the date draws near. Tuesday afternoon, Bud Rainey, Texas Highway Patrolman, spoke to the combined troops of Junior Girl Scouts at Andrews Elementary School, giving them safety tips for riding bicycles and impressing on them the value of keeping a bicycle in good condition.

The Bicycle Rodeo is an annual event in the community designed primarily to stress the fact that a bicycle can be an advantage if ridden carefully and cared for adequately, a hazard if ridden carelessly and left in poor repair. Statistics show that bicycles were involved in 70,000 accidents in the United States last year - one every 45 seconds - and boys and girls need to be aware of safety rules and regulations of bicycling. The Bicycle Rodeo will offer safety tests to groups who wish to test their knowledge, a safety inspection before entering any of the obstacle courses, and films on safety for participants to view while waiting between obstacle courses or tests.

The Bicycle Institute of America recommends regular inspection of bicycles, and has compiled a handy checklist to be used for that purpose:
Handlebar grips should be adjusted to the rider's height, and tightened with the stem well down in the fork. Handlebars should be perpendicular to the center line of the front wheel. The saddle (seat) should be adjusted for the height of the rider and fastened securely. Wheels should be in top condition with spokes tight, nuts tightened, and bearings lubricated.

The Rear fender should have a reflector visible at night for at least 300 feet.
Chain should be clean, lubricated, and should fit securely. Chain guards should be clean, lubricated, and should fit securely. Chain guards should be straight and tight.
Pedals should be well lubricated, bearings and spindle tight. Replace worn pedals.
The crank hanger should be kept clean and greased. Tighten it securely if it wobbles.
Check tire valves for leaks, and inflate tires to the correct pressure.
Embedded glass, cinders, and other foreign objects should be removed. The lack of tread on the tire is a dangerous sign. Replace worn or thin tires. Bicycle should have a bell or horn, and a light that is visible for at least 50 feet at night.
Coaster brakes should brake evenly; handlebar brakes should be checked for linkage and brake shoe wear, both types of brakes should be capable of locking the wheels.
Floydada does not have a system of regular safety inspection and no bicycle safety inspection station as such; therefore individuals must take the responsibility of making their own safety checks. Local dealers have available bicycle parts and are glad to give advice and what help they can toward making a bicycle safer. Parents are urged to help boys and girls make safety checks on their bicycles.
May is American Bicycle Month, with the Bicycle Rodeo a highlight of the month.

BICYCLE INSPECTION.... Floydada boys and girls prepare for coming "Bicycle Rodeo" as members of the bicycle inspection team Don Daniel and R. L. Giesecke point some of the safety features to be observed. Left to right are: Kristi Kirk, Elaine Giesecke, Jody Powell and Don Daniel standing and Marty Daniel and R. L. Giesecke kneeling. HAND NEWS
Electric blankets should be carefully washed before packing away for the summer months. When blankets are cleaned frequently, soil does not become imbedded and hard to remove. The following recommendations will guarantee a longer life for your electric blanket if carefully followed.
Disconnect the control and shake the blanket lightly to remove dust. Scrub the soiled lining with a soft, sudsy brush. Pretreat any stains the same way. Soak the entire blanket in cool suds for about 10 minutes. If you have an automatic washer, a short spin cycle will remove most of the water.
After the first soaking, immerse the blanket into clean suds - in water about the temperature used for a baby's bath. Wash and rinse the blanket in the same temperature water.
Machine agitation or tumbling should not exceed three minutes. Any water not removed in a short spin cycle can be gently pressed out by hand.
NEVER put an electric blanket through a wringer.
If you prefer, you can hand wash an electric blanket, using a plumber's plunger to suck or force the suds through the fabric. This will loosen the soil and eliminate the need for lifting and squeezing.

Bicycle Rodeo Slated May 10

Boys and girls are reminded to start inspection of their bicycles for Floydada's second annual "Bicycle Rodeo" scheduled May 10, from 10 a.m. until 12 noon on Tree Street between the High School and the Baseball Park.

The purpose of the rodeo is to stress bicycle safety and to remind boys and girls that bicycling can be more fun if they follow the safety rules.

There will be bicycle safety knowledge tests, bicycle safety inspections and prize ribbons will be given in riding skill competition and best decorated bicycles.

First, second and third place ribbons will be given to a boy and girl in each age level - pre-school, primary grades (1-2-3); Intermediate grades (4-5-6) and Junior high (7-8). Tricycles may also be entered in the contest.

Prize ribbons will also be given in the three categories in each age level for the bicycles decoration contest. Categories in the decorations contest include awards for the most beautiful, most comical and the most original.

The activities are under the leadership of Highway Patrolman Bud Rainey, assisted by Wilson Bond, Webelo Scouts, Jewel Elza, Boy Scout Leader; Gary Carthel Cub Scouts, Tom Hopper, City Police, J. W. Gooch, Highway Department, Tim Ward, KFLD, Frank O'Hagan, Jr., Floyd County Hesperian; R. L. VOLUNTEER TODAY BE A BASEBALL COACH.....

plant in Friona that pays well. If, in fact, he is unable to work, something must be done for him.

He must have medical attention first. . . so that he can make a living for his family. In the meantime, what about the four children and mother.

Of course the mother and children are the victims of the husband's circumstances. This is one example in which I never have regretted money spent on welfare. No matter how drunk, or lazy the husband. . . I just can't see little children go hungry.

Some of our people right here in Floyd County worry night and day about some undeserving people getting free groceries at the courthouse. I would rather have ten undeserving persons get free groceries than risk one little child going hungry.

WHAT DO THE PEOPLE in Mississippi and Louisiana think about piping water from the Mississippi river to West Texas? This article in the Lafayette newspaper gives some insight to their thinking: "The question of possible diversion of Mississippi River water to West Texas and New Mexico will claim the main interest of delegates to the Intracoastal Seaway Association's 12th annual meeting here Thursday, April 17.

The discussion on the long-standing problem of the steadily lowering fresh water table in the dry area will be open to the public. Involved in the problem are the livelihood of thousands of small farmers and truck gardeners in the West Texas-New Mexico area.

To be discussed here will be the possibility of using a pipeline or canal to divert water from the Mississippi River. A secondary subject will involve the need for improved water project evaluation.

The Texas water plan calls for diversion of 14,000,000 acre feet of water from the Mississippi each year to Texas and New Mexico.

SOME FEAR PLAN

However, people from South Louisiana feel too much diversion of fresh water could lower the water table to a near-disaster point similar to that faced in the dry Western areas.

The Texas Legislature last week approved more than $3 billion in bonds to finance its share of the water plan.

The Army Corps of Engineers have reported in preliminary studies that the most feasible diversion route would be from the river below New Orleans along the Louisiana coastal area.

A pipeline would be the only feasible solution, the Corps said, because of the need to transport only fresh water. A canal would permit salt water seepage.

Scheduled to speak at the morning session of the meeting here is Fred H. Bayley III, chief of the Plan Formulation Branch, Army Engineer Corps, Vicksburg, Miss. He is in charge of the study under way by the Mississippi River Commission.

OTHERS LISTED

Appearing with him will be Col. Herbert R. Haar Jr., New Orleans District Engineer of the Army Engineers, who will discuss the hearings held last year on the Louisiana coastal area and its problems.

Leon Gary, director of the Louisiana Department of Public Works, will discuss a report on the activities of the state's department in water resource development.

A hospitality hour and luncheon will follow the morning session. Speaking at the luncheon will be Rep. Edwin Edwards, D-La., and Hary N. Cook, executive vice president of the National Waterways Conference, Washington, D.C. Cook will speak on the need to broaden the economic evaluation of water resource projects.

HERE'S BAD NEWS for the grocerymen. Mary Tom won't be buying any corn this summer. The folks at Producers Cooperative gave me a couple of sacks of sweet corn, and if I can keep Brad and Keith at work in the garden, we'll have plenty of roasting ears.

La sociedad Femenil de la Iglesia Catolica Maria Magdalena van a presentar un programa dedicado a las Madrecitas el dia 10 de mayo este programa se llevara a cabo en el auditorio de la escuela Della Plains. Ellas desean con todo su corazon que todos los grupos, organizaciones y las Iglesias de nuestro pueblo se sientan libres en invitar a todas las Madrecitas para que sean honradas en este dia y que el programa sera especialmente para ellas. Habra numeros bailables, declamaciones, canciones, y toda la fiesta digna de honrar a toda Madrecita. No deje de ir pensando en asistir ya que sera el 10 de mayo a las ocho de la noche en la escuela Della Plains. No se cobrara ni un centavo ya que queremos hacerlo con el unico fin de adorar y celebrar y contentas el dia de las Madres, nos dijo la senor Rudy Ochoa.

La Senora Irene Garza estuvo con todas las mujeres de Floydada instruyendolas en como estampillar una foto en un pedazo de madera. Las senoras como todas unas carpinteras tomaron la lija y lijaron el pedazo de madera y la arreglaron para untarle pintura, despues la envarizaron, y luego le pegaron la foto, y de alli en adelante le ponian varniz cuantas veces quisieran. Asi es que aquella foto quedo pegada a la madera y se ve algo extravagante. A la senora Garza nos quitamos el sombrero y la felicitamos por su avilidad de aprender y enseñar a otros a gozarse por unos momentos. La Senora Garza es de Lockney y hace toda clase de curiosidades. Muchas gracias, Irene.

De seguridad esta oficina estara lista para ayudarle en todo lo que pueda ya que se le otorgo los fondos necesarios para funcionar otro ano.

Felicitamos y agradecemos mucho a la amabilidad de todas las personas que colaboran con esta oficina ya que es mucha la ayuda que han brindado al pueblo de habla hispana. A su director, el senor Keller Holmes, y a sus trabajadores les damos las mas infinitas gracias.

Desde el escritorio del departamento de transito senos avisa que los el primer, el tercer, y el quinto jueves de cada mes es cuando se pueden tomar los exámenes para licencias ya sea por escrito, oral, o manejando. Todos los viernes del mes son usados para el mismo fin. Asi es que apunte en su calendario los dias en los cuales puede ud. tomar su examen o exámenes. La Senora Frances Rose esta en la oficina todos los dias alli en la corte del condado para renovar su licencia. Agradecemos tambien la fina cooperacion de la Senora Rose por tan distinguido trabajo que tan esmeradamente ha dado a todos.

Felicitamos a los miembros de la Primera Iglesia Cristiana por tan hermoso templo y tan elegante santuario. Esperamos que esto nos inspire a trabajar mas para el reino de Dios y su Justicia. No perdemos las esperanzas de tener un santuario como ese. Al Rev. Duane Grimes y a toda su congregacion los felicitamos.

El buro de oficiales del Centro Social de esta localidad sera el lunes entrante a las siete y media de la noche en la escuela Della Plains. Habra asuntos de importancia. Queremos que nuestro pueblo este mas bien representado y queremos verle por alli el lunes a las siete y media de la noche.

El viernes y sabado de esta semana saldre para ir a continuar mis estudios para mejorar el trabajo del centro social. Esperamos que todos Uds. nos visiten y usen el centro Social ahora que tienen la oportunidad. Alli hay dos maquinas de coser nuevas, tenemos toda clase de juegos ya sean de mesa, para jugar en el parque, o para jugar dentro del gymnasium. Si Ud. necesita el gymnasium y se si se aprueba el uso que Ud. y su organizacion le vayan a dar entonces se les presta. Ya comienza la fiebre del verano a correr por los cuerpos de los muchachos y el domingo lo vimos cuando un buen numero de ellos correteaban para ponerse en un estado sano fisicamente para jugar al biesbol durante este caluroso verano que esperamos.

Una mujer viuda tenia una gallina que le ponía un huevo todos los dias. Pienso que si le daba mas cebada pondria dos huevos, y aumento su racion. Pero la gallina engordoy ya no pudo ni poner una vez al dia. Enseña esta fabula que quien busca por avaricia poseer mas de lo que tiene, pierde incluso lo que poseia.

"You have a beautiful building, now build the church within under the guidance of the Holy Spirit," he continued.
Preceding the sermon Mrs.
Lon Davis Jr. played the Prelude "Agnus Dei" on the organ, the Chancel Choir gave the choral call to worship, under the direction of J. D. Jackson.
The scripture reading was read by Johnny Farris of the Christian Youth Fellowship.

The invocation was given by the minister of the church,
Dwayne Grimes; Cecil Hagood, chairman of the church board greeted the congregation; Floyddada Mayor Jimmy Seay congratulated the membership on completion of the beautiful new church.

Another congratulatory talk and greeting came from Johnnie Moore, minister First Christian Church, Slaton, president
High Plains Area Association of Christian Churches.

Following the sermon and the choir's hymn of consecration the Act of Consecration was read by the chairman of the board and the minister. Then the minister and people read the Litany of Consecration, with choir response.

Member of the church board
Lon Davis Jr. introduced Dr.
Henson and gave special recognition to J. C. Wester, Elder, former chairman of the board and building committee chairman, 1951, 1960 and 1969.

This poem below Mr. Wester's picture on the back of the Consecration program was appropriately printed:

"You never again will pass
this way;
You've crossed this chasm
deep and wide.

Why build you this bridge at eventide?"

"Good friend, in the path I've come
There followeth after me today

A youth whose feet must pass
this way,
This chasm that was as
naught to me,

To that fair youth may a pitfall be;
He, too, must cross in the
twilight dim;

Good friend, I'm building this bridge for him!"

Following the service, there was an open house showing of the church and refreshments were served in Fellowship Hall.

Soybean Variety Developed

A new soybean variety developed and proven by the High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway was approved for certification by the Texas State Seed and Plant Board Saturday.

According to Dr. Tom Longnecker, Foundation director, the new variety known as HP-963 was selected from soybean seed stocks donated to the Foundation in 1959 by Paymaster Farm.

This particular variety is the result of a long-range program which would have been severely delayed. Such firms as Paymaster, Plains Coop Oil Mill, Lubbock, Lubbock Cotton Oil, and Levelland Vegetable Oil, through their financial support, made possible the stepped-up advances in this research.

PAGE ONE

This is the third variety released by the Foundation. First released in 1963 was Hinn, a late maturing group V variety. Patterson, an early maturing group IV variety, was released in 1965. The new HP-963 variety is about 10 days later maturing than the Patterson variety, 7 to 10 days earlier than Hinn and 10 to 14 days earlier than Hinn and Hood varieties.

Dr. Douglas Owen, Plant Breeder, said the variety had been in strains tests at the Foundation as PA8-963 since 1961 and has proved successful in numerous area tests since 1965.

The variety seems to be better adapted to an area 50 miles north and south of Plainview and is not as well adapted to the North Plains as the Patterson or Clark 63 varieties. Dr. Owen described the variety as having the genetic yield potential of 60 bushels per acre or better under optimum conditions. This includes favorable weather, proper planting dates, irrigation timing and harvesting conditions.

"Experienced soybean producers should average 40 to 50 bushel per acre yields from HP-963," Dr. Owen stated. He noted that in Foundation tests the variety had consistently out yielded Hinn and Hinn varieties three to five bushels per acre.

As observed during testing at the Foundation, the new variety is a vigorous, erect, indeterminate plant type developing fruit fairly high off the ground for easier harvesting. Dr. Owen pointed out that the new variety formed two and three bean pods but under favorable conditions many 4 bean pods developed.

Dr. Owen also emphasized the fact that in Foundation tests the oil and protein content of HP-963 was comparable to other currently grown varieties.

"Optimum planting dates for HP-963 are from May 20 to June 10," Dr. Owen added, "and adequate seed is available at Plainview Wheat Growers in Plainview."

Loyalty To School Students' Pledge

By JIM REYNOLDS Correspondent

LOCKNEY — In a move designed to insure each student the right to pursue his education and to counter any type of demonstration evidenced recently at schools across the nation, Lockney High students have drawn up a loyalty oath which will be signed by each individual enrolled in that school.

Lockney High students have not participated in picketing, sit-ins, strikes, unlawful assemblies or other rebellious acts . . . and they do not intend to start, a spokesman said. Student council leaders have instituted a loyalty movement, designed to protect the right of each student to pursue his education.

A proclamation was approved and has been endorsed by the school board. The framed document has been placed in the high school to remind visitors of the student body's attitude.

Signatures of student council president Steve Barker and secretary Carolyn Byrd, Supt. John P. Mason, Principal F. M. Smith, Coach Jack Tayrien, Student council sponsor and C. L. Mooney, school board president have been affixed to the document.

Each high school student has been given a billfold-size card and a certificate suitable for framing, pledging loyalty to his school.

Supt. Mason and Coach Tayrien worked with student leaders in designing the proclamation.

"We realize that we, the students, would suffer most from disruptions to classes," the student council declared.

The Book Nook

The books reviewed in Book Nook are in the Floyd County Library.

"The Great Discount Delusion" by Walter Henry. The big bargain: this is the glittering promise held out by discounters. Each year they persuade millions of Americans to join the hunt for fantastic bargains.

Nelson contends that discounters are not promoters of gains, rather they are exploiting the consumer, destroying brands and killing off competition.

In a completely documented book, with information from congressional hearings, the author shows the hidden motives behind the phony high list prices that accompany the "bargains."

"The Wine and the Music" by William E. Barnard. A new novel by the author of "Lilies of the Field" is a rare sensitivity and depth into the crisis of a young man who faces a soul-shattering decision - whether to remain in the priesthood and marry an attractive woman who has his heart in a way he never dreamed possible.

Here is a fascinating story that is both moving and new in a world where age-old concepts are being seen never before.

"How To Teach Your Baby to Read," by Glenn Feldman. Written for parents, this exciting book presents the revolutionary idea: that children are far smarter than we credit for. In fact, the younger a child learns to read, the easier it will be for him to learn how to read and how much he will read.

The book presents, in detail, exactly how to teach a child to read and emphasizes that young children should start at this early age.

The Cedar Hill 4-H club met at Gene Gilly's house Monday night, April 21. The meeting was called to order by Craig Gilly. Donnie Fortenberry led the 4-H motto and pledge. Cathy Gilly led the prayer. Max Yeary led the pledge to the flag. Donnie Fortenberry called roll and read the minutes of our last meeting. The old business to be done was discussed. We decided that when he is absent from the club he will be charged now on. Our AFS member, Kneale, presented a report on the club. She showed slides about Australia. She made a motion to adjourn the meeting. Craig Gilly served refreshments. The next meeting will be next night.

Announcement of the "Pioneer Woman of the Plains" will be the highlight of the evening activities of the 41st Round-Up planned for Saturday, May 17, and will be staged at the Hale County Agriculture Center.

Entry blanks have been mailed to all civic clubs, women's clubs and organizations in Plainview and surrounding areas. Individuals may also submit names to be considered for this honor. A group of judges will select the winner based on the information submitted. The number of times a person is nominated will have no effect on the selecting of the honoree. Entry blanks and additional information may be obtained by contacting Miss Hays, 293-1990 or 296-2272.

According to the rules of the event, the nominee must have been a pioneer resident of the High Plains, short biographies including the candidate's outstanding contributions to home, church, community and general welfare of her fellowman must be submitted and all entries must be signed by the person submitting the letter of nomination. Nominees submitted in past years will be eligible and may be submitted again, except those who have already received the honor.

Miss Evelyn Vineyard, President of the B&PW Club, said other scheduled events of this year's Round-Up include the reception beginning at 10 a.m., honoring all pioneers; the parade down Broadway at 3 p.m.; the supper beginning at 6 p.m. in the Agriculture Center; the program at 8 and the square dance following.

Arthur Wylie of the Wylie Petroleum Company in Floydada has returned home after attending the annual convention of the Texas Oil Jobbers Association in Dallas which ended Friday.

More than 1,200 oil jobbers and commission agents attended the convention, largest in the Association's history.

They heard talks by leading national executives and administrators, including F. S. Schwend, president of the Gulf Oil Company, and Bill Jones of Kennett, Mo., president of the National Oil Jobbers Council. Schwend warned the Texas members of the oil and gasoline marketing industry that all segments of the petroleum industry must get behind an all-out effort to counteract growing criticism of the oil industry.

"We must delay no longer, for if we do, our best friends and strongest supporters in government and business may not be able to assist us in mounting an effective defense against the critics," he said.

New officers were elected: T. A. Harrell, Jr. of Corpus Christi, president; John Stoneham of Plainview and Gene Norwood Parrott of Dallas, vice-presidents; Jack Robertson of Corpus Christi, secretary, and Joe Hicks of Harlingen, Bill Quertrup of Dallas, Bill Brookshire of Abilene and Kenneth Peeler of Midland, regional vice-presidents. Awards were bestowed by the Association on Donald C. Bennett of Dallas (industry leadership), J. M. "Red" Simpson (public service) and Ted H. Lokey (distinction), both of Amarillo.

During the convention, most major oil companies and many independents held individual meetings with agents and dealers handling their brands including American Oil Company, Champlin, Conoco, Deep Rock, Enco, Fina, Gulf, Hancock, Mobil, Phillips, Premier, Shamrock, Shell, Sinclair, Skelly, Standard of Texas, Texaco and Texas.

Wester Ward Honored At Sports Banquet

Todd Wester received the coveted "Fighting Whirlwind Award" for playing basketball and Cindy Ward received a similar award for playing basketball for the Whirlettes at the first spring Sport Banquet that the Floydada High School has ever experienced. Athletic director Preston Watson was master of ceremonies and he expressed the appreciation of the school to the many athletes who participated in the various sports sponsored by the school system. He added that next year's all sports banquet would include the football players. Heretofore, there had only been a football banquet.

Invocation was given by high school principal, C.E. Tyler, Watson gave the toast to Floydada Athletes. CHEERLEADERS INTRODUCE COACHES Cheerleader Sara Stanforth told about boys basketball program and introduced coaches Curtis Chatham and Joe Paty, who in turn introduced the basketball teams. It was at this time that Chatham presented the award to Todd. Cheerleader Jill Stansell introduced girls basketball coach Ted Allen, who introduced the basketball players and made the award presentation to Cindy.

Another cheerleader Judy Probasco told about the track program and introduced coach L.G. Wilson, who introduced the track players. Jill Bertrand introduced tennis coach Don Ford, who recognized the tennis team. Coach Ford said that he appreciated the efforts of the seniors who entered tennis for the first time and said he looked forward to the day when the school system would have some tennis courts. "It's pretty difficult for 30 players to practice on two old tennis courts," he concluded.

Golf coach Joe Paty was introduced by Reagan Cagle and he recognized the golf team. Allison McLain introduced volleyball coach Ted Allen and he in turn introduced the volleyball players. Watson also expressed thanks to Mrs. Fred Cardinal and the cheerleaders for their work on preparing the banquet and keeping up school spirit for all sports. In conclusion the cheerleaders led the banquet in singing the school song.

Crowd Marked at Dragway

By DAVID DENSMORE
Staff writer, Amarillo Globe News

Chadwick took advantage of a second day afternoon and stunned Fred Goeske in the Coca-Cola-sponsored funny car in the largest crowd in Amarillo Dragway in three years.

The turnout assures that the crowd-pleasing plastic screamers will return for future appearances, the next time June 1st in conjunction with the 11th annual Texas vs. California match races.

Only a steady wind, blowing across the track, kept the day from being perfect. The wind kept down the speeds at the far end of the track, but failed to detract Pool's efforts in the wheelstanding Dodge truck.

Chadwick's victory was a popular one, his car being the only Texas entry in the eight-car field. And Kelly's association with the school system at Floydada before moving to his present position with Steakley Chevrolet of Dallas further enhanced his popularity.

But Safford couldn't get the Mustang straight in the consolation final and Eldridge drove by in the traps.

The special invitational, the first of 30 such races sponsored nationwide by Coca-Cola marked the first appearances of the fiberglass funny cars at Amarillo Dragway in three years.

PIONEER SEEDS

Choose this brand and you still have plenty of choices

For yield power where it counts, Texas grain sorghum producers have been choosing Pioneer varieties year after year. Such Pioneer hybrids as 846 have been breaking yield records from the top of the Panhandle to the South Plains. Besides popular 846 here are five other top performers from Pioneer:

828
This new full-season hybrid frequently yields above the five-ton level with plenty of water and ample fertility. Texas A&M tests and farm reports show 828 to be one of the highest yielding hybrids you can plant.

820
An old reliable, 820 has been a favorite on the high plains for six years, turning in some of the top yields in Texas year after year. This full-season variety is medium height with outstanding stalks and roots.

845
Another new Pioneer brand hybrid, 845 is a medium-maturity variety that yields with most full-season varieties. In the 1967 Texas A&M performance tests, the highest official yield for any variety, any maturity and any test was recorded by 845—a whopping 10,570 pounds per acre.

848
This medium-maturity hybrid rates exceptionally well for standability and easy harvesting. Short, uniform plants have very strong stalks and roots. Open heads are loaded with heavy, red grain. An outstanding yielder for its maturity.

866
A medium-early hybrid, 866 yields along with many later varieties. Its uniform height and good head exertion make it easy to thresh. 866 performs well under dryland or irrigated conditions.

Pioneer has many other high yielding grain sorghum hybrids. Pioneer also has performance-proved seed corn hybrids for grain and silage. See your Pioneer dealer now and pick the variety that's best for you.

REV. JOHN FALKNER

The Need Of The Hour

Today, as in every age, there is a neglecting of spiritual living and disobedience among the people of God which have been born again by faith in our Lord Jesus Christ, The Apostle Peter, in the first epistle that he wrote, under the inspiration of the Holy Spirit, declared, "Being born again, not of corruptible seed, but of incorruptible, by the Word of God, which liveth and abideth forever." (I Peter 1:23) With this in mind, let us see that we who have received sonship by trusting in Jesus the incorruptible seed should also understand that He, the word, liveth and abideth forever.

Many today would certainly try to water down this fact, and have succeeded in lots of ways. Satan would rejoice exceedingly, if he could succeed in killing the word, by keeping it behind the doors of our church buildings. If we have not a living Word in which can be seen in everyone's life that has received Christ; then the light, that is supposed to illumine others, has been put out. But, the scripture is very plain concerning this. In the book of Matthew 5:14-16, "Ye are the light of the world. A city is set on a hill cannot be hid. Neither do men light a candle, and put it under a bushel, but on a candlestick; and it giveth light unto all that are in the house. Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works and glorify your Father which is in heaven." As we look at the world situation with sin on the rampant it is easier to understand why, after we read these words. The average saved person today has to be asked if he has had a personal experience with Jesus Christ before he can be distinguished from the lost world.

Oh, what a disturbing and yet realistic shame on the part of God's people God says in I Peter 4:17-18, "For the time is come that judgment must begin at the house of God: and if it first begin at us, what shall the end be of them that obey not the Gospel of God?"

My Prayer to God is that in these last days God's people will come out from the unfruitful works of darkness to serve in newness of life without pretense, but in sincerity and in truth the one that loved them and gave His own precious blood that they might be sons of God and heirs of God's Glory. The Apostle Paul was crying out with this same message as he wrote his letter to the Roman Christians when he wrote Romans 13:11-14, "And that, knowing the time, that now it is high time to awake out of sleep; for now is our salvation nearer than when we believed. The night is far spent, the day is at hand; let us therefore cast off the works of darkness, and let us put on the armour of light. Let us walk honestly, as in the day; not in rioting and drunkenness, not in chambering and wantonness, not in strife and envying. But put ye on the Lord Jesus Christ and make not provision for the flesh, to fulfill the lusts thereof."
