Reading Club Starts Monday

The Summer Reading Club in the Floyd County Libraries starts Monday, June 2. Details are available at the Library in Floydada or the Branch Library in Lockney.

Word Of Appreciation: Many friends in Floydada will be happy that Dr. Pitts will be able to go home Saturday...

In urging the widest possible participation by Floydada residents we refer to the following excerpt from General Logan's original order: "Let no...avarice or neglect, no ravages of time testify to present or coming generations that we have forgotten as a people the cost of a free and undivided republic."

Also, a flag should be displayed by every home and business firm.

GROCERY STORES OPEN

Friday is Memorial Day and is an official holiday for the city of Floydada. However, in calling Floydada grocery store merchants, the Hesperian learned that grocery stores would be open for business Friday.

Memorial Day was set aside as one of the official holidays for Floydada earlier this year by the retail merchants committee.

Everyone is urged to fly the American Flag in observance of Memorial Day Friday.

Also it should be noted that the Floydada First National bank will be open for business Friday.

Floydada's auto dealers will close both Friday and Saturday.

2 Injured Here

Two accidents marred Old Settlers Reunion in Floydada yesterday afternoon. Mrs. W. C. Plumlee was injured when knocked off balance by a group of youngsters running on the sidewalk in front of Bealls and Terry Lloyd five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Lloyd was injured when struck by a car on West Tennessee Street about 3:30.

Mrs. Plumlee was walking along the sidewalk when a group of young girls accidentally struck her, knocking her to the sidewalk. She is in Caprock Hospital in traction for a pelvic injury and is also suffering from a broken bone in the arm.

The Lloyd youngster was given emergency treatment at Caprock Hospital and then taken by Moore-Rose ambulance to Methodist Hospital in Lubbock for treatment of a head laceration and concussion according to members of the family. Investigating officers said the little girl was struck when she darted into the path of a car driven by Freddie Parsons, 17, and that the mishap was unavoidable.

Mackenzie Board Sets September 6 Election

Lon Davis Jr. Re-elected President

An election to determine the fate of the proposed Mackenzie water project which would provide municipal water for four area towns has tentatively been set for September 6.

Board of directors of Mackenzie Water Authority, meeting Thursday night in Tulia with city councils from Silverton, Lockney, Floydada and Tulia, member cities, called the election after the four councils and water authority members endorsed the proposal.

The issue, in another form, was presented earlier but was defeated by voters of Tulia and Floydada. The original proposal was a package deal in which the authority would have acquired the property, constructed the dam, filter system, and constructed water transmission lines to the member cities. Chief opposition came from Floydada and Tulia which did not need the water immediately but would have had to begin using and paying for it immediately.

The new proposal calls for construction of the dam and a part of the filter plant sufficient to serve the needs of Silverton. Each city will provide its own water transmission lines at the time it desires the water. Floydada and Lockney, which will use a common line from the dam to the city limits of Lockney, agreed to build the line in 1977 if by that time one of the cities wants the water. The line can be built earlier if both cities agree, or construction can be delayed after 1977 if neither city needs the water.

To finance the project, general obligation bonds in the amount of approximately $4,275,000 would be authorized by the four towns. Of this amount, approximately $3,460,000 would be spent immediately and would pay cost of the land, dam, raw water line to filter plant, and partial completion of the filter plant. The balance of $815,000 would be used to complete the filter plant at the time Floydada, Lockney and Tulia need water from the project. A 10 cents operational tax would also appear on the ballot. This would pay for operation of the filtration plant and management of the project.

The water authority would be a new political entity such as a school or hospital district. It would build the dam and assess and collect taxes.

On the same day of the bond election, called by the water authority, each of the four cities will call a municipal election to authorize water supply contracts between the respective cities and the water authority. These contracts are agreements that the cities will purchase their pro rata amounts of water from the authority when they need it. These water contracts will be held by the authority and can be used for security in acquiring funds to build the water transmission lines to the cities.

Since the authority's water rights to the waters of Tule Creek expire this fall, defeat of the proposal on Sept. 6 will in effect kill the project.

An intensive educational program will be conducted by the authority prior to the election so that each resident will be informed concerning the project. A question and answer brochure will be published soon.

Officers re-elected at Thursday night's meeting were Lon Davis, Floydada, president; Tom Moore, Lockney, vice president; and John Ziegler, Tulia, secretary-treasurer.

Other members of the board are S. W. Ross, Floydada; O. C. Bailey, Lockney; Charles Whitfill and Milton Dudley, Silverton; and John Tule, Tulia. Don Bookout, Tulia, is attorney for the authority.

Also attending the session were mayors of the four member towns, J. D. Harris, Jr., Tulia; Jimmy Seay, Floydada; H. B. Simpson, Silverton; and Claude Brown, Lockney, and publishers of the town's papers: H. M. Baggary, Tulia Herald and Charles Sarchet, Silverton.

Joe W. Smith, fiscal adviser with First Southwest Co. Lubbock, also was present as was James R. Nichols, consulting engineer.

More Rain Hits With Storm Saturday

A storm front brought more rain to Floyd County last Saturday night. Dark storm clouds brought blowing rain and just a little hail to the area with .40 of rainfall registered here at the Floydada official gauge at Producers Cooperative.

The front brought an average of a half inch across the county. It was good for the grain sorghum that is growing off in the county, but slowed cotton planting operations.

This brings the total rainfall for the year to 10.27.

COLOR AND THE EMOTIONS

Some wall colors in eating places tend to decrease the appetite, while other colors increase it, according to a Color Conditioning Report prepared by DuPont.

In railroad dining cars, for example, it was found that a lavender interior actually cut down eating time and the size of the meals ordered. In airplanes, air sickness was common where the interiors were painted in unappetizing hues. Both these situations were alleviated when proper colors were selected.

A study of appetite reactions to colors, involving several hundred persons, revealed that the most appetizing hues among light colors are peach, orange, red-orange, clear, yellow and pale green. Blue is fairly satisfying. Variations of yellow are very distasteful. Golden-red yellow seems "fancid" to some, lemon yellow appears "acidic."

As for deep coppers, brown and tan seem most compatible with foods. Deep yellow, with cord. But how empty of interest a home would be and how monotonous life could become. Color is the basic ingredient for providing beauty and a rich background in our world.

Don't be afraid of color. Choose colors you like. Decide what mood or atmosphere is most desirable. You may want to take a tip from Mother Nature and use soft, hazy colors as the background for family rooms, with colors of higher contrast used as accents. You may want to use clear, pure colors for more stimulating setting in individual rooms.

Most colors go with most other colors when you apply the proper amount and type of contrast and when the colors have something in common - either by their relation on the color scale or their association in nature. Many excellent color combinations are given in Nature. A summer day combines blues and greens. An autumn hillside puts orange, yellow and brown together. A rose garden may have pale pinks, shades of rose and deep reds with a touch of green.

As a capsule recipe for successfully combining colors simply choose colors you like, know what each color can do for a particular setting, and provide sufficient contrast.

An easy rule to remember in decorating is to have something dark, something light, something bright and something dull.

Consideration of the psychological effects of colors is an important factor in interior decorating, not only for rooms where food is served but throughout the home.

While individual color likes and dislikes vary, the general pattern of reaction to color is quite consistent when many persons are questioned.

In general, the most exciting colors are red-orange, red and orange. Greenish blues such as turquoise, are more compelling than ultra-marine or purplish hues. The most subdued of all colors are blue-violet, violet and blue. Tranquil effects are predominantly in the yellow-green, green and blue region of the spectrum.

Perhaps the easiest way to plan the colors for a home would be to paint and furnish every room in a neutral or safe color to avoid any chance of dis-

You And Your Health

Last week we discussed concentration. We said we'd return to the matter, and that is what we are doing. What is concentration. Well, if we analyze the word, we notice that it refers to a center, a core, and the root con, means with, or together. This means, to stay with the core of a subject, to converge our thoughts, our energy, our total human potentialities to a certain purpose or object that should fill our whole self with attention and interest. We talked about the many stimuli that face us constantly, demanding our attention, dissipating our concentration. When this occurs, we should remind ourselves of the commonly used example of a child learning how to walk, stumbling and falling, and trying again, never paying attention to the different things occurring around him, persevering and dedicated, till the goal is achieved, with a final radiant smile of triumph.

One of our main everyday errors, is to be constantly on the go, at least mentally, and, usually, ahead one or two activities from the present one. Most people are planning the summer camps while on a skiing lodge, if this may be considered a proper figure of speech, and therefore, are seldom "with it". Many students have the habit of entertaining fear of failure and considering the difficulties of a certain subject, while they are apparently trying to learn it, and seem baffled at the fact of being unable to remember what they are. Therefore, the practice of being concentrated is poor, and an ability to love is poor too, because love has concentration as one of its main pillars.

If love is a total commitment, no matter what type of love we are talking about, we cannot help but understand how concentration plays such an important role in it. A mother is aware of every one of her child's needs, can foretell them before the child even cries or manifests itself. The same kind of devotedness is important to a satisfactory adult love relationship. If this is not so, whether mother-child, or husband wife relationship, the aim of human contact is not fulfilled, and the result is frustration, and dissipation.

The common consequences of frustration, manifested physically, are tiredness, depression, compulsive eating or starvation, and what is commonly called "lack of go". The gasoline has been used up in a million starts that never made the car get to a service station, that really never made the car but just stir around in its original place, and again, I do not know whether you'll get the idea this way, but this is the best figure of speech I can think of. If your psychological intuition has been broadened by now, you'll possibly must have thought already that my writing is displaying a lot of insecurity today. If you did, I'm in trouble, but you have profited from your reading, and, what is more, have displayed concentration. Well, see you next time.

Letter To The Editor

To The Editor:
The citizens of Floydada, fortunately, are not plagued with the problems we see in our big cities - rioting, thievery, mass killings, etc. We do, however, have a threatening menace which is of great concern.
The disease carrying mosquito is a threat to every man, woman and child the minute he steps out doors. The rains have made every lake and pond in and around Floydada a breeding spot for this dangerous insect.
If the city has financial or technical difficulties which prohibit their spraying enough to keep our city clear of mosquitoes, the public should be enlightened.
We have seen what happened in Plainview, and we must do everything in our power to avoid an encephalitis outbreak in Floydada.
Let's give our children the privilege of enjoying the great outdoors. Thank you.

COTTON: Planting time for cotton is growing short in this area and most farmers are interested in obtaining a stand for the purpose of raising a good crop. However, there are producers who are only interested in complying with the minimum requirements on planting cotton to receive their government price support payments, then planting another crop which is more desirable to the producer. Because of this, regulations permitting the destruction of your cotton crop and planting another commodity is strict. Producers who wish to destroy their crop which is earning a price support payment must file a request with this office BEFORE any disposition is made of the crop. A county office representative will check the acreage. (Cost will be $3.00 per farm). Failure to comply with this provision will result in the loss of the commodity payments on your farm.

May 25, 1969 is the date through which Floyd County farmers must plant or replant cotton to qualify for price support payments. This provision is for the benefit of those farmers who have suffered a loss due to a genuine disaster. This is not intended to be used to provide windfall benefits to producers who ARE NOT making a genuine effort to produce a crop of cotton. You may replant after this date if you so desire. Before you file an application for this, be sure that every effort has been made to plant or replant the cotton.

COTTON EQUITIES: Producers with cotton in the loan should check with a cotton buyer if interested in selling their equities. Some cotton is being redeemed at this time. Producers have until July 31st to sell their equities.

OBITUARIES

Well
Mrs. Iris... transferred to the Colonial Nursing Home in Lubbock. She was a native of Clay County.

Written By R.L. Ormon

The following... transferred to the Colonial Nursing Home in Lubbock. She was a native of Clay County.

As to our farm crops, we raise corn, cotton, wheat, oats, Kaffir corn and mize, and garden vegetables and fruit grow to perfection here. I have a nice orchard, just now old enough to bear. We canned 400 cans of peaches, apples and plums last season. Now, that sounds like a heap of fruit, but if the boys will come to see me I will show the goods, and we will eat some, too.

As I have said, the cow man is giving way to the farmer. Where just a few years back the buffalo and cattle roamed at will, there are now nice farm homes, and the biggest, fattest boys and girls that you ever saw. Our society is of the best. Most all of the Christian denominations are represented here, and the country is dotted all over with good school buildings. Our schools run from seven to nine months.

There are two towns in Floyd county. Floydada is the county site, though Lockney is the largest town. We have a new court house, just completed, that cost us $80,000. There is one railway running through the county. The town of Lockney is erecting good brick buildings. It has a public free school building that cost $15,000, and a Christian college that cost $15,000. Floydada has a public free school building that cost $20,000, and a Presbyterian college, so you see we are trying to educate our children. Taking everything into consideration, I think we have as good, if not the best part of Texas, and I know we have by far the most fertile part of the state. I could go on and on and write you a great deal more, but my letter is growing long.

And now, Mr. Editor, if you think this letter, or any part of it, worth publishing, and it will not take too much of your space, you may publish it, as I flatter myself to believe that I have friends and relatives there who would be glad to hear from me. At any rate, there are many that I want them to know that they still have a warm place in my heart. While I have drifted to the far West, I still love that old country and its people, and if it is ever so that I can, I am coming back there to visit the people and to take one more look at the scenery of my childhood. Thanking you in advance for the room that this long letter may take, I beg to remain, as ever, Your friend,
R. L. Ormon

EDITOR'S NOTE - From the above letter, we infer that Mr. Ormon has not learned of the death of the G. P. Harrison who, for many years, published the Ashland Register, and who is the present editor's father. On June 17, 1909, he died, after the manner of men, but somewhere in God's great universe he is today, and somewhere, some time, we are confident he will clasp the hand of his old friend, Lee Ormon and rejoice that they have met again.

MRS. JAMES DAVID HAINES

Noon Wedding Unites Linda Willson, James David Haines

The First United Methodist Church in Floydada was the setting for the noon wedding Saturday, May 24, of Miss Linda Anne Willson and James David Haines. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Willson Jr., Floydada, and the bridegroom is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Lester D. Haines of McCamey.

The groom's father and the Rev. C. B. Melton, minister of the church, performed the double ring ceremony before a scene of arched candelabra with sprays of woodwardia fern. Candelabras and commodore table and kneeling bench. Candles were lit prior to the ceremony by John Willson, brother of the bride, and Bobby Haines, brother of the groom. Mrs. Andrew McCulley was organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal length gown of white silk organza, fashioned with a Victorian neckline of re-embroidered Alencon lace. A soft narrow organza ruffle accented the neckline. The Bishop sleeves, gathered to wide lace cuffs, were also edged with an organza ruffle. A narrow band of lace from the neckline, down the front of the empire bodice to the hemline was complemented by tiny self covered buttons. The A-line skirt swept to the back.

She wore a waistlength mantilla caught to petals of Alencon lace and carried Gardenias and Baby's Breath placed on a white lace covered Bible, a gift from her Grandmother Willson.

Miss Janie Willson was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a yellow silk floor length gown, styled with an empire waistline, which was outlined with white daisies. A panel train was attached by a bow at the back waist. Her headpiece was of yellow daisies and net and she carried a natural straw basket filled with cascading spring flowers.

Kim Kidwell of Paxton, Miss., was best man. J. M. Willson III, Canyon, brother of the bride, and John Ke Haines, brother of the groom, Memphis, Tenn., were ushers.

Following the wedding a brunch was held in Fellowship Hall of the church, given by Mrs. Robert Arnold and Mrs. William R. Addis of Lubbock, aunts of the bride; Mrs. Coleman Hasie of Lubbock, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Jim Word and Mrs. J. E. Waller of Floydada.

Brass hurricane lamps and commodore foliage decorated the hall. Mrs. Emily Potts presided at the brunch table. The bride's table was laid with a white embroidered cloth and was centered with the maid of honor's basket bouquet. Miss Patti Conde of Dallas served punch and Mrs. Fred Cardinal served wedding cake.

Assisting with the house-party were Patti Conde, Debbie Butler, Twila Saeur, and Portia Tile of SMU; Mary Nell Morgan, Jancy Ginn and Rita Taylor of Texas Tech; Mrs. Emily Potts, Mrs. J. E. Waller, Mr. and Mrs. John Reue, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Ginn, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cardinal, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wylie, Mrs. James Willson III and Mr. and Mrs. James Word.

Following a trip to Kerrville the newly weds will reside in Dallas where both are attending Southern Methodist University. Mrs. Haines, a graduate of Floydada High School, is employed at SMU where she just completed her sophomore year. Her husband, a graduate of Nixon High School, will be a senior student at SMU and is employed by the Kraft Company in Dallas.

The switchboard lets Mrs. Patterson "see" the calls coming in. She uses a probe with a photoelectric cell at its end. When the probe comes in contact with a light source, Mrs. Patterson hears a tone in her headset.

At the two-position PBX board at the Austin State School where Mrs. Patterson is training, a series of checks with the probe enables her to pinpoint the signal light that is on. She can then handle the call.

After four weeks of training, she is familiar with the routine of working at the board and is now developing her speed. Her dexterity is already highly developed from her years as a piano teacher.

A Braille directory furnished by the Blind Commission of station numbers at the school and Mrs. Patterson's own phenomenal memory have also made the training more effective.

Pilant designed the adapting equipment for the board after representatives from the Blind Commission and the Austin State School had asked George Gropp, special representative how blind people could be trained to operate modern PBX dial switchboards. The new 608 Model dial boards were not fully adaptable to the old "seeing

Peggy's Meddlin's

BY PEGGY MEDLEY

RECEIVED a note from one of my readers last week and I'm afraid she thought in my meddlings on beef prices that I was implying that cattle raisers were getting rich. I was just stating a fact, that beef prices are outrageously high as well as everything else. I'm sure not blaming cattle raisers for the high price of beef, but somebody is making a little money off of them when you can profit $50 per head. I know of no farmer, cattle raiser or laborer who is "getting rich" so to speak, not with the high cost of living. Beef is just one of the subjects I happen to select to write about. Beef is 10 cents a pound higher on the hoof than several weeks ago and going higher everyday. Cull steers, which use to sell at "give away" prices now sell for 40 cents per pound on the hoof; choice beef sells for 65 cents per pound on the hoof. That's not Chicago prices I'm quoting, that's Floydada prices. As for as Foster Whaley's Column, county agent at Pampa, saying "Mrs. Housewife, if the price of choice beef on foot has gone up as much as your husband's wages since 1952, no doubt the price of steak would be over $2.50 per pound."

That's true, in some cases, but what of the laborer getting $1.25 per hour. His family sure can't eat steak. But as Whaley says "let a sleeping dog lie", we never had it so good, even if living costs are leaping.

THIRTY-two states, including Texas has passed legislation establishing Mondays as the day of the week when most national holidays will be observed. Washington's birthday will be celebrated on the third Monday of February; Memorial Day the last Monday in May; Columbus Day the second Monday in October and Veteran's Day the fourth Monday in October. In addition Labor Day will continue to be the first Monday in September as always. All of these holidays will go into effect in January, 1971. I think Christmas, Thanksgiving and New Year's Day are the only three holidays that have not been violated as yet. Blue Mondays are not near as blue as they use to be.

JUST found out that wheat prices are lower than they have been since 1965. Farmers were getting a top price of $1.95 to $2 bushel in 1962. Prices kept dropping in 63, 64 and 65, then jumped from $1.60 to $1.75 per bushel in 1966, fell to $1.45 in 1967; $1.27 in 68 and is $1.20 per bushel on an average this year.

THE Claude Rings have sure received a nice Mother's Day and Father's Day gift. Their daughter, Sue and her husband, purchased them round trip plane tickets to Los Angeles, Calif., for a visit with them. They plan to make the trip sometime in July.

A NEW film "A Problem of National Concern" will soon be available to denominational, civic, professional and other interested groups throughout the nation. The film was shown over Channel 11 Monday night. It tells the Smithlawn Home story, a home in Lubbock for unwed mothers. The film is a pointed message to parents who care about the well-being and moral stature of their unmarried children. It highlights first-person statements from the lips of girls who have become a part of the problem. There are 60,000 teen-age illegitimate mothers now in the U.S. more than 250,000 illegitimate births in the nation annually and over 1,000,000 illegal abortions every year.

SON Danny is not in the Gulf of Tonkin but in the Sea of Japan, or that was his last report to us. He went from the hot and humid Philippines to the cool of Japan where his letter stated the temperature was 59 degrees, just like in the cool Colorado. He was some 65 miles from Tokyo. They were to board the Kitty Hawk from there in about four days unless last minute orders were changed and you service men know how that is.

BOY are the mosquitos ever bad! Bet we will have a battle on our hands this summer keeping them at a minimum what with all the moisture of late. The City sprayed in our part of town one night last week and it helped a great deal, but it will just take time to cover the entire town and near-by lakes. In the mean time if your youngsters play out in the late evening, rub them down with a good repellent.

SOME people use language to express thought, some to conceal thought, and still others use it instead of thought.

DO you know what a little joke is? It's a mini-ha-ha!

DON'T forget youngster, the summer reading program which starts at the library next Monday. It will give you something to do for leisure while learning.

GRADUATION at Junior High last Friday afternoon was an emotional ceremony for the girls. Some were moving away, others going to high school and leaving their seventh grade friends behind while others were shedding tears of happiness. Next year if all seniors graduate out of high school, we should have the largest graduation class in many a year. Our school enrollment is growing by leaps and bounds.

DON'T forget kids, Bible Schools are coming up!

DID you know that fifty years ago work gloves cost more in Floydada than men's union suits? This struck me as a little hilarious as I was browsing through an edition of the Hesperian dated in 1916. Unions, what most of the males wore then, sold at $2.50 a pair. Ladies unions, closed styles, size 38, fully bleached, very neatly made, were 50 cents. Back then too residents had problems in keeping the town clean. Papers and other rubbish collected in the streets and alleys, caused by careless people and do you remember these cars, Dort, Hupmobile, Maxwell, Overland, Studebaker, Willys and Jeffery? I remember we came to the plains in an Overland. I was just a little type and of course the car was real real old! You couldn't have thought it was a new one, I'm not that OLD! Anyway all cars to me then looked like Model Ts.

They stepped up the mail delivery on Route 4 in 1916 due to the increase in population. Oliver Allen was the mail carrier; a destructive hail storm hit June 16th in the Lone Star area, hail stones measured 12 to 16 inches around went through the roofs of some homes. They had strikes even back then. Telephone operators went on strike for higher wages. They were getting $7 to $10 per week and wanting $15 in Floydada. Wish I had more time to meddle 50 years ago but that's it. Hope you enjoyed the past history this week made by our Old Settlers.

MARY PHILLIPS, HOME ECONOMIST

If there's a bride on your list, consider the book "The NEW How to Keep House," by Mary Davis Gillies as a gift that will be used time and time again. This amazing book is jam-packed with helpful information on the specifics of maintaining an orderly, clean, serene and efficient home—whether it is a first apartment or a sprawling establishment full of children and animals.

feet, listen to music, take a walk or read a book." In a fast-moving age, that is sound advice.

You never know when the knock on the door means unexpected guests to be fed during the long summer afternoons. Don't panic. Keep a loaf cake in your freezer for such an emergency. Slice frozen cake and top each slice with a spread made from melted butter, sugar, chopped nuts and raisins. Cover with well-drained, canned peach slices and broil slowly until bubbly. Serve immediately with coffee or tea.

For an extra good flavor and aroma with your broiled hamburgers or steaks scrub 6 medium baking potatoes, but do not peel. Cut each into 3 or 4 lengthwise slices. Blend 1/2 cup soft butter with one envelope onion soup mix; spread on slices, then reassemble potatoes. Wrap each potato in square of foil, overlapping ends.

Bake till done, turning once, on the grill or right on top of coals (takes 45 to 60 minutes.) Serve with additional butter. Have you ever cooked a roast outdoors? Spread a 3 to 4 pound chuck or shoulder roast generously with prepared mustard covering completely. Sprinkle both sides with salt and pepper. Let stand on wire rack while preparing grill, or until mustard and salt are slightly dry. Cook over medium coals or at 350 degrees in electric grill for two hours. DO NOT pierce with fork; turn with tongs. This is best if cooked to a medium rare stage.

Do you wonder how we divide our food dollar — according to U.S. Department of Agriculture statistics? Meats accounted for 20.4 percent of your food dollar in 1967. Poultry took 3.7 percent, fish for 1.6 percent, eggs for 1 percent and dairy products for 6.8 percent. Fruits and vegetables in both fresh and processed form won 17.7 cents of the sales dollar; cereal and bakery products 9.1 percent; and foods such as frozen prepared products baking needs, sugars, jams and dressings made up 8.1 percent of sales. You may be surprised to know that supermarkets take in as much money from non-food items as from their whole meat department.

THE CARE OF CUT FLOWERS

It's very important to know the time and method of cutting summer flowers, to get the full beauty of cut blooms. Practically all flowers should be cut in early morning while wet with dew. At this time the petals and stems are filled with moisture—thus the flowers are at their maximum freshness.

Explorer Scout Troup 357 left Saturday afternoon from Lubbock Air Terminal for a weeks tour of Washington, D.C. The trip has been planned for several months and the troop has been busy raising money for the excursion. Some of their projects included the "Womanless Wedding" in January, fertilizing lawns, and selling tickets for a color TV which is to be given away at a drawing at the Old Settlers reunion.

While in Washington several tours are planned and points of interest outlined to see. They are to visit with President Nixon and present him with a plaque of Texas, which has the Scout Motto engraved on it and a star locating Floydada. They also have a meeting planned with Rep. George Mahon while there.

The troop is staying at Fort Mead, and will fly to New York City Saturday morning for a hurried sight of the city that day, and arrive back in Lubbock at 9:30 Sunday morning.

DAVID NIVEN admonishes his teen-age daughter, Cristina Ferrare, who finds him old-fashionedly amusing in "The Impossible Years," MGM screen version of the Broadway comedy hit. Miss Ferrare an exciting new discovery, makes her motion picture debut in the Panavision and Metrocolor attraction in a cast co-starring Lola Albright, Chad Everett and Ozzie Nelson, under the direction of Michael Gordon. BY HOMER STEEN

By Homer Steen

I remember... I remember... W. Lee O'Daniel — Because it is human to read what you are thinking, not what you see in print before you, I looked twice to be sure when the passing of W. Lee O'Daniel in May was told in the newspapers.

Both the reports I read left me wondering. It seemed neither told what for me was the real story of the man. Nor were there any of the sidelights it seemed to me would have been logical to recount.

There must be 200,000 people in Texas who missed the same things I missed.

COOKED THE BISCUITS BROWN

W. Lee O'Daniel whipped the pants off of the best professionals in Texas politics in 1938 when he ran for governor.

In a fair fight he won so handsomely results made his opponents appear ridiculous. I remember quite well. He was unbeatable and was to have control of the No. One spot for almost a decade.

Governors and senators, even presidents and foreign potentates have paid Mr. O'Daniel the sincerest flattery ever since. They have imitated him for a third of a century.

A man that good is entitled to a better recount of his life's activities than what appeared to me to be a sick effort at sophistication, which was all I could make of either the UPI or the AP report.

Mr. O'Daniel was a good flour salesman, trying to make his family a living like the rest of us were. He sold Gladiola flour. Gladiola was a soft wheat flour. It made better biscuits than a hard wheat flour could.

Almost simultaneously radio blossomed out in Texas and the next thing you know W. Lee had the rollicking Doughboys, Leon who sang it pretty, Texas Rose, and melodies of mother and "Beautiful Texas", on the air to the delight of many thousands.

Such resounding success had to come to a climax. The next thing he was a candidate for governor of the state. His opponents had as well have saved their ammunition.

Then when ambition took Mr. O'Daniel to Washington as senator, a quip meant in jest, had President Roosevelt gone to keep from meeting O'Daniel. The president was on one of his fateful meetings abroad.

It seemed cruel to me that would-be journalists of 1969 used the incident to prove just how dumb the flour salesman had been.

Noting of the fate of the hill billy band, Leon, Texas, Rose, the O'Daniel family. One exception, both UPI and AP had a snide remark that a son of the old man tried his father's trick a year or so ago and made a dismal failure of it.

WEST PICKS RIGHT HEIFER, GETS TWINS

When Dale West married, about two years ago, his father, John Key suggested that he pick a heifer from their Santa Gertrudis herd as a wedding present.

It seems now that Dale really knows how to pick heifers because this heifer this week gave birth to twins.

John Key views his son's good fortune with mixed emotions, since he's been raising cattle almost all his life and never had a cow to give birth to twins. And incidentally, the mother is mighty proud of the twins... she almost climbed the fence to get this reporter as he hastily tried to take her picture. (note the horns in the picture).

Post-Korean GI Bill Has 3rd Birthday

June 1 is the third anniversary of the post-Korean GI Bill education and training program.

During the past three years, more than 1,148,000 veterans and 83 servicemen nationwide entered training under this program, Jack Coker, Manager of the Waco Veterans Administration Regional Office, said today.

In Texas, more than 68,739 veterans and servicemen entered training during the past three years, some 43,390 of which went to college and 23,383 entered schools below the college level.

There were also 1966 veterans entered as on-the-job trainees since October 1, 1967, when this benefit went into effect.

This spring, more than 33,454 veterans in Texas were enrolled in training. This is an all-time high for the three-year-old post-Korean GI Bill, Coker said. More than 21,770 were enrolled in institutions of higher learning.

To be eligible for post-Korean GI Bill education and training from VA, a veteran must have had at least 181 days of service, part of which was after January 31, 1955, and have received an other than dishonorable discharge, Coker said.

A recent change gives a veteran one-and-one-half months of educational entitlement for each month of service with a maximum of 36 months entitlement. Veterans eligible under two or more VA programs may have a total entitlement of 48 months education.

Veterans who have not completed high school may receive full VA educational assistance while earning their high school diploma without having any of this time charged to their maximum entitlement to college training, Coker emphasized.

He reminded post-Korean and Vietnam era veterans in Texas that they must complete their training by May 31, 1974, or eight years after separation from service, whichever is later.

New Feed Milling Facility To Open in Friona

By PHIL DUNCAN Farm and Ranch Editor

FRIONA — A nutritional and veterinary consulting staff has been combined with a unique feed manufacturing plant and animal health store here to offer a new, versatile service to the High Plains' flourishing feedlot industry.

Hi-Pro Feeds, Inc., a private corporation owned by several Friona area cattlemen, will start operation of a new $1 million 40-ton an hour feed milling plant here within three weeks.

In making the announcement of the new facility, which will be used primarily to formulate and mix cattle feeding rations and produce range and feedlot supplements, Ron Davenport, secretary-treasurer and general manager of Hi-Pro, Inc., said that Dr. R. Dale Furr, superintendent of the Texas Tech Research Farm at Pantex, has been hired as nutritionist.

Dr. Furr, who has been associated with Texas Tech since November of 1965, will join the new Friona operation June 1.

Associated with Dr. Furr will be veterinary consultant Dr. E. E. Kraus of Clovis, who has been working with Hi-Pro, Inc. in Friona area feedlots for several months.

Davenport said the feed milling and manufacturing plant — the largest in the area — is capable of mixing complete rations and supplements for area feedlots and manufacturing range cubes, pelleted protein supplements, and other feeds based on the nutritional needs of any particular feeding situation.

"Dr. Furr's services will be available to the feedlots and ranchers to help them formulate a ration or supplementary feeding program that will get optimum and maximum results, Davenport said.

Dr. Kraus has been working with Hi-Pro Feeds, Inc., through their animal health division, which offers complete veterinary equipment and medicines to the cattle feeder, along with the consulting services of Dr. Kraus, who will assist in the development of a health program.

Davenport said the mill, which was constructed by Poarch Bros. of Hereford, is the most modern facility in the High Plains area.

"We think we have a mill with quality control that is unique," Davenport said. "We can offer the versatility of producing the ration desired by the customer and then make sure the product is just as the customer wants it."

The feed mill is equipped with two steam rolling and flaking units, and plans are already underway for the installation of a third unit. Davenport said space is available for three additional units.

A cooling and drying facility is also built into the plant, which will dry the steam-flaked milo, making it easier to store.

The heart of the feed mill is a mixing unit with a 30-ton an hour capacity, and a pelleting machine which can turn out 10 tons of pellets per hour.

The control center of the feed milling plant is controlled by a punch-card system, with a special coded card assigned to each ration produced by Hi-Pro Feeds, Inc.

Davenport explained that the ration punch-card could be placed in the control device, and the control device would automatically measure and mix the number of three-ton batches desired by the customer.

The mill is designed with both truck and rail unloading facilities and is capable of loading both pelleted products and ration simultaneously.

Ira Johnson of Amarillo will handle the transporting of all Hi-Pro Feeds, Inc., products.

Davenport said the mill could produce enough supplement feeds to maintain feedlots with 500,000 head capacity.

The feed plant, which will employ about 15 persons at the outset, is geared primarily to serve the large feedlots of the area, but will be of great assistance to the small operators who can not afford to construct a feed mill, Davenport said.

The principal area to be serviced by Hi-Pro Feeds, Inc., will be within a 100 mile radius of Friona, Davenport said, and the major portion of the business is expected to come from the area within a 50-mile radius of Friona.

the animal husbandry department at Texas Tech for several years with degrees from New Mexico State and Colorado State. He lives in Friona with his wife, Edwina, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R.W. Overstreet, Floydada, the former Edwina Overstreet, and sons, Winfield and Wade.

Furr and his wife, Peggy, and son, Daryl, plan to move from Amarillo to Hereford.

Dr. Furr received his bachelor of science degree from Sam Houston State College and his master of science and Ph. D. degrees in animal nutrition at Oklahoma State University.

He was in charge of the Extension Livestock Program for the State of Hawaii from 1961 until he joined Texas Tech, where he headed all beef cattle research.

Dr. Furr has authored more than 50 articles on beef cattle research. He has traveled extensively in Australia and New Zealand, where he visited more than 100 livestock research and cattle stations in order to obtain information to assist the Hawaiian beef industry.

A replacement for Dr. Furr at the Texas Tech research center is expected to be named within a few days.

Bienvenido.

Lamentando con todo mi corazon esta sera la ultima vez que tenga que escribir el articulo - Sin Titulo - ya que el lunes entrante estaremos mi Esposa, mis hijos, y un servidor para la ciudad de El Paso, donde estaremos asistiendo a Nuestra Conferencia Anual. Nuestra Iglesia Metodista cada año tiene esta Conferencia para estudiar, recomendar, y analizar el trabajo que la misma Iglesia esta haciendo. Allí en esa conferencia todos los ministros reciben su nombramiento. Cada año se recibe el nombramiento aunque sea a la misma Iglesia. Nosotros recibiremos el nombramiento pero aun no sabemos con exactitud a donde vamos a ir. Quiero en comendar en sus manos sus propias vidas para que esas vidas sean usadas para el bienestar de su Ud. mismo, de su Familia, de su Comunidad, su Estado, su Nacion, y de su Mundo. Los problemas que han existido en esta comunidad estan hasta que nosotros querriamos. Ahora esta la organizacion del GI Forum que tiene su cuartel aun hasta en la capital de la Nacion. Por medio de esta organizacion todos Uds. podran lograr ayudar al mismo pueblo ya que estaran respaldados por muchos hombres en Washington. No dejen que la decida, la pereza, y la pena les vaya a quitar de mantenerse como todos unos buenos ciudadanos. No espere que le den sino de si es posible su propia vida. El mexicano es muy Macho y esta dispuesto a poner su vida por sus amigos.

A todos los que nos ayudaron a mejorar muchas de las situaciones quiero agradecerles con todo mi corazon. Si alguna vez ofendi le pido que me perdonen. Si me ofendieron estan perdonados por la misericordia de Dios. Ayudense unos a otros. Si uno sube un escalon mas que nosotros ayudemos para que suba otro, no lo tumbe. . . no lo tumbe. Dejemos la envidia, el odio, y la venganza, y vestimos con amor, paciencia, y tolerancia. La vida sera mas hermosa y mas bella si nos vemos como hermanos.

No hagamos las cosas para presumir, o para que se diga, sino para que haya esa satisfaccion en nuestra alma, y corazon que Yo merano Juan Cerrano lo hice. Hagamos las cosas buenas para nuestros hijos sean buenos. No digamos mentiras para que nuestros hijos no sean mentirosos, no tomemos nada de nadie sin pagarlo para nuestros hijos no sean estafadores, seamos de un caracter que simbolice a la paloma y un corazon de cordero para proteger a nuestros hijos de los malos pensamientos. En segunda de Cronicas 7:14 nos dice, si se humillare mi pueblo, sobre el cual mi nombre es invocado, y si oraren, y buscaren su rostro, y se convirtieren de sus malos caminos; entonces yo oire desde los cielos, y perdonare sus pecados, y sanare su tierra. No lo digo Yo sino la Palabra.

and work for the local chambers of commerce and the local business community," Godfrey said. "The success of our entire program depends upon the efforts of the director at the local level and only through these people can we truly represent the entire West Texas area in matters of vital concern to all of us," he concluded.

Executive vice-president Jack G. Springer and membership director Ralph Duncan, both of Abilene, attended the district meeting and also assisted in the orientation of the directors.

Mis amigos y Hermanos que Dios siempre los ayude, los guarde, los proteja, y los bendiga. FABULA DEL DIA: El anciano y la muerte. Un dia un anciano, despues de cortar la lena, la carga a su espalda. Largo era el camino que le quedaba. Fatigado por la marcha, solto la carga y llamo a la Muerte. Esta se presento y le pregunto por que la llamaba; contesto el viejo: Para que me ayudes a carga la lena. . . Demuestra esta fabula que todos los hombres se aferran a la vida aun queriendo arrastran una existencia miserable. El Fin. Amigos; por alli nos encontraremos— Juan Salinas

"Texas" Opens June 27

Two reports from abroad have reached the "TEXAS" staff this week concerning the show in the Palo Duro Canyon. One was a description of a talk in Thailand given to the Bangkok Book Club. The other was from the Tourist Section of EL UNIVERSAL the great daily paper of Mexico accompanying a picture of the overture.

A translation of the Mexican comment reads: "To honor the pioneers of the State of Texas, the park of the Canyon of Palo Duro has been established in a place notable for its natural beauty. In the past in this place the mammoths and the bison grazed during a hundred of years until the first humans, the Indians, arrived - then the Colonizers came and the hunters. In this place during the month of July, the musical comedy "TEXAS" plays in an open air theatre built in the canyon which adds the attractiveness of a modern spectacle to its natural beauty."

The talk in Thailand was made by Captain Ronnie N. Parks, of Paducah, Texas. Captain Parks is a graduate of WTSU and appeared in THUNDERING SOUNDS OF THE WEST the first summer-long production in the Pioneer Amphitheatre in 1965. He is now stationed in Thailand and made a talk about Paul Green and the "TEXAS" show to the members of the Bangkok Book Club. The Australian head of the Club described the lecture as a "Smasher" - Captain Parks wrote this about his audience's reaction: "They were extremely interested in hearing about Paul Green and his work. Their lasting impression will be concerning his patriotism and love of country. Americans often find themselves in a constant defensive position concerning the States. The Europeans and Orientals seem to feel that since we are such a young country we do not have this pride of heritage and tradition. One Dutch lady approached me after the lecture and told me I had almost made her feel like an American. The group consisted primarily of Australian, British, New Zealanders, Dutch, Israeli, American, Thai, and one lovely Indian lady complete with sari, caste mark, and nose ring. A charming little lady from North Carolina came up to me with tears in her eyes because I had made her homesick."

Captain Parks concluded by saying "Give our regards to everyone for us. We will be coming home in September and living in El Paso."

The fourth (4th) season of "TEXAS" will open June 27, Friday, with a GALA INTERNATIONAL NIGHT.
