100 MILES PER HOUR - I was visiting with our auto racer Don Hardy this week and he tells me that the Cadillac Chadwick is driving clocked 204 miles per hour in a mile last week.

Hardy won the race at Philadelphia, Pa., with 193 hours, then winning at Thompson, Ohio with 192 miles then to Chicago last Thursday to win with 197, and in Pa. Sunday when the car clocked 204.20.

Hardy has now orders for four more racers. . . . a little more manpower and time to produce.

RIGHTY GOOD to see Elmer Biggs in the office Monday. He's had quite a tussle with two hospitals and doctors in getting his leg to recover after an operation.

Biggs tells me he has another check-up in October, so it looks like he's going to be okay.

WICKS Morgan, an El Paso contractor, ran across what he thought was a worthwhile item. He passed it along to editor Bill Tooley and printed in his "Everyday Events" column. "Take Time," the source is not given, but it is simply:

Time to think. . . . It is the source of power.
 Time to play. . . . It is the secret of perpetual youth.
 Time to read. . . . It is the power of wisdom.
 Time to brav. . . . It is the greatest power on earth.

City Residents Using A Lot Of Water

Hot dry weather means that Floydada residents are using a lot of water in and around the home.

A near record 1,726,000 gallons were consumed on July 3. The record daily use was 1,992,000 gallons on August 9, 1968.

In fact the residents of the city have used well over a million gallons per day since June 26th.

City water superintendent Bobby Welborn reports that the water plant is running smoothly and can serve the city's needs for twice amount now being used.

SORRY 'BOUT THAT

School Starts August 27

Floydada schools will open the 1969-70 school year on Wednesday, August 27, according to the official school calendar.

The first holiday is Labor Day, Monday, September 1, then Thanksgiving November 27-28, Christmas December 22-January 4, TSTA Meeting, March 6, Easter March 27-April 5. Baccalaureate services are May 24, 1970, commencement May 25-26, 1970.

Would You Believe Two Holes-In-One?

There is a lot of golfing activity at the Floydada Country Club and as luck and the odds would have it, two recent hole-in-one shots.

Ed Combs made a hole-in-one on number two, which is a 136 yard distance. He was golfing with Greg Campbell. He finished the round with a 44.

Possibly the first hole-in-one on number nine in several years was made by Lockney School Superintendent Johnny Mason. This is a 350 yard distance.

His round was a very good 36. R. L. Knox and two Lubbock boys were playing with Mason.

Agent Declares War On Bug

Many Floyd county farmers lost as much as 1500 pounds of grain sorghum to the acre last year to the menace known as the green bug. This year, farmers are beginning the battle on the bug earlier and it is hoped that he will not hurt the crop.

Floyd county agent Joe Wilson issues the following information about how the green bug may be exterminated before he does his damage to the grain sorghum crop.

Greenbugs have been found in damaging numbers in grain sorghum fields in Floyd County. The insect is the same one that damaged thousands of acres of the crop this past year.

The insect is light green in color with a darker green stripe down its back. It is usually found first on the lower side of the bottom leaves. The corn leaf aphid is very similar. It is a darker greenish green color with no green stripe and it is usually found in the swirl of the plant.

Green bugs should be controlled before any leaves are killed on sorghum before the preboot stage and no more than the two lower leaves on pre-boot or larger grain sorghum.

They have the ability to multiply very fast so fields should be checked every two days after the insects have first been detected in small numbers.

Several insecticides have been cleared for use on greenbug control. They are:

Insecticide	Rate/ac.	Days to harvest	Days to grazing
Di-Syston	1/3 to 2/3 pt.	7	28
Trithion	1 pint	21	21
Systox (2 lb.)	1 pint	35	35
Diazinon	1 pt. to 1.25 pt.	14	14
Malathion	1.5 pt.	7	7
Parathion	1 pt.	12	12

Methyl Parathion should not be used as it might cause burning of the plants. Malathion should be used only with a ground rig as it is not effective as the other insecticides.

If any farmers have a question about the insects they should contact the county agent's office.

Another Ag Teacher Hired

Announcement was made by Floydada school superintendent this week that Jimmy Woodard of Wellman, Texas has been employed to teach vocational agriculture in Floydada High School.

Woodard is a May graduate of Texas Tech with a major in agriculture and this will be his first teaching experience. He was reared on a farm, active in 4-H and FFA work and received the State Farm FFA degree.

Jimmy is married and he and his wife live at 706 West Ross. They belong to the Church of Christ.

Hesperian To Publish Floyd And Hale County Farm Directory

The new book will be a combination almanac, directory, and buyer's guide, and will contain a wide variety and extensive store of valuable and useful information to farmers and ranchers in the area as well as the business people who serve them.

Articles appropriate to our own area will be written and furnished by authoritative sources, the county agents, Texas Tech, Department of Agriculture, the High Plains Research Foundation, and others.

The Directory will contain a complete and up-to-date list of all of the farmers and ranchers in Floyd and Hale Counties, whether owner or operator, with their mailing addresses, acreage, block and section, approximate number of livestock.

Glenn Owens Writing And Singing "Soul Music"

By Wendelyn Tooley

A young Floydada man, Glenn Owens is achieving quite a bit of attention and requests for programs to sing the "soul music" that he is currently composing.

He not only writes the words and music, but sings and plays the piano.

Glenn was born and raised in Floydada. He began singing with the high school choir in Della Plains when he was in the sixth grade. During his high school years Glenn sang with the high school choir, the First Methodist Church and the First Baptist Church.

After graduating from Floydada High School he went to Wayland for a time and joined the "Pedestrian Crossing" musical group. In the Pedestrian Crossing he was called "King of Soul." While he was with the P.C. he sang in night clubs, air force bases, colleges, and several towns including Tucumcari, Santa Fe, Amarillo, Lubbock, Borger, and Pampa.

In the past few years Glenn has become interested in song writing and has now written three songs. He wrote his first song while he was at Wayland Baptist College. The name of this song is "The Life That I Live." This song is about his life's history. He wrote his second song after he had broken up with the P.C. It is entitled "A Question to God." This song concerns the Vietnam war and the problems of the people of the world. His third song, "A Sinner's Prayer", is Glenn's personal testimony.

Letters To The Editor

June 25, 1969

The Hesperian:
I am sending this letter to ask you to please start sending the paper to my friend from Floydada, Mrs. Lonnie Mince, 223 Cedar Place, Dixon, Calif. 95620.
I had Mrs. Mince and Mrs. Gordon out for dinner tonight and she had a clipping out of your paper someone had sent her with her brother's picture (about opening gates). She was so happy, so I decided to see if you will start the paper for her at once. She is 74 tomorrow and not too well. I think your local paper would do her a lot of good. (Believe there are some of her family used to do art work for the paper).
I have no idea how much it is per year but I will send $2.00 cash that will start it, then bill me at once for balance.
I get our two hometown papers from Graham, Texas for $6.00 so I don't know how to send correct amount.
Thank you in advance. Please start her paper soon as you can.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Leo Haralson
R.L. Box 103-B, Winters, Calif.

June 27, 1969

Dear Wendell:
The 61st Regular Session of the Legislature has adjourned; the Governor has vetoed the one year appropriations bill we passed, and a Special Session will be called about July 28th.
The Regular Session set a record for the number of measures that were introduced and considered. The voters of Texas will decide on 16 proposed changes to the Constitution with nine of them being voted on August 5, 1969. A record 2,441 bills were introduced with 960 passing.
Without a doubt, the most important legislation for our area related to the Texas Water Plan. Those of us who serve on the "500 Member Committee" named by Governor Smith are all working toward passage of a constitutional amendment to be voted on August 5th. This amendment would authorize the State Water Development Board to issue an additional three and one half billion dollars in bonds for implementation of the Texas Water Plan. This is a MUST for West Texas!
Texas Tech got its new medical school along with a new name. The new name approved by the legislature for the Lubbock school will be Texas Tech University.

For the first time in history, this legislature passed a state minimum wage law providing for a $1.25 an hour wage in 1970 and $1.40 for the following years. Exemptions include ranching operations and small business employers with less than four employees. Topped the minimum wage bill as have in the past.
Other areas of interest include a constitutional amendment to authorize mixed drinks on a local option basis. The citizens of Texas will vote on this themselves. The legislature also passed bills on dangerous drugs, control of obscene materials, student disorder and riot control legislation and an increase in special agents for the control of narcotics in our state.
In face of strong opposition and a possible veto, the House and Senate both overwhelmingly adopted a one year appropriations bill without ANY NEW TAXES! As you now know, this bill was vetoed and we are being called back into Special Session to pass a two year bill. However, now it will be necessary to

FLOYD PHILOSOPHER

Claims He's Heard Of A Man Near Here Who Doesn't Owe A Cent Of Money

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm probably doesn't know enough people, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:

I was busy reading a newspaper out here yesterday and really didn't have time to talk but a man's got to be neighborly and when this neighbor brought me a bunch of vegetables out of his garden I put the paper down and got to talking.

"Did you know," he said, "that there's a man living over in the other end of the county who doesn't owe any money?"

"Whatta you mean?"
"I mean he doesn't owe any money. His house is not mortgaged, his farm is clear, he paid cash for his car, doesn't owe any installments on his refrigerator or furniture or television set, doesn't owe the bank anything."
"I don't believe it. Let's go see him. What does he look like? Never seen anything like that."
But my neighbor said he couldn't go right then, had to go by the bank, and I settled back down to thinking.

How many people do you reckon there are in the United States who don't owe anything? I figure if you put them all together they'd still be lonesome.

I learned long ago that the length of the car has nothing to do with the shortness of the mortgage, and that some of the highest paid men in this country live in the most un-paid-for houses.

Understand, I don't think there's anything wrong with being out of debt, if you like to be different, but it's just that you'd be so out of step with your neighbors, big business, and the government of the United States that you're not going to catch me doing it.

Show me a debt-free country and I'll show you America before Columbus discovered it. If you can locate that man who doesn't owe any money, I'd like to get a close look at him.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

have a tax revenue package of approximately three hundred million dollars.

THE SPIRIT OF FREEDOM...

It is a spirit that has marched in many lands, under many flags... wherever men have dreamed of a better life. It marched with the American colonists in 1776. It is a spirit as indomitable as man himself for it is one of the "inalienable rights" endowed by the Creator on all men. Today the spirit of freedom is still on the march - let us rededicate ourselves to its cause.

The Floyd County Hesperian will receive the state newspaper award and three Floydada FFA boys will receive advance degrees at the annual FFA Convention in Fort Worth July 16-18.

FFA boys Victor Smith and Joe Thurston will attend the convention. Wes Campbell will not be able to attend.

New Floydada FFA teachers Orville Harris and Jimmy Woodard and their wives will also attend the convention.

The three-day meeting of representatives of over nine hundred FFA Chapters from throughout the state will include the awarding of advanced degrees, scholarships and awards to outstanding members of the organization.

Hesperian To Publish Floyd And Hale County Farm Directory

The Floyd County Hesperian has completed plans to publish a new and improved Farm and Ranch Directory for both Floyd and Hale Counties, according to Wendell Tooley, publisher. The new book will be a combination almanac, directory, and buyer's guide, and will contain a wide variety of extensive store of valuable and useful information to farmers and ranchers in the area as well as the business people who serve them.

Articles appropriate to our own area will be written and furnished by authoritative sources, the county agents, Texas Tech, Department of Agriculture, the High Plains Research Foundation, and others.

The Directory will contain a complete and up-to-date list of all of the farmers and ranchers in Floyd and Hale Counties, whether owner or operator, with their mailing addresses, acreage, block and section, approximate number of livestock,

New Pastor Arrives At Aldersgate Spanish Methodist Church

Rev. Benjamin Picazo is the new minister of Aldersgate Spanish Methodist Church. He is taking the place of Rev. Juan Salinas who was transferred to a church in San Angelo, Texas.

Rev. Picazo's family includes his wife, Tille, and his six children, Debra, Efrain, Myre, Joel, Elizabeth Suzanna, and David.

In 1954 Rev. Picazo had a year of college at Texas Western. He began his ministry in 1956. Beginning in 1957 he took several sessions of summer school at Perkin's Theological School in Dallas. Then in 1963 he got his diploma for supply pastor's school at Perkin's. He began attending school at Northern Arizona University in 1966 and graduated this May.

Aldersgate Methodist is the first assigned church he has had since he graduated in May. In the past years he has been pastor in churches in Wagon Mound, New Mexico, Marfa, Texas, Deming, New Mexico, Alpine, Texas, Sul Ross, Texas, and Pecos, Texas. He also attended school for a time while he was pastoring in Alpine, Texas.

Glenn Owens Writing And Singing "Soul Music"

By Wendelyn Tooley

A young Floydada man, Glenn Owens is achieving quite a bit of attention and requests for programs to sing the "soul music" that he is currently composing.

He not only writes the words and music, but sings and plays the piano.

Glenn was born and raised in Floydada. He began singing with the high school choir in Della Plains when he was in the sixth grade. During his high school years Glenn sang with the high school choir, the First Methodist Church and the First Baptist Church.

After graduating from Floydada High School he went to Wayland for a time and joined the "Pedestrian Crossing" musical group. In the Pedestrian Crossing he was called "King of Soul." While he was with the P.C. he sang in night clubs, air force bases, colleges, and several towns including Tucumcari, Santa Fe, Amarillo, Lubbock, Borger, and Pampa.

In the past few years Glenn has become interested in song writing and has now written three songs. He wrote his first song while he was at Wayland Baptist College. The name of this song is "The Life That I Live." This song is about his life's history. He wrote his second song after he had broken up with the P.C. It is entitled "A Question to God." This song concerns the Vietnam war and the problems of the people of the world. His third song, "A Sinner's Prayer", is Glenn's personal testimony.

Glenn Owens

OWENS,

He wrote his third song on the way to youth week at Central Methodist Church in Dalhart. He is now writing a fourth song for the youth choir of First Methodist Church to sing.

Glenn said that the third song "reminds me that God gave me a talent to use in the Christian Way. It makes me realize that if I have time for everything else, I certainly have time for God."

Mrs. David Battey Jr. is working out plans for Glenn to be auditioned by Jackie Clark of Lubbock, which could develop into some recordings.

Glenn shares this witness of Jesus Christ wherever he goes: "During the Lay Witness Mission in Floydada Methodist Church I discovered God. I thought I knew him once before but I drifted away but now there is nobody, and nothing that will stop me from working for the Lord."

"I know now that God has come into my life because the first time I thought I knew God I was about fourteen, but then I lost him and I had made up my mind to sing the blues for the rest of my life until I was really rich."

"I was going to start working for the Lord at sixty-five. But now I'm twenty-one years old, so I'm sure God really surprised me."

"May I say God love you and from the bottom of my heart I love you no matter who you are."

Glenn hopes to enter college again in the future.

number of irrigation wells and other valuable information.

A copy of the Directory will be mailed free of charge to every farm and ranch owner or operator who has 50 acres or more in the two counties covered.

Advertising for the publication is being handled by John H. Westerland who has been working since 1962 on the High Plains in farm and ranch advertising and publishing. Mr. Westerland said he is very optimistic about the prospects for advertising because in spite of some set-backs due to adverse weather conditions this year, this area still remains the most highly agricultural area in the world and this publication offers an inexpensive way for the businessman or woman serving the agricultural industry to keep their name before their customers and to acquaint them with new products and services.

The Hesperian plans to publish the Directory every two years because a good complete and accurate farm & ranch directory is a useful and necessary tool to everyone working in the agricultural industry.

The Floyd and Hale County agri-businesses and merchants will be called on by representatives in the near future.

FLOYD PHILOSOPHER Says The Problem Of The Big Cities Has Wrecked The Farm Problem

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm this week is worrying about the big cities, but not enough to lose any sleep over.

Dear Editor: According to a newspaper I was reading last night, 90 per cent of the big cities in the United States are just about broke, facing bankruptcy, the article said, although I've never heard of anybody's foreclosing on a city. Who'd want to take New York in on a debt? Or Chicago? Or Houston?

As I understand it, it's the cities, not the city people, who are broke, as most of the latter seem to be doing fairly well, although occasionally some of them have to borrow on their boat to meet the payments on their color television set, and some get confused trying to remember whether they're paying for last year's or the year before last's vacation trip, both of which they took on credit.

However, the cities' plight is not a laughing matter, because it has just about wrecked the farm problem.

Back in the old days, 15 or 20 years ago, no politician would think of running for office unless he had a solution for the farm problem, and while none of the solutions ever worked, I had no idea what they meant was they were going to make the city problem so big everybody would forget the farm problem.

It's like stopping worrying about one son who dropped out of high school because another son is now in the penitentiary.

Personally, I don't have any answers. I used to be, when a man couldn't make it on the farm he was advised to give it up and get a job in town. You suppose they did and are not running cities by the same principles that failed them on the farm?

I hope not, because the last thing we want is somebody's advising big city mayors that if they can't make it in town they'd better give it up and get a job in the country.

As it is, most of them are saying they've got to look to Washington to help them get out of debt. I'm afraid they're on the wrong track. Washington is an expert on getting into debt, but as for getting out... I'm blamed if I know where they should look. Certainly not at me. Did I notice you dodging too?

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Award Given To Bobby Tilley

AUSTIN - An official State Health Department citation for work proficiency has been awarded to Bobby D. Tilley, sewage disposal plant specialist for the city of Floydada.

Signed by the State Health Commissioner and authorities of the Texas Water Utilities Association, the certificate of competency is awarded only to those utility plant operators who have successfully demonstrated their skill and knowledge in modern principles of plant management.

To qualify for certification, a plant operator must have accumulated a prescribed amount of actual work experience. He must also have attended both regional and statewide short schools at which the techniques of water treatment and waste water disposal are taught, and must have passed an examination given by State Health Department sanitary engineers. State law requires that at least one operator per shift be certified for competency by health department engineers, but many operators seek certification on their own time and at their own expense to increase their efficiency as key public servants to their community and state.

The engineers said the attainment is evidence of Tilley's efforts to better prepare himself for the duties of his profession.

In my Monday night studying, I saw about four things the ley family will have to do to shape up for the new year. 1. Japanese like to wash their hair into the hot water heater. . . We'll have to buy a lot of rice, but we some trout in the deep freeze.

By the way, our new son was expecting to visit so he'll be in for several surprises out here in West Texas. Of course he'll want to see a "real live Texas ranch," some ranches over on the east side of Floyd County appreciate an invitation from one of you fellows, show a Japanese a ranch.

I don't think the Tooleys will have any trouble coming with the new son on his hobbies. . . he lists making, guitar playing.

BY PEGGY MEDLEY

We had a nice trip to Oklahoma City over the weekend. Saw no wrecks and everyone drove like they wanted to return home safe. I have finely decided, or maybe I knew it all along, there's no place like Texas. I may be stepping on someone's toes when I criticize the highways in Oklahoma but here goes. Our highways and byways in Texas have always been the best and it costs nothing for out of state travelers to go over them. Not so in parts of Oklahoma. We got on the turn-pike just out of Lawton, Okla., paid them 50¢ to go several miles; paid 60¢ right out of Chichasha; and hit a third toll gate right out of Oklahoma City which cost another 60¢ for some ten miles or less. Otherwise we paid $1.70 to travel some 120 miles on a highway that was't as smooth as some of our Farm to Market roads. The turn-pike was full of cars and we found out why on our return trip because we came back a different way, not on the turn-pike. After you travel on the other Oklahoma roads, you'll gladly travel the turn-pike. Relatives there said highway officials were planning on stopping the pay toll, but then they decided the turn-pike needed repairs after only about three or four years of travel, so have continued collecting money from travelers. I agree that some roads we traveled even five years ago in Oklahoma are much improved but a toll cost for highway travel is ridiculous. Now I'll probably be getting protests letters from Oklahoma relatives for telling the truth.

EDNA Ramsey of the Harmony Community is a remarkable woman. In her 80s, I understand she still plays the piano and has other active talents such as writing poems. You will find one elsewhere in the Hesperian written by her in dedication to the Caprock Hospital Staff. Read it and you will find that I am among many that praises this fine establishment.

THE five Floydada Boy Scouts who are leaving Friday for the Scout Jamboree should have a great time as far as sightseeing is concerned. They plan to tour Durango, Colo.; Salt Lake City; Yellowstone National Park and Butte, Mont. Enroute home they will stop at Helena, Mont., Casper, Wyo., and Colorado Springs. I understand there will be some 50,000 Boy Scouts and leaders planning to attend the Jamboree in Idaho.

FLOYDADA residents are complaining of cracks in their yards caused from lack of rain. Guess we could do like the New Mexico couple, cover our yard with outdoor carpet. However I think watering the lawn would be cheaper. The City of Floydada said they pumped 25,474,000 gallons of water to residents in June with an average of 849,133 gallons per day. Since the 26th of June they have pumped over a million gallons per day with the biggest day falling on the 28th of June when they pumped 1,716,000 gallons. Water pumped to residents thus far in the month of July were not available but were expected to exceed this amount.

WELL it looks like we won't have time to prepare Mrs. Barnard's story this week about her trip, but will do our best to see that it is in next week's Hesperian. I know you will enjoy reading it.

SOMEONE told me to be sure and put in my column this week that the weeds across the dirt road west of the Dixie Dog need

Miss Holmes, Martin Lumpkin Set August Vows

Joseph Riley Holmes announces the engagement and approaching marriage of his daughter, Janet Ferne, to Martin Alan Lumpkin. Miss Holmes is the daughter of Mr. Holmes and the late Mrs. Holmes. Lumpkin's parents are Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Howard Lumpkin of Richardson, Texas. The couple plan to wed August 30 in a nuptial mass at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Lubbock.

University. Miss Holmes is a Bachelor of Music from Texas Tech University and is currently studying musicology in the master's program. Lumpkin is a graduate of Baylor University where he received a Bachelor of Arts degree in English and is a candidate in clinical psychology.

ANYONE watching over the TV Tuesday night the smiling faces of the returning American troops from Vietnam, couldn't help but get a lump in their throat, but even more so when the scene changed and it showed the grim faces of GIs leaving Seattle, Wash., headed for Vietnam. Is it really a "pull-out" of our boys or is our government just replacing those they are bringing home? Makes one wonder.

MANY a girl who eloped wishes she had let only her imagination run away with her. Thats meddlins for this week.

J.C. Lackey Kin Plan Reunion

MRS. GLEN BERTRAND

Ceremony Read For Miss Holmes, Bertrand

Miss Debbie Holmes became the bride of Glen Bertrand in a double ring ceremony read at 7:30 p.m. June 27 in the First United Methodist Church. Rev. C. B. Melton, pastor, performed the wedding before candelabras and greenery.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Austin Holmes and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Bertrand. Both families reside near Floydada.

Miss Marijon Wylie was organist and accompanied Reba Brennan as she sang "Whither Thou Goest."

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a floor length satin gown fashioned princess style, accented by a V neckline and long tapered sleeves. Her floor length veil of illusion was attached to a velvet bow. She wore a diamond pendant and earrings, a gift from the groom, and carried a bouquet of white miniature roses and streamers on a white Bible. The Bible was a gift from an aunt of the bride, Mrs. S. L. Holmes Jr.

Miss Sherry Roberts was maid of honor and Wendy Bertrand, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid. Both were attired in pink satin dresses trimmed with white lace. They wore brief pink veils styled as the bride's, and carried bouquets of white daisies.

Stacy Wilsher of Lorenzo, niece of the bride, was flower girl and Jeff Bertrand, brother of the groom, was ring bearer. Rex Harrison was best man and Hulon Carthel and Brynn Walding served as ushers. Candelighters were Craig Day, Abilene, cousin of the groom and Rex Jones of Plainview, cousin of the bride. Richard Bertrand, brother of the groom, was groomsmen.

A reception, given by the groom's parents, was held in Winn's Restaurant.

Following a brief trip the couple are making their home in Floydada at 4181/2 W. Calif.

Mrs. Bertrand plans to continue her high school education this semester. Her husband, a graduate of Floydada High School, is employed at City Auto.

Cancer Progress

Nadeem Muna, a research specialist in microbiology at the University of Utah, has developed a blood test for melanoma, a type of cancer.

An exciting feature of the discovery is that the test can be made in a doctor's office in an hour or so, whereas tests for melanoma (a cancer which often spreads to other parts of the body) heretofore have involved a surgical biopsy and more extensive tests.

In the past year the test was successfully on seventeen patients. Dr. Muna thinks similar tests, in other forms of cancer, might be developed.

Hope in this direction is based on the nature of the melanoma test. It is that when a person has melanoma, his body manufactures at least a small amount of antibodies to fight the melanoma antigen. Dr. Muna devised a way to test blood so as to reveal these antibodies.

A sample of the blood is poured over a slide which contains melanoma antigen. Muna found that the antibodies, when in contact with the cancer antigen and certain other substances fluoresce or shine, and in this way he can tell whether or not the patient has melanoma.

A significant possibility stemming from Muna's detection system is that many types of cancer can be detected with the same blood sample, using different slides containing different cancer specimens. If, indeed, such a simple detection system can be perfected for many forms of cancer, a mass screening of large segments of the population may soon be a reality.

mony among his friends, he must accept the necessity for taking public stands on issues of the day as an occupational hazard. If he can't stand the heat, then he had best stay out of the kitchen!

An editor, if he has any friends at all, will continually find himself differing with his friends. This is as inevitable as the morning sunrise.

Perhaps no two thinking people ever lived who agreed on every issue. One may agree with a person on politics, yet disagree on religion. One may agree on local politics but disagree on national politics.

One may agree on local and national politics, also religion, but disagree on the expenditure of money for a dam.

A person entering any line of work should first count the cost . . . then be prepared to pay it. We've known editors afraid of controversy, particularly at home. It was easy for them to damn organized labor in the big cities from their little office in a small agricultural community. . . 101.5 percent of their townsmen probably felt the same way! But on every other issue they either avoided a public stand or straddled the fence.

It has been said that the office of President of the United States is a lonely spot. Perhaps so, but it isn't the only one. (Tulsa Herald)

Opinion On Heart Transplants

Editor, The Avalanche-Journal:
Scientists and their experiments and accomplishments are very gratifying. Some people are confused. To me it only contributes to physical and spiritual beliefs.

The question has come out about heart surgery and heart transplant as being immoral because it conflicts with the soul or proves there is no soul of man. One of the main surgeons at Houston has been quoted in the paper as saying he believed the soul was in the brain. I am surprised at this idea. To analyze this subject would require more words than is allowed in this letter, so we will make our statement briefly.

The soul of man is not located in the brain, heart or central nervous system. It is the decree or declaration by the Creator of man that his spirit is eternal and God does not take his spirit from man until all means of preserving life have failed. Surgery of the brains, heart, central nervous system or circulatory system has no contact with the soul of man. God's decrees are not physical - they are spiritual and eternal. So far as revelation is concerned this decree has never been applied to any of His creation other than man. When God decrees anything it supersedes everything else. True, the brain is the central receiving station of the body. Without the brain the heart doesn't function, and without the heart the brain doesn't function, but this has nothing to do with God's decree that "Man became a living soul."

Scientific space research is also opposed by some and they give their reasons based upon God's disapproval of the building of the Tower of Babel. His disapproval was not the tower, but it was man's erroneous conception that a tower built to heaven as a means of reaching heaven. Reaching heaven is not climbing or flying in space ships - but it is a way of life. I am very much in favor of scientific research in all phases, but we would do well to discern closely the difference in scientific proof and some of the far-fetched theories some so-called scientists hatch up. Albert Darby, 2009 9th St., Lubbock, Tex.

A Matter Of Faith

Good stories get around and from the Canadian Record we cribbed this one which Editor Ben Ezell swiped from The Rockdale Reporter.

According to the tale, a woman ran out of gas on a trip through the country in rural Colorado, and walked a mile to a rural service station to buy some gasoline.

The station was run by a man and his wife and a young baby. The young baby wasn't a lot of help, but he does fit importantly into the story.

"I've got plenty of gasoline," the station attendant told the woman, "but the only thing I have to put it in is a ten-gallon can. I don't think you could carry it a mile, and I have no service car."

This is where the baby came in. The service station owners had an inspiration, came up with the baby's potty, and filled it with gasoline. The stranded motorist was able to carry it easily to her stalled car, and she was right in the middle of pouring the gasoline out of the little chamber pot into her gasoline tank when a big truck-trailer rig came along.

The driver slammed on his brakes in amazement, stuck his head out of the cab window, and said: Lady, I sure wish I had your faith."

The Boys Who Died In One Week

Life Magazine carried an article last week and printed pictures of 242 American men who had been killed in the Vietnam War during the week of May 28 to June 3.

The thing that really shocks you is when you notice the ages of the week's fatalities, which also were printed. The average age of the 242 men listed in the issue was 21.

Over half of the men killed were under 21. The largest number, 75, were 20. Thirty-seven of the casualties were 19 and sixteen were 18.

The thing that shakes you up as you looked at the young faces pictured in the casualty list was the realization of all the years of life that were cut off.

At an average age of 21, these men still had an average of 49 years of life expectancy, based on age 70 as the standard life expectancy in the United States.

Thus, a total of 11,858 years of life were forfeited in the one week in Vietnam. America has now lost more than 36,000 lives in Southeast Asia since the start of the war.

It seems quite a sacrifice for a conflict that has shown such little progress in spite of all of the lives lost. (Frona Star)

Pop Pull-Out Game

Unfortunately, the question of pull-outs from Vietnam—a highly controversial one—has become a political football. President Richard Nixon's revelation that he would begin pulling some American soldiers out of a sort of Democratic-Republican headline contest.

Democratic critics, like former Secretary Clark Clifford and negotiator Averell Harriman, have called on the President to withdraw as many as 100,000 troops, and rather soon. The President replied in a news conference that he said he hoped to do even

President pointed out, and that he had done better than Democrats before him, who had withdrawn any. His tone and the nature of the issue are a reminder that calls for large troop withdrawals are powerful political tools in a nation tired of a war it suspects was a mistake from the beginning.

Yet excessive pressure on the Nixon Administration, to a point that Washington is forced to concede fundamental points, would mean a disguised betrayal of what the nation has fought for and what so many have died for.

Whether the nation, and politicians, will give Mr. Nixon time to work out a compromise settlement of the war is a good question. The President's somewhat cautious approach at Midway and the resulting show of impatience by many Americans may compromise hopes in this direction. What seems certain is that the President has only months to show progress. If the killing and Paris deadlock continue indefinitely, he will be up against the same tide of sentiment which retired former President Lyndon Johnson with such finality.

You Can't Have Cake And Eat It Too

A difficult lesson for humans to learn is that one can't have his cake and eat it too. Every decision made by man has its pluses and minuses, its assets and liabilities. For every advantage there is a disadvantage. For every good feature of a job there is a bad feature.

We've never been able to find that job with short hours, high pay, no responsibility.

As a school teacher, we had lots of time for vacation trips at Thanksgiving, Christmas, Easter and during the summer. . . but we had no money to pay for trips!

As a newspaper publisher, perhaps we might rake up enough money to take a vacation trip now and then. . . but we don't have the time. We haven't had a vacation trip in 20 or more years.

Being a newspaper editor and publisher has other disadvantages, the greatest of which is having to live in a goldfish bowl so far as one's opinion and views are concerned. This often brings an editor in conflict with his friends which represent a cross-section of society.

Most people can have their private opinions about politics, religion, and a thousand other issues, but never reveal them to their friends. A person in the privacy of his voting booth may vote as he pleases, perhaps opposite to the way his closest friend votes. He can avoid this or any other controversial subject and it will never mar friendships.

With the Editor it is different. . . it is necessary for an editor to reveal his convictions on all controversial issues. Much as he might like to remain silent for the sake of har-

A Blissful Honeymoon

That's the trouble with honeymoons.

Nobody warns you about seeing double.

You can be elbow-deep in reservations and eyebrow-high in luggage. But to make a smashing success of your honeymoon, you should think ahead to the little things that will keep you both happy. This kind of double vision takes only a moment of your planning time, and makes you seem miraculously organized during your honeymoon.

The following half-dozen suggestions come from women who've vacationed with their husbands for years.

1. Start with a sea-sick remedy. It sounds unromantic, and you probably think you're immune to motion sickness anyway. Yet all that pre-wedding excitement can make it harder to gain your sea legs. And girls (guys, too!) have been known to suffer even on a short sight-seeing cruise.

2. Pack a good-sized cake of bath soap. Your groom is sure to loathe the tiny bar of soap most hotels provide, and chances are you won't enjoy it either. Consider buying a soap-on-a-rope, which is freshly fragrant and very handy.

3. Tuck in a newly-available "Q-Tips" Purse-Pak. It's yours for the asking and the 10-cent postage charge from Chesapeake-Pond's Inc., the makers of cotton swabs. The small white Purse-Pak fits into a corner of your pocketbook or beachbag, holds six fresh swabs for instant makeup repair, and has a mirrored lid for checking your looks quickly and quietly.

4. Stow away a supply of moist towelettes for fast wipe-ups. Towelettes come in convenient little foil packets and they have a lovely, lemony scent that is not too feminine.

5. Slip in a few plastic bags. They're marvelous for re-packing everything from damp swimsuits to extra sweaters.

6. Pack plenty of extra film. If your groom is a camera buff, he'll probably spend lots of time recording your activities with his trusty shutter. Although most types of films are universally available, the prices can be sky high in a foreign city or resort. It's best to find out what film he uses, and toss in some spare rolls, just in case.

Baby Feeding Tip

Feeding baby is a job that calls for positive thinking and persistence. Make the job easier for yourself by taping a box of junior-size tissues to the back of baby's high chair, where they're easy to grab to clean up the inevitable spills.

Hospital

(Written by Mrs. Edna Ramsey in dedication to Caprock Hospital Staff)

Out of the haycocks - so forlorn
Old Maud Miller crept, tattered and torn,
Long before the first rays of the morn;
"Let's take your temperature."
Once more into your warmest spot,
Hoping for sleep right on the dot,
One hears a wee rustle - "So what?"
Another pill.

Now that is over - I tuck me in,
By now I'm chilly - the blanket's thin.
Here comes a voice - they're bound to win
"Breakfast, Sweetie."

The voice comes nearer, "How are you today?"
Don't the sausage look good, and are you ok?"
"If you want me, just call me."
And hurries away.

Sausage and cereal, toast and egg,
Coffee and fruit juice all to aid,
To get me strong like I was made,
All to get my health back.
Now, there is time for one more snooze -
Back under my covers. No time to lose.
To get some more sleep I surely would choose -
"But time for your bath."

This is more intricate one may assume;
From bed to walker, to bath room
To shower chair - wash good I presume.
And when that is done,
From chair to walker - o'er slippery floor
Dry, powder and dress - anything more?
Then to wheel chair, then to work I adore
Waiting for us.

Perhaps I'll take that stroll in the hall,
Maybe some letter to answer et al -
Or maybe someone drops in for a call.
The morn passes by.
Of course there are blood pressure and pills,
Temperature and pulse that may cause our ills -
Not bad to take, but sometimes it kills.
"What ails you?"

Along comes dinner and so nice to see
Always as perfect as food can be -
A real pleasure to one like me
Who likes to eat.

After lunch there is time for a nap,
More pills and so forth fill in the gap,
Then, listen, now, for some caller's rap,
And it's supper time.
A vitamin pill, another swell meal,
A lowering sun, and you really feel
The night shadows hover as a soft bed you feel (Now into the sunset, night shadows steal).
The rest has arrived - just one more deal -
Another pill.

THANKS Edna P. Ramsey
Thanks to the nurses who helped me so much,
Thanks to the doctor, the real head of all such;
Thanks for the pills that helps folks like me -
Thanks for the nice room where there was just me.
Thanks for the cooks who managed good food,
Thanks to everyone for your extra good mood.
Thanks for all that has made me better,
Thanks for the chance to write this letter.
THANK YOU.

Edna Ramsey

5 PER CENT

Saving Bond Interest Due For Increase

WASHINGTON - Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy confirmed Tuesday that the Nixon administration will recommend raising the interest rate on savings bonds to 5 per cent from the present 4 1/2 per cent rate.

Kennedy told the Senate Finance Committee, in reply to questions, that such a recommendation would go to Congress probably this week.

He said it would be part of a package in which the administration would ask Congress to remove entirely the 4 1/2 per cent ceiling on all government bonds.

Kennedy said the proposed five per cent rate would apply to the $52 billion worth of outstanding savings bonds as well as to new sales.

Q. I had a heart attack two months ago and my doctor has told me that I should not work any more. Must I wait six months to file for social security?

A. No. It is true that you do not receive payment for the first six months after becoming disabled, but you do not have to wait to file your claim. In fact, you should sign up for social security as soon as possible since it takes time to process a claim and get the first check to a disabled person.

For more information contact your social security office at 1401-B West 5th Street, Plainview. If more convenient, meet with your social security representative. He is in Floydada at the courthouse on Wednesday morning, in Matador in the lobby of the First State Bank on the first Tuesday morning of each month and in Abernathy in the City Hall on the second Tuesday morning of each month.

Good Prices Seen On Farm Products

By C. YATES McDANIEL Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON — American farmers and ranchers can expect to receive good prices for most of their output and better than usual returns from several major products during the second half of this year.

A broad survey of supplies and prices in recent months and fresh estimates by the Agriculture Department attribute farmer prospects largely to the continuing buoyant economy, despite indications of some slowdown in the rate of advancement of personal incomes.

Prices for all farm products have been averaging about five per cent above last year's levels, with a rise of nearly one-tenth in prices of livestock products more than offsetting slightly lower average receipts for crops.

The volume of farm marketings also has increased this year. Coupled with higher average prices, this has lifted farmer cash receipts to a record of nearly $16.5 billion, or about $1.25 billion above the January-May total for the same months last year.

The cost of farming has gone up too—about five per cent above last year levels—but not enough to prevent a three per cent rise in realized net farm income.

The government expects prices for livestock as a whole to continue relatively favorable to producers this summer and fall. Hog prices are likely to peak, as usual, in the summer, to decline less than usual as slaughter increases in the fall and for the remainder of the year to continue well above 1968 levels.

Fed cattle prices over the next six months are likely to stay above year earlier ranges. Stronger demand is expected to offset the effect of continued larger output of feed beef.

This is because growth in total meat output so far this year has about kept pace with increase in population. American farmers are about the same as he has been and is likely to be willing to pay more.

The outlook for this year. Sales were up eight per cent year and the trend to continue through output thereabouts. Continue at the largely because of lower cost of feed.

Prices for eggs are expected to be higher this summer than last year. But the laying flock, started last year, could increase price trend.
