Burns Suffered By Holmes Boy

Don Ed Holmes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Holmes, is said to be improving in Caprock Hospital in Floydada, where he is under treatment for first and third degree burns. The 15 year old youngster was burned over his body Saturday evening about 7 o'clock while attempting to burn out a red ant bed near the onion shed at Barwise.

Relatives said Don Ed had poured gasoline into and around the ant bed, set the fuel con- tainer back of him then neared the bed, tossing a match into it. As he scrambled backwards he tripped over the container saturating his clothing and the ground. The blaze ignited his clothing before he could get clear. His family said he was able to tear most of his clothing from his body and roll in the dirt, putting out the fire, and possibly saving his life.

Young Holmes is being treated for first degree burns about the body and third degree burns on his back and ankles.

Caprock Chat

By Wendell Tooley

WHY DO PEOPLE COME TO FLOYDADA? . . . It just occurred to me this week that Floydada is fast becoming a trade center for tractors and farming equipment. In driving around town this week, I observed that our implement companies do have a big selection and I know that their customers come from as far as 100 miles away every week to buy equipment and parts.

And while we're on the subject of why folks shop Floydada, don't overlook our two very good dentists. . . Doctors Craig and McCulley have patients from all over the great Caprock country.

PERILS OF PUBLISHING. . . In the bulletin of the Lincoln-Douglas Toastmaster Club, Springfield, Ill., the editor writes: "If you find a mistake, please consider it was put there for a purpose. We try to publish something for everyone, and some people are always looking for mistakes."

I HAD THE opportunity to visit with the Floyd County Water Association board at its Monday morning breakfast. Here's a bunch of fellows who are all plenty busy, yet they agreed to take out time and solicit funds for membership in their association and Water Inc. to be used to help pass Amendment No. 2 when Texans vote on August 5.

If you pay $10 you receive membership in the county water association, if you pay $25 you receive membership in Water Inc. Either way, when you are solicited by one of these board members, give in the interest of water for the future in Floyd County.

If this amendment does not pass, and if the Mackenzie Water Authority vote does not pass on September 6, I just don't see much future for the folk of Floyd County.

I was mighty happy to see that the board went on record as favoring the Mackenzie Water Authority.

WELL YOU JUST never know! . . . we got the Tooley homestead ready for the Japanese son, and on Saturday night before we were to meet his plane on Sunday, we received a telephone call from the Graham Lions Club saying that he had been placed in a California home.

We had got pretty excited over the prospects of having a Japanese live in our home, and I suppose sorta disappointed when it didn't work out.

Our youngest son, Keith, made a pretty perceptive observation when I told him that the Japanese wouldn't be coming, "but Mother worked so hard getting the house ready." And she did, waxed the floor and all that.

Well, maybe next year. . .

WE GOT THE NORRELL BOYS mixed up last week. . . ran Elmer's picture with Harold's name in the story. So, if you're confused, it was Elmer, who was our merchant of the week. Sorry 'bout that fellows.

I'M IMPRESSED with a little brochure I have on my desk about Caprock Hospital. This is good to have available to send to doctor prospects and every chamber of commerce packet will have one of these little brochures. . . thanks to Dallas Ramsey for this very attractive and informative brochure.

THE BLAST OFF to the moon yesterday morning was the most awesome of all the trips around the earth and to the moon. May God bless and protect these three men who risk so much in the interest of pioneering in space.

Proclaims Farm Safety Week

In his proclamation, Judge Holmes said "the citizens of Floyd County are proud of our farm families from whom comes our abundance of food and fiber; therefore, our citizens are deeply concerned about the safety and well-being of this segment of our population as they go about the sometimes hazardous task of producing the commodities needed by the entire population."

The proclamation said the week-long special safety campaign is a coordinated effort by Farm Bureau and various local and state agricultural and safety groups.

The Judge urged farm families to "become more safety conscious, not only during FARM SAFETY WEEK, but every day of the year."

President Nixon and Governor Smith have previously designated the same period as FARM SAFETY WEEK nationally and in Texas.

Proclamation

BY THE COUNTY JUDGE OF FLOYD COUNTY FROM THESE PRESENTS SHALL COME: Holmes, County Judge of Floyd County, do hereby proclaim the week of July 20-26, 1969, as FARM SAFETY WEEK for the following reasons:

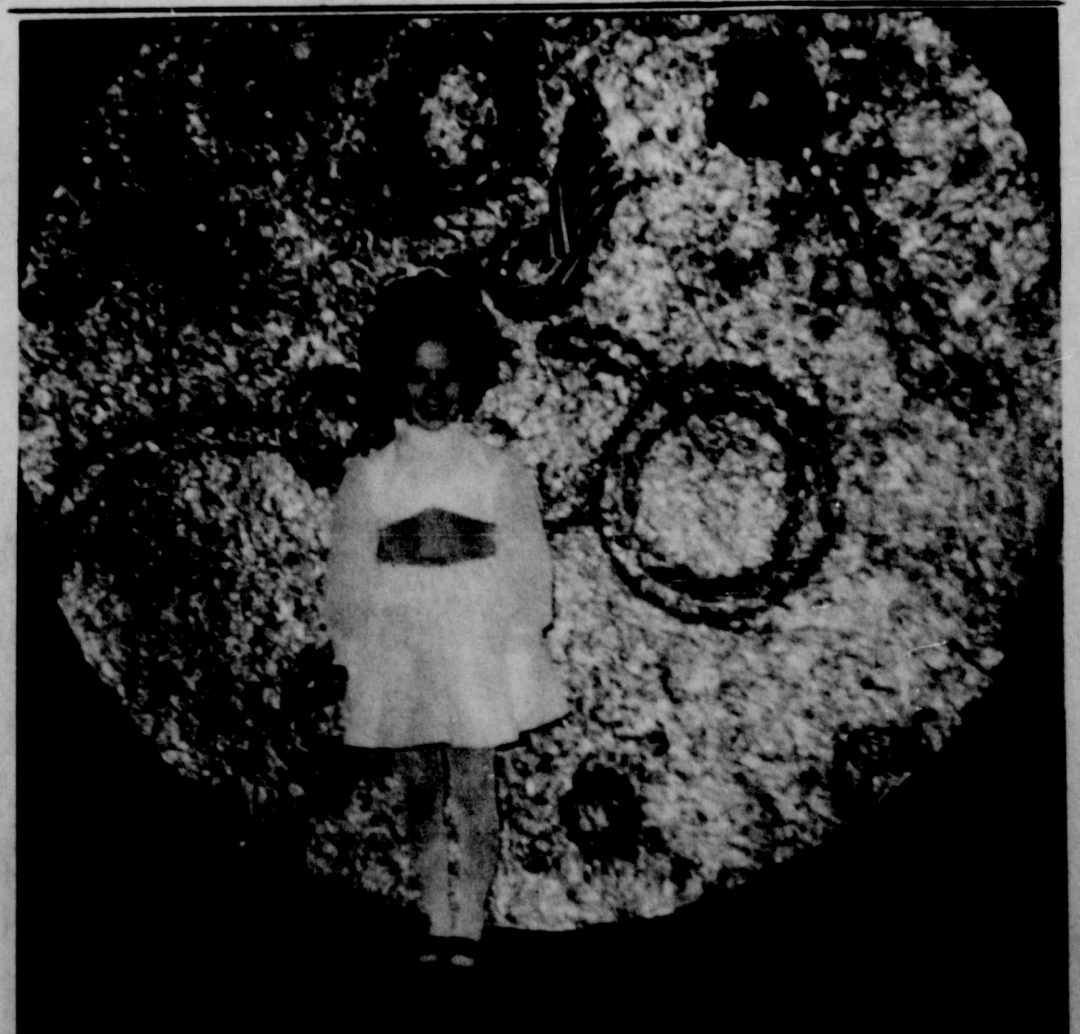

the citizens of Floyd County are proud of our farm families from whom comes our abundance of food and fiber; our citizens are deeply concerned about the safety of this segment of our population as they go about the hazardous task of producing the commodities of the entire population; and farm and ranch accidents continue to take more and more lives and cause painful disabling injuries; and the President of the United States and the Governor of Texas have proclaimed the same period as FARM SAFETY WEEK.

Therefore, during this week, a statewide farm accident prevention program will be undertaken by the Texas Farm Bureau, the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council, the Texas Farm Bureau, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas 4-H Clubs, Texas Future Farmers and Future Homemakers of America, Young Farmers and Young Homemakers and Floyd County Farm Bureau with the theme, "Prevent Accidents"; and such a campaign will do much to call to the attention of rural citizens the need for observing safety precautions, to reduce the tragic toll inflicted by accidents; I urge all citizens to recognize this special week as a time to especially urge farm families of Floyd County to be safety conscious, not only during FARM SAFETY WEEK but every day of the year.

MISS COGDELL ON DEAN'S LIST

The Justice Of Farm Subsidies

Urban dwellers, both merchant and laborer, have no conscience when it comes to putting a price tag on their contribution to the economy. Almost every week we receive a form letter from a supplier in the city informing us that due to rising costs, it is necessary that he up the price of what-ever he has to sell. And labor comes along, demanding a cost-of-living adjustment when prices rise.

Unlike the urban dweller, the farmer can-not say, "Due to rising costs I must have more for my grain or livestock." Of course, he might organize like the labor unions and demand negotiation. Or through a govern-ment program, parity could be attained by setting the price of agricultural products where it should be, then sending the bill to the consumer.

One of these plans is as fair as the other. To unionize farmers and make the price of products negotiable, just as is done in the case of labor, would be one way to solve the problem. If wheat farmers all got together and demanded $2 a bushel for wheat, refusing to take a penny less, the effect would be to pass the increase on to the consumer.

Or . . . if the government determines that $2 is a fair price for wheat and pays the farmer a subsidy to bring the price up to $2, again the cost of the subsidy is passed on to the consumer. So one plan is as just and fair as the other. The fact is, to have income in line with that of industry and labor, the farmer must have perhaps $2 for his wheat . . . and it matters not, so far as justice is con-cerned, whether the consumer pays it through higher prices at the store or through taxes.

The National Farmers Organization would go the union route. It would band-together and negotiate with the purchaser of agricultural products.

The Hereford NFO presented some "food for thought" in its monthly newsletter:

"Suppose that all of the farmers in our county decided that prices charged by our merchants were too high, even though our merchants were not getting a fair return on their investment and for their services. Per-haps we could travel to Dallas and buy our automobiles for $150 less than we would have to pay locally. Our tractors and combines could be purchased in Oklahoma City at a savings of several hundred dollars. By travelling to Amarillo or Lubbock we could buy our groceries and clothing. We could even get our fuel for our equipment whole-sale direct from the oil companies and lower our cost of production. We would store all of our commodities on the farm and thus by-pass our local elevators and save storage and handling charges.

"Of course this would lower our ex-penses, but what would it do to our local economy? Most of our local businesses would be forced out of business, our town would dry up and our schools close down because of lack of local taxes. Eventually we would have only large cities servicing our farm economy. Our children would be forced to ride buses hundreds of extra miles to get their education.

"I think you will agree that we would not want a situation such as this to exist. Yet, we have a trend taking place which will eventually cause the same thing to happen. We see grain trucks transporting grain from outlying areas because it can be bought at a cheaper price than the farmers in our area can produce it. The money being paid for this grain in other areas will never be used to help our local economy. It serves only one purpose and that is to depress our local grain prices and decrease the income of our local farmers. The argument is that we must be competitive in prices or it will be freighted in. No consideration is given as to what it cost to produce it, nor how much those pro-ducers are losing in the 'low price areas' by selling at lower prices, only that we must be competitive.

"What happens when the farmer does not receive a fair price for his commodities? The same thing happens if he takes his busi-ness elsewhere for reasons previously stated. The local economy does not share in added profits, tractors and automobiles are not purchased, clothing is worn a little longer and purchases of all necessities are cut back. Businesses close down and taxes are cut off. And our local economy suffers."

How long is it going to take the public to accept the fact that the farmer can no longer accept whatever is offered him for his pro-duce . . . and survive?

Perryton In Drive For Plant

PERRYTON (Sp1)—Ochiltree County com-missioners took a major step Friday toward acquiring an American Beef Packers Inc. packing plant by accepting responsibility for a $2 million airport expansion project re-quired for the plant.

Perryton City Council members in a joint session with the county officials, announced plans to call a $1 million city bond election to finance ex-tension of utilities to the proposed plant. Council members also disclosed that half the $100,000 needed to secure a building site has been raised.

A councilman confirmed Friday night American Beef officials have indicated they will build the packing plant at Perryton if the site and airport facilities are made available, by the community.

The money for expanded airport facilities would be raised by a county bond issue and the acquisition of government funds through the Federal Aviation Agency, a spokesman said.

In separate action Wed-nesday night, officials of American Beef, based in Okla-homa, and Wheatheart Feeders Inc. of Perryton announced the two firms have begun merger negotiations.

American Beef officials have said a 12,000 foot runway will be necessary to accommodate Boeing 747 freight liners, the largest freight jets in America. American Beef Packers plans to fly out most of its products.

Frank R. West, president and chairman of the board of the multi-million dollar firm, said earlier in the week Perryton was prominent among Panhan-dle cities being considered for the plant and set forth the re-quirements.

"We have also taken close looks at Stratford, Amarillo and Dumas," he said.

West said he and his associates traveled about 1,500 miles through the Texas Panhandle and decided the Perry-ton area could support a packing plant larger than any being operated by American Beef.

The largest beef packing plant in the world is reputed to be the Missouri Beef Packers plant at Friona, which employs 225 persons and processes more than 400,000 head of cattle yearly.

"Our plant will be comparable to the one at Friona," West said.

"The plant will include fabricating and breaking facilities, and will be designed to ship both fabricated beef and dressed carcasses."

The county commissioners voted during the meeting to employ First Southwest Com-pany of Dallas, a bonding firm,

BEAUTY RECIPES FOR THE BLENDER
If you are a "do-it-yourself-er," here are some beauty skin preparations you may want to try using the blender. These ingredients should be available at the local grocery and drug store.

GOLDEN BATH OIL
1 pint safflower oil
2 tablespoons liquid Cocoa-nut Oil or shampoo
A few drops of your favorite perfume (Optional)

Blend at high speed for thirty seconds The speed will break down the oil into zillions of divided oil atoms, and will allow it to freely dissolve in the bath water. Use 1-2 table-spoons to a tub full of water.

FACIAL GRAINS
2 Fresh egg yolks
2 tablespoons wheat germ oil
1 tablespoon white vinegar
A few drops of your favorite perfume

1 cup safflower oil
Cover and turn motor on low speed. Immediately uncover and add in a steady stream; 1 cup safflower oil or 1 cup se-same oil or a combination of both. Cover and continue to blend until thick and golden. Wonderful for cleansing face or applying before a shower or bath. Can also be used as a suntan oil.

CLEANSING GRAINS
In the dry blender container put:

1/3 cup fine castile soap, cut in pieces
1/3 cup white corn meal
1/3 cup almond meal

Blend on high speed until ingredients are finely ground and thoroughly mixed, stopping the motor if necessary and pushing the mixture down into the blades.

To use it, place about a ta-blespoonful at a time in the palm of the hand and mix it with enough water to form a paste. With the finger tips, gently scrub the face, particu-larly any oily areas. Rinse with warm water and apply an as-tringent to close the pores. For oily skin, use daily; otherwise use three times a week.

HONEY HAND LOTION

This honey of a hand lotion may look a bit sticky as you read the directions but when you see it you will find that it is not. Honey and glycerine are natural moisturizers and a few drops of this lotion rubbed into the hands each time after you wash them will keep them beautiful.

Into container put:
3/4 cup rose water
1/4 cup glycerine
1/4 teaspoon lemon juice
Blend at high speed for thirty seconds.

FAIRVIEW NEWS

FAIRVIEW, July 14, 1969 - Mr. and Mrs. R.A. McMean of Amarillo and Mr. and Mrs. Bud DuBois of Tulla were here Saturday to visit Mrs. Edell DuBois at Caprock Hospital. Mrs. DuBois is still a patient at the hospital but is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Watts and Scotty of Lubbock spent the weekend here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T.L. Perry.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyndal Carey, Carolyn and Mike of Claude came Friday night and stayed until Sunday afternoon here with her mother, Mrs. Roy Meek and his mother, Mrs. John Carey.

Our heartfelt sympathy is with the family of Walter Sims, who died Saturday morning in a Plainview Hospital. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon in the First Baptist Church in Floydada. We at one time lived neighbors to Mr. and Mrs. Sims at Center.

Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. W.B. Wilson and Mrs. Bill Tye were Mr. and Mrs. A.S. Mize. Later in the day, Mrs. Albert Randolph and her daughter, Mrs. Kenneth Penrod and daughters Lisa and Janie of Lubbock, who were here to attend the funeral of Walter Sims, stopped by to visit Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Tye.

Mrs. Ray Cook went to Wellington Friday to meet her grandson, James Whitfield, who came home with friends that had been to Dothan, Ala. to visit James' parents. Mrs. Cook and James spent Friday night in Wellington with her sister, Mrs. Velma Cates and family and returned home Saturday. James will be here a month with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Cook.

Thursday was the birthday of Mrs. Kay Crabtree, and helping her celebrate were Mrs. Kate Crabtree and J.C. Bullard. Mrs. Kate Crabtree prepared supper and took it to the Kay Crabtree home.

Mrs. Cecil Payne visited Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Doyle Jackson and Brenda and the new baby daughter.

Mrs. J.L. Day and Wayne visited Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. C.H. Wise and Charles Denton.

Friday Mrs. Gracie Riggles and Mrs. G.C. Bailey spent the day in the C.H. Wise home.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Finley and Milton of Plainview visited Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Beulah Jernigan.

Monday morning, Mrs. Kate Crabtree, Mrs. Mary Stanley and Mrs. O.F. Cummings met at the home of Mrs. Beulah following morning had a tour of the island seeing the 16th Century Cathedral. We had a free day for leisure while there, then left the 13th for Las Palmas, Canary Island, and from there to Santa Cruz arriving at Casablanca, Morocco where we had a fascinating tour of bazaars and the casbah. Sunday in an air-conditioned bus with driver and guide we departed for the Imperial City of Marrakech where we visited palaces, mosques and the magnificent Saadian Tombs, all remnants of a time of greatness.

Following breakfast the next morning we began a drive into the High Atlas Mountains, through North African villages where life has not changed. We arrived at the Hotel Palais Jermal in Fez, with its views of the old Imperial City of Fez, founded in 808 A.D. Our sightseeing trip included the sea of Robat, the jewel of Morocco and the Rabat Hilton. After leaving Robat we journeyed to Casablanca, Tangiers, Zurich and Istanbul where we toured the city, seeing the Blue Mosque, Santa Sophia and the Topkapi Palace with its celebrated jewel collection.

We went to Athens, then Vienna where I had the opportunity to attend "Lohengrin" at the Stadt Opera. We toured the historical and romantic city on the Danube, watched a practice session of the famed Lippizaner at the Spanish Riding School. We left Vienna arriving in Rome some four hours later on June 27th, and started for home June 28th, arriving in Dallas that night from the most fabulous trip I have ever taken.

Summer Holiday

(J. H. Barnard) ... to Dallas where I met by a daughter, Barbara and ...

are lost in this flight and after breakfast aboard the plane, 32 of us in the group, departed a bit weary and sleepy at Lisbon, Portugal. Trying to look in all directions and not wanting to miss anything we were driven by motor coach through this fascinating capital city and on to the famous resort beach, Estoril, on the Atlantic Ocean.

Luggage for 32 people was sorted and reloaded but checked very little by officials, as was true throughout our journey. Entry forms given us earlier must be properly filled out and carried with our passport and presented at the proper time by arriving persons to Portuguese Immigration officials. As Helen Poe said, "Every arrival and every departure, entails hurrying to the airport so each can sit and wait awhile."

Needing sleep and rest we found the Hotel Palacio on the beach of Estoril a fabulous place. We were ahead of the summer tourist trade so all the hotels, we found, could conveniently give us excellent service. I wasn't prepared, however, for four-course luncheons and four-course dinners daily. I am also an indifferent "eater of fish" and so am unable to appreciate the infinite variety of about 40 meals, less airline ones. I decided it almost broke the hearts of waiters when I declined the fish course. They generally brought it anyway, assuring the person it was most delicious and most special. I never saw a glass of iced tea for three weeks. How I longed for some on days we had a morning sightseeing tour by bus.

I found native guides certainly patriotic and intelligent citizens of their respective countries and people, male and female, meeting us at different airports or bus terminals, were diligent in acquainting us with the history and treasured architecture of their homeland, pointing out places, items of interest and beauty and assisting the group in their shopping.

In Lisbon we took an excursion to the picturesque fishing village of Nazare, and the famed miracle shrine of Fatima. We arrived at Funchal, Madeira Island June 10 and the

Three Floydada Teachers Attend Region Workshop

Three Floydada teachers participated in a week-long workshop last week (July 7-11) at the Region XVII Education Service Center in Lubbock.

Gladys Peck, who teaches at A. B. Duncan Elementary School, participated in a Basic Graphics Workshop while Mrs. Carol Bell and Norma Feuerbacher, both teachers in Floydada Junior High, took a course in Overhead Projection.

Both workshops were conducted from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Monday through Friday in the Media Division of the ESC, located in the lower level of Citizens Motor Bank, 1401 Ave. K.

The Overhead Projection Workshop was taught by C. W. Edwards, audio-visual coordinator at Monterey High School, Lubbock. The twelve participants from throughout the 20-county Region XVII were taught the fundamentals of handmade, thermal (heat transfer), colorlift, and diazo transparencies, in addition to techniques of using the overhead projector. Some time was also spent using polarized light to obtain motion effects on overhead transparencies.

The Basic Education Graphics Workshop was taught by David Cobb, audio-visual coordinator at Estacado High School, Lubbock. The twelve teachers involved in this workshop developed skills in dry mounting, lettering techniques, layout and composition.

Gerald Rogers, director of media and technology for the Region XVII ESC, said that no stipend or college credit was offered; Participants made application for the workshops during the spring semester.

The instructors, facilities, and all materials were furnished by the ESC. Materials created in the workshop become the property of the participants.

Farm Subsidies Not A Handout

Urban Congressmen are revolting against farm subsidy programs.

At the heart of the controversy are subsidies for cotton, wheat and feed grains.

Opponents ask why spending grows with farmers declining in numbers, production on the increase and farm income comparatively low.

Bipartisan opponents to continued subsidies have gained reinforcements from reapportionment with its inroads on House membership from rural districts.

Whatever the future holds for major farm subsidy programs, it will be dictated in 1969 by House members from the cities.

In a complex system, the government pays farmers to plant within a certain maximum acreage or to withhold acreage from production entirely. In several programs, the government also agrees to give the farmer a loan for his crop if he cannot obtain an adequate market price. By thus holding back crops from the market, the government hopes the market price will rise.

If commodity prices rise and the farmer wishes to sell his crop, he can take it back from the government and repay the loan from the money he realizes in the sale. If the market price remains low, he can forfeit his crop to the government which then stores it, distributes it free to the poor through one of the government food programs or sells it abroad.

This system is basically fair. Chief objection to the subsidy program seems to be the fact that so much of the subsidies go to large farmers.

Rep. Paul Findley (R-Ill.), who has sponsored a subsidy limitation plan since 1965, charged on the House floor that the top 15 per cent of the farmers, with sales in excess of $20,000 per year, received almost one half of the government payments each year.

Antagonism towards so much going to so few lies in a false understanding of what the government farm program is all about. It is pictured as a benevolent Santa Claus which passes out favors to farmers much like Santa Claus distributes treats at Christmas.

Farm subsidies are NOT charity! They are not relief! They are not bonuses passed to people in distress, victims of a calamity!

The farm program is designed to correct inequities in our economy. In theory, all segments of our economy should have a fair price for their efforts. Business and labor are able to demand a fair price for their contribution to the economy. Since the farmer cannot, the subsidy is nothing more than an effort to reimburse the farmer for his shortage as the economic pie is cut.

It's nothing more than a legitimate business transaction. It is nothing like welfare payments. It's an attempt at equalization. The government reimburses the farmer for his loss in the way of a fair price. This being the case, it shouldn't make too much difference whether the farmer is a small or large operator.

Such congressmen as Findley have another reason for opposing the subsidy programs... they want to see an end to all government price support and production control programs in agriculture. A free and competitive market, they say, where supply and demand would determine market price would earn the farmer a better income.

Horseradish!

This is the most assinine observation yet. The last time the farmer operated in a "free and competitive market where supply and demand determined market price" he was receiving 50 per cent of parity! And as a result the typical farmer lived like peons... in unpainted rural shacks without running water. It even affected his social class. The farmer of that era was considered second rate socially, economically and politically. Who wants a return to that era?

The coalition of convenience between urban Democrats and Republicans spells deep trouble for farm programs in 1969. The subsidy limitation plan passed the House by a 70-vote margin in 1968. The margin had widened to 83 votes in 1969. All House members from districts in New York City, Detroit and Philadelphia voted for a subsidy ceiling..
