County Cotton Estimate 95,000 Bales

From 78,000 Planted Acres

The future for cotton production looks very good at this time with an official estimate of 95,000 bales to be harvested in Floyd County this year.

AREA REPORT

The August 1 estimate of High Plains cotton production for 1969 shows good prospects for a harvest of 2,049,000 bales - the first 2 million bale crop since 1965 and a big 27 percent increase over the 1,662,300 bales grown in 1968 by the same 25 counties.

Estimates are compiled jointly each year on the first of each month, August 1 through December 1, by the Lubbock Cotton Exchange and Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. They are based on crop conditions at the moment and on the assumption that weather for the remainder of the season will be "reasonably favorable."

Cotton production from the 23 counties surrounding Lubbock and represented by PCG averaged almost 2.2 million bales from 1961 through 1965, then dropped off drastically with the advent of the current cotton program. In 1966, 1967 and 1968, because of a huge surplus of cotton in the nation's warehouses, federal payments were made to cotton producers for idling up to 35 percent of their cotton allotments.

Under these conditions production from the 23 High Plains counties declined to a three year average of just under 1.4 million bales.

This year two new counties, Martin and Midland, petitioned and were accepted for membership in Plains Cotton Growers, bringing to 25 the number of counties included in production figures.

The 25 counties, with the surplus gone and no government incentive offered for diverting land out of cotton production, in 1969 planted 2,152,000 acres to cotton, about 95 percent of their combined allotments and almost 390,000 more acres than were planted in 1968.

Estimated "standing acres" on August 1 this year total 1,997,000, compared to last year's harvested acreage of only 1,608,400. About 155,000 acres, or 7.2 percent of the acreage planted, was completely lost this year to foul weather. Considerably more than that amount was hailed, washed or blown out earlier in the season, but much of it was replanted to faster maturing cotton varieties.

Also expected to help raise the area's production total to near 2 million bales in 1969 is an increase in yield per acre. Average yield in 1968, according to the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, came to 496 pounds per acre across the 25 counties. And if the first estimate of production for this year proves correct, yields will be up to about 515 pounds per acre.

A little over 63 percent of High Plains cotton acreage is irrigated, with the remainder dependent on rainfall.

A 2 million bale crop, including cash receipts from lint and seed plus government price support payments, would bring around $400 million into the High Plains economy. Total income from the 1968 crop was estimated at around $320 million.

All except six of the 25 counties are expected to show increased production over last year. Four of those were the production estimate is down are counties with high percentages of dryland, or non-irrigated, cotton. Moisture conditions in these counties do not appear as good this year as last.

The other two counties are Parmer and Deaf Smith in the northern part of PCG territory. Cotton acreage and production in these two counties has been trending downward for the past several years as farmers are shifting to more grain sorghum, corn, alfalfa, sugar beets, and other crops which require a shorter growing season and also fit in well with that area's mushrooming cattle feeding industry.

Youth Give Views On Conference

Charlotte - "Five Floydada high school students represented Floydada at the annual Texas Youth Conference July 31-August 3 at St. Edward's University in Austin.

Seniors Sherry Campbell, Brenda Mathis, Larry Scott and juniors Charlotte Decker and Sam Henry attended the conference with 725 other teenagers from over the state.

The general purpose of the youth conference is to help make youth part of the solution instead of part of the problem. This year's theme was "Involvement".

During the conference, the group attended dialogues on Youth - Business and Industry, and Youth - Drugs and Medicine. Before leaving Floydada the local delegates interviewed several local people to familiarize themselves on these subjects. We would like to express our gratitude to these people for their help and concern."

Sherry - "I enjoyed the conference very much and was grateful for the opportunity to attend it. We all learned quite a great deal and hope to help the teen-agers in Floydada through our experiences."

Larry - "I learned many new ideas, especially those concerning police officers, narcotics, and drugs. We had very good dialogues and the best people in the state to speak to us. All in all it was a great experience in learning while having fun."

Brenda - "Sunday was the highlight of the entire conference for me. At 9:00 a.m. religious services were held in the House of Representatives Chamber in the Capitol. At 10:00 a.m. Governor Preston Smith gave a reception for all delegates in the rotunda of the capitol building. Later at the installation and awards assembly he spoke to the youth of Texas and encouraged us to get involved and do something about situations that were unsatisfactory to us. With his en-

Two Floydada Teams In State Baseball Competition

Floydada has two baseball teams playing in state competition this week. The Floyd County Co-op team left here Monday to play in the Junior League at Conroe, Texas.

The Freshman Giants play Monahan's at 8 o'clock tonight in their first round of state competition. Coach Freddie Morren said it would be single elimination and if they continue to win, they'll be playing through Saturday night.

The Giants breezed through to the regional championship at Matador last week by beating Abernathy 6-5 and Matador 15-6. Floydada's Red Sox lost one game in the regional and came in third. The Giants played an extra inning to defeat Abernathy, Joe Womack was the winning pitcher and Donzell Minner hit a homerun.

COTTON FORECAST looks encouraging for Floyd after looking over our crops, it is easy to see how much more than double last year's cotton production.

In the northern part of the county are excellent. Alton Higginbotham and I were up in the Lockney area where they are building the 20,000 head cattle. There is much activity there...we'll be up there pictures later on.

It have given two bits for the grain sorghum crop the road from my home after that last big hail. How has survived, revived, and now looks like 5,000 acres.

PRETTY CONCERNED around the Hesperian when I hear comes in and says "cancel my subscription" I am in one instance...that's when a man returns from Vietnam. We have for years sent Hesperian free of charge to our service boys in Vietnam, and it's a happy occasion when they safely home, comes by the office and appreciate receiving the Hesperian while in Vietnam. I change my address."

Visiting with Nicky Henry, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Henry, Monday, who has just finished a year's service in Vietnam. He goes on from here to Fort Devens, Mass. to round out four years of service.

Happy glad to be home, to again be with his wife and children in February this year.

has been with the army security agency, and for a while about 14 miles from the DMZ line. He had one call when the enemy was shelling his area and he was in operations.

Nicky, as I have asked the other returning Vietnam veterans, "how should we end or win the war over there?" He just didn't know, but it looked like we would win over there fighting.

Floydada Woman Dies From Motorcycle Wreck

Mrs. Carson McKaskle, 41 year old Floydada woman, died about 11 o'clock yesterday morning in the intensive care unit of Methodist Hospital in Lubbock. She sustained injuries in a Saturday afternoon motorcycle wreck some seven miles south of Ralls on Highway 207 about 6:40.

Friends said the woman and her husband, an employee of Lighthouse Electric, were believed enroute to Post to visit relatives at the time of the mishap. McKaskle, traveling some 100 yards ahead of his wife, on his own motorcycle, saw the accident occur from his rear view mirror.

McKaskle told friends his wife was driving fairly close to the edge of the highway and evidently one of the tires slipped off the edge of the pavement causing her to lose control.

The motorcycle flipped, throwing her into the air. She sustained severe head and shoulder injuries. McKaskle related his wife was not breathing when he reached her side but she responded after he administered first aid.

Floyd Folk Vote For Water

County voters really showed their support for the way for water for the county when they voted overwhelmingly in 1968 to 160 for approval of Amendment number 2 in the Constitutional Amendment issues Tuesday.

The county's vote also showed their support for the way for water for the county when they voted overwhelmingly in 1968 to 160 for approval of Amendment number 2 in the Constitutional Amendment issues Tuesday.

"Restless Ones" To Be At First Baptist

"Restless Ones," a contemporary film which dares to tell the truth and comes up with an answer, not an easy answer, but an answer from beyond us." This answer will satisfy, challenge and inspire young and old alike and will appeal to churchgoers and non-churchgoers. The Christian message comes through in the midst of a realistic teen-age situation, cleanly and without cloying. Swift-moving plot episodes highlight the opportunities facing the church.

Screen writer James Collier has skillfully brought into focus the contemporary plight of both teen-agers and parents. A sensitive script, produced by World Wide Pictures under the direction of Dick Ross, has resulted in a "break-through" in "The Restless Ones."

Terry Killed In Wreck

Mrs. Terry was killed in a community ambulance. He said she was thrown from the car which overturned several times before coming to rest in a grain field about 10 yards from the pavement. Highway patrolman Pat Thompson of Abernathy said Mrs. Terry was headed north on FM 400 when she apparently lost control of the vehicle. Mrs. Terry was born in Floydada and lived most of her life in Floydada. (Staff Photo)

Only one-third of the qualified voters turned out to vote. Floyd voters approved all of the nine amendments except three, six and nine.

Results of the nine amendment votes are as follows:

Floydada folk responded with almost $1400 and extra gifts for the Giants who play at Monahan's and the Floyd County Co-op team playing in Conroe baseball competition this week.

"On behalf of the Floydada Baseball Assn., I want to express our sincere thanks to everyone who helped send these boys to state playoffs, and I'm sure I join this entire community in expressing our best wishes to the teams to win," was a statement that came at press time from Carl Armstrong, president of the Floydada baseball program.

Smith Gets Medal

LONG BINH, VIETNAM (AHTNC) - Sergeant First Class James H. Smith, son of Mrs. Jissie Smith, Matador, Tex., received the Army Commendation Medal June 22 while serving with the 62nd Transportation Company near Long Binh, Vietnam.

Sgt. I.C. Smith earned the award for meritorious service during his last assignment with Company C, 2nd Battalion, 4th Student Training Brigade at Ft. Ord, Calif., as an instructor.

The sergeant, whose wife, Frances, lives at 1785 Yosemite St., Seaside, Calif., entered the Army in 1952.

Knits are the runner-up in popularity. This is attributed to all the benefits they have to offer, comfort, style, a complete range of textures, patterns and fibers, and many tagged machine washable and dryable with no ironing. Knits of cotton, wool, synthetic fibers, or blends will be appearing in all fashion categories for both girls and boys.

Colors are toned down, muted, soft, and earthy - a return to the tapestry of Renaissance colors. The emphasis is on rust, terra firmabrown, berry, dusty pink, navy, hunter green, deep red, black, and gold.

Patterns are very much in the picture. They are big bold plaids with special interest in the classic tartans. Some are even combined with tweed or herringbone. Other highlights include the challis print, American motifs, peasant patterns, tiny Victorian flower patterns, and argyles.

I would like to say thank you to all of you for your cards, notes, flowers, and visits during our recent bout with the "bug." Your kindnesses were most appreciated.

time today the amendment had failed by a small look at Lubbock with its big population and only thousand people turned out to vote... only a third of voted in Floyd county.

West Texas people should have thought enough of to take time to vote... but they just didn't. Such apathy is certainly discouraging. you just can't win. Like they say, you never miss until the well runs dry.

OUR people often wonder, "well what is the solution doing?" Actually the board members have on several prospects... last week we tried our locate a garment factory here, but later learned the locate in a town closer to Dallas. our contacts don't materialize... the odds are 200 to one with other Texas cities when we get a prospect.

 There is one need that some of our citizens may help us with at this time. We need a listing of property that is available for industry. If you have property that you think would be desirable for industry, I suggest you give the listing to Alton Higginbotham who is on the "site location" committee.

Mail or give Alton the overall size of the property, location, and price.
 Another need of the industrial foundation is a bona fide list of all the people who would like to work in a factory here that paid a minimum of $1.60 per hour. We may have to make a town survey on this.

Site Needed By SCS For Recharge Well

Jon J. LaBaume, District Conservationist for Floyd County, Soil Conservation Service announced this week that their agency, and the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service, and the Agricultural Research Service are looking for sites to install a recharge well. The recharge well must be in the stratified, consolidated area of Floyd County. The practice can be 70% cost shared through the ASCS office. The cost share is offered only for modifications of irrigation wells necessary to convert them to combination-irrigation recharge wells. This practice is limited to new wells located in close proximity to playa lakes which have a drainage area of not less than 200 acres and a surface area of not less than 25 acres. Annual or perennial vegetative cover should be established in the lakebed. The more sloping land around the lake should be established to adapted perennial vegetation. The well is to be designed and located to permit rainfall and irrigation runoff to be injected into an underground formation. The well shall be located also in such a matter that collection and inlet facilities can be installed to permit water to flow from lake to well by gravity. The well pump base and power unit base will be above known high water elevation of lake and the well must fit into existing irrigation system on the farm.

The rate of recharge can not exceed 85% of well pumping capacity. It shall be the responsibility of the well driller and landowner to comply with any State laws governing the installation and operation of recharge wells.

The Soil Conservation Service has technical responsibility for this practice. The well must be equipped, developed, maintained, and operated in accordance with the provisions of Standards and Specifications for recharge wells of Soil Conservation Service.

Since our story last week on the Brown Recluse we have had a number of spiders brought to us, safely sealed in a jar thank goodness. These have been given to the proper authorities to find out just what kind they are. I think it would be wise for parents to warn their children of the danger of ANY spider, because there are allergies that may arise from being bitten by a non-poisonous species.

State Entomologists Say Spider Is "Hunting" Spiders

What was believed to be a Brown Recluse spider found in a Floydada home last week was none other than a hunting spider, a member of the Clubionidae family, according to reports from state entomologists.

The hunting spider is usually found in foliage or on the ground, possibly wandering inside the home if an opening is found. The spider does bite however, and has the ability to inject venom into its prey. The bite, or venom, causing a burning or stinging sensation, but evidently is not fatal.

The County Agent's office has been besieged with telephone calls and have also received several species of spiders, as has the Hesperian, since the story broke last week of a possible Brown Recluse being found in Floydada. These species have also been sent to state entomologists for identification.

It has also been learned at the Hesperian that a Floydada man was recently bitten by a brown colored spider, species unknown. Gerald Lackey and his family were visiting in Vernon when he was bitten under the arm early one morning before rising from bed. He killed the spider and thought no more of the incident until reaching home the same day when he noticed welts appearing on his body and the swelling of his arm.

Lackey sought medical aid and at first said he was treated for an allergy reaction from the bite. The following day when his condition seemed no better he was started on medication for a spider bite and started improving.

We wish them luck and hope they win their four games needed to take State honors.

Lee Tinney Burned Plane Crash

Tinney, 33 year old farmer, who received severe burns and is also under treatment for contact of chemical papathion, caused when the plane he was piloting crashed and burned about 6:30 p.m. Sunday, July 27. The mishap occurred on the Donald Wooten farm about six miles south of Dougherty. Tinney, a commercial pilot, was making a turn in the plane when it crashed. He was crop spraying at the time.

Tinney was trapped in the upside down burning plane but managed to free himself and get out. It was reported that FFA investigators theorized that the seat belts holding Tinney, burned through since the belts were still buckled after the crash.

Tinney related he rolled himself in the dirt putting out the fire in his clothing just as Noble Neff, David Ellison and Marvin Tidwell drove up. He insisted they take him to a nearby lake where he bathed, thus cleansing himself of the chemical spray. Physicians told the family the bathing possibly saved his life.

He was taken on to Crosbyton Hospital, then transferred the following day to Lubbock where he was placed in intensive care. Members of the family said Tinney was holding his own but had a long way to go yet. His face escaped being burned but parts of his body and arms will require skin grafting at a later date.

Tinney farms for G. B. Morris in the Antelope Community. He is the nephew of Joy Ward of Floydada and a cousin of Richard and Robert Ward of Dougherty.

He has farmed much of his life, and he worked at Baird Bishops for four years.

Local Men Get Electric Shock

Calvin Poteet and Gene Edmonds were released yesterday from Caprock Hospital where they had been under treatment since Monday from electrical shock and burns. Both men are reported to be steadily improving from their narrow escape with death.

The mishap occurred about 5:10 Monday afternoon on the Calvin Poteet place. Levis Gilliland and his employee, Edmonds, were removing a motor from an irrigation well with the assistance of Poteet.

Mrs. Poteet said Gilliland was operating the hoist on the truck and Edmonds and Poteet were guiding the motor out of the well when the hoist truck struck a 7200 voltage line of Lighthouse Electric. She said the motor evidently was swinging on the cable of the hoist when it hit the line, first giving shock to Edmonds, then when Poteet went to his aid, he touched the motor and also received a shock. Both men were knocked unconscious, Mrs. Poteet said.

They were taken to Caprock Hospital by Moore-Rose ambulances. Edmonds sustained burns in places over his body and face and Poteet's hands were slightly burned and spots on his face where the electric shock went out.

WHERE'S TH' FIRE?

Ken Weaver
Floydada Volunteer Fire Department

The month of July was very busy for the Floydada Volunteer Fire Department. Election of officers, Fire School, and fires kept the Volunteers active.

Election of officers was held on the first Monday of July. Officers elected are as follows: Fire Chief Carroll Sims retained his office for the coming year. Secretary Donnie Galloway was also voted back. Other officers elected were Assistant Chief - Company #1, Tom Pearson, Captain - Company #2, Darryl Pierce.

The week of July 20th through July 25th, Fire Chief Carroll Sims and Secretary Donnie Galloway attended the annual Firemen's School at Texas A&M University. They reported that they both learned a great deal about the usage of new and modern equipment.

In the month of July there were ten (10) fires reported to the Volunteers. One fire was a house fire on the Orba Miller property in the Sandhill Community. July was a very dry month and most of the other fires resulted from trash being burned and grass catching fire. Floydada residents are urged to be extra careful when burning trash or weeds when the conditions are so dry. There were two (2) other fires to residents. One a garage fire and the other a fire in the bathroom.

The Volunteers are all hoping the City and County will soon come to an agreement over fire protection. We enjoy serving all the people and hope to continue doing this.

STATE RESULTS

Texas voters, demonstrating a taxpayers' revolt, apparently rejected the $9 billion Texas Water Plan Tuesday. But expressing compassion for the unfortunate, citizens gave thundering approval to a raise in the welfare ceiling.

The electorate turned down most issues it believed cost it money except those which would help people in trouble.

Winning approval by a remarkably strong margin was a $20 million increase in the welfare ceiling.

The Texas Water Plan, the most ambitious water project in the nation, led by a thin margin in early tabulations, then began to fall behind.

The $9 billion water plan - $3.5 billion in state bonds and $5.5 billion in federal funds - called for eventual repayment of the state's share by those who would use the water.

Some Musings Of A Minister

The heavens declare the glory of God; and the firmament sheweth his handywork." (Ps. 19:1;2) These words from the Book of God have been uttered, reiterated and paraphrased repeatedly by individuals of the crews of our nation's space team. To some of us it is indeed comforting that with only a few notable exceptions this seems to be the attitude of so many of our people. To we who believe that the Bible is indeed the inspired message of God to man it is cause for rejoicing to hear so many give at least lip service to such important matters. We are grateful that none of our astronauts have echoed the cynical declaration of the Russian Cosmonaut that he hadn't seen God out there. Our spacemen have not professed to see God either, but they have given glowing descriptions of workmanship which they have attributed to him. Some have bemoaned our having exhausted our store of adjectives in describing sporting and political events until they are inadequate to express these greater glories. Among friends of like persuasion and those not openly hostile to our faith it is easy to explain the Russian's boast by saying "That's right. And he didn't hear the sun come up or smell it setting behind him every ninety minutes or so." But in the more "cultured" and "intelligent" circles of our friends it isn't so easy. The argument is still valid though because it is only the sixth sense of faith that perceives the things of the Spirit. "But the natural man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God for they are foolishness unto him: neither can he know them, because they are spiritually discerned." (1 Cor. 2:14) The ringing beatitude of Jesus was "Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God." (Mat. 5:8) . . . That clinches the argument for the believer. But it also takes us a step farther and adds the ingredient of moral purity as a prerequisite for viewing Divinity. That last thought makes us uneasy. We think of glaring injustices, of soaring crime rates and widespread disregard for the standards of the same God written in the same Book. Then we fear that words spoken long ago about another nation and another generation might be applicable to our own. . . The words were those of Jesus and are as follows: "This people draweth nigh unto me with their mouth, and honoureth me with their lips; but their heart is far from me." (Mat. 15:8).

Five Floydada High School students attended the Texas Youth Conference in Austin July 31 - August 3. They were Sherrie Campbell, Charlotte Decker, Sam Henry, Brenda Mathis, and Larry Scott. Theme of the 1969 Conference was "Involvement."
 The conference was held on the campus of St. Edwards University with a reception and the final awards assembly held in the State Capitol. Eight hundred youth from across the state attended.
 A new aspect of the conference this year was the dialogues with youth program. Three hundred volunteer adults, experts in their respective fields, offered themselves as resource persons to discuss problems and solutions in the areas of business and industry; the Church; law enforcement; and drugs and medicine. During the dialogues, delegates to the conference formed small discussion groups which included one resource person.
 Attorney-General Waggoner Carr originated the program in 1963 and today the Texas Youth Conference has had "seven years of helping youth be a part of the solution rather than part of the problem."

SOUTH PLAINS NEWS by Mrs. Murray Julian

SOUTH PLAINS, August 4 - Many families from our community have been gone the past week on vacations.

Services at the South Plains Baptist Church only numbered 57 at morning, with 24 at night, due to so many members being gone. Visitors in the morning included Mr. and Mrs. James Norrell (she was formerly Beth Calahan) from Canyon, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Upton and Shanna also of Canyon and Luy Vasquez from Fort Worth, who was speaker. We were glad to see Mrs. Carl Huckaby present, she has not been well this summer, and Mrs. Ernest Newton, who has also had a lot of family illness.

Warren Powell, Kelvin Cummings and Jerry Calahan plan to leave this Tuesday evening for Corpus Christi, where they will be gone about a week on a fun trip before school starts. Kelvin is home this summer from Texas A & M, Jerry from WT at Canyon, and Warren was graduated from Floydada last spring. The boys plan to spend time on Padre Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McClure spent most of last week in Snyder with her sister, Mrs. J.E. Woodson, a brother, the A.G. Newmans, and her mother, Mrs. R.W. Newman. Sunday they had visitors, their daughter, Mrs. Jean McClure, D'Ann, Donna and Boyd, from Plainview, D'Ann accompanied Mrs. McClure to services at the Baptist Church.

The annual Fortenberry reunion will be held Saturday, August 9, in the American Legion Hall in Lockney, with the reunion to be starting at 10:30 a.m. Each family is to bring a dish to be shared at the noon hour. Several families will go from this area and Cedar Hill.

Wily Miscalculations

in various states concerning the question of Senator Kennedy's future. Many laboriously the ifs about support of Kennedy. Most of all week, Kennedy's point. Kennedy is a family which has a one-star image, so to speak. In a sense, of a royal and brutal assassinations and emotional and sentimental fact that the late John Kennedy was a Catholic (the first President) is an advantage—his is a togetherness, even sainthood, hero-worship many of that faith, for ard, is often not realized. Experts estimate that millions of youngsters will be spared the dirty, health-hazard habit as a result of the ending of cigarette commercials by the end of this year, or by September of 1970 at the latest—which the companies have agreed to do. Ads will continue to be placed in newspapers and magazines but the difference in this form of advertising is that those who get the message must be old enough to read. Also, publications can be more easily kept out of children's reach, and ads therein cannot offer the glamor appeal or influence of live theatrical musicals on television.

Beauty Contests

and it is to be admired and encouraged. However, overemphasis tends to become unrealistic; what we should admire and encourage in our young girls is a good attitude toward studies, life and home making, dependability, good habits, appropriate modesty and sincerity. Unfortunately, American girls have the reputation all over the world of being (too often) spoiled or domineering while being unable to competently run a home. Overemphasis on physical beauty and neglect of more realistic values and training is one of the causes.

scribbled them down. I'm afraid though the Post Office is on the wrong track. Too many people make an "n" like an "r" or an "m" like a "w" for any machine to handle. The answer is the typewriter, with magnetic ribbons, like the magnetic ink used on bank checks. Machines can read that, as anybody who has ever overdrawn can tell you. However, this would involve teaching everybody in the United States to type, along with furnishing everybody with a typewriter and some magnetic ribbon. The job would be so big, requiring the manufacture of 200 million typewriters and the services of a million or more typing instructors, that it wouldn't be long before the entire nation would be dominated by the Typewriter and Magnetic Ribbon Complex, unless we could talk the Military-Industrial Complex into beating part of their ABM's into typewriters and their carbon paper into magnetic ribbon. Meanwhile, if this letter, because the post office can't read the address I've written on it, reaches the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal instead of the Floyd County Hesperian, you know who the joke will be on. Yours faithfully, J. A.

David Battey Jr. Life Member Of Hereford Assoc.

KANSAS CITY, MO. (Special) David S. Battey, Jr., Route 1, Box 168, Floydada, has recently become a Life Member of the American Polled Hereford Association, according to an announcement from the beef breed association's national headquarters in Kansas City, Mo. Some 5,000 cattlemen have joined the American Polled Herefords in the U. S. The naturally hornless Polled Herefords are the only major breed of livestock to originate in the United States, starting with 11 head in 1901.

Today Polled Herefords are the fastest growing major beef breed in the world. Some 3-million Polled Herefords have been registered in the U. S. since 1901; one-third of the total in the past 5 years, illustrating the remarkable growth and universal acceptance of the breed.

American Polled Herefords have been exported to all the beef producing countries of the world. Recent exportation shipments of 3,000 Polled Herefords by jet air-cargo planes to Chile in January, 1969, and a 3,500-head shipment of Polled Herefords by sea to Chile in February, 1968, are the largest exportations to any country in history of any breed of beef cattle from the United States.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor, Aren't you glad Paul Revere didn't wait nine days to warn our forefathers that the British were coming? We might have still been 13 Original Colonies. Also, the night of the "Boston Tea Party" was "no fun party." Seems like, there is always things happening in the Boston vicinity.

Charley Berry (Editor's note) The following excerpts of a letter from Sgt. William Gaither Jr. who is serving in Vietnam to his aunt, Mrs. W.L. Finley are printed herewith for their interest of life in Vietnam.

Dear Auntie, I finally got your letter today. Sure was glad to get it. I finished a week school here yesterday. I got a nail in my hand and it is swelled up. The doctor gave me some pills to combat infection. The bad thing about it is it is my trigger finger.

We haven't had a rocket or anything come into base camp since I got here, but they got 4 rockets a couple of days before I got here. We have a good alarm system here and the bunkers are good. We have only had one man killed in our unit in 3 years. That is a pretty good record so I guess my chances are pretty good. Anyway, I only have 50 weeks to go and that is not so much. I think I will go to Texas for duty when I leave here. They say that almost everyone gets to go where they want when they finish here.

You know over here the war is inhumane. Our troops seldom take prisoners and neither do the Communists. We kill everybody and so do they. I heard the gunner on one tank talk about killing 17 people at one time. He said maybe he had killed over one hundred he didn't know. We have one infantry unit here that people say cut off the right ear of everybody they kill and put it on a chain. I hear others cut off noses and keep the bone. Maybe that is not true I just don't know. Now there are six guys in my house. We have it pretty plush up side those guys out in the field they live, eat and sleep in and 3 feet of mud. I sure don't like this war but I will do my job as best I can. I have a chance to go back to Germany from here but I guess I will go back to the states. Guess I had better go shine my shoes. I'll drop you a line in a day or so.

I REMEMBER, I REMEMBER

A. T. Swepston

The first time I ever saw A. T. Swepston was in the year of 1903 probably, when he drove up in a deep-throated Kissel touring car with a car full of important looking men. I can't to save me remember where he "drove up to" at the time I am talking about - not Matador, not Floydada - but definitely somewhere in this part of the world. Swepston's passengers could well have been Murdo MacKenzie and some of the Matador Land & Cattle Company's Scotch stockholders. But that is only conjecture. If I am correct in thinking the year was 1909 it was the year the Quanah, Acme & Pacific built into Motley County - into Roaring Springs and out to Russellville six miles on west where the Matadors used loading pens to ship cattle by railway. Cattle drives were getting more and more difficult as the country filled up with small ranch people and stock farmers. That year "Sweep" hauled 700 tons of cottonseed cake for the Matadors, using a truck that was a monster for those days. This was the first time, I have been told, the Matadors used cottonseed cake to feed their cattle during the winter. This was an innovation. The rule had been, since the Civil War at least, to turn a cow loose after the fall roundup to make it through the winter and if she survived, hopefully to be found the next spring with a calf by her side. The cattle were rugged and most of them did survive the winters, despite the rugged climate and terrain. The Matadors found Swepston such a useful man, as mechanical power grew more and more into use, that they built him a home adjacent to the headquarters house when he married. Mrs. Swepston (Beulah), whose passing was noted a short time ago in this newspaper, was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Lewis. The Swepstons lived in the house on the headquarters grounds for several years. Their first three children were born there. Swepston was born in a two-story log cabin in deep east Texas. He had it "pretty tough" in his youth. How he made it west and finally to work for the Matadors is a story in itself. Homer Steen

SCRIPTURE LESSON

"No man hath seen God at any time. If we love one another, God dwelleth in us, and his love is perfected in us. Hereby know we that we dwell in him, and he in us, because he hath given us of his Spirit." This verse from I John is part of this Sunday's Christian Science Lesson - Sermon on "Spirit." The services begin at 11 a.m. at 1st Church of Christ, Scientist, 2202 Broadway, Lubbock. A related passage from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy states: "Every trial of our faith in God makes us stronger. The more difficult seems the material condition to be overcome by Spirit, the stronger should be our faith and the purer our love."

FLOYD DATA Mr. and Mrs. Jim Green and family, former Floydada residents who now reside near Bakersfield, Calif., are here visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Green and other relatives.

FLOYD DATA Mrs. Kathryn Dodd of Fort Worth visited last week in Floydada with her mother, Mrs. Bob Reeves and Mr. Reeves.

Marlyn Mason accepts her salary from her boss Elvis Presley, but from the eyes it's obvious that she'd be glad to him for nothing! It's the new romantic MGM's "The Trouble With Girls." She and Edward Andrews co-star, with Vanda and Joyce Van Patten in guest-star roles. Entertainment-packed film set against ground of a traveling tent show in the Roubidoux. Showing at the Capada Sunday and Monday.

You And Your Health

All of us look a certain way, act a certain way, behave a certain way, but, all of these features are one way, as seen by others, another, as seen by ourselves. This mental image, of which we have talked before, sets and limits our goals, achievements, and success. If we have confidence, and no doubt about our knowledge, we'll usually pass an exam with ease; if we are full of doubt, self-conscious and feel awkward, no matter how much we have studied, a conviction that we will fail will lead us to do so. Where does this fit into our health program? Well, you all might have realized that there are "success prone personalities," the "lucky type, as we sometimes call these people. There are those that always fail; those always happy, or unhappy; and last, but not least, we might have always seen how one of our neighbor families always seems to be in good health, while the other is always burdened with expensive doctor's bills. As Maxwell Maltz states in his book "psychocybernetics" (and be sure to look this up, and learn what it means, it's not as difficult as it looks at first), there are health and disease prone personalities, which is also corroborated by the experience of physicians practicing psychosomatic-keep that Encyclopedia at hand - and industrial medicine. As the author states, in the same book, these phenomena, known since a long time, although not always well understood, are now better understandable under the light thrown on them by the new knowledge gained through what he calls "self image psychology." Many of us have used and recommended what we call positive thinking, but, probably often wondered why it "works" so well in some cases and seems to be ineffective in others. We often use a million rationalizations to explain this, but, we also often find these explanations contradictory, and cannot come to a satisfactory answer. This new trend of psychology, throws new light on this "power of positive thinking". It has determined that, unless this technique is accompanied by an appropriate "self image", by a conviction of ourselves being that which we want to be, we won't succeed because there is no way of succeeding at something, while we remain inwardly convinced that - however hard we try we are going to fail anyhow. If we do not acknowledge our inborn "success mechanism", and if we don't operate in that direction, we are bound to never reach the goals we have set ahead of us. In this we compare our own mechanism to that of a computer in which our "automatic guidance system" leads us to achieving our purpose, which is either: success or failure, health or disease. If we constantly visualize ourselves as weak sickish people, we will unconsciously strive to live up to this standard, because any different attitude would clash with the original "self image". Therefore, returning to our typical patients, with complaints of tiredness, sleeplessness or lack of "go", we will often find that they persist in living habits that will only lead to a continuing of the previously mentioned conditions. These people, convinced of their frailness and worthlessness "refuse" to be healthy, because this is not their deeprooted image of themselves. The main clue to an improvement of self image, is to "experience something". A theoretical description of love and care, will never give a child, what one minute of motherly tenderness, which he experiences vividly, can do. A description of well being is never as vivid as that sudden feeling of "being alive", just a few minutes after a cooling thunderstorm has started on a hot and muggy day. Any human being, exposed to sympathetic other humans, that will give him the chance of experiencing how it feels to be accepted just as you are, in the same category as someone else that you admire, will profit enormously from this, and anyone that gives someone else this chance is, unknowingly, putting his grain of sand to the construction of a better future. P.S. I want to thank you for all the kind notes and words of encouragement and praise I have received in the last months. See you next week. Dr. Eva Lee Snead
