AN unsigned letter I received from someone postmarked Colorado Springs, Colorado in which the statement is made that there are more kids popping pills, marijuana and shooting speed, in Floydada, than any of the surrounding towns.

When I received this letter because the writer wouldn't sign his name. The P.S. on the letter said, "Mr. Tooley, if you print this, it won't surprise me. After all, we couldn't find out the truth about their sweet little faces. They might have to admit they were wrong." I'm not printing the letter, but I do have the guts to sign it.

When I'll have to classify Doyle Walls as a pretty loaded person. He called and reported a wild turkey was shot near his place. I asked "how do you do a wild turkey?" Doyle replied, "because I chased it."

When I've served many years on the state water board, and as chairman of the board, the group met in a friendly atmosphere and began to plan steps in getting the water problem solved.

When I believe we're on the right trail in getting this water problem solved.

When I like to report that the fishing is good now at White Lake. Brad, Keith and I caught 35 crappie over there this morning. My friend Harry Morckel gave us a good time fishing. . . and Harry knows his fishing.

When I can't have lost in the funny car drag races at Sunday, because he built both cars that were racing. . . Edwick's Camaro and Candies-Hughes Plymouth. Kelly out of three tries. The Plymouth had a 426 Chrysler engine. The Camaro a 427 Chevrolet engine.

Burk Re Elected School Board President

Newell Burk was re-elected president of the Floydada school board Monday night. Other officers re-elected were Thomas Warren vice-president and Howard Gregory secretary. Gregory and Louis Pyle were elected to the board after canvassing of the votes. Both will serve another three year term.

Second Baseball Sign Up Tuesday Need Adult Help

Over 100 local youths signed up for the Floydada Youth Baseball program last Thursday, according to Baseball Association president Carl Armstrong. Another sign-up is scheduled for Tuesday, April 21, at 7 p.m. in the First National Bank Community Room. Boys who missed last week's sign-up are invited to be at the Tuesday night meeting.

Armstrong told a Hesperian reporter that the baseball program urgently needs adult leaders - umpires, groundskeepers, and concession-stand operators, as well as P.A. system help and scorekeepers.

Larry Beedy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Garvin Beedy of Route 9, Lockney, and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Frizzell of Floydada and Mr. and Mrs. George Beedy of Plainview, was wounded Sunday, April 5 in Vietnam by a mine explosion.

Lockney Chamber Names Outstanding Man And Woman

About 350 persons attended the annual Lockney Chamber of Commerce Banquet, held last Thursday night in the Lockney Elementary School Cafeteria. Named as the community's outstanding citizens were J. D. Copeland and Mrs. Charles L. Record, Col. Grayson D. Tate of Alexandria, Va., was featured speaker for the event.

Second In Tennis

It all started back in the fall as Floydada's Whirlwinds won district, bi-district and lost to the eventual state champions, Iowa Park. This has been the big year in Floydada High School athletics.

Now with the spring sports coming into final focus, Floydada stays on top with district wins in . . . and next year may even be better as very few of the athletes are graduating. This is also evident in the fact that the Jr. High teams won district first in track, tennis, basketball, and football.

Trackless Varsity Wins District Track Championship

For the first time in several years, the Whirlwinds came home from Olton with the district track crown, giving them two major sports championships this school year. Overcoming the fact that they have no track to work on, the Whirlwinds scored 123 points to outdistance second place Lockney by some 40 points. The first and second place winners will qualify for regional.

Freshmen Win District Track Championship

Winning seven first places out of a possible 15, the Whirlwind freshmen easily won the district track championship in Olton Saturday. First place winners were Bill Hinkle, chinning; Jay Jones, 880-yard dash; Mark Vinson, high hurdles; Rex Rose, 100-yard dash; Bill Norman, 50-yard dash; the 440 yard relay team (Norman, Rick Fuller, Jerry Herron, and Rose), and the 880-yard relay team (Norman, Fuller, Vinson, and Rose).

Tennis Team Second In District

Wendy Tooley led Floydada to second place in District 3AA tennis as she won the girls' singles title. She defeated Jan Massie of Friona 6-0, 6-1; then Nancy Carmickle of Abernathy in the finals 6-1, 6-0. Wendy will now advance to regional play in Lubbock April 24. This is the second year Wendy has gone to regional.

HERE'S A REPORT from Jake Webb, president of the Floydada Country Club... the new driving range is finished on the golf course. So, if you're having trouble hitting the long ball... you may want a little driving range practice... John and C. B.

JUST WHEN I had got used to the little spoke heels on women's shoes, here come the designers with a big awkward looking heel that looks like good building blocks for the kiddies.

However, the more I contemplate the new style, the more it seems possible that it would be more comfortable than the little spoke things.

Oh, well, who wants to look at feet anyway?

DO PARENTS GIVE TOO MUCH?

Nobody needs to be told that many teenagers are in trouble. Instead of building a stronger, better society, they seem intent on tearing it apart. This, in turn, has caused agonized parents to ask, "where have we failed?"

Now comes a noted pediatrician and practicing physician, Dr. Edwin F. Patton, who declares that parents of teenage and youthful failures have been leaping to the wrong conclusions. The problem, he says, is not because parents have done too little for their children, but that they have done too much.

"Most parents," Dr. Patton recently told Parade Magazine, "feel that if they provide their children with an easy life in a comfortable home, food, health care, indulgent discipline, casual exposure to basic education, and a world of fun, they have fulfilled all the requirements."

"The present vogue is for parents to make life as soft as possible for their young, to spare them from onerous experiences of all kinds, to remove all obstacles from their paths." And that, in Dr. Patton's opinion, is the worst thing that parents can do. The reason, he said, is that in so doing, parents deprive children of "the very things most essential to the formation of character and the development of the ability to cope. Kids who grow up living the life of a free-loader expect it to continue permanently. So it can be a rude shock for them to realize that instead of privileges and provisions, they have duties, obligations, and responsibilities."

The answer, Dr. Patton insists, is that children must be made to learn that life is a ruthlessly competitive barter in which the individual has to deliver things if he wants things in exchange; that what a person gets out of life is pretty much measured by the only true and enduring satisfaction comes through constructive accomplishment.

Dr. Patton has a lot going to back him up. The youth who accidentally killed themselves in New York recently were making their home in a $250,000.00 house. If Dr. Patton is right, the reason for their demise is not because they were given too little, but because they were given too much. -- US Press Assn.

IMPOSSIBLE DREAM PURSUED BY A NUTTY NEW YORKER - By Art Buchwald.

WASHINGTON - I was in New York the other day and took a ride with a friend of mine in a taxi. When we got out of the cab my friend said to the driver, "Thank you for the ride. You did a superb job of driving."

The taxi driver was stunned for a second. Then he said: "Are you a wise guy or something?"

"No, my dear man, and I'm not putting you on. I admire the way you keep your cool in heavy traffic."

"Yeah," the driver said and drove off.

"What was that all about?" I asked.

"I am trying to bring love back to New York," he said. "I believe it's the only thing that can save the city."

"How can one man save New York?"

"It's not one man, I believe I have made that taxi driver's day. Suppose he has 20 fares. He's going to be nice to those 20 fares because someone was nice to him. Those fares in turn will be kinder to their employes or shopkeepers or waiters or even their own families. They in turn will be nicer to other people. Eventually the good will could spread to at least 1,000 people. Now that isn't bad, is it?"

"But you're depending on that taxi driver to pass your good will to others."

"I'm not depending on it," my friend said. "I'm aware that the system isn't foolproof. I might deal with 10 different people today. If, out of 10, I can make three happy, then eventually I can indirectly influence the attitudes of 3,000 more."

"It sounds good on paper," I admitted, "but I'm not sure it works in practice."

"Nothing is lost if it doesn't. It didn't take any of my time to tell that man he was doing a good job. He neither received a larger tip nor a smaller tip. If it fell on deaf ears, so what? Tomorrow there will be another taxi driver whom I can try to make happy."

"You're some kind of nut," I said.

"That shows you how cynical you may have become. I have made a study of this. The thing that seems to be lacking, besides money of course, for our postal employes is that no one tells people who work for the post office what a good job they're doing."

"But they're not doing a good job."

"They're not doing a good job because they feel no one cares if they do or not. Why shouldn't someone say a kind word to them?"

We were walking past a structure in the process of being built and passed five workmen eating their lunch. My friend stopped. "That's a magnificent job you men have done. It must be difficult and dangerous work."

The five men eyes my friend suspiciously.

"When will it be finished?"

"June," a man grunted.

"Ah! That really is impressive. You must all be very proud."

We walked away. I said to him, "I haven't seen anyone like you since 'The Man of La Mancha.'"

"When those men digest my words, they will feel better for it. Somehow the city will benefit from their happiness."

"But you can't do this all alone!" I protested. "You're just one man."

"The most important thing is not to get discouraged. Making people in the city become kind again is not an easy job, but if I can enlist other people in my campaign..."

"You just winked at a very plain-looking woman," I said.

"Yes, I know," he replied, "And if she's a school teacher, her class will be in for a fantastic day."

GO HOME AND GROW UP - (The following editorial was written by Judge Phillip B. Graham, Denver, Colorado, and reprinted from the Bartlett Bulldog produced by Bartlett High School, Bartlett, Texas.)

"Always we hear the plaintive cry of the teenager, 'What can we do?... Where can we go?... The answer is... Go Home!'

"Hang the storm windows, shovel the walk, wash the car, learn to cook, scrub some floors, repair the sink, build a boat, get a job."

"Help the minister, priest, or rabbi, the Red Cross, the Salvation Army, visit the sick, assist the poor, study your lessons. And when you are through - and not too tired, read a book."

"Your parents do not owe you entertainment. Your city or village does not owe you a living. You owe the world something. You owe it your time and energy and your talents so that no one will be at war, in poverty, or sick, or lonely again."

"In plain simple words - GROW UP, quit being a cry baby. Get out of your dream world and develop a backbone, not a wishbone, and start acting like a man or a lady."

"You are supposed to be mature enough to accept some of the responsibilities your parents have carried for years. They have nursed, protected, appealed, begged, excused, tolerated and denied themselves needed comforts so that you could have every benefit. You have no right to expect them to bow to every whim and fancy just because your selfish ego, instead of common sense, dominates your life, personality, thinking, requests, and demands."

"In Heaven's name GROW UP and GO HOME."

LLOYD DAVIS, a member of the Texas Industrial Commission, spoke at Rotary yesterday. Glad to hear that Texas was No. 1 last year in obtaining new industry, 901 new industries in one year. California has gone back to second place. Wish Floydada could help Texas keep that rating!

HOME

Proper ventilation and lighting can do wonders for your kitchen safety and your morale. Install a fan ventilation system to remove grease, heat and cooking odors. It should be located as near as possible to the stove.

The fan should exhaust to the outside through the wall or roof, and must be equipped with a built-in shutter to prevent any backdrafts or any bugs from entering the house when the fan is not in use.

Good lighting is more important in the kitchen than possibly any other room in the home. Proper lighting can do away with fatigue and cut kitchen accidents to almost nothing.

Both natural and artificial light should give the kitchen good overall illumination. Additional lights are needed at work areas.

Avoid glare in the kitchen from exposed bulbs and highly polished materials. If sunlight streams into your kitchen window and into your eyes, it will cause you to become tired much sooner than you would otherwise. Use curtains, blinds or an exterior overhang at the window to prevent this glare.

If you are building a new home, the best advice in the world is not to cut too many corners in the kitchen. The kitchen is where the average housewife spends a good deal of her time. It should be an attractive room with as good equipment as she can afford.

CREDIT CARD THEFTS

Washington-A wave of credit card thefts has added to the problems of Washington's downtown shopping district. Prudent use of the stolen cards have forced many merchants to go on a cash-only basis.

Measles Shots Scheduled May 7

May 7 is the date set for measles vaccination for children ages 1-10 in the Floydada area. Floydada Lion's Club president Tom Snead announced today that the local Lions are sponsoring the free immunization shots, aimed at eradication of rubella, or three-day measles, also known as German measles.

Local doctors and school nurses will administer the shots, to be given at both Floydada elementary schools. They will be assisted by the county Migrant Health Project staff. Darrell W. Morris, regional field representative for the Texas Department of Health, will supervise the operation.

Dr. Jack Jordan, county health officer, called for 100 percent participation of all children ages 1-10 in the Floydada area. Rubella, or German measles, is a major cause of stillbirth, miscarriage, and birth defects, and a major purpose of the immunization program is to protect pregnant women from being infected by the disease through their young children.

Dr. Jordan also emphasized that even though parents may think their children have had rubella (three-day measles, German measles), unless they are absolutely positive, they should still have them vaccinated.

The state is furnishing a portion of the vaccine, and although the vaccinations are free, officials would like a contribution from everyone whose child is immunized. Although the shots are to be given at the schools, participation is not compulsory, and each child must have written parental permission before he can receive the vaccine.

Vaccinations will be given in Lockney on the following day.

Among other sage utterings, baseball great Satchel Paige once said "Never look back, somethin may be gainin on you." And that folks bit of advice might well be taken, literally, by High Plains cotton farmers as they plan for the 1970 crop.

Following two years when markets were sluggish at best for the longer, stronger cotton from newer varieties bred for the High Plains area, some farmers are inclined to look backward to the varieties that made the most money for them in years gone by. But many will find those old gray mares "ain't what they used to be."

As Dr. Levon Ray, head of cotton research at the Texas A&M Research and Extension Center at Lubbock, pointed out recently, "Many High Plains fields now have disease organisms to an extent unheard of 10 or 15 years ago, and some of the older varieties that have little or no resistance to these diseases simply won't make the yields they once made."

Ray was chiefly referring to verticillium and fusarium wilt along with seedling diseases that have become much more widespread and much more intense on the High Plains over the past 10 or 15 years. Resistance to these diseases has been bred into many of the varieties released in the late 1950's and the 1960's, Ray said, while such resistance is almost totally absent from some of the varieties which made such bumper crops a decade or more ago.

He notes also that the newer varieties have yield potentials equal to or above the old timers, plus longer and strong fibers that command higher physical prices whether the cotton is sold in the market or placed in the government loan program.

So, like Satchel Paige, Ray's advice to farmers is to look forward, not backward.

Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. is emphasizing the necessity for maximizing net income from cotton lint sales on the High Plains.

"With cotton production costs on the rise and with an economy-minded Administration and an urban-oriented Congress placing strong downward pressure on government price supports," he says, "the need for utilizing all known technology to increase efficiency and to obtain the highest possible physical prices is greater than ever before."

His remarks were triggered by the release of cotton production guidelines for each county by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The guidelines stress the advantages in cost and quality control from proper land preparation, fertilization, irrigation, selection of varieties and planting seed, insect and weed control, harvesting and ginning.

They are prepared on a general basis by Fred Elliott, Extension Cotton Specialist with TAES at College Station, then adapted to varying conditions from farm to farm by county agricultural agents and their County Program Building Committees. Johnson believes that by following Extension Service recommendations many producers can increase yields, reduce production costs and take advantage of marketing opportunities heretofore overlooked.

"If farmers in this area will make maximum use of the technological know-how available from TAES and other sources, cotton can and will make a substantially greater contribution to the Plains economy," he said, "and producers themselves will be in a better position to survive what appears to be an inevitable reduction in help from Washington."

The drafting of a new government farm program in Washington is moving forward with all the alacrity of a crippled snail. Activity is great. Hundreds of farm representatives, congressional leaders and USDA officials are literally working day and night. But progress is small.

At stake is the economic lives of the nation's cotton, wheat and feed grain farmers and the economic well being of millions in towns and cities who depend on them.

To get enacted into law a new farm program must (1) have producer support broad enough that producer-oriented leaders of the House and Senate Agriculture Committees will give their endorsement, (2) show enough promise of accomplishing Administration goals for agriculture that the Administration will give solid support and (3) be acceptable to urban, economy minded Congress.

And considering the diverse views of the principals involved—producers, the Administration and Congress—the complexity of arriving at a program to meet all three criteria is not surprising. Obviously nothing proposed, to date, will do the job.

Producers, of necessity, are placing maximum emphasis on income protection. With excess productive capacity and market prices far below production costs, they have no choice if they are to continue feeding and clothing the nation.

The Administration, through Agriculture Secretary Hardin, is espousing a "set-aside" program that would sharply alter the focus of farm programs. From the income-supporting, production control basis of the past, the Secretary would go to a freer, more market oriented approach. Hardin would allow "open-end" production of all commodities after producers had agreed to set aside a percentage of their productive land. He would provide price-support loans and direct price support payments as under present program. But the Secretary seems to want unbridled authority to set the dollar amount of loans and payments, without statutory minimums, thus depriving producers of the income protection they have under existing law and which they consider an indispensable feature of a new law.

Perhaps for this reason more than any other the Administration has had little if any luck in selling the set-aside approach to either producers or to the House Agriculture Committee.

Cotton producers also fear that the Secretary's program for cotton, offering no incentive to produce cotton for export, would not provide adequate production to meet market demands. And there are other phases of the Secretary's proposal about which producers are less than enthusiastic.

But there are areas with room for compromise, and it now appears compromise will be an absolute necessity if a farm program is to be passed this year.

As Congressman Bob Poage, Chairman of the House Agriculture Committee put it, "If each one of us were to write out what we would like to have and sit back and say that we would take this or nothing, that is, of course, exactly what we would get—nothing."

Poage said some time ago that he hoped to report a farm bill from his committee by Easter. But that time schedule now seems almost impossible to meet. He pointed out in a letter to Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., that "We are still meeting every day. We are still trying to get some program on which there can be at least some degree of unanimity."

It is obvious that no one is trying harder than Mr. Poage to resolve some of the issues that stand in the way of a farm program. And he has the cooperation of PCG, the Texas Association of Cotton Producer Organizations and many other commodity groups.

Even so, passage of a farm law to govern production of cotton, wheat and feed grains after the present program expires at the end of this year is a tough task.

It won't come easy and it won't come soon.

ASCS NEWSLETTER

WHEAT CERTIFICATION DATE EXTENDED. The final disposition and reporting date for Wheat and Barley has been changed from May 1 to May 15.

As reported in our previous newsletter you may continue to graze wheat or small grain on Diverted Acreage through May 14th.

May 15th is also the date to report rye and oats which will be left for cover on diverted acreages.

WORKMANLIKE MANNER: For crops to be eligible for price support payments, they must be cared for in a workmanlike manner with the expectation of producing a crop.

COVER CROPS ON DIVERTED ACREAGES: Sweet and Forage Sorghums and crosses are not eligible cover for diverted acres for 1970. Grasses, includes proper watering.

It appears that more producers are planting their crops only for the government payments and not for the purpose of producing a crop.

CROSS COMPLIANCE PROVISIONS: If you participate in the Wheat or Feed Grain program on one farm, you must not permit another farm in which you have an interest to exceed the allotment or base.

The eighth-grade Breezers placed fifth in the meet with a total of 12 points. Point finishers were John Cagle, second in pole vault; Danny Bradford, second in the 440-yard dash; Ruben DeLeon, third in discus; Steve Lloyd, fourth in the 60-yard high hurdles; Marc Smitherman, fourth in high jump; Rance Young, fourth in chinning, and the 380-yard relay team (Bradford, Cagle, Danny Quisenberry, and Dagan Pierce), fourth.

The Junior High teams travel to Memphis tomorrow to compete in the Memphis Junior High Invitational meet.

Floydada won the Junior High division as Mike Hatley won the boys' singles and Danny Bradford and Jim Parker won the boys' doubles. Cary Brown and Vicki Foster won second in girls' doubles. Carol Cozby was defeated in the semifinals.

"All in all, the tennis teams have done a real fine job, and the tennis program is gaining in popularity," Coach Don Ford told a Hesperian reporter Tuesday.

Automobile Accident Record High in 1969

The economic cost of automobile accidents during 1969 in the United States soared to a staggering $16,582,000,000, the Insurance Information Institute reported.

Contributing factors in the record amount—a rise of $2.3 billion over the 1968 figure—were increases in traffic fatalities, injuries and accidents.

The grim traffic statistics show 56,400 persons killed, 5,010,000 persons injured, and 22,025,000 accidents.

The tragic toll of death, injury and destruction on the nation's streets and highways represents an economic loss averaging $328 for every family in the country, the Institute noted.

Electric Tractor Ends Pollution

A new concept in home grounds care has been developed by General Electric Company. It is the first commercially available totally electric compact tractor and is called Elec-Trak, a trademark of GE.

Dr. Arthur M. Bueche, GE vice president, Research and Development, stated that the tractor incorporates the results of recent fundamental discoveries in solid-state physics, semiconductor science and electronic circuitry.

"Our off-spring—the Elec-Trak tractor—seems sure to be a good citizen in terms of helping the fight against pollution, and itself a father of what I am certain will be a long line of related future products," he stated.

The tractor utilizes the most advanced technology in lawn and garden attachments and also serves as an outdoor power source. It has a 36-volt power pack system consisting of six long-life batteries.

The batteries may be re-charged with any grounded 115-volt, 15 ampere outlet. The mower has "instant-off" control. Less than 3 seconds after the switch is turned, the blades stop and the drive power is shut down.

RAMSEY CALLS FOR OIL IMPORT LIMIT

Railroad Commissioner Ben Ramsey said in Austin that a stable federal policy on limitation of foreign oil imports is necessary for the orderly development and regulation of the petroleum industry in Texas. Ramsey is seeking a second full elective term on the three-member Railroad Commission in the primaries May 2.

A consistent federal policy of restrictive imports would not only be beneficial to the domestic industry but also would give the Railroad Commission a more firm basis to determine its policies, Ramsey said. "This is not just an oil industry problem," Ramsey added. The state government relies heavily on taxes from the petroleum businesses for support of its programs, including services, schools and universities. "Additionally," Ramsey said, "Some 210,400 employees in Texas alone with a $1.6 billion a year payroll are directly dependent on the petroleum industry."

SOUTH PLAINS NEWS by Mrs. Murray Julian

SOUTH PLAINS, April 3 - Eddie Turner, who has been song leader at the South Plains Baptist Church, was honored Sunday night after church services with a fellowship.

Refreshments of cakes, cookies and cokes and coffee were served. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Turner of Hale Center, and his sisters, Vicki, Kathy and Terri, and Charles Willard, senior at Wayland College in Plainview, were visitors at evening services and helped share in the fellowship which was also a birthday celebration for Eddie. This was Eddie's last song service with the church here as he goes to the First Baptist Church at Groom to be youth director and song leader.

Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Cummings and children went to Crowell Friday morning to attend the funeral of Mrs. Cummings uncle, Hack Norman of Crowell. Services were held in the First Methodist Church. He was the youngest brother of Earl Norman, and also a brother of Bill Norman of Floydada. The Cummings family visited in Crowell later with Rev. and Mrs. John Gillispie and Kimberley, who formerly lived in South Plains.

We are sorry to hear that Larry Beedy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Garvin Beedy, is reported to be in a hospital in Vietnam with wounds in his right arm and left shoulder following a mine explosion. The family received the news by telegram, and it stated that the accident occurred about a week ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Land of Clarendon spent Sunday here with her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Arby Mulder. Mrs. Mulder kept her granddaughter, Candy Moody of Lubbock all last week, and Thursday her mother, Mrs. Billy Moody came to get her. Mrs. Moody had been in the hospital in Lubbock taking medical tests.

Several men from here went fishing Friday through Sunday. They are Button Beedy, Jim Roberts and Buck Ford. They caught a good bunch of fish at Lake Hubbard, near Breckenridge.

Mrs. Buck Ford kept her niece, little Kay Owens, over the weekend as her sister, Mrs. Robert Owens of Lockney went back to Plains, Kansas and Leota, Kansas, near Kansas City.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Marble Wednesday night were Mr. and Mrs. R.L. Holland of Lockney, parents of Mrs. Marble; her aunt, Mrs. W.A. Adams of Howell, Tex.; Don's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H.L. Marble, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hartman. All enjoyed a fish fry.

Many from here attended services for Orbie B. Beard Wednesday afternoon. Rev. W.L. Trice and Fred Beard officiating. Services were held at the First Baptist Church in Floydada. We offer our sympathy to Mrs. Beard and family in their sorrow. Mrs. Ruby Higginbotham is a niece, and Fred Fortenberry is a nephew of Beard. Both reside in our community. Beard had been in ill health for many years.

Mrs. Ruby Higginbotham spent Tuesday in Lubbock at a workshop for teachers aides.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fortenberry went to Amarillo Wednesday to be with her brother, John McCain, whose wife passed away Tuesday at 1 p.m. at Northwest Texas Hospital. Services were held at the Colonial Chapel of Schooler - Gordon Funeral Home in Amarillo Thursday morning. Graveside services were held in Silverton. Rev. W.L. Trice, South Plains Baptist Church, went to Amarillo for the services. We offer our sympathy to all the family.

The mother of Mrs. Robin Fortenberry, Mrs. T.J. Gill of Lockney, had surgery at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock last week, and is recuperating now at the home of Mrs. Fortenberry. She is doing remarkably well from major surgery, despite her age of 81.

Tuesday night Mrs. Don Marble and Donette went to Plainview to the Unger Memorial Library where they heard an interesting program by Dr. J.L. Bishop, professor of Religion at Wayland College. He spoke on "Early Baptists in Texas".

Mr. and Mrs. G.A. McAda and Kim visited here with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fortenberry as they were returning home

Thursday night from Amarillo and Silverton.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McClure went to Plainview Tuesday to share in the birthday celebration of their granddaughter, D'Ann McClure, who was fourteen years old April 7.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Higginbotham are residing in Lubbock at this time, and will probably be situated there for the coming two months.

Hobby Club was dismissed Wednesday due to the funerals of Mrs. John McCain in Amarillo and Orbie Beard in Floydada. No time has been set for another meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Roberts flew to Houston last Monday to get their car which was shipped there from Germany, and then drove home Tuesday. They also received their household goods from Germany this week, and are now able to get settled in their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Hutson of Sunray were dinner guests here with Mrs. Hutson's sister, Mrs. Fred Fortenberry and family Sunday. They had spent several days in Lockney with Mrs. N.C. McCain, their mother. Sunray received a wet 12 inch snowfall in the storm up that way a week ago Friday night.

GA Girls of the Baptist Church including Pam and Cam Probasco, Donette Marble, Cari Roberts, Teresa Stewart, Kathryn Powell, Lori Young, and a visitor, Lisa West, enjoyed a Junior GA Houseparty Friday night held at the First Baptist Church in Floydada. They took cots and sleeping bags and had supper and breakfast there. Speaker for the occasion was an International Student from Nigeria, Africa, who told the girls about his country. Sponsors of the girls and those who went with them were Mrs. Jim Roberts and Mrs. Kendis Julian.

Many from our community attended the annual meeting of the Lighthouse Electric Cooperative, Inc., which was held Saturday at the Floydada High School. Among the recipients of door prizes from here were Mrs. Alvin Nichols and Mrs. John Key West.

The names of Cindy and Penny Mulder were left off the guest list for the little Sunbeams who were at the party at the Baptist Church Friday night of last week, due to an oversight. They are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Mulder.

Mrs. Tillman Powell was brought to the Caprock Hospital last Monday in Floydada and was in the hospital all week. She was able to come to the musical program Friday afternoon at the school house, where her daughter Donna, who was in the recital. She underwent surgery this Monday morning, and we hope that she gets along well.

Since the death count of 2,254 in 1960, Texas has gained steadily each year. The Sergeant stated, "If the number of deaths continue to increase as they have since 1960 by 1978 they will have increased 100 per cent."

Fun Tastic Is Big Success

We of Floydada Junior High want to say a great big "thank you" to everyone that played any part, small or large, in helping us get new cyclorama curtains for our stage. A goal of $575.00 was reached

"I REMEMBER, I REMEMBER"

Dependable Winds

In the year of 1909 I wrote a story in The Lockney Beacon about two young men who used a north westerly wind as their driving power to sail to Floydada in record time in a one-horse buggy.

They used a blanket as a sail and guided their one-horse craft with ropes tied to the end of the buggy shafts (shaves to regular people). At this late date I can't recall the names but I do remember the circumstance quite well. In those days we had good stiff winds you could depend upon.

In the same period in time-possibly two years later a run-away rail car edged out of the Santa Fe yards in Plainview under high wind power and 28 miles later came to a stop in the railroad's Floydada yards when the winds began to die down late in the evening. Somewhere in the dusty files of the old Panhandle & Santa Fe Railway Company this must be on record, I would guess.

Thickened Gravy Recipe
It was my belief for several years that the art of making thickened gravy originated in Hamilton County. But Enos E. Brown, who was Texas Utilities Company's first manager here in 1915 insisted that the art was originated in Erath County, a county nearby to Hamilton. He declared that our Hamilton County people borrowed the recipe from them. Since he out-argued me I have ever since given Erath County credit for first place and Hamilton second. I deem it my duty here and now to give the recipe for making this dish. I am told we'll never have those kind of days again - days when necessary will drive one to ways of living in line with what his pocketbook will afford. But just in case it should.....

In that event you won't have plause and sang happy birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carmel Eastham, Sr., from Temple, arrived Sunday to spend several days with their son and his family, Carmel Eastham, Jr., Mr. Eastham, Sr. has recently retired from 47 years service with the Santa Fe Railroad and he and Mrs. Eastham were honored with parties in Clovis and Amarillo last week. They plan to return to Temple today (Thursday).

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Ring were recent visitors in Dallas where they visited their daughter, Mrs. J. W. Womack. They also visited Mr. Ring's sister, Mrs. Gladys Hayley, in Denton.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Cantrell and Jay from Lubbock visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Pernaell over the weekend.

any certified bacon in the refrigerator nor will you have a 27-cent loaf of bread on the shelf. You will have a slab of salty side meat with buttons on it in the meatbox, and flour in the flour bin or in a sack in the corner.

First off you stir the flour into the grease. The more grease you have in the pan the more flour you stir in. And the hotter the fire the faster you must work to keep it from getting too brown and burning. A cow chip fire gets terrible hot quick and cools off about as fast. A mesquite root fire is just about as hard to manage.

If you have thickened gravy you won't have any boughten stove wood nor natural gas to consider.

Now, as you stir you pour in milk, unless the cow has gone dry in which case you pour in water. Don't pour in too much to make the gravy too thin, don't pour in too little to make the gravy too thick. In either case your company won't like it. In other words, like in everything else you do, you must exercise a certain amount of judgment.

This dish will stick to your ribs pretty good, or at least if it does not, it will keep your stomach from gnawing on your backbone.

FLOYD PHILOSOPHER

Finds Out About New Term, "Ecology"

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm has found out about this new term, ecology, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:

I know that talking about the farm problem these days in the midst of city problems, world problems and planetary pollution is about like trying to get a specialist on-in-grown toenails on the same program with a panel of heart transplant specialists, but according to some articles I've been reading lately in every newspaper that turns up out here on this Johnson grass farm, somebody ought to be paying attention to it.

It's on account of the balance of nature. As all these articles have been pointing out, it is necessary to keep an ecological balance on this earth if we want to keep it tuned up and running right. Every species has its part to play in the total balance of nature. Well now as everybody knows, farmers, who used to constitute 70 per cent of the population, have now dwindled to around 8 per cent and the figure is still going down. This ought to concern people, but in the cry to protect nature's balance have you heard one word said about preserving farmers? You mean to say it isn't as important to keep farmers on earth as it is mountain lions, bald eagles and whooping cranes?

The ecologists are right, we've got to keep nature in balance, no telling the horror otherwise, but some of them ought to get concerned about the disappearing farmer. As you well know, man fooled around and got careless years and years ago and let the dinosaurs become extinct, and everybody knows the world has never been the same since.

I'm warning you, people may think it doesn't make any difference, may even find it impossible to name a single farmer the world couldn't get along without, may claim that losing him is no more important to ecology than throwing one beer can out your car window is to pollution, but you let them all disappear, let this become a farmer-less world, and eventually you'll notice the difference.

If nature didn't have some purpose for farmers, why were they created? You can ask the same question about editors.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

members of the controllers union, the Professional Traffic Controllers Organization, or PATCO. When these three activists from a Baton Rouge air control center were separated by the FAA order, a sick-call slowdown began. Millions of innocent citizens had their Easter holiday upset because of the squabble.

PATCO first began its sick-call intimidation efforts in 1968, calling attention to what members considered bad working conditions, long hours and not enough pay. At that time they began applying rule-book tactics at air control centers which slowed down air traffic so much millions were inconvenienced over a long period.

The F.A.A. raised salaries and began a new training program to relieve shortages. Salaries now range from about $13,000 to $17,000 in less busy centers and from $15,000 to $20,000 in busier centers, some senior controllers often earning over $25,000—considering overtime, weekend and night extra pay. But PATCO is not satisfied.

The basic and fundamental problem is that the traveling public is abused by the union as an intimidation tactic to cause such a squawk and pressure that the F.A.A. will give in. It's the same basic problem involved in the threatened railroad strike, the postal walkout, strikes affecting utilities or trucking, etc. Relatively minor labor disputes are allowed to disrupt the general welfare of the nation.

That the American process of labor-management relations, under government regulation, does not work well enough to prevent millions losing Easter trips because of the transfer of three controllers at Baton Rouge is clear evidence, anew, that the public interest in this field must be better protected. Congress thus far has lacked the spine to face the issue, too many members fearing the reprisal of organized labor at the polls.

The good that might come out of the 1970 postal walkout and the illegal controllers' strike is to firm up public opinion solidly on the basic question, so that enough voters will demand Congress enact President Nixon's proposed new legislation in this field, or something similar to it.

It causes one to be more settled and calm. When calamity does come, Christians have a certain peace of mind from their knowledge of better things to come."

Musical Prodigy Atila Galamb Guest Soloist Here

Atila Galamb, whose tour of U. S. school audiences brings him to Floydada Junior High School today at 2:15 p.m. is a teenage boy who has been thrilling school children, their teachers and parents throughout America with his musical genius.

Son of Joseph Galamb, accordionist and teacher, young Atila has achieved great acclaim for his accomplishments with several instruments.

Born in Hungary, he soon showed extraordinary aptitude for music study. He was only two when he learned to play the drums by listening outside the door during one of his father's classes. Today he plays drums, clarinet, saxophone, accordion, piano, tarogato, organ, guitar and harmonica with equal ease and especially enjoys his newest instrument, the Bohner Melodica.

Atila has appeared on the "Ed Sullivan Show," on TV, at Radio City Music Hall, at the Hollywood Palladium and Hollywood Bowl, and with the Los Angeles Symphony Orchestra. He has traveled and played throughout most of the United States, always keeping up with his school work, in which he is something of a prodigy as well. He is in his second year of college correspondence work, having graduated from high school at age 10 1/2. He passed college entrance examinations with a general average of 86 percent, points higher than national average for high school seniors.

Not content with performing alone, Atila has copyrighted many compositions and made many recordings. He is also a composer. He has recorded his own song "A Lonely Day," on the Atila label, on which he also performs instrumentally. He has scored and directed the music for a film to be released early next year, "Aimless People," produced by Tom McGowan of "Born Free."

VENUS HONORER... The remarkable musical talent displayed by Atila Galamb as a child prodigy shines new heights today as the versatile youth performs on his broad spectrum of instruments ranging from the woodwinds to Melodica and accordion. AL HORNBER, INC., Hicksville, L. I.

COTTON, SOYBEAN GROWERS

Fly on a Planavin barrier between you and this year's weeds

Take advantage of the two-day leeway you get to incorporate Planavin. Planavin chemical weed control barrier flown on. Properly incorporated, Planavin provides an inch-and-a-half chemical barrier within the soil that protects you from weeds and grasses. Aerial application makes good sense. Think you could have another wet spring like last year. You could be rushed. Or, perhaps you have big acreage to treat. So... take to the air. With Planavin's exclusive time bonus you can incorporate up to two days after application. Come in and see us. We'll help you get off the ground this spring. Isn't it time you changed to Planavin?
