The Dog and His Bone

AESOP, the well-known fable teller, started that story about the little dog . . . who went trotting home one day with a nice bone. On the way he saw what looked like a much juicier one in the bright mirror of a water hole . . . but, in grabbing for it, he lost the bone he already had.

- There's a good moral for one and all in this little story. But the educational value of fables must be over-rated. Because this one has been around for 1300 years and people are still risking . . . and often losing . . . some of the good things they have by reaching for something that is more temptingly offered.

- Like some of us here in this community . . . who roam far and wide in a search for "better deals" and thereby seriously undermine the economic structure which supports our own businesses and jobs, our fine schools and churches, and all the other elements of our well-ordered American small town life.

- In this community . . . right now . . . we could be enjoying much greater prosperity, much finer social and civic facilities . . . if we had but kept in our local economic bloodstream all of the money we have put into the upkeep and upbuilding of larger cities in years past.

CHRISTMAS: Just around the corner and there are gifts to get...for the boss...for the family breadwinner...the children...a girlfriend...the children... The relationship has a lot to do with the selection of the gift. If he is your boss, use discretion. He deserves credit for putting up with your personal phone calls on his time... or is it you who should be given credit for putting up with his moods. What ever you do, don't get him an extravagant gift. He'll think your overpaid!

HERE is another good recipe of Marshall Formby's, Texas Chili, using either venison or beef:

- 3 lbs. Venison
 - 6 tablespoons chili powder
 - 3 cloves garlic (minced)
 - 6 tablespoons flour
 - 3 tablespoons chopped suet
 - 2 small onions (chopped)
 - 3 tablespoons salt
 - 6 tablespoons fat
 - 1 quart hot water
- Do not grind the meat, but cut in small chunks. Mix the meat with garlic, flour and chili powder. In a deep pot, melt the suet and fat. Fry the onions until tender, then add meat mixture. Cook for 20 minutes. Then add salt and gradually pour on the one quart of hot water. Then simmer for one hour or UNTIL the meat is tender.
- If you haven't killed a deer this year, just use cheaper cuts of beef for this chili. If beef is used, forget about the suet. If you just have to ruin this good chili by adding beans, then add Mexican-style beans with chili gravy. You can serve this over tamales. It takes 3 cans of tamales for 9 persons. To me, chili is better by itself - no beans, no tamales. Chili makes you strong and keeps you healthy!

GIRLS' don't switch to an electric typewriter unless you just have to. I just found out that an average size person could gain as much as a half-pound a month if she switches from a manual to an electric typewriter. On the manual you use up 87.7 calories an hour and on the electric only 72.9 calories an hour. A university doctor says you will have to change your eating habits to compensate for the fewer calories burned up - or risk getting pleasantly plumper.

SOME holidays bring a little sadness when we realize all our loved ones cannot be with us, but let's be determined to be happy this Christmas; make the most of the blessings that do come to us; look on the bright side of everything. Cheerfulness is not always spontaneous; but bear cultivation. One who can carry a smiling face through a world where there are so many troubled hearts, may unconsciously be a public benefactor; for "the merry heart doth good like a medicine," and not alone to its possessor.

Night Classes On Adjusting Pant Patterns Being Offered

A repeat course in adjusting pants patterns to fit the individual is now being offered in night classes, according to Mrs. A. E. Baker and Mrs. James Bachus, Homemaking teachers. Much interest was shown in the day classes previously conducted and the teachers said a number of the working women had indicated they would be interested in night classes.

The first class has been set for Tuesday, December 8, beginning at 7 o'clock p.m. in the homemaking department at high school.

Teachers asked that persons attending the class bring their pattern and sewing equipment to the first session. They also stressed that the pants pattern must be with darts at the waistline and that the measurement of the pattern at the hips must be the same as the largest hip measurement of the person the pants will be made for.

Subsequent meeting nights will be set at the first class, teachers said.

WEDDING VOWS REPEATED BY MISS COLLINS, DONNIE MYRICK

MR. AND MRS. GENE COLLINS SR.

Mrs. Collins Observe Wedding Anniversary

Gene Collins observed their anniversary on Saturday evening, November 28, between Miss Carolyn Kay Collins and Donnie Myrick in the College Heights Baptist Church in Plainview. Dr. Wayne Blankenship, pastor, performed the double ring ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Obray Lee Collins of Plainview and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clovis Myrick of Lubbock, former Floydada residents. He is the grandson of Mrs. Dena Myrick and Mrs. Dolly Cantrell of Floydada. Dr. and Mrs. Don Collins of Conway, Ark., brother and sister-in-law of the bride, were soloist and organist. A flower entwined archway and candelabra framed the nuptial area which was centered with a white covered kneeling bench. Candles were lighted by Dwayne Myrick, Floydada, brother of the groom, and Robert Moody of Lubbock. The two also served as ushers. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white bridal satin and Chantilly lace fashioned with elbow length sleeves and a portrait neckline edged with seed pearls. The skirt front formed a redingote effect over a wide lace panel and the soft gaiters fell into a full chapel train. A wide satin band crossed in the back and marked the waistline. Her satin bow headpiece, accented by florets of lace trimmed in seed pearls, held a fingertip veil of bridal illusion. She wore lace gauntlets and a white gold cross necklace. She carried a white Bible topped with a bouquet of white Sweetheart roses. Miss Vicki Asher was the bride's attendant. She wore a floor length gown of deep purple and a headpiece fashioned of pink Sweetheart roses. Her bouquet was formed with white Sweetheart roses. Steve Reed served as best man.

Given University Control

Washington. These two discussed the liberalization of social regulations regarding drugs, dress, and dormitory life as well as the academic community's relationship to domestic and political issues of poverty, race, and minority groups in society, and the urban crisis. Even the subject of the Viet Nam War was given some attention by these two who are teaching in the University of Princeton and the University of Nevada at Reno. Dr. Harold Reese, professor of biology at Wayland Baptist College, Plainview, who is a graduate of Texas Tech and of the University of Oregon, was present and spoke regarding the same subjects. He stated that the size of the schools and universities make a difference in freedoms that students have. He also stated that the students have many more freedoms, but that they have had to ask for them. "Universities should not allow themselves to be political battlegrounds," he said, "and there is need of better communication between the different groups on and off the campus. The pressures are great on college campus today, but it must be realized that the students are adults and should be allowed to make some decisions on their own."

VACANT WINDOWS BEING DECORATED

Floydada merchants are in the process of decorating empty store windows in the downtown area. The decorating is the result of a suggestion by Hagood's manager Earl Minter. Hagood's has volunteered the services of a window washer to anyone who wishes to decorate any downtown store window, and they are doing the windows of the old Goen Drug building and the former location of Alma's Gift Shop. Study clubs or other organizations wishing to sponsor the decorating of a window can contact Earl Minter at Hagood's.

The human body is a complicated machine that needs a wide variety of raw materials to make it work efficiently. Vegetables and fruits are stressed on any reducing diet because they give you many of the elements you need.

President Signs New Three-Year Farm Bill

"I REMEMBER, I REMEMBER"

Woes Of A Fire Truck Debt

This spring when the city council of Floydada bought a new fire truck at the behest of the State Insurance Commission, they wrote a check for the delivered price, $26,500. If things get tough like they did once upon a time the city will at least not have a fire truck debt to worry them.

My guess is the council would have continued to use their old fire truck on a make-do basis, since it was operating in a fairly efficient way, but it was outmoded. The state authority, however, ruled the city must get a more efficient machine or the property owners pay a higher rate for fire insurance, out of fairness to the insurance companies.

The council might have had a previous fire truck debt experience of the city in mind, but we doubt it, unless some of the members had been reading ancient history.

In 1928, I remember a conversation I had with Burl Bedford (now deceased brother of Charlie). Business conditions were beginning to look bad, in the industrial centers affairs were going great guns. They were racking up the dough, living high on the hog. But they were breaking the farm people's backs.

The city's debts for water and sewer lines, paving etc. were considerable. Burl had talked with most of the city's creditors though and felt we could expect to make arrangements to keep from being in default on any obligations.

DID GET WORSE

There were no immediate demands that could not be met but the nineteen thirties could bring on need for negotiations with creditors, if matters got worse, Burl thought.

It is a matter of painful history that affairs did get worse. Property owners in ever greater numbers were unable to pay taxes. When the payments got below 70 per cent the city was talking with its creditors. And "made the grade" with every one except one - a company which had sold the city a fire truck in the twenties and held $5,000 in unpaid warrants together with considerable interest.

This was American La France & Foamite Corporation. Nothing would satisfy except the money or a federal court judgment. Not having $5,000 in cash the city had to accept the default judgment. It amounted to the $5,000 plus $1,757 interest.

Trial day was an embarrassing one for members of the council called upon to take the witness stand and admit the city could not pay the bill. The presiding judge allowed the lawyer to "chouse" them unmercifully.

It was more than four years before the city got squared away once more, paid the fire truck judgment, bought a new fire truck for cash (nine bidders, $3,500 cash, for a truck to be mounted on a chassis of 90-horse power 1940 Ford.

Ben P. Ayres, who served the city as attorney during most of this period, ruefully recalls, but with some humor now that it's over, some of the painful incidents of the period at the city hall.

SEWING FAKE FUR

Wild, warm fake fur is the target for big sewing ventures this winter. To hit the bull's eye in style when sewing fake fur, follow these tips.

Choose a design with few styling details. Eased seams are difficult to handle. Since fake fur is a pile fabric with a nap, check the pattern envelope under "with nap" for yardage

Measure Includes Subsidy Ceilings

WASHINGTON — President Nixon signed a new, three-year farm bill Monday that establishes the first ceilings ever on the amount of federal subsidy payments a farmer can receive.

At ceremonies at the White House, Nixon emphasized the "set aside" provisions of the measure which give farmers more leeway in deciding how they will use their land.

"Farmers will have the opportunity to move away from frozen acreages on feed grains, wheat and cotton toward a wider choice of crops," Nixon said. "With this greater flexibility to meet immediate market needs, farmers can use their resources to produce their most favorable crop and make more efficient use of the land."

"One important result should be broader markets for U.S. farm products at home and overseas," Nixon added.

The bill extends, and in some cases redesigns, price support and acreage control programs for wheat, cotton and feed grains for the years 1971 to 1973.

Critics have claimed that it will result in lower farm incomes and have cited several Republican defeats in farm belt election races Nov. 3 as proof that farmers are dissatisfied with the new bill.

A few hours after Nixon signed the bill, the Agriculture Department reported that farm prices fell 1.5 per cent in the Buttonholes are difficult to handle on fake fur garments, so another type of closure is usually preferred.

Check the label on the end of the fake fur fabric belt for information about ironing. Some fur fabrics cannot be pressed with heat or steam; finger pressing may then be used. If a

Four Names For Jesus

The Thanksgiving holiday has been celebrated and Christmas preparations are underway. Most of us have heard of the woman shopper viewing a nativity scene in the window of a department store. "Now they are even trying to drag religion into Christmas," she exclaimed. Evidently her irritation was equalled by her ignorance. To help us keep our feelings and thoughts in focus let's consider together four names for Jesus.

Joseph was told, "thou shalt call his name JESUS: for he shall save his people from their sins." (Matthew 1:21b). The angel of the Lord was giving instructions for the naming of the Son of God who was to be entrusted to Joseph. Jesus means savior. It was by this name that his playmates and neighbors would refer to him during his childhood and later as a man.

It was the name the blind man prefixed to the expressive title "Thou Son of David" when he was seeking assistance. The name Jesus identified him with mankind as one with us. Let the scholars argue about the exact date and hour of his birth. But let us honor the advent of the Son of God who came to be the Savior of the world.

He referred to himself as the Son of Man but Matthew 1:23b quotes the prophet as saying "they shall call his name Emmanuel, which being interpreted is, God with us." The fact that Jesus Christ is God is the foundation for salvation for every man. If it were not so He perjured himself when he declared that he had triumphed over death and identified himself with divinity (Rev. 1:18). The consequences of this, if it were fraud, are pointed out by the apostle Paul. The apostles were false witnesses, preaching is useless, faith in Christ is a fallacy, no man knows forgiveness of sins, and there is no hope for a resurrection. (1 Cor. 15:20) Yet Paul boldly declares "But now is Christ risen from the dead....."

In St. Luke 2:11 the angel declares to the shepherds, "For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord." Two other names and offices for Jesus are added in this passage. The word, Christ, is an indication that he is the prophesied anointed One, the Messiah, for whom Israel and the whole world was waiting. The title, Lord, indicates an office or position which is uniquely his.

We refer to the owner of property as the land lord and think in terms of certain rights and rents being his as a result. Revelation 19:16 refers to this same Jesus as "KING OF KINGS, AND LORD OF LORDS." (Caps in King James Version of the Bible) Therefore the reasonable thing for us to do this season is to honor him as our Divine - human saviour and Lord. In that light it is not a matter of putting Christ back into Christmas but of putting other interests in their proper places below him.

Wheat Producers Set Convention

The Twentieth Annual Convention of the Texas Wheat Producers Association has been set for December 12, in Amarillo. Leo Witkowski, Hereford, president of the statewide farmer organization, said that all sessions will be held at the Holiday Inn West beginning at 10 a.m. and are scheduled to end by 3 p.m. Theme of the meeting is "Signposts to the Seventies". Texas wheat's future will get a close look by an array of state, national and international wheat leaders speaking to the group. Witkowski pointed out that wheat is a $100 million cash grain crop in Texas and that its use for cattle grazing and backgrounding adds about that much more to its economic value to the growers - principally in a twenty-five county Panhandle and Rolling Plains area.

Producers Elect New Officers

Weldon Pruitt was elected new Director at the Producers Co-Op Elevator Annual Meeting November 24; Woodrow Wilson was re-elected to a Director's post. Louis Lloyd is president of the Association; Otis Anderson is vice-president; and Louis Pyle is secretary-treasurer. About 160 persons attended the meeting.

4-H INCLUDES CITY PROGRAMS

COLLEGE STATION, Nov. 1970 - 4-H is coming to town. Long regarded as an organization for farm youths, this national institution that recently celebrated its 62nd birthday has followed the migrating rural population to the urban areas of the country. The most popular project among Texas 4-H members last year was foods and nutrition, where youngsters learn the basics of nutrition and food preparation. The study of textiles was a close second followed by horses, which have shown a surprisingly strong surge in urban areas, especially Dallas.

An effort to appeal to more youngsters in urban areas resulted in the recent Texas 4-H Plan; whereby programs of the 4-H organization will be studied and adjusted to attract more young people. This means the programs and projects offered must be useful to the urban youth who lives in a town or city and does not have the land available to begin livestock or crop projects. Already, some 24 of the 43 project categories in 4-H work are adapted to urban living. This would not cause the rural 4-H programs to suffer in quality; but instead would add to the overall effectiveness of the state-wide program, emphasizes Dr. Donald L. Stormer, state 4-H Club leader. The Texas plan for improvement and expansion parallels what is already happening on an individual county basis throughout the state. Leaders have taken on local problems or projects, sometimes with the help of the state 4-H office but usually by themselves. Future plans call for 4-H specialists in each of the 12 Extension districts of the state, and expanded use of the mass media to further youth programs. One such project currently underway is the taping of an electrical education series for presentation next fall on television stations throughout the state. 4-H members may enroll in the course through the state 4-H office and receive credit for completion of projects after watching the series on television. One of the more recent and successful projects carried out on the local level with state 4-H supervision is a program to assist disadvantaged youngsters in Houston. The purpose is to develop an educational program that will reach the many disadvantaged young people who do not participate in organized youth programs.

Weed Control Offers Services

The Floyd County Noxious Weed Control District has about caught up with their spraying this year. The District would like to keep their operators and equipment busy during the winter months if possible. John Campbell would like to encourage farmers to make arrangements to have fence rows, parking areas, city business lots and around irrigation wells treated for weed control. There will be service fee on all city business lots that do not pay Weed Control Taxes. We would like to get this type of work completed by the last of March, by that time the bindweed should be emerging, and the Weed Control will have to devote as much time as possible on spraying bindweed. The farmer furnishes the chemical; the District equipment and personnel are available at no cost, so please feel free to call on the Weed District to do your spraying.

Friday, Mrs. Grady Dunavant Mrs. E.T. Williamson, Marvin Williamson and Marsha Ann went to Hale Center to visit Mr. and Mrs. Bill Anderson. While there they also visited Marvin Williamson's mother-in-law, Mrs. W.E. Kiser.

Letters To The Editor

No. 24, 1970

Leavenworth, Kansas 66043

Dear Mr. Tooley,
I am sending you our new address so we will not miss one issue of the paper. The farther away from home we move the more we look forward to our hometown paper.

We arrived in Leavenworth Friday night and needless to say we have been very busy trying to get everything unpacked. Therefore we haven't had a chance to get out and get to know the town, but everyone we've met so far has been very helpful and friendly so I'm sure we will be very happy here.

Today is a very special day to us, this is Kenneth's first day on his new job as a Customer Engineer for Control Data Corp. on Fort Leavenworth. This is a government project and the largest computer system of this size computer. We feel very fortunate to be working not only with this outstanding company but also with a system of this size. This is the day we have worked for and looked forward to for months. But we didn't do this alone, so we would like to take this opportunity to say thank you to the many people that helped us get this far. First to all our friends and neighbors in Floydada and Dougherty for their encouragement and best wishes. And a very special thank you to, Kenneth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J.R. Robertson and all his family, my parents, Mr. and Mrs. R.D. Holly and my sister and her family, the Jessie Pernells.

Without their love and moral support, moving from our home of almost 10 years and all the months of school would have been much harder. They have all been behind us every step of the way and we know they always will be.

So we are beginning our new life with a very warm feeling in our hearts. Success or failure, we still have so very much to be thankful for!

If any of "our hometown people" come to this area would love to see you stop in or at least call.

Thank you for printing this letter and helping us show our appreciation to some very special people.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Robertson

Dear Editor:

I feel that there is a great need in this country to improve our security from subversive groups that seem to be able to go about their evil work unhampered. Several years ago, when the Subversive Activities Control Board was set up to help with our Internal Security, it seemed that a reasonable effort was being made to protect the good-thinking people of this nation, and our way of life. But now, it seems the evils of Communism are spreading their fangs so as to miss no one, partly because the Subversive Activities Control Board is not able to operate as it should because of hindrance by the Liberals (Far Lefts) of this country.

I propose that Congress again get behind this organization. The security of our country is critically impaired because many subversive groups are not appearing on the Attorney General's List as being subversive. This is helping the wrong side get control, as these groups, having never been listed as subversive, never get to the Subversive Activities Control Board for examination.

I suggest that right-thinking people write their congressmen and demand that the Subversive Activities Control Board members be able to act, as was originally intended, to hold hearings and issue statements on subversive and violent-action groups of this country. Let's pray that it will again be possible that Communist Front Cases will be brought to the attention of the Attorney General, and that this information can be forwarded on to the Subversive Activities Control Board, where action can, and will, be taken.

Yours truly,
s/ W.A. "Pete" Reed

Dear Mr. Tooley,

Why must drivers be constantly in such a mad rush? Nobody knows the answer to that question. But I wish I did, it would ease my mind a lot. I am a School Bus driver and I'm proud of it. I also take this job very very seriously. I like every child that rides with me and I wouldn't want to lose a single one. They are my responsibility so long as they are with me and I accept it. But I am not alone in having drivers pass and hardly even slow down, when we are stopped - warning lights flashing. We are instructed to turn on these lights far enough ahead of our stop to give traffic time to adjust and stop. I think some drivers think it the signal to speed up and get passed before the bus is still, not considering that there just might be children coming across the road. The rules are the same on dirt roads as well as highways. Wherever these people are going can't be any more urgent than these kids living and healthy to be adults. I don't believe you'd ever be held up more than 2 minutes, and what can 2 minutes get you? But it might give some child a life. If what you are rushing to get won't wait long enough to stop for a School Bus, then, my friend, it surely wasn't worth your wild rush to get. Please, for the sake of my children, your children and your neighbors' children, when you see those flashing lights on a School Bus, STOP and know where the children are and where they are going before you dash on! I promise, you can't ever be sorry you waited out you certainly might be if you don't.

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. Ozena Norris

Pearl Harbor

Perhaps December 7th will mean less and less as the years go by but for all Americans who remember that day in 1941, it will always be a day of infamy, as President Franklin Roosevelt described it in asking for a declaration of war against Japan.

The Japanese sent a fleet to strike Pearl Harbor, the U.S. Navy base in the Pacific, on or about November 22nd. The Japanese Government continued to negotiate with U.S. officials in Washington, giving the impression there was a chance differences would be settled.

Early on the morning of the 7th Japanese aircraft appeared over the battleships and other ships of the U.S. fleet, which were tied up in neat rows (fortunately U.S. carriers were at sea) and wrecked many of the ships, killing thousands of Americans in the process. This was the sneak method the Japanese had used to attack Russia in 1905. This time, however, the Japanese had bitten off more than they could chew.

Though they won victory after victory in the opening of the war, the tide turned against them at Midway (June, 1942) and on Guadalcanal (August 1942-February 1943) and a massive U.S. military steamroller began moving steadily toward Japan, island hopping from one place to another along the long road. Though Japanese soldiers and sailors fought with great bravery—usually refusing to surrender—U.S. forces defeated them time after time, sometimes wiping out large garrisons to the last man.

But the cost was heavy and many American families are lonelier today because of dear ones lost in the greatest of world wars, begun—for America—on the 7th, a Sunday, in 1941.

The Christmas Spirit

December is the most exciting (and tiring) month of the year in many American homes because of the approach of Christmas and all associated with it. In the commercial scramble which Christmas has become for many the real meaning of the day is lost to many of us.

Christmas gets its name from the mass for Christ and it is, of course, the birth of Jesus that we commemorate on the 25th. At one time it was more a religious observance than a general holiday with Santa Claus, gifts, family reunions, etc. In broadening the observance some have increasingly minimized the religious aspects—which is their privilege.

And while many feel this is unfortunate it should be remembered by all that about one in three Americans belong to no church. Millions of others, such as those of Jewish faith, do not believe Jesus was divine, though admiring him as a man. In addition, millions of others—of Chinese, Japanese, Middle East origin, etc., have a different deity altogether.

Yet all of us can enjoy the Christmas spirit—which pertains to all men, of all faiths and origins, and is a message of love for one's fellow man and peace on earth. And so in this general way, too, Christmas is highly important. This general spirit, enjoyed within the philosophical concept of tolerance, enables all Americans to have a happy holiday each December.

FLOYD PHILOSOPHER

Gives His No-Lose Football Problem Over To The Two Party Chairmen

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm turns one of his problems over to the experts this week.

Dear editor:
You know, from time to time in between international crises and on-the-farm obligations, like the time I rode my tractor eight hours straight without stopping trying to get a crop planted before it rained and made it, in fact, made it three months before it rained and the seeds never did sprout, anyway, in my spare time I have devoted a considerable amount of time to trying to figure out a way to play football with both teams winning every game.

What I'm doing is trying to preserve the sport. Like it is, with every game played, from junior high school through college to the professionals, unless it's a tie, half the fans always leave the stands disappointed if not heartbroken. The game is skating on thin ice, so to speak, like the coach who said they were trying to make a political football out of a basketball scandal.

Think, how long would Gumsnoke last if half its audience was always disappointed at the way it ended? Football is a great spectator sport, I follow it on television myself, but if they don't figure out some way to keep fans on both sides happy, it's in trouble.

Regrettably I have never been able to figure out how to change the game so everybody can always come away happy and victorious, both bands playing and everybody slapping everybody else on the back, but I have now done the next best thing.

I have discovered the people who can. They are the chairman of the Republican Party and the chairman of the Democratic Party.

I read in four different newspapers that each one of these men has claimed that his party won the November elections, and they've made such a good case that nobody in the country is sure which one is right. As a result, everybody thinks his side won, nobody lost, and everybody came away from the polls victorious.

I know when I'm out-classed, I turn my football problem over to them.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

People who cook with pride cook with GAS. Janice Constantine does.

Some of the world's best cooks are found in the kitchens of America, and they give themselves every cooking advantage, like gas range cooking. Good cooks like Janice Constantine and 9 out of 10 professional cooks agree that precise temperature control makes the difference in good cooking, and with gas you get exactly that. Gas also gives immediate response and constant temperature, so important in oven cooking.

So, give yourself every advantage and cook with gas. Remember, people who cook with pride cook with gas.
