Bell Adds Circuits To Vietnam

Six additional overseas telephone circuits added during the past year will make it easier for more servicemen to talk with their families in the United States this Christmas season.

Doug Simpson, manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, said a total of 16 circuits are available to Vietnam.

He pointed out, however, that due to the volume of calls generated by holiday calling, persons wishing to reach servicemen in Vietnam should plan ahead for the rush.

"It is generally easier for a serviceman to call home than for his family to try reaching him in Vietnam," said Simpson.

Robert Huffmans Return From Wedding Trip To New Orleans

Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Huffman returned recently from a wedding trip to New Orleans and are making their home at 906 Oakland in Plainview. Mrs. Huffman is the former Marguerite Glassmoyer of Floydada.

The couple were married at 5:30 p.m. November 25 in the chapel of the First United Methodist Church in Plainview. Rev. Mark Williams, pastor, performed the ceremony.

Larry Glassmoyer of Grand Prairie presented his mother for marriage. Bill Deardorff played nuptial organ selections. The altar decor featured candied treats entwined with greenery.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Santmyer of Plainview were the couple's attendants.

Mrs. Huffman moved to Plainview from Floydada and has been active in club and civic capacities while there. Her husband is a chemist for Harvest Queen Mills in Plainview.

Among wedding guests were Mrs. Larry Glassmoyer and family, Grand Prairie and Mrs. Huffman's daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Custer of Midland.

A reception honoring the wedding party was held in the Phillip Santmyer home following the ceremony.

search and studied values and value positions of cultures that differ, especially those in the local area, namely, the negro and Mexican-American; in 1970-71, On Values We Build. Miss Holly challenged the group to become involved in community action.

Christmas packages on the program table each represented the gifts from Delta Kappa Gamma. Even the service rendered the community is a gift to us in growth and development of ourselves. Another Christmas gift package symbolized the scholarship program on every level: the international level for advanced study in United States or other countries by Americans or other nationalities; and on state level for graduate study—either short or long term for different nationalities. Some of the scholarship gifts are for tours of other countries. Mrs. Lee D. Bomar described some of these tours and reminded members that Jan. 1, 1971 was deadline for applications.

Seminars are available through gifts to this fund; the purposes of which are to provide better understanding of other people, their cultures and educational opportunities. During one recent seminar entitled, "The Life and Culture of the Middle East," participants spent twenty-five days at Beirut College for Women and about three weeks traveling in Egypt, Turkey, Greece, and the Holy Land. Another seminar which was on Purposeful Living held in Victoria, British Columbia had as its focus "Realities Require Responsibilities." Participants were reminded that Delta Kappa Gamma members must be aware of responsibilities to themselves personally as well as to society. Miss Patricia Porter presented this discussion.

Mrs. H. C. Weaver discussed "Project North America" which gives help to the American Indians, to further their education in the teaching field. At present, there are four teachers attending colleges under this program which began its operation in 1970-71.

Mrs. Roy Sawyer discussed "Personal Services in Our Community." She mentioned many, such as voluntary work in hospitals, assistance in time of disaster, work with migrant children, assistance to senior citizens, and the like.

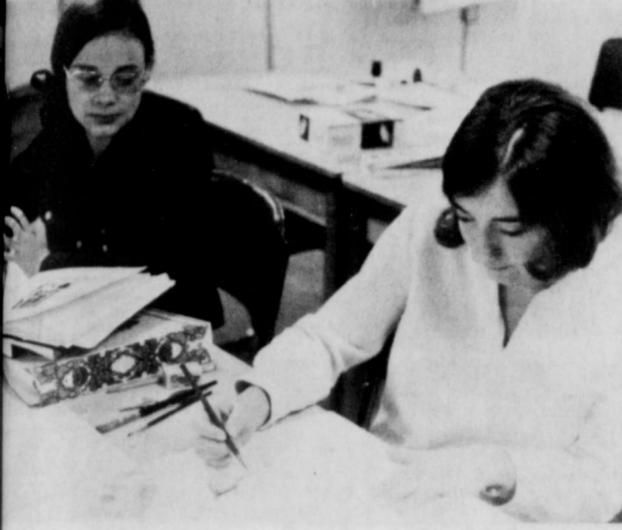

In closing, Miss Holley reviewed the purposes of the Education Foundation:

- to provide graduate scholarships, fellowships for women from other countries to study in the countries where Delta Kappa Gamma is organized, and grants for women scholars to carry on study and research.
- to encourage standards of excellence in education
- to assist and to cooperate with schools, colleges, universities, and other persons, organizations, trusts, funds, or foundations, in support, encouragement, and improvement of education.

The first World Fellowship was granted 1960-61 to Ursula Jan of Pakistan. Fellowships have been awarded each year since with a total of thirty-five having been given through the 1969-70 school year.

The Gamma Iota Chapter voted to send a monetary gift to the World Fellowship program. Next meeting is scheduled for February 6, 1971 in Abernathy. A covered dish luncheon is planned for that time.

Delta Kappa Gamma Group Christmas Meet In Floydada

The Gamma Iota Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma met Saturday morning at Andrews Elementary School for the December meeting and Christmas luncheon. Members were greeted by Mrs. Emily Potts, local school counselor. Mrs. Elbert Dickerson, second grade teacher in Duncan School, registered members while Mrs. D. W. Kirby checked reservations. Miss Gladys Peck, fourth grade teacher in Andrews, assisted by Mrs. Kirby, designed, furnished, and arranged the luncheon booklets. Other hostesses included Mrs. Clyde Martin and Mrs. Blake Lyde from Petersburg, who decorated the serving tables. They used Christmas and the Society's colors.

Seven key teachers from this chapter area, including Floyd, Hale, Briscoe, and Swisher Counties) were initiated into Delta Kappa Gamma, international honor society for women educators. Included was Mrs. Charles Craig, Floydada. She was escorted by Miss Peck during the impressive initiation services directed by Mrs. Kermit Mitchell, president, Tulia and Miss Lucille Flowers, chairman of ceremonials, Plainview. Thalia Fulkerson, with Mrs. Malcolm Atwood at the piano, directed the music.

Mrs. Craig is the wife of Dr. Charles Craig, dentist in Floydada. They have two sons, Steven, a 1969 graduate of Floydada High School and a student in Baylor University in Waco, and Mark, a junior high school student. The Craigs opened their home to a foreign student from Stockholm, Sweden for one year. Mrs. Craig is interested in professional growth, in educational travel, is sensitive to needs of her pupils, loyal to the administration, and a dedicated teacher, and an active church worker.

Out of town initiates included Mrs. Gene Tyer, Hale Center, sister-in-law of high school principal, Charles Tyer.

Mrs. John J. McKinney, Jr. and her co-workers prepared and served a delicious luncheon.

Miss Gladys Holley, chairman, and her committee on Personal Growth and Services were responsible for the program on "Quality Growth - Quality Service". She reminded us of the International Theme and Focus 1967-71 "The Critical Analysis of Values - A Basis for Action." In 1967, the group studied and examined personal values; in 1968, the educator's responsibility in shaping values; in 1969, re-to rebury a person. If the family requests it, let them do it with their own money. I'm sure ours could go for a much needed cause!

DID you know a person will listen to anything when you whisper it? Try it, it works every time, or ask R. G. Dunlap. He pulled that on me several months ago and I haven't gotten over it yet.

PANTYHOSE for men? Somebody has got to be kidding! In Detroit, the self-styled white sock capital of the world, the pantyhose for men are already on the shelves and sales personnel say they are being besieged with orders by men wanting "a different color". The hose for men are ribbed, so I learned, from the calf down to the toes to resemble regular socks. The first shipment received by the Detroit department store, were in colors of black, blue and brown. They expect hose for the men in various shades in the future. Later you may be hearing your husband say, "dear would you please wash out my pantyhose," instead of "my longjohns". Heaven forbid! and boy! is that ever meddlin for this week.

MOREHEAD of the Bureau of News has Floydada's plight in the doctors. Richard has a problem in hundreds of other cities. Big cities, especially ghettos, are in dire straits and the Medical Associations are encouraging doctors to practice in towns and big-city areas. The country doctor is a tradition, but the problem is duplicated over the world. We here, are only one of many Americans who lack adequate medical care. Hospitals overflow and are overworked. I said he felt this was the result of the unfinanced production of millions of castles and hospitals formerly would have fewer visits for medical care. Many proposals have been made to help control the size of Floydada and other cities get doctors and medical help. Medical attention is expanding in Texas and it may be in Texas and other states enough doctors to meet the demands.

People who cook with pride cook with GAS. Mrs. S. M. Smith does.

Some of the world's best cooks are found in the kitchens of America, and they give themselves every cooking advantage, like gas range cooking. Good cooks like Mrs. Smith and nine out of 10 professional cooks agree that precise temperature control makes the difference in good cooking, and with gas you get exactly that. Gas also gives immediate response and constant temperature, so important in oven cooking.

So, give yourself every advantage and cook with gas. Remember, people who cook with pride cook with gas.

Here's one of Mrs. Smith's favorite recipes.

RICE WITH QUAIL OR DOVE CASSEROLE
Mrs. S. M. Smith, 1300 Runnels, Big Spring

Judge Rules City Must Pay Buddy Jenkins $210

District Judge L.D. Ratliff this week ruled that the City of Floydada must pay James Buddy Jenkins $210 damages on property that the city had cleared off of a lot here in Floydada. A jury made the decision two weeks ago and the city had appealed to the judge that it owned the property by virtue of a tax deed it held.

The judge ruled that the tax deed held by the city on the property was null and void because the order of sale should have stated "south side of lot" in question instead of "middle of lot."

Jenkins was suing the city for $849 originally and was represented by Ben Ayres. Attorney for the city George Miller told a Hesperian reporter yesterday, "the city held a tax deed on the lot from whence the property of Jenkins was taken, and of course felt they were trustee of the property," and meant no malice in clearing the property."

Thanks To Rotary

The Floydada Junior High School wishes to express again a "great big thank you" to the Floydada Rotary Club for sponsoring the annual Junior High School Basketball Tournament. They have done this for the past twelve years. This year's tourney was a big success due in large part to the support of the Rotarians. They talked the tourney up; kept the ticket gate during the three day meet and purchased the beautiful trophies. You just can't beat that. Thanks a million fellows.

Our thanks also goes to the parents and Mrs. Chadwick for their support of the concession stand which did remarkably well.

quired, however, in the event the final rate is calculated at less than 15 cents.

If the special planting survey indicates a need to revise the cotton set-aside level, USDA officials said, any change will be announced prior to the program sign-up of March 1-April 9. Two blanks in skip-row patterns will count as set-aside acres. Skips of one or more rows may be applied to any conserving base.

Oscar (Cotton) Fanning, executive assistant of the Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers Inc., said the regulations appear to be "about what we had expected." Although the PCG "had been hopeful the loan rate would be higher," it was not set as low as some had proposed, he said.

"We're pleased the USDA took into consideration net weight trading in setting the loan rate," Fanning said. Otherwise, he said, the rate could have been 80 points — included in the loan in the past on a tare of 21 pounds per bale — below the level announced Tuesday.

After meeting their set-aside requirements, farmers can a quality for the loan — which is computed below the world price — on all the cotton they wish to plant beyond the base acreage on which production payments are made.

"It's hard to say what effect the lower loan will have on cotton plantings," Fanning said. "It will make it more difficult for many farmers to make up their minds to plant more than their payment bases. Many may go ahead and do it, but it will be a harder decision."

The program generally is expected to produce a substantial increase in cotton plantings on the High Plains next year.

Could Encourage Market

R. S. Tapp of Lubbock, chairman of the National Affairs Committee of the American Cotton Shippers Association, said the new program should encourage market growth at home and abroad.

"We especially have a real good chance now to expand our exports," he said. The 1971 loan rate, he added, still will be well above a disaster-type loan program.

Tapp said the loan reduction itself will not necessarily bring a "sharp decline" in the price of High Plains cotton. Supplies and other factors, he added, will affect market prices. But the lower loan, he said, should discourage foreign plantings and permit U.S. cotton to capture a larger share of the world market.

Selling Beyond Loan

"A lot of our Plains cotton right now is selling at 400 to 500 points over the loan," Tapp said, adding the loan on it at the moment is a relatively minor pricing factor.

The feed grain program will have a maximum set-aside of 20 per cent. As in the cotton program, the grain set-aside could be revised downward later, depending on results of the planting intentions survey. If the grain set-aside is lowered, the preliminary production payment would be reduced proportionately.

As matters now stand, the grain sorghum production payment next year would be 52 cents per hundredweight — or 29 cents per bushel — on 50 per cent of the base acres. The payment this year was 53 cents.

Price Up Slightly

The price support loan for grain sorghum was set at $1.73 per hundredweight, up from $1.61 this year. The loan rate plus the payment this year provided total price supports of $2.14, or 11 cents less than the comparable figure for 1971.

"Since the USDA is doing away with most of the diversion, the extra loan protection means quite a bit," said Elbert Harp, executive director of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association at Lubbock. "In fact, it means $48 million in additional income protection and financing stability to grain sorghum farmers nationally."

The GSPA sponsored an amendment to the feed grain program which stipulated that milo supports should be set in relation to those on corn on the basis only of relative feeding values and transportation costs to market. Previously, eight factors have been used. The new formula was reported responsible for the milo loan hike.

Data Obsolete

But the USDA, Harp said, calculated the feeding value of grain sorghum at 92 per cent that of corn. He said USDA handbooks list milo's nutritional relationship to corn in a range of 92 per cent for beef cattle to 110 per cent for some other classes of livestock and poultry.

"We feel this information is obsolete," Harp said. "It is based on feeding results prior to the hybridization of grain sorghum and the development of modern processing techniques. The grain sorghum percentage should have been 95 or better."

Meetings On Tap

The first of a series of GSPA-sponsored meetings to explain the feed grain program is scheduled at 9:30 a.m. here Friday at the South Plains Electric Cooperative, Inc. auditorium. Similar meetings are being planned for Brownfield, Tulia and Clovis.

Rep. George Mahon of Lubbock, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, said Tuesday the USDA has indicated it soon will issue regulations and interpretations pertaining to farm program payment limitations and other matters.

A House-Senate conference report on the annual agricultural appropriations bill won final congressional approval Tuesday and was sent to President Nixon. Mahon said the measure authorizes $195.5 million for the 1971 Agricultural Conservation Program.

NEWS FOR HOMEMAKERS

by Sherry Mullin
Floyd County H. D. Agent

Eggnog captures the holiday menu. It is versatile as a beverage, served icy cold or piping hot, and as an ingredient in sauces, puddings and other seasonal dishes.

Eggnog is good for you, too, containing protein, calcium and vitamin A.

Whether you entertain five or fifty-five, it is easy to whip up exotic drinks using eggnog. Eggnog punch welcomes unexpected callers tastefully. Pour 1 1/2 quarts well-chilled eggnog into a punch bowl. Scoop 1 quart lime sherbet into balls; float these atop the eggnog; garnish with a sprinkling of colored decorators sugar. This makes 12 4 oz. servings. How frosty-good it is when the melting sherbet ices the nog.

Chocolate eggnog which looks much like cocoa but tastes even better is another mouth-watering eggnog treat. At the first sound of the doorbell, blend 1 quart eggnog with 2 cups whole milk and 1/2 cup chocolate syrup in a saucepan and heat until almost simmering. This makes 12 4 oz. delicious servings. Top each with a marshmallow and a dash of nutmeg for spice.

Hot or cold, eggnog beverages always are a treat served with crisp cookies or thinly sliced fruitcake.

GUEST EDITORIAL

Towns Worth Saving

We recently read an editorial in a paper published in a town comparable to Tulia which was rather upsetting. The editorial concerned the need of the town for industry or "new payrolls."

The editor was careful to identify his community as a "smalltown," not a "rural area."

"All too often we see, hear and read from Washington, D. C. officials, from our larger metro cities about "rural America," the editor wrote. "And in the next breath many of these people start in on the subject of declining farms. They see 'Rural America' filling with ghost towns because of the need for farmers. This is true in those areas where cotton and corn were the only crops and all jobs and services revolved around them."

The editor goes on to suggest that "smalltown" America is something quite different from agriculturally rural America. "There are thousands of towns 5,000 to 25,000 population that have not depended totally on agriculture for existence since World War II," he continues. "These are the towns worth saving, and they should not be written off as agriculturally by-passed. These are towns still viable, but too small to compete equally with the metro giant areas for new payrolls."

This was the part of the editorial that upset us!

We were haunted by the phrase "towns worth saving" as applied to those "not totally dependent on agriculture."

This would suggest that Tulia, a town totally dependent on agriculture, might not "be worth saving"!

Yet . . . serious reflection tells us that towns "worth saving" are going to have to look to something in addition to agriculture if they are not to wither and die.

Somebody is going to have to take the responsibility for the survival of any type community. Even the giant cities are decaying in many instances. Business and homes are moving to the suburbs, leaving the downtown canyons vacant and dying. City officials are concerned about the diminishing tax base at a time when even more tax money is needed for city services.

And certainly the agricultural towns are fighting to survive. . . or are they really fighting? Struggling, perhaps, but not much fight is observed!

Viewed in the context of our times, with population increasing, with land decreasing, there is a place in America's future for the rural towns with their wide streets, open spaces, pollution free air.

We believe that the rural areas are far more attractive than at any time in history! No longer is the rural town isolated from civilization. No longer is it a symbol of "the country hick." No longer is it a place where people roll up the sidewalks at 9 p.m. and watch people get hair cuts on Saturday nights for recreation!

The good life has come to the country. We have even on the most isolated farm all the comforts of the city, thanks to electricity. We have our paved rural roads which make us only minutes from the heart of the city.

We are in commuting distance from college, even in the most remote village.

We have everything available to the city dweller. . . except those things neither of us want . . . traffic congestion, smog, mugging, noise and the like.

Yet . . . industry is prejudiced against the small town! It is still living in the 1800's, back when people were struggling to get from the farm to the city!

Industry, government, and the small town, working together, can solve this problem.

But will they? Will they continue to fiddle while Rome burns?

Will they wait until the farm oriented people have been forced off their land and to the welfare rolls of the cities before they take action?

FROM THE TULIA HERALD

SOUTH PLAINS NEWS by Mrs. Murray Julian

SOUTH PLAINS, Dec. 7 - Training Union "M" night will be held Monday night, Dec. 7 at the First Baptist Church in Floydada. A group from Wayland College, Plainview, will present "The Challenge of the Cross." Several from the Baptist Church here plan to attend. Services for Ernest E. Woods, 82, of Quitaque, were held Saturday in the Church of Christ at Quitaque and interment there. Woods died Thursday in a Tulia hospital. He was the grandfather of Mrs. J. Ronald Taylor of our vicinity. Guests Thanksgiving Day in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Cummings were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Norman, her sisters and family, Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Hall and four children of Adrian, and Mrs. Eddie Holofield of Greenville, Mississippi, who left Saturday after spending a week here with the Cummings and Norman families. Kim was home over the holidays from Wayland College.

Thursday, December 17, at 7 p.m. All four of the school rooms will participate in the program, and everyone is invited to attend. They are hoping old Santa will make an appearance. WMU members met at the Baptist Church for the Lottie Moon Week of Prayer for Foreign Missions with a program on "Joyfully Go, Boldly Tell" Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Tillman Powell led the study. The goal for the Christmas Mission offering has been set at $1,000 for the South Plains church. Those present to take part in the study were Mmes. Tillman Powell, M. M. Julian, L. T. Wood, Fred Fortenberry, and Mrs. W. L. Trice. Arby Mulder spent Thursday in Lubbock at a specialist, and after minor surgery, he is doing fine at his home this Monday. Mrs. Tommy Powell and Mrs. Eugene Beedy taught their Foreign Mission Book, "Hong Kong Digest" Saturday evening. The Acteen girls took part in the study. A Chinese dinner of chow mein, sweet and sour meat balls, sukiyaki, and rice, with fortune cookies and tea, all prepared by Tommy Powell, was served. Girls who took part in the Acteen Book review were Carl Roberts, Donette Marble, Darla Milton and Donna Powell. Sponsors are Mrs. Beedy and Mrs. Powell. Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Parks had their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Frank Parks and the young twins of Pampa here with them and other relatives for Thanksgiving Day. Friday night Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Cummings and family held a family dinner in their home with guests, Sterling's sister and family here from Denver, Colo., Mr. and Mrs. Bob Rose and three children, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Zach Cummings of Lockney, and his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Kendall Cummings.

Mrs. Lucy Thornton underwent major surgery at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock last Monday, and has been in critical condition. Her family has been constantly at her bedside. Many neighbors and friends from our area have been at the hospital to see her. We hope she improves this week. Mrs. Lillian Marble and Mrs. Harry Hartman are spending this Monday in Lubbock, and will visit at the Methodist Hospital with Mrs. Thornton. We all send congratulations on a new arrival to Mr. and Mrs. Zach Walton Cummings, who are former residents from our community, now living in Fort Worth. The Cummings are parents of a second son, named Clancy Benjamin, born Oct. 18, and weighing 5 pounds and 14 ounces. He is the sixth child. Many of their relatives, including grandparents, live in our vicinity. Mr. and Mrs. George Weast visited Friday afternoon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McClure, and later the McClures went to Plainview to have supper in the home of their daughter, Mrs. Jean McClure and children. Seventy were present for Sunday School at the South Plains Baptist Church Sunday morning. Visitors during the services were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hoover and Cathy of Plainview and Mark and Max Probasco, Floydada, here with the Probasco boys, Matt and Maury. Word has just been received of the death of Pete Grisham, father of Mrs. Richard Sanders. He passed away Monday morning at 2 a.m. in a Plainview hospital, where he had been a patient since Tuesday. His family had not thought his condition serious, as he had suffered for years from emphysema. Services are pending at this time. We offer our sympathy to the family. Hobby Club members will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Taylor Friday night, Dec. 11, at 7 o'clock, for their Christmas party with husbands of members as guests. FLOYD PHILOSOPHER Comes Up With An Idea For Using All Those Unemployed Scientists

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm is having trouble, his letter this week indicates. Who doesn't?

Dear editor: My television set wouldn't work, a tube was out in my radio, another light bulb had just burned out, the washing machine went haywire and put six inches of water on the floor, and my car wouldn't start, so I shut myself up in the living room and started reading a newspaper I'd been saving to wrap around an exposed hydrant.

I hadn't gotten far when I ran across an article that said there are now over 45,000 scientists and engineers unemployed in this country, due to cut-backs in the space program and other reasons nobody is certain about.

Now what really caught my attention was the answer to this problem, suggested by a Washington expert. He wants a sort of "WPA" for these unemployed scientists, wants a government-financed program going to keep them busy so their minds won't get rusty. "There are plenty of new ideas and things needing developing," he said. I got to thinking. No, I told myself, I've got a better idea. Don't put them to work on anything new, put them to work on already got.

Put those 45,000 scientists and engineers to work on a tall pipe that'll last longer than a year, a washing machine that's guaranteed 10 years, or 50,000 diapers, which ever first; a television tube that'll last longer than last bowl game, an air conditioner that's as long as an old-style electric fan, a mower that starts every time, a phone system you can hand down from one generation to the next, a paved street longer than the tax bonds it took to pay for, an auto fender that snaps back into place at a dent, and, well I could go on but you get the idea. You probably have your own.

Let those 45,000 scientists hold up their hands and start perfecting what they've already turned loose on us.

For a while there it took a lifetime of time to buy all the gadgets a man thinks he needs but now it takes that plus a lifetime of lighting to keep them going. Yours faithfully, J. A.

Letters To The Editor

12-8-70

Dear Editor, Please find out for parents of junior high students why there will be no more 8th grade graduation programs. We have heard it was none of the parents' business but was the decision of Supt. Baker.

Why did Floydada charge admission to Junior High football games when other schools did not? How much is this new free lunch program going to cost local taxpayers? Do the trustees have any idea how many will be on it and for how long?

When will the next school trustee election be held, and whose term will be up. When do the contracts of Supt. Baker, Princip. Tyer, Coltharp, Nicholson and Copeland come up for renewal? We appreciate the way your paper brings the facts about our local institutions before the people.

Signed Parents of School Children (name on file)

EDITOR'S NOTE: I have tried to find the answers to your questions through some interviews with school officials.

1. The decision for no more eighth grade graduation programs was an administrative one and for the following reasons: the auditorium is not large enough at Jr. High, poor people cannot afford to buy dressy clothes for the program, it takes time away from classroom and test scheduling, and most schools throughout the state have discontinued these programs. . . Lockney did three or four years ago. However, it should be noted that promotion certificates will be given the eighth graders at a regular assembly near the end of school.

2. Floydada Jr. High charges admission at its games to help pay the cost of uniforms and athletic equipment. This money would come from the local tax payer if admission was not charged. Most schools in our area charge admission for night games, no admission for afternoon games.

Of course the admission money doesn't pay all the costs of Jr. High football, but helps. With over 100 boys playing football in Jr. High and the average cost of $80 per boy to outfit him for play, the cost is considerable. The boys buy their football shoes. Then there is the cost of footballs, miscellaneous equipment and transportation to games.

3. The new lunch program will not cost the local school taxing arrangement. The federal government pays the bill. It feeds hungry children, it helps get rid of the government's surplus food that costs over a million dollars a day to store. How many children and what the cost will be to the government for the Floydada school system will be is not yet known, as the program is just starting. (See related story on front page this issue of The Hesperian.)

4. Believe the school trustee election is in April. . . Newell Burk, Thomas Warren and Bill Hale terms will be up.

5. I believe the superintendent and principal contracts are good for one more school year after this one. Contracts are usually reviewed in the January and February school board meetings.

With The Fred Martins In South Africa

I've about frozen here. It seems so strange not to be able to plug in a heating pad! Don't throw away your "long-handies" as we're up in the hills and I already don't believe these Africans when they say it will be very warm. . . Hal! It is cool up here every evening and that's nice but coming from central heating and cooling is something else. These folks are English and believe in fresh air! Every room has an outside vent and you cannot cover it up as it's built in the wall. I'm going to invent a huge band aid to cover them in the winter that's for sure! Now you should see me and my new Zulu maid! You should see me trying to speak Zulu. . . The only things I am for sure is and forgive my spelling as I wouldn't know what I'm saying much less spelling is: Co-Sassion is Dwane, Co-saz-san is Kit, Fred is Boss or Mister, I'm madam and the servants quarters is the Kai-Yai. Otherwise, I try to show her what I want done and she can understand English but not U.S.A. English! I can say Good morning and good bye.

Now, Voosaa is our gardner boy and he's so funny to watch. He is always chanting and singing this precious little tune and he comes in and lays our fire wood and works for Mrs. Ethel Liebenberg, our landlady. She is very nice and helpful and a very social woman, and quite an outdoorswoman, golf, etc. She has a very large farm North of here and this is a first for her as she has never leased before as well as us renting. She just had too large a house for her and Kit was advised to take it (this place) by several people and we are pleased as its so quiet and I won't mind being here by myself while Fred is on the road traveling so much.

Phones are a premium here in S.A. The telephone system has much to be desired here and so therefore I haven't dialed yet as I'd and up with the Funeral Home. You do all your calling between 8 a.m. and 8 a.m. as from 8-5 o'clock are terrible. Also some business are at work at 8:30 a.m., such as the butcher. The sun rises early and I would hate to get up when it does as we're up every morning at 5:30 or 6 o'clock and its high in the sky. Also every one goes to bed early, so we haven't conformed to all this yet; but maybe in time we will get into the swing of things. Anyway you don't know how lovely it is as we Americans take telephones for granted in the states. If nothing more than this big step and move over here it has given all of us a different outlook on life. We go to the grocery for vegetables. Every conceivable fruit and vegetable. By the way, we have a huge avocado tree outside the window. They're bigger than our Texas grapefruit! Oh, yes, big magnolia trees in the yard are in bloom and tomorrow going to pick one and watch the blooms unfold. Every day out and cut the beautiful Calla & Easter Lilies, variegated Hydrangias that are bigger than hot-house ones. . . blue, pink, white, and deep red ones: the azalias that are fast and all sorts of strange fruit. You buy bananas and Kit and Goob are wild eyes. They'd never seen a hanging up! Carrots by the bunch with the tops on. Sweet. It is really another world! Bread (which you buy unsliced) is 4-7¢ a loaf depending upon the type of bread you want. Whole wheat is 3 1/2¢ and it is great. The conditions even the salt is different to use, but in time I'll learn.

We have to go to Durban this week to get the animals, the Fred's shipments, then unload Less Woollam from all our packages. Then the following week, Kit speaks at Rotary in Orange Free State, (and by the way do you think you could handle us a new Texas Highway map, ours is wearing out and Kit need one for talks. I could kick myself as we let our car be stored with the movers. We are going to write the Texas ea Comm. in Texas for some slides to use.) Then following weeks we will go to Poteria to apply for immigration. This was come back by Zanbacken to visit friends and then come back here. TO BE CONTINUED
