DON'T KNOW what the official 1970 census count is for yet, but we know that Floyd County is down to 11,100 people, a drop of over 1,000 people in the last ten years. It seems to me that while the effort all over the world is for birth control and a slow down on the population explosion, the opposite should be the promotion for Floyd County. . . . more people. . . . surprised that our Chamber of Commerce isn't doing anything about this. . . .

FLOYDADA AND CAPROCK HOSPITAL made the national news last week via the February issue of Progressive Farmer. Editorial page carried an article, "Big National Problem - Getting Doctors for Small Towns."

The article states, "Floydada, a farm town of 4,500 on the Plains, has a new $1 million 50-bed hospital built with Hill-Burton aid. But it is desperately in need of more doctors."

The doctor's plight is duplicated in farming towns all over the States. The nation needs another 50,000 doctors to meet the needs. Doctors are so much in demand they can pick where they practice. Much is being done to increase the number of doctors, but it will be several years before the nation will produce enough of them to meet the demand. It may be difficult to entice doctors into rural areas, but small towns in position to offer the best medical services in the way of well equipped hospitals and clinics will have the best chance of getting the doctors they so desperately need.

IT USUALLY ENDS IN DEATH

A 3-year-old lad, who lived in Joliet, Ill., recently committed suicide. Seeing no way out of the abyss of drug use into which he had been drawn, took his own life. But not before he wrote, the following message to other young people:

Someone offers you drugs, be more of a man than I was. No. Learn from my mistakes, I don't want anyone to go the way I went through and am still going through. Be friends of yours will offer stuff free, then start making it for it. Then they sell you harder stuff at discount prices to boost the prices up when they get you hooked. Remember, the same person or friend who has grass will be able to push heroin to you and for what? To make money while he destroys you.

People who push are the ones who want to destroy you, and give them the chance, they will. I have used all types of drugs, hash, pot, acid to hard stuff. It's all a bad scene. People who push it don't use it because they know it's bad for them and they see what it does to you.

You are doing is ruining your life and letting people make money through you. They are only using you. . . . words - more powerful than anything a drug expert can say - a parent might say - remain as a warning that the drug use are death!

THE FIRST time in several years I feel real good about my pig industry. I can't really identify why. . . . I note that prices are at an all time high, grain sorghum $2.25, future looks good, cattle prices are very good, hog prices come back up to 197.

I'm a small farmer (one acre) there's no doubt in my mind that the very future of this community rests upon the shoulders of a few farmers.

It's the feeling in visiting with some of our farmers that look forward to beginning a new crop. . . . some are just to start planting now. Well . . . let's wait until we get all our fall and rains we need so much at this time. . . . then at 1971 crop.

Goodhart told us at Rotary yesterday that Production of business had increased over $100 million in the last five years. . . . mostly due to expanding cattle business.

Come To Department's Door

When the fire department brings the fire to the Floydada Fire Department's front door now - it happened that way last week. Charles Chandler drove a burning burr to the front doors of the fire hall, entered through the door, and requested a extinguisher. Hack Redd, in the fire hall, said that Chandler wanted to and was surprised to find that there was really a fire in the yard.

There was a lot of smoke in the cab and under the hood, but Chandler drove the truck away with minor damage when the blaze was out. Redd said grease on the motor and transmission of the truck apparently caught on fire when the vehicle was driven with the emergency brake engaged. There were no injuries.

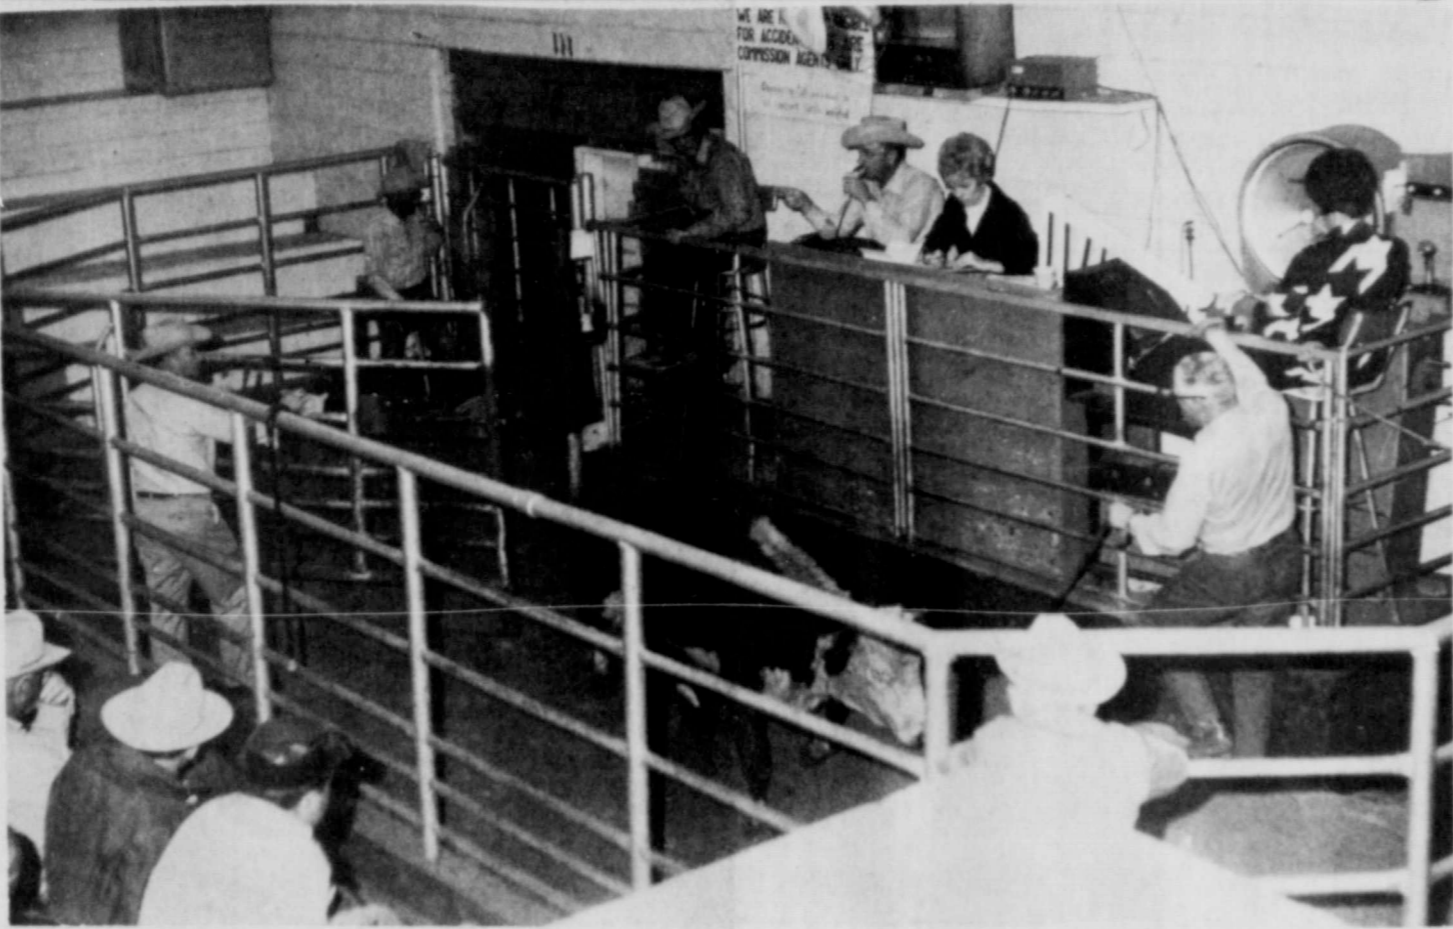

The Fire Department put out a fire at Gilbreath Humble Station Saturday afternoon. A Bell Telephone panel truck had rolled into one of the station pumps and a small fire had started. No injuries were reported, and the only damage to the truck was to the bumper.

Future Of Cotton Looks Great!

But Shortage Could Hurt

DRY WEATHER AND THE CATTLE are coming off wheat pastures . . . going through the Floydada Livestock Auction each Thursday. Over 1700 head went through the sale ring last Thursday. Prices and quality are very good according to owner of the auction business Clyde Saul, 300-400 lb. good steers brought 37 to 43¢/lb., 4-600 lb. steers 34 to 37¢ / lb., 6-800 lb., 31 to 34.50¢/lb. 3-450 lb. heifers brought 31.40 to 36¢/lb., 5-700 lb. heifers 27-31¢/lb. Stocker cows were 20 to 24.50; and slaughter cows 18 to 22.50. Saul is pictured to right of auctioneer. (Staff Photo)

A consulting economist for the National Cotton Council says cotton has the best outlook in a decade for expanding its markets, but is in danger of seeing its progress halted by a supply shortage.

This was part of an economic analysis presented to the program committees of the NCC over the weekend by Dr. M. K. Horne Jr.

The economist said domestic textile mill consumption was 8 million bales in 1970 and would have been higher except for the recession. He said cotton held its own competitively and is poised for some expanded consumption in a recovery period.

Exports for the crop year ending next August 1 are projected to rise to 3.5 million bales from last season's 2.8 million, and there is some feeling in the trade that actual exports will reach 4 million or above.

Consumption of 8 million and exports of 3.5 million would bring a reduction of more than a million bales in the carry-over stock, which would total only 4.5 million or slightly more next August 1. This would be the lowest level since 1952 and "would bring us at least to the brink of a supply crisis," Dr. Horne said.

He said cotton "cannot survive" and play this kind of supply brinkmanship when we are competing with synthetic fibers that come out of factories on dependable schedules every day of the year.

The chance for a larger crop in 1971 was called the one force which is keeping prices for most cottons from going through the roof and may continue to do so. Analyzing the new situation faced by the growers under the Agricultural Act of 1970, Dr. Horne said it contains several features which will induce some farmers to increase their plantings. Chances for an increased yield per acre were also considered strong.

Working against increased plantings will be the higher cost of production, the 2¢-per-pound reduction in support prices, payment limitations, and the higher prices of soybeans and feed grains, the economist said; but he added that the weight of present evidence is that cotton acreage for 1971 will be increased.

All-cotton fabrics have held up better in price and moved more readily into consumption than those made from synthetic fibers and blends during 1970, the committee members were told. As evidence, Dr. Horne cited healthy inventory levels for cotton cloth compared with markedly increased inventories of competing fiber fabrics.

Special credit for cotton's gains was given to all-cotton denims and corduroys, to cotton-coated fabrics, and to the deep-dyed cotton fabrics which will be fashionable for young women's spring dresses. In 1970, cotton was a "big winner" in men's and boys' trousers and in women's slacks and jeans. Despite the recession, these uses recorded a net increase of 100,000 bales in cotton consumption. The gain came mainly at the expense of polyester-cotton blends.

The Economist warned, however, that cotton's progress in 1970 "will soon be washed over by the continuing tide of synthetic research and promotion. Less cotton makes big, solid achievements in such fields as knit goods, durable press and flammability."

County NFO Elects Officers

The Floyd County National Farmers Organization met Wednesday, January 27, with over 100 county farmers attending. Officers were elected and committees named at the meeting. Special guests from the national organization were Melvin Avens from the Communications Department and Ken Danner from the feeder cattle division.

New officers for 1971 are: Jim Jackson, re-elected president; R. G. Duniap, vice president; Bill Fulton, secretary; K. E. Probasco, re-elected treasurer.

Albert Scheele was named to a three-year term as trustee, replacing retiring trustee Kenneth Bean. Other trustees are Ned Bradley and W. E. Bloys. Elected to the Grain Committee were: chairman Edwin Nutt, J. A. Welch, Albert Scheele, Keith Jackson, Bob Ross and Gene Gilley.

Chairman of the Meat Committee is Stanley Bursleson; beef committee members are Laron Fulton, Bill Stanforth, J. R. Turner and Jack Johnson; hog committee members are Cager Carmack, Howard Gene Bishop Les Nixon Jr. and Gene Lawrence.

Named to the Cotton Committee were: chairman Gene Bloys, Roger Dawdy, Kent Covington, Ned Bradley, J. W. Day Jr., Leighton Teeple, Craig Edwards, C. L. Mooney, Byron Ford, J. T. Myrick, Eldon Fortenberry and E. M. Jackson. The county NFO is involved in an effort to increase prices paid to farmers on cotton, grain and livestock; nationally, the NFO is trying to raise farmers' prices on 340 different commodities in all the continental United States and Alaska.

Avens reported on the status of the first 1971 grain sign-up. The Floyd County meeting was the first held in the Amarillo marketing area; the first statewide contract for 1971 milo, it was announced, was signed in the Rio Grande Valley for $2.10 per hundred. Avens reported on 1971 milo being signed in block contracts for export sale.

He also reported on the first 1971 cotton contract and announced prices for '71 cotton under this contract. Under the contract, which is with one of the major U. S. cotton buyers, the member farmers will receive about $25 a bale more for their cotton than the 1971 government loan price. Avens talked about the succeeding cotton contracts and advised mem-

New Directors Elected To Country Club Board

Four new directors were elected to the Floydada Country Club board at a meeting of the membership last Thursday night in Lighthouse Electric community room.

New directors are Jake Watson, W. O. Newberry, R. D. Holly and Bob Alldredge. Hold-over directors are Dan Fry, Ike Johnson, and Jake Younger.

New officers will be elected later from the new board. Retiring president Jake Webb officiated at the meeting which was attended by over 60 members.

Webb explained in detail the 1970 financial report with expenditures of $28,646.87 and income of $29,036.11. Webb said around 3700 went swimming at the club last year and a new water storage tank would soon be utilized at the club.

$1200 of the expenses was paid on notes receivable on pro's home at the club.

No other business was considered on the agenda or from the floor and the meeting was adjourned.

County Voter Registration Down

Preliminary figures from C. J. Payne, county tax assessor-collector, indicate that voter registration in Floyd County this year was somewhat below the last two years.

Payne said 4,095 applications had been received through Tuesday, but that the figure was considered approximate, because it might include some who had registered twice, sending in a late mail application after registering earlier, and the figure might change if more mail applications postmarked by the January 31 deadline are received later.

The 4,095 figure compares with 4,603 registered in 1970 and 4,318 in 1969, and includes 129 applicants under the age of 21. The 18, 19, and 20 year-old voters are eligible for the first time this year to vote, in federal elections only. Their voter registration slips are marked "Federal Elections Only Until 21 Years of Age" and have their birthdate on the face.

Last Saturday was a nice day. I think we all enjoyed visiting with Mrs. Jeff Samuels. She seems like a mother to all of us. Visiting with her Saturday were Mrs. Heary Wright, Mrs. Jessie Bouston, Mrs. Willie Hearon, Miss Mattie Chatman, Martha Pittman and Gale Pittman.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Pittman moved Friday night in one of the housing projects. They are the next-door neighbor of Mr. and Mrs. John Campbell. Mr. and Mrs. Perryman moved back to their home last Thursday.

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Bouston over the weekend was Bro. Els and F.L. Williams, Minnie Collins, and Marie Harper. They also had Bible Study Friday night with Elder Alex Wall and Bro. Els.

Funeral services for Johnny Fuller was held last Wednesday in Pampa. Those attending from here were Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Samuels, Mrs. Joe Davis, and Mrs. Johnny Fieasant. He was the brother of Enoch Fuller of Floydada.

We have children on every block in our community, so please obey the stop signs and be on the look out for the little ones.

Brother Enoch Fuller and wife attended church in Matador Sunday. He preached on the subject "What is Christ to the Church." See what you missed by staying home?

If you didn't attend the fellowship meeting Saturday night, you missed a blessing. Eld. James Craig of Clovis, N.M. spoke on "Brotherly Love." Eld. Williams of Amarillo spoke on "Don't Miss Your Blessings." Eld. Alex Wall spoke on "Turn Aside."

Miss Jenevah Dove was guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Barnes Saturday and Sunday.

Berry Jones has recovered from surgery. He started back to school this morning.

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Porter Saturday were his sister and family of Crosbyton.

Let's keep attending the Rap Sessions every Wednesday at the Mt. Zion Baptist Church, at 7 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Laure Dade, who left for Houston three weeks ago to visit her niece, who is very ill, returned home Monday evening.

The Community Center Board had a good meeting Monday night. Several problems within the county were discussed, and will be worked on by the board. It has been said that a lot of people do not know about the function of the Community Action program. If this is true it is because they have not taken anytime to read the paper or talk with someone who knows something about it. I understand that some one said there were no Negroes on the board. He or she is mistaken. However if you know of someone who will attend the meetings that you can recommend for a board member, from our area, talk with John Campbell about them before the next meeting so the person can be notified to attend.

Some young men approached John about the use of the gym at Della Plains. They were notified to meet with the board Monday night but they did not come. What happened?

A number of school students, Latin Americans and Negroes, was reported to be failing in certain subjects. A program to help the students to pass their subjects is being worked on by the Community Action Board. The cooperation of the parents and failing students is needed if you are to be helped. Just call the center and let them know you want help. Bring your child to receive instruction free.

A class in budgeting is being worked on. If you have problems in stretching your dollar in certain areas why not call John right now and tell him you will attend. Jack McIntosh will be instructing the class and will find an answer to your particular budgeting problem.

Easter Seal Appeal Begins March 1

Mrs. Neida McKaskle will head the 1971 Easter Seal Appeal in Floyd County, it was announced by P. O. Settle, Jr., of Fort Worth, president of the Easter Seal Society for Crippled Children and Adults of Texas.

Residents of Floyd County will receive the annual Easter Seal Appeal letters in the mail beginning March 1. The Easter Seal Appeal, conducted yearly to provide disabled persons and their families treatment and services, will continue through Easter Sunday, April 11.

Mrs. McKaskle is one of 223 men and women throughout Texas who are serving in this capacity. The cost of the statewide Easter Seal program is over one million dollars, financed mainly by the Easter Seal Appeal. Almost 90 percent of all funds raised by the Easter Seal Appeal remain in Texas to support the growing needs of the disabled in the state.

Special emphasis is being given in the 1971 Easter Seal Appeal to the disabled citizen or his family in Floyd County who may need assistance and not know where to obtain it. Any disabled person can contact Mrs. McKaskle at the First National Bank, Floydada, Texas, who will refer the request for services to the Easter Seal Society. A determination of the extent and type of assistance needed and the most efficient means of obtaining that assistance will be made. Arrangements for needed treatment or service will be made by the Easter Seal Society.

The Story Should Be Told

Today, you hear a lot about how bad the young people are. All they like to do is smoke pot, take drugs and try to destroy our country.

There was a group of young people assembled this past weekend: not for the purpose of trying to destroy our world, but to make it a better place to live. There are a lot of things in this old world that need changing. These young people are concerned about the problems of our day, ecology, pollution, crime, drugs and the war.

This is their war too, and they all too often have problems. Because they are young we adults tend to think they do not understand or care. As one young girl at the meeting put it, "We can't RAP with our parents!"

These youngsters do have some valid points and ideas to cope with the problems. There is a song they sang that puts it very well:

There is a world out there, the Lord calls you to listen
There is a world out there, don't you hear it cry?

There is a world out there, won't you stop and listen
Won't you listen, listen, listen, listen, listen!

These young people are changing the world with love, not violence. This word, love, today is used in many ways, LUV-LU-LOVE. The true meaning of the word seems to have been lost to a lot of people. The love I am speaking of is Christian Love. This love is more than a feeling. Love is a power, something you do, love!

LOVE is: a bond between boy and girl, from near and far, that makes them cry when they part and who were strangers an hour before.

LOVE is: to answer the call of a winter Chi Cro Rally with such spirit and enthusiasm that the camp was overflowing;

LOVE is: a group of young people that can turn an empty canyon into a beautiful place - vibrant with song and fellowship, and fill the air with the spirit of love, that can transcend all problems, all people and all times.

It makes me very proud of the young people. It makes me proud to be a Christian and a youth leader.

I felt this story should be told.

Cadettes Lend Helping Hand

Ninth Grade Girl Scout Cadettes found a neighbor in need and spent much of last Saturday lending a hand. For about a year, the Cadettes have been working toward an Emergency Preparedness Challenge. This involved badge work on First Aid, Child Care, Chef, Home-maker, Home Nurse, etc.

To culminate their work, their leader, Mrs. LeRoy Burns, was to give the Scouts a challenge (or project) to prove their ability to meet an emergency which required the use of skills they had learned.

Friday afternoon after school, the Scouts were surprised to receive the following letter from their leader: "THIS IS AN EMERGENCY Your Emergency Preparedness Challenge, that is!

Mrs. Robert Turner of Route 4, Floydada has fractured her foot. She has four children ages five to ten. You are to prepare a dish, bring it to my house at 10 o'clock in the morning. After we finish our meeting, we will then take lunch to Mrs. Turner's family and clean her house. Your dish should serve thirteen people (including yourself).

I will take you home around 3:30. Be on time, your grading starts when you arrive."

(Signed) Mrs. Burns
A menu had been planned and each girl was assigned some part of the meal to prepare. It included Beef Noodle Casserole, Tossed Salad, Congee Salad, Green Beans, Bread, Iced Tea, Chocolate Cake and Jello. After the family had been served, the girls had their meal, and the housework began.

The girls worked in pairs, each pair being assigned two rooms to clean. By the time 3:30 arrived, the house, including the kitchen, was tidy and sparkling. Mrs. Burns reports that the girls passed their challenge "with flying colors." Needless to say, the Turners appreciated the Cadettes' visit.

Cadettes meeting their challenge were Carla Suggs, Margwyne Giles, Nan McCulley, Sheryl Burns, and Phyllis Guffee.

revival. Services began yesterday, Wednesday, and will continue through Friday evening. Services are at 7:30 p.m.

The pastor, Loyd C. Hamilton, and the church invite everyone to come to the remaining services. The speaker is Jack Collier, pastor of the Park View Baptist Church of Childress.

Young Farmers Meet Tonight

The Floydada Young Farmers will hold their monthly meeting tonight (Thursday) at 7:30 in the Floydada High School Ag building. The program topic for the meeting will be Income Tax. A representative from the local CPA office, either Newell Burk or Jack Covington, will be the speaker.

The next meeting of the Young Farmers will be March 4. Subject of the March meeting will be Farm Chemicals.

Young Farmers officers are Vernie Moore, president; Wayne Poteet, vice president; Teddy Porter, secretary; and Randy Bertrand, reporter.

Peggy's Meddlin's

BY PEGGY MEDLEY

DON'T let your son play organized small-fry football says Fran Tarkenton, quarterback for the New York Giants, but let him play touch football in the alley with other youngsters or tackle football in a vacant lot. Fran says let your son be himself at least until he gets into school football. He commented in a recent story that when he was 10 he played with a Boys Club team and it wasn't nearly as much fun as playing pick-up games in the park. The reason; you couldn't be yourself. You had to play when the coach told you to, you had to follow plays drawn up by the coach, you had to do this and that. Fran said it was a structured program and that experience, plus others have convinced him that structured sports for kids simple won't do. He does not believe in any kind of organized structured football or baseball before junior high age. First of all he doesn't think boys seven to 12 years old enjoy playing in a structured situation. They do it today because all their friends are doing it; it's the thing to do and no kid likes to be an oddball. Fran thinks they would much rather be out on the sandlots in the afternoon and play among themselves. There, they can play any position, they can devise their own strategy, they can be innovative, they can be creative - they can be all these things, but not when they go into organized football.

Fran says the biggest phenomenon of all is the attitude of the parents, and mothers are worse than fathers! The mothers yell the loudest - at the referees, at the coaches, and at their own kids by saying "why didn't you catch that pass, Johnny?" or "How could you miss tackling that boy, Johnny?" Either way it finishes the poor kid making him wish he was playing unorganized games in a vacant lot. By high school he has lost most of his interest in playing sports. That's the big thing, Fran says. These are dejected experiences kids have when they are 10 or 11 years old, when their coaches and their mothers and fathers are applying pressure. Boys just turn off. The pleasure of playing games is wrung out of them.

The quarterback says he is against any program in which coaches treat children like professional athletes. He is against any program that has parents coming to the games screaming and yelling and showing their frustrations to the kids. We may not see this kind of reversal in the next generation, but kids are getting tired of structured sports, of playing the foil to adults. I think they really want to go out in the backyard with a few friends, just to have a knock-down, drag-out game among themselves. Kids want to be kids.

FROM structured sports we go to weddings. Now, the bride can wear a pant dress to the ceremony. The pant dress has become so much a part of the formal scene that wedding parties can be outfitted popular style. Noticed where Sears fashion stores have bridal pant dresses in Chantilly-type lace. Bridal gowns have undergone profound changes since the 18th century. Matter of fact there are changes that have taken place in the last few years that have made headlines - mini-skirted brides, barefoot brides and poolside weddings where the entire wedding party, including the clergyman, goes for a dunk in the pool. The average bride, however, still prefers the traditional wedding

Linda Steel, Jack Martin Marry In Corpus Christi

Miss Lynda Lee Steel and Jack Garrison Martin of Metairie, La., were married Saturday evening in the Travis Baptist Church at Corpus Christi.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Steel, 4518 Congressional, Corpus Christi and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Martin of Marshall, Texas.

The bride wore a gown of organza over peau de soie with a sculptured bodice of alencon lace embroidered with pearls and sequins. The dress featured a victorian neckline and long sleeves with flared cuffs. Her illusion veil was held by a jeweled headpiece.

Miss Cecilia Smith was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Cathy Collins of Floydada, Mrs. Bill Barnard of Austin, Mrs. Randall Kennedy and Mrs. Ray Stoesser of Waco.

Guy Martin of Kilgore was his brother's best man. Groomsmen were Tommy Steel, brother of the bride, Don Frederick of New Orleans, Jerry Powers of San Angelo and Gary Mauldin of Fort Worth. Ushers and candlelighters were Tommy Steel, and Mike Collins of Floydada.

A reception followed the wedding. After a trip to Houston and Baton Rouge, the couple will live in New Orleans.

The bride, a teacher, is a graduate of Ray High School and Baylor University. The groom was a graduate from Marshall High School and Baylor University. He is a graduate student at Tulane University in New Orleans.

A GOOD advertising motto carried in Edgar Hays' column last week:

One step won't take you very far,
You've got to keep walking.
One word won't tell them who you are,
You've got to keep talking.
An inch won't make you very tall,
You've got to keep on growing.

One little ad won't do it all,
You've got to keep them going.
A constant drop of water,
Wears away the hardest stone.
By constant gnawing,
Bowser Masticates the toughest bone.
The constant cooing lover
Carries off the blushing maid.
And the constant advertiser,
Is the one who gets the trade.

JEFF Kimble was singled out by his basketball coach at Abilene Christian College last week, for outstanding inside defense. The coach said their goal is to be No. 1 defensive team in the conference. ACC has allowed opponents only 74.6 points a game and 79 points is the high score on the Wildcats since the fourth ballgame when Texas A&M got 91.

GEORGE Winn of Lockney is now taking rabid shots after it was confirmed last mid-week that a pet skunk which bit him on the hand January 20, was rabid. The skunk had been deoridized and apparently had been a pet of someone in Floydada. It disappeared however in September and hadn't been seen until it showed up in Lockney. It might be safe to have your animals vaccinated if you noticed the skunk around your place before it was captured.

When Ye Pray, Say Our Father

Out of the study of one church came the suggestion of the group involved in the study of Dr. Charles Whiston's book, "When Ye Pray, Say 'Our Father,'" that the group share with the congregation how the Lord's Prayer can be used meaningfully as a prayer of intercession. In his book, Dr. Whiston states: "Once we grasp the prevalent action of God in the Lord's Prayer and rightly respond with obedient faith, we find ourselves spontaneously praying for many individuals and groups" - husband, wife, parents, children, community, nations (including enemies to society), business associates, the minister, etc."

Following is a suggested prayer of intercession, using the Lord's Prayer. Where there appears a _____ use one of the above suggestions. Always feel free to alter the paraphrase of the prayer as you need to.

"Our Father in heaven:
Hallow They name in _____ this day,
Reign over _____ with Thy sovereignty;
Bend _____'s will to conform to Thine;
Give _____ today holy gifts of Thy choosing;
Enter _____'s life with Thy forgiving life;
Make _____ to carry Thy forgiving life to others;
Forgive _____'s sins;
Make _____ forgive _____ that have so terribly sinned against _____,
Make _____ victorious in temptations.
Free _____ from the dominion of evil.

For Thine, and not _____'s is the kingdom, the power, and the glory, forever. Amen (so be it.)"
The words of the Lord's Prayer ask for that which God desires to give, it puts things in proper place and order, it embraces every need by reducing it to bare essentials. In the words of the prophet Samuel, "Far be it from me that I should sin against the Lord by ceasing to pray for you."

Surely, so many of our needs as persons, especially as we either relate or fail to relate to one another, would be solved or made so much better if we would pray for one another.

One Car Turnover Injures Four

Four Lockney youths were treated at Caprock Hospital here following a one-car turnover about six miles north of Floydada on the Silverton highway and a mile and a half west on a dirt road last Thursday night. The car, a 1969 Plymouth driven by Roger Lynn Stapp, rolled once at an S-curve and landed upside-down in a ditch, investigating officers said. Other occupants of the auto were Ricky Griffith, Linda Griffith and Linda Cole, all of Lockney. None were seriously injured. Stapp was treated and released at Caprock. The other three were admitted to the hospital. Griffith suffered fractured ribs. The accident had occurred at least an hour before anyone arrived at the scene, several motorists on the Silverton highway, where one of the boys had walked to try to flag down help, did not stop. Alton Higginbotham of Floydada notified city police that a man was trying to stop cars on the highway, and sheriff's deputy Connie Reed and city patrolman Frank Breed went to the scene.

I REMEMBER, I REMEMBER.....

When Death Intervenes

Recently mentioned here was the incident which resulted in naming the Floydada High athletes "Whirlwinds," Henry Ansley, of Amarillo, comes to mind for the reason, it seems to me, his reporting had something to do with adding to the acceptance of the byname, Henry was, for several years, a reporter for the Amarillo

News. It was J. C. Wester, then football coach of FHS, who "guessed" that if the Amarillo squad's title would be "Sandstorms," then the Floydada squad would be "Whirlwinds." That was sometime between 1921 and 1925.

Henry was a much-read reporter in football, politics, Chamber of Commerce activities in the plains country. He had an outgoing personality and fitted in comfortably in whatever community he found himself. He wrote interestingly and well, liked to "get out of town" and became somewhat of an "institution" all over the plains.

Death on the Highway It was on an out-of-town assignment that Henry met his untimely death. This tragic event was sometime in the early thirties, I think. I asked Clement McDonald to pin down the year for me. He couldn't do that. He did remember it was during a political campaign.

There was a political rally in Turkey. McDonald remembers going over from Quitaque to attend. After the rally and on his way home Henry failed to make a turn, missed a corner or something up somewhere about Tullia, at least in Swisher County.

The story of his political trip became the story of Henry's death on the highway.

Artificial Well Recharge Studied

Artificial recharge of the aquifer through the use of multi-purpose wells on Stukey farm, northeast view, results after two of study indicate little aquifer characteristics to recharge of surface water according to a recharged recently to the Water Development

Solids content of the recharged water ranged from an observed low of .30 pounds per 1,000 gallons to a high of 4.5 pounds per 1,000 gallons.

The second season study on the north well began Nov. 17, approximately two months after pumping and recharge operations had ceased and the water level had returned to near normal. During the pumping test the well produced 8.7 acre-feet with an average discharge rate of 986 gallons per minute and a drawdown of 27.5 feet. This resulted in a specific capacity of 35.8 gallons per minute per foot of drawdown similar to the 37.7 gpm/ft obtained before recharging of runoff water began.

The south well produced 141 acre-feet of water and was recharged with 88 acre-feet of surface runoff water during the period from Oct. 10, 1969, to Nov. 12, 1970. Rate of recharge varied with a maximum observed rate of 875 gallons per minute. Solids content of runoff waters ranged from .20 to 3.50 pounds per 1,000 gallons.

The pumping test on the south well started Nov. 12 with an average pumping rate of 753 gallons per minute and the water level drawdown was 25.2 feet in the well at the end of the pumping test. Similar to the north well, this resulted in no change from the original specific capacity of the well.

According to Valliant, "Quality of the water produced from the wells indicates no significant change due to artificial recharge of surface runoff waters. In fact, some dilution due to the addition of runoff water appears to have taken place."

He said this study was concerned only with the major problem of multi-purpose wells in the Texas High Plains, which is the possibility of sealing the formation surrounding these wells with solids contained in the runoff waters being recharged, thus restricting movement of water in the formation. Water quality samples are being taken to observe any possible changes due to recharge.

Valliant pointed out that the results of this study could indicate that in certain areas of the Ogallala formation, recharge with unfiltered runoff water would be possible for an extended time. "If so, much of the 2.7 million acre-feet of playa lake water now being lost to evaporation could be reclaimed and the rate of decline of the Ogallala aquifer could be reduced," Valliant said.

...a new year...and a new crop...

.....and we'll loan money for.....

It's time to begin work on another row crop year, and many of our farmers will be looking over their farming equipment.

Doubtless, many will decide that they can farm more efficiently with better tractors and farming equipment and will be purchasing these items.

State President Speaks To FFA

By Mike Moore, reporter
January 27, Barham Fulmer spoke for a few minutes to the Floydada FFA. The State FFA president stressed two main points:

1. Every boy has used only one-third of his God-given ability;

2. Be proud of the FFA. After his talk Barham opened for questions. When asked what he hoped to accomplish in his year as state president he replied, "I want to instill a desire in all boys in FFA to be a state president."

In the regular Chapter meeting held on January 28, the Chapter voted to sell Amway shoeshine and hand cleaner. All FFA boys will be making door to door sales.

Crop Residue Management Stressed

For the protection of cultivated land against wind erosion, nothing can take the place of a cover of crop residues such as wheat stubble, sorghum stubble or other crop residues, the local Soil Conservation Service notes. The need for plant cover is very important in the Plains country this time of the year since moisture conditions are low. Most of the severe dust storms occur during February, March and April when we are most likely to have the least amount of residues on the land.

These residues should be managed in a way that will protect the soil until a new crop covers it. One way of leaving such cover and disturbing the soil as little as possible is by using equipment having sweeps. Most irrigated land is presently being prepared for preplant irrigation with sorghum stubble being incorporated into the soil. This residue decreased somewhat the wind erosion damage of the recent dust storms since moisture conditions were low. This preparation of a seedbed and the addition of moisture from irrigation will decrease some of the danger of blowing. Dryland crops, however, should be left on the soil surface in sufficient amounts for protection until about April 1.

Benefits other than reducing wind erosion can be derived from proper crop residue management. Water erosion is reduced since stubble holds moisture on the land and allows it to be absorbed into the soil. Residues absorb much of the impact of raindrops which break up the soil into fine particles that can be transported by excess runoff water. Residues catch and hold snow evenly on the field reducing drifting and adding additional moisture. A good cover also reduces loss of ground moisture through evaporation.

Proper management of crop residues will not only reduce loss of valuable topsoil, reduce damage to crops, but will decrease the amount of dust that gets into our businesses and homes. For any information concerning soil or water conservation, contact the local Soil Conservation Service Office.

Four students from Floydada will show livestock in the Southwestern Fat Stock Show February 6-14 in El Paso. Ross Hamilton, Ray Hinton, Mike Simpson and David Battey will leave Friday for the El Paso show.

The FFA talent team will provide the entertainment for the Floydada Lion's Club Ladies' Night next Thursday, February 11.
