Yearbook Signing Monday Night

Copies of the 1971 "Whirlwind" were handed out Monday night at an annual signing party held in the Floydada High School cafeteria.

A copy of the '71 "Whirlwind" is to be sent to Texas Tech for rating, the editor said, and probably will later be rated at West Texas State University.

Showers, Small Hail Dot Floydada Area Tuesday

An afternoon thunderstorm deposited six-tenths of an inch of rain and some small hail on Floydada Tuesday, and rainfall reports from the county show amounts up to an inch and a half.

The showers are spotted - the inch and a half was reported near the Barwise community in western Floyd County; at Barwise, about three-quarters of an inch was measured; to the east at nearby Sandhill, rain measured four tenths of an inch; and east of Sandhill some points recorded "barely a shower." The Hesperian received no reports of crop damage from the small hail in Floyd County, but some crops west of Barwise in Hale County were reported "wiped out" by hail.

Students Must Have Immunizations

January 1 has been set as the deadline for students in Texas schools to begin a program of immunization as outlined in a bill signed by Gov. Preston Smith in late April.

The new law came after a sizeable diphtheria epidemic in San Antonio late last summer and a rise in other diseases which can be prevented by immunization.

But who bails out the family farmer?

The $2 billion Government Guarantee Loan Bill, designed mainly to rescue Lockheed, has ramifications that go far beyond the economic stability of one large corporation. Never has an Administration or a Congress been so blatant in its favoritism of big business over the little man.

Beginning Band Pre-Registration Set August 14

Band director Jim Swofford has announced that pre-registration for beginning seventh-grade band students will be held Saturday, August 14, in the Junior High band hall here.

ADAM'S RICHARD MOREHEAD recently wrote an interlude that I think is interesting and I pass it on to you: SERIES OF "SWEET SUE" STIRRED BY ROCKSERVICE
Once upon a time the organist for the First Baptist in Plainview played "Sweet Sue" as an offertory. The congregation came to mind the other Sunday when a group of Texas students conducted the worship service at . . . They clapped hands, played guitars, and provided musical accompaniment as "Feeling Groovy", "Im-Dreamin'", and a rock number from a new Broadway . . .

He will speak at both the 8:45 and 11 a.m. services. Layman J. E. Waller will preside at the 11 o'clock service.

The Floydada Independent School District needs the pre-registration information for hiring teachers. The number pre-registered so far indicates that fewer teachers will be required this year than last, but school officials believe that possibly many families have not pre-registered students who have reached school age.

The family farmer and small businessman was already at a disadvantage in the marketplace. With large corporations insulated against economic failure, the guise of free competition is wiped out entirely. While the little man struggles to survive, corporate decisions can be made in the secure knowledge that mistakes will not be fatal.

The Lockheed loan guarantee is to bail out one huge corporation that is in trouble for one principal reason - mismanagement.

Beginning band students and their parents are urged to visit the band hall at any time between 10:30 a.m. and 4 p.m. to discuss all phases of starting band instruction, including instrument prices and rental arrangements.

First Farm Chemical Building Replaced By Modern Structure

(By James Huggins)
The old steel building, moved this week to make room for a modern office-retailing-storage structure for Lon Davis Farm Supply Incorporated, was built in 1950 to house a farm chemical supply business operated by Harry Morckel.

The farm chemical business was quite different in the early fifties, Morckel noted - he stocked only bagged and packaged dry fertilizer. There was no bulk fertilizer, no liquid, and no anhydrous ammonia, the main fertilizer in use today. And no farmer had dreamed of selective herbicides, widely in use now for weed control in cotton and milo. There was spraying by airplanes, mostly with World War II vintage Stearman biplanes, but about the only substance sprayed was a dust, a mixture of sulphur and DDT, Morckel said.

A couple of barrels of 2-4D dust discovered while cleaning out the old building recalled a story of a hurry-up spray job only a short time before the substance was outlawed on May 1, 1951. Morckel and his spray pilot rushed to apply the 2-4D dust to some Spanish nettle on a pasture on the old Cardinal homestead east of Floydada, before the deadline. The two barrels found recently represent what's left of a herbicide the application of which was declared illegal more than 20 years ago. It will be buried safely at the local dump.

Morckel mentioned several of the pilots who worked for him - one of the first was DeWitt Burke, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Burke of Floydada. Another was Herschel Hinson, son of Mrs. E. E. Hinson of Floydada.

Some of Morckel's employees in the fifties are well-known to most Floydada folks - the Steen twins (sons of former Hesperian publisher Homer), Glad Lynn Norman, Rusty Tinin (now with the Cold Water Cattle Company in Amarillo), and Waldo Baxter (son of Cecil transaction began when Morckel walked into the Davis Elevator office one morning and remarked to owner Lon Davis Jr.: "You know - there are still too many fish swimming around to suit me." To which

COUNTY AGENT'S CORNER

By Doyle Warren

USE PESTICIDES SAFELY
Pesticides can be a blessing to gardeners and agricultural producers when insect pests come on the scene. But these chemicals can also be dangerous if used carelessly. Certain steps should be followed before using any pesticide, emphasize County Agricultural Agent Doyle G. Warren. First of all, be sure there is a need to use a pesticide. Check the garden or field closely to determine whether insect pests are present and the amount of damage that is being done. Identify the insect or contact the county Extension office for assistance. Once the insect is identified and the situation warrants control measures, the next step is to select the proper pesticide for the particular job. Check the label carefully to be sure that the pesticide can be used safely on the crop in your field or garden, cautions Warren. Pay particular attention to the waiting period described on the label which identifies the number of days required from the time of application until harvesting, grazing or other use of the crop. Indiscriminate use of pesticides is the biggest problem with these chemical materials, points out Warren. Pesticides can work wonders in times of need, but they must be used cautiously. Do not spray during windy conditions so as to avoid drift onto another field or garden. Keep application equipment in good operating condition and wear protective clothing, especially rubber gloves and a respirator.

In case of pesticide poisoning or injury, contact the nearest Poison Control Center at once. (See attached listing for the nearest Poison Control Center for your county.)

The County Agent encourages all pesticide users to keep an accurate record of all material used, date of application, crop, weather conditions, soil type and any other information that may be valuable for later reference.

Last but not least, by any means, is the destruction of leftover pesticides and empty pesticide containers. This can be done by burying them at least 18 inches deep in an isolated area. If pesticides must be kept for the next season, be sure to store them in a locked room or shed where they will remain dry.

Warren has this final word about the use of pesticides. "When in doubt, be sure to check first so that you won't be sorry later."

President Nixon Approves Federal Support for Arts

In a major call for broader government support for the arts, President Nixon in a recent address affirmed his stand in favor of full $30 million federal funding for the arts in fiscal 1972. The President coupled his appeal with a directive to the heads of all executive departments and agencies to strengthen their assistance to the arts.

It is estimated that the American people spend more than $2 billion each year on the arts. The Business Committee for the Arts estimates that $90 million in cash and services was provided by American corporations to the arts in 1968, and a new study is nearing completion to determine their present contributions.

The President demonstrated his commitments to wider government participation. He told the delegates to the Associated Councils of the Arts meeting in Washington, D.C., "Government uses the arts, and I think we can learn to use them more creatively; government supports the arts, and we are moving to support them more broadly. But government also needs the ideas of artists—not only the special perceptions they so often bring, but also the artistic and aesthetic values for which they speak."

"If absence makes the heart grow fonder, many people love their church."

BLANCO CANYON

Now that we have scooped up a total of 500# of moon rocks, let's stop awhile and save money. Palo Duro and Blanco Canyon have plenty of rock; perhaps of more useful properties and not near so expensive as this week's haul. Of course, it is fantastic to see and hear from people one fourth of a million miles away, but most of us are afraid they will never quit investing in that far away soil. Suggest they establish a four section act, requiring the ones who started this to reside there or else make a park for the violent hippies who damage our parks and cities here on earth.

Dear Editor,

The Southwestern Drouth is affecting many farmers, ranchers and businessmen. Many of your own readers may have suffered losses. Perhaps you have been asked what assistance is available.

I am enclosing a public service message designed to be printed expressly in your newspaper. You will note that it is a directory to the many aids now being administered by the several federal agencies charged with responsibility for helping our citizens. Agencies to be contacted for drouth assistance also are listed.

Thank you for your help to drouth victims. I would appreciate any comments and suggestions that you might have as to how we can improve our public information program. What can we do better next time? How can we better tell those who need help where the aid is available?

Sincerely,

yond that, who bails out small business in rural areas supporting farmers go bankrupt? The answer again is the tragic fact is that there may be little substance to the claim that the corporate "slush fund" is needed. Penn Central Railroad went bankrupt, but it did not close. If the L-1011 Tristar does not get off the ground, other will be built by other aircraft companies. They would be any experienced workers who might be laid off from Lockheed related businesses. The fact that Lockheed may require the does not mean that the nation's economy would be hurt. One would think that "What's good for the goose is good for the gander." Suffice it to say that an amendment by Sen. McGovern (D-S.D.), that would have provided an $8 billion fund for small farmers and small businesses, passed 75 to 18. Those who would have the farmer rely strictly on the free, competitive, open marketplace, may wish to re-evaluate their position. (National Farmers Union News)

Wedding Vows Exchanged July 25th. By Miss Teresa Welch And Willie Ray Patterson

Miss Teresa "Terry" Welch and Willie Ray Patterson exchanged wedding vows in a double ring ceremony at 5 p.m., July 25, in the Lubbock View Christian Church in Lubbock. The Rev. Robert Coleman officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. E. E. Welch, Lubbock, and the late Mr. Welch. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Patterson, Rt. 3, Floydada.

The bride was presented in marriage by her uncle, Arlan Womble, Lubbock. She wore a formal length gown of white satin and lace, fashioned with an empire waist and long tapered lace sleeves. For the traditional "something old, new, borrowed, blue", she became the 40th bride to wear a blue garter belonging to Mrs. Robert J. Allen, Lubbock.

The garter was first worn by a roommate of Mrs. Allen's when both were in college. The first wearing was in 1919. A year later, Mrs. Allen became the second bride to wear the garter when she wore it in her own wedding. Since that 1919 wedding, 52 years ago, 407 brides have worn the garter. Each bride has placed her own new penny in a tiny pocket in the garter for her "good luck token" at her wedding, then removed her penny after the wedding. After each wearing, the bride signs her full name, wedding date, and city to a lengthy list of brides who have worn the garter. (This list is now over seven feet long.) She then replaces the list and the garter in the special box to return to Mrs. Allen.

The garter has been worn by Mrs. Allen's family and close friends, and is a cherished part of her wedding for each bride. Mrs. Patterson was preceded on the list by three members of her family. A cousin, Mrs. D. M. Dawson, Austin, was number 214 on the list in June, 1956. Another cousin, Mrs. Roy Stephenson, Lubbock, was No. 292 in June, 1961. Mrs. Patterson's sister, Mrs. Robert Harris of Dalou, was No. 378 in June, 1963. Now, Mrs. Patterson, Lubbock, becomes No. 407 on the list as of July, 1971.

Her attendants were Mrs. Robert Harris of Dalou, sister of the bride, matron of honor; Miss Donna Welch, Lubbock, sister of the bride, maid of honor; and Miss Sandra Marchman, Lubbock, bridesmaid. They wore formal length gowns of shaded blue satin and chiffon. Robert Harris of Dalou served as best man. Groomsmen were Randy Patterson, brother of the groom, Floydada, and Mike Furguson of Dalou, Charlie Patterson of Floydada, brother of the groom, and Randy Patterson, seated guests.

Wedding music was presented by Mrs. Richard McElhaney, organist, and Mrs. Arlan Womble, soloist.

A reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the church immediately following the ceremony.

After a wedding trip to parts of New Mexico, the couple will be at home in Lubbock.

Mrs. Patterson was a 1970 graduate of Monterey High School, also attended South Plains College and is employed by Lubbock Feed Lots.

FOR lovers of drag racing you will be pleased to know they are being held this Friday night at Amarillo Dragway. If the night experiment goes over as well as officials hope, then they plan for it to become a regular feature. For the initial race, officials have lined up a funny car match between Kelly Chadwick and Larry Fullerton. Kelly is just back from a highly successful eastern tour in which his Chevy Camaro won major meets at Sharon, Pa., and Kansas City, Mo. His Camaro will be pitted against Fullerton's flying "Trojan Horse" Mustang. Fullerton drove the Mustang to runner-up honors in World Championship Series competition in Omaha three weeks ago. They say Kelly has his Chevy flying, registering times of 6.96, 6.96 and 6.90 July 14, at Atco, New Jersey; ran a track record, 4.74 on the eighth mile track at Sharon, Pa., July 15; ran 6.99 in winning the Missouri Funny Car Championship at Kansas City July 16-18. This should be quite a race Friday night. Gates open for time trials at 5 p.m.

FORGOT to mention in last week's column that Mark and Matt Martin observed their Golden Wedding Anniversary July 22. He made me promise not to mention it prior to the event because the two wanted to observe the anniversary very quietly. By the way, on that eventual day 50 years ago, Mark said Matt didn't know anything about the wedding until just 15 minutes before the ceremony, and Mark was kinda talked into it by an older brother. Mark said he remembered Matt telling him after they were married, "you make me a living and I'll keep a good house and cook for you." Mark said she had certainly lived up to her words.

PRESIDENT Nixon's latest effort in the war on drugs is represented in a military decision to require addicted soldiers to spend three weeks in West Coast rehabilitation centers on their return to the United States from Vietnam.

To learn which soldiers are addicted to heroin, the major serious abuse among soldiers in Vietnam, the Army has rushed special testing machines to Vietnam. It is hoped that by the 15th every soldier departing to the United States will be tested. The 250,000 Americans remaining in South Vietnam have been told the test will be required before they depart.

The machines, urinalysis devices capable of testing a thousand people daily, will tell medical officers which G.I.'s and officers are addicts and they will be required to report to rehabilitation centers in America upon their return.

The program is not only in the best interest of the soldiers but in the national interest and should also do much to discourage unaddicted Americans remaining in Vietnam from beginning the drug habit.

Grandma's old fashioned kitchen may seem quaint and cozy in retrospect. But to grandma it was both a chore and a bore. It was generally big and cumbersome, poorly lighted and ventilated, colorless and hard to clean.

Unfortunately, there are still too many kitchens around that lack modern essentials. That's why kitchen remodeling is high on the home renovation list, and why most homemakers feel that it is worth the time and money needed to put charm and efficiency into an old kitchen.

Among the suggestions given by experts in remodeling are the following pointers:

- Always choose good quality appliances. They not only last longer but have more convenience features.
- Plan work areas for top efficiency so that range, refrigerator and dishwasher are no more than seven feet apart if possible.
- Be sure lighting is adequate, and windows afford plenty of natural light as well as good ventilation.
- Check electrical wiring to be sure it can handle safely all the kitchen appliances you install.
- Don't overlook the new convenience accessories such as single handle faucets, ice water taps, countertop outlets and built-in towel dispensers.

Washington Meeting Hears Silverton Man

SILVERTON—After returning from Washington where he appeared before the Feed Grains subcommittee of the House Agriculture Committee late last week, Pat Northcutt of Silverton said he was impressed with the receptiveness of the committee members toward a proposed bill which would raise loan prices on feed grains 25 per cent.

Northcutt made argument for the legislation while representing the Grain Sorghum Producers Association of Lubbock. Also backing the bill were the National Corn Growers, the Mid-Continent Farmers Association and the National Farmers Organization.

"I feel that we made some good arguments in favor and the department made some good arguments against the bill," said Northcutt, "but I also feel like the sub-committee will approve the bill."

Northcutt, who is GSPA vice president and president of the Panhandle Livestock Association, said that he felt the committee chairman, Rep. Graham Purcell of Wichita Falls and Rep. Bob Price of Pampa were solid backers of the bill.

The bill would cover loan price increases on all feed grains, including wheat, he said.

I REMEMBER, I REMEMBER . . .

Harmon & Ball's Gin

In the fall of 1903 I looked across from the Geo. R. Griggs John Wanamaker Store and grist mill complete with air power, and saw some men ginning cotton. The "plant" was located where Collins Implement Company now have their John Deere Agency.

It surprised me, because we had left a cotton country purposely to get away from cotton. My parents thought they were far enough west and at a high enough altitude that their children would never see another stalk of growing cotton.

The gin was not in an enclosed building. It was on a platform, out in the open. The cotton was being poured into the stand from a basket or something. I had no business over there but curiosity does not have to have a reason.

Town's First Gin

What I was seeing was the first gin in the town. John Harmon and Tom Ball had rigged up a gin stand and a press ram, and were in the ginning business. (It would be interesting to know where they found the machinery.) Their customer, I think, but am not certain at this late date, was A. J. Lomax.

They'd load up their basket from the farm wagon, walk up steps and feed the raw cotton into the stand and the saws separated seed and lint. The seed appeared to me to be doing a good job. The press was underneath the platform. There was no overhead packer that I can recall.

Horse power, flying jenny style, was used for the press.

I can't recall how they applied power to run the gin stand. A mare they kept in the gin lot was hooked up when it came time to turn out a bale. Her work was not too heavy until it came time to tie out. To get the last three turns of the screw to condense the bale to size, it took all hands helping the old mare as they tugged, and pushed and pulled the final minutes.

I think John and Tom operated this gin until about 1907. There is a sort of blank in my mind about it until 1911, when a regular gin was constructed complete with steam engine, smoke stack, blower and everything. The location for this gin was northeast of the Methodist Church a block or two, site probably on North Eighth.

I Have Proof

One way I know my story began in 1903: Walter Newell's Grandmother Block, fresh from Rockwall County in that year, thought a cow could not give good rich milk unless she had cottonseed in her diet. Walter's father, L. H. Newell, had to come to the gin and wait out a bale to get feed for his mother-in-law's cow.

Proof that Harmon & Ball operated at least through 1906 comes from Fred Battey. The Batteys moved here from Montgomery County in 1905. He was with his father, O. F. Battey, when the latter visited the gin that year and promised them some cotton to gin in 1906. When 1906 came Mr. Battey did gin some cotton with Harmon and Ball but had to haul it out of town to find a marker for it.

Farmers Union Says "No Shortage Of Cotton"

The Texas Farmers Union governing board has accused the Department of Agriculture of falsely representing that there is a shortage of cotton.

The eleven-member Executive Committee, meeting in Waco last week, adopted a resolution condemning USDA for "aiding and abetting the cotton trade" releasing information that would disadvantage cotton producers in planning for the future.

The resolution stated that present conditions do not justify the expansion of cotton production. It pointed out that the parity price of cotton is in excess of fifty cents a pound, while the producer is currently receiving less than fifty percent of parity.

The general farm organization, representing several thousand Texas cotton farmers, protested that textile mill margins indicate increased profits to cotton manufacturers, while cotton farmers are being called upon to sell for less than the cost of production to "preserve markets that are not worth preserving."

"There is no indication that higher cotton prices will put cotton in an unfavorable market position with manmade fibers, and cotton farmers have the responsibility of managing their production so as not to produce in excess of what can be sold at profitable prices," the Farmers Union statement said.

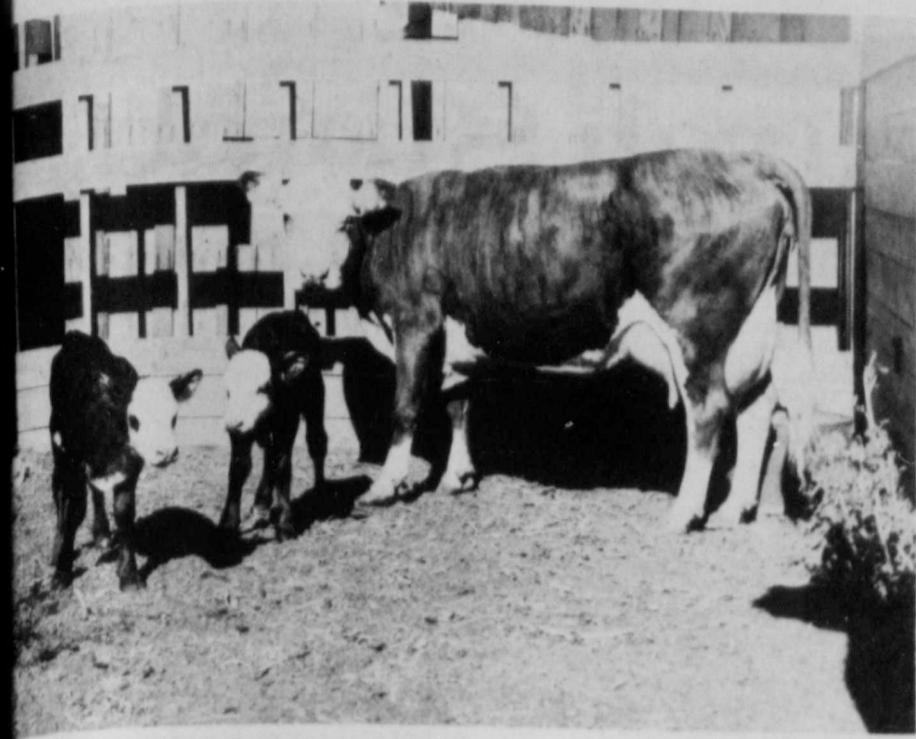

The resolution stated that a "prime function of USDA is to assist farmers in managing their production and to provide accurate information as to supply, demand and commodity pricing." It called upon the secretary of agriculture to direct its officials to "disengage" USDA from the propaganda program in partnership with "organizations that pose as spokesmen for cotton producers but are in fact front organizations for the textile manufacturing and processing industry."

The Farmers Union asked Secretary of Agriculture Hardin to see to it that the officials of USDA carry out their commitments to cotton producers by assisting them in balancing supply with demand. It also asked that USDA's public affairs and educational agencies such as the Extension Service be directed to accurately portray the true facts relative to cotton prices, supply, textile mill profits, and net cotton producer income.

In further action, the Texas Farmers Union Executive Committee protested a regulation in the cotton program which reduces payment yield when a cotton farmer loses a crop because of a drought disaster. "The payment yield reduction provision, presently in the law, is 'punitive and discriminatory' when applied to areas which do not produce a crop because of a drought disaster," according to the resolution adopted.

Durham Carried The Mail

...I wrote a yarn or two about the mail hacks and how they were operated in the first decade of the time ago I had a one such mail hack who was real and my leg like "Lige Red" blast his hide. The mail-time driver was Durham. He worked in Montgomery on an Amarillo to Plainview route to Emma. Later for Mr. Parsons he worked in Lubbock. He was Old Brother Carr Mather, and team leader of the L. S. Williams where Harmony is.

...Durham recalls one time he was at the Williams when he opened the gate and two tired Mexican mules broke down and ran off down the road. That was not the end for Mrs. Williams. She saddled up her pony named Dolly and herded the mules back into the corral.

Wild is the Word

Wild is the only way to describe those mules. They were hard to hook up into harness, Red said. When you caught them you tied them to the snubbing post to harness them. When you were ready to go and untied them from the post they took off in a dead run. That was why you could make such good time.

Red was in a Lubbock hospital when he read one of the mail hack episodes I wrote. He was ready to head back to his home in Wolf Flats, Hall County. If you wonder what became of the mail hack drivers when the railroads came to the country and their jobs played out, well, when Durham was through driving the mail he went down and took a job with the Mill Irons. When they quit he worked for smaller ranchers and farmers as the country settled up.

Then they built a gin nearby and he got a job tying out bales. He worked until he saw the writing on the wall. He got his self some book learning, learned how to write on a typewriter, and worked into the job of office manager.

A Wonderful Country

As time passed he acquired a cotton farm and now lives on it in the old style, drinking gyp water, burning mesquite for fuel and the "other things that poor folks do," including keeping a milk cow, having home-churned butter.

Red says that Wolf Flats and over around Bridle Bit have been wonderful country to him. One of the things he still has from the old days is a saddle he kept. Because of its age he has been offered $200 for it, but no sale.

In our world today there are millions of people who profess to be followers of Jesus Christ but who yet are divided into hundreds of denominations, with each of the denominations bearing a name which is different from the name worn by every other denomination. Each denomination espouses, teaches, and practices at least some doctrine different from that believed, taught, and practiced by every other denomination.

What Are The Causes Of This Situation?

Generally, and basically, the cause of this situation is the rejection of Christ's authority. One rejects his authority by rejecting his word, the Gospel. This state of confusion has been brought on by a number of things:

- (1) The view that doctrine is not very important.
- (2) The fact that millions have a higher regard for the views of human ancestors than they do for the doctrine of Christ.
- (3) The fact that there are millions of people who seem to regard their own views more highly than they do the Gospel of Christ.

Is This Situation Acceptable to God?

Denominationalism is NOT pleasing to God! To set out evidence for this claim, I will do four things:
(1) Show that division is condemned.
(2) Show that false doctrine is condemned.
(3) Show that false teachers are to be rejected.
(4) Show that unity is upheld.

Division is Condemned

Among the "works of the flesh" listed by Paul are "factions, divisions, parties (heresies) -" (Gal. 5:20). Also they were to "all speak the same thing", and "that there be no divisions among you" (I Cor. 1:10). Why all this concern about division? Here is the answer. After identifying the church as being the body (Eph. 1:22, 23, Col. 1:18), Paul says, "there is ONE BODY" (Eph. 4:4). This body or church was purchased by the blood of Christ (Acts 20:28). When the body or church was divided it was condemned by God (I Cor. 1:10).

False Doctrine is Condemned

All that is needed on this point is (Gal. 1:6-9). No one not even an angel from heaven has the right to change the Gospel of Christ.

False Teachers Are To Be Rejected

No one can be a faithful child of God while he gives approval to any teacher of false doctrine, (II John 9-11) (II Peter 2:1-3).

Unity Is Upheld

In the Bible unity is upheld by both precept and figure. The Apostle Paul urged the brethren at Corinth that they should all "speak the same thing" (I Cor. 1:10). Jesus prayed "that they ALL may be ONE" (Jno. 17:20-21). In (Matt. 16:18) Jesus said "I will build my CHURCH" - not - "CHURCHES". Paul said, "there is one body" (Eph. 4:4). Although there were many individual members of the church or body, the Apostle Paul taught that there was only ONE BODY (I Cor. 12:12). Further, Paul stated that all were baptized into one body (I Cor. 12:13).

Conclusion

There would be no need to warn against division, false doctrine or false teachers and maintain that unity was essential if we could not learn and obey the truth.

As the early church was able to know the truth (Jno. 8:32) and walk in the light (I Jno. 1:7) and be members of that one body or church (I Cor. 12:13) so can we also. If we are willing to read our Bibles and do what it says.

The new building, which will be completed in 90 days after the builders begin (which will be soon) will be a modern, air conditioned structure with a stone- and-glass front facing south, and a large lighted display window on the east side, visible as approached from the Matador Highway.

It is to be built on the framework of a 60-by-80-foot Star Steel building, with a 20x60 mezzanine floor which Davis says will be used when the firm goes into "specialty sales" in the retail business.

The front 40 feet of the sunken ground floor will be used for retailing and office space, Davis said. The new building will nearly double the floor space of the old one, which is being moved to the rear of the Davis grounds and will be used for storage. Herman Temple of Plainview is the mover.

to be applied to more than one location on the animal, it must be so recorded and each additional location for the brand on the animal shall constitute a separate recording of that brand.

There is no limit to the number of brands and/or marks which may be recorded in a county by a person as long as requirements of this law governing the recording and re-recording of livestock brands are met. Minors may have marks or brands separate from that of the father or guardian, which must be recorded or re-recorded as provided by the new law.

The county clerk of each county shall have this act published in some newspaper of general circulation in the county for a period of 30 days. The act shall be published on the effective date, August 30, 1971, and thereafter for 30 days.

It is the obligation of the county clerk to assure that no more than one brand of a kind be recorded on the same location on the animal in each county. Therefore, no two people in a county may record the same brand in the same location. It is also the responsibility of the county clerk to make certain that in recording any brand for a person, that the part of the animal on which the brand is to be placed be designated. Failure to do so is punishable by a fineable offense of not less than $10 or more than $50 (Article 1486 P.C.).

The law as outlined above applies to all counties in the state of Texas and shall take precedence over any special statutes heretofore applying to individual counties pertaining to recording and re-recording of brands.

FLOYD PHILOSOPHER Finds New Hope For Environmentalists Hunting Things To Deplore

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm discovers new horizons for environmentalists this week.

Dear editor: For a while I was worried about some of the environmentalists, that is, the newcomers who got in late on the act, not the genuine ones who are on firm ground when they attack the pollution of rivers, lakes, oceans, parks, roadsides and the air we breathe.

But it's pretty hard to establish a permanent organization with a president and all against swordfish and corn flakes, so I was pleased when I read in a newspaper last night that a scientist has come up with a brand new one. It's automobile tires. Not the tires themselves, it's what goes with the rubber when it wears out.

According to him, 340,000 tons of rubber a year disappear into the air or somewhere as tires go from new to treadbare on the streets and highways of America, not counting, I presume, that left by teenagers who dig out because I've seen their skid marks still on the highway.

Now 340,000 tons of minute particles of rubber dumped into the atmosphere every year is something I hadn't thought about, but it sure opens up new horizons for environmentalists running out of something to point their finger

A Spanish man said, "when I come to town and buy from a businessman, I want my money's worth. A farmer said, "when I hire cotton choppers for $1.25 per hour I oversee and expect them to work. . . I cannot afford to pay for children to play up and down the rows."

10. A mother said, "when I hire out to chop cotton and I bring my children, they must carry a row right beside me, or I ask no pay for their work."

It was evident that most of the people present are native families who make their homes in this community and are honestly trying to be better citizens. They realize there are some "hard core" people who do not want to work in the community and are concerned that these people learn to work and become self-supporting.

Juarez said a special effort would be made to get the Floydada and Lockney Chambers of Commerce, the mayors, the city councils, the Farm Bureau, and farmers to next Tuesday night's meeting.

SW Bell Announces New Long Distance Rates

DALLAS - An adjustment of long distance telephone rates, which features a new reduced rate for Direct Distance Dialing and increased rates for operator-assisted calls within Texas, was announced today by Southwestern Bell.

Scheduled to go into effect September 1, the adjustment should increase gross revenue by about 2 percent, or $15 million annually. H.D. Schodde, vice president for Southwestern Bell operations in Texas, said the after-tax result will be an increase of $7 million in net operating revenue. "That amount should assist the company in maintaining its earnings in the range of 5.3 percent on the value of its property in Texas," Schodde said.

The new rates represent the first major long distance rate increase in the state since 1955. The company reduced rates $6 million annually in 1967. Schodde said the adjustment closely parallels a trend by AT&T and other operating telephone companies to place SEE RATES, PAGE 10 increases on calls which require operator assistance, and provides a reduction for station-to-station calls which customers can complete themselves. "It costs us more to provide operator assistance," Schodde said, "so that's where we're placing most of the increase. On the other hand, customers who dial their own station-to-station calls should have the benefit of a reduced rate."

Schodde emphasized that the estimated two percent increase in company revenues was based on present customer calling habits. "If customers dial more of their calls, the increase would be less," he said. In addition to the new reduced rate for Direct Distance

Dialing, the adjustments also call for the introduction of a one-minute initial rate period (rather than three minutes) on "night" Direct Distance Dialing; new rates for all operator-assisted - station-to-station and person-to-person - calls during all calling periods; and establishes rate periods (day, evening, night and weekend) and DDD calls which are the same as now in effect for calls going outside of Texas.

Two holidays - Labor Day and July 4th - also have been added to the list of days on which reduced rates apply for DDD calls.

"We've been able to avoid making an adjustment on intrastate rates due to improved technology," Schodde said.

Coker noted that cost "RH" policies sued last year. The percent increase over the most for any year program began in 1968. Coker said the program fulfills a contract and VA encourages with service-connected disabilities to take coverage.

The VA Region urged interested VA-rated service-connected disabilities to apply for life insurance at the VA office, or get it from any local veterans organization representative. turn on comfort with.....

Summer comfort will be yours with electric air conditioning. It's the smart way to beat the heat!

But an electric air conditioner does more than cool the air; it filters out dust, dirt and pollen, too. Doors and windows may be closed, keeping out noise and outdoor dust and smoke. Housekeeping is easier with this help from an electric air conditioner.

Another big benefit from electric air conditioning is moisture control. Air conditioning removes excess moisture to reduce humidity in the home.

Don't swelter through another hot sticky summer. Your dealer has an electric air conditioner to give you a fresh, cool, cleaner home. See him today!
