Floydada coach L. G. Wilson had this to say about the Bobcats: "Dimmitt is a big, aggressive team, especially their offensive and defensive linemen. They make no bones about how they had rather beat us than anyone else. So we will be facing a fired-up crew with a two-won, one-lost record. This promises to be a real thriller - especially if the field is dry."

The Post game, played last week on a soggy field, brought these comments from the Whirlwind head coach: "We played one of our better games against Post. The offense is still inconsistent, but the defense looked much tougher. Our running game continues to look good, but the passing game - because of muddy field conditions (we hope) - has not reached expectations."

Wilson announced the selection of the Whirlwind co-captains for the district games. They are: Van Mitchell, the 'Winds' 5'10", 175-pound halfback, a three-year letterman; and Kim Rose, another three-year letterman, a 6'2", 205-pound linebacker and guard. They will captain the 'Winds' the remainder of the season.

Dr. Noble Ballard Opens Office

Dr. Noble Ballard opened his offices in Caprock Hospital here this week. Floydada's new doctor is a general practitioner and allergist with an M.D. degree from the University of Oklahoma.

He practiced for five years in Hereford and for a little over a year in Thomas, Oklahoma, before returning to the Plains.

Ballard said the family "feels the Plains are home."

The Ballard family moved to Floydada last week. The family includes his wife Janice and two sons, Lee, 5 1/2, and Todd, 4 1/2. They reside at 805 W. California.

Ballard, 33, has been a member of the Lion's Club and president of the Jaycees at Thomas.

TEA FOR NEW DOCTOR SUNDAY AFTERNOON

The public is invited to a tea in the lobby of Caprock Hospital Sunday afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock to get acquainted with Dr. Noble Ballard and his family.

The tea is sponsored by Caprock Hospital and the Hospital Auxiliary.

Plainview Pastor To Preach Here

Rev. Carlos McLeod, pastor of First Baptist Church, Plainview, will be preaching in revival at First Baptist Church here the week of October 3-10. Leading the music will be Richard Campbell of Lubbock. Both of these men are known throughout the South Plains for their preaching and singing abilities.

The membership of First Baptist Church is deeply interested in having the entire community share in these days of revival. Carlos McLeod is a strong evangelistic preacher. His messages will be helpful and informative to every person who will hear. He is especially desirous to reach the youth with a truly modern and yet Biblical message.

Richard Campbell, formerly of Matador, will be remembered in our city as the lead singer with the Sourdough singers. Every football fan will remember him as a great athlete, having played in the Coaches' All-American Game and having been named as an All-American defensive end in the year 1970. He has done extensive singing on television and as soloist for the Lubbock Symphony Orchestra for three years.

The Sunday worship services will be conducted at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. Weekday services are at noon and 7:30 p.m. Lunch will be served each weekday at 12:30. The nursery will be open at each service to care for children through three years of age. An outstanding choir will sing at each evening service. Testimonies from various members of the church will be shared throughout the week.

The church membership, along with the pastor, Dr. Floyd Bradley, joins in issuing a personal invitation to the entire community to attend this revival. They encourage your prayerful intercession for a real heaven-sent spiritual awakening.

tion with Widener; Shannon and his family are living in Floydada at 219 W. Mississippi. He and his wife Linda Kay have two children, Sharon, 12, and Lucretia, 6. They list their church affiliation as Baptist.

Retail Trades Committee Makes Plans For Christmas Light Money

The retail trades committee of the Floydada Chamber of Commerce made plans at a special called meeting last week to begin solicitation of money to buy or rebuild the Christmas lights.

Earl Minter was appointed to head the campaign for some $800 and Louis Anderson and John Reue will assist him.

Retail trades committee chairman Bill Hale reported to the group of merchants that the city council would not help pay for the lights and then appointed the committee.

The group also discussed need for another night policeman to patrol between the hours of 11 p.m. and dawn. They are concerned about burglaries in Floydada.

HOT CHECK CHARGE

The group voted unanimously to charge $2.00 per check on returned checks in Floydada, each merchant to be free to decide who he will charge and who he will not charge.

The merchants made plans for the Christmas promotion with Santa Claus coming to Floydada on Friday, December 3 and returning on Saturday afternoons of December 4, 11, 18.

Richard Williams Will Preach At City Park Church Of Christ

Richard M. Williams of Odessa, Texas, will be conducting a series of gospel services at the City Park Church of Christ in Floydada, October 4-10.

Open House At Farmers Co-Op Gins Sunday Afternoon

The public is invited to view the all new office of Farmers Cooperative Gins in Floydada Sunday afternoon from 2:30 to 5:30. Free cokes, coffee and doughnuts will be served.

"We want everyone to come in and see our new office and visit with us Sunday afternoon," gin manager Don Robertson told a Hesperian reporter yesterday.

The new office is 2,000 square feet in size of basic metal construction. Antique birch paneling adds a lot of style to the interior, plus carpets on the floor, TV, spacious lounge and coffee bar. . . and there's an ultra-modern domino recreation room.

The gins directors, management and their wives will be on hand to welcome everyone to the open house.

Bubba Lewallen missed only four games in last week's Hesperian football contest and will receive the first prize money of $7.50. He missed the Spur-Roosevelt, Tulia-Dalhart tie,

1971 4-H Scholarships at Record Level

SPECIAL - Rapidly approaching is an occasion of special significance for nearly 3-million youths. It is the 50th National 4-H Congress, Nov. 28-Dec. 2.

And this Golden Anniversary will turn into actual gold for nearly 300 4-H members who will receive educational scholarships ranging from $300 to $1,600.

Scholarships available to 4-H'ers during the Golden Anniversary year are at an all-time high - $179,100. Most of them in the amount of $700 will be presented to the fortunate young people at special events during the Congress.

The funds are provided through the generosity of donors to 4-H through the awards programs supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service and arranged by the National 4-H Service Committee.

6,400 over 40 Years

Scholarships were first offered 4-H members some 40 years ago. Since then donors have provided some 6,400 scholarships valued at more than $2.8 million. And they also have funded an estimated 50,000 expense-paid trips to the National 4-H Congress and other events over the 50-year period.

Besides the scholarships and trips in 1971 nearly 200,000 other 4-H'ers will be recognized for outstanding accomplishments in the form of county medals, U.S. Savings Bonds, watches, plaques and other awards.

Some 60 companies, foundations and civic organizations have contributed this year over $1.4 million to the support of 4-H through the National Committee and several lent their support throughout the 50 years the committee has been in existence. Others are in their first decade of sponsorship.

Donors Span 50 Years

Armour and Company has allocated funds for advancement of 4-H activities for over half a century. Cities Service Company, Coats and Clark Inc., Alis-Chalmers and Carnation Company also are among long-time sponsors.

Ford Motor Company Fund, Hercules Incorporated, Standard Brands Incorporated and Union Oil Company of California have been contributors over several decades.

John Deere, Eli Lilly and Company and General Foods Corporation joined the 4-H donor ranks more than 10 years ago.

More recently, the list of 4-H supporters has included Allied Mills Foundation, Champion Valley Farms, Inc., Elanco Products Company, The Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company and Merck & Co., Inc.

STITCHING WITCHERY

Hemline denotes posture problems

By BETTY W. KINSER
Copley News Service

Walk tall, and keep your hemline straight. If you slump, the front of your dress droops and the hemline will sag. So, keep good posture for a neater appearance.

A note to remember when marking a hemline: Do not stand in an unnatural stance like a statue. Keep erect, but hang loose!

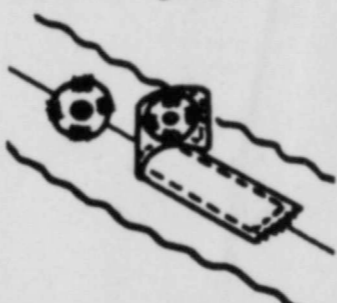

"Psst! your strap is showing!" Isn't that embarrassing?

It certainly is, so tame those peek-a-boo straps with "lingerie strap holders." Made from a smidgeon of seam tape and a couple of snaps, these easy-to-make holders beat safety pins any day of the week.

For one holder, cut a length of straight (not bias) seam binding about one and a half inches long. Fold under each raw end and press. Fold the tape in half lengthwise; press. Machine stitch along both sides and across the ends. By hand, attach one end of the tape to the shoulder seam allowance.

Attach one section of a snap to the opposite end of the tape; attach the other section to the seam allowance. Make certain that, when fastened, the holder lies flat and does not tug at the seam allowance. This would cause an unsightly hump on the outside of the garment.

When no one is looking, we often take little forgivable shortcuts such as throwing everything into the closet and closing the door, or hiding the dirty dishes in the oven.

But, when it comes to pressing as you sew, there aren't any "forgivable" shortcuts. No amount of pressing after the garment is finished will give you the neat professional appearance of pressing-as-you-go.

Get into the habit of setting up your iron and board before sitting down to sew. This eliminates such things as "It's too much trouble right now." Place the ironing board in a convenient spot right next to your machine. If you have an adjustable board, all the better. It can be let down to a com-

HOBBS (Special) — The local chapter of the American Association of University Women will begin collecting clear glass bottles in October for recycling by a Carlsbad firm.

A date for pickup of the bottles will be announced by the association at a later date.

Assault Suspect Given Attorney

LEVELLAND (Special) — Justice of the Peace E. L. Ford Tuesday appointed R. H. Munsterman of Levelland to represent a 21-year-old man who was charged Monday with robbery by assault, possession of narcotic drugs and willful destruction of county property.

John Medina, a four-month resident of Levelland, appeared briefly before Ford Tuesday and requested that the court appoint an attorney to represent him on the charges.

Medina, who told local authorities he is of Spanish and Dutch descent, remains in Hockley County jail under $5,000 bond.

He has been sentenced to one year in jail and fined $1,000 in connection with the charge of destruction of county property which resulted from a Saturday incident during which he smashed through a plate glass door at the courthouse while reportedly attempting to escape from authorities.

The assault charge is in connection with the Sept. 1 robbery of Mrs. Delton Young, 24, whose jaw was broken by a man who reportedly came to her home under the pretense of using her telephone.

Screwworm Alert

Livestock producers over the state are urged to be on the alert for screwworms as numerous cases continue to spread over the Hill Country, Edwards Plateau, Big Bend and South Texas area.

Officials of the Mission Screwworm Progeam report that 19 cases were confirmed during the week ending Sept. 3 making this the worst week since the last week in December, 1968. Furthermore, 16 cases were confirmed during the past Labor Day weekend. Texas thus far has recorded 138 cases with the U. S. count at 161

And the situation could worsen, according to officials. Screwworm outbreaks traditionally occur in late summer and fall, so producers should check their animals periodically and treat any wounds found. Spraying of herds is also recommended and operations such as de-horning and castrating should be delayed until cooler weather sets in. All man-made wounds, such as those resulting from shearing, should be treated.

Pets, such as dogs and cats, should also be kept under constant watch, add the officials.

Any larvae collected from wounds should be sent to the Mission Screwworm Laboratory for identification.

The mailing is Box 969 Mission. Collection kits are available from county agricultural

MR. AND MRS. ROGER W. FLENNIKEN

Granddaughter Of Local Woman Wed

Miss Zanita Kylee Gough and Sgt. Roger Wayne Flenniken were united in marriage in the sanctuary of the First United Methodist Church in Hobbs, New Mexico August 14. The double ring ceremony was read by Rev. James W. Miller, minister of the church.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Rufus Douglas and the late Roy Gough of Hobbs. Mrs. Douglas is the former Georgia Eudy of Floydada. The bride is the granddaughter of Mrs. George Eudy, Floydada. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. V. S. Flenniken of Hobbs.

Charlie Gough of Carlsbad, uncle of the bride, escorted his niece. She wore an A-line silhouette of nylon organza and lace. Camelot sleeves and a high scalloped neckline enhanced the bodice. Matching scalloped lace also accented a detachable chapel train which extended from the shoulders. The four layered veil of illusion tulle fell from an oval shaped headpiece of tiny white flowers and seed pearls.

She carried a circlet bridal bouquet of tiny pink, white and turquoise rosebuds, baby's breath and lilies of the valley. The bouquet was interspersed with pearl and rhinestone sprays, silver hearts and a pink centered bell forming a wedding ring. A corsage of white orchids, a gift from the groom, filled the center of the flower ring. The arrangement, made by the bride's mother, was carried on a white satin pearl-embroidered wedding Bible, a gift from Mrs. Wayne Olds of Las Cruces.

For something old the bride wore a gold antique lavalier necklace, a gift from Mrs. Ed Laughlin. Something new was the Bible, something borrowed was the altar cloth and something blue, the traditional wedding garter. Both the bride and groom had pennies in the shoes, minted in the years of their births.

Mrs. Stan McKee of Las Cruces was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Darrell Adams and Mrs. Wayne Olds. They were gowned in matching floor length ensembles of white lace over turquoise and carried nosegays on which were attached tiny pearl encrusted brides books inscribed with a message to each attendant, from the bride.

Mike Flenniken of Odessa was best man. Groomsmen were Jack Wile and David Lloyd. Serving as ushers were Mike Hood and Larry Schlotterbach.

Candlelighters were Miss Bobbie Jean Flenniken, sister of the groom, and Miss Janie Olds of Eunice, New Mexico. They wore white choir robes draped with turquoise stoles. The flower girl was Miss Michelle Flenniken, niece of the groom, and ring bearer was Timmy Bartlett.

Organ selections were played by Mrs. R. J. Downey, who also accompanied Miss Jimmy Drake, soloist.

A reception was held in the

Mrs. Ben Whitaker gave the president's message and mentioned the upcoming Caprock District Board meeting to be held at South Plains College in Levelland October 16, and the Federation Program to be in Floydada October 19.

Mrs. Willson served refreshments to Meses, J. H. Barnard, P. W. Bell, P. D. Helms, Bessie Henry, Wilson Kimble, R. L. Nichols, Lon V. Smith, W. O. Tye and Mrs. Ben Whitaker.

wedding. White net trimmed with lace and tiny flowers over a white satin gathered skirt covered the bride's table. Two triple-tiered crystal candelabra holding white candles enhanced the table setting. The three-tiered wedding cake, mounted on white columns, was trimmed with turquoise roses, white hearts, and butterflies. A miniature figurine of a red headed bridegroom and a brown-haired bride in a pearl and flowered heart, topped the cake. Pink punch with floating white candles and turquoise roses, mints and nuts were served with the cake.

A table covered with satin and lace trim held a hand-painted brick wishing well filled with rice. Miss Karen Woods, niece of the groom, distributed rice in small cups.

The bride chose an apricot color pantsuit for the wedding trip to Central Texas and Arkansas.

The couple are both graduates of Hobbs High School and have attended New Mexico Junior College. Prior to the wedding the bride was employed by DA&S Oil Well Service Inc. CAST-OFF FURNITURE MAY BE WORTH PLENTY Cast-off furniture, bric-a-brac, and other assorted paraphernalia sitting in the family attic may well be worth more than the storage space they take up! Decorators around the country have been finding new uses for the hidden potential of furniture once considered to be too old or too out of style to be serviceable. Ingenious, ambitious do-it-yourselfers have caught on, too, and are strengthening, scraping and staining in increasing numbers to convert forsaken pieces into what often becomes the focal point of the family living room.

This trend toward the resurrection of "new" antiques has gained enough attention to merit a write-up in a well-known financial publication which gave more than passing mention to the fact that inexpensive antiques have rapidly grown in popularity and value in recent years.

NEWS REPORT FROM WASHINGTON

The Pentagon Papers—Stealing Secrets—Printing Secrets—Historic Turning Point?

Washington, D.C. -- It may be that the New York Times and Washington Post, and other papers which helped them, have finally pushed the federal government and the courts too far, and that the 1971 test of the power of the press will clarify just where freedom of the press ends.

Just as freedom of speech does not include the right to shout, "Fire!" in a crowded theater, freedom of the press doesn't include the right to steal secret government documents or encourage such theft by printing them, without allowing the government to know what is going on.

Freedom of the press doesn't include—though the two most powerful newspapers in the country would make many think so—the right of the editors of those newspapers to decide on questions of national security and violate laws as they see fit. The truth is that reporters and others on these newspapers could be found guilty of serious violations of law and receive jail sentences. And it might take a few examples of this kind to restore sanity among those editors who now feel they can do as they please regardless of the people's government and that there is no power which can restrain them.

President Lyndon Johnson believes the action of recent days is close to treason, according to reports, and also believes the documents in question have a political flavor, were written in part to give the late Robert Kennedy ammunition with which to run against Johnson—when it appeared that the two might be opponents.

The Times and Post have struggled mightily, with editors, columnists and all they can influence in the news media field, to convince the nation that their printing of secret information was a fine act, in the tradition of a free press.

But they have more likely pushed things so far that clear limits will soon be established as to press liability. In the nuclear age, it is unrealistic to trust the national security and national secrets to the discretion of newspaper editors all over the country, who see as their role the right to publish anything they please.

In World War II one newspaper went so far as to publish the news that the nation had broken the secret Japanese naval code, at a time when the enemy wasn't aware of this vital information. An editor made a mistake—and it might have cost many American lives.

Governments must be enabled to carry on negotiations with representatives of other governments in the secure knowledge that all they say will not appear in print, if anyone can possibly steal the records. Otherwise the U.S. press will degenerate into sensationalism.

In the current case, the two giant newspapers originally involved appear to have circumvented government efforts and those of some courts, as certain classified information appeared in other publications after they were restrained.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Bruised Feelings

"It's a boy," said the absent-minded doctor to the happy parents.

But it happened to be a girl. The following morning, the doctor sheepishly acknowledged his mistake. However, the parents were so unnerved by this turn of events that they determined to sue him for damages.

At the trial, the doctor protested: "I admit I made a careless statement. But I can't see any basis for a lawsuit. After all, I didn't really do them any harm."

"Not physically," countered the parents, "but he certainly did jolt us mentally. We want compensation for our mental anguish."

Nevertheless, the court sided with the doctor and dismissed the claim. The court said mere bruised feelings, not inflicted on purpose, are insufficient grounds for collecting damages.

Most courts agree. They fear that with no physical injuries to be checked and measured, it is too easy for a claimant to exaggerate his woes.

They also fear they might be flooded by all sorts of vague claims. In another case, a girl demanded damages for hurt feelings when she was erroneously left out of a beauty contest. But again, the court decided her claim was too "iffy" to be allowed.

"To attempt to fix damages for such suffering," said one judge, "would be to enter the realm of speculation."

On the other hand, some courts have granted damages in unusually delicate situations, when feelings are most likely to be tender. For example:

A telegram to a businessman, informing him that his mother had died, was delivered three days late — after her funeral. Doubtly distressed, the man sued the telegraph company for its negligence.

And, even though he had suffered only mental anguish, the court held the company liable. The judge said:

"The mind is no less a part of the person than the body, and the suffering of the former are sometimes more acute than those of the latter."

FLOYD PHILOSOPHER

Points To Encourage The Idea

Had That The U.S. Is Really Hard Up

The Floyd Philosopher on his farm comes up with a new week.

pretty well established, at least of newspaper and magazine columns. The United States has a lot of its prestige around the world so for example that Paris is refusing to take U. S. Dollars for a lot of people worried, excusing what ever remember waking up and what my prestige was that day in the world although I have a notion what it is across my neighbor. I'll return his hoe just as soon as which patch of weeds it is that has found it.

less, a lot of leaders are saying to do something about our world we've got to restore our image as the most prosperous nation.

can't be wrong. for us to do is to go all out on the notion we're hard up. Paint black and bleak. Why just last that the Chancellor of Austria, reviewing the balance of payment difficulties the United States is having, said "the time has come for European nations to remember the generous help given them by the U. S. after World War II and repay part of their debt."

I've forgotten how many billions of dollars we loaned them, but if we've now convinced them we're in such bad shape they ought to start repaying at least PART of it, we're on the right track. Let's fan that fire from all directions. Tell our diplomats abroad to start wearing ruffled suits and carrying their lunches in paper sacks. Have their wives dress in last year's clothes and run ads offering to do baby sitting. Have foreign visitors come by here to see the loose boards on my front porch and go on to Washington to examine the national debt. Get the power company to turn off the electricity in the U.S. Capitol and put out the word it was for failure to pay the bill. Then hit Europe up for a loan to get us back on our feet.

This is an opportunity too good to miss. Speaking of balance of payments, I don't quite understand it on the world level but I know what it is on the local level. It means fourteen more payments and that television set is yours.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

GUEST EDITORIAL

A Role For The Press

There are people in every community who like to deflate an editor by making a point that they "didn't see" something published in his newspaper.

Perhaps they aren't aware that when information is made available to the public and given general distribution, the burden rests on the person and not the news medium to "get the word."

It is amazing today how many people are uninformed about the government, about history, about geography, about a thousand things that are recorded in every public library, are continually being disseminated via magazine, newspaper, radio and television. Yet, the majority of people just don't get the word.

We wonder how many people will stand in the judgment with a perplexed look on their faces and the assinine excuse on their lips, "I didn't know." Yet, Bibles are everywhere.

These observations were prompted by an editorial I read last week from the Burlington (Wisc.) Standard Press.

It had to do with "getting it in the paper."

Then it explains how one segment of the people, those with an axe to grind of some kind, perhaps a benefit to promote, perhaps a commercial entertainment, perhaps a fund raising drive, will go to almost any extreme to get a little "free publicity."

Then there are those with family embarrassments who will go to almost any extreme to keep something "out of the papers."

So it would seem that despite those who never get the word via the news media, people in general have a great respect for the ability of a newspaper to disseminate information, whether it be good, bad, or indifferent . . . else they wouldn't be so anxious to "get it in" or "keep it out."

The newspaper is a good place to record information, whether it be favorable or unfavorable, good or bad.

For one thing, the newspaper is an enemy of rumor.

How many times do reports circulate throughout a community, reports often containing a small vestige of truth . . . but so exaggerated and distorted that they have become unrecognizable.

Last week we heard that the function of the proposed junior college would be to train nurses for Swisher Memorial Hospital!

"It will be only a nursing school," someone alleged!

The first of last week we heard that three divorce suits had been filed in Swisher County.

By Thursday the figure had grown to 18. So it is with hundreds of rumors and reports.

Furthermore, newspapers are subject to libel laws.

Publication of information tends to nail down these rumors. First, no responsible editor is going to publish such information without verifying the facts. He isn't going to grab the first word of mouth rumor he hears. Then if, by chance, his information does contain an element of distortion, perhaps due to a typographical error, perhaps to human failure at the place the information originated, the misinformation will be speedily corrected.

Quite often we are stopped on the street and asked why a choice bit of gossip was not in the paper. When we explain that we didn't know it to be a fact, the answer usually is "everybody knows it."

More often somebody comes to us with some "evidence" of wrongdoing in the community that they would like us to publicize.

"If you know this to be true," we reply, "why not write it all out in a letter to the editor and sign your name . . . then we will perhaps print it."

We've never yet had a taker.

We dislike publishing unpleasant news that is certain to embarrass innocent persons, perhaps parents. Yet there are times when we are compelled to do so.

We appreciated a parent who called us sometime ago concerning a problem involving her child. The story had been reported incorrectly in some of the area dailies.

"All I am asking," the mother explained, "is that if you publish the information, you correct the error in the story carried by the daily paper."

What request could be more fair? And how tempted an editor is to soft pedal the story if he must carry it!

National Newspaper Week is an appropriate time to take a look at the newspaper and how it functions, how it serves the public, how it is a more responsible source of information than the rumor mill.

Community Action Center Presents

Soybeans are a complete and cheap source of all vitamins, minerals and protein with the exception of "V.E."

Now that harvest time is approaching it is important that people put up one or more sacks of beans per family. A clean garbage container makes an ideal storage place and they keep indefinitely.

When preparing, pick, wash and soak overnight. Cook at low heat, about 4 hours, then wash through several waters until cool (no seasoning). Drain and pack in plastic bags and put in deep freeze. Use 1/2 gallon bags and when using chip off with ice pick what you need and put back in deep freeze. Use 1 cup beans and 1 cup enriched flour and 1 tablespoon of wheat germ in a blender with enough milk to make them blend. Now you can make pies, cakes, biscuits, waffles, hot cakes, cookies or whatever.

For example, break two eggs in above blender with teaspoon salt, a tablespoon baking powder, 2 tablespoons Crisco cooking oil and you have a hot cake or waffle batter that is packed with nutrients. You don't necessarily have to use with syrup or sweets but with bacon, eggs or ham as you would bread.

If you have more than you need for one meal put extra batter in fruit jar and keep in refrigerator. Many people grab a cup of coffee and a sweet roll and call that breakfast.

Actually, breakfast should be your big meal and supper your lightest.

For hamburgers or sandwiches, use above mixture, thicken with flour, roll out on dough board, cut out with jar top and bake on cookie sheet. For crackers or taco shells roll paper thin and bake in medium oven. If taco shells, cut pieces of tin the size of saucer, fold and hang over racks in oven. Bake loaf bread once a week for a change of pace but use 1 cup beans to two cups flour. Blend your beans in the liquid and with a little imagination you can use your favorite recipe.

If you want to lose weight blend one tablespoon of beans with each serving of milk and pour over your favorite cereal and eat it for supper. "Breakfast like a King, Lunch like a Prince and Supper like a Pauper" should be your motto.

Before our "refining processes" bread was considered the "staff of life" - it can and should again. We at our community center have done much research because we felt that the poor could be fed better for less. Now we find the affluent are probably more undernourished than the poor, especially children whose taste runs to sweets and old people who eat very little.

Only you can change your eating habits and it is not a sudden cure for all your ailments. We are, however, what we eat, and in the course of time, you will acquire renewed vigor, a slim waistline and fewer doctor's bills and drug bills.

If what we say makes sense, help us spread the word, especially to those who don't read. Sid Thomas, Coordinator for Floydada, Lockney and Ralls Centers

Letters To The Editor

Dear Mr. Tooley:

We hear the old adage that spring has sprung if you sunrise these mornings you will think that fall has sprung. The school buses coming and a-going and the grass showing up in the fields, boll pullers are being put to work.

My friend, Mr. Homer Steen, can remember and tell there were no combines, grain was harvested with a corn was cut with a corn knife, goose necked mules digging them out with a hoe. Hay crops cut with a machine raked in to a windrow with pitch forks was shocks, later either baled or hauled and put in to Ms.ize was cut and thrown in to a wagon, hauled and rick and when blue northern season came it was loaded on and hauled several miles to a railroad point.

A ton of coal then was loaded on to a railroad point and it was hauled back home and that night you could tell that you had a busy day. There was no such a thing as cotton bolls. You picked the cotton out of the boll, shook off there was any, and put it in to your sack. When you had cotton you could drag you headed to the wagon which was in the center of the field with the tongue hoisted up in a pair of scales hanging on it to weigh the sacks of cotton.

Papa generally emptied the children's sacks and had a lot of green bolls in the sack someone probably had supper standing up that night. Green bolls were in the early days farming was done the hard way, there enough post holes and stretched enough wire to fence you then with two or sometimes three horses and a walking you walked behind that plow and broke out several acres land. Most time it was in the winter time. How I would someone who would walk behind a sod plow, a blue morning these days.

In the real early days nearly everyone lived in a womenfolks cooked on a bachelor stove with an oven baking. The stove was fired with cow chips. The set up was a tub, a wash board and an old cast iron pot. It was also fired with chips. A barbed wire yard clothesline. All the yards had a barbed wire fence stock off the dugout. Most time there weren't any wind breaks.

In one corner would be a small house where they out-dated catalogs. There wasn't many places to go away to go at that. A buck board buggy, wagon or horse sometimes it took days to go to a town to buy supplies and lumber in a number of houses here on the Plains were from Amarillo or Colorado City, some as far as Fort Worth.

A lot of times school was taught in some one's dugout. There weren't any school houses anywhere close enough to all the children to go.

So as we drive around these Plains and see these homes we should utter a prayer for the pioneer here today. Had it not been for them our country might been so great. So, young folks, when you see a toddler along on a walking stick, remember he is the helped make it possible for you to have the nice things today.

Carl McDaniel, P...

Finley of Plains, Later Mr. and Mrs. Finley visited her Tom Jernigan.

SOUTH PLAINS NEWS by Mrs. Murray Julian

SOUTH PLAINS, Sept. 27 - The cold rainfall which began last Thursday left approximately 3 1/2 to 4 inches around South Plains. We gladly welcome the windy, warmer weather, this week for maize, cotton and soy beans. Mud has caused the rural roads to be really bad. All the lakes are full again, and we see several new ones which have appeared with all the rain.

Autumn arrived September 23. The equinox occurs when the sun crosses the equator, when day and night are most nearly equal. This year's harvest moon is the full moon nearest the autumnal equinox, and it will shine on Oct. 4 this year, giving extra hours of light for harvesting crops. Rains ushered in autumn here.

L.N. Johnson and twins, Deane and Denise, went to Ft. Worth Friday, taking down the horse they showed in the 4-H Show Saturday afternoon. Carlene and Shari flew down Saturday morning for the event. They visited in the home of Rev. and Mrs. Sealy Smith of Weatherford. Other visitors to see the horse show at Fort Worth were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Burks of Rockwall.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Land of Clarendon were Sunday guests in the home of her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Arby Mulder. Arby came home from the Plainview Central Plains Hospital Thursday after a two week stay. He is getting along just fine.

Bible Study for the community will be held this Tuesday morning in the home of Mrs. Early Pritchett with a study on Isaiah. The Bible Study was dismissed during the summer months.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray Julian spent Sunday in Lubbock with Mr. and Mrs. Terry Julian of Roscoe. Leena Julian entered University Hospital Sunday afternoon and underwent a bone fusion Monday morning. She will be in room #122, after leaving intensive care. Mr. and Mrs. Kendis Julian were there all day Monday. Dee and Dickie Julian are staying with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Althof at Roscoe.

Mr. and Mrs. George Beedy of Plainview were Sunday visitors here in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McClure. The McClure's grandchildren, Donna and Boyd McClure of Plainview spent Friday night and Saturday with them. Mr. and Mrs. Sylvain Kinnibrugh went to Lubbock today to attend the Lubbock South Plains Fair to hear the Tennessee Ernie Ford Show.

There were good crowds at prayer meeting at the Baptist Church Wednesday night of last week, even though it was raining. Everyone remembers prayer meeting Wednesday night, October 6 at 7:00 instead of 8:00. This is church conference night.

Mrs. J.H. Karr, of Springtown, has been in the Weatherford Hospital the past seven weeks suffering with a broken hip and complications, occurring from a fall in the bathtub at her home. Mrs. Karr is the mother of Bryan Karr of Richardson, who formerly lived here. Helen Karr has been staying at the hospital during the week with her, and Bryan staying the weekends. We hope Mrs. Karr improves and they are able to move her home soon.

Mr. and Mrs. L.T. Wood went to Amarillo Thursday to spend the day at the Amarillo Fair Park, and enjoyed seeing Charlie Pride at the show that night. Hobby Club will meet at the home of Mrs. Leighton Teeple October 13, at 2 p.m. with a program on Christmas Ideas. Each member is to bring a favorite Christmas Candy recipe to share with others. Bonnie Julian will give the "Thought for the Day."

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fortenberry went to Grapevine last week to attend the funeral for Mrs. Fortenberry's cousin, Mrs. Clara Self, 67, who died Sept. 17 from a heart attack had been living in Michigan with her daughter. While the Fortenberrys were there another friend, Mrs. Marvin Langley passed away. She had been in the hospital for 3 weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Burks of Rockwall, who lived in the South Plains area some time ago, were here for a visit with friends, and spent Tuesday and part of Monday with the Murray Julians, and then were guests of the Early Pritchetts over Wednesday night. They had been visiting in Tucumcari, New Mexico and around the Las Vegas area.

House guests over the past weekend in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvain Kinnibrugh were their children, Mr. and Mrs. Teddy Horne and Melissa of Plainview. Mr. and Mrs. Britt Gregory of Lubbock; her mother Mrs. J.R. Spivery of Truscott; Mr. and Mrs. W.H. Simmons, Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Simmons and Shane all of Truscott; and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dillard of Lockney.

Baptist Church attendance was good Sunday even though roads were still wet and deep rutted. Visitors included Mr. Floydada, for both services, and at night Terry Julian of Roscoe. The Week of Prayer for State Missions goal was set for $228.00. There has already been $400 given for the missions project, for which everyone is thankful.

Billie Joe Harris, and Mitzi Julian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kendis Julian, were in baptismal services at the South Plains Baptist Church Sunday night.

Lockney Airman In Exercise

AUSTIN, Tex. - Airman First Class Humberto Flores Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Humberto Flores of Rt. 2, Lockney, Tex., took part in a recent U.S. Strike Command (USSTRCOM) joint air and ground training exercise at Fort Campbell, Ky.

The exercise, involving approximately 1,200 U. S. Air Force and Army personnel, tested the operational readiness and rapid reaction capability of select USSTRCOM ground and air units.

Airman Flores is an aircraft mechanic with the Tactical Air Command's 9th Tactical Reconnaissance Squadron at Bergstrom AFB, Tex.

He is a 1969 graduate of Lockney High School and attended Oklahoma City University.

FLOYD DATA

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Clark Jr., of Santa Fe, New Mexico, were here last midweek to attend funeral rites on Wednesday for Ronnie Harris, Plainview. They visited in Floydada with Clark's mother, Mrs. L. L. Clark Sr., and a daughter, Mrs. J. E. Waller and family. Other guests in the Clark home were Mr. and Mrs. Dane Clark and family of Denver, Colo.

Community Action Board To Meet

Members of the Community Action Board will meet Monday (October 4) at 8 p.m. The board will review programs in progress at the Community Center and plan for new programs.

Plans are being made to hold a first aid class, a drivers license class, and other educational training. However, eight to ten participants are needed to begin instruction in a class.

Center director John Campbell asks those who wish to enroll to contact him at the Neighborhood Center. An invitation is extended to all interested persons to come to the board meeting Monday night to voice their opinions on programs and activities at the Center.

The Center's monthly Well Baby Clinic will be held next Thursday (October 7) from 1 to 4 p.m. Mothers of babies age one month to one year are asked to bring their children to the clinic to receive instruction on child care. The clinic is free to all qualified low-income families.

The board of directors discussed several complaints during their last meeting. Those who have complaints or questions about the Center should be present at the Monday night meeting. Anyone who has a problem or complaint, or needs help in any area that concerns the Community Center programs, should get in touch with John Campbell or be at the board meeting Monday.

P&K Contest Set On Oct. 2

is just one short week for boys in Floydada for the local Punt, Pass & Kick Competition. Ford Sales, sponsor of popular youth activity, said that registration would be taken through Oct. 1. The PP&K is scheduled for Oct. 2, 9:30 a.m. at the stadium. Although time is growing short, boys 8-13 years of age will compete," said Jackson. "All he needs to

Kunkel Romps; Defense Shines

(by James Huggins)
Jim Kunkel rushed for 235 yards and three touchdowns Friday night. Van Mitchell added another score, and the Whirlwind defense held Post to 99 yards, all on the ground, as Floydada shut out the Antelopes 24-0.

Kunkel went over from three, 35, and 88 yards out, setting up the three-yarder with a 54-yard ramble. Mitchell scored late in the final period from 16 yards away. The 'Winds couldn't put together a successful extra-point effort all night.

The contest started off with mistakes by both sides: The Whirlwinds lost the ball via fumbles on their first two offensive plays; Post suffered a blocked punt and a pass interception on their first two possessions.

Penalties again cost Floydada over 100 yards and at least six points; 12 infraction calls went against the 'Winds, including a motion penalty that wiped out a John Cagle-to-Mark Vinson scoring pass in the fourth quarter.

PLAY-BY-PLAY

Joe Martinez' kickoff went out of bounds, costing the Whirlwinds five; Rance Young tried the KO from the 35. Post brought it out 12 yards to their 36. Three running plays found the Antelopes backed up to their 33. The punt was blocked by Whirlwind Kim Rose.

But Van Mitchell fumbled the ball away on the first play, and Post went back to the attack from their 19. The Antelopes had advanced to near midfield when Langston Williams ended the threat, momentarily, with an interception.

Another Whirlwind fumble of the slippery ball gave Post a chance from the Floydada 39. The 'Wind defense held, and Floydada took over on downs at the 35. Mitchell carried for six yards, then two penalties took 'em back to the 31. A couple of passes fell incomplete, and Mark Vinson punted to the Post 34. The Post offense had no luck, losing eight yards on three carries; the punt went to the Floydada, 43.

Then came Kunkel's first big breakthrough: the Whirlwind fullback rambled to the Post three-yard-line before being brought down, then rammed over for the TD on the next play. The score stood 6-0 after Young's kick missed the mark.

Post went to the offensive from their 30 after the kickoff and return. Three runs found 'em right there - at the 30 - and the punt went to Williams, who returned to Post's 47.

Kunkel got three, then Harris got loose wide and picked up a first at the Post 29. It was fourth-and-16 when Kunkel bolted 35 yards for his second TD of the night. Extras? Nope, it was FHS 12, Post 0.

Martinez' kickoff bounced through a Post return man's legs and into the end zone, where it was fielded by another Antelope, who was tackled, still in the end zone, by several Whirlwind defenders. Was that a safety? The two points momentarily added to the Whirlwind side of the scoreboard so indicated, but the officials ruled the ball had not been touched out of the end zone, and the scoreboard again said 12-0, and Post went from their 20 on a touchback.

Again Post got nearly to midfield before having to punt; Williams brought it out to the 28 for the 'Winds.

Three successive penalties set the 'Winds back to their 12-yard-line before Kunkel once more ran over, through, and past the Post defense for a six-pointer. Extra try failed again, and, with 48 seconds left in the first half, it was Whirlwinds 18, Post 0.

boys his own age. And since there is no body contact, a boy's size is not as important as his ability to punt, pass and place-kick for distance with accuracy.

"Winners can keep right on going up through the zone, district, area and division contestants to the national finals," the Ford Dealer said, it's possible that one or more of our local winners could wind up in the finals, which this year will be held at the Super Bowl Game on January 16. Here finalists and their parents as Ford's guests will take a special tour of fabulous New Orleans, enjoy a Banquet of Champions celebration, and have the chance to meet some of the top professional players and coaches.

"Registering for PP&K right now in our dealership could mean all that for some youngster or youngsters here in Floydada, but they should register right now," the dealer concluded.

When he registers, each boy gets a free PP&K Tips Book. It contains helpful pointers from the pros on punting, passing and kicking. In the '71 edition are suggestions from NFL stars Dave Lewis, John Brodie and Curt Knight, plus Coaches of the Year Ron McCafferty and Tom Landry. Complete PP&K rules and suggested conditioning exercises for contestants are also included.

This is the 11th year PP&K has been sponsored by the Ford Dealers of America and the National Football League. In that time more than 7,000,000 boys have taken part in PP&K, making it the biggest and best youth activity of its kind in America.

KUNKEL PLOWS OVER FROM THE THREE . . . and officials' hands fly up as the big Whirlwind fullback records his first of three touchdowns against Post Friday. WHIRLWIND DEFENSE closes in on Post ballcarrier John Johnson (11), who fumbled after the hit by Jay Jones (63), Terry Bunch (77) pounced on the loose ball. Other 'Wind defenders: Walter Harris (11); Kim Rose (75); Charles Jackson (88); Steve Holmes (64). (Staff Photo)

SECOND HALF

Floydada took the second-half kickoff and marched from their own 21 to the Post 22 before bogging down. Harris, Mitchell and Kunkel dived the running and Rick Watts connected on a 27-yard third-down pass to Charles Jackson at the Post 38. The Antelopes, aided by a roughing-the-kicker call at their 35, got to midfield before having to cough up the ball.

Post's punt carried to the Whirlwind 29. On the first play, Antelope Johnny Minor fell on a Harris fumble at the 22. Post couldn't cash in on the break, though, and lost the ball on downs at the Floydada 14.

But Floydada couldn't bring it out on the ground, and elected to punt on third down, giving Post the ball on the 'Winds 36. Nothing doing for the Post offense either. Their punt went nine yards off the side of the kicker's foot. It was Floydada's turn to run a few and punt, this one a 51-yard beauty by Vinson that rolled to the Post 14. The Antelopes got out to their 29, then Terry Bunch grabbed a fumbled ball for the Whirlwinds.

Two incomplete passes preceded Kunkel's fourteen-yard carry, which gave the 'Winds a first down at Post's 15. But that was all the Whirlwinds could manage; Post took over on downs and advanced to the 21 before Tony Goen recovered another fumble for Floydada. Three plays later Mitchell went

Breezers Edge Crosbyton 14-6, 8-0

Floydada Junior High Breezer football teams were involved in a couple of close games with Crosbyton Tuesday.

The seventh graders managed a 14-6 victory over the visitors. Crosbyton scored on a runback of the opening kickoff; extra points try failed. The score stood 6-0 until, with 20 seconds left in the first half, quarterback Jay Womack kept for the Breezer touchdown. Womack added the points and the Breezers led 8-6 at half-time. The Floydada seventh graders added another six points in the second half when Kevin Nelson crashed over from the three. Womack's extra run was stopped short of the mark.

The eighth-grade Breezers downed Crosbyton 8-0 in a last minute thriller. With the line of scrimmage the Breezer seven, quarterback Greg Goen connected with split end Kelvin Ratliff at the 15, and Ratliff scampered the remaining 85 yards for the game-winning touchdown. Fullback Steve Moore added the extras.

"They wouldn't raise my allowance, so here I am."
