If you are planning on attending any part of the Dallas Fair Oct. 9-24, you might be interested in working in a schedule to see a drag race while there. It's the Texas Open World Drag Championships and among the early entries are Kelly Chadwick and Gene Snow, both well known in this area, as well as the fastest woman in the world, in drag racing, that is, Shirley Muldowney. One of the features in the three-day event, Oct. 15, 16, 17, will be Art Arfons, the fastest man on four wheels, who will race his jet powered Cyclops 11 against E. J. Potter, the Michigan Madman, on his tire smoking V-8 Chevrolet-powered motorcycle. This will be Art Arfons last race and he will be attempting to run 300 miles per hour to better his own record of 291.26 before he retires.

BET there were a bunch of disappointed Cowboy fans Sunday. First they had to sit in a pouring down rain to watch their team lose, then fans who traveled westward home, were stalled near the stadium while a train was being repaired. Shortly before the game ended, a Santa Fe train, a mile and a half long, stalled across the tracks when a coupling device between two rail-cars broke locking the train's emergency brakes. About that time fans, already losing, and slushing to their knees in mud and water, now faced along wait to get home, forty-five minutes to be exact, an official said. On one point a policeman said pedestrians were going over, under and on top of the train to get across, all this in pouring down rain.

JACQUES Kaplan, famous for furs, is making his own bed and is perfectly willing to sleep in it. It's a replacement for the old fold-up Murphy bed. For those who may be interested in something other than the water bed, this creation stands (it really stands) in various sizes. Kaplan's first one was carved out of a thick block of foam rubber, some eight feet tall, looking like the ample figure of a woman. It's upholstered in cowhide and when not in use the foam rubber female stands meekly on a metal base. She is light enough that a child can push her over on the floor to lie upon for his afternoon nap.

IN behalf of the Band Boosters this week I would like to extend a "big thanks" to Irene Dobbs for her help in the north concession stand Friday night during the football game. Irene volunteered her services to chairman Jean Williams, even though Irene doesn't have children in the band. Besides that she had already put in 12 hard hours assisting her husband that day at Dobbs Meat Mkt., and it wasn't play the three hours at the concession stand. We as band parents really appreciate you, Irene.

I HAVE re-learned how to read a book, go to bed early and even sew since our television gave a great big burp and belch then went black some three weeks ago. Wouldn't you know something like that would happen at football season. Tried jumping up and down on the floor, kicking the TV, changing furniture and even dusting but nothing helped, the color was gone and nothing would bring it back but a new picture tube. It's supposed to be out of the hospital this week. Might pass along a tip to 23 inch TV owners. . .the color picture tubes for that size seem to be obsolete. . .anyway none could be located in this area of the state . . .so a reconditioned one, which seems to serve the same purpose, is the next best thing.

DON'T look for Meddlins next week! Danny and his wife arrive Friday night and I plan to take a week off for a visit with them. After all it's been a year!

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Thomas Parish before an altar decorated with branched candelabra, blue and yellow pompon mums.

It featured a high Victorian neckline, full bishop sleeves with deep exaggerated cuffs, circular skirt and attached train. The bodice was adorned with chantilly lace edged in Venise lace interwoven with blue velvet ribbon. The neckline and cuffs were also accented with the same trim. Her veil was held by a candlelight satin bow falling waist length. She carried a colonial type basket filled with blue and yellow daisies and gypsophila cascading down the front with yellow streamers.

Miss Mary Cole of Wellington, Kansas, was maid of honor and Miss Gayle Gentry of Springdale, Arkansas, was bridesmaid. They wore formal gowns of blue dotted swiss and each carried a basket filled with blue and yellow daisies fashioned similar to the bride's.

Miss Mickie Kendrick, Wellington, niece of the groom, was flower girl. She wore a floor length dress identical to the other attendants and carried a miniature basket containing yellow and blue daisies. The ring bearer was Mike Heasty of Coffeyville, Kansas, cousin of the bride.

Candlelighters were Mona and Lori Heasty of Coffeyville, also cousins of the bride. Their dresses were fashioned like other feminine attendants and they wore wrist corsages of yellow and blue daisies.

Martin L. Whittaker of Lewisburg, Pennsylvania, served as best man and Ken Kendrick, Wellington, brother-in-law of the groom, was groomsman.

Miss Patti Semones of Lyndon Center, Va., was organist and accompanied Miss Peggy

STITCHING WITCHERY

Choose fabrics, colors carefully

By BETTY W. KINSER
Copley News Service

We are doing today what was utterly unthinkable ten years ago: putting prints with plaids with polka dots with paisley with stripes. And it's called fashion.

But, be careful. Choose your colors and fabrics with tenderness. Otherwise, you will have a combination that will give you a migraine for a week. Be fashionable — not reckless.

Dear Mrs. Kinser: What do you advise in using leather-like vinyls as trim on coats and jackets? Can it be washed if used on a washable fabric; can it be dry-cleaned if used on wools? I have made a coat and several purses out of various vinyls, and have many left-over scraps that would make attractive "added touches." — Mrs. Richard Nickel

Dear Mrs. Nickel: It's a chance. But, with a little mind-joggling and researching, I think I have hit on a plan that might work. (In sewing, nothing is impossible — almost.)

It is difficult to give you a definite answer as to whether or not your vinyl will wash or dry-clean. There are so many types of vinyl — and just as many ways to handle them.

So, it is necessary to do a little experimenting. Stitch a few inches of vinyl trim onto a piece of the fabric you are going to use. Then, put it through various washing and cleaning "baths." Or, better yet, make two or three test pieces and put each one through a different process. This should give you a no-nonsense, no-guess-work answer as to how well it survives such treatment.

Remember, vinyl dislikes heat. Don't use a real hot water, or a hot dryer. Never touch vinyl with a hot iron — that's instant disaster. It would be best, I think, to use a fabric that will require little or no ironing so you don't run the risk of accidentally ironing over the trim.

To eliminate bulk, trim all joining seams as closely as possible; and use raw edges rather than turned-under edges whenever you can. Vinyl will not fray, so you needn't worry about it "pulling out" around the edges.

If you find, after experimenting, that your vinyl isn't going to withstand any type of washing or cleaning, then your only alternative would be to attach the trim by hand, removing it before cleaning the garment each time.

QUICK STITCH: A favorite pattern can go through only so many uses, and then suddenly it begins to disintegrate. Holes pop in it here and there, and the edges start to curl up and die. But you can't bear to throw it away. Right?

So, carefully press each pattern piece onto iron-on Pellon, working with the iron just warm enough to do the job — no hotter. Use a soft-lead pencil to redraw the markings, cutting lines, etc. that may have disappeared. Trim the Pellon on the cutting line. You now have a permanent pattern that will go through many cuttings, and foldings.

LUXURY FOR THE BATH

On the bath scene, the lush look of marble is back in the home fashion foreground. Mixed with hardwood paneling and cotton or wool wall-to-wall carpet underfoot, the bathroom has never before lavished in such luxury. Hardwood vanity units, medicine cabinets and decorative hampers are very much in focus for other natural accents.

While grasscloth makes extra news for bathroom walls, shower curtains of linen and cotton are also back in the limelight, providing a rich shell to enhance the profusion of natural accessories to be found in the most up-to-date baths. Landscapes and other scenic displays in handsome wood frames are an elegant trim for walls, and clusters of dried flowers and leafy plants perk up apothecary jars, cut crystal de-

Plainview Man To College Board

PLAINVIEW — Marshall Formby, 59, of Plainview, has been named by Gov. Preston Smith as new member of the College Coordinating Board.

The Plainview attorney is a former Highway Commission chairman and has served as Dickens County judge and State senator for the Lubbock area.

"The governor called me some time back and we talked about the coordinating board," he said. "He (the governor) said he wanted more people who had some experience with college boards. I'm looking forward to serving on the board—I'm very interested in higher education, and I sometimes wonder if we are as practical about higher education as we should be."

Also named to the CCB with Formby was Richard S. Slocomb, Galena Park insurance man and chairman of San Jacinto College Board of Regents. Reappointed to the coordinating board were Harvey Well of Corpus Christi, Newton Gresham of Houston, Jack Arthur of Stephenville and Wayne E. Thomas of Hereford.

Handy Guide to the Care of Hardwood Floors

Keeping your hardwood floors in top-notch condition is a lot easier than most people believe. Of course, like any high-quality product, wood floors do need some periodic special attention. But when you think of all the advantages a hardwood floor provides as opposed to some of the synthetic substitutes on the market, it's fairly clear that a dash of extra trouble may very well be worth the additional effort. Not only do hardwood floors (floors made of oak, maple, teak, pecan, cherry, etc.) increase the value of a house, but they have many decorative bonuses to boot.

To look their beautiful best, hardwood floors should always be kept dust and dirt free and polished to a gleamingly high luster. Here's how to do it:

- Vacuum clean or dry mop the floor with the wood grain to clean away normal dust and dirt. An oil-base dust and grime remover used on the mop will facilitate cleaning.
- Two or three times yearly remove surface dirt and old floor wax. A cleaner-wax with a solvent base is best for this purpose. Spread cleaner-wax with a cloth or fine steel wool; then rub gently to remove grime and old wax. Let dry for 20 minutes, then buff. A second coat of this wax will increase durability.

Clubs and organizations are being asked to furnish rooms and to set up special exhibits in the museum.

Any member of the board can now accept any article or antique for the museum. If you have such a historical item, please contact a member. Articles can be placed on loan or given as a tax reduction. The museum is happy to report that several valuable items have already been received.

The next regular meeting will be January 5, 1972.

Floyd County And Floydada 4-H Join National Celebration

Floyd County's more than 150 4-H members are having a celebration this week. And they aren't the only ones, according to Ginger Henderson, Floyd County 4-H Council president. The local 4-H'ers are joining more than 78,000 Texas 4-H'ers and nearly 4 million others throughout the Nation in the observance of National 4-H Week, October 3 to 9.

What is the occasion all about here in Floyd County? Miss Henderson said the county's 4-H'ers will be participating in activities all week to tell the public and prospective 4-H members about the Head, Heart, Hands, and Health program; also to recruit more volunteer leaders, recognize the support of parents and to honor 4-H friends.

The county and national observance has as its theme, 4-H "Bridges the Gap."

"Opportunities in 4-Hand the opportunity to join 4-H are greater now than ever before," Miss Henderson said. Young people between the ages of 9 and 19 qualify for membership whether they live on farms in towns, cities, or suburbs. Those of all cultural and economic background are welcome too.

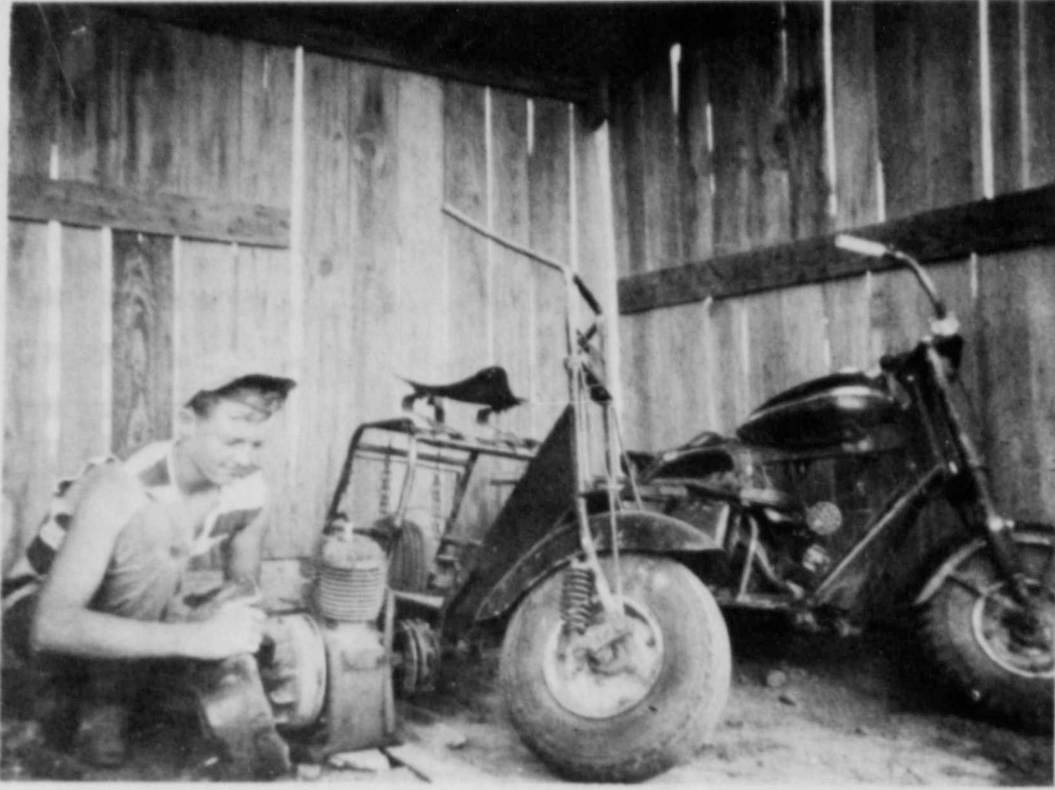

The Floyd County 4-H Council - with help from local 4-H officers, adult leaders, and the county extension service staff - is heading the special week-long observance here.

4-H WORK A TEAM ORGANIZATION

4-H Club work is a team organization, and one of its most important members, according to Asst. County Agent Richie Crow, are the local volunteer leaders who render yeoman service in the local clubs.

In Floyd County 45 men and women are now active in our 4-H program. They serve in many capacities, some as subject-matter leaders, others coach or assist with the coaching of judging and demonstration teams but regardless of their assignment have one thing in common - they have an abiding faith in today's young people.

Many of our adult leaders, Crow said, are former 4-H members and are parents of present day members. They share a common interest, seeing boys and girls advance through the opportunities available in 4-H, and move on into their places in the topsy-turvy

PROJECT WORK IMPORTANT PART OF 4-H

National 4-H Week will be observed in Floyd County the week of October 3 to 9, according to George Finley, president of the Floydada 4-H Club. Floyd County will join millions of other 4-H'ers in this observance.

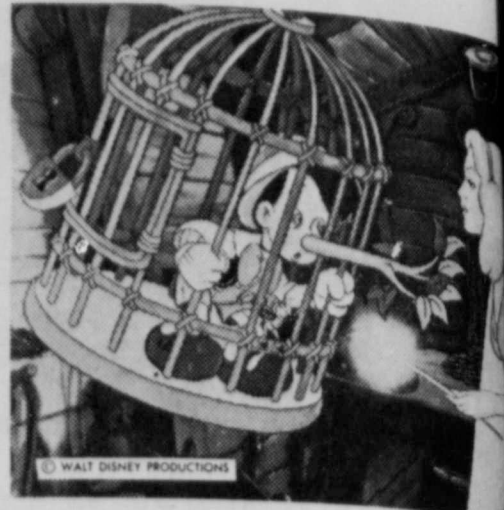

In the modern 4-H program, Finley said the major part of the 4-H story is project work. Members choose from some 100 projects dealing with everyday learning experiences that fit them and the places where they live.

Floyd County boys and girls were enrolled in 82 educational learn-by-doing farm, home, personal development, and community projects last year, the extension agent reported. Using information obtained from material, leaders, and agents, the 4-H'er develops his or her project, keeps records, prepares educational exhibits and makes show and tell presentation for the benefit of others.

A total of 17 County project champions were named this year. Kay Russell, Jill Wheeler, and George Finley represented Floyd County at the State Record Judging.

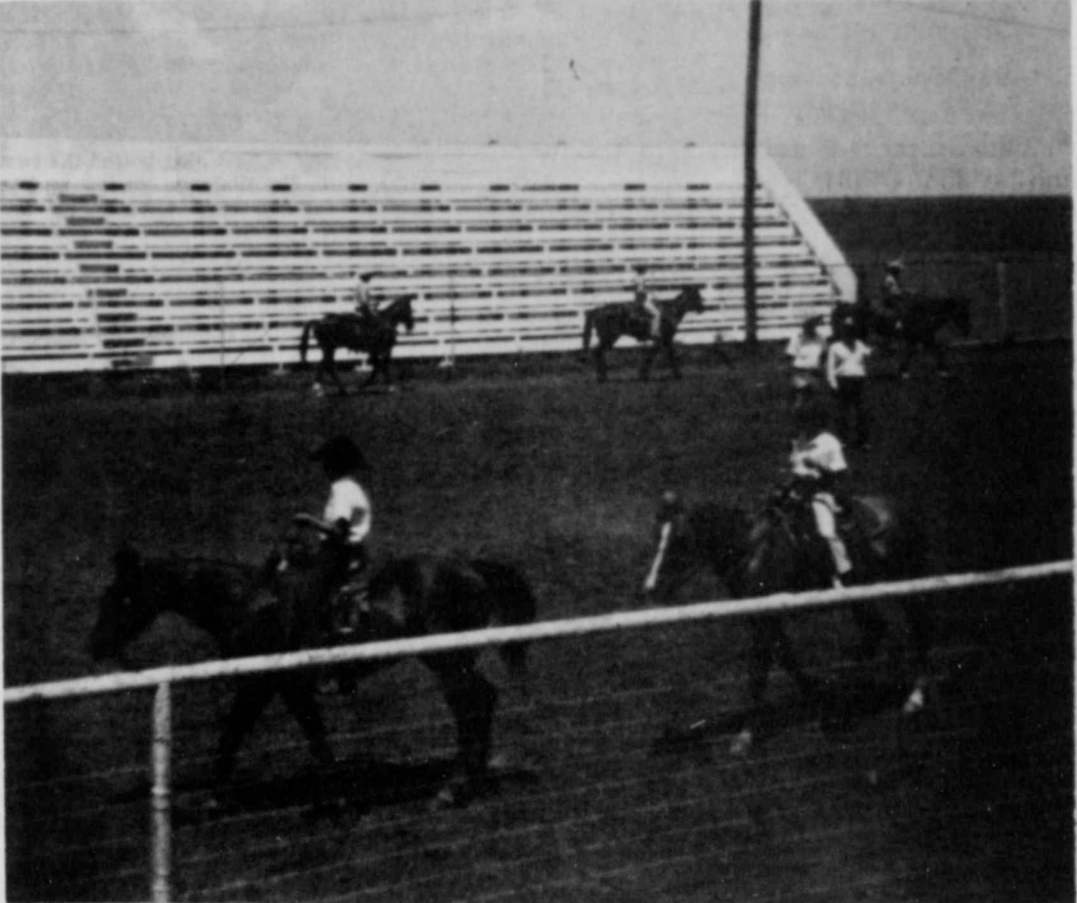

However, projects aren't the whole story in 4-H, Finley said. In 4-H Floyd County boys and girls have fun, go to camp, take special trips, attend dinners, banquets, and rallies; participate in area and State Fairs, earn awards - including scholarships, work with younger 4-H members, enroll in leadership and citizenship programs, and discover new and interesting ways to enjoy life while living it, Finley commented.

The Floyd County Council met Monday, Oct. 3, at the agricultural building in Floydada.

President Ginger Schulz gave the meeting. Pam Patterson presided. The Home Demonstration Agent, Billie Taylor, introduced the members.

The Floyd County Achievement Banquet held November 4, Floydada Duncan School. This year's theme is "4-H'ers Are World."

Those Council members attending were Ginger Schulz, Pam Patterson, Sam Fort, George Finley, Lyle Miller, and Max Yearly.

SOCIAL SECURITY QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q. I am 64 and will be retiring soon. My 66-year-old husband, who has been ill and unable to work for the past several years, collects a small social security benefit. I have been supporting him for the last several years. Could he be entitled to a benefit on my record?

A. Possibly. If he has been dependent on you for at least one-half of his support in the year immediately before you become entitled to social security retirement benefits, he could qualify as a dependent husband on your social security record. He can collect the larger of the benefits, either on his own record or on yours. He cannot collect both benefits.

While we have a relatively good number of volunteer leaders, more are needed to adequately serve even more of our young people, the county agent said. Any adult interested in joining our 4-H team can get full details on what is involved in volunteer leadership work at the county Extension Service office.

NEWS ABOUT 4-H

National 4-H Dress Revue Turns Dreams into Reality

SPECIAL - Every young girl dreams of being a storybook princess with a prince charming gazing at her in admiration.

And 51 young ladies may bring their dreams to reality in Chicago later this year. Representing their home state and Puerto Rico, each will glide across the stage in self-created ensembles at the 1971 National 4-H Dress Revue sponsored by Simplicity Pattern Co. Inc.

The event climaxes a year's activity in which more than 350,000 4-H girls have participated in county and state dress revues conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service. Theme of the 1971 revue, sponsored by Simplicity for the 25th time, is Storybook Fashions.

With a "Prince Charming" to open the gala event and a "Fairy Godmother" to introduce the winners and describe their ensembles, the Conrad Hilton ballroom will become a virtual dream castle. And the audience of loyal subjects will include more than 1,600 delegates to the 50th National 4-H Congress.

At the close of the 1971 National 4-H Dress Revue, six winners will be awarded $700 scholarships. Selection of the scholarship recipients will be made on the basis of their 4-H records, leadership and work in the dress revue program.

During the National 4-H Congress, the 51 girls as guests of Simplicity Pattern Co. Inc., will be recognized at a special supper. They also will see a preview of spring fashions and participate in tours and educational programs with other delegates.

Leading to this gala event, 4-H girls are expected to earn more than 26,000 medals of honor at county dress revues. The company, through the National 4-H Service Committee, also provides these awards and gives added support through assistance of its 4-H stylists and publications on modeling.

For information about the program and locally scheduled dress revues, contact the county extension office or state 4-H leader.

*Butane Tax Permit - This new law requires all persons using LPG (butane) for autos, pickups, and trucks to have a SPECIAL TAX PERMIT. These permits are being issued by the Comptroller of Public Accounts and cost $60 a year. Farmers are required to pay taxes on the fuel IN ADVANCE on 1200 gallons per year per vehicle. When it is paid for in this manner this allows purchasers to buy tax-free LP gas without filing monthly reports or keeping records other than annual speedometer readings. No permit is required for those who purchase LPG for NON-HIGHWAY use.

*Full Trespass Law - A full trespass law also went into effect. Until now, the trespassing law applied only if a person trespassed to HUNT, FISH OR CAMP on another person's land. Now there's a fine up to $200 for entering land where the person has GIVEN NOTICE that entry is forbidden.

*New Boat Registration - There is also a new law for sportsmen who own boats, for all water craft powered by machinery must now be REGISTERED. New registrations will begin January 1, 1972 and will be for a two year period. A plastic card containing the certificate number will be issued and can be carried in the owner's wallet. Two decals will be issued for each boat and must be attached in plain sight. These will be number and color coded with expiration dates printed on the face. The new rates for boat registrations are: up to 16 feet, $6.00; 16 to 26 feet, $9.00; and from 26 to 46 feet, $12.00.

*Laws Affecting Motorists - R is now a MISDEMEANOR for a driver to leave the keys in his car when it is unattended. He must also set the emergency brake before leaving, otherwise he is subject to a fine up to $200. Another bill raises the price of an ordinary four year driver's license from $6.00 to $7.00, and a third law requires cars to be REINSPECTED after they have been involved in a major accident.

*New School Bus Law - All motorists who are moving in BOTH DIRECTIONS down the same road are required to stop and REMAIN STOPPED as long as the FLASHING LIGHTS of a school bus are in operation. Colonel Wilson Speer, Director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, said this portion of the law will be STRICTLY ENFORCED to afford maximum protection to the school children of Texas.

dinner at Lighthouse Electric tonight at 8 o'clock for the outgoing present and incoming directors and their wives. Officers for another year will be elected at the meeting.

Boyce Mosley, vice president outlined the accidental death policy, which must be taken for all members of the county organization. Cost of $1.50 annually is included in the membership hike. Mosley noted that a number of neighboring county Farm Bureaus already have adopted the $25 dues.

He noted that Floyd County Farm Bureau is tri-sponsor for the Floyd County Junior Stock Show banquet, sponsors two young people to the summer youth seminar, sends a volunteer fireman to training school, stages its queen contest and convention, has a fair booth, in addition to office services and operations. In order to continue these projects, additional funds were vital.

"We are not seeking new ways to spend your money, but feel the need to continue our present valuable services," the group was told. "This is the first raise in membership in nine years."

Bill Race, county president for the past two years, presided at the convention. He noted Floyd FB highlights and programs.

Holdovers on the board include: Albert Scheele, Don Sutterfield, Wayne Bramlet, A. C. Pratt, Randy Bertrand and Leslie Nixon. New officers will be elected at a reorganizational meeting.

Dee Earle Cummings of Lockney and Jimmy Cervantes of Floydada gave moving talks concerning the youth seminar in Waco this summer which both attended.

A. C. Pratt gave minutes of the '70 meeting and the treasurer's report. Gayle Baucum issued the agent's report for the first nine months of '71. He presented a gift to Mrs. Neil (Helen) Bertrand, county secretary, who was observing her birthday. The audience sang "Happy Birthday" to Mrs. Bertrand.

An old fashion barbecue meal prepared by the school lunchroom staff, was enjoyed by approximately 125 persons. Penny Bertrand offered dinner music, and Mosley offered the invocation.

Among guests introduced was Sara Ball, Floyd Farm Bureau queen.

good enough to win him $7.50 in cash.

Bill Hicks and Marty Daniel, both of Floydada, missed just three games and had identical guesses of 26 in the tie-breaker box. They tie for second and will split the $7.50 earmarked for second and third place. Hicks incorrectly picked Ralls over Post, Matador over Jayton, and Amarillo over Plainview. Daniel went wrong when he chose Dumas to beat Berger, Arizona over Tech, and West Texas over Tulsa.

A couple of other contestants missed three games but guessed too high on the Floydada-Dimmitt tie breaking game. Wiley Rogers had a guess of 36 points for the tie-breaker, and incorrectly picked Ralls, Matador and Kress to win. Troy Dan Faulkenberry said 39 points would be scored in the Whirlwind-Bobcat game and missed the same games as did Rogers.

Ten guessers missed four: Lori Vinson, Bubba Lewallen (last week's winner), Mark Estes, Terry Jones, Wiley Rogers (again), Jack Covington, Dwayne Wilson, Steve Alldredge, J. M. Harkins of Crosbyton, Bob Alldredge and J. C. Wester.

Vega, Jayton and Post were the teams which most consistently gave our 125 guessers trouble this week with their wins over Kress, Matador and Ralls respectively.

and the possibility of receiving government funds to help support it.

Albert Juarez said he thought the nursery should get federal funds, however a member of the board said she thought it could be continued without federal funds.

It was felt the nursery could continue to be sponsored locally without having to go through all the red tape in order to get federal funds.

The board then discussed the possibility of a training class to instruct field workers (tractor operators). Albert Juarez said there was some difference in a tractor "driver" and a tractor "operator." Most farmers want an experienced tractor operator. It was felt that there are some residents who would like to become field workers. The board discussed the possibility of getting modern equipment to train workers to become a field hand.

The board discussed the first aid course to be held at the Center. The course will be held two nights a week, two hours each night, and could be started anytime now.

Announcement will be made when the instructions will start. Interested persons can call, write, or come by the Community Center to get additional information on the course. Announcement will be made when other classes of instruction will begin.

4-H Auto Program Teaches Proper Safety Attitudes

SPECIAL-"Young people are getting behind the wheel of automobiles in greater numbers every year. By sheer numbers alone, it is more important than ever for them to develop proper attitudes toward safe and efficient operation and care of the cars they drive," says Donald E. Osburn, director of program services, National 4-H Service Committee.

"And to help with this necessary educational job, we are fortunate to have the strong support of The Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, national donor in the 4-H automotive program, aided by Cooperative Extension Service personnel.

Osburn notes that Firestone is providing over $20,000 for leader training in the automotive program. Presently grants have been funded for 22 states.

States in the southern extension region where the grants have been approved include: Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Texas and Virginia.

These grants are provided in addition to recognition and incentive awards for individuals and educational materials. Training volunteer leaders—both adult and junior—is an effective way of reaching youth, claims the Cooperative Extension Service which has undertaken supervision of the project. And past experiences in numerous states prove the accuracy of the claim.

An automotive leader training pilot program started in Charlotte, N.C., in 1970 drew over 6,000 youth participants. It operated under the label, GTO, "Greater Teen Opportunities."

Last year, over 2,000 4-H'ers were involved in the program in Johnstown, Pa. And in the late 1960's more than 6,000 4-H'ers participated annually in similar special 4-H automotive activities in Lexington, Ky.

One of the most interesting proposals requesting funds to implement the program came from Alaska, the largest state in the Union and the least populated.

Harlem D. Sandberg, Alaska state 4-H and youth program leader, in applying for the grant, discussed the need by saying:

"Because of the low density of population in the outlying areas of the state,

Alaska has a broad program whereby from the villages of the cities such as . . . to complete high education. About 95% students are from Eskimo, Aleut or . . . years of age and . . . are keenly interested in automobiles but most little or no personal experience or . . . with them.

Our short run, the Administration proposes tax cuts and a hold on Federal spending. A $28 billion deficit for the fiscal year ending next June 30 shows the dire need of action. Reduction in federal spending is the big "if" in the face of demands for jobs and benefits of one kind or another - welfare, health, retirement, anti-pollution, urban problems. All this means less of these things or an increase in taxes on somebody. Nothing comes free - it only has that appearance.

Mrs. Lillian Marble's new home in Floydada is about finished, and she hopes to be able to move there within the next few weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Keith Marble, D'Lee and Dwayne are planning then to move to the home where Mrs. Marble now resides.

A goal is set for 100 million jobs for the country within 10 years. This is almost 21 million more than the last count. The big question is where are they coming from. From all indications, the biggest gains in jobs must come from the service industries. This includes automobile repairs, medical services, home repairs, home appliance repair, hotels, restaurants, etc. Government jobs at state and local levels may account for another 5 million.

Community Bible Study met in the home of Mrs. E. P. Pritchett last Tuesday for a study of Isaiah. Present for the morning study were Mmes. Travis Young, Melvin Myers, Relating to these developments, fewer jobs are expected in manufacturing, retailing, farming, mining and other similar industries.

As It Looks From Here

Omar Burleson, M. C. 17th District, Texas

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Parts and bits of the following comments have appeared in the news from time to time but the purpose here is an attempt to consolidate an over-all view of where we "at."

Tremendous changes are in the making, both in this country and worldwide. On the foreign front the Russians are suddenly willing to talk about things which they would not mention before. Seemingly the Communist Chinese are coming out of their shell. Here in Washington last week the eleven more highly industrialized nations groped for a new money system.

The British appear to be about ready to join the European Common Market, which trade-wise will affect the United States. The Japanese are pushing towards greater power, militarily and economically. The entire world seems to be headed for new arrangements in a number of respects. Since World War II, the United States and Russia, with the balance of power, have dominated things but other forces are rapidly coming into being.

Our whole economic system is coming under a revamping process. Changes are taking place which will probably have an effect in the months and years ahead.

For the short run, the Administration proposes tax cuts and a hold on Federal spending. A $28 billion deficit for the fiscal year ending next June 30 shows the dire need of action. Jail Survey Results Issued

The ratio of jail inmates to employees in jails in the South Plains State Planning Region is 14:1, according to the report of a jail survey just issued by Governor Preston Smith's Criminal Justice Council.

The average ration statewide is 9:1. Lubbock County jail reported a ratio of 26:1, and nine jails in the region reported having no full-time employees. These nine jails, however, housed 25 persons on the March 15, 1971 census date.

The statistical report was compiled during 1970 by the Institute of Contemporary Corrections and the Behavioral Sciences, Sam Houston State University, Huntsville. It has just been published by CJC.

In the region served by South Plains Association of Governments, Lubbock, there are 15 county and four city jails.

On the census date, all were under designed capacity. Sixteen of the jails reported having no recreational or educational facilities for inmates; 12 no medical facilities; five no visiting facilities.

It has been incorrectly reported that the Floyd County jail has no toilet facilities. City jails at Floydada, Muleshoe and Slaton do not provide information on these matters.

Of the 266 inmates confined in the region on the census date, 182, or 68 percent, had not been convicted.

Statewide, the survey showed most jail inmates were awaiting trial, usually vegetating in cells without recreational or educational facilities. Time that might be spent in vocational training or rehabilitation was being wasted.

Counties in the South Plains Region are Bailey, Cochran, Crosby, Dickens, Floyd, Garza, Hale, Hockley, King, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn, Motley, Terry and Yoakum.

FLOYD DATA
Jess Cunningham of Lockney, father of Mrs. Connie C. Reed of Floydada, is reported to be improving daily following surgery last Thursday in a Plainview hospital.

To Live The Christ-Life

"Why do I have to be left? Why couldn't I have gone, too?" This often is the agonized question the minister hears when a loved one is taken. Particularly is it true when the one left has lived a full Christian life and desires going to be with Christ. A verse that might well be uppermost in their minds is "For to me to live is Christ, and to die is gain," found in Philippians Chapter 1:21.

The Christian has one supreme obligation - TO LIVE. He is not merely to keep on breathing and occupying space. He is to live life to the fullest, being aware of each day's challenge and opportunities. He may be the only means of some person's coming to know Jesus.

Paul, particularly in the latter part of his life, felt the desire to be with Christ. A much greater desire, however, was to follow Christ's command TO LIVE.

Is there one lonely person in this world who might find a friend in you? Is there one child that can know love because of you? If these possibilities lie before you, how glorious life is! They make life worth living! May our life be lived in such a spirit of selfless service that those who know us might lose sight of the man and see Jesus living in us.

May our prayer be:

Help us to help each other, Lord,
Each others cross to bear;
Let each his friendly aid afford,
And feel his brother's care,
Touched by the loadstone of thy love,
Let all our hearts agree;
And ever toward each other move,
And ever more toward thee.

Social Security News

People over 65 who have the doctor bill part of Medicare should plan now how their claims should be filed according to John G. Hutson, social security manager for this district. If your doctor doesn't take assignments you must file for reimbursement yourself.

As soon as your doctor bills go over $50 in a year, you need to file a claim. Begin now to put all your doctor bills in order. This way you can be sure of filing a claim on all your doctor bills. You'll need more than just a receipt. You'll need the bill itself. It should show which doctor treated you, what he did for you, and how much he charged.

Hutson said filing a claim is easy. Tear out the blank Form 1490 from your Medicare Handbook. On the form show your name and claim number just as it is on your Medicare card. When you write in what your condition is, don't try to say it like the doctor. If you have heart trouble and that's what the doctor treated you for, simply show "heart trouble."

FLOYD PHILOSOPHER Can't Understand Why Europeans Are So Upset Over Falling Dollar

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm discusses the monetary system this week, mainly from the theoretical side, of course.

Dear editor: There's no way around it, the people in Europe are a bunch of sissies.

According to an article I read last night in a newspaper that turned up in my mail box by mistake - the new postal service hasn't, as some feared, abandoned all the fine traditions of the old one - all the countries in Europe are biting their finger nails and losing sleep over the value of the American dollar. It's going down.

As a result, everybody is selling dollars, refusing to take dollars from tourists, and generally demanding that something be done before all Europe panics.

Clearly, they are a bunch of sissies. Why, the value of the dollar has been going down for years in the United States and I haven't found anybody yet who has refused to take one. Everybody I know would like to have a lot more of them.

In fact, it takes a lot more of them to pay two dollars for a dollars worth of groceries. Of course, the monetary system is one of the things I and possibly some others, say three-fourths of Congress and all economists, have never been able to understand, and it may be that the value of the dollar hasn't gone down, just the price of things has gone up.

Whichever way it is and regardless of whether the dollar is worth 100 cents or 48 cents, I have never seen a man yet who, makes no difference what shape his back was in, wouldn't, if he saw one lying on the street, bend over and pick it up. I know a banker who dislocated a hip bending over to pick up a quarter.

Europeans ought to calm down and latch on to all the dollars they can. As the saying goes, a bird in the hand is worth two in the bush, but you'd better not let the Environmentalists hear you say this.

Personally, I've got confidence in the dollar. It's still worth 100 cents. Unfortunately though a cent is just worth half a penny. That's where the trouble is.

Yours faithfully, J.A.

Older People Moving Away From the North and East

Older Americans are gradually moving from the cold and crowded North and East to the warm and rural South and West, according to preliminary reports of a social security study of migration trends among people 65 and older.

According to social security officials here, the study indicates that about 185,000 of the Nation's retired - about 1 percent of the total - moved permanently from one State to another during the year surveyed.

About 102,000 moved out of the Northeast and North-Central States and only 72,000 moved into those same States, the study shows. About 82,000 moved out of the Southern and Western States but 112,000 moved in.

The study was based on interstate address changes of some 18 million people who receive monthly social security retirement checks, a social security spokesman said. "The aim is to identify areas where the elderly population is increasing so that planning can include the necessary hospitals, nursing homes, and other facilities where they are needed," he said.

"More older people move to Florida or California than to other States," according to the spokesman. "Florida's annual net gain in residents 65 or over who move in or out amounts to about 20,000 people. California's annual net gain is about 5,000."

Twenty of the 21 North-east and North Central States - all but New Hampshire - were among the 28 States that had an annual net loss of elderly residents caused by migration, according to the study.

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

Widely known farmer, seed breeder and agronomist of Hart, Texas, in Castro County, was unanimously elected president of Lubbock-based Cotton Growers, organization's 15th annual meeting in Lubbock September 26-27. Donnell Echols of Lamesa, who was in re-election after serving two one-year terms as Echols automatically becomes Chairman of the Young Don Anderson of Crosbyton. Ginner Paul Bennett of Littlefield was elected the post previously held for two terms by Riley. Former secretary-treasurer, was succeeded in that position by Marble of South Plains, in Floyd County. Planview and reared on a farm between Hart and Marble, Riley was graduated from Spring Lake High School of his class. He earned high honors in taking his Agronomy-Crop Production degree from Texas Tech in 1951. National 4-H Club Field Crops winner in 1951, International Harvester Field Crops Scholarship the year was selected Outstanding Young Farmer for Castro County, named to Who's Who in Texas Today in 1967. Outstanding Young Farmer in America this year. Now a farmer, seed breeder and cattleman. He operates 4,000 acres in Castro, Lamb and Fannin Counties, cotton lint and planting seed, sorghum, wheat, corn, alfalfa and Hereford cattle.

PCG president has a long history in the organization, as a Castro County director since 1958 and serving as the PCG Agricultural Research Committee and a member of the Executive Committee. He was elected secretary in 1967 and vice president in 1968. Bennett was both farmer and ginner. He sold his operation in 1969 but continues as manager of the Farner Cooperative Gin at Amherst. Marble, a Floyd County native, raises a large cotton, wheat, sorghum, soybean and cattle operation with two brothers. Both Bennett and Marble have been associated with PCG as directors and committee members from their respective counties.

The economy-stimulating suggestions in President Echols' economic policy announced August 15 was a request for repeal of the federal excise tax on passenger cars, "well and good," says Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., "but the president forgot people in agriculture."

Johnson was referring to the fact Nixon did not mention repeal of the tax on pickup trucks. "Hopefully this was an oversight on the part of the president," he said "and not a discrimination against those of us who drive pickups of sports cars or limousines."

Johnson said "Pickups are not only a vital tool of operation of Texas farms but also the basic means of support for many farm families in this state. Therefore it is an injustice that the federal excise tax should be repealed on Jaguars and Cadillacs while farmers and others in the business continue to pay the tax on pickups."

Representative Harold Runnels of Lovington, New Mexico, introduced a Pickup Truck Excise Tax Repeal Bill which would repeal excise taxes on trucks having a gross weight of 6,000 or less; make floor stock refunds to pickup manufacturers; and grant purchaser refunds on all pickups bought after October 1, 1971. In effect, the bill would benefit the pickup buyer to the extent and in the same way as Nixon's proposal would benefit the purchaser of a passenger car.

Johnson said "Runnels' goal can best be accomplished by separate bill, or through an amendment to the general excise tax, we would not presume to say," Johnson told Marble, "but I'm sure you will agree that the inequity of taxing by one means or another."
