MACKENZIE BOARD MEETS IN SILVERTON

After a 30 to 60 day delay" due to the untimely death of an engineer actively engaged in the Mackenzie Municipal Water Authority project, it is back on track.

Members of the state water board were at the site, approximately 10 miles northwest of Silverton this Tuesday to inspect a clay hill to be used in fill of the dam. When the board approves plans for the engineers, bids for construction will be called.

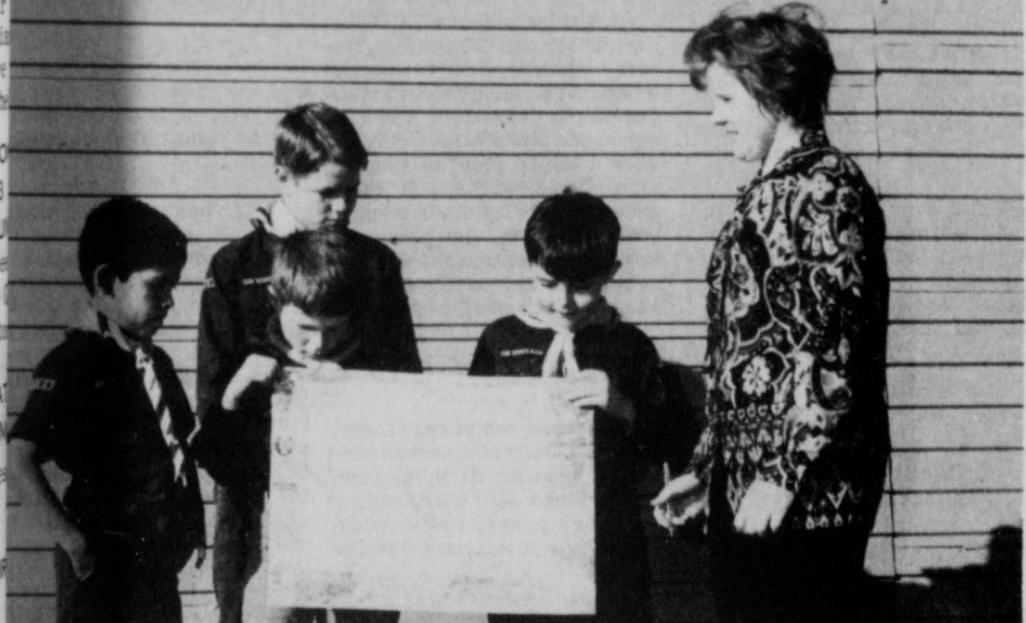

Questioned about a possible timetable, T. Owen Thornton said "We hope to be ready to accept bids early in March." This means that actual construction should start "this Spring or Summer."

Attending the Silverton meeting from Floydada were Lon Davis, president of the board; S. W. Ross, board member; mayor Jimmy Seay, councilmen Ricky Burns, Boone Adams and city manager Bill Feuerbacher.

They learned that current plans call for placing the filtration plant at the point where clay will be taken for the dam fill. This move would allow purified water for recreation purposes nearer the "lake" without having to pipe it back.

The filtration plant originally was to have been placed near Rock Creek.

A Texas Tech professor and student and a Texas A&M representative are inspecting the Mackenzie site for the Texas Park and Wildlife Commission in regard to recreational aspects.

Tredennick In Service Training Exercise

Abilene, Tex., participated in a recent U. S. Readiness Command (REDCOM) joint service training exercise at Ft. Stewart, Ga.

The exercise - involving more than 7,000 Air Force, Army, Air National Guard and Air Force Reserve personnel - tested the mobility and flexibility of the newly created REDCOM which replaced the U. S. Strike Command Jan. 1, 1972. Action at Ft. Stewart included paradrop operations, assault landings, close air support and an Army assault on a mythical aggressor force in control of a simulated allied forward operating base.

Lieutenant Tredennick is a C-130 Hercules cargo-troop carrier aircraft pilot with the Tactical Air Command's 317th Tactical Airlift Wing at Pope AFB, N.C.

A 1964 graduate of Cooper High School, he received his B.S. and M.S. degrees from Texas Technological University. The lieutenant was commissioned there in 1970 through the Reserve Officers Training Corps program.

His wife, Marcy, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Dickenson of McAdoo, Tex.

FLOYD PHILOSOPHER
He Has Answer In Keeping Everything Like It Is

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm tries to head off some new scientific progress, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:

The trouble with some people is they confuse something new with something better.

For example, according to an article I ran across in a newspaper yesterday, some scientists have looked into the future and reported that two-way cable television is going to revolutionize everybody's way of life.

A housewife, they said, will be able to stay at home, tune in a supermarket, look over the items, make her selections, and order them sent out, while a computer at the store rings up the sale on her account at her bank which is also plugged into the system. If her baby is sick she turns her home camera on him, dials her doctor, and he makes the examination on his screen, with his prescription being filled by a plugged-in drugstore.

To top it off, the scientists said, the prime use of the system will be to eliminate schools as we know them. Kids stay at home, the teacher instructs them via her television and they answer via theirs. With one fell swoop this ends taxes for school buildings, ball fields, ends busing, demerol, dress codes. Maybe even the FBI.

This may have its appeal at first, but those scientists haven't completely with very many parents.

From a young parent's viewpoint, the glorious advantages of universal education is that it gets the kids on the foot as soon as they reach age 5, some agitation from parents who want about to break to make it.

You try to set up a system that in the house very day until the you'll be charged with inciting it.

It's true lots of schools are in a real trouble and recent rulings on taxes as their chief means of support, but keeping kids at home until schooling would be worse than anything, it'd be inhuman. Ask any parent counting the days till her kid's start to school, down the block to town but not in her living room.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

And now a word about H&R Block's competition.

Because we think our competition represents more of a threat to you than it does to us, we're going to help you sort them out.

Your Family

The greatest people in the world. Most of the time. Unfortunately, most of the time doesn't include income tax time. Because the last thing you need when you're doing your taxes is an aunt who took an accounting course just before she dropped out of college. Or a father who thinks how much money you make and what you do with it is something the rest of the family should know about.

Your Neighbors

You know the type. The mild-mannered shoe salesman next door who suddenly turns into a mathematical genius just about the time income tax is due. He knows all the angles. Some of which even the Internal Revenue Service doesn't know about yet. And he's willing to share them with you, "Just to be neighborly."

You

Your own worst enemy. All year long you can't balance your check book, but that doesn't stop you. Armed with your W-2's, a few reams of paper and a couple of gallons of coffee you bravely attack that stack of forms. You may be taking deductions you're not entitled to, and entitled to deductions you're not taking. So, should you be doing your own taxes?

We're H & R Block, with over 6,000 conveniently located offices manned by thousands of specially trained tax preparers who eat, sleep, and drink income tax returns. People who set out to save you money and much of the time do it. The cost? Fees start at $5 and the average cost was under $12.50 for over 7 million customers we served last year.

Furthermore, if your return is audited we will accompany you, at no extra cost, to the Internal Revenue Service and explain how your return was prepared, even though we will not act as your legal representative.

And everyone is eligible to receive our year 'round service which is covered by our one time fee. No extra charge for help with audits, estimates, or tax questions.

We know the people we've just told you about will do your income tax return for less than we can but we don't think you can afford them.

DON'T LET AN AMATEUR DO H&R BLOCK'S JOB.

H&R Block.
The income tax people.

Working and Resting

The long weekends promised by a switch to a four day work schedule may be worth the price.

That is the word coming from two recent days. Surgical nurses at an Indianapolis hospital completed three months of a 10-hour day a week too tired to enjoy their holiday.

In Germany, a doctor in Munich says studies show the same thing. Not only do hour days tire out a person, but a three day end leaves the workers not only tired, but when they come back on the job.

The German doctor noted that each person's "daily graph" of output beginning about low level and peaking at 11 a.m.

After lunch, energy ebbs again at about 4 p.m. he makes a recovery, but not at high 11 o'clock rate.

Thus, the doctor says, a worker needs during which to stoke up. This is something of American coffee breaks.

Both mental and manual workers must sporadic noise of machines and the irritate other people. By the end of an eight hour are usually ready to go home.

Night shift personnel face added strain to work through 2 a.m. when all humans reach absolute low energy point wherever they are.

Long layoffs cause productivity slump. "from a medical point of view the third holiday is crisis day," says the doctor. "people cannot get restful sleep, he adds, cycle is perpetuated.

Not everybody is eager to go to a four day week. A lot of people haven't even gotten day work week. Some are still waiting for week's pay for two days work but they may long wait for that, too.

Sherry Harris Elected DECA Area Vice President

Miss Sherry Harris was elected to serve Area Six DECA, Texas Association as 1972 vice president. Balloting was done prior to the awards program in Amarillo February 5. Sherry and her campaign committee had planned her race for area secretary. The night before campaign speeches and balloting the screening committee interviewed all prospective candidates to consider their qualifications. They concluded that Sherry should be running for a higher office, and asked her to consider a change to the race for vice president. The decision was not easy, but after careful thought she agreed to change.

SOCIAL SECURITY REQUIREMENTS

Most men who reach age 65 in 1972 can collect monthly social security checks if they have worked a little as 5 1/4 years in jobs covered by social security. Women who reach 65 in 1972 generally can get monthly retirement checks for only 4 1/2 years or more work. "You earn social security retirement payments by credit for work you've done beginning in 1937, the year social security started," a social security spokesman said. "To be eligible for retirement benefits, a man needs 5 years of a year more work credit than a woman," he said.

Social security work credit is measured in calendar quarters — January-March, April-June, July-September, or October-December. Most employees get credit for a quarter of work if they are paid $50 or more any time in that quarter for work covered by social security, the spokesman said. Most self-employed people get social security credit for 4 quarters in any year their annual self-employment net income is $400 or more.

Today, more than nine out of 10 jobs in paid employment are covered or eligible for coverage under social security. "To be eligible for social security retirement benefits," the spokesman said, "a man needs, at a minimum, quarters of work credit equal to the number of years between 1950 and the year he reaches 65."

cause serious injury. Shelving made for storage can help lessen some of the problems. Shelves should be made no higher than 72 inches, the maximum height a woman can reach. They should be constructed to support the weight of objects without causing them to topple over or collapse. Glass shelves should be shatterproof.

Storage areas should be well lighted. If a closet is more than three feet deep, it should have an electric light. Bulbs should always be placed so they won't touch articles that might catch fire.

Check storage materials for safety. Poisons and pesticides should be stored in original containers away from children's reach. A locked cabinet is best for storage of all chemicals and medicines.

Flammable solutions should be kept in tightly covered containers and stored outside the house.

Throw away rags, papers and trash to prevent the possibility of fires.

Guest Editorial Occupational Hazard

Every occupation has its hazards and its irritations. The grocer has those people who dash in just as he has closed the door, aching to go home, and then wander around, filling a shopping basket from a long list.

The doctor is a slave to his telephone which rings at all hours of day or night when people get sick. The service station man has those people who get their tires aired and windshields washed and floorboard swept out and buy a dab of gas, saving the big purchase for the discount operator.

The newspaperman has his irritations, too. This list, compiled by a fellow at Howell, Michigan, strikes a responsive chord for most of us who have been in this business very long:

"Listen, if my name is in the paper my mother will be sure to have a heart attack and die. She's had a heart condition for a long time and this would be the end."

"I just brought this little story in, I thought it might look nice right across the top of the front page."

The new employee, in just a year's time, rose from clerk to an executive position. One day he was called into the managing director's office.

"At the end of the year I'll be retiring," said the managing director, "and then you'll take over my job."

"Thanks," said the young man.

The managing director was stunned. "You've been here with this firm only a year," he said, "and when I tell you I'm going to make you managing director, you say, 'Thanks.' Is that all you have to say?"

"Well," replied the young man, "thanks a lot, Dad."

Whirlettes Finish On Winning Note

The Floydada Whirlettes closed out an outstanding season here Friday night by defeating Abernathy 43-40. The Whirlettes gained revenge, as the Abernathy team had won the first meeting between the two. Abernathy led after the first quarter 10-7, but the Whirlettes led at halftime 20-18 and after three quarters 30-27. The game was close all the way, and the difference was at the free-throw line. Field goals were even by 13 apiece. Although neither team hit well from the free-throw line, the Whirlettes had more chances and hit 17 of 35, while Abernathy hit 14 of 25 attempts. Janette Conwright led the offensive effort for the Whirlettes with 19 points, and Denice Chadwick added 16 points. Cindy Moore had seven rebounds and two steals, Sonja Curry six rebounds and six steals, and Debra Baird six rebounds and three steals to lead the defense.

The Whirlettes finished the season with an 18-9 won-lost record. Their district record was 7-3, included a victory over every district opponent and was good enough for second place in 3-AA.

Five seniors played in their last game Friday. These were Denice Chadwick, Debra Baird, Gaye Hammonds, Krista Simpson and Ann Winter.

Walter Harris was named 1971-72 Whirlette Basketball Beau at halftime and was presented a gift.

Tot Sustains Severe Burns

Jeffrey Francisco, 18 month old son of Mr. and Mrs. William Francisco of near Lockney, is reported to be in a satisfactory condition in Dallas where he is being treated for third degree burns on the upper portion of his body.

The baby suffered the burns early Friday morning when he apparently crawled from his high chair onto a cabinet top in the kitchen and then ventured onto the electric range. The child's clothing ignited from a burner.

His parents rushed him to Lockney General Hospital for emergency treatment then he was transferred to Lubbock Methodist. From there he was flown by air ambulance to Parkland Hospital in Dallas.

Social Security Information

"January means Christmas bills to many, but to thousands of Americans over 65, January means another opportunity to enroll in medical insurance under Medicare," according to John G. Hutton, manager of the Lubbock social security office.

The medical insurance portion of Medicare, Part B, is a completely voluntary program. It provides insurance coverage for doctors' care and many other health services, including outpatient hospital treatment. The plan offers supplementary coverage to the hospitalization insurance plan offered under Part A of Medicare.

The annual enrollment period for medical insurance opened January 1 and will run through March 31, 1972.

Many Americans who did not enroll in Medicare when they become 65 will have this opportunity to elect medical coverage. Those enrolling during this period will have their coverage begin July 1, 1972.

This enrollment period will be the final opportunity to enroll for many people born between October 1903 and September 1904. Most people born before October 1903 are no longer eligible to choose this medical coverage.

Over 15 1/2 million people are currently members of Medicare's medical insurance plan. The plan is financed by members' monthly premiums and matching contributions from the federal government. The basic premium is $5.60 per month, but a surcharge is added for late enrollment.

Once enrolled, members must pay the first $50 for medical services each year to meet the annual deductible. After the deductible is met, Medicare will pay 80% of the reasonable and customary charge for a covered health service.

Medical and surgical fees, ambulance service, diagnostic and X-ray procedures are all covered by the plan. The coverage also provides for rental or purchase of durable medical equipment, if the item is medically necessary.

INSTALL GAS AIR CONDITIONING NOW?

Install GAS air conditioning and beat the rush that always comes the first hot days. While everyone else is waiting for installation, central GAS air conditioning will be quietly and efficiently cooling your whole house. And another benefit of installing now is you have the time to consider the advantages that GAS air conditioning has over the other.

A GAS air conditioning system is simple built and operates on a simple principle. Heat from the blue flame circulates a refrigerant through the system to cool the air. There are fewer major moving parts and a compressor to break down or wear out. It's this simplicity that gives GAS air conditioning its low operating costs and its long life with no loss of cooling capacity. Its easy maintenance with few repairs makes GAS air conditioning also filter the air to reduce dust and odors.

If you have a forced air heating system you may be able to use the ductwork for GAS air conditioning. So, be foxy. Call Pioneer Natural Gas Company for a free conditioning survey at home or business.

You should be so foxy.
