John Fowler Will Not Seek Re-Election

Commissioner of Precinct 1, John Fowler this week announced that he has changed his mind about seeking reelection to the office and has so notified election officials.

"In making this decision. I want everyone to know that I make it on a personal basis, as I consider the enjoyment of retirement and the future for me and my wife.

"I leave the office with the knowledge that the county is in good financial condition, knowing that I have endeavored to do my best to serve the people of precinct 1 and Floyd County.

"I want to thank the members of the commissioners court for the many years of friendly association, it has been a pleasure and a privilege to work with each of them.

"However, now Ifeel that the right decision is to retire, catch up on my fishing (if that's possible) and continue to live here with the people that we know and appreciate. In the meantime I will continue to fulfill the duties of this office through 1972.

"My best wishes to the other candidates who seek election to the office of commissioner of precinct 1." Fowler concluded.

CELEBRATES SECOND BIRTHDAY . . . Jim Edd Waller, with help from his second-grade classmates, celebrated his second birthday anniversary Tuesday, Jim Edd, son of Mr. and Mrs. J.E. Waller of Floydada, is a Leap-Year-Day baby, and February 29, 1972, was only the second February 29 since he was born on that date in 1964. A fellow's birthday is a pretty special event, especially when you only have one every four years, so Jim Edd's 2-B classmates at Duncan School got in on the celebration, helping him polish off the birthday cake, (Staff Photo)

Comanche Indian Found On Cogdell Ranch

By Wendell Tooley

A Cedar Hill community cowboy riding his horse near the caprock breaks last week discovered the remains of what is thought to be a Comanche Indian woman in a small cave.

Bruce McFall was riding near the caprock about a mile east of his home on the D. M. Cogdell ranch, and while digging around in a small cave discovered the remains of the Indian, along with many beads, bracelets, parts of a saddle and other items of interest.

Although Bruce has lived near the cave for some ten years, it was his first time to explore the cave. He said the skeleton of the Indian was lying with the skull toward the south in the approximately 10' x 8' cave, with one arm under the body part, the other extended. One leg was bent, the other straight out. D. M. Cogdell brought the remains of the Indian to Jim

Word in Floydada, who accompanied some Tech archaeology students back to the cave on Saturday morning, where a few more items were found, including one of the fingers.

Word surmised that the Indian was female, possibly 30 years old (almost complete set of teeth) and could have been buried in the cave 125 to 150 years ago. Word said the Comanches were small people and the Indian woman was approximately 5'2" tall.

Although Word has discovered many Indian graves in this area, he was elated at the find of items buried with the body. . . beads, bracelets, conchos, hair braid accessory, parts of saddle, mirror, ring on one of the fingers, abalone shell ornaments, blanket and clothing.

Also at the cave site exploring Saturday morning were L. D. Britton, Mrs. Word, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Cogdell.

Bruce is a senior at Flomot High School and works on the Cogdell ranch. The Cogdells stated that the

Indian skeleton would be given to the Floyd County Museum SEE INDIAN, PAGE 9

County Youngsters Get Awards At Stock Show Banquet

Over 300 FFA and 4-H livestock exhibitors and their parents and livestock show association members crowded Duncan Elementary School cafetorium here last Thursday for the annual Floyd County Junior Fat Stock Show banquet.

Guest speaker Jim Ravenelli, Director of Development at Lubbock Christian College. defined success by saying "Success is when you give more to life than you take". and said "You are successful if you are doing what you want to do more than anything else in the world,"

He told the crowd "If you have the will to win and the will to work, you can succeed."

Ravenelli asked each listener to stop and picture in his mind a goal that he had set for himself, then to repeat what he termed the 'ten most important two-letter words" in the language - "If it is to be, it is up to me,"

Awards were presented to exhibitors of the champion animals in last week's Floyd County Junior Fat Stock Show. They included the following:

The grand champion steer trophy to Kay Russell, the grand and reserve champion barrow trophies to Tom Assiter, and the reserve champion steer trophy to Ricky Hrbacek.

Mrs. Schulz Is Club Hostess

Harmony Home Demonstration Club met Feb. 28 in the club room with Mrs. Monroe Schulz as hostess. Roll call was answered by 11 members with "What's Cooking?"

Plans were made for thesecond meeting in March which will be a trip to Abernathy to see some of the work being done by a Special Education group in a school, then on to view a doll collection, belonging to a woman south of Abernathy. Mrs. Schulz brought the program on "Let's Cook it Right". She spoke of her experience with Weight Watchers and told of different foods allowed to be eaten by weight watchers. Mrs. Zant Scott held a demonstration on Consumer Frauds. She said each year the public is victimized by a wide variety of schemes and outright frauds. These range from growing number of various home improvement schemes to the sale of worthless - sometimes dangerous - medicines promoted as "cures" for a long list of serious chronic ailments. The annual cost to the public in these frauds is in the hundreds of millions of dollars, Mrs. Scott said. Various areas

Key rules to follow in avoiding consumer frauds are: get guarantee in writing; never sign a blank contract or blank papers; read and understand everything in the contract before signing and also keep a copy; if in doubt, consult your local Better Business Bureau, Chamber of Commerce or a lawyer.

Jim Word Is Speaker For LCC Meeting

'Pot hunters are souvenir hunters who dig into archeological sites without studying the location or recording their discoveries," said Floydada Museum director, Boy Scout leader and area-wide known archeologist Jim Word, to members and guests of the Lubbock Christian College Associates at their meeting February 21 in the Ned Bradley home.

Introduced by the president, Mrs. Q. D. Williams, Word arrow points from thousands of years ago to more modern points of a century past. The caves along the Amistead Dam area have yielded some of the best Indian pictographs in North and South America. They are now under Federal pro-whites." "The amount of beating before and after adding the sugar is the key factor in creating a successful meringue. Beating whites only to the "soft peak" stage before AND after adding sugar can help prevent such common meringue problems as beading, weeping, slipping and dryness.

The key here is "soft peak". The term "stiff but dry", commonly used in many recipes is one stage beyond "soft peak" and will not give you a tender perfect meringue. Practice makes perfect. It won't take long to know the "just right" stages of adding sugar and beating. Just as pietechniques have changed, so have pie plates. They are sized more accurately and are slightly larger. This means that a three egg white meringue will not be as high because it is spread over a large area."

Try to go at a time when the store is uncrowded and saleswomen will be able to devote the time to give youpersonal service. If care instructions are not available with fabric or findings, it's a good idea to prevent potential probelms by pre-treating before sewing. For example, preshrink a questionable zipper before sewing by soaking in warm water. Test a sample of trim for colorfastness before combining it with a white or

The popularity of knits has brought the introduction of new products: polyester or cotton-covered polyester core threads which help eliminate seam puckering when sewing polyester doubleknits and permanent press fabrics; special ball-point sewing machine needles for easier sewing on knit fabrics; lightweight, nonwoven, washable interfacing designed especially for polyester knits;

Why Should You Fail As A Parent?

"Oh dear God, why did this have to happen?"

A distraught mother stood agonizing beside the ambulance while the attendant placed the lifeless body of her little boy on a stretcher, The lad had been struck by a passing motorist. It wasn't the driver's fault. The lad had dashed off the curb directly in the path of the on-coming car. There wasn't time to stop. The weeping mother sought to fix the blame.

"I TOLD HIM A HUNDRED TIMES NOT TO GO INTO THE STREET!"

HERE WAS THE PROBLEM, TOLD INSTEAD OF TRAINED. She merely TOLD him. Telling is not enough. She should have TRAINED him to stay off the street. Parents do not get off the hook by telling their kids what to do. They must train them as God asks. Training is the rubbing of COUNSEL into one's spirit.

You can tell your child thousands of times, but there is no guarantee he will do as you say, BUT IF YOU TRAIN HIM SO THAT IT BECOMES A HABIT, he can no more depart from it then he can run from himself.

(PROVERBS - 22-6)

"Train up a child in the way HE SHOULD GO and h will not depart from it," "PLEASE DADDY, LET'S GO"

A little girl with shining eyes, Her little face aglow, Said: "Daddy, it is almost time for Sunday School, Let's go!

They teach us there of Jesus' love, of how He died for all.

Those who on Him will call,"

"Oh no!" said Daddy, "not today. I've worked hard all week; I'm going to the creek,

For there I can relax and rest, And fishing's fine they say. So run along; don't bother me. We'll go to church someday."

Months and years have passed away but Daddy hears that plea no more - "Let's go to Sunday School,"

Those childish days are o'er. And now that Daddy's growing old,

When life is almost through, he finds some time to go to church -But what does Daughter do? She says: "O Daddy, not today - I stayed up almost all night;

I've just got to get some sleep. Besides I look a fright,"

Then Daddy lifts a trembling hand to brush away the tears, As again he hears the pleading voice distinctly through the years.

He sees a small girl's shining face upturned, with eyes aglow,

As she says, "It's time for Sunday School - please, Daddy, won't you go?" - Copied

Toklat Coming To Palace

Take a thousand-pound grizzly and put him in one of the few remaining wilderness areas of the country, the high Uintah Mountains of Utah; then add about twenty other North American wild animals, a fine performance by Leon Ames, and you have TOKLAT, an extraordinary new family film.

TOKLAT has been in the making for over five years, and required 125,000 feet of footage to come up with the right 4000 feet necessary for the picture. Now in 35mm Technicolor, it's ready for release.

The film is about a gigantic grizzly bear (whose name, Toklat, is derived from an Indian tongue meaning ferocious), And a grizzly, one of the world's largest land-dwelling carnivores, is an amazing animal indeed,

The film follows the development of Toklat from a cub to a giant, during which time one enjoys rare glimpses of a grizzly living, thriving, surviving, in a natural mountain wilder-

Enter Leon Ames, a mountain man, whose respect and understanding of animals, especially Toklat, is based on a lifetime's experience in the wilderness. His heart-rending task of seeking out the bearfor the crime of self-defense, is a social statement on man's way and nature's way.

Ames' commentary is amusing, educational and poignant as he describes how he witnessed Toklat's growth for the years he knew him.

The picture also gorgeously captures the natural beauty of the wilderness and its changing seasons,

The picture was a labor of love. Its gentle plea to consider the possibility that wild animals have an inalienable right to the wilderness is well made. It is important as a family film, because its message is important to everyone. TOKLAT - a beautiful movie.

laneous items. Compared to the present Commodity program, however, two good things would be realized if the stamp program was adopted, Judge Holmes said. First, it would allow elderly persons and others on special diets to buy their own groceries, and it would add to the local economy since stamps are spent like cash in local stores. The stamp program would bring an increase in the amount a family could earn and still be eligible for aid. The present cutoff level on the commodity program is $390 per month. With the stamp program, for example, a family of 10 could have an income of $710 per month and still be eligible to receive food stamps, according to state figures.

GSPA Urges Use Of Reseal

The huge grain sorghum and corn crop of 1971 is still taking its toll on market prices. We still feel that with the settlement of the dock strikes, a good signup in 1972 Feed Grain programs, and farmers holding for higher prices, there is a fair chance that market prices will strengthen.

USDA announced last month that they would extend the reseal program to the 1971 crop of grain sorghum that is in commercial storage. The 1970 crop will be called in. This means that a farmer can continue to hold his 1971 grain sorghum under the government loan program throughout the coming year. Without this announcement, a farmer would be forced to redeem his grain by June 30 or CCC would foreclose on the loan and take over ownership.

After June 30, CCC will pay storage costs on resealed grain, and the farmer pays only the interest on the loan. The reseal program had been extended to farm-stored grain last fall, GSPA had been insisting that this provision should be made for commercially stored grain also.

Sinor Escapes Injuries In Fatal Mishap

A Floydada man, Curtis Lee Sinor, escaped serious injuries in a pickup and truck collision about 1 o'clock Thursday 4.5 miles southeast of Abilene. The flaming mishap took the life of Hardin-Simmons University basketball coach and athletic director, Glen Whitis.

Whitis was returning to Abilene from his cattle farm near Mercury, Tex., when his pickup collided with a 1972 White truck and trailer being driven to Houston by Curtis Lee Sinor. The Floydada man was transporting a load of soy beans.

Upon impact of the near head-on collision the vehicles burst into flames. Whitis was burned beyond recognition and was identified three hours later by the president of Hardin-Simmons. The truck and trailer, belonging to Wayne Fuller of Floydada, was a total loss.

Sinor returned to Floydada later Thursday and received medical treatment by his physicians but was not hospital-

Fuller said Sinor was absolved of any blame in the fatal

Jackson, Walter Harris and

The Floydada Composite Squadron of the Civil Air Patrol held a reorganizational meeting Sunday and made plans to expand the local CAP unit. according to the unit commander. Richard Thomas.

Thomas said the expanded Floydada CAP will include a Senior Program with a flying program, the present Ranger Program will be continued, and the unit will be enlarged to include a Cadet program for ages 13-18. The Cadet program will include aerospace education, leadership training, and various tours and activities, Thomas said.

A General Aviation Membership is to be initiated for pilots and aircraft owners who would like to be in the CAP but do not have time to attend regular meetings.

Thomas will continue as commander of the Floydada Composite Squadron, James Hale will serve as deputy commander of the Senior group, and Captain Hamilton will be deputy commander of cadets.

Meetings are scheduled for the first Thursday (8 p.m.) and third Sunday (2 p.m.) of each month, at the Floydada Municipal Airport.

Anyone interested in flying, Red Cross, Civil Defense or the Cadet program is invited to the meetings, Thomas said.
