yd Cotton Forecast....90, 000 Bales!

Grain Sorghum Looks Good

Plains Cotton Growers Inc. predict this year's South Plains cotton crop to be the best in seven years, and 90,000 bales for Floyd County. This compares with some 51,100 bales ginned in the county last year.

Floyd County's crop is fairly early, hot dry weather is helping it to load up, and there have been plenty of "cotton showers" over the county during the growing season.

Farmers who have received considerable amount of rainfall have yet to irrigate their cotton crop this year. Some, now irrigating, plan only one irrigation.

Of course grain sorghum and soybeans are requiring a lot of irrigation water at this time, and Floyd farmers are irrigating night and day on this crop.

East and southeast Floyd County dry land crops look good, as summer showers have hit these areas.

A chart of production for the South Plains appears on the farm page of this edition.

A SOUTH PLAINS cotton crop of 1,917,000 bales, up from 1,279,150 bales in 1971 and potentially the largest output in seven years, is predicted in the season's first official production estimate released here Satur-

The 25-county estimate, compiled jointly by the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., and the Lub bock Cotton Exchange, indicat ed the crop would pump about $389 million into the area's economy in terms of the gross value at the farm level.

Miss Mary Zacha Cummings Bride Of Jack R. Gregory

Miss Mary Zacha Cummings became the bride of Jack R. Gregory Saturday evening, August 5, in the Floydada First United Methodist Church. Their yows, written for each other, were exchanged during the double-ring ceremony, performed at 7:30 by Dr. R. Luther Kirk of Lubbock.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kendall Kelvin Cummings of South Plains and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Z. C. Cummings and Mrs. Mary B. Wieland of Lockney. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Reid Gregory are the groom's parents. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Kemp and D. S. Gregory of Lubbock, Music was provided by Mrs. Rodney Bunch, organist, and Jeff Walter, who sang "The Wedding Song" and "The Wed-ding Prayer."

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of Love-lite chiffon over Princess silk-faced satin, Fitted at the waist, the skirt spread to the floor in a flowing fullness, forming a chapel train. Accenting the rounded neckline and waist were three dimensional handmade flowers from Switzerland. The fitted sleeves billowed to a banded wrist. The fingertip mantilla veil of handmade Belgian lace from Brussels was "Somethingborrowed" from the groom's sister, Mrs. Rodney Bunch. The veil was worn over silk illu-

Attached to the ribbon clusters was an heirloom brooch for "something old," From the ribbon clusters hung streamers of love knots entwining the gold wedding band of her maternal grandmother.

Something new was the bridal attire, and for something blue the bride wore the traditional garter and carried her mother's blue Bible marker. A sixpence, a gift from her sister, was worn in her shoe for good luck.

Mrs. David Pipes of Houston was her sister's matron of honor; Miss Carolyn Hribek, of Smithville, was maid of honor.

To participate in the wheat program, a producer must set aside an acreage equal to 86 percent of the farm's domestic wheat allotment--the maximum provided by law. FLOYD PHILOSOPHER

Claims He's Disturbed About The Oppressed Minority Of Governors

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm may have his tongue in his cheek this week, although it could be chewing tobacco. but the Governor? Dear editar: This seems a shame, Men work hard to get

I knewthis was the day of the oppressed minorities but didn't know how widespread the thing had gotten till I read an account of the National Governors' Conference meeting in Houston a while back.

Governors now consider themselves an oppressed minority.

It's a fact. According to the Governor of Montana, the national government has gotten so large that governors have a hard time getting heard in Washington, "I can say all want to by myself and no one will listen," he said at the conference. "The states are getting to be like the many Indian nations of a century ago: they're all listening to the Great White Father in Washington,"

Come to think of it, there's something to this. I can name the governor of this state, but blamed if I can think of the name of the governor of Oklahoma or Arizona. And if a an wants something done about something in his area, who does he write? He writes his Congressman or Senator. Who else? Whoever heard of writing his governor? Maybe occasionally they'll write their state legislator, elected governor, spending five or six times what the job pays, and the rest of the people ought to pay more attention to them. They ought to at least send them carbon copies of all letters they write to Washington. Incidentally, the main topic of discussion at the Governors' Conference was revenue-sharing. They want Washington to split up some of the tax money it's getting and give it to the states to spend as they please. This is a good idea, as everybody knows the states certainly have a pressing need for more money and if I was a governor I'd sit down right now and write my Congressman about it. Write it in longhand on tablet paper. They say they pay more attention to simple letters that come straight from the hearts of unknow constituents. Yours faithfully, vision of course would be permitted, because even on soap operas or football games the networks have a prejudicial, jury-destroying habit of interrupting a program to report news bulletins. They'd have to get their entertainment from phonograph records, checkers and dominoes. No chess. What sort of juror do you think Bobby Fischer would make? What an affront it'd be to the dignity of the court to have each juror hauling in his own chair and adjusting all the lights in the court room.

Under this system, when a trial begins, the judge pushes a button and 12 people comesliding out of a chute, their eyes blinded by the glare but their minds absolutely uncluttered. It would then be up to the lawyers on both sides to unroll the facts and implant whatever prejudices they can manage, ten minutes after the trial starts. No use taking weeks and hunting all over the county to find 12 people who never heard of you when you've got 12 already stored away in the courthouse.

Of course another way to handle the problem would be to abolish all newspapers and radio and television stations, but I won't go into that. I'm probably already in contempt of court as it is.

ghum farmers. We feel it is applicable to all commodities and will easily be understood by farmers, Congress and the American people."

Under the GSPA proposal, the Secretary of Agriculture will ask the land grant college of each state, in cooperation with the commodity and farm organizations, to conduct an intensive study of the cost of production of each price supported commodity produced within the state. This study shall include all costs which are typical expenses, and shall consider different cultural practices, such as irrigation as opposed to dryland farming, different soil types, and other regional variations affecting ity of income for our grain sor-

These cost studies will also consider:

1. Interest on land investment, figured as the current interest rate of the Federal Land Bank times the present market prices of the farm land under each type of farming by

2. The current property taxes on farm land and buildings. 3. Interest on farm equipment and average operating capital required times current bank rates for farm operating

4. All other costs that are normal and typical within a given state or region. 5. Labor, to be figured at current minimum wage levels. 6. A percentage of all other expenses, added as management costs or profit.

When these studies are complete, the Secretary will use them as a basis for computing the National Average Cost of Production for each price supported commodity. This will be done by multiplying the typical cost by the total amount of production, which will give the weighted average cost figure for each given commodity, or the "National Average Cost of Production."

Through the use of CCC Loan and Price Support Programs, the Secretary shall administer a production and supply control program that will set a minimum return to farmers who comply with the required production restrictions, as set by the Secretary, of not less than the current year's National Weighted Average Cost of Production for that given commodity, including a profit margin for management.

Harp stated that Texas A&M University has done some preliminary studies on the cost of production nationwide. He said, 'We know that such a study is feasible and that a national weighted average cost of production can be obtained. We feel that this is a businesslike approach to setting the price levels for grain sorghum and other commodities in farm programs of the future."

Experience Cotton Ginners Needed Downstate

Experienced cotton ginners who are interested in temporary work are being sought by the Texas Employment Commission to handle a bumper cotton crop in Central Texas

Those planning to apply should have the ability to supervise a gin crew, and can expect to receive a wage approximating $2.50 to $3.00 per hour, according to Bob Hambright, in charge of the local TEC office. Transportation to and from the job site and housing while there will be furnish-

The temporary work is expected to last two or three months.

Applications are being taken at the Floydada office of the Texas Employment Commission, located at the Courthouse annex. These applications will be forwarded to the state TEC office to be considered for ginner jobs over the Grazing lands and wheatlands could survive, but farmlands would be dependent upon the average 18 inches of rainfall a year-not enough for the lush cotton, vegetable crops or even the feedlot industry on which the region thrives.

Researchers at Texas Tech are proceeding on those premises in developing a means for replenishing the Ogallala, a wa-ter-bearing formation which fur-nishes irrigation water for agriculture and household and industrial water for cities.

Texas Tech University petro-leum engineers have devised a new and fast system for putting Trade To Benefit Texans water back into the Ogamaia, and their 1972 studies indicate the aquifer has its own ability to purify the lake water used. for recharge

The estimate, compiled jointly by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. and the Lubbock Cotton Exchange, sets production from about 2,602,000 standing acres in the 25 PCG counties surrounding Lubbock at 1,917,000 bales. Last year's production came to only 1,279,150 bales. The 1965 crop totaled 2.3 million. The alltime high for the Plains was 2,457,703 bales, produced in 1961.
Assuming market prices of 24 cents a pound for lint and $50 per ton for seed and including some $130 million in price support payments the value of the crop would be $389,178,000. That figure, if realized, would just about equal the cash value of the record 1961 crop.

Last year's early-season estimates also projected a rosy picture for the fleecy crop on the Plains, but unseasonably cool, wet weather in August and September ruined those prospects. The September 1 PCG-LCE estimate indicated the area would produce a little over 2 million bales in 1971, as compared to final production of less than 1,3 million.

'It is not at all impossible that the current crop could meet a similar or even worse fate," says PCG executive vice president Donald Johnson, "but the odds are certainly against it."

Or. the other hand officials of PCG and LCE point out that ideal weather conditions for the next three months and a normal or later frost could bring on a crop considerably in excess of the present estimate,

Based on the acreage now thought to be "standing" the August 1 projection would mean a per-acre yield of only 354 pounds, as compared to a 10 year average for the Plains of 433 pounds per

The PCG-LCE estimates are traditionally based on "normal" weather conditions, and are updated on the first of each month through December 1, taking into consideration the effects of weather for the past 30 days each time. Normal rainfall at the Lubbock Weather Station for August is

1,82 inches and the average temperature for the month is 78.8 degrees. Average maximum August temperature at Lubbock is 91.7 degrees and the average minimum is 65.8. Floyd County has 110,000 estimated standing acres, with 393 bases estimated yield per standing acre, estimated total production, 90,000 bales. 1971 production was 51,100 bales.

Hope members of your community will come over for the parade at 10 a.m., especially the Sheriff's Posse and the ladies who did such a beautiful job on the 1890 costumes. We wish you would come over, ride a float and participate in a sidewalk style show along with our young ladies.

There will be fun for the kids out on the square and a lot of
