Caprock Chat

BY WENDELL TOOLEY
I was asked to write a story about the retail merchant's coming Tuesday morning, but only a few were present. I discussed a need for better police protection. They discussed whether to open or close Labor Day.

THEY mentioned this was the first year in many years that David would be able to vacation after school children in school!

MRS. LORIN LEBFRIED if she would be joining the gardening hobby, now that she is retiring from office. She replied, "no sir. . .Lorin won't get any help from me. . .I prefer working around the house. I'm just not sure what all I plan to do. . .mainly to garden."

IF YOU noticed the beautiful pink flowers. . .or weeds coming in the lake bottoms? Someone may be able to name them for me?

SCHOOL BOARD meeting the other night the board discussed the state's kindergarten program dropping to four years. Superintendent A. E. Baker surmised that soon the board would be required to conduct prenatal courses.

No Tax Increase School Board Approves New Budget

The Floydada school board devoted a considerable amount of time in their meeting here Monday night to study and approval of a budget for the 1972-1973 school term. With the approval came the decision not to increase school taxes and the report that the school system has been operating within the budget the past school year.

The tax rate will remain at $1.75 per $100 valuation based upon $150 for operation and 25¢ for debt reduction. Valuation is rated on 47% of the real value of property.

The board voted to begin a computer system of bookkeeping and it was reported that Mrs. Lorin Leibfried has resigned effective August 31, this year after 22 years of service to the school system as secretary, tax collector and assessor.

OTHER BUSINESS
In other business the board hired the following teachers: Donna Hoyle, special education; Sheila Lou Poole, first grade; Betty Poole, fifth grade; Kathleen Wood, Duncan music teacher; Debbie O'Neal, sixth grade science; Murphy Sales, Jr. High science and tennis coach; Adellaid McDonald, fifth grade; Sally Galloway, special education aid; and Pat Gonzales, title I aid, four year-old kindergarten.

Family Injured In Flash Fire

A butane explosion at the tenant farm home owned by Louis Pyle Saturday morning resulted in burns to the Joe Guzman family residing in the house. In Caprock Hospital are Mrs. Lupe Guzman, burns over her legs, hip and one arm; a two year old son, Cruz, who has stomach and arm burns; another son, one year old Christopher, burns over the face and arms, and a five year old daughter, Kathy, leg and arm burns. The father sustained hand burns and was treated and released. Another Guzman child escaped injuries. He was still in bed asleep when the mishap occurred.

The explosion, about 8 o'clock, was thought to have occurred from an accumulation of butane fumes, which had settled in the house in the early hours, from a hose leakage to a butane tank on a pickup parked next to the house. A spokesman said that Guzman had been to the field to change irrigation hose and as he opened the front door to the house, the explosion occurred along with a flash fire. Glass panes in the front door and windows were blown out and an inside wall pulled from its mountings. It was surmised the explosion was touched off when either a light switch was turned on or from the television set, which had the back side blown out. A divan was also destroyed in the fire, as well as curtains and drapes.

The father managed to beat out the fire on clothing worn by his children and wife, and despite burns on his hands, drove all to the hospital for treatment.

Baptist Pastor Gets Deacons' Goat

By Wendell Tooley
Floydada First Baptist pastor, Floyd Bradley, literally "got his Deacons' goat" Sunday night after church services when his wife discovered a goat in their back yard. It all started with a challenging message at Sunday night services when pastor Bradley preached on the subject of "Living The Spirit of Christ."

35 members 16 years ago and recently had 19,020 in Sunday School. "The Virginia pastor uses TV celebrities. . .one time he used a goat to attract some 3,000 kids to Sunday School. . . I imagine a goat WOULD attract more people than all the Deacons in church," pastor Bradley continued. Evidently the goat statement attracted a humorous spark in local deacons who unloaded the goat in the pastor's yard later that night.

A Good Thing
 Few of us get what we deserve for which most of us should be thankful.
 -Enquirer, Cincinnati.

Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock-based commodity organization with members in 25 High Plains counties, has budgeted $173,500 for 1972-73 activities in behalf of High Plains cotton and cotton producer interests, according to Ray Joe Riley of Hart, PCG President. The July 1 to June 30 budget was reduced from the 1971-72 budget level of $199,450. Riley said "It is a lean budget, designed to bring the organization's outgo more in line with its income without curtailing benefits to the membership more than is absolutely necessary." PCG is primarily supported by 15 cents-per-bale dues from cotton growers, and revenue was greatly reduced by the short crop of only 1,279,000 bales harvested in 1971-72. Average annual production from the 25 PCG counties for the previous 10 years is over 1,800,000 bales. PCG money is spent to improve the conditions under which High Plains cotton is grown and marketed in a number of ways. Included are production research, legislative and administrative representation on cotton-related matters in Washington and Austin, advertising and promotion with domestic and foreign cotton spinners, fiber research and services to domestic and foreign textile mills. Finance Committee Chairman Lloyd Cline of Lamesa said "We believe we can operate in 1972-73 on this reduced budget without seriously impairing our long range objectives, and we hope to get back to normal with a bumper crop in 1972." Biggest cuts in the budget from last year's figures came in two areas - agricultural research, and advertising and public relations. Considerable money is now coming to established research institutions in the area from Cotton Incorporated, the national producer arm of the cotton industry supported by the dollar-a-bale program. An estimated $175,000 is allocated by Cotton Incorporated for production and research relating primarily to High Plains needs.

"For this reason," Riley said, "our research grants-in-aid were reduced from $23,950 in 1971-72 to $16,000 this year. With limited funds available, we felt more of the producer's 15 cents per bale on the Plains could be used for other needs, and that the $1 per bale that goes to Cotton Incorporated from our producers here could carry a bigger share of the agricultural research load." What we spend for agricultural research now, he continued, will be "seed money" for promising research when funds can't be had from any other source.

The advertising and public relations budget was reduced even more, from $25,000 in 1971-72 to $16,000 this year. Officials explained that the primary purpose of PCG advertising has been to make and keep the U.S. and world textile industries aware of High Plains cotton developments and of PCG services. They expressed hope that past advertising would help carry the organization and the area through at least a year of reduced expenditures. About half the reduction in this item will be accomplished by printing and mailing the organization's membership newsletter, the "PCG Cotton Review," every other month instead of on a monthly basis.

Other major budget items include Salaries and Employee Retirement ($62,500, down from $55,000 last year), Travel ($17,500 unchanged), Fiber Research and Textile Services ($10,000, down from $12,000), Domestic and Export Market Development ($5,000, unchanged), and Fiber Quality Analysis and Reports ($3,000, unchanged).

Remaining items in the budget consist of rent, legal and audit fees, insurance, payroll and property taxes, depreciation and other general costs of doing business.

Candlelight Wedding Read For Miss Daniel, Johnie Reed

The sanctuary of the First Baptist Church in Floydada was the setting Friday, August 11, for the 7:30 p.m. candlelight wedding of Miss Lori Daniel and Johnie Reed. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Daniel Jr., of Floydada, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Reed of Kress.

Dr. Floyd C. Bradley, pastor of the church, performed the double ring ceremony before an archway of greenery and white mums.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal length gown of white organza, fashioned with a high Victorian neckline of ruffled organza and long Bishop sleeves with a self ruffle at the wrist. A wide panel of Chantilly lace edged with scalloped Venise lace extended down the front of the empire bodice and softly gathered column skirt. An attached chapel length train was edged with Venise lace.

Her headpiece was a profile cluster of lace petals holding a three tiered illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of multi-colored flowers.

Miss Diana Crabtree of Lubbock was maid of honor and Miss Debra Smith, Floydada, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid.

They were attired identically in floor length empire style gowns of pastel orchid chiffon. The high necklines and long full sleeves were bordered with a ruffle of chiffon. Each carried bouquets of white and orchid mums.

Jimie Reed of Kress served his brother as best man. Groomsman was Mike Carlisle of Kress, and seating guests were Joe and Jeff Reed, Kress, brothers of the groom, and Al-An Daniel, brother of the bride. Miss Helen Eden, cousin of the bride, registered guests. Wedding selections were by organist, Mrs. Bill Hardin, who also accompanied Mrs. Danny Murphree as she sang "More" and "The Wedding Prayer."

A reception in fellowship hall of the church followed the wedding ceremony. The bride's table was covered with a beige cloth accented by silver threads. The centerpiece was a combination of the bridesmaid's bouquets and a silver candelabra. Miss Karin Berly of Lubbock and Miss Janis Reinken of Plainview served wedding cake and punch from crystal appointments.

For their wedding trip the bride changed into a long-sleeved white and blue dress, accented by a short vest of white and blue check.

Upon the couple's return, they will reside at 3002 4th St., Apt. 148 in Lubbock.

The bride, a 1970 graduate of Floydada High School, is a junior at Texas Tech University. Reed is a 1969 graduate of Kress High School and is a senior at Tech. He is employed by the Internal Revenue Service in Lubbock. Both will continue their education at Tech this fall.

Commissioners Court Had Full Agenda For July

In their July meeting commissioners court accepted the bid of High Plains Pavers Inc., for seal coating, adopted resolutions, and appointed election judges and alternates for the November Presidential elections.

The seal coating, which is to be completed by Sept. 10, 1972, will cover some 33 miles of road in Precinct 2 of Floyd County at a cost of $8,150. Patching, cleaning and seal coating will also cover some five miles of road in the South Plains Community at a cost of $13,203.

One of the resolutions adopted by the commissioners was "that the Federal Power Commission be urged to make a careful and exhaustive investigation and that jurisdiction be assumed by the commissioners over Pioneer Natural Gas Co., and its sales of irrigation gas so that the increasing spiral of natural gas prices may be terminated and so that Pioneer Natural Gas Co., will be limited to a fair return on the investment in the sale of irrigation gas."

The commissioners feel that it has a responsibility to the farmers in the county and feel that it should be able to protect them against exorbitant and excessive rates charged by any public utility or supplier of natural gas or electricity and feel that every action should be taken by the court, legally possible, in order to afford some protection for the said irrigation farmer, whereas a complaint has been lodged with the Federal Power Commission.

The following election judges and alternates were appointed by commissioners:

Precinct 1, Southwest Floydada, Jack Stansell, judge; Wilson Mack Fowler, alternate.

Precinct 3, Allmon, Marvin Shurbot, judge; R. G. Morris, alternate.

Precinct 4, Sandhill, Weldon Smith, judge; Edwin Nutt, alternate.

Precinct 5, East Lockney, J. D. Copeland, judge; Lloyd Wofford, alternate.

Precinct 7, Providence, Albert Scheele, judge; Mrs. Ewald Quebe, alternate.

Often called the plant is mainly tropical and Webster says the fancied rest of parts of the flower to the instruments of Christ's Crucifixion, mostly tendrid, bearing vines that have simple or lobed leaves, showy, chiefly red, white and purple flowers. NEWS FOR HOMEMAKERS

By Billie McMorris
Floyd County H.D. Agent

NEWS ON FASHION TRENDS and washability in the fashion world. The fashion world has received some interesting news which might be of help to you. The new fashion trends are back in the classic lines, but breaks out into feminizing ruffles and neckline detailing. Basic to the build-up is the body shirt, blouse or sweater. These all-in-ones that originated with the body stocking have become a full-fledged fashion available in a seemingly endless variety of styles, patterns and fabrics and in several different departments of most stores. Bodysuits are designed to go under other layers, to make it alone, or to come coordinated with their own build-ups.

For underlayering, pantyhose are of great importance to make a total fashion statement. In monotone coordinates or hues that pick up print or plaid accent colors, a wardrobe of pantyhose links together the mixing and matching of many separate pieces. Of course, these next-to-the-skin under-layers are completely washable and should receive wash-afterwear treatment to remove body odor, oil and perspiration. They will also last longer and maintain their shape better with frequent laundering. Even pantyhose can be machine washed if encased in a mesh bag to prevent tangling.

As for pattern, it's a plaid parade! Giant-sized down to mini-sized variations, they appear in all fabrics and colorations. Plaids plus florals, flocking, tweeds and clips are another direction. While plaids dominate, an Oriental influence is felt in refined prints often expressed in lacquer bright colors.

Primary colors get a big play with reds and greens emerging as favorites. Then too, the monotone trend makes the whole family of beiges and browns important with gray coming through as a major no-color neutral. The boldness of plaid is mostly softened with fabrics that are lush, plush, brushed, napped, sueded, fuzzed, fleeced. High on the list are brushed flannel, cotton, denim, even brushed chino. Corduroy, which lends itself to so many different treatments, is a big part of the plush touch story. Knits, also high on the popularity chart, take a new plaid turn. But watch for other entries - winter seersucker and stretch wovens. Also in the search for softness, blends see the polyesters combine with worsteds and wools to provide easy-care characteristics with the hand of natural fibers. In addition, polyester in spun/filament combinations give polyester performance with a special luxury feel formerly not found in 100% polyester. This election year the fashion forecast favors an All-American look. The '72 version is defined by straight-forward styles with something for everyone and easy-care washability for all."

September is near and the Floyd County Fair is one of the highlights of the month. Start now gathering items you have made to enter in the fair! Many of you are canning or have already canned fruits and vegetables which you could enter at the fair. The Women's Department has countless divisions you can enter. Remember the Floyd County Fair, September 14, 15, 16. If you need a fair catalog, we have some in our office.

Farmers And Ranchers Have Good Image With City Folk

AUSTIN - Farmers and ranchers have a good image in the view of city people if public opinion research conducted in the Dallas metropolitan area holds true in other urban centers around the state and country.

The Texas Farm Bureau commissioned the farmer-rancher-image study by Management Advisory Associates, a Dallas firm headed by Dr. James Makens who is on the faculty of the University of Dallas.

Results of the survey were made known here Thursday, Aug. 10, at a meeting of county Farm Bureau presidents. The study indicates that a "reservoir of good will" toward farmers and ranchers exists in urban centers, Dr. Makens said. A stratified random sampling procedure was used to select respondents from the city of Dallas. This insured the inclusion of various income brackets and minorities. The survey was conducted by both mail and personal interviews. Suburban respondents were selected through the use of a simple random sample. Stratification was not attempted in the suburbs.

The overall image of farmers and ranchers held by Dallas metropolitan residents was favorable, the study concluded. This was true for city and suburban residents, as well as for members of the minorities.

The farmer-rancher was believed to be politically conservative. Respondents tended to believe he was against welfare but did not know how he stood in the Vietnam War.

He was viewed as being efficient by a majority of the respondents. Comparative efficiency ratings revealed that the farmer-rancher is considered to be more efficient than auto workers, brick layers, fellow workers of the respondents, office workers, construction workers and general factory workers. Only accountants and engineers were rated higher than farmers and ranchers in efficiency.

The majority opinion was that farmers and ranchers are not living off the American taxpayer. Respondents also expressed mixed feelings tending overall toward neutrality on the issue of whether or not farmers and ranchers receive large subsidies. In addition, it was somewhat felt that the farmer-rancher believes subsidies to be necessary but ineffective in serving their purpose.

The farmer-rancher is definitely not viewed as a major cause of inflation or as responsible for high food prices in the U.S. today. He is viewed, however, as believing that he is not getting his fair share of the purchase dollar.

The farmer-rancher is viewed as being opposed to welfare, but not as a person who is unfair to or against migrant workers and sharecroppers. However, nearly half the sample believed him to be somewhat prejudiced against minority groups. The minority community holds a better opinion of the farmer-rancher's relationship with sharecroppers than do residents living in the city or suburbs.

In terms of ecological issues, he was viewed as being interested in conservation. The majority of the respondents did not believe that the farmer-rancher uses insecticides and pesticides without concern for wildlife.

He was not viewed as being self-centered and interested in farm-ranch problems with no regard for the problems of the cities. However, respondents did feel that farmers and ranchers believe city dwellers are unaware of and uninterested in farm-ranch problems.

It is in the field of education that the image of the farmer-rancher somewhat slips. Respondents were divided in opinion as to whether or not the farmer-rancher is well educated.

The personal life of the farmer-rancher was also viewed in favorable light. He was thought of as being opposed to divorce and as having better church attendance than others.

Farmers and ranchers were generally not viewed as having high annual incomes or as being in better or worse shape financially than the respondents.

With respect to organization and size, the farmer-rancher was not considered to be an employee of a big corporation or highly dependent upon them. Nevertheless, there was fairly general agreement that the farmer-rancher is highly mechanized in his farm-ranch operations.

There were mixed feelings concerning the power of the farmer-rancher in state and national politics in general, but moderate agreement that he is powerful in the state of Texas. Dr. Makens, who has conducted market research studies for a number of nationally-known corporations, said that he believed similar studies in other metropolitan areas of Texas would reveal similar attitudes to those found in Dallas.

The Farm Bureau commissioned the study to find out if an aggressive advertising campaign was needed to improve the farmer-rancher's image. Dr. Makens advised that such a campaign now would be "unwarranted," but said the current image might change in the future.

"The city youth might hold different opinions than today's adults as they reach voting age," he said.

John Hillman On Baylor Deans List

Baylor University, Waco, has recognized the academic achievement of 646 of its students by naming them to the Dean's List and the Dean's Distinguished List.

Dr. George M. Smith, Baylor's dean of instruction, announced the names of those students who were selected because of their outstanding academic performance during the 1972 spring semester.

Smith said 267 students were named to the Dean's List and 379 to the Dean's Distinguished List. Of those named to the Dean's Distinguished List, 207 earned a 4.00 or straight-A average.

Baylor utilizes a grading system whereby four points per hour credit are given for each A, three for Bs, two for Cs and one for Ds.

Grade point averages are derived by dividing the total number of points earned by the number of hours taken.

To be eligible for the Dean's List, an undergraduate student must earn a grade point average of 3.60 to 3.79 for at least 15 hours credit during a semester.

John R. Hillman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Royce Hillman, R. 2, Lockney, was named to the Dean's List. John had a 3.78 grade point average in accounting.

Hillman, a sophomore at Baylor University, graduated in 1970 from Plainview High School.

'PEARS TO BE A BLOOMIN' PEAR TREE A-BLOOMIN' ... here in the middle of August - a little late (or early) for such happenings. Wouldn't you think? Mrs. O.L. Harris noted the biological oddity Monday morning on a pear tree in her back yard in Floydada. The fruit tree has surprised the Harris family at least once before, last winter, when they discovered a large pear, weighing an estimated pound and a half, growing in its topmost branches on Christmas Day. Mrs. Harris said the big pear was perfectly formed and "tasted delicious." In addition to the out-of-season blossoms, the tree is currently laden with fruit. (Staff Photo)

Does the alarm clock get you up? No, it merely tells you it's time to get up. Whether you get out of bed is a matter of discipline.

Church bells don't bring anyone to church. They simply remind Christians where we ought to be on a Sunday morning. The rest is a matter of discipline.

Such discipline, whether it calls you to work or to worship, is fundamentally a trait of your own character. It begins with earnestness, it is strengthened by habit, it is directed toward any responsibility or opportunity which you value.

The value a person puts upon God and his own soul usually determines whether he worships each Sunday, or now and then. Put another way: the man who knows what worship and inspiration can mean in his life never is hesitant to get up and go.

And, of course, discipline has special meaning for a Christian: those who lived and worked with Christ were DISCIPLES.

New Farm Fable... Charlie Consumer

Fundley, Ill. House of Representatives April 10, 1972

Fable," I have a special interest in fables that relate to agriculture. Here is a new one that deserves wide attention. It is based on the bureau of Labor Statistics' Consumer Price Index for February 1972, and the Budget for the United States. The Index has as its base 1967 prices equaling 100. In each instance in the fable the bracketed number is the current index for the immediate aforesaid item.

Charlie Consumer and the Consumer Price Index: A Fable for Phase II
One bright morning last week, Charley Consumer was awakened by his Japanese clock radio (98.4).

The first thing he heard—was the news that food prices had reached 122.2 on the Consumer Price Index. Hearing this, Christine Consumer turned over and said, "That's outrageous. I'm going to write to my Congressman (141.6). While she was talking she didn't hear the newscaster report that the overall index was (123.6) — less food (124.2).

Charley pulled on his shoes (119.9) and put on his suit (125.6) and went out to the kitchen. He checked the new sink installed yesterday (144.2) and remembered he had to call the furnace repairman (151.2) when he got to the office. He went to the refrigerator (108.3), took out some milk (116.4) poured himself a bowl of cornflakes (102.2) and put some bacon (114.0) and eggs (102.2) on to fry.

Having done this, he went through the living room he had painted last week (155.1) to the front door where he picked up his morning paper (130.8). The headlines talked of an investigation of drug industry pricing for prescription drugs (101.2). Charley muttered to himself, "What they ought to check are the hospitals, many built with taxpayers' money (171.1), or the doctors (133.5) or the dentists (130.6)." He skimmed over an item showing average weekly earnings in manufacturing (131.8) and then saw an ad urging him to buy fish (145.0) and dry beans (135.4) instead of beef (136.1) or pork chops (142.2).

While eating his breakfast, the postman (146.6) rang and when he went to the door he found his property tax bill (141.8) and his city sewer and water bill (136.4). As he opened his gas and electric bill (119.4) he wondered if the utility company shouldn't take over his sewer and water system. In disgust, Charley walked out to his new car (111.9) and drove to the bus stop. He rode the public bus line (150.3) because downtown parking (138.0) was too high. While riding along he reminded himself that he needed to fill his car with gas (105.7) that night and that he needed to make an appointment for a tune-up (133.6).

Meanwhile at home, Christine had started her day's activities. She picked up the phone (113.5) and called the maid (136.4) to come in on Saturday. She then dialed a babysitter (133.8) to come that night so she and Charley could go to the theatre (137.1) or a drive-in movie (143.5). After that she called the washing machine repairman (134.4). With this done she poured herself a cup of instant coffee (125.5), lit up a cigarette (133.2) and looked through the latest issue of her favorite magazine (124.9). It contained an interesting article comparing CAB regulated airline fares (136.1). Laying the magazine down, she went into the bedroom and put on her new dress (143.8) and picked up her new handbag (140.2) and went out to do her shopping.

Christine was a careful grocery shopper. She bought flour (100.9), rice (110.3), cookies (100.7), bread (123.1), liver (118.3), ham (114.4) and chicken (110.1). She picked up ice cream (106.1) and butter (105.8). She bought apples (109.9) and onions (105.6). She hesitated at the lettuce (152.1), but then recalled that weather had been bad in California's lettuce farming country.

To this she added canned pears (117.3), canned peas (108.5), and frozen broccoli (118.5). A bag of sugar (114.5) and a couple of cans of chicken soup (106.9) rounded out her food purchases. From this point on, Christine was not the wisest shopper.

She bought napkins (128.4) and toilet paper (124.8). She picked up a cola drink (127.8) and a chocolate bar (130.7). Dungaeres for Junior (126.1) and slacks for Sis (131.1) brought her trip to the supermarket to an end.

Downtown, Charley had just finished lunch in a restaurant (128.9). Heading back to the office he stopped off at the tailor shop to have his slacks (137.1) hemmed (131.8).

On his way home later that afternoon, Charley stopped at his favorite bar for a drink (129.0). He missed his bus, so he had to take a cab (132.6). Upon arriving home, Charley round that Christine had decided they should stay home and watch TV (99.7). After dinner, they settled down to watch a news special on the federal government. They learned about projected 1973 spending by the U. S. government (160.7), about the 1973 federal debt (148.3), the 1973 interest on the debt (201.9) and about the income taxes (152.7) they and their neighbors would pay. Of course, the blame for this was laid on the Defense Department (112.2) and nothing was said about the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (197.9).

With that, Charley and Christine went to bed and ended up discussing some of the day's events. After awhile they decided maybe at 122.2 food wasn't a bad bargain after all. It sure fit into their budget better than their local government's federal government or the new kitchen sink. Before falling asleep they wondered together whether or not they could ever save up enough money to leave any of the kids.

Charley doubted it, but just in case, he said he'd stop by and see his attorney tomorrow about making out a will (141.6).

Damaging Sorghum Midge Infestations Appear Likely

Dr. Robert McIntyre, area Extension entomologist with the Texas A&M Extension Center cautions that economically damaging infestations of the midge may occur in late-blooming sorghum during the last two weeks of August and September. The Extension specialist has been monitoring the population buildup of the sorghum midge since early June with funds provided through a grant from the Grain Sorghum Producers Board.

Dr. McIntyre says several factors suggest that damaging infestations will occur in this late planted sorghum. First, inclement weather prohibited uniform plantings. Second, cool temperatures delayed crop growth while high rainfall and humidity were favorable for midge development. Third, early monitoring of Johnson grass, the primary alternate host of the midge, showed much higher midge infestation than in previous years. Fourth, midge emergence from grain sorghum heads collected over the 10 county survey area has not been unusually high but more general in its distribution. Five, actual field observations of adult midges early in August point to the fact that the first and second generations of the midge population developing on grain sorghum will be emerging by mid-August. The sorghum midge can not build up on Johnson grass in sufficient numbers to cause economic losses in grain sorghum. It can only build to damaging levels on its primary host, grain sorghum. The specialist relates that the majority of the sorghum on the South Plains is beyond the bloom stage and is not susceptible to midge attack.

The keys to effectively preventing grain sorghum losses due to the midge are: (1) understanding the habits of the midge and (2) realizing how and when sorghum is damaged.

The midge overwinters in the florets or "seed husks" of its host plant as a larva or maggot. Pupation and adult emergence occurs in the spring about the time Johnson grass begins to bloom. The adult midge, an orange colored, fragile looking insect or fly is about 1/12 of an inch long. The adults mate, and females begin laying eggs soon after emergence. Each female may deposit from 50 to 250 tiny white eggs during her 24 to 48 hour life. Eight to 10 eggs may be placed in each floret or grain. However, a single larva is capable of destroying only one developing seed. An average of 16 days is required for the midge to develop from egg to adult.

During June and early July, a midge population maintains itself on its alternate host, Johnson grass. When early sorghum begins to bloom, the midge migrates from alternate hosts to grain sorghum. Early grain sorghum infestations are not sufficiently damaging to warrant control. These early populations contribute directly to late heavy populations which cause economic damage. The most damaging populations commonly occur with the emergence of the third generation in grain sorghum.

Since the third generation in grain sorghum should be emerging during mid-August, producers should begin monitoring their fields to determine if midges are present. Female egg laying is limited to that portion of the head bearing fresh yellow blooms. Field survey should be conducted early in the morning when winds are low and the midges are most likely to be active. At four different locations in the field, one should place a wide-mouth jar quickly over 25 individual blooming heads at each location. If midges are present, they will rise to the top of the jar and can be easily counted. Control measures should be applied only when infestation levels exceed an average of 2 adults per head. The timing of the application of insecticides for midge control is very critical since midges attack only the bloom stage, and the adult female is so short lived. When a producer finds 2 midges per head and 30 to 50 percent of the heads are blooming, control procedures should be initiated. A second application should be made within five days if adult midges are still present in sufficient numbers to warrant control. Where adverse weather follows application or short residual materials are used, reduce application intervals to 3 days. In fields where yields are high, a third application may be justified. Insecticides recommended for midge control can be found in Texas A&M Extension bulletin MP-339, "Texas Guide for Controlling Insects and Mites on Sorghum." These bulletins are available at your local county agent's office.

Nursing Home Happenings

(By Faye Walters)

The other day I got to wondering just how many years would be represented if the ages of our residents in the home were added together. After doing some research I came up with 4,088 years. Can you imagine all the stories of love, joy, hardships, pain and sorrow they could tell us of these years?

One woman related she only has one child left, a daughter. She has lost three sons by heart attacks. One had a beautiful 18 year old daughter to drown. A cripple, with God's help, managed to pull herself into a car and drive it down a mountain road to get help when her husband became ill.

But so many tell of great times of happiness in their life span.

We are glad to welcome Hallie Bertrand and Lera Kincheol back with us from hospitals in Lubbock and Crosbyton.

Mary Pierce, our head cook, has been on vacation and we sure missed her.

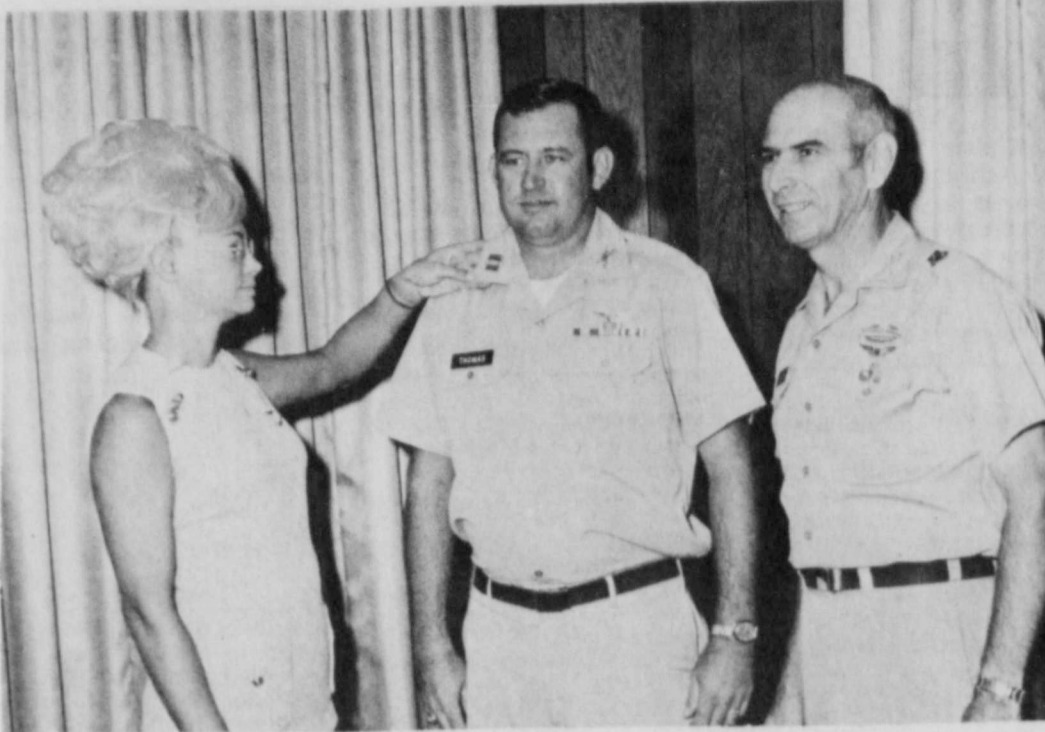

July 5 was Hattie Mae Selman's birthday and her family took her out to celebrate.

Tuesday night we gave an ice cream supper for the residents and several women brought cakes. All had a good time. Our devotionals this week have been extra good. There were special songs, some from small children who can really sing good.

Mr. Reed won more games at Bingo this week than anyone else with four games. Bessie Palmer, Bessie Lanier, Pearl Britton, Minnie Wood, Bertha Eubanks and Lillie Luttrell won two or three games each. Mattie Pool and Bessie Pierce won one each.

We are going ahead with plans for our Art-Crafts County Fair in October.

Will have more happenings next week from the Nursing Home.

Collins Implement Open House For John Deere

Collins Implement has scheduled an open house for all farmers in this area on Saturday, August 19. Mr. Collins says they will unveil Generation Two, the biggest advance in tractors since John Deere introduced the New Generation Tractors twelve years ago. Mr. Collins recently attended a two-day meeting at Waterloo, Iowa, where the new line was introduced to all John Deere dealers.

Johnnie says their enthusiasm was very high, particularly after he and other dealers had operated the new tractors. While he cannot discuss specific details until the August 19 announcement, Mr. Collins says it will be to every farmer's advantage, especially from a health and comfort standpoint, to attend the open house and learn all the facts about the new John Deere tractors.

The open house will be 9 to 3 Saturday. Refreshments will be served.

Floyd Residents Insured For $84,739,000

NEW YORK, Aug. 14 - A sign of the times, for the average Floyd County family, is the extent to which it is protected against the financial hazards of daily living. It has unemployment insurance, health insurance, accident insurance and life insurance, to mention the major ones.

And, on the long-range side, it has such other bulwarks as social security, private pension plans and personal saving.

With respect to its life insurance protection, it is more heavily covered at the present time than it has ever been. The result is that the capital amount of life insurance in force in Floyd County has climbed to an estimated total of $84,739,000.

The facts and figures on the distribution of insurance, nationally and by states, are presented in the latest Life Insurance Fact Book and in other reports.

They show that the lives of Americans are insured for a tremendous sum of money, more than $1.5 trillion. And this does not include the substantial amount issued to veterans through the Federal government.

Texas State's share of this total is listed at $78,793,000,000 a big increase over the $30,743,000,000 reported ten years ago.

Just how much does this hold down to at the family level? The findings are that the average family in the state carries an amount of insurance that is equal to 25.9 months

Watts Receives Ethyl Scholarship

AUSTIN, Texas (SPL.) - Three entering freshmen beginning studies in chemical engineering at The University of Texas have been awarded scholarships by the Ethyl Corporation.

Awards are made primarily on the basis of high school academic records, Scholastic Aptitude Test scores and recommendations of high school teachers.

The three students will receive cash stipends of $200 each.

The scholarships were established to encourage freshmen to enter the chemical engineering profession, especially in the program offered at UT Austin.

"Chemical engineers apply chemistry, physics and mathematics to a variety of challenging and worthwhile problems, especially those requiring chemical transformation," said Dr. Robert S. Schechter, chairman of the Department of Chemical Engineering.

"These problems range from development and manufacture of such modern-day products as synthetic fibers, aluminum, motor fuels and plastics to environmental pollution control and biomedical engineering," he continued.
 All three students are from

Congressman Hopes For September Adjournment

WASHINGTON, D.C. - Congressman George Mahon advises that he will spend two weeks in his district following the recess of Congress on August 18. Congress will reconvene on September 5 and has set September 20 as the target date for final adjournment.

Mahon expressed the hope that the September 30 adjournment date could be met, but pointed out that much additional work remains to be done.

In a statement, Mahon said, "I will present to the House in mid-September the big defense appropriation bill totaling in excess of $75 billion dollars. I predict that the appropriation work of the Congress will be completed in September, and that the sums made available for all purposes will not greatly exceed the President's total budget. There will be increases and decreases; in my judgment, however, some bills will be considerably in excess of requirements."

Mahon said that a lame duck session of Congress after the election would be a mistake and that he was pressing for it.

Day Care Center Needs Donations

LOCKNEY LOCAL

Mr. and Mrs. L.J. Stapp had all five of their children home recently. They were: Mrs. Marilyn Sparks of Raleigh, North Carolina; Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Don Stapp and girls of Dumas; Mrs. Loretta Morgan and girls of Clovis, New Mexico; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Pierce and family of Portales, New Mexico; and Larry of the home.

LOCKNEY LOCAL

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Bybee had as their recent visitors, their daughters, Mrs. Jack Schaffer and children, Scott and Lolo from Dallas; Mrs. Loree Hammit from Grand Prairie; and Sylvia Kirby and son, Kelley from Hobbs, New Mexico.

The Floydada Day Care Center provides low-cost care for children, age six months to 10 years, of parents who work or for other reasons find it necessary to leave their children between 7:30 a.m. and 5:30 p.m., when the Center is open. The state-licensed Floydada Day Care Center opened here in December, 1969, and since then the average attendance has increased to about 23 children every day, according to Mrs. Betty Fuller, director of the Center.

The Center is financed by donations from individuals, churches and study groups. The only government aid the Center receives is a commodities grant which helps pay for food for the children, who are fed a morning and evening snack as well as a balanced noon meal.

The charge per child ranges from 35¢ to $2.50 per day, the payments being scaled according to family income. Mrs. Fuller noted, The Center's services were originally designed for low-income families.

Right now, the Center is in need of donations in the form of cash, educational toys, and supplies - such as coloring books, play-dough, and finger-paints - and fruits and vegetables are other items which would be appreciated and would be used in feeding the youngsters.

Donations to the Center are tax deductible and may be mailed to Floydada Day Care Center, Mrs. Ralph Johnston, treasurer, 601 East Ross Street, Floydada, Texas 79235. Donors may also contact Mrs. Jack Jordan, or phone the Center, 983-3134, to make donations of toys or supplies. Assisting Mrs. Fuller at the Day Care Center are Mrs. Ethel Cross, who is with the Green Thumb Project, and aides Louise Campbell and Mary Barrientos. Brenda Walls is a part-time worker at the Center.

The Day Care Center, open Monday through Friday, is located in the Della Plains School building. The rooms, playground and utilities are furnished by the Floydada Independent School District. The Center boasts a main playroom, a nursery, and a kitchen, as well as the fenced playground.

The Center's facilities are regularly inspected, and inspection certificates from the State Department of Public Welfare, local health office, and fire marshal are posted on a bulletin board in the main room. A state supervisor from Austin checks menus and food supplies and makes certain that minimum requirements are met.

The Floydada Center has plenty of "customers" - in fact there is a long waiting list. Some of the names on the waiting list are expected to move up when school starts and some of the older youngsters leave. Daily attendance is expected to remain about the same with the addition of several pre-schoolers this fall.

But donations to support the Center's services are, unfortunately, not as plentiful as prospective recipients of those services, and contributions of any kind - cash (tax deductible), educational toys, supplies, fruits and vegetables - are always greatly appreciated at the Floydada Day Care Center.

4-H Consumer Education Program Sharpens Youths' Buying Skills

"As consumers, all of us at one time or another perform as amateur accountants, mechanics, electricians, dieticians or engineers in the selection and use of products and services. Yet all too often we do not have the information nor the training for the job," says Melinda Brown, one of last year's national winners in the 4-H consumer education program supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service.

"True? It certainly seems that way in our consumer oriented society," says Lois Howard, program associate, National 4-H Service Committee. "With their own resources, young people represent an important market for consumer goods and services. And their influence on family purchases is highly significant," Miss Howard explains.

4-H members like Miss Brown of Littleton, Colo., through work in the 4-H consumer education program have learned what it takes to be smart shoppers. They have learned to plan, budget, compare and evaluate quality, and to read labels warranties and instructions. "Encouraging young people to make decisions, consumer education relates to nearly all 4-H projects," Miss Howard states. While previously emphasizing consumerism in home centered projects, this year's program has been broadened to appeal to teen boys as well as girls, she noted.

Adding its support to the 4-H consumer education program is Montgomery Ward, one of the nation's oldest and largest retailers. The company provides recognition in the form of medals of honor to four county winners and an expense-paid trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Nov. 26-30, as a state award.

During the gala event, Montgomery Ward will present scholarships of $700 each to national winners selected by the Cooperative Extension Service.

Contact the county extension office for information about 4-H consumer education opportunities locally.
