Monday Night Thunderstorms Sweep Floyd

Crops, Prices Good!

Thunderstorms entered Floyd County from the northwest Monday night and brought welcome rainfall to almost all areas of the county. There was some electrical storm display reported and no hail reports at press time. Although the towns of Floydada and Lockney did not report big moisture recordings, some areas of the county received almost two inches of rain. Lockney reported .8 and Floydada .68 officially, with one report of 1.25.

LOCKNEY AREA
West of Lockney, a report of 3/4 inch, the J. J. Smalley place east of Lockney recorded just over an inch. Jerry Davis reported in inch and a half on his place north of Lockney. Also Kenneth Wofford, north of Lockney received 1.25 inches of rain. Kenneth Holt, north of Lockney received a half inch. Ernie Widener north of Lockney received an inch. Eddie Teeter, south of Lockney received 1.25.

Crop reports in the Lockney area are excellent. . . best in possibly seven years.

OTHER AREAS
Billy Fulton, four miles south and a half mile west of Floydada, reported 1.75", and Louis Pyle, five miles south of Floydada, reported 1.6". Rainfall at Lakeview measured .65" and totals of half an inch were reported at Dougherty and South Plains, Mike Emert, two miles N.W. of Dougherty, reported .55", Richard Ward, five miles south of Dougherty, reported an inch and a half. Ned Bradley, in the Antelope community, received an inch and a half. Otis Anderson at Baker measured .9". The total at McCoy was an inch and an eighth, and in the eastern portion of the county at Sandhill .7" was the total. David Battey in the Harmony community received 1.20 inches of rainfall.

GOOD FARM PRICES:
With the very timely moisture in the county, prices for agricultural products are beginning to climb higher. This week's market reports showed wheat prices climbing to $1.60 to $1.68 per bushel, grain sorghum at $1.95 to $2.05 per hundred, fat cattle at 33 to 34¢ per pound, fat hogs at 28¢ per pound and cotton prices 24 to 25¢ per pound according to grade. Elevator operators feel the sale of grain to Russia stimulated the increase in wheat prices.

Clarence Denton

Jake Webb To Hereford

Clarence Denton will succeed Jake Webb as Floydada District manager for Southwestern Public Service Company, effective September 1, it has been announced by R. H. "Bob" Brummal, Southern Division manager for the electric company. Webb will become the company's Hereford District manager on the same effective date, Brummal added. Denton joined Southwestern in the customer accounting department at Amarillo in 1952. He worked his way through the various ranks from meter reader to chief clerk to service representative in the Amarillo office and then went to Plainview in 1969 as division auditor. Denton has always been active in youth work and in 1968 received an award from the Optimist Club of which he was a member for 300 hours work in a single year with young people. The Dentons have three sons, two of whom are still at home.

The new district manager is a native of Lakeview in Hall County, Texas, and a graduate of that community's schools. He also attended West Texas State University.

Webb has been district manager here since 1968. He served two terms as president of the Chamber of Commerce and also headed the Floydada Development Company. He earned a Manager of the Year award with his company last year.

Gun Safety Seminar Tonight

Anyone interested in guns or hunting is invited to attend a Gun Safety Seminar tonight (Thursday) at 8 p.m. in the community room of the First National Bank in Floydada.

Howard Gambol of Plainview and Ronnie Vandever of Matarador, game wardens with the Department of Parks and Wildlife, will be the featured speakers at the Gun Safety Seminar.

The seminar should be of tremendous help to the young or experienced hunter. Current game laws will be outlined and guns safety suggestions made by the speakers.

The program is sponsored by the Floydada Chamber of Commerce.

How To Get 'Everyone In Church'

September (Floydada churches had an estimated attendance increase of 1110 that Sunday) that workers voted to make it an annual event. The Floydada Ministerial Alliance started the church attendance drive last year, and church laymen have taken up the work. Again this year, bumper stickers, radio announcements, posters designed by church youth, and (something new) banners proclaiming the event in downtown Floydada will advertise "Everyone in Church" Sunday.

Local church youth have planned a door-to-door invitation campaign. A youth poster party is scheduled for 8 p.m. Sunday at the First Christian Church. Posters will be distributed next week. David Cameron is the chairman of the drive, and Elvis Warren serves as vice chairman. Gayle Baucum is secretary treasurer; Jack Covington is treasurer; Mrs. Lawrence Davis and Mrs. W. H. Simpson Jr. are in charge of publicity; and Mrs. Dewayne Grimes and Mrs. Claude Weathersbee are the youth sponsors for the drive. Involved in the effort are the First Christian, First Baptist, Church of the Nazarene, Calvary Baptist, and First United Methodist Church.

NOTE on my desk. . . lavender lake flower you inquired about is common "Duck Potato".
The name is as follows: Family - Alismataceae; Genus - Sagittaria; Sub-species - Pubescens (Muhlentia).
It is edible and was widely used by the Indians as a vegetable.
I wanted this much information, but Jim Word is a specialist on nature flowers and weeds.
Mrs. John Moss, said they were "knot weeds."

About The Labor Day Holiday . . .

Floydada schools will be closed Labor Day, September 4, making a long weekend for everyone. Business firms in Floydada voted earlier in the year to make Labor Day one of the official holidays. However, at the retail trades committee yesterday Bealls, Perry's and some grocery stores reported they would be open Labor Day. At Floydada, Duncan Elementary (grades one to three) and Floydada High School showed increases in enrollment, while Andrews Elementary and Floydada Junior High figures decreased. Enrollment at Duncan was 437 Wednesday (including 16 pre-schoolers), up from 418 on August 27 last year. High School showed an increase of 22, from 456 to this year's 478 figure.

Development Co. To Meet Tuesday

The annual meeting of the Floydada Development Company will be Tuesday, August 29, at 5 p.m. in the First National Bank building in Floydada. Officers will be elected and all members are urged to attend. Approximately 50 firms and individuals belong to the company.

Floyd County Children Must Attend School

County Judge J. K. Holmes reminds parents that every child between the ages of 7 and 17 inclusive residing in Floyd County must attend regularly either public or parochial schools. The parents of such children not requiring them to attend school may be subject to heavy fines, Holmes noted. Crew chiefs and farmers may also be subject to heavy fines if they work school age children or permit them to work on their land during school hours without a permit. Classes at Floyd County schools began Monday, August 21.

Floyd County School Enrollment Down A Little

School enrollment in Floydada Wednesday was 1,536, a figure that compares to 1,558 on August 27 last year. Enrollment this week at Lockney stood at an even 1,000, down from 1,022 last year. Enrollment at South Plains took a 25-percent dive, from 73 to 55. Dougherty increased one, from 48 last year to 49. Floydada superintendent A. E. Baker said enrollment at Floydada would probably increase until Labor Day, so the number may yet reach or top last year's.

Anyone interested in tennis or the school tennis program is invited to the meeting.

Karen Willis District Farm Bureau Queen

Miss Karen Willis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Willis, was crowned district Farm Bureau Queen in Floydada High School Friday night and will advance to the state finals in Houston in November. Floydada's talent group of Edwin Warren, George Finley and Jim Dempsey, representing Floyd County, were nosed out of first place by a girl from Parmer County who sang a couple of songs. KDAV radio personality Joe Bill Brown interviewed the queen contestants and Floyd Farm Bureau president Boyce Mosley welcomed the audience to the event. In charge of the contest for the county was Edwin Teeter. Miss Penny Bertrand played background music on the piano for the occasion.

FLOYD FARM BUREAU QUEEN Karen Willis gets a "congratulatory kiss" from last year's district queen Debbie Newsom of Smyer. Karen advances to state competition in Houston.

Longhorns Raring To Go

The Lockney Longhorns ended two day workouts Friday, as school started Monday. Spirit and enthusiasm is very high in the Big Red camp. A lot of positions are still open as the Horns are really fighting and loving the competition. Larry Cunyus and David Brotherton, both senior quarterbacks have looked real good in practice. So far both boys are throwing well, and executing their plays with confidence. It looks as if both Cunyus and Brotherton will see a lot of action this fall.

The Longhorn receiving crop is looking up for this season. Ends Louie Bybee, Willie Phillips, John Mathis, Steve McPherson, and Stanley Stoerner are doing a fine job of latching on to the football. Bybee and McPherson are seniors, while the other three young men are juniors.

The Big Red has excellent depth in the backfield. Paul Moore, John Clark, and Robert

THE HOME OF THE HORNS is quiet now, but things will change night, September 1st., as the Big Red will scrimmage the Buffs in Lockney. The following Friday, Sept. 8, the season gets away as the Longhorns will entertain Post starting at 8 p.m. (Staff Photo)

Delgado have shown signs of leadership and greatness in workouts so far. Dart Carthel, Armondo Gonzales, Edward Rodriguez, Zach Cummings, Danny Foster, and Ruben Guerrera, have also exhibited fine running qualities. Carthel, again, is doing a marvelous job of kicking the pigskin.

The Longhorn linemen were hitting hard without pads a couple of weeks ago, and things are really knocking now. Centers Sam Fortenberry, Doug Stennett, and Albert Ochoa have shown fine ability in blocking despite their size. Guards Ricky Gross, Barton Cooper, Martin Stoerner, and Joe Rodriguez have proven they are ready and willing to play some fine aggressive football.

The tackle slot has a lot of depth this season. Ramiro Hernandez, L. H. Lane, Perry Keeter, Brent Barker, Jimmy Dietrich, Mark Griffin, Glen Graves, Wilmer Archer, Paul Cooper, and Darrell Edwards are all vying for the tackle slot in the Big Red line-up.

All in all, things are looking very good around the Longhorn camp. With more hard work, combined with the spirit, and determination of the Horns and their coaching staff, football season could be a very thrilling one for 1972 for the "Big Red."

The Horns have two scrimmage games before the real thing gets underway on September 8 against Post in Lockney. The Junior varsity and Freshman squads are keying up for their season which starts Thursday night, September 14 in Olton.

The Junior High coaches are expecting a good turnout for their workout sessions. The Shorthorns seventh and eighth grades initiate their season on September 12 at home against Olton.

The Longhorns will scrimmage the Kress Kangaroos this Friday night, August 25, at Kress starting at 6:30 p.m., with the younger boys and the varsity will hook up about 7:15 p.m. In 1970 Kress won 7 and lost 3 as a member of District 3-A. They tied for the district crown with Vega.

Coach Bill Jennings of Kress, doesn't have a regular back returning among six veteran offensive players, and 14 lettermen. Also Jennings is worried about his defensive line.

But Coach Jennings does have a number of prospects to fill the vacancies. The Kangaroos should provide some good competition for Friday night's scrimmage.

Here is a complete schedule for the Varsity, Junior Varsity, Freshman and Junior High for 1972.

Lloyds Celebrate Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Lloyd of Lockney celebrated their 64th wedding anniversary on Tuesday, August 22.

Mr. Lloyd will be 90 years young in November, while Mrs. Lloyd will be 84 in October.

The Lloyds have lived in Lockney for 51 years, coming here in 1921.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd are the grandparents of John H. Dorman of Lockney.

Impressive Ceremony Unites Miss Barb And Lance Poole

Mr. and Mrs. Lance Guy Poole have returned from a wedding trip to Albuquerque, New Mexico and are residing on Route 4, Floydada. The couple were married August 12 in a simple but impressive ceremony in the First Presbyterian Church in Midland.

The Rev. Forrest K. Whitworth performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the former Melissa Barb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen W. Barb of Midland. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Poole of Dougherty.

Candles and greenery formed the altar scene for the wedding. Robert Poer was organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal length gown of white cotton lace, featuring re-embroidered and scalloped lace. The semi-Victorian neckline was bordered with the lace and accented by a tiny bow. The lace also bordered the puff sleeves. She carried a bridal bouquet of cascading miniature carnations, stephanotis and streamers.

Honor attendants were Louis Reed Cardinal of Dougherty and Pamela Barb of Midland, sister of the bride.

The maid of honor wore a floor length gown of lavender dotted Swiss with empire styling and carried a bouquet of lavender colored miniature carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception honoring the newlyweds was held in the home of the bride's parents.

Both the bride and groom attended West Texas State University. He also attended Rocky Mountain College in Billings, Mont. Poole is presently employed at Dougherty Farm Supply in Dougherty.

Rest Home Birthday Party

Thursday, August 17, women of the City Park Church of Christ hosted the monthly Rest Home birthday party. Four were honored whose years totaled 298. The "honor" table was laid with a white cloth and a pink, artificial floral arrangement served as the centerpiece.

Birthday time in August... Is always lots of fun... We may have lazy, hazy days

Or showers and then the sun. Let's greet Mrs. Britton... She's boasting ninety-one...

Her name is Pearl and she's the girl who loves to have her fun! Cleatis Davis' special day was Thursday, August 10...

No matter when he celebrates. He'll do it once again! Our Mrs. Lydia Warren... Who dates from '93...

hostage by gunman for five hours; and Revis A. McGrew

Is always dressed so neat and trim

And happy as can be!

Now Mrs. Hattie Selman Has newly come our way...

Let's make her feel as welcome

As the lovely flowers in May!

The birthday song we now will sing

... So sharpen up your voice

... To greet these lovely people

With wishes that are "choice."

After the reading of the above poem and the singing of the birthday song a lovely refreshment plate of iced cake and delicious fruit punch was served to the honorees, other residents of the home and guests.

Places for the honorees were marked with individual cards at the "honor" table. The next party will be Thursday, September 14, 2:30 p.m. You are cordially invited to attend.

named minister of music and education at First Baptist Church.

Perle Mesta may have to share her title as hostess-with-the-mostest, Cherry Van Kirk has entertained more kingmakers in one session than Miss Mesta has in a lifetime.

Would you believe dinner for 9,000? As Kentucky Fried Chicken hostess to the Democratic Convention in Miami, it was Cherry's job to make sure 5,500 delegates and alternates (and 3,500 reporters) made no important decisions on an empty stomach.

The former airline stewardess planned the delegates' dinners for two months. Cooking and packing some 30,000 pieces of chicken and trimmings wasn't difficult. But to deliver the dinners to the delegates' chairs, Cherry cut through more red tape than Miss Mesta ever faced.

Tight security at Convention Hall meant the chicken delivered had to get police passes, and special convention passes—and there were different credentials necessary for each part of the giant hall.

Feeding a political convention requires the logistical know-how of catering for an army on the move. In fact, Cherry's behind-the-scenes maneuvering was almost as intricate as the vote-gathering work going on in the smoke-filled chamber. The result of this complex planning? If all the chicken parts served were combined into one bird, this super chicken would be taller than a two-story building—and weigh over three tons!

FOR those who fear the dentist's drill perhaps can take heart. Tufts University School of dental medicine says two researchers have discovered a chemical compound which eats away decayed parts of teeth in a few minutes without harming the healthy parts. They say this may in future years eventually eliminate drilling in decayed teeth.

DON'T frustrate your favorite TV repairman if your usually trustworthy set shows little else than sports, mostly football, these hot summer evenings. Watching the network spots which advertise the upcoming fall fare, one gets the notion that this will be a choice year as far as programming on sports is concerned.

REMEMBER if your wife wants to learn to drive, whatever you do, don't stand in her way.

Lunch Honors Mrs. Leibfried

Mrs. Bennie Leibfried, who is retiring August 31, after 22 years as secretary for the Floydada Independent School District, was honored by friends Wednesday of last week with a luncheon in King's Restaurant.

HAVE YOUR CARPET CLEANED THE VON SCHRODER WAY. THE MACHINE THAT DOES IT ALL

I have been asked several times what I thought about Steam Carpet Machines. In my opinion, they won't do a top job. Why? Because they have no brush; they only have a vacuum that pulls out the dirt. A Vacuum alone, will not pull the dirt from the bottom of the carpet. It takes a brush to comb the dirt from the bottom so the vacuum can pull it the rest of the way out. This has been my experience in carpet cleaning. The vacuum machine you use on your floors has a brush on it. If it didn't, you wouldn't do a very good job. The Von Schroder machine sprays a mist of foam on your carpet and it has a brush that rolls over and over and digs the dirty suds up to the top of the carpet where a powerful vacuum pulls it into a tank.

Don't make a mistake and use a machine on your carpet thinking it will get out all the spots. You will set some of these spots and you will never get them out. You have to know what kind of spot remover to use on different kinds of food that has been dropped or spilt on your carpet, you need to know what to use to get out shoe polish, ink paint, tar, blood, and a lot of other things that get on your carpet. You have to get these spots out by hand - the machine won't get them all out. If something has faded or taken out the color in your carpet, you can't make it look like it was before. If you rent a machine for $5.00 per hour, and can clean 1,000 square feet of carpet for less than thirty dollars, you are some kind of superman. If you want someone who is experienced in carpet cleaning, call Lockney 652-2500.

KENT HALE SECOND

Lubbock Golfer Wins Title

Billy Francis West of Lubbock fired a 70 Sunday to win the Floydada Invitational Golf Tournament by two shots over defending champion Kent Hale of Floydada.

West had rounds of 68-70 for 138 and Hale hit back-to-back 70s.

Jim Fullingim took third in the championship flight with a two-day total of 141, and Tommy Hale had a 142 for fourth place.

Dub Scarborough won the first flight with a 144. Jim McLaughlin's 147 was good for second, and Bill Walker shot a 152 to take third. Bill DuBois and C. L. Davis tied for fourth at 153.

In the second flight, Keith Lowe won a playoff with Pat Scarborough to take first place. Both golfers had two-round score of 155. Bill Brown was third at 159 and Jimmy Gilmore fourth at 161.

Dan Fry won the third flight with a 160, six strokes ahead of second-place finisher Kinder Farris. Orval Newberry came in third at 167 and Dale Kincer took fourth with a 168. Junior Martinez took the honors in the fourth flight with a 164. Mike Strickland shot 166 to finish second; Bates McClung was third with a 167; and Tom Yates had a 172 for fourth place.

During your vacation to the beach or lake this summer an interesting pastime might be a study of the clouds day by day.

Very high cirrus clouds will often indicate the approach of a warm front which brings with it rain. But the higher the typical summer cumulus clouds, separated white puffs moving gently along in a summer sky, the better the weather is likely to be.

If the sky is cloudless with barometer high and steady and wind from the west, then good weather should be ahead. If the typical summer cumulus clouds form low to the ground and get even lower then rain will probably occur during the day.

The summer cloud puffs are formed as air rises and contracts, thereby increasing the percentage of moisture in the air. When it increases enough, the moisture changes into tiny particles, which change the air to visible air—a cloud. If this occurs low to the surface of the earth, it's an indication that the moisture content of the air is great—thus a greater chance of rain from the clouds during the day.

SPECIAL - Kids in 4-H "learn by doing". And in 4-H photography projects, supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service, 100,000 young people are busy learning how to put it all together in an acceptable picture.

With an assist from the Eastman Kodak Company, national sponsor, the young photographers learn from their mistakes as well as their successes.

Michael Warren, of Roseboro, N.C., was one of the six national $1,000 scholarship winners in the 1971 4-H photography program. Michael recalls the first picture he ever took.

"My first picture was of my parents. I had them change their clothes and fix their hair and then I snapped away. When the picture was developed all I had was a photograph of their legs and feet. But at least it was a clear picture of their feet", he remarked.

Today young Warren is the official photographer for his church.

Mark Malstaff, another national 4-H photography winner last year, profited from his success in the program. At age 19, he operates his own photography business, in St. Joseph County, Ind., where he takes pictures of everything from weddings to sports events.

4-H'ers in the photography program continue their interest even after they leave 4-H. Eastman Kodak found in a study of former 4-H photography winners that even though the young people were now in college, careers, or the service, all kept a continuing interest in photography.

Cotton Safer For Bedding

The U.S. cotton batting industry is pushing forward in three separate research areas in a coordinated effort to perfect methods that will meet new government safety regulations for bedding and furniture products.

Work continues on a pilot line operation to manufacture low-cost flame-retardant cotton raw stock. The pilot line, developed by Lummus Industries, Inc., produces flame-treated cotton cushioning material which is expected to be an element in meeting new impending flammability regulations. The Lummus project is sponsored by the National Cotton Batting Institute and Cotton Incorporated.

In cooperation with USDA scientists at the Southern Regional Furniture Research Laboratory, New Orleans, the NCBI is also supporting research to meet a proposed flammability standard for mattresses that employs lighter cigarettes.

Investigations to date indicate that heat dissipation techniques offer promising ways of inhibiting ignition of mattresses by cigarettes. Sample mattresses have been constructed of flame retardant batting covered with flame retardant and back-coated ticking, which successfully passed the cigarette test. Other sample mattresses are being further tested by bedding industry researchers to ascertain the full safety potential of the treated batting-backcoated ticking combination.

4-H'ers Think...Drink Milk

Milk, cheese and other dairy products are among the most popular and basic foods in our diet. We use dairy products as beverages and appetizers, in baked foods and desserts; in entrees and salads. Yet many people don't get the three or four servings of milk or their equivalent, that nutritionists of the Extension Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, say is the minimum amount of milk or milk products needed daily.

However, there are some people, young people, who not only eat and drink more than a minimum amount of dairy products, but who go into their communities and spread the good word about dairy foods. They are the 655,000 boys and girls enrolled in the National 4-H dairy foods program, sponsored for 25 years by the Carnation Company.

The 4-H members enrolled in the program learn how milk and milk products are produced and a lot more about their nutritional value. They demonstrate many appetizing ways to enjoy an unlimited variety of dairy products ranging from milk, fresh, powdered, fat-free and evaporated; to cheeses, sour cream, yogurt and ice cream. The 4-H'ers also hit hard for good nutrition.

And to encourage youth participation and recognize their achievements, the Carnation Company provides awards to 4-H'ers who excel in the 4-H dairy foods program at county, state and national levels.

A Kind Word For The Boss

Somebody has to be the boss. No matter how much of the nation's business is programmed into computers, there must be bosses to tell the programmers what to program.

No matter how deep and annoying government interference in business becomes, there must be bosses to interpret what the government wants and pass it on to the workers.

It is said that America was built by the workingman. It was. But where there are workmen there must be bosses. And it was the bosses who planned the work and paid the wages that formed the foundatation of the vast American middle class economy, which has been the marvel and envy of the world.

So the next time you meet the boss, don't criticize him. Salute him.

Or maybe you don't like him. If you don't, get another job. But as long as you work for him -work for him!

The American philosopher of the early 1900s, Elbert Hubbard, expressed it best in a brief bit of advice to workers under the title, "Remember This." In its day this short-essay was posted on more factory and office bulletin boards than any memo ever composed; "If you work for a man, in Heaven's name, WORK for him. If he pays you wages which supply you bread and butter, work for him, stand by him and stand by the institution he represents. If put to a pinch, an ounce of loyalty is worth a pound of cleverness.

"If you must vilify, condemn and eternally disparage -resign your position, and when you are outside, damn to your heart's content; but as long as you are a part of the institution do not condemn it. If you do that, you are loosening the tendrils that are holding you to the institution, and at the first high wind that comes along you will be uprooted and blown away, and probably will never know the reason why."

Claims He Has Found A Man Who Has Read Both Platforms All The Way

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm makes a sensational claim this week.

Dear editor:
You may not believe this but I've found a man out here who claims he has read every word in both the Democratic and Republican platforms, and I was thinking, don't you think we ought to capture him and exhibit him at a fair or some place?

I suppose the people who struggle for long hours writing a platform and hunting for words with the proper blur must read it, at least the planks they had a hand in producing, but to find a voter who has read one all the way through, not to mention two, is as rare as finding a politician who's not in favor of cutting taxes while he's raising them.

As far as I can tell, a platform, six months after it's adopted, is about as useful a document as the minutes of a year-before-last's

PTA meeting.

At nearly every national convention you're always hearing about floor fights over the platform, with television reporters interviewing everybody right and left, but it's usually about like arguing with the referee in a football game.

You might say that adopting a platform is like the pre-game ceremonies at a professional football game when the captains of both teams walk out to the middle of the field for the coin toss and the referee indicates who gets to receive, when actually it was tossed and the receiving side selected an hour earlier when the two teams were still in the dressing room.

I asked this man who'd read both platforms if he'd made up his mind how he's going to vote and he said things are still a little cloudy and it's still a long time till November. Asked me if I had any good books he could borrow.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Cone Cemetery Association Plans Area Meeting

There will be an area-wide meeting of the Cone Cemetery Association on Thursday, August 31, at the Primitive Baptist Foundation building (the old Cone School) in Cone. This meeting is for all who have an interest in the Cone Cemetery. A group of interested citizens met recently and formed the Cemetery Association, electing as its president, Mr. Joe Jackson of Cone. Plans have been made for beautifying the cemetery and a caretaker has been employed. Mr. Jackson urges all of the interested citizens of the area to be present at the meeting on August 31 at 8 p.m.

The purpose of the meeting is to acquaint the public as to what has been accomplished already and to present the plans for future improvement of the cemetery. There has been a great interest shown already, and the board of directors feel that those who have loved ones buried at Cone will be pleased to learn of the progress made in this short time.

This meeting is for anyone who is interested in the Cone Cemetery in any way, whether they have loved ones buried there, or if they just have an interest in the cemetery as a concerned citizen of the area.

A Non-Progressive Look

Man To Explore Earth's Inner Depths

The Floyd Philosopher on his farm may be getting in the way again, his letter this week indi-hasn't been established how high space above his land, it is generally that he owns as far down as ever an item I read in a newspaper may unloose a legal bag of point that even the Supreme Court can handle. In this item, scientists, I suppose discovered that once you thousand miles out in space, there is about as fascinating a story on a hundred-story turning their thoughts to the earth. See how far down they can go, down there, bring back rock part of thing. Right with me, a man can spend his pleasures, even devote his entire chess, so long as it's him and me, but here's the situation: dragging scientists go far enough being to trespassing on ev-everybody in the world who owns as much as one city lot.

If a man owns everything under his land, all the way down to the center of the globe, then what he owns is a piece of the earth shaped like a pyramid turned upside down, and naturally at the very center everybody's land narrows down to something less than needle-point size.

This invites some of the worst squabbling the world has ever seen.

Say for example oil is discovered right at the center. Who could figure out what share goes to what individual, what share to what nation? Or say there's molten gold there and if everybody could get his share he'd never have to work again, or if it was divided among everybody nobody would ever have to work again?

There are times when it can be argued that it's a pity the earth isn't flat and that Columbus didn't sail off the edge of it as he was warned instead of discovering America. At least it sure would have saved a lot of money in foreign aid, foreign wars, etc.

Yours faithfully,

FROM AUSCHWITZ TO SOCIAL SECURITY—Henry Eisler, a survivor of the Auschwitz concentration camp, had to reconstruct a past he was trying to forget when he applied for social security retirement benefits.

His birth certificate and other vital records had been destroyed by the Nazis in 1944. He is now living in Minneapolis, Minnesota, and getting a social security check every month.

Nazi Camp Survivor Is Now on Social Security

Back in 1944, Henry Eisler saved himself from death in a Nazi concentration camp by lying about his age.

Eisler now lives in Minneapolis, Minnesota. And last year, the man whose birth certificate and vital records were destroyed by the Nazis, received his first monthly social security retirement check. In America, he's a first-class citizen with an established identity.

Henry Eisler was a 44-year-old bachelor tailor in Munkeschevo, Czechoslovakia, in 1944 when the Nazi Government began closing the Jewish shops.

Eisler ended up in Auschwitz. There he told them he was only 35. The "35-year-old" Czech tailor was "young enough" to be recruited for slave labor—instead of the gas ovens.

At 1970 prices, which were much higher than average, the gross income from alternative crops on cotton acres would have been about $852 million, as compared with $2,223 million grossed from cotton in 1970. If extra production resulted in lower prices, as it probably would—especially in feed grains and hay—the impact on income would be even greater.

Stocks of feed grains would be fed to all types of livestock—

Nursing Home Happenings

(By Faye Walters) Do you know that we have our own newspaper at the Floydada Nursing Home? It is called "The Newscaster" and carries news of all our residents, employees and visitors. The paper is printed once each month by Shirley Meredith, wife of our administrator. If you happen to visit the nursing home, pick one up as it also contains many good things. Burt King and her husband spent a few days at Rudoso, N.M., visiting her sister and sightseeing. Janie Cuellar and Vera Bennett are on vacation and we hope they are having fun. Our sympathy goes out to L. H. Aldridge, whose sister-in-law, Mrs. Cora Barrington Tate, 69, of Muleshoe, drowned in the Snyder flood. The women of the City Park Church of Christ gave the birthday party of the month Thursday. Cake and punch were served to all residents. Those honored were Hattie Mae Selman, Pearl Britton, Lydia Warren and Cleatis Davis. These parties mean so much to our residents and I know the Lord will bless these women for taking time to bring a little happiness into the lives of our people. We missed playing bingo this week for the first time, but we were busy shelling peas. Ollie Stewart entered Lockney Hospital and we are hoping she is back with us soon. Our administrator has also been ill and we are glad he is back. We are making lots of pretty things for our Art Crafts County. Thanks for the good devotionals this week. We look forward to them. Look for more happenings from the home next week.

Cotton Big Job Source

Cotton is a major agricultural enterprise and represents a significant job market for workers who otherwise would tend to migrate into the crowded cities, the National Cotton Council notes.

Cotton provides employment for workers in production, ginning, warehousing, transportation, and cottonseed crushing and for many others associated with enterprises supplying goods and services to the cotton industry.

There are no good figures on the number of people in cotton production. But almost 300,000 farms were signed to participate in the 1971 cotton program and it seems conservative to say that there must have been at least a half million people who operate these farms or have full employment on them.

The Department of Labor says some 47,000 others had part-time seasonal employment on cotton farms in 1969. It is estimated that there are some 40,000 workers in cotton gins and the latest Bureau of Census reports show 10,238 workers in cotton warehouses and 5,700 in cottonseed oil mills.

Whereas some 600,000 are involved directly with cotton production, the entire synthetic fiber industry had only 110,000 employees in July, 1971, latest available month.

The National Cotton Council estimates that more than 5.7 million persons in the United States live wholly or in part upon incomes earned directly from cotton.

In Fashion

Corduroy jeans are good for the school wardrobe this fall. Other jeans of solid color have cuffs of plaid to match the plaid shirt or sweater.

Clothes for school children have the same layered look as those for adults. A garment which seems to be of three pieces may be only one, with different colors or fabrics used to give such an impression.

ON PROTEIN

The Agriculture Department has proposed to let schools and other child-feeding centers freely substitute approved soybean and other vegetable protein sources for meat items and still qualify for Federal reimbursement.

Fair Grounds Work Begins

Preparation for the 1972 Floyd County Fair in Lockney, September 14, 15 and 16, is in full swing. Cutting of weeds, smoothing of the grounds, and repairs on the buildings at the Fair grounds are underway. On Tuesday several trucks began hauling in caliche to cover the parking lot, and other areas of the fair grounds. Several volunteers are hard at work on the fair.

Mrs. Barry Barker, president of the board, says everyone has just been doing a great job getting the fair ready for another year.

The fair, again this year will feature a beauty contest to select the queen, a talent show, Gospel singing, stock shows, and a quarterhorse show.

Rain played a big part in the fair last year, and the fair board hopes the moisture will hold off until the end of the fair this year. Everyday is a work day at the fair grounds, September 11 has been set as the fair work week, prior to its opening on Thursday, September 14.

Floyd County Retail Sales Now Over $20 Million

NEW YORK - According to a new survey of business activity in communities across the country, Floyd County turned in a better-than-average performance in the past year.

Significant strength was displayed in its trading area as local residents, enjoying better incomes, spent more freely for goods and services.

The findings are presented in a copyrighted report, called "Survey of Buying Power," released by Sales Management. It contains data on how much was earned and how much was spent in every part of the nation.

Despite the fact that inflation continued to cut deeply into their purchasing power, they still had a greater amount left for discretionary spending than the year before.

And, with business indicators moving upward, consumers felt a greater willingness to buy. Although they did not go all out in their spending, they did loosen their purse strings sufficiently to give local merchants a good year.

The net result was that retail stores in Floyd County were able to chalk up gross sales of $20,090,000, bettering the previous year's $19,090,000.

According to recent reports on consumer feelings and attitudes, the general sentiment is one of guarded optimism.

Wreck Monday Near School

An automobile accident two blocks north of Duncan Elementary School in Floydada Monday resulted in some car damage and a cut lip to a first-grader who was a passenger in one of the two cars involved.

Police officers said Cliff McLain, 6, son of Mrs. Doris McLain, sustained the cut lip, the only injury reported in the mishap. He was riding in a car driven by his sister, Allison McLain, officers said. The other car was driven by Gail Ramsey.

The accident occurred at approximately 12:05 p.m. Monday, during the school "lunch-hour rush."

Old-fashioned cooking is still very much in fashion.

The Secretary of State shall send a full and complete copy of the proposed amendment or amendments to each county clerk who shall post the same in a public place in the courtroom at least 30 days prior to the election on said amendment. The first notice shall be published not more than 60 days nor less than 50 days before the date of the election, and the second notice shall be published on the same day in the succeeding week. The Legislature shall fix the standards for the rate of charge for the publication, which may not be higher than the newspaper's published national rate for advertising per column inch.

"The election shall be held in accordance with procedures prescribed by the Legislature, and the returning officer in each county shall make returns to the Secretary of State of the number of legal votes cast at the election for and against each amendment. If it appears from the returns that a majority of the votes cast have been cast in favor of an amendment, it shall become a part of this Constitution, and proclamation thereof shall be made by the Governor."

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1972, at which election the ballots shall be printed to provide for voting for or against the proposition: "The constitutional amendment to allow a county to reduce its county permanent school fund and distribute the money to independent and common school districts on a per scholastic basis."

Railroad tunnel at Quitaque . . . one of a kind.

Blasted Out Near Quitaque in 1927

Rail Tunnel Used Tricky Mule Power

By LURON BROWN
Staff Correspondent
Amarillo Daily News

QUITAUQUE — There's a massive red and gray sandstone formation overlooking Quitaque Creek about 10 miles southwest of here with the state's only railroad tunnel running through it.

The tunnel was blasted in 1927 for the Fort Worth & Denver railroad and has facilitated the line's busy traffic for the past 44 years. The structure is located on the Saul Ranch.

Twenty feet high, 18 feet wide and almost 800 feet long, the tunnel extends from southwest to northeast until it curves in a northerly direction, about 190 feet beneath the highest point of the sandstone formation.

A Colorado firm built the tunnel before the FW&D extended its rails to the site and equipment was brought by truck.

Crews composed chiefly of Irishmen and Swedes camped at the site and did the work in the remote setting of mesquite and cottonwood dotted flats and colorful sandstone cliffs a few miles below the escarpment of the Plains. The scene has changed little, if any, since the first white settlers inhabited the valley in the 1870s.

First procedure in construction of the tunnel was drilling and blasting a drift shaft that would barely give operating room for the workmen, the small mining cars that carried the rock away and the little mules that "boosted" the cars. Otho Stubbs of Turkey was one of the "sidewalk superintendents" while construction was in progress and was impressed by the performance of the mules.

"Those mules that looked like they were not much more than waist high to the men would start pulling the cars loaded with rock and get the cars rolling at a fast clip, then quickly step aside and lean against the wall of the shaft until the cars whizzed by," Stubbs recalled.

The mules were hitched to the cars with a device that would release when the animals stepped to one side. The rock was dumped at the ends of the tunnel as fill for the railroad bed. Steam shovels were used to remove rock from the tunnel.

Blasting was done with dynamite and Stubbs said the blasts could be heard in Turkey about 20 miles away.

Several times sandstone at the ends of the tunnel has caved off, shortening the tunnel by several yards. Two years ago several loaded freight cars derailed in the tunnel. No one was injured but setting the cars back on the track was a difficult job.

FW&D employees who have worked in the tunnel in cold weather remember the frigid conditions in the passage. The north wind is trapped between the steep sandstone walls at the end of the tunnel and funneled at a terrific speed that builds up the chill factor in the space where the nel was lowered 18 inches to give clearance for the locomotives. New rails have been unloaded in the tunnel and at its approaches and will be installed to strengthen the track.

A smaller tunnel was built in the vicinity of the present passage, but its roof caved in several years ago. The debris was removed and the portion of track once enclosed in rock is now open to the sky.

Residents in the Quitaque area believe the tunnel on the banks of Quitaque Creek is the only such structure in Texas. FW&D personnel here said they knew of no other railway tunnel in the state.

Farmer Needed By All Of Us

The Chicago housewife is just as dependent on agriculture as the farmer is dependent on the machinery the woman's husband manufactures.

This is pointed out by Sen. Herman Talmadge (D-GA.), chairman of the Senate Agriculture and Forestry Committee, who says the committee is calling for an economic and social balance between rural and urban America.

"But first," says the Senator, "we need a balance in our attitudes about one another."

He says the biggest technical revolution that has occurred in this country in recent years has not been in computers or space but in food and fiber production.

"That's why food prices have been so little affected by inflation over the past 20 years. Yet there are no medals nor any live television coverage given this."

"The adverse effect on the cities as a result of bigger and fewer farms has been the migration of the rural people to the cities, adding to the population burdens in the Chicagos and De-troits."

1971 Texas Cotton Crop Worst Per Acre Yield In 25 Years

AUSTIN — The 1971 Texas cotton crop has a special distinction: It was the worst in per acre yields in 25 years.

The 1971 Texas Cotton Statistics reports that Texas production in 1971 totaled 2,579,000 bales; this was produced from 3,940,000 acres with a harvested yield per acre of 385 pounds.

Value of the lint alone was almost $340,000,000. During the season, prices ranged from 18 to 27 cents per pound.

Texas easily retained its number one position in the nation, producing almost one million bales more than second-ranking Mississippi.

Three counties in Texas produced more than 100,000 bales of cotton during 1971. They were Lubbock, first in the state, with 155,900 bales; Dawson, second, with 116,800; and Hidalgo, third, with 110,700 bales. Other top ranking counties were Cameron, 99,100 bales; Hale, 96,100 bales; Lynn, 90,100; Terry, 88,800; Hockley, 88,400; Lamb, 88,300; and Gaines, 80,800.

Crop reporting district one S—the High Plains irrigated section—was first in total production with 1,163,900 bales which is more than half the state's total. Number two section was the Blacklands.

Complete details on the 1971 Texas cotton crop are available by writing Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White, P.O. Box 12847, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711. Ask for 1971 Texas Cotton Statistics.

Blanco Feed Yard In Routine Meet With Quality Water Board

Blanco Feed Yard of Lockney will make application to the Texas Water Quality Board, in a public hearing on Aug. 28, for a waste control order for its feedlot operation located seven miles west of Floydada off of FM 784. The hearing will be held at TWQB offices in Austin, beginning at 9 a.m. Rainfall runoff containing wastes from the feedlot are retained on company property and used for irrigation.

TWQB officials urge persons interested in the application to attend the hearing and to make statements for the record if they wish to do so.

Harrison Elected To Angus Assn.

Milton or Marie Harrison, Floydada, have been elected to membership in the American Angus Association at St. Joseph, Missouri, announces Lloyd D. Miller, executive secretary. There were 329 memberships issued to breeders of registered Aberdeen-Angus in the United States during the past month.

COTTON, WE GROW IT, WE WEAR IT...

Rural Areas Show New Growth Signs

WASHINGTON — The move from farm to city may be coming to a halt, a new era of economic and social growth for rural America may already be launched.

These are two conclusions to be drawn from various reports on the progress of rural America, from the arid stretches of the Southwest to the green fields of the Southeast. They also are indications that the much talked about goals of rural development are beginning to emerge as realized accomplishments for an increasing number of communities.

Some signs of the recharged energies within rural areas are:

- More jobs: During the 1960's nonfarm jobs increased by 39 percent in the countryside, a slightly better rate than the 34 percent increase in metropolitan areas. This growth rate has been high in completely rural counties as well as in those with cities of up to 50,000 population.

- Farm-exodus ending: The farm population has dropped to fewer than 9 1/2 million persons. With so few people remaining on the nation's farms, little further decline in the population is possible. As the farm-to-city migration dwindles to a negligible level, continued gains in nonagricultural jobs will have a more visible impact on the overall economy and population of rural areas.

- Greater Federal commitment to rural areas: The government is stepping up its investment in rural America manifold. For example, funds earmarked for housing in rural areas amount to $2.2 billion this year, four times the 1969 level; sewer and water programs are allocated $342 million this year, nearly twice the 1969 level. Total funds devoted to rural development efforts by the Department of Agriculture will amount to $3.5 billion this year — four times the level in 1961 and twice as much as in 1969.

More important than the statistics or the government expenditures, however, is the determined individual in community after rural community who resolves to solve the problem on his own, who takes action to set his own neighborhood on the road to progress.

In Tulla, Texas, for example, local leaders set out to combat decaying businesses, blighted housing. As a result of their efforts, the community has 386 new low-cost homes and jobs and incomes are up because of the construction work. In North Carolina, citizens mounted a driver education campaign as a small but vital part of their statewide effort to connect more rural workers with more better paying jobs.

Rural development is an idea whose time has come — mostly because increasing numbers of local groups are taking it upon themselves to make sure that it does.

Alternator Course Starts Monday At Babes Service Center

Babe's Service Center and the Texas State Technical Institute are the sponsors of a four-night short course on "Alternators and Their Controls" August 28-31.

Classes will be conducted at Babe's Service Center, 405-1/2 East Missouri in Floydada, from 7 to 10:30 p.m. each night. All service technicians interested in the latest developments in alternators and regulator service and repair are eligible to attend classes. The short course will cover alternators and regulators manufactured by Autolite (Ford), Chrysler, Delco-Remy, Leece-Neville, Motorola, Prestolite, Niehoff and Wico.

The instruction will include operation of the alternators and their components, bench checks, service problems, on-the-car checks, and voltage controls, including transistorized regulators.

A fee of $7.50 is charged per enrollee. This includes training manuals and service specifications. The fee is to be paid on or before the first night's meeting. Checks are to be made payable to Texas State Technical Institute.

Hogs Good Teachers For 4-H's

SPECIAL — Did you know that hogs are good teachers? That they aren't the unclean, stupid, fattening animals we've thought?

In reality hogs are clean animals, among the smartest, according to researchers, and produce pork that is consistently lower in fat content.

In addition, the hog has been cast in a new role... that of an excellent teacher to over 110,000 4-H's. Members and hogs together go through the proper methods of feeding, breeding and caring for hogs, for fun, profit and recognition, by their participation in the national 4-H swine program, supervised by the Cooperative Extension Service and sponsored by the Moorman Mfg. Co.

4-H's enrolled in the swine program learn about hog raising, by actually going through the experience of raising their own animals. In this way they learn success, sometimes failure, and always a lesson in practical economics.

David Worrell, of Winchester, Ill., is one of the appreciative students. One of six national winners in the 4-H swine program last year, he had to go through some difficult years with his herd.

"After a successful second year (in the program), I stumbled backwards in hog quality my third and fourth years. I decided then that I would have to spend more money... to rebuild my herd," Worrell stated.

The expenditure paid off when the quality of his herd improved and his boar was selected champion of the Western Illinois Fair, two years in a row.

4-H's not only learn the breeding and business aspects of hog raising, but how to judge other hogs, too.

Garald B. Young, of Damascus, Md., another 1971 national winner in the 4-H swine program, not only raised prize hogs, but judged them as well. Young was the top livestock judge at the Pennsylvania Livestock Exposition and was a member of the livestock judging team in his home state of Maryland.

To encourage the 4-H students, incentive and recognition awards are offered by Moorman Mfg. Co. Four medals of Honor are given to winners in each county. State winners in the 4-H swine program are given an all-expense-paid trip to the National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Nov. 26-30, and six scholarships of $700 each are given to the national winners in the program.

Yes, hogs can be teachers. The 4-H members enrolled in the 4-H swine program have learned a lot from their projects.

For information about the 4-H swine program, contact your county extension office.

Active interest in establishing extensive textile operation on the High Plains is again beginning to boil.

Efforts to form textile manufacturing companies here and to attract outside companies have been going on for years. And, to say the least, success has been far from spectacular.

But one is reminded of the cattle feeding industry. For 30 years and more High Plains people toured cattle feeding operations in other areas, feasibility studies were made, Texas Tech and Texas A&M conducted any number of feeding research projects and marketing analyses. Still, very little happened for a long time. A few scattered commercial feedlots appeared in the early 1950's, a few more in the late 50's and early 60's, and their profitability became a proven fact. Then the idea really caught fire, and in the last decade huge, ultra-modern feedlots have sprung up on the Plains like mushrooms.

Today the High Plains feeds 75 percent of the cattle for slaughter in Texas — and Texas feeds more cattle for slaughter than any other state in the U.S. As of August 1 this year, 1,638,000 head were on feed in the High Plains area, compared to 1,561,000 in the entire state of Iowa, a traditional leader in the cattle feeding industry.

And there are those who believe the long enduring struggle to secure a toe-hold on the Plains for the textile industry could have the same end result.

Among these enthusiasts is Roy B. Davis of Lubbock, recently retired manager of Plains Cotton Cooperative Oil Mill and the Governor's choice as chairman of the Texas Rural Development Commission. Sharing his hopes and beliefs is Donnell Echols of Lamesa, chairman of the Board of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. and also a member of the TRDC, and many others.

Beginning the latter part of September a "team" from the TRDC will visit New York City and move on down through the textile-intensive southeastern states, calling on executives of Cotton Production Up... Cattle Up... Crop Production Up.

The 1972 cotton crop in Texas is estimated more than one million bales above 1971, the Livestock Reporting Service notes.

Production this season is set now at 3,600 this is an increase of 1,021,000 bales over 1971. Production last year was the smallest since 1971. Acres for harvest are estimated at 5,125 compared with 4,700,000 acres of 1971. Acreage from all causes is expected to total 325,000 acres, 530,000 acres were abandoned.

Yield is expected to average 337 pounds per acre compared with only 263 pounds per acre in 1971. Nationwide, cotton production is 13,343,100 bales; this is 27 per cent more than total. Acreage for harvest this year is set at 11,500,000 acres compared to 11,500,000 acres in 1971.

TEXAS continues to be the number one cotton state in the nation. There were 2,120,000 head and calves on feed for slaughter as of August 1. This is 29 per cent above a year ago, but virtually as the number on feed a month ago.

Placements into Texas feedlots during July 1971 but 18 per cent below the previous year. Marketings of fat cattle during July totaled 302,000 which is 14 per cent above July 1971 but below marketings for June.

In the six-state major cattle feeding states Arizona, California, Colorado, Iowa and Nebraska, Texas fed total 7,784,000 head. This is 18 per cent above 6,596,000 head on feed last year at this time, but per cent decrease from a month ago.

Iowa is second ranking cattle on feed with 1,561,000 head.

PRODUCTION of all major crops in 1972 year—with the exceptions of corn and rice—will exceed production levels of 1971. Increased production in 1972 is expected as a result of an increase in harvest and higher yield prospects over 1971.

Grain sorghum production is forecast at 33 bushels, up 11 per cent from 1971. Yield is an average 60 bushels per acre compared with 53 in 1971. Harvest of the crop is now approaching market.

Wheat production is estimated at 44,000,000 bushels per acre. Yield is expected to be 40 per cent above last year. Yield is expected to be 40 bushels per acre.

Corn production is estimated at 35,000,000 compared with 43,056,000 bushels in 1971.

Peanut production is estimated at 43 pounds compared with 366,795,000 pounds in 1971.

Oat production is estimated at 9,720,000 compared with 5,994,000 bushels in 1971. Expected to average 27 bushels per acre, the same as 1971.

Soybean production is estimated at 5,670,000 in 1972. This compares with 2,781,000 bushels in 1971.

Rice production is forecast at 12 hundredweight; this compares with 22 hundredweight in 1971.

Range and non-irrigated pasture conditions are 45 per cent of normal; this compares with 45 per cent of normal.

the nation's leading textile manufacturers. They'll be the advantages offered by Texas and the High Plains abundance and proximity of fiber supply, production climate, nearness to midwestern and western markets, ability of the Textile Research Center at Texas Tech attractive features they believe will outweigh any past advantages.

They are now warming themselves with facts and figures head-on the old bogaboo of water supply and ability of effluents from finishing and dyeing processes. They then are chemical and water resource engineers. Tech, the Textile Research Center, the Lubbock of Commerce, the city manager and city engineer for Plains Cotton Growers and any number of others.

Small yarn-spinning plants are already in operation and Abernathy on the Plains. And, hampered by size and limited by their inability to carry process the yarn stage, they're still in business after a number of years and they're operating at a profit.

Alleens, Inc. about two years ago put in a knitting and sewing plant in Abilene. They are now expanding with 17 acres under the roof that will spin raw fiber, wash it, cut it, sew it and turn out ready-to-wear children's clothing. The operation is considered successful.

Even closer to home, Burlington Industries has an integrated sheeting plant in Post since 1914. It too is a plant.

The point is this: If these things can be done at Lubbock, Abilene and Post, they can be done at other locations in the area. And the dream of large-scale textile operations on the Plains may be no less real than the one of a massive cattle-feeding industry.

HOW TO MAKE LIGHT WORK AT THE STUDY TABLE

See that your child's study table has a table lamp that is tall enough and has a shade wide enough to spread light evenly over the work area.

- Equip the lamp with a 150-watt bulb or equivalent.
- Choose a study lamp with a diffusing bowl to soften the light and prevent glare. Or use a white indirect bulb that has its own built-in diffuser.
- Have enough light elsewhere in the room to prevent eye-tiring contrasts of brightness and shadows.

Our lighting dealer will gladly help you select the right light for home study. Or call our office for suggestions.

Letters To The Editor

Floydada Newspaper
Floydada, Texas

Dear Sirs:

Picture of Uncle Tom Montgomery in your paper was made in 1901 by Charlie Wilson, a young man 19 years old then, who was son of Uncle John W. Wilson who came to the Plains 1890 and settled at Della Plains and when Floydada got county sire, they and the McLains moved about 2 miles west of Sandhill, where they lived until their deaths.

Reason I know when picture made in 1901 was that Charlie Wilson came by field where I was plowing with walking plow and wanted to take picture and did.

There are, I would think, many people in your city who remember Charlie Wilson. I think he set up a photo business in Floydada, later he may have moved to Tucumcari.

I never worked for Uncle Tom any but were neighbors and I knew his hands, especially old man Massey, foreman.

Charlie drove around the country in one-hoss buggie and made lots of pictures.

Any McLains or any of the Charley Smith people can tell you about Charlie Wilson.

Yours respectfully,
(No name signed,

Proclamation

OFFICIAL MEMORANDUM BY JIMMY SEAY
MAYOR, FLOYDADA, TEXAS

Greetings:

The Governor of Texas has designated the week of August 27th through September 2nd, 1972, as 'Texas Public Employees Week' throughout the State. We should be aware that although Texas ranks among the upper five states in resident population, we rank among the lower five in expenditure per capita for state government.

The principal reason for this low cost is that public employees of Texas are among the most efficient in the nation, an efficiency evident not only in the statistics but in our everyday use of State facilities and services.

Of the almost 64,000 State employees who do not serve in public schools or higher education, over half this number belong to the Texas Public Employees Association, the only organization which represents employees in every State agency and classification throughout Texas.

Therefore, I, as mayor of Floydada, do hereby join the Governor in recognizing the excellent service rendered by public employees across the State of Texas, and most especially by the approximately 43 public employees in the city of Floydada, many of whom are members of local TPEA Chapter #37.

I further recommend that the period of August 27th through September 2nd, 1972, be designated as
TEXAS PUBLIC EMPLOYEES WEEK

All citizens of Floydada share in this public commendation of our public employees.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 16th day of August, 1972.

/s/ Jimmy Seay
Mayor of Floydada, Texas

(Governor Smith will sign the State Official Proclamation on August 10th.)

The school officials have adopted the following family size and income scale to assist them in determining eligibility. Families falling within these scales or those suffering from unusual circumstances or hardships are urged to apply for free or reduced price lunches for their children. They may do so by filling in the application forms sent home to parents. Additional copies are available at the principal's office in each school. Applications may be submitted any time during the school year. The form itself is simple to complete and requests information needed to determine economic need based on the income and number of persons in the family and any unusual circumstances or hardships which affect the family's ability to pay for school lunches. The information provided on the application will be confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility.

Under the provisions of the policy the superintendent's office will review applications and determine eligibility. If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the local official he may make a request either orally or in writing for a hearing to appeal the decision. Hearing procedures are outlined in the policy.

The policy also provides that there will be no identification or discrimination against any student unable to pay the full cost of a lunch. A complete copy of the policy is on file in each school where it may be reviewed by any interested patron.
