CROP Canvass Collects Over 5400

The CROP "Trick or Treat" canvass in Floydada Monday night brought in a total of $461.69 in donations, according to David Cameron, local chairman of the CROP organization.

Cameron said at press time yesterday that mail donations were still coming in, and this year's drive might total over $500 before the final tally is made. The goal set for the drive was $400, double last year's total.

"We were pleased with the participation by Floydada young people as well as those who donated," At least four Floydada churches were represented in the canvassing

Cameron said the money collected in Floydada would buy 400 pounds of texture vegetable protein, an excellent meat substitute, enough for an average family for an entire year, provide the basic quipment for beginning a small poultry farm, and buy a hand plow. Federal Revenue Sharing Bill

More than $233,000.00 is scheduled to be received by Floyd County, the City of Lockney, and the City of Floydada, with the completion of action this week on the federal revenue sharing bill.

Preliminary figures indicated that Floyd County is to receive $184,563, with Floydada to receive $32,205, and Lockney $16,412.

Reports are received that the checks had already been made out, awaiting dating with the final action on the bill, which has been in the federal hopper for some time.

Revenue-sharing dollar was to be shared on the basis of 33 cents for the states and 67 cents for counties, cities and towns.

The state share is for spending as the legislatures of the various states choose, with no strings attached.

For the cities and counties, the spending is restricted to fire and police protection, sewage disposal, pollution control, other environmental services, public transportation, health, recreation, libraries, social services, and budget planning.

The bill specifies that none of the revenue-sharing money is to be used to increase officials' pay.

For the cities and counties,

Floydada City Manager Bill Feuerbacher says that he understands, from preliminary information, that the money is designed to be used for

"add-on" programs Guidelines here are broad, according to Feuerbacher's understanding, with cities permitted, for example, to add additional blocks to their normal yearly street re-surfacing program, or to extend some other existing program.

Totally new programs would also be permissible, provided that they were under the new guidelines which are being laid down.

Designed as a five-year program, the total national amount is due to be hiked from 5.3 billion dollars for 1972 to 6.3 billion in 1976.

Retroactive payments are scheduled this month to cover the first half of 1972.

Some states will receive a larger share than others, with largest amounts to states with income taxes, heavy urban-center populations and low incomes.

Southern states, with low income levels, are expected to receive large slices of the revenue-sharing pie.

Smallest first-year shares can be expected in Ohio, Indiana, New Hampshire, Florida, Missouri, Texas, Nevada, Connecticut and Virginia.

Friday's Ralls game with no serious injuries, but halfback Mark Vinson, the 'Winds' top ground-gainer and punting specialist, is listed by Coach L. G. Wilson as a "questionable starter" for tomorrow night's contest. Vinson was hospitalized Monday in Lubbock for observation after suffering a possible concussion in a PE-class soccer game mishap.

Wilson said after the Ralls game Friday that the 'Winds were just coming around offensively. "Now, if Vinson is unable to go, we'll have to make some changes that may set us back some," he said Tuesday.

Wilson will probably move fullback Jerry Hearon to a halfback slot and put junior Danny Bradford in at fullback if Vinson can't go in the Abernathy game. Rex Rose will continue to start at the other halfback position.

But what about buying fertilizer

Applying the wrong fertilizer formulation won't show up as fast as a hat that doesn't fit. It might show up only as less hearty growth than you'd expected. Harvest could produce just under your original goals.

But there's a way to know. A CO-OP Test.

Fertilizer needs are different because no two soils are alike. Careful soil testing is the only way to know exactly what is needed. Your CO-OP is ready with whatever it takes it takes the exact combination of nutrients to produce profits.

When you're buying fertilizer, theres a way to know what is exactly right. As sure as a tape measure in a clothing shop, a CO-OP Soil Test.

coming back into fashion. I remember the first hat I ever owned. Mother let me select it and it was my one and only for many seasons. It was a red sailor and no one wore red back then, but if I was out of fashion I didn't care. I thought I was the only one in the world that had a hat, such as it was. After we reached home mother and I put a wide white ribbon around the crown. I thought it was to dress it up more but I suspicion Mother was trying to tone the bright red down a little. If Mother would have let me I would have added flowers, bows and even a rhinestone pin. It cost an even $3, not $2.98 and there wasn't a tax. I remember our relatives thought it was entirely too much to pay for a girl's hat but even back then

Last spring Texas voted to clean out those implicated in the Sharpstown scandal.

But there's one still around, State Treasurer Jesse James.

The State Auditor's Report shows that Jesse James, the State Treasurer, parked more than $10 million in the Sharpstown Ban James left $4 million idle in a Sharpstown checking account to over two years, earning absolutely no interest.

The taxpayers of Texas, through state deposits placed by Jess James, bankrolled the wheeling and dealing of Frank Sharp. State Rep. Maurice Angly of Austin was one of the original small group of legislators who stood firm last year and spoke out for full investigation of the Sharpstown case.

Rep. Angly needs your help to finish the job. He's running a hall race to clean up the State Treasury.

Angly's campaign pledges simple: "I will never play favori will put excess state funds to earning maximum interest cons with sound business practices. run the treasurer's office honest efficiently as a public trust fo taxpayers of Texas."

Let's finish the job. Vote for Maurice Angly for State Treasul November 7.

And if you want to help now, send your contribution to Ang Treasurer Comm., P. O. Box Austin, Texas 78766.

The Texas Rural Development Act, passed by the 62nd legislature, is designed to boost low rural economy through financing of industrial development projects.

Chester Wine of Corpus Christi, chairman of the nine member commission, called the program another aid to solving the economic problems of the state's rural areas. "One of the biggest barriers to industrial development in rural Texas is the financing of industrial projects," Wine said. "This act provides us with the tools necessary to rebuild rural Texas." A recent survey of a 40-year period from 1930 to 1970 conducted by the Industrial Commission revealed that 65 of the state's 265 counties have experienced a slow, but gradual decline in both population and new industries. The report also showed there were some 233,428 people employed in agribusiness in these counties in 1930. Today, in these same counties, less than 62,000 people earn their living in agriculture. "This represents a loss of income producing industry," Wine said. "It is particularly significant since the total state employment in agriculture today is less than 300,000."

Under the new program nonprofit foundations may apply for up to 40 percent of the cost of financing a new or expanding industry in a rural

To be eligible for financing, a community must have lost population during the last two federal census, and gained less population or less manufacturing employment than the average for the state's Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas.

The new program will provide help for approximately 230 nonprofit industrial foundations in Texas.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Cooper:

It was good to hear from you, and I am deeply grateful for your kind words of support at this time.
