Over $71,000.00

When the auction was over Wednesday, all premiums and floor bids totalled, the Floyd County Jr. Fat Stock Show had set an all time record with a total gross sales of $71,538.08. This exceeds the Amarillo and Lubbock shows and possibly all shows in this area of the state. An unusually high market price, plus liberal premium money from county and area firms and individuals made the record

Added to this amount is approximately another $1,000.00 given to each showman by The First National Bank of Floydada at $8.00 per steer, $3.00 for barrow and $2.00 per lamb; Arthur Wylie and Jimmy Willson gave $3.00 for each steer showman, $2.00 each for barrow and lamb showmen.

The Lockney First National Bank bought the grand champion steer for $1.10 a pound, Lockney Cooperatives bought the grand champion barrow for $2.90 a pound.

Floor bids were as follows: Homer Hill of Hart, Texas, 44c on steers; Farm Pack Kitchen in Lubbock $38.50 on swine; and Armour and Company $39.75 on lambs.

The $71,538.08 gross sales is reflected in the following divisions: Gross on steers was $35,240.52, premiums $5,863.91; gross on lambs was $11,438.32, premiums $3,751.76; gross on swine was $24,859.24, premiums $13,118.51. Total premiums was $22,734.18.

Lighthouse To Power Pump Station In East Floyd County

According to a report from Lighthouse Electric Cooperative manager Alton Higginbotham, the cooperative will be furnishing the electrical power for an oil pipeline pump station in east Floyd County. The pipeline is owned by Amoco and Lighthouse will be supplying electric power for the pipeline that runs oil west to east. The station will be located some 15 miles east of Floydada and will house two 2500 horsepower electric motors.

Whirlettes Look Forward To '73-'74

The varsity Whirlettes finished the 1972-73 basketball season with six victories and 20 losses, compiling a 2-8 record in District 4-AA play.

The prospects for 1973-74 are good, according to Coach Don Ford. The Whirlettes return all forwards and all but one guard. The Floydada girls will have good size and speed, Ford says, and with help from the junior varsity and freshman teams, could have a successful season next year.

During the past season, the Whirlettes averaged 29 points a game in district play while their opponents averaged 38 points. In non-district games, the Whirlettes' per-game scoring average was 31 points and their opponents' was 35.

Nancy Puckett Leading Scorer Nancy Puckett led the Whirlettes in scoring, averaging 10.6 points a game in district play and 10.7 in non-district action. Her neethrow average in district games was 51 percent, in non-district games 60 percent.

Sharon Decker, a sophomore, averaged 8.1 points a district game, 7.3 in non-district contests, with a non-disdtrict free-throw average of 61 percent and a district average of 39 percent.

Linda Norman averaged 6.2 points in district games, 4.6 in non-district, for the 1972-73 Whirlettes, making 52 percent of her free throws in district and 44 percent in non-district. Curry Leads Defense

Sonja Curry led the Whirlettes in rebounds and recoveries for the year, with 121 rebounds and 219 recoveries. Cindy Moore grabbed 112 rebounds and made 99 recoveries during the season.

Woman Files For Council!

Mrs. Kay Flynt, Floydada homemaker, filed for election to the Floydada City Council Friday morning.

If she is elected, she will be the first woman to ever serve on the council.

Mrs. Flynt is a graduate of Coronado High School in Lubbock, attended Texas Tech and belongs to the 1956 Jr. Study Club in Floydada.

She is also a member of the Floydada Tennis Club, the WSCS of The First United Methodist Church, and has recently been working in the Heart Fund and March of Dimes fund drives.

filed by noon Friday.

School board candidates must be qualified voters and residents of the Floydada Independent School District.

Mayor Jimmy Seay and councilmen Boone Adams and Ed Hammond, whose terms are expiring, have indicated that they will not seek re-election, as have school board trustees Louis Pyle and Howard Gregory.

The Law Of Working And Eating

When we were actually with you we gave you this principle towork on: "If a man will not work, he shall not eat." (II Thessalonians 3:10) Phillips

The working principles of the Christian Religion have always been that which builds responsibility in the individual. The Christian program is to take a person who has never been a responsible person and help him to rebuild his sense of values so he will be a constructive person in society. The Christian Principles are in no wise a "pussyfooting, buck-passing, soft-soaping" way of life. It is a stern belief in reaping what you sow. The only thing that changes this is a true repentence and restitution. Zaccheus stated the principle when he said in Luke 19:8, "If I have taken anything from any man by false accusation, I restore him fourfold." Paying the price, restitution where possible, has always been the Christian principle.

Any country that gets away from honesty and hard work as a proper means of a livelihood, that country will be a has-been, if it does not change. Our country is greatly disturbed today because we have permitted men to travel the country and tell our citizens that the U.S. owes them a living whether they work or not. A false pride is being built among them. They are told that it is better to rob, steal and loot, than to do common labor. We have sowed to the wind and we will reap the whirlwind for a long time to come. How long has it been since you heard a sermon on the sacredness and honor of hard work while you are making your way through the world. When this is silent for just one generation, we will loose the corner stone upon which you can build a great Civilization. It would be an easy thing for us to use the government as a scape-goat. However, I suggest we place some blame on ourselves for not giving proper emphasis to this great Christian doctrine. The pendulum of the time-clock has been far out, but it is on it's way back. Practical experience is going to straighten out a lot of false theology I think we cannot put too much stress here. If a man does not have to work for his food, his honesty will soon be gone. This is like a part of machinery going bad and causing many other parts of the machine to tear up. Work is honorable. If you lose sight of this, your honor on many other scores will degenerate. This is a fundamental principle of life. If you lose the sacredness of honest work for your bread, many of the limbs of your tree of life will break off. So much dishonesty is being uncovered today, many are asking what is the trouble?? Do we have enough honesty in our country to hold it together? This is a very grave question. Our country will hold together if we will learn our lesson at the foundation, HONEST WORK. How many of us have stressed on Labor Day that it is dishonest for a workman to draw a pay check for work he has not done? How many of us have taught our children that it is honorable for them to work for the money they spend? If we want to make it hard for our children in this world, all we have to do is to make it easy for them and see that they do not have to earn the money they spend. When they start a home of their own, it may be broken up because they refuse to live with the money they have earned. The home, the Church, and the nation does not owe a person his bread, it he refuses to work for Honest work, any kind of honest work, has Spiritual compensations. Everything about our material world, when properly used, adds to our spiritual storehouse. The greatest difficulty in the religious world today comes to us because we made Christianity a theory instead of a way of life. E. Stanley Jones tries to emphasize this in the contents and the title of his book, "The Way." If you lose this point in Christianity, you will be long on theory and talking religion but very short on living it. Talking without living, is worse than no talking at all. Jesus gave emphasis to this in these words: "You will not enter yourself and you will not let anyone else enter." Let's be satisfied to live with this law of WORKING and EATING!

A GOAL FOR FLOYD COUNTY

Combination of the Sheriff's Department and City Police Departments into one working unit. This plan would provide maximum efficiency, economy, fairness and convenience for the people. Merging of these departments would provide unification of man power and eliminate duplication of facilities and equipment.

program is in its third year. When the program first began, the students were introduced to simple techniques, and the items they produced were small and easily made. Their training has led to larger, more important projects, as shown in the accompanying pictures.

People for whom the buildings were constructed have furnished the material for production and have made "contributions" for labor, which helps finance field trips made by the students, sponsored by the faculty.

Local businessmen, professionals in the work fields which are being developed in the Vocational Resources classes, have been most cooperative in every way. Some have employed students who are eligible and capable in their field. For this encouragement, appreciation is expressed. The buildings in the accompanying pictures were built under the instruction of Al Galloway, who teaches metal work and welding. Glenn Jarnagin teaches woodwork to the Vocational Resources students.

informative and interesting talk about art and how it means one thing to one person and something entirely different to another. That everyone's taste in art is not the same, and that a person should not be condemned for one style of painting just because another does not like it. Minds should be opened to learning and appreciation for what a painter is trying to express through his brush and canvas. He discussed teaching methods as applied to the young, beginning artist. He then displayed several of his own oil paintings, explaining the meaning and feeling for the subject painted. He showed the different project phases done by his students who are first, second and third graders. The members were delighted to see so much potential talent being displayed in the crayon drawings, water colors, oriental style art, and shadow boxes made from egg cartons.

Historians To Present Play

(By Tolya Hickerson,

Reporter) The Floydada Junior Historians have begun work on the play, "The History of Floyd County" by Alma Holmes. The play was produced last spring and will be presented in Floydada Friday night, April 27. Tryouts have been announced for March 8 and rehearsals will begin immediately. Announcement on ticket sales will be made later.

The February meeting of the Junior Historians was held in the Floyd County Museum. Jim Word presented an interesting program on the Indian burial ground found on the Cogdell ranch.

Historians are presently selling annual memberships to the Floyd County Museum and they also plan to have a concession stand and serve as guides for the History Fair at Junior High during Public School Week, March 5-9.

The answer is no. We left with only a fair knowledge of Spanish. As for the rest we picked them up along the way, finding that learning and using just a few words and expressions of common courtesy never failed to bring a warm response. However, my best way of communicating always seemed to be through

We lingered in Yugoslavia, a country of sharp contrasts, perhaps one of the most fascinating countries because of its primitive, untouched quality and its friendly people. We walked and sketched among the peasants as they gossiped and sang their timeless melodies in the fields. Hours were spent visiting with a young shopkeeper, studying English, or he expressed it "American" as he played his Louis Armstrong jazz records for us. He was enchanted with Brooks and Cameron, the first young American children he had seen. We were assured that he had much "freedom", but when asked about a specific route into Austria only two hundred miles away, he confessed that travel was not yet a part of that freedom.

Throughout the 15,000 miles we traveled, the graciousness of people never ceased to amaze us. A German couple while visiting in the home of our American friends in Darmstadt, insisted on getting up at 6:00 the following morning to take me across town to have the VW checked. They then showed me with pride "their Darmstadt." An English family met in Nice and another met in Rome invited us to stay with them in England where we were treated to local specialties, introduced to friends and friends of friends, and given gifts for our journey. A crusty Scott who had related countless tales during our camping together near Ft. William, said "Do ye really have to leave? I hardly got to know ye." We will truly never forget these and others who gave of themselves to us.

From the charming pristine villages of Switzerland and the Austrian Tyrol to the unbelieveable beauty of Norway, if bombarded with impressions, strange new sights and forms, colors and moods that is a constant challenge to the artist. He does not have to search for them. They surround him everywhere. Today these sketches make a delightful diary of the trip and a remarkable fund of material for future paintings.

Farmers Union Still Trying To Save REAP

Texas Farmers Union President, Jay Naman of Waco, has announced that petitions bearing the signatures of thousands of Texas farmers, ranchers, and rural community leaders are being mailed to the White House and key members of Congress.

The petitions request the cooperation of the Congress and the Administration to reinstate the Rural Environmental Assistance Program (REAP), the two per cent REA loan funds, the emergency loan program of the Farmers Home Administration, and other rural program cuts. Those receiving the petitions are Senators Lloyd Bentsen and John Tower of Texas, Senator Herman Talmadge of Georgia, Senate Agriculture Committee Chairman, Congressman W. R. "Bob" Poage, Chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, other key congressmen; and the White House. The farm organization spokesman emphasized that in a democracy many avenues of action are open for constructive change. Farmers Union is exploring all avenues of action to secure the reinstatement of these vital rural programs which have been eliminated. We are joining other Farmers Union states in circulating petitions and will be participating with them on fly-ins to Washington to allow our members to express their own viewpoints to the Congress and Administration relating to recent program cuts," Naman said. The rural leader stated that as the petitions are received in the Farmers Union State office in Waco, they will be immediately distributed and will continue to be mailed until the programs are reinstated.

Tier upon tier, window by window, modern apartment and office buildings are like human beehives. The people who live and work in them are often as busy as bees, too. Each day rushes by, each hour is filled, and when morning comes, it starts all over again.

Monotonous? Well, sometimes it is both monotonous and discouraging to live and work in a beehive. It seems as if you're just a drone, as if individuality has flown out the window. But is this true?

Whether you live in a palace or a penthouse, a hut or a one-room efficiency, you are you. Your uniqueness is your God-given gift. Your potential to be different, your capacity for accomplishment, is infinite.

If you've lost sight of that fact, you've been forgetting something - like going to church, maybe?

Six Flags Expanding Again

ARLINGTON - Details of the largest expansion program in several years at Six Flags Over Texas were revealed today by the theme park's general manager.

Robert W. Freeman said the one and a half million dollar project will add approximately five acres to the Park's entertainment area.

To be known as Good Time Square, the new section will include two major rides, a large games area, a miniature circus and a number of other

Being built in the area adjacent to Six Flags' Boomtown section, Good Time Square will reflect the architectural style of a Texas town at the turn of the century.

The largest of the new rides The Infernal Electrical Bumping Machines. Freeman said, "In designing this ride we have taken the traditionally popular 'bumper cars' and used them on a much larger scale than most people are accustomed to seeing." He said the ride will use fifty cars, or "about double the number usually found on such rides."

The second major ride will be called Crazy Legs. It carries people at a time in seats which spin at the tips of six, long arching arms. The arms rise and fall as the entire ride turns in a huge circle.

The games area, to be known as Doc Snooker's Magnificent Main Street Exposition, features sixteen games in a semi-enclosed, air conditioned area.

Freeman commented, "We spent several years working on the concept and design for the games area. What we have done is recreate the fun and excitement of the kind of games which have been the most popular attractions at major fairs for many years."

He added "The whole project reflects the wholesome style of entertainment that has building the circus as a hobby. When the entire layout is in place it will fill a large building in Good Time Square. It includes some 4,000 tiny

THE DECISION IS YOURS

We have been publishing this newspaper as a twice-weekly (Thursdays and Sundays) for the past six months and we feel that our subscribers now will be able to decide which they prefer - two Beacons or Hesperians per week - or once a week, each Thursday.

So, we hope you will take time to indicate your preference on the ballot at the bottom of this page and take or mail it to The Beacon or The Hesperian Office.

As far as subscription cost is concerned there is $1.50 difference per year ($5.00 for the weekly Thursday paper or $6.50 twice weekly) out of area $6.00 and $7.50.

As far as news coverage is concerned the choice is one big newspaper each Thursday or two smaller newspapers on Sunday and Thursday.

"Newness of news" would be better of course with the twice weekly publication.

TWO GOALS

The management and staff of this newspaper have two goals in the publication of your newspaper:

- 1. We want to do the best job possible of bringing you all the news of Floyd County and the Caprock Country.
- 2. We want to help the merchant keep business in Floyd County. By combining the circulation of Floyd County's newspapers we can bring the merchant's advertising message into some 3800 homes each w

This means the Lockney merchant get advertising message into 3800 homes ins of 1400. Likewise the Floydada mercreaches 3800 instead of 2400 homes.

The advertiser (bless his heart) is person who keeps us in business, and support determines the size and qualitation this newspaper.

Of course, combining the advertishmeans that we must continue to combine the news of Lockney, Floydada and the ecounty. Some people have said, "I just to read the news of Floydada... Lockney." For these people we will to place Lockney news with Lock advertising and Floydada news with Floydada advertising.

Some people have said, "I like all news of the county combined . . . I like know what our neighbors to the north . the south are doing."

So, it makes no difference as to whether the newspaper is published once or the per week. . . for the advertisers beneather advertising and news will be combined

So... the decision is yours - let us know which you prefer and we'll do our best continue to publish the best newspaper possible.

Lockney Eighth Grade Science Students Report On Weather

By GAYLE JACKSON

Many school mornings, Lockney eighth grade earth science students "broadcast" weather reports and weather predictions during the short nome-room period. (Another group is responsible for news

The students use knowledge gained from their study of the simple instruments to aid them in making reports of weather conditions. Outside on top of the junior high building they have set up a rain gauge, a thermometer and a simple wind speed and direction instrument. Inside the science room they have a thermometer, and a barometer, and a hygrometer that gauges hu-the students' weather predictions have been surprisingly correct - especially considering that the students use only their observations of the present conditions to make the predictions. During the concentrated study on weather, the students did learn how weathermen make predictions.

The term "earth science" means the subjects studied will be the earth, weather, oceans, land forms, atmosphere, etc., and space, including planets, constellations and the space program.

Eighth graders are now studying the planets and the constellations. Mrs. Dorman reports that the students have been surprised to learn that the sun is only a medium-sized star that looks larger than other stars much farther away from the earth.

Seventh grade students are "life science," studying plants, animals and their environments. At this time, they have just completed study of natural communities such as ponds where the population varies from microscopic plants and animals to larger things such as frogs and fish. Special note was made of the fact that the pond residents are dependent upon each other for their food supply. It was stressed that this delicate balance of nature must be maintained.

These classes have now begun a case study of the coyote and its importance or unimportance in the animal community. They will be asked to draw their own conclusions after this in-depth study as to whether coyotes should be protected by law or exterminated as predators. Some pupils are writing to the Texas and the New Mexico wild life commissions to find out those states' laws concerning the killing of coyotes. Proposed laws for the state of Kansas were read to the students that would provide for total extermination of coyotes. Students will also draw maps showing the extent of the coyote population across the United States.

These pupils have already dissected worms, and will dissect frogs before school is out. Another project that will be interesting to them will be typing of their own blood.

Sixth, seventh and eighth grade students cooperated with their English and Science teachers as they wrote themes on conservation recently. All of the themes were entered in the county Soil Conservation Contest, and results should be known soon.

Mrs. Dorman is married to a former Lockney resident, Roger Dorman. They live in Plainview with their small son Jeff, who will be 3 years old next month. Melva is a graduate of Wayland College and this is her first year to teach at Lockney were tested and classed at the South Plains USDA cotton classing offices at Lubbock, Brownfield and Lamesa during the week ending Friday, February 16. This brought the total classed for the season to 1.666,000 bales

Grades of cotton classed at Lubbock remained about the same as the previous week. Strict Low Middling Light Spotted (42) was the predominant grade, making up 19 percent of all cotton classed. sTrict Low Middling (41) made up 11 percent, Strict Low Middling Spotted (43) 13 percent and strict Low Middling Tinged (44) 13 percent.

Average staple length was also about the same as the previous week. Staples were predominantly 29 to 32. Fourteen percent had a staple length of 29, 41 percent stapled 30, 25 percent stapled 31 and 14 percent was 32.

Micronaire readings remained steady. Only 10 percent of all cotton classed at Lubbock had micronaire readings in the premium range of 3.5 through 4.9, 8 percent "miked" 3.3 through 3.4, 28 percent was 3.0 through 3.2, 34 percent 2.7 through 2.9 and 20 percent was 2.6 and below.

The AGricultural Marketing Service of the USDA reported active trading on the Lubbock market. Prices were $2.50 to $5.00 per bale higher on most qualities. Prices ranged from $2.50 per bale over the loan for low grade, low micronaire cotton up to $50.00 per bale over the loan for high grade, premium micronaire cotton. Average prices paid for the most predominant qualities in the 3.5 to 4.9 premium micronaaire range were: Strict Low Middling Light Spotted (42) staple 30 - 27.50 cents per pound, strict Low Middling Light Spotted (42) staple 31 -27.90, Strict Low Middling Spotted (43) staple 30 - 22.75, sTrict Low Middling Spotted (43) staple 31 - 23.05, STrict Low Middling Tinged (44) staple 30 - 18.60 and Strict Low Middling Tinged (44) staple 31 10.70.

Cottonseed prices were steady and farmers received $46 to $56 per ton for their cottonseed at gins.

Butz Defends Farmers In Food Price Boost

WASHINGTON government's Consumer Price ndex for January will show the biggest one-month retail food price jump in 20 to 25 years and some big city papers will mislead consumers by distorting the figures, Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz predicted Tuesday.

Butz, speaking to his depart-ment's annual National Agricultural Outlook Conference and denouncing newspapers which "ought to know better," provided an unusual preview of the January CPI report which will be released by the Labor Department in a few days. He said the report would show a "rather substantial" increase over December, and 'probably is going to show an increase in retail food prices of 2 to 3 per cent or something like that ... the biggest monthly rise in the past 20 to 25 years." Agriculture Department ex-perts have already predicted that retail food prices for 1973 as a whole will run 6 per cent or more above 1972, the biggest one-year jump in 22 years. But Butz charged some reporters would sensationalize January's 2 to 3 per cent CPI food figure by multiplying it by 12 and reporting an annual-rate food price increase of 24 to 36 per

"The use of statistics like this is grossly unfair ... phony," Butz said. He declared that seasonal winter hikes in farm prices due to weather and transportation shortages had been converted in some news stories into "preposterous" annual increases which ignore the fact that farm prices fluctuate widely.

"For instance, a 4.8 per cent in wholesale prices in January was treated by the urban press as if there would be a 57.6 per cent rise in wholesale farm prices over the next year ...

have a cold this week, it is at the annual rate of 52 colds a year," Butz said.

Urban newspapers, he said, "ought to know better," and should "get out beyond the city limits and learn the facts of life about volatile farm prices."

Unlike most retail prices, Butz said raw farm products fluctuate from month to month Other administration predicted officials Tuesday, for example, that the currently record-high prices of beef cattle and hogs would decline as supplies rise later in 1973, thus easing pressures on retail food prices. The economists said much of this year's big food price jump has already taken place.

Defends Current Levels Butz defended current food price levels by noting that despite increases, the percentage of U.S. take-home pay spent on food continued to decline last year. But he conceded that the administration, which has widely publicized its efforts to hold food prices down by stepping up farm production is concerned about public reaction. LOCKNEY SCHOOL BETTERIA

Comment on the future direction of farm programmers President Nixon in Washington February 15 has denounced by Ray Joe Riley of Hart, president of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

The President's words, part of a natural resource.

Congress, were: "It would be desirable to estate reasonable transition period, a more equitable production adjustment in the agricultural economic "Direct federal payments should, at the end of period, be limited to the amounts necessary to farmers for withholding unneeded land from cru The implication, according to Riley, is the payments necessary to bridge the gap between m and the cost of production would be discontinued "With the fierce price competition between man-made fibers," Riley said, "the cotton ind ruined by such a plan even if it were possible to price in the marketplace - and as yet we have be make any such demand stick."

Strong opposition to the farm program direction the president also was voiced by agricultural leader Hill. Senator Herman Talmadge, chairman of Committee on Agriculture and Forestry, said he was program which phases out price support payment and pays only for acreage retirement. Senator This hearings on farm legislation before his committee

Riley said "We are requesting time to press before the Senator's committee, and our statement doubt as to the disastrous effects the President's m have on the cotton industry."

All season there has been widespread concernth Plains counties surrounding Lubbock would fall 2,012,000 bale estimate of cotton production con December 1 of last year by Plains Cotton Growers Lubbock Cotton Exchange.

It now appears such concern was unjustified, desp harvest season weather in memory, says Donald executive vice president.

Through noon Thursday, February 15, the fourd in the area at Brownfield, Lamesa, Levelland and received samples from 1,748,611 bales. And Johns that five of the 25 counties in PCG territory send Memphis and Abilene for classing. Motley and B cotton goes to Memphis and cotton from Martin a Midland counties is classed by the Abilene office Production from these five counties for 1972-73 is 108,000, of which probably 80,000 has been class bringing sample receipts for the 25 counties up !

Too, the estimate is calculated in 480 pound net while the sample total is in running bales. One major the area reports that bales received for the season averaged 526 pounds gross weight, which wo average of 505 pounds net, about five percent not pounds. Using this five percent conversion factor sample receipt total becomes about 1,920,000 net "which leaves us less than 100,000 bales below the estimate for the Plains," Johnson states.

"Cotton still on the stalk, on gin yards, in ricks transit will undoubtedly bring us up to or bey bales," Johnson concludes

Texans Named To Speak At Cotton Conference

Texans participating in the 1973 Western Cotton Production Conference here March 7-8 were announced today by Dr. Robert B. Metzer, area cotton specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service and a member of the program committee.

Among the 13 Texans are five Lubbock men.

John Herzer, manager of the Plains Cooperative Oil Mill here, will speak on the status of cottonseed flour and its future in the cotton industry. Don Johnson, executive vice president of the Plains Cotton Growers Incorporated, will address the expected 400 guests on the topic of air pollution and its effect on the grower. Other Lubbock men scheduled to speak are Emerson Tucker, engineer at the Plains Cotton Cooperative Association, whose topic is on the handling of seed cotton on an area basis, and Dr. Rthur B. Onken, research scientist with the Texas Aricultural Experiment Station here, also will speak on varietal response of narrow-row cotton to management of water and fertilizer. Roy Forkner, a producer and ginner from Lubbock, will discuss the handling of seed cotton at local community gins.

Four area men are on tap to speak also. They are Marion Bowers of Seminole, speaking on grower experiences with narrow-row cotton; Mike Burkholder, producer from Pecos, whose address is on grower experiences with pest management; D. L. Adcock, farmer and ginner from Lamesa, discussing the rick compactor; and Don Anderson, cotton producer from Crosbyton, whose presentation is on the use of herbicides on his

Other Texans speaking to the group at Lubbock's KoKo-Inn are Dr. A. F. Wiese. professor with the Experiment Station at Bushland, speaking on herbicide residues; Dr. Dudley T. Smith, former Lubbock resident now at College Station as assistant director of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, who will speak on chemical weed control in irrigated and dryland cotton.

Also, Dr. Lambert H. Wilkes, associate professor of the Agricultural Engineering Department of Texas A&M University, whose address is on the effect to field storage and handling on seed and lint quality in cotton; and Dr. D. G. Bottrell, associate professor. Department of Entomology, Texas A&M, speaking on total insect population and field relationship. A technical conference on cotton diseases preceding the regular meeting will feature 13 other Texans, most of whom are scientists and specialists in the cotton industry.

The two day gathering will feature 25 major presentations and the preceding special session wil include 18 speak-

The annual meeting will draw representatives and officials of the cotton industry from Tennessee, Texas, California, Arizona, New Mexico, and numerous other southern and southwestern states.

229 E. CALIFORNIA

by Arthur E. Gamble

Cleanliness may be next to Godliness but the difficulty we had with bathing in the 20's in Floydada sometimes made it seem that Godliness was easier to achieve. With no indoor plumbing whatsoever in many homes, bathing was normally a once-a-week affair at best. Bathinettes for the baby were years in the future so the little people were often bathed in the dishpan. The kitchen was the place where the water was heated - so it became the household bath on Saturday night. With its linoleum floors, water could be wiped up quickly, and big coal cookstove provided heat enough to remove the chill, and some of the stoves had hot water wells on the end next to the firebox that used the heat radiated to the sides to heat the three gallon container. Teakettles and other pans furnished the balance of the water which was placed in the #2 wash tub for the bathing.

As you might guess, sanitation was not considered - just the removal of dirt and grime was important. Customarily, my sister (being the baby) was bathed first, then my younger brother, me and finally mother. The same water was used by all with the addition of more hot water as the tub cooled off.

Palmolive, Woodbury's and Ivory are all still in business and were very much around back then. Lifebuoy made it on the scene later and with its strong scent let us know that is must be doing a good job because it certainly left us with a new smell. It is amazing how these old standbys of yesterday have adapted themselves to changing tastes and are all still popular today.

Summertime bathing was a more impromptu affair particularly for the young. A horse tank, lake or down to the swimming hole in Blanco Canyon furnished cooling relief in those preairconditioned days. Even a home made shower with water from an overhead barrel provided a degree of cleanliness.

You will note that in telling about those kitchen baths, no mention was made of the man of the house using that same tub of water. No sir, that was back when men were men and smelled like it - that is unless they had just returned from the barber shop where they went for the grandeur of a bath in a real bath tub

I remember Hilton's barber shop just west of the square on California Street as a sort of marble palace. It had four barbers in the front and in the back in private little cubicles. there were some honest-togosh bath tubs.

The negro "shine boy" was more or less in charge of the bathing facilities being responsible for washing out the tub after each user. The charge for a bath was 25 cents - same price as a kid's haircut - and it was rumored that for a nickel or a dime tip the porter would scrub your back for the height of luxury. This flat fee entitled you to a tub of hot water, soap and towels. On

VA Gives Income Tax Return Tips

The Veterans Administration today offered helpful tips to recipients of veterans benefits preparing to file federal income tax returns.

Jack Coker, Waco VA Regional Office Director, noted that veterans benefits, in general, are exempt from taxation, and need not be reported as income.

An exception is interest on government life insurance dividends left on deposit or credit with VA. Such interest is considered income, Coker explained, and therefore should be reported as income.

Dividends and proceeds from G.I. insurance policies are not subject to federal income taxes, but proceeds must be included for federal estate tax purposes.

Officials aid other major tax-exempt benefits include compensation and pension, G.I Bill and other educational assistance, subsistence payments to vocational rehabilita tion trainees, and grants to severely disabled veterans eligible for homes and cars.

FLOYD DATA

Mrs. Ruby Carmack, former Floydada resident, who now resides in Amarillo, entered Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo Wednesday, where she is undergoing a series of tests. Mrs. Carmack has been ill the past six weeks, according to Floydada friends.

rush days, a time limit was established more by tacit agreement than by rule and no one took too much time.

Granted that a barber shop was a man's haven, I never could see why there wasn't such a place for bathing available to little boys and the women. As Floydada put in its sewerage system and gas arrived from the Panhandle, most homes put in indoor plumbing with bathtubs (and everything) and the day of the barber shop bath was doomed.

I guess we all had "B.O." back in those days but when everyone smells about the same I suppose you never notice it. I do remember the school room smell of thirty little kids all wearing sneakers with the added aroma from lunches, or worse still, the smell of the soup being made down in the cafeteria.

Back in the 1920's, if we had a bath before Sunday School and Church, we could go a whole week with never another thought of bathing. I guess it is the influence of those days that makes me feel positively filthy if I don't get my daily shower.

I like to be clean, smell clean and look clean - so if you don't mind, I don't believe that I'll mourn the passing of this segment of our good old days. Godly? I have my doubts - but as to cleanliness - outside of one day per week - NO!
