Tony Goen is the class salutatorian, with a 95.22 average.

DST Arrives

It's that time again! Daylight Saving Time starts at 2 a.m. today (Sunday).

That's when clocks in Floydada and in most of the nation are set ahead an hour. It happens the last Sunday of each April.

Since DST begins in the spring and ends near the fall, the simple rule for remembering which way to turn the clock hands is "Spring forward, fall backward."

Self Employed In Floyd County Number 1,013

NEW YORK — In Floyd County, new businesses are being born all the time.

Despite the difficulties and the pitfalls involved, with each succeeding year an additional number of local residents, anxious to be their own bosses, embark on new ventures.

They give up their jobs and the security of a weekly income, gather together the money they have saved or can borrow and take the plunge. Some buy existing businesses and others start new ones from scratch.

Many of them are inadequately financed. They do not have enough capital to carry them through the lean early years. Others are handicapped because of insufficient knowledge of the field they are entering.

However, although the hazards are great and the odds are heavily stacked against a new business lasting more than two or three years, there are many that succeed very well. Evidence of that is to be seen in the fact that no less than 1,013 residents of Floyd County make their living from their own businesses or professions, according to the Department of Commerce.

They are the storekeepers, the doctors, the farmers, the barbers, electricians, gas station operators and the like.

In terms of the number of people in the local area who are employed, it means that 28.6 percent are self-employed.

That is above the ratio reported for many areas of the country. The average, in the United States is 7.7 percent and, in the West South Central States, 9.5 percent.

Nationally, most individual-owned businesses are in some kind of retail trade, the figures show. That is the field that attracts many of the people who are just starting out for themselves.

The number of retail establishments in operation in Floyd County is listed as 145 in the latest government count.

The fear that conglomerates are swallowing up small companies so fast and dominating the economic scene so thoroughly that a newcomer cannot survive doesn't stand up alongside the facts.

There are many more small businesses in existence today than there were ten years ago. Analysts estimate that about a half million new enterprises are launched annually, exceeding by a good margin the number that are discontinued because of death, retirement or failure.

Lockney Hospital District Approved

H. E. Frizzell, chairman of the hospital steering committee at Lockney, has been advised by Senator Jack Hightower and Representative Phil Cates that the bill establishing Lockney General Hospital District with boundaries coinciding with those of Commissioner's Precinct No. 2 was passed by both Senate and House, and was signed by Governor Briscoe April 26, 1973.

The next procedural step will be the appointment by the Commissioners' Court of a temporary board of directors, which board will call an election of the qualified property taxing voters of the district to approve creation of the district and to authorize levy of a tax by the district to finance its operations. The bond attorneys retained by the district are already engaged in preparing the necessary proceedings for appointment of the board and calling of the election.

For the steering committee and for the community, Frizzell expressed sincere thanks for the diligent and successful exertions of Senator Hightower and Representative

Cates in procuring the passage and the signing of the bill notwithstanding the exceptionally crowded calendar of the current Legislature.

No Leads In Brown's Burglary

No leads have developed in the burglary of Brown's Department Store in Lockney April 21.

Claude Brown, owner, said at least $8,000 worth of men's and women's knit suits were taken in the burglary. The burglars took men's suits in sizes 38, 39, 40 and 42, and women's suits in sizes 10, 14 and 16.

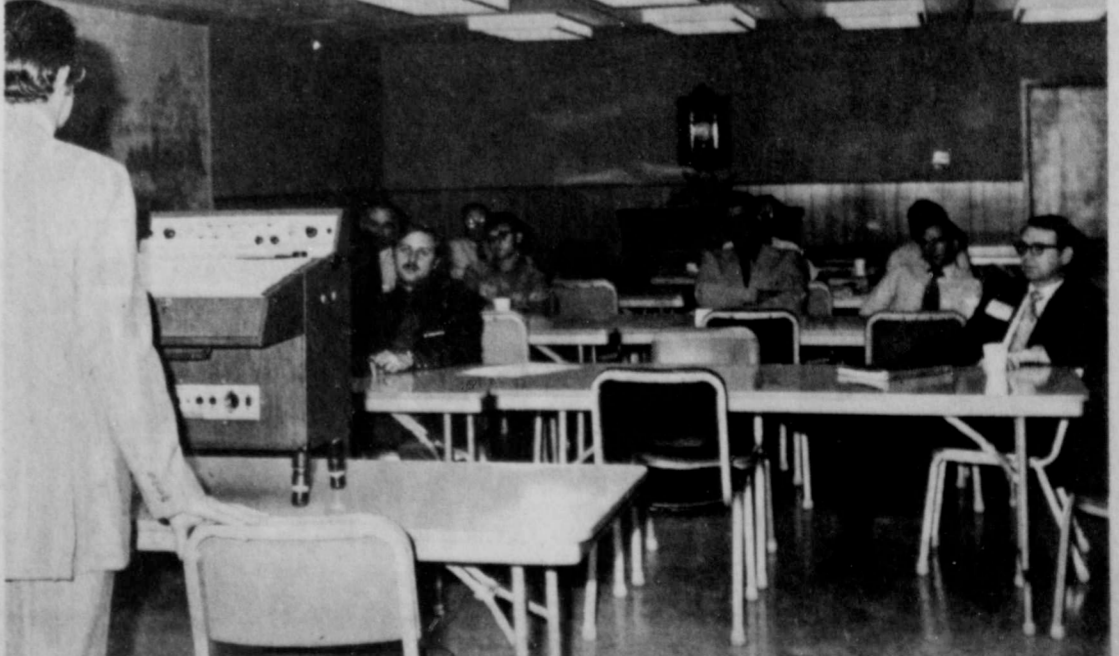

Brown discovered the break-in about 6:25 April 21 when he arrived for work, finding the back door latch jimmied from the brick facing.

Brown's store was uninsured, as was the case three years ago when burglars took about 10,000 worth of men's suits. Another store owned by Brown, the Outlet Store in Lockney, was burglarized less than a month ago. About $500 to $600 worth of merchandise was lost in that burglary.

development consultant with Southwestern Public Service, spoke about utilities and transportation. Larry Milner, manager of industrial development for SWPS, discussed labor, education and training, and resources and services. Homer Tucker, industrial development consultant with the Texas Industrial Commission, talked about sites, buildings, zoning, construction and insurance.

E. H. Sheffield, senior industrial development consultant with the Texas Industrial Commission, told the group some of the things industries look at in choosing a location: the attitude and appearance of the community, churches and schools, medical and shopping facilities, civic and cultural activities, climate, housing, city government, taxes and utilities, police and fire protection, and bonded indebtedness.

Sheffield wound up the seminar with discussion on industrial financing.

Attending from Floydada were Olin Watson, Bill Hale, Clarence Denton, Bill Feuerbacher, Wayne Russell, Bob Alldredge, Claude Weatherbee, Alton Higginbotham, Anthony Whitfill, Bill Flynt, Wendell Tooley and several Floydada High School Distributive Education students.

Floydada In The 20's Home Entertainment

By Arthur E. Gamble

In the 1920's there was limited home entertainment available. Home recreation centered around some singing around the piano at infrequent intervals, certain approved games and visiting. I don't recall that much entertainment was done in the homes with the exception of a small shower for someone getting married or perhaps a birthday party. Most of the recreation was planned and staged in connection with the Sunday School classes of the various churches. Indeed, the church was the social as well as the religious center of our lives.

I do remember that severe limitations were placed on what was "proper" in the line of entertainment. Even in singing, you could sing and play "popular" music all evening but once you started on religious music it just wasn't the thing to do to go back to the more worldly music. One of the jokes along that line was the old man who had definite ideas of right and wrong but knew nothing whatsoever about music. It seems that he had been trying to get his kids to play on the black keys on the piano on weekdays and the white on Sunday.

Cards were sinful. That was it. If they had aces, kings, queens, etc. that denoted sin — no matter what the game. Bridge was just coming into popularity and it was generally considered that those who would play such a game probably would smoke cigarettes also. There was no telling what they would do.

Children were allowed to play "Old Maid" and "Rook" were games with the seal of approval as were checkers. Some people played Whist, Euchre and Pinochle but the big game of the area and with 100% approval was dominoes. It seems that the prejudice was against the pastebards with the wooden version being OK. I once was in a domino parlor in one West Texas town where they had a set of 52 dominoes with the same pictures and numbers as cards. But the city ordinance forbade "public card playing" whereas dominoes were in good standing.

Some homes had hand wound "Victrolas" and I remember visiting Kinder Farris one time and hearing a large music box which could play different "records" from perforated steel plates. Player pianos were much in vogue for those who couldn't play but enjoyed music.

The big party game was "42" which is a Texas game played with dominoes — so it had all factors in its favor. I think I really applied myself to math in school so that I could be included in the domino and "42" games. There was a more sophisticated version which my Uncle Ira enjoyed called "84" but I never did get to learn much about that game.

One of the mail carriers in Floydada was Bill Salisbury who had a son Harold who was in my grade and a daughter named Wilhemina. Mrs. Salisbury was a man who liked innovations. For example — he often delivered mail with a motorcycle which had a

FLOYD COUNTY, FARMERS CO-OP Gin Co-Ops' Stockholders To Vote On Consolidation

A special meeting of the stockholders of Floyd County Co-op Gin, Inc. and of the stockholders of Farmers Cooperative Gin of Floydada will be held at 8:30 p.m. May 1 at the Massie Activity Center in Floydada.

Purpose of the meeting is to approve and adopt an agreement of consolidation by the terms of which Floyd County Co-op Gin, Inc. and Farmers Cooperative Gin will consolidate. The agreement has been approved by a majority of each of the respective boards of directors.

Under the proposed plan, the two gins will consolidate into a new cooperative to be known as Floydada Cooperative Gins, Inc. The boards of directors of the two gin co-ops will constitute the board of the new Floydada Cooperative Gins, Inc.

Approval of the plan and require at least two-thirds of the votes which the members of each cooperative present at the May 1 meeting are entitled to cast.

If the plan is approved, the holder of each $1.00 common share of Floydada Cooperative Gins, Inc. and the share of the stock of Farmers Cooperative Gin will receive a $1.00 common share of the new Cooperative Gins, Inc. for each $1.00 share of stock of either gin.

The Power Of One

Can one person do much to change the world? Madelyn Murry O'Hare, an atheist crusader did. She succeeded in making it illegal to read the Bible and to pray in public schools. Now she's at it again. She has 27,000 signed letters protesting the decision of the astronauts to read the Bible as a Christian message to the world from their space craft while orbiting the moon during December 1968. She plans to present these letters to NASA with a demand that the astronauts be publicly censured for their act and a demand to prohibit any further demonstration of religion by public leaders. Psalm 53:1a says: "The fool hath said in his heart, there is no God. Corrupt are they and have done abominable iniquity." Each of us is just one but we can do something about this. We who believe in Christ and the Bible can take a definite stand. An effort is being made now to secure one million signed letters commending the astronauts for their act. This would be an overwhelming defeat for Mrs. O'Hare. Do not let her succeed with her atheism. Act now. Date your letter, sign your name and address, and mail to NASA, Manned Space Craft Center, Astronaut Office, Houston, Texas 77058.

Floyd County Merchants, The Girls Need You

We are looking for the most deserving girls in Floyd County to send to Waco this summer to compete for college scholarships. Universal Pageant System through the Floyd County La Petite, Our Little Miss, and Ideal Miss Pageant want to send the best of these age groups to state and world pageants, but we need your help.

FLOYD PHILOSOPHER

Reports On Odds And Ends

This Week

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm reports on some odds and ends this week.

Dear editor:

Notes from a spring house-cleaning of my desk:

I'll never understand politicians. Here some of them are trying to get a law passed giving reporters the right to refuse to tell what they know, whereas in some cases they'd be a lot better off with a law keeping reporters from telling what they know.

Despite the fact the economy is booming, there are six major railroads now bankrupt. Such a statistic is bad for national morale. Why doesn't Washington get the six to merge and then we could claim we have only one bankrupt railroad?

A new word has come out of Washington that I'm in favor of. On finding what he'd been saying for weeks was wrong, a press secretary explained to reporters that from now on all those other statements are "inoperative." I hope you will do everything you can to spread the use of this word. I'd like to be able to get by with telling my banker that my promise to pay that note six months later is now inoperative.

Some cities, trying to whip traffic congestion, are considering passing a law making it illegal for a commuter to come into the city in a car by himself. He's got to have three or four passengers with him or he won't be allowed in. This might reduce the number of cars, but not the number of people. What a choice: having to decide whether you want to be swamped by cars or people.

You can't get ahead of scientists. They've announced they're going to attempt to predict earthquakes, but I notice they've picked a spot where earthquakes have occurred periodically for years. If weather forecasters were as smart they'd stick to predicting the weather in the Sahara desert.

This doesn't quite clean off my desk, there're still some more things stacked on it, but I've learned, even if the Watergate people haven't, it doesn't pay to dig too deep.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Disaster Loans Reinstated

Protest petitions, court action, and political pressure paid off for farmers this week when the Farmers Home Administration announced the reopening of the Disaster Loan Program. Hundreds of farmers in over two hundred Texas counties who suffered crop losses as a result of drought between January 1 and June 19 of 1972 are now eligible to apply for the $5,000 Disaster Loan at a low interest rate with a forgiveness provision.

Texas Farmers Union president Jay Naman of Waco hailed the announcement of the program reopening as a "great victory for farmers." Naman said that farmers were successful in accomplishing the reopening of the important program because of their organized efforts using political pressure and court action. "Hundreds of family farmers who were stricken by disaster last year will now have a new lease on life and will be able to get the financing that they need to continue farming," Naman said.

"Farmers Union never gave up when President Nixon announced the cancellation of the Disaster Loan Program. Texas farmers organized petition campaigns to show the Administration and members of Congress the need to restore the program. Minnesota Farmers Union coordinated successful legal action that was brought by a group of farmers in that state against the Secretary of Agriculture and Farmers Home Administration officials. The court action plus the organized political effort of farmers was responsible for the restoration of the Disaster Loan Program.

Be watching the newspaper for the activities that will be happening. If any of the different organizations in Lockney or this area have a program or something they would like to share or present please call the Care Center. This year's slogan will be "Older Americans in Action". For the first week in May we plan on starting our gardening, that is, if the weather permits. There were a great number of visitors during the Easter holidays. We always appreciate many and all our visitors. Four of our residents have birthdays in May: Mrs. Anna Dietrich, Mrs. Rhoda Dyer, Mrs. Mary Reeves, and Pablo Salguero

This has been a beautiful week. The knowledge that our Lord is risen is always good to hear and the Devotionals have been a great blessing and inspiration to all of us. We do thank all the people who come to share with us.

Easter Sunday afternoon the Easter egg hunt was a great success. The residents had a blast hiding the eggs and watching the children look for them. Mrs. Hill thinks there's still eggs that weren't found. We enjoyed the arrangement shared by Mr. and Mrs. Buster Terrell and the Easter lily sent by Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Schacht. There's nothing like something pretty to perk up a place.

At our monthly safety meeting Mr. Hugh Griffiths gave a talk on safety. Mr. Griffiths has had many years of experience in safety procedures.

May is Senior Citizen Month designated by Pres. Nixon. We plan to make this a very special month for our residents.

Texas Number Nine... Commercial Vegetable Outlook... Citrus Crop Up Again.

Texas continues in the top 10 states in dairy production and number of milk cows, according to a report titled "1972 Texas Dairy Statistics." The major dairy section of Texas is located in the eastern half of the state. Total receipts to dairymen during 1972 amounted to about $250 million.

The top 10 counties in milk production in Texas are Hopkins, Erath, Wise, Grimes, Johnson, Tarrant, El Paso, Parker, Bexar, and McLennan. The top 10 counties in cow numbers are Hopkins, Erath, Wise, Grimes, Johnson, McLennan, Parker, Tarrant, Harris, and Comanche.

Texas' dairy producers-about 4,000 of them-are included in 10 federal milk marketing orders.

And as costs of production continue for the dairyman this year, he is expected to be caught in a cost-price squeeze which may force some dairymen to liquidate their herds.

Complete facts and figures on the Texas dairy industry for 1972 may be obtained free by writing to Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White, Texas Department of Agriculture, Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711. Ask for 1972 Texas Dairy Statistics.

Production of milk in Texas during March, the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service notes, is up four per cent from a year ago.

Milk production in Texas per cow averaged 860 pounds, which is 30 pounds above a year earlier.

WEATHER conditions have curtailed commercial vegetable plantings in the Lower Rio Grande Valley and are also delaying harvesting.

Cabbage harvest has been slowed due to rains. Acres for harvest during the spring quarter will be above previous years because of some carryover acreage from the winter quarter.

Excessive rains and freezing weather have reduced acreage planted to canteloupes. Crop progress is two to three weeks behind schedule. Harvest is expected to begin about mid-May. The crop at Laredo is making good progress with harvest to start in May.

Carrot harvest has been delayed, and the supplies of carrots during April-May are expected to be above normal.

The spring tomato crop is later than normal. No volume is expected from the Valley until May. In East and Central Texas, rains have delayed transplanting and as a result the crop will be later than normal.

Increased acreage of sweet corn is expected in the Winter Garden area and the High Plains. Heavy rains in the Valley prevented growers from planting a normal acreage.

Replanting of the watermelon crop was necessary in the Valley and coastal bend areas of Texas. The crop is two to three weeks behind normal. The Winter Garden crop is making good progress.

Utilities to seek natural gas in Atlantic.

See in our sea power decline to a No. 2 position goes far beyond any question of national pride. What is important is that the Russian Navy is nearing the No. 1 position and there is nothing in history or the stated aims of Soviet policy to suggest that they will use their Navy for anything other than international mischief to further the goals of communist imperialism around the world. They have told us repeatedly and we should believe them.

Kangaroo mamas have one advantage over "human" mamas—their crib is "built-in." There's no need for them to dash around the house to give Junior tender loving care. He is always nearby, located quite conveniently for mother's attention.

Any mother's attention is crucial in providing a child with the religious foundations needed to produce a responsible adult. Enough freedom so that he can be independent — enough discipline to provide structure for his life. And moral precepts instilled by the Church and parental example.

One day Junior will outgrow mama's pouch or crib. Then, and only then, can parents know if they have been successful.

Don Hardy Featured In Car Craft

Don Hardy Race Cars Floydada, Texas

It has been a couple of years since Don Hardy left Kelly Chadwick's employ to open a chassis shop; and, like many of the traditionally big name T/F and F/C builders, he now spends as much time creating Pro Stockers as anything else.

Hardy finds that different cars require different construction techniques. The Chrysler A-body cars are built in more or less the standard manner, with the roll cage being welded into the customer's dipped body and tied together at all stress points.

The rear is then attached using Koni shocks for suspension and ladder bars for weight transfer and traction control. Don believes that a relatively simple rear end is perfectly compatible with current tire designs and leaves one less area for the owner to fiddle with.

The front ends retain stock factory control arms, beefed as needed. Hardy uses the commonly accepted Pinto rack and pinion steering, but has a special flexible cable steering shaft to clear the headers rather than the universal joint method most cars employ.

You will need to have at least $4500 in your pocket when you come to Floydada to pick up a Don Hardy car. That includes the labor to install a complete cage and chassis in your body shell, complete with all of the sheet metal and suspension work.

consuming hand labor is costly, and Hardy prefers to have customer's finish cars whenever possible, though he can handle every phase of the job including motor installation. And don't jump to any conclusions about slow, drawing Texans—Hardy's shop can knock out a simple Chrysler A-body chassis and suspension in two weeks or less (not including the waiting time to get your car in the door, which was about three months at last check).

First Baptist Changes Time After Service

For most of us the time change is a difficult adjustment. Last spring First Baptist Church experimented with something different. They didn't change their clocks until after the morning worship service.

The regular time for Sunday School and morning worship will be observed. The pastor stated that in so doing, the adjustment of the one hour is made during the middle of the day instead of the early morning time.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

1973 BY CHICAGO TRIBUNE-N. Y. NEWS SYND., INC.

THE national squirrel debate. That Waterloo, Ia., man who shot and killed a little squirrel while the squirrel was eating from a bird feeder should have been reported to the police.

ABBY: I cried when I read about the man who killed a hungry squirrel while it was eating from a bird feeder. It reminded me of a squirrel that used to come to my yard nearly every day. We named him Freddy. At first, he was timid, but after he knew he could trust me he came running to me when I called him, and he would sit on my hand. How he loved cubes of bread with peanut butter!

ABBY: For your information, squirrels belong to the rodent family and they do far more damage than rats! They not only dig around gardens, destroying plants and chasing away lovely song birds and steal your money, they chew and destroy phone cable, and some companies millions of dollars annually. Furthermore, squirrels keep filthy nests. Phew!

ABBY: I am not for killing anything except in self-defense, but squirrels can be a real nuisance. I had a fairly tame squirrel come into my yard to get sunflower seeds from my bird-feeder. That squirrel damaged my expensive new feeder with its teeth and claws. At first I was very angry. Then I thought that the poor little thing must have been so hungry that it had to get at those sunflower seeds some way.
