Floydada Citizens Express Opinions About Watergate

A Hesperian reporter interviewed several Floyd County people Tuesday morning after the President's TV talk Monday night about the Watergate situation. Some of their comments are printed herewith:

FLORA MCNEILL: "The President is more involved than he wants the public to know, but he is brave to take the blame."

BOB ALLDREDGE: "I listened to the President on my radio on the tractor, and it was hard to hear some of the speech, but I felt that most people didn't realize the President was knowledgeable of the facts until lately."

MRS. JERRY NEELEY: "I think the President was sincere in what he said. I feel this Watergate thing has turned into a game, and we should all be more concerned in unifying America and the important things of this country."

KEN BISHOP: "The President was telling it like it is. . . the buck stops here. . . he could have cut his talk off here without the flag waving in the rest of the talk. . . there may still be more to be uncovered about Watergate. . . it was long overdue."

JEAN MCGAUGH: "I think it took a lot of courage for the President to take the blame. . . I don't know whether the President was personally involved. . . he seemed to avoid a lot of details of Watergate. . . should have been more specific. . . there seems to be some unanswered questions."

MRS. CLAUDE RING: "I really don't have much interest in politics, just hope they can get this mess straightened out and keep on working for peace."

MRS. NED BRADLEY: "Possibly the President took too many people for granted. . . he was misinformed. . . too many ambitious people at the top. . . the law should take its course now. Maybe the President was a little long in doing something about Watergate due to misplaced confidence. . . I don't think the President was personally involved."

MENARD FIELD: "I believe the President was right in saying he was guilty and responsible for the Watergate Case, not directly but indirectly as his men are involved. He was honest enough to own up to it and I thought his speech was touching. Indications are that he is doing his utmost to correct the situation and he is man enough not to 'pass the buck'. As he said he assumed the responsibility when he went into office and he didn't duck any issues and seemed to be honest in what he said."

MRS. DORRIS JONES: "I found the President's speech more impressive than usual. I think what he did needed to be done, meaning, to bring the Watergate Case out in the open, but I wouldn't want to pass judgement."

MRS. LARRY GUTHRIE: "I'm behind the President all the way."

JIM CONNER: "He didn't tell us anything that we didn't already know."

EARL EDWARDS: "I think he laid the cards on the table. I don't believe the President is involved and he sounded very sincere in his talk."

RICHARD THOMAS: "I think Mr. Nixon handled the situation the best possible way — I think he is honest in what he said. Of course he must take the blame, just like a pilot must be responsible for his plane and crew."

MILTON WEEMS: "What it boils down to is simply stealing and getting caught."

T. L. HOLLAND: "I thought it was a weak speech. . . didn't say much, mostly a cover up."

MRS. ART RATZLAFF: "Although we should be loyal to our President, I have my doubts of whether he spoke in all innocence. I think he would be aware of some of the doings in the Watergate Case."

New Arrivals

SHAWNDA Heflin of Floydada is one of many who has added MIA on her POW bracelet. After learning that Major Harold Lineberger's name had not appeared on any of the Prisoner of War lists, Shawnda went through the proper procedures and was pleased to learn that the Major is a Texan from the San Antonio area, and immediately wrote Lineberger's family, his wife and three sons. This week she received a reply from Mrs. Lineberger and Shawnda has consented to share the letter with us. In this way she feels that others who are wearing MIA will be encouraged to continue to wear the bracelet and to write letters through the proper channels, to let MIA families know that the public's prayers are with them.

Following is Mrs. Lineberger's letter:
Dear Shawnda: Thank you for your letter, for being concerned, and for wearing a POW-MIA bracelet. The bracelet you are wearing has my husband's name on it. Hal is missing in action, is a pilot, and was flying out of Thailand. Needless to say we, our three boys and I, were terribly disappointed when Hal's name did not appear on any of the lists, however we have not given up, and will not until the very end. We still have hope and will continue to pray for his safe return. Please don't let the MIAs be forgotten, wear your bracelet until all the MIAs have been accounted for, and pray for Hal.

Thank You, Mrs. H. B. Lineberger

PARENTS of the Floydada Band students are certainly to be commended for their participation in the Band Festival Saturday and I noticed several parents who were working that no longer have youngsters in the band. A big thanks to them too. Without the efforts of mothers making and donating some 500 sandwiches and the fathers dipping into their pockets for cash to pay for food ingredients purchased, the Band Boosters Concession would not have been successful. Floydada was swarming with band students from some 17 area schools including elementary and junior high.

With out of town directors, parents, and bus drivers along with the students, the figure of 1000 people wouldn't be far off. The Floydada Band Boosters took in approximately $805 from sales of sandwiches, which were donated by band parents, Frito pies, doughnuts and Cokes. Of this amount, we realized approximately $650 profit! In case you are wondering where this profit goes, it pays for various band trips the youngsters take throughout the school year, which are not under the jurisdiction of their school, including the cost of lodging and eats. I know the band students appreciate our efforts in sponsoring these trips.

"How To Murder Your Husband," borrowed from the Jan. 1973 issue of Hook Drugs Inc. statistics show that the average American wife can expect to live 10 years longer than her mate.

Since the male species succumbs faster to wear and tear and since he is an intolerable lout, any wife can speed up his demise by several forms of murder - and socially acceptable!
Here's all you have to do: Feed him excessively until he gets to the roly-poly state. It's easy to fatten him up - say 50 pounds of blubber - by heaping his plate with second helpings of rich sauces and gooey gravies. That excess fat will increase his susceptibility to heart disease, diabetes, liver and kidney diseases and circulatory disorders. And don't forget the in-between meal snacks and that liquor and beer that he so richly deserves.

Raise his cholesterol by feeding him lots of eggs, butter and heavily marbled meats. Never bake or broil, especially when you can fry with hydrogenated fat. Raising his cholesterol will up his chances for a fatal coronary attack. While you're at it, remember to put salt in everything he eats to help raise his blood pressure.

Get him into the smoking habit, especially after he's properly fed. It's such a romantic touch to light his cigarette. If he ever thinks of quitting cigarettes, remind him how manly he looks smoking. This is a sure-fire way of raising his odds for lung cancer, a coronary or a respiratory disease.

Don't let him exercise. Turn on the TV, fetch the paper for him and prop him up in his favorite chair. If he mentions bowling, swimming or golf, jogging, quickly ridicule the idea. Imagine a man his age taking up these sports.

Don't let him take a physical, whatever you do. All your good work would surely go to waste. Help him procrastinate... until it's "a little more convenient."

Never let him go to bed early. Any time past midnight should do the trick. Arrange a whirlwind social calendar that keeps him on the go. Start as soon as he drags himself home from work. As for yourself, you can always make up for lost sleep while he's at work.

Let your hubby do the strenuous chores - for example, the house painting, major repairs, gardening and electrical work. But be sure he does it during the weekends when he plans to relax. Get him started bright and early - if, this activity relaxes him, forget it.

Plan your vacation carefully. If he wants to exercise, relax and get away from your cooking, don't let him. Instead plan a cross-country drive on

LA PETITE CONTESTANTS MAY HAVE ESCORTS

Mother, if your La Petite (age 3-6) is hesitant about coming on stage to appear in the Miss La Petite Pageant, let her have an escort. This escort could be a brother or friend. This would help your little girl come on stage by having someone out there with her. Our most beautiful little girls are sometimes quite bashful. However, if they do not have to go out by themselves, they often will model very well, and this helps the shy little girl get past some of that shyness.

So find her an escort (if this is her problem - shyness) and let her be in the pageant. Escorts will need to attend rehearsal Thursday night, May 3 also.

Fair Question

Small fry to father - "How come soda pop will spoil my dinner and martinis give you an appetite?"

The Mainland with a grueling schedule of sightseeing "musts". This should prove harder for him than going to work.

Spend his money foolishly as fast as he can earn it. Let him worry about a few bills. Nag him.

Belittle him. Tell him he's not the only fish in the sea... and besides, who else would want him. That should put the final nail in his coffin.

The reception was hosted by members of the Trinity Lutheran Church where the event was held.

Lockney Civics Class Expresses Opinions About Presidents Talk

JANET McCORMOCK: — "I think that President Nixon is a fine president. I can't believe that he knew about the Watergate bugging until it was already done.

Since Watergate has become such a big issue now, I feel that the investigation should continue until the whole truth is discovered. After all, the office of the President is at stake and we do, as Americans, need an honest President.

As of right now, I do not feel that there is any need for impeachment proceedings. But if it becomes necessary, the government better take action at once."

RICHARD WOOTEN — "I personally feel that President Nixon is responsible for the Watergate affair. Since he is the head of his whole operation, he would have to have a knowledge about the bugging. Before the national elections in November the leaders of the Republican Party, including Mr. Nixon, tried their best to keep the Watergate affair silent. They knew if they did not do this, they would be tragically hurt at election time. After the election, both Republican and Democratic leaders wished to bring the Watergate affair into the open and clean up the matter.

The Watergate affair will probably have lasting effects on the Republican Party that will damage it. I do not feel that impeachment procedures against the President would do any good at all.

If he was impeached we would have someone just as bad or worse than him to take his place as President. The whole affair was utterly senseless and created by senseless men who should have left certain things alone."

NANCY HENDERSON — "The Watergate affair epitomizes the beliefs of many people in this nation: no one is to be trusted, when deceit and dishonesty arise in the White House, we may really begin to fear for the ethical quality of our country. In his speech Monday night, President Nixon seemed convincing with his respected denials of any knowledge of the bugging; his integrity was unquestionable in shouldering the blame. However, his vague speech, dealing mainly with generalities, left the impression that he was trying to hide something.

It is my belief that a few of many dishonest politicians have been caught red-handed, and the publicity the Watergate affair has received will hopefully put an end to the activities of these unethical politicians."

LOUIE BYBEE — "I feel that the Watergate affair is just a build up of what has been happening in politics for the last several elections. An example of this is the democratic party bugging the headquarters of the Goldwater campaign. The Watergate affair was built up so much by the press that I think the public demanded something to be done.

I don't think the democratic party had anything to bug this year so I don't think Nixon had anything to do with it."

LESCA HAYES — "Will President Nixon be impeached? Is he responsible for the Watergate? What is all the commotion going on in Congress? These questions are being asked by millions. As for me, I think President Nixon is responsible for the Watergate. Although he made it quite clear in his speech that he knew nothing of the bugging that was going on, I feel that he should have. Now, he is making excuses and even taking full responsibility just to cover up for retired staff.

This procedure leads me to think that there is more to the tragedy than revealed. Because of this, I think that impeachment will be brought up within the next year. However, I do not think President Nixon will be removed from office."

Tracy Dickson Runs Wild At Plainview Meet

Former Lockney Longhorn track star Tracy Dickson ran wild in the 10th annual All-College Track Meet held at Wayland College Saturday April 28, to pace West Texas State University to the championship.

Dickson won the 100-yard-dash with a time of 9.5 which was just a tenth of a second off Jacob Henry's record set four years ago. Dickson also won the 220-yard-dash with a time of 22.3, and he nipped the anchor man from Dallas Baptist at the tape in the 440-relay as both teams were caught in 42.3.

The 5-10, 155-pound junior with a fluid stride nosed DBC's Willis Anderson at the wire in the 100-yard dash.

West Texas State finished the meet with 73 points. The nearest team to WTSU was Southwestern Oklahoma who had 53 points.

Tracy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dickson who live north of Aiken, Texas.

Energy Crisis Real, GSPA Says

The real impact of a fuel shortage will be felt by Great Plains farmers by September, according to fuel experts in a conference at the University of Nebraska April 30-4.

Localized shortages may be felt before September, the experts said, and fuel for irrigation could be critical in certain areas during peak pumping periods.

"The energy crisis is real," said James West, principle advisor on fuels and energy at the Department of the Interior. "We may be hard pressed to supply fuel and energy requirements this year."

An increase in farm fuel storage capacity was urged by both federal and oil industry spokesmen at the conference, who warned that diesel supplies will be tight. Irrigation producers using both natural gas and butane should check with suppliers and make arrangements for stand-by fuels, according to natural gas officials. And they added that some curtailment of natural gas is likely in peak pumping periods.

The fuel shortage has been developing since 1967 partly because Congress has not heeded warnings from government and industry fuel spokesmen, the experts concluded.

"The gasoline shortage is caused by lack of refinery capacity and by the emission control systems on cars," said Granville Garside, special counsel to the Senate Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs.

"Diesel fuel will be short because our refineries are producing gasoline which has a higher profit return," Garside continued. He added that while diesel will be short it probably will be available at least until September, but farmers may have to search out supply sources.

Fuel shortages could continue for the next several years unless some leadership and proper planning emerges soon, the experts warned. They recommended the establishment of a National Energy Commission, incentives for industry to find new sources of oil and gas, and a more realistic approach to environmental problems.

GSPA has contacted authorities about the energy crisis on the farm, encouraging them to make sure fuel is available now to produce food required by the American consumer at a realistic price.

Says Farmers'opia Is Near

...that is able to operate a top capacity. "By operating as close to top capacity as possible, we get more return from the dollars in fixed cost and investment. The chance to operate our agricultural plant at a much fuller capacity than ever before is now within grasp. "This year 43 million additional acres are being made available as farmers undertake the greatest production effort in the history of U.S. agriculture," he said. But pointed to the world wide demand for higher-protein foods, the increasing ability of nations to buy feedstuffs and livestock, the growing markets in the Orient, the opening up of Mainland China to American trade and said all these factors give American agriculture and American Agribusiness growth prospects unequalled in history. Floydada Students Comment On Presidents Talk....

DON ED HOLMES: "I sympathize with Mr. Nixon as leader of our nation and I feel it is his job to resign, not to have to worry about a bunch of newspapermen. The Democrats weren't hurt, nothing has been lost by a landslide anyway. The blame, however, because they knew they were going to lose and they still bugged the Watergate. I would have been right if the election had been called and they were totally uncalled for with the election results they did. I know Nixon is a very smart man, but I don't know when he is winning an election, and smart is the difference between right and wrong. The Nixon had nothing to do with it. The Democrats took off their people who were raising so much money for the Watergate affair. The Washington Post is the maker; they are doing all the investigating. It's a dirty mess which all amounts to nothing has been backed by the good old American free press. I wish Nixon could do something about the press to mind its own business, but this is its business and wish the press would let the thing blow over and get back to running the country so we can have a States to live in."

LISA GREGORY: "Americans will never be united until each individual does his part of the blame. The Watergate Affair may have been the President's administration, but he has taken the blame and taken the blame even though he is innocent of this affair. Our country will pull itself out only when people quit dragging it through the dirt. President was sincere in his message on TV, and he was sincere in backing him and working towards a drop of Watergate — we all make bad judgments back to work and make America undoubtedly the best on earth."

RICKY OWENS: "After watching the President can now say I am behind Mr. Nixon one believe he had nothing to do with Watergate. He said that he said in his speech I agreed with. He is doing believe he is doing it very well. This is the time for Government and Politics are just getting started. I know there is someone truthful, honest in Washington. I know Mr. Nixon will now turn his more grave and larger problems than that of the Affair."

JIMMY CERVANTES: "The Watergate scandal doubt in efficiency of our government. Mr. Nixon not involved, but he does assume the guilt for the we trust Mr. Nixon? At one time he told us he was Vietnam war to an end, yet this war is not over the verge of beginning another one. Our economy has Mr. Nixon has been in office. It seems as if he has hypnotized the country. We no longer know what would be better off if we would just prepare for the shock of our lives."

(Name withheld by request): "President self-appointed, single-handed savior of our country suffered a drastic drop in integrity... perhaps because of a certain scandal we are all familiar with. I think them a little too idealistic for the present. I think less executive privilege and a little more respect for Congress and their decisions. Incidentally, didn't his April 31 speech almost to run outside and fly your flag? What a gimmick president may be trying to gain statesman status in our time have achieved, but let's face it, a politician at heart with purely political motives."

KAREN WILLIS: "I admire Nixon's actions in the top aides' resignations, and also for taking the blame for the entire Watergate affair. Like he said, when someone is guilty, the blame must be taken from the top. I mean, however, that Nixon is guilty. Students don't think that doesn't mean the student body president is the whole thing. The same thing is true, on a much smaller scale with our government. With a sure re-election in mind, he had really nothing to gain by the re-election. He knew he would be re-elected without a doubt, so why criminal activity? My criticism of Nixon's administration is not 'sugary-ness' about the integrity of the administration in a few too many tight smiles and cliches about innocence, but still I cannot believe he would be so innocent to remove the 'whitewash' in the White House help restore some public trust in our government. I think this entire affair has done nothing to improve the stipulations that every government official is a 'liar'. That thought is in the minds of millions."

KIRK MCINTOSH: "Nixon's direct or indirect involvement in the Watergate affair has pinpointed a hunch which I have had since his election in 1968. That hunch is that Nixon is every political trick he has ever learned to deceive the public into thinking that he is the savior of America. In reality, re-election is foremost in his mind. He has done some good abroad, but his degrading effect on the numerous. I would not be at all surprised to find that Nixon has the average American buffaloed well into the prospects of a possible awakening to the extremely dim."

TORNADO Safety Rules

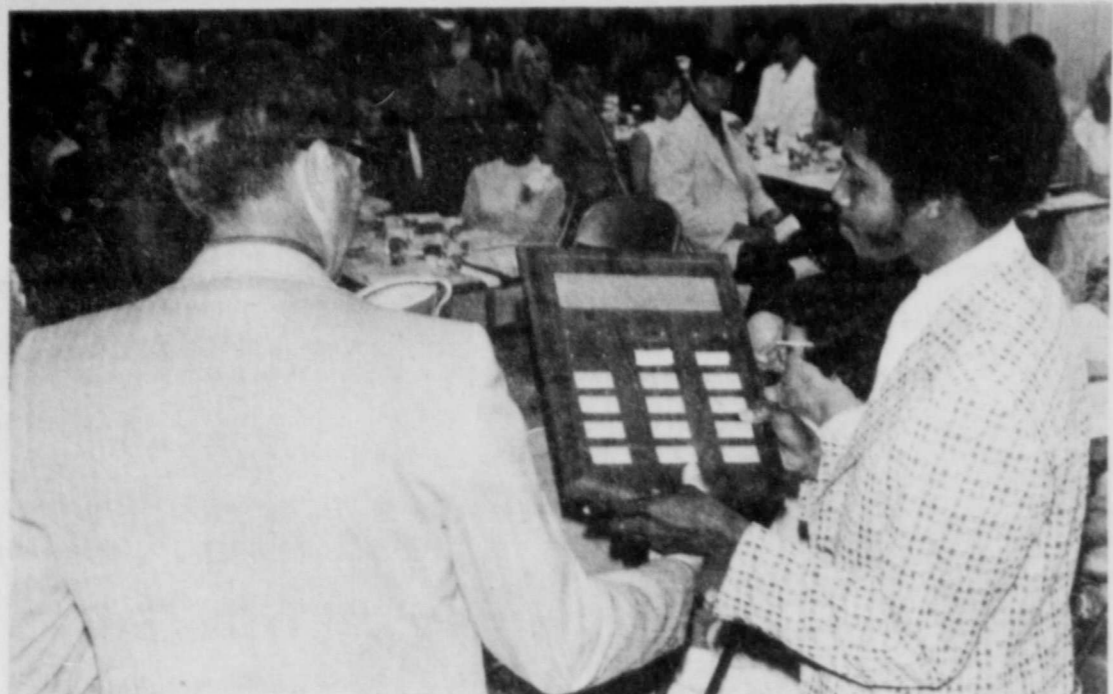

TO KNOW WHAT TO DO WHEN A TORNADO IS APPROACHING MAY MEAN THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN LIFE AND DEATH!

- I If you are near a tornado cellar:
When time permits, go to a tornado cellar, cave or underground excavation which should have an air outlet to help equalize the air pressure. It should be kept fit for use, free from water, gas or debris; and preferably equipped with pick and shovel. THERE IS NO UNIVERSAL PROTECTION AGAINST TORNADOES EXCEPT UNDERGROUND EXCAVATIONS.
- II If you are in open country:
1. Move at right angles to the tornado's path. Tornadoes usually move ahead at about 25 to 40 miles per hour.
2. If there is no time to escape, lie flat in the nearest depression such as a ditch or ravine.
- III If in a city or town:
1. Seek inside shelter, preferably in a strongly reinforced building. STAY AWAY FROM WINDOWS!
2. In homes: The corner of the basement toward the tornado usually offers greatest safety, particularly in frame houses. People in houses without basements can sometimes be protected by taking cover under heavy furniture against inside walls. Doors and windows on the sides of the house away from the tornado may be opened to help reduce damage to the building.
3. Standing against the inside wall on a lower floor of an office building offers some protection.
- IV If in schools:
1. In city areas: If school building is of strongly reinforced construction, stay inside, away from windows, remain near an inside wall on the lower floors when possible. AVOID AUDITORIUMS AND GYMNASIUMS with large, poorly-supported roofs!
2. In rural schools that do not have strongly reinforced construction, remove children and teachers to a ravine or ditch if storm shelter is not available.
- V If in factories and industrial plants:
On receiving a tornado warning, a lookout should be posted to keep safety officials advised of the tornado's approach. Advance preparation should be made for moving workers to sections of the plant offering the greatest protection.
- VI Keep calm. It will not help to get excited. People have been killed by running out into streets and by turning back into the path of a tornado. Even though a warning is issued, chances of a tornado striking one's home or location are very slight. Tornadoes cover such a small zone, as a rule, that relatively only a few places in a warned area are directly affected. You should know about tornadoes though, "just in case."
- VII Keep tuned to your radio or television station for latest tornado advisory information. Do not call the Weather Bureau, except to report a tornado, as your individual request may tie up telephone lines urgently needed to receive special reports or to relay advisories to radio and television stations for dissemination to thousands in the critical area.

Mrs. Fritz Steinfeld was confined to bed during the weekend, recuperating from "walking pneumonia."

Mr. and Mrs. John Farley of Corpus Christi visited her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Brasher, Sunday afternoon. Another brother, Curtis Brasher of Tulia was also present.

Rev. and Mrs. L. J. Durkop's children were all here for the Durkops' 25th wedding anniversary celebration Sunday afternoon, including Mr. and Mrs. Leel Hande, Eric and Mark of Bryan, George Durkop of Lubbock, Luther Durkop of Dallas, and Jimmy of Providence.

Mr. and Mrs. Randy Duckworth of Irving visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Scheele, Ralph and Lisa, this past weekend. They all visited in Plainview Saturday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Haley and Belynda.

Albert Scheele helped his father and mother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Brown of Ruidoso, N.M., move to their home near Edmonson last Wednesday. About 20 farmers in the Providence community attended a meeting Saturday morning sponsored by the Plains Weather Improvement Association. Warren Mathis of Providence was in charge of arrangements for the meeting at Crume Cafe.

Speakers were John Medina and Flip Calhoun of the Association.

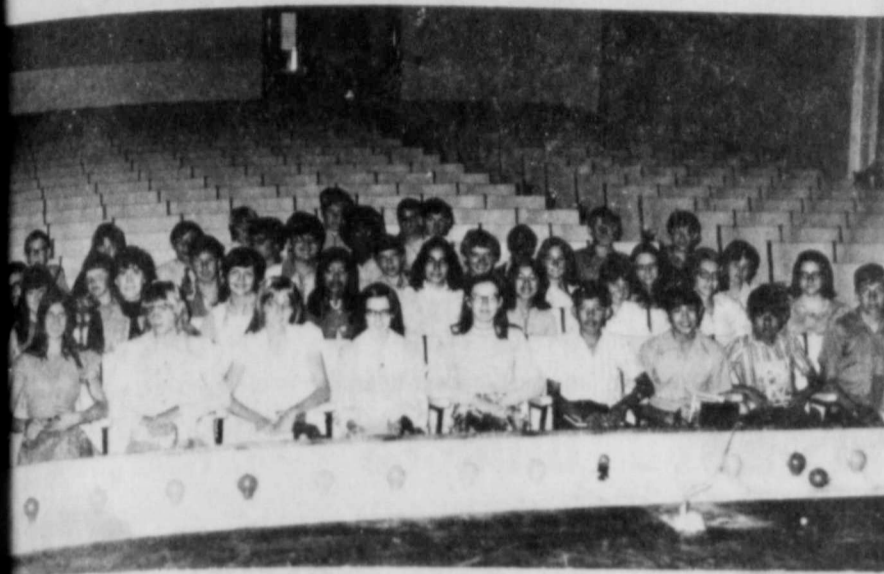

Farmers have to pay 64 cents per acre to participate in the program. It is hoped that with a larger number of farmers, the rates can be cheaper next year. Farmers who have already paid will be protected by the Association through May 12 at least, but if more farmers do not sign up, the money will be refunded.

Lockney Satellite School Seeks New Teacher

Lockney Satellite School is seeking another teacher to replace Mrs. Bill Evans. The school meets daily from 8:30 to 12:30 at First United Methodist Church, and will observe one or two weeks of vacation in the summer.

Five students are now attending the school, which is administered through a program of Lubbock State School. The school also needs teenage volunteers to work with the children every morning during the summer. Thirteen or fourteen Lockney teenagers did volunteer work last summer.

4-H Congress Slated For Texas

The first Texas 4-H Congress, July 10-12 in Houston, will involve members between the ages of 15 and 19 in developing program ideas that reflect the concerns of young people.

"There are two objectives for the Texas 4-H Congress," points out Dr. Don Stormer, state 4-H and youth leader for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "One is to identify specific areas of concern to older youth that have the potential for inclusion in the ongoing 4-H program. County Extension agents and 4-H leaders want additional programs that will complement their effort in meeting the needs and interests of older youth."

"A second objective is to provide a program that will be of interest to Congress delegates. The Texas 4-H Council, a representative group of older youth, has recommended an emphasis on human values and the role they play in decision-making. So, a value-related theme is being developed for the Congress," explains the 4-H official.

Stormer expects a total attendance of more than 500 for the Congress, which will be held at the Shamrock-Hilton Hotel. Participants will include county delegates, members of the 1972 and 1973 Texas 4-H Councils, and 28 county agents.

Each county is entitled to at least one delegate. Additional delegates will depend on the number of older 4-H members in each county. State council members are not included in the county quota.

According to the 4-H leader, a grant of $3,000 by the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo has helped underwrite some of the Congress costs. However, each delegate must still pay his own expenses.

SOUTH PLAINS NEWS by Mrs. Murray Julian

SOUTH PLAINS, April 30 — Daylight Saving Time crept in during the night Saturday, and it was hard to make the Sunday morning church services on time. Beautiful weather for three days in a row was something to be thankful for, but this Monday morning we have a cloud cover. Several farmers are in the fields with tractors, and it is wonderful to have rural roads dry again. School buses could not run the first part of last week off paving due to muddy roads.

Revival services started Sunday morning here at the Baptist Church. The evangelist was here for his first sermon Monday night. Rev. Jack Bailey flew here from Houston Monday, and with Bill Gilbreath, they will conduct meetings at ten o'clock each morning and 8 o'clock each night. Please come to every meeting you are able.

Luncheon meals for the visiting pastor, Rev. Jack Bailey and Rev. Troy Cartmill will be furnished in homes of the community, including those of Mrs. L. T. Wood, Tuesday noon; Mrs. Travis Young, Wednesday noon; Mrs. Bill Gilbreath, Thursday noon; Mrs. Kendis Julian, Friday noon, and on Sunday, members of the church will meet at Fellowship Hall for a church-wide dinner with everyone bringing basket lunches. Evening meals are to be served at the church each night this week after services are over.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Upton and children of Bartlesville arrived over the weekend and visited here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Upton, and also were in Floydada to be with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Johnson. Johnson underwent throat surgery this past Friday at the Crosbyton Hospital and Mrs. Upton and children remained here this week to be near her father while he is convalescing. Jimmy returned to Bartlesville Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Beard and family of Hereford came Saturday to spend that afternoon and part of Sunday here with her sister, Rev. and Mrs. Troy Cartmill and girls. Don Beard was a visitor at the South Plains Baptist Church for Sunday morning services.

Mrs. Glen Whitfill of Sweetwater spent Thursday and Friday here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Nichols. Mrs. Margaret Abbott Davis of Oceana, Virginia, who has been staying with her mother, Mrs. Abbott in Plainview since her father's death, was a luncheon guest with her childhood friend, Mrs. Whitfill at the Nichols home Friday.

L. N. Johnson and Raymond Reeves left Thursday for Lake Amistead, near Del Rio, to do some fishing, but winds, car trouble and other mishaps kept them from getting much fishing done. They arrived home Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Arby Mulder and daughter, Mrs. Jerry Taylor, arrived home Sunday night from Albuquerque, N.M. where they attended a niece's wedding Saturday night. Miss Patricia Mulder became the bride of Anthony Hernandez. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O'Dell Mulder.

Around fourteen were present each night for cottage prayer meetings last week, in the homes of the E. P. Pritchetts, the Travis Youngs, the Bill Gilbreaths, the Troy Cartmills, and Mrs. Walter Wood.

We had rain Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights, and Thursday morning it was 42 degrees.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack McCown of Lake Whitney have been visiting here the past week with her mother, Mrs. Walter Wood. Mrs. McCown was a visitor at the Baptist Church with her mother Sunday morning.

Mrs. Ruby Higginbotham and Mrs. Alton Higginbotham were hostesses Sunday in Floydada in the Alton Higginbotham home for a birthday dinner in honor of twins, Denise and Deneen Johnson on their 14th birthday. Guests were Mrs. L. N. Johnson, Shari Johnson from Levelland, Carlton Johnson, Denise and Deneen and members of the Alton Higginbotham family, including Lori, Kelly and Bryan.

Mrs. Becci Helms is to be hostess for a bridal shower in her home in Plainview, 1207 afternoon to be met by Mrs. Don Marble and Mrs. Fred Marble. She has been visiting the past three weeks with her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Wells and girls, and with her sister, Mrs. Maydell Lee of Port Neches.

Mrs. Curtis Sanders, home since Wednesday, is recuperating at her home from recent major surgery at Central Plains Hospital in Plainview. She is getting along fine, but will not be allowed out of the house for two weeks.

Garvin Beedy was re-elected as president of the Golden Spread Charolais Association during the sale and association meeting April 14 in Abilene. Beedy has some fine Charolais cattle on his farm.

Today they are shearing sheep on the Buck Ford farm at South Plains. They have many new-born lambs, and are hoping for warm weather for the shearing.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvan Kinniburgh for Sunday dinner were their daughter, Mrs. Teddy Dorne and Melissa in Plainview; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Horne of Truscott, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dillard of Lockney.

Those of you who would like to have a copy of the book, "Favorite Stories about Floyd County" by Mrs. Alma Holmes, can find the book at the Upton Grocery. All proceeds from the books will go to the museum in Floydada.

Mrs. Poyner Roberts of Floydada spent Sunday and Monday here with her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Kendis Julian and children.

All mothers of children who start to school next year, need to check to see if your child has all the immunizations required by state law for entering school. You may call Mrs. Don Marble for information.

Santa Fe Getting Ready For United Auto Transports To Move To Amarillo

Santa Fe Railway officials said Friday they have purchased a 234-acre tract of land between Santa Fe tracks and Tradewind Airport.

The land, acquired for $326,000, officials said, will be used for expansion of automobile unloading facilities.

The railroad has also authorized expenditure of an additional $679,000 to build tracks and ramps on the site. The expansion plans were first revealed in November by Santa Fe president John S. Reed.

During a visit to Amarillo to announce plans for construction of a rail welding plant, Reed mentioned a proposal for increasing the volume of auto unloading activity here.

United Transports, Inc., announced last month that it will move about 16 containers from Floydada to Amarillo to handle the additional load here. The annual payroll for those persons is estimated at $290,000.

Santa Fe's existing auto unloading facilities, located near the intersection of Air Park and SE 34th, for years have handled the unloading of

860 Screened At Plainview Glaucoma Clinic

At the Glaucoma Screening Program held at Plainview High School Tuesday evening, April 24, 115 residents of Plainview and surrounding areas were referred for further medical eye examination due to the test showing an elevated pressure within their eyes, which is one of the early danger signals of this blinding eye disease — it does not always mean that Glaucoma is present, this can only be determined by a complete medical eye examination.

Eight hundred sixty persons were screened in the two hour period by medical doctors, members of the Hale-Floyd-Briscoe Counties Medical Society, serving as volunteers. The Glaucoma Screening Program was sponsored by the Texas Society for the Prevention of Blindness and the Plainview Noon Lions Club.

For free information on eye health and eye safety write to: Texas Society for the Prevention of Blindness, Inc., 3617 Fannin Street, Houston, Texas 77004.
