Whirlwinds In Good Condition, Lack Experience

The Floydada Whirlwinds behind some other teams in reported for football workouts Monday morning in excellent condition, but, according to head coach L. G. Wilson, realizing they have a long way to go. Returning lettermen from the 'Winds' 1972 state quarterfinalist team number only nine - all seniors - and Wilson says they know that, experience-wise, they are

District 4-AA. But the Whirlwind head coach said the players reported Monday ... in better condition than any group I've seen here... better prepared physically and mentally "Wilson said many players had been working out on their own during the summer. John Cagle, the 'Winds' mention list last year as a junior, behind Tulia's tough senior quarterback Allan Ebeling.

Other experience in the Wind backfield comes from Rance Young. A regular at defensive back last year, Young is a good bet to start at halfback, both offensively and defensively, although in the preseason he is working out at second-string quarterback due to an emergency appendectomy to Cagle's regular backup junior, Mike Vickers. Vickers, the junior varsity quarterback last year should be ready to go by the first game, Wilson said, but will miss early season workouts.

Young will handle the place-kicking chores again this year (his field-goal and extra-point boots figured in several important Whirlwind victories in '72), but the 'Winds don't have a punter yet. Wilson said the two best-looking punting prospects so far are Rex Yeary, who logged considerable playing time last year as a sophomore back, and Ruben DeLeon, a senior letterman guard and lineback

Another returning backfield letterman is Danny Bradford, a fullback and defensive halfback who saw a lot of playing time last year.

Marc Smitherman, a starter last year at offensive end, and Lynn Becker, a 1972 all-district honorable-mention selection at tackle, are back. Smitherman plays halfback on defense; Becker will double at offensive end.

SOUTH PLAINS, August 12-18 - Stormy weather, with heavy lightning and thunder during the night August 8, caused some rain showers in our community with the Frank McClures, Sylvin Kinnibrugh and Ernest Wells getting over two inches. Grigsby Milton, Kendis Julian and Billy Staniforth Jr. received over an inch, so the rainfall was quite varied. The Ursel Taylors, east of South Plains received less than an inch, and at the Sanders homes a wind accompanying the storm, blew down a large tree, a swing set and did more minor damage. This week farmers are back in the fields, and are starting irrigation wells on maize, which is just beginning to head or bloom daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. McBrayer of 5309 Avenue T in Lubbock, and III, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Bickley of Lockney, exchanged wedding vows Saturday, August 11, at the Trinity Baptist Church in Lubbock at 8 o'clock p.m. The Reverend Francis L. Wilson, pastor of the church, presided at the ceremony.

The couple exchanged vows before an altar centered with a mass arrangement of white mixed flowers flanked by arched candelabra and candle trees, holding pillar candles and fresh lemon leaves.

The organist, Mrs. John Arellano of Wichita Falls, accompanied the vocalists, Miss Caroline Bell of Lubbock, and Mark McBrayer, also of Lubbock, brother of the bride. The reader was Miss Carolyn Howe of San Antonio.

Miss Sherilyn Cooper of Lubbock served the bride as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Louis Duck and Mrs. John E. Lewis, both of Houston; Mrs. Michael Stephens of San Antonio; and Miss Barbara Timms of Dallas. Flower girl was Miss Elizabeth Ice of Monahans, cousin of the Bridal attendants wore floor length yellow voile dresses featuring a square neckline, ruffled cap sleeves and a gathered skirt finished with a wide flounce. The neckline, waistline, and flounce were edged with white cotton lace daisies. They wore short white gloves and carried bouquets of white daisies, babies breath, and ivy trimmed with yellow ribbon.

Best man was Gary Mangold of Lockney. Groomsmen were Steve Barker of Lockney, Ted Capka of El Paso, and Steve and Tobby Watkins, both of Greenville, cousins of the groom. Ushers were Gary Marr of Lubbock and Gary Stennett of Plainview.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a Victorian style gown of carried white basket arrangements of starburst mums, ellow daisies and baby's breath. Gowns of the candlelighters and flower girl were accented with velvet ribbon and clusters of daisies.

The groom's father served as best man. Ushers were Randy Hale, brother of the groom, Kent Hale, a cousin, and Mike Simpson, all of Floydada, and Dean Lester. Hobbs, N.M. Serving as groomsmen were Richard Hale, Floydada and Denny Alberts of Illinois. Following the wedding a reception was held in Fellowship Hall of the church. The bride's table was covered with an original heirloom bridal cloth given the bride by her great aunt, Mrs. Sally Shipman. Presiding at the table were Miss Jacque Crawford and Mrs. Larry Agee. Silver and crystal appointments flanked a silver antique candelabra which held an arrangement of yellow and white daisies. The groom's table, centered with a fruit arrangement, was laid with an ecru lace cloth, copper and milk glass appointments. Serving were Mrs. J. S. Hale Jr., aunt of the groom, and Mrs. Dallas Ramsey. Others in the houseparty were Mrs. Larry McCants of Hobbs, Mrs. W. H. Simpson Jr., Miss Cindy Simpson and Mrs. Bill Hale, Floydada, and Mrs. J. S. Walton Jr., of Lubbock After a wedding trip to Dallas the couple will reside at 310 East Okla St., Weatherford, Okla., where the groom will enter pharmacy school at Southwestern State College this fall. Mrs. Hale is a doctor's receptionist in Weatherford. Both the bride and groom are graduates of Floydada High School and New Mexico Junior College graduates.

Margaret Dean McBrayer, white silk organza, appliqued in clustered venise lace lilacs. The dress was fashioned with a high neckline, full sleeves John Fletcher "Bick" Bickley shirred to lace cuffs and rufflings, and a skirt encircled in a double lace-edged flounce, and a chapel length train. A caplet of venise lace flowers held the tiara of veiling edged in lace flowers. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis, yellow sweetheart roses, baby's breath and ivy. Tied in the ribbon was her grandmother's wedding band. A reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church following the ceremony. The bride's table was covered with a floor length cloth of silk illusion with lace appliques and seed pearls. Centering the table was an antique silver epergne holding an arrangement of mixed white and yellow flowers. The table held a traditional wedding cake decorated with fresh yellow and white daisies.

The groom's table was covered with a floor length cloth of lime green. The table was centered with brass candelabra holding an arrangement of yellow and orange greenery.

Those assisting at the reception were Misses Marsha Wyneken of Houston, cousin of the bride; Cindy Walters of Dallas, Darla Neagle, Kristina Hansen, Lina Harris, and Bobbie Jan Blackburn, Mrs. Max Wilkinson and Mrs. Jack Cope, all of Lubbock.

Following a wedding trip to Colorado, the couple will be at home in Lubbock after August

The bride is a 1969 graduate of Monterey High School in Lubbock. She attended Howard Payne College and was a June graduate of the Methodist Hospital School of Nursing in Lubbock, where she is presently employed. She was a member of Delta Chi Rho social sorority and Gamma Beta Phi honorary sorority at Howard Payne College.

The groom is a 1969 graduate of Lockney High School. He is a senior in the School of Mechanical Engineering at Texas Tech where he is a member of Pi Tau Sigma honorary fraternity of mechanical engineering, and a member of the varsity baseball team.

Mrs. Bob Copeland, organnist, accompanied Richard Hunt as he sang "Because." She also accompanied Mrs. Danny Murphree of Plainview as she sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Wedding Prayer. The bride was escorted by her father down an aisle decorated by brass hurricane candelabra and garlands of yellow daisies.

She wore a Golina original Renaissance gown designed by Christos of white silk organza and beaded peau d'ange lace. The molded bodice was edged in pleated ruffles and the long fitted sleeves were cuffed in matching ruffle and beaded lace. The high rise waistline was marked in a set in midriff and beaded lace, and the bell shaped skirt was shirred to back fullness forming a chapel length train. The entire hemline was encircled in a wide border of scalloped lace.

Her camelot capulet was encrusted with seed pearls and the chapel length mantilla veil was accented with French peau d'ange lace. She carried an Edwardian bouquet of yellow sweetheart rose buds and showers of fresh baby's breath.

In carrying out the something old, new, borrowed and blue, the bride carried a lace handkerchief which the groom's mother used in her wedding and wore a pearl necklace, and also belonging to the groom's mother.

Mrs. Rick Harris of Lubbock, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Shonda Hopper. Farmington, N.M., cousin of the bride, and Diane Faught of Hobbs, N.M. Miss De Lynn Ramsey, Floydada, was flower girl and Julie Hopper of Hobbs and Tolya Hickerson, Floydada, were candlelighters.

Bridal attendants were gowned identically in yellow dotted Swiss voile. The floor length gowns were fashioned with A-line skirts, accented in white Venice lace daisies and ruffling. They wore wide brimmed picture hats of white Italian straw laced with yellow ribbons and streamers, and

Peqqy's Meddlin's BY PEGGY MEDLEY MANY Floydada football fans went to Childress last weekend to see two of their favorite gridiron heroes in action in the east-west all-star game. Adrian Helms and Bert Grimes who had been bringing the spectators to their feet the past seasons in the high school years at Floydada were in the same fine form in Childress. Oh! By the way, this was in August of 1953. We've had many players there since including Terry Bunch for the 1973 game.

Also in August, 1953, record cotton and forage crops were maturing; drillers rig up for Sinclair 10,000 foot test for oil on the J. M. Massie tract four miles north of Floydada; as to cattle in Views and Comments, this reflection from a market

DAN Miller of the Chicago Times tells us what to expect in Phase IV prices. . .

APPAREL - Higher prices due to higher costs of labor and acute world-wide shortages of wool and cotton; Appliances -Modest increases but not for several weeks. Main pressure is said to come from the steel industry. Major appliances such as refrigerators and washers will increase $5 each it was said, while the freezer could be priced 50 dollars more and a dryer 20 dollars more. Automobile makers are most likely to get two or three price increases throughout the model year, totaling around $125 increase per car; TV sets, stereos, radios etc., will probably not be affected too much as price controls generally have had too much effect on this highly competitive industry.

Food - eating will take the biggest bite of consumers budget under Phase IV: Homebuilding and remodeling will be a mixed bag, but construction costs should remain steady at least through this year. While it may cost less to build a new home under Phase IV, consumers may not be able to put any new furniture or carpeting in it. Strong foreign demand for U.S. made textiles and U.S. import quotas have combined to push costs substantially higher. Medical costs - The ever increasing price spiral for medical attention is certain to continue. Prescription-drug prices can be expected to continue their long-term slow decline, but over the counter drugs, such as brand named aspirins, cold remedies, etc., are headed higher.

PICTURE-PRETTY-Spring flowers blossom out in poppy red, lavender, and gold on this white cotton satin formal worn by 1973 Maid of Cotton Debra Ploch. By Teal Traina, the V-necked gown is cut deep in back and set off with a ribbonstriped belt. A matching triangular scarf completes the look.

Utilities - The companies can justify higher rates because their costs have risen markedly. And on it goes.  FOR those who served in the Navy or who are now serving, you may be interested in knowing that the bell bottom trousers are being phased out. I've always wondered how men can quickly and expertly button 13 buttons on the bell bottoms while someone on ship is piping "man your stations'. Anyway the new outfits consist of a double breasted blue coat with silver buttons, a white hat with black visor, and zippered trousers with slanted pockets. The new uniform will ecome mandatory dress July 1, 1975, for all Navy men with more than a year's service left.

WANT to find out what kind of attitude you have? Study your handwriting. It reflects your total personality, I hear. For those who write with perpendicular letters it means you are poised, cool-headed and self possessed. Mild rightward slant indicates a friendly, affectionate individual, extreme right slant portrays a very expressive nature, and left leaning writing suggests a reserved person. Nonsubordinates write large, as they need attention and lots of it. Medium script belongs to a well-adjusted, average individual, while small writing marks the scholar. Wide spacing between lines and words indicates an expansive manner and broad attitude, while narrow spacing belongs to the writer with a prudent regard for utilizing every asset. Medium or average spacing denotes good judgement, normal sense of economy and critical sense. Appreciation of logic can be expected from people who connect letters, while breaks between letters-point up musical sense and intuitiveness. Heavy writing shows love of color, deep feelings and a regard for sincerity in others. Light pressure points up short lived emotions, while mixed pressure of the point indicates emotional instability. Of course, it could mean a clogged-up ball point pen too!

Managing Cotton Irrigation For Maximum Profit

LUBBOCK - During the next 2 to 3 weeks, South Plains cotton producers must again make important decisions regarding irrigation. "Many face the decision of whether to apply another summer irrigation; or in the case with June cotton, is it profitable to irrigate this month?" says Dr. Robert Metzer, area cotton agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Ser-Many producers irrigated

Have good, fresh-tasting vegetables next winter - by freezing them now. Almost any vegetable can be frozen. from asparagus to zucchini. And it doesn't take much time or a lot of equipment. All you really need is a big kettle of hot water for blanching, a wire basket, cold water for cooling and packaging containers.

Despite the simplicity, some people have problems with rozen foods being of poor quality. To resolve this, there are four simple steps essential to excellent quality.

First use young and tender vegetables. Then freeze them immediately. Leaving them in the garden even a day too long can mean the difference between tough and tender condition next winter.

- the most imporblanching tant step. This brief plunge into boiling water is the big secret to successful home freezing Its whole purpose is to stop the action of enzymes. Needed for the living plant's growth, these enzymes continue to work - in the freezer even unless stopped by blanching. Their action results in off-flavor, toughness or mushiness and off-colors.

Fortunately, blanching is easy. All that's needed is a gallon of rapidly boiling water in a kettle, about a pint of vegetables and a wire basket. Put the vegetables in the wire basket and plunge them into the water. Cover the kettle and start timing immediately. Exact timing is important.

Too much or too little will of ice water or even cold running water will do the job. Check a cookbook or freezing manual for exact times. But generally it takes about as long or longer to cool as it does to blanch

Next drain the vegetables and pack in airtight containers. Milk, ice cream or cottage cheese cartons can be used only if the vegetables are first sealed in plastic freezer bags. Then, quickly set the containers in the freezer. making sure it is set at zero degrees F. or lower to maintain quality.

Follow these four main steps and use recommended blanching and cooling times for better quality vegetables. For more information on freezing contact the County Extension Agents Office.

MATADOR (Special) - A 35year-old man was in custody here in connection with the rape of a 20-year-old Matador woman early Monday.

Michael King, 35, of Matador, formerly of Dallas, was arraigned on a rape charge about 5 p.m. Monday before Justice of the Peace F. C. Bourland, King, identified as a farm laborer, was being held late Monday in Motley County Jail in lieu of $25,000 bond.

Motley County Sheriff Jincks Wilson said the charges stem from the alleged sexual assault of a single Matador woman, who called officers about 3 a.m. She said a man had entered her residence in east Matador and assaulted her at knifepoint.

Wilson said he arrested the suspect about 4:30 a.m. in a parked pickup in east Matador. The sheriff said King offered no resistance when arrested. The charges against King will be presented in a specially called session of the Motley County Grand Jury Monday, Wilson said.

The Texas Antiquities Committee will reportedly seek a court injunction to prevent the filling of Mackenzie Lake, if $60,000 to $80,000 is not raised to save archeological sites in Tule Canyon. Construction on Mackenzie Dam is more than half complete.

The state attorney general's office has not yet given any agency or local governing unit the responsibility for funding the excavation of the sites, and requests by the antiquities committee to the Texas Water Development Board, the Mackenzie Municipal Water Authority, and West Texas State and Texas Tech universities have all resulted in replies of "no money available" for the project. The dam and reservoir, designed to hold water from a 188-square-mile drainage watershed, will furnish water for Floydada, Lockney, Silverton and Tulia. The antiquities committee reportedly will seek the court injunction preventing dam completion only as a last Lon Davis of Floydada, president of the board of directors of the Mackenzie Municipal Water Authority, said Tuesday the board is opposed to stopping construction of the dam. Davis told this newspaper he had not been notified Tuesday of an injunction being filed, but noted that the Mackenzie board had made clear, seven years ago, its intention to build the reservoir in Tule Canyon, and that announcements of those intentions had been published for that long. Gena Tarpley, admitted 8-3, "Therefore," Davis said, "we continues treatment. are not in sympathy with an injunction because it will cause severe, undue, unfounded hardship on the people of these four municipalities (Floydada, Lockney, Tulia and Silverton) by postponing the filling of the reservoir.

Davis said the Mackenzie Water Authority had no money available to contribute to the excavations, and that stopping the completion of the dam would also cause a hardship on the contractor, who bid the construction at an extremely low figure. "We are in sympathy with the cause of saving the historical sites", Davis said, "but we feel that Texas Antiquities Committee has had ample opportunity to do this in the past seven years." He said the Mackenzie Authority would seek legal counsel necessary to prevent the unwarranted stoppage of construction of the dam. Davis said the Mackenzie board would attempt to negotiate with the antiquities committee people, but if an injunction is filed would probably petition the court to have the committee show a net worth. "probably in excess of $500,-

Davis said he personally felt the $80,000 figure mentioned as being asked for the excavations was an "exorbitant sum" for removing the historical sites.

Care Center News

By Faye Walters This has been another busy week at the home. It seems like there are a lot of family reunions this time of year, and our residents love them.

It gives them an opportunity to visit with their loved ones and catch up on all that has happened since the last reunion, like who has new babies, and who has married, etc.

Lydia Warren's daughter took her to Roaring Springs for a reunion over the weekend. She had a wonderful time and said she didn't even know how many of her grandkids were there. All her children were there with the exception of two.

We were very sorry she had a fall while there but glad she wasn't hurt bad. She has a bruise on her arm, but no broken bones.

Saturday was L. A. Sargent's birthday and all his girls were here for a reunion. This was their first one in seven years and I think he was as thrilled as anyone could be.

They brought a beautiful cake and punch to the Care Center so all the residents could take part in his birthday celebration.

One of his daughters came all the way from California. Several of our other residents had welcomed visiors over the weekend. Hattie Selman's daughter from McAllen was here for everal days. Our devotions this week have been very good. Thanks to everyone who took part in them. Our activities are still going great. But we have been busy part of the time snapping beans and shelling peas. We want to thank everyone who has brought fresh vegetables. The residents really enjoy them.

There's something BIG out here!" Thursday's bingo was fun. Ray Reed and Hope Hammonds tied with three games each. Ellen Love didn't win a game this week but there is

FLOYD PHILOSOPHER Comes Up With A Big Scheme To Save On Presidential Houses

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm comes up with another one of his peculiar ideas this week, we guess you'd say.

Dear editar:

A lot has been in the news lately about money spent on Presidential homes away from Washington, not just the current Presidential houses but the last four or five.

As I understand it, a man's eagerness to get to the White House is matched, after he's been there a while, only by his eagerness to get away every chance he gets, so the government has to see that his escape home is just as secure as his White House home.

This naturally runs into money, if you want to call several million dollars money in these days of the $1.25 hamburger and the 50-cent tractor bolt I used to buy for a nickel, and in view of the fact all other Presidents in the years ahead will be expecting the same treatment I have hit on an idea to save money and solve the problem at the same time.

It's simple. Build a government-owned mobile home with all the equipment needed and let whoever's President have it pulled to

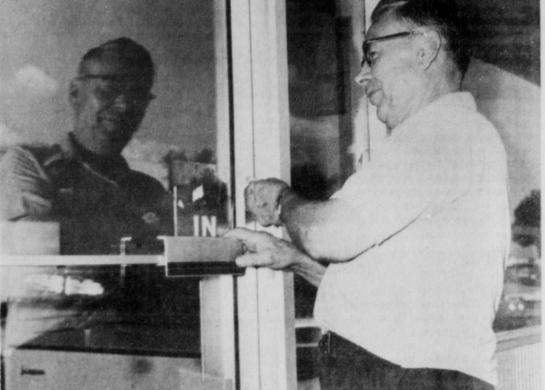

White House, a Southern White House Northern, Eastern or whatever point on the compass he likes White House at whatever distance he feels the safest from Washington. When he retires, the mobile home is taken over by his successor, given another coat of white paint, and the problem of private Presidential homes would be solved from now While we're on the subject of Presidents there's another problem that's been worrying me. It's the Presidential Library. Have you ever stopped to think that if this country holds together for the next 5000 years and every President has to have a library of his very own to hold his papers, there'll be a minimum of 625 such libraries scattered around the country, with some cities having 8 or 10 apiece? At a cost of at least 6 billion dollars and maybe 12 if the cost of living keeps going up?

I'm not suggesting we ought to store those documents in mobile homes, some cities have restrictions against locating those things too close to town, but it would be cheaper to build one huge pyramid in the center of the nation and stack all the papers and tapes and denials there.
