Young Lady From Hong Kong Attending School In Floydada

(By Jim Huggins)

Lyn Yau, a 17-year-old young lady from Hong Kong, started school in Floydada Monday along with the other more than 1,400 Floydada students. The difference is that Lyn, who will be a junior at FHS, starts the 1973 term with barely two months of practice in speaking English. The soft-spoken (she already speaks the language remark-

CAME MONDAY MORNING, several new laws went into effect in the state of Texas - and many of them affect 18 year olds. Those persons 18 years old and over will be considered adults in the eyes of the law.

They may serve on a jury, make a contract, consume alcoholic beverages and be married without parental consent. Broadly, the law states that 18 year olds have all rights, privileges and obligations of a person 21 years of age.

Also, a state law went into effect that permits a right turn on red unless it is posted as prohibited by local law.

remain vacant. Then Wednesday night we were reading in a news magazine an article that proved to us that not having a vice president wouldn't make much

According to the report, the vice president is setting a new record for nonperformance as the Senate's presiding officer - the only regular duty assigned to him by the ably well) miss, Chinese by birth and a years, maybe more, and will hopefully British subject by statute, arrived here finish high school and perhaps go to 5 and is living with the Bill college in the U.S.

Lyn's brother Andrew had been here earlier and stayed with the Browns, and when she heard of his experiences she decided to come. Andrew has been in the U.S. studying industrial engineering and will return to Hong Kong after graduation from Texas Tech in December.

Lyn's and Andrew's parents' names are Yau Yau Chee (the father) and Lam Wai Hing. She has three brothers and three sisters. Her father owns several plastics factories.

Lyn has found herself transplanted into a culture that is in some ways very different and in a surprising number of ways quite the same as that of her native Hong Kong. For example, she likes bicycling (currently enjoying a popular status here), basketball (which she takes at FHS) and playing the guitar and singing (the same songs and movies are popular in both places); but the people in Hong Kong, she says, are "more serious" than here, too busy with work to take off for leisure. Family life in Floydada seems close. Here, she has noticed, the family does more things together and parents seem more interested in their children's activities. Lyn thinks that science instruction in Hong Kong schools advances farther than in this country. Her favorite subjects are physics, biology and mathematics. And she thinks it is very important to improve her English while she is here. She will be here two

At FHS, she is studying American History (which she loves), Biology, English, Algebra, and Basketball.

She has no trouble understanding the Texas brand of English, after not quite two months of study, but because of her uncertainty about speaking the language she appears shy with people other than the Browns, who say she is really very outgoing around them.

Another difference in Lyn's two "homes" is the weather - she has never seen snow, and the temperature on the island of Hong Kong almost never reaches a hundred degrees. It seems very hot in the summer there, she says, because it is quite humid during the rainy season or monsoon.

The clothes she brought with her are exactly what young girls in Floydada are wearing. Hong Kong clothing is more westernized than apparel on the Chinese mainland, Lyn says.

Lyn is very athletic and enjoys all sports - Cary (the Browns' daughter, also a junior at FHS) taught her to swim in five minutes this summer. She is a good cook, according to the Browns, and has cooked several meals for the family.

She says she is here to get a chance to learn more about different people, so that she can better know herself.

One of her goals is to help young people whenever she can and to make her family proud of her.

Lyn is in the country as a non-immigrant student and not on an exchange student program.

School Enrollment 1,467

Enrollment in Floydada schools Tuesday (after one full day of classes) was 1467, just about the same as the (approximately) 1460 enrolled in the four schools last year. Enrollment gains at Duncan Elementary and Floydada Junior High offset losses at Andrews Elementary and High School.

The Tuesday-morning total at Floydada High School was 423, compared to 439 last year. At Andrews Elementary, the total Tuesday was 319, down from about 350 in 1972.

Floydada Junior High showed an increase in both the seventh and eighth grades, the total enrollment going up from about 250 in 1972 to 285 Tuesday. A similar increase was evident at

Farmers Invited To Triticale Meeting

All irrigated and dryland farmers of the area are invited to a special meeting today (Thursday, August 30) at 7:30 p.m. at King's Restaurant in Floydada to learn the financial advantages of growing Triticale, a good grain with many of the characteristics of wheat, on contract for a guaranteed market through Southwest Food Grain's food manufacturing operation.

The company will be ready to contract with growers for up to 5,000 acres of Triticale for the 1974 crop year, which must be planted this fall. Triticale will normally produce more grain per acre than wheat. The producer is guaranteed a price above wheat. In addition to grain, Triticale will provide at least 10 percent more grazing than wheat.

Triticakes and sausage will be served.

The meeting is sponsored by the Triticale Food Corporation of Muleshoe, Southwest Food Grain of Plainview, and Producers Cooperative Elevators of Floydada and Dougherty.

Duncan Elementary, where the figure was 440 Tuesday compared to 421 on the first Friday of school last year.

Principals and secretaries at the Floydada schools said they expect several more registrants before the week is over.

BUSINESSES OPEN

Schools Closed For Labor Day

Monday, Labor Day, is not an official holiday of the Floydada Retail Merchants group, so most of them will be open for business.

On the other hand, Floydada school officials have decided to close school on Monday. This means that there will be one less holiday of Thanksgiving time....with the holidays Thursday and Friday instead of Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

Of course most Floydada government and utility offices will be closed Dollar Day On Labor Day!

Monday, Labor Day, will be Dollar Day in Floydada and many Floydada merchants will offer special buys for Monday only.

"If we're going to be open, we might as well be doing some business", was the comment of one Floydada merchant.

Everyone is reminded to watch the Sunday Hesperian for many special prices Monday, Floydada Dollar Day.

Some Floydada Service Stations To

Post Phase IV Price Ceiling Stickers

Although a federal judge has suspended Phase IV price controls on gasoline and diesel that required fuel retailers to post price ceiling stickers on their pumps, Postmaster Ed Wester says the Floydada Post Office has distributed several of the forms which service station operators must fill in to comply with the disputed regulations.

Wester said the Post Office, which serves only as the distribution point for the forms and pump stickers and is not otherwise involved, the Economic Stabilization Program, has issued some forms to independent dealers since the court injunction against the profit margin rollback.

Major oil companies filed suit last week and won the court injunction. However, there is some question about whether the court's ruling in favor of the majors will apply to the independents, and the Floydada postmaster said apparently some of the local independent dealers are planning to go ahead and comply with the regulations.

The Phase IV controls announced last week would have forced all gasoline and No. 2-0 diesel retailers to return to profit margins they had in effect last January 10.

An Editorial

Floyd County remains in the running for a tremendous new industry, and mainly through the hard work of the committees and the cooperative spirit of everyone in Floyd County this has been achieved.

Never have the city councils, the commissioners court, working committees from both Lockney and Floydada worked together so well for the common good of new industry and business for this county.

Hopefully, we can soon announce that the industry will locate in Floyd County...an industry so large that it could double the size of Lockney and Floydada within five years.

It is also noteworthy that the people of agri-business and Floyd farmers have also entered into the effort to secure this new industry.

Let us all continue to work together for a bigger and better Floyd County.

BROWNFIELD, 'WINDS SCORE TWICE

Coach 'Pleased' With Whirlwind Scrimmage

The Floydada Whirlwinds saw their first (and only) scrimmage action against another school Friday at Brownfield. Both the 'Winds and the AAA Cubs scored twice.

"We looked better than I thought we would look, as inexperienced as we were," Whirlwind head coach L. G. Wilson said after the scrimmage. "I was real pleased," he added.

The 'Winds started slow, showing their inexperience by what Wilson called "general foulups", especially on offense, but closed the scrimmage looking good. The Cubs reversed the order, coming out looking good and ending on a low note. The Whirlwind defense looked "pretty good" to Brownfield's defensive unit scored once, when a linebacker intercepted a pass and scored behind good blocking. The Whirlwind offense accounted for both Floydada scores, driving the length of the field for the final tally.

The 'Wind boss said both quarterbacks - John Cagle and Rance Young

- looked especially good both running and throwing, ends Marc Smitherman and Lynn Becker and back Danny Bradford did a good job catching the ball, and Bradford turned in a fine performance running and blocking from the halfback position.

The offensive line "needs a lot of work,"Wilson noted after the scrimmage, but said the linemen "showed improvement the last half."

Defensively, Wilson was pleased with the work of the Whirlwind line ends Danny Quisenberry and Joel Hendrix and tackles Lynn Becker and Mark Craig. He said the quartet showed promise of developing into "a strong front four."

"The linebackers and defensive secondary made some mistakes that will 'kill you' in a ball game," Wilson said, and they "still need a lot of work to be a strong unit." But, Wilson said, "We have the type of boys there that are working hard and trying to improve, and we feel this weakness will be a stronger point by time we get into

There are eight Whirlwinds vying for starting backfield positions. The largest of these is quarterback Cagle, weighing in at 165 pounds. Others are Young (quarterback or halfback, 145), Travis Johnson (fullback or halfback, 160), Kelvin Ratliff (halfback, 150), Mike Vickers (quarterback, 155), and Tony Soto (halfback, 135).

Offensive line positions are up for grabs, except at the ends positions, where Smitherman, Becker and Danny Quisenberry have the edge.

The 'Winds came out of the Brownfield scrimmage with no injuries. Halfback Rex Yeary was held out because the coaching staff didn't feel a strained knee was quite strong enough. but he should be ready for the first game unless the knee is re-injured.

The Whirlwinds, who do not have another scrimmage scheduled, will continue intra-squad workouts, concentrating on weaknesses and bringing in boys to help alleviate the depth (or lack of it) situation, in preparation for the opening game here September 7 with Crosbyton.

Speaking of Crosbyton, Floydada coaches scouted the Chiefs' scrimmage with Olton last week and came back with reports of "a big team, capable of beating anyone when they get in condition." The scouting reports tab Crosbyton's defense as "especially strong, with a big group of linemen.'

SOCIAL SECURITY PAYING FLOYD FOLK $188,000 PER MONTH

late icing 1/2 pint milk

Social security benefits were being paid to residents of Floyd County at a rate of $188,000 a month at the close of 1972, Mancie King, social security manager in Plainview, said today.

Of the social security beneficiaries living in Floyd County, 1,014 are retired workers and their dependents. Another 360 are receiving benefits as the survivors of workers who have died, and 139 are getting benefits as disabled workers or their dependents. King pointed out that although most social security beneficiaries are older people, about one out of every four is under age 60. In Floyd County, 319 people under age 60 are collecting social security payments each month. One hundred and seventy five are under age 18 and receive payments because a working fathting social security disability or retirement benefits. Most of the 36 beneficiaries in Floyd County between 18 and 22 years of age are getting student's benefits under a provision in the social security law permitting the continuation of a child's benefit beyond his 18th birthday, and up to age 22, if the child is attending school full time. Also in this 18-22 age group, King said, are some other types of beneficiaries, illustrating the broad family protection that the social security program provides workers of all ages. Some are children of retired, disabled, or deceased workers who became disabled before they reached 22 and who will probably never be able to work and become self-sufficient. The monthly benefits of these young people, severely handicapped by physical or mental disabilities, will continue indefinitely. Benefits are also payable to the mother if the disabled son or daughter is in the mother's care.

Fair Queen Contest Seeking Entrants

The Floyd County Fair Association will sponsor a ninth annual Miss Floyd County Fair Queen Contest. The event will take place on Saturday night of the fair, September 15, in the entertainment building on the fair grounds. The preliminaries will begin at 2:30 and the finals will start Serving as master of ceremonies will be Raymond Aiken of Plainview.

Last year's queen is Miss Kim Campbell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Campbell of Floydada; first runner-up Nancy Henderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Henderson, Lockney; second runner-up Cindy Simpson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Simpson of Floydada.

Official rules for the contest are as follows: Entrant must be an American citizen.

Entrant must be not less than 16 or more than 19 years of age. She must be single and never married. Entrant must be of good character and possess poise. Entrant must possess and display in a maximum of two minutes a talent presentation. The talent may be singing, dancing, twirling, playing a musical instrument, dramatic reading, art display, a dress designing, creative poetry, writing, etc., or she may give a talk on the career she wishes to pursue.

Entrant must appear in talent attire and a formal. Young ladies from Floyd, and wife opened their photographic studio; Ray Gene Ferguson accepted employment at Floyd County Co-op Gin as assistant manager; 25 new families moved to Floydada in a month's time; 48 Whirlwinds reported for football training; City Council approved the purchase of two 1250 KW electric power engines; Linda Duncan enlisted for a three year tour of duty with the Women's Army Corps, and the Whirlwinds were being led to victory by cheerleaders, Jill Matsler, Nancy Jones, Vicki Gregory, Phyllis Bradley and Tomi Dycus.

RECENT opinion polls show that the people favor by large margins, the freezing of prices on things they have to buy and most people even like the idea of rolling back some prices to levels of a year ago. But they strongly oppose freezing wages or other income. This is only natural. I think most of us feel that our purchasing power has taken a real beating, but consider the employers who are also caught in the same costprice freeze as their workers. With organized labor making moves to set off another round of wage demands by strikes, if necessary, I think we can look for another boost in prices.

IF you find yourself in Pardeeville, Wisconsin, on Sunday, September 10, you can win yourself a trophy providing you can eat and spit. Students May Get Social Security Checks after 22

Students who get monthly social security payments may now get checks for a time after their 22nd birthday, according to social security officials here.

Under a change in the law, an undergraduate student can continue to get social security payments through the end of the semester or quarter in which he reaches age 22, a social security spokesman said.

If the student's school does not use the semester or quarter system, payments can continue until he completes the course he's taking or 2 months after he reaches 22, whichever comes first.

"The change means students will no longer face the problem of having their benefits stop in the middle of a school term," the spokesman said.

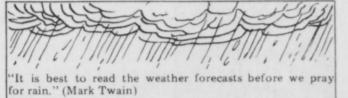

About 600,000 students are now getting monthly checks because a parent insured under social security retired, became disabled, or died. Checks for dependent children normally stop at age 18, but payments continue to 22 for young people who are in school full time and remain unmarried.

Under previous law, social security payments stopped when the student reached 22.

Jury Fund Small But Important

(The second in a series of articles on the Floyd County budget, as explained by County Auditor O.M. Watson, Jr.) Income and expenses of Floyd County are divided into funds on the county records which gives a closer budget control of all expenditures. The Jury Fund (one of eight funds) is the smallest fund but is one of the most important. Without jury trials and other functions of the courts there might be no need for any other funds.

Around $8,500.00 is spent each year through the Jury Fund. This covers pay for the Jury Commissioners, Grand Jurors, and Petit Jurors. The Court Reporter's salary is partially paid from the Floyd County Jury Fund. Bill Hardin, Court Reporter for the 100th Judicial District of Texas, receives $491.92 per month from Floyd County. The Court Reporter's salary is set by the State of Texas and based upon the population of each county in the district. The 1970 census shows the population of Briscoe County to be 2,794 people, Dickens 3,737, Motley 2,178 and Floyd 11,044. Floyd County, therefore, pays 55.9% of the salary of the court reporter. District Judge L. D. Ratliff and District Attorney George Miller do not receive any of their salary from Floyd County. Miss Mary McPherson, District Clerk, and County Attorney Kenneth Bain Jr., are paid from the county officer's salary fund. A District Court room, are furnished by Floyd County.

A person serving on a district court petit jury or grand jury in Floyd County receives $4.00 per day. Juries are picked from a Jury Wheel in the District Clerk's office. There were three petit Juries and two Grand Juries in Floyd County in 1972. There are 4,660 names of registered county voters in the jury Expenses for juries for the County Court and Justice Court also come from the Jury Fund. However, there are few cases in these courts each year and the expense is small. Costs for bailiffs, interpreters, supplies, group insurance, retirement fund, and social security complete the Jury Fund expenditures. (Next Week: Budget for Wood gave a report on the Waco House Party Sunday morning, which she and Mrs. M. M. Julian attended last week, and Mrs. Julian gave her report of the WMU House Party at Training Union Sunday night.

Mrs. Arby Mulder was in her garden a week ago Wednesday, and had the misfortune to step into a hole, and turn her ankle. She was in the hospital at Plainview two days of last week. The ankle bone may be cracked, but she still has not had to wear a cast. Although it has been very painful, it is better now and she is up and around on crutches.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray Julian went to Clarendon Saturday afternoon to meet their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Julian and Clay of Perryton. They brought Janet and the baby here to spend this week with them and the Kendis Julians. She will also be visiting her father. Edell Moore in Floydada. Bruce has gone to Gunnison to the Sylvan Ranch to fish.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McClure left Friday for Snyder to stay two days visiting with her brother, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Newman, her sister, Mrs. J. E. Woodson, and with her mother, Mrs. R. W. New-

Telephone Company Rates On 1 Plus

DALLAS - Southwestern Bell today announced an adjustment of telephone rates for long distance calls within Texas which will produce an after-tax revenue gain of less than $12 million ($23 million before taxes) to the company. This amounts to a little less than 2% of the company's total operating revenues in Tex-

O. Gravitt, vice president for Southwestern Bell operations in Texas, said the new rate schedule will increase the cost of most three-minute intrastate calls from a few cents to a dime. The change is effective September 24. Rates for local service and charges for long distance calls to other states will not be affected.

One Plus calls within Texas, which constitute about three-fourths of the calls, will still generally be lower than the average for 41 other states offering a One Plus rate. The other states do not have a One Plus rate schedule. On calls requiring an operator, Texas rates generally compare favorably with other states, with some states higher and some lower.

The increase on long distance rates in Texas is needed to partially offset sharp increases in the cost of doing business," Gravitt said. He cited that telephone wages for 1973 will be $110 million higher than in 1971. and taxes for the year will be $40 million more than two years ago when the last intrastate rate adjustment was made.

The largest portion of the increase will be on One Plus calls, but this type of call will still be considerably cheaper than operator handled calls. For example, at the new rates, a One Plus call from Dallas to Houston will be

Although most of the South Plains grain sorghum crops have passed the bloom stage when the pest is most likely to attack, late planted crops blooming within the next few weeks are vulnerable.

This warning comes from Dr. Robert McIntyre, area entomologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Ser-

He explains that buildup of the midge on the South Plains is monitored yearly through funds provided by the Grain Sorghum Producers Board. Insect scouts collect johsongrass and heads from sorghum throughout the 11-county survey area and these heads are returned to Lubbock and held in the insectary for midge emergence.

The survey provides the essential information to warn producers of pending economic infestations, says McIntyre. To date, the midge population has not developed as it did in 1972, when some severe late season infestations were encountered.

This year the problem is not likely to be so severe, he adds.

Should economically damaging infestation occur, the entomologist points out, producers can take appropriate action and prevent

He explains that prevention is keyed to the producer having an understanding of the habits of the midge, the number necessary to cause damage, the susceptible plant stage, and the bloom cycle of sorghum.

According to McIntyre, sorghum is susceptible to midge attack only during the bloom stage. Generally, a uniform field of sorghum will completely bloom in two to two and one-half weeks. The objective of a chemical control program, should it become necessary, is to protect the sorghum during this vulnerable bloom cycle,

The specialist explains that research entomologists at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Lubbock have determined the economic threshold to be an average infestation of two midges per head when more than 30 percent of the field in in bloom. In addition, they have developed reliable sampling techniques which will enable producers to accurately assess the midge population in each of the

"Since female egg laying is confined to those heads bearing fresh yellow blooms. these are the heads to be sampled," says McIntyre. "At four different locations in the field, the surveyor should place a widemouth jar quickly over individual blooming heads. A light tapping of the stalk will cause midges to rise to the top of the jar where they can easily be counted. This should be done on 25 individual heads at each of the locations.

Early morning is the time to survey and will furnish an accurate estimate of midge population, the entomologist commends.

He points out further that the insect usually overwinters in the florets or "seed husks" of its sorghum host as a larvae or maggot. Pupation and emergence occurs in the spring, with migration to johnsongrass as it begins to bloom. The first generation of each new growing season, then, is produced primarily on johnongrass and other grass

"The cycle continues with the midge living on its alternate hosts until sorhum begins to bloom, McIntyre says. "Early populations attacking grain sor-ghum are not sufficiently damaging to warrant control, but they do contribute directly to late heavy populations, with severe damage coming from third and fourth generation midge populations. These are making their debut now. Most materials registered for midge control have short residual action and kills only unprotected adults", he adds, "and are effective for a short time."

The specialist encourages producers to check their ields at least every three to four days during the blooming stage because new midge emergence and migration could result in reinfestation in a very short

Says McIntyre, "insecticides suggested for midge control can be found in the Texas Agricultural Extension Service Bulletin MP-339, "Texas Guide for Controlling Insects and Mites on Sorghum"

These bulletins, he recommends, are available at the local county Extension

Contrived Shortage Of Energy Charges Are False,—Ikard

The president of the American Petroleum Institute called for an end to unsupported charges about a "contrived" energy shortage

Addressing the Texas Wildcatters meeting in Houston, Texas, Frank N. Ikard said such accusations are false and often malicious and politically motivated. He said such charges confuse the real issues, make it more difficult for domestic producers to step up the search for oil and natural gas, and add to the danger of plunging the United States into a serious energy crisis.

The Institute president asserted, "The solution to our energy problem is not in allocating scarcity. The solution lies in locating new supplies of fuel. And those who delay the accomplishment of this goal by ill-founded accusations do a disservice to all
