For the second time in as many years the Floydada Whirlwinds are pitted against the Littlefield Wildcats in the bi-district football playoff game between the 3-AA and 4-AA champions. The contest is scheduled at 7:30 p.m. Friday, November 23, at Lowrey Field in Lubbock. The Whirlwinds won the 1972 playoff game in Plainview, 7-0. The current rivalry between Floydada and Littlefield has featured some close, low-scoring "thrillers," beginning with the 1971 game for the 3-AA championship, a scoreless game in which the Wildcats claimed the playoff rights via a 13-9 edge in first downs. Penetrations were even at one apiece. The Whirlwinds had little trouble with the Wildcats the previous year, winning the first game in the current series 21-3.

controversial fumble-recovery call gave the Whirlwinds possession at their own one-yard line when the 'Cats appeared about to score.

Recapping the current series: Floydada has won four and lost one (the Wildcats, by district rules, won that no-score game), and the 'Winds have scored 38 points to the Wildcats' nine — but 21 of the Floydada points came in the 1970 contest. Since then the 'Winds have managed two touchdowns and a field goal while Littlefield has put a single TD on the board.

He said he believed the Whirlwinds have improved since the regular-season game with the Wildcats. He tabbed the Littlefield defense as the strongest the 'Winds played against all year and said it would be tough to try to move the ball and keep it away from the equally-potent Wildcat offense. Pat Henderson topped District 3-AA in regular-season scoring with 102 points (17 touchdowns), and quarterback Bryson was fourth in the conference with 82 points. Floydada's Rance Young led 4-AA scorers with 10 TD's, 20 extra points and a field goal during the season.

Last year after a UIL realignment put the teams in different districts the 'Winds got revenge for the infamous tie game. They beat the Wildcats 3-0 in a non-conference game, on a second-quarter field goal by Rance Young, then won 7-0 in the bi-district playoff, on a sneak by quarterback John Cagle with less than three minutes left in the game.

Earlier this year, the Whirlwinds scored early and held on for a one-point win. Young's kicking again accounted for the slim (7-6) victory margin. His first-period extra-point kick was good. The conversion kick that would have tied the score after a fourth-quarter Wildcat touchdown didn't make it.

If Whirlwind fans were saying "We wuz robbed" when the tie in '71 put the once-beaten Wildcats instead of the "undefeated" Whirlwinds into the playoffs, Littlefield backers might have uttered the same cry after this year's non-conference game, in which a Floydada and Littlefield tested gridiron strengths in seven games in the twenties, thirties, and forties. Some of the games were close. In 1927, the Whirlwinds beat Littlefield 20-0. The schools played two games in 1931: Floydada won each contest by a single point, 7-6 and 14-13. 1932 saw Floydada win 26-0. In '38, the score was 24-20 Littlefield, and in '41, the 'Winds dropped a 9-7 decision. In 1946 close scores went out the window and Littlefield pounded the Whirlwinds 85-0.

field and 66 percent from the free-throw line. Kellie McDowell, who led the Whirlwinds with 30 points, hit 13 of 14 field goals, a 92 percent average. Mellane Gilly scored 19 and Tracey Puckett added 10 for the Whirlwinds.

The Floydada guards drew coach's praise for their hustle and good rebounding in the freshman contest. Brenda Fulton, Beth Stovall, Nanette Burk, Renee Grimes, Martha Rendon, Kathy Green, Lana Reed, Holly Robertson and Robin Roberts all played and did a good job, Coach Miller said.

In the junior varsity game, the Whirlwinds lost by a 47-33 score. Brenda Vickers led the Floydada scoring with 19 points. Diana Grimes chipped in nine points for the Whirlwinds.

The varsity Whirlwinds dropped a 46-32 decision to the Olton girls. They pulled to within two points of the Fillies in the last period but those mistakes let Olton take the victory.

Nancy Puckett was high Floydada scorer with 12 points. Donette Marble and Debby Johnson had eight apiece. Turning in a good defensive performance were Pauline Cooper, Sonja Curry and Kathy Hinsley.

Overall, in the opening games, desire and enthusiasm were at their best, Coach Miller said, and added, "I was pleased with the performance of all three teams, and I think we'll improve with each game as we get the mistakes ironed out."

The Whirlwinds teams played at New Deal Tuesday. The JV and varsity teams travel to Matador Saturday.

Plenty Of Seats, Parking At Lowrey

Tickets to the Floydada-Littlefield bi-district football game will be on sale at the Lowrey Field ticket offices game night, Friday, November 23. Admission price is $2.50 for adults and $1 for students. There will be no reserved seats and no advance ticket sales, but plenty of good seats will be available. Each side of the stadium seats about 4,000.

Littlefield won the toss for home-team designation, so Wildcat fans will sit on the west side of the stadium, and Whirlwind backers will occupy the east side of the stands.

Lowrey has a large parking lot on each side of the stadium. There is no "around-the-field" parking.

To get to Lowrey Field (entering Lubbock from Idalou on US 62-82); take South Loop 289 to the US 87 (Tahoka Highway) exit. Take 87 NORTH to 61st Street, turn west and go two blocks directly to the east-side parking lot. The stadium lights should be visible from the Loop.

Pep Rally 2:30 Friday

Whirlwind fans are invited — urged — to attend the pep rally at the high school gym Friday at 2:30. The Whirlwind cheerleaders say "We need to fill the gym, wear green, and beat Littlefield." Since there is no school Friday (Thanksgiving holidays), it is especially important for the public to attend the pep rally and give the Whirlwinds all the support they can muster for the bi-district playoff game later Friday in Lubbock.

FB President Gives Diesel Shortage Report

The president of the Floyd County Farm Bureau said this week that some farmers in the county are unable to buy diesel and other middle-distillate fuels because of red-tape in the mandatory allocation system.

Paul Schacht, said the county Farm Bureau sent telegrams to Eli T. Reich, Rogers C.B. Morton, John A. Love, and George P. Schultz in Washington, D.C. asking for relief. Letters have been written to President Nixon, Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz, Texas Agriculture Secretary John C. White and five congressmen and senators. Text of the telegram follows: "Floyd County farmers are unable to harvest their cotton crop due to lack of fuel. Letter will follow stating names of individual farmers and dealers."

The local farm leader said the government's program allocates these fuels on the basis of purchases made twelve (12) months ago. This rigid formula makes the program unworkable.

He explained that many farmers did not buy diesel, butane and propane fuels this time last year because it was too wet to get in the fields. Also, he said, better prices this year enabled some farmers to trade in their old gasoline-powered equipment for new diesels. Since they have no history on buying diesel fuel, it is not available to them now.

Schacht said although the government had issued so-called "common-sense" directive for distributors to assist in hardship cases, the distributors are afraid of making a decision that could cost them a heavy fine.

"Therefore," Paul said, "Farm Bureau in Texas and across the nation is calling upon the Interior Department to assure distributors they will not be punished for selling to hardship cases."

The County Farm Bureau has the proper forms available for assignment of a distillate supplier or adjustment of base period supply volume and application to State for exceptional hardship assistance. These are available to members and non-members.

Congress has adjourned for Thanksgiving holidays, they are at home now, this would be a good time to contact your Congressman, possible by phone.

BY WENDELL TOOLEY

OF COURSE FOOTBALL FANS can all be mighty thankful for another district winning Whirlwind team. Although the team had some rough experiences and lost some games in the early season, think most of us were optimistic that they would come through... and they did. I know I express the thanks and appreciation of this entire community to the coaches, and the team for a great season.

And... one of the big benefits of winning district is the opportunity to advance to state competition. We begin that trail by beating Littlefield Friday night. James Huggins and I are usually several points apart in how we guesstimate the game each week. This week, we seem to be of like mind... he says we'll beat Littlefield 14-8, and I am thinking 13-6.

SINCE I'VE SLOWED DOWN, I have observed what is going on between my house and town.

Louis Pyle is doing a good job of scattering cotton burrs on his land and turning them under with a deep plowing "sod buster."

Billy Fulton is drilling an irrigation well.

J. P. Moss is grazing some wheat south of his house with some mighty fine cattle.

North of the Moss home I observed honey bee hives.

Nearer town the Brown Gin lot was covered with trailers of cotton.

Services Wednesday For Carbon Monoxide Poisoning Victims

Robert Wade Payne, 25, and Donna Charlene Stephenson were found dead in a car parked about one mile northwest of Floydada Monday morning. The couple was found dead in Payne's car about 8:45 a.m. about a mile west of US 70 on Price Street, outside the Floydada city limits.

King-McLaughlin Vows Read

Katherine Rosalee Matthews McLaughlin and Alfred Eugene King of San Angelo were married Friday afternoon in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Matthews of Providence. The 5 o'clock vows were read by Rev. Walter F. Hildebrandt, minister of Emmanuel Lutheran Church of Knippa.

King is a son of Mrs. J. L. King and the late Mr. King of Kingsville.

Setting for the exchange of vows was formed by a 15-votive candle arch entwined with greenery and dotted with white satin bows. Baskets of pink gladioli and white carnations were in flanking positions.

Given in marriage by her son, Danny McLaughlin of Dallas, the bride wore a pink floor length double-knit dress with V-shaped neckline and long, full organza sleeves. Lace appliques and seed pearls enhanced the cuffs and waist of the dress. She carried a white Bible topped with a cascade of pink and red tea roses.

Maid of honor was the bride's daughter, Miss Teresa McLaughlin. She was attired in a navy blue floor length knit dress, also styled with a V-neckline. A self ruffle trimmed with dainty white lace outlined the V-shape. Lace also edged the sleeves and bottom of the skirt. Her hand bouquet was of pink pixie carnations and tea roses.

Best man was Kenneth Griffith of Liberal, Kansas, the bride's brother-in-law. Her son, Donnie McLaughlin was candlelighter and usher.

Guests for the wedding and reception were registered by Mrs. S. M. James.

The refreshment table was covered with ecru lace over pink. Pink tapers and the wedding party's flowers centered the table. A white milkglass service was used.

Assistants were Mrs. Kenneth Griffith, the bride's sister, Mrs. Wayne Phillips and Mrs. Ed Thornton.

The couple will make their home in San Angelo at 3010 Forest Trail. Mrs. King has been an employee of Medical Center Clinic in Plainview for more than two years. Memorial Gifts Being Taken For Survival Stretcher

The Caprock Hospital Auxiliary met recently during which time importance was stressed in urging persons to contribute in the way of memorial gifts or donations toward the purchase of a Survival Stretcher for the hospital.

Cost of the unit is $1,500 of which the Auxiliary already has approximately $700 from donations. They hope to have enough funds for its purchase and ready for use by March of next year.

Anyone wishing to purchase a memorial in honor of a loved one may mail contributions or call any Auxiliary member including the president, Mrs. John Fowler, Mrs. Ben Whitaker or Mrs. Ned Bradley in Floydada. A card will be sent by the Auxiliary to the deceased's family telling of the memorial gift.

The Survival Stretcher is a life saving concept, incorporating the necessary equipment needed wherever cardiac arrest is a possibility or other emergencies arise.

It consists of a stretcher table with the following components: heart-lung resuscitator; monopulse defibrillator; pacemaker, synchronizer and electrocardiograph with built-in valley and recharging circuit and oxygen regulator pack.

Where seconds count, this Survival Stretcher can make the difference, medical experts say. The Hospital Auxiliary feels this would be a great asset to Caprock Hospital, therefore they

Floyd County HD Council Plans Party

Peggy's Meddlin's

BY PEGGY MEDLEY

Plans for the County-Wide Christmas Party were made at the November 16th meeting of the Floyd County Home Demonstration Council. Hostesses for the party, to be held December 14 at 2 p.m. in the Council Room, will be in Harmony and Dougherty HD Clubs.

It was announced that each club member attending the Christmas party is to bring a hand-made gift and each member is to pay one dollar for a gift as a fund for the treasurer. This will take place of other fund raising projects of the Council. Officers will be installed at the party. Fun games will be played and refreshments served. All club members and guests are invited.

During the regular business session of Council, presided over by Mrs. O. G. Mayfield, the announcement of the Spring District 2 meeting was made. This meeting will be held at Big Spring in March. The State Meeting will be in September in Amarillo.

Attending the Council meeting were Meses. A. H. Kreis, John Walker, W. A. Stewart, O. G. Mayfield, Ernie Widener, W. W. Trapp and Billie Morris.

Class Enjoys Bowling Party

Members of the fifth and sixth grade Sunday School Class of First United Methodist Church, Lockney, recently enjoyed a bowling party. Mrs. Jack Whittington is teacher of the group.

Bolding, and also a review on an article of Satan. The group discussed the increase of people turning Satan worshippers.

Each one present signed a birthday card in honor of Mrs. Leonard Smith. Also a card was sent to Mrs. C. M. Meredith who is with her ill son, Curtis.

Refreshments were served to Meses. Cleo Goins, Ola Warren, C. W. Denison, Henry Willis, R. E. Young, A. C. Rainer, Robert Garrett, R. R. Waller, M. Epperson, H. O. Cline and guests, Mrs. Roy Kinard, Miss Sherre Kinard and Miss Peggy Young.

IF you are one of the fortunates to enjoy a winter vacation at Las Vegas, Nevada, you may want to take in a show or two. At the Golden Nugget you will find a young man from Floydada, Jimmy Pritchett, playing the lead guitar on the Larry Trider Show. According to critics, the Larry Trider Show is better than ever. Trider sings all the old and new Country hits as well as some good original material off of his soon-to-be-released album, "Teach the Children."

Jimmy's sister, Louise Turner, played a couple of the singles for me recently and they are sure to be a winner. The group playing lead, steel, bass and drums, give some strong harmony behind the rich baritone voice of Larry Trider on "Something's Wrong in California" and "Me and Paul". Jimmy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Early Pritchett of South Plains.

Louise and her husband paid a surprise visit to Las Vegas last week to hear the group perform and also took in the Wayne Newton and Don Rickles Show.

WITH all sorts of price increases one company has endeavored to remedy the problem of carrying to the office the old familiar brown paper bag filled with sandwiches to eat at lunch. The lunch box looks like an attache case, so that executives and would-be executives won't look too out of place. Wonder how long it will be before some eager beaver trying to impress the boss, presents him with a soggy sandwich instead of a sales report.

"PLEASE do eat the marigolds" could be the poultryman's advice to chickens in the future.

University of Arkansas scientists have found that adding ground marigold petals to poultry rations makes egg yolks more yellow and broiler skins more desirable.

THE preacher at the corner church reports considerable progress in his campaign to prevent outside use of the church parking lot. Largely responsible, he declares, is his new warning tag which says: "No parking in the church lot without permission. Violators will be immersed!"

GIFT TO WAYLAND — Mr. and Mrs. Clay Muncy, Lockney, look over a deed with Dr. Roy C. McClung, president of Wayland Baptist College, for 480 acres of Floyd County farm land which they presented to the college recently. The announcement was made during Homecoming Chapel on Friday.

FOR VOCATIONAL BUILDING

Wayland Given Farm Land

Adding to the excitement of Homecoming at Wayland Baptist College was an announcement Friday of the gift of three-quarters of a section of farm land in Floyd County by two former Wayland students, Rev. and Mrs. Clay Muncy.

The announcement was greeted with a standing ovation for the couple by members of the student body. Muncy, who received his A.A. degree from Wayland in 1925, and Mrs. Muncy, the former Maudie Meredith, who received her A.A. degree in 1928, have given the land to underwrite the construction of the vocational building which will be leased to the Regional Occupational Center.

Construction cost of the building is estimated to be approximately $100,000. The building will be named the Clay Muncy Building and is given in memory of early day West Texas Baptist ministers and their wives. Honored will be Muncy's father and mother, Rev. and Mrs. R. E. L. Muncy, Mrs. Muncy's father and mother, Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Meredith, and Mrs. Muncy's brother and his wife, Dr. and Mrs. C. Ellis Meredith.

In responding to the ovation, Mrs. Muncy said, "It would be very ungrateful for me not to say something for my college and you cannot imagine how delighted we are to make this investment in Christian education." She added, "We are also delighted that the college of our choice is Wayland Baptist College."

Tells of Early Days
In reminiscing about her days at Wayland, Mrs. Muncy pointed out that she came to Wayland from a very poor family. Her mother encouraged her to come to school and told her that "Where there is a will, there is a way." "So I packed my only two dresses and came to Plainview where I lived in one small room with only a bed, and I brought food from home to see me through," Mrs. Muncy told the audience. She pointed out that she was too poor to live in the dormitory and her expenses for her first year at Wayland were $80.

"Since those days at Wayland, God has blessed us in many ways and we hope that the Clay Muncy Building will enrich and help all students who study there," she concluded.

In his response, Muncy stated that he had known every president to serve Wayland. "Wayland has always been a great place," he stated, "and with this gift, we hope to make it an even better place to get an education."

He continued, "I am proud that a fine minister chooses to memorialize three of his kinsmen-ministers and their wives in this way. The Muncy's, though childless, will have hundreds of young people progressing toward happy usefulness through their generosity. For their gift of land, the college has contracted to provide an annuity for the Muncy's for their lifetime."

"This gift will underwrite the construction of the first and major unit of a vocational complex which will be leased to South Plains College for vocational education," Dr. McClung said.

A Thanksgiving Story By Gayle Jackson

The Thanksgiving holiday and traditional turkey dinner returns to mind a story about turkeys that was included in the November 22, 1954, issue of Life Magazine. Owner of the turkeys pictured with that brief story was Mrs. Wyatt McLaughlin, formerly of the Providence Community, but now living in Plainview.

Reason for the story was that Mrs. McLaughlin had devised a halter-type support to help turkeys with dropped crops. Without the support, those turkeys' food would catch and sour in their crops, spoiling their meat. The support, when worn by the turkeys, resembled a brassiere. Although viewed by some as a joke, the supports were most practical, enabling Bea McLaughlin to produce a marketable turkey.

The picture and story in Life were the result of two picture-taking sessions on the McLaughlin farm. The picture printed was chosen from about 125 poses. At the photographer's request, Bea made supports of bright, patterned materials, but she laughs when recalling the colorful garments. "If I'd turned those turkeys loose with the others, they would have been pecked to death." Ordinarily, she made the supports of ducking, dyed black so they wouldn't be noticed by the other turkeys. The ducking actually started the chain of events that led to the national magazine's story. While shopping in Anthony's in Plainview for the material, a saleslady commented that Mrs. McLaughlin must be making a short cotton sack. Bea remembers she just couldn't resist saying "I'm making brassieres for my turkeys." The saleslady later shared the amusing story with fellow employees, and before long, the story appeared in a little magazine published by Anthony's.

Besides the Life article, Mrs. McLaughlin also knows it was reported in the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, and also appeared in a St. Louis, Missouri paper as a "tall Texas tale."

Bea McLaughlin raised Broadbreasted Bronze turkeys for about twelve years, selling between 150 and 200 dressed birds each Christmas.

Her main customer was Harvest Queen Mills in Plainview, which bought the turkeys for presents to customers. Even in 1954, she received as high as $25 for choice birds, and $14 to $20 for others weighing fourteen or fifteen pounds.

Beginning in May of each year, she put the young turkeys, called poults, on wire sun porches so that they did not touch the ground until six weeks old. She and her husband turned the turkeys on their alfalfa patch until near Thanksgiving when she penned them near the house to finish out. Bea says the birds were lazy, and having plenty to eat from commercial feed and grain raised on their farm, didn't try to fly out of the pens. The adventurous few who topped the fence had their wings clipped. In December, the McLaughlins would fill the back of their pickup with turkeys, cover them with wire and drive to Plainview to be killed and

OBITUARIES

Cornelius Alexander, believed to be the oldest Floyd County citizen, died about 9:15 Friday morning at the age of 102 years, eight months and a day. Death came to the South Carolina native at the Floydada Nursing Home where he had resided since its opening. Funeral rites were conducted Saturday afternoon in the City Park Church of Christ where Alexander was a charter member. Gordon L. Downing of Canyon officiated, assisted by the pastor, Ernest West. Interment was in Lakeview Cemetery under the direction of Moore-Rose Funeral Home.

Alexander lived in South Carolina until a young man. He was married to Nannie Elmira Dickert, March 25, 1898 in Ashby, Tex. The couple moved from Hill County to Floyd County in 1925 where Alexander farmed until retiring. His wife died in 1963. He was also preceded in death by four sons, Oliver and Melvin, who lost their lives in World War II; C.D. in 1936 and Hugh Alexander who died this year.

Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. John (Win-dressed before being stored in a commercial coldroom.

Mrs. McLaughlin quit the turkey business shortly after the Life magazine story to help care for her ailing mother, Mrs. Alma

Nicholas of Lockney who died in 1962. "Market for my turkeys had been decreasing, as other people learned how to turn out a good bird."

The McLaughlins lived

nie) Hambricht of Olton, Mrs. Will (Ethel) Hambricht of Floydada and Mrs. R. E. (Grace) Cogswell of Plainview; two sons, Clyde and Leonard, both of Floydada; 11 grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Mrs. Lawrence

Services for Mrs. Ollie Lawrence, 82, who died Saturday morning in Caprock Hospital, were held Monday in the First Baptist Church in Matador. Mrs. Lawrence was the sister of two Floyd County residents. She was a native of Alabama and had resided in Motley County since 1925.

Survivors include her husband, E. D.; three sons, a daughter, two sisters, Mrs. Lon Harrison and Mrs. M. H. Hartness, both of Floydada; nine grandchildren and 12 great grandchildren.

She was buried in the north of Providence for over thirty years before moving this fall to Plainview.

Betty Dempsey, Tom Moore, Greg Pruitt Win Football Contest

All the prize money for the final 1973 Hesperian football contest stayed in Floydada — Betsy Dempsey, 612 W. Mississippi, won first prize, $7.50, with an entry that had only four misses; Tom Moore, 729 W. Tennessee took second and $5 for a five-miss entry with a tie-breaker guess of 30 points; and Greg Pruitt, Rt. 3, missed five but had a tie-breaker estimate of 35 to drop to the third place and win $2.50. All the winners picked Floydada in the tie-breaker.

Most frequently-missed game (barring the Arkansas-SMU tie) was Rice's upset of Texas A&M, followed closely by the Olton-Dimmitt and Roosevelt-Denver City surprises. Olton squeaked by the Bobcats in 3-AA and Roosevelt won the 5-AA playoff rights by upsetting high-ranked DC.

The first-place winner missed the tie game, Rice-A&M, Tahoka-Post, and Ralls-Idalou. Moore went wrong picking Levelland (Dumas beat the Lobos), Dimmitt, A&M, Tahoka, and Arkansas in the tie. Pruitt's misses came on Ralls-Idalou, Roosevelt-DC, Lorenzo-Crosbyton, Rice-A&M, and the Southwest Conference tie.

Mrs. Bill Tye, Lorene Newberry, Travis Gentry and Jack Fuqua, all of Floydada, gained honorable mention with six misses. Fuqua hit the tie-breaker total right on the button.

Cotton Market News

Arizona, California, New Mexico, Oklahoma & Texas

Western cotton markets were more active than a week ago, according to the Agricultural Marketing Service, USDA. Demand was strong for most qualities with staple 31 and longer. Demand for shorter qualities was weak. Foreign and domestic inquiries increased. Most domestic mills, however, had previously contracted cotton for current needs. Supplies of uncommitted cotton increased because of increased harvesting and ginning. The bulk of current ginning, however, continued to be delivered against previous commitments. In general, growers offered available supplies freely. Most offerings were readily absorbed into marketing channels. Spot prices fluctuated during the week. Harvesting efforts made good progress over most of the Western Region. The San Joaquin Valley harvest was slowed by rain early in the week.

Harvesting had resumed by mid-week. Many Arizona and California growers were picking for the second time. Portions of Texas and Oklahoma had mist and fog during the week. Harvesting efforts were slowed, allowing some gins to catch up on their backlogs of seed cotton. Some Central and South Texas fields were still too wet to support harvesting equipment. Harvesting efforts were expected to continue to expand in New Mexico, the later harvesting areas of Texas and in Oklahoma.

Prices quoted for selected qualities, 3.5 to 4.9 mile, in the six Western Region spot markets are as follows:

Dallas — Cents per pound: this week, 46.75; last week, 46.75; Grade, Strict Low Middling Light Spotted (42); Staple, 31;
Houston — Cents per pound: this week, 59.00; last week, 59.00; Grade, Strict Low Middling Light Spotted (42); Staple, 34;

Floydada Care Center Happenings

By Faye Walters

Sadness came to our nursing home this week with the passing of Cornelius Alexander, 102 year old resident. He had been here for so long it is hard to visualize what it will be like without his smiling face. He had been blessed with a long, full life, many friends, and a family who loved and cared for him in every way. Never can it be said that his family neglected him in any way.

We shall miss him even though we know he has gone to a much better place where there shall be no more dim eyes and weak legs.

Lillie Luttrell had to go back to the hospital and Mom Buchanan and Mallie Sedgwick remain in the hospital. We pray they shall all be home soon.

Our devotions have been good this week. It was Bro. Hopkins, Assembly of God pastor's last week, as they have moved to Arizona. He had been very faithful to come every Monday and I know he will be missed. Our prayers go with the Hopkins family.

Thursday was the birthday party of the month. The women from City Park Church of Christ brought cake and punch for everyone. They are so good and thoughtful and always show the residents a grand time at these parties.

We want to thank the Loves' niece and nephew for two good gospel albums. Our residents are really enjoying them.

We hope by next week everyone will be home from the hospital to enjoy Thanksgiving dinner.

The Tradition of Freedom... Our Cherished Legacy

Freedom is a tradition in our great nation. From the earliest beginnings, the courage of our Pilgrim forefathers made it possible. The will and faith of our people have kept it alive. It will remain ours with vigilance and dedication. So—the past, the present and the future are inextricably woven together. Through freedom. Today we give thanks for this precious legacy. We remember and cherish our tradition. We pray that freedom will become the inalienable right of all nations.

DPS Needs Applicants

The Texas Department of Public Safety is actively recruiting applicants to fill the ranks of its uniformed services. Major C. W. Bell, Regional Commander of the DPS, announced that the training school for new uniformed law enforcement personnel is tentatively scheduled to begin February 1, 1974.

The Major noted that the DPS has been increasingly successful in recruiting persons from minority groups to these positions and said efforts in this direction will continue.

Also in keeping with the current trend, female applicants will be considered for these rewarding careers in law enforcement.

Major Bell said general qualifications for DPS officers are these: applicants must be 20 through 35 years of age; height not less than 68 inches; weight not less than two pounds per inch of height; visual acuity of 20/40 correctable to 20/20; and a minimum of 45 semester hours of college credit, of which six hours may be obtained while in training.

Applications may be obtained by contacting any DPS employee or any DPS office. The completed application form should be taken to offices in Lubbock, Amarillo or Wichita Falls where the competitive examination is given each Tuesday and Wednesday at 9 a.m.

Major Bell said persons selected as cadets will be assigned to Austin for training at the DPS Academy. The salary during training will be $630.00 per month. Upon being commissioned the salary is raised to $719.00 monthly with the opportunity to advance to $848.00 per month.

Uniformed personnel receive additional longevity pay for each five years of service to 25 years. They are also granted a monthly uniform cleaning allowance, and receive travel expenses when away from their station.

Uniforms, vehicles, weapons, ammunition and related equipment are furnished. Group life and hospitalization are paid for the employee and dependent coverage is available at reasonable rates. Officers participate in the Employees Retirement System of Texas as well as Social Security. Vacation, holidays and sick leave are as provided for all State employees.

Successful graduates will be assigned to the Highway Patrol, License and Weight Service, Motor Vehicle Inspection Service, or Drivers License Service, according to the needs of the DPS and consideration of personal preference.

All officers are eligible to

As It Looks From Here

Omar Burleson, M.C.
17th District, Texas

WASHINGTON, D.C. — A bill pending in the United States Senate calls for the establishment of a United States Fire Administration and a National Fire Academy. This proposal sponsored by twenty Senators would put the Federal Government into the fire fighting business for the initial bargain-basement rate of $127.5 million over a three-year period.

As many such ideas come about, the recommendation was made by a commission. A report by the commission recommends that it be the policy of the Federal Government to create a bureaucracy of fire prevention and control based on ninety items it found to be needed. It concluded that while fire prevention and control is and should remain a State and local responsibility, the Federal Government must help if any significant reduction in fire losses is to be achieved.

A nod is given to the Constitution by declaring that, "Fire constitutes a major burden affecting interstate commerce." The key word here is "interstate commerce," which supposedly justifies the Federal Government getting into the business of local Government compete for promotions after two years of service. Experienced uniformed DPS personnel interested in criminal investigation may apply for appointment to positions in the Criminal Law Enforcement Division, which includes Narcotics, Intelligence, Motor Vehicle Theft and Texas Ranger services as vacancies occur.

Arrangements will be made for a physical examination. A character investigation will be conducted and those persons who are accepted for employment will be notified prior to the beginning of the February recruit school.

Federal programs of one sort or another are often times found necessary because of "the indifference with which Americans confront the subject." This is a line in the commission's report. In other words, people governing themselves at the local level are found by Government bureaucracy to be unable to take care of themselves down to the proposition that they are indifferent to fire hazards. One might think that Americans would be allowed to be indifferent about something these days — even a "problem". The Senate bill, like so many other proposals, seems to suggest that it is made necessary because the American people are not interested in preventing fires or putting them out when one occurs.

So, in case of the "fire problem", break the glass and pour on a brand new Assistant Secretary of Commerce who, as the bill says, shall be known as the Assistant Secretary for Fire Prevention and Control. In the proposed measure the Secretary himself is directed to "establish a National program for fire prevention and control and to create an academy to study the problem." Among the purposes of the academy will be to establish a National data center, hold annual conferences, create relevant studies, have "citizens' participation programs," and demonstration projects.

No inquiry has been made as to how this commission came into being but obviously someone came up with the idea that a study should be made on this subject. Once made and recommendations produced, sponsors for legislation can be found.

Just what may come out of this concoction is yet to be determined but, very likely, it will end up with something which may have the appearance of either being for or against fires.

The only people who can be imagined as favoring fires are the arsonists who may set off a conflagration for profit or the pyromaniac whose twisted mind likes to see smoke and blazes.

THANKSGIVING

LET US GIVE THANKS FOR THE BOUNTY OF THIS GREAT LAND

Our Pilgrim forefathers conceived Thanksgiving as a day to stop and take stock of all the good things in life.

They had, as we do today, a constant threat of upheaval. They too were beset by problems—economic, political—big and small—but they found time, once a year to thank God and thank each other for all the good things they enjoyed.

We are thankful for the opportunity we have of being part of a thriving community and for the people we are privileged to serve. We pledge our continued efforts to be worthy of your patronage.

John Connally Coming To Amarillo

AMARILLO — Former Texas Gov. John V. Connally will be the principal speaker at a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner for U. S. Representative Bob Price at the Amarillo Civic Center Dec. 18, the Congressman's office announced today. A reception is planned to begin at 7 p.m. with a banquet following.

Tickets are expected to be available through local Republican County Chairmen in each of the 35 counties in the 13th Congressional District after Nov. 10.

"Gov. Connally is a man who has put his nation's needs for leadership above party partisanship," Price commented. "As a governor of a major state and with experience in the formulation of both military and economic policy, he has been a man of independence serving in high governmental councils and advising administrations of both political parties."

"I am honored that Gov. Connally is coming to the 13th District in my behalf," Price said. "I know that Northwest Texans are anxious to greet him and to hear his comments."

"My brother's job as a trimmer in a candle factory keeps him busy every Saturday and Sunday."

"Doesn't he work during the week?"
"Oh no, just on wick-end."

Connally became a Republican last May after being a life-long Democrat. He has most recently served as a Presidential advisor and was Secretary of the Treasury in 1971. Ten years earlier, he had served as Secretary of the Navy under President Kennedy. In 1962, Connally was elected Governor of Texas and was subsequently re-elected twice, giving him the record of serving longer as governor than anyone else in Texas history.

Price will be the first individual Texas Republican Connally will appear for since his party switch. He has been actively speaking for Republicans nationally.

Care Center Birthday Party

For birthday time in "chill" November...
A party is just the thing! Makes all the world seem nice and warm

And cares go "on the wing."
Our lovely Mrs. Daniel... Friends call her Mary Kate...

Is the youngest of our honorees

And the 6th is her SPECIAL date!

Mrs. Ollivette Jarnagin... Who counts from 81... Is the "senior" of our party...

And still she's "on the run"

Mr. Henry Love is here... He's better known as KING...

And with much vim and vigor

He'll over his "subjects" reign!

Mr. Reed keeps smiling... No troubles get him down...

The ladies all still love him And he is "man about the town."

We couldn't have the party

Without the birthday song...

So get your voices ready And with us sing along!

With the reading of the above poem and singing the birthday song the November birthday party was well underway. The Hesperian photographer made pictures of the group, with the exception of Mrs. Daniel who was unable to attend the party. Ladies of the City Park Church of Christ hosted the festivities. The table was laid with a white cloth, with a centerpiece of artificial flowers in blue. As an added attraction, fresh flowers in individual containers, which had been presented to each honoree by friends and well wishers, marked their places along with blue placecards. A most delicious chocolate birthday cake, iced in white and very beautifully decorated with a brown basket full of roses was served with a delightful fruit punch to the honorees, residents of the home, employees and guests. The next party will be Thursday, Dec. 13, 2:30 p.m. You are invited to attend and help these lovely people celebrate their golden years.

Cotton Harvest Increasing Daily

The South Plains cotton harvest is gaining momentum daily as stripping operations increase in all counties, according to Paul R. Dickson, in charge of the USDA Cotton Classing Office in Lubbock. This great increase in harvest activity is reflected in the increasing number of samples being received daily at the four area USDA classing offices. Approximately 32,000 samples were received at the four South Plains offices on Friday. This was the largest number of samples received any day this season and this volume is expected to increase daily if favorable weather continues. During the peak of the harvest this volume usually reaches 50,000 to 60,000 samples per day. Classers from other areas are being transferred to the local classing offices to take care of this increased volume.

The USDA classing offices at Lubbock, Brownfield, Lamesa, and Levelland classed 170,000 samples last week and had approximately 69,000 on hand Friday afternoon. Total classed so far this season now stands at 358,000. This is far ahead of the volume at this date last year when 64,000 samples of the 1972 crop had been classed.

Quality of cotton continued excellent and is considerably higher than last year. Grades 31 and 41 continued to be the predominant grades at Lubbock, making up 72 percent of all classed. Grade 31 made up 34 percent, Grade 41, 38 percent and Grade 32, 10 percent.

Staples were predominantly 30 to 32. Thirty-seven percent had staple lengths of 30 and shorter and the remaining 63 percent stapled 31 and longer. Average staple length was 31.4/32nds of an inch.

Micronaire readings are an indication of fiber fineness or maturity. These readings indicate that most of the early harvested bales were fully mature. Eighty-two percent of all cotton tested at Lubbock had micronaire readings in the premium range of 3.5 to 4.9, 11 percent was in the high micronaire range of 5.0 to 5.2 and 5 percent was in the very high range of 5.3 and above.

Cottonseed prices were steady and farmers received $96 to 110 per ton.

Individual Responsibility

By State Representative Phil Cates

In the town of Lefors, where I grew up, there used to be a sign in front of the Methodist Church. Across the top of the sign was spelled, "METHODIST CH—CH". Underneath these two words was the question, "WHAT'S MISSING?" Beneath was the answer, "UR!" This question and answer would be appropriately placed in front of every City Council, Chamber of Commerce, State Legislature, National Legislature, and Chief Executives' offices in our world today.

Big government, big industry, big labor unions, big churches, and big institutions, seem to have lost touch with the wishes, needs, and feelings of the individual citizen in today's world. I could not count the times I have heard people in our area express feelings that our city fathers, state leaders, and the national politicians, could care less about the "little guy" or the average citizen.

My wife, Nancy, and I had been in the State Capitol for only one week when the worst scandal in Texas' political history broke in the news media—that being the Sharpstown Bank Stock Fraud Scandal. In the past few months, in our nation's Capitol, we have witnessed proof of the fact that a politician, like a preacher, can only be as good or bad as those who place them in power. There are many folks right here in our own community who do nothing but criticize. Some say, "It seems that there is not much left for the average citizen to do but to criticize our local, state, and national leaders."

Three years ago, when I was considering the possibility of running for public office the first time, it was mentioned to me that oftentimes money elected the man. The fact that I was elected is proof that such is not always the case. The vote of each individual is, indeed, very important and essential for an election. If you recall, I won this first election by only two votes after two recounts. Each vote could have changed the election—in fact, if only one person who voted for me had voted for my opponent instead, there would have been a tie and the election would have been decided by a flip of a coin.

Our nation's strength lies not in its financial resources, its military might, or its great God-given natural resources; save one. This being the individual man or woman. Our city governments and our Chambers of Commerce across our land can do nothing without the support of individuals within those political sub-divisions. Good people doing nothing about politics, education, religion, and all the other great causes of our times, are greater enemies to our way of life than the most corrupt politician. Less than half the people in this nation who would be allowed to register to vote under the law care enough to do so. Less than half of those who register to vote, which is a minimal responsibility of citizenship in America, even vote in the hottest Presidential election. There aren't many other politicians who know the value of each individual vote better than I do after having won by two votes. Too many people say, "What can I do? What difference does my opinion make?" It would be very easy for many leaders on our local, state, and national level, to take the attitude that they're not going to be able to help the situation anyway so why subject themselves to the dirt of politics. Likewise, it would have been very tempting for me to have thought before I ran the first time, that I didn't have a chance, that I couldn't win because I didn't have a great deal of money to invest in running for the office.

If there were ever a day in America when men and women need to give their total effort toward good government, better churches, greater civic pride, that time is NOW. For the day may not be too far away when we will not share the blessings of our way of life, unless we all get involved. We have grown lazy, selfish, and apathetic, in regards to our individual responsibilities in today's world. If half the people in this nation were to turn out and vote in any one single election, it would scare the socks off of half of the politicians. This can be done. This should be done. But it is up to you and me whether or not it will be done.

I am proud to live in the Texas Panhandle. I am most proud of our people who do get involved from the local to the national level. I'm proud of our individual pride and responsibility. However, it is going to take more than any of us have ever given, to bring our national and our lower levels of government back to feeling and responding to the needs of the individual. We are great because our forefathers chose to get involved and to pay the price for freedom. They knew that freedom is not free. They sacrificed to maintain their liberty. Unfortunately, some of the politicians in Austin, and nationally, would probably

LET US SEEK THE FUTURE CONFIDENTLY!

Just as our forefathers set sail for strange, uncharted lands, let us all join together in seeking the best future for us all!

we hope to serve you soon!

What One Person Can Do

Rebecca Latimer Felton Senator

Rebecca Latimer Felton, an 87-year-old Georgian, was the first woman seated in the United States Senate. She served three days.

Here's what happened, according to Hope Chamberlin in "A Minority of Members - Women in the U.S. Congress": In September, 1933, Senator Thomas E. Watson of Georgia died. Governor Hardwick, who had unsuccessfully opposed the 19th Amendment, decided to appoint a woman to serve out the term in hopes of wooing the newly enfranchised women voters. He was sure that the electorate would pick a man for the full term during the 67th Congress.

When the governor announced his appointment of Widow Felton, he said she was a "noble Georgia woman, now in the sunset of a splendid, useful life. It is unfortunate," he declared, "that an elected successor will prevent her from being sworn in." He also announced that he was entering the October primary and planned to be that elected successor to Senator Watson.

In November, the 67th Congress met. After delays and debate, Mrs. Felton was allowed to present her credentials. Three days later, she stepped down for her elected successor. But before she did, she delivered her first and last speech as a Senator. She predicted: "When the women of the country come in and sit with you, though there may be not have written this on their own. Instead, they would have hired a professional speech writer or reporter to do the chore of writing this article. I didn't think that any one in this district or in this community would buy such a cut and dried approach, so I decided to write it on my own.

The people in our area are not the kind to "pass the buck." Our people take on the responsibilities of good government, good communities, good churches, and good schools. Now more than ever, as our representative in our state government, I shall hold on to this important heritage of our Texas Panhandle — the worth of the individual.

but a very few in the next few years, I pledge you that you will get ability, you will get integrity of purpose, you will get exalted patriotism, and you will get unstinted usefulness."

The 85 women who have succeeded Mrs. Felton as Senators and Representatives have fulfilled that prediction. Government needs dedication, honesty and ability. Never more perhaps than today.

Pilgrims Wouldn't Modern Food Problems

It's doubtful the Pilgrims would have had food problems. They had enough to eat.

Today, America's farmers are producing enough food for himself and his family and for the rest of the world. Each farmer is producing enough food for himself and his family and for the rest of the world.

To be fair to the Pilgrims it should be pointed out that the Pilgrims didn't have a shelter. The Indians didn't have a shelter. The Pilgrims didn't have a shelter.

The Pilgrims were their own cooks. They had food to eat that first year they worked hard for it.

Things are a little different today. Our population rose all over the world. In fact, so few Americans are growing their own food.

Many know very little about where their food comes from. Take milk as an example. A good many people don't know where their milk comes from.

Someone has to feed and care for the animals that produce the milk. Every glass of milk and in every egg some farmer worked hard and spent his money to produce it.

That turkey stuffing is made from bread with flour made from wheat. But the Thanksgiving table this year will be set with what was harvested. The truck that paid about $20,000 for a combine to harvest enough wheat in just one hour to make bread.

We have weather problems today. Crops in floods last year than they were stored in a thousand Mayflowers. But but received nothing in return. And he but to worry about overlanded from worldwide crop failures and a massive choice and prime cuts.

The American farmer has worked hard for many years—almost unnoticed. His job that often in the past he produced it in low prices. Last year, however, grain sales, bad weather and inflation the surpluses stored from other years through a rough year for food prices.

But the U.S. had 60 million acres of land being farmed because farmers had been even more will be cultivated next year. This year a lot of that land has been even more will be cultivated next year.

The Pilgrims didn't know anything about problems; and we can be thankful to know anything about the kind of problems experienced that first winter in this day last week. Mrs. Turner and Mrs. Ratzlaff and her mother came one p.m. Mrs. Spence visited Mrs. Stovall one p.m. in Caprock Hospital.

The Spences visited in Crosbyton Sunday with his sister, Mrs. Ben Marley, who is convalescing after recent surgery.

We are informed that Curtis Meredith of Palarico, who was very ill in a Houston hospital, was dismissed last Wednesday and is convalescing at home.

Visitors in Miss Meredith's home some time last week were Mrs. Thelma Jones, Mrs. Fred Battey, Lorene Reasoner, Mrs. Hal Thomas and Nola Crawford. Mrs. Clay Muncy of Lockney came Friday.

Recently Miss Mary Pearl Coward and Miss Meredith visited in Lockney with Rev. and Mrs. Clay Muncy.
