

Letter From Santa

...to remind everyone in the community that I will be in Floydada Monday afternoon 3. I have been invited by the Floydada Volunteer Fire to ride in the big white sleigh to downtown Floydada about 4 p.m.

...to learn that the Floydada Whirlwind band will lead me into the square and will then have lots of musical numbers.

...I have lots of candy for you and I look forward to seeing you on the courthouse square.

...and a telegram from the Santa Claus Club saying that they are following the Whirlwind band.

...like Monday will be an exciting day. I had planned to reindeer and sleigh, but my weather forecasters say there won't be any snow Monday...so, sorry 'bout that.

The 1956 Study Club has also invited me to be in its Santa Land on December 13-14-15 from 4 to 6 p.m. Think they have a building on the west side of the square for this. There'll be some musical entertainment each night...think the third graders and also the Methodist Amo Te choir are to sing. By the way, you can have your picture made with me in Santa Land for $1.50.

Well...see you Monday.

Love,
Santa Claus
North Pole

P.S. It will help me a lot if you'll go ahead and get those letters to me on the way. My elves are busy making out the lists of what you want. I also received a phone call from the Hesperian last week, and the staff there will print your letters as they arrive.

Seven Whirlwinds On All-District Football Team

Floydada Whirlwinds were named to eight places on the 4-AA All-District football team selected by district coaches last week. Lynn Becker, Mark Craig, Mike Hatley, John Cagle and Rance Young of Floydada were named to the all-district offense. Becker, Danny Quisenberry and Danny Bradford made the defensive unit.

Honorable mention went to Whirlwinds Marc Smitherman, Craig and Ruben DeLeon on offense and Mike Reeves, Lyle Suggs and Mike Vickers on defense.

Lockney players were named to ten spots on the all-conference squad. The Floyd County teams almost completely dominated the offensive selections, as only two positions went to players from outside the county. John Clark of the Longhorns was a unanimous choice at halfback, and Floydada's Rance Young tied for the other halfback spot with Raymond Williams of Tulia. Ruben Cuevas of Abernathy and Doug Kirk of Idalou tied in the all-district balloting for center.

Mustangs Outscore Whirlwinds

The Floydada Whirlwinds were ahead of Olton at the half and tied at the three-quarter mark Monday, but the Mustang basketball team outscored the 'Winds 11-4 in the final period to take a 39-32 victory. It was the first game of the season for the Whirlwinds.

The Mustangs led 9-6 at the end of the first quarter, but the 'Winds held a 20-17 halftime advantage. It was 28-4 after three quarters.

Donzell Minner scored 13 points for Floydada, and Vic Allcorn had a like number for Olton. Bryan Allcorn added 11 for the Mustangs, and the other Whirlwind scorers were Travis Johnson (8), Mike Vickers (4), Kelvin Ratliff (4), MacArthur Mitchell (2), and Freddy Selman (1).

Steve Moore led the Whirlwinds in rebounding with 11. Mitchell grabbed seven rebounds for Floydada.

The Whirlwinds travel to Petersburg to play the undefeated Buffaloes Friday.

Whirlettes Beat Olton

The Whirllette varsity basketball team beat Olton there Tuesday 42-39. Nancy Puckett and Donette Marble scored 14 points apiece for the Floydada girls, and Debby Johnson netted 12. Sonja Curry, Pauline Cooper and Kathy Hinsley led the Floydada guards.

Olton won the junior varsity game 40-35. Dianna Grimes led the Whirllette scorers with 14 points. Nesa Jackson and Brenda Vickers each scored eight. Christi Stringer, Nancy Anderson, Jodie Eastham and Julie Ratheal were defensive standouts for Floydada.

The JV and varsity Whirllettes travel to Petersburg Friday.

JV, Varsity Girls Top Matador;

Whirllette Ninth Falls To Lockney

The Whirllettes outscored Matador 59-34 Saturday in a basketball game "under the hill." Nancy Puckett led the Floydada girls in scoring with 19 points. Donette Marble scored 14, Debby Johnson 12 for the winners. Guards Sonja Curry, Pauline Cooper and Kathy Hinsley played well for the Whirllettes.

Floydada won the junior varsity game 48-33. Diana Grimes scored 23 points, Nesa Jackson put in 10 and Brenda Vickers added nine points for the Whirllettes. Christi Stringer, Nancy Anderson and Jodie Eastham led the Floydada guards.

The Whirllette freshmen dropped a 59-52 decision to Lockney Monday. Tracey Puckett and Kellie McDowell paced the scoring for Floydada with 19 and 18 points respectively. Nanette Burk, Kathy Green, Brenda Fulton and Beth Stovall played good defense for the Whirllettes.

Breezettes 1-1

At Lockney

The Floydada Junior High seventh-grade girls' basketball team beat Lockney Monday 30-23 on the Shorthornettes' home court. Kim Curry scored 20 points for the Breezettes. Donette Williams also did a good job on offense, and Jaine Guest was outstanding on defense for the FJHS girls.

Lockney won the eighth-grade girls' game 40-21. Jill Poage's 13 points led the Breezettes. Valinda Chandler played good defense for Floydada.

Breezers Beat Lockney 23-10, 36-18

Breezer basketball teams beat Lockney here Monday, 23-10 in the seventh-grade game and 36-18 in the eighth-grade contest.

Todd Vickers was high-point man for the Floydada seventh-graders with six. Ricky Luna and Greg Jones added four apiece. Coach Mike Cocanougher said the Breezer seventh did a real good job, for the first game of the season, on defense and rebounding. Vickers and Kary Helms had several steals, and Luna, Bret Marble and Ricky Jackson did a good job on the boards.

Guy Ledbetter paced the FJHS eighth-graders with 14 points, and Ricky Covington did a good job under the basket for the Breezers. Floydada put up a good man-to-man defense and scored several points on the fast break, Coach Gary Jones said.

Last week, the eighth-graders beat Matador 43-21 in the Breezers' season opener. Ledbetter was high scorer with 18 points, and Harold Dempsey played a good game both offensively and defensively.

The Breezer eighth, undefeated last year as seventh-graders and averaging nearly 40 points in two starts this season, appear to be headed for another successful campaign, Jones said. Starters are Ledbetter, Covington, Oliver Wells, Larry Jones, and Toby Rhodes. Dempsey, Rusty Cagle, Greg Carthel and Bobby Whitaker also see a lot of action for the Breezers.

Eighth Grade Tournament Starts Today

Floydada Junior High School hosts an eighth-grade basketball tournament beginning today (Thursday) at 11 a.m. and continuing through Saturday. A Tribute...

TO COACH L. G. WILSON AND HIS ASSISTANTS.

The Floydada Whirlwinds have just finished a very successful season. There may be some who question my word "successful", since they did not win their bi-district game. Some seem to think that winning is everything but "not so." It's not the "only thing." Too much emphasis is being placed today on the idiom "if you don't win, you are a failure."

Think with me for a minute: with six teams in this AA district someone had to lose — they all simply can't win the district. Now everyone likes to win and so do I, but for heaven's sake let us not act like winning is the "only thing." This kind of attitude takes the "fun" outta football for both the fans and the players. Let's enjoy the game for what it is played for and for the purpose it is being played.

There are a lot of things in school that are just as important as athletics. To participate in sports is fine but it's not the only thing the boys learn in playing the game. But since they did win the district, I want to express my appreciation to our fine coach, L. G. Wilson and his fine assistants. I know them well and they are all more than good coaches, they are fine Christian men (gentlemen in every respect). What a man is sometimes is more important than what he does.

He and the other coaches are not interested in winning alone. They are also interested in each and every boy's character, discipline, and maturity.

We are most fortunate to have good coaches. They are all high-class sportsmen and we know winning is important but it isn't everything.

So let's thank you of the coaching staff for what you stand for and for the great job you are doing to develop and mature those of our youth at Floydada High School.

CHILD'S PLAY IS GOOD PSYCHOLOGY

What kind of playthings do young people prefer? Psychologists have discovered that most youngsters really prefer sane, sensible toys to gimmicky ones that crash and bang and ultimately don't do anything but fall apart. The simple, elegant, high-quality toy is loved and lingered over long after other, more sophisticated seeming ones are in fragments or forgotten.

Child researcher Ruth E. Hartly has said: "A child needs to set boundaries between reality and unreality." And he needs to know the difference between the really good and the merely mediocre. One of the best ways in which he can come to know these things is through playing with good, realistic toys, around which he can weave his fantasies, without losing his way in their assortment of parts and pieces.

Ms. Hartly adds: "Through controlling airplanes, cars, trucks, and trains, children participate in the extraordinary potency of the real world and express the desire to control things and people that dominate their lives."

The types of toys that are particularly terrific for teaching tots that sort of thing tend to be top quality items built of the best and safest sort of stuff—smooth wood, soft plastic—set out in simple shapes that are handy for small hands to handle. The best example of this type of toy is the Putt Putt line from Mattel. These things include a biplane, helicopter, cement mixer, dump truck, tow truck, car, van, tanker and a motorized (without batteries) battalion of a hauler, tow-truck, flat-bed, fire truck, ambulance, and three-car train. They can even cavort in their own city-in-a-carrying-case. They're all painted in non-toxic bright, primary colors.

According to Harvard's Dr. B.F. Skinner, toy cars and similar items are symbolic representations of things in the real world, which a child can test and manipulate in the safety of his imaginary world. If he becomes familiar with high standards in the playroom, he will be more likely to find the finest in reality. Mattel Putt Putt toys help a youngster realistically bridge the gap between an imaginary and real world.

It seems probable that parents can help to form their offspring's future by carefully choosing plain, good-quality toys.

THE ranks of America's oldest war veterans, those who served the Spanish-American War, are rapidly thinning, however, at last count 1,720 were still alive, the oldest being Nelson Norton of Whitestown, Ind. If still living in January, Norton will observe his 104th birthday. Three others still living, will each be 103 in December.

PEOPLE who have started listening can already hear the jingle of Christmas bells off in the distance. They're not imagining things. Another holiday is just around the corner and coming with it is the best citrus crop forecast in 25 years. Harvest is already underway in the Rio Grande Valley where some 20,500,000 boxes of citrus are expected to be shipped in the coming months. Most popular Texas citrus is the Ruby Red grapefruit, which has been exported as far away as Japan. Another grapefruit coming into commercial use is the Star Ruby, similar to the Ruby Red, but deeper in color.

LOOKING ahead... Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has warned Texas farmers that he anticipates a four million ton shortage of fertilizer next spring. Stressing more efficient use of fertilizers, White said it may be necessary to re-evaluate some farming procedures. And more on agriculture, in order to keep rural population from declining White has proposed a statewide program to finance young families who want to go into agriculture. He suggested a program similar to the veterans land board program to assure funds for young people to get into full time agriculture. He urges people in rural areas to push for programs that will expand rural areas which will also help many Texas towns from dying.

Old Recipes New Floyd County

The Floyd County Historical Museum is asking for help with one of their current projects, the collecting of old time recipes used by early residents of Floyd County. Many people have expressed an interest in this project and plans are being made by the museum to publish them.

Mrs. W. O. Tye has already received a number of these recipes from former residents.

Recipes may be left at the mail more rapidly and efficiently. The recent single and 16-cent double reply-paid postal card which will be issued in Boston December 16, will honor Samuel Adams, colonial patriot. December 16 is the 100th anniversary of the Boston Tea Party, and most historians credit Adams with being the planner of that historic event.

BRUSHING UP ON HAIR CARE

It is time to challenge one of the oldest myths. This myth—passed on from grandmother, no doubt, was that to have healthy, shining hair it was essential to brush vigorously at least 100 strokes every day. How wrong Granny was! That was yesteryear, and as the saying goes, we've come a long way, baby! A long way to realizing that overzealous combing and brushing can represent a major cause of hair damage.

So say the experts. Among them Dr. Karl Laden, who is known in the field of cosmetic science, and Clairrol's research scientists who use a scanning electron microscope to measure hair damage and its causes.

"Once the hair has grown out from the scalp it is like any other inanimate material," Dr. Laden stated, "and can only take a certain amount of rubbing, stretching, bending, pulling, twisting, teasing, straightening, etc., before some amount of physical damage occurs. Furthermore, when you consider that the ends of your hair can be on your head for three to five years, depending on your hair length, one realizes just how much physical abuse it must withstand."

Experts feel excessive combing and brushing can split the hair—not at the ends—but along the middle of the hair fiber. These splits result from the high forces being exerted on the hair as it is being pulled through the teeth of the comb. When this happens, small cracks or separations develop and as the hair grows out they become split ends. The longer the hair the greater the pull on the hair—resulting in the "frizzies."

While we're on the subject of do's and don'ts, do wash your hair as often as is needed. Just use the proper kind of shampoo. Don't ever go to bed in rollers. That's another good way to break and split the hair. Don't rub, pull, or twist wet hair in a towel...pat it dry. Do rinse hair thoroughly and follow with a cool water rinse. And treat yourself to a brush which has rounded, unsharp bristles.

When you brush and comb, my lady, remember to be gentle. Brush your hair by bending over and brushing from the nape of the neck forward. Then standing erect, flip hair back to its normal position and lightly comb or brush from underneath into its style. Comb gently after shampoo and creme rinse. Let the rinse do all the work.

Remember, if your hair could talk it might be asking for your help. It just may not know that it isn't alive. Let's not tell it by abusing and neglecting it.

Remove chewing gum from fabrics is not as sticky a problem as it might seem. Put the garment (even a shoe) in a plastic bag and let it freeze. Then the gum will come right off with a flick of the fingernail.

Chocolate stains are hard to remove unless you use glycerin (available at drug stores). Rub it thoroughly into the fabric and wash with plain water. If it doesn't come out completely the first time, additional applications will do the trick.

You needn't be in a fog about cleaning a shower door when you use Ajax Window Cleaner & Defogger. It contains a defogger that is also helpful for cleaning bathroom mirrors and car windows.

Any good dry-cleaning solvent can be the solution to grease and wax stains from crayons on clothes. Sometimes, however, the dye from the crayon remains. It can be removed if the clothes are cleaned with a dry-cleaning fluid immediately.

Is there any good news for consumers? We may have to rely on statistics for this one. Figures tell us that radios and television sets are among the relatively few products for which prices have declined during the general inflation of the last seven years. We would have had to pay more than $2 billion more if the prices of these products had risen as much as all consumer goods.

Insurance On Floyd County Families $17,880

NEW YORK — Residents of Floyd County are more heavily insured at the present time than they have ever been.

Despite the fact that they have better financial safeguards than they once had, thanks to social security and private pension plans, they have been increasing their insurance holdings, especially life insurance, in recent years.

The trend is attributed, in part, to the fact that most local families are earning more than before and are in better shape, economically, enabling them to enlarge on this type of protection.

At the same time, they have been providing for their future by putting more money aside as savings.

As a result, ownership of life insurance has reached an all-time high in Floyd County. The total amount in force is now approximately $62 million.

The basic statistics, for the nation at large and for each of the states, come from the Department of the home, in industry, and for transportation, reports Winchester. No scientific breakthroughs are needed to change water into hydrogen. What is required for its large-scale use as a fuel is wide-scale production.

Hydrogen is increasingly in use, the article reports. It is carried without problems in some industrial pipelines in the U.S. and Germany, while in the Chicago area more than 11 tons of liquid hydrogen is brought in daily in tank trucks and railroad cars that have been insulated to hold the minus 425° F. liquid. Over 60 billion cubic feet of hydrogen will be used this year in America in the manufacture of petroleum products, glass, metals, chemicals, textiles, and drugs.

Possibly hydrogen's best known application has been in the U.S. space program, where it is the fuel that first boosted man to the Moon.

Burners in home gas appliances can be converted reasonably and quickly, so that hydrogen can fuel cooking, heating and cooling units. It could also replace the fossil fuels that now move electric generators. Even more efficiently, it could be used to power fuel cells, which were perfected for supplying electricity for spacecraft in flight — and which can be built large enough to fuel a neighborhood or small enough for in-home use.

Auto engines can also be modified to run on hydrogen. And because of its lightness, it's especially suited for powering jet airplane engines.

In America we presently use one third of the world's energy and (despite any forthcoming efforts to reduce consumption) it is estimated that as this century nears its end, that figure will double.

Hydrogen is not an answer to our pressing immediate needs but for relief from the drain on available supplies of energy.

Commerce and from the Life Insurance Fact Book, recently released.

They show that the bulk of Americans have set up for themselves in the form of life insurance has grown to the enormous sum of $1,628 billion.

Of this amount, some $87,069 million is on the lives of State of Texas residents. In 1936, by way of comparison, the total was $35,824 million.

And this is exclusive of Federal insurance, provided for veterans and others, and insurance issued by fraternal organizations.

In terms of the individual family, the extent of its coverage is almost directly proportional to its income. Families with bigger earnings have more insurance, as a rule.

On average, ownership by the average family in the state is equivalent to 25.2 months of its net, after-tax earnings, the figures show.

In Floyd County, based upon this yardstick and upon the average level of earnings locally per family, the amount of life insurance in force in the area comes to approximately $17,880 per family.

As in the past, ordinary insurance is the type most widely held. Next in volume, and increasing most rapidly, is group insurance, which is generally job-connected.

HELPFUL SAFETY HINTS

BRAKE SAFETY CARE

Give your brakes a break — by constantly being aware of their condition.

Be sure you can stop before you drive the car out of the driveway.

Here are some ways to check your brakes for safety.

Pedal goes down farther than normal. Even when the pedal is depressed completely it should still be at least one inch from the floor. The brakes' hydraulic fluid may be low. Take the car in immediately for service.

When brake pedal is applied the car pulls to one side. Either a leaking wheel cylinder, or anything from grease on a lining to a damaged drum could cause this.

Hydrogen May Be Fuel Of Future

An almost limitless supply of fuel — odorless, tasteless, and as safe as gasoline or natural gas — exists all around us. It is practically pollution-free, for when it is burned, it produces only energy and water vapor. Unlike electricity, it can be stored. And no nation or region has a monopoly on it.

It's hydrogen, a basic component of water and the lightest and most abundant of all elements, declares James H. Winchester in the December issue of Reader's Digest.

Scientists now are seeking ways to make it an economically practical fuel for everyday applications in

Amid All The Hustle & Bustle Of Christmas

By Gayle Jackson

Shopping this week at Brown's Department Store
we found that a new shipment of Lady Wrangler had arrived. Also, holiday long shirts, blouses and jackets featuring silver lurex threads woven into white fabric were lovely.
Wilma Brown is expecting another shipment of holiday long dresses, but has a good selection now. Brown's is really blouse headquarters, with both shells and long sleeves; popular in blouses right now are polka dots.
And for the junior-sized
of the outfits worn by Junior Miss contestants Saturday night in the nationally-televised pageant. The jumpsuit pants are domino checked, with a white top and polka-dotted ruffled shoulder straps. The long dress is sleeveless, with a red top and a red, white and blue plaid skirt. The waistband of the dress is of silver lurex, and the metallic threads are also in the skirt.

Gladys Ragle shares this recipe which is a cake she is expected to produce each holiday season.

Cherry Nut Cake
Dissolve 1 tsp. soda in 1 cup buttermilk. Set aside to use later. Melt 2 sticks oleo, cool. Blend 2 cups sugar with the cooled oleo, then add 3 eggs and 1 cup pineapple preserves. Add 3 cups flour, one-third at a time, alternating with the buttermilk.
Beat well, then stir in 1 cup white raisins, 1 cup angel flake coconut, 1 cup chopped peanuts, 2 tsp. vanilla, and 1 cup candied cherries. (Cut cherries in quarters; cake is prettier if both red and green cherries are used.)

Bake in 350° oven 25 to 30 minutes. Makes three 9-inch layers. Cool completely and use filling.

To make filling: Heat slowly, and cook 10 minutes after the mixture starts to boil, stirring constantly: 1 large can evaporated milk, 3 egg yolks, 1 cup sugar and 1 stick oleo. Remove from heat, add 1 tsp. vanilla. Let set and cool completely before icing cake.

Holiday party idea of this week is a lot of fun — unless you turn out to be the surprised hostess. The surprise is accomplished by telling all but one woman the correct location of the party, and fool that one woman into believing she is going somewhere else for the party. Jill Golden was the surprise hostess last year for a group of about nine families. Games are planned that even the children can enjoy, such as each family having to compose a Christmas poem or song, and then perform. The children benefit by seeing their parents having such fun, and acting just a little bit kiddish. This group has staged the surprise party four times already, so several women may be telling themselves that this must be their year. What they really ought to do is double back on a previous hostess, then next year, no one would feel secure!

Here's a bread recipe from Sheryl Bybee. She has served this Jewish bread at several Il Penseroso Junior Study Club coffees, where club members gave it the highest praise. Sheryl got the recipe from Bake Your Own Bread which is found in the local library. She tells us that the recipe calls for yeast that contains no preservative, and the yeast can be bought at health food stores. The unleached flour is carried by both Smith's and Page's grocery stores, but is priced higher. Regular flour may be substituted.
Challah

Measure into bowl and stir together: 2 tbsp. yeast, 4 tsp. salt, ¼ cup honey and 1¼ cup hot water. Mix in 2 cups unbleached flour. Stir in 1¼ cup oil and 3 eggs.
Add 5 to 6 cups unbleached flour (1 cup wheat germ can be substituted to lose stickiness and begin kneading in the bowl. Dump dough onto board and work into a silky texture. Replace in oiled bowl; cover and let rise in warm spot for about 1 hour. Test, then punch down and knead briefly. Braid into two loaves. Place on greased baking sheet. Let rise covered in warm spot for ½ hour. Glaze with 1 beaten egg and sprinkle on poppy seeds. Bake at 350° for about 50 minutes. Check bottom for color to determine doneness. Cool on wire racks.

Lockney Variety Store, managed by Mrs. Dorothy Shipp, has in stock artificial green Christmas trees that are quite realistic. Artificial holly garlands and artificial poinsettias are plentiful, as are Christmas and tree decorations, and gift wrapping supplies. As usual, Mrs.

Shipp has a nice assortment of toys and inexpensive gift sets.

Children of farmers who want to imitate their dads would be happy browsing at Perry Implement, for Jerry Perry has about everything in the toy tractor line, including tractors, scrapers,
excavators, bulldozers, planters, balers, and a set of the toys in a cardboard carton which becomes a barn. For the older child, Perry Implement has the riding tractor with a trailer, and one bicycle put out by the implement company.
Something unusual is an inexpensive plastic model of a tractor that is assembled in the same manner as a model car.

Impact Of Inflation In Floyd County

NEW YORK, Nov. 17 - To what extent has the rising cost of living affected residents of Floyd County? Have incomes in the local area increased fast enough in the last few years to enable the average family to absorb the higher cost and have something additional left over?

Prior to the last year or two, most families, locally and elsewhere, were able to keep ahead of the game because their earnings were rising more rapidly than their costs. More recently, however, with galloping inflation, many have been falling behind.

A study by the Tax Foundation, a non-profit research organization, shows what has been happening to people's buying power.

"Because of taxes and inflation," it states, "pay increases of up to 35 percent in the last seven years fall short of giving a family the same purchasing power it had with the smaller 1966 income." Those with bigger increases, however, ended up even or better.

In other words, the cost of living has gone up more than 35 percent, putting a squeeze on many family pocketbooks.

How has a married man in Floyd County, for example, who earned $8,000 in 1966, made out with the $2,800 in pay raises he may have received since then?

The figures show that not only have his raises been erased by the tax-inflation combination, but his after-tax pay today is worth about $390 less than it was seven years ago.

For the married man who made $10,000 in 1966 and is getting 35 percent more than that now, the Tax Foundation details how his $3,500 pay increase turned into a $466 net loss.

His income taxes, Federal and state, went up $595 on average and his Social Security tax rose $355. Inflation caused an additional loss of $3,016.

Thus, his expenses rose $3,966 in seven years and his income only $3,500, which left him $466 short of the break-even point.

Other calculations, based upon the general figures contained in the report, indicate that a Floyd County man who had a $5,000 income in 1966, which rose to $6,750 in 1973, ended up with a net loss of $140 and that the one who had a 1966 income of $12,000 lost approximately $510, despite a 35 percent hike in salary.

Farmers and ranchers from across the state, who are delegates to the Texas Farmers Union 70th Annual Convention, will converge on Lubbock December 7 and 8. The state-wide general farm organization will hold its two-day meeting at the Ko Ko Palace Convention Center in Lubbock.

The Friday morning opening session will feature speeches by Texas Senator Lloyd Bentsen and Lubbock Congressman George Mahon. The speeches will follow a welcome to Lubbock by Morris Turner, the mayor of the city.

A luncheon for Green Thumb workers and distinguished guests will hear Governor Biscoe's special assistant, Reagan Brown. At the same hour, the ladies attending the convention will be hosted at a luncheon and style show at the South Plains Mall in Lubbock.

The Saturday morning convention program will feature greetings by representatives of youth and other agricultural organizations. Spokesmen from 4H, FFA, FHA, Young Farmers and Young Homemakers of Texas will be on the morning program. Highlights of the Saturday morning program include addresses by National Farmers Union president, Tony Dechant, and National Farmers Union Insurance president, Ray Novak, both of Denver.

The annual banquet on Saturday evening will hear from Congressman Bob Bergland of Minnesota. Bergland, a member of the House Agriculture Committee is a farmer and was a high official of the Department of Agriculture before going to Congress. Special awards will be made to farm news editors at the banquet.

A party has been planned for Friday night to entertain the young people and a breakfast for the youth and leaders has been planned for Saturday morning, featuring an appearance by Mrs. Sherry Leach, Youth Director for National Farmers

PAUL SCOTT: Oil Steps Neglected

WASHINGTON — Lack of pressure on the Arab nations to lift their oil embargo raises some questions about Secretary of State Henry Kissinger's East diplomacy.

With this country facing oil shortages, the economic damage triggered by the Arab oil embargo from the Middle East should be a high priority of this country's Middle East policy.

But this isn't the case. Kissinger, in his Middle East dealings, has treated the Arab oil embargo as a problem — almost as if it were an emergency.

THE STRANGENESS of Kissinger's has been no effort by Secretary of State Henry Kissinger to get the Arab oil embargo lifted. The U.S. has been key to the Arab oil embargo. Kissinger, in his Middle East dealings, has treated the Arab oil embargo as a problem — almost as if it were an emergency.

The U.S. is now making huge sales to Saudi Arabia. This sales bill is in the billions of dollars. A threat to halt this oil trade until the oil embargo is lifted is a powerful weapon.

WHILE THIS counter-pressure has been discussed at the highest levels of administration, its use has been Kissinger. He has taken the position that the Arab oil embargo is a negotiable issue before trying to take action.

With King Faisal threatening to close until Arab lands have been returned to Palestinian question resolved, the strategy could mean a cutoff of U.S. oil for years.

Another pressure weapon the U.S. has is food and feed grain sales to the Arab nations, especially to Egypt. The Agriculture Department reports that sales of U.S. grain and products to the nations participating in the Arab oil embargo against the U.S. are expected to reach $300 million during the next year.

DURING THE PAST year, the Arab nations totaled more than $100 million in grain purchases from the U.S. The largest amount of grain purchased was by Egypt ($25,000,000), Algeria ($20,000,000), Lebanon ($10,000,000), Libya ($10,000,000), and Iraq ($1,300,000).

Since these grain purchases are Arab nations' food supplies, the Arab grain if no oil "policy" by the U.S. would cause some real teeth. Kissinger has opposed even threatening a cutoff.

The Nixon Administration also has a weapon that it is reluctant to use against Arab nations.

THIS IS A BAN against further drilling and production equipment in the Arab nations. Since this equipment is replaced by any other country in the Arab nations, the Arab nations are essential to the Arab nations.

How and when the Nixon Administration get the oil flowing again from the Arab nations is a matter up to Kissinger.

There also are indications that Kissinger is putting pressure on the Arab nations to lift the oil embargo. Kissinger is pictured by aides as being in the Middle East oil cutoff will help the Arab nations to invest billions in oil and gas.

Since upward to $300 billion dollars in investment is needed to develop the oil fields, Kissinger is convinced that the Arab nations need to obtain oil and gas from new sources.

With an energy crisis of dimensions beginning to grip the industrial nations of the Western World, Kissinger is up to the task of determining whether it is in their best interest to lift the oil embargo.

Union. Convention entertainment includes a dance on Friday night and a chartered bus tour of points of agricultural interest on Friday afternoon.

Several hours of the convention program will be devoted to the adoption of a

WARNING! Before having CARPETING

So-called "steam" cleaning methods can be injurious to your fine carpeting. If steam (212°F) were used it would be ruinous! Actually, what is used is just hot water, sometimes with added detergent. And water left in carpeting is often harmful — causing mildew, shrinkage and browning. Injuring carpet fibers, backing, underpadding and floor joists. So, you would be well advised to play it safe by using the method recommended by leading carpet manufacturers —

Word Digs Up 10,000 Year Old Bison

Jim Word dug up a bison in this recent excavation near details

Seven bison are represented at the kill site. The male specimens are much larger than the existing species with horn-cores three to four times the size of those of living bison.

Five spear points have been recovered, three in perfect condition and two broken. One is crafted from petrified wood, two from Edwards Plateau flint from Central Texas, one of Tecovas (Quitque) Jasper and one of Alibates flint from the Canadian River quarries northeast of Amarillo.

The flaking technique, eared base and fluting of the artifacts are similar to techniques of the Clovis culture, the oldest recognized prehistoric people in North America. In addition, the points are notched, a feature not normally found in weapons of so remote an age.

State Archeologist Curtis Tunnell of Austin and Dr. Vince Haynes of Southern Methodist University, a leading authority on the Clovis culture, have visited the site and agree that the culture represented appears to be from 10,000 to 11,000 years old.

This would indicate the unknown culture to have been approximately contemporaneous with the celebrated Folsom culture.

"We suspect that this culture, like the Folsom, is an outgrowth of the Clovis culture," Dr. Hughes said. "It and the Folsom evolved somewhat differently, however. It is possible that these points are the forerunners of some points found in the Eastern United States that are thought to be of great antiquity."

"A fuller understanding of the early kill site and the new culture will follow the detailed laboratory analysis of the excavated materials by Pat Willey, project archeologist, over the next couple of years. We will have to do a lot of work before we know the answers to many of our questions."

FLOYD PHILOSOPHER

Knows One Way To Stop Big Contributions By Corporations

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm is uncharacteristically serious this week, for some reason.

Dear editor:

I don't like to get serious, it's not my style, but it makes no difference how hard I've tried I can't find anything funny about the way people have been wringing their hands over illegal campaign contributions.

Everybody says something has got to be done about it, that it's dangerously unwholesome for so much money to be raised to elect a President, something over 60 million dollars by the Republicans and over 40 by the Democrats, not counting what was raised for lesser offices like the House and Senate, Governorships, etc.

As I understand it, a lot of big corporations are now confessing they knowingly violated the law by handing over big chunks of cash in $100,000-lots to the Presidential campaign. That they knew ahead of time it was against the law is demonstrated by the fact they delivered the money in cash and tried various ways to cover it up on their books, as they are now confessing.

People are asking, how can we put a stop to this?

I can tell you one answer. Find a judge who will fit the punishment to the crime. Instead of fining a multi-million-dollar corporation $5,000 for illegally contributing $100,000, which is about like requiring me to put a nickel in a parking meter, why can't we find some judge who will follow the second provision of the law and sentence the corporation's president and directors to a year in jail? The law is already on the books.

You make it known that any corporation head who uses company money to contribute to a political campaign is going to jail for 12 months, along with his directors, and you'll whip the problem in no time.

Find a judge in the Sirica mold who'll say, look, you guys aren't dumb, you can read, you know the law says it's illegal for a corporation to contribute to a campaign, just as it is to break and enter or steal chickens, and from here on out you're going to spend a year in jail if you do it.

I don't know where the money for a campaign would then come from, but I know where it wouldn't come from.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Holiday Chit Chat By Elsie Hawkins

By Elsie Hawkins

The Holiday season is upon us and there are so many things that we need to be reminded of such as holiday safety, the origin of Christmas, the history of toys, Christmas Fire Safety, etc. From now until Christmas, I am going to have a column in the paper touching on these subjects and many others. In this paper we will discuss holiday safety.

Is it your turn to have the whole family in for Christmas dinner? It should be a great party, but will require careful planning and preparation.

The Consumers Insurance Information Bureau suggests that even before you pick out the Christmas turkey, make plans so that everyone has a safe time.

After the gifts are opened, of Survey 14, Block N, save and except six acres out of the Northeast corner of said quarter section.

Cora D. Simpson to Delbert Anthony Whitfill et ux, Block K in Price Second Addition in Floydada.

Gertrude K. Bales to W. H. Fewell et ux, 80 acres of land being all of the South one-half of the Northeast one-fourth of Survey 62, Block D-3.

Elmer Russell Bales to Gertrude K. Bales, all of the South one-half of the Northeast one-fourth of Survey 62 in Block D-3.

Jo Ellen Carter et ux to Ella Jahnke Reue, Lots 3 and 4 in Block 65.

W. H. Fewell et ux to R. R. Sissney et ux, 80 acres being all of the south one-half of the Northeast one-fourth of Survey 62 in Block D-3.

Beau Brummel, noted for his wit, manners and elegance during the formal era of Regency England, was the grandson of a valet!

assign someone to make sure all wrappings are cleared away. They can be a hazard for fires and falls. It may not work but try to get the kids to keep the toys and games out of the line of traffic. This may break down once company arrives but it is worth the effort.

If the "lord of the manor" is to be the bartender for the day, assign him a location and make sure he gets all his needs out of the way before the cooking is begun. Once you are started on dinner, you don't need extra traffic through the kitchen.

The Bureau says it might be a good idea to assign the children a place to play. The basement or a spare bedroom would be good. At any rate, ban them from your work area. Hot stoves and bubbling pots do not mix with children.

Take an extra moment along the way to make sure that all pot handles are turned in so no one can bump them. Keep sharp knives away from counter edges and appliances away from the sink. If you are using a number of electric appliances such as blenders, toaster-ovens, mixers, or coffee makers, try to distribute the load. Do not plug them all in on one line or try to use them at one time.

In wanting to set a pretty table, keep safety in mind again. If candles are part of the setting keep them away from any evergreen centerpiece. Make sure the candles are firmly set in holders and are lighted only while you and your guests are at the table.

If drinks are served before, during and after dinner, make an allowance of at least an hour between the last drink and the time your company leaves. Alcohol has a cumulative effect on people. If you feel a guest has had too much, suggest someone else drive home or suggest they stay a while longer.

Parents are getting the nicest Christmas gifts ever this year... a new freedom from the worry of holiday hazards.

Now, Mother and Dad can choose children's clothing, trees, toys and trimmings, all designed with the extra bonus of perfection. Thanks to specially developed flame-retardant fibers and toys with built-in safety factors, the careful shopper can enjoy a carefree holiday.

This Christmas, for the first time, every gift of sleepwear in sizes 0-6-X is required by law to be made of fabric containing flame-retardant fibers. Safer acetate, for example, is contained in nightgowns by H. H. Cutler. Although the law does not apply to larger sizes, many manufacturers are designing flame-retardant nightwear for older children as well.

Christmas toys also should be gifts of safety, suited to the age and abilities of the child. In choosing toys for toddlers and small children be wary of sharp edges and small removable parts that could be swallowed.

Older children love craft kits, and craftiest this season are also the safest. Mattel's Sew Magic Kit, for example, can teach even a 5-year-old to sew for her Barbie Doll, without ever a needle prick. Sewing is done with a special non-toxic fusing liquid instead of needle and thread, and an entire doll's wardrobe can be made with flame retardant fabrics.

Check all electrical decorations for the Christmas tree for worn insulation or loose sockets. Some of the newest artificial Christmas trees are fire-safe and look just like real evergreens. Even ornaments are wrapped in flame-retardant acetate now so they're fireproof as well as festive.

Appreciation Reception For Phil Cates

An Appreciation Birthday Reception honoring State Representative Phil Cates is scheduled to be held in the Heritage Room of Pampa's M.K. Brown Civic Auditorium December 13 from 6 to 8 p.m.

Public officials from all over the state are expected to attend the event honoring Rep. Cates, who is currently serving his second term in the Legislature.

Rep. Cates has served as Vice Chairman of the Human Resources committee this past term, as well Vice Chairman of the subcommittee on water within the Natural Resources committee. Cates also serves on the House Agriculture committee.

Currently, he also serves on the special interim committee on state economy, appointed by the Speaker of the House. Included in the legislation

Christmas gifts and decorations will have an added treat... the safest, happiest, holiday they can buy.

In the next edition, we will discuss the origin of Christmas and the history of toys. In future editions, I am trying to get a column together on collector's items for Christmas gifts and also ideas on getting gifts for young people.

DID YOU KNOW?... a third of a cup of vinegar can be a valuable liquid asset for a baby bottle sterilizer. If left to soak overnight, it will remove the mineral and rust deposits.

You can get soiled tennis shoes white on a shoestring. After washing them in the washing machine, apply white shoe polish diluted first with one-half water. When they are dry and stains are completely covered, they look like new.

Couple from Texas run man-and-wife firm

By Fylippa Cumming

A VISIT to South Africa followed by further holidays in this country with his wife, led Mr. W. Fred Martin to emigrate from the United States with his family to the Republic three years ago.

The Martins were born and lived in Texas. He came from farming stock and branched into farm and industrial machinery when he married the daughter of a Texas cattle breeding rancher, and settled in West Texas where their son and daughter were born.

They both love travelling and were invited to this country initially by John Evans, the well-known maize farmer in the Orange Free State. It was through him that Mr. Martin discovered the similarity between farming problems here and in Texas—both with regard to water conservation and soil erosion.

His discovery that the type of equipment he found invaluable in Texas was not available in the Republic made him decide to settle here. He brought the agency for the machinery with him and has promoted it with such success that after only two years, two-thirds of it is locally manufactured and only one third is imported.

his equipment. He has persuaded his son-in-law and daughter to settle in Val near Sanderton, where they breed Hereford cattle and Mr. R. K. Reynolds has become a partner in the business. The Martin's son is at Michaelhouse, but his father shakes his head sadly when asked if he will join the family business: "Not yet, I'm afraid. He seems to want to go back to university in the States."

Air-minded, Mr. Martin is a noted pilot in his own country. His father was one of the first pilots in the USA and little Fred was whisked into a plane from babyhood and came to look upon flying as the ordinary mode of travel from his earliest years.

The striking quality about both the Martins is and interest in people, and life about them. Their youthful appearance is, surely, the outward visible sign of their total involvement in all they undertake.

Their tremendous gamble in coming out here to start afresh was looked upon as an exciting adventure, and Mrs. Martin has thrown her energies and abilities into her husband's work without stint or query.

She runs the office for him, copes with books and typing and has a fresh and smiling approach to every problem. She accompanies him on his travels bringing a humour to exhausting undertakings and a unity seldom found in a man and wife team.

Her own career of interior decorator has been, for the present, put aside. But she speaks with nostalgia of her painting . . . "I was only a weekend painter, but I do miss it" . . . and is presently making extensive alterations to their three-level house in Hilton before moving their furniture out of storage in America.

"I long to be able to get the house right, here," she sighs, "but we move around so much that I never really get going. And when we are here we have houseguests which is, as you know, difficult when you plan alterations."

Her taste leans towards period houses and interiors but she likes good modern furniture which can blend in well. She is fond of wood and wonders why more is not used internally in South Africa since it can be treated to be fire-proof and is decorative as a background to pictures and furniture. She hopes, within the next year, to open her own decorating business and will use her ideas in her own house as a testing ground to show potential clients what can be done with local wood and materials.

KELLY SMITHERMAN

HOME NEEDED FOR AFS STUDENT

A home in Floydada is needed for an American Field Student for the school term of 1974-75. The Student Council made the decision of acquiring another student and the local AFS Chapter approved their decision at their meeting November 14.

Mrs. Pete Hickerson, president of AFS, is asking anyone who may be interested in sharing his home with one of another culture, to contact her at 983-3213 after 5 p.m.

The Chapter also discussed and approved a short

WACO — Kelly Smitherman of Floydada is one of 60 new members of Baylor University's Student Foundation.

Smitherman currently is serving on the Student Recruitment Committee of the foundation, which is an organization of outstanding Baylor junior and senior students. The students work primarily in the areas of university public relations, student recruitment and student scholarships.

The foundation is best known for its sponsorship of Bear Downs, a 50-mile bicycle race conducted each spring to raise money for student scholarships.

Smitherman is the son of Mrs. Joy Smitherman of 805 W. Virginia, Floydada. A 1970 graduate of Floydada High School, Smitherman is a junior English and history major at the Baptist University. He also has attended the University of Texas at Austin.

Smitherman and the other new members of the foundation were honored at a campus banquet earlier term exchange program. The present AFS, Peter McGoldrick, will attend a Dallas school for two weeks, and a girl from a Dallas school will attend Floydada High School two weeks.

The next meeting of the AFS Chapter will be held December 12 in the high school library. All persons interested in the program are urged to attend.

this fall. Banquet speakers were Thomas E. Turner, assistant to Baylor President Abner V. McCall, and Tom Z. Parrish, Baylor vice president for development.

Turner commended the students for "taking part in this stage of your life to learn the value of volunteer work."

"Joining the foundation," he said, "means you are going beyond your job and are doing more for other people. It is commendable that you are willing to work for an organization that does not mean any direct benefit to yourselves."

Parrish reminded the new members of the "importance attached to the foundation."

"I want to thank you for your willingness to serve," he said, "and remind you that yours is a job of work and not just a position of honor."

Parrish said foundation members are important to Baylor as "future helpers in campaigning for the university when they graduate."

The group that included Smitherman was the largest group of new members ever to join the foundation due to expansion of foundation programs and projects for the 1973-74 year.

"The opportunities for making Baylor better through the Student Foundation are almost limitless," McCall said.

He said those chosen for foundation membership were selected because they had demonstrated an interest in the continued improvement of the university in the past and because they have the competence and talent to make a contribution toward this goal in the future.

In addition to his work with the foundation, Smitherman also serves the university through his membership in Baylor Chamber of Commerce, a men's service organization. Smitherman is secretary of the organization.

He is a member of Phi Eta Sigma, freshman men's honorary scholastic society, and Sigma Tau Delta, honorary English fraternity. He also has participated in Baylor's Leakey Leadership Lab for student leaders.

Floydada Care Center Happenings

By Faye Walters
What a nice Thanksgiving week for some of our residents. I think there were 16 residents who went out for dinner, most to the homes of sons or daughters. This means so much to them. Now they will start looking forward to the Christmas holidays. We are thankful for the families who were able to give this happiness to these dear people.

For those who didn't go out for Thanksgiving, we had a very good dinner here with turkey, dressing, pumpkin pie and all the trimmings.

Our devotions this week have been so inspiring and have made most of us stop and think of all the things we have to be thankful for.

We would like to thank some of the women from the First Baptist Church for bringing bags of cookies to all the residents. We appreciate all of you for thinking of our residents, because it means so much to them.

We have two new residents, Della Finley and Mrs. Neff. We hope they will enjoy it here.

This is the second time Della has been with us, and we are very happy she is back.

We are happy too, to have Mom Buchanan home from the hospital. Sure hope Lillie Luttrell will be home soon. Our activities are still going good. We are already thinking about our Christmas party. We still have lots of crafts that would make nice gifts.

We pray everyone will be home and doing fine next week.
