I'M NOT GOING to "sour" our losing Daiwa Spinning to Levelland. However, I think those Japanese are going to the Levelland sandstorms, sandy sand in the machinery etc. Seriously, I'm glad Daiwa has on the South Plains where the Levelland is a good place. Hopefully we have started a trend that will benefit the textile industries in the South Plains where the Floydada isn't giving up. We can get the next textile plant that wants to come this way. Finally, we were in the final round. We came out second of the area towns that were in the final. We were offering Daiwa in any of the other towns when they considered our size town and industry. We can be appreciative of Bill Farris and his industrial team who worked night and day for over six months trying to get Daiwa to locate high school homemaking class prepared one of the most delicious meals for the Japanese and American team. The women at the Electric prepared tea just like Japanese like it. The families of Gene and Gene Arwine opened the doors for dinner and reception. I got all the hours that Bill and Alton Higginbotham and others put in... for free. Most of the towns had paid industrial workers working on this project. So, they deserve a big "Thank you" to us all.

Farris showed the Japanese a beautiful country club from his father and George Miller helped them. People at Lockney made money pledges. President of the Chamber of Commerce, Russell, and Chamber Manager devoted a lot of work on this

City Council Working On New Fire Department Building

The Floydada City Council is continuing work on building of a fire department building, and in their Monday night meeting interviewed a contractor who will draw up specifications for the building.

The council also agreed to advertise for bids on seal coating of several streets in the city this spring and summer.

Possibly the longest discussion of the meeting concerned what to do about the city's need for more engines to generate electricity in the power plant. The council decided to call a special meeting later to complete plans on this announcement. They want more information from the city engineer and a bonding specialist.

A request by Pioneer Natural Gas for a monthly rate adjustment was tabled. In other business the council accepted the paving of one block on South Fourth Street between Mississippi Street and Kentucky Street. All councilmen were present.

Cliff Mlinar, marketing vice president of Southwestern, made the awards presentation at a division sales meeting in Lubbock. The honor was accompanied by a gift of a micro-wave oven. Denton has been manager in Floydada since September 1, 1972.

Floydada made quota, or better, in 14 of 15 areas of sales competition and gained 4 first place positions to bring the honor to Denton.

Denton has been with Southwestern Public Service for 21 years. This is his first manager position with the company. He is incoming president of the Floydada Chamber of Commerce.

Plainview Woman Seeks State Senate Office

A Plainview school teacher who has been active in area and state Republican Party circles for many years has announced her candidacy for nomination as the Republican candidate for state senator from the 30th Senatorial District in the May primary.

Mrs. Mary Virginia Kirchhoff, who presently serves the 30th District as state committeewoman for the GOP, made the announcement in her hometown of Plainview.

Having lived in Texas 40 years, Mrs. Kirchhoff is a native of Missouri and a graduate of Texas Christian University in Fort Worth, and has attended Wayland Baptist College and Texas Tech University. Mrs. Kirchhoff is an instructor in Speech and English at Coronado Junior High School in Plainview. She will take a leave of absence to campaign for the state post. Discussing her candidacy on the Republican ticket, the 47-year-old Mrs. Kirchhoff said, "I don't believe party lines really make any difference if the candidate is someone the people can trust, who has their confidence, who is interested in our area, and who will speak out for us in Austin."

The first woman elected to serve on the board of directors of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, she organized and served as chairman of the Woman's Activities Committee of the WTCC, which covers 132 counties in the western half of Texas.

Mrs. Kirchhoff also assisted in organizing the West Texas "Small Towns task force" for the WTCC. Her instructional material is used on the local, state and national level.

Active in District Girl Scout Work, the Plainview Junior Service League and a life member of the Parent-Teacher Association, Mrs. Kirchhoff also has served as president of the Plainview Classroom Teachers' Association and was elected teacher of the year for Coronado in 1972. She has served the District and State in many capacities, including advisory to the Constitutional Revision Committee.

An active member of Plainview's First Christian Church, she was among the first women to serve on the board of directors in 1953, and at various times also served as a deaconess, choir director, president of the Christian Women's Fellowship, and youth director.

A steady worker for the GOP since the early 1960's, Mrs. Kirchhoff has been a delegate to the state convention six times since 1964, attended the 1964 national convention as an official guest, and served as a delegate to both the national and state Federation of Republican Women since 1971.

She also has served as campaign chairman for numerous GOP candidates, and her daughter, Karen, seems to be following in her footsteps. Karen, a sophomore at Texas Tech University in Lubbock, served as a page representing Texas in the 1971 National Federation meeting in Washington, D.C.

Her husband, John, is a farmer, stockman and investor, and her son, John E., is also a farmer and stockman.

Daiwa Plant Goes To Levelland

By Wendell Tooley

Eight or nine members of the Floydada Development Company met here Monday afternoon and briefly discussed the loss of Daiwa Spinning Plant to Levelland. Announcement was made by Governor Dolph Briscoe about noon Monday that the Japanese based company had decided on locating its $15 million plant on the east city limits of Levelland.

Chairman of the Floydada Development Company board Bill Hale told the group, "well, we've learned a lot, we've come in second to some 12 area cities. It's disappointing to lose a project on which we have worked so hard." Hale also expressed his thanks to everyone in Floydada and Lockney who worked on the project, especially the county commissioners and the Floydada city council.

Daiwa first considered locating in Monroe, La. . . then Waco, Texas. About four months ago they announced they had decided that the South Plains of Texas, where the quality cotton they desired was raised, was where they would locate. At this time they had eliminated seven of the 12 area towns seeking their industry. This left Slaton-Lubbock, Lamesa, Levelland, Floydada and Plainview.

Then just before Christmas the Japanese company officials and representatives of the Texas Industrial Commission again visited Levelland and Floydada.

Levelland gave Daiwa 100 acres of land located on a paved highway and railroad, plus 71 acres of underground water rights, plus $30,000 cash and free disposal of water and sewage for the plant. When asked what advantages Levelland might have had to offer Daiwa over Floydada, Hale said he thought Levelland had a lower tax rate, cheaper water, and possibly some advantages of being a college town in getting Daiwa labor and helping train their workers.

The new type open spinning plant would have used about half Floyd County's cotton production per year, would employ as many as 750 people and use over two million gallons of water per day in its spinning and weaving process.

PLEDGE CARDS Persons who signed pledge cards to the Daiwa fund are reminded that the pledges are null and void since Daiwa did not locate in Floyd County.

However, should anyone want to pick up his pledge card, he may do so at the Floydada Chamber of Commerce office.

Teeter Named Floyd Fair Board President

Floyd County farmer Eddie Teeter was elected new president of the Floyd County Fair board at the annual board dinner in the Massie Activity Center in Floydada Monday night.

He succeeds Kenneth Holt of the Lone Star community.

New vice president is Buster Terrell of the Irick community. Anthony Whitfill of the Lighthouse Electric Cooperative staff was elected secretary and Roy Kidd of Lockney was elected treasurer.

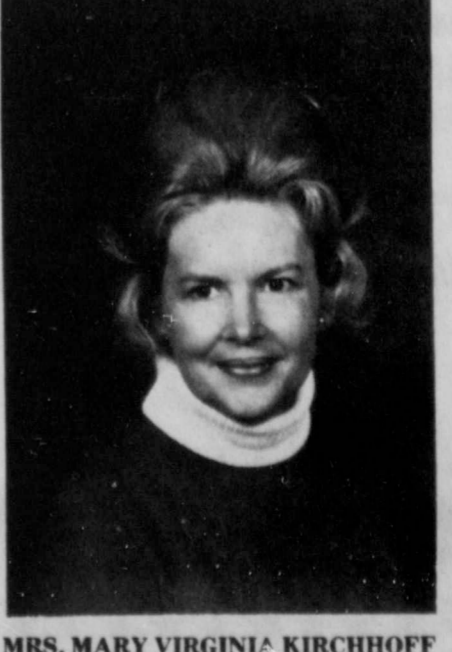

Holt expressed his appreciation to the board for their cooperation in making the fair a success last year. Terrell reported that the fair association is in better financial condition than a year ago.

Teeter said, "the fair is for the people, and with this in mind, we hope to have a bigger and better fair in 1974". Teeter also said contract had been signed for a carnival, and two directors were needed on the board from the Floydada community.

The board voted to change the monthly meeting time to the last Monday of the month at 7:30 p.m. 1974 fair dates are September 12-13-14.

In other business the board approved $300 for materials that the Lockney Future Farmers will build livestock show panels from to be used at the fat stock show and the fair.

Teeter expressed the appreciation of the board to Holt for a good job as president last year.

NATIONAL COTTON MKT. SLOWING

Activity in Western cotton markets continued slow this week, according to the Agricultural Marketing Service, USDA. Lower prices in Texas and Oklahoma markets caused some growers to hold available supplies. Texas merchants were busy taking delivery on a heavy volume of previously contracted cotton.

Some merchants were out of the market because of the volume of contracted cotton being delivered to them. In California and Arizona, growers had little cotton to offer. In the San Joaquin Valley of California, a small volume of 1974-crop cotton was contracted at 72.00 to 74.00 cents per pound, basis grade 31, staple 35, 3.5 to 4.9 mike. In the Harlingen, Texas territory, the Lockneyettes dropped district game last Friday as they dropped a 67 to Idalou on the

Dear Abby

Chain' sister for needed vacation

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1974 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

ABBY: I am a widow, 59, and since my husband three years ago, I've been stuck taking care of parents, 82 and 84, everything for them, and get no salary. I am just a housewife, and really should have a paying job. My mother is senile and almost totally blind and deaf. Mother and bedridden. Both are weak and failing. My problem is this: I want to visit my married daughter in California. Her baby is 2 years old and I haven't even seen her yet. I haven't had a day off in three years. My husband and I can't get anyone to stay with my parrot for a few weeks. I am all worn out, and need to get away. My daughter will pay for my trip if I can make it. Write to me.

CHAINED: Your parents also are your sister's parents. Why not ask sister to request a two-week leave from her job and give you a long overdue, much needed vacation? Contact County Welfare and ask if they can help you. Wish you luck, I.P.S. I hope your parents don't feel "stuck" with them. Knowing that burden would make their miserable lot more bearable.

Sandra Kay Titus Bride Of Jim Crawford. Candlelight Vows Read In Plainview

Miss Sandra Kay Titus became the bride of James Stephen (Jim) Crawford in a candlelight ceremony read Saturday evening in the chapel of the First Baptist Church in Plainview. The Rev. James Dewese, pastor of the Dougherty Baptist Church, performed the 7 o'clock p.m. wedding.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Titus, Route 2, Plainview, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Crawford of Dougherty.

Arrangements of white tapers and tropical foliage graced the wedding altar, flanked by candelabras with crystal prisms and tapers. Bridal aisles were marked with garland and gypsophalia holding voice cups.

Betty Morton of Plainview was organist and Mrs. Roger Edwards of Plainview sang, "The Twelfth of Never."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional styled gown of white satin, fashioned with a high rise waistline, accented with a row of Venice lace daisies. The molded bodice had three-dimensional lace appliques and the sheer yoke of English net was edged in Battenburgh lace, used again on the wedding band neckline. Long slender sleeves of sheel ala mode fabric came to petal point with the lace trim. The skirt had a stained glass window effect with three-dimensional lace appliques on the sheer fabric, also edged in Venice lace, and the cathedral length train swept back to reveal the same stained glass window effect.

For her veil, the bride selected a Juliet style caplet of satin trimmed with Venice lace daisies. The fingertip veiling fell in three tiers, each edged with Venice lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of white sweetheart roses and pixie carnations, showered with love knots.

For something old and borrowed the bride carried in her bouquet, a small pin of a hand holding a wedding ring, belonging to the groom's aunt, Mrs. Otis Anderson of Floydada. The pin, originally owned by a grandmother, Mrs. O. H. Ferguson, was used in Mrs. Anderson's wedding and her two sisters, one being the groom's mother, and the other, Mrs. Brownie Smith of Crosbyton. It was also used in the wedding of a cousin, Mrs. Doug Galloway of Floydada.

For something new the bride wore diamond earrings, a gift from the groom, and also added the traditional touch of blue.

Miss Jacque Crawford of Earth, sister of the groom, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Kaye Boyd and Janis Reinken, both of Plainview.

Bridal attendants were gowned in emerald green velvet formals styled with empire waists accented with satin ribbons. Long sleeves and necklines were trimmed with white ecru lace. They wore Dior bow headpieces which held shoulder length veils of illusion, and each carried nosegays of cerise carnations trimmed with white lace and satin.

Michele Titus of San Antonio, niece of the bride, and Kristi Smith, Crosbyton, cousin of the groom, were flower girls. They wore floor length dresses fashioned in emerald green velvet bodices and long full sleeves and skirts of Nile chiffon.

Candlelighters were Jay Smith of Crosbyton, and Jimmy Jones of McCoy, both cousins of the groom.

Steve Nelle of Lewisville served as best man. Groomsmen were Boyd Lychman of Lubbock and Capt. LeRoy Titus of San Antonio, brother of the bride.

Assisting at the reception which followed in the church parlor were Miss Vicky Cox of Plainview, who registered guests; Misses Cindy Stephenson and Cheryl Cox, both of Plainview at the bride's table and Misses Barbara Marshall of Lubbock and Connie Anderson of Floydada at the groom's table.

Cake and punch were served from the bride's table which was laid with a white net cloth over satin. A white wrought iron candelabra holding green votive cups and garlands with white gypsophalia, formed the centerpiece. The groom's table was covered with an emerald green cloth, and was centered with an arrangement of white small mums encircled with a brass candleholder containing green votive candles in white milk glass containers. Chocolate cake and coffee were served from milkglass appointments.

For a wedding trip to Clouderoft, N.M., the bride changed to a brown wool pantsuit trimmed in brown suede and brown accessories. Upon the couple's return they will reside on Route 4, Floydada, where the groom is engaged in farming.

Mrs. Crawford is a 1971 graduate of Plainview High School and the groom is a 1971 Floydada graduate. Both attended Texas Tech.

The rehearsal dinner was given by the groom's parents Friday evening at the Alceve Restaurant in Plainview. The bridesmaids' luncheon was held in the home of the bride's parents.

More women will serve in decision-making positions in political parties; More women will be elected officers of corporations and businesses; and qualified women will be allowed credit more quickly and easily.

IN a pre-Halloween survey back in October of some 250 American witches who lay claims of predicted incidents in the past, have forecast another "big" scandal this year for the government; a governor will announce his divorce so he can wed a well-known actress; a woman will be named president of a leading labor union and another will be signed by a major baseball team on the West Coast; a new medical discovery will wipe out one of the nation's major diseases; and the Dow Jones industrial average will hit an all time high and then fall back within the next six months.

SEEMS everyone is suffering from the sneezes and coughs in our community, so I brushed up on the amenities for mastering the art of sneezing as well as learning the old wives' tales concerning the "ah-choo." Long ago beliefs are that when you sneeze, the soul temporarily leaves the body, and from the way some people sneeze, I believe it. A body-wrenching sneeze brings on comments such as "God Bless You" and "Gesundheits" and I hope that's spelled correctly, which, in German means to your health.

From what I gather, and it's all probably caused from the nippy winds of Jack Frost, a sneeze is caused from an irritation of the mucus membrane of the nose. If one person sneezes loud enough to lift the furniture from the floor, then he is possessed with more muscles than one with a little delicate "A-chee". The more muscles you are endowed with, the more noise you are going to make when you sneeze, according to a medical report.

Miss Wylie-Kerry Taylor Reveal Wedding Plans

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. Ted Bruce of Estelline, and Cleon Wylie of Plainview. Kerry is the son of Mrs. Y. Z. Taylor and the late Y.Z. Taylor of Memphis, Texas.

Miss Wylie is a student at Estelline High School. Kerry has attended Clarendon Junior College and is now employed by the Enslow Cattle Co.

Family and friends of the couple are invited to attend.

What One Person Can Do

A few years ago, a tall young woman walked into a missioner's second-story office in Santiago, Chile, gasping for breath. She said that her name was Elena Frings and that she suffered from serious heart trouble. She was in her 20s. But her doctor had given her six months to live.

Ms. Frings pleaded for a place on a team the missioner was directing, a team working with slum-dwellers. She said she wanted to be part of a project that would go on after she died. "That way I will die happy," she said.

The priest hesitated. But she insisted, and he finally gave in. Undaunted by her failing heart, Ms. Frings plunged into training work for organizers. Her impact was so great that she soon became vice president of the organization — The National Institute for Neighborhood Action and Research.

Though she was frequently ill, Ms. Frings did not die. She continued her work. Word spread about her great influence among the urban poor. In time, she was invited to New York to talk about her work. While there, she met a heart surgeon who examined her and recommended an immediate operation. She said she did not have the money. But a way was found: the City of New York paid for the surgery.

Ms. Frings returned to South America with a new resolve to help the people of that continent's burgeoning slums. Her life continues to touch and better the lives of thousands. Today, Elana Frings, once given six months to live, is still working with slum-dwellers in Caracas, Venezuela.

Suppose you had only six months to live? What constructive changes would you make in your life? Why wait for a death sentence? Make them now. Live each day as if it were your last.

The Floydada Junior High Breezers took second place in the Olton Seventh Grade Basketball Tournament last weekend. The Breezers lost to a big Dimmitt team in the finals Saturday, 36-25. Todd Vickers scored 10 points for Floydada in that game. Jimmy Covington added five.

the bench to do a good job at guard. Coach Sally Miller said it was a good defensive effort.

The Whirlwinds were ahead 13-10 after one period of play. Tulsa enjoyed a 25-23 halftime advantage, but the 'Winds came up with a big third quarter and outscored the Hornets 19-7 to take a ten-point lead to the final frame.

Tulsa pulled to within two points with 40 seconds to go. Tulsa scored four points on two free throws in the last minute of the game. Tuesday, the Whirlwinds beat Abernathy 67-63. Tulsa won 18-12 after a quarter and 56-39 after three quarters.

Kevin Ratliff was (17) and top rebounder. Steve Moon and Johnson hit for 15. The 'Winds try to win tomorrow.

Breezers Split With Shorthorns

Lockney's Shorthorns beat the seventh-grade Breezers Monday, 21-16, but the Breezers won the eighth-grade game 43-23. The basketball games were played in the Lockney gym.

The Breezer seventh showed good hustle in the game, coach Mike Cocanougher said, but it was just "one of those nights" when they couldn't hit the basket. Ricky Luna scored nine points, high for the Breezers. Top rebounders for FJES were Ricky Jackson, Brett Marble, and Luna. Lockney led all the way -- it was 12-0 in the first quarter.

Guy Ledbetter returned to lead the Breezer eighth to their 43-23 conquest of the Shorthorns. Ledbetter scored 20 points. Harold Dempsey 10, Oliver Wells, 6; Toby Rhodes 4, and Ricky Covington 3, in what coach Gary Jones said was "...the best-balanced offense we've had all year." Covington and Rhodes led the rebounders.

All the Breezers got to play. The victory added the eighth-grade boys' season record to 6-2. They are 3-2 in district play.

The eighth-graders travel to Olton Thursday, when they play the host team a tournament. If they win, they play again Saturday.

The FJES boys host Idalou Monday. The seventh-grade contest begins at 5 p.m.

Girls Down Abernathy, Lose To Tulsa

Friday at Tulsa, the Hornets handed Floydada's varsity girls their first district defeat. Marble each had 10 Whirlettes. Tulsa game too, 50-34. Floydada.

Becker, Cagle, Young Receive Top Awards At 'Wind Football Banquet

Whirwind football players and coaches were honored at the Whirwind Football Banquet held Saturday in the Massie Activity Center. The Floydada Quarterback Club sponsors the annual event.

John Cagle was named outstanding back. Lynn Becker outstanding lineman, and Renee Young "Fighting Whirwind" for the 1973 football season. Nancy Puckett was named football queen for the year.

Cagle, a senior and the 'Winds' only three-year letterman, was picked on the 4-AA coaches' all-district team and a first-team selection on the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal's All-South Plains unit. The Whirwind quarterback lettered on three district championship teams during his high-school career.

The Fighting Whirwind award is presented to the player who makes the most of his abilities. Coach L. G. Wilson, in presenting the award, said of Young, "She's a pound for pound, there's probably not a better football player in the state..." Young is also a senior who lettered two years for the 'Winds' and made the all-district team at offensive halfback.

Becker, Cagle and Young were tri-captains for the 73 district season. Other Whirwind gridirers who received two-year letters at the banquet were seniors Danny Bradford, Ruben DeLeon, Mike Hatley, Mark Robason, Marc Smitzerman and Ashley Wester, and junior Rex Yeary.

Warren Speaks To Young Farmers

Floyd County Extension Agent Doyle Warren spoke to the Floydada Young Farmers at the group's regular monthly meeting at King's Restaurant Monday night. James H. Valentine, plant nutritionist for the Lubbock Experiment Station, was scheduled to speak at the meeting but could not be there. Warren, who has been working with Valentine, spoke on the topics of fertilizers, soil testing and fertilizer economies.

Warren noted that ammonia is the starting point for most nitrogen fertilizers. It takes a tremendous amount of natural gas to make anhydrous ammonia, so the current natural gas shortage is the reason for the shortage of nitrogen fertilizers, he said. The extension agent said that most soil in this area must have nitrogen added to produce, but that a balanced fertilizer, with phosphorus, potassium and other nutrients, in addition to nitrogen, generally gives better results. He noted that iron and zinc deficiencies in the soil can be caused by misuse of fertilizer.

He said that the farmer needs to apply only what the soil does not supply, and recommended a soil test to find out which nutrients (and how much) the soil needs, especially in the current shortage situation, when the availability of fertilizers is expected to be about half of what it has been in previous years. Because fertilizer will be hard to get, and what is available will be expensive, Warren said farmers may have to "spread it out," but, he added, "even at $200 a ton, fertilizer is cheap," considering the results. The First National Bank of Floydada provided the steak and potatoes meal. About 30 attended the meeting.

The next Young Farmers meeting is scheduled February 11 at King's.

'Wilderness' well-made

By JOHN HARTL

"VANISHING WILDERNESS," at the Lewis & Clark, Lake City, John Danz, Lynn and Roxy theaters, is one of the few new nature documentaries that is both well-photographed and crammed with interesting footage of animals in their natural surroundings.

Shot entirely in 35-millimeter — even the Disney wildlife documentaries were shot mostly in 16mm, then blown up to 35mm — the picture benefits greatly from the increased clarity, color fidelity and lack of grain. But it is the inherent interest of the intimate scenes of animal life, patiently recorded over a five-year period, that really carry the film.

The work of A. R. Dubbs and Heinz Seilmann, as well as several additional photographers, the film covers a wide area, from the Arctic to the Florida Everglades. While it treats some traditional nature-movie subjects — the mass suicide of lemmings, the upstream pilgrimage of salmon — it also has some startlingly unfamiliar material.

The shots of an alligator killing and devouring a rat-snake — fangs and all — and of a snake bird spearing and then gulping down fish are fascinating studies of animals as relentless predators. Yet there is never a sense of the filmmaker exploiting such gruesome details; the film communicates the same healthy acceptance of nature in all its phases as the best Disney "true-life adventures."

And the carnage is consistently cut with humor: a sea otter lying on its back and using its belly as a dining table; black bears working on a honey tree that refuses to be pried apart; pelicans diving as if delirious, straight into the sea to grab their prey. Only occasionally does the cuteness get a little cloying.

Rex Allen's narration is sometimes informative, but often a liability, as when he cozily points out landmarks ("Look, there's Zap Grey's cabin") or turns preachy ("Perhaps we humans should copy their methods of settling disputes") or patronizing (as in a sequence about Eskimos trying doughnuts). The film is also poorly organized, jumping from one episode to another without establishing connections, and often failing to develop promising material.

But unlike so many recent cheap nature movies, "Vanishing Wilderness" doesn't try to pad a few minutes of good animal footage into a feature-length film. Almost all of it has merit, and one ends up wanting more rather than less.

The announcement of Jackson's promotion was made by Colonel Wilson E. Spear, DPS director. The change followed Busby's retirement after serving DPS since 1958.

Jackson, a veteran with the department since 1942 heads the division which conducts studies and research into new programs in police sciences, develops test areas and promotes pilot studies of suggested programs.

The Inspection and Planning Division makes general field inspections to ascertain that programs and policies are being followed by the field service units.

It is one of the major divisions within the DPS.

Jackson, 61, is a native of Floydada, and attended schools there, and at Moran, Albany and Burkett. He graduated from Burkett High School as valedictorian of his class.

In 1942, he joined the DPS as a student patrolman. After completing his training he was assigned to the Driver License Service. He moved up through the ranks and in December, 1946 he was promoted to Acting Captain and stationed in San Antonio. He transferred to San Angelo the following year. In 1948, he was promoted to chief examiner and moved to Austin. He became assistant chief of the

Newman Jackson

Driver License Division in 1952.

When the Department was reorganized in 1967, he transferred to the Inspection and Planning Division as Driver License Inspector.

Jackson is a member of the American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators in Washington, D. C. and in 1967 he was presented a Distinguished Service Award from that organization for his contributions in the field of driver licensing on state and national levels.

His wife is the former Mildred Foster from Cass. They are parents of one daughter and two sons, all of Austin.

FLOYD PHILOSOPHER

Goes Through His Annual Chore
Of Cleaning Off Cluttered Desk

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm sits through a few scattered thoughts this week, getting rid of the old year.

I was going through the annual chore of cleaning off my desk preparing for a new year and ran across a few paragraphs I might as well get rid of on the grounds of the old saying, "Waste not, Want not", which was true up till about six months ago when nearly everything, whether we'd wanted it or not, ran short, including even tanning wire and I got set to hear of any farmer ever wanting tanning wire.

Anyway, here are a few scraps I saved from my wastebasket:
Now that daylight saving time is in effect some people are worried about kids going to school in the dark, whereas maybe they ought to be worried about kids coming out of school in the dark.

Speaking of old sayings, I have often wondered, you reckon the one about "not putting all your eggs in one basket" was thought up by a basket maker?

Language has to be handled carefully not only to get your point over but to keep from getting it over. For example, how far would that famous hamburger chain get if instead of advertising its famous "Quarter pounder" it said the same thing by calling it a "Four outer"?

By the way, in case you have any reader who is slow on the up-take and probably borrows a copy of The Hesperian or Beacon, there are 16 ounces in a pound, even of hamburger meat.

I had then there was the Scrooge-type man who, on getting a picture of his out-of-state grandchildren for Christmas, said "Himman... how's that saying go... One picture is worth a thousand kids."

You can't always believe what you read. On the other hand, if you read just what you believe, you won't use much electricity.

Speaking of old sayings, I have often

Damage In Feed Store

A fire at Carmack Feed and Seed, 111 North Main in Floydada, resulted in extensive smoke damage and some flame damage to the building, and the loss of all the firm's egg cartons, according to James R. Steele, manager and part owner of the business.

Firemen could not determine the cause of the fire. Fire chief Bill Marquis said a gas heater near the stacks of egg cartons could possibly have leaked.

The Floydada fire department answered a call to the Muncy Elevator Monday. A fire on fire elevator was false alarm, no truck arrived, and ployees saw nothing about the fire.

Marquis said day, the answered a barn a mile. The fire still answers each week fires.

Weed District Applying

By Wayne Lipham

At the present time the Weed District is applying herbicide on fence rows, implement parking lots, and around irrigation wells for weed control. By having fence rows clean before the application you will get a better control, because the soil needs to be wet with the herbicide mixture. This is impossible when the old weeds are left standing.

All farmers who are interested in this type of weed control should contact the Weed District office and leave their request. Wayne Lipham, Supervisor of the District, stated that he

Floydada Care Center News

By Faye Walters

It has been such a beautiful week, even with ice on every tree, weed and cotton stalk. It looked like a white Christmas, and felt like one too. I guess there was very little moisture but we were thankful for what there was.

Our devotions this week were good. It makes the days so much better and filled with more joy and gladness when you receive something from the word of God every day. This is the only way some of our residents have of getting this as some can not see how to read any more.

We are very glad that we have people in Floydada who see to it that our residents don't starve spiritually.

Some of our residents are not well at all and we covet your prayers for them.

We had several visitors this week. Relatives of Mr. Baker and Lillie Luttrell have been here almost around the clock. The Loves, Ray Reed, Verba Jackson, Velma Spence, Dora Langford, Ollie Stewart, and L. A. Sargent had visitors also.

We have been making cushions and lap robes in the activity room and need more double knit scraps. If you have some that you wish to give, we would be happy to get them.

We want to thank the Calvary Baptist women for bringing us several lap robes this week for our residents. It sure helps keep their feet and legs warm.

Thursday's bingo was fun with everyone winning at least one game for the second week in a row. Minnie Wood and Della Finley tied with four games each.

We hope next week will be a good one for all our residents.
