Cedar Hill Area Hard Hit By Hail

There was hardly any pattern to wind, rain and hail storms that swept across Floyd County Thursday night. However, heavy rain, wind and a lot of small hail hit farms about three miles northwest of Cedar Hill with extensive damage.

Dick Ford had 40 acres of onions, a large acreage of cotton damaged. Edna Gilley, C.L. Gilley and Jack Yearry farms suffered wheat and row crop damage.

A total of two to three inches of moisture accompanied the storm in this area. There was hardly a sprinkle of rain at Cedar Hill and South Plains proper.

Harmony received a half inch, Floydada three quarters of an inch...one tenth at Almon. No rain south of the canyon.

Dougherty got around two inches of rain with slight hail damage.

There were some tornado warnings...one earlier in the evening, reported about ten miles southwest of Floydada.

In Lockney, the rainfall totaled about an inch, and there was some small hail. But in outlying communities in the Lockney area, smaller amounts of rain were measured; the total at Muncy was six-tenths of an inch, about half an inch was measured at Sterley, and Aiken received only two-tenths of an inch.

A half inch of rain was reported at Barwise with some slightly damaging hail toward Sandhill.

American Heart Assn. Observes Memorial Day

"In accordance with the established custom of year-round memorial giving to the American Heart Association, the public is being encouraged to consider memorial gifts at this special time of year as a particularly appropriate means of observing Memorial Day", according to Edell Moore, president of the Floydada American Heart Association.

"On Memorial Day, we honor those who have died defending our freedom," Moore said. "They have died for a noble cause and we should never forget their sacrifice. But what of those millions who have died needlessly of heart attack, stroke and related heart diseases? We should also remember them with a gift of love that helps in our day-to-day fight against our nation's Number 1 Killer, heart disease."

"Group memorials can be made by groups such as office personnel, unions, clubs and organizations, scrolls inscribed with the names of all donors participating in group gifts are sent to the next of kin."

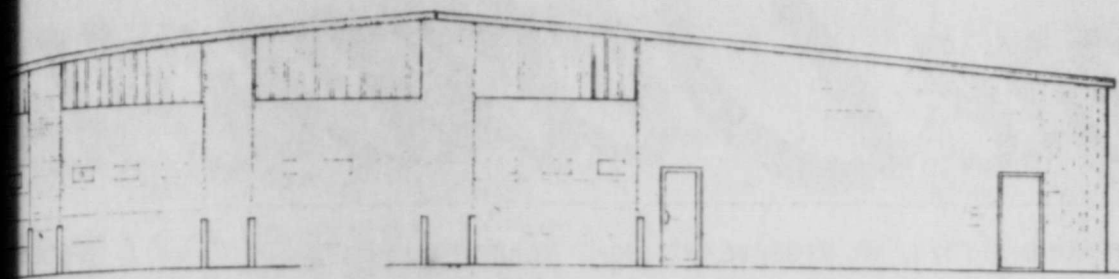

Memorial Gifts to the Heart Association may be sent to O. M. Watson Jr., Courthouse, Floydada, or any Heart Ass'n. official.

Monday Holiday In Floydada

According to a vote by the Floydada Retail Merchants group, Monday will be observed as the official Memorial Day holiday.

Although grocery stores and service stations will probably be open, most businesses will be closed.

Actually, Memorial Day is Thursday, May 30, but new laws moved the holiday to Monday creating a "long weekend."

Grants To County $1,934,000

How well has Floyd County compared to other parts of the state in the amount of Federal grants-in-aid and revenue sharing? Of the $42.8 billion that was distributed in the past fiscal year, how much went to the local area?

Based upon a state-by-state analysis made by the Tax Foundation, a non-profit research organization that watches over government taxation and spending, Floyd County collected a relatively small share in the year.

It received approximately $1,934,000 through the combination of revenue sharing and grants-in-aid, according to a breakdown of the Tax Foundation's figures.

The total amount allocated to the State of Texas as a whole came to $2,054,000, it reports, on the strength of data it obtained from the Treasury Department.

The grants were made to help the state and its communities with their expenditures for highways, education, urban renewal, public assistance, health care and the like.

Also considered in the study was the cost of these benefits to the communities. They are paid for out of Federal income and excise taxes that are collected from local residents and assigned to the aid programs.

Floyd County's share of these costs amounted to approximately $2,011,000 in the past year, the breakdown indicates. The state's contribution was $2,129,000,000, exclusive of the matching funds that had to be put up in connection with many of the grants.

Locally, as in most parts of the country, the grants and the costs did not balance out equally. There was no attempt to make them do so. The only consideration, in awarding them, is supposed to be a community's needs and requirements, measured against the needs of other communities.

The wide divergence is indicated by the fact that, for 22 of the states, the grants were something less than a bargain. They paid more toward the programs than they received in aid.

Indiana came out worst. It paid $1.55 for every $1 that was returned to it.

Talent Contest Deadline Saturday Noon

Everyone is reminded that the deadline for entering the talent hootenanny contest is 12 noon at The Hesperian Office.

Anyone interested in entering should call the Hesperian, 983-3737.

The contest is set for 8 p.m. on the slab south of the courthouse Saturday night.

Mayor Reports On Mosquito War!

Floydada mayor Parnell Powell told The Hesperian Friday that the city is doing its best to control the huge infestation of mosquitoes.

"Although aerial spraying was not to begin until June under our contract with the sprayers, we have already sprayed one time, and looks like we may have to spray again as the baseball program begins Monday night," the Mayor said.

Each spraying costs the city $775. City manager Bill Feuerbacher said lakes near the Wye are being mowed and the dust machine will be used in other areas to control mosquito breeding.

VISITORS TO THE FLOYD COUNTY MUSEUM will see the new display cases pictured above. Most of them are empty, but will soon be filled. (Staff Photo).

prices have dropped. Warehouses and processors are stacked up with the 1973 crop. For the time being, farmers — confronted with rising costs — and buyers, facing a drop in the market, are playing a waiting game. On the High Plains, where around 80 percent of the state's cotton is grown, no one is even talking the subject, White said. "Compresses and warehouses are 90-120 days behind schedule in processing and shipping. When that crop starts to move, maybe then buyers will start thinking about the new crop." White expressed some concern about High Plains cotton, which is currently being planted. "If they don't get more rain, there could be a drop in harvest," he said.

FARM REVIEW

FARM BUREAU SAFETY AWARD... President of the Floyd County Farm Bureau presents the Texas Safety Association farm and ranch award to Floydada FFA boys David Schwertner and Robert Ferguson.

PLANT PINTO BEANS FOR PROFIT

LUBBOCK — Grower interest in pinto beans has been spurred by record high prices in recent months. Agricultural officials are predicting a 20 percent increase in acreage this year, and the crop makes an attractive alternative to hauled out cotton. But a flooded market can send high prices tumbling to the cellar, says a vegetable specialist here. And for that reason, new growers are those who are expanding their bean acreage will need to tread the swirling waters carefully.

"Dry beans can be profitable," says Dr. Roland Roberts, "but only for those who practice sound management."

Roberts is area specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, based at Lubbock.

Top prices are paid only for clean, smooth beans that are free of damage from moisture and splitting, he explains. High yields and quality require careful planning right from the start, and are more difficult to achieve when growers switch to beans at the last minute.

The vegetable specialist points to seed quality, soil fertility and soil moisture as critical factors in pinto bean production.

Infected seed often results in blight infection. They can not be distinguished from clean seed in appearance, so Roberts recommends California grown seed which are certified to be free of seed borne diseases. Good seed always show the percent germination on the bag label.

Soil testing is an essential management tool, he adds. Soils containing between 60 and 80 pounds of available nitrogen will not need additional preplant nitrogen to produce top yields. Too much nitrogen will delay maturity, encourage excessive vining, and make clean harvesting more difficult, he cautions.

To achieve good soil moisture, growers may need to apply up to 24 inches of water for best yields if rainfall is too low. Preplant water is advisable, Roberts suggests, but watering up the beans should be avoided to prevent seed decay and damping off.

"One to two irrigations between emergence and blossoming will assure a vigorous plant capable of supporting a heavy pod set," he explains. "Producers should plan to irrigate during blossoming and pod fill, but once the pod fill is complete and beans are fully sized, no watering should be done so that the beans can mature rapidly."

As for type of beans to plant, Roberts says that Idaho III and Luna both are well adapted to the South Plains area. Idaho III matures early, is bushy, produces relatively large seed, and is resistant to curly top virus and bean mosaic. Luna matures later, tends to be viny, has a medium to small seed and resists some strains of bean rust. Neither variety is blight resistant.

Pintos should be planted only where dry beans, soybeans and peas have not been grown in at least three years, he says. Growers should never plant beans where propazine or atrazine was applied at any time in the previous season.

"Idaho III yields well in a stand of about four plants per foot of row with one row on a 40-inch bed. Luna needs more room — two to three plants per foot on 40-inch beds. One plant every 10 to 12 inches is about right for dry land production."

Roberts cautions bean growers to calibrate their planters according to seed size and germination to get the right stand. They should plan to put down 50 to 80 pounds of seed if the percent of germination is low. Usually, 30 to 40 pounds of high germination seed is enough to seed an acre to a good stand.

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAINS COTTON GROWERS, INC.

How much noise emanates from tractors and other farm machinery is not one of those things about which farmers have been overly concerned. But if the Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) has its way the question may become more important than anyone would have thought possible a few years ago.

OSHA is proposing a noise standard for agriculture. The proposal has not been published, but it is on the way, and as now written would impose an expensive, time consuming and largely useless set of noise monitoring and protection rules on all farm employers regardless of classification or size.

Hearings on the proposed standards are scheduled for May 29 and 30 in Washington, so there is a chance that OSHA regulations on acceptable noise levels and the required protection against unacceptable noise will be reasonable and practical.

Very little information is available on either the amount of noise exposure in agriculture or its effects on employee hearing. And the absence of such information makes it impossible to determine, first, if there is a problem, and second, whether any problem which may exist can be corrected by practical means. One of OSHA's prime considerations in this area should be the fact that, unlike much of industry, nearly all exposure to noise in agriculture is frequently interrupted by periods of quiet. This fact has been pointed out to OSHA by the Standards Advisory Committee on Agriculture, the Texas member of which is Tony Price, Executive Vice President of The Texas Cotton Ginners Association, Dallas.

The proposed regulations state "Medical surveillance shall be carried out under the supervision of a physician and will include audiometric testing by a physician, an audiologist or a certified audiometric technician."

Equipment for conducting audiometric tests starts at $400.00 without the room or mobile enclosure necessary to carry out such testing.

The Agricultural Standards Advisory Committee, noting that medical surveillance is one of its greatest concerns, says "Audiometric testing and monitoring in the present agricultural environment is neither economically feasible nor practical," adding that "In one state alone, we are looking at the monumental undertaking of testing approximately 100,000 individuals at over 300 widely dispersed locations."

Summing up its statement, the Advisory Committee said "Finally, and foremost, this committee believes the proposed standard in its present form is not practical in its application to agriculture until further study is developed on noise levels, exposures, and the feasibility of controls."

Texas Crops Doing Well... Livestock Export Pens Go Modern... Ear Ticks a Menace... Shortages Yet.

GRAIN SORGHUM is reported heading out from South Central Texas southward, and cotton is blooming in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, as most of Texas enjoyed good growing weather within the past week or 10 days. Planting of both grain sorghum and cotton is gaining momentum on the Low and High Plains. There was some hail damage in the Valley recently as there was on peaches in the Limestone and Freestone Counties areas. The rains slowed harvest of potatoes and cabbage in the San Antonio-Winter Garden area, Watermelons and cantaloups were beginning to come off in the Valley. Rice planting is almost complete in the State, compared with about 75 percent at this time last year. Wheat and oat harvest is well underway.

THE TEXAS Department of Agriculture is now operating five new livestock export facilities at El Paso, Brownsville, Del Rio, Houston and Eagle Pass, and the sixth and final installation authorized by the legislature will be built at Laredo. Texans who have not visited one of the facilities would be interested to see what has been happening in the livestock exporting business which adds millions to the economy each year. Everything has been done at the facilities to make it easier and safer to handle animals and to prevent the export—or import—of diseased animals. The loading and unloading chutes may be raised or lowered hydraulically, and vats for dipping cattle also are movable. The strong-built pens, all under a roof, have concrete floors and curbs that make cleaning easier. Office space and laboratories also are at each location. The El Paso and Brownsville facilities are the most recent to go into operation of the five now in use. Commissioner John C. White reported that 33,000 head of livestock went through the Houston, Del Rio and Eagle Pass facilities between April and December, 1973.

A REMINDER: Watch out for ear ticks which are making a strong comeback, according to the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Entomologists say that the ticks are being found in greater numbers because of favorable weather and neglect of control measures. And ear ticks can cause an increase in screwworm infestations. In 1973, 80 per cent of screwworm cases in 14 South Texas counties were attributed to ear ticks. The ticks, sometimes called Gulf Coast tick, flourish within 100 miles of the Coast.

FUEL SITUATIONS are reported very tight in Donley, Archer, Lamb, and Comanche Counties, but no Texas counties reported critical situations. Hay baling is getting underway in some Texas counties, and 88 counties have reported short supplies of baling wire, and 66 counties reported short supplies of twine. Other shortages that may affect Texas farmers have been reported in both wood and steel fence posts, barbed wire, herbicides, machinery parts, and tractor and machinery tires.

TEXAS CATTLE on feed totaled 2,072,000 head May 1, which is four per cent lower than a year ago; 392,000 head of fat cattle were sold in April, which was 11 per cent above April, 1973. In seven cattle growing States (Texas, Arizona, California, Colorado, Iowa, Nebraska and Kansas), there were 8,351,000 head on feed as of May 1, compared to 8,803,000 head a year ago and 9,321,000 head on feed a month before. In April, 245,000 head went into Texas feedlots.

Boll Weevil Control Area

The High Plains Cotton Growers Association has each fall employed a diapause control program along and below the Caprock, geared to prevent the pest from going into hibernation and surviving the winter.

Some $1 million has been spent yearly on the High Plains control program, with the aid of matching funds from the USDA and the Texas Department of Agriculture.

While money is collected from 27 counties for the program, 20 of those counties don't have a boll weevil problem at all but consider payments as an insurance policy against eradication plan," Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said.

Estimated cost of the nation-wide program is $654 million for a ten-year period.

"Members of the High Plains Cotton Growers Association can be proud of their very successful program of containment," Commissioner White commented.

"If the thoroughness of the planned national elimination program along with local determination are any indications, we may be reaching toward a time in Texas when we can say goodbye to the boll weevil," he added.

White cautioned, however, that the burden of the nation-wide effort will still be on the local farmer.

"The federal government is not simply going to come in and take over. We will still be responsible for the bulk of the work, but for the first time, on a nationally coordinated basis," White said.

In the first year of the actual elimination program in a zone, in-season control by growers in all cotton fields will be mandatory.

Included in techniques planned for coordination to eliminate the pest are the use of attractant chemicals, the introduction of sterile weevils to suppress populations, and effective use of available insecticides.

Farming control techniques include fast harvesting and timely stalk destruction or plow-down soon after harvest to minimize the number of weevils that go into the physiological hibernation state called diapause.

Elimination of the boll weevil, aside from sharply reducing the cost of cotton production, would also be an environmental aid by dramatically cutting the amount of insecticides used on all crops in the U.S. are used for control of boll weevils or for control of other insects that become a problem because of the destruction of the natural enemies that would otherwise keep infestations of these insect pests down.

After the program has succeeded in eliminating the pest from U.S. fields, a constant watch will be kept to contain the insect outside the border.

How DOES your garden grow?

The mystery of life and growth was one our daughter took for granted ... until last summer when she "adopted" a flower bed all her own. Then she began to ask what makes her garden grow.

I once had a course in botany; I thought I knew all the answers. But none of them seemed to register with Mary.

So my wife took over the answering department. God makes things grow! That made much more sense to Mary.

Is it, after all, a contradiction of science to admit that we live in a world full of mysteries ... mysteries that happen before our very eyes ... mysteries that reveal the wondrous mind of the Creator?

At graduation time, we fully realize that our sons and daughters need a spiritual foundation for all other knowledge. They will find it in the Church.

Son Of Floydada Couple Seminar Leader

Jack B. Johnson of Little Rock, Arkansas, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Johnson, Floydada was seminar leader for "Biomedical Instrumentation and Measurement" at the University of Arkansas School of Medicine recently.

The biographical sketch on Johnson for the seminar reads, "Mr. Johnson has had sixteen years experience as an instrumentation engineer, educator, and bio-medical engineer. He has a B.S. and M.S. in electrical engineering from Texas Tech University. He has previously worked for the Veterans Administration Southern Research Support Center and the School of Aerospace Medicine where he performed bio-engineering research and system design. His interests include physiological telemetry and computer applications to medicine. Mr. Johnson is a registered professional engineer in Arkansas and Tennessee, a partner in a consulting firm based in Memphis, and is currently teaching in the Biomedical Engineering Technology program sponsored by the University of Arkansas School of Health Related Professions and the VA Hospital."

THIS FLOYDADA HOUSE burned about 3 a.m. Tuesday and Floydada firemen were still trying to cool it off early Tuesday morning. It was not occupied, but the house next door was occupied and firemen did a good job of keeping it from getting on fire. Luckily, there wasn't much wind blowing. However, the fire did spread (via electric wires) to the back of the OK Tire Store. The house was located just across the alley from Martin and Co. on Mississippi Street and the back of Martin and Company building received a tremendous amount of heat. Telephone wires were also destroyed. (Staff Photo)

SOUTH PLAINS NEWS

By Mrs. Murray Julian

SOUTH PLAINS, May 24 — South Plains residents were grateful for the rainfall Monday night, and such a wonderful cotton shower. Most of the vicinity of South Plains had one half inch, and some reported as much as seven tenths. Reports of a tornado went out during the night's rain, but as nearly as we can find out, it never touched ground. Relatives around the country were calling Tuesday morning to find out if anyone were injured.

Jess Rowland, grandfather of Mrs. Nathan Mulder, is in the Central Plains Hospital in Plainview, and has been there since around the first part of May. He suffered a heart attack.

Mrs. Bruce Julian and Clay from Peryton arrived Wednesday morning to spend several days here with Bruce's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Julian and Garcia and Mike Bueno.

Rev. and Mrs. Mike Oden were in Lubbock on a business trip Monday and spent the night and part of Tuesday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Oden.

Rhonda Teeple, a freshman at college in San Marcos last year, arrived home this past Monday for the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leighton Teeple. We are glad to hear that her grandmother, Mrs. Lillie Luttrell of Floydada is getting along better at this time.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Teeple who have a new baby son, born May 6 at Central Plains Hospital in Plainview. He weighed 8 pounds, and has been named Keith Wayne. He has an older brother of fifteen months, Leighton Brian.

Congratulations are due also to Mr. and Mrs. Lupe Luna on the birth of a grandson, Benny, Jr., born April 20 to their son, Mr. and Mrs. Benney Luna of Arlington.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ray Powell have moved to Lubbock. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Powell.

Warren Powell left for Crowell and the wheat harvest Monday and hopes to start combining Tuesday.

Mrs. Jack McCown, daughter of Mrs. Walter Wood, underwent surgery in Lake Whitney Hospital last Monday. We are glad to know she is getting along fine.

The Community Bible Study of South Plains has disbanded for the summer months, and will start meeting again when school commences next fall.

The area WMU Camp Meeting for all the district will meet May 27 at 9:30 a.m. at the Plains Baptist Encampment. Lunch will be served in the new dining room. Make your plans to attend and spend the day.

The wedding of Dee Earle Cummings and Mark Lynn Sanders will take place at the South Plains Baptist Church at six o'clock Saturday evening, June 1.

L. T. Wood was taken by ambulance to the Central Plains Hospital in Plainview last Friday after he became ill at home. He was able to come home Friday noon, and is getting along well at this time. Tests will be completed Tuesday on his illness.

We offer our sympathy to Mrs. P. D. Helms of Floydada, a long-time friend, in the illness and death of her husband last Monday in Methodist Hospital. His services were held Friday afternoon in the First Baptist Church.

HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES were honored at St. Mary's with a dinner and Mass last Friday night. Lower photo shows seniors and FHS teachers at the head table. ### Texas Crop Sold As Salty Snack AUSTIN--C-R-U-N-C-H. That may be the sound of a Texas potato.

According to Agriculture Commissioner John C. White, about half the 2,000 acres of spring potatoes from the Rio Grande Valley and nearly a third of the 18,000-acre summer crop on the High Plains end up as potato chips.

The rest are sold on the fresh market.

White said manufacturers look for potatoes that are low in sugar and high in starch to produce crisp, golden chips. In Texas these include the round, white Kennebec, the Monona and Norchip varieties.

Levelland Teacher Honored

LEVELLAND (Special) — Mrs. Lloyd (Vera) Ownbey, a Levelland High School Business Teacher for the past 28 years, will be honored Thursday at a retirement dinner. She has taught for the past 38 years.

She was honored earlier in the month by board members and administrators of the Class Room Teacher's Association at a dinner meeting, and in Fort Worth, recently, by the Texas Business Education Association at a dinner in her honor. She has been a member of that organization for the past 20 years.

The former Vera Thacker, Mrs. Ownbey was married to Lloyd Ownbey. They have three daughters, Mrs. John (Marcheta) Wojcikowski, and Mrs. Charles (Kaye) Hickox, and four grandchildren, Elizabeth, Ivanna, Scott and Mathew. She was reared in Floydada and attended college at North Western State in Oklahoma, receiving her BBA degree from Texas Tech University.

Mrs. Ownbey also taught in Floyd, Briscoe and Yoakum Counties.

Among her many honors were dedication of the Lobo Year Book in her honor in 1954, and being named "Teacher of the Year" by the Ex-Student's Association in 1966 and again in 1973 by the same organization for the Homecoming Rally in 1973.

Mrs. Ownbey will be honored at 11:30 a.m. by the Levelland High School Faculty, at the Spot Restaurant.

TEXAS IRISH POTATO

Potatoes with a high sugar ratio darken as they are cooked.

According to one manufacturer, the entire chipping process from washing to peeling and cooking to bagging takes about 20 minutes.

A recent experiment showed unpeeled potatoes are more nutritious and have a higher yield and less waste than peeled. Flavor and shelf life were reported as similar to those of peeled potatoes.

White said the Texas Irish potato crop was valued at $13.3 million in 1972.

Seven Seas Now Open

ARLINGTON — Texas' tourist season goes into full swing as its number one attraction, Six Flags, and the world's largest inland marine life park, Seven Seas, begin daily operation for 1974 on Saturday, May 25.

Six Flags will maintain the daily schedule through Labor Day, operating from 10 a.m. until 10 p.m. The theme park will return to a weekend schedule during the fall.

Bob Freeman, Six Flags' general manager, said attendance has been running well ahead of advance projections with more than 380,000 visitors during the spring months.

Seven Seas, which is operating for the first season under the management of Six Flags, Inc., has drawn more than 26,000 visitors since its May 3 opening. This figure is more than double that for the same period last year.

The sea park will be open daily from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. through August 25. With the exception of Labor Day, Seven Seas will be open on weekends only during the fall months.

The entertainment centers are located in Arlington, Texas, midway between Dallas and Fort Worth.

AS IT LOOKS FROM HERE

Omar Burleson, M.C. 17th District, Texas WASHINGTON, D.C. — A little noticed conference of physicists, astronauts, and various scientific specialists was recently held at Princeton University. Their subject centered on establishing self-sufficient human colonies in space.

A relative short time ago many developments — Moon landings, space shuttles, unmanned vehicles past Mercury and other planets — were Buck Rogers' imaginations. Today, all these are accepted as usual and hardly dramatic.

It does, however, boggle the mind of us ordinary people to learn that there is serious discussion among technologists of building a whole community outside the Earth's gravity.

The initial goal would be the construction of a colony of about 2,000 people at a site along the orbital path of the Moon. According to these scientists, there are five points in space where the gravitation fields of the Earth and Moon balance one another. An object at one of these points would tend to remain in balance between the two planets.

According to reports from the Princeton University Meeting, the initial station would be built using the space shuttle and space-tug systems now under development. These experts have figured out that advantage could be taken of abundant building materials available from the Moon using a cargo launching system in retrieving these raw materials. Dr. Gerard O'Neil, Professor of Physics at Princeton University, pointed out in the discussions that "virtually unlimited" resources exist in space and that sunlight provides a continuous source of free energy with no interruption. Furthermore, he said that in the asteroid belt there are great chunks of almost pure nickel-iron which could be fabricated into steel with minimal processing.

To the layman, these discussions are fantastic in scope. The colony which they were talking about would require the transport of 10,000 tons of raw materials to raise the cylinder. From the larger resources of the Earth, O'Neil says, it would take 20 years to build the station. Determined as you were to do "your own thing," you haven't done anything because you still don't know what "your own thing" is. Right now you aren't anybody. But if you sincerely want to be somebody, do this: Go back to school. [Adult education—night classes are available for those who work days.] First, get your high school diploma, then learn a trade or develop a special skill, and work like a sonuvagun. You will then be "somebody," and you won't have to write to Dear Abby to find out who you are.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "WHO AM I?" You are a 19-year-old high school dropout who never made a serious effort to stick with anything once the going got rough.

You didn't listen to your father because you thought advice from "a loser" wasn't worth anything.

You didn't graduate from high school because you were too lazy to make your grades, so you told yourself that school was a waste of time, that you had learned all there was to learn there, and you'd be better off in the business world.

Determined as you were to do "your own thing," you haven't done anything because you still don't know what "your own thing" is.

Right now you aren't anybody. But if you sincerely want to be somebody, do this: Go back to school. [Adult education—night classes are available for those who work days.] First, get your high school diploma, then learn a trade or develop a special skill, and work like a sonuvagun. You will then be "somebody," and you won't have to write to Dear Abby to find out who you are.

Tell husband vacation should be fun for all

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1974 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I can't agree on what constitutes a vacation. Paul and I have four kids, ranging in ages from 10 to 16. Last summer a friend turned over his farm to us and we took the kids and spent three weeks there. Paul is a country boy at heart. He likes to get up at the crack of dawn and run the tractor and spend every evening rocking on the front porch, looking into space and listening to the crickets. Meanwhile, I do all the laundry, cooking and dishes. [This is a vacation?]

Paul wants to go to this farm again, and I say we should leave the kids home and take a real vacation alone somewhere. My mother agreed to stay with our kids. What should I do? Take the credit cards and go to Reno? CITY GIRL

DEAR CITY GIRL: To Reno with credit cards? What for? To gamble or file for a divorce? Why not compromise, and do what Paul wants to do for half the vacation and what you want to do for the other half?

DEAR ABBY: I'm not much of a letter writer, but I need some answers, so here goes:

The other day I got a questionnaire in the mail. It was a form to fill out. There were lots of questions about a friend of mine who apparently had applied for a job with a big company. Here are some of the questions:

Has _____ ever been in trouble with the law?
Does _____ drink? Moderately? _____ Excessively? _____
Does _____ use drugs?

What do you know about _____'s general health?
Please name some of _____'s undesirable qualities.
Name some of _____'s good qualities.

Abby, my friend must have given my name for a reference or I wouldn't have received this questionnaire, right?

I have known this person for about 15 years, but I can't honestly answer some of these questions. In fact, if I could, I wouldn't want to. I'm afraid if I don't fill out this form, my friend won't get the job.

How would you handle this? STUCK

DEAR STUCK: You are under no obligation to answer the questionnaire. I would write a letter telling what I DO know about the applicant and no more.
