Over 100,000 Acres Hail Damaged

Summer Youth Program At Neighborhood Center

The Neighborhood Center will start a Summer Youth Program for the area children at the Della Plains School. Children ages 4 to 12 will have arts and crafts each week day from 9:30 to 11 each morning.

Children who can not swim will have an opportunity for lessons two mornings a week. There will be a charge of 50c per child for each lesson. Mothers who would like to help or have children interested in coming may call 983-3134 or come by the Neighborhood Center at 601 E. Ross. The program will start June 10, and continue for eight weeks.

Replanting In High Gear

With most of the crop reports in from all over Floyd County, it now appears that over 100,000 acres received varying amounts of hail damage this week and last.

The report from the County ASCS office estimates 40,000 acres of cotton and 50,000 acres of wheat damaged by hail.

Over 100 farmers have visited the ASCS office since Monday night's damaging storms and heavy rainfall and over 50 have applied for the government's disaster plan on cotton.

It seems that the most damage in the county begins at Lockney, goes southeast toward Cedar Hill then south to about five or six miles east of Floydada, then on into the southeast corner of the county.

The storms that have wiped out crops in the Petersburg area also moved into the McCoy area.

Auto body shops have been covered with requests for estimates on hail damaged autos, pickups and trucks.

The Washington office notified state officials Thursday that farmers could replant the hailed out crops or otherwise work the land and leave representative strips of damaged areas for later inspection.

Officials said producers must agree to accept the disaster appraisals to be made from the representative areas and should understand these appraisals will be used in determining program benefits.

The previous ruling that damaged cotton could not be released for 10 days was intended to provide time to see if the stricken crops would recover.

Under Federal regulations, crops must be planted, where possible, or replanted by certain dates in order to be eligible for farm program benefits. The replant dates vary by counties.

In some of the hard-hit northern counties, the final replant date for cotton was Wednesday.

Farmers, of course, can go back to cotton after the replant dates. But after these dates, farmers can replant to quicker maturing cash crops, or put the land to other uses, while qualifying for disaster payments at rates of 12.7 cents per pound for cotton, 44 cents per bushel for grain sorghum and 68 cents a bushel for wheat.

The payment rates are multiplied by the allotted acres and by the computed loss in the case of a partial crop loss or by the established farm yield in case of a total loss.

JUNE 10 PLANTING DEADLINE

Federal Crop Insurance estimates Monday, or June 10 is the latest deadline that a farmer can plant cotton and hope to harvest it. . . and this is a sort of borderline south of Highway 70. Possibly farmers in the north part of Floyd County will be replanting soybeans instead of cotton.

The ASCS Office will remain open Saturday and Sunday the regular hours to help the farmer.

Floydada Boys To Attend Salvation Army Camp

Two boys from Floydada will be given a free, one week vacation this summer at The Salvation Army's Camp Hoblitzelle near Dallas, according to Mrs. Wesley Carr, camp chairman, and Mrs. Kathy Green, the Salvation Army Service Unit camp chairman.

Boys chosen to attend the camp this summer are Arturo Reyes and Pete Castillo. They will leave for camp on June 9.

"This will be an excellent experience for these boys who have never been to a real camp," Mrs. Carr said. "At Hoblitzelle they will enjoy boating, hiking, archery, horseback riding, fishing, swimming, handicrafts, movies and baseball as well as worship services and Bible study."

All organized activities are supervised by coaches and counselors. The campers are housed in brick and redwood cabins and receive well-balanced meals in the camp dining hall.

"Each boy's trip was financed by the Floydada Service Unit Committee with donations from private citizens in our community," Mrs. Carr said.

Camp Hoblitzelle is built on 360 wooded acres with a 30 acre lake and is fully equipped with modern recreational facilities. The Salvation Army operates Camp Hoblitzelle for children and families who could not otherwise have the opportunity to enjoy camp life. This summer over 4,000 are expected to attend camping sessions.

Prices Drop 20-40%, Relief For Consumer

Though prices of many commodities have dropped 20 to 40 per cent since winter, consumers have felt no relief and are bearing the increased burden of continually rising costs.

According to Agriculture Commissioner John C. White, farm prices up 16 percent over a year. Retail food prices, meanwhile, are expected to rise 12 percent this year.

"Farm costs go up, they go down, they go up, they go down," White said. "But prices of commodities go up and they have been coming sharply in recent weeks."

Four cost bakers 16 cents in February, but recently dropped to 10 cents a pound. Wholesale carcass beef selling to supermarkets for 87 cents a pound in February, is now 67 cents.

Soybeans, corn, eggs and broilers have all dropped in prices ranging from 43 to nine percent.

White pointed out that increased packaging prices have played a part in keeping prices up at the retail level. Packaging of farm foods jumped eight percent last year from $9.7 billion to $10.4 billion, a hike that was passed along to consumers in the form of higher prices. Packaging material accounted for nearly eight percent of the $134 billion consumers spent on farm-originated foods.

Conservation Money Restored To Farmers

AUSTIN--Agriculture Commissioner John C. White recently reminded farmers that $19,330,000 in soil conservation funds has been restored by the U. S. Department of Agriculture to Texas practices that will decrease erosion and maintain fertility.

The Rural Environmental Assistance Program (REAP) is administered by Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation offices throughout the state. Those farmers and ranchers who are seeking assistance in soil saving measures should contact their local offices, White

ALL 50 STATES are recognized now as "hog cholera free," and Texas has not had a cholera case since May 2, 1973. A state must go for 12 months without a confirmed case to be designated as cholera free. This is the first time since 1962 that all states have been designated as cholera free. A certificate signed by U. S. Secretary Earl Butz was presented to Norman Moser, Chairman of Texas Animal Health Commission, in recognition of the cholera free status recently. Hog growers, however, are urged to check their hogs regularly to prevent a widespread outbreak of the disease.

REPORTS ARE that some fields of onions in the Rio Grande Valley are being abandoned because of low prices, according to the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. Onion harvest there is almost completed, and so is the harvest on cabbage and carrots. In the Coastal Bend squash harvest also is almost over, and cucumber harvest is past its peak. Peppers and tomatoes, honeydews and cantaloupes are being harvested in the Valley, and harvest is beginning in the Winter Garden-San Antonio areas. Sweet potatoes are being planted in East Texas, and watermelons and vegetables are making good progress. Potatoes and other vegetables are making good progress on the High Plains.

CATTLEMEN are being urged by the USDA's Animal and Plant Health Inspection Service and the Texas Animal Health Commission to catch ticks off their cattle and send samples to the State-Federal Laboratory, 702 Colorado St., Austin, Texas 78701. Purpose is to continue the fight against the fever tick, the "season" for which is here now. Prompt control measures can be taken when the location of infestations are known. An area in Jim Wells and Duval counties is under quarantine now, but only one cattle fever tick infestation has been found in that area since February, and the quarantine may be lifted this year. The infestation was found in 1972. Cattle fever ticks are carriers of the fever which used to do as much as $40 million damage a year to U. S. cattle herds.

IT HAS been determined that if all the farm land in the United States was divided among all families, each family would have 24 acres, valued at $4,814. Each family would have grossed $1,684 and expenses would have been $1,198, leaving a net of $486. That's imaginary, but here in Texas, it is estimated that there are only 209,000 farms which average about 668 acres in size. Average value of those farms (land and buildings) is about $100,000.

TEXAS HEAVY breed turkey poult hatches are showing a decline. The hatch for the week ending May 18 was 272,000, a decrease of 23 per cent from a year ago and 10 per cent below a week earlier. Heavy breed eggs set totaled 494,000 which was 11 per cent below a year ago and eight per cent above the previous week, according to Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. The light breed hatch for the week ending May 18 was 18,000, and there were none at the same time a year ago.

In Lockney Mental Health Drive

Currently the Texas Association for Mental Health is sending out the newsletter series, "Pierre the Texas Pelican" to all new parents in the state, in conjunction with the Office of Early Childhood Development. Sent out periodically until the child is seven, the series deals with mental and emotional development of children. Over 7,000 new parents are added to the mailing list each month. Emphasizing the extent of mental health problems, Tom J. Caldwell, Jr., president of the Texas Association for Mental Health, noted that one in four families is touched by a mental or emotional disturbance requiring professional help.

"The number one health problem of the nation is mental illness", he said. "More people are affected by it than all other diseases combined, including heart and cancer." "Yet today we know that mental illness can be cured, and it can be prevented. It is only through strong citizen support as demonstrated by Mrs. Poteet, the local Bellringers, and the people of Lockney that the mental health association will be able to continue its work". Caldwell emphasized that legislative action is needed and he urged citizens to write their elected officials in support of mental health legislation. For information about mental health topics, or

Dr. Virginia Campbell of Hemet, Calif., visited several days this week in the home of her cousin, Mrs. Ralph Cogdell.

"If you haven't done so, tell your survivors what benefits they might be entitled to in event of your death," the Veterans Administration periodically reminds the nation's more than 29 million veterans. Jack Coker, VA Regional Office Director, insists there are good reasons for this advice. "Too often," he pointed out, "the veteran and his wife neglect to discuss the subject of death, resulting in unnecessary burden on survivors in times of great emotional stress." Not only should the veteran and his wife discuss locations of important family documents, they should make sure they are protected from fire, theft and damage. It also was emphasized that survivors should be briefed on what to do in case of the veteran's death. The veteran's family should be told of possible survivor's benefits such as VA's dependency and indemnity compensation for service-connected death, or non-service-connected death pensions for widows, or just for children in cases where a widow may be ineligible because of excessive income. Burial benefits for wartime and certain peacetime veterans should not be overlooked.

Replanting Hail Damaged Cotton Pointers

LUBBOCK — Heavy rains and damaging hail storms north and east of Lubbock the past few days will require some important decisions on replanting cotton, says Dr. Robert B. Metzger, area agronomist.

Planting in June means an extremely short growing season, yet many farmers indicate they'll replant their cotton provided the fields dry out in time and no further delay is encountered due to additional rainfall.

Metzger, area specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, this week surveyed some damaged cotton fields in the path of the weekend storms.

"Since we can expect less than normal yields even with ideal weather the remainder of the season," he explains, "decisions about which cotton varieties to use and other practices to follow will be critical."

"First, producers should select varieties that mature fast, such as Earlycot 31, Paymaster Dwarf, Rilocot 90, Broadcot 31, and Tamcot SP 21. Slightly later maturing varieties that could be used are Lockett 4789A, Paymaster 101B, Stripper 31, and Paymaster 18. Some varieties such as Stripper 31 and Paymaster 18 are not extremely early, but they do have an inherently high mike."

"Many farmers have asked about what early varieties to use that are also tolerant to verticillium wilt," Metzger reports. "Unfortunately, we don't have a variety that combines both verticillium tolerance and earliness. However, early maturing varieties with at least some verticillium tolerance are Tamcot SP21, Stripper 31 and Paymaster 18. Although Paymaster 909 has excellent verticillium tolerance, it should not be used for replanting due to its late maturity. We need to remember that verticillium wilt is generally not as serious in late planted cotton and the need for wilt tolerant varieties is not as critical."

The cotton specialist emphasizes that any practice that encourages earliness is the key to profitability in late planted cotton. Furthermore, earliness can be achieved by replanting cotton on double rows or some narrow row pattern rather than standard row width. Of course, he says, this will require some arrangement for harvesting with the Broadcast Stripper. But any of the recommended varieties will mature faster by simply planting in double row. A few days gained in earliness becomes vitally important in late planted cotton.

"As for planting rates in late planted cotton, research has shown that 60,000 plants per acre is an ideal population for late cotton. This requires a planting rate of 20 to 25 pounds per acre. For double row cotton, 30 to 35 pounds of seed per acre is sufficient," he says.

Herbicide residue is frequently a problem in replanting, Metzger says. Generally, when replanting cotton on land treated with Caporal, seedling injury can be avoided by busting down to about four inches or more below the soil surface. Most soils in the hail area are heavy enough to avoid excessive movement of herbicide downward.

Similar conditions exist when replanting grain sorghum, he adds. On soils treated with Milogard, busting down at least four inches below the surface should get out of the herbicide treated area. Both caporal and Milogard do not move very far in heavy soils.

Later decisions concerning irrigation must also be considered after late cotton is up and growing, the agronomist points out. Because the yield potential for late planted cotton is reduced, fields receiving a good preplant irrigation and a full soil profile of moisture at replanting will not likely require additional summer irrigation. In fact, he cautions, yields of late cotton can be more easily reduced by too much water. So when yield potential is down the need for water and fertilizer is reduced.

Metzger says that the latest practical date for planting cotton is June 15-20. Alternative crops such as soybeans and grain sorghum should be considered if field conditions prevent cotton planting before this date.

FLOYD FUTURE FARMERS TO ATTEND WORKSHOP

Five Floyd County Future Farmers of America members and one vocational agriculture teacher will take part in a three-day farm electrification workshop June 10-12 at the Episcopal

The steady decline of cotton prices since January of this year is of more concern to cotton producers than anything besides the lack of moisture, says Donald A. Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock.

"With soaring production costs there will be precious little if any profit in cotton production this year unless prospects improve substantially," he notes.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture reports that spot futures and 1974 contract prices have dropped over 20 percent in the past four months, and there is no material evidence that the nose dive has ended.

"But there are some in the industry who see a ray of hope for 1974 crop prices," Johnson notes.

Textile industry spokesmen, judging from stories appearing in the Daily News Record and other textile publications, are the most persistent painters of a gloomy price picture.

For example Robert Bendheim, Chairman of the Board of M. Lowenstein and Sons, says cotton could get down in the mid-40 cent range. He presumably was referring to Strict Low Middling inch-and-a-sixteenth, which would mean average qualities grown on the High Plains would sell considerably below that range.

Voicing an opposing view is David Cox, manager of the Economic Research and Development Division of Cotton Incorporated, national producer organization charged with cotton market development, research and promotion.

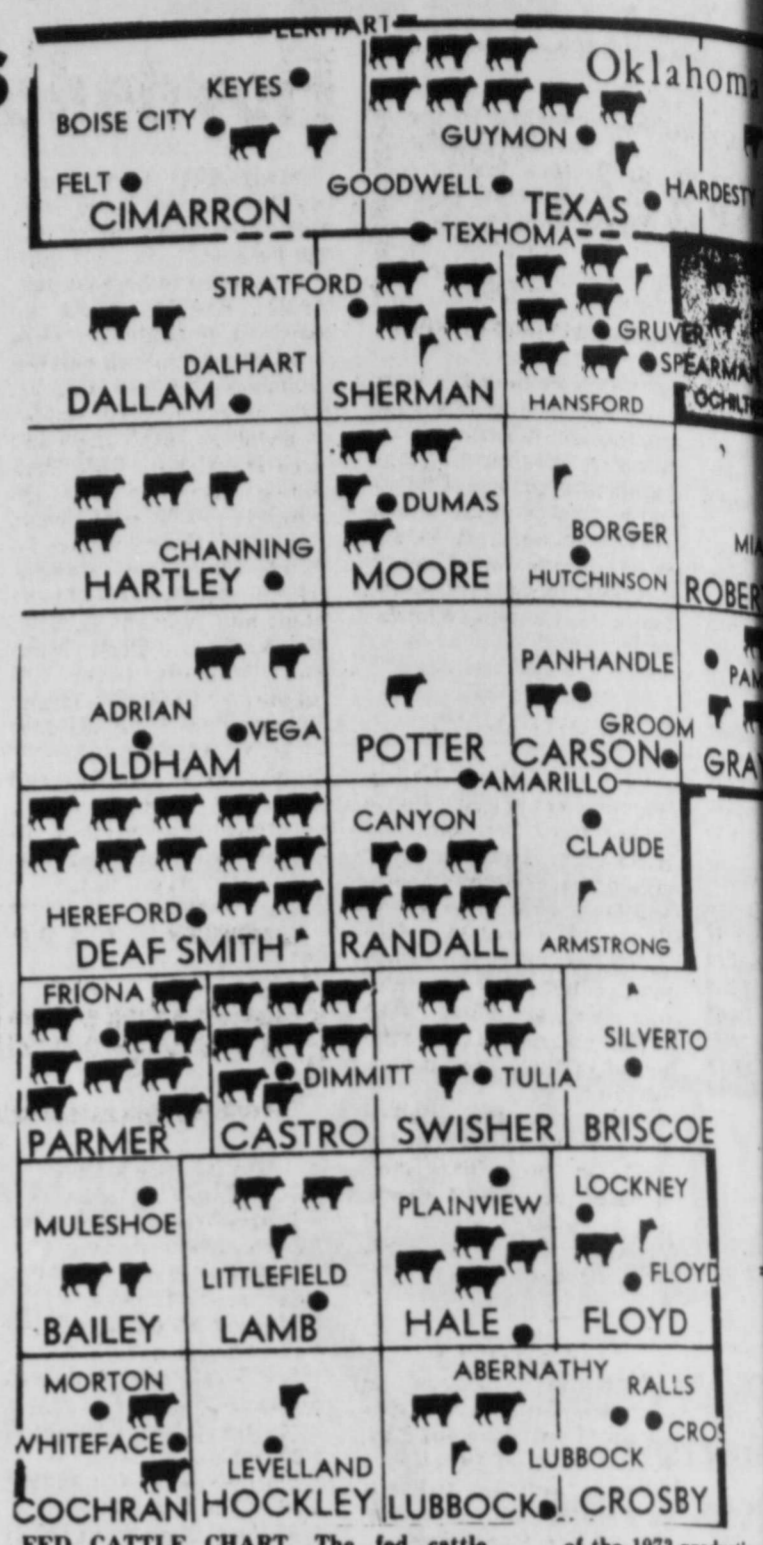

Cox reasons that while mills have been holding off on purchases of additional cotton in anticipation of further price erosion, "All fundamental economic indicators lead to the conclusion that present and future markets are underpriced." Among the "indicators" he points to continuing tight supplies of synthetic fibers, exports "almost certain to exceed six million bales," and his belief that cotton plantings and production in the U.S. may not reach forecast levels.

USDA is predicting a 14 million bale crop of cotton in the U.S. this year. But this may not be taking into account the declining prices that will affect plantings, or the lack of moisture posing a severe threat to cotton production on the High Plains, Johnson says. The High Plains in 1973 produced over 2.9 million 480-pound net weight bales, he notes, which was almost 16 percent of the U.S. crop. "And you can't find Church Conference Center, north of Amarillo.

More than 80 FFA members and ag teachers are expected at the conference, which is sponsored by Southwestern Public Service Company. Courses will be offered in farm wiring, controls and motors. The five top students will earn trips to the national FFA convention for their accomplishments.

The Floyd County FFA participants are Larry Stovall, Randy Duke and Billy Fulton, Floydada High School; Mike Mathis and Tony Gross, Lockney High School. O.L. Harris, Floydada instructor, will be a member of the workshop staff.

FED CATTLE CHART...The fed cattle industry for the Panhandle-Plains area is shown here in a portion of a map and chart released by the Southwestern Public Service Company in its annual survey. Each figure represents 50,000 head of cattle in the survey of the 1973 production totaling more than 45 million head. The survey is an agricultural development project by Sam Thomas.

anybody now who expects the same area to turn out more than two-thirds that amount in 1974, so Cox may well be correct in expecting the U.S. crop to fall below recent projections.

For the longer term outlook it is noteworthy that 7 of the 10 major cotton producing countries of the world have population growth rates averaging 2.9 percent, which will result in 50 percent increases in their populations within 20 years. To Cox this means they will not be able to meet growing demands for food and fiber at home and at the same time maintain their strong export positions.

In contrast, the U.S. and Russia have populations growing at the rate of only 1.2 percent per year. The remaining country, the People's Republic of China, with a growth rate of 1.8 percent, already is a net importer of cotton.

So, Cox concludes, "The prospect for increasing competition among foreign purchasers of U.S. cotton appears certain."

4 ways to make electricity work more efficiently in the laundry.

- Sort clothes according to type of fabric, color, texture, degree of soil and garment construction. And try to accumulate a full load before you do a washing to save water.
- Choose the washing cycle that is correct for the clothes you are washing. A "hot" setting may not be necessary. Except for white or colorfast items, most loads will come clean in either a cold or warm wash.
- If your washer has a water-level selector, choose the correct setting for the load. You'll use less hot water.
- Clean the lint filter on your clothes dryer after each load to help it operate more efficiently and reduce drying time.

Ignorance is a state of meaning

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1974 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: Regarding the socially active university professor with a Ph.D. who wasn't sure of what R.S.V.P. meant until he saw it in your column: You replied "Ignorance is simply the absence of knowledge which is no crime. We are all ignorant, only on different subjects."

Abby, ignorance is "not knowing something we should know." Nescience is "not knowing something one would have no reasonable expectation of knowing."

Your not knowing the distinction between "ignorance" and "nescience" is nescience on your part. The professor's not knowing the meaning of R.S.V.P. is ignorance on his part. P.J.R.: WORD FREAK

DEAR FREAK: Since words are my tools, I felt ignorant not knowing the meaning of the word "nescience." Then I polled three newspaper editors, two lawyers, a psychiatrist, the heads of the English department in three of our leading universities, a world famous novelist, a United States Supreme Court Justice, and an expert who writes a syndicated column on words, and not ONE of them had ever heard of the word "nescience." So, now I feel more nescient than ignorant.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 19-year-old girl, and my problem involves my psychiatrist. I trusted him completely and told him things I never in a million years would tell my mother, because he led me to believe that everything I told him would be held in the strictest of confidence.

Can you imagine how I felt when I overheard my mother telling a relative on the phone some of the things I had told my psychiatrist? I can't tell you how this upset me!

In high school I stayed away from counselors, teachers, shrinks, etc., in order to avoid this.

When I saw my psychiatrist, I asked him why he did this to me. At first he denied it, then he said that my mother had become "concerned" about me, so he told her everything. Abby, I thought I could trust him, and he betrayed me!

What is the law concerning a doctor's keeping information confidential? He said he had a right to talk to my mother without my permission. Did he? I am not a minor. UPSET

DEAR UPSET: Your doctor has committed a breach of ethics, and you would be perfectly justified in reporting him to the Ethics Committee of your local county medical society and/or psychiatric society. I suggest you do just that.

DEAR ABBY: How can I get a reply from a place of business when I write them requesting specific information? I wrote to these people three times—and even then I was ignored. I didn't ask for any special favors; I inquired about buying something they sell. What is the matter with people these days? Please tell me how to get an answer out of them. FRUSTRATED

DEAR FRUSTRATED: To insure a reply — and usually a prompt one, enclose a stamped, addressed envelope. If you are ignored, give up. They probably don't need the business and they certainly don't deserve it.

DEAR ABBY: My cousin had her first baby, so the other night we went to her home to see the new baby. There were lots of other relatives there.

This cousin kept looking at her watch because she had to feed the baby at 8 p. m. She could hardly wait to unbutton her blouse right in front of everybody. Then she said, proudly, "This is the first time I've ever had such a nice breast," and without even putting a blanket or diaper or anything around the baby, she proceeded to nurse him. BOTH breasts were exposed the whole time, which was not necessary. Some of the men went into the kitchen right away, and a couple of the younger kids got so embarrassed they also left.

I know there is nothing nasty about the human body, or nursing a baby, but what do you think of a woman who would take advantage of a situation like that to show off? DISGUSTED

DEAR DISGUSTED: Same as you. It's disgusting. I'd also feel sorry for her.

CONFIDENTIAL TO T. M.: When someone starts out with, "It's not the money, it's the principle of the thing," it's usually the money.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L. A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

GETTING CAUGHT!

When the jelly disappeared from the refrigerator, when a baseball shattered the window, when Mother discovered the stray cat sleeping in her washbasket . . . like a magnetic needle the accusing finger of my parents pointed toward me.

It's a crushing experience to get caught. But it can teach us a vital lesson. We soon discover a sense of responsibility and learn our obligation to others. Our true identity emerges.

The Church stands ready to help us learn responsibility. Through religious education youth today can still discover personal identity—while gaining a responsible view of man's obligations to God and to society.
