Bradley, pastor, will officiate. Interment will follow in Floyd County Memorial Park with Moore-Rose Funeral Home in charge. Covington, service station operator

Covington and the former Mattie Emma Hall were married in Floydada May 22, 1923. He served a number of years as trustee on the Floyd County and Dougherty School boards, was a member of the Dougherty Baptist Church and a Sunday School teacher.

Survivors include his wife; a daughter, Mrs. Warden (Jean) Mayes of Arlington, Tex.; three sons, Jack of Floydada, Bob and Kent both of Dougherty; four sisters, Mrs. Gladys Edwards of Olney, Mrs. Cecile Fyffe of Floydada, Mrs. Sybil Teeple of Lone Star community and Mrs. Thelma Jones of Stockton, Calif.; and 11 grandchildren.

Serving as pallbearers will be Roy Crawford, Ralph Johnston, Watson Jones, Henry Hinton, Howard Drysdale and Joy Ward.

First Load Onions To Market

The first load of onions came to market in Floydada Saturday morning. It was a load of New Mexico yellow granos from a two acre plot farmed by Buck Hickerson.

The yield was good, around 500 sacks per acre. The price on onions at this time is reported "fair.'

Hickerson has another 14 acres of Spanish onions that will be harvested later. Chuck Holmes of DeBruyn Hi-Plains Farms produce plant reports that there are around 800 acres of onions to be marketed in his plant and Louisiana Strawberry's plant this year. Holmes said the bulk of the onion crop will hit here around the first of

OTHER VEGETABLES

Holmes reports other vegetables are being planted at this time. . . . and this includes cabbage, peppers, carrots and cucumbers. He said that some of these crops are already up and growing. . . some were hailed out and had to be replanted.

GOOD SUMMER INDUSTRY The vegetable industry has long been a good summer industry for Floydada and employs over 500 people in the fields and plants. Although this year's crop is expected to be smaller than usual, the volume will be considerable. Since cotton, grain and soybean prices have increased, more farmers are staying with these crops. Of course vegetable prices are going up

The problem of housing for the workers still remains a big problem in the Floydada area.

CANYON, TEXAS - Danny Quisenberry, a standout hurdler from Floydada, has signed an athletic scholarship agreement with West

Danny Quisenberry

Texas State University track coach Bob Kitchens.

Quisenberry ran 14.5 in the 120-yeard high hurdles this past spring and a 40.9 time in the 330-yard intermediates. He was third at the Class AA regional meet after capturing the district championship.

The 6-1, 170-pound athlete made big strides in lowering his times each of his three years of varsity competition.

As a sophomore Quisenberry ran 16.2 in the highs and 43.9 in the intermediates. He lowered those times to 14.9 and 42.6 as a junior and dropped them further as a senior.

"The big thing about Danny is the steady improvement he showed each year," said Floydada coach L.G. Wilson. "He gained strength and speed each year. His attitude toward work is good and that should help him in his further hurdling. He has the potential to be outstanding, especially as an intermediate hurdler.'

A B-plus student in the classroom, Quisenberry earned all-district honors in football this past fall as a defensive end. He was also an end on offense. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Quisenberry.

Floydada Cystic Fibrosis Chapter Leads Area

Floydada leads The Lone Star Chapter

Cystic fibrosis is not a vague, obscure or rare disease. It affects one in every 1,000 babies, the result of both parents carrying the gene for C/F. It affects the entire body - particularly the lungs and digestive system. So far, it's incurable.

When a group of parents of C/F children formed the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation seventeen years ago, they knew very little about Cystic Fibrosis. Even the name 'Cystic Fibrosis" was new, the disease wasn't recognized medically until the 1930's. What those parents did know was terrifying - C/F children usually died before they were old enough for elementary school.

The job cannot be left solely to dedicated parents of C/F and lung-damaged children. The cause is great enough to engage the attention and support of men and women everywhere who care about children and lung disease. The Floydada community has indeed proven that it does care. In fact, the campaign in Floydada led by Mrs. Raymond Poole was the most successful Cystic Fibrosis campaign in The Lone Star Chapter Area, with the help of Alpha Mu Delta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority whose Call-A-Thon raised $361.00 bringing the total from Floydada to $721.00. Our deepest thanks to the citizens of Floydada for caring enough and having the number one campaign in the State of Texas.

63.2% In Floyd County Are Home Owners

NEW YORK, June 15 - One firm asset that most families in Floyd County can count on, in these times of economic uncertainty, is the homes that they own.

Their equity in these homes, representing their market value minus the mortgage debt outstanding on them, comes to a hefty $9.9 million, it is estimated.

This refers solely to single-family, non-farm dwellings that are owneroccupied. Not included are multi-unit properties that are rented and units that are vacant.

The facts and figures on homeowner assets, locally and elsewhere in the United States, are based upon data gathered by the Department of Commerce in connection with its latest Residential Finance Survey and upon data from the last Census of Housing. Nationally, the figures indicate, the value of these single-family dwellings adds up to more than $684 billion. In the local area the total is approximately $20.6 million. The survey shows that most homes are mortgaged. Of the 31 million single-family properties in the country, 61 percent have mortgages on them, up from 57 percent in 1960.

In Floyd County's regional area, some 60.5 percent have mortgages. The other 39.5 percent are owned free and clear. On the average, the figures indicate, mortgage debt on single-unit homes amounts to about 52 percent of their market value. On that basis, the market value of local one-family dwellings is offset by mortgage obligations of close to $10.7

million, leaving home owners in the area with an equity of approximately $9.9 million. Savings and loan associations are the principal holders of conventional loans on single-unit homes, according to the report. Next in order are banks and life insurance companies. Except for the last year or so, there has been a steady upward trend in home ownership as more and more property. According to the latest tabulation, some 63.2 percent of the homes in Floyd County are now owned by their Altar area of the church was centered by a kneeling bench flanked on either side by candle arches and cathedral candelabra entwined with tropical foliage tied with bridal satin. In the background was a formal arrangement of stock, carnations and roses with a candle. At the close of the ceremony, the newlyweds lighted the unity candle which was on the kneeling bench rail.

Debbie Williams, Richard Owens Wed Saturday

Debbie Lynne Williams and Richard LaVern Owens were wed Saturday, June 14, in a candlelight ceremony read in the Victory Baptist Church. Rev. Emmitt Clampitt, pastor, performed the twin ring vows at 7:30 p.m. before a setting of tiered candelabras, white glads and purple daisy mums. The altar was covered with a lace cloth over orchid on which lay the bride's blue Bible, a gift from the groom, and a single red rose, later given by the bride to the groom's mother.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Toby Williams of Floydada and the groom is the son of Mrs. S. M. Guthrie of Quanah and the late Ed Owens of Floydada. Given in marriage by her ruffled Venise lace. Long, narrow lace sleeves ended with a ruffle at the wrist. The princess-line bodice was accented with a deep rounded lace yolk edged with a lace ruffle. The princess line skirt extended to a chapel length train. A deep ruffle of lace formed the hem line of the skirt and train. Braids of seed pearls accented the lace yolk and lace sleeve. The headpiece was a matching lace Juliet cap holding three tiers of illusion hemmed with delicate floral braid. Her bridal bouquet of cascade design with pink sweetheart roses encircling a white cattaleya orchid and accented with springeri fern was carried on a Bible given to her by aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs.

bride carried the promise ring given her mother 22 years ago by her father; for something new she wore a gold cross pendant, a gift Ford Sr., Mr. Ford gave the cameo to Mrs. Ford when she was sixteen. "Borrowed" was a ring from her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Clara Jeffcoat. Diane wore a blue garter and new pennies were in her shoes.

A reception in the church basement followed the wedding ceremony. Candelabra from the nuptial area were used near the serving tables.

Mrs. Dwain Nixon and Mrs. Dennis Whittle presided at the bride's table which was laid with a white knit cloth trimmed in lace. Centerpiece was a tiered arrangement of shades of pink miniature carnations and baby's breath topped by a candle and globe. Crystal appointments and the traditional tiered wedding cake completed the table setting.

Shari Johnson and his cousin, and chocolate cake from silver appointments at the parents, the bride wore a white organza floor length gown fashioned with a deep ruffle at the hem. It was styled with long sheer sleeves adorned with bands, a high Victorian neckline and lace bodice. The bride's sister, Duffy Williams of Floydada, was maid of honor and Penny Bertrand, Floydada, was bridesmaid. They wore polyester gowns fashioned princess style, short sleeves and bands of lace at the sleeves and neckline. The maid of honor was dressed in orchid and carried a bouquet of orchid and white daisies on purple lace and ribbon. The bridesmaid, dressed in purple, carried orchid and white daisies on orchid lace and ribbon.

After pronouncing the couple man and wife, Rev. Clampitt presented them to guests as Mr. and Mrs. Richard LaVern Owens. Upon leaving the wedding scene the bride presented the groom's mother with the rose from the altar.

Dee Dee Williams, sister of the bride, was flower girl and Don Garner Chesshir was ring bearer.

Jimmy Owens of Floydada served his brother as best man. Ushers were Oscar Murillo and James Starrett, both of Floydada. Groomsman was Jerry Pollan of Amarillo and David and Carol Cochran were candlelighters.

Mrs. David Hale was pianist and also soloist along with Mrs. Emmitt Clampitt and Miss Cathy Clampitt. Selections were "We've Only Just Begun", "The Wedding Song" and "The Wedding Prayer", which was sung as the couple knelt.

A reception after vows was held at the Farm Bureau room. The serving table was laid with lace and held a centerpiece formed with a ceramic doll and flowers made for the bride by her paternal grandmother. A three tiered wedding cake decorated with purple and orchid confectionery pansies, topped with a wedding bell, was served with punch of purple color.

Members of the houseparty were Mmes. Alan Cochran, Carl Armstrong, Wayne Fuller, Neal Bertrand and Joe Green.
