Floyd County Land Owners Since 1874 Will Be Honored

Farmers and ranchers in Floyd County whose families have held the same land since 1874 or before will be honored by the Texas Department of Agriculture's "Family Land Heritage Program", according to Commissioner John C. White.

The program, which will be initiated July 1, will "pay tribute to those families who have proved their respect for and dedication to the land," White said.

This county has some of the oldest establishments in the state, with a long history of dedicated service to the agricultural community and I hope that every qualified family will take this opportunity to be recognized by the people they have served, White said.

Applications and rules for the program may be obtained by writing Commissioner White, P.O. Box 12847, Austin 78711.

Any family who is certified by Judge J. K. Holmes will qualify for the honor. An applicant need only show a continuous family relationship between the founder of the homestead and the present owner.

The land must have been in use for agriculture by the family since 1874 or before, must be at least 10 acres and producing $50 or more from agricultural products.

Those who do qualify by August 31 will be recognized in a special ceremony at the State Fair this year and short history of their family and land will be published in a land heritage directory. In addition, local recognition will be provided to the families for their long dedication to agriculture.

Area Wide Beef Meeting Slated To morrow Night In Crosbyton

With telegrams already forwarded to President Richard Nixon, Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz and various congressmen calling attention to the plight of America's beef producers, an area-wide meeting has been called for 8 p.m. tomorrow (Friday) in Pioneer Memorial Building in Crosbyton to pursue a telegram and letter writing campaign and promotional endeavors in behalf of the beef industry.

Harold Williams, selected as chairman of the group organized last Friday night, says ranchers, farmers, merchants, wives, young people and "everyone interested in agriculture" is urged to be present tomorrow night to exchange ideas and offer suggestions.

Williams believes that wives could be "particularly helpful in offering the consumers' viewpoints." Officials also point out that grain and cotton producers who do not feed cattle "will eventually feel effects" of the drastically reduced number of cattle in feedlots and they are asked to attend the meeting. Both Grain Sorghum Producers Association and Plains Cotton Growers Inc. are playing an active role in attempting to stabilize beef prices.

Individuals from throughout West Texas are being invited.

VOTE TO ORGANIZE

Following a lengthy discussion of the situation during the initial gathering last Friday night in the Crosbyton Chamber of Commerce office, attended by over 20 persons from Crosby and Dickens counties, the cattlemen voted unanimously to organize in an attempt to improve the beef industry's situation.

Jim Boydston of Ralls was elected vice chairman, and Cap McNeill of the McNeill Ranch was chosen as secretary-treasurer.

McNeill, Arles Graham and Stanton Brunson were asked to write telegrams to high government officials, expressing concern about the beef market. Names of those persons present were signed to the telegrams.

McNeill also was chosen as chairman of a committee to draft and define objectives and guidelines for an extensive letter writing campaign, which will be instigated at Friday's meeting. Appointed to work with him were Clyde Crausbay, Bobby Adams and Kenneth Leatherwood.

The chairman suggested that each person transcribe "in his own language" a letter to congressmen, describing his individual situation to the elected officials in Washington. Proposed solutions to the problem should be incorporated into the letters.

PROMOTION COMMITTEE

Mickey Blackwell of Dickens County, Jim Boydston and Billy Weems of Ralls, Otis English and Harold Williams will serve as a promotional committee.

A definite name for the organization will be chosen later.

Among ideas most frequently suggested during the initial gathering were greater restrictions on beef importation and more beef exportation.

Stanton Brunson mentioned that he learned during a beef tour that two-thirds of the beef consumed nationally is eaten on the Eastern seaboard. He also mentioned that 29,000 babies taste beef in some form for the first time every morning.

Kenneth Leatherwood suggested some type of promotion that would encourage children to adopt a beef consuming habit.

The present USDA beef grading system also came under fire as "penalizing lean beef."

Rites Pending For Autry L. Sparks

Funeral rites were pending at press time yesterday at Moore-Rose Funeral Home for Autry L. Sparks, former longtime farmer at McCoy, until moving to Hobbs, New Mexico, the first of the year.

Sparks died yesterday morning at Hobbs following an illness of several years. He continued to hold farming interest at McCoy which is being farmed by the Turner Hunters.

Survivors include his wife, the former Leola Crawford, sister of several Floyd County men, a daughter, Mrs. Olin Rapp of Hobbs; a son, Roy Lynn Sparks of Austin, and four grandchildren.

FOOTBALL COACH HIRED AT LOCKNEY

Jim Warren, 32, was hired as head football coach and athletic director of Lockney High School Monday by the Lockney Independent School District board of trustees. He replaces Jerry Cannon, who resigned earlier this month to accept the position of director of the Lockney-Petersburg-Floydada Plan "A" cooperative.

Warren coached the last two years at Sudan, where his teams compiled a two-year record of 10-8-2 in the tough District 3-A, which included Bovina, Kress, and the state finalist last year, Vega. He was football coach for four years at Plains, and guided the 1971 Plains gridders to the District 5-A championship. Before coaching at Plains, Warren coached four years at Anton and one year at Mt. Pleasant in East Texas.

A 1963 graduate of McMurry College with majors in English, history, and physical education, Warren is currently working on his master's degree in P.E. at Texas Tech University. He graduated from Plains High School in 1959.

'73 Bale Count In 25 Counties All Time High

Floyd County's 1973 cotton crop of 122,100 harvested acres which produced 143,400 bales helped to boost the 25 county High Plains cotton total to an all time high of 2,888,600 bales.

The official tabulation was made by the Plains Cotton growers, Inc. from county by county figures in 480-pound net weight bales, obtained from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service at Austin.

Cotton Fanning, executive assistant of the PCG, said the production came from 2,784,000 harvested acres, an average of slightly more than 498 pounds of lint per acre.

The crop easily exceeded the previous record of 2,443,900 bales set in 1961. The yield per acre of the 25 counties was the second highest in history, topped only by a 13 pound average in 1965.

Dawson County remains the No. 1 cotton producing county in Texas, with 315,300 bales. Lubbock County was second and Lynn County third.

The highest per-acre yield on the Plains in 1973 was by farmers in Borden County, where growers harvested an average of 644 pounds of lint per acre.

Floyd County, along with Crosby and Borden Counties were the top per acre producers in 1972.

Most observers agree that drought, hail and winds have cut the Plains cotton acreage for 1974 to about 2.1 million.

According to county agents, the blooms are about a week early so by July 4th, area cotton fields should be blossoming out fairly well. And A Price Slump

Floyd Philosopher on dairy money faster than other government officials have been turning in jewels from foreign potentates. Everybody ought to clean out his vault and his conscience every once in a while.

Cattlemen ought to shake the sand out of their boots, get the dust out of their eyes, and catch on. Who knows, if they'd been on their toes we might, instead of giving away atomic secrets to bring peace in the Middle East, have been getting the same results by giving those countries each a billion pounds of our surplus beef.

What does a country need with atomic secrets when its people aren't getting enough to eat? Give em some beef to eat and they might figure out atomic energy on their own. Might even figure out a better way to grow crops than with a walking plow.

Of course I understand all the Middle East countries have signed agreements not to use their atomic energy for anything except peaceful purposes, but with paper as high as it is these days it could be even truer than ever that agreements sometimes aren't worth what they're written on.

Cattlemen ought to learn that when you're in trouble you don't wring your hands, you wring Congress' es.

Yours faithfully,

Mrs. Ricky Boyce Mosley
(former Lisa Gregory)

Double Ring Vows Unite Lisa Gregory, Ricky Mosley

Double ring wedding vows united Lisa Yvonne Gregory and Ricky Boyce Mosley in marriage Saturday, June 22. Setting for the ceremony was in the First United Methodist Church in Floydada with the groom's father, elder of the College Avenue Church of Christ in Lockney, performing the vows at 7 o'clock p.m. Rev. James E. Tidwell, pastor of the Methodist Church, Floydada, assisted.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard R. Gregory of Floydada and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Boyce A. Mosley of Lockney.

Cathedral candles and massive arrangements of gladiolus and pom mums formed the wedding scene. The unity candle was lighted by the couple while "The Wedding Prayer" was sung by Rodney Bunch, brother-in-law of the bride. He also sang "The Wedding Song" and "The Twelfth of Never." The bride presented the groom's mother with a red rose during "The Wedding Prayer" as the groom was presenting the bride's mother with a rose.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of off-white silk organza over peau de soie, fashioned with a bateau neckline and long tapered sleeves. Appliqued Alencon lace enhanced the bodice and also outlined soft folds of deep unpressed pleats in front and back of the skirt. A wide chapel train was formed by the pleats. She wore a mantilla of handmade Belgian lace which fell to fingertip length, and carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis, centered with her going away corsage of gardenias. Gypsophila and showers of bridal satin tied in love knots accented the arrangements.

Mrs. Jack Gregory of Abilene served her sister-in-law as matron of honor. Karen Willis was maid of honor and DeAun Wilson, Karla Tooley and Kim Campbell were bridesmaids.

They were gowned in floor length A-line dresses of lavender crepe with flocked white and blue floral designs. Their ensembles were styled with V-necks, complemented with large collars forming butterfly sleeves. Each carried Colonial bouquets of white pom mums, accented with lavender daisies, and English ivy tied with lavender and blue ribbon. Their headpieces were fresh flowers attached to combs with lavender streamers.

Belfred Jack of Lockney was best man. Ushers were Britt Gregory of Muleshoe, Jack Gregory, Abilene, both brothers of the bride, Rodney Bunch, Farmer's Branch, brother-in-law of the bride, and Terry Novak of Houston.

Serving as candlelighters were Terri and Tamara Boyd of Houston.

Mrs. Britt Gregory, Muleshoe and Mrs. Garrett Boyd of Houston registered guests.

Mrs. James Tidwell arranged tables for the reception which followed in Fellowship Hall and also assisted with the houseparty. Linda Moss, Floydada, Jennifer Robertson, Cotton Center; Carol Reeve, Friona; Mrs. Susan Sissney and Elaine Mosley of Plano, sisters of the groom, served.

Silver and crystal appointments were used on the round serving table with the bride's table in the center being the focal point. It was laid with a white cloth with ruffled net, and centered with a three tiered wedding cake, decorated in lavender and blue. A nearby table held a silver punch bowl and opposite that was the groom's table. These tables were accented by blue and white printed cloths, with white net caught in scallops. Silver appointments were used in serving coffee and chocolate cake. Arrangements of fresh flowers and votive candles decorated the hall and a portrait of the bride was displayed by the gift table.

Musical selections at the reception were played by David Cameron of Abilene.

For a wedding trip to Ruidoso, New Mexico, the bride changed to a sundress of oriental print.

The couple will reside at 897 S. Willis in Abilene where both are employed and attending college.

Mrs. Mosley, a graduate of Floydada High School, is a sophomore at McMurry and employed by Avis Rent-a-Car at Abilene Municipal Airport.

The groom, a Lockney High School graduate, attended Lubbock Christian College and is a junior at Abilene Christian College. He is also employed at the Abilene Municipal Airport.

GOOD NUTRITION GUIDELINES

Poor nutrition is a problem which can sneak up on us. It can detract from our good health and well-being silently. According to a 1968 U.S. Department of Agriculture report, approximately 50% of all Americans have diets providing less than recommended amounts of one or more of the essential nutrients. The trend has been toward poorer quality diets in every segment of the American Society.

Activities associated with modern life styles such as eating on the run at fast food restaurants, snacking on foods with little nutritional value, and skipping important meals such as breakfast, have altered good eating habits appreciably. Many now substitute a hasty snack for a nutritionally balanced meal. They tend to settle for convenience foods which are calorie-rich but nutritionally poor.

There are six general categories of nutrients: proteins, carbohydrates, fats, vitamins, minerals and water. All are important to us, and most foods contain various amounts of these nutrients. Probably the best single rule to follow in providing good nutrition is to put plenty of variety into menu planning — without relying too much on nutritionally questionable snack foods. According to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, your diet should include selections from these four basic food groups: (1) meats, (2) milk, (3) vegetables and fruits, and (4) breads and cereals.

In the meat group, which includes lean meats, fish, poultry, eggs and cheese, two servings daily are recommended to provide a good source of protein, fat and certain vitamins. From the milk group, children should consume a quart of milk a day — one pint/day for adults — or the equivalent in other substitute dairy products such as ice cream or cheese which are good sources of protein, fat, calcium, phosphorus, and certain vitamins.

Four servings a day from the vegetable-fruit group provide an excellent source of certain vitamins and, to a lesser extent, carbohydrates and minerals. At least one of the servings should include citrus fruit or juice, tomato juice, or some other source of vitamin C.

Besides being the primary source of carbohydrates, the bread-cereals group also provides protein, vitamins and minerals. Again, four daily servings from the bread-cereals group are suggested.

Skipping regular meals and excessive snacking on calorie-rich, nutritionally poor foods can help contribute to an insufficient intake of essential nutrients. Because of diet inadequacies, many physicians recommend a vitamin supplement such as Poly-Vi-Sol for both children and adults.

What One Person Can Do

When Alice Davis tapped the potential of local teenagers, a much needed volunteer project called Shadow was born at New York's Morrisania Hospital.

At the hospital where Mrs. Davis directs volunteers, she had difficulty finding help in the vast stretch of poverty called the South Bronx. She wanted to help exhausted doctors and nurses care for the deluge of victims of Saturday night violence. Then one day she decided to call on neighborhood high schools, recruiting for voluntary service as hospital aides the listless, uninterested students — the future dropouts and gang members who had no real homes or purpose in life.

The hospital made arrangements for rooms and hot, nourishing meals for the young volunteers. "So many of our youngsters are in need of food and shelter," explained Mrs. Davis. "I learned you have to start thinking of these youngsters, not only in terms of what they can give the hospital but what we can give them, too. They need respect and credit for the work they do. They need someone to talk to and a little incentive. Each of them is beautiful and each one has something to contribute." The program grew surprisingly. It was called Shadow because student volunteers worked side-by-side with medical personnel. Many young blacks and Puerto Ricans felt for the first time in their lives that they were needed. They uncovered interests that may some day lead to full-time hospital careers. Of the 80 enthusiastic volunteers now in Shadow, at least one credits Mrs. Davis with saving his life. "I was just strung out on junk," the youth related. "She got me a psychiatrist, and she helped my mother find a job." Alan Rosenblut, associate director of Morrisania, agrees. "All this and more," he said, "is credited to the dedicated work of a woman with social concern who has a gift for putting fire under people — administrators, doctors, nurses and volunteers. She doesn't use money; she triggers your need to want to help."

Floydada Care Center News

By Dessie Turner

This has been another busy week. The weather has been hot and our residents enjoy the fresh air in the early mornings.

We enjoy the church services each day, and appreciate the people who come out.

Wednesday we had a party for our new residents, Martha Burke and Theodale Cardinal. Everyone had a nice visit.

Thursday was our bingo game and lots of prizes were won.

Shugarts Studio was here Thursday afternoon to take pictures of 39 residents and employees. We appreciated Thompson's Pharmacy for arranging for Shugarts to come to the Care Center.

We are in the middle of spring cleaning a few days late. We need the assistance of families to help clean out closets and take out-of-season clothing home so we will have room for the resident needs.

Don't forget our scrap book, we only have a few weeks to complete it.

Friday, July 12 at 7 p.m. we will have Family Night at the Care Center. We will feature the Whirlers and local Square Dance Group with Eldred Parker of Lubbock as caller. Everyone is invited!

HEW Organizes Long Term Care Division

A new division, called Long-Term Care Standards (LTCS) has been organized in the Regional Office of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Purpose of the new division, directed by Mary Lou Lane, is to ensure that safety and health care standards are being met by nursing homes and other institutions participating in Medicare and Medicaid programs. The division is responsible for seeing that federal standards for skilled nursing facilities (SNFs) are consistently applied and enforced in the 1,200 long-term care facilities in HEW's southwest region. Similar divisions are being organized in the nine other HEW regions around the country.

New regulations announced in Washington earlier this year place emphasis on the health and safety of patients, while enabling HEW and state governments to enforce standards more effectively.

The regulations, for the first time, set common standards for certification of long-term care facilities which participate in either Medicare or Medicaid programs.

The new division, organized within the Office of the Regional Director, culminates a year-long experiment which began with establishment of a four-person Skilled Nursing Facility Unit. This unit showed that a centralized focal point would improve the application of standards to skilled nursing facilities, and the new LTCS division was created.

Under the regulations, LTCS has authority to enter into and/or terminate agreements with long-term care facilities. The unit works closely with state Medicaid agencies and state survey agencies, and the division is now the focal point where state agency personnel may obtain information, consultation, training and technical assistance. Likewise, it is a reference point for the general public on matters concerning long-term care facilities. Ms. Lane and her staff are located in the Federal Building, 1100 Commerce, Dallas, Texas.

VET. EDUCATION ASSISTANCE TO BE CHANGED

A number of changes are to be made in the educational assistance programs administered by the Veterans Administration for eligible veterans and their dependents and survivors. Following are some of the changes which will be put into effect prior to the beginning of the 1974 fall semester.

Educational assistance programs are currently administered by the VA for veterans who served honorably during the Vietnam Era and the Cold War period, which dates back to February 1, 1955. Monetary benefits are also available to the wives and children of living veterans who are shown to be 100% disabled because of service-incurred diseases or injuries, and to the widows and children of veterans or servicemen whose deaths were the result of military duty.

Eligible veterans and dependents who attend a college or university this fall will receive an advance payment at the time of registration, providing the necessary paperwork is completed in sufficient time. The advance payment, consisting of the amount due for one full month plus that remaining portion of the month of registration, can be prepared and sent to the school. The eligible person may receive the check at the time of registration, thus having the funds necessary to pay tuition and fees required by the school.

Beginning with the 1974 fall semester, the VA will place Veterans Representatives on the campuses of the larger colleges and universities. These representatives will be available to assist veterans and other eligible persons who might encounter problems concerning benefits payments, and other matters pertaining to the educational assistance programs administered by the Veterans Administration. Those enrolled in a college this fall should contact the campus VA representative if assistance is required during the school term.

TSA Urges July 4 Traffic Safety

AUSTIN — According to the Texas Safety Association, nationwide traffic fatality projections for the July Fourth holiday are the lowest in almost 25 years.

TSA President Edwin B. Locke today noted that Texas motorists can help keep the toll at a minimum by buckling their safety belts, observing speed limits and paying attention to some of the hazards which accompany the energy shortage.

"While the decline of highway death and injury which has accompanied the lowering of speed limits has received wide publicity," Locke said, "some of the hazards created by the energy shortage have not attracted much attention."

He specified the increase of small cars on the highways. According to the Insurance Institute for Highway Safety, the occupants of smaller cars involved in crashes tend to sustain more severe injuries than the occupants of larger cars.

"Small car drivers should be aware of the extra hazards they face," Locke said. "While we urge all drivers to buckle up and drive defensively, drivers of sub-compacts should be doubly cautious."

Locke also noted the sharp increase in the presence of gas-saving motorcycles on the road today and the corresponding increase in cycle-car accidents. He urged drivers to be on the lookout for two-wheeled vehicles, and to accord them the normal driving courtesies.

Some drivers, Locke said, continue to put themselves and others in extreme danger by taking along an extra can of gasoline in the car. "Trying to beat the fuel shortage by transporting gasoline anywhere besides the fuel tank is playing with dynamite," he said.

Even in "safety cans" gasoline vapors can leak, ready to explode with the introduction of the tiniest spark.

The National Safety Council has predicted that 450 to 550 persons will die in traffic accidents over the holiday period beginning at 6 p.m. Wednesday, July 3 and

4-H Horse Honors Go To Girls Again

TULIA (Special) — For the second straight year the girls won most of the honors at the District 2 4-H Horse Show here this week taking 11 of 14 first-place awards plus grand and reserve grand champion individual honors.

In all, 20 4-H members qualified to compete at the State 4-H Horse Show in Dallas in August.

The district event at Cobb Wheeler Mote arena featured 180 contestants from 20 South Plains counties comprising District 2 of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Capturing the highest honor as high-point individual was Ginger Henderson of Floyd County, sister of last year's grand champion, Mona Henderson. Ginger won a first, two seconds, and showed the champion mare.

The reserve champion honor went to Renee Thornton, also of Floyd County, who won a first in showmanship and showed the second-place registered mare (5 years and under) as well as the reserve champion mare.

Other top honors went to Robinette of Dawson County, who showed the champion gelding, and to David Hall of Howard County with the reserve champion gelding.

Swisher County ran up the highest point total, followed by Floyd and Dawson counties.

The contest was divided into eight halter and six performance classes. The six first place performance winners along with those showing the four top halter horses will compete at state. The remaining entries in the field of 20 state-bound delegates were selected on points accumulated during competition. Others who qualified to compete in the state horse show and the counties they represent included:

Denise Davis, Sherri Starkey, Dudley McClurg, Chris Pearson and Guy Walt Via, all of Swisher; David Hall of Howard; Phil Emfinger of Gaines; Kenny Henderson of Bailey; Suzette Fitzgerald and Ty McMurtry of Briscoe; Mona Henderson and Denise Johnson of Floyd; Sonya Lee Franks of Terry; Karleen Garrett of Lubbock; Randy Coleman and Steve Polvado of Cochran; and K'Lynn Boyer of Dawson.

The following is a summary of the wins registered by the 4-H horsemen in their various classes:

HALTER CLASSES
Registered mare, any breed, (five years of age and over): First - Rebecca Reid, Briscoe County; second - Ken Wood, Briscoe County; third - Jill Floyd, Dawson County.
Registered mare, any breed, (under five years of age): First - Ginger Henderson, Floyd County; second - Renee Thornton, Dawson County.

BIKE THEFTS

While millions of Americans are celebrating American Bike Month this May by taking to the open road and visiting with Mother Nature on a two-wheeler, an insidious criminal element is equally enjoying the bicycle.

Bike theft continues to grow in America. In some parts of the nation it is the fastest growing crime statistic.

When a bike is equipped with quick-release hubs, simply remove the front wheel and take it with you. Who wants a one-wheel bike?

Never leave your bicycle out over night. Always secure it indoors.

Always run the chain through both wheels and the frame before locking.

Record the serial number of the bike. It is found in three places: on the head tube under the manufacturer's name or insignia; on the underside of the pedal crank housing; on the left rear toe-plate near the axle.

Bikes should be registered by serial number, make, model and description with the local police.

Take a color photograph of your bike to help police. Meanwhile, list your bike by color, model, make and serial number on the personal property floater of your homeowners or tenants insurance policy.

KNOW THE CANCER WARNING SIGNS

A flashing red light...an SOS...A siren. These are familiar warning signals. But what about cancer's warning signals? "If you don't know cancer's Warning Signals, how do you know you haven't got one?"

This is the theme of the American Cancer Society's 1974 educational and fund-raising Crusade, announced today by Mrs. Charles Smith. The Crusade supports the ACS Program of Research, Education, Service and Rehabilitation.

"We know that people really want to do something about cancer," declared Mrs. Smith. "So we have a leaflet which stresses these signals of the disease.

On the leaflet's cover are seven blank lines which the ACS Volunteer will ask the person being visited to fill in whichever cancer warning signals he happens to know. All seven signals are listed elsewhere in the pamphlet.

"For easy recognition they are listed so that the initial letters of each signal, when combined, spell CAUTION and the reader is urged to visit a physician at the first sign of a warning signal," Mrs. Smith said.

The signals are: Change in bowel or bladder habits. A sore that does not heal. Unusual bleeding or discharge. Thickening or lump in breast or elsewhere. Indigestion or difficulty in swallowing. Obvious change in wart or mole. Nagging cough, or hoarseness.

Each signal in the leaflet is followed by an explanation in simple language, and it is stressed that if a signal occurs, see your doctor.

"We want to wipe out cancer in your lifetime, so join us in this Crusade," she urged. "Fight cancer with a checkup and help others with a generous check."

Homecoming Revival Set At Flomot Church In August

A "Home-Coming Revival" of the First Baptist Church at Flomot has been slated for August 11-18, 1974, in celebration of the church's 60th birthday. Each service is planned to bring back pleasant memories of the past and life renewal for the future. Former pastors of the church, a different one at each service, will be preaching.

The schedule calls for Rev. Ray Crowder to speak at Sunday morning services on August 11; Rev. J. E. Lee the night of August 11 and through the week at p.m. services will be Rev. Jack Terrell, August 12; Rev. Ed Spivey, August 13; Rev. Donzil Leonard, August 14; Rev. Don Kidd, August 15; Rev. Leo Cole, August 16; Rev. Eddie Burkett, August 17; Dr. Strauss Atkinson, Sunday morning, April 18; and Rev. T. T. Terry, Sunday night, August 18.

Music director for the week will be Ric Hunt, minister of music and youth director of First Baptist Church in Floydada.

"Home-Coming Day" will be Sunday, August 18. A dinner will be held at the Flomot School House and a special program at the church in the afternoon. At the conclusion a giant birthday cake will be cut and served.

Williams attended the dedication of the J.Y. Ranch bunkhouse on the ranch headquarters at Tech Museum Saturday. Q.D. Williams is a former cowboy and ranch pilot of the J.Y. Ranch at Truscott. They also attended a luncheon at the museum after the dedication. James Williams of Midland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Q. D. Williams, was also there. James spent the first four years of his life on the J.Y. Ranch but the only horse he rode while on the J.Y. was his "stick horse."

Mrs. Jim Barnard of Floydada accompanied the Williams to Lubbock, and also attended the program. Mrs. Joe Thurston and Mrs. Rudolph McCurdy visited Friday with Mrs. W. M. Hambricht.

Sunday night visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Newberry were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Alexander and granddaughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Moosberg have returned home from Lubbock and he is recovering from recent surgery. They were accompanied by her mother, Mrs. A. E. Hagler of Center, Texas.

Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Moosberg and June Moosberg of Lubbock went to Dallas to attend the Moosberg reunion. They spent Friday night in Ft. Worth with a cousin, Jack Jones and Mrs. Jones.

Mrs. Alice Hagler spent the weekend in Lubbock with her granddaughters, Alice and Carla Moosberg at Century House Apartment. Mrs. Fred Lloyd and Nancy spent a week at Houston with Cynthia Williams, where they were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Greg Williams and Shelley of Lubbock. All spent some time at Galveston fishing. Mrs. Lloyd reports crops and vegetable gardens so much farther advanced around Houston than here. Maize was already headed out and the grain was turning red.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Keesee of Lubbock and John Lloyd were Sunday dinner guests in the Fred Lloyd home. The occasion was to celebrate Lee Keesee's birthday.

Lifetime Earnings High In Floyd County Area

NEW YORK — The lifetime earning capacity of the average male resident of Floyd County has expanded greatly in recent years and has reached new heights. Under current conditions of employment, of national productivity, of education and life span, the typical local man who is just entering the labor force has a prospective lifetime income of no less than $348,000. This is no pipedream. It is based upon a recent Department of Commerce study of lifetime income, as determined by educational attainment and other factors. The estimated earning power of the average young man in Floyd County, for the 45 years or so that he will be working, takes into account the amount of schooling he has received and the present level of income in the area, as related to incomes in other parts of the country. From the standpoint of education, the latest Census Bureau figures show that 10.9 percent of the local male population, age 25 or older, have gone through elementary school, that 22.8 percent have completed four years of high school and that another 6.9 percent have had four years or more of college. Solely from a dollars and cents consideration, the government study indicates, whatever investment of time and money is made toward getting a good education, is well worth while. It produces a high rate of return. In general, the average high school graduate will earn approximately $135,000 more during his lifetime than a person with only an elementary school diploma. By the same token, the college graduate stands to make $279,000 more than the man who has completed only high school, the report states. In Floyd County, the educational level of the population is relatively high and is steadily moving higher. The median amount of schooling being acquired by local they years, many county. Nation an upper beyond 50 years.
