Parts Of County Get Good Rain

Some Hail

Although most of the area around Floydada is still dry the official gauge at Producers Cooperative elevator recorded 1.16 of rainfall about 4 a.m. Thursday.

It seems the rain started about Muncy and proceeded southeast to about a mile south of Floydada.

However, it took a pattern off east and southeast of Floydada that netted some good "cotton showers" that way. Tate Jones, east of Floydada received a half inch Wednesday night, Dougherty received about a half inch.

Bob Ross, seven miles south of Dougherty received three quarters of an inch. Ned Bradley, a little farther south and west of Dougherty received a little over an inch on Wednesday night and early Thursday morning.

Back west of Barwise only a quarter of an inch was reported. J. W. Becker, south of Sandhill reported over an inch of rain.

The big rain seemed to be across the south end of the county with around two inches reported south of Lakeview and some hail. A small flood came between Cone and Ralls Wednesday afternoon.

North of the Mt. Blanco gin the Joe Thurston farm received an inch and a half of rain and no hail.

HAIL REPORTS

It seems that an area along the canyon three to four miles south of Lakeview received the worst hail. Edmund Brown received 1.7 of rain and cotton hailed out. The Don Harrison farm received 2.5 of rain and a lot of hail. Also receiving hail and big rainfall were Vernon Mitchell and Billy Kirk. Friday these farmers were trying to decide on how much cotton to leave... or plant soybeans.

The McCoy area received a half inch of rainfall.

Just a sprinkle was reported at the Floydada Country Club.

Thomas Warren in the Liberty community (about three miles north of the Center community) reported 1.1 of rain Tuesday and Wednesday... also light hail.

Don Bean, who farms about five miles southeast of South Plains reported 1.3 of rain early Thursday morning and no hail.

was hailed out and a big rain was received. Lakes are full out that way... which is southwest of Cedar Hill. Bill Hendrix also got hailed out in this area.

Jack Yeary, about five miles west of Cedar Hill received an inch of rain on Tuesday and Wednesday nights and no hail.

The rainfall was lighter in the northern part of the county. Lockney received .53 inch Tuesday night and another tenth of an inch early Thursday morning. "A sprinkle" was reported at Muncy Tuesday night, with a heavier shower Thursday morning. At Aiken .46 inch was measured Tuesday night and another .28 inch Thursday morning. At Lone Star, there were very light showers both nights.

OVER $5 MILLION DOLLAR GAIN

Bank Deposits Up Over Last Year

Although most everyone has withdrawn money from the bank to pay income taxes and very little wheat has been deposited, the county's two banks showed over five million dollars gain in deposits in comparison with this time last year when the state bank call was made on June 30.

Much of the gain is reflected in the good farm income from last year and many farmers did not have to borrow money to put in this year's crop.

The Lockney First National Bank was up in deposits from last year's $9,841,634.06 to this year's $12,259,008.30. Their loans were also up from $5,029,765.51 to $5,553,696.20.

The First National Bank in Floydada showed an increase in deposits from $14,991,893.00 to $17,887,217.16. Loans were up from $6,680,211.00 to $8,174,890.54.

KEEP AN EYE ON MCKENZIE

There's a new lake in the Texas Panhandle that should be completed by the time you read this. It is McKenzie Reservoir in Swisher County, which is south of Amarillo and north of Plainview. When filled the reservoir will cover 900 acres. It will be steep-sided, which means it will have little shallow spawning habitat for native Texas fish.

But don't let that deter you from keeping a close check on this new lake. It is the intended stocking site of two exciting gamefish not native to Texas. Early this year the Heart of the Hills Freshwater Experiment Station in Kerr County got a shipment of 12,000 coho salmon and Kamloops rainbow trout, which were to be held there for stocking in McKenzie as soon as it was completed.

It was not known at this writing whether the lake would be ready in time. The fish were six to 10 inches long and could be held only for so long. It's possible they may have been stocked, in an emergency situation, in some other lakes. But the hope is to get cohos into McKenzie eventually.

To that end another kind of stocking was planned for this lake. The fish to be put in were thredfin shad and Mississippi silversides. Fisheries people know that in waters where these forage species occur, coho salmon grow fast and big - in some cases as much as 12 pounds in 1 1/2 years.

If the cohos survive this far from their native home, as they have in Lake Michigan and other waters, Panhandle anglers will have something to make both their lines and their eyes pop.

Editor's Note: The fish went to another Texas lake... no water in the Mackenzie.

Judge Refuses To Halt Cloud Seeding

LITTLEFIELD (Sp) — A temporary injunction against cloud seeding activities has been denied by District Judge Pat Boone Jr.

In his ruling filed Tuesday, Judge Boone said the defendant Plains Weather Improvement Association's plea of privilege is overruled, and all defendants' special exceptions to plaintiffs' pleadings are overruled.

In his letter to all of the lawyers who represented both sides of the five-day hearing, Judge Boone said the plaintiffs' application for temporary injunction is in all things denied because the evidence does not show such circumstances as to invoke the harsh remedy of injunction.

In making the ruling, he advised the lawyers to submit exceptions and notice of appeal as may be requested by counsel affected.

The suit was filed by Farmers and Ranchers for Natural Weather against cloud seeding activities conducted by Lamb County Better Weather, Inc., and Plains Weather Association in parts of nine High Plains Counties. Also named in the suit was Atmospherics, Inc., the contracting company for the Littlefield-based operations.

About 125 farmers and ranchers were named as plaintiffs in seeking to enjoin the operations of the two weather modification activities. Those against the weather modification claimed that activities to suppress hail carried out by the defendants decreased natural rainfall over their land.

The issue before the court is considered of vital interest to all concerned. Even before the ruling was made, both parties expressed determination to take their case on to a higher court.

The ruling will influence all commercial weather modification programs, and the decision could influence expermental weather modification research.

The suit filed in 134th District Court is the first ever filed in Texas against a hail suppression program, and the ruling of who owns atmospheric space sets a precedent for future disputes.

FARM REVIEW

Sorghum Groups Host Soviet Visitors

Four Soviet agricultural experts visited grain sorghum and livestock production facilities in West Texas May 24 - 28 as part of an American farm industry tour.

Hosts to the group during their West Texas stay were the Texas Grain Sorghum Producers Board and Grain Sorghum Producers Association.

The Soviet visitors were hosted by GSPA-TGSPB as part of a continuing market development program. Russia recently has purchased considerable amounts of U.S. grain.

Darwin Stolte, president of the U.S. Feed Grains Council, John DeCourcy, foreign marketing specialist of the dairy and poultry division, Foreign Agriculture Service, and Laurie Law, interpreter, all of Washington, D.C., accompanied the Soviets to West Texas.

Executive Director Elbert Harp and staff members of GSPA-TGSPB guided the visitors on their tour of cow-calf operations, commercial feedlots, feed processing firms, packing plants and swine production facilities.

Members of the Soviet team were:

G.P. Rudenko, deputy director of the agricultural section, USSR State Planning Committee, and leader of the group.

A.S. Negru-Vode, deputy academician, secretary of the economics and agricultural production organization section, V.I. Lenin All Union Academy of Agricultural Sciences.

R.R. Kosykin, deputy chief of the main economic administration, Ministry of Agriculture.

V.E. Nazarenko, deputy director of the All Union Academy of Agricultural Sciences.

Rudenko, leader of the group, told directors and staff members of GSPA-TGSPB at a dinner honoring the Soviets Monday evening that the Russian minister of agriculture had told members of the team before their departure from Moscow that the purpose of their trip was to develop ways of cooperating with Americans.

The team leader said Secretary of Agriculture Earl Butz greeted them on their arrival in Washington with the statement that they were engaged in "diplomacy by the bushel rather than by bullets." Rudenko also thanked GSPA and TGSPB for the tour hosted by the grain organizations.

In the U.S. tour the Soviets visited Washington, D.C., Charlotte, N.C., Atlanta, Ga., St. Louis, Mo., Lubbock, Tex., Hartford, Conn., Philadelphia, Pa., and New York, N.Y.

SCS Chapters To Hold Conference In Ft. Worth

"Land Use Planning, How and by Whom?" This is the theme of the Texas Council of Soil Conservation Society Chapters annual conference at the Green Oaks Inn in Fort Worth on July 12-13, according to Roy Hauger of Rosenberg, president.

Those attending from Floydada include Mr. and Mrs. Jon J. LaBaume, Mr. and Mrs. Layton Kock, all members of the South Plains chapter, Soil Conservation Society of America.

William L. Vaught, national president of the Soil Conservation Society of America will keynote the meeting at 10:45 Friday, July 12, after a welcome to the Fort Worth Major R. M. "Sharkey" Stovall. Vaught is head of the Soil Conservation Service's technical service center here.

Other speakers include Dr. Jesus Hinojosa, College Station, head, Department of Urban and Regional Planning, Texas A&M University; Dr. Don Williams, Houston, director, Rice Center for Community Design and Research; L. D. Whitehead, Del Rio, president, County Judges' Association of South Texas, and Bob Armstrong, Austin, commissioner, General Land Office.

Jimmy Lewis, president of the local chapter, estimates that about 400 SCSA members and guests will attend. According to Lewis the Texas Council is made up of 22 member chapters. Most members of the society are professional conservationists, planners, scientists, and teachers.

FLOYD PHILOSOPHER
Encounters A Problem Which He Soon Abandons

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm encounters a problem which he soon abandons.

Dear editor:
It makes you stop and think. Twenty-eight Congressmen, according to an article I read in a newspaper last night, are quitting Congress this year.

That's right. Twenty-eight are just not going to run again, not counting 13 others who're going to run for something else. Some of the 28 are quitting because of old age and a satisfactory pension but a lot of them, including some young ones, are quitting because they just don't like the job, and I got to wondering: what if the trend continues? What if Congress convenes next January for a new session and discovers half the seats are empty? What kind of a country would we have if we couldn't get a quorum to serve in Congress? It's like asking what kind of a university could you have if nobody came out for the football team?

Now I can understand why a man maybe wouldn't want to serve in Congress and risk ruining his reputation when he could stay at home and probably never get caught, but somebody's got to do it. You can't have un-passed legislation piling up in Washington any more than you can un-collected trash in a city. Of course some will argue the two aren't parallel, that at least a city does have a place to bury its trash but when Congress passes a law it spreads all over the country.

However the more I contemplated the problem the more I concluded it's like most problems — more awful in contemplation than in reality. I have a notion a swarm of candidates will be contesting for those 28 vacated Congressional seats and when the roll is called in January 28 new faces will show up.

As I have long contended, there never was a man some woman wouldn't marry or an office somebody wouldn't run for.
Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Harvesting and Planting... Baling Going Well... Cattle Sales Drop... Milk Production Up... Turkey Hatches Down

HARVESTING and Planting of several crops in this big State are going on at the same time. The first bale of cotton of Texas' No. 1 crop was ginned June 10, while cotton planting was going on on the Low and High Plains. Crispin Gamez, who had the first bale in 1971 and 1972, brought the first bale to Pharr, in the Rio Grande Valley. Most of the 1974 cotton crop has been planted but there is some replanting of cotton hailed out on the Low and High Plains. Sorghum crops are in about the same situation as cotton, with harvesting underway in the Valley and South Texas and some replanting going on on the Plains where hail and sand damaged some crops. A lot of rice is heading out, and combining may begin any day now. Most of the peanut and soybean crops are planted over the State but some planting remains to be done.

HAY BALING is underway over much of the State, especially in East Texas where rains have been accommodating. Prospects are good in some areas for third and fourth cuttings. Baling wire and twine shortages and/or prices have been a handicap, running costs of baling higher than they have been in years. Prices on baling wire and twine are about double what they were last year. Ranges, for the most part, are in good condition, except on areas of the Trans-Pecos, Southern High Plains and Edwards Plateau where rain has not been adequate. Highest temperature reported in the State so far was 106 degrees in Wichita Falls June 16.

SALE OF CATTLE and calves at auction rings showed a sharp drop during the month of May, according to the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. There were 362,000 head of cattle and calves sold, which was 51 per cent below a year ago and 18 per cent below April sales. The 40,000 hogs sold in May was two per cent below a year ago and seven per cent below the previous month. Sheep sales at auction rings numbered 145,000 head, 17 per cent below a year ago but 19 per cent more than a month earlier. During May, 297,337 head of cattle and calves were shipped out of Texas to other States, and 102,202 were shipped into Texas, according to health certificate tabulations. A year ago, 417,786 head were shipped out of Texas and 188,508 head were shipped into Texas. Sheep and lambs shipped to other States totaled 120,045 head, a drop of 37 per cent from a year ago.

OUTLOOK FOR agriculture in Texas is not as rosy as it was in 1973. The wheat crop—already harvested—is about a third less than it was last year, and the cotton crop is not expected to be as good. The reason is the weather, mainly drought in the Low and High Plains, but also some floods and hail in the Lubbock area. According to "Howell's Cotton Letter," printed in Lubbock, a survey of ginners shows they expect this crop to yield about 1,502,000 bales on the High Plains, which is about 52 per cent of the 1973 crop. USDA had predicted that 14,500,000 acres would be planted to cotton in the United States, compared to 12,400,000 in 1973; but Natural Fibers Economic Research at the University of Texas said that was high and that cotton acreage in Texas is lower in 1974 than it was in 1973. "At the present time a severe moisture condition exists on the Texas Plains, where nearly 80 per cent of the Texas cotton was produced in 1973-74." On the other hand, the cotton crop in the Blacklands is three to four weeks ahead of last year and growing conditions are reported ideal with little insect infestation yet.

SCREWORMS have been found recently in Comanche, Somervell, San Saba, Hill, and Parker County, according to Dr. M.E. Meadows who runs the screwworm eradication program at the plant in Mission. This is the farthest north the pests have been reported this year. Gulf Coast ticks are on the increase, and July, August, and September are their most active months. That may contribute to the spread of screwworms unless cattlemen are especially careful of their herds. They should check cattle as often as possible, and if there is an infestation, samples should be taken and sent to the laboratory at Mission. The Screwworm Eradication Program releases sterile flies in the area of known infestations.

Miss Staggs Is Bride Of James Lyndell Murrell

TULIA — Miss Karen Latriece Staggs became the bride of James Lyndell Murrell Friday, June 28 at 7 p.m. in First Assembly of God Church. The father of the bride who is minister of the church officiated the ceremony, assisted by the Rev. J. M. Ashley of Stratford.

Parents of the bride are the Rev. and Mrs. R. A. Staggs of Tulia, formerly of Floydada. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. James P. Murrell and the late Mr. Murrell.

Lighting tapers in seven branch candelabras were DeAnna Staggs, sister of the bride, and Tony Staggs, cousin of the bride.

Miss Carolyn Foreman provided musical selections and accompanied Miss Merie Roberts as she sang "Walk Hand In Hand", "Till There Was You" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Vows were read before a brass archway enhanced with imported lemon leaf and arrangement of white imported roses. Flanking the archway were standing brass candelabra bearing white tapers and decorated with imported greenery and blue satin bows.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of miracle mist polyester organza and Venise lace over bridal taffeta. Her gown was styled with a high mandarin neckline, a closely fitted bodice accented by tiny lace covered buttons coming to a point below the waistline. Five deep tiers of lace formed the A-line front of the full skirt, with the same lace complementing the hemline. Lace also trimmed the edge of the long bishop sleeves, neckline and encircled the full overskirt and chapel length train.

The bride's short veil and chapel length train of illusion was attached to a caplet of lace. She carried a reticule of bridal satin trimmed in lace and tiny ribbon. The bride designed her dress and accessories which were made by her mother.

The bride's colonial bouquet was of white roses, blue silk flowers and baby's breath. She carried out the tradition of something old, new, borrowed, and blue. She also had pennies in her shoe bearing the birthdates of the bride and groom, given by Mrs. Foy Acker. She also wore a sixpence given by First National Bank.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Terry Staggs, sister-in-law of the bride. Bridesmatron was Mrs. Eddie Wheeler. Bridesmaids were Misses Crystal Wheeler, Sherry Taylor and Dae Renda Staggs, sister of the bride.

Flower girls were Misses LaFonda and LaDonna Staggs, cousins of the bride.

Ring bearer was David Dwane Archer, also a cousin of the bride. Rice bags were passed out by Lynette Staggs, cousin of the bride.

Bridal attendants were dressed identically, each wearing a floor length gown of baby blue and navy floral design of candy flocked lena with full bishop sleeves. The empire waistline was trimmed with navy ribbon and a deep ruffle complemented the hemline of the full skirt. Each attendant wore a white picture hat decorated with flocked blue lena and carried reticule and a single blue organza rose. The matron of honor carried a half dozen blue organza roses.

Terry Staggs, brother of the bride, was best man. Groomsmen included Joe Murrell, brother of the groom; Wesley Ross and Santos Basuldua, both of Tulia, and Tommy Carothers of Amarillo. Ushers were Eddie Wheeler and Gary Wilfong.

Presiding at the registration table was Mrs. Joe Murrell, sister-in-law of the groom.

The mother of the bride selected a blue print of polyester double knit with white accessories. The groom's mother selected a navy blue polyester knit dress with blue accessories. Their corsages were of white carnations.

A reception was hosted in Fellowship Hall following the ceremony. The table was set with a white lace net tablecloth underlaid with blue. The wedding cake, given and made by Mrs. Dal Southard carried out the bride's colors of baby blue and navy, with three tiers iced in light blue buttercream. Each tier was draped with white Australian lace accented with nosegay of white roses and various colors of tiny blue flowers. Servers were Mrs. Joe Murrell and Miss Debbie Carothers.

Yard Of The Week

This week's selection is that of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Pierce at 315 West Mississippi.

This large white stucco house is surrounded by shrubs, colorful plants and lawn.

Near the street is a round bed of fiery red petunias, and roses, yellow glads and larkspur are blooming in front of the house. The front porch has a number of interesting pot plants, some now blooming. Yard poinsettias, cannas, mums, dahlias, violets and four o'clocks add their gay display. Ground cover is used effectively in the flower beds.

Honeysuckles on a large trellis near the driveway adds a pleasing note. Ferns are blooming between the driveway strip. Another nearby flower bed has day lilies, phlox and elderberry with ivy adding its lacy effect.

The back yard is spacious and inviting. A "Grape Arbor" complete with a swing is most attractive. A barbecue set-up is in one corner of the back yard, and does more than cool!

Electric air conditioning is more than simply a way of keeping cool during hot, sticky summer weather. Cool it does, but much more, too. Besides cooling, electric air conditioning filters out dust and dirt. It removes excess moisture and keeps out outside noise. An electric air conditioner ventilates and circulates air. It de-humidifies by removing the excess moisture that causes discomfort and creates mildew.

With electric air conditioning your home is quiet, clean and comfortably cool. Electric air conditioning is one of the best home improvement bargains available, providing many features that make a home a better place to live.

Choose your air conditioner carefully. A unit with a capacity that is too small won't be able to keep you cool when you want cooling most. A unit too large will cool too quickly and provide insufficient dehumidification. The result—a cold clammy feeling. To be sure you select the proper size unit, have your dealer estimate your cooling load before you buy.

Mrs. W. H. Henderson, who sustained a broken hip in a fall at the bank in Floydada Tuesday, underwent corrective surgery Friday morning in Lubbock Methodist Hospital. Mrs. Elizabeth Armstrong, who sustained a bad fall in Mrs. Henderson's hospital room the same day, was able to return to her Floydada home Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Armstrong and her sister, Mrs. Emma Lou Whitaker were in the room with Mrs. Henderson and as the doctor entered, both stepped out of the way, and in doing so, Mrs. Armstrong hung her heel on floor tile in the bathroom door. She lost her balance, Mrs. Whitaker said, and fell backward, striking her head on the wall, causing a concussion, then fell to the floor, sustaining a badly bruised hip. Mrs. Armstrong is said to be improving steadily from her injuries.

Mrs. William Paul Cypert
D'Ann McClure, Paul Cypert Wed Friday

Trinity Lutheran Church at Providence was the scene Friday night of the marriage of Miss Cheryl D'Ann McClure and William Paul Cypert, both of Plainview.

Mrs. Jean McClure of 1608 Utica and Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Cypert of 1510 W. 9th are parents of the couple.

The bride was given in marriage by her maternal grandfather, Frank McClure of Floydada. Her designer wedding gown was accented with Chantilly lace and styled with an empire waistline encircled with a narrow white satin ribbon. The lace covered bodice had a small stand-up collar. Short fitted sleeves of lace and lace fitted cuffs emphasized the sleeve fullness of sheer material. The skirt's deep lace flounce swept to fullness in the back to form a chapel-length train. A Juliet caplet secured her finger-tip silk illusion veil. The former Miss McClure carried a cascade bouquet of white sweetheart roses centered with a white orchid. For something "old", D'Ann wore a wedding band belonging to her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Frank McClure of Floydada.

Matron of Honor Mrs. Jeff Messer, the bride's sister from Fieldton, and bridesmaids Mrs. David Bailey of Plainview and Miss Tamara Hodges of Lakeview wore yellow and white gingham dresses. The waistlines of empire-style and the deep ruffles at the hems were trimmed with yellow ribbon insert on white eyelet lace. The dresses had full sleeves. Each attendant also wore a white picture hat with yellow-checked ribbon trimming the crowns. They carried white baskets of yellow and white daisies, baby's breath and miniature mint-green carnations tied with yellow and white checked ribbon.

Dale Mouser of Plainview was best man, with Mark Graves of Amarillo and David McAlister of Houston serving as groomsmen. Ushers were Boyd McClure and Larry Cypert, both of Plainview and brothers of the newlyweds and Lyne Sanders of Plainview.

The 7 p.m. candlelight ceremony was read by Trinity Lutheran Church pastor, Rev. Luther Durkop. Tall candelabras entwined with greenery and daisy mums graced the nuptial setting.

The musical program was presented by Mrs. Jim Pegram of Dimmitt, organist and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Page of Plainview.

The newlyweds are at home at 1804 W. 9th in Plainview. The bride was graduated from Plainview High School this year at mid-term. The groom is a 1970 graduate of the school and attended Frank Phillips Junior College in Borger on a basketball scholarship. He is employed by Peterson Construction in Plainview.

For the wedding trip to points of interest in New Mexico, Mrs. Cypert chose a three-piece suit of plaid, featuring green, yellow, blue and white colors.

The groom's sisters, Miss Vicki Cypert and Mrs. Rickey Jo James, both of Plainview, assisted with serving at the bride's table at the reception which followed the wedding. Serving at the groom's table were Miss Jody Harbour of Plainview and the bride's cousin, Miss Joni Ellison of Crosbyton. Rice bags were distributed by Miss Trini Hobbs of Harlingen.

Lieutenant Governor's Report

(By Bill Hobby)

Although Texas continues to rank at the top of all states in the location of new industries, we continue to fall behind in average per capita income compared to the nation.

In 1972, Texans had a per capita income which was more than $500 below the national average. Increasing the income of our people must be one of the most important goals of this state. To achieve this we must create more and better paying jobs, either through the attraction of still more new industry or the expansion of existing industry.

During 1974-75, the State of Texas will spend only 6.5 cents per capita on its industrial development programs. The national average is 25 cents.

A study commissioned by the Texas Industrial Commission has shown that other states have a competitive advantage because of their ability to provide start-up training programs for new or expanding industry.

Industry is understandably reluctant to assume the full burden for completely retraining a basically agricultural labor force, such as ours, in the skills required for mass production. Other states are assisting their industries to overcome this problem.

Texas has outstanding occupational-technical training capability in our 44 junior colleges, the four campuses of the Texas State Technical Institute and many of the independent school districts.

The Texas Industrial Commission, in December of 1971, established cooperative agreements through the Texas Education Agency to coordinate the start-up industrial training capabilities of these institutions.

With limited funds and staff, this program has created 4,900 new job opportunities. An economic impact analysis of only eight new industries and three expanded industries shows a total of 3,987 new jobs created and a return on the investment of $612,976 in local and $373,741 in state taxes.

Texas must develop a start-up training program that is truly competitive with other states. We should be able to say to industry, "Come to Texas. While you are building or equipping your plant, we will train the workers so that, when you open your doors, you can start in the black". At the same time, we would be providing steady, good paying jobs for our people.

A proposed training program for Texas has been developed. Under this program, each individual start-up training program would terminate when the plant's staffing needs are met. Because of such short-term, highly specialized training, the cost, per trainee, would be much less than the usual cost of vocational training.

The state's investment would bring a healthy rate of return. Fifteen thousand trainees would produce 15,000 new jobs and a total of $2,070,000 in new state taxes each year. At this rate, each trainee would pay back his investment in training in 15 months and then produce an 80 percent return on the investment each year, just in new state taxes.

It is proposed that the industrial training program be jointly undertaken by the Texas Education Agency, Texas Industrial Commission, the state's junior colleges, technical institutes and independent school districts.

Based on experience in other areas where effective start-up training programs are operated, it can be predicted that manufacturing employment growth rate in Texas can be increased by between 1.25 percent to 3.75 percent above the normal growth rate, depending upon the extent of the effort.

We must close the ever widening gap between the per capita income of Texans and the average American. We must capitalize more effectively on our potential for industrial growth. I support the establishment of a start-up training program for Texas.

What One Person Can Do

In the depths of the Great Depression, a young woman named Dorothy Day and a middle-aged French peasant named Peter Maurin opened a soup kitchen for homeless men on New York's Lower East Side. They saw this as a literal carrying out of Jesus's words: "I was hungry and you gave Me to eat."

The two also distributed cast-off clothing to men and women who would otherwise have had to spend the winter barefoot and coatless. Around the same time, they and a handful of volunteers began distributing a newspaper called "The Catholic Worker." The message of that paper was that to be a follower of Christ requires that we work to meet the human needs He spoke of in the Gospels.

The group that formed around them came to be known as the Catholic Worker Movement. The soup kitchen is still open daily. Cast-off clothing is still distributed. "The Catholic Worker" continues to call for voluntary poverty, to urge radical change in the capitalistic system, to oppose war and to plead for the settlement of international disputes by non-violent means.

Some have called Miss Day's words and actions outrageous — even subversive. Others have taken lessons learned at the Catholic Worker and gone on to find their own ways of working for social justice. No one has ever accused Dorothy Day of failing to practice what she preaches.

Dorothy Day is now in her mid-seventies. Her hair is grey; her face, lined with the years. She continues to believe that "God can take the loaves and fishes, if that is all we have, and multiply them. But the thing is to want to give all." The question is what are you and I willing to give?

Where are You Going?

"Look, Daddy! A stopped freeway!" Eight-year-old Kristen pointed at the span of concrete that soared over the road ahead of us and then ended abruptly as if it had encountered an invisible wall.

Two months later, we took a hike in the country. A small trail led us through green fields of waving grass and wildflowers. There the trail ended, gradually, as if reluctant to stop. Is your life like a freeway—fast, impressive, known to many? Or is it more like a trail—plain, but comfortable, less well-known, but quite adequate?

It really doesn't matter. The important question is: Does your life have a goal? A freeway or trail can end, gradually or abruptly, without ever reaching a specific destination.

In God, your life can have a goal. In church, He'll tell you how to reach it.

It takes 6.25 pounds of skim milk to make 1 pound of cottage cheese. And that pound is low in calories, high in protein.

Authentic mozzarella cheese is made of the milk of water buffalo. What is sold here is fiore di latte, made of cow's milk.

French triple creme cheese are almost as rich as butter with beautiful, delicate flavor. Try some in a split, hot baked potato; mix well with a fork and enjoy the piquant flavor.

Bits and pieces of hard cheese left over? Grate them onto frozen fish sticks or scalloped potatoes before baking.

Fruit and cheese have been a favorite dessert for centuries, with good reason. Add bread and you have a great light meal.

To really enjoy fruit and cheese for dessert, start with the freshest, most perfect fruits and precisely-aged cheeses. You'll find the best of both at Smith's Supermarket, home-owned and home operated at 121 W. College, phone 652-2295, Lockney.

SOMEONE'S IN THE KITCHEN By Gayle Jackson

Algene Barker First In Series

Algene Barker is an appropriate choice for the first outstanding cook of Lockney to be featured in the Beacon. Her culinary talents are recognized by anyone who has ever eaten in her home or tasted one of her dishes at church or community suppers.

Besides kitchen duty, Algene finds time to be active in the community and was recognized in recent years as the outstanding woman citizen of the year. She also has been secretary at First United Methodist Church. Algene likes to sew, but plans to keep her schedule clear so that she can attend daughter Bev's basketball games this winter.

Barry and Algene have two children, Brent, 18, who will be a freshman at Texas Tech this fall, and Bev, 15, who will be an LHS sophomore. The couple is always available to assist with their children's activities whether it be working in a concession stand at a football game, furnishing food and sponsorship for parties or leading decoration plans for a banquet. Last year Algene assisted with the Junior-Senior banquet and Barry dressed as a ringmaster to lend authenticity to the circus-theme event. Bev helped out by wearing a clown suit and riding her unicycle at the banquet entrance.

Just this spring Algene and Barry helped sponsor several senior parties and Algene managed to sandwich in time to paint red thirty little stools, and then to decoupage on them the words of the LHS song. Brent gave the stools to graduating friends.

Algene trained as a homemaking teacher and taught that subject 2 1/2 years before her marriage. Since then, she has substituted in every subject, "including ag", but probably won't be doing any teaching this year.

The Barkers have lots of food favorites, and Algene clips tasty-looking recipes from magazines for trial on the family. But she really prefers to try recipes that she has already eaten elsewhere, or recipes that come from good cooks.

LEMON CHESS PIE

Beat 6 whole eggs and 2 cups sugar, using the electric mixer set at high speed. Beat about ten minutes or until mixture is thick like cake batter. Add 1/2 cup lemon juice and 1/2 stick melted oleo. Beat until watery-looking. Pour into unbaked pie shell. Bake fifteen minutes at 425 degrees, then turn over to 350 degrees and bake another fifteen minutes or until pie filling shakes like jello. This is a velvety-smooth pie.

PORK AND BEAN CASSEROLE

Fry ten strips of bacon. Drain and set aside. Chop one large onion and brown in bacon grease. Pour off grease and use skillet to brown 1 lb. ground round. Then add 1 large can pork & beans, 3/4 cup catsup, 1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce, 1 can mushrooms, 1/2 can beef bouillon and the crumbled bacon. Cook for one hour at 300 degrees. Sprinkle with grated cheese before serving. (This dish is a favorite of Brent Barker's. It is good served with a tossed salad and pull-apart or French bread.)

JAMBALAYA

Cook 2 lbs. medium sized, cleaned shrimp (Algene used the shrimp frozen in a bag) 6 cups water, 2 tsp. salt, 1 in 6 cups water, 2 tsp. salt, 1 ribs and leaves chopped celery. Boil 3 to 5 minutes. In separate pan, warm 2 cups diced ham in 1/2 cup butter. Add 1 cup chopped onion, 1 clove minced garlic, 1 bay leaf, 1/4 tsp. thyme leaves. Cook five minutes. Add 2 cans or 1 lb. tomatoes, 1 1/4 oz. can chick bouillon. Cover and simmer 30 minutes. Add shrimp and simmer 10 more minutes. Serve on hot rice.

POPPY SEED DRESSING

A good side dish to serve with Jambalaya is fruit salad made of cantaloupe, peaches, apples, green grapes and bananas. Top with Poppy Seed Dressing.

Place in quart fruit jar: 1/2 cup sugar, 1 tsp. salt, 1/2 cup vinegar and 1 tsp. dry mustard. Shake well. Then add 1/2 grated onion and 1 cup vegetable oil. Beat well and add 1 tsp. poppy seed. Store dressing in refrigerator and pour over fruit salad just before serving.

STRAWBERRY PIE

Mash 3/4 cup strawberries and 1/4 cup sugar in a saucepan. Add slightly less than 1/2 cup more sugar, dash salt, 1 cup water, 4-5 drops of red food coloring and 3 tbsps. cornstarch. Cook over low heat until thickened. Place rest of strawberries (from 2 pints) into baked pie crust. Pour sauce over the strawberries. Top with whipped cream and cool.

APRICOT ICE CREAM

Mix 2 cups sugar and 1 cup flour. Pour 1 quart boiling water over sugar and flour. Add juice of three oranges and three lemons and 1 large can apricot nectar. (or use grape juice instead of apricot nectar). Pour into 1 gal. freezer and use half and half to fill to within 1 inch of top of freezer.

Peanut Butter Was Early Health Food

Peanut butter was developed back in 1890 as a so-called "health food." It was invented by a St. Louis physician who was seeking a nutritious, easily digested, high-protein food for his patients.

Today, more than half of the nation's peanut crop is used each year to make peanut butter.

No Need To Squeeze Oranges

Fresh-tasting orange juice used to be a luxury most Americans couldn't afford.

But today it's an everyday breakfast treat in the average home, thanks largely to agricultural research.

The process for developing frozen orange juice concentrate grew out of research at the U.S. Department of Agriculture lab in New Orleans.

How to 'double up' when the time comes

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1974 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: Here is my story: After 34 years of marriage, my wife died. I bought a double plot—one for her and one for me when my time comes. I couldn't decide on what kind of headstone I wanted for my wife's grave, so I put off buying one.

Meanwhile, I met a woman and things started happening so fast I couldn't believe it. To make a long story short, I married her. In the meantime, my wife's headstone slipped my mind, so my married son got disgusted with me and he bought one and put it up. Then he told me to buy two more lots—one for myself and one for my new wife because he was sure his mother wouldn't want me buried next to her if I couldn't even wait three months to get married again.

I asked him what he planned to do with the empty plot beside his mother, and he said he'd find some other dummy to bury there.

What should I do now?

PUZZLED

DEAR PUZZLED: I'd buy another double plot—unless your present wife has already made plans to double up with someone else when her time comes.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 33-year-old married man who has had this problem ever since I could tell the difference between a boy and a girl. You guessed it. I can't resist women. Maybe I should say the problem is that women can't resist ME. I'm a pretty good looking guy (I'm told) and have an athletic build and keep in shape, but the ladies tell me it's the sexy look in my eye that gets them.

I love my wife [we've been married for seven years and have two children] but I can't leave other women alone. Right now I have something going with my best friend's wife, and also with my wife's best friend. It's not a heavy love affair in either case, but it's fun.

In my defense, let me say I've never propositioned a woman in my life. They approach me, and I can't say no. Can you help me?

LADIES' MAN

DEAR MAN: I'm all choked up. You can say no if you want to. And you'd better start trying, before somebody does your wife a favor and tells her.

DEAR ABBY: After 32 years of marriage, I finally got up enough gumption to divorce my husband. Although I still cared for him, I couldn't take any more of his cruel and inhuman treatment.

One week after our divorce was final he married another woman. Now listen to this. On his honeymoon he sent ME a dozen roses with the following card: "To a lovely lady with love."

A few days later I received a menu from a resort hotel where he and I had spent our honeymoon. He had written on it: "Remember this place, Darling? Love," . . . and then his name.

This has been very upsetting to me. What do you make of it and what should I do about it?

BAFFLED

DEAR BAFFLED: Ignore it. But if he sends any more reminders of him or the past, write and ask him to please keep OUT of touch with you because you want to forget him. He sounds like a very cruel [or sick] man.
