Floyd Cotton Farmers Celebrate Thanksgiving Stripping

That's right, most Floyd cotton farmers will be stripping cotton Thanksgiving day as the cotton harvest this week shifted into high gear.

Almost all the grain sorghum and soybeans are in the elevator and all that remains is a fairly poor cotton harvest. The estimated production for Floyd County is 90,000 bales. This compares with last year's 140,000 bales and a lower price than last year.

It is estimated that the 23 counties in the South Plains of Texas will produce the poorest cotton crop in 24 years. . . it may be off as much as 40% from last year.

Although 90,000 bales is low for Floyd County, the county is estimated to be in the top five counties of the South Plains in amount of bales ginned this year.

Many counties in the southern area of the South Plains never did get much cotton growing due to the drought. . . then the extensive fall rain began to hurt the irrigated area cotton crop.

So . . . two hazardous weather conditions; extreme drought, extreme rainfall, have caused the short cotton crop on the South Plains.

BRIGHT SIDE

Although the grain sorghum harvest was not as good as last year, the price has ranged from $5.25 to a little over $6.00 per hundred. The price on soybeans has also been unusually good. However, the price just recently dropped from $8.00 to $6.00 per bushel.

Another plus . . . all the rainfall has made prospects for a bumper wheat crop good next year.

THANKSGIVING

LET US GIVE THANKS FOR THE BOUNTY OF THIS GREAT LAND

Our Pilgrim forefathers conceived Thanksgiving as a day to stop and take stock of all the good things in life.

They had, as we do today, a constant threat of upheaval. They too were beset by problems—economic, political—big and small—but they found time, once a year to thank God and thank each other for all the good things they enjoyed.

We are thankful for the opportunity we have of being part of a thriving community and for the people we are privileged to serve. We pledge our continued efforts to be worthy of your patronage.

Panoramic Look Backward To History Given LCC Assoc.

A panoramic look backward over the history of the eastern part of Floyd County was directed by Mrs. Bill Colston for Lubbock Christian College Associates at their November 18 meeting with Mrs. Ned Bradley in the Antelope Community.

Mrs. Colston described how she and other members of the A.T. Swebston family began writing down stories her mother recalled. These are being left as a legacy to the development of Floyd County and the Caprock area, and their family's part in local history. Mrs. Colston pointed out that it is the responsibility of the younger generation to retain this history until all the people involved in the stories are deceased before publishing the stories.

The following poem, written by W. Ed Brown of Floydada, in honor of Mrs. Colston's late father, A.T. Swebston, was read to the group.

TO THE PIONEERS
What prompted you, tell me, in times of the past, To stray to this country so wide and so vast?
What gave you the courage the dangers to face, And brave all the hardships of the wide open space?
Was it spirit of adventure that challenged the quest,

Singing of romance out in the west?

Was there some vision deep down in your soul, Of herds on the ranges and a sheltering fold?

Or, was your blood tingling for a home in the west, Out where everything works for the best?

What gave you courage the perils to meet, As you rode o'er the prairies through the lonesome mesquite?

There surely was something not with us today, That dwelt in your heart and caused you to stay!

For burdens were heavy that all had to bear, In years long past and forgotten back there.

The dug-outs and shanties, called "homes" in the past, Were not much for beauty, but how they did last!

No fences were needed, the ranges were free, From the breaks to the mountains, like a billowy sea.

The deer and the antelope, and buffalo too, We are told were a sight quite common to you.

And prairie dog owls, burrowing deep in the ground, Lived with the prairie dogs in prairie dog town.

And rattlesnakes slept, to keep out the cold, Snugly

The coyote called as the night came down, Chilling the blood of the baying hound;

But this, as you said, was all in a day — It was just a price you were glad to pay

For the blessings of life in a western home, High on the range where the antelopes roam.

The years have slipped by like a slow moving stream, And the days that are past seem only a dream;

But doubtless in memory you now dimly see, The scenes of the past as things used to be.

The ribbon-like highways that now mark the ways, In memory are cow trails of pioneer days;

The tall, stately steepies of our churches you see, Seem only mirages of ships out at sea;

The windmills now spinning, the beautiful trees, The lowing of cattle, and the humming of bees.

Turn back the curtain of years that are gone, Caught in the echos and quiet undertone

Of sweet lasting mem'ries that live a full part, Sacred forever in your pioneer heart.

May the Master reward you and give you sweet rest, For what you have done for the great golden west.

'Service To Others' Is Program For 29

"Service to Others" was the program for the November meeting of the 1929 Study Club when members met in the C.W. Denison home. Mrs. Ian Moore was leader. The Pledge to the Bible was in unison followed by roll call of department and project reports.

Mrs. Q.D. Williams presided over the business session during which time members contributed to the State Hospital and Girls Town at White Face.

Mrs. Williams also introduced guest speaker, C.J. Payne, who spoke on "Meals on Wheels," referring to a detailed story carried recently in the Hesperian. He emphasized that a person hearing of "all turkey hot dogs" which are now becoming fairly common in supermarkets. Researchers are out to see that turkey makes good gobbling for consumers the year 'round. Long regarded as classic faire for Thanksgiving, Christmas and Easter meals, the turkey goes nearly forgotten the rest of the year. There are also turkey steaks. Scientists point out that the big bird is one of the better buys for today's consumer. Tailor-made from the standpoint of protein, fat and calories, the turkey provides one of the best high quality meat proteins on the market. Besides the turkey hot-dog and steak, other products being introduced to the consumer include turkey ham, salami, pastrami, Bologna, jerky and even bacon.

SOMETHING else new in the food line, this being imported at the present, is Kiwi fruit. Sounds like something that would come from the islands of Hawaii, but not so. The odd-looking fruit that even looks non-edible promises to provide American consumers a nutritious new taste treat and American farmers a lucrative new crop, grown on vines, similar to grapevines. Kiwi, known to some as the Chinese gooseberry, is a native of Asia. Its about the size of a hen egg, has a brownish skin with a covering of short, stiff hairs. Sounds terrible doesn't it? Kiwi fruit has a green flesh that becomes a cream shade at the center. It has a higher Vitamin C content than citrus, is rich in iron, and its enzymes reportedly aid in digestion. Those that know say its taste is something to that of a mixture of strawberry, rhubarb and pineapple. Some 300 growers planted about 2,000 acres of kiwi vines in California last year so maybe before long we will cost to put it out." D: "I have to have more information; how big is the house?" C: "Two and one-half stories." D: "What seems to be burning?" C: "The whole thing." D: "Do you live within 10 blocks of one of our branch offices?" C: "I think so." D: "Well, if you're within 10 blocks we can provide a truck and two men for $37.50 per hour portal-to-portal. The first 200 feet of 1 1/2 and 200 feet of 2 1/2 are included in this basic cost, however, we will have to charge for extras." C: "What extras?" D: "Oh, water, ladders, tarps, masks, first aid equipment, moving furniture, and cleaning up." C: "Do you think two men can handle the job?" D: "Well if you wish we can send an extra man for an additional $12.50 per hour."

C: "That's pretty expensive. Do any other companies do this kind of work?" D: "Yes, but they wouldn't be able to get there as fast. I have heard of a few companies in other areas that could do the job for $23.50 per hour for a truck and two men." C: "My phone is starting to melt, I guess you had better come out. This sure seems complicated. How do you people handle a large fire if a small 2-1/2 story, fully involved house fire causes so many problems?" D: "Well, we usually try to send enough men and trucks to handle the job. For instance, our $10,000 special usually will cover large barns, warehouses, and small businesses. The $300,000 family plan covers large conflagrations of any type and sometimes, depending on the men available, we will even throw in the lives of two firefighters and an officer." C: "Well, I guess if you put it that way, maybe the cost isn't too far out of line."

ALL DAY MYASTHENIA GRAVIS PATIENT CLINIC IN HALE CENTER DECEMBER 6

The Northwest Texas Chapter of the Myasthenia Gravis Foundation is announcing plans for an all day patient clinic, to be held at the High Plains Hospital, Hale Center, Texas, Dec. 6, 1974 beginning at 8 o'clock in the morning. Dr. Bernard M. Patten, Assistant Professor, Department of Neurology, Baylor College of Medicine, Houston, will be present to conduct the clinic for Myasthenia patients. Dr. Patten graduated summa cum laude from Columbia College, New York in 1962, and from Columbia University, College of Physicians and Surgeons, New York in 1966. He is a Diplomate of the American Board of Psychiatry and Neurology, and holds memberships in numerous professional societies. He has participated as an invited guest speaker at various Myasthenia Gravis Chapter meetings all over the United States. Myasthenia Gravis is a neuromuscular disease characterized by varying weakness of the voluntary muscles of the body. This weakness is abnormally increased by continued or repeated use of the muscles at any one time or partially relieved by a short period of rest or inactivity of the muscles. In the beginning, the symptoms often come and go, making early recognition difficult at times. The symptoms may be any of the following, alone or in combination: drooping of one or both eyelids, blurred vision, double vision, loss of facial expression, difficulty in chewing or swallowing, and easily fatigued slurred voice, difficulty in breathing, difficulty in raising the arms overhead, weakness in arms and hand, difficulty in extending the fingers, weakness in flexing the thighs at the hips, weakness in lower limbs especially when trying to walk on heels.

J.E. McVicker, Chairman, states that the Northwest Texas Chapter is honored to have Dr. Patten coming for this all day patient clinic and urges all the myasthenia gravis sufferers and their families to plan to attend. All the expenses for the clinic are being financed by the Chapter, with the exception of any extra tests such as x-ray.

National Service Life Insurance Policy Holders To Get Dividends

Public Law 93-289, approved May 24, 1974, provides that National Service Life Insurance policies prefixed by the letter "RS" and "W" will, for the first time, receive annual dividends commencing January 1, 1975.

Servicemen discharged between April 25, 1951 and December 31, 1956, were given 120 days following separation to apply for non-convertible, 5-year term insurance numbered with an "RS" prefix. In 1958, the Act was amended to let holders of "RS" insurance convert to any of six permanent plans, known as "W" insurance.

The dividends provided by PL 93-289 may be authorized under any of the following options:

- (1) Cash.
- (2) Paid-up additions.
- (3) Public Law 82-36 Credit (dividend is held as credit with interest payable, to be used to pay premiums when needed to prevent lapse).
- (4) Deposit (dividend is held, at interest, to be added to policy reserve, to purchase extended insurance in the event of lapse).
- (5) Indebtedness (dividend is retained to repay policy loan or policy lien indebtedness).
- (6) Premium (dividend is used to pay premiums in advance on the policy on which the dividend was earned).

Premiums for "RS" and "W" policies are smaller than those for other participating "V" policies, and the savings and interest earnings will be correspondingly lower than those in the "V" program. These dividends, when compared to other NSLI dividends, will be rather small.

In September 1974, the VA mailed an option selection form to each "RS" and "W" policyholder. In any case, if a veteran does not select an option, dividends will automatically be held as PL 36 credits.

Insured veterans should not correspond with the VA Insurance Centers in St. Paul or Philadelphia concerning these dividends. Payments of credits for the dividends will be made on the 1975 anniversary date of each "RS" and "W" policy.

Letter To Editor

Mr. LeRoy Burns
610 West Georgia
Floydada, Texas 79235

Dear Mr. Burns:

Many people are concerned about America's foreign aid program. They feel the program is a "give-away" and that funds often wind up in the hands of corrupt officials. There is no doubt that corruption exists — throughout the world. However, I cannot in good conscience oppose foreign aid in principle. When a program is properly carried out it is designed to foster the economic growth necessary for political and military stability. Properly executed aid programs can relieve human suffering and help strengthen our allies in a way complementary to the military aid we provide them. In those instances where the aid is abused we should insist that steps be taken to improve the program or that it be terminated, for we cannot any more afford to waste money overseas than we can here at home.

America is neither the policeman of the world, nor is she an island. She is involved in world affairs, and foreign aid is but one of the useful tools with which she can build strong partnerships. I appreciate hearing from you on this matter. If I may be of further assistance, please let me know.

Sincerely yours,

FLOYD PHILOSOPHER

Says Maybe What Washington Needs

Now Is A Good Horse-Trader

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm claims he has discovered something heretofore unknown, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:

According to an article I read last night in a newspaper I found on the road near this Johnson grass farm and brought home to recycle the contents as I understand the energy czar wants us to do, a high Russian official, I can't remember his name and couldn't spell it if I could, and neither one of us could pronounce it anyway, has been fired because he was caught building a $175,000 home out of materials he'd swiped from the government.

This almost bowled me over. I didn't know they had human nature in Russia. I thought all the politicians over there worked night and day for the people and were satisfied if they got room and board and an occasional medal. All lying and cheating was done to other countries. You mean to tell me human nature is going to crop out, regardless of what form of government it's in. Speaking of other countries, U.S. diplomats are always improving our relations with other countries but nobody ever talks about improving their relations with us. No other country once in a while is afraid of losing our friendship?

Changing the subject again, I thought Washington is considering a surcharge on incomes to get more money to fight inflation. I've got a better idea. More tax money is the answer. Government employees a week in highway patrolmen's uniforms, everybody driving over 55 m.p.h. At $20 a fine, and with about 100 million cars on the road, that'd come to $2 billion a day, or about 3 billion a year. Counting those caught more than once, it'd be a limit to 50 next week and double in the next. Remember, if at first you don't succeed, run for office.

Thoughts of Thanksgiving bring to mind autumn farm scenes of fields of orange pumpkins or corn shocks silhouetted against a cloudless sky. These are peaceful scenes of man in harmony with the land. Isn't that what ecology is all about? The farmer became America's first ecologist — long before the term became a household word.

U.S. Army officials report that the former reservists and guardsmen earned the money for drills and training attended during the October 1 through December 31, 1972 period. The records show that only about 1,000 of those eligible have applied for their back pay.

The payments range from $16 to $240, depending upon rank and pay grade, and Army officials want to mail the checks for back pay before Christmas. Former reservists and guardsmen who trained during that 1972 period can write to the Army area in which their old unit is located:

More than one million dollars in back pay is awaiting nearly 60,000 Army reservists and National Guardsmen who cannot be reached by the Department of the Army.

This back pay is the result of an increase in military pay which was to be effective on October 1, 1972. The increase was not paid because of the President's wage and price freeze which went into force on August 15, 1972. A recent court decision ruled that the withheld pay increase be paid to each reservist and

G.I. BILL COLLEGE STUDENTS CAN GET TUTORIAL HELP

(1) Few of the 727,000 veterans and servicemen enrolled in GI Bill college courses this fall will need tutorial help, but the Veterans Administration will pay for it if needed, Jack Coker, VA Regional Office Director, said today.

Under a program not available under the World War II and Korean GI Bill, VA pays cost of tutoring, not to exceed $50 in any month, up to a maximum of $450. The benefit is not charged against the veterans' or servicemen's basic educational entitlement, Coker pointed out.

Any post-secondary trainee is eligible if he trains half-time or more and has a deficiency in a subject required in an approved program of education.

In order to receive payment for tutorial assistance, the agency advises eligible GI Bill trainees to complete a VA application and have it certified by the school. Applications should be sent within a year of the tutoring to the VA regional office which has the veteran's claim folder, Coker said.

Total GI Bill enrollments, including other schools, flight, apprenticeship and on-job training, stood at 1.3 million in September.

Only the 727,000 college trainees are eligible for tutorial assistance. Since it became available in March 1970, 48,000 trainees have received tutorial assistance at a cost of $4.7 million.

(2) More than 11,700 veterans and servicemen were released from liability for their GI loans last fiscal year, and the Veterans Administration is urging others selling houses bought under the GI Bill to request releases when purchasers assume loans on homes bought with GI loans, Jack Coker, VA Regional Director, said.

The VA issued 9,270 releases in fiscal year 1973, and has given 57,300 over the years. The GI loan program was established shortly after World War II.

"There's a good reason for obtaining a release," Coker explained, "since without it, the seller could be held financially liable should the purchaser default on mortgage payments."

It was noted that as last fiscal year ended (June), some 8.5 million veterans and servicemen had received home loans valued at $105.2 billion since the inception of the program. More than half, or 4.5 million loans, have been repaid.

VA grants releases provided the veteran's loan is current, the prospective purchaser agrees to assume the veteran's liabilities and the purchaser is a good credit risk with sufficient income to meet assumed mortgage payments.

Coker pointed out, however, that a release does not automatically restore GI loan eligibility the veterans used to purchase the home being sold. Under the law, veterans may qualify for restoration if VA has been relieved of liability and if the property was disposed of for what is described as "compelling reasons."

As soon as purchaser agrees to assume the loan on a home, the veteran should apply for a release from the VA office which guaranteed the loan, Coker said.

THANKSGIVING FACTS

The Pilgrims who gathered for the first Thanksgiving had a big "investment" in their small farming plots. Products from these plots were their basic means of survival. Today's farmer has a big stake, too. The typical family farm comprises an investment of $200,000 in land, buildings and machinery.

Throughout the nation — in big cities, sprawling suburbs and on farms — families will sit down to the traditional Thanksgiving dinner. Incredible as it may sound, less than five percent of those families raised any of the food heaped on the dining room table.

have been made by the Soil Conservation Service as part of the National Cooperative Soil Survey on about 70 percent of the land in Texas. These surveys reveal the location of soils with slickensides as well as a host of other valuable information. He urged anyone interested in studying a soil survey for any purpose to contact the nearest SCS office.

"We often dig deep pits in clay soils as a part of our soil survey work," LaBaume said. "We insist that the walls are shored up with 2" x 4"s. Some contractors use metal cages to protect workmen. But the point is, no one should enter a pit or ditch in clay soil deeper than 3 feet without some kind of protection." LaBaume said soil surveys

Clay Soil Will Cave In On You

Construction workers who dig ditches in clay soils should guard against deadly land slides, a soils expert warned today. "Several workmen are killed in Texas every year by the sudden, unexpected 'cave-ins' or slides," Jon J. LaBaume, District Conservationist for the USDA Soil Conservation Service at Floydada, said. "The problem is aggravated by the fact that most people assume all clay soils are stiff and will not slip."

"Fact is, some clay soils will kill you quicker than a sandy soil," LaBaume stressed.

"The cause of the slippages are freakish pressure plates hidden beneath the soil surface. Certain kinds of clay soils shrink and crack when dry, then swell when wet. After several weeks of dry weather, a heavy rain can cause some clay soils to swell as much as 20 percent in volume."

"This constant shrinking and it's things like this that can help to bring this Thanksgiving into a clearer perspective."

More than 3 1/2 centuries ago, the Pilgrims isolated along the New England coast started the observance because they were thankful they were able to scratch enough from the soil to get and swelling through the years has caused pressure faces, or plates, to develop which are slick from sliding against each other. Technically, they are called "slickensides." They are as slick as their name indicates and extremely dangerous. The Randall clay found in the playa lakes are an example of this type soil. When a workman is in a pit near one of these faces, the soil may suddenly give way along the slickenside. Clay weighs about 95 pounds per cubic foot, so only a small slide can weigh several tons.

"We have had reports of workmen being killed by slides which covered them up to the shoulders only," LaBaume revealed. "The heavy soil simply crushes against their chest so tightly that they suffocate."

"And don't think that a ditch 3 feet deep can't kill you," LaBaume pointed out. "All a workman has to do is to be squatting or bending over in a shallow ditch when through a winter. Now, in 1974, the descendants of the first American agriculturists are busy supplying not only our own country's needs but helping to feed a good bit of a hungry world.

Amidst the annual pause to observe Thanksgiving, the words of a Greek scholar come to mind. Thousands of years ago, he was asked when was the best time to eat. He replied: "If satisfied, when you will; if hungry, when you can."

Turkey stuffing made from bread is a particular favorite at Thanksgiving. For quite a few Thanksgivings, farmers raised their own wheat, milled the flour and baked the bread. And it took a long time. Now, enough wheat can be harvested in an hour with a modern combine to provide for 20,000 loaves of bread. That combine costs a farmer about $25,000.

The price of Thanksgiving is higher this year. There's no disputing food prices have risen during the past year. But out of every dollar spent on food, the farmer still gets only 40 cents. Out of that, he must pay his increased costs of raising the crops or livestock.

major farm equipment manufacturers.

"As he employs the most efficient and productive methods possible, the American farmer continues to contend with such factors as the weather. Numerous farmers felt the effects of a summer drought, sandwiched between a wet spring and an early frost this year," Thompson says.

The weather prompted a sizable revision in major crop yields. The wheat harvest, which was originally expected to be 23 percent higher than last year, now shows a more modest 5 percent increase. Corn yields fell even more dramatically. First expected to top 1973's harvest by 15 percent, yields will now be some 16 percent below last year.

It is changes in supply from just one area as these which can cause ripples which affect the delicate balance of food needs in other parts of the world.

Such smaller yields come at a time when worldwide grain reserves are at their lowest in 20 years. If no more grain were to flow into supply channels, the world would consume the present reserve in 29 days. Back in 1969, the reserve stood at a 94-day supply.

"It's things like this that will place increasing emphasis on the American farmer and his increased productivity in the future," says Thompson.

BAPTISM

Why is it so misunderstood? Why do so many teach and believe different things about it? Why not just accept what God has said about it?

What does the Bible say? Acts 2:38 "Then Peter said unto them, Repent, and he baptized every one of you in the name of Jesus Christ FOR THE REMISSION OF SINS, and ye shall receive the gift of the Holy Spirit." He had just preached to them concerning Jesus Christ. this was the proper response to Christ. Acts 22:16 "And now why tarriest thou? arise, and be baptized, and wash away thy sins, calling on the name of the Lord." Ananias was speaking to Saul (later called Paul) concerning his salvation from sin. He was not saved when he believed, if so he still had his sins which needed to be washed away in baptism.

Baptism is for the remission of sin which it is a response to the death of Jesus Christ (Romans 6:3-6) and obeying the command given by our Lord himself (Matthew 28: 19, 20 "Go ye therefore, and teach all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit: Teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you: and, lo, I am with you even unto the end of the world. Amen."). And when one obeys "from the heart that form of doctrine he is then made free from sin." (Romans 6:17, 18). Why not just accept the Bible - the Word of God as it is given? It will not go away if you ignore it. . . it will "Judge you at the last day." (John 12:48).

Living Provides Time To Reflect

World Food Situation

year as the U.S. and other countries continue aid to the stricken area.

These two scenes point out the diversity and complexity of the current food situation which reaches into every corner of the world.

There are countless other scenes that fall between these two extremes of dire need to literally hold off starvation and a generally ample supply despite higher prices.

In fact, this is part of the problem of the world food situation. There are so many variables and each can affect current status and future trends of food supplies.

Perhaps, it might be easier to understand if the entire world's population over the coming Thanksgiving could be compressed into a small town of 100 people. Only six of the people in the town are Americans sitting down to the traditional holiday dinner, although somewhat higher in price, most of the customary delicacies are there.

Twenty-two of the town's residents also enjoy a relatively good standard of living, which is exerting pressures on agriculture to provide more food items, like beef.

There's enough food to provide another 22 people with the necessary essentials - nothing extra.

The remaining 50 people, half of the entire village, are hungry all of the time. Of these people, the health of 25 is growing worse daily due to continuing malnutrition.

In its simplest terms, this is roughly how the world can view the coming holiday.

The overall situation is so serious and its gravity expected to be magnified to such an extent in the future that just prior to Thanksgiving, 1974, history's first World Food Conference was held earlier in November.

At the conference, many facets of the food situation were explored - monitoring worldwide crop yields, mushrooming population and the weather.

A few population statistics illustrate just how this factor affects world food needs.

It took from the dawn of man until 1830 for the world's population to reach its first billion. Over the next century, the next billion was added by 1930. Just 30 years were needed for the attainment of the third billion in 1960. Now, the fourth billion is expected next year. It took only 15 years.

The areas of greatest population growth generally are those countries which are least capable of supplying their own growing food needs.

This places an increasing importance on the American farmer who is now supplying enough food for 52 other people. More than 10 of these other people live in other countries, too.

In 1973, exports of U.S. agricultural commodities reached a record high of $17.7 billion.

In January through July of this year, seven-month totals for farm exports had already reached $13 billion. By year's end, the total may pass $21 billion.

"While the overall value of farm products marketed at home and abroad has climbed, the farmer's share has remained about the same. He still gets about 40 cents out of each dollar," says Kenneth F. Thompson, president of Sperry New Holland, one of the nation's

Pioneer Hi-Bred Seeds In Million $ Expansion

The Southwestern Division of Pioneer Hi-Bred International Inc., held ground-breaking ceremonies at 10:00 a.m., November 19 for a $1 million expansion of its seed production plant at Plainview.

James W. Lindsey, president of the Plainview-based division, said the plant expansion is needed to handle the division's increased sales of sorghum and corn seed.

The project will involve the construction of four new buildings and the remodeling of two existing ones, Lindsey said. About 12 acres have been added to the plant site, located north of Plainview on Pioneer Road to accommodate the planned construction.

Structures to be added to the Pioneer complex include a bagged seed warehouse with a capacity of 206,000 bags, a loading building with four docks, a new seed processing facility and palletizing building, and a bulk storage building for 8.5 million pounds of seed. Existing facilities for bulk storage and seed cleaning and treating will be renovated in the expansion.

Lindsey said the project will substantially enlarge the plant's storage space for bulk and bagged seed. New processing equipment will approximately double the facility's capacity to bag seed, he said.

New high-volume seed drying equipment will be installed as part of the expansion. Duane Griffith, division production manager, said. He said that the new dryer will handle about 30,000 pounds of seed per hour, four times the rate of the existing drying equipment at the Plainview facility.

Griffith said the new drying equipment will be loaded by a conveyor system, permitting easier movement of seed, and will operate at a lower temperature than some other dryers, to prevent kernel damage from heat.

Seed cleaning equipment capable of processing 600 bags per hour will also be added during the expansion, Griffith said. Seed polishing equipment and a gravity machine for extracting kernels with imperfections are planned for installation as well, he said.

Other features to be incorporated in the plant with the expansion are a drying system for the bulk storage building and enclosed docks for all-weather loading, Griffith added. New parking facilities will also be added as part of the plant expansion.

The project is expected to be completed before the 1975 harvest, Lindsey said.

The division president said the enlargement of the plant will enable the company to meet the rising demand for its seed. In 1974, the division, which serves Texas and New Mexico, increased its seed corn sales by 24 per cent and sorghum seed sales by 33 per cent over the 1973 level, he said.

Lindsey said the Plainview expansion is a part of an $11.8 million capital improvement budget for Pioneer Hi-Bred International. The corporation, headquartered in Des Moines, Iowa, is also increasing at several locations its seed drying, seed handling and storage capacity.

If each American farmer invited as many people to Thanksgiving as he helps to feed, it's doubtful he'd have enough room in his home. What he'd really need is something like a small banquet hall to accommodate 52 people.

Cotton Bags A

New Trophy

NEW YORK — America's cotton growers went duck hunting this year — and bagged a prize just in time for Thanksgiving.

But "Dirty Duck" won't ever appear on any dinner tables. Its appearance will be around the table — in the garments of American women and girls.

"Dirty Duck" is a new 100 per cent cotton fabric created by the product development department of Cotton Incorporated and offered to U.S. textile mills by the company's apparel mill marketing group.

Cotton Incorporated is the marketing and research company representing America's cotton growers.

The new fabric has been adopted by Cone Mills for their spring 1975 line of cloth production.

J. Nicholas Hahn, vice president for sales - marketing, said the fabric is a "Natural."

"It is based on the 'trashy linen look' that has shown such strong fashion appeal in recent seasons," said Hahn.

FLOYD PHILOSOPHER

Finds The Word Competition Has Now Achieved A Complete Flip-Flop

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm appears slightly riled up this week, but he'll get over it.

Dear editor:

A friend asked me the other day why I didn't think up something that'd turn this crazy economy around. You know, auto companies can't sell their cars so they raise the price, sugar gone out of sight, unemployment rising as fast as inflation, college costs going up and kids getting no better educated than they were when it costs only half as much, cattle prices down to nearly nothing and meat prices about as high as ever . . . things like that.

I'll tell you, if he's looking to me for the answer he's looking in the wrong direction, but I did come up with one partial suggestion that might help.

What Washington needs more than anything else right now is a horse-trader.

Take the grain deal with Russia last year. Here we were short on oil and long on grain, and there was Russia long on oil and short on grain. So what do we do? We sell Russia a fourth of our total supply of grain at half-price and on top of that we let them swap grain for oil?

No. We turn our big deals over to who wouldn't know a smooth-mouthed mare from a sound plow horse and we wind up spavined mule. Probably mortgaged.

And it's still going on. We are selling million dollars worth of grain, to be over the next 20 years at 3 per cent with no payments or interest due for two years, I guess as an inducement to the contract. With an inducement like that, sign nearly anything. No mention of anything said about what happens in years from now a new government says we can't pay you back and we the grain.

You reckon it'd help if we call professors who're doing our work around the world, put them back to rare books and put the hard work hands of some good horse-traders

Cotton Harvest 22,000 to 532,000

Cotton harvest increased on the High Plains this week, according to Paul R. Dickson, in charge of the USDA's Cotton Classing Office in Lubbock. "We opened the Brownfield office last Monday and will open Levelland and Lamesa next Monday," he added.

The USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service reported Lubbock and Brownfield classed 20,000 samples during the week ending Friday, November 22. This brought the season's total to 22,000. On this same date last year the total was 532,000, Dickson said.

The predominant grades this week were 51 and 52. Grade 51 accounted for 39 percent while grade 52 was assigned to 17 percent of the cotton samples. Forty-four percent of these samples were reduced one grade because of bark.

The predominant staples were 31 and 32. Staple 31 amounted to 21 percent, staple 32 was 24 percent of the samples this week.

Micronaire readings in the premium range of 3.5 to 4.9 accounted for 51 percent of the samples. This compares to 57 percent the week before. Micronaire readings below 3.5 accounted for the other 49 percent this week.

Pressley Strength tests averaged 82,000 pounds per square inch.

Prices quoted by the Lubbock Cotton Exchange for the most predominant qualities in the 3.5 to 4.9 micronaire range were: Grade 51, Staple 31 - 33.30, Staple 32 - 33.35 cents per pound. For Grade 52, Staple 31 - 30.35; Staple 32 - 30.70 cents. Mixed lots of old crop brought 35.25 to 37.00 cents.

Prices paid to farmers for their cottonseed ranged from $120 to $135 per ton, Dickson said.

David Lewis Returns From IH Showing

David Lewis, Martin & Company, Floydada, Texas, has just returned from a meeting at New Orleans where he witnessed the introduction of International Harvester's complete line of Outdoor Power Products for 1975.

The Company currently is holding a series of introductory meetings throughout the country for its national Outdoor Power Products marketing and sales organizations.

The new products added to the IH Outdoor equipment line, Lewis said, include six new International Cub Cadet lawn and garden tractors, known as "the quiet ones;" a rotary tiller for the higher horsepower tractors; 54-inch front-mounted blade; an 18.5 hp Cub Cadet Lo-Boy tractor; three push mowers; three space heaters; a chipper-shredder; and a combination riding mower plus optional rear-mounted grass catcher with five bushel capacity.

Earlier last year, Lewis said, IH added a line of edgers and trimmers plus three new power washers.

Plans for distribution, parts, service, finance sales, promotion, and a national advertising program also were revealed at the meeting, Lewis concluded.

FARMERS UNION DRAFTS POLICIES

Fifteen farmers and ranchers from across Texas met in Waco last week to draft the 1975 policy statement of the Texas Farmers Union. The members of the policy committee wrote the draft of the general farm organization's guiding document by incorporating recommendations and resolutions submitted by the county Farmers Union locals. The delegates to the Texas Farmers Union annual convention in Houston, December 13 - 14 will debate the proposed statement and adopt the final version.

Adequate income protection for farmers and ranchers was one of the key issues before the farmer/rancher panel. Many of the recommendations passed by the committee deal with proposed changes to the 1973 Farm Act.

Cliff Hardy Receives PNG President's Award

AMARILLO, TEXAS . . . Pioneer Natural Gas Company President's Award for distinguished service. Cliff Hardy was the second Pioneer employee to be recognized by this award which was established this year to be presented to the employee or employees of

CLIFF HARDY

Pioneer who have made an outstanding contribution in civic, community or human affairs apart from their work with the company, or who have done such outstanding work or have distinguished themselves in some manner that is deemed to be deserving of the President's Award.

Hardy and his wife, Elaine, have devoted many hours toward the establishment of a dialysis center in Lubbock. Additionally, he has made his dialysis machine available to people passing through this part of the country who need treatment. He not only made the machine available to them but actually operated the machine for them.

In making the presentation, K.B. Watson, Pioneer president, said, "Although much has been done by this man this year, it has been a continuing project to which he has devoted much of his time since 1967."

This is only the second Pioneer President's Award that has been presented. On July 3 of this year, Vernon Clem in Plainview was nominated to receive the award as a result of saving the life of a fellow employee.

Isam Ballinger, missionary in Frankfurt and a German lady in our church have been helping us get registered for our residence visa.

First we had to have a statement from our landlord saying we have a place to live in Germany and that its okay to live in his house. Then we proceeded to the Rathaus (pronounced (Rot-house) to get other forms (4 pages) for all 4 of us. Then we go to Gross Gerau (something like our county seat) for a physical examination (must be on Friday or Tuesday.) Then we take our health certificates back to the Rathaus and the other completed forms. There they take our passport and completed forms, 2 pictures each of Frankie and I and send these to Gross Gerau to be recorded and stamped. Then they notify us when we can pick up the passports and pay our money. Then hopefully we will have our residence visa.

The German lady who has been helping us with these details was amazed at all that had to be done.

We could conduct no legal business until we had registered. Thank goodness the whole registration bit did not have to be finished before we could buy a car.

Buying a car also involves red tape. It is further complicated when the salesman does not speak perfect English. Anyhow in two weeks or so we shall find out if we have a car or not. In the mean while I will continue to ride my bicycle to the office three miles away.

It is time for language class so if I may be excused for a while. Well, class is over. It appears to me I may have to have at least one more lesson in the language.

The sun is shining today. This is about the fourth day of sunshine since arriving here Nov. 2.

Shopping on the local economy isn't going to be too much of a problem. Often we can look at the packaging and see what we want. The meat market is where we have trouble. Coffee over here is sky high. Their packaging is less than a pound and it costs 8 DM to 9 DM or $3.20 to $3.60 for less than a pound. A 10 oz. jar of instant coffee is 12 DM to 13 DM or about $4.80 to $5.20.

Having to deal in 2 currencies is a bother. One dollar will buy 2.55 marks. The value of the dollar on the German market has been fluctuating between 2.52 and 2.55. When we change dollars into marks it really hits. We never know what our money is worth.

It takes 6 to 8 days for an air mail letter to reach us. Don't know how long it takes for our letters to reach you.

It costs 36 cents to mail this sheet.

Air mail from the states is 26 cents.

Business hours are interesting usually 8 or 8:30 to 12. Then 2 or 2:30 to 5. Usually everything is closed on Wednesday afternoon and Saturday afternoon. Nothing is Sunday except at line stations and rants.

Sometimes it just isn't room in the dining room of the customer fare. But filling the

Thanksgiving meals throughout plus foodstuffs other parts of require the plan and harvesting of acres of U.S. far

DAVID HARTMAN WRITES HOME FROM GERMANY

David Hartman, a former Lockney resident, graduate of Lockney High School, and son of Mr. and Mrs. M.W. Hartman of Lockney, recently accepted pastordship of a church at Waldorf, Germany. The Hartmans have been in Germany about a month, and recently wrote an interesting letter to "the folks back home":

We have written a few folk so some of what I say will be repetitious for some to read.

I hope we are beginning to catch up with ourselves. Everyone here says it takes about 2 weeks to get over the jet lag. Since we are 6 hours ahead of Lockney it messes up our sleep pattern etc. However, all this seems to be working out.

There is lots of red tape for a civilian getting settled.

Income Levels For Floyd Families

positions on the income ladder have been taken over, in turn, by families who had been earning less than $8,000. The gratification of being in a loftier bracket is somewhat dampened, however, by the realization that tax rates are higher on the upper rungs. The facts and figures covering the local area and other parts of the country are contained in a report released by the Standard Rate and Data Service. It indicates, for each community, the number of families in the various income divisions. The purpose of the study was to obtain a clearer financial picture of each locality's purchasing power than was revealed by its average income figure. Does that average comprise a small proportion of families with big incomes counterbalancing a much larger proportion with low incomes or are earnings more evenly distributed? In Floyd County, it is shown, no less than 49.5 percent of the households had disposable incomes of $8,000 or more after payment of their personal taxes. Compared with the proportion at that level in many other parts of the country, this was high. The breakdown figures for the local area list 20.6 percent of the households with net incomes of $5,000 to $8,000, 11.0 percent at the $8,000 to $10,000 level, 19.4 percent between $10,000 and $15,000 and 19.1 percent higher than that. The others have $5,000 or less left after taxes. The bigger incomes have not improved the buying power of the average family, however. The cost of living has been rising at a faster clip than incomes in the last year or so.

OBITUARIES

Scooter Hinson

Services for Douglas (Scooter) Hinson Jr., 21, husband of the former Pat Jester of Floydada, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A.J. Jester of New Home, were conducted Tuesday in the First Baptist Church in Spur. Hinson was found about 11:30 Sunday morning by a hunter in the wreckage of his pickup truck beneath the White River Bridge on FM 261 near Spur.

The accident, which took the life of the young man, evidently happened sometime late Saturday night. Floydada relatives, which include grandparents of Mrs. Hinson, Mr. and Mrs. A.D. Jester, and aunt, Mrs. Bill Womack, said Hinson had been working at night at a gin in Spur. Before starting home that night he had visited with a brother-in-law, Terry Jester of Lubbock, who was in Spur for the weekend to visit his sister and husband. Terry told the family that Hinson had left him around 11 p.m. to go home.

Department of Public Safety officials said the vehicle struck the bridge railing, and then plunged to the river bottom, landing on its top. The wreckage evidently went unnoticed until found by the hunter. Hinson was born in Crosbyton in January, 1953 and was a graduate of Spur High School. He was engaged in farming and ranching at the time of his death.

Survivors include his wife, Pat; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Hinson Sr., of Spur; three sisters, Mrs. Donna Clark of Wolforth, Mrs. Betty Ford of Denver, Colo., and Linda Hinson of Nowington, Pa., and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Hinson of Spur.

Rev. Norris Taylor, pastor of First Baptist Church in Spur, conducted rites. He was assisted by Rev. Leo Cole, pastor of the New Home Baptist Church. Burial was held in Red Mud Cemetery near Spur.

J.A. Stallings

Rites for J.A. Stallings, 84, longtime Post resident, and who was a clerk for Santa Fe Railroad in Floydada in the early 1900s, were held Tuesday in Post.

Stallings died Sunday in Scott and White Hospital in Temple. He was a longtime resident of Post and employed by Santa Fe for some 54 years before retiring in 1966. His wife preceded him in death in 1962.

Survivors include a

Code For Married Happiness

Never stop courting. Marriage only gives you a chance to court without interruption.

Never let romance wane. The benediction at the wedding doesn't end romance. It only gives you a chance to be permanently romantic.

Never allow both of you to get angry at the same time.

Never talk AT one another, either alone or in company.

Never speak loudly to one another, unless the house is on fire.

Never find fault unless it is perfectly certain that a fault has been committed, and always speak lovingly.

Never taunt with a mistake.

Never make a remark at the expense of each other--it is meanness.

Never part for a day without loving words to think of during absence.

Never meet without loving welcome.

Never let the sun go down upon any anger or grievance.

Never let any fault you have committed go by until you have frankly confessed it and asked for forgiveness.

Never forget the happy hours of early love.

Never sigh over what might have been, but make the best of what is.

Dear Abby

Okie wants hometown wedding

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1974 by The Chicago Tribune

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter Susie is marrying a man from Oklahoma. (We live in Arkansas.)

We want Susie to be married in our church with her friends and family present. This Okie she's marrying wants to be married in his church in Oklahoma, where there will be only strangers to Susie.

The reason he wants the wedding in Oklahoma is because his mother is old, sick and can't travel. She's a widow, and he's her only child. I think it's nice of this Okie to be so considerate of his mother, but is it fair to us? Susie is ready to give in, and I don't think she should.

I planned on having the whole wedding taped and taking lots of pictures to send to this Okie's mother which would be almost like being at the wedding.

I want your opinion. SUSIE'S MOM

DEAR MOM: Although weddings traditionally take place in the bride's church, the groom's reasons for wanting to have it in Oklahoma seem reasonable to me. Why not let the bride and groom work it out?

And Mom, I sense an element of hostility here that goes deeper than the question of where to have the wedding. For openers, you could quit referring to your prospective son-in-law as "This Okie." Okay?

DEAR ABBY: I am a man in my last year of college. My parents are divorced and I live with my dad. I am on good terms with both of them, but there is something about my father that bugs me.

Dad has a steady girl friend who spends the night at his place quite often. That's his business, although I feel a little strange witnessing this kind of setup. I sure wasn't raised that way. Both Mom and Dad were a little on the prudish side, and taught me that sex is a private matter.

What I really object to is the way Dad and his girl friend carry on in front of me. Lots of fondling and kissing, and touching in a most intimate way. This goes on while we are having a three-way conversation, so it's not as if I intruded on their privacy.

I've told Dad that I find this sort of thing embarrassing and have asked him not to do it. Nothing changed. How can I let him know that I mean what I say? He respects your advice. GROSSED OUT

DEAR GROSSED: I doubt that Dad will change his behavior to please you, so since it's his house, and you're old enough to do so, find separate digs and quietly move out. Tell him it's time you lived alone. (True.) Avoid futile confrontation and remain friends.

DEAR ABBY: I have a serious problem I cannot confide in anyone else. I am a woman, aged 23. I have never had a complete physical examination in my life. To be honest with you, I just can't go through with anything like that. The thought of a gynecological examination throws me into a panic.

For the last couple of months I haven't been feeling well. I know I should see a doctor for a complete examination, but I've made three appointments and cancelled them all at the last minute due to this fear of embarrassment.

I hope this doesn't give you the impression that I am childish or stupid because I'm not. I am a college graduate and consider myself to be fairly intelligent. Please advise me. HUNG UP

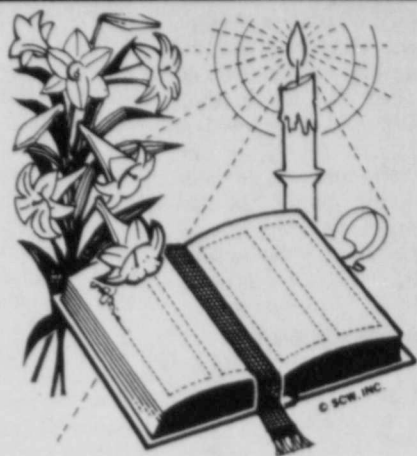

DEAR HUNG UP: Consider seeing a woman physician, although a competent male physician would surely put you at ease immediately. Make an appointment today and no more stalling.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "SONNY IN SANTA BARBARA": Be careful in your selection of a 'new broom'—you might get one with a witch on it.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

On Being A Drop In The Bucket . . .

All have said, "What Can I do? After All I'm Only A Drop In The Bucket."

Yes, God must have loved common folk for He seems to have made so many of them. Most of us are what the world would call "Just common people." We have such limited resources, such few talents. When we stop to think about it, we realize that only a small percent of the people are above the average in intelligence, in talents and abilities. Another small percent are below average, but most of us are average people.

When we have taken an inventory of our assets and look out upon the world in which we live, it is so easy to come to the conclusion that the problems of the world are so large, and what we have to offer, so small, that it makes very little difference whether we do our part. It would seem that the man of the hour must be found among those who stand above the rank and file. There is a contribution that the geniuses can make. But most of the work of the world must be done by "common people." History reveals that many great contributions were made by men of ordinary ability who dared to commit what they had to the needs of the hour. I recall the story of David as he met Goliath. David became the man of the hour, not because of untried armour, but because he took what little he had to offer to God and consecrated it to his use. You will recall the story of the boy with the fishes and loaves of bread, when the multitude needed to be fed, made a contribution of what he had. Surely these two lads could have found assurance in their insignificance and satisfaction in saying what they had was so small it could not meet the needs of that hour.

What ever you have, small as it may seem, when it is consecrated in the service of God, it begins to multiply. In Matthew 9:36 - 38 Jesus says: "The fields are white unto harvest and the laborers are few. Pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest to send out laborers into the harvest."

Much of God's work today needs to be done — and can be done. But the truth of the matter is that much is being left undone by many who count their little contribution as being unnecessary. God's work will be done, not by those who simply "CAN," but by those who "WILL." In doing His work, God needs some special disciples. They do not have to be the highly talented. They might even be those who are below average. When Jesus chose the twelve, He went among the common people to find them. One of the glorious things about the kingdom which He came to establish is that He can take those who seem weak and make them strong, those who are last and make them first, those who are lost and make them safe. He can take those who seem to have poor possibilities and make them special vessels.

All of us can become "reapers." We can be 'special disciples.' In fact, we are special disciples if we are disciples at all. There is something for you to do that nobody else can do. There is a job, an opportunity for service missed, that if neglected will be undone. Your pastor or church school superintendent may not offer it to you. It may be necessary for you to find it for yourself. Remember, whoever you are, you are a special disciple. Will you not this day listen for His voice, follow His counsel, seek for opportunities to work for the Master, and do that work which the Father has for you to do?

Yes, God loves the common folk, and is counting on them to build His Kingdom.

Vets Must Return Questionnaire

More than a million persons, who will receive income questionnaires with Veterans Administration pension checks for November, must return them by January 1, instead of the customary January 15 deadline.

Jack Coker, VA Regional Office Director, explained that the new deadline was set to relieve the annual logjam in preparation of January checks when pensioners returned the questionnaires near or after the former January 15 deadline. Pensioners are urged to promptly complete and return the questionnaires.

Under the law, VA mails questionnaires to veterans on non-service-connected pension rolls, widows of veterans receiving pensions based on the non-service-connected death of a husband, and certain parents who receive monthly checks because of the service-connected death of a veteran or serviceman.

Coker noted that most pensioners must file questionnaires each year. There are some exceptions, Coker noted. Those 72 years old or over who have been on pension rolls during the last two consecutive years are exempt from routine reporting; however, they must report income changes when they occur or when a questionnaire is sent to them.

Coker also pointed out that some beneficiaries who normally are exempt will receive questionnaires this year because of cost of living increases in their annuities.

According to Coker, thousands of beneficiaries missed the former January 15 deadline over the years. Prompt return of questionnaires by the new January 1 deadline will avoid delays in next year's checks, Coker said, stressing that a special effort is needed this year by the late filers to comply with the new deadline.

Programs for Vietnam-era veterans accounted for approximately 30 percent of the Veterans Administration's $14 billion budget in 1974, Jack Coker, VA Regional Office Director, reported today.

There are 7 million Vietnam-era veterans, and they constitute about 23 percent of the total United States veteran population of 29 million. This younger group of veterans is now the second largest, by war period, exceeded only by World War II veterans with a strength of 13.7 million. Some 39 percent of the VA budget in 1974 was expended on World War II veterans who make up 47 percent of the veterans population, VA records show.

Fiscal year 1974 expenditures on participants in other periods of conflict were: 13.2 percent of World War I veterans, 7.6 percent for Korean Conflict veterans, and one-third of one percent for Spanish-American War veterans and survivors of the Civil War and the Indian Wars.

The total amount spent on VA programs for veterans of all wars, through fiscal year 1974, was $223 billion, with World War II accounting for nearly 48 percent of the total. World War I holds the runnerup spot with 25 percent of the cumulative expenditures through the years.

As fiscal year 1974 ended, expenditures on Vietnam-era veterans made up 6.7 percent of the cumulative total. A year earlier, this group accounted for 5.2 percent of the total, Coker said.

Roudebush said there were 25,267 Vietnam-era veterans employed by VA October 1. This represented 12 percent of the total work Minorities accounted for 30 percent of the Vietnam-era veterans working for VA while 10.3 percent of these employees were classified at 10-point disability veterans.

Vietnam-era veterans are being used in greater positions of responsibility within the VA. Two have recently been named directors of the agency's 58 regional offices.

Almost 18,000 Vietnam-era veterans hold VA positions within its Department of Medicine and Surgery, principally in 17 hospitals. More than 50 percent of the physicians assistants are Vietnam-era veterans, as are almost 10 percent of the physicians.

Vietnam-era veterans make up 98 percent of the 1,300 Vet Reps serving on college campuses this fall as VA benefits counselors. Almost all have bachelor degrees and a significant number have graduate degrees. Included are 80 black Vet Reps, 50 Spanish surnamed veterans, 14 orientals, and 4 Indians.

Piggly Wiggly To Whip Inflation, Hold Prices

Effective Sunday, November 17, 1974 all Piggly Wiggly supermarkets in Texas, New Mexico, and Oklahoma operated by Shop

"Despite this enviable record," Roudebush told his staff, "I am sure with your personal commitment we can do better."

Rite Foods, Inc., will begin waging their WIN, "Whip Inflation Now" campaign to hold down prices for the benefit of the consumer.

Major complaints from consumers in regard to food prices have been that many times the prices on items throughout the supermarkets will be changed and raised several times before the consumer has a chance to make the initial purchase.

Under the WIN program being put into effect by Piggly Wiggly, once a price is marked on an item and placed on the shelves for sale, it will not be raised in price. The only time a price change will take place on a shelf stocked item will be if the prices goes lower than originally marked.

This program being introduced to the food consumer is in conjunction with the WIN campaign urged by President Ford in an effort to halt the climbing inflation of food prices.

Piggly Wiggly will continue to offer a series of weekly specials as they have in the past. Under the WIN program, sale prices will remain in effect during the course of the sale week. Once the sale has lapsed, the price of the item will return to the regular retail prices as listed before the sale began.

According to Shop Rite Food management, the company is determined to help the consumer, "now," in the fight against inflation. It is the Piggly Wiggly's policy to keep the continuous food prices and consumer in balance.

Under the WIN program, if the price of the item when placed on shelves for sale is higher than the Piggly Wiggly price, the price will not be raised.
