Lakeview area of a bale and a half to the acre.

With the cold wet weather that hit in early fall, it seems that the weak water areas may come out with better cotton crops as the land in these areas was pretty dry when the "monsoon season" hit.

Good grade cotton is reportedly bringing around 35 cents per pound. Three weeks of good dry weather and a fairly good southwest wind every day has fluffed out the open cotton and has allowed farmers to make good progress in the harvest.

Some of the late cotton will not be stripped, some of the late irrigated cotton made a lot of foliage, but only the bottom bolls were able to mature.

Christmas Shop In Floydada

Bill Darden Getting Ready To Catch Up On His Fishing

Bill Darden will have an auction at his machine shop here in Floydada Tuesday, but he isn't going out of business. He plans to continue to do irrigation pump gearhead work and catch up on his fishing.

Most of the machines will be sold in the auction, but Bill will keep enough machines to continue his irrigation gear head work and get in plenty of fishing.

Mr. and Mrs. Darden both enjoy fishing and they have a travel trailer that will help them see a little country as Bill goes into "semi-retirement."

Bill put in a welding shop in Floydada back in 1945 where Wayne Russell's business is located now. Previously he had worked in a shipyard in Houston during World War II.

Bill has a couple of daughters. . . Sherry West who lives here and Barbara Clements who lives in Albuquerque, New Mexico.

Bill is a native of Bosque County, Texas.

Through 35 years of welding and machine shop work Bill reports no serious accidents and although some of his work weeks in "his early days" were 60 to 70 hour weeks, he figures hard work won't hurt you.

FLOYD PHILOSOPHER

Wants U.S. Congress To Let Him And Rockefeller Work Out Own Deal

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm takes a look at Congress this week, we think.

Dear editor:

As I understand it, one of the requirements set up by Congress for Nelson Rockefeller before he can be confirmed as Vice President is that he no longer give away any money to anybody who might be influenced by it. Can't even cancel any of his friend's debts.

I didn't pay much attention to this until yesterday when I read an article discussing the national debt.

According to it, the national debt is 487 billion dollars, up to week before last, and the interest on it is 31 billion dollars a year. I still hadn't paid much attention to this until the article went on to point out that 31 billion dollars a year in interest comes to $429 a year for every family in the country. In other words, I've got to pay out $429 every year without even making a dent in the principle. Now what I want to know is, if Mr.

Rockefeller wants to cancel my business is it of Congress? That's between me and Rockefeller, if I like get in touch with him. It looks like a man has a chance to get ahead. Congress throws a roadblock in. Changing the subject, I notice Senator, reacting to President announcement that he'd gotten arms agreement with the Russians, the banquets on his recent trip abroad ought to have it in writing.

I'm not sure I follow this. Say he in writing and the Russians later convenient to violate it. What're we to do? Have the Floyd grand Brezhnev for breach of contract before Judge Holmes?

Even though the price of the skyrocketed, some contracts worth the paper they're written on.

Boys At Boys Ranch Need Clothing

The annual drive to provide the 370 boys at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch with a new suit or clothing package began today.

Providing new clothing for the boys through the Christmas Suit Fund has become a favorite way of friends of the boys who contribute $35.00 for this purpose. Special discounts by Amarillo merchants and differences in prices of clothing for younger and older boys make the average cost of $35.00 possible. The suits replace those that have been worn out or outgrown, and in many cases, they are the first new suits some boys have ever owned.

"The boys get their own clothes. Amarillo stores suits will be graduating soon spring." Virgil Ranch President new suit is the best present a receive because year-round ret those who really Ranch Christmas may be mailed to Ranch office, P.O. tion of commercial fertilizer. About 4.4 million BTU's of energy can be saved per acre by using 10 tons of manure instead of a comparable amount of fertilizer (180-60-0), says an agricultural engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Reforeeding manure in beef cattle rations can also save energy. Reforeeding one ton of manure would equal the amount of energy needed to produce one ton of alfalfa in the Texas High Plains. Manure, air and water can also be converted into hydrogen and nitrogen.

For the 370 boys at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch, Christmas will be the happiest time of the year through the Christmas Suit Fund. A gift of $35.00 will make it possible to outfit a boy of the Ranch with a new suit or clothing package, a gift that will be cherished the year round. Home Setting For Christmas Party

The head of the house, family members, guests and servants carry lighted candles in a procession while marching through the house, chanting the Lelony and Loretto. The first part of the Posada is strictly a religious enactment, then comes the social part.

When the procession is over and the prayer at the altar has been said, the breaking of the Pinata is held, then there is much singing, dancing, fun and laughter, all this interrupted for attendance of midnight mass at the church, then dancing resumes until dawn. Christmas Day is a very quiet day in Mexico. Children write letters to the Christ Child before Epiphany, asking for toys. Epiphany is on January 6, commemorating the Manifestation of Christ to the Gentiles in the person of the Magi. There are masses and elaborate services in all churches.

Presiding at the table of Mexico were Mmes. Sam Spence, Dennis Dempsey, Leon Ferguson, Kyle Glover, J.S. Hale Jr., and Bob Alldredge.

In Germany, Christmas is more season than a holiday, running from December 1 until January 6. During that time the German calendar looks like a checkerboard with Advent and to them it means a time to be at home with the immediate family; it is lighted candles, good food, exchanging gifts, intimacy and inner warmth.

Strictly of Christian origin, the time of Advent is a four weeks period spent in commemoration of our waiting for the birth of Christ. Symbolizing the 4,000 year wait of the Jewish people for their Messiah, the four weeks are marked off by four candles. Each Sunday another candle is lighted until all four burn during the last week.

It is determined that the Christmas tree had its birth in Germany. Trimming the tree is a part of the Christmas Eve ceremony, using balls of glass, gingerbread cookies and strips of tinfoil, while capping the top with a star or an angel symbolizing the annunciation of the Angel Gabriel to Mary. Under or near the tree is a manger scene. No

Germah would think of putting colored sets of electric light bulbs on a Christmas tree; in fact, a tradition-minded German would settle for nothing less than white candles.

When the solemn moment of Christmas arrives, candles are lighted and the entire household gathers around the tree to sing Stille Nacht, Heilige Nacht. Then comes the distribution of gifts.

Traditional foods for the Christmas season in Germany include especially Pfefferkuchen, spicy gingerbread cookies in the form of stars, hearts and rings. Perhaps best of all is the Christmas Stollen, a type of coffee cake, which was served to club members Tuesday night. Mrs. John Reue served from a table decorated with an heirloom German Bible, which belonged to her grandparents and brought from their native country. Completing the table setting was a Christmas tree, along with an Advent wreath, Advent Calendar, steins, miniature manger scene and the mistletoe, which is common in Germany, too, but its purpose is not to trigger a labial happening but to head off diseases and old age!

This portion of the program was closed with the saying of Frohliches Weihnachten (Merry Christmas) extended by Mmes. Thelma Hoffman, Vernon Parker, John Reue, A.L. Wylie, Jake Watson and Mrs. Allen Bingham, who presented the program.

Next came England with a table elegantly set with the finest cloth, china and silver, centered with candles and holly. Mrs. Floyd Lawson and Mrs. W.O. Newberry made the individual mince pies, fruit and cheese balls served. Others at the table were Mrs. Wilson Bond, Mrs. Floyd Bradley, Mrs. Garland Foster and Mrs. J.M. Wilson Jr.

Mrs. Foster gave the program on England's Christmas, which is stressed mainly for the children there. They are brought gifts by Father Christmas. Much holy and mistletoe is used on the Christmas tree in England which is put up Christmas Eve and left until January 6. The day following Christmas is called Boxing Day.

England people present gifts to their postman, milkman etc., and the children take portions of the Christmas pudding to school where money is added and wish is made.

Beyond the timber line rises sheer rock, towering above the clouds themselves. Looking at this great giant of nature we marvel at God's creations . . . and are aware of the comparative insignificance of man.

Yet, man is far from insignificant, save in physical size. For God, after all, made man in His image. And He gave man a brain, and a soul, with a sense of right and wrong. He gave him character and responsibility.

It is man who can progress to heights far greater than this mountain. But he needs help to do it—God's help, through the help of the Church.

You weren't meant to stand alone in this world. Remember that . . . and go to Church this Sunday.

Sugar-Free Drinks Not Slated For Price Increase

Today, the Coca-Cola Bottling Company of Plainview announced a price increase on its soft drinks to reflect the continued increase in the price of sugar.

Not included in this increase will be the company's line of sugar-free drinks. For the first time since Tab and Fresca products were introduced in the Plainview market, the wholesale price of these items will be maintained at a constant level, increasing slightly from time to time only to reflect the increases in marketing and distribution costs. If sugar prices continue to spiral, a substantial difference between the company's sugar drinks and its sugar-free drinks will occur.

The Coca-Cola Bottling Company of Plainview ser-

It was in the first quarter of the 4th century AD that the date, December 25 was established at Rome as the official time for the observance of the birth of Christ.

In Greece their Christmas table always includes a wine and the cake tray surrounded with dried fruits and nuts. The wine is used in a ritual to wish everyone health, wealth and good wishes for the ensuing year.

The authentic Greece table setting for the club meeting also held the Greek dishes, Keftaidakia, a cocktail meatball made by Mrs. J.P. Moss, and Karithopeta (cake) made by Mrs. Fred Stewart. Others presiding at the table were Mrs. R.G. Dunlap, Mrs. Lonnie Hinsley, Margaret Springer, and Mrs. Wm. F. Bertrand, who gave the program on Christmas in Greece.

It took nearly a hundred years for the celebration of Christmas, as we know it, to become adopted in Greece, and the communicants of the Greek Orthodox Church still follow the practice of observing Christmas on January 6, which is called Epiphony.

December is the Month of St. Nicholas, patron of seamen. His feast which occurs on December 6, is the beginning of the holiday season in Greece. Because St. Nicholas is master of the wind and tempest no Greek ship travels without his icon on board.

Though Easter outranks Christmas as a feast day in Greece, the Christmas season is observed as a religious festival and many ancient customs are linked with the birth of Christ. On Christmas Day the Christmas Cake called Karithopeta, is set in the middle of the table surrounded by dried fruit, nuts and wine. The twelfth day between Christmas and Epiphony are religious days. After visiting at each table club members exchanged gifts.

During the business session members voted to donate $25 to the Floydada Girl Scouts and $50 toward the purchase of the breathing machine for Caprock Hospital.

You can make it a memorable Christmas for a boy, at Cal Farley's Boys Ranch. A gift of $35.00 will provide him with a new suit that he will long remember. Send your contribution to the Christmas Suit Fund, Cal Farley's Boys Ranch, Post Office Box 1890,

Proper Harvesting Will Help Reduce Barky Cotton

LUBBOCK — As if summer drought, a wet fall, disease, hail and low prices were not enough, some cotton producers now may have to face the prospects of reduced grades and possibly even yield due to "barkly" cotton.

The strange condition is the result of prolonged periods of wet, humid conditions during the latter part of the season, says Dr. Robert B. Metzger, Cotton Specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Cotton plants that were killed by desiccants, verticillium wilt or other diseases prior to the prolonged wet spell now have deteriorated to the point that limbs and stalks break off during stripping, he explains. Strips of bark are peeled from these broken sticks and limbs in harvesting and ginning operations.

The former Lubbock-based specialist who now serves the state from Extension headquarters at College Station says that barkly cotton will be reduced by delaying stripping until the cotton plant has time to dry out.

"With green stalks, it is difficult to remove the bolls from the plant, requiring close setting of the stripper rolls to get the cotton," he adds. "Under these conditions, considerably more barkly bales can be produced. Under dry, open conditions, strips of bark will improve each day. The whiteness of the cotton will improve with weather. But, delay of harvest in deteriorated plants thus bark, loss in even yield can be expected.

"Only dry cotton can be harvested, he advises." "This is in maintaining just whether it is ginned immediately or placed in bought 289 million gallons of L.P. gas for farm use. Farm storage capacity totaled 9 million gallons in June, at least 24 percent of the annual purchases.

--Gasoline consumption averaged 2,600 gallons a farm for pickups, automobiles and older tractors. Crop production accounted for 42 percent of the gasoline used and production and marketing of livestock and poultry 29 percent.

--More than 25 million acres of croplands were fertilized with around 2.5 million tons of nitrogen, phosphorus and potash mixtures in comparison with 2.6 million tons during 1972-73.

--Around 32 percent of fertilizers were predominantly nitrogen mixes which increased 150 percent in price this year.

Texas Farm Labor Drops By 17,000

AUSTIN—The Texas farm labor force numbered 273,000 in late October, down 17,000 from a year ago, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White announced recently.

Family workers totaled 177,000, while hired workers numbered 96,000. Nationally farm labor was down three percent, totaling 4,651,000 workers.

White said Texas farm workers including farm operators, family members working 15 hours or more a

FELLOWS THERE IS GOOD MONEY IN GROWING SUNFLOWER SEED!

Producers Cooperative Elevators have announced contracts to growers for a relatively new crop for our area. Sunflower contracts will be available to growers after the Plains Cooperative Oil Mill Board meeting of December 11.

At this time it looks as though the price for contract will be about 15 cents per pound base price.

Manager Bill Cagle said the contracts would be available for grower review after December 11th. The sunflowers will be marketed through the same channels as cooperative elevators and gins market their soybeans and cottonseed.

According to sources from the oil mill in Lubbock there will be plenty of planting seed available for everyone. The average yield per acre is a 1500 pound low to a 2500 pound high. Management, water requirements and herbicides are similar to cotton. Main advantage is that sunflowers can be planted in March, harvested in 120 days and be followed by wheat.

A Weekly Report Of Agri-Business News

Compiled From Sources Of The Texas Department of Agriculture
John C. White, Commissioner

It's That Time Again... From Huge to Just Modest... Feed Grain Supplies Continue to Decline... A Meeting in December.

IT'S TIME for the annual count-down on the farm about crops and livestock in Texas. About 75,000 Texas farmers and ranchers are receiving now the annual crop and livestock questionnaire from the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. This report is important. Therefore, it is important that these questionnaires be filled out as accurately as possible and returned as quickly as possible.

The estimates will be used in establishing a complete picture of Texas agriculture. It's as important for the producer as it is for the consumer. The figures are also used in determining county by county agricultural statistics. Incidentally, the 1973 county-by-county farm statistics are now available for Texas.

Agricultural producers in Texas lead the nation in cooperation in this type of crop and livestock questionnaire response. These questionnaires now being mailed out should not be confused with the 1974 census of agriculture to be taken by mail early in 1975.

REMEMBER the predictions earlier this year of a "huge" crop of wheat for 1973 and 1974? Well, now that the figures are in and now that Mother Nature has done her thing, the wheat crop is still a record-but of only modest proportions.

Fact is, the current production estimate for the nation is now just four per cent above last year's record crop; this is well below expectations. In Texas, the latest wheat estimate is 52,800,000 bushels. This is just about half of what the state's wheat farmers produced in the previous year.

Despite the record harvest throughout the nation, total wheat supplies will be six per cent less than a year ago. As for prices, producers are being told that they can expect strong prices for the balance of the 1974/75 crop year.

FEED GRAIN supplies, a big item for Texas livestock producers as well as a crop which provides a good amount of income for the state's agriculture economy, are down more than 20 per cent from last year.

Texas is the nation's leading state in grain sorghum production as well as cotton. If present indications are followed through, there will be a big expansion in sorghum acres in Texas during 1975.

This increase is brought about by declining prospects for cotton next year. As much as a 40 per cent reduction in cotton acres is seen for Central Texas during 1975.

Meanwhile, the 1974 crops of feed grains—corn, grain sorghum, oats and barley—are now estimated at only 165 million tons. Old crop carryover at 22 million short tons is the lowest since 1952. Corn production estimates are 18 per cent below last year. The grain sorghum crop, estimated nationwide at 609 million bushels, is down a third from a year ago.

All these facts point up the reason why feed prices to dairymen and cattle feeders and poultry producers have risen so sharply.

A MEETING to inaugurate a special Christmas-giving program of meat, poultry, and dairy products will be held in Austin in early December. At that time, complete plans for the promotion program will be announced. Idea is to give meat, poultry, and dairy products as gifts this Holiday Season.

Fuel-Fertilizer Survey Reveals Farm Usage

AUSTIN—A Texas Department of Agriculture fuel and fertilizer survey conducted last summer reveals that Texas agriculture producers consumed less than 40 percent of three major energy resources used in the state last year.

Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said Texas farmers and ranchers used five percent of the state's gasoline, 35 percent of the liquid petroleum gas and 37 percent of the diesel fuel.

The survey also showed farm fertilizer use down 60,000 tons, reflecting high prices and short supplies throughout the 1973-74 growing season.

The Farm Fuel and Fertilizer Survey, the first of its kind in the nation, was conducted to help determine the state's energy needs in the coming years. White said it was done at the request of the Governor's Energy Council and with the cooperation of the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

Survey results will be published soon. They show that: —Seventeen percent of the 209,000 farms in Texas used natural gas at an annual rate of 4 million cubic feet per farm. Ninety-three percent of this figure went for crop production, mainly pumping water for irrigation wells. Farmers used 140 billion cubic feet of natural gas for 1973-74.

—Electricity was used as a rate of 180,000 kilowatt hours a farm on 88 percent of the farms. Thirty-eight percent went for crops and slightly over half for home heating, cooking and other non-farm activities.

—Irrigation and grain drying were the major agricultural users of liquid petroleum gas (butane and propane) last year. Farmers

Lights Boost Egg Production

Use of artificial light can help poultrymen boost egg production, especially during the fall and winter seasons when days are short and egg prices are generally the highest. Laying hens have a small gland directly behind the eye that regulates the egg forming hormones. This gland needs at least 14 hours of light per day to function properly.

Research at Texas A&M University has shown that the regular incandescent light bulb does the best job in lighting layers. Bulbs must be cleaned and replaced regularly.

SUCCESSFUL DEER HUNTERS...Bill Strickland and Joy Daniel bagged these deer during the Thanksgiving holidays on the McGehee ranch near Wayside, Texas. Mrs. Daniel shot her six-point buck at 5:25 p.m. Thanksgiving Day, from a stand at 175 yards, using a .243 with an 87-grain bullet reloaded by her husband Hugh. Strickland brought down his deer using a .308 with 180 grain bullet, at a distance of 180 yards. (Staff Photo by Jim Huggins)

WILD BOAR HUNTER...Wayne Bramlet shot this wild boar near Llano in Central Texas Tuesday. Bramlet was hunting deer (he says the deer hunting is mighty slim in the area, though) when he saw the wild pig "sneaking through the brush." He used a .270 Winchester to bring down the animal, at a range of about 100 yards. Bramlet says he is going to home-cure the porker "...the way granddad did..." and he'll also do his own processing on the one deer he got on the hunt. Also along on the hunting trip were Bramlet's son Larry and Floydada hunters Jake Colston, Danny Colston, Travis Gentry, Jon LaBaume, Leighton Koch and Ray Morton. (Staff Photo by Jim Huggins)

Someone's In The Kitchen

(by Gayle Jackson)

Someone's in the kitchen with Joy Daniel quite often — her husband Hugh who helps with many meals, and is head chef for he-man soups and wild game dishes. Joy and Hugh share an interest in hunting and have bagged a deer and an Aoudad sheep this fall. Hugh dresses the animals, takes care of aging the meat (if the weather is cool enough) and also bones the meat.

He is particular with the task, always using a knife, and makes steaks of every possible portion. A favorite venison steak comes from the hind legs, called hams by Hugh, where he carefully removes gristle and tissue and then cuts the meat across the grain. To cook the steaks, the Daniels sprinkle the meat with Worcestershire sauce, salt and pepper before dipping in flour.

Hugh removes nearly all the fat from the meat. This fall Joy's deer was quite fat, and he now wishes he had saved the ribs to barbecue. Most wild game has little fat, so must be cooked carefully to gain tenderness.

Hugh manages to find a use for all the wild meat, even saving some for dog food. They use their freezer to store the meat, thawing it to make chili, taco filling, and even jerky.

TACO FILLING
Grind venison scraps. Add a little grease to skillet to keep the meat from sticking, then fry with salt, pepper and Lawry's seasoned salt. Add canned taco sauce and keep cooking until all moisture is gone. Serve in taco shells or can be dipped with doritos.

VENISON JERKY
Take meat that is lean and cut with the grain into 1/4" thick strips, one to flour inches in length. Use tongs to drop into boiling water (use 1 heaping tsp. salt to 1 qt. water). Remove after about 30 seconds or when color changes to gray. Drain the meat. Place in bowl and sprinkle with liberal amount of Worcestershire sauce. A sprinkle of garlic could be added if desired.

Place meat strips on waxed paper. Salt and pepper to suit taste. Place on rack (set the rack on a cookie sheet) on highest shelf in oven. Cook for 2 hours at 200 degrees with the oven door slightly open. Remove rack from oven. Leave meat on rack over night if possible. Do not store in a closed container for several days as meat needs to further dry to prevent mildew.

Hugh says that jerky is also good cooked in a smoker. He has used venison and Aoudad meat to make jerky, but suggests that beef jerky must be made from lean meat. Marbled beef will make the jerky greasy. Jerky is usually taken with the Daniels on their camping or hunting trips. They don't give the jerky as gifts but Joy Daniel has taken samples to fellow teachers at Lockney Junior High.

GERMAN SAUSAGE
When Hugh gets out his soup pot, he sounds like most experienced cooks "I don't know an exact recipe." Here is his version for German Smoked Sausage Soup with credit for the original recipe to an old camping cookbook.

Fill huge pot with water. Add one to two tbsp. salt — to suit taste. Chop several stalks of celery, leaves and all. Chop four or five green onions, tops and all. Chop one medium-sized cauliflower, or use 2 pkgs. frozen cauliflower. Add chopped vegetables and 1 pkg. frozen chopped broccoli to soup pot. Cook until tender.

Slice Eckrich German Smoked Sausage into 1/4" slices. Add to soup and cook over low heat about an hour. Then bring soup to a full boil and slowly pour in 4 large eggs which have been beaten. Stir while pouring in the beaten eggs. The eggs cook as soon as they hit the water, making a noodle effect. Soup is then ready to serve. Leftovers can be frozen. The Daniels like cornbread with their soup.

The Daniels use a gadget that seals foods in a plastic bag to conserve leftovers in the freezer.

Hugh has learned that wild turkeys will be too dry for baking if they are skinned. So he has learned to cook the turkeys (also works fine for tame turkeys) a special way. First, he removes the breast and thigh meat. This meat is boned into finger-sized pieces and fried. Hugh warns that it must not be overfried.

The remainder of the turkey is boiled until the meat will come off the bone. Large pieces are saved for casseroles and the small scraps are used in turkey soup.

WILD TURKEY SOUP
Use broth and turkey scraps saved when turkey was boiled. Add salt, pepper and Lawry's seasoned salt. Add corn, peas and chopped carrots, onions and potatoes and cook until vegetables are tender.
