City Council Receives Mosquito Course

By Wendell Tooley

The city council spent some one and a half hours Monday night listening to aerial mosquito spray company representatives tell them how to control mosquitoes in Floydada this summer.

The sprayers said they were spraying low enough, they were putting out all the mosquito repellent the law allows, but agreed they might have sprayed sometimes when it was too windy.

The possibility of too much spray was also discussed, since a year or two ago there were some complaints of mosquito spraying spotting automobiles.

One sprayer representative said, "We can't possibly kill all the mosquitoes from the air...the city must also do some ground spraying... old tires and cans that have a small amount of water in them will continue to breed millions of mosquitoes". He urged the city to combine clean-up and ground spraying with aerial spraying.

The city council learned that the male mosquito does not bite, but only hangs around to fertilize the female, then goes off and dies. According to type of mosquito, some have lives from 30 days to as long as living through the winter season. There is also a small mosquito that swarms, but never bites.

City manager Bill Feuerbacher told both representatives, "we have to live with these people, and take their phone calls when we don't get a good mosquito kill...we must have your cooperation in not spraying when it is windy...we're spending a lot of money, and we must have results."

The council agreed to advertise for bids on this summer's mosquito spraying, and preliminary estimates to aerial spray the city area of some 2500 acres with 58 gallons of repellent indicated the cost might be as high as $1,000 per spraying.

OTHER BUSINESS

In other business the council agreed to put up a 1972 Ford four door sedan police car for sale by bid; to continue to put $250 a month in an ambulance fund to be used for replacement of ambulance equipment; held public hearing on the 1975-1976 budget;

approved purchase of gas tank for non-lead gas for city vehicles;

approved local CPA Newell Burk to audit city's books;

agreed to lease city swimming pool to coach Gary Jones;

appointed Dr. A. E. Guthrie city health officer for another year.

Chamber of commerce manager Doug Frazier visited the meeting. ... one councilman was absent, Johnny Bill Sue.

City Sales Tax Payments Early

AUSTIN — Comptroller Bob Bullock surprised 809 Texas towns and cities Thursday with $64.1 million in quarterly city sales tax payments coming a full month earlier than usual.

"I said we would speed up the payments and we did," Bullock said.

The payments covered the October-December, 1974, quarter. Last year payments for that quarter were sent on March 25.

Bullock said the early payment will help all cities with cash flow problems but he also noted that the total payout was worth some $400,000 in one month's interest alone if the cities simply invested the money.

In a letter accompanying the checks to the cities, Bullock said he will try to further improve the service and said his office is continuing to work on a plan to make payments more frequently than once a quarter.

Speedier handling of the city money was one of Bullock's primary issues in his election campaign.

The $64.1 million for the October-December, 1974, quarter compared to $58.7 million for the Christmas shopping quarter of 1973.

The net payment to the City of Lockney was $6,923.07. For the same period in 1973, the city received $6,677.49.

Floydada received $14,880.52. Floydada's total for 1973 was $49,180.21 and up to $55,815.64 last year.

FHS Students Attend Science Recognition Day In Lubbock

Students and a teacher from Floydada and Lockney High Schools were included in the 150 participants in Southwestern Bell's Science Recognition Day conducted Thursday in Lubbock.

Featured speakers at the annual event were Dr. W. Lincoln Hawkins of Bell Telephone Laboratories and Dr. John Bradford, dean of the College of Engineering at Texas Tech.

Dr. Hawkins, a chemist, discussed "Synthetic Plastics — Our Latest Materials Resource". Dr. Bradford's topic was "Telecommunications-Transportation Interaction".

Also on the program were Jon Howard, Southwestern Bell engineer from San Antonio, who talked on "Digital Electronics and Communications", and Roy Wickerham, the company's science demonstrator, who presented "Little Things Mean a Lot."

The four speakers formed a panel in the afternoon to answer questions and discuss the role of science in meeting today's challenges.

Southwestern Bell hosts the Science Day activities each year to recognize outstanding science students in area high schools.

This year's attendance was the largest ever.

Dr. Hawkins is assistant director of chemical Research at Bell labs in Murray Hill, N.J. He has been with Bell Labs since 1942 after completing his doctorate at McGill University in Toronto and post-doctoral work at Columbia University in New York.

He has published approximately 50 technical articles in various journals, and has edited and provided material for several texts.

Dr. Bradford has been dean of engineering at Texas Tech since 1955. He was named a Distinguished Engineering graduate from Tech in 1974. Included in his civic involvements was presidency of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce in 1968-69.

He holds bachelor's and master's degrees from Texas Tech in engineering and a doctorate from Case Institute.

DON'T accept my word for it, read it yourself. Woe to the man who tries to teach man or woman or child a different "system" of salvation which is not given in the word of God, read Galatians 1:6-12, and II John 9 - 11.

GOD'S PLAN OF SALVATION AS OUTLINED IN THE WORD OF GOD

What is meant by salvation:

a. Salvation is the release of the penalty of sin, which is spiritual death, Ezekiel 18:20 and Romans 6:23.

b. Salvation is freedom from the power of sin in ones life, Romans 6:14.

c. Involved in salvation is the establishment of certain spiritual relationships with God, Christ, and the Holy Spirit, 2 Corinthians 6:18, John 15:13, 14, Ephesians 1:13, 14.

#1. Jesus must die for the sins of man if man is to be saved from his own eternal death, Romans 5:6-10 and 2 Corinthians 5:14, 15.

#2. We must believe in Jesus and his death for us, John 8:24.

#3. We must repent of sin, which that faith leads us to do, Luke 13:3.

#4. That faith leads us to confess Jesus, which we must do, Matthew 10:32, 33, Acts 8:26 - 39.

#5. Our faith comes to a climax as we are baptized, immersed in water, according to the command of the Lord himself, for the remission of sin, Matthew 28:18-20, Acts 22:16, Romans 6:3, 4.

#6. Then being faithful until death, Revelation 2:10.

DON'T accept my word for it, read it yourself. Woe to the man who tries to teach man or woman or child a different "system" of salvation which is not given in the word of God, read Galatians 1:6-12, and II John 9 - 11.

GOD'S PLAN OF SALVATION AS OUTLINED IN THE WORD OF GOD

What is meant by salvation:

a. Salvation is the release of the penalty of sin, which is spiritual death, Ezekiel 18:20 and Romans 6:23.

b. Salvation is freedom from the power of sin in ones life, Romans 6:14.

c. Involved in salvation is the establishment of certain spiritual relationships with God, Christ, and the Holy Spirit, 2 Corinthians 6:18, John 15:13, 14, Ephesians 1:13, 14.

#1. Jesus must die for the sins of man if man is to be saved from his own eternal death, Romans 5:6-10 and 2 Corinthians 5:14, 15.

#2. We must believe in Jesus and his death for us, John 8:24.

#3. We must repent of sin, which that faith leads us to do, Luke 13:3.

#4. That faith leads us to confess Jesus, which we must do, Matthew 10:32, 33, Acts 8:26 - 39.

#5. Our faith comes to a climax as we are baptized, immersed in water, according to the command of the Lord himself, for the remission of sin, Matthew 28:18-20, Acts 22:16, Romans 6:3, 4.

#6. Then being faithful until death, Revelation 2:10.

Don't accept my word for it, read it yourself. Woe to the man who tries to teach man or woman or child a different "system" of salvation which is not given in the word of God, read Galatians 1:6-12, and II John 9 - 11.

U.S. CUSTOMS STEPS UP PROTECTION

International travelers who bring back stuffed tigers, ocelot skins, rare antelopes, Hawksbill turtles, or other wildlife on the endangered species list face a tough time with U.S. Customs.

Cleburne Maier, Customs Regional Commissioner in Houston, says his Service is cracking down on hunters and others who may be decimating wildlife for illegal profit.

Noting that the skins of animals such as the South American Jaguar, and the Asiatic Tiger now bring handsome prices in the U.S. market, Maier said that Customs is stepping up enforcement of all endangered species laws.

Wild animals or birds taken, killed, pursued, or exported to the United States in violation of foreign laws are not allowed entry into the United States, Maier said. He cited a few of the recent incidents in which Customs Officers in the Houston Customs Region (Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Colorado, and Southwestern Louisiana) have helped to shut off the illegal market for animals on the endangered species list.

I...didn't realize until getting a request from a fellow in Alabama, that a jury death penalty verdict back in 1951 in Floydada, was the first for the county since Texas commenced electrocuting its condemned felons at the State Prison in 1924. This particular person, convicted of murder with malice, was a Lubbock resident and the trial was moved to Floyd County on change of venue.

I...spent until Wednesday in Amarillo and while there saw a former Floydada resident on television. Becky Dunlap Culp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Dunlap was being interviewed about a dress review. I enjoyed hearing her telling how to

The women of the Victory Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. Wayne Fuller for their regular monthly fellowship meeting.

Mrs. Fuller brought the devotional. Members brought toys to re-cycle your wardrobe.

FOUND this newsworthy of a wedding that originated in a Nebraska paper, and since the groom was editor, he decided to tell of the groom's attire rather than what his bride wore. He wrote, the groom wore a bluish business suit consisting of a coat, vest and pants (purchased from Buck Theel of Gonzo last fall-Adv.). The suit had been recently cleaned and pressed and it fitted snugly across the back, and the collar lay flat at the back of the neck with lapels on either side at the front. . . . Beneath the coat and vest a freshly laundered white shirt purchased during the lush black market days of World War II in Wichita, Kan., about 1946, was worn, accented around the neck by a tie, a gift from the bride, tied in four-in-hand style. The groom also wore shined shoes, laced at the front to the shoe top and tied in a small bow.

For traveling, he added a round brim hat, touched at the side with a feather. Upon the couple's return the groom will resume his editor duties at the paper.

THE scenic artist stopped at the New England general store and asked the proprietor if he had any camel's hair brushes.

"No," replied the storekeeper. "To tell the truth, ain't no one round here keeps camels, so I don't have any call for them."

Does a mild winter always mean bumper crops in the summer and fall ahead?

A mild winter, contrary to what people believe, is not necessarily the best thing for trees and plants which produce saleable products.

Some trees and plants require so many cold nights during the winter. If they do not receive this cooling process, which controls the dormant period, they are likely to produce little or bear too early, or both.

Thus an average winter is better than an extremely cold or an extremely warm one. And there has been little change in our average winter weather over the years—despite the fact that elderly people usually think the weather was colder in their childhood. It was slightly colder but the difference in the average winter at the turn of the century and today is relatively minor.

Corn Meet At Olton

FLOYDADA — A Corn Production meeting has been set for March 17 in the Agricultural Community building at Olton, according to County Extension Agent Doyle Warren.

The evening event, says Warren, is designed to inform producers and others of latest developments, methods and techniques known for production of corn on the High Plains.

Olton's Agricultural Community building is located one block south and one block east of an intersection of Highway 70 with Farm to Market Road 168.

The 8 p.m. meeting is open to producers and others interested in improved production practices of corn, Warren adds. List of topics will cover the outlook for grain sorghum and corn prices in 1975, irrigating for maximum profit, controlling corn damaging insects and improved cultural practices for maximum profit.

South Plains County Extension agents of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service are sponsoring the special meeting.

Three Lubbock-based Extension specialists and an Extension county entomologist will address the gathering. Marvin Sartin, area Extension economist in farm management, will discuss factors to consider in selecting the most profitable crop, along with projections for grain sorghum and corn prices this year.

Sartin will be followed by Leon New, Extension irrigation specialist, talking about irrigation methods and systems which may provide top returns in corn production.

Eugene Latham, Hale County Extension entomologist, will bring producers up to date on available information about corn insect pests common to the High Plains.

Rounding out the discussions will be Dr. James Supak, area Extension agronomist, talking about improved cultural practices which could lead to maximum profits in corn production.

Producers and others interested in corn production are encouraged to attend.

The burning issue of the current energy crisis may do more than give you the chills. It could cast a pall over everything—including that light shining outside your home. You may be "de-lighted" by the energy crunch that not only hits you at home, but strikes in the streets as well. And that could cost us our safety. As it is, things already look pretty dim in many places around the country. This is mainly because many streetlights (more than 2 million, in fact) are still lit with filament lights that are old and inefficient. What's more, they are needlessly consuming vital energy.

Fortunately, there is a bright spot on the horizon that may enlighten the dark ages. A new type of golden light (high pressure sodium) has been lighted which is six times more efficient than filament (incandescent) lights. That means, more light from fewer fixtures — and with considerable energy savings! These lights were sparked off by General Electric in the late 1960's and represent a light 80 times more efficient than Edison's original lamp.

Switching to these kindly golden lights could be a brilliant way for communities to make light of a dark-some problem.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Mr. Tooley,

Enclosed is a timely clipping from a late Cappers Weekly which I take and thought it would be so nice if you ask everyone who has gone thru the depression years for their ways and means of survival during those lean years especially for the younger mothers who do not know how to conserve to make do and how and what to buy to make their food and clothing dollars reach all the way around and still keep their families healthy. I realize it would have to be from people over 50 years old but they would probably enjoy telling their methods and I'm sure some would greatly benefit from their experience.

Just one suggestion —

Sincerely yours,
Mrs. A. V. Bethel

"Thought Everyone Knew How to Recycle. Thank you.

Recycling hints make me laugh. Then I wonder, do people really have to be told to use up and reuse things instead of throwing them away. I thought everyone knew how, and that most of them did.

I was reared never to discard anything that could be useful. I'll admit I went overboard. My attic resembles a rat's nest at times, but so often something I'd about decided to throw out is suddenly needed. It isn't only things we might use that are saved, but things a neighbor might need, or a niece or anyone.

We were not poor and the Depression which ruined so many barely touched us. But we had been taught wastefulness was stupid and a sin. I rip out zippers (wouldn't you know there wasn't one the right length for a broken slacks' zipper yesterday?). I cut off buttons. I save sacks (I freeze vegetables in the plastic ones), I use my husband's old sweat shirts for wipe-up rags and believe me they're really gone before they get to that. I use rag dish towels, curtains, cushion covers, pillow slips, quilt tops out of all otherwise unusable things. I cut advertising paper into pad-sized slips on the bulletin board for scratch paper. I make pantsies of suitable worn-out dresses. My husband's work clothing until it literally falls apart, I unravel from sugar sacks for darning. If you have an old sweater around, unravel it, re-wind the yarn, it's fine for darning.

There are many ways to save, or rather, not waste. I would actually feel guilty to throw away that I or someone else could use if I possibly store it. I would need a book to list all the things I have done automatically all my housekeeping.

The husband may bring in the money to go, but it's up to the wife to see that the money buys is utilized to its final capacity. It might as well scatter the money to the wind, it could be put into something you couldn't store. And you know — it's really fun stretching Washington DOLLARS"

"Rhyme Of The Ancient Water Heater"

Water, water everywhere
And not a drop to drink;
And none to bathe and none to wash
There's something wrong, I think.
Our ancient water heater,
It burst at 3a.m.
The signs of strain and stress,
I never thought to check for them.
So first thing in the morning
I'll remove this albatross.
An electric water heater
Will alleviate my loss!

Mrs. Raymond Poole Chairman Breath Of Life Campaign

Mrs. Raymond Poole has been named chairman of the Breath of Life Campaign to fight children's lung diseases, according to Chuck Laurent, president of the Lone Star Chapter, Cystic Fibrosis Foundation.

Mrs. Poole, Floydada, Texas, will lead volunteers in raising funds to support research and care programs for children affected by lung-damaging diseases like cystic fibrosis, severe asthma, chronic bronchitis, bronchiectasis, and a condition called "childhood emphysema."

Cystic fibrosis, an incurable genetic disease, is inherited when both parents carry the recessive gene for C/F. It is believed that one in twenty persons or 10 million Americans may carry the C/F gene, usually without knowing it. Current research funded by the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation is seeking a practical test to identify these carriers.

Because of improved therapy and constant research, many C/F patients are living beyond infancy to their teens and into young adulthood. That same kind of therapy is relieving and often curing children suffering from other respiratory afflictions whose symptoms resemble those of C/F.

The Breath of Life Campaign supports not only research but over 100 C/F centers for diagnosis and treatment across the country, six of which are located within Texas.
